"Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Resolution Adopting Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner Docket No.: T29-21

Whereas, Ada Gonzalez (Respondent) is a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act); and

Whereas, as a board member, Respondent is required to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) on an annual basis; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to complete her training program by December 31, 2021; and

Whereas, at its meeting on April 26, 2022, the School Ethics Commission (Commission) issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) directing Respondent to show cause as to why she failed to complete her mandatory training by December 31, 2021, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1; and

Whereas, after having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC that did not dispute that she did not complete training in a timely fashion; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 by failing to complete the training requirement she was obligated to complete; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of censure on Respondent; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission agreed that the within decision accurately memorializes its findings and recommendations; and

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Commission hereby adopts the within decision and directs its staff to notify all parties to this action of the decision.

Robert W. Bender, Chairperson

I certify that the within Resolution was duly adopted by the School Ethics Commission at its public meeting on May 24, 2022.

JESSICA HIDALGO

OPINION AND ORDER

Agency Docket No. 12-1/22

Pursuant to the Teacher Effectiveness and Accountability for the Children of New Jersey Act ("TEACHNJ"), P. L. 2012, c. 26, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-115 et seq. and regulations adopted thereunder by the New Jersey Department of Education ("DOE"), the undersigned Arbitrator was appointed by letter dated January 31, 2022 from Jennifer Killough-Herrera, Director, Office of Controversies and Disputes, to hear and determine arguments regarding Tenure Charges filed by the School District of the Township of Morris, Morris County ("District") against Jessica Hidalgo ("Respondent").

Throughout these proceedings, Randi Doner April, Esquire represented the Respondent. Frances L. Febres, Esquire represented the District.

A hearing for this matter was scheduled for March 28, 2022. At that time, the parties entered into a settlement. This settlement was subsequently codified in a Global Settlement Agreement & Release of Claims ("Agreement"). Respondent signed this Agreement on May 12, 2022. It was approved by the District's Board of Education on June 6, 2022.

The parties have provided the Arbitrator with a copy of the Agreement, "Exhibit A" to that Agreement signed by Respondent and the Certified Board Resolution concerning this Agreement, all of which are attached hereto. The Sworn Tenure Charges, filed by the District on December 6, 2021, which set forth the nature of the charges against Respondent, are incorporated herein by reference as if set forth in full.

As set forth in the Agreement and/or confirmed by Counsel, Respondent and the District in this case have consented to settlement and withdrawal of the Charges in this case. As set forth in the Agreement and confirmed by Counsel for the Respondent, Respondent entered into the Agreement with a full understanding of her rights. The Agreement is in the public interest as it resolves the issues raised by the various charges and countercharges made by the parties, and also effectuates the District's desire to have Respondent terminate her employment with the District, as the Agreement includes Respondent's irrevocable resignation. Counsel for Respondent has advised Respondent of the Commissioner's duty to refer tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners for possible action against Respondent.

ORDER

The Arbitrator approves the Global Settlement Agreement & Release of Claims and recommends it be approved by the Commissioner of Education.

Signed this 1st day of July 2022.

Attorneys for Morris School District Board of Education

IN THE MATTER OF THE TENURE CHARGES AGAINST JESSICA HIDALGO, TENURED SCHOOL COUNSELOR, EMPLOYED BY THE MORRIS SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF EDUCATION	GLOBAL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT & RELEASE OF CLAIMS

This Agreement is hereby made this ___ day of April, 2022, by and between JESSICA HIDALGO (hereinafter "Ms. Hidalgo") and the MORRIS BOARD OF EDUCATION (hereinafter the "Board") (collectively the "Parties").

WHEREAS, the Board is a body politic and corporate, organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of New Jersey, N.J.S.A. 18A:11-1, and is entrusted with maintain and conducting the public schools of the Morris School District;

WHEREAS, Ms. Hidalgo is currently employed by the Board as a tenured school counselor;

WHEREAS, on or about August 23, 2021, Governor Murphy signed Executive Order 253 ("EO 253") that required covered workers of public schools to demonstrate their full-vaccination status or undergo weekly testing for COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Hidalgo requested a religious accommodation to EO 253; and

WHEREAS, after having considered whether Ms. Hidalgo's request for exemption to the testing and vaccination requirement could be accommodated, the Board communicated its denial to Ms. Hidalgo; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Hidalgo never met, either in person or via zoom, with any administrator or supervisor from the district with regard to her request; and

WHEREAS, the parties dispute the implementation of Governor Philip Murphy's EO 253 and ability for the Board to exempt Ms. Hidalgo from the weekly testing requirement as a religious accommodation, or provide another accommodation that would enable her to provide school counseling and other school support services to students attending school in-person; and

WHEREAS, the Board certified tenure charges with the Commissioner of Education seeking Ms. Hidalgo's dismissal as a result of not undergoing weekly testing as required by EO 253; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Hidalgo filed a Petition of Appeal before the Commissioner of Education challenging her reduction in compensation in what she thought was a violation of the tenure statute and further challenging the Board's refusal to place Ms. Hidalgo on paid, administrative leave prior to the filing of the tenure charges; and

WHEREAS, to avoid the expense, time and uncertainty of litigation and legal proceedings, the Board and Ms. Hidalgo wish to fully and finally resolve any and all claims, complaints, charges and actions of any kind whatsoever, whether known or unknown, which either party may have against them as provided herein, to their mutual satisfaction.

NOW THEREFORE, Ms. Hidalgo and the Board in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises contained herein, the legal sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by the parties, the Parties agree as follows:

1. RESIGNATION DATE: Ms. Hidalgo agrees to sign and submit to the Board simultaneously with her execution of the Global Settlement Agreement and Release of Claims ("Agreement"), an irrevocable letter of resignation in lieu of termination ("letter of resignation") from all employment with the Board effective December 31, 2021. The irrevocable letter of resignation shall be in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. The letter of resignation and this Agreement shall be subject to Ms. Hidalgo's right to rescind pursuant to the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act, 29 U.S.C. 626(F)(1)(G), within seven (7) calendar days of signing the Agreement. If Ms. Hidalgo does not rescind her letter of resignation and this Agreement within seven (7) calendar days of signing them, and provided that this Agreement is approved by the Commissioner of Education, her resignation and this Agreement shall be binding and irrevocable. The Board shall accept Ms. Hidalgo's letter of resignation simultaneously with the acceptance of this Agreement via resolution at a meeting of the Board, subject to Commissioner of Education approval.

   a. Should the Commissioner of Education not approve this Agreement, the parties maintain their respective positions and abilities to pursue their claims and charges before the Commissioner of Education. Nothing herein shall constitute an admission or representation for any legal proceeding except as to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

2. PAYMENT OF SALARY. In exchange for Ms. Hidalgo's Release of Claims and withdrawal, with prejudice, of her Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education, the Board shall pay Ms. Hidalgo for 39 days of work, between October 25, 2021 and December 31, 2021, in the amount of Fifteen Thousand Two Hundred Seventy-Two Dollars and Seventy-Nine Cents ($15,272.79).

3. EXCHANGE OF PROPERTY: Ms. Hidalgo shall return all Board property in her possession but not limited to the Board's laptop computer, district keys and the like, contemporaneously with the signing of the Agreement. Upon her request, Ms. Hidalgo shall be given an appointment to come onto Board property to obtain her personal belongings. Permission must be received from the Interim Superintendent for the appointment.

4. CONTINGENCY: This Agreement is contingent upon the approval of the Commissioner of Education and receipt by the Board of an irrevocable letter of resignation from Ms. Hidalgo effective December 31, 2021. The irrevocable letter of resignation shall be provided contemporaneously with the execution of this Agreement by both parties.

5. CONSIDERATION: Ms. Hidalgo specifically waives any and all other payments she may ordinarily be due under her employment contract with the District or under Board Policy, except as specifically set forth herein.

6. RELEASE OF CLAIMS: Ms. Hidalgo, on behalf of herself and her heirs, successors, and assigns, forever releases the Board, and its past and present Board Members, officers, directors, employees, agents, successors and assigns, hereby releases, waives and forever discharges any and all past, present or future claims that relate to any action that predates this Agreement that she may have against the Board, including but not limited to, the Petition of Appeal currently before the Commissioner of Education, captioned: Jessica Hidalgo v. Board of Education of the Morris School District, Morris County, OAL DKT NO. EDU 10042-21, Agency Ref. No. 215-11/21, along with any and all claims for back pay, benefits, or any other claim related to her employment by the Board, including, but not limited to, any claims arising under the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act, New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1866, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 ("ADEA"), the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act ("OWBPA"), the federal Equal Pay Act, the New Jersey Wage Payment Law, the United States Constitution, the New Jersey State Constitution, the federal Americans With Disabilities Act, the Families First Coronavirus Response Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, New Jersey Family Leave Act, the Equal Pay Law, the Equal Rights Act, any other federal, state or local law or ordinances, and/or any common law claims under tort, contract (including any collective bargaining agreement she is subject to or part of) or any other theories now or hereafter recognized. The release recited in this paragraph shall include any and all claims which Ms. Hidalgo may have at the time of the execution of this Global Settlement Agreement and Release for any type of damages cognizable under any of the laws referenced herein, including, but not limited to, any and all claims for wages, vacation, sick leave, personal days, compensatory damages, punitive damages, and/or attorneys' fees. Specifically excluded from this general release are Ms. Hidalgo's rights, upon cessation of employment with the Board to obtain continued medical coverage at her own expense as authorized by the Consolidated Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1986 (COBRA), unless specifically modified herein; any rights she may have arising under the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund ("TPAF") and related statutes and regulations; any rights she may have for indemnification by the Board pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 and 6.1; and any rights she may have under the New Jersey Workers' Compensation Law, N.J.S.A. 34:15-1, et seq.

a. This Release does not preclude Ms. Hidalgo from suing for enforcement or for a violation of this Settlement Agreement. The Release does not preclude Ms. Hidalgo from filing for unemployment which the Board will not challenge. With respect to any inquiries from the Department of Labor, however, concerning Ms. Hidalgo's reason for separation, the Board will respond truthfully that her resignation was in settlement of an employment matter, the details of which shall remain confidential to the greatest extent permitted by law. Upon request from a prospective employer, the Board's Director of Human Resources or designee shall clearly indicate that the employment separation was the result of mutual agreement.

b. Nothing in this Settlement Agreement shall preclude either Party from bringing an action to enforce performance of any term of this Settlement Agreement should there be a default in performance.

c. Ms. Hidalgo understands that nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to prohibit her from filing a charge with, or participating in any investigation or proceeding conducted by, the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), or with any other Federal, State or local court or agency. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Ms. Hidalgo hereby waives any and all rights to recover any and all damages, such as, but not limited to, monetary damages and attorney's fees in any charge, complaint or lawsuit filed by her based on events occurring which arose or existed prior to and through the date this Agreement is fully-executed and approved by the Commissioner of Education.

7. WAIVER & FORFEITURE OF TENURE RIGHTS: Ms. Hidalgo agrees that, by tendering her resignation, she is waiving and forfeiting her tenure and seniority rights with the Morris Board of Education. Ms. Hidalgo further acknowledges and agrees that, despite forfeiting her tenure and seniority, she maintains the ability to apply for positions that become available as could any qualified individual.

8. Ms. Hidalgo acknowledges that she has had the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and representatives of her choice regarding this Global Settlement Agreement and Release of Claims, and Waiver that accompanies it prior to executing it; and that she represents that she has read this Agreement and Waiver and fully understands them and agrees to be bound by them. Ms. Hidalgo also acknowledges that she has been given a reasonable period of time within which to consider this settlement and the terms of this Agreement, Release and Waiver prior to executing them.

9. NON-DISPARAGEMENT: The parties agree that they will not directly or indirectly disparage the name, reputation, services or competency of one another. The Board shall direct all inquiries regarding Ms. Hidalgo's employment to the Director of Human Resources or designee who shall be limited to responding with the statement provided in Paragraph 11 below. The parties also agree that, to the maximum extent permitted by law and regulation, they will not make statements for publication or public dissemination accusing one another of wrongful, improper, unlawful or unfair actions or conduct.

10. OLDER WORKER BENEFIT PROTECTION ACT OF 1990: To comply with the Older Worker Benefit Protection Act of 1990, this Agreement advises Ms. Hidalgo of the legal requirements of the Act, and fully incorporates the legal requirements by reference into this Agreement as follows"

a. Ms. Hidalgo fully understands the terms and conditions of this Agreement;

b. Ms. Hidalgo has been advised to consult with an attorney to review the Agreement;

c. Ms. Hidalgo specifically waives her right to pursue any claims under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act;

d. Ms. Hidalgo does not waive any rights or claims under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act that may arise after the date the waiver is executed;

e. Ms. Hidalgo is receiving consideration above and beyond anything of value to which she already is entitled;

f. Ms. Hidalgo waives her right to at least twenty-one (21) calendar days within which to consider this Agreement as evidenced by Exhibit B, attached hereto; and

g. Ms. Hidalgo has seven (7) calendar days from the date of the execution of this waiver to revoke it.

11. EMPLOYMENT REFERENCES: Responses to any inquiries as to Ms. Hidalgo employment with the Board, including but not limited to, job reference inquiries shall be limited to an acknowledgement of her position, length of employment with the Board, her last annual base salary, and her voluntary resignation. All such inquiries shall be directed only to the Director of Human Resources or designee. Responses to any inquiries to Ms. Hidalgo, shall be responded to with the statement "I resigned and the terms of the resignation are confidential."

12. CONFIDENTIALITY: This Agreement shall remain confidential to the maximum extent permitted by law and neither party shall disclose the terms of this Agreement to third parties. Ms. Hidalgo may disclose the terms of this agreement to her immediate family, tax advisor and attorney who shall be subject to the confidential provision of this agreement, and also maintain the confidentiality of this Agreement.

13. ENTIRE AGREEMENT: This Agreement, Release and Waiver contain the entire Agreement and understanding between the Parties and constitutes a full and final agreement in any and all issues relating to this matter, except that the Parties reserve their right to enforce this Agreement, if necessary;

14. CHOICE OF LAW: This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey.

15. SEVERABILITY: If a specific clause of the Agreement is determined to be illegal or in violation of any Federal or State law, the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected by such a ruling and shall remain in full force and effect.

16. BINDING EFFECT: The parties shall be bound by the terms and conditions of this agreement.

17. APPROVAL: The terms and conditions of this Agreement and Ms. Hidalgo's irrevocable letter of resignation are subject to ratification and approval by the Morris Board of Education, along with the approval of the Commissioner of Education.

18. VOLUNTARY AGREEMENT: The Parties have entered into this Agreement freely and voluntarily with a full understanding of their rights and the contents of this Agreement.

19. ADMISSION OF LIABILITY: The Parties' entry into this Agreement shall not constitute nor shall it be interpreted as an admission of wrongdoing or guilt, or liability in any manner on either of the Parties' part. Any such obligation or liability on either Party's part is expressly denied. The Parties have entered into this Agreement solely to compromise disputed claims.

20. OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH COUNSEL: The Parties acknowledge that each has been given the opportunity to consult with an attorney or a representative of their own choosing with respect to this Agreement and reviewed with their attorney or representative all the terms and conditions of this Agreement prior to executing this Agreement. Each Party signs this Agreement freely and voluntarily and without coercion or duress. The Parties further acknowledge that they fully understand the duties and obligations enumerated herein and have been informed of their legal rights and obligations.

21. BREACH: If either party breaches this Agreement, the breaching party shall bear the costs of the non-breaching party of any litigation or efforts to have such breach corrected or compensated for, including but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees.

22. RATIFICATION: The undersigned representatives of the Board hereby acknowledge that they have been duly authorized by the Board to sign this Agreement and bind the Board to its terms. Upon ratification of this Agreement, the Board authorizes its Board President to execute same on its behalf.

23. GOOD FAITH: The Parties expressly agree that they shall act in good faith to ensure implementation of this Global Settlement Agreement, Release and Waiver.

24. MODIFICATIONS: This Agreement may not be altered, amended or modified except in writing, signed and duly authorized by all Parties.

25. EXECUTION IN COUNTERPARTS AND FACSIMILIE SIGNATURES: This Agreement may be executed in two (or more) counterparts each of which, when executed and delivered shall be deemed to be an original, and of which counterparts, taken together, shall constitute one and the same agreement. An original signature transmitted by facsimile shall be deemed to be an original for the purposes of this Agreement and for the accompanying letter of resignation.

BY SIGNING BELOW, THE PARTIES ACKNOWLEDGE THAT EACH HAS READ THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT, UNDERSTANDS THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT AND INTENDS TO BE LEGALLY BOUND BY THIS AGREEMENT AND ITS PROVISIONS. ADDITIONALLY, THE PARTIES ARE SIGNING BELOW VOLUNTARILY AND WITHOUT THREAT OR COERCION OF ANY KIND.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, and intending to be legally bound hereby, I, Jessica Hidalgo, have executed the foregoing Agreement this ___ day of April, 2022.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Marissa Ranello,
Board of Education of the City of Millville,
Cumberland County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the April 26, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's May 24, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of censure is recommended. Respondent did not file exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor was the SEC's underlying finding of a violation appealed to the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4.

Upon review, the Commissioner notes that in previous matters, when a respondent completed the requisite training after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause – but prior to the SEC's meeting date – the penalty has been a reprimand. See, In the Matter of Annette Beasley, Irvington Board of Education, Essex County, Commissioner Decision No. 223-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021; In the Matter of Marcos Garciga, Cliffside Park Board of Education, Bergen County, Commissioner Decision No. 224-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021; In the Matter of Gary Yedman, Seaside Park Board of Education, Ocean County, Commissioner Decision No. 230-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021. As the instant case arises from the same circumstances, the Commissioner finds that a reprimand is the appropriate penalty for the respondent's failure to timely complete the requisite training.[1] Accordingly, the respondent shall be reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

Angelica Allen-McMillan, J.D.S.
ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: July 6, 2022
Date of Mailing: July 6, 2022

[1] The SEC has previously recommended a penalty of a censure when a board member completed the training after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's next meeting; however, the Commissioner rejected the penalty recommendation in that case and advised that a reprimand is the appropriate penalty under those circumstances. In the Matter of Robyn Schneider, The Ethical Community Charter School, Hudson County, Commissioner Decision No. 140-16SEC, decided April 11, 2016.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to P.L. 2008, c. 36 (N.J.S.A 18A:6-9.1).

Before the School Ethics Commission
Docket No.: T20-21
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Marissa Ranello,
Millville Board of Education, Cumberland County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 26, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Marissa Ranello (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Millville Board of Education (Board), located in Cumberland County. As a result of her position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 1 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement on April 27, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated (through counsel), "I coordinated with the Business Administrator of my District to schedule said training using my personal computer in my home ... I attempted to access the training programs; however, I encountered computer problems which prevented me from completing the training session ... With the help of the District, I was able to access and successfully complete ... on April 27, 2022 ... I apologize for my delay ... and will faithfully complete all required trainings in the future." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that she did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of censure.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Mark Winterbottom,
Board of Education of the Township of Mullica, Atlantic County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the April 26, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's May 24, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of censure is recommended. Respondent did not file exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor was the SEC's underlying finding of a violation appealed to the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4.

Upon review, the Commissioner notes that in previous matters, when a respondent completed the requisite training after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause – but prior to the SEC's meeting date – the penalty has been a reprimand. See, In the Matter of Annette Beasley, Irvington Board of Education, Essex County, Commissioner Decision No. 223-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021; In the Matter of Marcos Garciga, Cliffside Park Board of Education, Bergen County, Commissioner Decision No. 224-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021; In the Matter of Gary Yedman, Seaside Park Board of Education, Ocean County, Commissioner Decision No. 230-21SEC, decided October 13, 2021. As the instant case arises from the same circumstances, the Commissioner finds that a reprimand is the appropriate penalty for the respondent's failure to timely complete the requisite training.[1] Accordingly, the respondent shall be reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

[1] The SEC has previously recommended a penalty of a censure when a board member completed the training after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's next meeting; however, the Commissioner rejected the penalty recommendation in that case and advised that a reprimand is the appropriate penalty under those circumstances. In the Matter of Robyn Schneider, The Ethical Community Charter School, Hudson County, Commissioner Decision No. 140-16SEC, decided April 11, 2016.

Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

I/M/O Mark Winterbottom,
Mullica Township Board of Education, Atlantic County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 26, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Mark Winterbottom (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Mullica Township Board of Education (Board), located in Atlantic County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 4 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed his training requirement on April 28, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, he was unable to previously complete training due to "personal reasons." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that he did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of censure.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of D. Robert Dovey, Delanco Township Board of Education,
Burlington County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Respondent failed to complete the training. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is removed from the board for violating the School Ethics Act.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Marquis Garnett, Chesilhurst Board of Education,
Camden County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Ultimately, respondent completed the training after the SEC's May 24, 2022 decision. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is suspended from the board for 30 days for violating the School Ethics Act.

Docket No.: T16-21
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

I/M/O Marquis Garnett,
Chesilhurst Board of Education, Camden County

I. Procedural History

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Chesilhurst Board of Education (Board), located in Camden County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 1 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent failed to respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why he did not complete training by December 31, 2021, and also failed to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Stephanie Risley, Millville Board of Education,
Cumberland County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Respondent failed to complete the training. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is removed from the board for violating the School Ethics Act.

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 16, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Fred Pierce (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Michele Bowes,
Lawrence Township Board of Education,
Mercer County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Ultimately, respondent completed the training after the SEC's May 24, 2022 decision. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is suspended from the board for 30 days for violating the School Ethics Act.

Docket No.: T25-21
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Michele Bowes,
Lawrence Township Board of Education, Mercer County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) its meeting on April 26, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Michel Bowes (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Lawrence Township Board of Education (Board), located in Mercer County. As a result of her position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 4 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent failed to respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why she did not complete training by December 31, 2021, and also failed to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision.

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

R.C. and B.C., on behalf of minor child, A.C.,

Petitioner,

Board of Education of the Township of Galloway, Atlantic County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioners pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

Petitioners challenge a harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) decision made by the Board. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) scheduled a telephone conference for May 26, 2022. Petitioners did not participate in the telephone prehearing conference; accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the matter based on petitioners' apparent abandonment of their appeal.

[1] The Board did not file a reply to petitioners' exceptions. Petitioners also filed a motion to vacate the Initial Decision, making the same arguments included in their exceptions. As there is no statutory or regulatory provision for the filing of a motion to vacate an Initial Decision, neither the motion nor the Board's reply thereto were considered. Petitioners also filed a motion to vacate the Initial Decision on the grounds that the ALJ had a conflict. Again, neither this motion nor the Board's reply thereto were considered, although petitioners are free to raise the issue of conflict should the same ALJ be assigned on remand.

In their exceptions, petitioners indicate that they did not see the email scheduling the telephone conference, nor did opposing counsel contact them when they failed to appear for the conference. They state that they would have attended if they had they been aware that it was scheduled. Accordingly, they urge the Commissioner to overturn the Initial Decision.

Upon review, the Commissioner finds that petitioners did not abandon this matter. Petitioners offered a reason why they failed to appear for the May 26, 2022 telephone prehearing conference, namely that the email – which, according to the Initial Decision, is the only method by which the OAL sent the scheduling notice – was not received.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings necessary to reach a determination on the merits.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

BEFORE JEFFREY R. WILSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners challenge the respondent's, Township of Galloway Board of Education's (Board or respondent) harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) decision.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL DISCUSSION

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on March 4, 2022. A telephone prehearing conference was scheduled to be heard on April 25, 2022. Notice of that that telephone conference was emailed to the petitioners on March 29, 2022. The notice included the following language:

> If you do not participate in the telephone conference, the file will be returned to the transmitting agency for appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the other party.

Petitioners did not participate in the April 25, 2022, telephone conference. However, the petitioners did send an email later that day apologizing for not participating in the call and requesting that the matter be rescheduled.

Another telephone prehearing conference was scheduled to be heard on May 26, 2022. Notice of that that telephone conference was emailed to the petitioners on April 26, 2022. The notice included the following language:

> If you do not participate in the telephone conference, the file will be returned to the transmitting agency for appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the other party. (emphasis included.)

The petitioners did not participate in the May 26, 2022, telephone conference and did not contact the OAL to explain why they were unable to do so.

CONCLUSION

To date, the petitioners have not provided a request for an adjournment of the May 26, 2022, telephone conference or an explanation for their nonappearance for the same. Neither has this office received notice of legal representation on behalf of the petitioners. Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioners have failed to appear and abandoned their appeal.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that this matter is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." New Jersey Commissioner of Education

P.V., on behalf of minor child, T.S.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Verona, Essex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioner challenged the respondent Board's decision to deny her minor child, T.S., admission into the Verona High School National Honor Society (NHS). Following an emergent hearing via Zoom on May 20, 2022, the record closed. The parties agreed during the proceedings that no underlying issues remain in this matter.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: T.S. – a junior at Verona High School – applied for admission to the school's NHS in 2022; membership in the NHS is conferred upon students in recognition of outstanding accomplishments in scholarship, leadership, character, and service; in April 2022, T.S. was denied admission because his "student conduct record is inconsistent with the character requirements of the NHS."; this determination stemmed from a one day, in-school suspension during T.S.'s freshman year, issued following an in-class remark directed at his Spanish teacher; petitioner's assertion that her child's chances of admission to selective colleges will be impacted by the fact that he is not a member of NHS is speculative and not supported by the record; N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) sets forth the standards governing motions for emergent relief, and instructs that parties seeking such relief must meet all of the four standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982); petitioner here has failed to meet all four of the required standards for emergent relief. Accordingly, the ALJ denied petitioner's request for emergent relief.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's conclusion that petitioner has not met the standards for emergent relief. Further, as the parties agreed during the proceedings that no underlying issues remain, no further proceedings are necessary to bring this matter to a close. Accordingly, the petition of appeal was dismissed.

Record Closed: May 20, 2022 Decided: May 23, 2022

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, P.V. on behalf of T.S. (student), seeks an order by way of emergent relief, to reverse the decision of respondent, Board of Education of the Township of Verona (the District or the Board), denying the student admission into the Verona High School, National Honor Society.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On April 22, 2022, petitioner, filed a petition of appeal (petition) with the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes (Department of Education). Thereafter, on May 16, 2022, petitioner converted the petition to an emergent petition, seeking emergent relief pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A-31.6. The Department of Education then transferred this matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and the same was filed at the OAL on May 16, 2022, as an emergent and contested matter. The parties agree that there are no other underlying issues that remain.

A telephonic status conference was held on May 18, 2022, and the parties agreed to conduct oral argument on May 20, 2022, to allow time for the submission of respective legal briefs.

Oral argument was scheduled remotely via zoom on May 20, 2022. Petitioner and the student appeared at oral argument and were placed under oath and presented oral statements concerning petitioner's application herein. The Board did not present any witness and relied on its opposition brief filed herein. The record closed on May 20, 2022.

FACTUAL SUMMARY

The following essential facts in this matter are not in dispute. The student is a junior in the eleventh grade at Verona High School. When the student was a freshman in the ninth grade, Verona High School issued a one-day in school suspension of the student related to his conduct in class. Specifically, the student made an in-class remark directed at his Spanish class teacher, which resulted in his suspension. The student stated that he and the teacher presented their respective versions of the incident to the vice principal, who then issued the one-day in school suspension. Petitioner stated that the student has not been issued any other disciplinary suspension.

Petitioner confirmed that Verona Highs School notified her of the suspension, and she had several discussions with the vice principal regarding her objection to the student's suspension. Petitioner stated that she was not aware at the time that a suspension could lead to the student being denied admission into the Verona High School National Honor Society (NHS). Petitioner argues further that the school should not have issued a "Level III" suspension against the student, as his conduct was more in line with a "Level II" suspension. The Petitioner did not appeal the suspension to the State Department of Education under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), as she claims she "was not made aware" of the same by the vice principal.

The Verona High School NHS guidelines for student induction and participation membership in the NHS follows the same criteria as the National NHS chapter. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors and is conferred upon students in recognition of outstanding accomplishments in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Induction and continued participation in the NHS are based upon the criteria in the Verona High School NHS by-laws, and Student Handbook.

In 2022, the student applied for admission into the NHS, as well as subject NHS membership, which Verona High School also maintains. Petitioner also presented an email from Paula Ramos Santiago addressed to the student informing him that his application to the Science National Honor Society was denied because of his past school offense. (P-2). (No other documents regarding the subject NHS chapters were presented.)

By letter dated April 29, 2022, (April 29 letter) the student was informed that he was denied admission into the NHS because his "student conduct record is inconsistent with the character requirements of the NHS." (P-1). The April 29 letter also provided the student an opportunity to meet with the NHS advisors to "understand the reason for denial", and "advocate for themselves (Id.). Petitioner and the student did not meet with the NHS advisors, and petitioner filed the within petition on April [1]

[1] It is noted that although not addressed in the papers filed herein, or at oral argument, petitioner filed the within petition dated April 13, 2022, on April 22, 2022, and Verona High School notified the student on April 29, 2022, that he was denied admission into the NHS (P-1).

Petitioner argues that the student's denial in the NHS and the subject NHS chapters are unfair and will have a "detrimental effect" on the student's admission into an elite college or university. Petitioner bases her argument on the competitive college application process as any college that the student applies to will "question" why the student is not on the NHS despite his academic record. Petitioner argues that Verona High School does not report the student's disciplinary record on his school transcript and the colleges are therefore, not made aware of the same.

The District argues that petitioner's written submission does not address any of the applicable factors for emergent relief set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and instead appears to contest whether the student's prior suspension was warranted. The District argues further that emergent relief cannot be granted in this matter as petitioner has not alleged irreparable harm with any specificity, except a purely "speculative belief" that Verona High School's denial of the student in the NHS will detrimentally effect the student's ability to apply to college. The District argues further that lacking any demonstrable factual support, this belief is not sufficient to demonstrate irreparable harm, and further the student is a junior student, and is eligible to apply for admission to the National Honor Society his senior year.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) sets forth the standards governing motions for emergent relief. The regulation instructs in salient part:

> A motion for a stay or emergent relief shall be accompanied by a letter memorandum or brief which shall address the following standards be met for granting such relief pursuant to Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982):
> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
>
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
> 3. The petitioner has the likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and

4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.

   [N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b).]

Petitioner has the burden of establishing each of the above requirements in order to warrant relief in her favor.

Irreparable harm

Turning to the first criteria, it is well settled that relief should not be granted except "when necessary to prevent irreparable harm." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132. In this regard, harm is generally considered irreparable if it cannot be adequately redressed by monetary damages. Id. at 132-33. In other words, it has been described as "'substantial injury to a material degree coupled with the inadequacy of money damages.'" Judice's Sunshine Pontiac, Inc. v. General Motors Corp., 418 F. Supp. 1212, 1218 (D.N.J. 1976) (citation omitted). See New Jersey Dep't of Environmental Protection v. Circle Carting, Inc., 2004 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 968 (April 2, 2004) (finding no irreparable harm in connection with the revocation of respondent's solid waste license in that financial loss is generally insufficient to demonstrate this requirement). The moving party bears the burden of proving irreparable harm. More than a risk of irreparable harm must be demonstrated. Continental Group, Inc. v. Amoco Chemicals Corp., 614 F. 2d 351, 359 (D.N.J. 1980). The requisite for injunctive relief is a "clear showing of immediate irreparable injury," or a "'presently existing actual threat; (an injunction) may not be used simply to eliminate a possibility of a remote future injury, or a future invasion of rights, be those rights protected by statute or by common law.'" Ibid. (citation omitted.)

In the instant matter, I CONCLUDE there has not been a showing of "immediate irreparable injury" or a "presently existing actual threat". Petitioner's argument that the student's opportunities to attend college will be harmed because he has been denied admission to the NHS is unsubstantiated by the record presented before me. I CONCLUDE that no proofs were presented by petitioner that would satisfy the first prong in Crowe, and I therefore CONCLUDE that petitioner has not demonstrated that the student will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted.

Right to the underlying claim must be settled

A board of education's actions are entitled to a presumption of lawfulness and good faith. In challenges to board actions, the challenger bears the burden of proving that such acts were unlawful, arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Schuster v. Bd. of Educ. Montgomery Twp., 96 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 670, 676 (citing Schnick v. Westwood Ed. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 448 (App. Div. 1960), and Quinlan v. Bd. of Educ. of North Bergen Twp., 73 N.J. Super. 40 (App. Div. 1962).

In the absence of a clear showing of abuse of discretion, the Commissioner of Education will not substitute his or her own judgment for that of the board of education. Massaro v. Bd. of Educ. of the Boro. of Bergenfield, 1 965 S.L.D. 84, 85. In Kopera v. Bd. of Educ. of West Orange, 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960), the Appellate Division stated, "the well-established rule that action of the local board [of education] which lies within the area of its discretionary powers may not be upset unless patently without rational basis or induced by improper motives."

Given this standard in Crowe, that the legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled, it is particularly notable that petitioner fails to cite any precedent whatsoever for holding that petitioner has an underlying legal right to admission to the National Honor Society. To the contrary, the Commissioner of Education has recognized, admissions criteria to the National Honor Society are matters of local determination for each school district, and the Commissionerwill not substitute his judgment for that of the school district except where the District's actionsare arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. J.B.A. and A.M.A. v. Bernardsville Board of Education, 4 N.J.A.R. at 152. An applicant must meet the applicable standards for entry into theNational Honor Society, and that admission is not so "automatic" as to be considered a "right." Id. See also Roberts Cert, Ex. A, National Honor Society Handbook, 2020 P. 41 Terminology (noting that admission is "not a right"), P49 (again noting admission is not a right), P99 (legal memorandum addressing "legal right" to entry into NHS). Clearly, therefore, in light of NHS own procedures, petitioner cannot demonstrate an underlying legal right to the requested admission, mandating that emergent relief be denied.

I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to establish a right to the underlying claim has been settled.

Likelihood of prevailing on the merits

Emergent relief requires petitioner to demonstrate a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim, and when significant factual issues exist, petitioner cannot prevail. Petitioner has not set forth exactly how she is likely to prevail on the merits of this matter. At best, her underlying legal argument is that the student should not have received what she terms an "indoor suspension," and if he did not, he would have been accepted into National Honor Society. The issue of suspension of the student is moot as petitioner admits that she did not file a timely appeal with the Department of Education under N.J.A.C. 6a:3-1.3(i).

I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to establish that she has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits.

Balancing of the Equities

The student admitted that he was suspended his freshman year related to his conduct and petitioner has admitted that she did not appeal the suspension at the time because she was not aware she could. The time to appeal the student suspension has passed and petitioner has failed to present any proofs that they were denied due process to challenge the suspension. The petition filed herein seeks emergent relief to reverse the decision of Verona High School to admit the student in the NHS, not litigate the prior suspension.

Petitioner must demonstrate that the student will suffer more significant harm than the Board if this tribunal does not grant petitioner the requested relief. However, no proofs have been presented that admission into the NHS alone will guarantee or enhance the student's prospects of admission into a college of his choosing. The Board has set forth the standards for admission into the Verona High School NHS, which are set forth in the National NHS chapter, which are: academic eligibility, service, leadership, and character. (Exhibit A, Certification of Counsel). In applying these criteria the Board has determined that the student's prior "student conduct record is inconsistent with the character requirements of the NHS". Under the circumstances of this matter, I CONCLUDE that the Board's interests outweigh the student's interest in seeking admission into the NHS.

For the reasons set forth herein, I CONCLUDE that petitioner is not entitled to emergent relief because the proofs submitted fail to establish all of the necessary elements to grant emergency relief under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), and as set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that petitioner's request for emergent relief is DENIED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Jacinda Chen, Esq., "
Yesenia Camilo, Respondent

I. BACKGROUND CONSIDERATIONS

Respondent Yesenia Camilo is employed as an instructor by the West New York, New Jersey, Board of Education. Ms. Camilo is certified as a Teacher of English as a Second Language; Teacher of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing; Teacher of the Handicapped; and Elementary School Teacher. Over her roughly nineteen (19) years in West New York, tenure was acquired pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5(a). During the 2019-2020 School Year, Ms. Camilo taught Special Education. On August 11, 2020, the Board brought tenure charges against the instructor in Agency Docket No. 189-9/20.

That matter was assigned to Arbitrator Joyce Klein, pursuant to the provisions of the TEACHNJ Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16 et seq. After conducting numerous evidentiary hearings, Arbitrator Klein issued her Award on June 3, 2021. See Board Exhibit 4. This sustained Counts 3 & 4 of Charge II (Conduct Unbecoming, Neglect and Incapacity) and Count 1 of Charge III (Insubordination and Conduct Unbecoming for Failure to Follow Directives). The remaining charges were dismissed. In addition to withholding Ms. Camilo's increment for the 2021-2022 School Year, Arbitrator Klein ordered that her reinstatement be conditioned on the successful completion of a Fitness For Duty Examination.

When Respondent failed to comply with this arbitral directive, the WNY Board of Education adopted REVISED TENURE CHARGES against Ms. Camilo at its Meeting of November 29, 2021. These suspended her without pay for the statutory one hundred twenty-day (120) period, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. See CERTIFICATE OF DETERMINATION. On January 3, 2022, Respondent's then-Counsel James R. Zazzali, Jr. sent a letter of representation to Jennifer Killough-Herrera, Director of Controversies and Disputes for the New Jersey State Department of Education. This additionally memorialized counsel's intention to file a Motion to Dismiss the instant revised tenure charges before an arbitrator, based upon his understanding that the DOE would not entertain the application.

Ms. Killough-Herrera subsequently notified me on January 7, 2022 that I had been appointed to serve as the Arbitrator, per N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16, with instructions to review all charges that were not dismissed as a result of the motion. On March 11, 2022, Colin M. Lynch, Esq., of the Zazzali Law Firm filed a NOTICE OF MOTION TO DISMISS IN LIEU OF FILING AN ANSWER, with supporting brief and case citation. On March 25, 2022, Lester E. Taylor, III, Esq., and David J. Kass, Esq., of the Florio Law Firm filed a BRIEF IN OPPOSITION TO RESPONDENT'S MOTION TO DISMISS IN LIEU OF AN ANSWER. This was submitted on behalf of the Board of Education and accompanied by case citation.

On April 29, 2022, I issued an INTERIM AWARD ON MOTION TO DISMISS, which dismissed Charges II through V of the Revised Charges with prejudice. The surviving charge provides as follows:

CHARGE I

CONDUCT UNBECOMING A TEACHING STAFF MEMBER REGARDING RESPONDENT'S ABANDONMENT OF POSITION

> The foregoing background information, and the facts alleged therein, are incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein. Ms. Camilo has engaged in unbecoming conduct by abandoning her teaching position. On June 3, 2021, Arbitrator Joyce M. Klein ("the Arbitrator"), issued an Opinion and Award as a result of the initial tenure charges. The Opinion and Award, in addition to the facts found therein, is incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein.
> The Arbitrator concluded Ms. Camilo shall be reinstated to her teaching position "pending successful completion of a Fitness For Duty examination." Although the Arbitrator did not specify a timeline for said completion, it has been – as of this date – more than four (4) months since the Opinion and Award was issued, and nearly two (2) months since the 2021-2022 School Year began. Ms. Camilo has not presented proof of a successfully completed Fitness For Duty examination, nor has she submitted other medical documentation justifying her continued absence. Ms. Camilo has failed to comply with the terms of the Opinion and Award and has not returned to her position. These acts and omissions, constituting an abandonment of her position, amount to just cause for immediate dismissal.

A hearing on the merits of this charge was held on May 12, 2022 at the Annex, located at 5401 Polk Street, West New York, New Jersey. At that time, the parties were provided with a full opportunity to enter relevant and admissible documentary evidence; to participate in oral argument; and to undertake the direct and cross-examination of witnesses, who testified under oath. No sequestration order was invoked, and a verbatim transcription of the proceeding was provided by RIZMANRAPPAPORT CERTIFIED COURT REPORTERS. Post-hearing briefs were thereafter submitted in lieu of closing argument, with the record closed on June 3, 2022. At my request, on May 18, 2022 Ms. Killough-Herrera graciously extended the second forty-five (45) day statutory period during which my AWARD would be due to July 6, 2022.

II. FRAMING OF THE ISSUE[1]

Whether Ms. Camilo failed to comply with the terms of the Klein Opinion and Award and whether a failure to submit for a Fitness For Duty examination as of the date of the filing of the tenure charges constitutes an abandonment of position and/or other just cause for removal.

III. POSITIONS OF THE PARTIES

Petitioner West New York Board of Education

Yesenia Camilo was hired by the Board approximately nineteen (19) years ago. T82:21. She holds a certificate as a Teacher of English, Teacher of English as a Second Language, Teacher of the Deaf or Hard of Hearing, Teacher of the Handicapped, and Elementary School Teacher. T84:1-6. She subsequently earned tenure in the position. During the entirety of her employment, Respondent was subject to the terms and conditions of the collective bargaining agreement between the Board and the West New York Education Association, which was admitted into evidence as Board Exhibit 1.

There is little doubt that for most of Respondent's tenure as a teacher, there were no issues with her behavior and/or conduct. Yet that changed starting in the 2019-2020 School Year, in which she began behaving erratically. Upon becoming aware of her concerning conduct at the school in or around October 2019, the

1/ The second part of the framing was proposed by the Petitioner. I indicated to the parties that the Respondent's proffer was really subsumed therein, and that in framing the issue I would focus just on what the Board stated in Charge 1. The initial language was lifted from the second paragraph of the same. T7:16-25, T8:1-10.

Board placed Ms. Camilo on administrative leave and required her to attend a Fitness For Duty examination. T13:13-15. Ms. Camilo's last day of work was October 16, 2019. T17:21. However, over the next several months, the Board attempted to schedule a Fitness For Duty examination for Ms. Camilo. Given Ms. Camilo's repeated failure to attend a Fitness For Duty examination in that period, the Board certified tenure charges alleging the erratic behavior constituted conduct unbecoming and warranted her termination.

The matter proceeded to binding arbitration, which resulted in Arbitrator Klein's June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award. Unfortunately, while the June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award purported to resolve these issues, the lack of clarity therein precipitated the events resulting in the Revised Tenure Charges. Specifically, although Arbitrator Klein determined that Ms. Camilo should have an increment withheld and "be reinstated pending successful completion of a Fitness For Duty Examination," Arbitrator Klein did not specify a time frame in which same must be completed. See Board Exhibit 4, at 42. Nevertheless, testimony from the May 12, 2022 arbitration hearing demonstrates that both parties interpreted the award to mean Ms. Camilo was required to submit for a Fitness For Duty examination prior to the start of the 2021-2022 School Year. See T40:18; see also T128:22-129:1; T141:23-142:3. Ms. Camilo twice acknowledged her interpretation of the June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award was that she had to complete the Fitness For Duty examination "ASAP."

representations throughout the months following the June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award. Despite the Board's attempt to immediately schedule a Fitness For Duty examination for Ms. Camilo, her counsel, on June 25, 2021, rejected the Board's chosen physician and advised Ms. Camilo would submit to same with Dr. Nicole J. Rafanello, offering dates of "either July 1st and July 6, 2021, or July 8th and July 13, 2021. See Board Exhibit 6. This examination, quite clearly, was never completed. The Board never received any correspondence reflecting that Ms. Camilo submitted to these appointments with Dr. Rafanello. T45:2-13.

Despite Ms. Camilo's offering of dates for early to mid-July, she testified during the hearing, "July 27th was my first appointment" with Dr. Rafanello. T85:18. Ms. Camilo apparently attended an initial session with Dr. Rafanello on July 27, 2021 and testified that Dr. Rafanello wanted her to complete the evaluation on a later date, August 3, 2021. T87:13. During the May 12th hearing Mr. Camilo stated — and the Board learned for the first time — she did not submit to an examination on August 3, 2021 because she "woke up with ... 3 feet of water in [her] apartment," and arrived forty-five minutes later to her appointment. So, Dr. Rafanello's office rescheduled her appointment for two weeks later on August 14, 2021. T84:3-4; T89:11-12.

Regarding her August 14, 2021 appointment, Ms. Camilo further testified that that morning, she "woke up with a foot of raw [sewage] in her apartment." T89:17. Nevertheless, Ms. Camilo went to the exam, still wearing the clothing she "put [on] to deal with the situation," but did not complete the exam because, in her words, "I [didn't] think I was ready for this evaluation because mentally I was so disgusted. T91:21-22; T92:3-5. As a result of the incomplete exam, Dr. Rafanello rescheduled Ms. Camilo for August 24, 2021. T93:8. Yet Ms. Camilo testified that misfortune plagued her calendar once again. On the date of the thrice-rescheduled exam, Ms. Camilo testified her daughter was in a car accident. T93:17. Despite this, Ms. Camilo was able to arrange for her father picking up her daughter so that she could attend the exam.

Although Ms. Camilo testified she "finished" the exam, she further testified that Dr. Rafanello told her she "was not in any state of mind" to complete the exam. T94:19. Ms. Camilo did not indicate in her testimony any effort to schedule a further visit to finally complete the exam between August 24, 2022 and November 29, 2021, the date the instant charges were filed. It bears emphasizing that Ms. Camilo did not introduce any documentary evidence supporting the reasons she provided for failing to complete the exam on various dates in July and August 2021. Nor did her attorney ever mention any of these purported "reasons" for the substantial delay in the numerous communications between counsel between June and October 2021.

Instead, Ms. Camilo, nearly two (2) months later — and presumably with the assistance of her legal counsel — took it upon herself to enroll in an Employee Assistance Program at Rutgers University ("the EAP") because, in her words, she needed "psychological help." T99:18; 100:12. This enrollment commenced absent authorization from her employer, the Board. Interestingly, Ms. Camilo, in her nineteen (19) plus years of experience "didn't even know this program existed," until it was "brought up to [her] attention." T100:18-24. She did not testify who advised her to enter the EAP. There is simply no evidence Ms. Camilo made any attempt to complete a Fitness For Duty exam in the more than six (6) weeks between August 24, 2021 and October 11, 2021.

It was at this juncture the Board determined the Revised Tenure Charges should be filed, which is reflected through email correspondence between Board counsel and Ms. Camilo's counsel. See Board Exhibit 7. After receiving the initial June 25, 2021 email from Ms. Camilo's attorney, James R. Zazzali, Jr., Esq. ("Mr. Zazzali"), explaining that Ms. Camilo would be submitting to a Fitness For Duty exam with Dr. Rafanello, the Board's counsel continued following up urging completion of the same, and seeking a status update. Ibid. This is reflected in emails from Board counsel dated July 15, 2021 and July 23, 2021.

Having not heard from Mr. Zazzali in several weeks, Board counsel emailed Mr. Zazzali on September 29, 2021, requesting a status update, given the Board's desire to have this matter finally resolved. Id. at 6. Mr. Zazzali then advised he would have an update no later than Tuesday, October 5, 2021. Mr. Zazzali did not mention the possibility of an EAP. On October 6, 2021, Mr. Zazzali advised Board counsel via email that while he now believed he was getting a status update on Friday, October 8, 2021, he stated "Ms. Camilo is unlikely to be in the classroom this Fall, perhaps obviously." Id. at 5.

To be clear, it was not obvious to the Board that Ms. Camilo would not be back in the classroom that Fall. Mr. Zazzali still did not mention the possibility of an EAP. Board counsel responded via email that same date, and explained Ms. Camilo "cannot dictate when she goes into the classroom," and "if she is not cleared on or before [October 15, 2021], my client will likely direct me to pursue additional steps to terminate her employment. We have been extremely patient." Id. at 4.

Mr. Zazzali acknowledged receipt — without mentioning the EAP — and then, five (5) days later on October 11, 2021, advised Board counsel that Ms. Camilo enrolled in the EAP on October 8, 2021. Id. at 2. The email further stated: "[a]t the successful completion of that program, Ms. Camilo will presumably submit for a completion of her Fitness For Duty examination, for pending return to employment, as required by the Board of Education." Id. It bears repeating this requirement was not set forth by the Board, but rather Arbitrator Klein's June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award. Moreover, Mr. Zazzali specified no timeline in which either the EAP or the Fitness For Duty exam would be completed.

None of the communications between the Board and Mr. Zazzali between June 2021 and October 2021 mentioned an EAP, until October 11, 2021. Moreover, as was testified to at length by Mr. Wohlrab, Ms. Camilo never sought authorization for a leave of absence to enroll in the EAP. Accordingly, justifiably frustrated with Ms. Camilo's obstruction of this process and failure to communicate her progress, the Board filed the Revised Tenure Charges in Count 1 that Ms.

Camilo abandoned her position.

A tenured public-school employee cannot be dismissed from employment "except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10. The Board bringing tenure charges must prove that the factual allegations are true, and that the penalty is just, by a "preponderance of the credible evidence." In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Mark C. Bringhurst, School District of the City of Vineland, Cumberland County, Agency Docket. No. 236-8/12; see also In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Jill Buglovsky, School District of the Township of Randolph, Morris County, Agency Docket. No. 484-12. The court in In re Polk 90 NJ 550, 560 (1982), outlined that the evidence "need not have the attribute of certainty, but it must be well founded in reason and logic." Lesniewski v. W.B. Furze Corp., 308 N.J. Super., 270, 279 (App. Div. 1998) (quoting Lister v. J.B. Eurell Co., 234 N.J. Super. 64, 72 (App. Div. 1989)).

Regarding abandonment of position, "excessive or chronic absenteeism of a tenured teacher, even if related to legitimate medical or health problems, has been held to constitute "incapacity," "unbecoming conduct," and/or "just cause" within the meaning of 18A:6-10. State-Operated School District of Jersey City, Hudson County v. Vincent Pellecchio, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d. (EDU) at *7 (1992).

The rationale behind abandonment warranting termination is justified."[T]here is no question that repeated and excessive absenteeism of regular teachers poses a threat to the integrity of the educational process." Trenton

Board of Education v. Williamson, OAL Docket No. EDU 7335-85 at *4 (April 14, 1986) aff'd by Comm'r (May 28, 1986). In other words, it is not merely the teacher's prolonged absence that supports termination, but the effect it has on the school's efficient operations as well. Importantly, "the point at which absenteeism is judged to be chronic falls within the prerogative and discretionary authority of the Board." Pellechio, supra at *6 (internal citation omitted).

To determine whether abandonment of position has occurred, three (3) factors must be considered: (1) the particular circumstances of the absences and not merely the number of absences; (2) the impact that the absences had on the continuity of instruction during the period of time the absences occurred; and (3) whether some warning had been given to the employee that his or her supervisors were dissatisfied with the pattern of absences. See In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Lena White, State-Operated School District of Jersey City, Hudson County, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 157 (1991); see also Kelsey v. Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, Commissioner Decision No. 127-89 (May 11, 1989).

Perhaps most critical to this analysis is the fact that the employee's intent to return to his or her position is largely not dispositive. In I/M/O Tenure Hearing of Giuseppe Amodei, supra, the respondent teacher had a knee issue which was preventing him from performing his duties. Id. at *2. Yet, the Commissioner of Education, in issuing the decision, found that "respondent's decision to undergo a knee replacement was driven, at least in part, by his desire to restore his ability to physically handle his teaching position. It would thus be counterintuitive to conclude that his actions signified an intent to abandon that position." Id. at *3.

However, and essential to this analysis, the Commissioner emphasized: "[t]he determination that respondent did not abandon his position, however, does not dispose of the ultimate issue in this case. Frequent or prolonged absences can, regardless of the reason warrant dismissal from a position." In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Giusseppe Amodei, New Jersey State Juvenile Justice Commission, No. 575-9/10, 2011 WL 7030981, at *3 (EFPS October 13, 2011) (citing State-Operated School District of Jersey City v. Vincent Pellechia, supra).

The argument here is simple. Ms. Camilo had ample time to complete the required Fitness For Duty examination, and her failure to do so constitutes abandonment of position, thus warranting her termination. Alternatively, Ms. Camilo's evidenced inability to remain in the classroom also warrants termination. To address the three (3) factors prescribed by relevant law, the argument is summarized as follows: Ms. Camilo's protracted absence from work was in large part due to her own failure to receive clearance to return, notwithstanding the administrative leave. Furthermore, given Ms. Camilo's role as a special education teacher of which there are limited personnel, her absence detrimentally affected the students most in need. Lastly, the evidence produced substantiates the Board's myriad attempts to return her to the classroom and expressed the Board's significant dissatisfaction with her absence from work. The Board submits the evidence produced at the May 12, 2022 hearing substantially supports the conclusion Ms. Camilo abandoned her position, based upon a preponderance of the evidence, as required by relevant case law.

During the May 12th hearing, Ms. Camilo acknowledged that she had several appointments scheduled — after rejecting the Board's chosen physician — and still failed to comply with the June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award. As previously discussed, Ms. Camilo testified she endured several "obstacles" preventing her examination, including: waking up to water in her apartment, waking up to raw sewage in her apartment, and learning that her daughter was in a serious motor vehicle accident. Even assuming, arguendo, the Arbitrator determines Ms. Camilo had justifiable excuses for missing those summer appointments, no such justification was proffered for the month of September 2021, i.e. the first month of the 2021-2022 School Year. There is nothing to suggest she even attempted to submit for examination in September 2021. Ms. Camilo testified she knew in August 2021 that the Board was considering refiling tenure charges. T144:7-9. Moreover, she testified she had this knowledge before she was even aware of the EAP program's existence. T144:10-13.

It further bears emphasizing the issue underscoring the entire matter: Ms. Camilo's actual fitness for duty. Ms. Camilo testified that, on multiple occasions, she could not complete her Fitness For Duty examination because she was not in the right "mental" or "emotional" state of mind. See T118:21-23 ("I needed help for, [sic] to handle my emotional status at that point of time."). This goes to the heart of the matter. Ms. Camilo intentionally delayed her Fitness For Duty examination because she did not believe she would successfully complete the exam.

Ms. Camilo has argued previously that she submitted for a Fitness For Duty examination in February 2022 and was successful in same. But as the Board noted at the time, reliance on that examination is misplaced due to its inconclusive nature. In fact, it is the Board's position that the February 2022 examination — occurring more than 3 months after the Revised Tenure Charges were filed — should have no bearing on this matter. Indeed, the Arbitrator has previously determined that the results of said examination do not preclude a judgment on the merits for the abandonment charge, as the Revised Tenure Charges were filed before the exam was conducted. This aligns with the Board's case: the question presented is whether Ms. Camilo had abandoned her position at the time the Revised Tenure Charges were filed.

Mr. Wohlrab testified to the particular issues caused by Ms. Camilo's protracted absence. Specifically, he testified that at the time Ms. Camilo was first placed on leave in October 2019, she was "in the middle school supporting special education." T58:22-23. He further testified that currently the Board is suffering a "shortage of teachers," which makes it "very difficult for [the Board] to find special education teachers." T59:8-11.

In fact, Mr. Wohlrab testified that the Board has in its employ only fifteen (15) special education teachers with the same certification that Ms. Camilo holds, such that "when we don't know what staff is in place or when they're going to be in place, there's a lot of shuffling. And it's a huge deterrent to the education process and affects the students greatly." T60:15-16; 61:8-12. This is particularly the case for special education teachers who teach self-contained students, meaning "it's a different education from the special education teacher." T60:21-22. In other words, when a special education teacher is absent, "[i]t prohibits the growth of students, "because the special education students are "the most-needy' pupils. T59:11-13. As Mr. Wohlrab testified: "[e]specially in time of COVID with the internet and trying to learn over remote, not to have a full-time teacher and the scheduling, it is a lot of dominoes that fall when you don't have your staff in place by September." T59:13-18.

Lastly, it is virtually undisputed that the Board repeatedly expressed its dissatisfaction to Ms. Camilo about her nearly three (3) year absence. The email chain in Board Exhibit 7 demonstrates several attempts to receive the status of Ms. Camilo's still-outstanding Fitness For Duty examination. See Id. As Ms. Camilo testified, she had received a Rice notice in August 2021, and was aware the Board was considering additional tenure charges due to her continued noncompliance. T144:7-9.

Simply put, there is substantial evidence in the record showing the Board was persistent in warning Ms. Camilo, through counsel, that her continued absence would not be tolerated. Her absence, indefinitely prolonged upon her own volition, created significant instructional issues within the district and the Board repeatedly sought to have her return. Ms. Camilo's unilateral delay of this process effected several warnings from the Board that she needed to successfully complete her Fitness For Duty examination. Accordingly, it is respectfully requested that this third factor of the analysis is satisfied as well.

In conclusion, the Board is responsible for providing an environment in which students are provided a thorough and efficient education through engaged and active instructors. It is impossible to achieve that objective when a teacher does not satisfy her obligations and is absent for nine hundred and sixty-one (961) days. In this matter, Ms. Camilo has effectively abandoned her position by failing to timely complete a Fitness For Duty examination as of the filing of the Revised Tenure Charges. Her absence was unduly protracted upon her own volition; her absence created significant issues for a district trying to meet the needs of special education students; and she was warned through counsel on several occasions her continued absence would not be tolerated.

Lastly, and significantly, her continued absence was in direct contravention of Arbitrator Klein's June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award, as admitted by Ms. Camilo on several occasions through cross-examination. Thus, based upon the preponderance of the evidence, Ms. Camilo has abandoned her position and her termination is justified pursuant to relevant New Jersey law.

Respondent Yesenia Camilo

TEACHNJ Act tenure charge proceedings are required to be determined pursuant to the American Arbitration Association Labor Arbitration Rules. N.J.S.A.

18A:6-22 (c), and not the New Jersey Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 et seq. That being the case, and depending on the nature of the charges, the arbitrator is vested with discretion to determine the quantum of proof required to support the discipline or discharge of an employee.

Whatever standard of proof is applied, it is well settled that when evidence is in equipoise, and there is no other persuasive evidence, the question in issue must go against the party who has the burden of persuasion. In re Tenure Hearing of Clare Miller, Union County Educational Services Commission, O.A.L. Docket No. 5812-01, Agency Docket No. 240-7/01 (decided April 8, 2002); see also In re Tenure Hearing of Elbert Smith, Hudson County Area Vocational-Technical Schools, 96 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 903, 910; Pacifico v. Pacifico, 2009 WL 436465 (N.J. Super. App. Div. 2009); Concord Insurance Co. v. Miles, 118 N.J. Super. 551 (App. Div. 1972); Ford Motor Co. v. Coleman, 402 F. Supp. 475, 493 (D.C. 1975); United States v. Dudley, 62 F.3d 1275, 1276-77 (10th Cir. 1995).

The Board failed to carry its burden of proof with respect to the Tenure Charge and it should therefore be dismissed. The charge is based on Ms. Camilo's alleged abandonment of her position by allegedly failing to submit to and complete a Fitness For Duty examination as required by Arbitrator Klein's June 3, 2021 Opinion and Award. The evidence shows, however, that Ms. Camilo made reasonable and good faith efforts to complete a Fitness For Duty examination and ultimately successfully completed such an examination with the Board's in-house doctor. The evidence also shows that throughout Ms. Camilo's efforts to submit to and complete a Fitness For Duty examination, unexpected and uncontrollable events took place in her personal life that delayed the completion of the examination.

Arbitrator Klein's Opinion and Award does not specify precisely when Ms. Camilo was required to complete a Fitness For Duty examination. Nonetheless, at all material times, Ms. Camilo attempted to promptly complete a Fitness For Duty examination. She searched for a doctor to conduct the examination following receipt of Arbitrator Klein's Award. Ms. Camilo initially had difficulty retaining a doctor due to the impacts of Covid-19 on doctors' schedules and availability. Ultimately, Ms. Camilo made an appointment with Dr. Rafanello in July 2021, however Dr. Rafanello required Ms. Camilo to attend multiple appointments to complete the examination.

Ms. Camilo completed the first portion of the examination on July 27, 2021. Thereafter, another appointment was scheduled for August 3, 2021. That was when Ms. Camilo began encountering unexpected events in her personal life that interfered with her ability to complete the examination with Dr. Rafanello. On the day of Ms. Camilo's second appointment, her home flooded. Despite that circumstance, Ms. Camilo appeared for the appointment, albeit late and emotionally upset because her intention was to complete the examination, comply with Arbitrator Klein's award and return to work. However, when she arrived for the appointment, Ms. Camilo was directed to reschedule it by Dr. Rafanello's office. Ms. Camilo rescheduled it for August 14, 2021.

On August 14th, Ms. Camilo's home flooded once again, this time with sewage due to a backup in the sewage line. Despite the sewage flood in Ms. Camilo's home, she appeared in Dr. Rafanello's office for her appointment on August 14, 2021, because she appreciated the need to complete the examination in order to return to work. However, she was visibly upset when she arrived and did not feel mentally prepared to complete that portion of the examination that day. As such, Ms. Camilo requested that the appointment be rescheduled and it was for August 24, 2021.

On August 24, 2021, however, Ms. Camilo's daughter was involved in a car accident. Ms. Camilo attended to her daughter following the accident and then appeared for her appointment with Dr. Rafanello. When she arrived for the appointment, she was upset and emotionally distraught. The series of events began to have a cumulative effect on Ms. Camilo. When Dr. Rafanello met with her, she stated that she could not "read" Ms. Camilo and advised that the examination could not go forward that day.

After this series of events, and being unable to complete the examination on August 24, 2021, Ms. Camilo contacted her Union president for guidance because she was concerned that she would be unable to return to work for the commencement of the school year. At that time, Ms. Camilo was faced with significant stress in her personal life. The flooding in Ms. Camilo's home resulted in the loss of her water heater, her furnace, and her refrigerator. Ms. Camilo did not have an income and was unable to pay for her child's college tuition. And most recently, her daughter was injured in a car accident.

After consulting with her Union president, Ms. Camilo determined to seek psychological treatment from an Employee Assistance Plan ("EAP"), Ms. Camilo's EAP provides employees with skills and therapy for emotional issues. In order to enter an EAP, an individual such as Ms. Camilo must be screened and accepted. Ms. Camilo was accepted into the EAP in early October 2021. Her enrollment in the EAP shows that it was her intention all along to return to work. Entrance into the EAP was a responsible and reasonable step to take in light of the stressors Ms. Camilo was confronted with at the time, which were interfering with her ability to successfully complete a Fitness For Duty Examination. Her intention was to obtain the help she required, and then submit to and complete a Fitness For Duty examination.

Monica Valencia was Ms. Camilo's social worker from the EAP. Ms. Valencia certified that Ms. Camilo enrolled in the EAP and was receiving treatment three (3) days a week for three (3) hours a day. See Respondent Exhibit 1. Immediately following Ms. Camilo's receipt of the letter from Ms. Valencia, it was sent to the Board through its attorney by Ms. Camilo's then-attorney. T103:3-104:12. See also Board Exhibit 7. Moreover, by email dated October 11, 2021, Camilo's then-attorney advised the Board's attorney that Ms. Camilo had enrolled in an EAP and begun to receive counseling and treatment. Id. at p. 2. The Board was therefore aware, as of October 11, 2021, that Ms. Camilo had entered an EAP for treatment and counseling.

In or around the end of November 2021, Ms. Camilo progressed sufficiently for her sessions to be reduced to once a week for one (1) hour. After showing more progression, Ms. Camilo was discharged from the EAP on December 15, 2021. When she was discharged, she promptly sought to submit to and complete a Fitness For Duty examination. After Ms. Camilo consulted with her then-attorney who spoke with the Board's attorney, the Board proposed a doctor to perform Ms. Camilo's Fitness For Duty examination.

After agreeing to see Dr. Vincent Z. Ruiz, an examination was scheduled to take place on February 1, 2022. Dr. Ruiz is the Board's in-house psychiatrist. Ms. Camilo appeared for the February 1, 2022 appointment and completed the Fitness For Duty examination with Dr. Ruiz on that date. Dr. Ruiz issued a report following Ms. Camilo's Fitness For Duty examination. See Respondent's Exhibit 2. In his report, Dr. Ruiz clears Ms. Camilo to return to duty.

Abandonment of position takes place where a teaching staff member is absent from their position for an extended period of time with no explanation for the absence. See In re Tenure Hearing of Linda Lane, Newark School District, 1987 S.L.D. 1073; In re Tenure Hearing of Noemia Gomes, Elizabeth Board of Education, Agency Docket No. 69-3/18 (DeTreux, March 4, 2019). The evidence shows that Ms. Camilo intended to return to work from the day she received Arbitrator Klein's Award. And she made a good faith attempt to comply with Arbitrator Klein's Award throughout the relevant time period. Indeed, it can be inferred that the fact that Arbitrator Klein did not set a date certain for the examination to be completed in her Award is a recognition of the nature and realities of scheduling and completing a Fitness For Duty examination in a Covid-19 setting and an acknowledgement that at times, employees can be confronted with unforeseeable and uncontrollable circumstances that could interfere with the completion of a Fitness For Duty examination. As such, because the Board failed to carry its burden with respect to the abandonment of position charge, this Charge should be dismissed.

The Board's policy, generally, is that when it directs an employee to submit to a Fitness For Duty examination, it places the employee on administrative leave pending the results of the examination and a clearance to return to work. And an employee on administrative leave need not request a leave of absence or have such a request approved by the Board. The Board has the prerogative to place the employee on administrative leave. Additionally, when the Board certified tenure charges against an employee, the employee is placed on administrative leave without pay by the Board pending the results of the tenure charges.

Ms. Camilo was ordered reinstated by Arbitrator Klein pending the successful completion of a Fitness For Duty examination. By definition, Ms. Camilo was ordered out from work by an arbitrator until she completed an examination. And, in any event, when an employee is directed to submit to such an examination, the Board places the employee on an involuntary administrative leave. Under these circumstances, Ms. Camilo was not required to, nor was it necessary to, request a leave of absence while she was making efforts to complete the examination. The Board's witness, Scott Wohlrab, conceded that he knew that Ms. Camilo was out from work by order of an arbitrator pending the results of the Fitness For Duty examination. Moreover, the collective negotiations agreement ("CNA") between Ms. Camilo's Union and the Board has no provision governing Fitness For Duty examinations and administrative leave pending the results of the examination are unaddressed by the CNA.

The Board was well-aware of the fact that Ms. Camilo had enrolled in an EAP before it determined to file tenure charges against her. That action against Ms. Camilo was and is barred by N.J.S.A. 34:13A-42, which provides in pertinent part: "[n]o public employer shall take any action against an employee of the employer, including termination, because the employee . . . has obtained counseling, referrals or other services from an employee assistance program or has obtained treatment or other services from any program to which the employee assistance program refers the employee . . ."

Here, by October 13, 2021, Ms. Camilo began treatment with the Rutgers University Employee Assistance program ("EAP"). Contrary to its assertion that Ms. Camilo has failed to present medical documentation justifying her absence, the Board was informed of Ms. Camilo's enrollment in the EAP on October 11th and 13, 2021. She was not referred to the EAP by the Board; and did not fail to make a good faith attempt to comply with the recommendations made by the EAP. Rather, Ms. Camilo successfully completed the EAP. Further, the Charge is not based on any alleged workplace misconduct by Ms. Camilo or poor work performance as contemplated by the statute.

Instead, the Charge is based solely on Ms. Camilo's alleged failure to complete a Fitness For Duty examination which was ordered by an arbitrator and not by the Board. And the Board's determination to file tenure charges against Ms. Camilo was made shortly after she entered the EAP and provided the Board with notice that she had entered the EAP. It can thus be inferred that the Board took umbrage to Ms. Camilo's entrance into the EAP and that it served as the impetus for the Board's decision to move forward with tenure charges. And that is the precise circumstance and adverse action that N.J.S.A. 34:13A-42 seeks to prevent and make unlawful. Based on the above, under the plain language of N.J.S.A. 34:13A-42, the Board is prohibited from taking any action against Ms. Camilo, including the prosecution of tenure charges seeking Camilo's termination. Accordingly, the tenure charge should be dismissed for this reason as well.

Due to all of the above, it is respectfully submitted that the Charge should be dismissed in its entirety and with prejudice. The Board did not carry its burden of proof as the charge is not supported by the evidence presented. Consequently, the Board should be ordered to reinstate Ms. Camilo to her tenured teaching position together with an award of back salary (to wit: the salary withheld while on suspension without pay pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14) and re-crediting of all other benefits and emoluments of employment that should have accrued to her during that period.

If it is determined that the charge is true, it then becomes necessary to address the question of the appropriate penalty to impose upon Ms. Camilo. N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5 speaks of dismissal or reduction in compensation. The standard for administrative proceedings holds that factors to be taken into account in making a penalty determination include the nature and circumstances of the incidents or charges; the teacher's prior record; the effect of such conduct on the maintenance of discipline among the students and staff; and the likelihood of such behavior recurring. In re Fulcomer, 93 N.J. Super. 404 (App. Div. 1967).

However, in arbitrations which are litigated pursuant to the American Arbitration Association Labor Arbitration Rules, it is eminently clear that much broader discretion is vested in the arbitrator to review the reasonableness of the penalty which has been imposed, or is being sought by the employer, in relation to the employee's wrongful conduct. Consequently, the Arbitrator is required to bring his informed judgment to bear in order to reach a fair solution of a problem, especially when it comes to formulating remedies.

Due to the facts of this matter, the conduct for which Ms. Camilo has been charged demonstrated at most a delay in completing the required Fitness For Duty Examination, which she respectfully submits was unforeseeable and out of her control. However, importantly, Ms. Camilo's actions evidenced a clear intent to return to work. In light of her efforts to comply with the terms of Arbitrator Klein's Opinion and Award; her effort to successfully complete an EAP; and her eventual successful completion of a Fitness For Duty examination on February 1, 2022, dismissal and/or any further loss of salary would be too harsh a penalty under these circumstances.

If it is determined that the charges are true, standing alone, this incident does not merit the imposition of any further penalty upon Ms. Camilo beyond that which has already been imposed — to wit: her loss of pay from the effective date of Arbitrator Klein's Opinion and Award on June 3, 2021 through her unpaid suspension pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

In conclusion, based on all of the above, it is respectfully submitted that the Tenure Charge be dismissed in its entirety, together with a Order requiring the Board to return Ms. Camilo to her tenured teaching position forthwith, together with back pay and all emoluments and benefits of employment.

IV. STATEMENT OF THE CASE

It is axiomatic that the tenure laws of our State were originally enacted and designed to establish a "competent and efficient school system," and to protect teaching and other staff from dismissal for "unfounded, flimsy or political reasons." See generally Viemeister v. Prospect Park Board of Education, 5 N.J. Super., 215, 218 (App. Div. 1949); Spiewak v. Rutherford Board of Education, 90 N.J. 63 (1982). The statutory status of a tenured individual should accordingly not be lightly removed. See In re Tenure Hearing of Claudia Ashe-Gilkes, City of East Orange School District, 2009 WL 246266 (January 12, 2009) adopted by the Commissioner of Education (May 2, 2009).

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 provides that a tenured teacher may not be dismissed or reduced in compensation "except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause..." Because the Petitioner is the moving party in this disciplinary matter, the Board encumbers the prefatory burden of making a prima facie showing that it has satisfied or established the sufficiency of the unbecoming conduct or abandonment of position tenure charge by a preponderance of the credible evidence. See In the Matter of the Arbitration of the Tenure Charge between the School District of the City of Burlington, Burlington County and Penny Keough, Agency Docket No. 119-4/16 (Pecklers, 2016 at pp. 67-68); see also In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Mark C. Bringhurst, School District of the City of Vineland, Cumberland County, Agency Docket No. 236-8/12; In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Jill Buglovsky, School District of the Township of Randolph, Morris County, Agency Docket No. 484-12; Atkinson v. Parsekian, 37 N.J. 143, 149 (1962); In re Darcy, 114 N.J. Super. 454, 458 (App. Div. 1971).

In that event, the burden of production will shift to Respondent to plead and prove her affirmative or exculpatory defenses. And if a determination is made that the tenure charge has been established, Petitioner shoulders the additional burden of demonstrating that dismissal for the charged conduct is warranted and proportional. I am then tasked with the consideration of the totality of the circumstances; the nature of the act(s); and the impact on Ms. Camilo's career. See In re Fulcomer, 93 N.J. Super. 404, 421 (App. Div. 1967). Following a comprehensive analysis of the record evidence, with careful consideration of the respective positions and the indexing of the transcript, I find that the instant tenure charge is SUSTAINED IN PART, as while Ms. Camilo violated the Fitness For Duty examination directive of the Klein Opinion and Award, she did not abandon her position at the time of the filing of the subject Revised Tenure Charge.

The majority of the material facts in this case are undisputed and fully developed in the position statements of counsel. At the outset of this discussion, arbitral notice is taken that there is no question that repeated and excessive absenteeism poses a threat to the integrity of the education process. See Trenton Bd. Of Ed. V. Williamson, OAL Docket No. EDU 7335-85 at *4 (April 14, 1986) aff'd by Comm'r (May 28, 1986). This is particularly true when as here, the pupil population to be serviced is special needs, coupled with the unique educational challenges for remote learning in the COVID-19 era. The Petitioner has raised many potent and in fact compelling arguments, buttressed by the credible testimony of Assistant Superintendent Wohlrab. These related to the deleterious effect Ms. Camilo's lengthy absence has had upon her students. Included among them was the fact that a shortage of special education teachers was exacerbated by the difficulty in scheduling Respondent's uncertain return.

The Board has invited me to revisit and include many of the days Ms. Camilo was absent from school during the pendency of the initial tenure charges fully adjudicated before Arbitrator Klein. Respondent lodged a muscular standing objection to any consideration of the same, both at the May 12th hearing and in brief. That ship has sailed, however. On that count, the argument is made and reiterated by Petitioner that "this case involves a teacher who has not worked in nine hundred and sixty-one (961) days." This contention is of course designed to conform the facts of the instant case into the well-established rubric of abandonment of position case law.

However, a review of the Board's citation makes clear that it is not on point and factually inapposite. See e.g. State-Operated School District of Jersey City, Hudson County v. Vincent Pellecchio, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d. (EDU) at *7 (1992); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Lena White, State-Operated School District of Jersey City, Hudson County, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d. (EDU) 157 (1991); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Giuseppe Amodei, New Jersey Juvenile Justice Comm'n, No. 575-9/10, 2011 WL 7030981. Nor has Petitioner demonstrated that the three (3) part abandonment test articulated by White is applicable in the instant case, or has been met. Instead as Respondent has underlined, abandonment of position takes place where a teaching staff member is absent from her position for an extended period of time with no explanation for the absence. See generally In re Tenure Hearing of Linda Lane, Newark School District, 1987 S.L.D. 1073; In re Tenure Hearing of Noemie Gomes, Elizabeth Board of Education, Agency Docket No. 69-3/18 (DeTreux, March 4, 2019).

My scrutiny of the operative events commences with the issuance of the Klein Opinion and Award on June 3, 2021. See Board Exhibit 4. At page 42 of the Award, Arbitrator Klein sustained Charge II, Counts 3 and 4, as well as Charge III, Count 1. The remaining tenure charges were denied. Paragraph 2 went on to indicate: "Respondent Yesenia Camilo shall be reinstated pending successful completion of a Fitness For Duty examination. Respondent Yesenia Camilo's increment for the 2021-2022 school year shall be withheld." Ibid.

Respondent has made much of the fact that Arbitrator Klein neglected to provide a time period during which the Fitness For Duty exam would be completed by Ms. Camilo. But a fair reading of this language convinces me that the intention was to have Respondent reinstated to her position for September 2021 after she successfully passed the FFD. This was early June and the Board, which was short on special education teachers, certainly contemplated that scenario. The testimony by Ms. Camilo at the May 12th hearing also supports the Petitioner's position, which was that Respondent understood the directive to mean "ASAP." See T40:18; T128:22-129:1; T141:23-142:3.

By correspondence dated June 25, 2021, Respondent's then-counsel James R. Zazzali, Esq. responded to a letter from Board counsel regarding a Fitness For Duty examination being scheduled with Dr. Kezmarsky. This objected to the use of the physician based upon a potential, if not inherent conflict of interest. Mr. Zazzali further advised that Ms. Camilo would submit to a Fitness For Duty examination by Dr. Nicole J. Rafanello, pending Board approval and at Respondent's expense, on either July 1st and 6, 2021 or July 8th and 13, 2021. See Board Exhibit 6.

The record reflects that Ms. Camilo did not complete her Fitness For Duty exam with Dr. Rafanello, and no documentation related to the same appears. Ms. Camilo testified that her first appointment was July 27, 2021 which she attended. T85:18. The doctor then wanted her to complete the evaluation on a later date, August 3, 2021. T87:13. According to Respondent, however, she arrived at that appointment forty-five (45) minutes late after she woke up with three (3) feet of water in her apartment. This caused Dr. Rafanello's office to reschedule her for August 14, 2021. T84:3-4; T89:11-12. However, on that date Ms. Camilo recalled, she woke up with a foot of raw sewage in her apartment. T89:17. While she went to the exam, Ms. Camilo did not complete it because "I didn't think I was ready for this evaluation because mentally, I was so disgusted." T91:21-22; T92:3-5. The exam was thereafter rescheduled one final time on August 24, 2021. But on that date, Ms. Camilo's daughter had a serious car accident. T93:17. She was nevertheless able to make the appointment, but Dr. Rafanello reportedly told her that she was not in "any state of mind" to complete the exam. T94:19.

By any measure, these circumstances constitute adversity on an epic scale, bordering on incredible. The fact remains that Ms. Camilo's testimony was unrebutted and notwithstanding the fact that no documentary evidence was introduced by Respondent, I am willing to give her the benefit of the doubt and do not find that she deliberately failed to complete the FFD with Dr. Rafanello. That said, I fully credit the Petitioner's position that during the six (6) week period between August 24, 2021 and October 11, 2021, Ms. Camilo made no attempt to complete a Fitness For Duty exam as directed by Arbitrator Klein. This was so, even though she was aware that the same should be completed ASAP and that her students would be reporting to school in September. The email string at Board Exhibit 7 illustrates that Mr. Zazzali was likewise not kept in the loop by Respondent, as well as the Board's understandable increasing impatience to establish the status of Ms. Camilo's Fitness For Duty examination.

In its zeal to bolster its abandonment bona fides, Petitioner insists that none of the communications between the Board and Mr. Zazzali between June 2021 and October 2021 mentioned an EAP until October 11, 2021. Further, as testified to at length by Mr. Wohlrab, Ms. Camilo never sought authorization for a leave of absence to enroll in the EAP. Nevertheless, as brought out on cross and trumpeted by Respondent, this overlooked the fact that Ms. Camilo was placed on an unpaid administrative leave when the initial tenure charges were filed, which was extended by operation of law after the Klein Award. The assistant superintendent conceded the same during his testimony.

Under these circumstances, there was no requirement for Ms Camilo to request a leave of absence. It is also of no moment that Mr. Zazzali failed to mention an EAP-referral or that Ms. Camilo was not even aware of the possibility of the same until she spoke with her Association president. Moreover, by October 13, 2021, the Board had actual notice of this participation. See ZAZZALI TO TAYLOR Email, at Board Exhibit 7, supra at p. 2; see also OCTOBER 12, 2021 LETTER FROM MSW, LSW VALENCIA OF THE COUNSELING CENTER, at Respondent Exhibit 1.

This was well before the Revised Tenure Charges were preferred in late November of 2021. And while I decline to ascribe sinister motives to the Board, my interpretation of N.J.S.A. 34:13A:42 PROHIBITION UPON ADVERSE EMPLOYMENT ACTION AGAINST EMPLOYEES UTILIZING [EAP] PROGRAM is consonant with Respondent's, in that "[n]o public employer shall take any action against an employee of the employer, including termination, because the employee or a dependent of the employee has obtained counseling, referrals or other services from an employee assistance program or has received treatment or other services from any program to which the employee assistance program refers the employee or dependent, unless the employee was referred by the employer to the employee assistance program due to issues related to job performance and fails to make a good faith effort to comply..." The record establishes that EAP was completed in early December 2021. Ms. Camilo's absences during the relevant period are accordingly protected.[2]

The remaining question that must be addressed, is the correct penalty to be assessed in this case. This will only come into play, of course, in the event that Ms. Camilo is found fit for duty and cleared to return to work. When the totality of 2/ After the assignment of this case to me as the Arbitrator and with my assistance, a Fitness For Duty exam was scheduled for Ms. Camilo on February 1, 2022 with the Board's psychiatrist, Dr. Vincent Z. Ruiz. Ms. Camilo appeared as scheduled, and was examined. This resulted in the PSYCHIATRIC EVALUATION at Respondent Exhibit 2. The ASSESSMENT reached by Dr. Ruiz was that "Ms Camilo showed no evidence of depression or psychosis. She was not a danger to herself or others at the time of this evaluation." Ibid. The Petitioner subsequently refused to accept the Ruiz FFD, which it deemed inconclusive. There is a sharp difference of opinion between the parties on the application of this, with Respondent urging that Ms. Camilo was cleared to return to duty. For its part, Petitioner insists that it should be afforded no weight, as it also took place more than three (3) months after the revised charges were filed. In my view and on balance, I would exceed my authority were I to embrace Respondent's request, as Dr. Ruiz did not testify at the May 12th hearing. That said and as I mentioned at that time, while I do not view it as dispositive it certainly evidences a continuing desire on the part of Ms. Camilo to finally complete the Fitness For Duty examination ordered by Arbitrator Klein, and fatally undercuts Petitioner's position that she abandoned her position.

the foregoing circumstances is considered, in conjunction with the guidance provided by In re Fulcomer, I believe that a written reprimand that is conditionally removed at the completion of the 2022-2023 School Year is appropriate.

I share Respondent's view that any additional financial penalty would be harsh under the circumstances. Ms. Camilo had her 2021-2022 School Year increment held by Arbitrator Klein, and was placed on an unpaid suspension herein for the initial 120-day period per N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. I am mindful of the fact that her six (6) week period of inaction preceded her October 11, 2022 entry into the EAP. As she was screened and accepted into the program by Rutgers, I must therefore assume that she was under emotional distress during this time.

Respondent will accordingly be afforded a final opportunity to pass an FFD and be returned to work. Should she fail to appear for this examination, it will be at her own peril. Jurisdiction will be retained for a period of thirty (30) days simply to assist counsel with any remedial issues that may surface and ensure that Ms. Camilo may return to the West New York School District and her special needs students if medically cleared in September. IT IS SO ORDERED.

V. CONCLUSION

Petitioner has established by a preponderance of the credible evidence that Ms. Camilo failed to comply with the terms of the Klein Opinion and Award, but has not demonstrated that the failure to submit to the same as of the date of the filing of the tenure charges constituted an abandonment of her position and/or other just cause for her removal.

AWARD

1. The subject Revised Tenure Charge is sustained in part. Respondent shall receive a written reprimand, which shall be expunged from Ms. Camilo's personnel file after the 2022-2023 School Year, provided that she does not receive any further discipline during this period.

2. Within five (5) business days of the receipt of this AWARD, the Board shall schedule a psychiatric Fitness For Duty examination for Ms. Camilo pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-3, which shall be held within fourteen (14) business days. The doctor administering the Fitness For Duty exam shall definitely state in the report that Ms. Camilo "is" or "is not" fit to return to her teaching duties. This timeline may be amended by mutual agreement of counsel in the event of scheduling difficulties. The failure of Ms. Camilo to attend the Fitness For Duty shall result in an adverse inference being drawn that she is unfit for duty. An absence may be excused only for an emergent and documented circumstance.

3. In the event that Ms. Camilo is declared fit for duty, she shall be immediately reinstated to her tenured teaching position with the West New York School District with full seniority and benefits and receive any lost wages and benefits beyond the 120th day, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14, minus any period of delay caused by Respondent as previously discussed with counsel.

4. In the event that Ms. Camilo is deemed unfit for duty, the Board shall follow the provisions of Policy 3161, as contemplated by Arbitrator Klein, in Agency Docket No. 189-9/20.

5. Jurisdiction shall be retained for a period of thirty (30) calendar days for the limited purpose of assisting counsel should any remedial issues occur. This constitutes the entire Award in this matter.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Y.Y., on behalf of minor children, W.Y. and D.Y.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In this matter, the Commissioner previously concluded in a July 2019 decision that petitioner's minor children were ineligible to attend school in North Arlington beginning with the 2014-2015 school year, and the petitioner was ordered to reimburse the Board in the amount of $30,720.36 for tuition costs incurred during the period of ineligible attendance. On appeal, the Appellate Division affirmed the Commissioner's finding that the children were not domiciled in North Arlington but remanded the matter to the Commissioner for factual findings regarding the calculation of tuition for the period from September 2015 to November 2015. The remand was prompted by the petitioner's argument on appeal that she disenrolled D.Y. from the district in September 2015 and began to homeschool D.Y., and the fact that it was not clear from the documents in the appellate record whether the tuition amount awarded to the Board included any period after September 2015.

On remand, the ALJ found, inter alia, that: the sole matter for determination here is the narrow issue of tuition calculation from September 2015 to November 2015; a review of the findings from previous proceedings at the OAL related to this matter – including the transcript of a February 14, 2019 hearing in which the ALJ received evidence regarding W.Y. and D.Y.'s dates of attendance, and certifications from business administrators at the schools attended by the children which set forth the tuition calculations in detail – confirmed that the Board is not seeking tuition for the time period after D.Y. began to be homeschooled in September 2015. The ALJ concluded that there was no issue to be addressed here, as the Board does not seek tuition for the period from September to November 2015. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's request for tuition reimbursement and ordered that petitioner pay the respondent $30,720.36 for the time period in which her children were ineligible to attend North Arlington schools.

Upon review, the Commissioner, inter alia, concurred with the findings and conclusions of the ALJ, and directed petitioner to reimburse the Board in the amount of $30,720.36 for tuition costs incurred during the time period for which D.Y. and W.Y. were ineligible to attend school in North Arlington.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Y.Y., on behalf of minor children, W.Y. and D.Y.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The Commissioner previously concluded that petitioner's minor children were ineligible to attend school in North Arlington beginning with the 2014-2015 school year and ordered petitioner to reimburse the Board in the amount of $30,720.36 for tuition costs incurred during that time. Y.Y., on behalf of minor children, W.Y. and D.Y. v. Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 173-19R, decided July 8, 2019. On appeal, the Appellate Division affirmed the Commissioner's finding that the children were not domiciled in North Arlington. However, the Appellate Division remanded the matter to the Commissioner for factual findings regarding the calculation of tuition for the period from September 2015 to November 2015. The remand was prompted by the petitioner's argument on appeal that she disenrolled D.Y. from the district in September 2015 and began to homeschool D.Y., and the fact that it was not clear from the documents in the appellate record whether the tuition amount awarded to the Board included any period after September 2015.

The Commissioner remanded the matter to the OAL, where the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) reviewed the findings from the previous proceedings at the OAL, including the transcript of the February 14, 2019 hearing in which the ALJ received evidence regarding the children's dates of attendance, and the certifications of the business administrators at the schools attended by the children, setting forth the tuition calculations in detail. The ALJ's review confirmed that the Board had not sought tuition for the time period after D.Y. began to be homeschooled. The Commissioner's own review of the record confirms that the eight days of tuition awarded for the 2015-2016 school year predate D.Y.'s homeschooling. Petitioner's arguments regarding the period of homeschooling are therefore irrelevant, as no tuition was awarded to the Board for that time period.

Accordingly, petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $30,720.36[1] for tuition costs incurred during the time period for which D.Y. and W.Y. were ineligible to attend school in North Arlington.

[1] This amount was calculated based on the dates of attendance and per diem tuition costs outlined in Y.Y., on behalf of minor children, W.Y. and D.Y. v. Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 173-19R, decided July 8, 2019. In its decision, the Appellate Division noted that it was unable to determine whether the tuition assessment previously ordered by the Commissioner was sustainable. It appears that neither party provided the Appellate Division with the transcript of the February 14, 2019 hearing or the certifications of the business administrators. Should this matter be appealed again, the parties should note that the Department of Education is not required to provide a copy of the record to the Appellate Division. Record Closed: May 11, 2022 Decided: May 31, 2022

BEFORE JOANN LASALA CANDIDO, ALAJ:

Petitioner, Y.Y. appealed the decision of respondent, Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, (Board) imposing tuition costs for her two children, W.Y. and D.Y., for attending school in North Arlington (District) where they were not domiciled. By way of background, Judge Gerson issued an Initial Decision under OAL Docket Number EDU-09260-2016 whereby he determined, by Summary Decision, the children were not domiciled in North Arlington. The Commissioner of Education remanded the matter to Judge Gerson to have a hearing. Judge Gerson heard the matter on remand on July 7, 2017. OAL Docket Number EDU-05241-17. On May 8, 2018, Judge Gerson concluded that the children were not domiciled in North Arlington, but rather lived with their father in Kearney, New Jersey. Judge Gerson did not issue a Decision addressing the tuition cost for D.Y. or W.Y. for the school years 2014-2015 to that present time. The Commissioner remanded the matter again to calculate tuition owed for the two children and supplement the record if applicable.

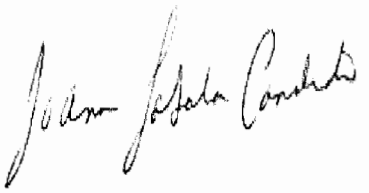
On February 14, 2019, Judge Gerson held an in-person hearing to determine the tuition coats for both students attending school in North Arlington while domiciled elsewhere and relied upon the Certifications of John Susino, Business Administrator and Board Secretary for the Bergen County Technical and Special School Districts where W.Y. attended and the Certification of Kathleen Marano, Business Administrator for the North Arlington School District who calculated tuition owed for both children. Judge Gerson issued an Initial Decision on May 23, 2019, finding tuition owed to the District by petitioner for both children was $30,720.47. Kathleen Marano calculated the tuition based upon a daily rate of $60.24 for grade 5 during the 2014-15 school year and the daily tuition rate for D.Y. for grade 6 during the 2015-16 school year was $68.28. On July 8, 2019, the Commissioner adopted Judge Gerson's Initial Decision and rounded out the tuition to be $30,720.36. Petitioner appealed the Commissioner's Final Decision to the Appellate Division.

The Appellate Division agreed with the domicile determination but remanded for the narrow issue of tuition calculation from September 2015 to November 2015. The Appellate Division also stated that the February 14, 2019 transcript was not attached nor were the Certifications of Susino and Marano.

I held a telephone conference with petitioner and the Board's attorney of record and it was confirmed that tuition was not sought by the District from September to November 2015. The transcript of the February 14, 2019 hearing is attached hereto as well as the Certifications of John Susino and Kathleen Marano.



Having had the opportunity to review the ALJ's findings concerning the amount of tuition for each of the two children as well as the transcript and Certifications attached, I CONCLUDE that there is no issue to be addressed since the District was not seeking tuition from September to November 2015. Accordingly, this matter is dismissed, and respondent's tuition sought is granted in the amount set forth above.

Based upon the foregoing, it is hereby ORDERED that Petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $30,720.36 for tuition costs incurred during the time that W.Y. and D.Y. were ineligible to attend school in North Arlington. Accordingly, the petition of appeal is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." New Jersey Commissioner of Education

J.C., on behalf of minor child, J.C.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Closter, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent Board that her minor child was not entitled to a free public education in the Closter School District following the family's relocation to Norwood after the property they were renting in Closter was sold in January 2022. Petitioner sought an order directing the Board to allow J.C. to continue to attend elementary school in Closter free of charge for the remainder of the 2021-2022 school year. The Board filed a counterclaim for tuition for the period of J.C.'s ineligible attendance, February 10, 2022 to April 27, 2022. Petitioner failed to attend two scheduled hearings in this matter without explanation.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2), if a school district finds that a non-resident child is attending one of its schools, the district may act to remove the child; here, the petitioner admitted at a Board hearing that the family had relocated to Norwood and no longer lived in Closter; it is undisputed that for the period in question, February 10, 2022 to April 27, 2022, petitioner and her family were domiciled in Norwood; and petitioner failed to appear at two scheduled hearings in this matter and provided no explanation for her failure to appear. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the within residency appeal with prejudice and ordered petitioner to pay the Board tuition in the amount of $3,847.50 for the period of J.C.'s ineligible attendance.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's finding that petitioner failed to sustain her burden of establishing that she was a domiciliary of Closter during the period from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022, and further concurred with the ALJ's conclusion that J.C. was, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time. However, the Commissioner noted that the Initial Decision does not include the detail necessary for the calculation of tuition pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b. Accordingly, this matter was remanded to the Office of Administrative Law for further proceedings to calculate the number of days of J.C.'s ineligible attendance in Closter's schools, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

J.C., on behalf of minor child, J.C.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Closter, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge's (ALJ) finding that petitioner failed to sustain her burden of establishing that she was a domiciliary of Closter during the period from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022. The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that J.C. was, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioner for the time period during which the minor child was ineligible to attend school in the district. The statute specifically provides that the Commissioner may order tuition "computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance." N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b. The Initial Decision notes that the cost of tuition in the district is $1,539.00 per month, but this information does not permit the Commissioner to make the required calculation of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost.[1] Furthermore, there is no evidence in the record of how many days of ineligible attendance there were between February 10, 2022 and April 27, 2022. The amount of tuition awarded by the ALJ appears to be two and a half times the monthly tuition cost, perhaps because there are approximately two and a half months between February 10, 2022 and April 27, 2022. If so, in addition to being incorrectly based on the monthly cost rather than the annual cost, the calculation is also incorrectly based on calendar days, rather than school days.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the Office of Administrative Law for further proceedings to calculate the number of days of ineligible attendance, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Record Closed: June 3, 2022 Decided: June 13, 2022

BEFORE: THOMAS R. BETANCOURT, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner appeals the Final Notice of Determination of Ineligibility by Respondent school district, dated February 18, 2022, wherein Respondent determined that the minor child was ineligible to attend school in Respondent school district.

Petitioner filed a pro se petition of appeal with the Office of Controversies and Disputes in the New Jersey Department of Education on March 14, 2022.

Respondent filed its Answer, Separate Defenses and Counterclaim thereto on March 29, 2022.

The matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on March 30, 2022 as a contested case.

A Prehearing Order was entered on April 5, 2022.

The matter was listed for a hearing on May 17, 2022 via Zoom. Petitioner failed to appear, or otherwise contact the OAL regarding the non-appearance. The undersigned adjourned the matter to June 3, 2022, so as to notify Petitioner that the matter would proceed to a proof hearing should Petitioner not log in to the Zoom hearing. Notices were provided. Petitioner failed to appear. Respondent requested a proof hearing on their counterclaim.

The hearing proceeded on June 3, 2022, without Petitioner pursuant to N.J.S.A. 1:1-14.4(d)

ISSUE

Is the minor child eligible to attend school in the Closter school district; and, if not, is the District entitled to tuition reimbursement for the period the child attended the Closter school district after being found ineligible.

Respondent's Case

Floro Villanueva testified as follows:

He is the Business Administrator for the Closter School District. Part of his duties entail residency determinations. As a routine internal review he checks Zillow listings to see if any properties were sold and checks this against students' residencies. He noted that the house in which J.C. and her family resided was sold. J.C. had also informed staff that the family had moved.

Mr. Villanueva had a secretary, Cheryl Boehm, contact the parents, who ultimately admitted they had moved. Mr. Villanueva forwarded a notice of ineligibility to the parents dated February 10, 2022. He had spoken to them about the issue on February 8, 2022.

The parents attended the February 17, 2022 Closter Board of Education meeting, where an eligibility hearing was held. The parents presented their position about continuing J.C. in the Closter School District. At this meeting the Board voted that J.C. was not eligible to be enrolled in the Closter School District.

Mr. Villanueva sent a Final Notice of Ineligibility to the parents, dated February 18, 2022.

The parents withdrew J.C. on April 27, 2022 from the Closter School District and enrolled her in the Norwood School District.

The cost of tuition per month for grades One through Four in the Closter School District is $1,539.00. The total cost of tuition from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022 is $3,847.50. This is based on the per pupil costs set forth in the budget of the Closter School District.

I FIND the following FACTS:

J.C. was enrolled in the Closter School District on November 11, 2019. (R-1) J.C. continued to be enrolled in the Closter School District until she was enrolled in the Norwood School District April 27, 2022.

The house where J.C. resided in Closter was sold on January 7, 2022. (R-3) J.C. and her family moved to Norwood and reside therein. Petitioner was notified of a determination of ineligibility by the Closter Public Schools by letter dated February 10, 2022. (R-4). The parents of J.C. attended the meeting of the Closter Board of Education on February 17, 2022, and a eligibility hearing was held. The parents presented their position to the Board. The parents acknowledged that they no longer lived in Closter and confirmed they were living in Norwood.

A Final Notice of Ineligibility was made at its meeting of February 17, 2022, and was forwarded to Petitioner by letter dated February 18, 2022. (R-5)

Petitioner appealed this determination to the Commissioner of the Department of Education on March 11, 2022. J.C. continued to be educated in the Closter School District.

The cost of tuition per month for grades One through Four in the Closter School District is $1,539.00. The total cost of tuition from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022 is $3,847.50.

Petitioner is responsible for tuition costs for J.C. from the date of the Initial Notice of Eligibility, February 10, 2022, through the date J.C. was withdrawn, April 27, 2022. The total amount owed is $3,847.50.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Any child between the ages of five and twenty years old is entitled to a free public education in the district in which he is a resident. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a). A student is a resident of a school district if his parent or guardian has a permanent home in the district such that "the parent or guardian intends to return to it when absent and has no present intent of moving from it, notwithstanding the existence of homes or residences elsewhere." N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a)(1). A student may attend school in a district in which he is a non-resident, with or without payment of tuition, at the discretion of the school district. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-2.2.

If a school district discovers that a non-resident child is attending one of its schools, the district may act to remove the child. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-4.3. If so, the chief school administrator must first issue a notice of ineligibility.N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-4.2, -4.3. The notice shall inform the parent of the right to a hearing before the school district and the right to appeal the school district's decision to the Commissioner of Education. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-5.1. The notice shall also inform the parent whether the district's policy allows for continued attendance, with or without tuition, for students who move out of the district during the course of the school year. N.J.A.C. 6A:22-4.2(b)(7)(i). If, on appeal to the Commissioner, the parent fails to demonstrate his child's entitlement to attend the schools of the district, the parent may be liable for tuition for any period of ineligible attendance. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2); N.J.A.C. 6A:22-4.2; N.J.A.C.6A:22-6.2, -6.3.

In the instant matter Respondent provided the requisite notice on February 10, 2022. A hearing was held before the school district on February 17, 2022. A final notice of ineligibility was provided on February 18, 2022. Further, the petitioner admitted to Ms. Boehm and at the hearing that the family was no longer living in Closter.

According to N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.3(a), "[t]uition assessed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be calculated on a per student basis for the period of a student's ineligible enrollment, by applicable grade/program category and consistent with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:23-3.1. The individual student's record of daily attendance shall not impact on such calculation." However, "[n]othing in this chapter shall preclude an equitable determination, by the district board of education or the Commissioner, that, when the particular circumstances of a matter so warrant, tuition shall not be assessed for all or part of any period of a student's ineligible attendance in the school district." N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.3(b).

The Closter School District Business Administrator calculated the tuition costs based upon the school district budget for students in grades one through four. The total equals $3,847.50 for the period J.C. was in attendance in Closter while residing in Norwood.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that Petitioner's residency appeal is DISMISSED, with prejudice; and

It is further ORDERED that Respondent is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $3,847.50; and

It is further ORDERED that Petitioner shall pay said amount to Respondent.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

INTRODUCTION

In accordance with the TeachNJ statute, NJSA 18A:6-16, the tenure charges brought by the Neptune Township Board of Education ("the Petitioner," "the Employer," "the District" or "the Board") against Michael Smurro ("Respondent'") were referred to me for review by the Commissioner of Education. A hearing was held on January 12, 14, 24, 25, February 3 and 4, 2022 via Zoom, during which the parties were accorded the right to examine and cross-examine witnesses, the right to present evidence, and the right to make arguments in support of their respective positions in this matter. The hearing was closed upon the receipt of post-hearing briefs on April 30, 2022 and reply briefs on May 14, 2022.

ISSUE

Has the Board proven by the preponderance of credible evidence that Respondent is guilty of conduct unbecoming a Vice Principal and/or other just cause warranting his dismissal? If not, what discipline, if any, is warranted?

BACKGROUND

The facts of the incident underlying the Tenure Charges are essentially undisputed. Respondent, Michael Smurro, is a tenured Vice Principal at Neptune Middle School who has been employed by the Neptune School District since 2006. He was appointed Vice Principal in July, 2014. His evaluations were effective to highly effective. He had no prior discipline.

On Saturday afternoon April 24, 2021, during off-duty hours, Respondent and his wife Lisa Smurro were sitting on an outside patio at a restaurant in Smithville, New Jersey (approximately one hour from Neptune Township) eating lunch and drinking beer after having attended the nearby Renaissance Fair. His wife became quite upset about the presence and conduct of a person whom she deduced to be a biological male wearing women's clothing who had been using a toilet in the women's bathroom (the record does not reflect the identity of the person or whether they/he/she was in fact a transgender woman) right before Mrs. Smurro entered the bathroom stall. According to Respondent's testimony, Mrs. Smurro recounted that the person had left urine on the seat and on the floor and this upset Mrs. Smurro who is, by her husband's description, somewhat of a neat freak and a germaphobe. When she returned to their table, Mrs. Smurro was extremely distraught. She was loudly complaining to her husband, making statements such as, "She's a man" and "It's not right. You're either a man or a woman" and "There's a man in the women's bathroom." Respondent testified that he tried to get her to stop and to calm down, but "[s]he wouldn't let it go."

Her protestations caught the attention of nearby patrons of the restaurant, who began to film the incident and make comments about and to her. Respondent testified that they were at the table for about 45 minutes; there is about 4½ minutes of videotape of the incident. According to Respondent, things would calm down and then the people or person filming would bait his wife to provoke her and her loud complaints would start up again.

On one of the videos in evidence it appeared that Respondent motioned to his wife that they should leave. (One of the narrators of the video noted that "her husband wants to leave.") As they left, his wife continued to engage with the server and with the patrons who were filming her and the patrons, in turn, continued to film her and to make comments such as, "Cut her off" and "Take your hate elsewhere."

At this point, Respondent, who had continued on toward the parking lot as his wife stopped to continue her complaints, came up from behind his wife, who was standing between the parking area and the dining area, separated from the diners by a yellow rope. He testified that the man who was filming had stood up and was starting to move toward his wife and he didn't know what would happen. Mr. Smurro is heard on one video saying to his wife as he approached, "Do you want me to fight this guy right here?"

In what he described as a misguided attempt to stop the entire incident and deflect attention away from his wife, Respondent threw the contents of his cup of beer toward the patron who was filming his wife (one clip shows the visual effect of the beer landing on the lens of the camera), saying, "Here you go, pal." There is no evidence that the beer actually landed on anyone other than the man who was filming. (There is some evidence that a child was at a neighboring table, but not that the beer landed on or near the child.) Respondent then backed up and gestured toward the camera, saying something like, "Now you can come out. I'm right here," seeming to challenge someone to a physical fight. He and his wife then left the area. There is no evidence that law enforcement was called nor that the patron on whom the beer was thrown (or anyone else) suffered any injury.

Following the incident, the videos began to go viral on social media. The District received hundreds of emails and voicemail messages from senders who were angry about the actions of Respondent and his wife. Articles appeared in the press. Respondent was not aware of any of this before Monday morning.

On Monday morning April 26, Dr. Tami Crader, the District Superintendent, learned of the videos and watched them online. She called Respondent into her office. According to Respondent, she began by saying, "Please tell me you didn't throw a beer on a transgender woman." (Dr. Crader denies this.) Respondent said he had not, but he did throw a beer at someone. She asked what had happened. According to Dr. Crader,

> He shared with me that they had attended a social event over the weekend and had been at this restaurant Fred & Ethel's, and he and his wife were discussing her reaction to having been to the bathroom where he reported to me that she complained about a transgender individual in the bathroom. Mr. Smurro described that person as a transvestite.[1] On one occasion, he described that person as a man dressed in women's clothing.

According to Respondent, at the end of the meeting Dr. Crader told Respondent that he would be sent home on paid/administrative leave "to give this a chance to cool down and as long as this doesn't turn into anything, we'll bring you back in a couple days."

[1] Respondent testified that he told Dr. Crader that his wife had described the person as a transvestite.

Following the meeting on Monday, Dr. Crader sent Respondent an email with apology language and directed him to use the language if he were contacted by the media for a statement. The statement read, "I allowed my emotions to get in the way of my normally sound judgment and reacted in a way that was inappropriate. I do not condone violence or discrimination of any kind and should have simply walked away. I apologize to the person I threw my beer at and I wish I hadn't done so. I apologize to anyone I offended."

Over the course of the next few days, emails and voice mails continued to come into the school, many of them linking Mr. Smurro's actions to what was often described as his wife's "transphobic rant." According to Dr. Crader, the number of emails was such that the District had to temporarily modify the internal email system. In addition numerous press accounts continued to appear. The many headlines highlighted Respondent's tossing of his beer toward those filming his wife's transphobic rant.

At the Board meeting on April 28, Dr. Crader recommended that tenure charges be filed against Mr. Smurro.

Dr. Crader met with Mr. Smurro again on approximately May 5 and informed him "that [she] had come to the conclusion that he could no longer be effective in his duties as vice principal of the Neptune Middle School and [she] intended to ask for his resignation or file tenure charges."

On May 24, 2021, the District filed Sworn Tenure Charges of Unbecoming Conduct and Other Just Cause, seeking Mr. Smurro's removal. The Board of Education voted unanimously to certify the Charges. The Charges are, in substance:

Charge One: Conduct Unbecoming. This Charge alleges that Mr. Smurro's actions of April 24, 2021 were "antithetical to his duties as a school administrator," that "[i]nstead of diffusing the situation, [he] further exacerbated the gravity of the situation and fostered a message of intolerance," that his conduct of throwing a beer on a restaurant patron and challenging him to a fight "clearly violated the implicit standard of good behavior required of a vice principal," that he exercised exceedingly poor judgment "that is repugnant to his moral and ethical duties as an educator and Middle School Vice Principal," that he is unfit to continue to care for and lead young and impressionable children and lacks the ability to effectively maintain discipline and proper administration of the school system and act as a role model for students and staff alike," and that "his misconduct damaged the reputation" of the" District. Therefore, his conduct of April 24, 2021 "constitutes conduct unbecoming a public employee warranting Smurro's termination from his tenured employment."

Charge Two: Conduct Unbecoming. This Charge alleges that "Smurro's conduct on April 24, 2021 has rendered it impossible for Smurro to continue to effectively serve as an administrative staff member." The Charge focuses on the perception of others that Mr. Smurro "was reasonably perceived by countless members of the school-community—students and staff alike, as joining with and adopting the transphobic sentiments expressed by his wife" and that they are "outraged" and "no longer have confidence in Smurro's ability to effectively discharge his duties to protect the care the custody of students of a tender age" or to "foster [sic] an educational environment that fosters acceptance, tolerance and diversity."

Charge Three: Conduct Unbecoming. In this Charge the Superintendent states that the public outcry "does not formulate [her] basis as the Chief School Administrator for recommending that Smurro's employment be terminated." Rather, the Charge asserts that his conduct in "response to his wife's bigotry (throwing a beer at a Restaurant patron and challenging him to a fight)" sent a message "that he will stand in defense of intolerance," which is "antithetical to the efficient and effective operation of the District" and warrants his termination.

Charge Four: Conduct Unbecoming. This Charge alleges that Mr. Smurro violated Board Policy No. 1550 and the Board's Equal Employment/Anti-Discrimination Practices by "express[ing] views that discriminate towards persons on the basis of affectional or sexual orientation, gender, gender identity or expression," "condoning his wife's misconduct and assaulting (throwing a beer) at Restaurant patron in defense of his wife," thereby joining in and adopting and promoting the transphobic and non-inclusive behavior expressed by his wife.

Charge Five: Conduct Unbecoming. This Charge alleges that Mr. Smurro's conduct violated Board Policy No. 3281 and Regulation R3281

because his actions constituted inappropriate conduct by a staff member.

POSITION OF THE DISTRICT

The District contends that Respondent's conduct on April 24 was so egregious, particularly when combined with the completely foreseeable public reaction, to warrant a conclusion that he is no longer fit to discharge the duties and functions of his position. This is particularly so in light of Mr. Smurro's inability or refusal to understand that what he did on April 24 was linked to what his wife said.

The 1500 emails and 100 phones messages received by the school and many of the press articles published after the incident drew a connection between Mrs. Smurro's rant and Mr. Smurro's assault, the District notes. Dr. Crader testified that this public perception would be toxic to the Middle School environment. In addition, she was concerned that there could be serious consequences for the District in that parents could choose not to enroll their children in the school.

The District argues that Mr. Smurro has not only not admitted that his actions could be reasonably seen as adopting his wife's comments and beliefs, but also has not taken responsibility for his actions. He filed a Disorderly Persons Summons against one of the patrons at the restaurant for provoking, taunting and harassing him and his wife (referred to in the Summons as victims) by videotaping them after being asked to stop. According to the District, this shows that he has failed to accept responsibility and instead blames others.

The District urges that Respondent's tale of man who appeared to be threatening his wife be rejected as not credible. Respondent never told Dr. Crader about such a threat to his wife, although he was given ample opportunity to tell what had happened on April 24.

The District asserts that progressive discipline was not warranted in this case because the behavior was so egregious and led Dr. Crader to no longer have confidence in Mr. Smurro's ability to be a leader at the school. Returning him to the school could lead to a renewed public outcry and possibly parents leaving the District.

The District cites the definition of "unbecoming conduct" set forth in the case of In re Young, 202 N.J. 50, 66 (2010) as any conduct "which adversely affects the morale or efficiency of the [department]" or "has a tendency to destroy public respect for [government] employees and confidence in the operation of [public] services." (alterations in original) "As quoted in Young, the touchstone of the determination lies in the certificate holder's 'fitness to discharge the duties and functions of one's office or position.' In re Grossman, 127 N.J. Super. 13, 29; 316 A.2d 39 (App Div. 1974)."

The District argues that the multitude of emails, voice mails and social media posts makes it clear that Mr. Smurro's actions on April 24, 2021 destroyed the public respect for him and any confidence in his ability to function as an educational leader. The overriding message delivered by those who left voicemails or emails is clear that Mr. Smurro cannot effectively perform the duties of a vice principal (or teaching staff member) or be in a position of authority over children because he is reasonable perceived as being transphobic, he defends transphobic rhetoric, he committed an unprovoked act of violence, he demonstrated an inability to appropriately handle a tense situation, and he has lost the respect and support of the community, as well as the District's children and stakeholders, the District argues.

Termination is warranted for Mr. Smurro's conduct, the District contends. "No theory of progressive discipline can save [him], despite his prior clean record." The case law makes clear that even on incident of improper conduct can support a termination, if the incident is sufficiently flagrant. Here the conduct is egregious and yet even now, Mr. Smurro does not recognize that his conduct was inappropriate. Finally, the Arbitrator should give great deference to Dr. Crader's judgment and experience and support her conclusion that Mr. Smurro is no longer fit to continue in the Neptune School District, the District argues.

POSITION OF RESPONDENT

Respondent acknowledges that Respondent's conduct was not appropriate, but asserts that it did not constitute conduct unbecoming such as to warrant dismissal. Further, Respondent contends that the conduct to be considered in analyzing whether he is fit to perform his duties is limited to his acts of throwing the beer and taunting the restaurant patrons, not his wife's actions nor the subsequent public reaction. Respondent notes that the Superintendent was the sole witness for the District. While the Charges assert that District students and staff question his ability, no one other that Dr. Crader testified in support of this view and she did not ask any staff or students whether they had lost confidence in Mr. Smurro. On the other hand, 16 staff members who have worked with Respondent over the years testified that there was no disruption to their ability to perform their jobs in the days and weeks following April 24, that they never witnessed Respondent do anything that could be viewed as intolerant or bigoted to the LBGTQ or other minority community, that they believed the April 24 conduct was an aberrational lapse in judgment that should not negate his whole career, and that they did not believe this actions were in support of his wife's comments.

In support of the Charge that the Neptune school community had lost confidence in Mr. Smurro, the District relied on the emails and voice mail messages received by the school. Respondent observes, however, that Dr. Crader testified that she did not know if the emails and voicemails were in fact from members of the Neptune community or from elsewhere. Similarly Dr. Crader testified that the protests that occurred after April 24 reflected "community outrage," but admitted she did not know if the protesters were from the Neptune community.

Respondent notes that the Common Facts set forth in the Charges are almost all about his wife's conduct, not Respondent's, or about the viral nature of the public reaction. Respondent argues that the connection of Respondent to his wife's comments is "[w]ithout evidence and based on pure conjecture."

Respondent argues that the Tenure Hearing Law sets up a presumption against dismissal. Here, the District has failed to demonstrate the Respondent lacks the fitness to discharge his duties while Respondent presented evidence from many witnesses about his positive contributions to the school and the students. The District has failed to demonstrate that Respondent's conduct has adversely affected the morale and efficiency of the District, while Respondent presented evidence from many witnesses that the morale in the school is actually down because Respondent is not there.

The District argues that Respondent's conduct caused harm to the "maintenance of discipline and the proper administration of the school," a factor mentioned in In re Fulcomer, 93 N.J. Super. 404, 422 (App. Div. 1967). Respondent argues, however, that the District has failed to demonstrate that Respondent's conduct resulted in any disciplinary problems, while Respondent presented evidence from many witnesses that there was no increase in student disciplinary incidents or bullying following Respondent's conduct. The District claimed that there were daily protests, which disrupted the day-to-day operations of the school. The evidence shows that there was one protest with about 15-20 people soon after the incident but after that, there was one person who showed up across the street on a number of occasions. There was no evidence of ongoing disruption to the school operations because of these protests and no evidence that student activities were adversely impacted. The District presented evidence that because of the influx of emails in the several days following the April 24 incident, modifications had to be made to the school website to prevent hacking. While the Charges and District's Answers to Interrogatories state that all District staff were inconvenienced, educational services disrupted, and email system suspended, the record evidence does not support these allegations, Respondent asserts.

This was a single instance of poor judgment—an emotional outburst--that did not directly involve any student or other member of the Neptune community and that caused no injury to anyone. Thus it does not justify termination, Respondent argues.

OPINION AND AWARD

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 establishes the statutory basis for dismissal of tenured personnel employed in New jersey's public schools. Generally the District must prove "inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause…" The Charges in the instant case focus on unbecoming conduct.

The Common Facts section of the Charges, after reciting Respondent's employment history, sets out what happened on April 24, mostly focused on the conduct of Respondent's wife. There are two paragraphs that describe Respondent's actions of throwing the beer at a patron, yelling "here you go, pal," and seeming to challenge them/him to a physical fight by saying "I'm right here." Another paragraph characterizes that conduct as Respondent being "complicit and supportive of [his wife's] rant by virtue of his throwing a beer on patrons that were questioning his wife's clearly transphobic view and then taunting them as he departed the scene."

The remaining 22 factual paragraphs were about the public response to the conduct of Respondent and his wife—the broadcast of the videos on various social media platforms, the number of views those postings got, the news articles that were written, a rally that was held, and the 92 voicemails and 507+ emails (some duplicates) that Petitioner received. A majority of those communications were to the same general effect, i.e. that Respondent should be terminated because he cannot effectively perform the duties of a vice principal or teacher or be in a position of authority over children because he is transphobic, he committed an unprovoked act of violence, he demonstrated an inability to appropriately handle a tense situation, and he has lost the respect and support of the community. One subset of the communications came from transgender people or their allies, stating their belief, inter alia, that he should not be in leadership role because transgender youth would not feel safe in the school environment.

Charge One asserts that Respondent's conduct on April 24 was inapposite and antithetical to his duties as a school administrator. He exacerbated the situation rather than diffusing it and fostered a message of intolerance. He used poor judgment. He failed to comply with the high standards expected of a certified staff member and his misconduct damaged the reputation of the school. He is therefore unfit to continue to care for children and maintain discipline. His conduct constitutes conduct unbecoming a public employee and warrants his termination. The essential difference between Charge One and Charge Two seems to be that Charge One focuses on the conduct itself, rather than the reaction from the public.

I think there can be no question, and in fact Respondent concedes, and I find that the District is correct that Respondent's conduct on April 24 was inappropriate and unprofessional and wrong and was conduct unbecoming a teacher or vice-principal. There can be no question that he used poor judgment. He of course should not have thrown the contents of his cup of beer at the restaurant patron, regardless of what that patron was doing or saying to his wife. He should not have invited him to come out into the parking lot, apparently to fight. He exacerbated the situation rather than deescalating it. If he was concerned about his wife, he should have tried harder to persuade her to cease her tirade and to move away from the situation. There was no excuse for throwing his beer at the person filming them and inviting him to fight. No one, but especially not an educator and most especially not a school leader, should engage in such behavior, even on a Saturday afternoon far from his district.

The question is whether that conduct, in itself, without regard to the public reaction, constituted unbecoming conduct that is evidence that he is unfit to continue to perform his duties and that therefore warrants his termination. I find that it does not.

The caselaw involving charges of unbecoming conduct under

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 et seq serious enough to warrant removal generally establishes that the conduct must be so egregious that it requires immediate dismissal, i.e. it is conduct that cannot be corrected with warnings or progressive discipline. In re Young 202 N.J. 50, 66 (2010) "In making the determination that one is guilty of unbecoming conduct, the employee must be shown to lack the 'fitness to discharge the duties and functions of one's office or position.' In other words, it is "conduct 'which has a tendency to destroy public respect for [government] employees and confidence in the operation of [public] services.'" Id.

In In the Matter of Michael S. Wolff, County of Salem, 2010 WL256020 (not a teacher case), the Court describes "unbecoming conduct" as "any conduct that adversely affects the moral or efficiency of the governmental unit or that has a tendency to destroy public respect and confidence in the delivery of government services" and "may include behavior that is not in accord with propriety, modesty, good taste or good manners, or behavior that is otherwise unsuitable, indecorous or improper under the circumstances." It must be recognized that not all instances of bad manners or immodest behavior or poor taste or indecorous behavior or other unbecoming conduct are grounds for termination of a teacher or other public employee. The court in Wolff recognized the critical importance of progressive discipline unless the infraction is egregious and found termination not warranted in that case.

Respondent cites cases that stand for the proposition that "an isolated incident will generally not support unbecoming conduct charges unless it is 'sufficiently flagrant.'" In re Fulcomer, 93 N.J. Super. 404, 421 (App. Div. 1967) In that case, which involved a teacher using physical force against a student, clearly grave misconduct, the court wrote,

> We hold no brief for the teacher's conduct in this case. Other proper means were available to him to maintain discipline or compel obedience. Nor have we any doubt that unfitness to remain a teacher may be demonstrated by a single incident if sufficiently flagrant. See Redcay v. State Board of Education, 130 N.J.L. 369 (Sup. Ct. 1943), affirmed o.b. 131 N.J.L. 326 (E. A. 1944).
> Here, however, there is no indication in the record that the teacher's acts were premeditated, cruel or vicious, or done with intent to punish or to inflict corporal punishment. Rather, they bespeak a hasty and misguided effort to restrain the pupil in order to maintain discipline.
>
> Although such conduct certainly warrants disciplinary action, the forfeiture of the teacher's rights after serving for a great many years in the New Jersey school system is, in our view, an unduly harsh penalty to be imposed under the circumstances.

Ibid. 93 NJ Super 404, 421 (App Div 1967)

The conduct in the instant case was one isolated unpremeditated incident. There is no evidence of any prior violent behavior or inability to appropriately deal with tense or difficult situations. There is no evidence of any prior discriminatory or intolerant behavior. The entire case rests on about 20 seconds on a Saturday afternoon far from school, after a beer or two, after Mr. Smurro had in fact uged his wife to calm down and guided her out of the restaurant and thought she was right behind him. When he discovered she was not, he turned back to get her, saw that a patron was continuing to film and taunt her and, according to him, had stood up. Then, in a moment of frustration, he threw his beer to deflect attention from his wife onto him. It was wrong and deserving of punishment, but it was not an action so egregious that Respondent should lose his tenure.

Contrary to the District's contentions, Mr. Smurro did acknowledge that what he did was wrong and testified that it was something for which he felt remorse and regret "every minute of every day." He testified that he knows he should have left the premises and not turned back to engage with the patron who was videotaping his wife. He issued a public apology at the time, using the words supplied by Dr. Crader, but words with which he agreed.

The District claims that Respondent did not take full responsibility because he filed a Complaint against those who were videotaping him and his wife. I disagree with the District's contention that the two are mutually exclusive. I conclude that he could have charged them with taunting and harassment, but also understood that it was not appropriate to respond to their improper conduct by throwing a beer and inviting them to fight.

The District also argues that Mr. Smurro was not telling the truth when he testified that he reacted in response to the patron who was videotaping standing up and approaching his wife. According to the District, the hearing was the first time Mr. Smurro told the story of this man. He did not mention him during the meetings with Dr. Crader. The only time Mr. Smurro gave an account of April 24 was during the 10-15 minute conversation with Dr. Crader on Monday April 26. Two days later she recommended his removal and at the beginning of their next meeting, she informed him of the decision. At the very brief April 26 meeting, he gave an account of what happened, not really appreciating the scope of the public reaction or the severity of the potential consequences. He may not have understood the difference between throwing the beer because the patron was videotaping him and throwing the beer because the patron had stood up and was starting to move towards his wife as he was videotaping.

Contrary to the District's brief, Mr. Smurro did not describe the man as a "potential attacker" nor did he say that he was justified in throwing the beer to protect his wife from the danger of this on-coming man. He said that the man was starting to approach his wife, pointing his phone. "So I wanted to end the situation. I wanted it to be finished. I wanted the people to stop abusing my wife. I wanted my wife to stop her rhetoric. And in a fit of frustration, and a momentary lapse of sound judgment and what I should have done, I tossed the contents of my cup in this gentleman's direction, and it stopped everything. It stopped him. It stopped the crowd. It stopped the situation." I find, however, that I do not need to make a determination as to whether the man who was videotaping his wife did in fact stand up and start moving towards his wife or whether he remained seated while he was videotaping. In reading the whole of the testimony and the media accounts and in viewing the videos, there is no dispute about the critical facts that there was in fact a male restaurant patron who was videotaping Mrs. Smurro and that Mr. Smurro threw his beer at this man.

Dr. Crader testified that Mr. Smurro's conduct and action, even without the public reaction, would have warranted removal because it showed that he is not able to diffuse negative situations before they escalated, because the beer throwing and the invitation to fight would have created an insurmountable challenge for a vice principal to be effective, because Dr. Crader believes that the public will not respect any decision that he makes or action that he takes, and because she believes the conduct itself reveal him to be homophobic. I do not agree that one incident of not diffusing a negative situation means he would be unable to do so in the future. The conclusions that his conduct created a challenge to his effectiveness that would be "insurmountable" or that the public will not respect any decision he makes are based solely on speculation.

The essence of the District's case is that Mr. Smurro is not fit to discharge his duties because he himself is transphobic. Reading through the various iterations of Dr. Crader's explanation for her determination, I conclude that Dr. Crader agrees with the public reaction to Mr. Smurro's conduct, i.e. that it reflected his own personal transphobia. In responding to a question as to whether she formed her own impression as to the relationship between Mr. Smurro's actions and Mrs. Smurro's words, Dr. Crader responded, "I did. I felt that his—after watching the video many, many times I felt that his body language, his throwing of the beer, his not--his lack of success at leaving the area without making comments actually aligned himself with his wife's words. He did not denounce the words. He did not apologize. He did not walk away. He instead escalated the situation. And the perception that I had after I watched the video several times was that he then subscribed to that same homophobic philosophy."[2] (T. 85) In other testimony she stated that his conduct of failing to disengage and instead becoming violent, gesturing and calling the patron out to fight "made him complicit in his wife's transphobic rant and that rendered him homophobic himself." (T.285)

I cannot accept Dr. Crader's analytical leap from Mr. Smurro defending his wife to a conclusion that he was defending her comments. There is no dispute that all of the comments were made by Mrs. Smurro. Mr. Smurro testified that he tried to get her to calm down and stop her tirade. He persuaded her to leave. He was the one who walked out of the restaurant and went on toward the parking lot, only coming back when he realized that she was not with him and then throwing his beer when he saw that the patron was continuing to film and, in his words, "verbally abuse" his wife. He is heard asking her if she wanted him to fight the guy who was filming her. While this conduct may well constitute an immature, misguided and certainly unprofessional attempt at chivalry, I do not find anything in this conduct that reflected any transphobic beliefs held by Mr. Smurro rather than his wife.

There is absolutely no evidence of any prior actions by Mr. Smurro during the course of his long teaching and administrative career that reflected any difficulty in controlling his temper or in diffusing difficult situations or any prejudice towards transgender people or any other group. There is no evidence in the record--other than the inferences drawn by the Superintendent and many of the writers who sent emails to the school solely from Respondent's 20-second conduct on April 24--that Respondent is in fact prejudiced against trans people or other LGBTQ people or that LGBTQ students would not feel safe in his school. There is no evidence that he is unfit to perform his duties.

The record evidence in fact suggests the opposite. While the District did not present any direct testimony or even any hearsay testimony from any teacher or administrator other than Dr. Crader to support Dr. Crader's assumptions that Mr. Smurro is unfit to perform his duties, Respondent presented testimony from 16 witnesses in addition to Mr. Smurro, all members of the Neptune school community. While the District discounts this testimony as being merely the opinions of Mr. Smurro's friends, I note that these witnesses are colleagues of Mr. Smurro, including, significantly, the current principal of the school, the other vice-principal of the school, and the former principal of the school, as well as other teachers and guidance counselors. None of the witnesses believed that Respondent was adopting his wife's comments during the incident on April 24. In addition to testifying that they believe Mr. Smurro was an excellent vice principal who had great relationships with students and parents, the witnesses gave consistent testimony disagreeing with Dr. Crader's assessment of Mr. Smurro and the impact of his conduct, as set forth in the Charges:

Dr. Mark Alfone, who had been the principal at the Neptune Middle School from 2007 to 2016 and supervised Respondent when he served as vice principal, testified that Mr. Smurro always treated students with respect, that he never lost his composure, that he always acted professionally, and that he was able to proactively work with students to deescalate situations. He never heard Mr. Smurro say or do anything that could be construed as anti-LGBTQ, bigoted or hostile to minority groups. He believes that Mr. Smurro would still be able to perform his job and command the respect of parents in the community. He heard from members of the Neptune LGBTQ community that they still have confidence in Mr. Smurro. He does not believe that the incident of April 24 had a negative effect on the morale or efficiency of the District or that it rendered Mr. Smurro unfit for duty.

Dr. Arlene Rogo has served as Respondent's principal for the last six years. She testified that she never saw Respondent lose his composure or act unprofessionally in his dealings with students or parents. He was effective at deescalating volatile situations. She never observed him saying or doing anything or received any complaints about him being insensitive or negative towards minority groups or anti-LGBTQ or bigoted or hostile to difference.

Significantly, Principal Rogo testified that no staff or student reached out to her to express any loss of faith in Respondent as a school leader. As principal of the school in which Mr. Smurro serves, she still has confidence in his ability to perform his duties and does not believe that this one incident involving a lapse in judgment should define him.

Thomas Decker is a co-vice principal at the Middle School with Respondent. He worked very closely with Respondent for seven years and testified that he never saw him be unprofessional with any student or inappropriate with any staff or insensitive or intolerant to any student or staff concerns. He has not received any sort of negative responses from community members that would lead him to believe that there's a negative perception within the Neptune community. He had confidence in Mr. Smurro's ability as a school leader prior to the April 24 incident and his view has not changed. He believes Respondent could still be an effective school administrator, despite the widespread attention.

Andrea McGovern, the guidance counselor at the Middle School for the last five years, testified that she worked closely with Respondent. His interactions with students were always positive, even when he was administering discipline. He sought to deescalate situations with students and never dealt with them confrontationally. She noted that she has students within her charge who are members of the LGBTQ community, including those identifying as transgender, and none of those students ever confided in her that they have lost faith or confidence in Mr. Smurro. She never saw Mr. Smurro be unprofessional and never heard any complaint about him from any student. She stated that she believes that Respondent can still be effective and she believes her colleagues still have confidence in him, as well. Some have asked how he is doing and when he is coming back. Ms. McGovern testified that Mr. Smurro was involved in the administrative decision to switch the Middle School bathrooms to genderless ones.

McGovern's comments. Mr. Douma is the harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) coordinator at the school. He worked with Respondent on HIB investigations and never saw him act unprofessionally or insensitively. He also worked with him to develop the "anti-bullying bill of rights." He testified that he has absolute faith and confidence in Respondent as a school leader and believes that if he had the opportunity to return, he would have the respect of students, staff, and parents.

In addition to the above witnesses, Respondent presented testimony from another eight teachers at the school, including a deaf teacher and a special education teacher, as well as an interpreter for the deaf. Their testimony was consistent with the testimony above, including emphasizing that the students loved him, the staff missed him, there was no increase in student disciplinary incidents after April 24, they continue to have confidence in him and they believe their colleagues have faith in him, and his absence has negatively affected morale.

All of the witnesses expressed their belief that if given the opportunity to return to his position, Mr. Smurro would use what had happened as a teachable moment, showing students that you can make a mistake, accept the consequences, learn from it, and move forward.

This may well have been a different case, more similar to the In re Jennifer O'Brien, State-Operated School District of the City of Paterson, 2011 WL 5429055 (N.J. Admin. 2011), aff'd by Comm'r, Agency Dkt. No. 108-5/11, aff'd 2013 WL 132508 (App.Div. 2013) and In re Donna Coleman and Roselle Borough School Dist., Agency Dkt. No. 18-1/2 cases cited by the District, had it been Mr. Smurro who engaged in the transphobic rant. It was not. It was Mrs. Smurro. Her husband should not be punished for her beliefs and conduct.

Charge Two focuses on whether Mr. Smurro can continue to effectively serve as an administrator. In support of her contention that he cannot, the Superintendent, in Charge Two, relies on what she contends are the reasonable perceptions of members of the school community that he joined with and adopted the transphobic sentiments expressed by his wife. She cites "the social media postings, news articles, email and voicemails," "[t]he magnitude of the public outrage" and "the number of venomous complaints received by the District" as evidence that Respondent can no longer effectively serve as a vice principal. Yet, in Charge Three, the Superintendent clearly states that the public outcry "does not formulate [her] basis as the Chief School Administrator for recommending that Smurro's employment be terminated." This statement begs the question of whether Charge Two is therefore relevant to the decision to terminate his tenure.

I do not need to resolve this conundrum, however, as I find that the "abundant social media postings, news articles, emails, and voicemails" do not warrant his termination. The Superintendent is correct that the public outcry was loud and large. It is instructive, however, to carefully analyze the communications.

While Dr. Crader testified that there were 1500 emails sent to the District hostile to Mr. Smurro, there were 300-400 email messages included in the Sworn Statement of Evidence in support of the Charges. (There are only a total of about 560 pages in the four exhibits referred to by Dr. Crader in her testimony as containing all the emails received. There is not more than one email message on any one page and some email communications took two or three pages. Many were duplicates or even triplicates of the same message. Many were form messages.) A handful (20-25, including some duplicates) of these were from senders who identified themselves as residents of the District. Most either did not state their location or were from other states and even other countries.

Contrary to the allegations in the Charge Two, I did not find any communications from District students or staff that provide evidence that students and staff "reasonably perceived him as joining with and adopting the transphobic sentiments expressed by his wife," are "outraged," or "no longer have confidence in Smurro's ability to effectively discharge his duties," or "question Smurro's foster [sic] an educational environment that fosters acceptance, tolerance, and diversity."

There are, however, many many emails from "stakeholders and other members of the public," expressing such beliefs. Some of the email messages reflected a misunderstanding of what had occurred on April 24. One writer was incensed at the "pure hate that the poor child in the video experienced." Two said Mr. Smurro threw a drink at workers. Several others stated that he threw a beer at a transgender person. One decried Smurro assaulting someone "simply because that person is trans." One was angry that he had committed "a hate crime against a transgender child." One described Smurro as a "racist, homophobic bigot." One stated that "one of your employees is spewing transphobic rhetoric in the video" and another said, "your vice principal publicly berated a trans woman." One transgender writer stated, "Mrs. Smurro's proud, self-righteous display of hate was awful, but witnessing Mr. Smurro assaulting a young trans woman for the crime of existing in the same public space as he and his wife was absolutely brutal." These statements are clearly and demonstrably false. There is no evidence that a beer was thrown on a transgender person, let alone a transgender child, or that there was any racial content to any of the exchanges. These misunderstandings demonstrate the power of social media to distort and exaggerate events, similar to a vicious game of telephone.

There are similar factual misunderstandings in the 90 or so[3] voice mail messages left at the school in the days following the incident. Quite a few asserted that he threw beer at a transgender woman. One insisted that he had attacked a transgender student at the Middle School. Another confusingly stated that he had thrown something at a peaceful protester at a demonstration about trans rights after a principal had said derogatory things about trans rights. A few just ridiculed his shoes and his hat and his t-shirt.

[3] Some are duplicates. Some are from people who say they also sent email messages. A few don't refer to Mr. Smurro at all.

Similarly, one newspaper article referred to "the couple's transphobic tirade." Another stated that the video shows Mr. Smurro and his wife arguing with a waitress about a transgender woman using the woman's bathroom and that "the two" loudly made insensitive and transphobic remarks. The headline of a third article said that Smurro threw beer at a child after rant about a trans woman using women's bathroom." These statements, too, are false or at least misleading, as there is no question that it was Mrs. Smurro, not Mr. Smurro, who made disparaging comments about transgender people.

Many of the emails question the sincerity of his apology, assuming that he only apologized for not stopping once he realized he was being filmed. I note, however, that Respondent testified, and the Superintendent concedes, that the language of the statement was given to him by the Superintendent.

Most significantly, a majority of the media and social media articles and communications assumed that Mr. Smurro's actions of throwing the contents of his cup of beer and inviting the patron to join him out in the parking lot was in defense of his wife's statements when in fact, there is nothing to contradict his testimony that his conduct, while inappropriate, unprofessional, unjustified, and just wrong, was in defense of his wife, not her statements. She was being videotaped and taunted and in his words verbally abused, perhaps justifiably, and he came to her defense.

Many of the emails assume, based on the several minutes of video, that Mr. Smurro stayed silent in the face of his wife's comments and that such silence constituted acquiescence. In fact, we don't know whether he stayed silent or not. There is testimony that the event lasted far longer than the brief snips of video that went viral and form the basis for this Charge. We see Respondent gesturing to his wife that it was time to leave. He testified that he repeatedly told his wife to stop and to calm down, but that she "just wouldn't let go." It is true that he did not publicly denounce her statements, and arguably he should have, but that does not mean that he acquiesced in her statements. The fact that many people assumed that he shared her beliefs does not make it so.

I find that the public reaction to the viral video—much of which is genuine and heartfelt and understandable, but much of which was apparently orchestrated from outside the Neptune community, some based on misinformation, and some constituting, as Dr. Crader described it, "group think"--does not establish that Respondent has discriminated or would discriminate against LGBTQ students or that he is otherwise unable to perform his duties. The answer to this question must be found elsewhere. As discussed above, I find that the evidence does not support a finding that he is transphobic or that he has or would discriminate against LGBTQ students or that he is otherwise unable to perform his duties.

I do not share Dr. Crader's belief that a public narrative based in whole or in part on an untruth should guide a personnel decision. (T.148) I recognize that such a public narrative may create a challenge for Mr. Smurro and for the rest of the administration, including Dr. Crader, to overcome in reestablishing trust, if indeed it is discovered upon his return that trust has been jeopardized. It will be up to Mr. Smurro and the administration to rise to that challenge and find ways of making this incident an opportunity for growth and education and of assuaging any fears.

Charge Three asserts that the message sent by Respondent's conduct was "that he will stand in defense of intolerance" and as such is "antithetical to the efficient and effective operation of the District" and "cannot be tolerated." While the Charge states that Respondent's conduct sent a message "that he will stand in defense of intolerance," as discussed above, the conduct can also be seen as sending a message that he will stand in defense of his wife who was being filmed and taunted (although, again, perhaps with good reason). The substance of this Charge is similar to that of Charges One and Two and is discussed above and the Charge is therefore dismissed.

Charge Four charges Respondent with violation of Policy 1550, Equal Employment/Anti-Discrimination Practices. This Policy bars the Board from discriminating against staff on the basis of, inter alia, race, religion, gender or gender expression and, the section on which the District relies, contracting with a person who discriminates on such bases "either in employment practices or in the provision of benefits or services to students or employees." There is no evidence in the record that Respondent discriminates on any basis against anyone, but certainly not "in employment practices or in the provision of benefits or services to students or employees." The theory that because he defended his wife who arguably expressed intolerance for transgender persons, he thereby discriminated in the provision of benefits or services to students is far-fetched. As discussed above, his defense of his wife who was being filmed and criticized by others does not equate to defending her comments or beliefs. Further, even assuming arguendo that it did so equate, the fact that he arguably could hold such beliefs does not mean that he did or would discriminate against students. Charge Four is dismissed.

Charge Five alleges a violation of Policy 3281: Inappropriate Staff Conduct. While the definition of inappropriate conduct set forth in the implementing regulation is broad ("includes but is not limited to"…"any conduct deemed by the Commissioner to be inappropriate conduct"), read as a whole, the Policy focuses on inappropriate sexual behavior by a staff member towards students. Broadly, the prohibition covers sexual harassment, inappropriate touching or comments, profanity, dating a student, and other similar conduct. There can be no question, as discussed above, that Respondent's conduct of throwing a beer at a member of the public, even if on non-school time and non-school property, was not "appropriate." I find, however, that it did not constitute inappropriate conduct within the meaning of Policy 3281. Charge Five is dismissed.

DECISION AND ORDER

As discussed above, I find Respondent Guilty of Charge One and Not Guilty of Charges Two, Three, Four and Five. However, for the reasons discussed above, I do not find that his conduct warrants removal. Here the conduct was one isolated unpremeditated incident that did not directly involve staff or students. There is no evidence of any prior violent or even unprofessional behavior or inability to appropriately deal with tense or difficult situations. There is no evidence of any prior or currently held discriminatory or intolerant beliefs or behavior. There is no evidence that he is transphobic. While Dr. Crader's professional opinion is entitled to deference, the District still must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that Respondent's conduct in fact renders him unfit to be in a position of authority in the school and adversely affected the moral and efficiency of the District. I find that it has not met that burden.

In addition, as held by the court in Fulcomer, "Although such conduct certainly warrants disciplinary action, the forfeiture of the teacher's rights after serving for a great many years in the New Jersey school system is, in our view, an unduly harsh penalty to be imposed under the circumstances." Taking into account the above factors and the impact his removal would have on his career, I find that a six-month unpaid suspension, essentially equivalent to one semester, would sufficiently impress on him the importance of acting as a role model for students, even on a Saturday afternoon following a Renaissance Fair. I order that he be reinstated and made whole for all loss, with the exception of a six-month disciplinary suspension.

SO ORDERED.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

A.A. on behalf of minor child, A.A.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Montgomery, Somerset County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

Petitioner challenges a harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) decision made by the Board. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) scheduled a telephone conference regarding petitioner's appeal for April 27, 2022. Petitioner failed to appear; therefore, the ALJ dismissed the matter based on petitioner's failure to pursue the appeal.

In his exceptions, petitioner argues that he was unaware of the April 27, 2022 telephone call, which was scheduled only via email and not by regular mail.

Upon review, the Commissioner finds that petitioner offered a reason why he failed to appear for the telephone conference, namely that the email was not received.[2]

[1] The Board did not file a reply to petitioner's exceptions.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings necessary to reach a determination on the merits.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Mailing: July 14, 2022

[2] The ALJ also indicated that petitioner failed to advise the court that his interlocutory appeal of the ALJ's August 25, 2022 Order had been denied. As petitioner's exceptions indicate that he did not understand that the document he received from the Appellate Division was the official decision on his appeal, the Commissioner finds his failure to notify the ALJ of the decision to be an insufficient basis to dismiss his petition.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF MONTGOMERY, SOMERSET COUNTY,
Respondent.

A.A., petitioner on behalf of A.A., pro se

Rita F. Barone, Esq., for respondent (Purcell, Mulcahy & Flanagan, LLC, attorneys)

BEFORE JEFFREY N. RABIN, ALJ:

Record Closed: April 27, 2022 Decided: April 28, 2022

On April 26, 2018, petitioner was advised that an HIB investigation by respondent had concluded that student, A.A., committed two acts of HIB against another student at Orchard Hill Elementary School on March 19, 2018. Petitioner appealed this decision to the respondent Board and, on June 12, 2018, respondent heard the appeal and affirmed the finding of HIB against student A.A. Petitioner filed an appeal of the June 12, 2018, decision to the Commissioner of Education on September 19, 2018. On November 5, 2018, this matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on November 7, 2018, as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13. This matter was docketed as OAL Dkt. No. EDU 16096-18.

On November 5, 2018, respondent filed a motion to dismiss, and a hearing was held on December 19, 2018. On February 11, 2019, respondent's motion was granted, this court finding that petitioner failed to file his appeal in a timely manner and failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. On March 26, 2019, the Commissioner of Education remanded this matter to OAL, resulting in the within case, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 04273-19.

After attempts at reaching a settlement failed when petitioner could not agree to the form of settlement agreement to be used, a telephone conference was held with the parties on November 20, 2019, at which time a hearing was scheduled for March 30, 2020. Petitioner subsequently requested an adjournment of the March 30, 2020, hearing date.

On March 13, 2020, petitioner filed a motion to compel depositions of unnamed, potential witnesses. I denied this motion and closed discovery effective June 9, 2020. The parties agreed to a telephone status conference on August 25, 2020, and to a due process hearing date of September 11, 2020. On or about June 17, 2020, petitioner filed an interlocutory appeal of the discovery motion denial to The Honorable Ellen Bass, Acting Director and Chief Administrative Law Judge. That appeal consisted of accusations by petitioner that opposing counsel, Ms. Barone, had failed to conduct her case in an honest, ethical manner, and that I had displayed prejudice to petitioner's case by not ruling on procedural motions in his favor. By letter dated June 26, 2020, Judge Bass informed petitioner that this matter was not appealable to OAL, but rather should be appealed to the Commissioner of Education. Petitioner filed an interlocutory appeal of the motion denial with the Commissioner of Education on July 6, 2020. The Commissioner of Education subsequently denied petitioner's request for interlocutory review.

On July 21, 2020, petitioner filed a request, in the approximate form of a motion, asking me to review his documentation and disqualify Ms. Barone from this case or issue corrective and/or disciplinary action against Ms. Barone. Additionally, on or about August 11, 2020, petitioner filed a motion with OAL in which he asked me to disqualify myself as Administrative Law Judge in this matter.

During the telephone hearing of August 25, 2020, on the record, I denied petitioner's motion to disqualify opposing counsel, concluding that petitioner's filings failed to show good cause why Ms. Barone should be disqualified from representing respondent in this case. During the call of August 25, 2020, I further denied petitioner's motion for me to disqualify myself from continuing to hear this case, concluding that petitioner's filings failed to show good cause why I should disqualify myself. A Letter Order dated August 28, 2020, was issued to confirm the rulings from the telephone conference of August 25, 2020. Petitioner indicated he would file an interlocutory appeal of my findings. As a result, I then adjourned the hearing scheduled for September 11, 2020, and stated that a new hearing date would be scheduled once petitioner A.A.'s interlocutory appeal was completed. Petitioner subsequently failed to provide any docket number, documentation, or other proof that he was pursuing an interlocutory appeal.

A telephone status conference was scheduled for November 12, 2020. Petitioner requested an adjournment. No information regarding an interlocutory appeal was provided by petitioner throughout 2021. On December 6, 2021, however, respondent-counsel provided proof that petitioner had filed an appeal with the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, which had denied petitioner's motion for leave to appeal on February 12, 2021. As a result, a telephone conference was scheduled for February 16, 2022; petitioner later requested that it be adjourned. A telephone conference was then scheduled for April 27, 2022, but petitioner failed to appear.

As petitioner failed to take any action to pursue this appeal between August 25, 2020, and April 27, 2022, failed to advise the court or respondent that his interlocutory appeal had been denied on February 12, 2021, and requested the adjournment of a telephone conference scheduled for February 16, 2022, and failed to appear for a telephone conference scheduled for April 27, 2022, without any notifice to this court or explanation of good cause for having missed said telephone conference, I therefore CONCLUDE that petitioner has abandoned his appeal.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that this appeal be DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Stipulation of Settlement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

BEFORE KELLY J. KIRK, ALJ:

The New Jersey Department of Education transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law for determination as a contested case on September 1, 2021, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have settled this matter and have filed a Stipulation of Settlement and Resolution setting forth the terms of their settlement.

Having reviewed the Stipulation of Settlement and Resolution, I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by the signatures of the parties and/or their representatives.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that the stipulation of settlement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the stipulation of settlement and, therefore, ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. BEFORE DEAN J. BUONO, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law on February 26, 2021, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have prepared a Settlement Agreement indicating the terms thereof, which is attached and fully incorporated herein. This Settlement Agreement resolves all disputes.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures on the attached settlement agreement and the attached Board resolution.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

BRICK TOWNSHIP EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, on behalf of itself, and its Bargaining member, HANNAH JOVANOVIC, Petitioners, v. BRICK TOWNSHIP BOARD OF EDUCATION, Respondent.	OAL DOCKET #: EDU 02461-2021 AGENCY REF.#: 16 – 1/21 SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and Release (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement") is entered into by and between the Brick Township Board of Education, which has offices located at 101 Hendrickson Avenue, New Jersey 08724 (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") and the Brick Township Education Association, which has offices located at 270 Chambers Bridge Road, Unit 12, Brick, New Jersey 08724, on behalf of itself, and its Bargaining member, Hannah Jovanovic (hereinafter referred to as the "BTEA") (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Parties").

WHEREAS, the Board and BTEA are parties to a collective bargaining agreement ("CBA"), under which the Board recognizes the BTEA as the majority representative, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 34:13A-1, et seq., representing Classroom Teachers, Special Education Teachers, Nurses, Special Services Personnel, Librarians, Student Services Personnel, Athletic Trainers, Attendance Officers, Instructional Coaches, and Teacher Aides; and,

WHEREAS, the Parties' CBA (effective dates of July 1, 2018 through June 30, 2021) set forth terms for employees' contributions for health benefits and the medical plans offered by the Board; and,

WHEREAS, the New Jersey Legislature enacted P.L. 2020, c. 44 ("Chapter 44"), effective July 1, 2020, which, among other things, created a new State health care plan, New Jersey Educators Health Plan ("NJEHP"); and,

WHEREAS, Chapter 44 applies to both school districts that do and do not participate in the School Employees Health Benefits Program ("SEHBP"); and,

WHEREAS, the Board does not participate in the SEHBP; and,

WHEREAS, pursuant to Chapter 44, the Board provided an "affirmative selection process" to employees hired prior to July 1, 2020, during which employees were required to indicate whether they wanted to maintain their current health plan or whether they would prefer the NJEHP, or its equivalent; and,

WHEREAS, a member of the BTEA requested to enroll her spouse in her current health plan during the "affirmative selection process;" and,

WHEREAS, the Board maintains that Chapter 44 only required an "affirmative selection process," not an "open enrollment period;" and,

WHEREAS, the BTEA maintains that Chapter 44 required an "open enrollment period," and, thereby, the enrollment of spouses/dependents if requested by members; and,

WHEREAS, the BTEA filed a Petition of Appeal ("Petition") seeking, among other things, to compel the Board to permit the enrollment of the BTEA member's spouse and for any damages incurred for the failure to do so; and

WHEREAS, the Board filed an Answer to the Petition, seeking an Order denying the relief sought by the BTEA and the dismissal of the Petition; and

WHEREAS, the Parties are desirous of resolving the issues raised by the BTEA and have reached an amicable resolution thereby avoiding the time and expense associated with further litigation.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants set forth herein, the Parties agree as follows:

1. In consideration of the documentation provided by the BTEA in support of the alleged damages incurred by Hannah Jovanovic in connection with this matter, the Board will pay Ms. Jovanovic seven-hundred and fifty dollars ($750.00) within thirty (30) days of the Board's approval of this Agreement at a public meeting.

2. The terms of this Agreement represent the compromise of disputed claims between the Parties.

3. This Agreement shall not constitute, be interpreted, construed, or used as evidence of any admission of fact, law, responsibility, or liability on the part of any party.

4. The Parties agree to submit this Agreement to an Administrative Law Judge for approval in full settlement of all issues pertaining to this matter. If approved, this Agreement shall be incorporated into a Final Decision by an Administrative Law Judge. Nothing contained herein shall be interpreted as preventing the Parties from filing a lawsuit to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

5. The BTEA, individually, and on behalf of all of its members, hereby forever and fully waives and releases the Board from any and all claims and demands raised in its underlying Petition of Appeal (OAL Docket No. EDU 062461-2021), and from any and all claims that may have accrued with respect to the subject matter encompassed by this Agreement. Nothing in the release set forth in this paragraph shall be construed as a release or waiver of any claims between the Parties seeking to enforce any term or provision of this Agreement.

6. Each party shall bear their own attorneys' fees, costs, expert witness fees, and/or costs of evaluations and expert reports for the entirety of any matter or matters related to the subject matter of this Agreement.

7. This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey.

8. The undersigned represent that they have the requisite authority to sign this Agreement on behalf of the respective party.

9. The Parties may execute this Agreement in counterparts, each of which is deemed an original and all of which only constitute one original.

10. This Agreement is subject to ratification by the Board and is without prejudice to any party if the terms are not agreed upon. The representatives of the District shall recommend the terms of this Agreement to the Board for approval at its next regularly scheduled BOE meeting.

11. This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding of the Parties hereto and shall supersede any prior agreements between the Parties with respect to its subject matter. Further, there are no representations, warranties, covenants or undertakings other than those expressly set forth herein. Each party acknowledges and agrees that they are not relying upon any oral statements, representations, promises or expectations which are not expressly and explicitly set forth in this Agreement, which alone fully and completely expresses all agreements between the Parties.

12. A modification or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be effective and enforceable, only if made in writing, signed and duly authorized by all Parties and executed with the same formality as the Agreement.

13. The terms and conditions set forth herein shall be deemed severable. If any clause or provision contained herein shall be held unenforceable by a court of competent jurisdiction, it shall not affect the validity of any other clause or provision, all of which shall continue in full force and effect.

14. The Parties acknowledge that they are entering into this Agreement of their own accord and without any undue influence, coercion or pressure of any kind; that all the provisions of this Agreement, as well as all questions pertinent thereto, have been fully and satisfactorily explained to them; that they have given due consideration to such provisions and questions and understand them clearly; that the provisions of this Agreement are in all respects acceptable to them and that they, therefore, accept these provisions in full and final satisfaction of all claims and demands which have been raised or which could have been raised in any litigation related to the within Agreement.

15. The Parties recognize that each had the opportunity to be represented by legal counsel and that they sign this within Agreement as their own voluntary act and deed, and that they understand the duties and obligations enumerated herein.

IN THE MATTER OF TENURE CHARGES BY:

N.J. DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

CELESTE THATCHER

Agency Docket No. 74-4/22

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. §§ 18A:28-5 and 18A:6-10

APPEARANCES:

FOR THE PETITIONER
N.J. OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL
By: Kevin K.O. Sangster, Esq.

FOR THE RESPONDENT
WEISSMAN & MINTZ, LLC
By: Jason L. Jones, Esq.

BEFORE:

Perry A. Zirkel, Arbitrator

ARBITRATOR APPROVAL

The Department of Corrections, Office of Education Services (Petitioner) filed Sworn Tenure Charges against tenured teacher Celeste Thatcher (Respondent) in accordance with N.J.S.A. §§ 18A:28-5 and 18A:6-10, and served them on Respondent with notice of opportunity to submit evidence and argument inopposition. Thereafter, the Commissioner of Education, following review of the Charges and Respondent's answer, found the Charges were sufficient for referral to an arbitrator. On June 13, 2022, the Office of Controversies and Disputes appointed me as the arbitrator to hear and decide this tenure dispute. Pursuant to a June 16 status conference with the parties, we agreed on hearing dates of July 20 and, if needed, July 22. On July 1, the parties notified me of their settlement of the case pending final signing. On July 13, the parties submitted the finally executed settlement agreement, which included recitation of compliance with the Cardonick standards.

After a careful review of the Agreement, I hereby conclude that it satisfies the statutory requirements for withdrawal and settlement of tenure charges, as set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6 based on the following findings:

1. The Petitioner specified the charges and provided them to the Respondent with the requisite accompanying documentation. The initial section of the Agreement confirmed the charges.

2. The Agreement's provision to set the suspension at 10 working days and to vacate the demotion aligns within the respective party positions during the prehearing process as inferable reasonable justification for the settlement.

3. The remaining provisions of the Agreement amply show the full consent of both parties.

4. These same remaining provisions also show that the charged party signed with informed consent.

5. The Agreement is in the public interest by saving the notable transaction costs of the detailed statutory proceedings and contributing to the effective service of the Respondent, while providing discipline for the Respondent and moving her from the site of the charged conduct.

6. Because neither the charges nor the Agreement involved loss of position, the final Cardonick criterion is not applicable in this case.

Thus, I approve the attached Agreement in full resolution of Agency Docket No. 74-4/22.

IN THE MATTER OF TENURE HEARING OF: CELESTE THATCHER and NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS, EDNA MAHAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY	AGENCY DOCKET NO. 74-4/22 Arbitrator Perry Zirkel SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The parties hereto have voluntarily resolved all disputed matters and enter into the following Settlement Agreement, which fully disposes of all issues in controversy between them:

A. The Tenure charges filed with the Commissioner of Education on April 7, 2022, against Celeste Thatcher ("Respondent" or "Thatcher"), contained the following charges and proposed discipline:

Charge	Discipline	Dates Effective
1. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(6) Conduct unbecoming a public employee	20-working day suspension and demotion to position of Asst. Supervisor of Education	N/A
2. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(12) Other sufficient cause	Same as above	N/A
3. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-4: Verbal abuse of an inmate, patient, client, resident, or employee	Same as above	N/A
4. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-8: Falsification: Intentional misstatement of material fact in connection with work, employment, application, attendance, or in any record, report,	Same as above	N/A investigation or other proceeding

5. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-11: Conduct unbecoming a public employee	Same as above	N/A
6. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: E-1: Violation of a rule, regulation, policy, procedure, order or administrative decision.	Same as above	N/A

B. Respondent withdraws her appeal and request for a hearing and the Petitioner Appointing Authority, the New Jersey Department of Corrections ("Petitioner" or the "Appointing Authority"), agrees that the following result will occur with regard to each charge:

Charge	Disposition
1. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(6) Conduct unbecoming a public employee	10-working day suspension and rescinding of demotion
2. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(12) Other sufficient cause	Same as above
3. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-4: Verbal abuse of an inmate, patient, client, resident, or employee	Same as above
4. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-8: Falsification: Intentional misstatement of material fact in connection with work, employment, application, attendance, or in any record, report, investigation or other proceeding	Same as above
5. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C-11: Conduct unbecoming a public employee	Same as above

6. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: E-1: Violation of a rule, regulation, policy, procedure, order or administrative decision.	Same

C. The parties have agreed to the following:

1) Petitioner will rescind Respondent's demotion and Respondent will serve a total of 10 working days of suspension without pay.

2) Respondent will retain her current title and be reassigned to another correctional facility based on the operational needs of the Appointing Authority.

3) Respondent will be subject to retraining as appropriate.

4) Respondent agrees not to seek or accept future work assignment to the Edna Mahan Correctional Facility.

5) As of this date, Respondent is no longer under consideration for any disciplinary action.

6) The parties acknowledge that under N.J.A.C. 17:1-2.18, no pension, seniority or benefit time will be credited for periods for which the employee is not paid by the employer.

7) Respondent has been advised that, as a teaching staff member, the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education has the duty to refer all tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners.

8) The parties acknowledge and agree that settlement is justified in this matter and is in the public interest, and that such settlement will provide the benefit of avoiding the costs and expenses of litigation.

D. The Appointing Authority shall amend Respondent's personnel records to reflect the terms of this Agreement. All internal records of the Department of Corrections will be kept intact. Nothing herein shall preclude the Department from releasing information on this matter to anyone who has a release executed by Respondent or as consistent with state or federal law. Any information regarding the underlying charges will be provided to the Public Employees Retirement System pursuant to N.J.S.A. 43:1-3.3 as amended effective April 14, 2007.

E. Respondent waives all other claims against the Department of Corrections with regard to this matter, including any award of back pay, counsel fees or other monetary relief, except as may otherwise be provided herein. This Agreement resolves any and all disciplinary actions pending against Respondent.

F. Nothing in this Agreement shall constitute an admission or stipulation of facts regarding the charges listed in Paragraph A. By entering into this Agreement, neither party admits or denies a violation of any state or federal law, any agency or departmental policy, or the parties' collective negotiations agreement. This Agreement shall not constitute precedent in matters involving other employees.

G. Respondent waives all claims, suits or actions, whether known, unknown, vested or contingent, civil, criminal or administrative, in law or equity against the State of New Jersey, the New Jersey Department of Corrections, their employees, agents, or assigns, including but not limited to those which have been or could have been made or prosecuted on account of any conduct of any party occurring at any time with respect to the events, information or disputes giving rise to this action up to the date of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, all claims under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family Leave Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, the Equal Pay Act, the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Title 11A - the Civil Service Act, the ●lder Workers Benefits Protection Act, the ●ccupational Safety and Health Act, the Public Employee Occupational Safety and Health Act, the New Jersey Smoking Act, New Jersey wages and hours law, public works statutes, unemployment compensati●n laws, disability benefits laws, the United States Constitution, the New Jersey Constitution, any workers compensation or common law claims and any contract express or implied. This waiver includes all claims involving any continuing effects of actions or practices which arose prior to the date of this Settlement Agreement and bars the use in any way of any past action or practice in any subsequent claims, except pending workers compensation claims.

H. The parties agree that if any portion of this Settlement Agreement is deemed unenforceable, the remainder of this Settlement Agreement shall be fully enforceable.

I. This Settlement Agreement is binding on the parties and may not be supplemented, amended, changed or modified in any manner, orally or otherwise, except in writing signed by a duly authorized representative of each party.

J. By signing this Settlement Agreement, the signatories represent that they have read this Agreement and fully understand its terms.

v.

Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, Union County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises contained herein, the legal sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by the parties, they agree as follows:

1. Lump Sum Payment

The sum of Sixteen Thousand Dollars and 00/100 ($16,000.00), from which no deductions or withholdings will be made, is being paid by the Board to Ms. Edmond as compensation for Ms. Edmond's claim for emotional distress and the physical manifestations therefrom that Ms. Edmond claimed she has suffered, and from which she claims she continues to suffer on account and as a direct result of the unlawful adverse employment actions she contended were taken against her by the Board and/or its agents.

2. Resignation

Upon receipt of the Lump Sum Payment, Ms. Edmond shall resign from all employment with the Board. A true copy of Ms. Edmond's Letter of Resignation is attached hereto as Exhibit "A."

3. Waiver

Upon receipt of the Lump Sum Payment, Ms. Edmond shall withdraw, with prejudice, subject to this Agreement, her Petition of Appeal, styled, Tyeasi Edmond v. City of Plainfield Board of Education, OAL Docket Number EDU 17358-2019N, Agency Docket Number 299-11/19 (hereinafter referred to as "Petition of Appeal"). Upon receipt of the Lump Sum Payment, Ms. Edmond shall also waive any asserted right to receive any health insurance benefits from the Board.

4. Affidavit of Counsel

The Board shall authorize Philip E. Stern to sign the Affidavit, attached hereto as Exhibit "B," regarding the pending Teachers Pension and Annuity Fund creditable compensation appeal (Teachers Pension and Annuity Fund Docket Number 5764-7).

5. Material Breach

By the Board: If the Board fails to comply with any of the aforementioned agreements, then this Agreement shall be deemed null and void, and Ms. Edmond shall be conferred with the absolute right to reinstate the Petition of Appeal.

By Ms. Edmond: If Ms. Edmond fails to comply with any of the aforementioned agreements, then this Agreement shall be deemed null and void, and Ms. Edmond shall return the Lump Sum Payment, however, the Board shall be under no obligation to rescind its acceptance of Ms. Edmond's resignation..

6. Mutual Releases

In exchange for the above consideration, Ms. Edmond, her heirs and assigns, and the Board, personally and officially, individually and collectively, its past and present members, all officers and administrators, its attorneys, agents and employees, personally and officially, as well as their successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waive, release and forever discharge any and all claims and rights of any kind that either party may have, whether now known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, including, but not limited to, arising out of or in any way connected with Ms. Edmond's employment with the Board. These claims and rights released include, but are not limited to, claims under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. §1001, et seq., the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, 29 U.S.C. §2601 et seq., Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. §2000e, et seq., the Americans With Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §12101, et seq., the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. §201 et seq., the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C. §701 et seq., Executive Orders 11246 or 11141, the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. §2101 et seq., the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, N.J.S.A. 34:19-1, et seq., the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1, et seq., the New Jersey Family Leave Act, N.J.S.A. 34:11B-1, et seq., the New Jersey Equal Pay Act, N.J.S.A. 34:11-56.1, et seq., the New Jersey Worker Health & Safety Act, and New Jersey wage payment laws, all as amended; Title 18A of the Education Laws; Title 6A of the Education Regulations; and civil, criminal, or statutory laws, including any and all human rights laws and laws against discrimination, harassment, or retaliation, any other federal, state or local fair employment or whistle-blower statute, code or ordinance, common law (including New Jersey common law public policy claims, malicious prosecution and malicious use of process claims), contract law, tort, and any and all claims for attorneys' fees. The parties represent that they know of no claim that has not been released by this paragraph. Ms. Edmond does not waive any rights she may have pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, or N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1, in the event of any claims brought by a third party against her, nor does the Board waive any defenses it may assert in the event Ms. Edmond exercises her rights pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 or N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1. Ms. Edmond does not waive any rights under the Workers' Compensation laws.

7. ADEA Waiver

Ms. Edmond acknowledges that the Board has advised her that she is knowingly and voluntarily waiving and releasing any rights she may have under the ADEA, and that the consideration given for the waiver and release in the preceding paragraphs hereof is in addition to anything of value to which Employee is already entitled. Ms. Edmond further acknowledges that she has been advised, as required by the ADEA, that: (1) Ms. Edmond's waiver and release do not apply to any rights or claims that may arise after the Effective Date of this Agreement, as that term is defined below; (2) Ms. Edmond should consult with an attorney prior to signing this Agreement; (3) Ms. Edmond may take twenty-one (21) calendar days to consider and review this Agreement, including this release provision; (4) Employee may revoke the release provision of this Agreement at any time prior to 5 p.m. Eastern Time on the seventh calendar day after the date she executes this Agreement by giving the Board written notice of said revocation; and (5) on the eighth calendar day after Ms. Edmond executes this Agreement (the "Effective Date"), this release provision immediately will become irrevocable and fully binding on Ms. Edmond, her estate and anyone acting on behalf of Ms. Edmond or her estate.

8. Non-Admission This Agreement is not and shall not in any way be considered or construed as an admission of wrongdoing and/or liability by the Board of any kind, including, but not limited to discrimination, retaliation, tortious conduct, or of any violation of any laws, common laws, or federal, state, and local laws, statutes or regulations, or of any employment policies, Board policies, Board regulations, standard operating procedures, practices, contracts, or agreements, or of any alleged duties owed by Defendants, or of any unlawful or wrongful acts whatsoever by the Board. The Board wholly denies wrongdoing of any kind. The Parties merely seek to amicably resolve any and all disputes among them.

Accordingly, this Agreement shall not be used as an admission by any Party in any proceedings; however, this Agreement may be introduced in any proceedings to enforce the terms and conditions of the Agreement and/or used by any Party in connection with any proceeding and/or other enforcement or other action by or before any local, state, or federal agency and/or other like entity.

9. Liens and Indemnification It is further understood and agreed that as a condition of this settlement, all claims and/or liens, past, current and/or future arising out of this settlement or asserted against the proceeds of this settlement are to be satisfied solely by Ms. Edmond, including but not limited to any Medicare or Medicaid claims and/or liens, Worker's Compensation claims and/or liens, Social Security claims and/or liens, hospital insurer claims and/or liens, physician or attorney claims and/or liens, or any of the statutory, equitable, common law or judgment claims and/or liens, including but not limited to claim based on subrogation or any other legal or equitable theory. Ms. Edmond therefore agrees, upon prompt presentation of any such claims and/or liens, to defend the Board against any such claims and/or liens, and to indemnify and hold the Board and harmless against any judgment entered against the Board and/or its insurance carrier based on such claims and/or liens, including the payment of any sustained fines, charges, and reasonable and necessary attorneys' fees incurred as a result of any such lien.

10. Assent to Terms

Ms. Edmond hereby acknowledges that she entered into this Agreement with a full understanding of her rights and that she was fully informed of the implications of this Agreement by her attorney, Stephen B. Hunter, Esq., and she does so without duress of her own free will and volition.

11. Entire Agreement

This Agreement represents the entire understanding of the parties and may be modified only in a subsequent written instrument, duly executed by the parties. No other representations of any kind shall be binding upon the parties.

12. Severability

In the event that a court or agency of competent jurisdiction shall deem any part of this Agreement to be contrary to law, then the remaining portions of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

13. Governing Law

This Agreement and all provisions hereof shall be governed by and construed under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

Record Closed: June 20, 2022 Decided: June 23, 2022

BEFORE JEFFREY R. WILSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The Board of Education of the City of Pleasantville, Atlantic County (Petitioner/Board) challenges the decision of Dr. Constance Bauer (Bauer) to override the Board's vote terminating in-house counsel.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The petitioner filed the within appeal, and the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on July 1, 2021, for a hearing as a contested case. N.J.S.A.

52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13. By order, dated May 25, 2022, this matter was dismissed against the New Jersey Department of Education (NJDOE).

The aforementioned order included the following:

> This matter shall be scheduled for a telephone conference on June 20, 2022, at 3:00 pm. Only the petitioner and respondent Bauer shall participate in this conference. Notices will be sent to the parties under separate cover. (emphasis included.)

Furthermore, on May 25, 2022, notice of the June 20, 2022, telephone conference was emailed to the remaining parties. The notice included the following language:

> If you do not participate in the telephone conference, the file will be returned to the transmitting agency for appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the other party. (emphasis include.)

The petitioners did not participate in the June 20, 2022, telephone conference and did not contact the OAL to explain why they were unable to do so.

CONCLUSION

To date, the petitioners have not provided a request for an adjournment of the June 20, 2022, telephone conference or an explanation for their nonappearance for the same.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioners have failed to appear and abandoned their appeal.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that this matter is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

MOUNT CARMEL GUILD SCHOOLS CORP., Petitioner, v. NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, DIVISION OF FIELD SERVICES, OFFICE OF SCHOOL FINANCE[1], Respondent.	STATE OF NEW JERSEY OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW Agency Docket No.: 93-4/15 OAL Docket No.: EDU 08266-2015N SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between Petitioner, Mount Carmel Guild Schools Corporation ("Mount Carmel") and Respondent, the New Jersey Department of Education, Division of Finance, Office of School Finance ("OSF") (collectively "The Parties"), that this action is hereby settled upon the following terms:

RECITALS

WHEREAS, N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-18.10 requires Approved Private Schools for Students with Disabilities ("APSSD") to annually submit audited financial statements based on the July 1 to June 30 school year; and

WHEREAS, Mount Carmel submitted the required audited financial statements for the 2007-2008 school year; and

WHEREAS, the OSF reviewed Mount Carmel's 2007-2008 audited

[1] The name of this office has changed and is currently the Office of School Finance within the New Jersey Department of Education Division of Finance.

financial statements and identified non-allowable costs of $97,566; and

WHEREAS the OSF notified all school districts that paid tuition to Mount Carmel in the 2007-2008 school year of a potential settlement in this matter and allowed them a period of 30 days to submit any comments to the OSF:

NOW THEREFORE, it is hereby agreed by way of this Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") as follows:

1. The Parties acknowledge that the above Recitals are true and correct and are incorporated herein as material to this Agreement.

2. Mount Carmel agrees to accept $50,002 as non-allowable costs attributable to the 2007-2008 school year.

a. The OSF has identified the districts that are impacted by this Agreement by reason of having paid tuition to Mount Carmel during the 2007-2008 school year. The amount of the settlement shall be calculated by the OSF and distributed to Mount Carmel within 45 days from the execution of this Agreement. The amount of the settlement shall be allocated to each district based on the ratio of each sending district board of education's total Average Daily Enrollment ("ADE") in Mount Carmel for the 2007-2008 school year to Mount Carmel's total ADE for the same period.

b. Each district shall receive its allocation of the $50,002 due in each year of this agreement until its total allocation is repaid. In particular, Mount Carmel agrees to notify each sending district of this settlement within 90 days and to remit each district's share of $16,667.34 (50,002 divided by 3 years). One year and two years from the date of the initial remittance, Mount Carmel will disburse payments equivalent to each district's share of $16,667.33 and $16,667.33 respectively to the sending districts.

   i. It is understood that the purpose of this allocation is to refund to each sending district a portion of the funds previously paid by those districts in respect of the charges disallowed pursuant to this Agreement, not to bestow a windfall on districts who have not yet paid Mount Carmel the tuition charges for the years related to the refund and at issue in this matter. The OSF will determine the amount of refund owed to each school district and notify Mount Carmel and each school district of same upon the execution of this Agreement.

c. Subject to the obligations set forth in paragraph (b) above, nothing herein shall affect whatever entitlement

Mount Carmel otherwise would have to collect from sending districts any outstanding tuition charges unrelated to the partial disallowances agreed to herein.

d. Nothing in this agreement shall prohibit Mount Carmel from prepayment, and a shorter repayment term may be negotiated between Mount Carmel and any school district.

e. Mount Carmel's payment of the settlement amounts in each year shall be memorialized in a Note Disclosure in that year's audited financial statements.

f. Under no circumstances shall the amount of settlement be included in allowable costs.

g. Nothing in this settlement shall exempt other offices within the New Jersey Department of Education from identifying costs that are deemed contrary to regulations and seeking resolution of same.

h. Mount Carmel will copy the OSF on all correspondence relating to payments made by the terms of this Agreement so that the OSF can ensure that this Agreement is being followed.

3. The Parties stipulate and agree that this Agreement sets forth the complete and full resolution of all issues between them with regard to OSF's desk audit of Mount Carmel's financial statements for the 2007-2008 school year. This Agreement may not be modified or amended except by a written instrument signed by all parties hereto.

4. Mount Carmel agrees to continue to follow the Corrective Action Plan implemented in 2007.

5. The Parties hereby agree that this Agreement shall fully dispose of any and all causes of action and claims that the Parties may have against one another relating to OSF's desk audit of Mount Carmel's financial statements for the 2007-2008 school year. In exchange for, and in consideration of, the payments, benefits, and other commitments described above, each party hereby fully releases, acquits, and forever discharges each other party of and from any and all claims, liabilities, causes of action, damages, costs, attorneys' fees, expenses, and compensation whatsoever, of whatever kind of nature, in law, equity or otherwise, whether known or unknown, vested or contingent, suspected or unsuspected, that the party may now have to the date of this Agreement against each other party related to OSF's desk audit of the audited financial statements through the 2007-2008 school year. The Parties agree that attorneys' fees and costs will not be passed along to any of the involved school districts as an allowable cost.

6. Petitioners shall file a Stipulation of Dismissal with Prejudice of OAL Docket No. EDU 08266-15 with the New Jersey Office of Administrative Law within 30 days of the execution of this Agreement. A copy of the executed Agreement will be filed with the New Jersey Office of Administrative Law simultaneously.

7. This Agreement shall not constitute, be interpreted, be construed, or be used as evidence of any admission of fact, law, responsibility, wrongdoing, or liability on the part of the OSF or Mount Carmel and shall not be referred to in any other proceeding by any party other than to enforce the express terms of this Agreement.

8. Nothing in this Agreement shall preclude an action to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

9. This Agreement shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, including but not limited to the New Jersey Contractual Liability Act, N.J.S.A. 59:13-1 et seq. The Parties agree that any action to enforce or interpret this Agreement shall only be brought in the Superior Court of New Jersey.

10. In addition to the other remedies set forth within this Agreement, in the event that the terms of this Agreement are violated, the OSF reserves the right to reinstate its non-allowable cost determination toward Mount Carmel for the 2007-2008 school year, and reserves all rights to pursue actions to enforce that determination. Mount Carmel reserves all rights and defenses in the event the terms of this Agreement are violated.

11. The Parties understand and agree to the terms of this Agreement. It is acknowledge that this Agreement has been entered into freely, willingly, and voluntarily, without duress or coercion, and with the opportunity for the Parties to consult with representation of their choosing and at their option.

Final Decision

M.I., on behalf of minor children, A.D. and P.P.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth, Union County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner filed a pro se petition challenging the determination of the respondent Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth (Board) that her minor children, A.D. and P.P., were ineligible to receive a free public education in respondent's schools. Petitioner asserted that she and her children do, in fact, live at the Elizabeth address provided when the children were enrolled and that she had provided proof of her residence as required by the Board. The Board has subsequently determined that the children are eligible to attend Elizabeth schools, and withdrew its claim for tuition. Petitioner has not, however, withdrawn her appeal in this matter.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the children are attending Elizabeth Public Schools free of charge; the District has formally withdrawn its counterclaim for tuition; and there is no further matter in controversy. The petitioner has already achieved the relief she sought in her appeal. The ALJ determined that the matter is moot and, accordingly, granted the Board's motion to dismiss the petition, with prejudice.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings and conclusions. Acordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter, and the petition was dismissed with prejudice.

M.I., Petitioner, pro se (no appearance)

Brian J. Kane, Esq., (La Corte, Bundy, Varady & Kinsella) for Respondent

BEFORE DANIELLE PASQUALE, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

M.I., Petitioner, filed a petition challenging the determination of Respondent Elizabeth Board of Education that Petitioner and her family do not reside in the Elizabeth New Jersey School District (District). M.I. maintained throughout that she did, in fact, live in Elizabeth, New Jersey at the listed address. M.I. wrote in her Pro Se Residency Appeal that she had provided proof of same. In response, on June 18, 2021, the Respondent filed an Answer and Counterclaim and while the attorney of record initially had difficulties communicating with Petitioner, Ms. DiPalo did, in fact, write to me to state that M.I. provided sufficient proof of her Elizabeth Residency and the District determined that it would permit her children to re-enroll as students. The students are currently enrolled and the District has withdrawn its counterclaim for any reimbursement. I take Judicial Notice that M.I. has been on multiple phone calls both in English and in Spanish and was thinking of withdrawing her case but never did. We sought a response as did the District for months but never received one. I finally listed the case for a hearing on June 22, 2022 where she was properly noticed and failed to appear. The argument to dismiss the case due to mootness was heard in M.I.'s absence.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

As the District properly argues, mootness is a threshold justiciability determination rooted in the notion that judicial power is to be exercised only when a party is immediately threated with harm. Jackson v. Dep't of Corr., 335 N.J. Super. 227, 231 (App. Div. 2000). "A case is technically moot when the original issue presented has been resolved at least concerning the parties who initiated the litigation." DeVesa v. Dorsey, 134 N.J. 420, 428 (1993). Courts normally will not decide issues when a controversy no longer exists, and the disputed issues have become moot. Id.

An action is moot when it no longer presents a justiciable controversy because the issues raised have become academic. For reasons of judicial economy and restraint it is appropriate to refrain from decision-making when an issue presented is hypothetical, judgment cannot grant effective relief, or the parties do not have a concrete adversity of interest. Anderson v. Sills, 143 N.J. Super. 432, 437 (Ch. Div. 1976); Fox v. Twp. of E. Brunswick Bd. of Educ., EDU 10067-98, Initial Decision (March 19, 1999), aff'd, Comm'r (May 3, 1999) <http://lawlibrary.rutgers.edu/oal/search.html>; S.J. v. Bd. of Educ. of Mountain Lakes, EDU 07081-03, Initial Decision (October 7, 2003), aff'd, Comm'r (Nov. 17, 2003), aff'd, St. Bd. (Feb. 3, 2004) <http://lawlibrary.rutgers.edu/oal/search.html>.

When a decision being sought in a particular matter will have no practical effect on the existing controversy, it is considered moot. A matter becomes moot when an issue becomes hypothetical in nature, a judgment cannot grant effective relief, or the parties do not have concrete adversity of interest. Anderson v. Sills, 143 N.J. Super., 432, 437 (Ch. Div. 1976).

"Therefore, when there has been a change in circumstances that raises doubt concerning the immediacy of the controversy, courts will ordinarily dismiss cases as moot, regardless of the state to which litigation has progressed." Id. at 437.

In the instant matter, I FIND as it is undisputed that M.I. lives in Elizabeth and that both her children do as well and that she provided proof of same. I also FIND that they are currently enrolled in the Elizabeth School District. I FURTHER FIND that The District has withdrawn its counterclaim as a result of our hearing/motion on June 22. 2022.

Again, it is undisputed and I am taking judicial notice of the District's description of M.I. being unresponsive an uncooperative even when the District was explaining that her residency was no longer in dispute as I was present on some of those calls and my assistant copied on some of that correspondence. It bears mentioning that my assistant speaks both English and Spanish and has communicated many times with M.I. in both languages, and thus I so FIND. As the District has formally withdrawn their counterclaim and the children are attending Elizabeth Public Schools and there are no legal fees at issue, I FIND that there is no matter in controversy that this court can decide or relief that the court can grant and thus the issues are moot. In short, I FIND that the Petitioner has already achieved the relief she sought in her appeal.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the petition is moot because M.I.'s showed the proof of residency, it is undisputed that she and her children live and are currently enrolled in the District and the District has withdrawn its counterclaim. As such there is nothing for this court to decide has the Petitioner has already received the relief she sought in her appeal.

ORDER

Based on the foregoing, I hereby ORDER that Respondent's Motion to Dismiss on behalf of mootness is GRANTED. I ORDER that the DISMISSAL IS WITH PREJUDICE based on mootness and later Petitioner's failure to appear and/or pursue an action.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on April 12, 2022, for resolution as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F1 to -13. A telephone prehearing was conducted on April 29, 2022, wherein the parties engaged in extensive settlement discussions. During the pendency of the prehearing petitioner advised that he would be submitting a letter withdrawing his request for a hearing. With no letter being received, on May 5, 2022, my assistant inquired about the status of the withdrawal from petitioner, via email. Petitioner failed to respond. Under my direction, my assistant reached out to the parties again on May 12, 2022, inquiring about the withdrawal and whether or not petitioner wished to pursue a hearing. Petitioner failed to respond. On May 19, 2022, notice was sent to the parties, via electronic and regular mail, scheduling another telephone prehearing for June 21, 2022. The bottom of the notice reads in bold, "If you do not participate in the prehearing conference, the file will be returned to the transmitting agency for appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the other party." Petitioner did not appear for the June 21, 2022 prehearing and on June 22, 2022, my assistant sent an email to the parties stating:

> "As you know this matter was scheduled for a telephone prehearing for yesterday, June 21, 2022. Neither party called in for the conference. Judge Moss is requesting that Mr. Baltimore advise if he intends to go forward with a hearing or if he will be producing a letter withdrawing his request for a hearing, as per his agreement during the April 29th conference call. Kindly advise no later than June 27, 2022. Otherwise this matter will be returned to the agency as a dismissal."

Respondent's counsel replied shortly thereafter advising that he was present for the prehearing. To date, petitioner has not responded.

I CONCLUDE that this matter is no longer a contested case before the OAL. Petitioner abandoned his claim by failing to submit a letter of withdrawal or advise if he wanted to move forward with a hearing.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Melody Travisano,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro-se petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent New Jersey State Board of Examiners (SBE) that she had not met the requirements for issuance of a Teacher of English standard certificate because she had not successfully completed the required number of semester hour credits in English. Petitioner requested credit for journalism courses, as well as her experience working as a journalist, to satisfy the semester hour requirements for English certification; however, the SBE did not accept petitioner's alternative college courses or experience, finding that petitioner failed to establish a compelling one-to-one correspondence between the Teacher of English certification requirements and her journalism education and experience. Petitioner thereafter filed the within appeal.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the issue in this case is whether petitioner satisfied her burden of demonstrating, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the SBE acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law when it determined not to accept petitioner's alternative education to satisfy the remaining requirements that petitioner needed to receive a Teacher of English certificate; N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1 sets forth the requirements for issuance of a standard instructional certificate; the SBE determined that petitioner did not satisfy the requirements for certification because she lacks eighteen semester-hour credits in English, of which twelve must be advanced courses; petitioner's alternative education and experience was not deemed equivalent to satisfy that deficiency; and petitioner failed to establish that the SBE's decision to deny her application for a Teacher of English certificate was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ affirmed the SBE's decision and dismissed the petition.

Upon comprehensive review, the Commissioner found, inter alia, that: the ALJ mistakenly applied the wrong standard of review in the Initial Decision, stating that the SBE's decision will not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the SBE acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law; the appropriate standard of review here is whether the SBE's decision was consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:3; nonetheless, the record of this matter demonstrates that the petitioner did not complete the required course work and that the SBE's decision to deny her application was consistent with the applicable regulatory provisions. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was modified with respect to the appropriate standard of review and the petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education
Final Decision

Melody Travisano,

Petitioner,

v.

Department of Education, State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

In this case, petitioner Melody Travisano filed a petition of appeal under N.J.A.C. 6A:3.1 et seq. challenging the State Board of Examiners' (Board) decision denying her application for a Teacher of English certificate. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) determined that the petitioner did not satisfy the requirements necessary to obtain the certificate because she lacked the required semester hour credits in English courses, and that her journalism classes and newspaper experience are not one-to-one equivalents to the required courses in the subject area.

As a threshold matter, a discussion of the applicable standard of review for petitions of appeal that are filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:3 is necessary. When there is a challenge to a determination made by an office within the Department of Education, the Commissioner is not mandated to give deference to her staff, but instead determines if the finding was legally appropriate. See, Jarosław Nimczyk v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, Commissioner Decision No. 98-22, dated May 16, 2022 (comprehensively detailing the appropriate standard of review to be applied in matters filed against the Board of Examiners pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3); and Board of Trustees of the Passaic County Elks Cerebral Palsy Center v. New Jersey Dept. of Educ., Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance, Commissioner's Decision No. 334-14, dated August 14, 2014 (finding that a decision of the Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance is not given deference by the Commissioner). Moreover, where the Department of Education has limited the scope of review of a subordinate office or division, it has done so by regulation, i.e. appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 challenging a decision of the State Board of Examiners revoking/suspending a certificate, or a decision of the School Ethics Commission.

Despite several decisions in which the Commissioner has clearly articulated the appropriate standard of review for matters filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:3, here the ALJ mistakenly referenced N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a) in the Initial Decision and stated that the Board's decision will not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the Board acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law.[1] It is important to recognize that a decision by the Board denying an application for a certificate is not entitled to the arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable standard of review that is afforded to appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4, challenging a decision of the Board revoking or suspending a certificate. See, Jessica Walder v. New Jersey Department of Education, State Board of Examiners, Commissioner's Decision No. 503-14, decided December 29, 2014 (finding that the Commissioner does not give deference to a decision of the State Board of Examiners denying a request for issuance of a certificate). The petition of appeal in this matter was filed in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3, which contains completely different regulatory provisions than N.J.A.C. 6A:4; these two Administrative Code Sections should never be conflated. Nimczyk, supra at 2. As such, the standard of review that governs appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 does not apply to this case. Therefore, the appropriate standard of review of the Board's decision is whether the decision is consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions.

Upon a comprehensive review of the record and applying the appropriate standard of review, the Commissioner is in accord with the Board's determination that the petitioner did not satisfy the requirements necessary to qualify for a Teacher of English certificate under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-8.7 and 9.1. Although the ALJ applied an inaccurate standard of review, the record of the matter demonstrates that the petitioner did not complete the required course work and that the Board's decision to deny her application was consistent with the applicable regulatory provisions.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is modified with respect to the appropriate standard of review and the petition is hereby dismissed.

AGENCY DKT. NO. 58-3/22

MELODY TRAVISANO,
Petitioner,
v.
NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
Respondent.

Melody Travisano, petitioner pro se

Colin Klika, Deputy Attorney General, for respondent, (Matthew J. Platkin, Acting Attorney General, attorneys)

Record Closed: June 10, 2022 Decided: June 22, 2022

BEFORE GAIL M. COOKSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The New Jersey Department of Education, State Board of Examiners (Board) denied petitioner's request for the issuance of a Teacher of English standard certification, because she lacked the required semester hour credits in English courses.

Petitioner appeals the Board's decision and requests credit for other educational courses, specifically, journalism, and experience as a journalist to satisfy the required semester hour credits to be issued the certification.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Board rendered its written decision on March 4, 2022, denying petitioner's request. The petitioner filed a petition with the Bureau of Controversies and Disputes on March 23, 2022. The Deputy Attorney General for the Board filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an Answer on April 18, 2022. The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and filed on April 20, 2022, to be heard as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to 15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to 13.

I convened a case management conference on May 9, 2022, at which time a briefing schedule was agreed upon regarding the respondent's pending motion to dismiss, to be considered as a motion for summary decision. Petitioner filed a letter response on May 13, 2022. Respondent's final reply was served on June 10, 2022. Oral argument was not requested, and the matter is now ripe for determination.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

Petitioner seeks the issuance of a K-12 Teacher of English certificate. She presently teaches Bilingual Language Arts at the middle school level. Petitioner was found by the Board to have satisfied the certification requirements except for eighteen (18) semester-hour credits in English, of which twelve (12) must be advanced courses. Petitioner applied for recognition of her college journalism credits and her journalism career experience. Travisano obtained her Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from Penn State in 1995. She also worked in journalism for twenty (20) years before switching careers in 2015 to teaching. After petitioner went into education, she obtained a Masters of Arts in Bilingual Education from Fairleigh Dickinson University in 2019.

The Board did not accept those alternative college courses or experience, finding they were not adequate substitutes. Specifically, the Board ruled:

> After full consideration of Travisano's submission, the Board finds that she did not establish a compelling one-to-one correspondence between the Teacher of English certification requirements and her education and experience.... Travisano's degree in Journalism is not equivalent to 18 semester-hour credits in English as a subject area specifically. And, while Travisano's journalism background is a valuable tool in teaching certain writing techniques, this experience demonstrates neither the breadth of knowledge and skills associated with a variety of rhetorical techniques nor the critical theory and analysis of literature.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

In an administrative law action, summary decision "may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). The non-moving party will prevail if they are able to "set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Id.

This standard is also set forth in New Jersey Court Rule 4:46-2, regarding a motion for summary judgment, which is the equivalent to an administrative law summary decision motion. In Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Co. of America, 142 N.J. 520 (1995), the New Jersey Supreme Court stated:

> [A] determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party.

The "judge's function is not . . . to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial." Brill at 540, citing Anderson v Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986). Summary judgment, like alternative education if the petitioner demonstrates, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that the alternative education is the one-to-one equivalent with the statutory requirements.

> (c) The Board of Examiners shall not:
> 2. Permit a candidate to substitute education and/or experience for any test, GPA, degree, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements; or
> 3. Issue a certificate that is expired and/or is not a type of certificate endorsement pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9 through 11.

See also Hutchinson v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, EDU16373-12, Initial Decision (April 5, 2013), aff'd, Commissioner (May 15, 2013), <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>.

When a decision by the Board has been appealed, the Commissioner "shall ascertain whether the decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record and shall not disturb the decision unless the appellant has demonstrated the State Board of Examiners . . . acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law." N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a). "Arbitrary and capricious action of administrative bodies means willful and unreasoning action, without consideration and in disregard of circumstances. Where there is room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration, even though it may be believed that an erroneous conclusion has been reached." Bayshore Sewerage Co. v Dep't of Environmental Protection, 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (App. Div. 1973), citations omitted.

The issue presented here is whether there is a genuine issue of material fact in dispute that the Board's decision was arbitrary and capricious, when it chose not to accept the petitioner's proposed alternative education courses to satisfy the semester credits in English courses that she needs to receive a Teacher of English certificate. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1(a). The facts are viewed most favorably to the non-moving party. Nevertheless, the burden is on petitioner to prove that she has met the certification requirements by "clear and convincing evidence" of a one-to-one correspondence of experience or alternate education to the licensing deficiencies. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(d)(1); McQuilken v. State Bd. Of Examiners, OAL No. EDU 8375-11, Initial Decision (Dec. 12, 2013) (https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal.)

Here, and on the basis of the undisputed facts and records, petitioner cannot be found to have the required credits in English to be issued the certificate. The Board exercised its discretion pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b) and found that the journalism courses, for which no detailed syllabi or reading lists were even provided, and newspaper experience offered as alternative or equivalent education were not the one-to-one equivalent of courses on critical literature analysis and other advanced and "coherent sequence of courses appropriate to the subject area." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1(a)(1)(iii). The Board exercised its discretion honestly and upon due consideration. It thoughtfully and reasonably chose to give credit to petitioner for some of her college-hour credits. Likewise, the Board thoughtfully and reasonably chose not to give her credit for her alternative journalism coursework and job experience, finding that journalism is a "valuable tool in teaching certain writing techniques" but does not encompass the variety of theories and analysis of literature central to the teaching of English at the high school level.

I CONCLUDE that the motion for summary decision shall be granted. Upon a review of the papers submitted, looked upon most favorably to the petitioner, there is no genuine issue of material fact in dispute that the Board's decision was arbitrary and capricious, unreasonable, or otherwise contrary to the law.

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing, I hereby ORDER that respondent State Board of Examiners' motion for summary decision is hereby GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Town of Mansfield, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In this matter on remand, the petitioner challenged the respondent Board's determination that M.U. committed an act of harassment, intimidation and bullying (HIB) in violation of New Jersey's Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq., when he told a fellow sixth grader who had recently dyed his hair and gotten a haircut that he looked like Donald Trump. The classmate took offense to the comment, and an HIB investigation ensued, resulting in a finding that M.U.'s conduct constituted HIB. In an April 2020 decision, the Commissioner remanded this matter to the OAL for further proceedings to develop the record in order to determine if the Board's HIB determination was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable.

On remand, the ALJ found, inter alia, that: the Commissioner will not overturn a decision of a local board of education unless it is determined that the action was arbitrary, capricious or reasonable; the HIB investigation herein revealed a single incident in which M.U. stated to another student that his new hair color and style made him look like Donald Trump; the incident occurred on school property; the distinguishing characteristic in this case was the student's recent change to his hair color and style; and the incident interfered with the student's right to be free from negative, verbal attacks. The ALJ concluded that all elements required to establish an act of HIB under the Act were satisfied, and petitioner did not meet her burden of proof that the Board acted in an arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable manner in concluding that M.U.'s actions constituted harassment, intimidation or bullying under the Act. Accordingly, the ALJ issued an Initial Decision dismissing the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner found that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable because it failed to address one of the criteria necessary to prove an act of HIB. Specifically, there is no documentation of any kind to show that M.U.'s conduct substantially disrupted or interfered with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school. Accordingly, the Commissioner concluded that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable because there is no evidence that the Board considered all of the factors required to prove an element of HIB. The Initial Decision of the OAL was reversed, and any reference to HIB shall be removed from M.U.'s student record.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

N.U., on behalf of minor child, M.U.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Town of Mansfield, Burlington County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

This matter concerns an alleged act of harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) by M.U. The HIB complaint alleged that M.U. had referred to another student as "Donald Trump." The Board found that M.U. had committed an act of HIB and imposed an in-school suspension. Following a hearing, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the Board's decision was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable and dismissed the petition.

In her exceptions, petitioner argues that the Board failed to prove all the elements of HIB. According to petitioner, there is no evidence that the comment M.U. made was related to the alleged victim's hair – only speculation by the principal that the recent haircut and color were the reason for M.U.'s comment – and therefore it cannot have been reasonably perceived as being motivated by a distinguishing characteristic. Petitioner also contends that there is a lack of evidence that M.U.'s comment substantially disrupted or interfered with the orderly operation of the school or the right of other students. Additionally, petitioner argues that the alleged victim first made a comment to M.U., such that their exchange was a dispute not within the definition of HIB.

Upon review, the Commissioner concludes that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable because it failed to address one of the criteria necessary to prove an act of HIB. The Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (the Act) defines HIB as follows:

> [A]ny gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L. 2010, c.122 (C.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:
> a. a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
>
> b. has the effect of insulting or demeaning any student or group of students; or
>
> c. creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.
> N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

Therefore, a finding of HIB requires three elements.[2] First, the conduct must be reasonably perceived as motivated by any actual or perceived enumerated characteristic or other distinguishing characteristic and, second, the conduct must substantially disrupt or interfere with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school. The third condition is that one of the three criteria enumerated in the Act regarding the effect of the conduct must also be satisfied. Wehbeh v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Verona, Essex County, Commissioner Decision No. 51-20 (decided February 4, 2020).

[2] The statute also requires that the conduct take place on school property, at a school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15.3. This element appears to have been satisfied in this matter.

The Commissioner previously issued a decision in this matter, finding that the record at that time did not adequately address all of the factors necessary to determine whether the Board's HIB decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. The Commissioner noted that the letter from the principal to petitioner, which was affirmed by the Board, only contained specific information regarding the first factor – that M.U.'s comment was reasonably perceived as being motivated by an actual or perceived distinguishing characteristic.[3] Accordingly, the Commissioner ordered further development of the record.

On remand, the record now includes a copy of the HIB incident report that was completed during the investigation. The report goes a step further than the principal's letter and includes a statement that the effect of M.U.'s comment was that it insulted or demeaned a student. Accordingly, it appears that the Board did make a finding regarding the third HIB criteria listed above. However, there is no documentation of any kind addressing the second criteria – that M.U.'s conduct substantially disrupted or interfered with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school. While two of the Board's witnesses testified that the alleged victim shaved his head and felt reluctant to return to school, there is no documentary support for that information or indication that that information was presented to the Board. The victim statement included in the HIB report does not reference either the head shaving or any reluctance to return to school, or any other information that demonstrates that M.U.'s comments substantially disrupted or interfered with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school.[4] The Commissioner therefore concludes that the Board's decision was [3] The Commissioner did not reach any conclusions regarding the merits of the Board's decision on this factor, but only noted that the record demonstrated that the Board had specifically made a finding regarding this factor.

[4] In another matter, LK. and T.K., on behalf of minor child, A.K. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Mansfield, Burlington Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 318-21, decided December 9, 2021, the petitioners argued that the HIB report and witness testimony included information that was not contained in the interview notes. The Commissioner indicated that individuals completing an HIB investigation are not required to take verbatim notes of their interviews and found that witness testimony was credible even when the information presented in that testimony was not included in interview notes. The distinction between L.K. and this matter is that in L.K., the HIB report presented to the board of education included information related to all three criteria necessary to prove an act of HIB, even though some of that information was not included in the underlying interview notes that formed the arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable because there is no evidence that the Board considered all of the factors required to prove an element of HIB.[5]

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is reversed, and the decision of the Board finding that M.U. committed an act of HIB is overturned. Any reference to the HIB decision shall be removed from M.U.'s student files.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[6]

basis for the reports. Here, the HIB report – which is the only documentation available in the record – fails to include any information related to one of the criteria, and the Commissioner is therefore unable to conclude that that information was presented to the Board, rendering its decision arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable. This conclusion is reached as a matter of law and is unrelated to the ALJ's credibility finding regarding the testimony of the Board's witnesses.

[5] The Commissioner does not reach the question of whether the Board's findings on the other two criteria were arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, as its failure to make findings on all necessary factors is sufficient to overturn its decision.

[6] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

N.U. ON BEHALF OF M.U.,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE TOWN OF MANSFIELD, BURLINGTON COUNTY,
Respondent.

N.U., on behalf of minor child M.U., petitioner, pro se

Marc G. Mucciolo, Esq. appearing for respondent, (Methfessel & Werbel, P.C. attorneys)

Record Closed: June 1, 2022 Decided: June 27, 2022

BEFORE JEFFREY R. WILSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, N.U. on behalf of her minor child, M.U., challenges respondent's, Board of Education of the Town of Mansfield, Burlington County's (Board), Harassment Intimidation and Bullying (HIB) determination relative to M.U.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The petitioner initially filed a challenge of the Board's HIB determination and requested a hearing before the Office of Administrative Law (OAL). The matter was transmitted to the OAL on November 2, 2018, where it was filed under Docket No. EDU 16045-18, on November 5, 2018, as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to 15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to 13. The petitioner filed an amended petition with the OAL on February 21, 2019. The Board filed its answer to the amended petition on March 11, 2019. The fair hearing was conducted on March 3, 2020. At the close of the petitioner's case, counsel for the respondent made an oral motion to dismiss the petition. The respondent's motion to dismiss was granted and the order of dismissal was entered on March 10, 2020.

By its Decision No. 106-20, entered April 24, 2020, The New Jersey Commissioner of Education (Commissioner) remanded this matter to the OAL for further proceedings to determine if the Board's HIB determination was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Decision No. 106-20 reads in pertinent part:

> The letter to N.U. from the school's principal[1], which the Board affirmed in its decision, indicates that the investigation found evidence of the first element (of the HIB Act) that M.U.'s conduct was reasonably perceived as being motivated by another student's distinguishing characteristic. However, the letter does not provide any information regarding the remaining elements required to prove an act of HIB. Nor does the Initial Decision address these elements of the statute.
> The Commissioner is mindful that when a local board of education acts within its discretionary authority, its decision is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be disturbed unless there is an affirmative showing that the decision was "patently arbitrary, without rational basis or induced by improper motives." Kopera v. W. Orange Bd. Of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960). However, in the instant case, the Commissioner cannot determine whether the decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable based upon the current record.

> Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

The remand was transmitted to the OAL, under Docket No. EDU 04896-20, where it was filed on April 28, 2020. The parties were advised that a prehearing telephone conference was scheduled for August 26, 2020. Petitioner did not participate in the scheduled prehearing telephone conference and did not contact the OAL to explain why she was unable to do so. Accordingly, the matter was dismissed for the petitioner's failure to appear. The order of dismissal was entered on August 31, 2020.

By its Decision No. 231-20R, entered October 9, 2020, The New Jersey Commissioner remanded this matter to the OAL for further proceedings necessary to reach a determination on the merits.

The remand was transmitted to the OAL, under Docket No. EDU 04896-20, where it was filed on October 15, 2020. The matter was heard virtually on July 19, 2021, and the record remained open for the receipt of transcripts and written summations from the parties until the record was closed on June 1, 2022.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The following facts of this case are not in dispute; therefore, I FIND as FACT that in December 2017, M.U. was eleven years old and in the sixth grade. At that time, he approached a fellow classmate, while at school, who had gotten a haircut and bleached a portion of his hair. M.U. told his classmate that he looked like Donald Trump. The classmate took offense to the comment and the incident was reported. A HIB investigation was conducted, and it was determined that M.U.'s conduct towards his classmate constituted HIB.

Testimony

Julie Katz has been employed by the Mansfield Township Board of Education for five years as a school counselor and was appointed to serve as the school anti-bullying specialist. She is primarily responsible for investigating all allegations of HIB arising in the school and to promote a positive school environment. She also provides individual and group counseling services and chairs the Section 504 Committee.

As part of a HIB investigation, her role is to interview the alleged victim of HIB, interview the alleged perpetrator as well as any witnesses, and collaborate with the principal to make a determination as to whether or not an act of HIB occurred. She first became familiar with M.U. with regard to this incident, in December of 2017, when the victim's parents alerted the District to issues between the student and M.U.

Ms. Katz testified she was aware of the Board policy on bullying, and that she was responsible for investigating the incident and generating a report. Based upon meeting with the victim and his parents, she learned the victim had dyed his hair blonde, and as a result, M.U. referred to him as "Donald Trump."

The first step she took was to interview the victim and find out exactly what happened from his perspective. She then interviewed M.U. and four witnesses who overheard the comment. Once the interviews were complete, she collaborated with the principal, Glenn Kershner. regarding the findings of her investigation and as to whether or not the allegation of HIB was substantiated.

Ms. Katz testified that the determination from her investigation was that M.U. committed HIB against the other student. Specifically, she testified that the comment was related to an actual characteristic of the victim, his hair, and that the comment had an impact on the student as the student stated that he shaved off his blond hair and did not feel safe coming to school. Under the circumstances, Ms. Katz believed a reasonable person should have known that the comments were insulting or would have the effect of being insulting, and that the victim felt insulted and demeaned by the comment.

Ms. Katz testified that her investigation was thorough, and she believed the investigation and its result were proper and that the Board acted appropriately in upholding the recommendation of HIB against M.U. Under the circumstances, Ms. Katz believed the intent of the alleged bully was immaterial to the ultimate determination of whether or not HIB was founded. Ms. Katz also testified that M.U.'s statements that the victim had made a comment to him, leading up to the "Donald Trump" comment, could not be corroborated by any of the witnesses. Ms. Katz testified that she did not divert in any way from regular policies and procedures (P-1) in investigating this particular HIB incident.

Glenn Kershner has been employed by the Mansfield Township Board of Education for thirteen years as the building principal for the grade three through grade six building. He holds a principal certificate, teaching certificate, and school safety specialist certification.

Mr. Kershner stated he first became familiar with M.U. in the fifth grade when M.U. first enrolled in the District. He identified the letter he sent to N.U. regarding the bullying investigation that took place. (R-1.) Mr. Kershner testified he received a phone call from the victim's parents stating the student was being bullied in school and they wanted to meet with him and Julie Katz, the school anti-bullying specialist, to discuss the situation.

Mr. Kershner and Ms. Katz met with the parents of the victim during the 2017-2018 school year. At the meeting, the student's parents and the student identified M.U. as specifically targeting the student in a myriad of ways, including referring to the student as "Donald Trump" as a result of his hair color and style. Mr. Kershner was told the student went home the night that M.U. called him Donald Trump and shaved the blond hair off his head because he was so insulted by the remark.

Mr. Kershner testified there was a list of nine things that M.U was alleged to have done to the other student, one of which was calling the student "Donald Trump" as a result of his hair color. He spoke to M.U with regard to each allegation, but only investigated the "Donald Trump" incident as HIB.

Mr. Kershner generally reviews the investigation and notes from Ms. Katz, discusses the findings with her, and then makes a recommendation to the superintendent. In this instance, he did all of those things. He and Ms. Katz agreed M.U.'s conduct was reasonably perceived and motivated by a specific characteristic of the victim, in this case his hair color and style. He and Ms. Katz agreed that M.U.'s conduct substantially interfered with the victim's rights, specifically that the student shaved off his blond hair and was reluctant to return to school.

Under the circumstances, Mr. Kershner believed a reasonable person would have known that these comments would emotionally harm another student, and that this conduct actually had the effect of insulting and demeaning the other student. As principal, he is responsible for handing out discipline, and that in this case, the discipline for M.U. was a lunch and recess detention.

Mr. Kershner attended the Board meeting in February 2018, where the Board upheld the determination of HIB. Mr. Kershner testified the two students were not friends, and that under the circumstances, the District acted appropriately in timely investigating and fulfilling its responsibilities in addressing the incident.

Tiffany Moutis has been employed by the Mansfield Township Board of Education for six years as the school superintendent. Her role relative to allegations of HIB involve presenting the administrative recommendations to the Board of Education for approval or rejection.

She testified that Mr. Kershner and Ms. Katz met with her and reviewed the within investigation. She took the report and recommendations and met with the Board in executive session to discuss the recommendations. The Board determined to uphold the administrative recommendation of HIB against M.U.

N.U. was afforded the opportunity to appear before the Board to state her position regarding the incident, and the Board heard her out. Ms. Moutis identified the letter she sent after the Board meeting, upholding the HIB determination. (R-2.) She also stated that she agreed with the determination, and with the investigation findings as completed by Mr. Kershner and Ms. Katz. Under the circumstances, she believed all steps required were followed correctly.

Credibility is best described as that quality of testimony or evidence which makes it worthy of belief. The Supreme Court of New Jersey considered the issue of credibility in In-re Estate of Perrone, 5 N.J. 514 (1950). The Court pronounced:

> Testimony to be believed must not only proceed from the mouth of a credible witness but must be credible in itself. It must be such as the common experience and observation of mankind can approve as probable in the circumstances.

In order to assess credibility, the witness' interest in the outcome, motive or bias should be considered. Furthermore, a trier of fact may reject testimony because it is inherently incredible, or because it is inconsistent with other testimony or with common experience, or because it is overborne by other testimony. Congleton v. Pura-Tex Stone Corp., 53 N.J. Super. 282, 287 (App. Div. 1958.)

When assessing credibility, inferences may be drawn concerning the witness' expression, tone of voice and demeanor. MacDonald v. Hudson Bus Transportation Co., 100 N.J. Super. 103 (App. Div. 1968.) Additionally, the witness' interest in the outcome, motive or bias should be considered. Credibility contemplates an overall assessment of the story of a witness in light of its rationality, internal consistency, and manner in which it "hangs together" with other evidence. Carbo v. United States, 314 F.2d 718 (9th Cir. 1963.)

Having considered the testimonial and documentary evidence presented and observing the demeanor of Julie Katz, Glenn Kershner and Tiffany Moutis, I accept their testimony to be highly credible. Julie Katz, Glenn Kershner and Tiffany Moutis merely stated that facts as they recalled them, without histrionics or magnification. Their testimony was consistent and corroborated by the documentary evidence. None of these witnesses had an ulterior motive or anything to gain by testifying.

New Jersey enacted the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Act) to "strengthen the standards and procedures for preventing, reporting, investigating, and responding to incidents of harassment, intimidation, and bullying" occurring both on and off of school grounds. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.1(f). Definitions relative to adoption of harassment and bullying prevention policies are found in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14, which states in part:

> Harassment, intimidation or bullying" means any gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L.2010, c.122 (C.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:
> > (a) a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
> > (c) creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.

Here, the investigation revealed that the single incident of M.U. stating to another student that the student's new hair color and style made him look like Donald Trump, occurred on school property. The distinguishing characteristic in this case was the student's recent change to his hair color and style. This incident interfered with the student's right to be free from negative, verbal attacks. A reasonable should know, under these circumstances, that such a verbal attack would have the effect of emotionally harming the student. Clearly this incident had the effect of insulting or demeaning any student as is evidenced by him cutting his hair and wanting to avoid returning to school.

The petitioner alleges that the HIB investigation was conducted improperly and was incomplete. Petitioner urges this tribunal to conclude that there was no HIB, and that the HIB investigation was conducted improperly and was incomplete therefore the determination should be reversed.

The Board urges this tribunal to conclude that the Board was not arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable in its determination that the HIB investigation was conducted properly and that M.U.'s conduct did constitute HIB.

The Commissioner of Education will not overturn the decision of a local board in the absence of a finding that the action below was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. T.B.M. v. Moorestown Bd. of Educ., EDU 2780-07, Initial Decision (February 6, 2008) (citing Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. of Educ., 89 N.J. Super. 327, 332 (App. Div. 1965), aff'd, 46 N.J. 581(1966), adopted, Comm'r (April 7, 2008), <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. Further, the Commissioner will not substitute his judgment for that of the board of education, whose exercise of its discretion may not be disturbed unless shown to be "patently arbitrary, without rational basis or induced by improper motives." Kopera v. W. Orange Bd. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960). New Jersey courts have held that "[w]here there is room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration, even though it may be believed that an erroneous conclusion has been reached." Bayshore Sewage Co. v. Dep't of Envtl. Prot., 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199–200 (Ch. Div. 1973), aff'd, 131 N.J. Super. 37 (App. Div. 1974). Thus, in order to prevail, the petitioner must demonstrate that the Board acted in bad faith, or in utter disregard of the circumstances before it.

Here, based on the whole of the credible evidence presented, I CONCLUDE that all elements required to establish an act of HIB under the HIB Act have been satisfied. I CONCLUDE that petitioner has not met her burden of proof that the Board acted in an arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable manner in concluding that M.U.'s actions constituted harassment, intimidation or bullying under the Act. Furthermore, I CONCLUDE that the petitioner failed to demonstrate that the Board acted in bad faith, or in utter disregard of the circumstances before it.

ORDER

Based on the foregoing, I ORDER that the petition be DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." Final Decision

N.M., on behalf of minor children, N.M. and K.M.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth, Union County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner filed a pro se petition challenging the determination of the respondent Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth (Board) that her minor children, N.M. and K.M., were ineligible to receive a free public education in respondent's school district from December 8, 2021 through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. Petitioner asserted that she and her children lived with her mother at an address in Elizabeth. The Board contended that a residency investigation concluded that petitioner and her children actually reside at an address in East Orange. The Board filed a counterclaim for tuition for the period of ineligible attendance. Petitioner failed to appear at the scheduled hearing and offered no explanation for her failure to attend.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a) and N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a), public schools are free to any person over five and under twenty five years of age who is domiciled within the school district; pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.2., if a student does not have a right to attend the school district, the Commissioner may assess tuition; in this case, a preponderance of evidence demonstrates that the petitioner and her children were not domiciled in Elizabeth during the relevant time period; and petitioner supplied no compelling proof of domicile in Elizabeth despite requests to produce required documentation of residency. The ALJ concluded that N.M. and K.M. were not eligible to attend school in Elizabeth from December 8, 2021 through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. Accordingly, the ALJ ordered petitioner to pay the Board tuition in the amount of $19,335.80 for the period of N.M. and K.M.'s ineligibility from December 8, 2021 through June 20, 2022, as well as $79.90 per child for each school day attended beyond that date for the remainder of the 2021-2022 school year.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that petitioner failed to sustain her burden of establishing that she was domiciled in Elizabeth from December 8, 2021 through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter, and petitioner was ordered to reimburse the Board for tuition costs as outlined herein. The petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

N.M., on behalf of minor children,
N.M. and K.M.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth,
Union County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge's (ALJ) finding that petitioner failed to sustain her burden of establishing that she was a domiciliary of Elizabeth from December 8, 2021 through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that minor children N.M. and K.M. were, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioner for the time period during which the minor child was ineligible to attend school in the District. Therefore, the Board is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $19,335.80 for the period from December 8, 2021 through June 20, 2022, plus $79.90 per child for each school day attended from June 20, 2022 through the end of the school year, during which time petitioner's minor children were ineligible to attend school in Elizabeth.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $19,335.80 for the period from December 8, 2021 through June 20, 2022,[1] plus $79.90 per child for each school day attended from June 20, 2022 through the end of the school year, for tuition costs incurred during the time period in which the minor children were ineligible to attend school in Elizabeth. The petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: August 10, 2022
Date of Mailing: August 10, 2022

[1] This calculation is based on a daily tuition rate of $79.90 and 121 school days of ineligible attendance per child. The Commissioner notes that these figures were derived from testimony presented to the ALJ during the hearing. However, a transcript of the testimony was not provided to the Commissioner, nor did the record contain any certification verifying the tuition rate or number of days of ineligible attendance. Therefore, the Commissioner relies on the ALJ's findings of fact.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

BEFORE: NANCI G. STOKES, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, N.M. is the mother of minor children N.M. and K.M. who are students in the Elizabeth Public School District (District). From December 8, 2021, until now, K.M. and N.M. were not domiciled in the District. Should public school be free to K.M. and N.M. in the District for this period? No. Public school shall be free only to a minor who is domiciled within the school district. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On November 11, 2021, the Elizabeth Board of Education (Board) initially determined that K.M. and N.M. were not domiciled within the District, offered to conduct a residency hearing before the Board, and directed petitioner to present residency proofs to its investigator. Petitioner did not seek a residency hearing.

On December 8, 2021, the Board rendered a final decision, advising N.M. that neither child could attend public schools in the District because their domicile was not in Elizabeth. The District deemed petitioner's proofs insufficient. If petitioner did not remove the children from the District's schools and appealed the determination, the children could remain, but the District would seek per diem reimbursement for their education.

On December 11, 2021, petitioner appealed that determination, and the Board filed a counterclaim for tuition reimbursement. On January 19, 2022, the Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted the case under the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15, and the act establishing the OAL, N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -23, for a hearing under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6.

On February 11, 2022, I scheduled a pre-hearing conference, but neither party attended. On February 24, 2022, I held an initial pre-hearing conference during which the parties agreed to exchange discovery by March 21, 2022, and I would schedule another pre-hearing conference on March 30, 2022. At petitioner's request, I rescheduled the March 30, 2022, conference for April 4, 2022. Yet, she did not appear.

I scheduled the hearing for June 20, 2022, and issued a pre-hearing Order dated April 5, 2022, sent via email and regular mail. The Order also extended discovery until June 1, 2022 and required the parties to submit exhibits by June 10, 2022. The District complied, but petitioner supplied no discovery or exhibits.

On June 20, 2022, I conducted the hearing. This tribunal waited thirty minutes, but petitioner did not sign onto the zoom hearing despite separate notice. Petitioner did not contact the OAL to explain her absence, and I closed the record on June 21, 2022.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Based on the evidence the Board submitted and having considered its sufficiency and the opportunity to assess the witness' credibility, I FIND the following as FACT:

Beginning in November 2021, the Board's residency investigator explored the domicile of K.M., attending the District's School Number Twenty-Nine, and N.M., attending the District's School Number One. The principal received emails from teachers noting that the children told teachers and friends that they lived in East Orange. On picture day, K.M. filled her address on the form as being in East Orange. However, petitioner enrolled the children using an address in Elizabeth. Petitioner does not explain this discrepancy.

The District's residency investigator for four and one-half years, Vito Tropeano, is a former police officer and was straightforward in his testimony. Tropeano credibly described the steps he took to investigate this case. In addition to the form completed by K.M., and emails reporting statements by the children, he also reviewed attendance records revealing excessive missed school days or tardy arrivals for both children. According to the attendance records, K.M. had thirty absences and twelve tardiness notations during the 2021-22 school year. N.M. had twenty-seven absences and thirty-seven tardiness notations for the 2021-22 school year.

Tropeano also went to the property in Elizabeth multiple times, and no one ever answered. He also spoke to the property management office for the home. Notably, petitioner is not on the lease. Instead, the lease is in petitioner's mother's name. Tropeano notes that the Elizabeth address is walking distance from N.M.'s school, and when leaving school, Tropeano observed N.M. walking in the opposite direction away from that address.

The District supplied N.M. with a computer-type device for school work that allows the District to "ping" or track its location. The device records note its frequent use at the school at 250 Broadway in Elizabeth and the East Orange address written on the picture record completed by the student and used for mailings to petitioner. N.M. also used the device a few times at a non-specific location in Elizabeth, like a hot spot. However, the device's location and use history do not identify the Elizabeth address used to enroll petitioner's children during the three months tracked.

On March 21, 2022, Tropeano observed the Elizabeth residence starting at 7:45 a.m., before school hours, noting only one vehicle present belonging to petitioner's mother. N.M. was not at school by 8:10 a.m. While watching the home, Tropeano saw no one leave. Tropeano learned that petitioner's friend dropped N.M. off at school at 8:45 a.m., after the start of school. In other words, N.M. was not at the Elizabeth residence before being dropped off at school.

Tropeano sent eligibility correspondence to petitioner at both addresses on November 12, 2021, and December 8, 2021. The East Orange address is an apartment complex, and the security desk signs for mail deliveries to residents. The East Orange complex security desk signed for both letters addressed to petitioner. Petitioner signed for the November 12, 2021, correspondence to the Elizabeth address where her mother resides. However, the December 8, 2021, correspondence to the same address was undeliverable.

Tropeano explains that the District requires at least five documents to establish residency in the District. The Districts expects to see indicia of residence like a lease or property utility bills, but petitioner supplied none connecting her to ownership or rental of the Elizabeth property.

Further, Tropeano reviewed materials received from petitioner, which he describes as insufficient. Petitioner has a driver's license with the Elizabeth address issued in June 2020 and supplied two bank statements from November 2021 with that same address. Still, petitioner's mother lives at the Elizabeth address, and petitioner could have used this as a mailing address. Although the petitioner emailed the District that her mother would send the District a certified letter explaining petitioner's living situation, the District received none.

Petitioner supplied no additional supporting materials in this case despite knowing that the District considered her proofs inadequate.

The District charges a per diem pupil general education rate of $79.90. To June 20, 2022, one hundred twenty-one school days expired, totaling $9,667.90 per student. Eight additional days remain in this school year. Thus, through the hearing date, the District is owed $19,335.80 for educating N.M. and K.M., who remain enrolled in general education in the Elizabeth Public School District.

To date, petitioner has made no payments to the District since its demand on December 8, 2021, to either remove N.M. and K.M from the District or pay the per diem amount.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Public school shall be free to a minor who is domiciled within the school district. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a). A student is domiciled in a school district if his parent or guardian has a permanent home in the district such that "the parent or guardian intends to return to it when absent, and has no present intent of moving from it, notwithstanding the existence of homes or residences elsewhere." N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a)(1); State v. Benny, 20 N.J 238, 250 (1955). New Jersey has consistently held that the domicile of the child follows the domicile of the parent. Shim v. Rutgers, 191 N.J. 374, 399 (2007). Establishment of a domicile is an act of volition. Matter of Unanue, 255 N.J. Super. 362, 375 (Law Div. 1991). "[A] choice of domicile by a person, irrespective of the motive, will be honored by the court, provided there are sufficient objective indicia, by way of proofs, supporting the actual existence of that domicile." Id. at 376.

If a student does not have a right to attend the school district, the Commissioner may assess tuition. See N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.2.

Where a local board of education seeks removal of a student, the parent may appeal to the Commissioner of Education. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-1(b)(2). In the proceeding before the Commissioner, the parent has the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence that the child meets eligibility requirements for a free education. Ibid. If the evidence does not support the parent's claim, the Commissioner shall assess the parent tuition for the student prorated to the time of the student's ineligible attendance in the schools of the district. Ibid.

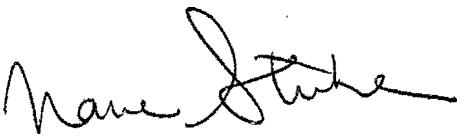
In this case, I CONCLUDE that a preponderance of the evidence demonstrates that neither K.M. nor N.M. are domiciled in Elizabeth or were domiciled in the District when Elizabeth commenced its investigation. Indeed, I CONCLUDE that petitioner supplied no compelling proof of her children's domicile in Elizabeth on balance to the District's investigatory findings. Thus, I CONCLUDE that the Board is entitled to prevail as a matter of law given my findings of fact and the tuition petitioner owes the District is clear. Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioner owes the Board $19,335.80 for the period of N.M. and K.M.'s ineligibility from December 8, 2021, through the scheduled hearing date of June 20, 2022; and $79.50 for each child for school days attended beyond the hearing date, for the remainder of the 2021-22 school year.



ORDER

Given my findings of fact and conclusions of law, I ORDER that petitioner owes the Board $19,335.80 for the period of N.M. and K.M.'s ineligibility from December 8, 2021, through the scheduled hearing date of June 20, 2022; and $79.50 for each child for school days attended beyond the hearing date, for the remainder of the 2021-22 school year.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify, or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Re: Board of Education of the Township of Lakewood, Ocean County v. New Jersey Department of Education, and Kathleen Ehling*, Agency Dkt. No. 152-7/20, Commissioner Decision No. 254-21.

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with appellant Lakewood Board of Education's (Board) Motion to Stay certain actions of the New Jersey Department of Education (NJDOE) pending the Board's appeal of the October 18, 2021 decision requiring the Board to set aside 15% of the district's total Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) funding for comprehensive, coordinated early intervention services (CCEIS) in order to address disproportionality in special education across the district.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), a motion for stay is considered an extraordinary remedy that may only be issued upon a finding that appellant has met each prong of the four-pronged standard for the granting of interim relief set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982). Thus, a stay may be granted where necessary to prevent irreparable harm, where the legal right underlying the movant's claim is settled, where there is a likelihood of success on the merits and where the relative hardship to the moving party favors granting such relief. Id. at 132-134.

Upon review of the parties' submissions, I find that the Board has failed to meet the standard required for a stay of the October 18, 2021 decision. Most notably, the Board has failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits. In the October 18, 2021 decision, the Commissioner determined that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the NJDOE to exclude nonpublic school students from its disproportionality calculations. On this issue, the Board's motion papers reiterate arguments that were fully considered – and rejected – by the Commissioner in the October 18, 2021 decision.

The Board also makes arguments related to the NJDOE's calculations in the category of discipline, based on documents which supplemented the record before the Appellate Division following the Commissioner's October 18, 2021 decision. However, those arguments pertain to only one of the five categories of disproportionality found by the NJDOE and upheld by the Commissioner. Even accepting for purposes of this motion that the revised calculations are correct and support the Board's contention, they do not provide any basis to overturn the disproportionality findings in the other categories. As a result, appellant has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits.

In light of the fact that all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for a stay to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the three remaining factors. Accordingly, appellant's request for a stay of the October 18, 2021 decision is hereby DENIED.[1]

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

In the Matter of the TENURE Charges Against

REGINA GAUSS,

Agency Dkt. No.
176-9/21

By: DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS, GARDEN STATE YOUTH CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Before MELISSA H. BIREN, Esq., Impartial Arbitrator

ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT OF TENURE CHARGES

The New Jersey Department of Corrections ("DOC") certified tenure charges against Regina Gauss ("Respondent" or "Gauss"), a tenured teacher working for the DOC at the Garden State Youth Correctional Facility as a certified Learning Disabilities Specialist. The tenure charges, alleging various claims related to the creation and/or maintenance of Individualized Education Plans for students in the DOC's charge who were entitled to special education services under applicable law, were filed on September 14, 2021.[1] Deputy Attorney General, Ryan Silver, Esq., entered a notice of appearance on behalf of DOC following the certification of the charges. Respondent, by her counsel, Jason Jones, Esq. (Weissman & Mintz, LLC) filed response to the tenure charges in the form of a Motion to Dismiss the Tenure Charges on September 30, 2021. The Commissioner of Education, having reviewed the tenure charges and the Respondent's Motion to Dismiss, determined that the charges were sufficient, if true, to warrant dismissal or reduction in compensation. Therefore, on October 7, 2021, the Commissioner referred the matter to arbitration by the undersigned arbitrator pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16, as amended by P.L. 2012, c. 26, to consider and decide the merits of the case, including the pending Motion to Dismiss. A timely request for an extension of time was granted.

[1] This matter has a long procedural history that is set forth in the Order on Motion to Dismiss dated January 10, 2022.

Following briefing by both parties, the arbitrator denied Respondent's Motion to Dismiss and set the matter for a hearing. The parties reached a mutually acceptable settlement of the tenure charges at a hearing on April 19, 2022. The settlement terms were thereafter set forth in a written Stipulation of Settlement ("Stipulation"). On July 28, 2022, the Stipulation signed by the parties was forwarded to the arbitrator for review and approval. In accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6, the settlement of the tenure charges pursuant to the terms of the Stipulation is hereby approved; the standards for settlement have been satisfied as set forth below.

1. A copy of the Stipulation is annexed to this Order.
2. The settlement of the tenure charges is warranted as it resolves the charges without any disruption to the DOC and its programs from calling personnel as witnesses or the additional costs of proceeding with the hearing. The settlement also removes the uncertainty of litigation for both the DOC and the Respondent.
3. Both the charged and charging parties have consented to the settlement terms. Both parties were represented by counsel in the negotiation of the settlement terms and the preparation of the Stipulation. Gauss signed the Stipulation on July 14, 2022 indicating her voluntary agreement to its terms; her counsel signed the Stipulation on July 15, 2022. An authorized representative of the DOC signed the Stipulation indicating the DOC's voluntary agreement to its terms on July 19, 2022.
4. Respondent expressly confirmed to the arbitrator at the hearing on April 19, 2022 that she fully understood the basic terms of the settlement reached at the hearing and that she was voluntarily entering into the settlement with a full understanding of her rights. Competent counsel provided advice and counsel to the Respondent throughout the settlement process.
5. The settlement is in the public interest. By the settlement, the DOC avoids the uncertainty of the outcome of the arbitration, the time and expense associated with litigation and any disruption resulting from DOC personnel's participation in the hearing.

6. Under the Stipulation's terms, Respondent has voluntarily resigned in good standing from her position with the DOC. In accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6(a)6, and as confirmed in the Stipulation, Respondent has been advised of the Commissioner's duty to refer tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners.

By reason of the foregoing, the settlement of the tenure charges against the Respondent, Regina Gauss, pursuant to the terms set forth in the Stipulation, is approved.

IN THE MATTER OF TENURE HEARING OF: REGINA GAUSS, Respondent, v. NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS, GARDEN STATE YOUTH CORRECTIONAL FACILITY, Petitioner.	AGENCY DOCKET NO. 176-9/21 Arbitrator Melissa H. Biren, Esq. SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This settlement agreement and release ("Agreement") is by and between the New Jersey Department of Corrections (the "Department" or "DOC"), and Regina Gauss ("Gauss") (collectively the "Parties").

WHEREAS the Department filed tenure charges with the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education on September 15, 2021 against Gauss, seeking her removal for: N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(1) Incompetency, Inefficiency, Failure to Perform Duties; N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(6) Conduct Unbecoming a Public employee; N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(7) Neglect of Duty; N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(12) Other Sufficient Cause; H.R.B. 84-17, as amended, B-1 Neglect of Duty, Loafing, Idleness or Willful Failure to Devote Attention to Tasks Which Would Not Result in Danger to Persons or Property; H.R.B. 84-17, as amended, B-9 Incompetency or Inefficiency; H.R.B. 84-17, as amended, C-8 Falsification: Intentional Misstatement of Material Fact in Connection with Work, Employment Application, Attendance, or in any Record, Report, Investigation or Other Proceeding; H.R.B. 84-17, as amended, C-11 Conduct Unbecoming an Employee; and H.R.B. 84-17, as amended, E-1 Violation of a Rule, Regulation, Policy, Procedure, Order or Administrative Decision (the "Tenure Charges"); and

WHEREAS the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes acknowledged receipt of the Tenure Charges filed with the Commissioner on September 15, 2021 and required Gauss to file a written response to the Tenure Charges within fifteen (15) days of the notice of acknowledgment; and

WHEREAS Gauss, through counsel, filed a written response to the Tenure Charges in the form of a motion to dismiss the Tenure Charges on September 30, 2021; and

WHEREAS the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes advised on October 7, 2021 that the Tenure Charges had been reviewed and deemed sufficient, if true, to warrant dismissal or reduction in salary, subject to the motion to dismiss, and transmitted the matter to Arbitrator Melissa H. Biren for determination of Gauss' motion to dismiss and the Tenure Charges; and

WHEREAS Arbitrator Biren denied Gauss' motion to dismiss the Tenure Charges on January 10, 2022 and ordered the matter to proceed to a hearing on the merits; and

WHEREAS the Parties have entered into this Agreement to fully and finally resolve any and all claims and disputes arising out of the Tenure Charges and any and all allegations which were asserted or could have been asserted against Gauss in the Tenure Charges.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants herein, the sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, and intending to be legally bound, the Parties agree as follows:

1. The above "WHEREAS" clauses are incorporated herein and made a part of this Agreement.

2. Release. Gauss waives and releases all claims, suits or actions, whether known, unknown, vested or contingent, civil, criminal or administrative, in law or equity, against the State of New Jersey, the Department, its employees, agents or assigns; including, but not limited to those which have been or could have been made or prosecuted on account of any conduct of any party occurring at any time with respect to the events, information or disputes giving rise to this action up to the date of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, the Constitution or statutes of the United States, the Constitution, statutes, regulations or compacts of the State of New Jersey, or under common law, including, but not limited to, all claims under: Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; Sections 1981, 1983 and 1985 of the Civil Rights Act of 1991; the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination; the New Jersey Civil Rights Act; the Conscientious Employee Protection Act; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act; the Americans with Disabilities Act; Title 11A - the Civil Service Act; the Older Workers Benefits Protection Act; the New Jersey Equal Pay Act; the Handicapped, Blind, or Deaf Persons Civil Rights Law; the Developmentally Disabled Rights Act; the Family Medical Leave Act; the Whistleblower Protection Act; the Alcoholism Treatment and Rehabilitation Act; the Education Code; the New Jersey Wage Payment Law; the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law; all wages and hours laws; all prevailing wage laws; public works statutes;

the Public Transportation Act; the Right to Know Law; the Occupational Safety and Health Act; the Worker Health and Safety Act; the Earn Labor Law; the Public School Safety Law; the Minimum Wage Law; the New Jersey Smoking Act; the Unemployment Compensation Law; the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; the Social Security Act; the Wagner-Peyser Act; the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974; workers' compensation laws; disability benefits laws; all claims of wrongful termination and/or constructive discharge; tort laws; the Tort Claims Act; contract law; or any contract, express or implied.

a. This Release includes all claims made or which could have been brought as grievances under any collective bargaining agreement, and/or all claims made or which could have been brought in any other administrative or judicial proceeding.

b. This Release includes all claims and/or liens, past, current and/or future, arising out of this matter or asserted against the proceeds of this settlement, including, but not limited to, any Medicare or Medicaid claims and/or liens, Social Security claims and/or liens, hospital/healthcare insurer claims and/or liens, physician or attorney claims and/or liens, or any of the statutory, equitable, common law or judgment claims and/or liens. Any such claims and/or liens are released by Gauss and are not the responsibility of the State of New Jersey or the Department to satisfy.

c. This Release includes all claims which might otherwise have been brought in the future by my Estate or my family members under Mauro v. Raymark Industries, 116 N.J. 126 (1989) and Alfone v. Sarno, 87 N.J. 99 (1981), for past, present, or future losses, damages, or injuries. This includes all future claims for wrongful death.

d. This Release includes all claims involving any continuing effects of actions or practices which arose prior to the date of this Settlement Agreement and bars the use in any way of any past action or practice in any subsequent claims, except pending workers compensation claims.

e. Gauss understands that under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended, she is entitled to a period of twenty-one (21) days within which to consider this Settlement Agreement and general release, and that she may revoke this Settlement Agreement and general release up to seven (7) days after signing it. To be effective, Gauss' rescission must be in writing and delivered to counsel for the Department, either by hand or by mail, within the seven (7) day period. If sent by mail, the rescission must be: (1) postmarked within the seven (7) day period; (2) properly addressed; and (3) sent by certified mail, return receipt requested.

f. The Parties agree that this Settlement Agreement and general release shall not be enforceable or effective until after the seven (7) day revocation period, as described in paragraph 1(e) above, has expired. This Agreement is null and void if Gauss fails to sign and accept it.

3. Terms. The Parties have agreed to the following:

a. Gauss agrees to accept a Resignation in Good Standing, which shall be effective June 18, 2020, as a full and final resolution to the Tenure Charges, as set forth in the above "WHEREAS" clauses. The Department agrees that as of this date, Gauss is no longer under consideration for any disciplinary action.

b. The Department agrees to pay Gauss the sum of $5,000.00 (FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS AND 00/100 CENTS) (the "Settlement Amount") in full and final satisfaction of any and all claims, including, but not limited to, the Tenure Charges. The Department agrees to remit payment to Gauss as one check, for which form 1099 will be used, payable to Gauss within sixty (60) days of the receipt by the Department of the fully executed Settlement Agreement and Release, a State of New Jersey Payment Voucher (Vendor Invoice) ("Payment Voucher"), W-9 Tax Form, New Jersey Superior Court Judgment/Lien Record Search results, and Child Support Judgment Search Certification ("Child Support Certification"). The Parties agree that this Settlement Amount is provided in consideration for the general release of any and all claims that were made or could have been made, by either party, and that this Settlement Amount does not constitute back pay. No performance of any further act or obligation shall be required of Gauss. Gauss agrees not to seek anything further from the Department.

c. The Payment Amount shall not be made unless the Department has received this Settlement Agreement and Release signed by Gauss, a Payment Voucher, a Child Support Certification, and W-9 Tax Form.

d. The Parties acknowledge that under N.J.A.C. 17:1-2.18, no pension, seniority or benefit time will be credited for a period for which the employee is not paid by the employer.

e. Gauss waives any and all rights or claims which she may have to reinstatement, employment, or re-employment with the Department. Gauss agrees that she will not knowingly apply for or accept employment, re-employment or reinstatement with the Department at any time in the future.

f. Gauss acknowledges that she has been advised that, as a teaching staff member, the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education has the duty to refer all tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners.

g. The Parties hereby acknowledge and agree that settlement is justified in this matter and is in the public interest as Gauss wishes to seek employment outside of the Department and that such settlement will provide the benefit of avoiding the costs and expenses of litigation.

4. Taxes. A form 1099 will be issued with respect to the payment of the Settlement Amount. The Settlement Amount shall not constitute income replacement, compensation for back pay, employee wages, and/or services. Gauss shall be solely responsible for the payment of any and all taxes on the Settlement Amount. Gauss agrees and understands that the Department and/or counsel for the Department have not made any representations regarding the tax treatment of the Settlement Amount. Gauss agrees to make no claim against the Department for payment of any and all taxes, or the payment of any applicable interest or penalties. In the event a claim for such taxes, and/or penalties or interest, is assessed by any taxing authority, Gauss agrees to hold the Department, counsel for the Department, and the State of New Jersey harmless and indemnify the Department, counsel for the Department, and the State of New Jersey against any and all tax liability, interest and/or penalties as due thereon.

5. Indemnification. Gauss agrees to hold the Department, counsel for the Department, and the State of New Jersey harmless and indemnify the Department, counsel for the Department, and the State of New Jersey against any and all liens or claims of any third parties and any claims by anyone who contends the Department had no authority or right to settle the dispute in this matter.

6. Debt/Lien Owed to the State. Gauss hereby acknowledges and understands that the Department or counsel for the Department shall cause to be conducted a New Jersey Superior Court Judgment Record Search performed for all liens attached by the State, counties, and/or municipalities of New Jersey. No part of the Settlement Amount shall be released until documentation of the search results is provided to the Department or counsel for the Department. Gauss also acknowledges that if, upon the results of any lien search conducted, a debt/lien is owed to the State, its agencies, or departments, such debt/lien shall be deducted from the Settlement Amount prior to its disbursement to Gauss.

7. Child Support Certification. Gauss hereby acknowledges and understands her obligation to comply with the legal requirements of N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b, including, but not limited to, the requirement to perform a certified child support judgment lien search and to provide the Department and/or counsel for the Department with said documentation prior to disbursement of the Settlement Amount. Gauss agrees to direct her counsel to perform the judgment search required by N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b and deliver a copy of the certification to counsel for the Department. Gauss further understands and acknowledges that no settlement funds due to her under this Settlement Agreement and Release shall be released prior to the receipt of the judgment search certification, and any fees incurred, and/or payments made, by the Department in connection with any obligation under N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b shall be deducted from the Settlement Amount prior to its disbursement to Gauss.

8. Personnel Record. The Department shall amend Gauss' personnel record to reflect the terms of this Agreement. All internal records of the Department will be kept intact. Nothing herein shall preclude the Department from releasing information on this matter to anyone who has a release executed by Gauss or as consistent with state or federal law. Any information regarding the underlying charges will be provided to the Public Employees Retirement System pursuant to N.J.S.A. 43:1-3.3 as amended effective April 14, 2007.

9. Non-Assignment. None of the benefits being given herein have been assigned or are subject to alienation (i.e., personal bankruptcy).

10. No Admission of Liability. Nothing in this Agreement shall constitute an admission or stipulation of facts regarding the Tenure Charges. By entering into this Agreement, neither party admits or denies a violation of any state or federal law, any agency or departmental policy, or the Parties' collective negotiations agreement. This Agreement shall not constitute precedent in matters involving other employees.

11. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey, without regard to any conflict of law principles. The provisions herein are severable so in the event that any provision(s) of this Agreement is held to be illegal or unenforceable by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of any applicable law, the remaining terms of this Agreement shall remain valid and in full force and effect. Further, the Parties shall adhere to any modification made by the court or agency to the offending provision to conform to the most expansive permissible reading under the law.

12. Entire Agreement. The terms of this Agreement represent the entire agreement and understanding between the Parties as to the entire subject matter herein, and supersede all other previous agreements regarding the subject matter herein, written or oral, express or implied. This Agreement may not be supplemented, amended, changed or modified in any manner, orally or otherwise, except in writing signed by a duly authorized representative for each party.

13. Severability. The Parties agree that if any portion of this Settlement Agreement is deemed unenforceable, the remainder of this Settlement Agreement shall be fully enforceable.

14. Counterparts. This Agreement may be signed in counterparts and shall have the same force and effect as if signed at the same time. Each signatory to this Agreement represents and warrants he/she is fully authorized by the party for whom he/she is signing to enter into this Agreement. A facsimile or photocopy of this Agreement and the signatures hereto shall have the same effect and may be accepted with the same authority as the original.

Dear Ms. Killough-Herrera;

Re: In the matter of the Tenure Hearing of Nicole Reid-Dookie and the Neptune Township School District Board of Education
Agency Docket No. 188-9/21

After seven days of hearing in the above matter, this Arbitrator received the briefs from both parties on July 1, 2022, as agreed, with the understanding that my decision would be issued by August 1, 2022. However, on July 14, 2022, after I had been working on the Award for two weeks, I received a letter from Ms. Reid-Dookie's attorney advising me that she was going to resign and that the Board was going to accept her resignation. I immediately stopped working on the Award and awaited the final outcome.

In fact, on July 27, 2022, the Board voted to accept Ms. Reid-Dookie's resignation. Therefore, in light of the resignation, the charges are now moot and shall be deemed withdrawn. Therefore, the Arbitrator approves the withdrawal and this matter is closed.

Sincerely,

Mattye M. Gandel

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Matthew Walker,
Board of Education of the Township of Holland, Hunterdon County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Following the SEC's June 28, 2022 decision, respondent provided proof that he had completed the required training. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is suspended from the board for 30 days for violating the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: August 12, 2022
Date of Mailing: August 12, 2022

[1] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

Before the School Ethics Commission
Docket No.: T24-21
Amended Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner[1]

I/M/O Matthew Walker,
Holland Township Board of Education, Hunterdon County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 26, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[2] The OTSC directed Matthew Walker (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Holland Township Board of Education (Board), located in Hunterdon County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 2 training program by December 31, 2021.

[1] The School Ethics Commission adopted an Amended Decision on June 28, 2022, solely because the Resolution appended to its May 24, 2022, decision contained incorrect information.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent acknowledged that he did not complete his required training before the December 31, 2021, deadline, and represented that he would complete training on May 19, 2022; however, on May 24, 2022, NJSBA advised that Respondent did not complete training on May 19, 2022. Importantly, Respondent did not deny that he did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision.

Resolution Adopting Amended Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner Docket No.: T24-21

Whereas, Matthew Walker (Respondent) is a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act); and

Whereas, as a board member, Respondent is required to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) on an annual basis; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to complete his training program by December 31, 2021; and

Whereas, at its meeting on April 26, 2022, the School Ethics Commission (Commission) issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) directing Respondent to show cause as to why he failed to complete his mandatory training by December 31, 2021, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1; and

Whereas, after having been served with the OTSC, Respondent represented that he would complete his training on May 19, 2022; however, on May 24, 2022, NJSBA advised that Respondent did not complete training on May 19, 2022, and Respondent also did not dispute that he did not complete training in a timely fashion; and

Whereas, at its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 by failing to complete the training requirement he was obligated to complete; and

Whereas, at its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of a final decision by the Commissioner of Education. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of a final decision by the Commissioner of Education; and

Whereas, at its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission agreed that the within decision accurately memorializes its findings and recommendations; and

Agency Dkt. No. 168-6/22

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Danielle Brown, Board of Education of the City of Perth Amboy, Middlesex County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the April 26, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's May 24, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of censure is recommended. Respondent filed exceptions to the penalty but did not appeal the SEC's underlying finding of a violation to the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4.

In her exceptions, respondent indicates that she had experienced technical difficulties completing her required training, but nonetheless believed that her training had been completed in a timely manner. She notes that she completed the training as soon as she became aware that her prior attempts had been unsuccessful, and that she has no history of failing to comply with the training requirements. Respondent further argues that numerous past decisions of the SEC imposed a penalty of a reprimand, rather than a censure, when a board member completed training following the issuance of an Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's meeting to vote on the matter. Accordingly, respondent requests that the penalty imposed against her be limited to a reprimand.

[1] The SEC has previously recommended a penalty of a censure when a board member completed the training after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's next meeting; however, the Commissioner rejected the penalty recommendation in that case and advised that a reprimand is the appropriate penalty under those circumstances. In the Matter of Robyn Schneider, The Ethical Community Charter School, Hudson County, Commissioner Decision No. 140-16SEC, decided April 11, 2016.

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Perth Amboy Board of Education (Board), located in Middlesex County. As a result of her position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 2 training program by December 31, 2021.

[1] The School Ethics Commission adopted an Amended Decision on June 28, 2022, solely because the Resolution appended to its May 24, 2022, decision contained incorrect information.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. However, after having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement on May 13, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated that, prior to completing training on May 13, 2022, she "attempted to complete [it] on the NJSBA website in the last several months, but experienced technical issues"; prior to issuance of the OTSC, she was "under the impression that her mandatory training was completed"; and after "being made aware" that her training was not completed, she "went back to the NJSBA website and completed the training." Respondent maintains that she "fully intended to comply with all mandatory training requirements ... in a timely fashion," and any "inadvertent failure to do so was not intentional." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that she did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of censure.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Stephen Bienko,
Board of Education of the Township of Allamuchy, Warren County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Respondent failed to complete the training. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law.

Accordingly, as of the filing date of this decision, respondent is removed from the board for violating the School Ethics Act.

Docket No.: T33-21
Amended Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Stephen Bienko,
Allamuchy Township Board of Education, Warren County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 26, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Stephen Bienko (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Allamuchy Township Board of Education (Board), located in Warren County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 2 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or about April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

At its meeting on May 24, 2022, and because the Commission did not have information from NJSBA or Respondent indicating that Respondent had completed mandated training prior thereto, the Commission adopted a decision recommending that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. The Commission's decision further stated that if Respondent completed training before the Commissioner of Education adopted a final decision (which would have been forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of its May 24, 2022, decision), then the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension.

On May 26, 2022, which was after the Commission adopted the aforementioned decision, the Commission received correspondence from the Superintendent of the Allamuchy Township School District indicating that Respondent resigned from the Board on May 19, 2022.

Notwithstanding Respondent's resignation on May 19, 2022, which was not communicated to the Commission until May 26, 2022, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of censure, which is the highest penalty that the Commission can impose following Respondent's resignation.

violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Record Closed: August 1, 2022 Decided: August 2, 2022

BEFORE KELLY J. KIRK, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Yvonne McGovern, alleges that she was terminated by respondent, Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth (Board), in violation of her tenure rights.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On or about July 20, 2022, McGovern filed a Verified Petition of Appeal (Petition) and Motion for Emergent Relief with the Commissioner of Education. The Office of Controversies and Disputes of the Department of Education (Department) transmitted the contested case to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed on July 20, 2022.

Petitioner's Motion for Emergent Relief consisted of a letter brief and Affidavit of Yvonne McGovern. Oral argument was scheduled for July 27, 2022, and on July 22, 2022, respondent was advised that its brief should be filed no later than July 26, 2022, at noon. No brief was filed and on July 26, 2022, respondent requested a two-week adjournment, with consent. A telephone conference was held on July 26, 2022. Since the Board was scheduled to meet the following day, another telephone conference was held on July 28, 2022, during which respondent's attorney confirmed that there had been no tenure charges filed and advised that neither oral argument nor a hearing would be necessary. By letter dated August 1, 2022, respondent's attorney advised "At the direction of my client I will not be filing a response to the Verified Petition of Appeal and Notice of Motion for Emergent Relief."

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The Petition reflects, in pertinent part, the following:

> 1. Petitioner has been employed by Respondent since September 1, 1993.
> 2. Since September 1, 1993, Petitioner has served in the following positions:
>
> a. Middle School Teacher 1993—1997;
> b. Bilingual Education Teacher 1997—2001;
> c. Whole School Reform Facilitator 2001—2002;
> d. Teacher Trainer 2002—2006;
> e. Vice Principal 2006—2014; and > f. Principal 2014—2022.

3. Petitioner is tenured in the positions of teacher, vice principal and principal.

4. On or about February 15, 2022, Respondent placed petitioner on administrative leave with pay pending an investigation into an allegation that she made a racially insensitive remark to a student.

5. On or about May 14, 2022, at a public meeting, Respondent approved a list of employees for continued employment for the 2022-2023 school year.

6. Petitioner's name was either not on that list or removed from that list, prior to Respondent's vote on the rehire of the employees for the upcoming school year.

7. Respondent did not approve Petitioner for employment in the 2022-2023 school year, effectively terminating her employment as of the close of business on June 30, 2022.

8. Petitioner has been without pay, and without health benefits for herself, her husband and five of her children, since July 1, 2022.

9. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 expressly provides that no school district employee under tenure of service shall be dismissed or reduced salary ". . . except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause, and then only after a hearing held pursuant to this subarticle . . ."

10. Respondent has not filed tenure charges against Petitioner, nor has a tenure dismissal hearing been conducted in accordance with the "Tenure Employees Hearing Law."

11. The action taken by Respondent in summarily terminating Petitioner's employment violates her employment rights as protected by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10.

13. Respondent unilaterally terminated Petitioner's employment without any recommendation to do so from the district's superintendent of schools.

14. N.J.S.A. 18A:27-4.1 expressly provides that a board of education cannot remove a school district employee in the absence of the recommendation of the chief school administrator.

> 15. The action taken by Respondent exceeded its powers in light of the requirement under the school laws that boards of education remove employees only with the recommendation of the chief school administrator.
> WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests the Commissioner to hear and determine this matter and order Respondent to immediately reinstate Petitioner to her tenured position as principal and resume her pay and health benefits retroactive to July 1, 2022.

Similarly, the motion seeks emergent relief to reinstate McGovern to her tenured position as building principal and reinstate her compensation and health benefits retroactive to July 1, 2022. McGovern's Affidavit states, inter alia: that she has not been indicted for any crime; the school district has not filed tenure charges; upon her information and belief, the Board's action to terminate her employment was without the Superintendent's recommendation; the lack of salary and health benefits is taking a toll on her financially, physically and emotionally; and, as a result of the termination, her reputation in the community and school district has been tarnished and continues to be tarnished with each passing day.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

Per the Tenure Employees Hearing Law (N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10—18A:6-18.1), "no person shall be dismissed or reduced in compensation, if he is or shall be under tenure of office, position or employment during good behavior and efficiency in the public school system of the state . . . except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause, and then only after a hearing held pursuant to the Tenure Employees Hearing Law, by the commissioner, or a person appointed by him to act on his behalf, after a written charge or charges, of the cause or causes of complaint, shall have been preferred against such person, signed by the person or persons making the same, who may or may not be a member or members of a board of education, and filed and proceeded upon as in the Tenure Employees Hearing Law. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10(a). (Emphasis added.)

Any charge made against any employee of a board of education under tenure during good behavior and efficiency shall be filed with the secretary of the board in writing, and a written statement of evidence under oath to support such charge shall be presented to the board. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-11. The board of education shall forthwith provide such employee with a copy of the charge, a copy of the statement of the evidence and an opportunity to submit a written statement of position and a written statement of evidence under oath with respect thereto. Ibid. After consideration of the charge, statement of position and statements of evidence presented to it, the board shall determine by majority vote of its full membership whether there is probable cause to credit the evidence in support of the charge and whether such charge, if credited, is sufficient to warrant a dismissal or reduction of salary. Ibid. The board of education shall forthwith notify the employee against whom the charge has been made of its determination. Ibid. In the event the board finds that such probable cause exists and that the charge, if credited, is sufficient to warrant a dismissal or reduction of salary, then it shall forward such written charge to the commissioner for a hearing pursuant to N.J.S.18A:6-16, together with a certificate of such determination. Ibid. (Emphasis added.) The consideration and actions of the board as to any charge shall not take place at a public meeting. Ibid. If the board does not make such a determination within 45 days after receipt of the written charge, the charge shall be deemed to be dismissed and no further proceeding or action shall be taken thereon. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-13.

Upon certification of any charge to the commissioner, the board may suspend the person against whom such charge is made, with or without pay, but, if the determination of the charge by the arbitrator is not made within 120 calendar days after certification of the charges, excluding all delays which are granted at the request of such person, then the full salary (except for said 120 days) of such person shall be paid beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until such determination is made. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. Should the charge be dismissed at any stage of the process, the person shall be reinstated immediately with full pay from the first day of such suspension. Ibid. Should the charge be dismissed at any stage of the process and the suspension be continued during an appeal therefrom, then the full pay or salary of such person shall continue until the determination of the appeal. Ibid. Should the charge be sustained on the original hearing or an appeal therefrom, and should such person appeal from the same, then the suspension may be continued unless and until such determination is reversed, in which event he shall be reinstated immediately with full pay as of the time of such suspension. Ibid.

Upon receipt of such a charge and certification, or of a charge lawfully made to the commissioner, the commissioner or the person appointed to act on the commissioner's behalf in the proceedings shall examine the charges and certification. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16. The individual against whom the charges are certified shall have 15 days to submit a written response to the charges to the commissioner. Ibid. Upon a showing of good cause, the commissioner may grant an extension of time. The commissioner shall render a determination on the sufficiency of charges as set forth below within 10 days immediately following the period provided for a written response to the charges. Ibid. If, following receipt of the written response to the charges, the commissioner is of the opinion that they are not sufficient to warrant dismissal or reduction in salary of the person charged, he shall dismiss the same and notify said person accordingly. Ibid. If, however, he shall determine that such charge is sufficient to warrant dismissal or reduction in salary of the person charged, he shall refer the case to an arbitrator pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.1 for further proceedings, except that when a motion for summary decision has been made prior to that time, the commissioner may retain the matter for purposes of deciding the motion. Ibid.

Despite the foregoing requirements, the Board terminated McGovern—a tenured employee—without a hearing by the commissioner in clear violation of the Tenure Employees Hearing Law. Additionally, notwithstanding the provisions of any law, rule or regulation to the contrary, a board of education shall remove a certificated or non-certificated employee only upon the recommendation of the chief school administrator and by a recorded roll call majority vote of the full membership of the board. N.J.S.A. 18A:27-4.1(a). The Board has submitted nothing to dispute petitioner's allegation that there was no such recommendation or vote, as its only "response" was a letter confirming that no response to the Motion for Emergent Relief or to the Petition would be submitted.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(a), where the subject matter of the controversy is a particular course of action by a district board of education or any other party subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner, the petitioner may include with the petition of appeal, a separate motion for emergent relief or a stay of that action pending the commissioner's final decision in the contested case. A motion for a stay or emergent relief must be accompanied by a letter memorandum or brief which addresses the following standards to be met for granting such relief pursuant to Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982):

> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
>
> 3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and

To prevail on an application for emergent relief, the petitioner must meet all four prongs as set forth above. Inasmuch as there is no question that the Board acted beyond its legal power or authority in terminating petitioner's employment in the way it did, it is evident that the legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled and that she would prevail on the merits of the underlying claim. Certainly, when the equities and the interests of the parties are balanced, petitioner will suffer the greater harm than respondent, because the Board's action in terminating her was ultra vires. Further, under such circumstances, that petitioner may suffer irreparable harm is sufficient to warrant emergent relief.

Whether or not McGovern "made a racially insensitive remark"[1] warranting termination is of no moment in this matter, as this is not a tenure hearing on such charge. The Petition alleges only that petitioner was effectively terminated in violation of her tenure rights – which is essentially undisputed. In view of the applicable law, I CONCLUDE that the Board effectively terminated petitioner in clear violation of the Tenure Employees Hearing Law. I therefore further CONCLUDE that petitioner should be immediately reinstated to her tenured position as principal and resume her pay and health benefits retroactive to July 1, 2022. I further CONCLUDE that since the Board directed its attorney not to file a response to the Petition, this order on motion for emergent relief also resolves all the issues raised in the Petition.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that petitioner's motion for emergent relief is GRANTED and ORDERED that the Board immediately reinstate petitioner to her tenured position as principal and resume her pay and health benefits retroactive to July 1, 2022. Additionally, since the Board directed its attorney not to file a response to the Petition, this order on motion for emergent relief also resolves all the issues raised in the Petition; and it is ORDERED that no further proceedings on this Petition are necessary.

This order on application for emergent relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the Commissioner of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Daniel Leonard,
Toms River Regional Board of Education,
Ocean County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the November 23, 2021 decision of the School Ethics Commission (Commission). The Commission found that respondent Daniel Leonard, a member of the Toms River Regional Board of Education, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code). The Commission recommended a penalty of censure for the violation. The Commission's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq., of the Commission's underlying finding of violation.

Upon review, for the reasons thoroughly detailed in the Initial Decision of the Administrative Law Judge and the decision of the Commission, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the Commission for respondent's violation of the Code in connection with certain posts he made to social media.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby censured as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Final Decision

In the Matter of Daniel Leonard,
Toms River Regional Board of Education, Ocean County,
Respondent

I. Procedural History

This consolidated matter arises from two (2) separate but related Complaints. More specifically, on August 5, 2019, Sara Sheikh (Complainant Sheikh) filed a Complaint (C56-19) alleging that Daniel Leonard (Respondent), a member of the Toms River Regional Board of Education (Board), violated the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq. when he made certain posts to social media, further described below. Complainant Sheikh's Complaint alleged that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(f) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code) in Count 1, and violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) of the Code in Count 2. On August 7, 2019, Nina Rossi (Complainant Rossi) also filed a Complaint (C57-19) alleging the same.

By correspondence dated October 9, 2019, the parties were notified that, pursuant to its authority as set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:28-6.6, the Commission consolidated the Complaints filed by Complainant Sheikh and Complainant Rossi (collectively referred to as Complainants) against Respondent.

Finally, on April 28, 2019, Complainants alleged that Respondent shared a photograph on his personal Facebook page of a doll, with a black eye, bruise on her chin and dressed in a hijab. The body of the photograph bears the following text: "Sharia Barbie [-] Comes with a jihab [(sic)], bruises and quran [-] Stoning accessories available for additional purchase."[1]

[1] The Commission acknowledges that the cited language/speech may be regarded as offensive, provocative, disagreeable, or vulgar; however, the cited language/speech is quoted directly from the parties' submissions. The inclusion of this language/speech is not intended to disparage, offend, or disrespect the reader.

On August 29, 2019, Respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of Answer (Motion to Dismiss) to Complainant Sheikh's Complaint. Additionally, on September 5, 2019, Respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss to Complainant Rossi's Complaint.

At its meeting on November 19, 2019, the Commission considered the filings in this matter and, at its meeting on December 17, 2019, the Commission voted to grant the Motion to Dismiss as to the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(f), but to deny the Motion to Dismiss as to all other allegations in the Complaint. Based on its findings, the Commission also voted to direct Respondent to file an Answer to Complaint (Answer) as to the remaining allegations in the Complaint (N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) in Count 1, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Count 2, and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Count 3), and to transmit the above-captioned matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) following receipt of the Answer.

On January 22, 2020, the matter was transmitted to the OAL and was assigned to the Honorable Elia A. Pelios, Administrative Law Judge (ALJ Pelios). The matter was heard on October 6, 2020, and the record remained open to allow for the submission of written statements. After the hearing concluded, Complainant Sheikh withdrew her Complaint, leaving Complainant Rossi to prosecute the charges. On October 14, 2020, the record was closed.

The Commission acknowledged receipt of ALJ Pelios' Initial Decision on March 18, 2021; therefore, the forty-five (45) day statutory period for the Commission to issue a Final Decision was May 3, 2021. Prior to May 3, 2021, the Commission requested a forty-five (45) day extension of time to issue its decision so as to allow the Commission, which only meets monthly, the opportunity to review the full record. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(c) and N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.8, and for good cause shown, the Commission was granted an extension until June 17, 2021. The Commission requested and was granted three additional extensions in order to permit Respondent time to order and receive the transcript(s) of the proceedings and file exceptions accordingly. On August 5, 2021, the Commission requested a fifth forty-five (45) day extension of time to issue its Final Decision prior to the November 1, 2021 deadline for issuing a Final Decision. Good cause having been shown, the time limit for issuing a Final Decision was extended until December 16, 2021.

At a meeting on October 19, 2021, the Commission considered ALJ Pelios' Initial Decision, and at its meeting on November 16, 2021, the Commission voted to adopt ALJ Pelios' Initial Decision as its Final Decision.

II. Initial Decision

Based on his review of the documents submitted and witness testimony offered, ALJ Pelios found the following as fact:

(1) In April 2019, Respondent was at all times a member of the Board.
(2) On April 12, 2019, Respondent shared a Facebook post from the "Rant Nation with Graham Allen" site to his personal Facebook page, "DP Leonard."

(3) The shared post appears to link to a video purporting to show U.S. Representative Ilhan Omar "MOCK[ING] Americans for Fearing al-Qaeda."

(4) The original post carried the commentary, "This newly discovered video from her past comes AFTER Congresswoman Omar claimed 9/11 was a situation where 'some people did something.' SHAME on you."

(5) The post contains pictures of Congresswoman Omar wearing a hijab, a head scarf worn by many Muslim women.

(6) In sharing the post, Respondent commented, "Terrorist.....100%."

(7) Respondent understands Representative Omar to be a member of the Muslim faith.

(8) On April 19, 2019, Respondent shared a Fox News article dated April 19, 2019, titled "Rashida Tlaib calls for hunger strikes to shut down ICE" to his personal Facebook page.

(10) In sharing the post, Respondent commented, "My life would be complete if she/they die ... ."

(11) Respondent understands Representative Tlaib to be a member of the Muslim faith.

(12) On April 28, 2019, Respondent shared a photograph to his personal Facebook page, which depicts a doll dressed in a hijab, the doll appears to be a woman, and has a black eye and a bruise on its chin.

(13) The body of the photograph bears the following text: "Sharia Barbie Comes with jihab [(sic)], bruises and quran. Stoning accessories available for additional purchase."

(14) On July 23, 2019, the New Jersey Chapter of CAIR issued a press release calling for the resignation of Respondent due to these posts.

(15) The matter of Respondent's posts received media attention.

(16) The matter was addressed at a Board meeting held on July 24, 2019, with many members of the public in attendance.

(17) On July 25, 2019, then Board President Joseph Nardini issued a letter (P-4) wherein he described the July 24, 2019, meeting as "contentious."

(18) Mr. Nardini denounced Respondent's posts and asserted that they were distracting the Board from its mission and purpose.

(19) Mr. Nardini stated in the letter that he had rescinded Respondent's appointment to the Board's Safety, Security, and Transportation Committee.

(20) Mr. Nardini also noted in the letter, that although the Board could not remove Respondent, he asked that Respondent consider resigning his seat on the Board in order to "remove the distraction from the Board's mission."

(21) Mr. Nardini described the posts as an "obstruction to the Board's message and duties."

(22) On July 30, 2019, Board attorneys Stephen R. Leone, Esq., and Melanie Appleby, Esq., issued a letter describing Respondent's posts as "racist, incendiary and offensive."

(23) The letter noted the inability of the Board to remove a member, but described the legal process by which alleged ethics violations could be addressed.

(24) Respondent did not resign, but he did not run for reelection, and is no longer a Board member.

Initial Decision at 6-9.

ALJ Pelios further examined Respondent's credibility, noting that "[a]lthough Respondent does not bear the burden of proof and although he does not dispute making the Facebook postings at issue, some aspects of his testimony must be assessed for credibility." Id. at 9. After describing the standard for credibility, ALJ Pelios found the following regarding Respondent: (1) he "did not see himself as acting on behalf of the Board or in his role as a Board member when he made the posts at issue to be credible"; (2) "his testimony that 'D.P. Leonard,' the Facebook account to which the posts were made, his personal, private Facebook account to also be credible,"; (3) "his testimony that he has a disclaimer on his account's profile page to acknowledge that the views expressed are his own and not those of the Board to be credible"; (4) "his testimony that he did not intend or expect his posts to be publicized beyond those permitted to view the post under his privacy settings to be credible, if not naïve and ultimately incorrect"; (5) "he intended and believed such to be the case when making the posts in question"; (6) "his testimony that he and his family received threatening communications after his posts were publicized" to also be credible. Id. at 10.

ALJ Pelios further finds that while Respondent "may sincerely believe he is not anti-Muslim" but rather "anti-certain aspects of Sharia law," "his posts suggest the presence of negative attitudes toward Muslim faith and culture broader than, as he has asserted, his personal understanding or interpretation of Sharia Law." Id. at 10-11. ALJ Pelios concludes that "his sharing of the posts in question was informed in significant measure by these attitudes." Id.

In the "Conclusions of Law" section of his Initial Decision, ALJ Pelios again notes that Complainant Sheikh withdrew her complaint and Complainant Rossi's three-count complaint remains. With respect to the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b), ALJ Pelios discusses Complainant's burden of proof to establish factually a violation of the Code. After detailing the preponderance of evidence standard that applies, ALJ Pelios outlines that "factual evidence of a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) 'shall include evidence that the respondent(s) willfully made a decision contrary to the educational welfare of children, or evidence that the respondent(s) took deliberate action to obstruct the programs and policies designed to meet the individual needs of all children, regardless of their ability, race, color, creed or social standing.'" Id. at 14.

ALJ Pelios further states "Respondent does not dispute making the posts at issue, and the record reflects that he did not believe he was acting in any official capacity when he made the posts." Id. Furthermore, "his posts and/or comments do not constitute a decision(s) related to the Board and/or the business of the Board or [District], nor do they constitute action that obstructed the District's programs or policies" in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b). Id. According to ALJ Pelios, "absent the establishment of a nexus between [R]espondent's posts and/or comments on social media and an actual – not theoretical – decision(s) or action(s)," ALJ Pelios is "constrained" to conclude Complainant Rossi "has not met her evidentiary burden in demonstrating violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b)." Id. ALJ Pelios concludes that the alleged violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b) should be dismissed as to Counts One, Two, and Three of Complainant Rossi's petition.

The only remaining allegation is N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Count 2 and Count 3. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) provides that a board member "will recognize that authority rests with the board of education and will make no personal promises nor take any private action that may compromise the board." ALJ Pelios asserts, "the record is devoid of any evidence or allegation that [R]espondent made any personal promise to anyone in posting the article and comment regarding Rep. Tlaib or the picture of 'Sharia Barbie.'" Id. at 15. Therefore, ALJ Pelios maintains, "What remains is to determine whether in making those posts [R]espondent took private action, that is, action beyond the scope of his duties, such that, by its nature, had the potential to compromise the Board." Id.

ALJ Pelios notes, "testimony by all three witnesses and documents in evidence paint a picture of numerous phone calls to Board staff constituting harassment and threats that no doubt have had a negative impact to the Board's operation. Furthermore, and more perilous, is the potential for further compromise." Id. at 16. According to ALJ Pelios, the Legislature made "it clear" that "it is essential ... BOARD members 'must avoid conduct which is in violation of their public trust or which created a justifiable impression ... that such trust is being violated.'" Id. ALJ Pelios asserts, "It is appropriate to conclude that conduct creating such an impression has the potential to cause the impairment of the Board or to expose it to discredit or suspicion – in other words, to compromise the Board." Id. at 16-17. ALJ Pelios concludes Respondent's admitted conduct has that same potential.

According to ALJ Pelios, "It is not a stretch to consider that students or families of students of Muslim faith may fear that their culture or faith may play a role in adverse decisions by the Board" based on Respondent's "public expression of negative attitudes towards Muslim culture and faith." Id. at 17. Furthermore, "they may well be discouraged from even seeking redress to the Board if they feel there is no point." Id. ALJ Pelios contends, "This is clearly an example of conduct that would cause members of the Board to lose the confidence and respect of the people, and ... 'creates an unjustifiable impression ... that such trust is being violated.'" Id. Therefore, ALJ Pelios concludes Respondent's posting and commenting as described in Counts 2 and 3 of Complainant Rossi's petition constitute private action that has the potential to compromise the Board and, therefore, violates N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e). Furthermore, ALJ Pelios notes the Commission "has indicated that in exercising those rights, board members must comply with the [Act]." Id. ALJ Pelios asserts the record shows that Respondent "has not complied with, and in fact has violated, the Act and, therefore, ALJ Pelios concludes that charges of violating N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) should be sustained as to Counts 2 and 3. Id. at 18.

Having found violations of the Act, and with regard to the appropriate penalty, ALJ Pelios notes that Respondent's term on the Board has ended and he did not run again; therefore, removal is not appropriate since he no longer serves on the Board. However, ALJ Pelios found that Respondent should be censured for the violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Counts 2 and 3.

III. Exceptions

Neither Petitioner nor Respondent filed Exceptions to the Initial Decision.[2]

IV. Analysis

Upon a careful, thorough, and independent review of the record, the Commission adopts ALJ Pelios' findings of fact, and adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e), but did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b).

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b), Board members shall "make decisions in terms of the educational welfare of children and will seek to develop and maintain public schools that meet the individual needs of all children regardless of their ability, race, creed, sex, or social standing." The Commission agrees that Respondent did not act in his official capacity when making the posts at issue. Further, the Commission agrees that Complainant did not meet her evidentiary burden pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-6.4 to demonstrate that the posts made by Respondent obstructed the District's programs and policies. Therefore, the Commission agrees to dismiss the alleged violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b).

In finding a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e), ALJ Pelios appropriately concluded that Respondents action constituted "private action that may compromise the Board." In discussing the legislative intent for the School Ethics Act, ALJ Pelios properly highlighted that Board members "must avoid conduct which is in violation of their public trust or which creates a justifiable impression among the public that such trust is being violated." N.J.S.A. 18A:12-22(a). The Commission notes that board members do not surrender the rights that they have as citizens such as freedom of speech when they become members of a school board. However, as discussed in Dunbar Bey v. Brown, Camden Board of Education, Camden County, Commission Docket No. C25-11 (Brown), and in light of the social media posts by Respondent, the Commission echoes its decision in Brown, specifically that "when a sitting Board member makes such a judgmental proclamation, it is likely to be credited far more than a statement offered by an ordinary citizen." Brown at 7. In Brown, the Commission found that the respondent, a board of education member, violated the Code when he posted a message on his Facebook page ("Now if we could only do something about our local terrorists that destroy dreams and burn futures"), the Superintendent's photo came up as a result of the post, and he did not remove it. Further, the Commission emphasized "that in using social media, the affirmative duties within the Code of Ethics for School Board Members may not be overlooked." Id. at 8. With the above in mind, Respondent's disparaging posts to social media at issue constituted conduct that undermined the public's trust in the Board and compromised the Board's ability to engage with the public. As ALJ Pelios discussed, Respondent's post had the potential to discourage members of the public, namely members of the Muslim community, to engage with the Board "given what may seem to be an apparent bias." As such, ALJ Pelios' determination is entirely appropriate.

[2] The Commission notes that Respondent received all requested transcripts from the proceedings referenced in section I, and subsequently thereafter indicated to the Commission on August 26, 2021 via e-mail that he would not be filing exceptions in the matter.

V. Decision

For all of the aforementioned reasons, the Commission adopts findings of fact and the legal conclusion that Respondent did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(b), but violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Counts 2 and 3 when he made certain posts to social media.

VI. Penalty

As ALJ Pelios notes, the Commission acknowledges Respondent's term on the Board has ended and he did not run again. Therefore, removal is not possible. However, the Commission agrees with ALJ Pelios and adopts the recommended penalty of censure for the violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) in Counts 2 and 3.

DECISION APPROVING SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

Agency Docket No. 21-2/22

Appearances:

For the Petitioner:

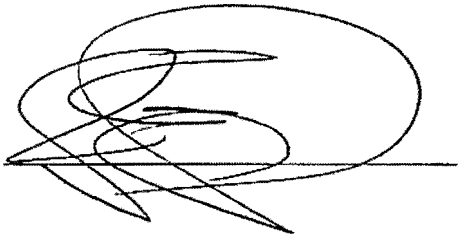
For the Respondent
Ronald J. Ricci, Esq.
Ricci Fava

On February 23, 2022, I was assigned as the arbitrator for the above referenced matter. A videoconference session was held with counsel on March 9, 2022.. During this session, the parties agreed to pursue a settlement of the matter rather than proceeding with a full evidentiary hearing. Numerous videoconferences and conference calls were conducted from March through August 2022. I also corresponded with counsel through various e-mail exchanges.

On August 10, 2022, I received a fully-executed Settlement Agreement between the Board and Respondent Ambrosio. On August 11, 2022, I conducted a final conference with the parties' Counsel and the Respondent to discuss the terms of settlement.



N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6 requires the arbitrator to issue a brief decision approving the settlement of tenure charges and explaining why the arbitrator is approving the terms of settlement.

The parties' settlement agreement expressly details the basis for resolution of attendance-related allegations. I have thoroughly reviewed and considered the parties' reasons for settlement in accordance with the six (6) standards outlined and adopted by In re Cardonick, State Board Decision of April 6, 1983 (1990 School Law Decisions (S.L.D.) 842, 846) that must be met before a settlement is approved. Having considered the stated reasons in conjunction with the issues raised in the Statement of Tenure Charges and the Statement of Evidence filed by the Petitioner and the Response to Tenure Charges filed by the Respondent, I am persuaded that the parties entered the settlement agreement knowingly and willingly and that the terms of the settlement agreement represent a reasonable basis for settlement that will serve the public's interest and are consistent with the public good.

Accordingly, and based upon the foregoing, I approve the parties' settlement agreement.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the City of Trenton,
Mercer County,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Children and Families,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In October 2021, the Board of Education of the City of Trenton (Trenton) filed a petition contending that the respondent, the New Jersey Department of Children and Families (DCF), improperly required Trenton to make tuition payments for the educational costs of several children, including J.M., who were placed by DCF into educational programs at State facilities. DCF filed a motion to dismiss, arguing that student J.M. was not placed in his residential treatment facility by DCF and, further, that the facility in question is not a State facility; DCF contended, therefore, that Trenton is responsible for J.M.'s education and related costs.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: J.M. and his parent resided in Trenton at the time of his placement at Legacy Treatment Services (LTS); J.M. is not a ward of the State and his parents and/or guardians were involved in and consented to his placement at LTS; the facility into which J.M. was placed was contracted by the State to provide such services; and the State determined that Trenton was the District of Residence (DOR) and therefore responsible for the educational costs of tuition and transportation for J.M. while he was a resident at LTS. The ALJ concluded that Trenton did not meet its burden to demonstrate that the determination of the DOR by the State was improper; accordingly, Trenton is responsible for the costs of J.M.'s education at LTS. The ALJ granted DCF's motion to dismiss the petition.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner disagreed with the ALJ that dismissal of the petition was appropriate at this juncture, as the Initial Decision, inter alia, failed to address any of the other students referenced in the case, despite the fact that the petition alleged that multiple students were placed by DCF in State facilities. Accordingly, the Commissioner reversed the Initial Decision granting DCF's motion to dismiss and remanded the matter to the OAL for further proceedings. In so doing, the Commissioner clarified, inter alia, that if J.M. or any of the other students was placed by DCF in a State facility, Trenton's financial responsibility is established by N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-24. Further, in the case of students placed by DCF in State facilities, the district of residence is not responsible for making direct tuition payments for the costs of the student's education; rather, the DOR's financial responsibility is limited to the reduction of its State aid.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the City of Trenton,
Mercer County,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Children and Families,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

This matter involves the question of which party is responsible for providing the educational program and paying tuition and transportation costs for students in residential facilities. The Trenton Board of Education (Trenton) filed a petition of appeal, contending that the Department of Children and Families (DCF) improperly required Trenton to make tuition payments for the educational costs of several students.[2] According to Trenton, the students were placed by DCF in State facilities and, therefore, DCF must pay for their educational programs, rather than Trenton.[3]

[2] In one paragraph, the petition identifies eight students by initials, while in another paragraph, it indicates that the dispute pertains to six students.

DCF filed a motion to dismiss, arguing that student J.M. was not placed in his residential treatment facility by DCF, nor is the facility a State facility. DCF contends that the State is not J.M.'s legal guardian, and he is not in State custody. Therefore, according to DCF, Trenton is responsible for J.M.'s education and costs. Following transmittal and further briefing, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that Trenton is responsible for the costs of J.M.'s education because J.M. was unilaterally placed at Legacy Treatment Services (LTS) by his parents, and Trenton was the district where his parents resided as of the date of his placement.

In its exceptions, Trenton argues that the ALJ disregarded the fact that the petition involves multiple students, not just J.M. Trenton further notes that it has never disputed that Trenton is the district of residence for the students at issue and contends that the ALJ incorrectly analyzed the laws pertaining to a district of residence determination, even though the basis for the petition is a different portion of the statute, which the ALJ misinterpreted. According to Trenton, DCF's motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim did nothing to challenge the sufficiency of the allegations contained in the petition, and therefore dismissal was inappropriate. Trenton argues that DCF's motion was not supported by certification or affidavit by someone with personal knowledge and the ALJ improperly accepted statements made by DCF as fact without proof, when the facts as presented by DCF are disputed by Trenton.

[3] The petition and other filings acknowledge that N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12 may require Trenton's State aid payments to be reduced, and that amount forwarded to DCF, in certain circumstances, as described below. However, Trenton contends that DCF has required Trenton to make tuition payments beyond the amounts required by N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12, and for incorrect time periods.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that dismissal is appropriate at this juncture. Most significantly, the Initial Decision fails to address any students other than J.M., despite the fact that the petition alleges that multiple students were placed by DCF in State facilities and are at issue in the dispute.[4]

Furthermore, even with regard to J.M., dismissal is inappropriate. In evaluating a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, "the inquiry is confined to a consideration of the legal sufficiency of the alleged facts apparent on the face of the challenged claim." Rieder v. State, 221 N.J. Super. 547, 552 (App. Div. 1987) (internal quotation and citation omitted). The Commissioner must assume that the facts asserted by the petitioner are true. Velantzas v. Colgate-Palmolive Co., 109 N.J. 189, 192 (1988). Here, the petition of appeal contends that J.M. was placed by DCF in a State facility. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-2, if Trenton is correct in this contention, then Trenton is not responsible for making direct tuition payments for J.M.'s education; instead, Trenton's State aid payment would be reduced in the amount of DCF's per pupil cost. While DCF argues in its motion to dismiss that Trenton has produced no convincing evidence that LTS is operated by, contracted with, or otherwise specified by DCF, and therefore it is not a State facility, this argument applies the wrong standard. Trenton is not required to provide "convincing proof" to survive a motion to dismiss. The Commissioner instead must assume that the facts in the petition – namely, that J.M. was placed by DCF in a State facility – are true. This assumption is sufficient to support the conclusion that Trenton has stated a claim upon which relief can be granted and that dismissal is not warranted at this stage.

It appears that while citing to the standards for a motion to dismiss, the ALJ actually treated the motion as one for summary decision, because she relied on "facts" and documents presented by DCF that are outside the pleadings. According to N.J. Ct. R. 4:6-2, which is applicable to OAL proceedings pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.3, when a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim on which relief can be granted presents matters outside the pleading, such motion shall be treated as a motion for summary decision. A court should grant summary judgment when the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, show that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520, 528-29 (1995).

The Commissioner concludes that DCF's motion also fails to meet the standard necessary to grant a motion for summary decision. The ALJ's finding that J.M. was unilaterally placed at LTS by his parents is wholly unsupported by the record. DCF's motion includes no affidavits or certifications, and no testimony was taken in support of the motion.[5]

[5] The Commissioner notes that DCF argues that N.J.S.A. 30:4C-52 defines a "child placed outside his home" as "a child under the care, custody, or guardianship of the [Division of Child Protection and Permanency (DCP&P)]" who resides in certain places, including residential treatment facilities. According to DCF, it is undisputed that J.M. was not in the custody of DCP&P, nor was he a ward of the State, and therefore he cannot have been placed by DCF at LTS. Initially, it is not clear to the Commissioner that DCP&P must have custody or guardianship of the child for the child to be "placed" by DCF, as even the definition relied upon by DCF includes "a child under the care" of DCP&P as a child who can be "placed outside the home." Based on the current record, the Commissioner cannot determine whether a child to whom DCP&P provides services, without custody or guardianship, is a child "under

Furthermore, even if this "fact" as averred by DCF were accepted into the record, it is disputed by Trenton, creating a genuine issue of material fact that precludes summary decision. Further fact-finding is necessary to determine whether DCF placed J.M. at LTS, and whether LTS is a State facility.[6]

The ALJ also found that the Department of Education (DOE) determined that Trenton was responsible for J.M.'s costs, but there is no basis in the record to support that finding. DCF's motion refers to an email from the DOE's Mercer County Education Specialist, which allegedly stated that J.M.'s placement is not in a State facility and that Trenton is responsible for his costs. Although DCF's brief indicates that this email was included as an exhibit, it does not appear in the filing. Additionally, even if the Commissioner accepted that the email does exist and includes the statement alleged by DCF, the conclusion of the Education Specialist is not binding on the Commissioner.[7] the care" of DCP&P, such that he could be considered a child "placed" by DCF for purposes of applying N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12. Indeed, the fact that the Legislature included "care" as a separate term from "custody" or "guardianship" suggests that "care" means something different and requires a different analysis. Trenton argues a parent cannot place a student at LTS and that only DCF, through the Children's System of Care (CSOC) and Care Management Organizations (CMOs), can make such a placement. At the stage of a motion to dismiss or motion for summary decision, the lack of clarity on the record regarding this issue is sufficient to preclude judgment in favor of DCF. Moreover, even accepting DCF's argument that custody or guardianship is required for a child to be placed by DCF, there is nothing in the record, apart from DCF's unverified arguments, to support the finding that J.M. is not in the custody or guardianship of DCP&P. Accordingly, dismissing the petition or granting summary decision to DCF is inappropriate at this stage.

[6] Fact-finding may require a review of the relationship between DCF, DCP&P, CSOC, the CMOs, and LTS, as well as the actions of each, and of J.M.'s parents, with regard to his placement. Similar fact-finding may also be necessary regarding the other students at issue in the petition, should Trenton's claims regarding those students proceed.

[7] The ALJ noted that the State's determination regarding a student's district of residence is entitled to a presumption of correctness. However, the issue in this case is not whether Trenton is J.M.'s district of residence, but rather whether J.M. was placed by DCF in a State facility, a determination not within the purview of the Education Specialist.

On remand, should the ALJ determine that J.M., or any of the other students, was placed by DCF in a State facility, Trenton's financial responsibility is established by N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12. In the case of such a placement, the State aid payment made to the district of residence by the DOE is reduced by the per pupil cost calculated by the DOE pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-24, and that amount is forwarded to DCF.[8] This reduction occurs only when the student is placed in the facility by the last school day prior to October 16 in the prebudget year. N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(a) ("No district shall be responsible for the tuition of any child admitted by the State to a State facility after the last school day prior to October 16 of the prebudget year."). The prebudget year is "the school fiscal year preceding the year in which the budget is implemented." N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-45. A sample timeline may be illustrative. The State aid payments made by the DOE in the fall of 2021 were for the budget year of 2021-2022. In this example, the prebudget year is 2020-2021. Accordingly, for any student placed by DCF in a State facility after October 15, 2020 (the last school day prior to October 16 of the prebudget year), there would be no reduction to the State aid payment made to the district for the 2021-2022 school year, and no increase to the State aid payment made to DCF for the 2021-2022 school year.[9] However, for any DCF-placed student who resided in a State facility on [8] In the case of students placed by DCF in State facilities, the district of residence is not responsible for making direct tuition payments for the costs of the student's education. The district of residence's financial responsibility is limited to the reduction of its State aid.

[9] Accordingly, if J.M. was placed by DCF in a State facility when he was admitted to LTS in August 2021, Trenton's State aid payment for the 2021-2022 school year would not be reduced, nor would DCF's 2021-2022 payment be increased. The Initial Decision indicates that, even if J.M. was placed by DCF in a State facility, Trenton's State aid payment for 2021-2022 should be reduced, as the August 2021 admission was in advance of the October 16, 2021 reporting deadline. However, that statement is inconsistent with the statute, which clearly requires admission by October 16 of the prebudget year, not the budget year, for the district of residence's State aid payment to be reduced.

October 15, 2021, the State aid payment to the district for the 2022-2023 school year would be reduced, and that amount sent to DCF as part of its 2022-2023 State aid payment.[10]

Accordingly, the Initial Decision granting DCF's motion to dismiss is reversed. This matter is hereby remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Mailing: August 17, 2022

[10] It is not clear from the record whether J.M. remained admitted on October 15, 2021. If he was, and if DCF placed him at LTS and LTS is a State facility, Trenton's State aid payment for the 2022-2023 school year would be reduced by DCF's per pupil cost, and that amount forwarded to DCF for 2022-2023.

BEFORE SARAH G. CROWLEY, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Trenton Board of Education brings this action seeking a declaration that New Jersey Department of Children and Families is financially responsible for the education of J.M. who was placed in a residential placement/treatment facility. The petition was filed on October 15, 2022, and was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law as a contested matter on December 9, 2021. N.J.S.A.52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13. The respondent filed a motion dismiss in lieu of an Answer on December 6, 2021. Opposition was filed by Trenton on January 14, 2022, and a reply was filed by DCF on February 14, 2022. There was an oral argument by the parties on April 6, 2022.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Petitioner, Trenton Board of Education (Trenton) is a local education agency and is the District of Residence (DOR) for the child at issue in this matter. New Jersey Department of Children and Families (DCF) is a State agency that serves and supports at-risk children and families, and provides among others, mental health, behavioral health, and addiction services. Children's System of Care (CSOC) provides services to children and adolescents (along with their families) with emotional and behavioral challenges, those with developmental and intellectual disabilities, and those with substance use challenges. J.M. was placed in Legacy Treatment Facility (LTF), a facility, which is contracted by the State to provide such services. DCF was involved in the placement, in connection with the advice and consent of the parents. There has been no termination of the parental rights of J.M., and they remain residents of Trenton.

J.M., was admitted on August 13, 2021, to (LTS), a residential treatment facility located in Burlington County, New Jersey. In connection with this placement, J.M. was to attend the Burlington County Special Services School District in Lumberton, N.J. On or about September 2, 2021, CSOC sent a letter to Trenton notifying them of J.M.'s admission to LTS and requesting acknowledgment by the Board that it would be financially responsible for J.M.'s education and transportation costs while at LTS. Trenton declined to acknowledge their financial responsibility and claimed that it was DCF who was responsible for the educational/tuition and transportation costs for J.M.

because he was "State-placed" in a "State facility." DCF counters that under the plain language of the State Facilities Act, the DOR is responsible for the education and transportation of its students in such facilities. In addition, J.M. was unilaterally placed by his parent who is a resident of Trenton. J.M. is not now, nor has he ever been, a ward of the State.

The relevant FACTS in this matter are undisputed and that matter is ripe for disposition on a Motion to Dismiss.

The relevant facts are, and I FIND the following as FACT:

1. J.M. and his parent reside in the City of Trenton and were residents of Trenton at the time of the placement at LTS.

2. J.M. is not a ward of the State and his parents and/or guardians were involved in, and consented to his placement at LTS.

3. The facility that J.M. was placed in was contracted by the State to provide such services.

4. The State determined that Trenton was the DOR and as such, was responsible for the educational costs of tuition and transportation for J.M. while he was a resident at LTS.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

In deciding a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted under R. 4:6-2(e), "the inquiry is confined to a consideration of the legal sufficiency of the alleged facts apparent on the face of the challenged claim." Rieder v. State, Dep't of Transp., 221 N.J. Super. 547, 552 (App. Div. 1987) (emphasis added). The court may not consider anything beyond whether the complaint states a cognizable cause of action. Id. For purposes of determining the motion, the court must "assume the facts as asserted by [petitioners] are true and give [them] the benefit of all inferences that may be drawn in [their] favor." Velantzas v. Colgate-Palmolive Co., 109 N.J. 189, 192 (1988). If the complaint states no basis for relief and discovery would not supply one, dismissal is the appropriate remedy. Banco Popular N. Am. v. Gandi, 184 N.J. 161, 166 (2005). If the factual allegations are "palpably insufficient to support a claim upon which relief can be granted," the court must dismiss the complaint. Rieder. Moreover, it "runs against the grain of public policy to force a public entity to incur the cost of defending an action that ultimately and undoubtedly will be dismissed on the merits." Tryanowski v. Lodi Bd. of Educ., 274 N.J. Super. 265, 268-69 (Law Div. 1994) (emphasis added).

It is well settled that when children are placed residentially run by the State or contracted by the State, local school districts remain financially responsible for their educational services. The State Facilities Education Act (SFEA) of 1979, N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-2(a), provides as follows:

> For each State-placed child who is resident in a district and in a State facility on the last school day prior to October 16 of the prebudget year, . . . the Commissioner of Education shall deduct from the State aid payable to that district an amount equal to the approved per pupil cost established pursuant to the provisions of section 24 of P.L.1996, c.138 (C.18A:7F-24) . . . .

Regulations promulgated by the Commissioner further clarify which district retains fiscal responsibility for children such as J.M. These regulations recognize that a parent's residence may change, and, accordingly, N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-19.2 provides as follows:

> (a) The district of residence for school funding purposes shall be determined according to the following criteria:
> > 1. The "present district of residence" of a child in a residential state facility defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-45 and referred to in the first paragraph of N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12b means the New Jersey district of residence of the child's parent(s) or guardian(s) as of the last school day prior to October 16.

> 2. The "present district of residence" of a child placed by a state agency in a group home, skill development home, approved private school for students with disabilities or out-of-state facility also referred to in the first paragraph of N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12b means the New Jersey district of residence of the child's parent(s) or guardian(s) as of the date of the child's most recent placement by the state agency. In subsequent school years spent in the educational placement made by a state agency, the child's "present district of residence" shall be determined in the same manner as for a child in a residential state facility as set forth in (a)1 above.

The regulatory reference to the "last school day prior to October 16" is purposeful. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-33, local school districts are required annually, "on or before October 20," to "file with the commissioner a report . . . containing all data necessary to effectuate the aid provisions of P.L. 2007, c. 260 (C. 18A:7F-43 et al.), which shall include . . . the number of pupils enrolled by grade . . . on the last school day prior to October 16." State aid is based, in part, on student enrollment figures. Hence, the regulations that implement the State Facilities Education Act seek to correlate the "district of residence" assignment of financial responsibility with an accurate determination of where a student is included, each academic year, for state aid reporting purposes.

When the State makes a determination as to who is responsible for the child's education and/or a determination about the "district of residency," it is entitled to a presumption of correctness. Bd. of Educ. of S. River v. Dep't of Educ., EDU 10117-98, Initial Decision (November 1, 2000) http://lawlibrary.rutgers.edu/oal/search.html. It is well established that when a local school board contests a DOR determination, the local board bears the burden of proving that the determination was in error. Bd. of Educ. of Bradley Beach v. Dep't of Educ., EDU 4975-99, Comm'r (July 3, 2000) http://lawlibrary.rutgers.edu/oal/search.html. In this case, there has been no termination of parental rights and the child's DOR is Trenton. The State determined that J.M. was a resident of Trenton when placed in the facility in question. Although this is not a residence dispute, the State is entitled to a presumption of correctness and the burden lies on the district challenging the determination, in this case the City of Trenton.

The determination that Trenton is financially responsible for J.M. was consistent with the applicable law and regulations. It is uncontroverted that on the date on which J.M. was placed residentially, his mother resided in Trenton. In accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(b) and N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-19.2, Trenton was responsible for J.M.'s educational costs because Trenton was the district where his mother resided "as of the date of [his] most recent placement by the state agency." N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-19.2(a)(2). The dispute about whether it is a State placement, or a State agency do not come into play in this situation. The child, who was not a ward of the State, and was a resident of Trenton at the time was placed in a State facility.

While N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1 governs the education of typical children, a separate statutory enactment, N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-1 et seq., specifically governs the education of children who have been placed residentially by State agencies. SFEA, and the regulations that interpret it, make it clear that for this latter group of children, a determination of residence is made only once annually. The plain language of N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-1 et seq. and N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-19.2 are clear. These enactments clearly and unequivocally set a point of time, the date of placement, as determinative for the initial residency determination, and go on to provide that the parent's domicile as of the last school day prior to October 16 will be determinative "[i]n subsequent school years." N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-19.2(a)(2).

Even assuming that J.M.'s admission to LTS can be construed as a State placement at a State facility, the law on which entity is financially responsible for his educational and transportation costs is clear. The relevant sections discussing the allocation of financial responsibility are found at N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-2 and -12 under the SFEA. N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-2 states that:

> [f]or each state-placed [and district-placed] child who is resident in a district and in a state facility on the last school day prior to October 16 of the prebudget year . . . the Commissioner of Education shall deduct from the state aid payable to that district an amount equal to the approved per pupil cost . . . . The amount deducted . . . shall be forwarded to the Department of Human Services or the Department of > Children and Families, as applicable, if the facility is operated by or under contract with that department . . . . Amounts so deducted shall be used solely for the support of educational programs and shall be maintained in a separate account for that purpose. No district shall be responsible for the tuition of any child admitted by the State to a state facility after the last school day prior to October 16 of the prebudget year.

Trenton argues that this section provides that a student is placed by the State in a State facility prior to the last school day before October 16, the Commissioner of Education will deduct the amount of aid normally allocated to that student and distribute it to the facility where the student has been placed, and that the district will not be responsible for the tuition of the child. However, such a release of the district's financial responsibility is inconsistent both with the legislative history and the section discussing the criteria for determining the DOR when that child is not a ward of the State and the parents have been involved in the placement. Such an interpretation is also inconsistent with the purpose of the SFEA.

N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12, States that for purposes of school funding, a child's DOR is determined based on a number of criteria, specifically:

> The district of residence for children who are in residential state facilities, or who have been placed by state agencies in group homes, skill development homes, private schools or out-of-state facilities, shall be the present district of residence of the parent or guardian with whom the child lived prior to [their] most recent admission to a state facility or most recent placement by a state agency.

This section states the State will take financial responsibility only in specific scenarios. If the DOR cannot be determined according to the criteria contained herein, if the criteria contained herein identify a DOR outside of the State, or if the child has resided in a domestic violence shelter, homeless shelter, or transitional living facility located outside of the DOR for more than one year, the State shall assume fiscal responsibility for the tuition of the child. And "[i]f the State has assumed fiscal responsibility for the tuition of a child in a private educational facility approved by the Department of Education to serve children who are classified as needing special education services." Id. at (e).

Looking to the legislative history of the SFEA, this act was created to ensure that all children in New Jersey were provided a thorough and efficient education. Sponsor's statements L. 1979, c. 207. The bill's sponsor noted that previously children in State institutions and facilities rarely received an adequate education due to a number of factors, including inadequate appropriations, insufficient emphasis on education within the facilities, a lack of uniform program standards, and ill-defined responsibilities for operating the classes. Ibid. The SFEA was to help ensure that children in such facilities were treated as much as possible like children in the public schools. "First, [the children] will be carried on the roles of the district, and their education will be supported by state aid and district taxes . . . [to] ensure a stable and sufficient source of funds." Ibid.

Both the sponsor's and committee's statements expressly stated that even prior to the SFEA the law held that school districts were required to pay tuition for children in State institutions, but the law was not enforced due to the financial burden the prior funding scheme would place on the school districts. Ibid. As the burden would primarily fall on districts that contained State institutions, rather than spreading the costs to all involved districts. Therefore, the SFEA simplified the guidelines for designating the DOR by tying the child's DOR to the residence of the parent(s) and/or guardian(s) with whom the child resided prior to their placement or admission, or the last known DOR of the child.

When looking to the original text of N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(d), the default DOR was the district where the child resided prior to their admission or placement, the district where the child was placed, or the district where the State facility was located. L. 1979, c. 207, § 18. However, when the SFEA was amended in 1985, it is clear that the Legislature considered assigning the financial responsibilities over such children to the State under additional circumstances. In that regard, the bill's language originally stated that the State would be financially responsible for a child's tuition when the DOR could not be determined for children placed in a State facility or by a State agency. L. 1985, c. 244, § 1. However, amendments by the Assembly's Education Committee removed this addition and changed it to the DOR where the child resided prior to the admission or placement but added that if the DOR still could not be determined or if the DOR was outside of the State, only then would the State assume financial responsibility for the child's tuition. This amendment to the SFEA was proposed to rectify an unintended consequence where districts where State facilities and institutions were located were still paying the tuition costs for children when their normal DOR could not be determined. There is no dispute in this matter that the DOR is Trenton.

It is clear from the legislative history of the SFEA that the Legislature intended the various school districts to remain financially responsible for the children within their districts, or where the children would return after a placement or admission to a State facility for a period of time. The second is clear from the decision to connect the child's DOR to their parents' and/or guardians' present DOR, or the last DOR the child was at before their placement or admission. It also appears evident that the Legislature was concerned with overburdening school districts that contained State facilities and institutions. Finally, the instances where the State assumes financial responsibility are in cases where no district within the State would have, in the pre-budget year, claimed the child as enrolled or present in their district, and so the district would not have budgeted for the child. The Legislature has stated there are few instances where the State is financially responsible and indicates that it is only in these unusual circumstances that the State or its agencies would be responsible for the tuition, transportation, and educational costs of a child in a State facility. There are no unusual circumstances that exist here.

Finally, reading N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-2 in the context of the mandatory reporting deadline of October 20 by which school districts must report to the Commissioner the enrollment numbers for the allocation of state aid, N.J.S.A. 8A:7F-33, it seems far more logical for the exemption to a district's requirement to pay tuition for a child to occur only when a child is moved into a school district after the reporting deadline has passed. Thus, limiting the small time period when a school district may be unexpectedly required to pay for the educational and other costs of a child in a State-facility within the district.

But as this small exemption may cover at most a long weekend due to a State or school holiday, this also fits with the Legislature's intent of enforcing existing law requiring school districts to pay the cost for educating children in State facilities within the district's boundaries. See Bd. Of Educ. Of Piscataway Twp. V. N.J. Dept. of Educ., EDU 05063-10, Oct. 4, 2010 (initial decision), adopted Nov. 8, 2010, aff'd 2012 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 873 (App. Div. 2012); Bd. Of Educ. Of Boonton v. N.J. Dept. of Educ., EDU 12227-12, Feb. 24, 2014 (initial decision). As J.M. was admitted to LTS in August of 2021, with Trenton being aware of his admission on or about September 2, 2021—far before the October 16 deadline—this exemption would not apply regardless.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the City of Trenton is the District of Residence for J.M. and as such, the financial responsibility for the education and transportation for J.M. is with the City of Trenton. I further CONCLUDE that the City of Trenton has not met its burden to demonstrate that the determination of the District of Residence by the State was improper.

ORDER

Based on the foregoing, it is hereby ORDERED as follows:

1. The Motion to Dismiss filed by DCF is GRANTED.

2. The Petition is DISMISSED.

3. It is further ORDERED that Trenton is the District of Residence and is liable the education and transportation of J.M. and others similarly situated in their district.

I hereby FILE this Initial Decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

D.S., on behalf of minor child, M.S.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Hamilton, Mercer County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner challenged the decision of the respondent Board to deny her application for an attendance zone waiver to change M.S.'s school assignment for the 2021–2022 school year from Hamilton High School-East, also known as Steinert High School (Steinert), to Hamilton High School-West (HHS-West). Petitioner's request for the zone waiver was filed prior to October 29, 2021. The Board notified petitioner by letter dated October 29, 2021 that her request was denied. Further, counsel for the Board notified petitioner by letter dated November 5, 2021, that an appeal of the Board's zone waiver denial must be filed with the Commissioner of Education within ninety days of the date of the final decision. Petitioner did not file her appeal of the Board's decision to deny her application for a zone waiver until March 8, 2022. The Board filed a motion for summary decision, which was opposed by the petitioner.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there is no issue of material fact in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), petitioners must file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling or other action by the district board of education, individual Party, or agency, which is the subject of the requested contested case hearing; here, the petitioner received notice of the Board's final decision to deny her request for a zone waiver on October 29, 2021, and on November 5, 2021, counsel for the Board sent a more detailed explanation of the grounds for respondent's decision; petitioner's appeal was not filed until March 8, 2022. The ALJ concluded that the appeal was filed 102 days after petitioner received final notice that her request was denied. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision to the Board and dismissed the petition.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that this matter is time-barred by the 90-day limitations period set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(a). Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter and the petition was dismissed as untimely.

Board of Education of the Township of Hamilton, Mercer County

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law have been reviewed, as have the exceptions to the Initial Decision filed by the petitioner.

Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge's determination that the petition of appeal was time-barred under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i). Additionally, the petitioner has failed to present any exceptional circumstances that might justify a finding that strict adherence to the 90-day rule would result in injustice. Kaprow v. Board of Education of Berkeley Tp., 131 N.J. 572, 590 (1993); N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.16. HAMILTON TOWNSHIP BOARD OF EDUCATION, MERCER COUNTY,
Respondent.

D.S., petitioner, pro se

Michael A. Pattanite, Jr., Esq., for respondent (Lenox Law Firm, attorneys)

Record Closed: June 27, 2022 Decided: July 5, 2022

BEFORE TRICIA M. CALIGUIRE, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner D.S. on behalf of M.S. challenges the decision of respondent Hamilton Township Board of Education, Mercer County (Board) to deny her application for an attendance zone waiver to change M.S.'s school assignment for the 2021–2022 school year from Hamilton High School-East, also known as Steinert High School (Steinert), to Hamilton High School-West (HHS-West).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 8, 2022, petitioner filed a petition of appeal with the New Jersey Department of Education (DOE), Office of Controversies and Disputes. On March 28, 2022, respondent filed a motion for summary decision in lieu of an answer.[1] The Acting Commissioner of Education did not rule on the motion but transmitted it with the petition to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on April 4, 2022, for hearing as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15, and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The matter was assigned to the Honorable Jeffrey N. Rabin, ALJ, and scheduled for a prehearing conference. By emails dated May 3, 2022, petitioner requested that the matter be reassigned due to an alleged conflict of interest; the matter was reassigned to the undersigned[2] and scheduled for a prehearing conference on May 31, 2022. During the prehearing conference, petitioner made an offer of settlement; counsel for respondent agreed to report on his client's response on or before June 13, 2022.

On June 12, 2022, petitioner received notice by electronic mail that respondent declined her offer of settlement. The parties appeared for a telephone conference on June 13, 2022;[3] petitioner requested and was granted the opportunity to submit a brief in opposition to the motion for summary decision on or before June 27, 2022. With petitioner's timely submission, respondent's motion is now ripe for review.

[1] Respondent filed a motion for summary decision rather than a motion to dismiss because respondent relies on materials outside the pleadings. R. 4:6-2(e).

[2] On several occasions, petitioner has stated in writing that during an earlier proceeding involving these same parties, I advised her to file this appeal. That statement is not accurate. During discussions of the potential settlement of the matter docketed as EDS 05336-21, petitioner expressed her continued interest in having M.S. attend HHS-West and I asked her if she had appealed the District's decision to deny her application for a zone waiver. When she responded that she had not appealed, I noted that she was by then precluded from doing so by regulation requiring appeals within ninety days of the disputed action. During the telephone conference of May 31, 2022, petitioner agreed with my recollection of our discussion.

[3] As petitioner notes, despite due notice, the firm representing respondent did not appear for this conference until contacted by petitioner at my request. See Petitioner's Supplement to Pro Se Petition (June 27, 2022), ¶ 8.

The following FACTS are not in dispute and accordingly, I FIND:

The Hamilton Township School District (District) operates three high schools and assigns students within the District to a specific high school based on pre-determined residential boundary lines. The District Regulation #5120 (quoted below) sets forth the criteria that the District uses to evaluate a request for permission to attend a high school outside of the applicable boundary lines.

M.S. is a seventeen-year-old female. She began the 2021–2022 school year in eleventh grade at Gateway High School in Florida. On or before November 1, 2021, M.S. moved with her mother, D.S., back to New Jersey and took up residence in Hamilton Township within the geographic zone assigned by the District to Steinert.

On or before October 29, 2021, D.S. applied to the District for an attendance zone waiver by which M.S. would attend high school at HHS-West rather than Steinert.[4] By letter dated October 29, 2021, the District denied petitioner's application. This letter stated in pertinent part:

> If you have any additional data/documentation to provide which meets the [Regulation #5120] criteria, please contact the Office of Administration. Your new information will be reviewed to determine your eligibility.
> [Brief in Support of Respondent's Motion for Summary Decision (March 28, 2022), Ex. C.]

On October 29, 2021, petitioner notified respondent that M.S. would be residing at an alternative address within the zone for HHS-West. In response, James Altobello, Ed.D., Director of Secondary Education, provided petitioner with detailed instructions for registering M.S. using a third-party address rather than her parent's address.[5] Id., Ex. E.

[4] Neither party provided this application, but there is no dispute that it was submitted by petitioner to respondent in advance of October 29, 2021.

[5] Respondent claims that petitioner did not submit paperwork to support the use of a third-party address. Petitioner has not provided proof of such a submission, nor has she disputed this assertion by respondent.

By letter dated November 5, 2021, counsel for the Board notified petitioner of the basis for the decision to deny her application for a zone waiver and stated that an appeal of this decision must be filed with the Commissioner of Education within ninety days of the date of the decision. Id., Ex. F. Petitioner contends that staff at the DOE stated that the deadline for an appeal of a Board decision is two years after the date of the decision. Petitioner's Supplement to Pro Se Petition (June 27, 2022), ¶ 1.

Since approximately November 8, 2021, M.S. has attended eleventh grade at Steinert.

Petitioner filed her appeal of respondent's decision to deny her application for a zone waiver on March 8, 2022, 102 days after she was notified of respondent's decision.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

To begin, petitioner disputes the designation of this matter by the DOE as one arising under the school laws (and therefore, bearing the OAL heading "EDU") rather than under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 U.S.C. §§ 1400 to 1482 (IDEA) (which would bear the OAL heading "EDS"). Petitioner's Supplement, ¶ 2.

The Commissioner of DOE is authorized to hear and determine controversies under the school law. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9; N.J.A.C. 6A:2-1.2. However, the State Director of the Office of Special Education (OSE) determines whether a local education agency has violated the requirements of state and federal laws regarding the provision of special education and related services. N.J.A.C. 6A:14-9.2. Petitioner argues that the decision to deny her petition to place M.S. at HHS-West results in a failure to provide M.S. with a free appropriate public education (FAPE) because Steinert does not provide M.S. with the services she is due under her IEP. Petitioner's Supplement, ¶ ¶ 2, 5.

There is no dispute that M.S. is eligible for special education and related services and has an individual education program (IEP) developed for her by the child study team at Steinert. Petitioner has brought several claims on behalf of M.S. under the IDEA. By her own words, however, petitioner filed this matter to appeal the decision of the District to deny her application for a zone waiver. I CONCLUDE that this matter was properly transmitted by the DOE as arising under the school laws.

It is well-established that if there is no genuine issue as to any material fact, a moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law. Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Co. of America, 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995). The purpose of summary decision is to avoid unnecessary hearings and their concomitant burden on public resources. Under the Brill standard, a fact-finding hearing should be avoided "when the evidence is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law." Brill guides as follows:

> [A] determination whether there exists a 'genuine issue' of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party.

In explaining the standard to be applied in summary motion practice, the Brill Court explained:

> The same standard applies to determine whether a prima facie case has been established by the party bearing the burden of proof in a trial. . . . If a case involves no material factual disputes, the court disposes of it as a matter of law by rendering judgment in favor of the moving or non-moving party.

As discussed above, I CONCLUDE that the parties raise no dispute with respect to material facts and the issue of whether petitioner's appeal must be dismissed for being filed after the applicable statutory deadline can be decided as a matter of law.

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i) states that to initiate a contested case for the Commissioner's determination of a controversy or dispute arising under the school laws,

The purpose of the ninety-day limitation period is "to stimulate litigants to pursue a right of action within reasonable time so that the opposing party may have a fair opportunity to defend, thus preventing the litigation of stale claims[,]" to penalize delay, and to provide some assurance that a claim will not be raised after the limitations period has passed. Kaprow v. Board of Education of Berkeley Township, 131 N.J. 572, 587 (1993) (citations omitted). With regard to the adequacy of notice, the Supreme Court explained that "notice must be sufficient to inform an individual of some fact that he or she has a right to know and that the communicating party has a duty to communicate[,]" such that the individual has the information needed to file a timely claim. Id. at 588-89 (an unofficial and informal note that Board had taken a position contrary to petitioner was sufficient to trigger the start of the ninety-day period).

Here, on October 29, 2021, the District issued a written denial to which petitioner responded multiple times the same day. On November 5, 2021, counsel for the Board sent a more detailed explanation of the grounds for respondent's decision. I CONCLUDE that the respondent fulfilled the notice requirement on October 29, 2021.

The regulations further provide the Commissioner with discretion to relax the limitations period "in any case where a strict adherence thereto may be deemed inappropriate or unnecessary or may result in injustice." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6. Case law makes clear, however, that relaxing the ninety-day rule occurs only under exceptional circumstances or if there is a compelling reason to do so. 131 N.J. at 590; Polaha v. Buena Reg'l. Sch. Dist., 212 N.J. Super. 628, 635 (App. Div. 1986) (case remanded to Commissioner to consider whether the ninety-day rule should be relaxed because the petitioner and the respondent engaged in discussions in an attempt to "agree on an acceptable position"). Here, there is no evidence that the District gave any consideration

In the Matter of Gregory Johnson,
Board of Education of the Township of Lawrence, Mercer County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent completed the required training before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days.

Following the SEC's May 24, 2022 decision, respondent emailed the SEC, indicating that the SEC was using an incorrect email address and that he had not received any of the communications from the SEC prior to the May 24, 2022 decision. Accordingly, respondent

Docket No.: T26-21
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Gregory Johnson,
Lawrence Township Board of Education, Mercer County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on April 16, 2022, and also served on April 26, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Gregory Johnson (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on April 26, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Lawrence Township Board of Education (Board), located in Mercer County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 2 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or April 15, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2021, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on April 26, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent failed to respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why he did not complete training by December 31, 2021, and also failed to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of the Commissioner of Education's decision.

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Resolution Adopting Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner Docket No.: T26-21

Whereas, Gregory Johnson (Respondent) is a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act); and

Whereas, as a board member, Respondent is required to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) on an annual basis; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to complete his training program by December 31, 2021; and

Whereas, at its meeting on April 26, 2022, the School Ethics Commission (Commission) issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) directing Respondent to show cause as to why he failed to complete his mandatory training by December 31, 2021, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1; and

Whereas, after having been served with the OTSC, Respondent failed to respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why he did not complete training by March 31, 2021, and also failed to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 by failing to complete the training requirement he was obligated to complete; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon issuance of a final decision by the Commissioner of Education. However, if Respondent completes training before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon issuance of a final decision by the Commissioner of Education; and

Whereas, at its meeting on May 24, 2022, the Commission agreed that the within decision accurately memorializes its findings and recommendations; and

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Commission hereby adopts the within decision and directs its staff to notify all parties to this action of the decision.

Final Decision

Board of Education of the City of Englewood, Bergen County, Petitioner,

v.

Angela David,

Respondent.

Synopsis

The Englewood Board of Education filed a petition and motion for emergent relief, seeking the removal of the respondent from the Board based on an alleged conflict of interest pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. Respondent is also on the Board of Trustees of ESTEPNJ, Inc. (ESTEP), a nonprofit entity that filed an application for the use of one of the school district's facilities for a summer theater arts program in 2018. In May 2019, the Board initiated a lawsuit against ESTEP for failure to pay $4,535 of the $24,750 total rental cost for the facility, and a judgment was entered against ESTEP in that amount in November 2019. The Board alleged that respondent's interest in the judgment and total amount due and owing to the Board disqualifies respondent from membership on the Board. Respondent claimed that the motion for emergent relief was substantively and procedurally barred and sought dismissal of the petition as well as costs and attorney fees.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the Board demonstrated entitlement to emergent relief; ESTEP and the petitioning Board had adverse interests; respondent, as a member of ESTEP's Board of Trustees, must therefore be disqualified from membership on the Englewood Board of Education; and no further issues are left to be decided in this matter. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion for emergent relief and ordered respondent suspended from her position on the Board; further, respondent's request for attorney fees and costs was denied.

Upon review, the Commissioner, inter alia, disagreed with the ALJ's findings and conclusion, and found instead that the Board's judgment against ESTEP does not create a disqualifying conflict of interest. In so doing, the Commissioner concluded that the inconsistent interests that can result in disqualification under N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 are limited to those listed in the statute, i.e., a contract with the board, or a claim against the Board. Here, the claim at issue is the Board's claim against ESTEP – a claim that does not meet the requirement of the statute. Accordingly, the Commissioner reversed the Initial Decision of the OAL. Respondent was not disqualified from membership on the board by virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and may continue to serve in her position; however, her motion for legal fees and costs related to her defense herein was denied, as the Commissioner does not have the authority to award such fees.

Final Decision

Board of Education of the City of Englewood, Bergen County

Petitioner,

v.

Angela David,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by respondent pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

The Board filed a petition of appeal and motion for emergent relief, seeking the removal of respondent from the Board based on an alleged conflict of interest pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. Respondent is on the Board of Trustees of ESTEPNJ, Inc. (ESTEP), a nonprofit entity that filed an application for the use of one of the district's school facilities for a summer theater arts program in 2018. In May 2019, the Board initiated a lawsuit against ESTEP for failure to pay $4,535 of the $24,750 total rental cost for the facility. In November 2019, the Superior Court entered a judgment against ESTEP for that amount, plus court costs and attorney's fees; the judgment amount has since increased to $5,831.87 due to interest and additional costs and fees. The Board's petition alleged that respondent's interest in the judgment and total amount due and owing to the Board disqualifies respondent from membership on the Board.

Following submissions and oral argument, the ALJ concluded that the Board had demonstrated entitlement to emergent relief. The ALJ found that ESTEP and the Board had adverse interests and that respondent, as a trustee of ESTEP, was therefore disqualified from membership on the Board. The ALJ also found that there were no further issues left to be decided in this matter.

In a letter which was not expressly identified as exceptions, but which the Commissioner deems to be exceptions, respondent argues that this matter involves a political issue that is not proper for judicial review. Respondent states that she had no financial interest in ESTEP, which has not operated since 2018. Respondent contends that this matter has already been adjudicated in her favor when the School Ethics Commission ruled that a complaint against her related to ESTP was out of time, such that this matter is barred by the doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel. Finally, respondent argues that the petition is untimely because her involvement with ESTEP has been known to the Board for over two years.[1]

In its reply to petitioner's exceptions,[2] the Board argues that respondent has a disqualifying interest in the Board's claim, and that respondent's service as a member of the board of trustees of ESTEP places her in a position of competing loyalties between ESTEP and the Board. The Board also contends that respondent's res judicata and collateral estoppel arguments are without merit, because the issues raised in this matter have never been considered or decided in any other forum.

[1] Respondent also submitted a July 10, 2022 document removing her from the Board of Trustees of ESTEP. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4(c), evidence not presented at the hearing shall not be submitted as part of an exception. Accordingly, neither this evidence, nor the Board's response thereto, was considered.

[2] The Board argues that respondent's letter does not comply with N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 because it does not specify the findings of fact or conclusions of law to which exception is taken, propose alternative findings or conclusions, or set forth supporting reasons. The Commissioner notes the Board's argument, but nonetheless has determined to accept respondent's letter as her exceptions, with any deficiencies in the format of her filing going to the weight of her arguments, rather than the acceptance of the document as exceptions.

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 provides that a member of a board of education may not "be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with or claim against the board."[3] While the title of this provision is "Inconsistent interests or office prohibited," the title of the provision cannot expand the actual, plain language of the statute. The inconsistent interests that can result in disqualification are only those listed in the statute – a contract with the board, or a claim against the Board.[4] Here, the claim at issue is the Board's claim against ESTEP – a claim that does not meet the requirement of the statute.[5] Accordingly, the Commissioner concludes that the Board's judgment against ESTEP does not create a disqualifying conflict of interest.

The Commissioner notes that N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 also prohibits a board member from being interested in a contract with the board. The petition alleges only that respondent "has a direct and/or indirect interest in the Board's claim that it is presently owed $5,831.87" and that respondent's "interest in the judgment and total amount due and owing to the Board"

[3] N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 also prevents board members from holding certain other public offices, a provision that is not at issue here.

[4] The Commissioner notes that other types of conflicts may be violations of the School Ethics Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24 et seq. However, the pending matter does not allege any violations of the School Ethics Act, nor would the Commissioner have jurisdiction to address those claims, as jurisdiction lies with the School Ethics Commission.

[5] The cases cited by the Board, where the Commissioner or court found that removal was appropriate, all involve board members who had monetary claims against the boards on which they served. See Bd. of Educ. of City of Sea Isle v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1 (2008); Bd. of Educ. of Twp. of Barnegat v. Robert A. Houser, Commissioner Decision No. 306-07, decided July 30, 2007; Bd. of Educ. of Bor. of Hawthorne, Passaic Cty. v. Albert W. Taliaferro, Commissioner Decision No. 328-93, decided Dec. 30, 1993; Bd. of Educ. of Twp. of Jackson, Ocean Cty. v. Gustavo Acevedo, Jr., Commissioner Decision No. 22-92, decided Feb. 6, 1992.

disqualifies her from membership. Nonetheless, in the interest of completeness, the Commissioner will also address the portion of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 pertaining to contracts with the board. It is not clear to the Commissioner, based on the record, that there was a contract between ESTEP and the Board. However, even assuming that ESTEP's application to use school facilities and the Board's approval of that application created a contract, that contract has been fully concluded.[6] As such, respondent is not currently interested in a contract with the Board, and the Commissioner finds no basis in the statute or related case law to conclude that a past contract creates a current disqualifying interest.[7]

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is reversed. Petitioner is not disqualified from membership on the board by virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and may continue to serve in her position.[8]

IT IS SO ORDERED.[9]

[6] There is no indication in the record that there is any ongoing business between the Board and ESTEP. Furthermore, to the extent that the payment owed pursuant to the (presumed) contract is outstanding, that amount has been litigated and entered as a judgment, such that there is no possible further business between the parties that is specific to the contract.

[7] In light of this conclusion, the Commissioner does not reach the issues of res judicata and collateral estoppel raised by respondent. However, the Commissioner does note that the School Ethics Commission adjudicates claims under the School Ethics Act and does not have jurisdiction to make determinations regarding disqualifying conflicts of interest pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2.

[8] Respondent filed a cross-motion for legal fees and costs related to her defense of the petition of appeal. The Commissioner does not have the authority to award legal fees and costs and, therefore, the motion is denied.

[9] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE CITY OF ENGLEWOOD, BERGEN COUNTY,

Petitioner,

v.

ANGELA DAVID,

Respondent.

Perry L. Lattiboudere, Esq., for Petitioner (Adams Gutierrez & Lattiboudere, LLC, attorneys)

Eric V. Kleiner, Esq., for Respondent

Record Closed: June 29, 2022 Decided: June 30, 2022

BEFORE: JOHN P. SCOLLO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The Englewood Board of Education ("Petitioner" or "Englewood BOE" or "BOE") seeks an Order for injunctive relief from the Commissioner of Education suspending a BOE member, Angela David ("A.D."), from serving on the BOE pending the Commissioner's determination of her qualifications under N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 (the section captioned, "Inconsistent interests or office prohibited") due to an outstanding monetary judgment obtained by the BOE against ESTEPNJ, Inc. ESTEPNJ, Inc. is a non-profit corporation on whose Board of Trustees A.D. has served since its incorporation. Respondent-A.D. claims that the emergent petition presently before the Tribunal is substantively and procedurally barred and she seeks a denial of the BOE's petition as well as costs and attorney's fees.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On June 23, 2022, the BOE filed with the New Jersey Department of Education a "Motion for Emergent Relief pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6" seeking an Order immediately suspending A.D. from serving as a member of the BOE pending the Commissioner's determination of her qualifications under N.J.S.A. 18A: 12-2.

On June 24, 2022, A.D.'s counsel filed A.D. Opposition papers claiming that the BOE's emergent petition is substantively barred and procedurally barred, and seeking costs and attorney's fees incurred in this matter. A.D. supplemented her opposition on June 28, 2022.

On June 24, 2022 the N.J. Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted this matter to the Office of Administrative Law, where is was filed on June 24, 2022 as a contested case.

DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS OF FACT

The Office of Controversies and Disputes did not frame either a specific fact question or a specific legal question for this Tribunal to decide.

During the June 29, 2022 hearing, Mr. Lattiboudere (counsel for the Englewood BOE) and Mr. Kleiner (counsel for A.D.) agreed with me on the following Statements of Fact:

(1) ESTEPNJ, Inc. is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit corporation incorporated in New Jersey on April 3, 2018.

(2) ESTEPNJ, Inc. is not a "for profit" corporation and, as such, has no shares of stock and no stockholders.

(3) As noted on the Certificate of Incorporation (ITEM #2 of Attorney Kleiner's exhibits), ESTEPNJ, Inc.'s initial Board of Trustees consisted of Darryl David, Angela David, and Brianna David, all of whom remain as members of the Board of Trustees today.

(4) Darryl David and Angela David are married to each other and Brianna David is their daughter.

(5) To the best of the Attorney's knowledge and belief, Darryl David and Angela David filed a Petition for Bankruptcy, but it appears that ESTEPNJ, Inc. did not file for bankruptcy.

(6) ESTEPNJ, Inc. is still a viable incorporated entity, but it is currently not active nor conducting business.

(7) On May 21, 2019 the Englewood BOE filed a lawsuit in the Bergen County Special Civil Part against ESTEPNJ, Inc. alleging breach of a contract and seeking monetary damages.

(8) On November 8. 2019, the Bergen County Special Civil Part issued a judgment in favor to the Englewood BOE against ESTEPNJ, Inc. in the amount of $4,722.70, which is still unsatisfied.

APPLICABLE LAW

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(a) provides:

> Where the subject matter of the controversy is a particular course of action by a district board of education ... the petitioner may include with the petition of appeal, a separate motion for emergent relief ... pending the Commissioner's final decision in the contested case."

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) provides:

> A motion for stay or emergent relief shall be accompanied by a letter memorandum or brief which shall address the following standards to be met for granting such relief pursuant to Crowe v. DeGioia , 90 N.J. 126 (1982):
>
> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
>
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
>
> 4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.

Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982) arose out of a set of circumstances regarding support and palimony matters. Nonetheless, the case has been the polestar decision in New Jersey for cases wherein injunctive relief is sought. The case stands for the proposition that an injunction cannot be granted unless and until the party seeking relief presents clear and convincing evidence that: (1) the injunction is "necessary to prevent irreparable harm"; (2) that "the legal right underlying the claim is settled"; (3) that the party seeking relief has made "a preliminary showing of a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits"; and (4) that "the relative hardship to the parties in granting or denying [injunctive] relief", on a balancing of the equities, weighs in his favor. Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132-34. In order to prevail, the party seeking injunctive relief must demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that he meets all four Crowe factors. Brown v. City of Paterson, 424 N.J. Super. 176, 183 (App. Div. 2012).

"[A] party who seeks mandatory preliminary injunctive relief must satisfy a 'particularly heavy' burden." Guaman v. Velez, 421 N.J. Super. 239, 247 (App. Div. 2011), Rinaldo v. RLB Inv., LLC, 387 N.J. Super. 387, 396 (App. Div. 2006).

Also, "[w]hen a case presents an issue of 'significant public importance', a court must [also] consider the public interest in addition to the traditional Crowe factors." Garden State Equal. v. Dow, 216 N.J. 314, 321 (2013).

Appellate courts are bound by the trial court's factual findings if they are supported by "substantial, credible evidence" in the record. Triffin v. Automatic Data Processing, Inc., 411 N.J. Super. 292,315 (App. Div. 2010).

Under the first Crowe factor, a party who seeks injunctive relief must establish that injunctive relief is necessary to prevent irreparable harm and to preserve the status quo. Citizens Coach Co. v. Camden Horse R.R. Co. , 29 N.J. Eq. 299, 303 (E.&A. 1878). Irreparable harm is an "injury to be suffered in the absence of injunctive relief [that] is substantial and imminent." Waste Mgmt. of N.J., Inc. v. Union City Utils. Auth., 399 N.J. Super. 508, 520 (App. Div. 2008).

Under the second Crowe factor, injunctive relief will be withheld when the legal right underlying the claim is unsettled. Citizens Coach, at ps. 304-05.

Under the third Crowe factor, the party seeking relief is obligated to present clear and convincing evidence that he / she has a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits. Therefore, injunctive relief will not be granted where there are material facts in controversy. Citizens Coach at ps. 305-06. The party who seeks injunctive relief must be prepared to demonstrate facts which support his case and "must make a preliminary showing of reasonable probability of success on the merits." Crowe, at p. 133.

The second and third Crowe factors involve fact-sensitive analysis that "requires a determination of whether the material facts are in dispute, and whether the applicable law is settled." Waste Mgmt., at p. 528.

Under the fourth Crowe factor, the party who seeks injunctive relief must address the issue of relative hardship to the parties and he must establish that, on balance, the equities favor the grant of temporary relief to maintain the status quo pending the outcome of a final hearing." Crowe at p. 134. The party seeking injunctive relief must prove his case by clear and convincing evidence. Brown at p. 183 and thus his burden is 'particularly heavy'. Guaman at p. 247.

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 states:

> No member of any board of education shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with or claim against the board, nor, in the case of local and regional school districts, shall he hold office as mayor or as a member of the governing body of a municipality, nor, in the case of county special services school districts and county vocational school districts, shall he hold office as a member of the governing body of a county. [Emphasis supplied.]

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(j) states:

> Nothing shall prohibit any school official, or members of his immediate family, from representing himself, or themselves, in negotiations or proceedings concerning his, or their, own interests.

In Board of Educ. of Sea Isle City v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1 (2008) a Board of Education member (the President of the BOE) and his wife had an autistic child for whom they sought an IEP. Litigation ensued between the Kennedys and the school district. Kennedy voluntarily resigned from the BOE. The parties reached a settlement. The following year, Kennedy was again elected to the BOE. Claiming that the school district had violated the settlement agreement, Mrs. Kennedy filed applications requesting a due process hearing and an emergent hearing seeking various relief, including payment for services which Mrs. Kennedy provided for her son, attorney's fees, expert's fees, costs, and expenses. The school district sought a declaratory ruling from the Commissioner that the applications created a conflict of interest, which was incompatible with Mr. Kennedy's continued BOE membership. The matter was referred to the Office of Administrative Law, where an ALJ issued a decision finding that Mr. Kennedy's conduct was permissible under the School Ethics Act (N.J.S.A. 18A: 12-21 to -34 because Kennedy's due process request was designed to protect the educational rights of his child and was permitted by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(j), which allows a school official to represent himself or his immediate family member concerning his / their own interests. Nonetheless, the Commissioner rejected the ALJ's recommendation, determined that Kennedy's actions created a disqualifying conflict of interest under N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and ordered Kennedy's removal from the BOE. The State Board of Education affirmed the removal. The Appellate Division also affirmed the removal.

The Supreme Court undertook the task of harmonizing the N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and N.J.S.A. 18A: 12-24j. In Kennedy, the Supreme Court held that not all controversies and disputes between parents and school districts should require a sitting board member's removal from office. The Court emphasized that what was needed was a fact-sensitive analysis in each individual case to determine whether the BOE member's interest constitutes a substantial conflict requiring his removal from office as the sole remedy. The Court noted that not all claims result in a substantial conflict. Because of this, the Court considers all factors such as whether the BOE member is pursuing a claim in the public interest or whether he is pursuing a claim for his own aggrandizement or financial gain. The Court expressed its concern that BOE members who have handicapped children should not have to fear the loss of their elected office in the event that they question or challenge the appropriateness of their own children's education. The Supreme Court concluded that a BOE member should not be removed from office merely because he has advanced any claim "in a proceeding" against a school district involving the member's or an immediate family member's interests. However, in the Kennedy case, because the due process claim included a request for monetary relief, the Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the Appellate Division, as modified therein.

ANALYSIS OF THE ARGUMENTS ON THE PENDING MOTION

Counsel for Petitioner-BOE makes the following arguments pursuant to the four factors governing the granting of injunctive relief set forth in Crowe v. DiGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982).

The First Crowe Factor

Regarding the first Crowe factor, the BOE's counsel notes that irreparable harm can be found when money damages is not a sufficient remedy, or when there is no adequate after-the-fact remedy available, or when the party seeking relief suffers severe personal inconvenience. The BOE's argument in support of proving irreparable harm is that if A.D. is ultimately determined by the Commissioner to be unqualified under N.J.S.A. 18A:12.2, then A.D.'s continued interim presence on the BOE, and her continued voting on matters coming before the BOE, can and will bring all her votes into question and thereby create a likelihood of litigation against the BOE by persons and entities affected by said votes. This exposure to litigation and possible liability would result in substantial and irreparable harm to the BOE. Moreover, A.D.'s continued presence on the BOE, pending the Commissioner's Final Decision, would put her in a position where she would learn sensitive and confidential information not available to the general public. Should the Commissioner's Final Decision determine that A.D. is unqualified and should therefore be removed from the BOE, the knowledge obtained in the interim could, if divulged, prejudice the interests of the BOE.

The Second Crowe Factor

Regarding the second Crowe factor, the BOE's counsel argues that the legal rights underlying its claim for relief is well settled. Counsel points out that N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 unequivocally prohibits a BOE member's continued membership if he or she has an interest that is adverse to the interests of the BOE. Here, the BOE has a money judgement against ETEPNJ, Inc. a non-profit corporation to which A.D. owes a fiduciary duty since she serves as one of ESTEPNJ, Inc.'s Trustees. The word "interest" in the Statute denotes more than a financial interest in a for-profit or a non-profit corporation or any other entity. It encompasses any concern with any such entity. A trustee of a non-profit corporation is duty-bound as a fiduciary to protect the interests of that entity and thus there is a readily discernable "concern" or "interest". The BOE seeks to recover the money owed to it by ESTEPNJ, Inc. and ESTEPNJ, Inc. has not yet satisfied the judgment issued by the Bergen County Special Civil Part on November 8, 2019. It is therefore clear that the interests of the two entities to which A.D. owes her loyalty are adverse (i.e., A.D. has been placed in a position where she has conflicting loyalties). Therefore, there is no doubt that the BOE's right to seek A.D.'s removal from the BOE, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, has been established.

The Third Crowe Factor

That the money judgment issued by the Bergen County Special Civil Part on November 8, 2019 is still unsatisfied, in and of itself demonstrates that the BOE has a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits of its claim against ESTEPNJ, Inc., an entity to which A.D., as a trustee, owes a fiduciary duty.

The Fourth Crowe Factor

The BOE's argument in support of the fourth Crowe factor (that the relative harm to the parties falls heavier on it than it does on A.D.) is, as noted above, that any votes cast by A.D. on BOE matters can and will expose the BOE to the probability of claims and lawsuits and potential liability, if the Commissioner ultimately determines in his Final Decision that A.D. is (and has been) unqualifies to serve as a BOE member pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A: 12.2. This would expose the BOE to a greater harm than any conceivable harm to A.D. in the circumstances presented. The BOE's argument comes down to the following: the balance between A.D.'s interest in continuing to serve on the BOE and the BOE's potential exposure to multiple lawsuits weighs heavily in favor of the relief seeker, the BOE.

LEGAL ANALYSIS OF THE ARGUMENTS CONCERNING THE CROWE FACTORS AND CONCLUSIONS

Analysis of the First Crowe Factor: The Claim of Irreparable Harm

A party seeking injunctive relief must demonstrate the need for relief by clear and convincing evidence. Brown, supra. The party seeking injunctive relief must demonstrate that the claim of irreparable harm is substantial and imminent. Waste Mgmt., supra. I CONCLUDE that the BOE has adequately demonstrated that it can and will likely suffer irreparable harm and therefore the BOE has satisfied the first Crowe factor.

Analysis of the Second Crowe Factor: Whether The Law is Settled or Not

The Board cites and relies on the provisions of N.JS.A. 18A:12-2. I CONCLUDE that the law is settled, and that N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 sets forth that a member of a BOE cannot continue to serve if she has interests that are in conflict with her duties to the BOE. I CONCLUDE that the BOE has demonstrated that A.D. is in a position where she serves two competing masters and therefore she cannot continue to serve on the BOE pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. I CONCLUDE that the BOE has satisfied the second Crowe factor.

Analysis of the Third Crowe Factor: That D'Amico has Shown a Reasonable Likelihood of Success on the Merits

I CONCLUDE that the BOE has demonstrated that it has a reasonable probability of success on the merits. Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the BOE has satisfied the third Crowe factor.

Analysis of the Fourth Crowe Factor : Relative Harm to the Parties

The BOE has demonstrated that its exposure to lawsuits is realistic and it can suffer harm that would be greater than any conceivable harm that might be visited upon A.D. Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the BOE has satisfied the fourth Crowe factor.

Application of the Kennedy Decision

Both parties cited the case of Board of Educ. of Sea Isle City v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1 (2008). The following is my analysis of the parties' arguments pursuant to the Kennedy decision.

The upshot of Kennedy case is that the Supreme Court held that removal should not be automatic, but rather should be appraised on a close factual analysis on a case-by-case. The Court would consider whether there is a substantial, disqualifying conflict of interest identified by the type of claim (one motivated by the desire to advance the benefit of the public at large versus one motivated, even in part, for personal aggrandizement or for financial reasons) or by the type of proceeding, i.e., whether it was brought under N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 or under the School Ethics Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 to -34. The Court made it clear in Kennedy, that when the Board member has a financial interest in the claim, then he has a conflict of interest. Therefore, the court ruled that Kennedy could not continue to remain on the BOE and he can be removed. Furthermore, the language of N.J.S.A. 18A-12.2 is not limited to financial interests. It follows that any interest in an entity that is adverse to the interests of the BOE will suffice to trigger the disqualification of a BOE member from serving on the BOE.

In the matter at bar, the BOE has a money judgment against ESTEPNJ, Inc., which remains unsatisfied. A.D.'s service as a member of the Board of Trustees of ESTEPNJ, Inc. places her in a position where she has competing loyalties to ESTEPNJ, Inc. on the one hand and the BOE on the other. This division of loyalty is proscribed by N.J.S.A. 18A: 12-2 and the statute is clear that in such circumstances, the BOE member cannot continue to serve as a BOE member.

Therefore, in line with the plain language of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, I CONCLUDE that there is good reason for A.D.'s suspension from the Board pending the Commissioner's Final Decision.

I CONCLUDE that the facts and arguments presented by A.D.'s counsel to this Tribunal do not demonstrate that the issue before this Tribunal has previously been decided and is therefore barred by the doctrines of res judicata and/or collateral estoppel. The issue before this Tribunal involves whether A.D., who is a board member of the Englewood BOE and who is also a member of the Board of Trustees of ESTEPNJ, Inc. can continue to serve on the Englewood BOE in light of the prohibitions set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A: 12-2. The above-stated issue presently before this Tribunal does not pertain to whether or not Darryl Davis is an Englewood fireman, whether or not the summer camp was closed due to allegations of improper fingerprinting or improper filings of paperwork, whether or not A.D. is an "owner" of ESTEPNJ, Inc., whether or not A.D. was a volunteer working for ESTEPNJ, Inc., whether A.D. was ever paid for her services rendered to ESTEPNJ, Inc., whether or not A.D. ever attempted to pay ESTEPNJ, Inc.'s debts with her own personal check, whether or not Angela David and Darryl David filed for bankruptcy, or whether or not A.D. has "political" enemies. I CONCLUDE, from the information before me, that the issue before this Tribunal has not been previously decided. I CONCLUDE that there are no further issues left to be decided by this Tribunal.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the BOE's motion for emergent relief in the form of an Order suspending Angela David from the Englewood BOE pending the ultimate determination of the Commissioner of Education should be, and hereby is GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that Angela David's motion for the award of her costs and attorney's fees should be, and hereby is DENIED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

BEFORE SUSANA E. GUERRERO, ALJ:

Petitioner K.D. on behalf of A.S. filed a Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education challenging the residency determination issued by the respondent Board of Education of Fair Lawn. The Department of Education transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed on March 4, 2022 as a contested case. At the hearing scheduled on June 20, 2022, the parties reached an amicable resolution.

Subsequently, counsel for respondent submitted the attached Settlement Agreement and General Release, along with correspondence from the Board approving the settlement.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of the consent order and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the consent order as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The consent order fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and, therefore, ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and General Release (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Respondent, Fair Lawn Public Schools Board of Education ("Board" or "District"), located at 37-01 Fair Lawn Avenue, Fair Lawn, New Jersey, 07410, and Petitioner K.D. on behalf of her daughter, A.S. ("Petitioner" or "Parent"), whose residency within the District has not been proved by a preponderance of the evidence (the Board and Parents are collectively referred to as the "Parties"). This Agreement is being entered into by the Parties to resolve and settle all outstanding issues between the Parties as follows:

WHEREAS, the District investigated Petitioner's residency throughout the 2021-2022 school year while A.S. (Student ID: 15351) was registered as an in-district student and attending Fair Lawn High School located at 14-00 Berdan Avenue, Fair Lawn, New Jersey 07410; and

WHEREAS, the District's investigation was unable to verify Petitioner's Fair Lawn residency and notified the Petitioner of the investigation's conclusion on October 19, 2021; and

WHEREAS, on January 13, 2022, the Board held a hearing in which the Parent was afforded the opportunity to speak to the Board in objection to the non-residency determination; and

WHEREAS, on January 21, 2022, after considering the investigation and information provided at the hearing, the Board determined that student A.S. was not domiciled in Fair Lawn, and instead was domiciled in Prospect Park, New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, Petitioner filed a Residency Appeal with the Commissioner of Education with the New Jersey State Department of Education on February 9, 2022; and

WHEREAS, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants contained herein and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by the Parties, the Parties enter into this Agreement to outline their agreement, release claims, and express the full and complete and final terms of same; and

WHEREAS, this Agreement does not entitle Petitioner or her dependents to continue enrollment with the District without Board approval of the terms below;

NOW, THEREFORE, THE PARTIES HEREBY AGREE THAT:

1. Petitioner's domicile during the 2021-2022 school year was not proven by a preponderance of the evidence which entitles the District to tuition payments for the 2021-2022 school year for A.S.'s enrollment at Fair Lawn High School. Parties agree to settle the outstanding 2021-2022 School year payment for the lump sum of $3,000 from the Petitioner to the District. This tuition payment will be made to the District no later than September 1, 2022.

2. In the event the Parent violates any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement, the tuition referenced in Paragraph 1 above shall become immediately due and payable, plus interest. Parties acknowledge that the District can pursue judgment against the Petitioner in the event of the Petitioner's failure to pay the full aforementioned tuition prior to September 1, 2022.

3. Petitioner's payment of tuition for the 2021-2022 school year does not necessitate that A.S. will be enrolled within the District for any subsequent school years.

4. Petitioner agrees that in order for any of Petitioner's children to be considered for enrollment within the District, Petitioner must submit registration forms in conjunction with the "Affidavit Student" District Forms 211 and Form 212 [attached hereto].

5. Parties acknowledge that the District forms listed in Paragraph 4 must be submitted annually.

6. Petitioner agrees and understands that the District Residency Forms listed in Paragraph 4 above must be signed by each child's legal guardians as well as the guardians in which each child resides.

7. Parties acknowledge that all signatures on the forms listed in Paragraph 4 must occur in the presence of a New Jersey Notary Public. Petitioner agrees that the notarization of all signatures will be completed by a non-familial New Jersey Notary Public.

8. Parties acknowledge that submission of the Registration and "Affidavit Student" forms listed in Paragraph 4 is not a guarantee of District enrollment for any of Petitioner's dependents. Petitioner acknowledges that all submitted forms are subject to Board approval prior to her children's enrollment with the District.

9. This Agreement is dispositive of the issues in dispute between the Parties hereto.

10. This Agreement shall be interpreted, enforced, and governed under the laws of the State of New Jersey. The language of all parts of this Agreement shall in all cases be construed as a whole, according to its fair meaning, and not strictly for or against any of the Parties.

11. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior written or oral and all contemporaneous oral agreements, understandings, and negotiations.

12. This Agreement may only be amended in writing by way of a document signed by all Parties, subject to Board approval.

13. The Parents agree and acknowledge that this Agreement is subject to approval by the Board during its next regularly scheduled meeting following the execution of this Agreement.

14. The Parties acknowledge that they have read and understand the terms of this Agreement, that they have had the opportunity to have the Agreement reviewed by counsel if they so choose, and that they are entering into this Agreement knowingly, freely, voluntarily without coercion and not under the influence of anything or anyone.

15. The Parties hereby agree that each party shall be responsible for their own costs and fees, including, but not limited to, attorney's fees and costs, incurred by them in relation to the aforementioned violations and this Agreement.

16. This Agreement may be signed in counterparts, and facsimile signatures shall be deemed effective for the purposes of this Agreement.

17. The Parties agree that the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain confidential and that neither party may disclose its terms and conditions to a third party except to enforce this Agreement or if required to do so by court order issued from a court of competent jurisdiction.

18. The Parties agree that they shall cooperate with each other to the extent necessary to effectuate the provisions of this Agreement and any party's failure to cooperate in good faith shall be deemed a breach herein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties hereto set their hands and seals the day and year first written above.

The record of this matter, the proposed Stipulation of Settlement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement reference actions that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

Petitioners filed a pro se Petition of Appeal seeking Emergent Relief with the Office of Controversies and Disputes in the New Jersey Department of Education (DOE) on July 27, 2022.

Said motion seeks an order removing a disciplinary suspension imposed upon E.A.; compensatory education; a review of School Policies, procedures and staff training; and such other relief deemed appropriate by the Commissioner.

Respondent Board filed its Answer to the Petition, a brief in opposition to the request for emergent relief, and the Certification of Anthony V. Emering with Exhibits 1 through 8.

Oral argument via Zoom was held on August 2, 2022.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

E.A. is a sixteen year old student attending West Essex High School. She will be a senior in the 2022/2023 school year.

On May 12, 2022, a substitute teacher observed E.A. inhaling from a vape device in a restroom. This fact is disputed by E.A. as related by her father, B.A., during oral argument on the motion for emergent relief.

The substitute teacher did not report her observations to the Administration until after the students had left for the day on May 12, 2022.

E.A. was asked to report to the administrative offices on May 13, 2022 and directed to complete a medical examination and urine drug test. Her stepfather, R.R., arrived at the school to pick up E.A. After some delay E.A. completed a drug test which resulted in a Negative Dilute result. The District treated this to be an attempt to render the test results inconclusive. She was given an out of school suspension for five days. E.A. was again tested on May 24, 2022, which resulted in a positive result for THC. Another test done on June 6, 2022 resulted in a negative result. E.A. returned to school on June 7, 2022.

There are material facts in dispute in the instant matter, which include the basic allegation that E.A. used a vape device in contravention of District Policy. The matter will require a plenary hearing.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Initially, it must be determined if Petitioners are entitled to seek emergent relief.

A party may only request emergent relief for the following reasons, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:14-2.7:

1. Issues involving a break in the delivery of services;
2. Issues involving disciplinary action, including manifestation determinations and determinations of interim alternate education settings;
3. Issues concerning placement pending outcome of due process proceedings; and
4. Issues involving graduation or participation in graduation ceremonies.

As the present matter concerns a disciplinary action, petitioners are entitled to seek emergent relief.

The New Jersey Supreme Court has set forth a four-prong test for determining whether an applicant is entitled to emergent relief. Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1982) (enumerating the factors later codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b)).

The four factors ("the Factors"), include:

> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
>
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
> 3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and

> 4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.
> [N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b).]

The moving party bears the burden of proving each of the Crowe elements "clearly and convincingly." Waste Mgmt of N.J. v. Union County Util. Auth., 399 N.J. Super. 508, 520 (App. Div. 2008).

A review of the four factors is in order.

Factor One. E.A. by being suspended will suffer irreparable harm. Petitioners argue that E.A. will suffer irreparable harm as the suspension has adversely impacted her grades in Latin and another subject. Petitioners posit that a missed test in Latin resulted in a lower grade and that this will prevent E.A. from being accepted to a top college. Petitioners also posit that the suspension on her record will likewise prevent her from being accepted to a top college. This is mere conjecture. Nothing put forth establishes any irreparable harm to E.A.

Factor Two. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled. Petitioners posit that the Board's policy (Regulation 5530) should not have been used regarding E.A. I disagree. E.A. was seen by a substitute teacher using a vape pen. This is clearly against Board policy. E.A., according to her father's statement at oral argument, disputes she used a vape device. This dispute as to a material fact renders Factor Two questionable.

Factor Three. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim. Based upon the evidence produced thus far it is far from clear that Petitioners will prevail. The current evidence produced shows that E.A. violated Board policy by vaping, and further exacerbated the situation by not immediately complying with the testing requirements.

Factor Four. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief will not be granted. This too seems unlikely at this point. The Board has a large stake in enforcing its policy. The facts, as known at this point, point clearly to E.A. having violated Board policy.

Based upon the above noted, I CONCLUDE that Petitioners have failed to meet any of the four prong test of Crowe v. DeGioia, and that the request for Emergent Relief should be DENIED.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Petitioners' request for Emergent Relief is DENIED.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who/which by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Camden Vocational Education Association,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of Camden County Technical Schools, Camden County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

The Camden Vocational Education Association (Association) contended that the respondent, Board of Education of Camden County Technical Schools (Board), improperly provides the financial literacy instruction required under N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.34. Successful completion of this instruction is a graduation requirement. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1, such requirement may be met through courses designed to meet the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS) ("Option 1") or through individualized student learning opportunities that meet or exceed the NJSLS ("Option 2"). The Board determined to approve the teaching of financial literacy through Option 2. The Association argued that the Board's assignment of technical and vocational teachers to provide financial literacy lessons as part of other classroom instruction violates N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2, which requires teachers to possess valid and appropriate teaching certificates; the teachers assigned to instruct financial literacy under Option 2 do not hold certification to teach this subject matter as a standalone course.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: Option 2 is an acceptable means for the Board to address the financial literacy requirement; an individual providing instruction in financial literacy pursuant to an Option 2 program is not required to hold the certification required to teach the subject as a standalone course; the Board's program is consistent with the requirements of Option 2 and is an appropriate means of providing financial literacy instruction; and the Board's offering of the program is not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the Board's program to teach financial literacy is appropriate even though it may not precisely fit into the categories of Option 2 student learning opportunities listed in N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)(2)(i), which also specifically provides that student learning opportunities "include but are not limited to" the listed items. The Commissioner concluded, inter alia, that the type of interdisciplinary learning offered by the Board for financial literacy comports with the regulatory intent to allow districts flexibility to approve alternatives to traditional instruction; further, Option 2 does not require that student learning opportunities be facilitated by certificated teachers. Accordingly, the petition was dismissed.

Final Decision

Camden Vocational Education Association,

Petitioners,

v.

Camden County Technical Schools Board of Education, Camden County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

This matter involves the requirement that all districts provide financial literacy instruction. N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.34. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1, graduation requirements may be met through the awarding of credits[2] in courses designed to meet the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS) (colloquially referred to as "Option 1") or through individualized student learning opportunities that meet or exceed the NJSLS, such as independent study, online learning, or structured learning experiences ("Option 2"). Here, the Board approved the teaching of financial literacy through the use of Option 2. Under this approval, teachers who are certified to teach technical and vocational skills courses, such as welding and carpentry, provide financial literacy lessons as a part of their other classroom instruction; however, these teachers do not hold the certificate that would be required for them to teach financial literacy as a standalone course.

[1] The Board filed a reply to petitioner's exceptions, which was untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4(d) and therefore was not considered herein.

The Camden Vocational Education Association filed a petition of appeal, alleging that the Board's use of Option 2 in this manner does not qualify as an Option 2 program and violates N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2, which requires teachers to possess valid and appropriate teaching certificates to teach. Following a hearing, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that Option 2 is an acceptable means for the Board to address the financial literacy requirement. The ALJ further concluded that an individual providing instruction in financial literacy pursuant to an Option 2 program is not required to hold the certification required to teach it as a standalone course. Finally, the ALJ concluded that the Board's program is an appropriate method to provide financial literacy instruction, consistent with the requirements of Option 2, and that its program is not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the petition of appeal.

In its exceptions, petitioner argues that Option 2 does not permit teaching staff members to provide classroom-based instruction in a subject area for which they are not properly certificated. Petitioner contends that the financial literacy classes taught by career teachers are not independent study, online learning, study abroad programs, student exchange programs, or a service learning experience, and thus they are not a proper application of Option 2. Petitioner also argues that the Board has violated the teachers' tenure and seniority rights by involuntarily assigning them to teach a subject in which they can never become tenured or accrue seniority because they do not have the appropriate certification for the position.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that the Board's use of Option 2 to provide financial literacy instruction is appropriate. While the incorporation of financial literary lessons into technical and vocational courses may not precisely fit into the categories of Option 2 student learning opportunities listed in N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)(2)(i), that provision specifically provides that student learning opportunities "include, but are not limited to" the listed items. The Commissioner concludes that the type of interdisciplinary learning offered by the Board for financial literacy comports with the regulatory intent to allow districts flexibility to approve alternatives to traditional instruction.

Furthermore, Option 2 does not require that student learning opportunities be facilitated by certificated teachers. In many cases, such as with internships, students are supervised by individuals who are not teachers at all. Accordingly, there is nothing inappropriate about Option 2 financial literacy lessons being incorporated into career courses by teachers who do not hold certificates in the areas that would authorize them to teach financial literacy as a standalone course.[3] The Commissioner notes that the Board still bears responsibility to ensure that students are meeting or exceeding the NJSLS and demonstrating competency, but there is no indication in the record that the Board is failing to meet those requirements.

[3] While petitioner argues that this manner of instruction conflicts with N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2 and N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-5, the Commissioner finds no such conflict because the requirements of Option 2 are distinct from those for traditional, credit-based instruction.

Regarding petitioner's arguments that the Board has violated their tenure and seniority rights, the Commissioner finds that these arguments are entirely speculative and not appropriate for adjudication at this time. The petition contains no facts demonstrating that the Board has taken any action which may implicate any teacher's tenure or seniority rights, such as a reduction in force. While the Commissioner was not provided with a transcript of the hearing, it also does not appear that any testimony indicated that the Board had taken such action.[4] Should the Board attempt to limit any of its employees' tenure or seniority rights due to the time they spend providing financial literacy instruction in their career courses, those employees are free to file a new petition of appeal based on that Board action.

Accordingly, the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[5]

Date of Decision: August 19, 2022

[4] Petitioner's post-hearing brief, which summarizes the testimony, does include a statement that one of the witnesses testified that he could not earn tenure or seniority teaching financial literacy. A witness does not have the authority to make a legal conclusion. Furthermore, this statement suffers from the same problem as petitioner's arguments in its exceptions – it is purely speculative and not based on any action by the Board.

[5] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

CAMDEN VOCATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, ON BEHALF OF A CLASS OF MEMBERS IT REPRESENTS, AND THE INDIVIDUAL PETITIONERS INCLUDING BRUCE BERGEN, WILLIAM CANTIELLO, TERRY LEE, RN, JEFFREY MERZ, JAMES MORTON, DOUG SELFRIDGE, CHARLES SIEDLECKI AND RICHARD ZADROGA,

Petitioners,

Record Closed: May 18, 2019 Decided: June 2, 2022

BEFORE ELIA A. PELIOS, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners Camden Vocational Education Association (CNEA) and a group of petitioners it represents seek a determination that the use by respondent Camden County Technical Schools Board of Education (Board or CCTS) of Option 2 to utilize teachers not certificated to teach financial literacy to do so violates the State's education laws and regulations. Respondent argues that its program is an appropriate use of Option 2 and that the teachers do not require the certificates petitioners claim.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for a hearing on January 2, 2018, where it was filed as a contested matter. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13. The matter was scheduled for a hearing on January 23, 2019. The matter was heard on that date and the record was held open to allow for post-hearing submissions after the parties received the transcript. The record was closed on May18, 2019.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

All school districts in New Jersey are required to provide the teaching of Financial Literacy. Passing this class is a graduation requirement.

In the fall of 2017, respondent approved the teaching of Financial Literacy at its Pennsauken Campus by Career teachers using Option 2, a Regulation (N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)2) adopted by the Department of Education allowing graduation requirements to be met through program completion of a range of experiences that enable students to pursue a variety of individualized learning opportunities. Previously, the course had been taught as a stand-alone class by teachers with a Teaching Business Certificate, which is not held by the teachers identified in the petition.

The preceding statements are not in dispute and are hereby FOUND as FACT.

Zadroga knows that the State does mandate financial literacy. He was told in September 2017 about the need for him to teach the class. There was one meeting for a few hours which he says constituted his "training" in the subject. He was not comfortable with the material. He spoke to his union representative and his principal to express his concerns. His principal said that was not up to him. No one has told Zadroga that he needs to obtain a financial literacy certificate.

Zadroga teaches the financial literacy portion in the classroom setting, reading from the instructional manual while the students write answers in their workbooks. He believes the classroom portion of his class time should be spent teaching and training in welding before the students go back to the workshop for hands-on work. He has read and reviewed and proceeded to discuss the regulation requirements for the Board of Education's business education and family consumer certification. (P-3.). He does not meet those requirements. He reviewed additional business education certifications. (P-4.) He had also seen these requirements before and believes he does not meet the requirements, as he does not have the math preparation requirements. He did similarly review the requirements for the family and consumer science certification noting again that he does not meet the requirements for the substantive math preparation. He has not applied for any of the certificates although based on the Option 2 requirements, he believes he needs one of them to teach financial literacy.

Zadroga reviewed the Financial Literacy Curriculum. (P-7.) He has seen it before. He noted his name on the last row—column five—business credits. He received experience as a previous or current owner or operator of a business. He does not believe that this qualifies him to teach financial literacy. In running his own business, he hired a bookkeeper who did the finances. He has no credits in accounting, business law, economics or finance. He does not believe he is qualified to teach financial literacy any more than he is qualified to teach math or carpentry.

On cross-examination Zadroga acknowledges that he understood how to run his business. He believes Option 2 requires outside of the school setting. He does not know how it presents in school settings. On redirect Zadroga states he is not certified to teach financial literacy even though he ran a business.

Charles Siedlecki

Charles Siedlecki testified on behalf of petitioners. He lives in Pittsgrove, New Jersey. He has been employed by the respondent for eighteen years. He is a member of the petitioning Association and is not a member of its executive board. He is a carpentry and construction tech teacher. Siedlecki reviewed his certification. (P-10.) He also has taught financial literacy since the 2017-2018 school year. He did not ask to teach financial literacy and notes that he does not have the proper certifications to do so. He reviewed the subject matter preparation noted in Exhibits P-3 through P-6. He does not have the required credits for the certificate and does not feel qualified to teach financial literacy. He did not go to school for it and he does not have the certifications. Siedlecki always assumed that his teachers were certified to teach him what they taught him. He is not qualified to teach financial literacy in his opinion according to the requirements.

Siedlecki is familiar with Option 2. He believes it applies to a cooperative setting for on-the-job training. He does not believe the implementation of teaching financial literacy is consistent with the intention of Option 2. He does not have to teach carpentry. He can teach other classes. His classroom is a carpentry shop. He has a homeroom class in the morning and after homeroom, they discuss the day, specifically, what they're going to do in the shop area. Teachers and students are issued a manual for financial literacy. Teachers were told they could ask for assistance.

Siedlecki does not feel comfortable teaching financial literacy. He raised his concern with his union representative. He asked in a meeting why a shop teacher would have to teach the class, since the Board employed teachers who meet the qualifications. He was told that the assistant superintendent said that they presented the plan to the State who said that it was okay to implement in this way. No one has told him he needs to obtain the certificate. He teaches financial literacy in his classroom right after homeroom. He teaches eleventh and twelfth graders. Financial literacy is supposed to be taught during eleventh grade. His twelfth grade students had financial literacy the prior year, so they have to participate in the class again because he cannot release students to work in the shop if he is not available to supervise them.

After Siedlecki reviewed the requirements and the courses that he has taken (P-7), he states that is not qualified to teach financial literacy. He did have previous experience in a business—a construction company—but he had a bookkeeper and accountant to handle financial matters. All he did was estimate material and labor needs for the job. His experience as a carpenter does not provide him with the tools he needs to teach financial literacy. He never is asked to teach math or a foreign language or welding as he is not certified for any of those subjects. He is not the only teacher that teaches financial literacy. Other teachers are there who are qualified.

On cross-examination he acknowledged that the Board of Education has approved the utilization of Option 2 for the teaching of financial literacy.

Doug Selfridge

Doug Selfridge also testified on behalf of petitioners. He lives in Turnersville, New Jersey, and has worked for the respondent for ten years. He only teaches social studies. Selfridge is familiar with CNEA. At the time of the hearing he was serving in his second year as the president of the Association. He spent some time describing the role of association president and then went on to discuss his familiarity with "Option 2." His understanding is that Option 2 is intended to facilitate a cooperative setting for alternate route students. It is not offered in social studies. Students are given a choice as to whether or not to take social studies.

Financial literacy was added to the curriculum pursuant to State mandate. To his understanding, he does not have the qualifications to teach financial literacy. Members of the Association came to him and raised concerns. He relayed those concerns to the assistant superintendent who assured him that Option 2 covers respondent's form of implementation. Selfridge asked to be provided with proof. He felt that what he was provided with did not suffice or satisfy him so he went to the NJEA. Sometimes teachers coordinate with other disciplines but they are not responsible for teaching the other area that they coordinate with.

Patricia Fitzgerald

Patricia Fitzgerald testified on behalf of respondent. She lives in Haddonfield, New Jersey. She has been employed by the respondent for thirty-three years. At the time of the hearing, she was in her sixth year as the superintendent of schools. The Camden Voc-Tech has two campuses but the issues raised in the present matter stem only from the Pennsauken campus. As superintendent she makes recommendations to the Board of Education as does the assistant superintendent.

Financial literacy is now required and needed to graduate. It was formerly offered as a two and a half credit class taught by a variety of certified teachers. The Board of Education ultimately approved the policy and teachers were left to implement it. In 2017 there was a change in how financial literacy was taught. She reviewed a document entitled "Financial Literacy Redesign". (R–1.) This plan was developed by the assistant superintendent. It discusses offering financial literacy through Option 2. It was a move to have career teachers teaching financial literacy.

In 2015 both Fitzgerald and the former assistant superintendent attended a workshop for technical schools. Representatives of the Department of Education were present. Career teachers presented on how they were fusing financial literacy with teaching in performing arts. The Department of Education endorsed what was discussed. The former assistant superintendent was very enthusiastic and her replacement, the current assistant superintendent, took the matter on and followed through. The proposal was presented to the Board. Fitzgerald reviewed the minutes of the September 20, 2017, Board of Education meeting (R-3) noting that item D was for the purpose of discussing the approval for revising curriculum for financial literacy and implementation. Fitzgerald indicated that the assistant superintendent was better situated than she to discuss implementation.

On cross-examination Fitzgerald discussed the difference between experiential learning and classroom learning. Experiential learning is a hands-on experience similar to workforce experience. She acknowledged that Option 2 can in fact be an experience-based program. She knows that some work-based education can occur in the shop and can occur in a classroom setting. Other core curriculum can also be accessed through Option 2; particularly math, science and English. Regarding the Career program Teacher Spreadsheet (P–7), Fitzgerald states it was prepared by her secretary. She did not create it herself. Fitzgerald believes that Option 2 can be taught in a classroom setting as indicated by the agreement of the County executive superintendent. Respondent also received authority from the Department of Education.

On redirect she stated that she is not required to get authorization of the county superintendent to utilize Option 2. She is not required to get State authorization either. Option 2 has been implemented in social studies and has been utilized in other workplace apprenticeships.

Karen DiGiacobbe

Karen DiGiacobbe also testified for respondent. She has been employed by the respondent for thirty years. She is the assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction and administrative grants. DiGiacobbe explained that the Option 2 regulation provides alternative programs for students to get required credits for graduation through work experiences. She reviewed a guide for the use of Option 2 (R-3) from the Department of Education website. The purpose is to maximize student achievement. DiGiacobbe believes Option 2 can be used inside the school setting and that that decision is up to the local board. In reading through the guidance documents, she felt Option 2 was a perfect fit for financial literacy. The plan involved embedded learning and structured learning. Entrepreneurship can also be embedded in one's progress. Items are more likely to be retained than when financial literacy used to be a standalone class. At that time, it was required to be taught by certified teachers.

DiGiacobbe reviewed a list of career teachers (P-7) and noted a mix of certifications among them. The use of career teachers is permitted under New Jersey Department of Education guidelines. She reviewed the clarification statement (R–4) and states that the financial literacy requirement can be met through Option 2 as is being done in the current situation. She also reviewed the NJ Student Learning Standards Standard 9 (R-5) which says the same thing and also says it may include but is not limited to independent study, online learning and structured learning experiences. DiGiacobbe believes that their method is a structured learning experience. She states that Department of Education is aware that respondent addresses the financial literacy requirement in this manner. She knows this because she has had discussions with the Department. DiGiacobbe reviewed an email with Christopher Cox at the Department of Education (R-6) and notes that she has received no email, phone call or other communication that says they cannot teach financial literacy in the way that respondent is doing.

In the summer of 2016 DiGiacobbe met with the union president, Mr. Selfridge's predecessor. She has also spoken with the executive county superintendent and representatives from the Department of Education (DOE) and has received feedback from all parties. A DOE representative told her this could be a model for the State.

During the February 2017 faculty meeting the curriculum supervisor briefed the teachers on fusing financial literacy with career training for the 2017-2018 school year. They began to develop the curriculum. Teachers are given flexibility in how to instruct in financial literacy. DiGiacobbe reviewed the financial literacy curriculum (R-7) which was given to the teachers. She believes that their method comports with and is consistent with the standards that are issued. She reviewed the financial literacy student portfolio or workbook (R-8) and believes that teachers teach in accordance with it. She does not believe that any have asked for assistance. She notes that financial literacy is still taught in the same way and the method is also used at the Gloucester campus.

On cross-examination DiGiacobbe acknowledges that merely reading the book in the class setting is not what was intended by the program. Structured learning is work based—it is not an internship; it is not an apprenticeship. It is a form of service learning. This is the basis for the Department of Education's understanding of the program.

Upon consideration of the witness testimony and documents placed in evidence, and in addition to FACTS previously found, I further FIND that the individual petitioners are technical/vocational skills teachers who do not possess the certificates required to teach financial literacy as a standalone course. Respondent provided the individual petitioners a training workshop to prepare them to teach financial literacy within the context of its Option 2 program. Zadroga's and Siedlecki's financial literacy instruction is delivered in the classroom portion of their workshop settings. Respondent did inform individuals with the NJDOE to apprise them of the program. The DOE issued guidance which clarified the provision of financial literacy instruction and addressed its use through Option 2. (R-4.)

Effective with 2010-2011 grade nine class, district boards of education are required to develop, adopt, and implement local graduation requirements that include at least 2.5 credits in financial, economic, business, and entrepreneurial literacy. N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)1v. The record reflects that in the fall of 2017, respondent approved the teaching of Financial Literacy at its Pennsauken Campus by Career teachers through the use of Option 2, a regulation (N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)2) adopted by the Department of Education allowing graduation requirements to be met through program completion of a range of experiences that enable students to pursue a variety of individualized learning opportunities.

Petitioners asserts that respondent's use of Option 2 in this manner violates the State's education laws and regulations. Specifically, petitioners assert that pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2, teachers must possess valid and appropriate teaching certificates to teach; that the Board's contention of what constitutes an appropriate Option 2 "service learning program" or "work-based program" is contrary to the education laws; and, that Option 2 is supposed to be an alternative to "seat time" instruction and respondent's instruction in financial literacy is undeniably "seat time."

Respondent argues that the manner by which the Camden County Technical Schools Board of Education has determined to teach Financial Literacy is an appropriate and acceptable method under Option 2 and that by the use of the Structured Learning Alternative in Option 2, the teachers who are teaching Financial Literacy are not required to have the Certifications identified by petitioners' two witnesses at the hearing.

N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1(a)2, commonly referred to as "Option Two" provides:

2. The 120-credit requirement set forth in (a)1 above may be met in whole or in part through program completion of a range of experiences that enable students to pursue a variety of individualized learning opportunities, as follows:

i. District boards of education shall establish a process to approve individualized student learning opportunities that meet or exceed the NJSLS.

(1) Individualized student learning opportunities in all NJSLS areas include, but are not limited to, the following:

(A) Independent study;

(B) Online learning;

(C) Study abroad programs;

(D) Student exchange programs; and

(E) Structured learning experiences, including, but not limited to, work-based programs, internships, apprenticeships, and service learning experiences.

(2) Individualized student learning opportunities based upon specific instructional objectives aimed at meeting or exceeding the NJSLS shall:

(A) Be based on student interest and career goals as reflected in the Personalized Student Learning Plans;

(B) Include demonstration of student competency;

(C) Be certified for completion based on the district process adopted according to (a)2ii below; and

(D) Be on file in the school district and subject to review by the Commissioner or his or her designee.

(3) Group programs based upon specific instructional objectives aimed at meeting or exceeding the NJSLS shall be permitted under this section and shall be approved in the same manner as other approved courses.

ii. District boards of education shall establish a process for granting of credits through successful completion of assessments that verify student achievement in meeting or exceeding the NJSLS at the high school level, including standards achieved by means of the individualized student learning opportunities enumerated at (a)2 above. Such programs or assessments may occur all or in part prior to a student's high school enrollment; no such locally administered assessments shall preclude or exempt student participation in applicable Statewide assessments at grades three through 12.

(1) District boards of education shall choose assessments that are aligned with or exceed the NJSLS and may include locally designed assessments.

(2) District boards of education shall choose from among the following assessment options to determine if students have achieved the level of language proficiency designated as

Novice-High as defined by the ACTFL and recognized as fulfilling the world languages requirement of the NJSLS:

(A) The STAMP online assessment;

(B) The OPI or MOPI; or

(C) Department-approved locally designed competency-based assessments;

iii. District boards of education shall establish a process to approve post-secondary learning opportunities that may consist of Advanced Placement (AP) courses, CLEP, or concurrent/dual enrollment at accredited higher education institutions.

(1) District boards of education shall award credit for successful completion of an approved, accredited college course that assures achievement of knowledge and skills that meets or exceeds the NJSLS.

Considering the foregoing, the regulation explicitly states that the graduation requirement may be met in whole or in part through the use of Option 2. No exclusion or exception is noted for the financial literacy requirement, and Department of Education guidance (R-4) specifically states that Option 2 may be utilized for completion of the financial literacy requirement. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that Option 2 is an acceptable means for respondent to address the financial literacy requirement.

Additionally, based on the testimony of the witnesses and documents in the record, specifically guidance regarding the use of Option 2, it is clear that instruction pursuant to Option 2 is often delivered by individuals who are not certified teachers in the specific subject areas, or even any area. The fact that an instructor in an Option 2 setting may be certified as a teacher in a different subject area than those required by one to teach financial literacy as a standalone course does not render them ineligible to provide instruction in an Option 2 setting that an individual who is not a certified teacher would otherwise be able to. I CONCLUDE that an individual, including petitioners, who is providing instruction in financial literacy pursuant to an Option 2 program is not required to hold the certifications required to teach it as a standalone course. To the extent that petitioners argue that Option 2 is meant to be an alternative to seat time instruction, such argument relies heavily on a reiteration of their arguments that financial literacy must be taught as a standalone course. These arguments have already been addressed.

Finally, considering the credible testimony of Patricia Fitzgerald and particularly Karen DiGiacobbe along with the documents in the record, I CONCLUDE that respondent's Program to teach Financial Literacy as part of its Core Curriculum through the Career Teachers is an appropriate method consistent with the permitted requirements and stated objectives permitted by Option 2, and that its program is not arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable.

ORDER

Petitioners' assertion that respondent's implementation of the financial literacy graduation requirement through the use of Option 2 should be halted and deemed arbitrary capricious and unreasonable is DENIED. Petitioners' appeal is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

ROBERT CAUVIN,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTH BRUNSWICK, MIDDLESEX COUNTY,
Respondent.

Stephen B. Hunter, Esq., for petitioner Robert Cauvin (Detzky, Hunter and DeFillippo, LLC, attorneys)

Eric L. Harrison., Esq., for respondent Board of Education of the Township of North Brunswick, Middlesex County (Methfessel and Werbel, attorneys)

BEFORE CARL V. BUCK, III, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

By way of an application for emergent relief pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6, petitioner Robert Cauvin (Cauvin or petitioner) challenges the termination of his employment as a tenured teacher of special education by the North Brunswick Board of Education (Board) and seeks immediate reemploy retroactive to May 3, 2022. Petitioner's termination was based upon information provided from the Office of Student Protection (OSP) under the New Jersey Department of Education (DOE) which stated that petitioner had been permanently disqualified from serving in his position based upon an arrest in 1997 in North Brunswick Municipal Court for which he was found guilty. Petitioner challenges:

1. The lack of a Rice Notice required by N.J.S.A. 10:4-6 the Open Public Meetings Act "OPMA" prior to public meeting where the Board voted to terminate him; and

2. the lack of providing a tenure proceed prior to termination.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL FINDINGS

On or about October 15, 1997, petitioner was arrested. (P-Cert. 2.)[1] Thereafter, petitioner has had two positions in two separate school districts, both of which required successful background checks. (P- Resp. 2-3.) Petitioner's second position was with the Board where he taught as a special education teacher from 2003 until his termination. (P-Cert. 1.) On May 3, 2022, petitioner was provided a letter from Superintendent Janet Ciarrocca (Ciarrocca) which indicated he was terminated from his teaching position. (P-Mot. Ex. A.) Petitioner's medical benefits ended on May 22, 2022. Ibid.

The Board cites to email, dated May 3, 2022, in support of said termination from Scaringelli, Investigator with the OSP and sent to Ciarrocca, dated May 3, 2022. (P-Mot. Ex. A.) The email states that the OSP received documentation showing a conviction for a disqualifying crime or defense, and that "the applicant has been notified that he is permanently disqualified from serving in any position, paid or unpaid, with any educational institution under the supervision of the Department of Education . . ." Ibid. The email asks the Board to advise the OSP of the status of the applicant's employment. Ibid.

The Board hand delivered a letter (Letter) to petitioner, dated May 3, 2022, which stated "as a result of a conviction stemming from an arrest in 1997, you are 'permanently disqualified from serving in any position, paid, or unpaid, with any education under the supervision of the Department of Education.'" The Letter further states petitioner is terminated "[a]s a result of the foregoing notification, and [his] disqualification from serving as a teacher." See P-Mot. Ex. B. The superintendent further stated she recommends the Board to retroactively approve same during its next meeting. Ibid. The public meeting notes on May 11, 2022, indicate that the Board adopted a resolution to approve the termination of [petitioner]. Id. at Ex. C.

ARGUMENTS OF THE PARTIES

Petitioner avers he is entitled to emergent relief because the Board:

1. Failed to provide a Rice notice in contravention of the requirements of the Open Public Records Act (OPMA)[2];
2. Breached its obligation to institute tenure proceedings in contravention of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 et seq., and because
3. Petitioner is experiencing the loss of his teaching salary and insurance benefits.

As part of the argument that the Board violated petitioner's tenure rights, petitioner contends that consistent with the New Jersey Supreme Court Decision in State v. O., 69 N.J. 574 (1976), that the private consensual acts between adults are not within the ambient of State criminal statutes, and thus the Board violated petitioner's rights when it summarily terminated petitioner based upon his offense in 1976 without initiating tenure charge proceedings. (P-Mot. 1-2.)

The Board contends:

1. Petitioner's tenure rights were not violated because it was the Board was directed by the NJ DOE to terminate him because he was convicted a crime that permanently disqualified him from serving in any position with any educational institution under the supervision of the NJ DOE, and the Board has no authority to reject these findings;

2. Counsel's effort to effectively expunge a criminal conviction is not an application for the Board to consider; and

3. Rice notice was not required as no private discussion of petitioner's employment status occurred prior to the approval of his termination at a public hearing. (R-Brief 2-6.)

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(B) states: "A petitioner shall name as a party any person or entity indispensable to the hearing of a contested case. Failure to name an indispensable party may be grounds for dismissal of the petition pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10."

Here, the OSP was not joined as a party. However, the Board's termination of the petitioner was due to an alleged disqualifying criminal offense from 1997 which was uncovered by the OSP. The Board argues it has no authority to reject the findings of the OSP by not carrying out its ministerial duties at the direction of OSP. Moreover, petitioner discusses that two prior background checks have been conducted on his behalf by the OSP for both his position with the Board, as well as a prior teaching position.

Given it is OSP who conducted relevant background checks and uncovered petitioner's criminal offense underlying the Board's termination of petitioner, and the OSP is part of the NJ DOE, I FIND the DOE is an indispensable party under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10. As such, it would not be appropriate to move this application further without the involvement and input of the DOE.

However, even if I did not find that the DOE was an indispensable party, this application for emergent relief would fail under the standard set in Crowe v. De Gioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1981.)

Pursuant to Crowe v. De Gioia, injunctive relief shall not be issued unless the following factors are met: (1) "when [it is] necessary to prevent irreparable harm"; (2) when plaintiff has a settled legal right to relief; (3) where plaintiff has shows "a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits", and (4) where a balancing of "the relative hardship to the parties in granting or denying relief" tilts in favor of the plaintiff. Crowe v. De Gioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1981).

I. Petitioner has not proven irreparable harm.

Here, petitioner has not demonstrated irreparable harm. Regarding irreparable harm, harm is generally considered irreparable if in equity it cannot be addressed adequately by monetary damages. Crowe v. De Gioia, 90 N.J. at 132-33 (stating [n]either an unwarranted eviction or reduction to poverty can be compensated adequately by monetary damages after a distant plenary hearing). In certain circumstances, severe personal inconvenience may constitute irreparable injury. Id. at 133.

Petitioner has not proven irreparable harm beyond monetary damages. Petitioner indeed lost his job; however he is presently employed, and there is no demonstration that he presently lacks medical insurance through COBRA or otherwise. Petitioner's motion cites to the myriad of impacts the loss of his position and his insurances "will have" on his ability to pay his expenses. (P-Mot. 13.) Petitioner certifies that even with his current waiter job, he finds it difficult to make his monthly payments which include his car insurance, health insurance, phone service, gas, and medical expenses. (P-Cert. at 3-4.) Petitioner does not cite to plausible irreparable harm that money damages would not solve in support of this motion. Moreover, petitioner is employed, and it is not clear from the record whether he would even have employment during the summer months through the Board's employ if he had not been terminated, or other factual information which may provide a non-monetary basis for relief.

Therefore, petitioner has not demonstrated irreparable harm. However, even if petitioner demonstrated irreparable harm, petitioner does not meet the other factors, and therefore his application for relief cannot be granted at this time.

II. Petitioner does not have a well-settled right to the relief he seeks.

Petitioner challenges his termination and seeks re-instatement and back pay. However, petitioner premises his requests on (1) lack of Rice notice, and (2) lack of a tenure hearing. However, these two arguments fail.

With regards to Rice notice, "The OPMA requires the meetings of public bodies to be conducted in open session and in view of the public." N.J.S.A. 10:4-12(a). The Act provides, in relevant part:

A public body may exclude the public only from that portion of a meeting at which the public body discusses any:

> . . . matter involving the employment, appointment, [or] termination of employment . . . of any specific prospective public officer or employee or current public officer or employee employed or appointed by the public body, unless all the individual employees or appointees whose rights could be adversely affected request in writing that the matter or matters be discussed at a public meeting . . .

In Rice v. Union County Regional High School Board of Educ., 155 N.J. Super. 64, 73, 382 A.2d 386 (App. Div. 1977), the court tied the personnel exception to privacy interests, and held that employees must be given "reasonable notice" when a public entity intends to consider taking adverse employment action. Id. at 74.

However, if the employment is discussed in an open forum, a Rice notice is not required. In Kean Federation of Teachers v. Morell, the court found that while Rice provides employees with the right to move a private discussion into a public discussion, it does not apply when a public body votes on a summary resolution of personnel matters in a public discussion. 233, 233 N.J. 566, 586-87 (2018.)

Here, petitioner was put on notice that the Board intended to terminate him at the May 11, 2022, public meeting. See, R-Ex. B. Rather, as indicated by the respondent, Mr. Cauvin was terminated at the recommendation of the superintendent, and it was publicly voted on by the Board. (R-Br. 6.) Thus, the OPMA, N.J.S.A. 10:4-6, et. seq., was not violated because the meeting was not a private meeting.

Petitioner's argument regarding alleged entitlement to a tenure hearing also fails, as this was a termination based upon disqualification, which is governed by a different statute.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 states:

> No person shall be dismissed or reduced in compensation,
>
> (a) if he is or shall be under tenure of office, position or employment during good behavior and efficiency in the public school system of the state, or
> (b) if he is or shall be under tenure of office, position or employment during good behavior and efficiency as a supervisor, [or] teacher . . .
> except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause, and then only after a hearing held pursuant > to this sub article, by the commissioner, or a person appointed by him to act in his behalf, after a written charge or charges, of the cause or causes of complaint, shall have been preferred against such person, signed by the person or persons making the same, who may or may not be a member or members of a board of education, and filed and proceeded upon as in this sub article provided.

Respondent provides a email from Scaringelli, with the OSP to Ciarrocca, on May 3, 2022 which states that the OSP received a conviction for a disqualifying crime or defense, and that "the applicant has been notified that he is permanently disqualified from serving in any position, paid or unpaid, with any educational institution under the supervision of the Department of Education . . ." See P-Motion Ex. A. This email, while short, provided that petitioner committed a disqualifying event.

A disqualification is separate and apart from the tenure requirements. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.1 states "[a] An individual, except as provided in subsection g. of this section, shall be permanently disqualified from employment or service under this act if the individual's criminal history record check reveals a record of conviction for [crimes listed in this statute]."

> This section shall first apply to criminal history record checks conducted on or after the effective date of P.L.1998, c.31 (C.18A:6-7.1c et al.); except that in the case of an individual employed by a board of education or a contracted service provider who is required to undergo a check upon employment with another board of education or contracted service provider, the individual shall be disqualified only for the following offenses:

[3]Notably, the effective date of this Statute was in 1998, which may be material if petitioner had evoked a right to challenge the background check pursuant to this chapter.

> (2) any offense enumerated in this section which had not been enumerated in this section prior to the effective date of P.L.1998, c.31 (C.18A:6-7.1c et al.), if the person was convicted of that offense on or after the effective date of that act.

The evidence here does not clearly indicate that petitioner sought to contest the background check. Rather, petitioner argued that he was entitled to the relief sought pursuant to the lack of a Rice notice and a tenure proceeding. Petitioner cites to the New Jersey Supreme Court case State v. O., in what appears to be an argument that he should not have been convicted. However, petitioner does not contend that he was not convicted and states that the 1997 conviction was the result of a plea entered in that matter.

Moreover, this tribunal has not received clarity around exactly what he was charged with, or when his two purported background checks with the OSP for his two teaching positions occurred. Thus, there are issues of material fact that would need to be presented in the event that petitioner sought to challenge his background check conducted by OSP. Moreover, as OSP is not a party to this emergent application these issues cannot be addressed at present.

Therefore, petitioner has not demonstrated an entitlement of the relief he seeks.

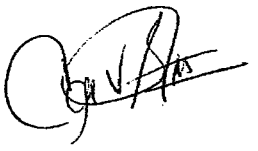
III. Petitioner has not proven likelihood of ultimate success on the merits.

As indicated above, petitioner has not proven he would be meritorious on his claims that (1) he was entitled to a Rice notice, or (2) that he was entitled to a tenure hearing, which may entitle him to reinstatement of his position and backpay. As his termination decision was provided by the Superintendent and voted on in a public meeting, the Rice notice requirement is not necessarily pursuant to the OPC Act.

Moreover, petitioner has not proven entitlement to a tenure hearing, as the OSP noted a disqualifying event and petitioner did not clearly contest the criminal background check, nor did petitioner join the DOE in this motion.

Thus, petitioner has not provided a likelihood of ultimate success on the merits.

IV. Petitioner has not proven that a balancing of the relative hardships weighs in his favor.



Petitioner failed to join an indispensable party, the DOE, in this matter. Given that the Board made their decision to terminate petitioner based upon OSP's finding of a disqualifying event, the DOE is an indispensable party whose must be involved in order to make an accurate balancing of all indispensable parties in this matter. Accordingly, the balancing of the relative hardships to not weigh in favor of either party.

Based upon the foregoing, and as all four of the Crowe v. De Gioia standards as codified in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6 must be met in order for emergent relief to be granted, I CONCLUDE that the petitioner has failed to meet the requirements set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) warranting an order for emergent relief in this matter. This order on application for emergency relief shall remain in effect until the issuance of a decision on the merits of the matter.

ORDER

Accordingly, I ORDER that the petitioner's application for emergent relief be and hereby is DENIED without prejudice.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Township of Springfield, Union County, Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Newark, Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by respondent, the Newark Board of Education, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 and the reply thereto from petitioner, the Springfield Board of Education, have been reviewed and considered.

This matter involves the question of which board of education is responsible for the educational costs of two siblings, M.P. and Jad. P., during the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 school years. It is undisputed that the children and their mother were homeless during the 2016-2017 school year and that under N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(c), Springfield was responsible for the children's educational costs during the 2016-2017 school year. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that Newark was responsible for the children's transportation and tuition costs between September 2017 and December 2018. In reaching this conclusion, the ALJ found that the children and their mother resided in Newark for over a year and therefore the financial obligation for their educational costs shifted from Springfield to Newark.

Upon a comprehensive review of the record, the Commissioner finds that this matter must be remanded to the Office of Administrative Law to address the inconsistent findings outlined in the Initial Decision. Most notably, there are inconsistent findings in regard to the children's educational costs during the 2018-2019 school year. The ALJ found that Newark must reimburse Springfield "$12,942.84 in tuition costs for the Rutgers Day School for M.P. for the period of November to December 2018." The ALJ also found that Newark must reimburse Springfield "$12,942.84 in tuition costs for the Rutgers Day School for M.P. for the period of September to October 2018." Additionally, the ALJ found that Newark must reimburse Springfield for transportation costs totaling $39,918.40[1] for transport of "Jad. P. to Washington Academy, and for M.P. to Rutgers Day School for the period of June 26, 2007 through December 31, 2018." (Initial Decision at 13-14)

Yet, the ALJ also found that, "Springfield discovered during the summer of 2018 that the P family was living in Dover, NJ. M.P. was enrolled in the Dover district. The transportation contract for M.P. was cancelled. It appeared that Jad. P. had dropped out of school." (id. at 13) Moreover, the ALJ concluded that "Jad. P. and M.P., together with their mother, A.I.P., resided at (a street address in) Newark, NJ, from June 30, 2016 until the summer of 2018." (id. at 18) The Initial Decision fails to explain why Newark is responsible for M.P.'s tuition and transportation costs from September through December of 2018 in light of the fact that the ALJ appears to find that the P family relocated to Dover during the summer of 2018. It is undisputed that M.P. was ultimately registered in the Dover School District, but it is not clear what address was used at the time of registration. The record only contains an email from A.I.P. indicating that the family was living with her fiancé in Dover as of the summer of 2018. Notably, it is also unclear as to whether transportation was provided for M.P. from the family's new Dover address or whether M.P. was picked up and dropped off at the Newark address. Therefore, it is not possible to ascertain who is responsible for the children's educational costs between September 2018 and December 2018.

Accordingly, this matter is hereby remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner filed a petition, dated April 10, 2019, with the New Jersey Department of Education, Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, alleging that the Newark Board of Education is responsible for transportation and tuition costs for certain children that have attended school in Petitioner's district.

The matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on May 15, 2019, as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to –15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to –13, bearing OAL Docket No. EDU 06696-19.

A prehearing conference was held on June 5, 2019. A prehearing order, dated June 7, 2019, was entered by the undersigned.

The hearing was held on December 13, 2021, December 14, 2021 and January 24, 2022.

The record remained open for the parties to submit post hearing briefs, which were due thirty days after receipt of the hearing transcripts. Transcripts were received on March 11, 2022. Petitioner submitted their brief on April 6, 2022. Respondent submitted their brief on April 7, 2022. Whereupon the record closed on April 7, 2022.

ISSUES

SUMMARY OF RELEVANT TESTIMONY

Petitioner's Case

Tiffany Boehm testified as follows:

She is employed by the Springfield Board of Education and has been since 2007. Ms. Boehm is the Director of Student Support Services. She went on to describe her job duties, part of which is to oversee the placement of students out of District.

Ms. Boehm described the Board's policy regarding the education of homeless students. She is familiar with the P family, who had a residency issue during the 2015/2016 school year. There were four children in the P family: J.P.; Jas P.; Jad P.; and, M.P. J.P. had graduated.

The principal of the school that M.P. attended reported that she did not show up for school and they were having a difficult time reaching the parent. A resource officer did a welfare check and discovered the family did not live at their address anymore.

Jas P., who was attending the high school told her case manager that the family was residing in Newark. This was also during the 2015/2016 school year, towards the end of the 2015/2016 school year.

Ms. Boehm drafted a letter to the mother, A.I.P., but was not able to send it as she did not have a current address. She contacted the FACT (Families and Communities Together) worker who was assisting the family. The worker did not have a current address. The FACT worker advised that A.I.P. would not provide an address.

A.I.P. was contacted by phone. She informed the school that M.S. would be attending, and that the family was returning to Springfield.

A.I.P. came in with documents on either September 6th or 7th with a lease showing her returning to the same address she previously had in Springfield.

Ms. Boehm received an email from the FACT worker that informed her that the family was living in Newark at 134 Fabyan Place.

Another family was living at the residence A.I.P. provided a lease for. The P family was not living there.

A.I.P. then completed the required paperwork that the family was homeless, which are the McKinney Vento Act Student Resident Information Forms. There were three forms completed, for Jas P., Jad P. and M.P. What stood out to Ms. Boehm on these forms is that A.I.P. claimed being homeless from June 2016, yet provided a lease prior to completing the forms that she would be living in Springfield.

On the forms A.I.P. listed two current addresses: 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ; and, 359 Nesbitt Terrace, Irvington, NJ. The only time Ms. Boehm saw the Irvington address was on the forms.

The three children, Jas, Jad and M, were special needs students. Jas was finishing her education at Jonathan Dayton High School. Jad was placed at Mary Dobbins School by the State and did not require transportation. The District was looking for an out of District placement for M.

As A.I.P. had informed the District the family was homeless, the District continued to provide education for the three children.

Jas and M required transportation, which was provided by the District. Jas was picked up at 134 Fabyan Place in Newark for transportation to the Jonathan Dayton High School in Springfield. M was picked up at the same address for transportation to the Gaudineer Middle School in Springfield. M was changing schools to an out of District placement and was to be transported from the Fabyan Place address to the Rutgers Day School in Piscataway.

The transportation company reported an incident via email where the bus arrived at the Fabyan Place address to transport M. M refused to get on the bus. A.I.P. came out of the house, but was not successful in getting M to go on the bus. M walked off and A.I.P. returned to the Fabyan Place house.

There was never a request by A.I.P. for the District to provide transportation from any other address, other than the Fabyan Place address.

At the end of the 2016/2017 school year Jad was exiting the program at Mary Dobbins and the District would be looking for another placement. Home instruction was offered pending placement and A.I.P. refused to allow home instruction.

Jas graduated from Jonathan Dayton High School at the end of the 2016/2017 school year.

At the end of the 2016/2017 school year the District's homeless liaison sent a letter to Newark to advise them it would be Newark's responsibility to educate the students. Ms. Boehm testified that, to her knowledge, no response was received. She then followed up with an email to Newark's homeless liaison at the start of the 2017/2018 school year. She received a response about one week later, indicating that A.I.P. spoke with Newark about registering her daughter. Ms. Boehm provided the requested information, including IEPs. There were no follow up from Newark. In November 2017 Newark's homeless liaison, Ana Osoria, advised that she met with A.I.P., and that it did not appear A.I.P. was living in Newark consistently for 365 days, and declined educational responsibility. Springfield then re-enrolled Jad and M as Newark was not taking responsibility. Ms. Boehm was unsure what transpired with Jad and M between September and November. Mom met with Ms. Pacheco, the Springfield homeless liaison. The Fabyan Place address was provided. Springfield secured placements for both M and Jad, with transportation from the Fabyan Place address. Prior to the placement for Jad and M, home instruction was offered, and was again declined.

Newark was again contacted to advise that Springfield maintained that Newark was the responsible district and that Springfield may seek reimbursement. Ms. Osoria responded that she would have the residency investigator look into it. This was April 2018.

Emails were continued to be exchanged with Ms. Osoria. The last email received was close to the end of the 2017/2018 school year wherein Ms. Osoria maintained that Newark is not the responsible district.

Springfield had a residency investigator look into the Fabyan Place address. He concluded that A.I.P. and M were residing therein. Regarding Jad no conclusion was reached as she was not regularly attending school. This was done through observation of the location.

In September of 2018, A.I.P. advised that the family moved to Dover and at some point Dover took responsibility for the students. This was in December 2018. By that time Jad had dropped out. Transportation and tuition for M switched to Dover.

Ms. Boehm reviewed the costs for tuition and transportation for the period Springfield maintains Newark was the responsible district. Those costs total $41,593.18 for tuition, and $37,918.40 for transportation.

James Post testified as follows:

He is employed by the Springfield Board of Education as the residency investigator. Prior to this he was a police officer with Newark for thirty years.

He described how he conducts a residency investigation, which includes surveillance "99.9 percent" of the time.

He was asked to do a residency investigation for the P family. His investigation included surveillance. He met with Janet Pacheco. He received a Power School report, which contains the child's photo, family member names, mother's name, current address and emergency contact information. He did surveillance of the Fabyan Place address on April 25, 2018. He arrived at 6:00 a.m. He saw M exit the residence and get on the school bus at approximately 7:45 a.m. Prior to that he saw some cars pull in and pull out with adult females. He did not know who the women were. He did see one of the women enter the house, and another women leave the house. He saw no children exit a car and enter the house. He remained until 9:00 a.m. He repeated the surveillance the next day. Again he arrived at 6:00 a.m. He approached the bus driver when the bus arrived. He identified himself to the driver, who told him he picks up M every day at this address. He remained again until 9:00 a.m. He never saw Jad during his investigation. He again did surveillance the next day, starting at 6:00 a.m. Again M exited the home and got on the bus. Again he remained until 9:00 a.m. This was Friday. He returned on Saturday but saw no activity at all. He returned the following Monday and again saw M exit the house at 7:45 a.m. and enter the school bus. He concluded that the P family was residing at the Fabyan Place address. This was based on M exiting the house four consecutive school days, his conversation with the bus driver, that M never exited a vehicle to enter the house and the A.I.P. reported the Fabyan Place house as her address.

Mr. Post was recalled regarding the Power School paperwork he was provided and testified as follows:

He had received photographs of Jad and M. He also had photographs of Jas and J.P., who were not part of his investigation. He could not at this time locate the photograph of Jad. He was sure he had one when he started the investigation.

On the paperwork M's address is listed as 807 Mountain Avenue, Springfield, NJ. That was the prior address the family lived at prior to the Fabyan Place address in Newark. There is other paperwork in the Power School forms that have the Fabyan Place address. The handwriting on the paperwork is his.

There is also an address of 259 Nesbit Terrace in Irvington. He did not investigate this address as the investigation led him to the Fabyan Place address, and he concluded that was where the family resided.

Ana Osoria testified as follows:

She is employed by the Newark Board of Education as a Program Specialist-3. Prior to that she was a Specialist for Homeless Management from September 2013 to July 2020. It is the same job as before with a different title. She is the McKinney Vento liaison for the Newark School District. Ms. Osoria described her job duties and training received.

Ms. Osoria stated that for a person to be determined not to be homeless they must reside in the District for 365 consecutive days. She maintained that this was based on her McKinney Vento training. Any break in the 365 days resets the clock.

When she was advised by Springfield that the P family was living in Newark she contacted A.I.P. and was able to meet with her on November 14, 2017. Based on that conversation Ms. Osoria determined that the P family was not "fixed or regular" at the Newark address. She notified Springfield of her findings. Newark did not initiate a residency investigation.

An email dated June 27, 2017 was sent to Ms. Osoria's email, but was not reviewed by her until September 6, 2017. At that time she reached out to A.I.P. She did not meet with her until November 14, 2017. There was no contact with A.I.P. between the first telephone call on June 12, 2017 with her and the day she came in, which was November 14, 2017.

Initially Ms. Osoria intended to register the students in the Newark District. Her position changed after she spoke with A.I.P. in November. Her decision was based upon what A.I.P. told her. A.I.P. indicated to Ms. Osoria that she desired educational continuity.

Ms. Osoria reached out again to A.I.P. in 2018, the aim of which was to have her come in and bring supporting documents that she may have. She communicated this to Ms. Boehm. A meeting was scheduled for April 30, 2018 at 10:00 a.m., but A.I.P. did not attend. She advised Springfield thereafter via email that no further investigation was needed as the students were not Newark's responsibility.

Susan Giordino was called at the end of Respondent's case to testify as to certain documents:

She is employed by the Springfield Board of Education and is the secretary to the Director of Special Services. She helped process the student enrollment for M in the beginning of the 2016/2017 school year. A.I.P. came to the office to submit enrollment paperwork. A.I.P. produced a lease, which seemed to Ms. Giordino to be suspect. She identified a copy of the lease.

Tiffany Boehm was recalled at the end of Respondent's case to testify as to certain documents:

Ms. Boehm reviewed release forms provided by Newark in order to send IEPs for M and Jad P. Newark was requesting the most recent IEP for both students. The address on the form was 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ. A.I.P. was listed as the person completing the forms. This was November 14, 2017. On the same day she corresponded with Ms. Osaria who had determined that A.I.P. was not living in Newark. This was in an email.

Respondent's Case

Ana Osoria testified as follows:

Ms. Osoria reviewed her experience and work as she did on direct examination by Ms. Stewart when she testified as Petitioner's witness.

She reviewed scenarios that could lead to a person being displaced.

Ms. Osoria also reviewed her educational background.

She reviewed how she conducts an interview with a displaced family.

During the meeting with A.I.P. in November 2017 Ms. Osoria did not offer her any of the services or amenities she would normally offer displaced families as A.I.P. indicated she wanted to continue with Springfield.

Ms. Osoria was not advised by anyone from Springfield that an investigator was sent to the Fabyan Place address.

She did not have any contact with A.I.P. from the first telephone call in September 2017 until December 1, 2021. On that date they spoke via telephone. A.I.P. restated what she told Ms. Osoria in September 2017 was correct. There was another telephone call with A.I.P. on December 7, 2021, with Ms. Styza also on the call. On the same date she went to meet with A.I.P. at an address in Dover. She went with Newark Board of Education security and an investigator. The purpose of the visit was to see if her previous statements were consistent.

Timothy Gray testified as follows:

Mr. Gray is a partner with Capital Investigations. He went on to describe his experience as an investigator. He further explained the various types of investigations.

He was retained by Newark to do an investigation regarding Jad and M. He was asked to find if A.I.P. was primarily residing in Newark. He was provided with information about A.I.P. and performed a desk top search, which is a review of online data bases. There was no surveillance done. Based upon the data base search results he produces a profile. The search starts with a name and social security number. He stated that, based on the results, it appeared to him that A.I.P. was going back and forth from different addresses. He reviewed the various addresses revealed from the data base searches. The time frame he reviewed was during 2016 and 2017. He could not determine, with any sense of certainty, where A.I.P. lived during this time frame. She did not file a change of address form with the United States Postal Service.

Mr. Gray stated it would be fair to say that he has no idea whether A.I.P. lived at any of the addresses at all at any time.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. A.I.P., and her children, Jas. P., Jad. P. and M.P., resided in the Township of Springfield, N.J. until approximately June of 2016.

2. As residents of Springfield the children were entitled to be educated in the Springfield public school system.

3. All three children, above noted, were students with special needs and had Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). (P-20)

4. A welfare check at the Springfield address of the P family by the Springfield Police revealed that they no longer resided at said address. A different family resided therein. (12/13/21 Tr. 26:12 to 27:24)

5. The Springfield Board of Education discovered that the P family was residing in Newark, NJ, through a worker with Families and Communities Together (FACT), however the worker was unable to provide a current address. (P-19)

6. In September 2016, after being contacted by the school social worker, A.I.P. came to the Florence M. Guadineer Middle School to re-register M.P., and provided a lease, dated September 1, 2016, for her prior Springfield address. (P-21)

7. The P family was not living at their previous address in Springfield. They were living with the childrens' grandmother in Newark, NJ, at 134 Fabyan Place.

8. The Springfield Police confirmed that the P family was not living at their previous address. A different family was living there. (12/13/21 Tr. 41:6-17)

9. A.I.P. filled out a McKinney Vento Act Student Information form for Jad. P., Jas. P. and M.P. A.I.P. claimed in the forms that the family was homeless since June 30, 2016, and were residing at 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ. She also listed an Irvington address on the forms. (P-3)

10. Springfield BOE set up transportation from the 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ address to Springfield for Jas. P. and M.P. so they could attend school. Transportation was not required for Jad. P. as she was in a residential facility. Transportation for Jas. P. and M.P. continued through the end of the 2016/2017 school year.

11. Transportation was arranged for M.P. to attend the extended school year program but was subsequently cancelled as M.P. refused to attend the program.

12. The transportation company informed Springfield via email that M.P. would not leave the porch of the 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ address. They also advised that A.I.P. had exited the house after being contacted by telephone that M.P. would not get on the bus. (P-9)

13. During the 2016/2017 school year the only address used to pick up the children for transport to school was the 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ address.

14. An email, dated June 27, 2017, was sent to the Newark Board of Education homeless liaison, Ana Osoria, to advise that the P family was living in Newark from May 2016. Said email provided the names of the children and the Newark address. (J-1)

15. Ms. Osoria did not respond to this email until September 12, 2017, after receiving a follow up email from Tiffany Boehm of Springfield, dated September 6, 2017. (J-2)

16. In response to Ms. Osoria's email of September 12, 2017, the IEPs for the three children were forwarded. (P-23)

17. By email dated November 14, 2017, Ms. Osoria advised Springfield that she met with A.I.P. and determined that A.I.P. did not reside in Newark for 365 days. This was based on representations made by A.I.P. Ms. Osoria determined that the children should be the responsibility of Springfield. (J-3)

18. Springfield then assumed responsibility for the children and arranged for placements and transportation from the 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ address. Jad. P. was placed at Washington Academy, and M.P. was placed at Rutgers Day School. P-10 and P-11)

19. By letter dated April 10, 2018, Springfield advised Newark that it still held the position that Springfield was the responsible district for the 2017/2018 school year. (J-4)

20. Ms. Osoria responded, by email dated April 10, 2018, to said letter on behalf of Newark requesting documents to support Springfield's position and restating Newark's position. (J-5)

21. In response thereto, attendance and transportation records were provided by email dated April 23, 2018. (J-6)

22. Ms. Osoria responded, again reiterating Newark's position, which was based upon a conversation she had with A.I.P. Said email was also to update what had transpired. (J-7)

23. Springfield had their residency investigator investigate the residency situation for the P family. The investigator, James Post, set up surveillance at the 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ address and discovered that M.P. was residing therein. He did not observe Jad. P. He prepared a report as to his findings. (P-4)

24. Newark's position regarding the residency of the P family was based entirely on what A.I.P. told Ms. Osoria without any supporting documentation.

25. Ms. Osoria testified that A.I.P. told her she wanted her children to continue to be educated in the Springfield district.

26. Ms. Osoria, after speaking via telephone with A.I.P. on April 27, 2018, arranged a meeting with her for April 30, 2018. A.I.P. did not attend the meeting. (J-7)

27. Springfield discovered during the summer of 2018 that the P family was living in Dover, NJ. M.P. was enrolled in the Dover district. The transportation contract for M.P. was cancelled. It appeared that Jad. P. had dropped out of school.

28. Newark Board of Education was the responsible district for the education of the P family children, Jad. P., Jas. P. and M.P. from the beginning of the 2017/2018 school year until the time the children became the responsibility of the Dover school district.

29. Springfield expended the sum of $15,707.50 in tuition for the Rutgers Day School for M.P. for the period of April to June 2018. (P-12)

30. Springfield expended the sum of $12,942.84 in tuition for the Rutgers Day School for M.P. for the period of September to October 2018. (P-13)

31. Springfield expended the sum of $12,942.84 in tuition for the Rutgers Day School for M.P. for the period of November to December 2018. (P-14)

32. Total tuition costs expended by Springfield for M.P. are $41,593,18.

33. Transportation costs paid by Springfield total $39,918.40 for Jad P. to Washington Academy, and for M.P. to Rutgers Day School, for the period of June 26, 2017 through December 31, 2018. (P-15 and P-15a)

34. Total amount of funds expended by Springfield that the Newark Board of Education is responsible for equal $79,511.58.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Right to a Free Public Education

N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a) and N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a) sets forth the right of a student to a free public education, which in pertinent parts states:

> Public schools shall be free to the following persons over five and under twenty years of age:
> a. Any person who is domiciled within the school district[.]

Consideration in proving residency for purposes of establishing eligibility for school district placement is found at N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.4(a),

> (a) A district board of education shall accept a combination of any of the following or similar forms of documentation from persons attempting to demonstrate a student's eligibility for enrollment in the school district:
> 1. Property tax bills, deeds, contracts of sale, leases, mortgages, signed letters from landlords and other evidence of property ownership, tenancy or residency;
> 2. Voter registrations, licenses, permits, financial account information, utility bills, delivery receipts, and other evidence of personal attachment to a particular location;
> . . .

> 3. Court orders; State agency agreements; and other evidence of court or agency placements or directives;
> 4. Receipts; bills; cancelled checks; insurance claims or payments; and other evidence of expenditures demonstrating personal attachment to a particular location or to support the student;
>
> . . .
>
> 6. Affidavits, certifications and sworn attestations pertaining to statutory criteria for school attendance, from the parent, guardian, person keeping an "affidavit student," adult student, person(s) with whom a family is living, or others as appropriate;
>
>
> 8. Any other business record or document issued by a governmental entity.
>
> (b) A district board of education may accept forms of documentation not listed in (a) above, and shall not exclude from consideration any documentation or information presented by a person seeking to enroll a student.
> (c) A district board of education shall consider the totality of information and documentation offered by an applicant, and shall not deny enrollment based on failure to provide a particular form of documentation, or a particular subset of documents, without regard to other evidence presented.

In the instant matter, it is clear that A.I.P. resided in Newark. The address given to Springfield was the Newark address. Springfield's investigator confirmed that A.I.P. resided in Newark. The only reasonable conclusion is that A.I.P resided in Newark. The investigation conducted by Newark was nothing more than internet search, with no on-site observation, as was the case with the Springfield investigation. In fact, the investigator for Springfield admitted he could not say whether or not A.I.P. lived at any of the addresses set forth in his report. (2T172:16-25) He did not do surveillance, as the investigator for Springfield did.

Newark based its decision on residency entirely upon what A.I.P. told them. There was no independent confirmation. There were no documents provided. There was nothing other then hearsay statements provided by Ms. Osoria in her testimony as to what A.I.P. told her. There was not a shred of residuum evidence to support the hearsay statements.

Judicial rules of evidence do not apply to administrative agency proceedings, except for rules of privileges or where required by law. N.J.R.E.101(a)(3). DeBartolomeis v. Board of Review, 341 N.J. Super.80, 82 (App. Div. 2001). N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(a) and N.J.A.C. 1:1-15.1(c).

Hearsay are statements other than ones made by the declarant while testifying at a hearing, offered into evidence to prove the truth of the matter asserted. N.J.R.E. 801(c). Hearsay is usually not admissible because it is deemed untrustworthy and unreliable (N.J.R.E. 802) unless it falls within an exception enumerated in N.J.R.E 803 or 804. However, hearsay is admissible in an administrative proceeding such as this one subject to the "residuum rule," which mandates that the administrative decision cannot be predicated on hearsay alone. Weston v. State, 60 N.J. 36 (1972).

[A] fact-finding or legal determination cannot be based upon hearsay alone. Hearsay may be employed to corroborate competent proof, or competent proof may be supported or given added probative force by hearsay testimony. But in the final analysis for a court to sustain an administrative decision, which affects the substantial rights of a party, there must be a residuum of legal competent evidence in the record to support it. [Id. at 51]

The Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules governing administrative agency proceedings codify this doctrine by requiring that "some legally competent evidence must exist to support each ultimate finding of fact to an extent sufficient to provide assurances of reliability and to avoid the fact or appearance of arbitrariness." N.J.A.C. 1:1-15.5(c). In assessing hearsay evidence, it should be accorded "whatever weight the judge deems appropriate taking into account the nature, character and scope of the evidence, the circumstances of its creation and production, and, generally, its reliability. N.J.A.C. 1:1-15.5(a).

In accordance with the residuum rule, I accepted the hearsay evidence. However, no competent evidence was presented to corroborate the hearsay evidence. Accordingly, no weight can be given to the same.

Further, Newark's position that an individual must reside for 365 consecutive days to not be considered homeless finds no support in the law.

N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(c) states: The district of residence for children whose parent or guardian temporarily moves from one school district to another as the result of being homeless shall be the district in which the parent or guardian last resided prior to becoming homeless. For the purpose of this amendatory and supplementary act, "homeless" shall mean an individual who temporarily lacks a fixed, regular and adequate residence.

As A.I.P. claimed homelessness for the 2016/2017 school year, Springfield acted appropriately and registered children, notwithstanding their new address in Newark.

N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(d) states: Any person whose parent or guardian, even though not domiciled within the district, is residing temporarily therein, but any person who has had or shall have his all-year-round dwelling place within the district for one year or longer shall be deemed to be domiciled within the district for the purposes of this section.

The preponderance of the credible evidence shows that A.I.P., M.P. and Jad. P. resided at 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ for more than one year. Accordingly, they became the responsibility of the Newark school district for the 2017/2018 school year.

N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.3 states in pertinent part: a) Tuition assessed pursuant to this section shall be calculated on a per-student basis for the period of a student's ineligible enrollment, up to one year, by applicable grade/program category and consistent with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-17.1. The individual student's record of daily attendance shall not affect the calculation.

Springfield expended the sum of $41,593.18 in tuition costs, and the sum of $39,918.40 in transportation costs from the time that Newark was the responsible district for the education of M.P. and Jad. P. The total sums expended by Springfield were $79,511.58.

Based upon the foregoing, I further CONCLUDE that Jad. P. and M.P., together with their mother, A.I.P., resided at 134 Fabyan Place, Newark, NJ, from June 30, 2016 until the summer of 2018; and, Newark became the responsible school district for the 2017/2018 school year after the family resided therein for more than one year.

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing it is ORDERED that the Newark Board of Education reimburse the Springfield Board of Education the sum of $79,511.58.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Dear Counsel:

I have considered the papers filed in connection with the requests for interlocutory review of the School Ethics Commission's August 23, 2022 decision filed by the Complainants and the Respondent in the above-captioned matter.

Upon full consideration of the submitted materials, I have determined not to grant interlocutory review, pursuant to my discretion under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10.

Accordingly, the requests for interlocutory review are hereby denied.

Sincerely,

Final Decision

Rebecca Adams-Paul,

Complainant,

v.

Daniel Dilks, Board of Education of the Township of Tabernacle, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner, a member of the teaching staff in the Tabernacle School District, alleged that respondent, a member of the Tabernacle Board of Education, violated multiple sections of the School Ethics Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1, when he sent an email in which he commented on complainant's conduct while her conduct was under review by district administration. The School Ethics Commission (SEC) determined that the respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members and recommended a penalty of reprimand.

The case was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination of the appropriate penalty in this matter. Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the penalty recommendation of the SEC. Accordingly, the respondent shall be reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Rebecca Adams-Paul,

Complainant,

v.

Daniel Dilks, Board of Education of the Township of Tabernacle, Burlington County,

Respondent.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the July 26, 2022 decision of the School Ethics Commission (Commission). The Commission found that respondent Daniel Dilks, a member of the Tabernacle Board of Education, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code). The Commission recommended a penalty of reprimand for the violation. The Commission's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq., of the Commission's underlying finding of violation.

Upon review, for the reasons thoroughly detailed in the Initial Decision of the Administrative Law Judge and the decision of the Commission, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the Commission for respondent's violation of the Code in connection with an email in which he commented on complainant's conduct while her conduct was under review by district administration.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

I. Procedural History

The above-captioned matter arises from a Complaint that was filed on June 7, 2021, by Rebecca Adams-Paul (Complainant), alleging that Daniel Dilks (Respondent), a member of the Tabernacle Board of Education (Board), violated the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq.[1] The Complaint avers that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code) in Count 1, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(f) of the Code in Count 4, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(g) of the Code in Count 6, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(i) of the Code in Count 2 and Count 5, and violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) of the Code in Count 3.

At its meeting on September 21, 2021, and following a review and discussion of the parties' pleadings at a previous meeting, the Commission adopted a decision granting Respondent's Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of Answer (Motion to Dismiss) as to the violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(f) (Count 4), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(g) (Count 6), and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(i) (Count 2 and Count 5), and denying the Motion to Dismiss as to the violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) (Count 1) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) (Count 3). The Commission also adopted a decision finding the Complaint not frivolous and denying Respondent's request for sanctions.

Based on its findings, the Commission also directed Respondent to file an Answer to Complaint (Answer) as to the remaining allegations in the Complaint (N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) (Count 1) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) (Count 3)), and advised the parties that, following receipt of Respondent's Answer, the within matter would be transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL).

[1] By correspondence dated June 8, 2021, Complainant was notified that the Complaint was deficient, and required amendment before the School Ethics Commission (Commission) could accept her filing. On June 9, 2021, Complainant cured all defects and filed an Amended Complaint (Complaint) that was deemed compliant with the requirements detailed in N.J.A.C. 6A:28-6.3.

The above-captioned matter was filed with the OAL on October 21, 2021, to be heard as a contested case, and was assigned to the Honorable David M. Fritch, Administrative Law Judge (ALJ Fritch). Initial Decision at 1-2. While at the OAL, Complainant filed a Motion for Summary Decision on February 11, 2022, and Respondent filed a response brief and Cross-Motion for Summary Decision on February 28, 2022. Id. at 2. On March 14, 2022, Complainant filed a response to Respondent's Cross-Motion for Summary Decision. Id. at 2-3. Because neither party requested oral argument nor filed further submissions, the record on the cross-motions closed on March 14, 2022. Id. at 3.

On April 28, 2022, ALJ Fritch issued an Initial Decision detailing his findings of fact and legal conclusions on the parties' Cross-Motions for Summary Decision. The Commission acknowledged receipt of ALJ Fritch's Initial Decision on the date it was issued (April 28, 2022); therefore, the forty-five (45) day statutory period for the Commission to issue a Final Decision was June 13, 2022.[2] Prior to June 13, 2022, the Commission requested a forty-five (45) day extension of time to issue its decision so as to allow the Commission, which only meets monthly, the opportunity to receive and review the full record, including the parties' Exceptions (if any). Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(c) and N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.8, and for good cause shown, the Commission was granted an extension until July 28, 2022.

At its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission considered the full record in this matter. Thereafter, and at its meeting on July 26, 2022, the Commission voted to adopt the findings of fact from ALJ Fritch's Initial Decision; to adopt the legal conclusion that, based on the competent and credible evidence, Complainant met her burden to prove violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j); and to adopt the recommended penalty of reprimand.

II. Initial Decision

In the Initial Decision, ALJ Fritch found that the following facts are undisputed and, therefore, serve as the findings of fact for his decision:

1. Respondent is a Board member, and has a child enrolled in the Tabernacle School District (District).

2. Complainant is employed by the Board as a teaching staff member.

3. At a Board meeting on February 16, 2021, the Superintendent spoke about shifting to full-time, in-person instruction five days per week.

4. At the February 16, 2021, Board meeting, Complainant spoke during public comment regarding health and safety concerns related to COVID-19. More specifically, the minutes provide the following summary of Complainant's statement, "... teachers understand the importance of being back in school. Cannot overlook the CDC guidelines. Health guidelines should remain in the forefront. Criticism on social media are [sic] installing fear. Spoke in support of assistants."

[2] Forty-five (45) days after April 28, 2022, was, technically, Sunday, June 12, 2022; by rule, the deadline is therefore extended until the next business day.

5. Another parent (Ms. O'Hara) who was in favor of the District returning to full-time, in-person instruction also provided a public statement.

6. On February 17, 2021, Respondent received an email from a parent who forwarded screen shots from Complainant's Facebook page (July 23, 2020), indicating that she (Complainant) was traveling to Cancun, Mexico, as well as a posting from March 13, 2020, which "tagged" Complainant "in a photo of four Corona beers." The email also addressed Complainant's comments at the Board meeting (on February 16, 2021), claiming those comments were "disingenuous" and "very contradictory of actions they have taken outside of the school over the past year."

7. On February 17, 2021, Respondent emailed the Superintendent and forwarded the February 17, 2021, email he received (from the parent) regarding "specific concerns about what is now perceived to be the disingenuous nature of certain comments from staff about the health, safety, willingness, or ability to bring more kids back" at the Board meeting in "contradiction in what was stated and what the reality had been for these individuals, outside of the educational setting of our district" based on their images "posted on social media" about "vacations and taking flights out of the country, during the peak infectivity periods" and having "celebratory beer, in a local bar" on a date that "corresponds to the last full day of instruction last year." Respondent further added that he anticipated that the Superintendent "would be having discussion with [his] administrative team on this matter, and then collectively determine how to address from there."

8. On May 7, 2021, Ms. O'Hara sent an email to the Board (including Respondent), using their Board email addresses, which stated, in part: " ... many of the teachers just don't want to do what is in the best interest of the kids by putting them in school 5 full days this year ... I'd like to bring to your attention another situation concerning a specific teacher who feels entitled enough to taunt the very people who pay her salary ... This specific teacher decided to pull on the heart strings of everyone on the Jan[uary] [Board] meeting by saying that she and many other teachers had stress and anxiety about coming back to school ... It's the same teacher who was so scared to be back in school, yet supposedly didn't have any anxiety about getting on a plane and going to Mexico for vacation (in the very beginning of the pandemic) ... Same one who supposedly had drinks in the bar with some co-workers ... ."

9. Respondent acknowledges that the "specific teacher" referred to in Ms. O'Hara's email is Complainant.

10. The posts that Ms. O'Hara referred to (in her email) were Complainant's Facebook posts dated July 23, 2020 and March 13, 2020. These were the same posts that were attached to the February 17, 2021, email that Respondent received (from a parent) and then forwarded to the Superintendent.

11. During this same time, Complainant made a post on her personal Facebook page stating, in part: "I haven't been active on here in a while for a reason ... Community members have screenshots of past Facebook posts from a year and more ago from my page that have been sent to my [Board] and [S]uperintendent ... So, I had a drink in a bar outside of school hours with friends before [COVID] was a thing. I also went to Mexico last summer. ... Too bad I have tenure so you can't get rid of me that easily! So sad how pathetic and hateful some people are ... ."

12. On May 7, 2021, Respondent replied to Ms. O'Hara's email (via his Board email account), in relevant part: "... As a parent of a child in this [D]istrict, I too am appalled at the flippant and hypocritical communication put forth by certain [D]istrict staff ... As a [Board] member, I am equally frustrated, but I also recognize that any action taken by staff is ultimately the responsibility of the Superintendent/administration. I have also received these reports into my [Board] account, and being duty bound, have previously provided them to the admin team for their attention and follow up. This will be for [the Superintendent] to investigate and resolve ... my expectation would be that you would receive an appropriate response from [the Superintendent]."

13. Respondent acknowledges that, in his email to Ms. O'Hara, he was referring to Complainant and Facebook posts and statements she made.

Id. at 3-8.

In the "Legal Discussion" section of his Initial Decision, ALJ Fritch concludes that, based on the standards set forth in Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of America, 142 N.J. 520, 523 (1995), the above-captioned matter is appropriate/ripe for summary disposition because, "The facts, as set forth by the parties in their respective motions, are supported by tangible, undisputed evidence, and there does not appear to be any dispute of the material facts on the record regarding the material facts at issue ...." Id. at 10.

The remaining contentions in the Complaint are enumerated in Count 3, and include alleged violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j). These provisions of the Code provide:

> e. I will recognize that authority rests with the board of education and will make no personal promises nor take any private action that may compromise the board.
> j. I will refer all complaints to the chief administrative officer and will act on the complaints at public meetings only after failure of an administrative solution.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-6.4(a), violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) need to be supported by certain factual evidence, namely:

5. Factual evidence of a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) shall include evidence that Respondent made personal promises or took action beyond the scope of his duties such that, by its nature, had the potential to compromise the board.

10. Factual evidence of a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) shall include evidence that the respondent(s) acted on or attempted to resolve a complaint, or conducted an investigation or inquiry related to a complaint:

i. Prior to referral to the chief administrative officer; or

ii. At a time or place other than a public meeting and prior to the failure of an administrative solution.

Regarding the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e), ALJ Fritch concludes that Respondent's May 7, 2021, email to Ms. O'Hara "constituted an action taken by [Respondent] in his capacity as a member of the ... Board." Id. at 14. In support of this conclusion, ALJ Fritch notes that Respondent was responding to an email from a District parent that was addressed to the Superintendent and to Board members; the email was sent to Respondent's Board email address; the email (from Ms. O'Hara) was seeking a response from the Board and the administration, not the input of Board members as fellow parents; Ms. O'Hara's email asked questions about an issue "within the Board/administration's direct purview; and although Respondent attempted to "employ qualifiers by prefacing sections of his response," those "disclaimers are ineffective in attempting to disclaim [Respondent's] email response as anything other than a response given in his capacity as a Board member." Id. at 11-14.

As to whether Respondent's actions had the potential to compromise the Board, ALJ Fritch additionally concludes that Respondent's "email comments, made in his capacity as a Board member, in response to a complaint about actions of a District employee, when those actions were under investigation by the school administration, which had not yet taken action on those complaints, was an action beyond the scope of his Board duties that had the potential to compromise the Board in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e)." Id. at 15-16. In support of this conclusion, ALJ Fritch notes that, although the administration was aware of the issues expressed in Ms. O'Hara's communication, "it is uncontested that the issue had not been resolved by the school administration by the time [Respondent] sent his email response to [Ms.] O'Hara on May 7, 2021"; despite Respondent's knowledge, based on the contents of his response to Ms. O'Hara, that the issues raised in her (Ms. O'Hara's) email were pending with the administration, "he nonetheless took action on [Ms.] O'Hara's email in his capacity as a Board member"; the response to Ms. O'Hara did not just inform her that the Superintendent would be addressing her complaint, it also "made a number of conclusory statements regarding the issues raised," including characterizing Complainant's communications as "flippant and hypocritical," "inflammatory," and "not in line with the code of conduct we all, as parents, try to instill in our children," and as "being the source of embarrassment in the District"; the response "contained a number of statements as a Board member expressly condemning" Complainant's communications, even though same was still being reviewed by the administration; the response commits to Ms. O'Hara receiving an "appropriate response" from the Superintendent; and the "qualifier that [the Superintendent's] response will be 'appropriate' when read in light of [Respondent's] clear view of [Complainant's] communications ... clearly indicate that [Respondent] is expecting that [the Superintendent's] eventual 'appropriate' response will not likely to [(sic)] be favorable for [Complainant] despite the investigation into the conduct in question still being an ongoing one." Id. at 14-15. In short, Respondent's response to Ms. O'Hara "potentially compromised the Board by expressing, in writing, the unequivocal judgment of a sitting Board member on a matter that was still pending administrative investigation and action." Id. at 15.

Regarding the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j), ALJ Fritch concludes that Respondent acted on Ms. O'Hara's complaint by sending a response to her on May 7, 2021. Id. at 17. The basis for ALJ Fritch's determination is that, "The email that [Respondent] sent in response to [Ms.] O'Hara's complaint, however, was not merely forwarding the complaint to the ... administration for action, it was a response to the parent expressing [Respondent's] views on the matter and noting that he expected the administration to provide an 'appropriate response' to [Ms.] O'Hara." Id.

ALJ Fritch additionally concludes that Respondent's May 7, 2021, response to Ms. O'Hara constituted action at a time or place other than a public board meeting and prior to the failure of an administrative solution. Id. at 17-18. In support of this conclusion, ALJ Fritch notes that while the Superintendent was copied on Ms. O'Hara's email, "there is no indication that [Ms. O'Hara's] email complaint was specifically referred to [the] Superintendent ... for action prior to [Respondent's] email to [Ms.] O'Hara on May 7, 2021," and, even if the Superintendent was aware of the issue concerning Complainant's communication, before Ms. O'Hara's email was received, "it is undisputed that the administration had not taken action on this matter" at the time Respondent's response was sent, or that an administrative solution had failed. As such, ALJ Fritch concludes Complainant met her burden to prove, by a preponderance of the competent and credible evidence, that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j). Id.

Turning to the issue of penalty, ALJ Fritch notes that Complainant "seeks to recommend a penalty of 'no less than six months if Respondent is at any time a member of the Board and censure if he is not a member of the Board." Id. at 18. However, based on a review of the circumstances in which the Commission has recommended "serious penalties," ALJ Fritch concludes that, because "this is the first violation by ... [R]espondent"; "the communication in question was a one-time act and did not improperly convey any confidential or otherwise inaccurate information about [Complainant] which would justify more serious sanctions"; and was a "one-time discreet act which inappropriately conveyed the [R]espondent's personal opinions in his capacity as a Board member in an email to a concerned parent on a matter involving a Board employee that was pending investigation and action by the [D]istrict's administration," a penalty of reprimand is appropriate. Id. at 18-19.

III. Exceptions

Neither Complainant nor Respondent filed Exceptions to the Initial Decision.

IV. Analysis

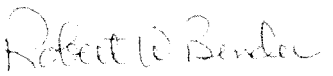
Upon a careful, thorough, and independent review of the record, the Commission adopts ALJ Fritch's findings of fact, and adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j).

In finding a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e), ALJ Fritch correctly determined that, given the means through which he received the complaint, and regardless of his attempt to qualify the capacity in which he was responding to Ms. O'Hara's email, Respondent's email response to Ms. O'Hara on May 7, 2021, "constituted an action taken by [Respondent] in his capacity as a member of the ... Board." Moreover, because Respondent offered his personal opinion (in his capacity as a Board member) on a matter that was being reviewed by the administration, and characterized Complainant's conduct in a way which seemed to suggest that the Superintendent would, like Ms. O'Hara and Respondent, regard Complainant's behavior as inappropriate, his email response to Ms. O'Hara on May 7, 2021, also had the potential to compromise the Board.

In addition, the Commission agrees that by responding to Ms. O'Hara's email at a time when the subject of her (Ms. O'Hara's) complaint was actively pending with the administration and a final determination had not yet been rendered, Respondent acted on Ms. O'Hara's complaint at a time or place other than a public board meeting and prior to the failure of an administrative solution in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j).

V. Decision

The Commission adopts the findings of fact from the Initial Decision, adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j), and agrees that the violations of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(j) are supported by a preponderance of the competent and credible evidence.



VI. Penalty

For the reasons relied upon by ALJ Fritch in his Initial Decision, namely that "this is the first violation by ... [R]espondent"; "the communication in question was a one-time act and did not improperly convey any confidential or otherwise inaccurate information about [Complainant] which would justify more serious sanctions"; and was a "one-time discreet act which inappropriately conveyed the [R]espondent's personal opinions in his capacity as a Board member in an email to a concerned parent on a matter involving a Board employee that was pending investigation and action by the [D]istrict's administration," the Commission adopts the recommended penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner for review of the Commission's recommended sanctions. Parties may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's findings of violations of the Act; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction and an appeal of the Commission's findings of violations of the Act.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanctions of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's findings of violations may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended sanctions to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction." A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's findings of violations must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4, et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanctions will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the findings of violations on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Denise Sanders,
Board of Education of the Township of Teaneck, Bergen County.

Synopsis

The School Ethics Commission (SEC) found that respondent Denise Sanders, a member of the Teaneck Board of Education, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code). The SEC recommended a penalty of reprimand for this violation.

The case was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination of the appropriate penalty in this matter. Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's violation of the Code in connection with her failure to recuse herself from matters regarding the compensation of the district's superintendent when her daughter was employed as a per diem substitute teacher by the district. Accordingly, the respondent shall be reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Denise Sanders,
Board of Education of the Township of Teaneck, Bergen County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the July 26, 2022 decision of the School Ethics Commission (Commission). The Commission found that respondent Denise Sanders, a member of the Teaneck Board of Education, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) of the Code of Ethics for School Board Members (Code). The Commission recommended a penalty of reprimand for the violation. The Commission's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq., of the Commission's underlying finding of violation.

Upon review, for the reasons thoroughly detailed in the decision of the Commission, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the Commission for respondent's violation of the Code in connection with her failure to recuse herself from matters regarding the compensation of the district's superintendent when her daughter was employed as a per diem substitute teacher by the district.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Final Decision

I/M/O Denise Sanders,
Teaneck Board of Education, Bergen County,
Respondent

I. Procedural History

The above-captioned matter arises from a Complaint that was filed on September 26, 2019, by Gerald T. Reiner, Jr. (Complainant) alleging that Denise Sanders (Respondent), a member of the Teaneck Board of Education (Board), violated the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq. More specifically, the Complaint averred that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) in Count 1 and Count 2; violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(a), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(e), and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24.1(f) in Count 3; and violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) in Count 4.

After the Complaint was served, Respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of Answer (Motion to Dismiss), and also alleged that the Complaint is frivolous. As part of his response to the Motion to Dismiss and allegation of frivolous filing, Complainant agreed to voluntarily withdraw the allegations in Count 1.

At its meeting on January 21, 2020, and following a review and discussion of the parties' pleadings at a previous meeting, the Commission adopted a decision granting the Motion to Dismiss as to the allegations in Count 2 and Count 3 (the allegations in Count 1 were voluntarily withdrawn by Complainant); denying the Motion to Dismiss as to the allegations in Count 4; finding the Complaint not frivolous and denying Respondent's request for sanctions; and directing Respondent to file an Answer to Complaint (Answer) for the remaining allegations. On February 11, 2020, Respondent filed an Answer as directed.

Thereafter, and at its meeting on April 21, 2020, the Commission adopted a decision finding probable cause for the remaining allegations in the Complaint. Following its finding of probable cause, the Commission filed the above-captioned matter with the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested matter, and, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.7(b), the attorney for the Commission (Petitioner) was charged with prosecuting the allegations in the Complaint which the Commission found probable cause to credit.

At the OAL, the above-captioned matter was assigned to the Honorable Kimberly A. Moss, Administrative Law Judge (ALJ Moss). Initial Decision at 1. ALJ Moss conducted a hearing on November 8, 2021, and the parties submitted closing briefs on May 16, 2022; thereafter, the record closed. Id. at 2.

On May 23, 2022, ALJ Moss issued an Initial Decision detailing her findings of fact and legal conclusions. The Commission acknowledged receipt of ALJ Moss's Initial Decision on the date it was issued (May 23, 2022); therefore, the forty-five (45) day statutory period for the Commission to issue a Final Decision was July 7, 2022. Prior to July 7, 2022, the Commission requested a forty-five (45) day extension of time to issue its decision so as to allow the Commission, which only meets monthly, the opportunity to receive and review the full record, including the parties' Exceptions (if any). Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(c) and N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.8, and for good cause shown, the Commission was granted an extension until August 22, 2022.[1]

At its meeting on June 28, 2022, the Commission considered the full record in this matter. Thereafter, and at its meeting on July 26, 2022, the Commission voted to adopt the findings of fact from ALJ Moss's Initial Decision; to adopt the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b); to adopt the legal conclusion that Respondent did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c); and to modify the Initial Decision to include a penalty of reprimand.

II. Initial Decision

Based on the witness testimony and documentary evidence submitted, ALJ Moss issued the following findings of fact: Respondent became a Board member in 2016; the Board has a nepotism policy which exempts per diem substitute employees from the policy; on October 10, 2018, Respondent's child was approved by the Board to become a per diem substitute for the 2018-2019 school year; on August 21, 2019, Respondent's child was renewed as a per diem substitute for the 2019-2020 school year; and on August 26, 2020, Respondent's child was again renewed as a per diem substitute for the 2020-2021 school year. Id. at 7-8.

Furthermore, substitute teachers can choose the assignments they want to take; substitute teachers report to the Human Resources Department, and not to the Superintendent; the Superintendent is responsible for everyone in the Teaneck School District (District); Respondent's child does not live with Respondent, and is not financially dependent on Respondent; Respondent spoke with Board counsel about her child's employment as a per diem substitute, and was told that her child "was eligible to work as a substitute teacher, because substitute teachers are per diem and not employees and exempt from the nepotism policy; and Respondent abstained from voting when renewal of substitute teachers was voted on by the Board. Id. at 8.

Moreover, Board members receive yearly training; ethics is part of that training; Respondent participated in those training sessions; Respondent was present in executive session on June 12, 2019, when the Superintendent's evaluation was discussed; at its meeting on June 26, 2019, the Board approved the Superintendent's merit goals, and Respondent voted on the motion (affirmatively); if the merit goals are achieved, the Superintendent receives a fifteen percent (15%) bonus; during executive session on June 26, 2019, the contract and evaluation of the Superintendent was discussed; at the Board's meetings on September 11, 2019, and [1] Technically, forty-five (45) days after May 23, 2022, was Sunday, August 21, 2022; by rule, the deadline was extended until the next business day, which was Monday, August 22, 2022.

September 18, 2019, there were executive session discussions concerning merit goals for the Superintendent, and Respondent participated in those discussions; and Respondent never discussed her child's employment with the Superintendent. Id. at 9.

With the above in mind, ALJ Moss found that Respondent's child is not a member of her (Respondent's) immediate family because her child does not live with her (Respondent), and is not financially dependent on Respondent. Id. at 11. Because her child is not an immediate family member (as that term is defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23), ALJ Moss concludes Respondent did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c). Id.

However, ALJ Moss further concludes Respondent did violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) because, although a per diem substitute can decide when and where to work and technically reports to the Human Resources Department, "the Superintendent is the individual who is responsible for the District and therefore is responsible for the per diem substitute teachers." Id. In this case, Respondent voted to approve the Superintendent's merit goals at the June 26, 2019, Board meeting, and discussed the Superintendent's merit goals at the September 11, 2019, and September 18, 2019, Board meetings (in executive session). Id. If the merit goals are achieved, the Superintendent receives a fifteen percent (15%) bonus. Id. Taken together, "A reasonable person could believe that by [Respondent] voting on the merit goals which can include a fifteen percent bonus for the Superintendent, [Respondent] believed that her [child] would continue to be a per diem substitute teacher in the District." Id. at 11-12. Consequently, Respondent violated N.J.S.A 18A:12-24(b) because "voting and discussing the merit goals of the Superintendent could be seen to have a pecuniary interest for her [child]." Id. at 12.

Based on the foregoing, ALJ Moss dismissed the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), and sustained the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). However, ALJ Moss did not recommend a penalty for Respondent's violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b).

III. Exceptions

Petitioner's Exceptions

In its Exceptions filed on June 6, 2022, Petitioner (counsel for the Commission) argues that the Initial Decision should be modified to impose a penalty for Respondent's conduct and, more specifically, for the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). Although ALJ Moss "properly found that Respondent violated" N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), she "failed to indicate whether Respondent should face a penalty, and if so what type of penalty she should face based on the violation." According to Petitioner, the absence of a recommended penalty renders the Initial Decision incomplete as it "failed to properly dispose of all issues" as required by N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.3.

As for the penalty, Petitioner argues that Respondent must be censured for her conduct. In this case, Respondent "engaged in conduct which could reasonably be seen as an attempt to gain a personal benefit for her [child]." Per Petitioner, Respondent "was fully aware of her ethical and statutory obligations, given her trainings." Moreover, this case is analogous so I/M/O Anderson, High Point Regional Board of Education, Sussex County, Docket No. 45-19, in which Respondent was reprimanded based on a one-time vote approving the attainment of merit goals by the Superintendent. Importantly, and unlike in I/M/O Anderson, Respondent here "violated the Act on not one, but multiple occasions, during multiple meetings," and was not new to the Board or unfamiliar with her requirements; as such, and because Respondent's actions constitute a serious violation of the public trust, a penalty of censure is appropriate.

For the foregoing reasons, Petitioner argues the Initial Decision should be modified to include a recommendation for censure.

Response to Petitioner's Exceptions

In her response to Petitioner's Exceptions, which were also filed on June 6, 2022, Respondent asserts Petitioner's "expanded interpretation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c) lacks merit as the requirements set forth in the statute apply to the findings of the Commission and not that of the [ALJ]." Respondent further asserts that she was "misguided as to her ethical and statutory obligations" and, therefore a reprimand, not a censure, is appropriate.

Respondent testified that she consulted with a representative from the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA), prior to June 12, 2019, and this individual "advised [Respondent] that substitutes are not employees of the district and that any decision she would be required to make as a board member or trustee would not be affected by her [child's] appointment as a per diem substitute." Respondent further testified that she consulted with Board counsel before her child was hired as a per diem substitute, who advised Respondent, "as a per diem substitute teacher her [child] would 'not have the same regulations as an employee.'"

Despite Petitioner's argument, Respondent maintains ALJ Moss was not required to recommend a penalty to the Commission in her Initial Decision. Moreover, despite Petitioner's contention that Respondent should have been aware of her ethical and statutory obligations as a result of the trainings she received, Respondent consulted with the NJSBA and Board counsel, who both advised she was not required to recuse herself in matters related to the Superintendent because her child was a per diem substitute teacher and, therefore, not an employee of the District. Citing Cheng v. Rhodas, West New York Board of Education, Hudson County, Docket No. C58-14, as well as I/M/O Carmine Cimino, Little Egg Harbor Township Board of Education, Ocean County, Docket No. C31-14, Respondent notes, a "penalty greater than reprimand would constitute an egregious miscarriage of justice" as Respondent relied, to her detriment, on the advice of others. Therefore, Respondent asserts, if a penalty is necessary, "it should be no greater than a reprimand."

IV. Analysis

Upon a careful, thorough, and independent review of the record, the Commission adopts ALJ Moss's findings of fact; adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b); and adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c).

Because, as determined by ALJ Moss, Respondent's child does not reside in her (Respondent's) household and is not financially dependent on Respondent, the Commission agrees that a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) - which requires a school official to act in a matter where she, a member of her immediate family, or a business organization in which she has an interest, has a direct or indirect financial involvement, or to act in a matter where she or a member of her immediate family has a personal involvement – is not supported by the record. Had Respondent's child fell within the parameters of the term "member of immediate family," a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) would have been sustainable.

As for the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), the Commission agrees with ALJ Moss that a reasonable person could believe that by discussing and voting to approve a significant financial payment/bonus for the individual (the Superintendent) who is ultimately responsible for the oversight and supervision of everyone who works in the District, including her own child, Respondent "believed that her [child] would continue to be a per diem substitute teacher in the District." Id. at 11-12. By discussing and voting on the Superintendent's merit goals, the Commission wholeheartedly agrees that Respondent's action "could be seen to have a pecuniary interest for her [child]." Id. at 12.

V. Decision

For the foregoing reasons, the Commission adopts the findings of fact from the Initial Decision, adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), and adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c).

VI. Penalty

Although ALJ Moss found a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), the Initial Decision did not recommend a penalty for Respondent's ethical violation. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.3(c), a written initial decision "shall" contain, among other things, a "disposition" of the contested matter. N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.3(c). Because ALJ Moss found a violation of the Act, the Commission agrees with Petitioner that the failure to include a recommended penalty for the violation does not fully dispose of the contested case.

Although the Commission could remand the above-captioned matter so that a penalty could be recommended, the Commission instead elects to modify the Initial Decision to include a penalty of reprimand for the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). The Commission's decision to modify the Initial Decision, as opposed to remanding the above-captioned matter, is because the record provides a sufficient basis upon which the Commission can recommend a penalty.

Based on the record, it is clear that Respondent received yearly training(s) (from NJSBA) in her capacity as a Board member and that, despite receipt of such training(s), she was present for and/or participated in several discussions regarding the Superintendent, and voted in the affirmative on matters which resulted in the Superintendent receiving significant financial remuneration (a bonus). Id. at 2-9. However, Respondent also testified that she consulted with a representative from NJSBA and Board counsel about her involvement in matters related to the Superintendent while her child was employed in the District, and she was advised, by both NJSBA's representative and Board counsel, that she did not have a conflict of interest.

Absent Respondent's good faith efforts to seek guidance and advice from NJSBA and Board counsel, and because Respondent repeatedly failed to recuse herself from such matters on multiple occasions, the Commission would have censured Respondent for her conduct. However, because she relied, albeit to her detriment, on the advice provided by NJSBA and Board counsel, the Commission finds that a penalty of reprimand is appropriate.

In adopting a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) and recommending a penalty of reprimand, the Commission must emphasize and underscore the fact that although (as in this case) a board of education may be able to hire a relative or member of a school official's immediate family because he/she is excluded from the scope of the school district's nepotism policy; the relative or member of the school official's immediate family was grandfathered (i.e., because the employment of the relative or member of the school official's immediate family preceded a school official's election, appointment, or employment); and/or the board of education sought and received approval from the executive county superintendent for the hiring, school officials can still violate the Act if they do not recuse themselves from any and all matters in which they have a conflict of interest because of their relative or immediate family member's employment in the school district. In Advisory Opinion A24-17, the Commission specifically addresses the matters from which school officials must recuse themselves because of their familial relationships.

Accordingly, and for the reasons set forth above, Commission modifies the Initial Decision to include a recommended penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner for review of the Commission's recommended sanctions. Parties may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's findings of violations of the Act; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction and an appeal of the Commission's findings of violations of the Act.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanctions of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's findings of violations may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended sanctions to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction." A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's findings of violations must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4, et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanctions will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the findings of violations on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Maria Azzaro, The New Jersey Education Association, and Mellk O'Neill, Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County

Respondent.

Synopsis

This matter stems from a successful defense against an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) issued in 2007 to petitioner Maria Azzaro by the New Jersey State Board of Examiners (SBE). Following hearings in the original matter, which occurred between 2012 and 2018 at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), an Initial Decision dismissing the OTSC was issued by an ALJ in 2019 and adopted by the SBE in February 2020. The matter then closed. Subsequently, petitioners filed the within matter seeking reimbursement from the Trenton Board of Education (Board) under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 for costs and fees associated with defending against the OTSC. The parties filed cross motions for summary judgment.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there is no genuine issue as to any material fact here, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, a board of education employee may be indemnified for attorney's fees and costs incurred defending civil actions that arise in the course and scope of their employment duties; N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 does not impose an affirmative duty on the employee to notify a board of education at the outset of the underlying litigation; the Board's argument that the petitioners waived the right to indemnification when they did not notify it of the OTSC at the outset and did not request that it provide Azzaro with a defense or indemnify her, is without merit as it is clear from the record that the Board possessed sufficient information such that it was on notice of the charges against Azzaro. The ALJ concluded that petitioners were entitled to indemnification for the costs and fees incurred in defending Azzarro in the SBE proceedings. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the petitioners' motion for summary decision and ordered the Board to reimburse petitioners in the amount of $430,800 in fees and $5,361.60 in costs.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagreed with the ALJ that petitioners are entitled to indemnification, citing to Edison v. Mezzacca, 147 N.J. Super. 9 (App. Div. 1977) for the proposition that an employee seeking indemnification does not have the absolute right to counsel of their own choosing at municipal expense. The Commissioner found that, consistent with the Appellate Division's holding in Edison, Azzaro had no right to be represented by Mellk O'Neill at the Board's expense without the express agreement of the Board. Further, the Commissioner noted that petitioners failed to notify the Board of their request for indemnification until more than a decade of legal bills had accumulated, from a law firm which the Board had no hand in selecting. Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision was granted, and the petition was dismissed

Final Decision

Maria Azzaro, The New Jersey Education Association, and Mellk O'Neill, Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by respondent pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and petitioner's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

In 2007, the State Board of Examiners (SBE) of the New Jersey Department of Education issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) why petitioner Maria Azzaro's teaching, specialist, and principal certifications should not be revoked or suspended. The proceedings were based on allegations pertaining to scheduling and grading practices at the school where Azzaro was employed. After years of proceedings, the SBE dismissed the OTSC, and Azzaro's certificates were not suspended or revoked. Azzaro, along with the law firm of Mellk O'Neill, who had represented her during the SBE proceedings, and the New Jersey Education Association (NJEA), who had retained Mellk O'Neill on Azzaro's behalf, filed a petition of appeal, seeking indemnification from the Trenton Board of Education (Board) for the legal fees and costs of her defense. Following cross-motions for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that petitioners were entitled to indemnification for the fees and costs of defending Azzarro in the SBE proceedings. The ALJ reviewed the bills submitted by petitioners and, after making some adjustments to the number of hours billed and hourly rates, ordered the Board to reimburse petitioners in the amount of $430,800 in fees and $5,361.60 in costs.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that New Jersey case law requires that an indemnitee must give timely notice to the indemnitor and, absent such notice, cannot demand reimbursement for expenses that the indemnitor had no opportunity to control. The Board notes that its current insurance coverage has a significantly lower limit than the policy that was in place when the SBE proceedings began, such that the Board is prejudiced by the lack of notice that petitioners would seek indemnification. The Board further contends that the hourly rate awarded by the ALJ is not reasonable, and the bills submitted by petitioners lack sufficient detail to properly calculate the fee total.

In reply, petitioners argue that the Board's arguments regarding its insurance coverage are outside the record and therefore improperly included in exceptions. Petitioners contend that the ALJ correctly concluded that the indemnification statute does not require employees to notify a board of education at the outset of litigation. According to petitioners, the Board only had an obligation to indemnify Azzaro once the charges against her were dismissed. Petitioners further state their belief that if the Board controlled the litigation, it would have done so with the aim of minimizing expense, rather than exonerating Azzaro, such that it was imperative for Azzaro to have independent counsel. Finally, petitioners argue that the ALJ appropriately calculated the reasonable fees and costs of Azzaro's defense.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that petitioners are entitled to indemnification. In Edison v. Mezzacca, 147 N.J. Super. 9 (App. Div. 1977), the Appellate Division held that an employee seeing indemnification "does not have the absolute right to counsel of his own choosing at municipal expense." Id. at 14. The Appellate Division specifically noted that a right to absolute reimbursement was provided for only when the municipality's obligation was conditional on the outcome of the litigation. Ibid. However, there was no right of reimbursement when "the obligation to provide for the defense arose at the inception of the proceeding . . . and was independent of the outcome of the proceeding." Id. at 15.

Here, petitioner's right to indemnification is governed by N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, which contains no requirement that the employee be successful in the litigation to be indemnified. The relevant language in N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 can be contrasted with N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1, which provides for indemnification in criminal actions only when the proceedings are dismissed or result in a final disposition favorable to the employee. Here, there is no dispute that SBE proceedings are an administrative action, not a criminal action. Therefore, although petitioners' claim arises out of a different indemnification statute than the one at issue in Edison, it nonetheless bears the same characteristics, in that it arose at the inception of the proceedings and was independent of the outcome of the proceedings.

Petitioners failed to notify the Board of their request for indemnification until more than a decade of legal bills had accumulated. Those bills were generated by a law firm which the Board had no hand in choosing. Consistent with the Appellate Division's holding in Edison,

Azzaro had no right to be represented by Mellk O'Neill at the Board's expense without the express agreement of the Board.[1]

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: September 14, 2022
Date of Mailing: September 14, 2022

[1] The Commissioner does not find petitioners' arguments regarding the Board's conflict – that it would prioritize a low-cost defense over a vigorous one that would result in the dismissal of the SBE OTSC – availing. In Edison, the Appellate Division noted that an employee does have the right to object to the appointment of an attorney perceived to have a conflict of interest. Edison, supra, 147 N.J. at 16. However, having failed to give the Board the opportunity to appoint an attorney for Azzaro, petitioners cannot now object to any hypothetical appointment. The time for resolution of any disagreements between Azzaro or the NJEA and the Board regarding the appropriate counsel to represent Azzaro was at the commencement of the proceedings, which is yet another reason notice to the Board in advance of an indemnification request is required.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

BEFORE JUDITH LIEBERMAN, ALJ

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On June 11, 2007, the SBE filed an OSC in which it directed Azzaro to show cause why her Teacher, Specialist and Principal Certifications should not be revoked or suspended as a result of problems that occurred at a school within the Trenton School District during the 2003-2004 school year. Pet. Exh. A. The OSC was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on August 13, 2007. It was initially assigned to Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Anna Viscomi. On or about February 23, 2012, it was transferred to Hon. Edward J. Delanoy, Presiding Administrative Law Judge, after ALJ Viscomi was appointed to the Superior Court. The hearing was conducted during twenty-four days between July 2012, and May 2018. The record remained open after the hearing for the receipt of transcripts and post-hearing submissions, and the record closed on April 29, 2019.

On September 12, 2019, Judge Delanoy issued an Initial Decision dismissing the OSC with respect to Azzaro. Pet. Exh. D. On February 28, 2020, the SBE adopted Judge Delanoy's Initial Decision and ordered the dismissal of the OSC issued to Azzaro. Pet. Exh. E. The SBE's determination was not appealed and the matter was closed.

On or about May 19, 2020, petitioners filed a petition in which they seek payment by respondent of the reasonable costs and attorneys' fees incurred in the successful defense of the OSC issued to Azzaro. Pet. Exh. F.

Petitioners and respondent filed cross-motions for summary decision. They assert that summary decision is appropriate because there is not a genuine issue of material fact. Oral argument on the motions was heard on March 31, 2022. Respondent was asked to submit additional information. Its submission was received on April 5, 2022. Petitioners submitted a letter in response on April 6, 2022, and the record closed that day.

Parties' Arguments

Petitioners contend:

1. Reimbursement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 is required because the allegations against Azzaro arose from her employment with respondent and that she was found to have been acting within the scope of her duties.

2. Reimbursement is required notwithstanding the fact that the NJEA paid for her representation.

3. Reimbursement shall be of the billable time expended in the defense of Azzaro at a reasonable rate, not the discounted union rate paid by NJEA.

4. $450 per hour is the reasonable rate that should be applied here.

5. Azzaro was not required to demand an initial defense from respondent.

6. Petitioners' demand, $485,550 in legal fees and $5,518.75 in costs, is reasonable given the scope, length and complexity of the matter, counsels' expertise in this specialized area of the law, and a completely successful outcome. The hourly rate upon which this demand is based is reasonable and comparable to that charged by similarly situated counsel.

Respondent contends:

1. The initial matter against Azzaro was brought by the SBE, not the Board. While the matter was pending, petitioners did not notify the Board that Azzaro sought a defense or provide notice that they would seek indemnity if the Board did not provide a defense. This failure deprived the Board of an opportunity to control the defense and its costs, as an indemnitor. Given this failure, and the resultant prejudice suffered by the Board, petitioners are not entitled to payment by the Board, pursuant to indemnification requirements imposed by New Jersey courts.

2. Because the Board should have been permitted to control the defense and set its own costs and fees, it is required to merely pay the minimum, reasonable cost and fees when counsel is selected independently.

3. Petitioners' requested costs and legal fees are excessive, unreasonable and unnecessary. The controlling statute does not provide that the Board is responsible for a market rate. Further, the billing statements here include redundant and unnecessary menial tasks; the requested hourly rate is inappropriate on its face; is well beyond the highest rate that was charged; and excessive compared to what the Board or its insurer would have paid had it been given an opportunity to provide Azzaro's defense.[1]

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The following, taken from the parties' briefs, certifications and documents, is undisputed and, therefore, I FIND the following as FACT:

1. The allegations in the OSC were made by the SBE. They were not made at the request of the Board.

2. Petitioners were not advised that the Board would take disciplinary action against Azzaro.

3. The Board did not take disciplinary action against Azzaro.

4. The allegations in the OSC arose from Azzaro's employment with the Board.

[1] Respondent also argued, in a post-hearing submission, that it is further prejudiced by petitioners' delay in seeking indemnification because its current insurance policy limits coverage to 10 percent of the amount of the coverage that was provided by the insurance policy at the time the OSC was initiated. Thus, the Board "was prohibited from defraying the costs using insurance and has been significantly prejudiced." April 5, 2022, Barone letter at 2. This issue was neither included in the pleadings, addressed in briefs nor raised during oral argument. It will thus not be addressed here.

5. The OSC against Azzaro was dismissed in its entirety.

6. Azzaro acted within the scope of her duties as a Board employee during all relevant times.

7. Azzaro's counsel was paid by the NJEA, the union of which she was a member, at a reduced hourly rate to which counsel and the NJEA agreed.

8. Petitioners did not notify the Board of the OSC.

9. Petitioners did not request that the Board provide Azzaro's defense or indemnify her for her defense.

10. Petitioners did not seek reimbursement of the costs of Azzaro's defense until after the OSC was dismissed.

11. There was no Board policy or employment manual that required an employee to notify the Board of an action issued against them by the State Board of Examiners.[2]

I also FIND the following as FACT because it is taken from the September 12, 2019, Initial Decision dismissing the OSC against Azzaro.[3] In addition to Azzaro, the

Initial Decision addressed Orders to Show Cause issued by the SBE against Board employees Melvin Cummings and Priscilla Dawson.[4] Azzaro was represented by the firm Wills, O'Neill & Mellk.[5]

During the 2004-2005 school year, Azzaro was the vice principal and then the acting principal and guidance counselor coordinator for Trenton Central High School (TCHS); Dawson was the principal of TCHS; and Cummings was vice principal of the Sherman School. Initial Decision at 6, 7, 9.

The DOE Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance (OFAC) investigated scheduling and grading practices at the Sherman School during the 2004-2005 school year. Initial Decision at 2. During the school year, the Trenton School District ran a ninth-grade repeater program housed at Sherman. Initial Decision at 2. The District was required to follow the standard educational guidelines for curriculum and awarding of academic credit. Ibid. The investigation found that Azzaro, Dawson and Cummings were involved in the following acts or omissions, which were incorporated into the OSC:

- At least five students had attained sufficient credit for promotion to tenth grade at the end of the 2003-2004 academic year, but were incorrectly assigned to the ninth-grade repeater program at the Sherman School.

- Twenty-nine Sherman students repeated courses that they had successfully completed prior to their assignment to Sherman and were awarded credit for repeating courses. Trenton would not transport students to classes off-site, nor could instructional staff come on-site due to space restrictions.

(4) records of the court in which the action is pending and of any other court of this state or federal court sitting for this state.

[4] The three matters were consolidated by Judge Viscomi. In addition to Azzaro, Dawson and Cummings, James Lytle was named as a respondent in the OSC. He was the superintendent of Trenton's schools during the 2004–2005 school year. His case was resolved by the parties prior to issuance of the Initial Decision dismissing the OSC. Initial Decision at *10.

[5] The name of the firm has since changed.

- Numerous students assigned to Sherman were awarded credit for courses that did not meet Department of Education Curriculum standards.

- Students were being awarded credit for tenth grade physical education when they had twice repeated ninth grade physical education. Students who repeated other courses were also given credit for honors courses and/or eleventh-grade courses.

- Full course credit was awarded for a three-week independent study program, even though course credit should only be awarded for courses that provide forty minutes of instruction during a 180-day school year. Azzaro and others approved the program, but it was not approved by the Board.

- Seventy-nine students of a sample of 100 had an excessive rate of absenteeism.

- Student academic records at Sherman were altered to indicate the successful completion of courses not offered at Sherman.

[Initial Decision at 2-3].

I also FIND as FACT that the Initial Decision on the OSC referenced a tenure charge filed against Dawson by the Trenton Board of Education on December 5, 2007: In re Tenure Hearing of Dawson, Sch. Dist. of Trenton, Mercer Cty., EDU 10447-07, Initial Decision (September 8, 2009), adopted, Comm'r (December 4, 2009), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/. The tenure matter was heard by Judge Viscomi. In her decision, Judge Viscomi detailed the procedural history of the tenure matter. She noted that she had been assigned "four previously filed certificates' matters relating to the alleged conduct herein and involving this respondent and three other former assistant vice principals and school superintendent[.]" Id. at *1. After an April 15, 2008, pre-hearing conference with the parties, Judge Viscomi rejected an application to consolidate the tenure matter against Dawson with the already consolidated OSC matter. Ibid.

The charges against Dawson concerned the Sherman School repeater program during the 2004-2005 school year. The allegations included the inappropriate assignment of students in the program; failure to enable students to attend courses and obtain credits needed to obtain a high school diploma; students were assigned to classes that they had already passed; and students who were eligible for the tenth grade were enrolled in the ninth grade. In addition to several other witnesses offered by the Board, Azzaro and Cummings testified at the hearing. Judge Viscomi found, and the DOE Commissioner agreed, that the Board did not sustain any of its charges against Dawson.

During oral argument on this application for legal fees and costs, the Board's counsel acknowledged that the Board was aware of the OSC.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

The provisions of N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5, which governs motions for summary decision, mirror the language of R. 4:46-2 of the New Jersey Court Rules governing motions for summary judgment. N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5 permits early disposition of a case before the case is heard if, based on the papers and discovery which have been filed, it can be decided "that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). An adverse party does not bear an obligation to oppose the motion, but to survive summary decision, there must be "a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Ibid. The non-existence of one entitles the moving party to summary decision. Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520 (1995). Moreover, even if the non-moving party comes forward with some evidence, this forum must grant summary decision if the evidence is "so one-sided that [the moving party] must prevail as a matter of law." Id. at 536. Here, the parties do not assert that material issues of fact exist and none have been found. Accordingly, this matter is ripe for summary decision.

"Under the civil indemnification statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, a board of education employee may be indemnified for attorney's fees and costs incurred defending civil actions arising out of an act or omission that took place in the course and scope of employment duties." L.A. v. Board of Education, City of Trenton of Mercer County, 221 N.J. 192, 201-202 (2015). N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 provides:

> Whenever any civil or administrative action or other legal proceeding has been or shall be brought against any person holding any office, position or employment under the jurisdiction of any board of education, including any student teacher or person assigned to other professional pre-teaching field experience, for any act or omission arising out of and in the course of the performance of the duties of such office, position, employment or student teaching or other assignment to professional field experience, the board shall defray all costs of defending such action, including reasonable counsel fees and expenses, together with costs of appeal, if any, and shall save harmless and protect such person from any financial loss resulting therefrom; provided that > a. no employee shall be entitled to be held harmless or have his defense costs defrayed in a disciplinary proceeding instituted against him by the board or when the employee is appealing an action taken by the board; and
> b. indemnification for exemplary or punitive damages shall not be mandated and shall be governed by the standards and procedures set forth in N.J.S. 59:10-4.
> Any board of education may arrange for and maintain appropriate insurance to cover all such damages, losses and expenses.

In Bower v. Bd. of Educ., 149 N.J. 416 (1997), the Supreme Court addressed the statutory prerequisite. It held that the statute requires "mere proof by a preponderance of the evidence that the act on which the charges are predicated arose out of and in the course of performance of the duties of employment." Id. at 434. See also Waters v. Bd. of Educ. of Toms River, 2011 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 3083, *12 (December 22, 2011) ("In the context of the defense of a civil action, the outcome of the litigation is irrelevant, the statute protects both successful and unsuccessful litigants as long as" the cause of action arose out of the performance of the employee's duties and occurred in the performance of the duties)(citing Lonky v. Bd. of Educ. of Bayonne, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 07205-05, final decision, (July 7, 2008) (slip op. at 3), http://lawlibrary.rutgers.edu/oal/search.shtml).[6] In Lonky, the ALJ observed that, because N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 does not require a disposition in favor of the employee, "there is an entitlement to indemnification if the sole criteria for satisfying the statute has been met by showing that the employee was performing the job she was hired for when the act occurred." EDU 07205-05 at *3-4.

This is in contrast to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1, the statute that provides for indemnification of education employees charged with criminal or quasi-criminal actions. It provides:

> Should any criminal or quasi-criminal action be instituted against any such person for any such act or omission and should such proceeding be dismissed or result in a final disposition in favor of such person, the board of education shall reimburse him for the cost of defending such proceeding, including reasonable counsel fees and expenses of the original hearing or trial and all appeals. No employee shall be entitled to be held harmless or have his defense costs defrayed as a result of a criminal or quasi-criminal complaint filed against the employee by or on behalf of the board of education.
> Any board of education may arrange for and maintain appropriate insurance to cover all such damages, losses and expenses.
> [N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1(emphasis added).]

This statute expressly conditions indemnification upon dismissal of the charges or a "result in a final disposition in favor" of the employee. The Commissioner of Education explained:

[6] Unpublished Appellate Division and administrative decisions are not precedential. They are offered in this Initial Decision because they provide relevant guidance.

> By its very terms, central to qualifying for protection afforded under [N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6] is that the conduct triggering the legal action against him or her must have 1) arisen out of the performance of his/her duties, and 2) occurred in the course of performing those duties. In the context of a civil action, the outcome of the litigation is irrelevant, the statute protects both successful and unsuccessful litigants as long as the above two criteria are satisfied. However, in the context of a criminal or quasi-criminal charge made against a school employee, in addition to the above referenced criteria, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1 imposes a third criteria as a prerequisite to indemnification, i.e., the legal action must result in a final disposition in favor of the school employee.

The Board contends that petitioners waived the right to indemnification because they did not notify it of the OSC at the start of the matter and request that it provide Azzaro with a defense or indemnify her. There is a dearth of case law providing guidance on this issue. A thorough search has revealed no cases in which a Board employee or their representatives failed to notify the board of education, or the board was otherwise unaware, at the outset of litigation. Indeed, petitioners advised during oral argument that they are not aware of a case in which an employee or their representative did not communicate with the board of education at the early stage of the underlying litigation.

The statute contains no language concerning notice to the board of education. As noted by the Supreme Court, "'Our paramount goal in interpreting a statute is to give effect to the Legislature's intent.'" New Jersey Div. of Child Protection and Permanency v. Y.N, 220 N.J. 165, 178 (2014)(quoting Wilson ex rel. Manzano v. City of Jersey City, 209 N.J. 558, 572 (2012)).

> The starting point of all statutory interpretation must be the language used in the enactment. Farmers Mut. Fire Ins. Co. of Salem v. N.J. Prop. Liab. Ins. Guar. Ass'n, 215 N.J. 522, 536, 74 A.3d 860 (2013); see also N.J.S.A. 1:1-1 (stating that words of statute are customarily construed according to their "generally accepted meaning"). "If the statutory language is clear and unambiguous, and reveals the Legislature's intent, > we need look no further." Farmers Mut., supra, 215 N.J. at 536, 74 A.3d 860. Only when faithful adherence to the words of the statute leads to more than one plausible interpretation or to an absurd result or to a result at odds with the objective of the overall legislative scheme do we look to extrinsic sources, such as legislative history. Ibid.; DiProspero v. Penn, 183 N.J. 477, 492-93, 874 A.2d 1039 (2005).

Galloway Township, 229 N.J. 340, 353 (2017) ("We must presume that the Legislature intended the words that it chose and the plain and ordinary meaning ascribed to those words"); Kaminskas v. We turn to extrinsic tools to discern legislative intent only when the statute is ambiguous, the plain language leads to a result inconsistent with any legitimate public policy objective, or it is at odds with a general statutory scheme")(internal quotation marks and citations omitted)).

Unlike N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, other legislative enactments that provide for indemnification of public employees clearly require notice of the underlying action to the entity that is charged with the duty to indemnify. For example, N.J.S.A. 59:10A-1 provides:

> Except as provided in section 2[7] hereof, the Attorney General shall, upon a request of an employee or former employee of [7] The Attorney General may refuse to provide for the defense of an action referred to in section 1 if he determines that:

> a. the act or omission was not within the scope of employment; or > b. the act or the failure to act was because of actual fraud, willful misconduct or actual malice; or > c. the defense of the action or proceeding by the Attorney General would create a conflict of interest between the State and the employee or former employee.

> the State, provide for the defense of any action brought against such State employee or former State employee on account of an act or omission in the scope of his employment. For the purposes of this section, the Attorney General's duty to defend shall extend to a cross-action, counterclaim or cross-complaint against an employee or former employee.

The Legislative intent here should reasonably be understood to impose a duty upon the Attorney General at the start of the underlying matter when a request has been properly made. Given that the Legislature has expressly required notice in this distinct context, it can reasonably be understood that it opted to not include a notice requirement in the statute at issue here.

Nonetheless, the Board argues that petitioners' failure to provide notice of the OSC and their representation "deprived [it] of their opportunity to control, engage in, or aid the defense of Azzaro." Resp. Br. at 9. In support of this argument, it relies upon S.I. Indus. V. AM. Motorists Ins. Co., 128 N.J. 188, 199-201 (1992), which address an insurer's duty to defend in the absence of notice:

> We stress that the duty to defend is triggered by facts known to the insurer. Although the insurer cannot ignore known information simply because it is not included in the complaint, the insurer has no duty to investigate possible ramifications of the underlying suit that could trigger coverage. Rather, the insured being sued is responsible for promptly conveying to its insurance company the information that it believes will trigger coverage. If it conveys that information properly and promptly, it will be reimbursed for previously-expended defense costs. Cf. Burd v. Sussex Mut. Ins. Co., 56 N.J. 383, 390(1970) (where insurer did not undertake defense initially, duty to defend translated into duty to reimburse insured). However, if the insured does not properly forward the information to the insurance company, the insured cannot demand reimbursement from the insurer for defense costs the insurer had no opportunity to control.

> Accordingly, when the insured's delay in providing relevant information prevents the insurer from assuming control of the defense, the insurance company is liable only for that portion of the defense costs arising after it was informed of the facts triggering the duty to defend.

Respondent also relies upon Grossman v. Rockaway Twp., 2019 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 3596 (Law Div. February 7, 2019), in which parents of a student who took her life filed a wrongful death complaint against the child's school's board of education (BOE) and its employees. In a later complaint seeking indemnification pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, an employee argued that she was entitled to choose her own counsel and that the statute requires the BOE to defray the fees and costs of her defense. The School Alliance Insurance Fund, the insurer and an intervenor, filed a declaratory judgment action seeking a determination that, pursuant to the statute and its contract with the BOE, it was obligated to defend the named employee and thus was the only party entitled to select their counsel. The employee, instead, wished to proceed with her selected counsel.

In an unpublished decision, the trial court noted that, at the time of its decision, there was no case that interpreted the statutory requirement that a BOE "defray all costs of defending such actions, including reasonable counsel fees and expenses." Nor was there a decision that "deals with this precise issue." Id. at *7. For guidance. it referred to Edison v. Mezzacca, 147 N.J. Super. 9 (App. Div. 1977), in which the Appellate Division addressed whether police officers against whom a citizen's civil complaint was filed could select their own counsel, independent of their municipal employer. The controlling statute concerning representation and payment of fees and costs provided:

> Whenever a member or officer of a municipal police department or force is a defendant in any action or legal proceeding arising out of or incidental to the performance of his duties, the governing body of the municipality shall provide said member or officer with necessary means for the defense of such action or proceeding, but not for his defense in a disciplinary proceeding instituted against him by the municipality or in a criminal proceeding instituted as a result > of a complaint on behalf of the municipality. If any such disciplinary or criminal proceeding instituted by or on complaint of the municipality shall be dismissed or finally determined in favor of the member or officer, he shall be reimbursed for the expense of his defense.

The Edison court observed, "When a statute speaks in term of reimbursement, it focuses on costs already incurred and contemplates governmental liability for expenditures, reasonable in amount, for services rendered by counsel of the employee's own choice." Id. at 4. The statute provided for reimbursement when an officer successfully defended against disciplinary or criminal proceedings that were instituted by the municipality. "Obviously, this would include the reasonable fees of counsel selected by the officer, for the municipality could have no say in the choice of counsel to defend against charges made by it." Id. at 5. The court distinguished the reimbursement provision from the remainder of the statute:

> However, in dealing with the defense of actions other than those initiated by the municipality, the statute does not speak of reimbursement; it requires the municipality "[to] provide said . . . officer with necessary means for the defense . . . ." We conclude that this means that the municipality must provide competent counsel, its own or outside counsel, or it may approve counsel requested by the officer, but the employee does not have the absolute right to counsel of his own choosing at municipal expense. Were this not so, there would have been no need to distinguish between the right to reimbursement provided for in the last sentence of N.J.S.A. 40A:14-155 and the portion relevant to the present appeal; both obligations could easily have been couched in terms of reimbursement. Instead, the Legislature provided for reimbursement only where the municipality's obligation was conditional on the outcome and arose after the fact; no right of reimbursement was provided for where, as here, the obligation to provide for the defense arose at the inception of the proceeding against the officer and was independent of the outcome of the proceeding.
> We, therefore, conclude that the municipality's obligation under N.J.S.A. 40A:14-155 does not require it to pay counsel > chosen by a police officer without the prior agreement of the municipality to do so.

>
>
> Although obligated to provide for an officer's defense, the municipality should have some control over costs, and at least be in a position to know in advance what those costs will be. See State v. Horton, 34 N.J. 518, 534 (1961). It cannot do this if required to accept the officer's choice of attorney at his or a court's assessment of a reasonable fee for his services.

The trial court in Goodman, relying largely upon Edison, held:

> [T]he BOE's obligations pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 arise at the inception of the proceeding against the employee and is independent of the outcome of the proceeding, unless exemplary or punitive damages are imposed. The BOE "shall defray all costs of defending such action, including reasonable counsel fees and expenses, together with costs of appeal." N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6. This Court concludes that this language means that the BOE shall provide competent counsel or it may approve counsel selected by the BOE employee, but the employee does not have the absolute right to counsel of his or her own choosing at the BOE's expense. Were this not so, the legislature would not have included the insurance provisions in the last clause of the statute. The Court notes further that there are public policy principles at play. As a matter of practicality it stands to reason that when a public entity is sued and its employees have counsel there are inherent questions with respect to a cohesive strategy and coherent defense.
> Accordingly, this Court concludes that the BOE's obligations pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 do not require it to pay counsel fees as to Counsel chosen by an employee of the BOE without the permission of the BOE.

Grossman relied upon the municipal police officers' defense and indemnification statute, which is not fully analogous to the one at issue here. The police officers' statute imposes an affirmative duty upon their employers to "provide said member or officer with necessary means for the defense" of "any action or legal proceeding [other than criminal or disciplinary] arising out of or incidental to the performance of his duties[.]" The trial court analogized N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 to this provision notwithstanding its dissimilar language.

Unlike the police officers' statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 does not mandate provision of a defense. It requires boards of education to defray all costs, including reasonable counsel fees and expenses. The use of "defray" indicates that the Legislature contemplated reimbursement as an option under all circumstances. "Defray" is defined as "to bear or pay all or part of (the costs, expenses, etc.)." Defray Definition & Meaning | Dictionary.com. Further understanding of the Legislature's intent is found in its statement to an amendment to the statute:

> This committee bill expands the indemnification presently provided under the statutes to school board members and school board employees. Currently school board members and employees are indemnified in civil actions and in criminal proceedings if the criminal proceeding results in a final disposition in favor of the board member or employee. The bill expands indemnification to administrative and quasi-criminal actions and other legal proceedings and again stipulates that in the case of a quasi-criminal action indemnification shall only be extended if the proceeding results in a final disposition in favor of the board member or employee. In the case of school board employees, the bill further stipulates that an employee shall not be entitled to indemnification in a disciplinary proceeding instituted against the employee by the board of education or when the employee is appealing an action taken by the board. Similarly, an employee shall not be entitled to indemnification in any criminal or quasi-criminal complaint filed against him by the board of education.
> The bill further provides that indemnification for exemplary or punitive damages is not mandated and shall be governed by the standards and procedures set forth at N.J.S.59:10-4. That > section of law provides for indemnification in the case of exemplary or punitive damages at the discretion of a local public entity only if the actions on which the damages were based did not constitute actual fraud, actual malice, willful misconduct or an intentional error.

In its statement, the Legislature referred only to a board's obligation to "indemnify" its employees. "Indemnify" is defined as "to compensate for damage or loss sustained, expense incurred, etc.; to guard or secure against anticipated loss; give security against (future damage or liability)." Indemnify Definition & Meaning | Dictionary.com. Neither the definition of "indemnify" nor "defray" indicates that the obligation is to be satisfied at a particular time and both contemplate reimbursement, e.g., payment to be made after a cost or expense has been incurred. It can thus be concluded that the Legislature intended "defray" to be understood in the same way as "indemnify," and thus authorized reimbursement. It must also be noted that the circumstances presented in Grossman are different from this matter in a significant way: the board of education's insurance company offered to provide representation to the employee and the employee refused.

Nonetheless, petitioners contend that they could not request that the Board defend or indemnify Azzaro until the OSC was resolved in her favor because the Board's obligation to indemnify was "triggered" not by the issuance of the OSC but, rather, by the dismissal of the OSC. Pet. Opp. Br. at 4. That is, they could not have known whether Azzaro was entitled to indemnification until it was found that the alleged acts or omissions arose out of and in the course of the performance of the duties of her employment. This required a finding in her favor at the close of the hearing on the OSC. Petitioners further argue that any potential conflict between Azzaro's interest and that of the Board could not be identified and addressed until that time. Thus, an "internal conflict" between Azzaro and the Board precluded appointment of counsel by the Board. As the allegations against Azzaro in the OSC included "serious unbecoming conduct" and "engaging in a cover up," they "fell outside the scope of her duties and responsibilities." Id. at 5-6. If those charges had been sustained, the Board would have had no N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 reimbursement obligation.

In support of this argument, petitioners cite to a line of cases involving a school security guard who was charged criminally with having engaged in unlawful sexual conduct with two minor students. Separate indictments were issued for the charges concerning each of the victims. The security guard pled guilty to some of the charges contained in one of the indictments. The remaining charges in that indictment were dismissed and the second indictment was dismissed in its entirety. The security guard made no admissions regarding the allegations contained in the second indictment. He did, however, admit to engaging in conversations of a sexual nature with the two students, both of whom were "minors and under [his] supervision and that he engaged in an inappropriate touching of at least one of those minors during the course of that day." L.A. v. Board of Educ. of City of Trenton, Mercer County, 221 N.J. 192, 196 (2015). Afterward, a civil complaint against the security guard and the school board was filed on behalf of the second victim. The Board answered the complaint on its own behalf and took no position with respect to the charges against the security guard, who was assigned counsel through the NJEA. The civil complaint was settled without an admission of wrongdoing by the Board or the guard. The guard and his counsel sought reimbursement of legal fees and costs, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6. The ALJ who heard the case did not conduct an evidentiary hearing. Rather, in response to a summary decision motion, he found that there was no proof that the guard acted outside the scope of his duties because the underlying matter was settled without a finding or admission of guilt. The DOE Commissioner agreed and the Appellate Division reversed. The Supreme Court found that disposition of the matter without an evidentiary hearing was inappropriate:

> The ALJ based his determination that L.A. was acting within the scope of his employment responsibilities solely on the fact that L.A. had "not been adjudicated in any prior forum to have committed any criminal act regarding K.O." In so doing, the ALJ failed to consider the extent of any factual overlap between the offenses alleged in the [first] indictment, which L.A. admitted to, and the offenses alleged in the [second] > indictment. Nor did the ALJ consider L.A.'s admission during his plea colloquy that he spoke inappropriately to [the second victim], or the evidence referred to in the IAIU[8] report substantiating [the second indictment's] allegations.

> We note that the IAIU report, being investigative in nature, is distinguishable from an adjudicatory finding. In re R.P., 333 N.J. Super. 105, 116-17, 754 A.2d 615 (App. Div.2000). However, the report could have been offered into evidence at a hearing with the testimony of the DCF investigator, which would have afforded L.A. "an opportunity to cross-examine the investigator and other witnesses [offered] and to present evidence to rebut the charge." Id. at 117, 754 A.2d 615.
>
> Thus, unlike Bower, supra, where dismissal of the criminal indictment and the lack of any additional evidence "clearly satisf[ied] Bower's burden of proof under the statute" to show that he was acting within the scope of his employment, 149 N.J. at 434, 694 A.2d 543, here L.A.'s admission during his plea colloquy and the IAIU report supporting K.O.'s allegations show that there are issues of fact in dispute that are material to determining whether L.A. committed the acts alleged by K.O. in the civil action.

On remand, and after a hearing, the ALJ found and the Commissioner agreed that the security guard "was not acting within the scope of his duties when he touched [the student] inappropriately. Therefore, he has not met the burden required to support indemnification under the statute." L.A. and the Horace Mann Insurance Company v. Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, OAL DKT. NO. EDU 06498-15 (on remand EDU 10410-11)(Adopted, Comm'r, December 19, 2016). Consequently, he was not entitled to indemnification for the costs and fees expended in the defense and settlement of the civil lawsuit.

Here, petitioners suggest that the outcome of the OSC here, as in L.A., could possibly have not been favorable for Azzaro and that the Board's interest would be contrary to Azzaro's. It's "interest would be in disposing of the case as cursorily as possible, either by pressuring Ms. Azzaro to 'throw in the towel' and surrender her teaching certificates . . . or by providing her with a skeleton defense. An attorney, engaged by the Board to provide her with a defense, however, could not ethically seek such a result." Pet. Opp. Br. at 6. Therefore, petitioners argue, they could not have requested defense or indemnification from the Board until after the OSC was dismissed.

L.A. is not analogous here. It did not address when a board of education employee or their counsel shall communicate with the board of education about a lawsuit or expressly request defense or indemnification. Rather, in L.A., there was clear communication and understanding about the lawsuit, as the Board was a named defendant and had clearly opted to not represent the security guard. There can be no question that all parties were on notice of the lawsuit and the possibility that N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 would later come into play.

In fact, boards of education and other employers have managed to confront the issue of how to proceed with respect to representation of their employees, and of potential conflicts of interest, prior to the final disposition of the underlying matter. In several cases, boards of education have refused, at the outset of the underlying litigation, to provide a defense based upon its interpretation of the charges against its employees. See e.g., Matthews v. Board of Educ. of the Union County Voc. Tech. Sch., 2014 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 1915 (App. Div., August 6, 2014)(board's insurer denied to defend and indemnify at the start of the underlying proceeding because the complaint alleged an intentional act, which it did not cover).

Furthermore, the question of whether an alleged wrongdoing arose out of or in the course of the performance of the employees' duties has been addressed during the later indemnification proceeding. For example, in Waters v. Board of Education of Toms River, 2011 N. J. Supra. Unpub. LEXIS 3083 (App. Div. December 22, 2011), a school employee and his board of education (BOE) were named as defendants in a civil lawsuit filed by a student. The employee, through the NJEA, requested that the BOE provide him a defense. The BOE refused and the NJEA provided coverage through an insurer with which it contracted. The lawsuit was settled with respect to the employee without a finding of liability. The employee and the insurance company brought an action pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16–6 for reimbursement of the settlement and attorney's fees and costs. Although the lawsuit was based on a student's allegations of inappropriate sexual comments by the teacher, the Appellate Division found, "As a teacher, Waters held, at all relevant times, an 'office, position or employment under the jurisdiction of any Board of Education.' The allegations must necessarily be understood to have arisen solely because of and in the course of Waters' employment as a teacher." Id. at *13(quoting Bower v. Bd. of Educ. of E. Orange,149 N.J. 416, 431 (1997)). Having found that the statute applied, the Appellate Division wrote that "the school board must protect its employees by providing legal counsel, liability insurance, reimbursement for legal counsel, or reimbursement for liability insurance." Id. at *16-17. See also Lonky v. Bd. of Educ. of the City of Bayonne, Hudson County, OAL. DKT. NO. EDU07205-07 (Adopted, Comm'r, July 7, 2008).

Moreover, in Edison, the Appellate Division addressed the possibility of conflict between an employer and the employee who is the subject of a lawsuit. It stated that the employee has the "right to object to the appointment of an attorney perceived by them to be in a position of a conflict of interest" and it recognized the propriety of an order requiring the municipality "to retain outside counsel who would, when selected, owe sole allegiance to the [represented police] officers." 147 N.J. Super. at 17.

Based upon the cases that have applied N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, petitioners' contention that they were precluded from communicating with the Board is not supported by the statute or the cases that have interpreted it.

Nonetheless, as noted above, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 does not impose an affirmative duty on the employee to notify a board of education at the outset of the underlying litigation. The cases that have applied the statute have not definitely imposed this requirement. To the extent this been addressed in the context of insurance contracts, those cases have recognized that the insurer's knowledge of underlying litigation is material. See S.I. Indus. v. Am. Motorists Ins. Co., 128 N.J. 188 (1992). Here, it is undisputed that the Board had ample notice of the OSC, as documented in Judge Delanoy and Judge Viscomi's Initial Decisions. The parties and allegations of the OSC against Azzaro, Dawson and Cummings were significantly similar to those in the Board's disciplinary action against Dawson. They were filed close in time and it is clear that the Board was aware of the OSC, as consolidation of it with the tenure case was discussed. Even if petitioners were obligated to notify the Board at the outset of the OSC, the Board in fact possessed sufficient information such that it was on notice of the charges against Azzaro.[9] Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that petitioners are entitled to indemnification of the costs of defending Azzaro in response to the OSC.

Petitioners seek legal fees in the amount of $485,550 (1,079 billable hours at $450 per hour), and costs and expenses in the amount of $5,518.75. Pet. Exh. J, K. With respect to whether reimbursement should be at the discounted rate that was paid by NJEA or at the higher rate sought by petitioners, the Commissioner of Education has found that a non-discounted, reasonable rate was appropriate. In Salaam v. Board of Education of the City of Irvington, Essex County, 2014 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 268, No. A-5592-11T4, (App. Div. 2014), a criminal charge was filed, in 2008, against an employee of the Irvington School Board ("Irvington"). The charge concerned conduct related to the employee's work duties. Because the employee was a member of the NJEA, he was represented by an attorney through the NJEA Legal Services Program ("Program"). By agreement with the Program, the attorney charged $142 per hour rather than his normal rate of $250 per hour. The NJEA paid the attorney the reduced rate for all the legal services he provided to the employee at the reduced rate. The charge was dismissed in 2009. In 2010, the employee requested reimbursement from Irvington for the cost of his defense, including counsel fees and expenses. Irvington did not respond to the request. The employee subsequently petitioned the DOE Commissioner for reimbursement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1, and the higher rate was awarded.

The Appellate Division agreed that the higher rate was appropriate:

> We reject the Board's argument that the Commissioner erred in awarding a higher hourly rate than that allowed by the NJEA legal services program through which Salaam procured Smith's representation. The NJEA legal fund allowed payment of Smith's fees at a "volume discount rate" of $142 to $145 per hour. However, as noted, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6.1 mandates the reimbursement of "reasonable" counsel fees. As the ALJ aptly stated, the fact that a third party finances the defense does not relieve the Board of its statutory obligation to pay those reasonable fees. We agree with the ALJ that the purposes and policies of the statute are advanced by allowing a school employee to rely upon his union's insurance policy as a means to fund his legal representation, and thereby "protect himself from the potentially ruinous defense costs," which in turn "cannot inure to the benefit of the Board." [Id. at *12-13.]

The starting point to determine a reasonable attorney fee is the "lodestar," which is "derived by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate." Walker v. Giuffre, 209 N.J. 124, 130 (2012) (citing Rendine v. Pantzer, 141 N.J. 292 (1995)). This requires a determination of the hours that were "reasonably" expended on the matter. Id. at 335. The court should exclude hours that were unreasonably expended. "Hours are not reasonably expended if they are excessive, redundant, or otherwise unnecessary." Rendine, 141 N.J. at 335 (quoting Rode v. Dellarciprete, 892 F.2d 1177, 1183 (3d Cir. 1990)).

In Rode v. Dellarciprete, the court stated that a fee application must include "fairly definite information as the hours devoted to various general activities, e.g., pretrial discovery, settlement negotiations, and the hours spent by various classes of attorneys, e.g., senior partners, junior partners, associates." 892 F.2d at 1190 ((citing Lindy Bros. Builders, Inc. of Phila. v. Am. Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., 487 F.2d 161, 167 (3d.

Cir. 1973)). Although "[i]t is not necessary to know the exact number of minutes spent nor the precise activity to which each hour was devoted nor the specific attainments of each attorney[,] without some fairly definite information as to the hours devoted to various general activities . . . and the hours spent by various classes of attorneys . . . the court cannot know the nature of the services for which compensation is sought." Rendine, 141 N.J. at 337(citing Lindy Bros. Builders, Inc. of Phila. v. Am. Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., 487 F.2d 161, 167 (3d. Cir. 1973)).

The court "may exclude hours from the lodestar calculation if in its view the hours expended exceed those that competent counsel reasonably would have expended to achieve a comparable result, in the context of the damages prospectively recoverable, the interests to be vindicated and the underlying statutory objectives." Szczepanski v. Newcomb Med. Ctr., 141 N.J. 346, 355 (1995) (internal citations and quotations omitted). Furthermore, a judge may exclude hours that are "vague" or "improper." N.M. v. A.S., 2018 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 588, *10 (App. Div. 2018).

"Block billing" is a method by which each lawyer and legal assistant enters their total daily time working on a case, rather than itemizing the time expended on each task specifically. Ibid. (internal citations omitted). Although a substantial number of vague entries may cause reason to exclude hours, block billing may be upheld as reasonable "if the listed activities reasonably correspond to the number of hours billed." FTC v. Circa Direct LLC, 912 F. Supp. 2d 165, 177 (D.N.J. 2012) (internal citations omitted). An appropriate approach is to look at the entire block, compare the listed activities with the time spent, and determine whether the hours reasonably correspond to all activities performed. N.M. v. A.S., 2018 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 588, at *13 (App. Div. 2018).

As noted previously, this matter here has an extensive procedural history. The case was transferred to the OAL in August of 2007; the hearings occurred in 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2018; and the Initial Decision was issued on September 12, 2019. The law firm's bills for this entire time are "block billed": the bills list the tasks completed, and, below the list, include the total hours for all tasks completed in the aggregate, rather than indicating the time spent on each task. The bills do not indicate which attorney worked on the case. Rather, the bills all indicate the "Principal Attorney" completed the hours of work.

A careful review of all of the bills reveals that the billing statements include tasks that, in the aggregate, reasonably correspond to the reported hours. Indeed, the firm slightly underestimated the number of hours requested, based upon the bills provided. The bills reasonably correspond to an exceptionally lengthy litigation that spanned over a decade, involved a substantial record and a twenty-four day hearing.

The Board takes issue with portions of the bill, including the regular use of the statement "and necessarily related services" and billing for "attendance to photocopying." See Resp. Br. at 3. However, despite the vagueness of the phrase "necessarily related services," this phrase is positioned at the end of the lists of other tasks that, as noted, correspond to the hours requested in the respective billing statements. Thus, despite the use of that phrase, the hours requested are reasonable in light the actions taken in the case.

With regard to the billing for photocopying, the firm included "attendance to photocopying of documents in preparation for meeting" in a bill dated June of 2007. This bill includes a total of 22.55 hours; however, it does not specify the time spent on each task. Given photocopying is an administrative task that should not be billed at the same rate as a partner of a law firm, a downward adjustment on this bill is warranted. Given a consideration of the various other tasks completed in the June 2007 bill, I find it reasonable to exclude two hours from this bill.

In sum, due to the substantial length of the litigation and the nature of the issues presented, I GRANT renumeration of 1,077 hours expended.

The question remains whether the hourly rate sought by petitioners is reasonable. The hourly rate should be calculated according to the "prevailing market rates in the relevant community" and thus "the court should assess the experience and skill of the prevailing party's attorneys and compare their rates to the rates prevailing in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience, and reputation." Rendine, 141 N.J. at 337(citing Rode v. Dellarciprete, 892 F.2d at 1183). "The party seeking to recover attorney's fees has the initial burden of producing sufficient evidence of what constitutes a reasonable market rate for the essential character and complexity of the legal services rendered in order to make out a prima facie case." Lanni v. N.J., 259 F.3d 146 149 (3d Cir. 2001). If an adequate showing has been made, the burden shifts to the other party who must rebut the reasonableness with actual evidence. Smith v. Phila. House. Auth., 107 F.3d 223, 225 (3d Cir. 1997).

A reasonable hourly rate is to be calculated according to the prevailing market rates in the relevant community. Rendine, 141 N.J. at 335(internal citation and quotation omitted). The Rules of Professional Conduct (RPC) 1.5(a) requires several factors in consideration of a reasonable fee:

> (1) the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
> (2) the likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
> (3) the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
> (4) the amount involved and the results obtained;
> (5) the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;
> (6) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
> (7) the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services;
> (8) whether the fee is fixed or contingent.
> [RPC 1.5(a).]

The "trial court should satisfy itself that the assigned hourly rates are fair, realistic, and accurate, or should make appropriate adjustments." Rendine, 141 N.J. at 337. To take into account delay of payment, the hourly rate at which compensation should be awarded should be based on current rate at the time of the fee petition rather than the rate when the services were actually performed. See Rendine, 141 N.J. at 337; See also Lanni v. N.J. , 259F.3d 146, 149–150 (3d Cir. 2001).

Once the lodestar has been established, discretion may come into play and a court may adjust the award for a variety of reasons. See Public Interest Research Group of N.J. v. Windall, 51 F.3d 1179, 1185 (3d Cir. 1995).[10] One instance includes cases where the attorney's compensation is entirely or substantially contingent upon a successful outcome, the court may increase the fee "to reflect the risk of nonpayment." Rendine, 141 N.J. at 337. In determining the appropriateness of an enhancement, a trial court must "determine whether a case was taken on a contingent basis, whether the attorney was able to mitigate the risk of nonpayment in any way, and whether other economic risks were aggravated by the contingency of payment." Id. at 339.

Here, petitioner's counsel requests the rate of $450 for all counsel given that (1) the case was "gigantic", (2) the case was complex, and (3) the attorneys are highly experienced and specialized. See Pet. Br. at 13. Billing statements included services rendered from May of 2007 to August of 2020. Petitioners assert that thousands of pages of discovery were exchanged; the case involved issues of admissibility, reliability of student records and discovery processes of confidential information; and that extensive motion practice was utilized. Pet. Br. at 16–19. Also, the underlying issues were complex, as they involved ascertaining what had happened to students during their high school careers based on disparate records. This was made more complicated in part because Trenton School District changed technology in 2004–2005. Id. at 19. Despite this, the firm achieved a favorable disposition for petitioner, as the case was dismissed in its entirety. It is undisputed that the NJEA paid the law firm between $129 and $182 per hour.

[10] Such factors include. "(1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions; (3) the skill required to perform the legal service properly; (4) the preclusion of alternative employment; (5) the customary fee for similar work; (6) the nature of the fee payment arrangement; (7) time limitations imposed by the client or circumstances; (8) the amount involved and results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation and ability of the attorneys; (10) the undesirability of the case; (11) the nature and length of the attorney-client relationship; and (12) fee awards in similar cases." Id. at 1185 n.8 (internal citation omitted). However, many of these are subsumed in the lodestar calculation. Id.

Petitioners supplied certifications from the three attorneys who represented Azzaro. They detail their experience as attorneys, particularly in this specific area of the law, and their successes. Arnold M. Mellk, Esq. has practiced for over fifty years and has extensive experience representing educators, including licensure hearings initiated by the SBE. He has handled several cases that resulted in reported decisions including in the Third Circuit and New Jersey Supreme Courts. Pet Exh. G. Gidian R. Mellk, Esq. has practiced approximately twenty-three years, during which she exclusively represented public employees "in connection with adversarial action taken against them" by government entities. Pet. Exh. H at ¶2. Edward A. Cridge, Esq. has fifteen years' experience, during which he largely represented public employees. Pet. Exh. I. Each attorney has been involved with several prior cases that applied N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 and -6.1, including some that are cited here. Pet. Exh. G, H, I.

Petitioners also submitted the certification of Steven R. Cohen, Esq., a partner in the firm Selikoff and Cohen who has practiced law since 1977. Pet. Exh. D. Mr. Cohen certified that he "devote[s] a significant portion of [his] practice to the representation of public-sector labor unions and their employees." Id. at ¶1. He served as the chair of the New Jersey State Bar Association's labor and employment section and is currently a member of its executive committee. Id. at ¶2. In addition to other matters, he has handled "hundreds" of matters involving teachers, including tenure hearings and orders to show cause brought by the SBE. Id. at ¶5. He is also a member of the National Employment Lawyers Association-New Jersey, which equips him with knowledge of the "actual rates charged by member attorneys, who are comparable in experience and skill" to Arnold Mellk. Id. at ¶8. Mr. Cohen certified that he has known Arnold Mellk in a "professional capacity for more than forty years and [is] fully familiar with his background, experience, and skill level" and is aware that he is "very highly regarded" in the labor and employment Law community. Id. at ¶6.

Mr. Cohen certified that the prevailing market rate for an attorney of Arnold Mellk's caliber, who has handled a case as complex as this one, is "significantly" higher than $450 per hour. Id. at ¶7. Also, an hourly rate of $400 per hour for senior associates with more than fifteen years of experience comports with the prevailing market rate for complex litigation "of the nature contemplated by this action." Id. at ¶9.

The hourly rates referenced by Cohen are consistent with the fees authorized by New Jersey courts. In FTC v. Circa Direct LLC, 912 F. Supp. 2d 165 (D. NJ 2012), which involved a complaint alleging deceptive trade practices filed by the Federal Trade Commission, the District Court approved $400 per hour for those attorneys with over fifteen years' experience, $350 per hour for the attorney with over twelve years' experience; and $225 per hour for the attorneys who had between two and three years' experience. In assessing the proper rate, the court examined rates that had previously been approved in the southern New Jersey area and found that "[c]ourts have approved rates between $115 and $750 for matters litigated in this vicinage for attorneys, depending on the attorney's experience and skill[.]" Id. at 175. In Williams v. Asbury Park Bd. of Educ., the court upheld a $450 rate for plaintiff's counsel in an LAD case who had twenty years of experience handling discrimination cases. 2015 N.J. Super Unpub. LEXIS 2422, at *9 (App. Div. 2015). In Winyard v. 21st Century Leasing Corp., No.'s A-2714-12T3 and A-3384-12T3 (N.J. App. Div. Jan 21, 2015) (slip op. at 7), the Appellate Division affirmed the trial court's legal fee award to the plaintiff in a settled law division case, where the defendant filed suit against a plaintiff who purchased a motor vehicle from defendant and obtained his license plates and immediately stopped payment on the check; defendant dismissed its complaint without prejudice. The court affirmed an award of $275 per hour for an associate who had been admitted for about six years, and $475 for a partner who had been admitted to practice law since 1977.

Here, however, the bills submitted by the firm are deficient to the extent they do not differentiate which attorneys billed which hours. Exh. J. Rather, all invoices identify only the "principal attorney" and not the other attorneys. This is at odds with counsels' certifications in which they represented that all three attorneys, each with a different level of experience, worked on this case. Pet. Br. at 19–22. This makes it impossible to ascertain which of the three attorneys performed each billed service. Given that attorneys with various levels of experience are entitled to significantly different rates, it would be inappropriate to award the highest hourly rate for all billed services. Accordingly, a reduction of the proposed hourly rate is warranted.

Attorney Cridge is the least experienced of the attorneys who worked on the matter. He currently has fifteen years of experience, largely in this and related areas. As indicated by Cohen and supported by case law, a rate of $400 per hour is reasonable based upon the current market rate for an attorney with his experience. Without an adequate guide to determine the work that was performed by each attorney, it is appropriate to apply an hourly rate of $400 for all of the work performed by the attorneys. This rate is reasonable based upon the market rate for a case of this nature at present and the circumstances of this case. This rate is a significant increase from the amount provided the NJEA.

Petitioners argue that an "Rendine enhancement" should be applied given that this case was "entirely or substantially contingent on a special income." As discussed above, under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6, recoupment of attorneys' fees is not contingent upon a favorable result. Rather, the Board must "defray all costs" which includes reasonable legal fees and costs regardless of the result. Even though a subsequent analysis of the context in which the allegations arose may be required, petitioners did not accept the risk that an attorney who is paid on a fully contingent basis would have accepted. Petitioner has not met the burden of proving that this case warrants a departure from the lodestar rate analysis. Thus, no enhancement will be applied to this case.

Therefore, given the market rate for attorneys in this field, the qualifications of the attorneys, the complex nature of the case, and the billing documents provided by counsel, I CONCLUDE that all but two of the requested hours (1,077) shall be provided at a rate of $400, for a total of $430,800.

Petitioner also requests costs in the amount of $5,518.75. N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 mandates that the Board of Education defray all costs, including reasonable counsel fees and costs. Most of the costs demonstrated by petitioners appear to be reasonable and warranted, with a couple of exceptions. Indeed, a detailed review of the invoices and bills provided reveals that the costs enumerated in the invoices in Exh. J and the documentation in Exh. K exceed the requested amount.

However, the following billed costs will be excluded from that total. The invoice from November of 2007 includes a request for $16.20 for travel where no travel was indicated in the billing statement. Exh. J. Thus, the costs shall be reduced by $16.20. Moreover, petitioner submits an invoice ("Conference Detail") dated November 5, 2008, as the last page of Exh. K which states the amount due is $140.95. It is unclear whether the figures from the final invoice in Exh. K were included in a billing statement in Exh. J. It is also unclear which portions of the Conference Detail invoice belong to the present case, or which portions thereof apply. Exh. K. Thus, the Conference Detail amount of $140.95 will be deducted from the costs awarded. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that petitioners shall be reimbursed for costs in the amount of $5,361.60.

ORDER

For the foregoing reasons, I ORDER that petitioners are entitled reimbursement of their bills at the rate of $400 per hour for 1,077 hours, and of $5,361.60 in costs.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Order on Emergent Relief

Eric Simkin,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Voorhees, Camden County,

Respondent.

The record of this emergent matter, the sound recording of proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the recommended Order of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that petitioner has failed to demonstrate entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6.

Accordingly, the recommended Order of the OAL denying petitioner's application for emergent relief is adopted for the reasons stated therein. This matter shall continue at the OAL with such proceedings as the parties and the ALJ deem necessary to bring it to closure.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF VOORHEES, CAMDEN COUNTY,
Respondent.

Eric Simkin, petitioner, pro se

Jeffrey P. Catalano, Esq., for respondent (Parker McCay, P.A, attorneys)

Record Closed: September 1, 2022 Decided: September 6, 2022

BEFORE KATHLEEN M. CALEMMO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Eric Simkin, filed an emergent motion to challenge how the respondent, Board of Education of the Township of Voorhees, Camden County, (the Board), filled the vacancy caused by the resignation of Board Member, Rachel Van Aken, on February 24, 2022.

The respondent opposed the relief requested and asserted that petitioner's motion is legally defective as none of his arguments provide a basis to grant emergent relief.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On August 26, 2022, the Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted petitioner's Motion for Emergent Relief to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) to be heard as a contested case. The matter was assigned to the undersigned for oral argument on the emergency request, which was held through Zoom technology, consistent with the OAL COVID-19 Emergency provisions, on September 1, 2022.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

On February 24, 2022, a vacancy on the Board was created by the resignation of Rachel Van Aken. The Board sought to fill this seat for the remainder of her term which would end in November 2022. The Board was unsuccessful in two attempts during meetings on March 16, 2022, and on April 11, 2022, to fill the vacancy. (Response, par. 4-5, p.2.) Of the six applicants, the two candidates who received the most votes were Dr. Alabado and Ms. Ketover. (Response, Ex. B.)

By email, dated April 12, 2022, the Board's Solicitor advised Executive County Superintendent, Daryl Minus-Vincent, that the deadline for the Board to appoint a candidate to fill the vacancy expired on April 30, 2022. (Response, Ex. B.) As a result, the Board instructed its Solicitor to submit the information about the two leading candidates to the Executive County Superintendent with a request that he fill the vacancy. Ibid.

At its June 15, 2022 meeting, the Board voted to appoint Ms. Ketover to fill the vacancy until the November 2022 election, by a vote of five to three. (Response, par. 10, p.2.) On June 21, 2022, the Board Solicitor sent an email to the new Executive County Superintendent, Carmen Rodriguez, to advise him of the Board's actions, in rescinding its prior vote, and voting to fill the vacancy to bring the Board back to its full nine members. (Response, Ex. C.)

Ms. Ketover was sworn in as a Board member at the August 29, 2022, Board meeting. (Response, par. 8, p. 4.)

In his motion, petitioner challenges the Board's actions in rescinding its prior vote, and voting to appoint Ms. Ketover after the expiration of the sixty-five days under N.J.S.A. 18A:12-15(a), which states:

> Vacancies in the membership of the board shall be filled as follows:
> a. By the county superintendent, if the vacancy is caused by the absence of candidates for election to the school board or by the removal of a member because of lack of qualifications, or is not filled within 65 days following its occurrence.

The petitioner seeks relief to nullify the agenda and the action taken at the June 15, 2022, Board meeting; to require the Camden County Superintendent fill the vacancy; and to impose sanctions for the alleged improper appointment. (Motion, p.4.)

The respondent opposes the relief requested and asserts that the petitioner's application is legally defective as none of his arguments in the petition provide a basis to grant the requested emergent relief.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

The standards which must be met by the moving party in an application for emergent relief are embodied in N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.6 and Crowe v. DeGoia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1982). Emergency relief may only be granted if the judge determines that:

1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the relief is not granted;
2. The legal right underlying the petitioner's claim is settled;

3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and

4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.

The petitioner must satisfy all four prongs of the Crowe test.

"Irreparable harm" is defined as the type of harm "that cannot be redressed adequately by monetary damages." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132-33. In addition, the irreparable harm standard contemplates that the harm be both substantial and immediate. Subcarrier Communications v. Day, 229 N.J. Super. 634, 638 (App. Div. 1977). However, pecuniary damages may sometimes be inadequate because of the nature of the injury, or the right affected. Crowe, 90 N.J. at 133. For example, in Crowe, the Court determined neither an unwarranted eviction nor reduction to poverty could be compensated adequately by monetary damages awarded after a distant hearing. Ibid.

The petitioner argued that he will suffer irreparable harm because he is "a Stakeholder and resident" and the "school system is an attraction" that will suffer if the Board does not follow "by-laws, statutes, and laws." (Motion, p.5.) He also argued that the "NJ Learning Standards are a highly controversial topic and concern to many families everywhere, including Voorhees Township." Ibid.

Petitioner has failed to identify any harm, let alone any irreparable harm, he will suffer if his motion for emergent relief is not granted. For instance, petitioner's arguments invoked his concern about the school's curriculum without showing how the curriculum would harm his own children or the children in the school district. He also claimed harm by what he perceived as the political polarization of some members of the Board. Additionally, petitioner's argument presupposes that the Board's action in filling this vacancy after sixty-five days impacted the Board's vote to approve the 2022-2023 Curriculum without demonstrating how those actions were related. Respondent submitted without contradiction that the motion to approve the curriculum passed with seven members voting yes and one member abstaining. (Response, p. 5.) Thus, the motion would have passed even if Ms. Ketover had not been seated.

Petitioner has also failed to show how he has been or will be irreparably harmed by the Board's alleged violation of the law governing school board vacancies, N.J.S. A. 18A:12-15(a). Petitioner appeared to argue that a violation of the sixty-five days for the Board to fill a vacancy constitutes irreparable harm per se. While it may be true that, for example, "[w]here injunctions are creatures of statute, all that need be proven is a statutory violation," Matawan Reg'l Teachers Ass'n v. Matawan-Aberdeen Reg'l Bd. of Educ., 212 N.J. Super. 328 (Ch. Div. 1986) (citation omitted), petitioner has not pointed to any statutory provision for injunctive relief that would control this situation.

For the foregoing reasons, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to demonstrate that he will suffer irreparable harm if emergent relief is not granted.

To grant a motion for emergent relief in advance of a plenary hearing, a judge must be satisfied that "[t]he legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b)(2).

In the present matter, petitioner claims that the Board violated State law and its own procedures by acting outside of the sixty-five-day period when it filled the vacancy caused by Van Aken's resignation at its June 15, 2022, Board meeting. I CONCLUDE that the legal right underlying petitioners' claim is only settled in that the plain language of N.J.S.A.18 A:12-15(a) states that "[v]acancies in the membership of the board shall be filled" by the county superintendent when they are "not filled within 65 days following the occurrence." Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has met this requirement.

However, to obtain emergent relief, a petitioner must also demonstrate a likelihood that he will prevail on the merits of the underlying claim. Petitioner has not shown any entitlement to injunctive relief, or that he is likely to prevail on the merits of unseating this board member. When the Board could not fill the vacancy within sixty-five days, notification was sent through the Board's Solicitor asking the Executive County Superintendent to fill the vacancy. (Response, Ex. B.) As to the Board's action which occurred at its June 15, 2022, meeting, the Board Solicitor again notified the Executive County Superintendent. (Response, Ex. C.) Despite being made fully aware of the situation, respondent argued that "the Executive County Superintendent has yet to advise the Board that he or she found fault with the Board's actions." (Response p. 6.) Respondent further argued that "their lack of action combined with the Board's desire to finish the year with a full complement of Board members creates a reasonable inference that the Executive County Superintendent would not prevent the Board from sorting out the issue on their own." Ibid.

It has not been shown here that the Board's vote to fill this vacancy was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. It appears likely that such determination would require further fact-finding provided at a plenary hearing, which may include testimony and ability to cross-examine potential witnesses.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has not demonstrated a likelihood of succeeding on the underlying petition. It is stressed that this analysis does not represent a conclusion that either party is more or less likely to prevail at hearing, but only articulates that certain questions are not settled to a point that petitioner is deemed, for purposes of emergent relief, sufficiently likely to succeed at a hearing.

As to the fourth and final prong, each party argues that they will suffer greater harm if they do not prevail on the question of emergent relief. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, petitioner will not suffer greater harm than the Board will suffer if the requested relief is not granted. I am not satisfied that petitioner was able to demonstrate any harm to him caused by the Board's appointment of Ms. Ketover to hold the vacant seat until the seat is up for reelection in November 2022. Under these circumstances, the Board's interest in conducting its business with a full Board, after keeping the Executive County Superintendent fully apprised, outweighs petitioner's interest in stopping the Board from fulfilling its work. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the balance of equities argument favors respondent, and that petitioner has failed to satisfy this prong.

Based on the above discussion, I CONCLUDE that petitioner by only satisfying one of the four prongs of the Crowe test, has not met the standards for emergent relief.

ORDER

For the foregoing reasons, it is ORDERED that petitioner's request for emergent relief is DENIED.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, does not adopt, modify, or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Order on Emergent Relief

Board of Education of the Township of North Bergen, Hudson County,

Petitioner,

v.

Maria Castellitto,

Respondent.

The record of this emergent matter and the recommended Order of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ – for the reasons thoroughly set forth in the recommended Order – that petitioner, the North Bergen Board of Education, has demonstrated entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6.

Accordingly, the recommended Order, granting the Board's application for emergent relief, is adopted. Respondent Maria Castellitto is ordered to appear for all necessary mental and physical examinations within 60 days. This case shall continue at the Office of Administrative Law with such proceedings as the parties and the ALJ deem necessary to bring it to closure.

BEFORE ELISSA MIZZONE TESTA, ALJ:

The Board of Education of the Township of North Bergen, Hudson County, ("Petitioner" or "District") filed a Petition with the New Jersey Department of Education ("DOE"), seeking Emergent Relief to compel Maria Castellitto ("Respondent" or "M.C."), an employee/teacher of the petitioner, to undergo a mental and physical examination. The contested matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:6A-12.1, where it was filed on May 2, 2022, to be heard on an emergent basis.

The Emergent Hearing was scheduled for May 6, 2022, via Zoom. Respondent failed to appear for the Zoom hearing. Counsel for petitioner, Jason M. Ryglicki, did appear for said hearing. It became apparent at that time that respondent would not be appearing for the hearing because she suffers from an inability or unwillingness to adopt to technology, including a fear that she was being watched through her computer by unknown parties and that those she spoke with through the telephone and by way of video conference were imposters. Respondent also had been placed on medical leave since November 18, 2021 and cannot return to a classroom until the appropriate mental and physical examinations are performed. Attempts were made to reach respondent at her last known telephone number and by way of email to no avail. In light of same, it was agreed to by Mr. Ryglicki, Esq. that the matter should not be heard on May 6, 2022 date as an emergent and that the respondent be given an opportunity to appear for an in-person hearing.

The matter was re-scheduled for an in-person hearing on June 6, 2022. On said date, petitioner appeared by way of counsel, Mr. Ryglicki, however, notice was sent to the wrong address for respondent, and she did not appear. Once again attempts were made to reach respondent by phone and email to no avail. In consideration for the concerns of all involved in this matter, Mr. Ryglicki had a wellness check conducted to ensure the well-being and safety of respondent. On June 6, 2022, the Edgewater Police Department conducted the wellness check and determined that respondent seemed well. See, Certification of Jason M. Ryglicki, Esq. attached as Attachment A. The matter was rescheduled for July 12, 2022 as a telephone hearing. Once again, respondent failed to appear for the telephone hearing.

The matter will be decided as an application for Emergent Relief, irrespective, of the above detailed timeline.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS OF FACT

At the June 6, 2022 hearing, counsel for respondent read into the record "The Facts Common to All Counts" which were set forth in the Petition for Emergent Relief. The Petition for Emergent Relief to Compel a Mental and Physical Examination is attached hereto as Attachment B. The facts are undisputed, and I therefore FIND them to be the FACTS of the case.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

A Motion for Emergent Relief filed with the Commissioner of Education shall be subject to a review under Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-134 (1983), N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6. Specifically, there are four prongs the Commissioner must consider when emergent relief is sought: (1) it is necessary to prevent irreparable harm, (2) the legal right underlying the application is unsettled, (3) the applicant has made a preliminary showing of a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits, and (4) the relative hardship to the parties in granting or denying the application. Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-134 (1983).

In the case at hand, M.C. has been employed by the North Bergen Board of Education for nearly twenty years and she has been on medical leave since November 18, 2021, following an examination by the District's psychiatrist, due to her on-going behaviors. According to the District, without consideration as to her prior efficiency and ability in her employment, the past two years have been especially challenging. As clearly set forth in the facts placed on the record and attached hereto as Attachment B, the behavior ranges from an inability or unwillingness to adopt technology which was required to be utilized during the COVID-19 pandemic, including a fear that she was being watched through her computer by unknown parties, believing the people she spoke with telephonically and by way of video conference were imposters, etc... Her behaviors have necessitated medical intervention on at least two (2) prior occasions and have interfered with her ability to effectively educate her students. Respondent has gone as far as to deny the requirement to modify tests as required by an Individualized Educational Program ("IEP") as required by Federal law. Meanwhile, since November 18, 2021, she has been employed by the District and has failed to comply with the District's resolution mandating that she undergoes physical and mental testing to assess whether she would be capable of returning to the classroom. The District argues that failure to have these tests completed in a timely fashion will continue to impinge on the District's constitutional duty to provide a thorough and efficient education. Further, over the past several months, the District has accrued significant costs associated with M.C.'s medical leave and will continue to accrue additional cost on a daily basis into the foreseeable future. Respondent's on-going refusal to get evaluated has and will continue to cause irreparable harm.

N.J.S.A 18A:16-2 states that a Board of Education "may require individual psychiatric or physical examinations of any employee, whenever, in the judgment of the board, an employee shows evidence of deviation from normal, physical or mental health." The burden to challenge any such judgment of the board lies with the challenger of said judgment. Bd. of Edu. of Lyndhurst v. Blevis, OAL Docket No. 01711-07 at 5. To satisfy any issues related to due process, the statute requires "that the teacher or employee be provided with a statement outlining the reasons the board . . . is ordering said teacher or employee to submit to the fitness for duty examination, . . . [and an] opportunity for a hearing, if such a hearing is requested. Further, a teacher or employee has a right to appeal from an adverse decision to the State Board of Education under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-27." Id. (citing Curcio v. Collingswood Bd. of Educ., 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 46648, 2 006 WL 1806455 at * 10 (slip op.) (D.N.J. 2006); Kochman v. Keansburg Board of Education, 124 N.J. Super. 203, 213-14, 305 A.2d 807 (Ch. Div. 1973). The right of a Board to order such evaluation has been found constitutional in both Federal and State Courts. See, Hoffman v. Jannarone, 401 F.

Supp. 1095 (D.N.J. 1975) (rev'd in part); Gish v. Board of Ed. of Borough of Paramus, Bergen County, 145 N.J. Super., 96, 104-105, 366 A.2d 1337 (App. Div. 1976).

In this case, M.C. refused to be tested after being afforded her procedural right to be heard in a preliminary hearing. M.C. failed to appear at said meeting despite adequate notice. Furthermore, the District argue that M.C.'s refusal has never been supported by any rationale or other reasonable basis for such denial, and she has never appealed nor indicated her intent to appeal the determination of the Board. As shown above, the legal rights of petitioner to seek this evaluation is settled law and the District is likely to succeed based on that settled right, and the facts specific to this case. Therefore, the District clearly has satisfied the second and third prong of the Crow v. DeGioia test.

While the District acknowledges that ordering M.C. to undergo evaluations touches her constitutional rights. It is well settled that "the interest of the State of New Jersey to protect its youth outweighs the individual constitutional rights of the teacher or employee in question." See, Hoffman v. Jannarone, 401 F. Supp. 1095 (D.N.J. 1975) (rev'd in part); Gish v. Board of Ed. of Borough of Paramus, Bergen County, 145 N.J. Super., 96, 104-105, 366 A.2d 1337 (App. Div. 1976). While M.C. is subject to an undeniable hardship, the hardships faced by the Board relate to their constitutional obligation to provide a thorough and efficient education to their students, as well as the ongoing costs accrued by the District at the expense of the taxpayers of the Township and State. Therefore, in weighing the relative hardships, it is clear that the hardships faced by the Board of Education outweigh the hardships of the respondent, thereby satisfying the fourth prong under DeGioia.

For the reasons set forth above, I CONCLUDE that respondent's request for emergent relief is warranted, and that the petitioner be ordered to undergo physical and mental evaluation, as set forth more fully on the record and in the petition. (Attachment B).

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that petitioner's request to compel respondent to appear for a mental and physical examination is hereby GRANTED. it is further ORDERED that the respondent is to appear for all necessary mental and physical examinations within sixty days.

This Order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who/which by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If (title of agency head) does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Jurah Peele, School District of the City of Linden, Union County.

For the Petitioner, Joseph A. Garcia, Esq.

No appearance by or on behalf of Respondent, Jurah Peele

This matter was opened before the Commissioner of Education on April 21, 2022, through tenure charges of unbecoming conduct and abandonment of position certified by Dr. Marnie Hazelton, Superintendent of the Linden School District ("District"), together with supporting evidence against respondent, Jurah Peele, a tenured custodian in the District's employ. The District provided respondent with written notice of such certification at the respondent's current known address, via regular mail.

On April 25, 2022, the Commissioner directed the respondent via regular mail to file an answer to the charges. This communication clearly provided notice to respondent that, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3 and 6A:3-5.4, an individual against whom tenure charges are certified "shall have 15 days from the day such charges are filed with the Commissioner to file a written response to the charges with the Commissioner," and that failure to answer within the prescribed period would result in the charges being deemed admitted. No reply to the tenure charges has been received from or on behalf of the respondent.

The certified tenure charges and statement of supporting evidence filed by the District in this matter indicate that the respondent was employed by the District as a tenured custodian. The Statement of Evidence indicates that the respondent refused to comply with Executive Order No. 253 which required all school personnel to either submit proof of Covid-19 vaccination or take a weekly Covid-19 test. As a result of his refusal to comply with Executive Order No. 253, the respondent has not returned to work since October 28, 2021.

Deeming the allegations to be admitted and noting that the respondent has failed to respond to the charges certified against him at the District level and before the Commissioner, the Commissioner finds that the District's charge of unbecoming conduct has been proven and overwhelmingly warrants the respondent's dismissal. Accordingly, summary decision is hereby granted to the District, and the respondent is dismissed from his tenured position with the Linden Public School District.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Laurie Weber,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Village of Ridgewood, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner alleged that the respondent Board is providing child care services through the Infant Toddler Development Center (ITDC) to children who are younger than school age, in contravention of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f). Further, petitioner requested, inter alia, that the ITDC cease operations or join the New Jersey Department of Families and Children's (DCF) pilot program for school district full-time child care centers. The Board filed a motion to dismiss, arguing that its intended participation in the DCF pilot program satisfied petitioner's demands for relief in this matter.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the ITDC program is operated in one of the Board's school buildings and provides full-time fee-based child care services to residents of the District and non-residents for children aged six weeks to four years, including children of the District's staff; ITDC staff are employees of the District and under the Board's operation; the IDTC is open and accepts non-school age children from within and outside the District before, during, and after the usual school operating hours; DCF stated in a letter to the Board that the ITDC is assured admission into its new pilot program, allowing it to provide child care services to younger children, and that the ITDC can continue to operate under a temporary license pending the pilot program's launch, subject to compliance with DCF regulations. Accordingly, the ALJ determined that the within petition is moot and should be dismissed.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagreed with the ALJ's determination that the petition is moot and found instead that – although the Board is eligible to participate in the DCF pilot program and has been assured of admission once the Board complies with DCF's Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers (N.J.A.C. 3A:52), the Commissioner has no ability to ensure the Board's compliance with DCF regulations. Until the Board is officially enrolled by DCF into the pilot program and complies with all applicable DCF regulations, ITDC is operating in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f). Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was rejected and the Board's motion to dismiss was denied. The Board must complete its enrollment in the DCF pilot program by June 30, 2023 or cease ITDC operations.

Final Decision

Laurie Weber,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Village of Ridgewood, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

In this matter, petitioner alleges that the Board is providing child care services through the Infant Toddler Development Center (ITDC) to children who are younger than school age, in contravention of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f). Following a motion to dismiss by the Board, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the petition is moot because the New Jersey Department of Children and Families (DCF) stated in a letter to the Board that the ITDC is assured admission into a pilot program allowing it to provide child care services to younger children, and that the ITDC can continue to operate under a temporary license pending the pilot program's launch, subject to compliance with DCF regulations.

In her exceptions, petitioner argues that the Board has not enrolled in the pilot program or filed the necessary licensing application and, therefore, that the Board is continuing to operate the ITDC unlawfully. Petitioner contends that the finding of mootness relies on the Board's promise to comply with the licensing and pilot program requirements, and that the voluntary cessation doctrine holds that a matter of law cannot be considered settled or moot simply because the responding party chooses to cease the alleged unlawful act while the case is active, allowing them the ability to repeat the violation at a later time.

In reply, the Board notes that the relief sought in the petition of appeal was an order compelling the board to cause the ITDC to join the pilot program. The Board contends that its actions in furtherance of joining the program, combined with the assurance of DCF that the Board will be ensured admission into the program, render the petition moot.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the petition is moot. The Commissioner has previously found that the plain meaning of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f) permits the use of school property for child care services only before or after school, for school aged children who attend the district's schools. Under the Sun Learning Center of Marlton, Inc. et al. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Evesham, Burlington Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 323-18, decided Oct. 19, 2018. N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f) precludes operation of programs such as the ITDC because it serves children who are not school aged, operates during regular school hours, and is open to non-residents.

While N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34 establishes a three-year School District Child Care Services Pilot Program that permits community child care providers to operate in a public school facility, notwithstanding the restrictions of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f), the Board has yet to enroll in that program. The Commissioner recognizes that based on correspondence from DCF, the Board is eligible to participate in the pilot program and has been assured of admission, provided that the Board complies with DCF's Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers (N.J.A.C. 3A:52). However, the Commissioner has no ability to ensure that the Board complies with DCF's regulations and, unless and until the Board does so and is officially enrolled by DCF in the pilot program, ITDC is operating in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f).[1] The Board must complete its enrollment in the pilot program by June 30, 2023 or cease operations.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is rejected, and the Board's motion to dismiss is denied.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

[1] The Commissioner notes that the ITDC, which was granted participant status in this matter, argues that it provides instruction and that its use is therefore permitted pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(a). Given that the ITDC provides services to children as young as six weeks, the Commissioner concludes that it does not meet the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(a).

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

BEFORE NANCI G. STOKES, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner requests that the Infant Toddler Development Center (ITDC) cease its operation or join the pilot program permitting such use. The New Jersey Department of Families and Children (DCF) assured the school district that the ITDC is eligible for the program and can continue to operate. Is the case moot? Yes. "[A] case is moot when the issues presented are no longer 'live' or the parties lack a legally cognizable interest in the outcome." Powell v. McCormack, 395 U.S. 486, 496 (1969).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On July 23, 2021, Weber filed a petition of appeal and motion for emergent relief, initially requesting that the Village of Ridgewood's Board of Education (Board or District) stop its operation of the ITDC. Further, petitioner sought to compel the Board to either proceed with the request for proposal (RFP) process to allow a private entity to provide child care services or apply to the newly created pilot program requiring Board compliance with the necessary financial and safety standards.

On July 27, 2021, the Department of Education (DOE), Office of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted this case to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for hearing as a contested case and resolution of Weber's motion for emergency relief. On July 30, 2021, I denied Weber's request for emergent relief.

On September 13, 2021, the DOE's Acting Commissioner (Commissioner) upheld the denial of emergent relief and returned the case to the OAL for "proceedings as the parties and the [Administrative Law Judge] deem necessary to bring it to closure."

I held several conferences during which the parties indicated a desire to resolve the case and issues concerning the ITDC's operation.

On December 2, 2021, the newly-formed Infant Toddler Development Center Parent Group (ITDCPG) filed a Motion to Intervene in this case, an application that both petitioner and the Board opposed. On February 7, 2022, I denied the ITDCPG's motion for intervenor status.

Following the denial, the ITDCPG filed a Motion for Interlocutory Review before the Commissioner. On March 7, 2022, the Commissioner concurred that the ITDCPG did not meet standards for intervention but afforded the ITDCPG limited participation status under N.J.A.C. 1:1-16.5.

On March 12, 202, the ITDCPG filed a motion seeking leave to appeal the Commissioner's March 7, 2022, decision. On May 5, 2022, Hon. Robert J. Gilson, J.A.D. of the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, denied the ITDCPG's motion.[i]

While the ITDCPG's motion before the Appellate Division was pending, the Board continued its efforts to resolve the remaining issues in this case. Despite those efforts, petitioner is unwilling to withdraw her petition.

Respondent requested leave to file a motion to dismiss, which I granted. On May 31, 2022, the Board filed its motion. On June 15, 2022, the ITDCPG filed a brief in support of the Board's application agreeing that the petition is now moot, and petitioner filed her opposition to the motion. On June 20, 2022, having permitted further replies but received none, I closed the record.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Based on the documents submitted in support of and opposition to the motion, and assuming the facts alleged in the petition are true and giving petitioner the benefit of all legitimate inferences, I FIND the following as FACT:

The ITDC, located at the District's Gen School, provides full-time fee-based child care services to residents of the District and non-residents for children aged six weeks to four years, including children of the District's staff. ITDC staff are employees of the District and under the Board's operation. The IDTC operates from 7:00 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. for the calendar year. In other words, the IDTC is open and accepts non-school age children from within and outside the District during usual school operating hours.

In 2015, the District obtained an exemption from the DCF concerning the ITDC's licensing requirements, but at other times during its thirty-three years of operation, the [i] The parties do not present the Judge's Order, but no party disputes this result.

ITDC had licensure. Notably, the DCF is responsible for inspecting and licensing all child care centers requiring licensure to ensure compliance with regulatory mandates.

Although faced with financial concerns regarding the IDTC, the Board permitted the IDTC to stay open and demonstrate its economic efficiency over the 2021-22 school year. The Legislature established a pilot program for school district full-time child care centers in 2020, but the Board declined to apply in April 2021. The pilot program experienced delays in implementation due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

To resolve the issues in this case, the District contacted the DCF about the pilot program and the ITDC's continued operation. The District presents correspondence dated March 25, 2022, from the DCF's Acting Commissioner of Policy, Oversight, and Regulatory Affairs, Brian C. Ross, Esq., stating that the ITDC was eligible to participate and assured admission into the Pilot Program enacted in 2020, designed "to study the impact and effect of community providers operating in public school facilities for the purpose of providing child care services for children younger than school age." Moreover, to allow for the continued operation of the District's ITDC pending the pilot program's launch, DCF will issue a temporary license to the ITDC, subject to compliance with the Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers (Manual) under N.J.A.C. 3A:52.

Further, the Board publicly met on April 25, 2022, and passed a Resolution regarding the March 25, 2022, letter from DCF's Acting Commissioner. The Resolution provides that the Board accepts DCF's permission to enroll in the pilot program under N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34 and advises that it will fully comply with the applicable standards in the Manual under N.J.A.C. 3A:52. Moreover, the Board directs the ITDC's Director to ensure full compliance with the Manual. Lastly, the Board authorized the Board's attorney to share its Resolution and notify the DCF that it accepts enrollment in the pilot program under N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34 and that the ITDC will fully comply with the Manual.

According to Weber, the DCF performed a courtesy inspection of the ITDC on May 25, 2022.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Motion to Dismiss

The rules and regulations governing OAL procedures do not contain a provision for a motion to dismiss. However, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.3(a) allows Administrative Law Judges to follow the New Jersey Court Rules when a rule is absent from the Administrative Code provisions covering the OAL. Thus, consideration of R. 4:37-2 (b) is appropriate, which allows for a motion to dismiss in a contested case. The Court in Dolson v. Anastasia, 55 N.J. 2, (1969), described the test for evaluating a motion to dismiss, instructing the judge to consider whether:

> The evidence, together with the legitimate inferences therefrom, could sustain a judgment in favor of the party opposing the motion, I.e. [sic], if, accepting as true all the evidence which supports the position of the party defending against the motion and according him the benefit of all inferences which can reasonably and legitimately be deduced therefrom, reasonable minds could differ, the motion must be denied. The point is that the judicial function here is quite a mechanical one. The trial court is not concerned with the worth, nature or extent (beyond a scintilla) of the evidence, but only with its existence, viewed most favorably to the party opposing the motion.

Child Care Services on School Premises

In enacting N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34, the Legislature recognized that schools might use their premises for additional lawful purposes when not needed for education. For example, the statute enumerates certain suitable functions, including polling places, lecture halls, gathering places for civic, social, artistic, entertainment purposes, or public libraries.

Under N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f), a District can use school premises for "[c]hild care services provided by the board of education, or a board-approved sponsor, or a child care program licensed under P.L. 1983, c. 492 (C. 30:5B-1 et seq.), before or after regular school hours, for any school-aged child who attends school within the school district."

However, the Legislature established "a three-year School District Child Care Services Pilot Program to study the impact and effect of community providers operating in public school facilities [supplying] child care services for children younger than school age" beyond those permitted under N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(f). P.L. 2019, c.492 (January 21, 2020).

The new pilot program addressed in N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(g), amends N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34 regarding the use of school premises and supplements P.L.1983, c.492 (C.30:5B-1 et seq.), or the "Child Care Center Licensing Act." P.L. 2019, c. 426 § 1. The program and regulatory addition allow school districts to offer child care services, such as those provided by the ITDC, through licensed community providers. That provider can be a for-profit child care center, a non-profit child care center, or a local government unit. N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34 a—j. Undeniably, the Legislature intended that district-operated child care centers offering broader services to non-school-aged children comply with the licensing requirements and the DCF's Manual, N.J.A.C. 3A:52-1 to 9. See also N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34c (A community provider operating in a public school facility through the pilot program must be licensed under the "Child Care Center Licensing Act").

Notably, N.J.S.A. 18A:20-34(g) now permits school districts to provide full-time child care services to children younger than school age on school premises under certain conditions:

> (1) Child care services provided by the board of education, a board approved sponsor, or a child care program licensed pursuant to P.L.1983, c.492 (C.30:5B-1 et seq.) for children younger than school age and which are provided for less than 24 hours a day. Preference for the child care services for children younger than school age shall be given to children who reside within the school district and to children of persons employed by the school district whether the employee resides within the school district or outside the school district, and if available space permits the school district may provide the child care services to any child who resides outside the school district

> (2) Child care services provided pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection shall meet the standards established in the Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers promulgated pursuant to regulations of the Department of Children and Families. The tuition amount charged for the child care services shall be within the range of tuition amounts charged for such services by licensed child care centers located within the county in which the school district is located. ...

Mootness

"Mootness is a threshold justiciability determination rooted in the notion that judicial power is to be exercised only when a party is immediately threatened with harm." Betancourt v. Trinitas Hosp., 415 N.J. Super. 301, 311 (App. Div. 2010). "[A] case is moot when the issues presented are no longer 'live' or the parties lack a legally cognizable interest in the outcome." Powell v. McCormack, 395 U.S. at 496. At the heart of this doctrine is a court's ability to grant effective relief. Wilson v. Reilly, 163 Fed. Appx. 122, 125 (3d Cir. 2006). "Thus, 'if developments occur during the course of adjudication that eliminate a plaintiff's personal stake in the outcome of a suit or prevent a court from being able to grant the requested relief, the case must be dismissed as moot.'" Ibid. (quoting Blanciak v. Allegheny Ludlum Corp., 77 F.3d 690, 698–99 (3d Cir. 1996)). Notably, the New Jersey Supreme Court recognizes that court-fashioned doctrines for handling litigation, such as mootness, are applicable to administrative proceedings. City of Hackensack v. Winner, 82 N.J. 1, 29 (1980).

Here, the Board took steps not only to enroll in the pilot program but to address its continued operation until the implementation of that program. The Board's Resolution acknowledges its obligation to comply with the DCF's Manual and that its participation in the pilot program is through N.J.S.A. 30:5B-34. While Weber urges that I order the Board to begin the licensing process, the DCF governs that process, not the DOE. Notably, while Weber disputes the import of DCF's May 25, 2022, courtesy inspection of the ITDC, this demonstrates ITDC's commitment to move forward with DCF's compliance process. In other words, I CONCLUDE that because the District and Board have now resolved to enroll in the pilot program and comply with its requirements, there is no remaining issue for resolution.

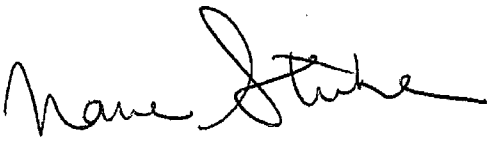
Even though Weber maintains that the Board can change its mind as it did in the past, speculation does not give rise to additional relief. Indeed, Weber obtained the relief requested, the Board's lawful operation of the ITDC and compelling the ITDC's enrollment in the pilot program.

While Weber insists that the parties must prepare a formal settlement agreement, I CONCLUDE this is unnecessary under the circumstances. See Willingboro Mall, Ltd. v. 240/242 Franklin Ave., L.L.C., 215 N.J. 242 (2013) (a formal written and signed settlement agreement is not necessary for an enforceable settlement).

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that this case is moot and should be dismissed.



ORDER

Given my findings of fact and conclusions of law, I ORDER that the motion to dismiss is GRANTED, and that this case is hereby DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify, or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

G.C., on behalf of minor child, B.C.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Lacey, Ocean County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner disputed the respondent Board's finding that her son, B.C., committed an act of harassment, intimidation or bullying (HIB) against a fellow student pursuant to New Jersey's Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.2 et seq (the Act). After an investigation by the school's anti-bullying specialist, the Board determined that B.C. had committed an act of HIB against a transgender classmate (T1) when he commented that "girls should not be allowed to use the boys' bathroom" while both he and T1, who was previously known as female and now identifies as male, were in the boys' bathroom. The Board asserted that B.C.'s conduct satisfied all of the elements of the statutory definition of HIB under the Act. The petitioner contended that B.C. was simply stating an opinion, and that the Board's action was arbitrary, capricious, and/or unreasonable. The Board filed a motion for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; an action by a board of education is entitled to a presumption of correctness unless it is proven to be arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable; under the Act, "harassment, intimidation, or bullying" is broadly defined as any gesture, any written, verbal, or physical act, or any electronic communication that is reasonably perceived as motivated by any actual or perceived distinguishing characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical, or sensory disability, that takes place on school property and substantially disrupts the orderly operation of the school; in the instant case, the record reflects that B.C. did not deny making the statement that "girls should not use the boys' bathroom," but characterized his comment as simply stating an opinion. The ALJ concluded B.C.'s comment was reasonably perceived as motivated by T1's gender identity, a protected characteristic under the Anti-Bullying Act; further, the Board's determination that B.C.'s conduct met the statutory definition of HIB, and that B.C. committed an act of HIB against T1, was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion for summary decision and dismissed the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the Board did not act in an arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable manner in rendering its HIB determination pursuant to the Act. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter, and the petition was dismissed.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, and for the reasons thoroughly detailed in the Initial Decision, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that the Board's decision that B.C. committed an act of harassment, intimidation, and bullying was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

BEFORE MARY ANN BOGAN, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In this matter, petitioner G.C.,[1] on behalf of her son, B.C., appeals the decision of respondent Board of Education of the Township of Lacey (Board) to the Commissioner of Education that B.C. committed an act of harassment, intimidation, or bullying (HIB) against a transgender classmate in violation of the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Anti-Bullying Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq. Specifically, the Board determined that B.C.'s utterance to the effect that "girls should not be allowed to use the boys' bathroom" while both he and T1, who was born female but identifies as male, were in the boys' bathroom satisfies all of the elements of the statutory definition of HIB under the Anti-Bullying Act. Petitioner contends that the Board's action was arbitrary, capricious, and/or unreasonable.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On October 16, 2020, G.C. filed a Petition of Appeal of the Board's HIB determination with the Commissioner of Education. On November 9, 2020, the Board filed an answer, and thereafter the Commissioner transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on November 12, 2020, as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On March 24, 2022, the Board filed a motion for summary decision upholding the Board's HIB determination and dismissing G.C.'s appeal, and G.C. thereafter filed opposition to the motion. The Board held that B.C. committed HIB by "commenting to the effect that 'girls should not be allowed to use the boys' bathroom' while in the bathroom and in the presence of a transgender individual who identifies as a boy . . . because there is no dispute as to the material facts of the case, and because the Board did not act in an arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable manner when it found [B.C.'s] admitted actions to be a violation of the [HIB] policy, and thereby constitute a[n] HIB violation." In opposition, G.C. maintains that B.C. did not commit an act of HIB against T1 because, although B.C.

[1] Students and parents will be referred to by initials or pseudonyms.

admits that he said girls should use the girls' bathroom, he was "stating his opinion" and "believed that T1 was a girl and was unaware of any gender transition."

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

Based upon the credible documentation submitted by the parties, I FIND the following FACTS:

In 2014, the Board adopted Policy #5512—Harassment, Intimidation, and Bullying, which prohibits HIB in accordance with the Anti-Bullying Act. (R-8.) In 2015, the Board adopted Policy #5756—Transgender Students, under which "[a]ll students are entitled to have access to restrooms, locker rooms, and changing facilities in accordance with their gender identity[.]" (R-7.)

On October 16, 2019, Gregory Brandis, the principal of Lacey Township High School, received an HIB complaint via email from the mother of T1, who was then a sophomore at the school. (P-E.) In the email, T1's mother wrote:

> Once again I'm emailing to report an incident of harassment [T1] experienced at school today. A group of boys outside the bathroom stall he was in were calling him a girl and saying he should use the girl's bathroom. Naturally he was afraid to come out since there's only one of him, so he waited until they left and doesn't know who they were. I don't know what else to say at this point. It's only two months into the school year and I'm literally exhausted and broken from watching my once happy child become someone who is sad and anxious daily. My heart breaks each morning as I watch him leave for school knowing he's filled with dread, knowing that he isn't going to be safe there.

On October 17, 2019, Principal Brandis spoke with T1's mother about the incident. (P-A.) Because T1's mother could not identify the alleged aggressors, the assistant principal of the high school, Timothy Dowd, reviewed surveillance video, which showed that B.C., who was also then a sophomore, and another student, B.C.'s friend R.C., exited the boys' bathroom just prior to T1. (P-G.) Principal Brandis directed Craig Cicardo, the high school's anti-bullying specialist, to conduct an HIB investigation. (P-A.) As part of the investigation, Mr. Cicardo interviewed B.C. and R.C. about the alleged incident. (P-H; P-I.) In a written statement, B.C. explained that, while he was in the boys' bathroom, he saw T1 waiting to use a stall. As B.C. went "to use the [urinal] I look back and he [was] already walking into the stall." (P-H) Then, while T1 was in a stall, B.C. "said to MYSELF 'Girls should not be allowed to use the bathroom.'" (Ibid.)

In his written statement, R.C. confirmed B.C.'s version of events. (P-H; P-I.) According to R.C., B.C. "said why is she in here, there's a girl bathroom. I [told] [B.C.] to chill and just leave." (P-I.) R.C. further stated that B.C. "meant to mumble those words," and "I told [B.C.] to knock it off and just to leave the bathroom." (Ibid.) T1 was not interviewed during the course of the investigation. However, Assistant Principal Dowd spoke with B.C.'s father about the incident. (P-A.)

As a result of his investigation, Mr. Cicardo concluded that B.C. committed an act of HIB against T1. (P-A.) In his incident report, Mr. Cicardo listed "Behavioral Observations" as "Embarrassing, Insulting Remarks, Socially Excluding" and listed "Motivational Characteristics" as "Gender Identity and Expression." (Ibid.) Mr. Cicardo determined that B.C.'s statement was "Reasonably perceived as motivated by actual or perceived characteristic" because "(T1) was referred to as 'Girl' and he identifies as a male"; the statement took place on school property; there was "Substantial disruption or interference with orderly operation of school or the rights of other students" because "Law requires those who identify as Transgender must have the right to use the Facilities of Their Gender Identification"; there was "Physical or emotional harm to student or property" and "Reasonable fear of harm to student or property" because "(T1) was emotionally hurt as a result of the incident"; the statement was "Insulting or demeaning to student/group" because "(T1) identifies as male"; and the statement "Created hostile educational environment" because "(T1) reported to his mom that he was afraid to come out of the bathroom stall after the comment(s)." (Ibid.) While Mr. Cicardo concluded that B.C. engaged in HIB, he determined that B.C.'s "HIB behavior" was "unintentional." (Ibid.)

In a letter dated November 25, 2019, Principal Brandis informed B.C.'s parents as follows:

> The district found evidence your child committed the following act(s) of [HIB]: The incident was reported by email from T1's mother. T1 was in a boy's bathroom and other students were outside telling T1 he should use the girl's bathroom, not the boy's bathroom.
>
> The investigation results have been reported to the Board of Education.
>
> As a consequence of the incident, B.C. was referred to the school [student assistance coordinator] for understanding the issue of Gender Identity.
>
> [B.C.'s parents could request a hearing before the Board to contest the HIB determination.]

In a December 20, 2019, letter to Principal Brandis, counsel for B.C.'s parents, Joseph J. Dochney, stated that the parents "are confused" by his November 25, 2019, letter because the principal's letter "does not specify what acts or conduct was done by their son" and "refers to apparent comments by 'other students' to 'T1'." (P-K.) Counsel requested further information about the incident and information concerning "[d]ates and procedures by which the school disseminated information regarding HIB or LGBTQ information and/or policies to the student body" and "[w]hat education was provided to students prior to this incident regarding transgenders and their rights to bathrooms/locker rooms/changing facilities, etc. of their choice." (Ibid.) Counsel stated that "[a]t this point, we are not requesting an appeal," but instead "investigating the incident [because] we are very confused as to what the actual actions were that apparently led someone to any conclusion of impropriety or violation of HIB." (Ibid.)

Subsequently, B.C.'s parents requested a Board hearing, which was ultimately held on July 20, 2020.[2] Prior to the hearing, the Board provided B.C.'s parents with certain requested information, including the October 16, 2019, email from T1's mother to Principal Brandis; B.C.'s and R.C.'s written statements; and Mr. Cicardo's HIB report. (P-L.) Upon receipt of that information, Mr. Dochney asked the Board's counsel if the Board would provide the other information specifically requested in his December 20, 2019, letter. (Ibid.) In response, the Board's counsel informed Mr. Dochney that "it is our position that you have those documents to which your clients are entitled, namely the HIB investigation report," and that "[t]here is no further discovery to which you are entitled." (P-M.)

By letter dated July 22, 2020, the superintendent of schools of the Lacey Township School District, Vanessa P. Clark, Ph.D., informed B.C.'s parents that, "[a]fter weighing all of the information presented by you and your attorney, as well as the Administration," the Board voted 3-3 to overturn the Administration's finding "that [B.C.'s] comment to a transgender student in the boy's bathroom to the effect that girls should not be allowed to use the boy's bathroom constituted an act of HIB under [the Anti-Bullying Act] and Board Policy 5512," and, therefore, their "appeal of the initial HIB finding is denied, and the decision that a[n] HIB violation occurred is affirmed." (P-N.)

In her letter, Superintendent Clark detailed the procedural history of the matter. She stated that the hearing was held on July 20, 2020, and "took place in executive session and lasted over one hour." While T1's parents "were invited to the Board hearing," they "chose not to attend." However, at the hearing, several people testified in support of B.C.'s "character and reputation in the community" and B.C. testified on his own behalf. B.C. "admitted making the comment regarding the transgender student but claimed it was said only to a friend of his in the bathroom, that he did not mean to hurt the student and that he was sorry." (Ibid.)

[2] In a letter to B.C.'s parents dated July 22, 2020, Lacey Township School District superintendent Vanessa P. Clark, Ph.D., stated that "the scheduling of your appeal . . . [was] delayed over several months" for various reasons, including the COVID-19 pandemic. (P-N.)

ARGUMENTS OF THE PARTIES

G.C. argues that there were certain procedural defects in the Board's handling of the HIB matter, specifically, that Principal Brandis' November 25, 2019, letter was somewhat vague by not specifically stating what B.C. himself was accused of having done, and instead describing the alleged act of HIB as, "T1 was in a boys' bathroom and other students were outside telling T1 he should use the girls' bathroom."

Further, G.C. argues that none of the papers indicate when or if the superintendent reported the HIB findings to the Board, and that the HIB report confusingly states that the HIB findings "will be affirmed at the 12/16/2019 Board meeting." The HIB report also does not state whether the investigation was completed within ten days of the initial complaint as required by the Anti-Bullying Act.

In her petition of appeal, G.C. alleges that "there is no clear evidence that B.C. had harassed, intimidated or bullied T1" because "[a]ny statements made by [B.C.] were his opinions directed to his friend" and "[h]e never addressed any personal comments to T1, nor did he intend to make T1 uncomfortable in any manner." (Petition of Appeal, ¶ 23.) G.C. further alleges that B.C. "did state his general opinion to his friend as they were leaving the bathroom," but that "[a]t the time, he had no knowledge that the person in the boy's bathroom identified as male, as all previous contact with T1 as a classmate indicated he was a female." (Ibid.) In the petition, G.C. takes issue with certain aspects of the school's HIB investigation. She alleges that "[t]here was never any conversation and/or written statements obtained from T1," and that T1's mother indicated that "a group of boys outside the stall had communicated directly with T1," but "B.C. denied any direct comments or name calling to T1" and "the investigation did not indicate if other boys had entered the bathroom after B.C. and his friend left[,] who may have been the actual culprits." (Id. at 11.) According to G.C., "neither the petitioner, nor any other boys[,] were ever identified by T1" and "T1 never reported the incident, was never interviewed[,] nor was there any determination that he was harmed." (Id. at 12, 21.)

G.C. further claims that "B.C. was not aware that transgender students were allowed to use the bathroom to which they identify," and that the school's "policy pertaining to transgender students . . . was never properly disseminated to students or families." (Id. at 21, 22.) However, G.C. admits that she was told that "the policy was included in the student handbook," and that, although "the handbook was not distributed to the students," it was "available online." (Id. at 22.) As relief, G.C. seeks to "overturn the ruling that B.C. was guilty of a[n] HIB violation." On November 9, 2020, the Board filed an answer to the petition.

In response, the Board states that "due to T1's withdrawal from the District following this incident it was not possible for Mr. Cicardo to engage T1 or his parents in follow-up conversations." (Answer at 11.) The Board also states that "in his written statement, B.C. admitted to making the offending comment in the course of speaking to [R.C.]." (Id. at 21, 23.) Finally, the Board states that its "policies regarding HIB (No. 5512) and transgender students (No. 5756) are publicly available on the District's website," and that "the policy on Transgender Students was first adopted on August 18, 2015, and later revised on April 15, 2019," and denies that "the policy was never properly disseminated to students or families." (Id. at 22.) As such, the Board "requests dismissing the Petition with prejudice."

According to the Board, there is no dispute that B.C. made the statement about bathroom use by different genders and that he made the statement "in the presence of, and in reference to, a transgender student." The Board argues that "[t]he fact that B.C. has claimed that he was only stating his opinion, or that he did not intend for T1 to hear the statement, are irrelevant to whether the statement constituted a[n] HIB violation."

In its brief in support of its motion, the Board quotes the statutory definition of HIB and notes that "under the definition . . . comments, even isolated comments, motivated by a person's gender identity constitute HIB." However, in its brief, the Board neglected to address or apply to the facts of this case the several other elements of the statutory definition of HIB under N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

In her opposition brief, which is unaccompanied by a supporting affidavit or certification, G.C. reiterates many of the points she made in her petition. She maintains that B.C. did not commit an act of HIB against T1 because, although B.C. admits that he said girls should use the girls' bathroom, he was "stating his opinion" and "believed that T1 was a girl and was unaware of any gender transition."

G.C. argues that the school's HIB investigation "was incomplete and inadequate," taking issue with the fact that only B.C. and R.C. were interviewed, and T1 was not interviewed. And although B.C. admits that he made a comment about bathroom usage in the presence of T1, G.C. casts doubt on whether B.C. was the student about whom T1's mother complained in her email to Principal Brandis. In particular, G.C. states that "it is noteworthy that no one seems to know the time in which the incident had occurred," and that "the District's understanding . . . that there were only [B.C., R.C., and T1] present in the bathroom at the time of the incident . . . is contradictory to the information provided in the initial e-mail [in which T1's mother wrote that "[a] group of boys outside the bathroom stall [T1] was in were calling him a girl and saying he should use the girl's bathroom"]. It appears that G.C.'s latter point is that two boys—B.C. and R.C.—does not make a "group." G.C. also questions the surveillance video reviewed by Mr. Dowd to identify B.C. and R.C. as the students in the bathroom with T1. According to G.C., she was never given an opportunity to review the video footage because the Board "indicated that it was no longer available[,] as it had been destroyed."[3]

G.C. also believes certain procedural deficiencies occurred after the district issued its HIB report. She states that the report "was apparently presented to the Board on November 21, 2019," but that it is not clear whether "the report was submitted or received by the Superintendent prior to this date." G.C. also thought the November 25, 2019, letter from Principal Brandis was "a little confusing" because he referred to "other students" when describing the incident and who was involved, and the HIB report "indicate[d] that the HIB violation will be 'affirmed' at the December 16, 2019, Board meeting." G.C. further contends that her husband, who is a teacher employed by the Board, met with Principal Brandis at the Board meeting on November 21, 2019, and the principal "assured him nothing was going to happen that night pertaining to the incident or his son," but that nonetheless "the Board had a closed meeting [that night] in which they determined that

[3] Petitioner's counsel was informed by email sent from Board counsel that "the video of the hallway outside the bathroom was recorded over shortly after there was confirmation of the identities of the individuals involved in the incident and long before your request for preservation." (P-C.)

B.C. had violated the HIB policies and would be subject to sanctions." G.C. also notes that, although B.C. was given a hearing before the Board on July 20, 2020, and was able to present his own testimony and that of others at the hearing, the Board provided "little discovery" in advance of the hearing.

G.C. argues that the Board's decision was arbitrary, as it "ostensibly was based solely upon the HIB Incident Summary completed by Mr. Cicardo" and "the Incident Summary merely summarizes the law without applying it to the herein circumstances." She maintains that the facts of this case do not meet the statutory definition of HIB because "[t]here was never any disruption of the orderly operation of school nor was anyone prohibited from using the boys' room facilities."

She further argues that B.C.'s statement was not motivated by T1's gender identity because he was "unaware of any transgender status of T1," and prior to the incident B.C. never received any information about the school's bathroom policy for transgender students; that a reasonable person "could not have known under the circumstances that his opinion/remark would have caused any harm either physically or emotionally" because "[i]t was not directed at any specific group or necessarily at any individual" and "there is nothing to indicate that T1 heard any remark by B.C."; and that "nothing in the investigation indicates that B.C.'s opinion as he was leaving the bathroom had caused the fear that was being expressed by T1" because "the e-mail indicates that the fear experienced by T1 on that day was caused by a 'group of boys outside the stall' and not by B.C."

According to G.C., B.C. was exercising his right to free speech "by expressing an opinion to his friend, R.C., that girls should be using the girls' bathroom," and "this incident did not cause a disruption of school activities" or "prohibit the rights of any student, let alone T1."

In reply, the Board argues that G.C. "attempts to muddy the waters of this case by pointing to alleged factual discrepancies which ultimately have no material bearing on this case." According to the Board, "[t]here is no doubt B.C. made the offending comment" and "the law is clear: making a derogatory comment about a transgender student, regardless of whether the commenter intended for the target to hear it, constitutes a violation of the HIB policy." The Board also counters G.C.'s free-speech argument by stating that "B.C. simply does not have a constitutional right to engage in this type of HIB behavior in the school."

LEGAL ANALYSIS

Under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6, "[a] party may move for summary decision upon all or any of the substantive issues in a contested case." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a). Such motion "shall be served with briefs and with or without supporting affidavits" and "[t]he decision sought may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). When the motion "is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Ibid.

An action by a local board of education "is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be upset unless there is an affirmative showing that such decision was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable." Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. of Educ., 89 N.J. Super. 327, 332 (App. Div. 1965). Thus, in order to prevail, those challenging a decision made by a board of education "must demonstrate that the Board acted in bad faith, or in utter disregard of the circumstances before it." G.H. & E.H. ex rel. K.H. v. Bd. of Educ. of Franklin Lakes, 2014 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 19 (February 24, 2014) (citation omitted), adopted, 2014 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 1137 (April 10, 2014). Also, a board's decision may be overturned if its determination violates the legislative policies expressed or implied in the governing act. J.A.H. ex rel. C.H. v. Twp. of Pittsgrove Bd. of Educ., 2013 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 58 (March 11, 2013) (citing Campbell v. Dep't of Civil Serv., 39 N.J. 556, 562 (1963)), adopted, 2013 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 436 (April 25, 2013).

The Anti-Bullying Act is designed "to strengthen the standards and procedures for preventing, reporting, investigating, and responding to incidents of harassment, intimidation, and bullying of students that occur in school and off school premises."[4] N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.1(f). Under the Act, "[h]arassment, intimidation or bullying" is defined as > any gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L.2010, c.122 (C.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:

>
> a. a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
>
>
> c. creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.
> [N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.]

Each school district must adopt a policy that prohibits HIB and provides "a procedure for prompt investigation of reports of violations and complaints." N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6). Once an alleged HIB incident is reported to the school principal, the principal must initiate an investigation within one school day of the report. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(a). The investigation shall be conducted by a school anti-bullying specialist, but "[t]he principal may appoint additional personnel who are not school anti-bullying specialists to assist in the investigation." Ibid. The investigation shall be completed within ten days of the initial HIB complaint. Ibid.

[4] The Act was recently amended to add several other procedural requirements regarding HIB investigations. L. 2021, c. 338. However, the amendments became effective in 2022, and thus do not apply to this case, the facts of which occurred in 2019 and 2020.

The results of the investigation shall then be quickly reported to the superintendent of schools, who may take certain remedial action. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(b). In particular, "the superintendent may decide to provide intervention services, establish training programs to reduce [HIB] and enhance school climate, impose discipline, order counseling as a result of the findings of the investigation, or take or recommend other appropriate action." Ibid.

The results shall also be reported to the board of education "no later than the date of the board of education meeting next following the completion of the investigation, along with information on any services provided, training established, discipline imposed, or other action taken or recommended by the superintendent." N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(c).

The parents of the students involved in any alleged HIB incident "shall be entitled to receive information about the investigation, . . . including the nature of the investigation, whether the district found evidence of [HIB], or whether discipline was imposed or services provided to address the incident of [HIB]." N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(d). The parents may request a hearing before the board, and the hearing must be held within ten days of the request. Ibid. Any hearing shall be held in executive session to protect the identity of any students involved. Ibid. And "[a]t the hearing the board may hear from the school anti-bullying specialist about the incident, recommendations for discipline or services, and any programs instituted to reduce such incidents[.]" Ibid.

A school board must issue a written decision at the first meeting after its receipt of the investigation report. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(e). The board may affirm, reject, or modify the superintendent's decision. Ibid. The board's decision may be appealed to the Commissioner of Education. Ibid.

As for G.C.'s arguments regarding certain procedural defects in the Board's handling of the HIB matter, G.C. is correct that Principal Brandis' November 25, 2019, letter was somewhat vague by not specifically stating what B.C. himself was accused of having done, and instead describing the alleged act of HIB as "T1 was in a boys' bathroom and other students were outside telling T1 he should use the girls' bathroom." Principal Brandis should have specifically informed B.C.'s parents that B.C. was the alleged perpetrator of an act of HIB, instead of generally referring to "other students."

G.C. is also correct that none of the papers indicate when or if the superintendent reported the HIB findings to the Board, and that the HIB report confusingly states that the HIB findings "will be affirmed at the 12/16/2019 Board meeting." This latter statement is troubling because it indicates that the affirmation of the HIB findings was a fait accompli before the Board even reviewed the findings.[5] The HIB report also does not state whether the investigation was completed within ten days of the initial complaint as required by the Anti-Bullying Act.

While the Board should, in the future, be more precise in its recordkeeping and reporting in HIB matters, these procedural missteps by the Board do not amount to a violation of petitioner's due-process rights.

It is clear from the record that B.C. and his parents were on notice of the HIB allegation specifically made against B.C., as the Board provided G.C. with a copy of the HIB report prior to B.C.'s hearing before the Board on July 20, 2020. And the fact is that B.C. was given a hearing before the Board to contest the HIB findings, and at that hearing he was represented by counsel and allowed to present his own testimony and the testimony of others in support of him. Thus, whatever procedural irregularities occurred in this matter were cured by the Board hearing on July 20, 2020.

[5] The Board acknowledges in its motion brief that it "affirmed" the HIB findings at its December 16, 2019, meeting, but provided no documentation reflecting this outcome. It would seem that this should have ended the matter, as the Anti-Bullying Act requires the Board to affirm, reject, or modify HIB findings at its next meeting after receiving the report (November 21, 2019), and B.C.'s parents did not request a hearing to challenge the findings before the Board's apparent December 16, 2019, vote.

Regardless, it further appears that the Board nonetheless decided to grant B.C. a hearing to challenge the HIB findings, and "re-vote" after B.C. presented his case. Because the Board reached a 3-3 vote after the July 20, 2020, hearing, the Board explained that this "mean[s] that reversal of the decision failed to garner a majority of the Board's vote, and the finding was affirmed."

There are two other procedural arguments raised by G.C. that must be addressed. First, G.C. argues that the Board's decision was arbitrary or unreasonable because T1 was never interviewed. However, the Anti-Bullying Act does not require that an alleged victim be interviewed as part of an investigation.[6] While in certain HIB matters the failure of a school district to interview an alleged victim of HIB during the course of an investigation might be problematic and could result in the overturning of a school board's HIB decision as arbitrary or unreasonable due to the absence of such an interview, that is not the case here. Instead, the email from T1's mother and B.C.'s admissions are sufficient to uphold the Board's HIB decision even without an interview of T1.

Second, G.C. complains that the Board failed to provide her with certain discovery prior to the Board hearing. This complaint also misses the mark. The papers submitted in connection with the Board's motion in this matter indicate that the Board provided G.C. with the school district's HIB report in response to G.C.'s discovery requests ahead of the July 20, 2020, hearing, and that the Board informed G.C. that "no further discovery" would be forthcoming from the Board. In this regard, the Board did not act inappropriately. As the Commissioner has noted in other HIB matters, "[t]he procedures set forth in the Act are sufficient to allow all parties involved adequate notice and due process of law" and "the investigatory process and the HIB determination procedures [are not meant] to mirror discovery and trial-like adversarial proceedings[.]" L.K. & T.K. ex rel. A.K. v. Bd. of Educ. of Mansfield, 2019 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 345, at *5, n.4 (Apr. 22, 2019), aff'd in part and remanded on other grounds, 2020 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2082 (App. Div. Nov. 2, 2020). B.C. and his parents got the school-board hearing to which they were entitled under the Anti-Bullying Act, and G.C.'s issue with the "limited discovery" she received before the Board hearing is misguided.

I CONCLUDE that the action taken by the District in response to the initial report by T1's mother was in compliance with the above requirements; although it is unclear whether the Board provided all the information to which B.C. was entitled to prepare his defense before the Board, the mistakes were not prejudicial.

[6] The Board represented that T1 left the school district after this incident, and even if the Board had wanted to interview T1, T1 was unavailable.

As to the substantive issues, the Commissioner has explained that under N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14, "a finding of HIB requires three elements":

> First, the conduct must be reasonably perceived as motivated by any actual or perceived enumerated characteristic or other distinguishing characteristic and, second, the conduct must substantially disrupt or interfere with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school. The third condition is that one of the three criteria enumerated in the Act regarding the effect of the conduct must also be satisfied.
> [Wehbeh v. Bd. of Educ. of Verona, 2020 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 50 (Feb. 4, 2020), at 7–8.]

In this matter, the Board is entitled to a summary decision upholding its determination that B.C. committed an act of HIB against T1 because there are no genuine issues of material fact with respect to whether B.C.'s conduct satisfies all of the elements of the definition of HIB under N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

First, To meet this statutory element, "the statute requires an analysis of how the actor's motivation is perceived and whether that perception is reasonable." Wehbeh, 2020 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 50, at *8. To determine whether the perception is reasonable, "the alleged victim [need not] correctly assess the actor's motivation, as such a requirement would convert the analysis from one about reasonably perceived motivation to one about actual motivation and would inappropriately place the burden on the alleged victim to divine the intent of the actor." Ibid., n.3.

Here, T1 could have reasonably perceived that B.C.'s comment was motivated by the fact that T1, who was originally known to B.C. as a female, now identifies as a male. In B.C.'s written statement during the HIB investigation, B.C. admitted that he saw T1 waiting to use a boys' bathroom stall and then, while T1 was in the stall, B.C. "said to MYSELF 'Girls should not be allowed to use the bathroom.'" While in her opposition brief, G.C. repeatedly attempts to raise doubts whether B.C. was properly identified as the person about whom T1's mother complained in her email to Principal Brandis, the circumstances—including time, place, and, most importantly, B.C.'s own admissions (and the concurring statements of R.C.)—remove all doubt that B.C. was the subject of the HIB complaint made by T1's mother. Thus, it is clear that T1 heard B.C.'s comment in the bathroom and that T1 reasonably perceived B.C.'s comment as motivated by T1's gender identity.

That B.C. claims he did not know that T1 identified as a male is inconsequential; the statute only requires that his comment was reasonably perceived as motivated by another person's protected characteristic. Not only did T1 reasonably perceive B.C.'s statement as motivated by T1's gender identity, but the papers also suggest that B.C.'s friend, R.C., did as well. R.C.'s written statement reflects that he knew T1 was allowed to be in the boys' bathroom, telling B.C. after he made the comment "to chill and just leave" and "to knock it off and just to leave the bathroom." In sum, the first element of the statutory definition of HIB is met because B.C.'s comment was reasonably perceived as motivated by T1's gender identity.

Second, B.C.'s comment substantially disrupted or interfered with the orderly operation of the school and the rights of T1.[7] This HIB requirement clearly reflects the free-speech concerns raised by the United States Supreme Court in Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District, 393 U.S. 503 (1969), in which the Court explained and held that, while students do not "shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate," school authorities may circumscribe student speech that "'materially and substantially interfere[s] with the requirements of appropriate discipline in the operation of the school'" or "collid[es] with the rights of other students to be secure and to be let alone." Id. at 506, 508, 513 (quoting Burnside v. Byars, 363 F.2d 744, 749 (5th Cir. 1966)). This standard also puts to rest G.C.'s contention that B.C.'s "opinion" about bathroom usage was protected speech. Here, B.C.'s comment substantially interfered with T1's right to use the boys' bathroom and his right to be secure and to be let alone. As T1's mother explained to Principal Brandis, T1 "was afraid to come out" of the bathroom stall after hearing B.C.'s comment.

[7] It is not disputed that the incident in question took place on school grounds, another requirement under the Anti-Bullying Act.

B.C.'s comment meets the final requirement of the statutory definition of HIB because at least one of the three criteria enumerated in the Act regarding "the effect of the conduct" is satisfied here. With regard to the three statutory criteria for "the effect of the conduct," the Commissioner has explained that:

> [A]n act of HIB is one that "a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student," "has the effect of insulting or demeaning a student," or "creates a hostile educational environment . . . ." N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14(a) (emphasis added). None of these criteria require the actor to have actual knowledge of the effect that her actions will have, or to specifically intend to bring about that effect. The first requires only that a reasonable person should know there would be a harmful effect, not that the actor knows there would be such an effect. The second two criteria address only the actual effect of the act, without any reference to what either the actor or a reasonable person does or should know.
> [Wehbeh, 2020 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 50, at 8–9.]

Here, Mr. Cicardo's HIB report, which the Board, in essence, affirmed through its 3-3 vote,[8] determined that there was "Physical or emotional harm to student or property" and "Reasonable fear of harm to student or property" because "(T1) was emotionally hurt as a result of the incident"; that the statement was "Insulting or demeaning to student/group" because "(T1) identifies as male"; and that the statement "Created hostile educational environment" because "(T1) reported to his mom that he was afraid to come out of the bathroom stall after the comment(s)." Thus, the Board determined that B.C.'s comment met all three criteria for the "effect of the conduct" element of the HIB definition.

[8] At the Board's July 20, 2020, meeting, a motion was made to "overturn the finding against [B.C.] in the October 2019 [HIB] case." As a result of the Board's 3-3 vote on the motion (one member absent), the motion was defeated and the superintendent's HIB finding was, in effect, affirmed.

Under the Anti-Bullying Act, "the board shall issue a decision, in writing, to affirm, reject, or modify the superintendent's decision," N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6)(e). The Board's voting policy lists all actions, which by statute, specifically require a majority vote. The Anti-Bullying Act does not specifically require a majority vote like other education statutes.

These findings were reasonable because (1) a reasonable person should have known that commenting on a person's right to be in a bathroom while the person is actually in the bathroom would have the effect of emotionally harming that person by making the person feel unsafe or unwelcome; (2) B.C.'s comment had the actual effect of insulting or demeaning T1, as T1 reported to his mother; and (3) B.C. created a hostile educational environment for T1 by interfering with T1's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to T1 because T1 was "afraid" to come out of the bathroom stall after hearing B.C.'s comment.

Based on the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that the Board's decision that B.C.'s conduct meets the statutory definition of HIB, and that B.C. committed an act of HIB against T1, was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that respondent's motion for summary decision should be granted.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that respondent's motion for summary decision is GRANTED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Record Closed: August 1, 2022 Decided: August 11, 2022

BEFORE KATHLEEN M. CALEMMO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners, the Atlantic City Education Association and Erica Shepherd, allege respondent, the Atlantic City Board of Education (BOE), violated Ms. Shepherd's tenure rights under N.J.S.A. 18A:17-2 by terminating her employment pursuant to a reduction in force which occurred on June 30, 2015. At issue is whether Ms. Shepherd's tenure rights were violated.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

This matter arose with the filing of a petition of appeal with the Commissioner of Education (the Commissioner) on August 5, 2015. The BOE filed its answer on September 4, 2015. The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested case on September 9, 2015.

On December 23, 2019, Administrative Law Judge John S. Kennedy issued a Letter Order denying respondent's Motion for Summary Decision. After Judge Kennedy's appointment to the Judiciary of the Superior Court, the matter was assigned to me on or about July 29, 2021.

After conducting telephone conferences with the attorneys, I scheduled the matter for a hearing, via Zoom platform, on August 1, 2022. Ms. Shepherd failed to appear.

FACTUAL FINDINGS

I FIND the following as FACTS:

This matter was scheduled for a Zoom hearing on August 1, 2022, at 9:30 a.m. Petitioner was notified of the hearing by her attorney, Mr. Sokolowski, by regular mail, dated July 22, 2022. In his correspondence, Mr. Sokolowski advised Ms. Shepherd that her appeal would be dismissed if she failed to participate in the hearing.

At a telephone conference on November 5, 2021, Mr. Sokolowski advised me that he had not had any contact from Ms. Shepherd despite his efforts. I allowed Mr. Sokolowski the opportunity to continue his attempts to contact Ms. Shepherd.

On May 31, 2022, Mr. Sokolowski sent a letter by regular mail to Ms. Shepherd and copied the Atlantic City Education Association asking Ms. Shepherd to advise whether she intended to pursue her appeal or withdraw it. She failed to respond.

On July 13, 2022, Mr. Sokolowski re-sent his May 31, 2022, correspondence to Ms. Shepherd but received no response. By correspondence, dated July 22, 2022, Mr. Sokolowski advised Ms. Shepherd of the August 1, 2022, Zoom hearing. He also informed her that she risked the dismissal of her appeal if she failed to appear.

None of the regular mailings to Ms. Shepherd were returned as undeliverable by the United States Post Office. This appeal has been pending for approximately seven years and Mr. Sokolowski has not had any contact from Ms. Shepherd in over two years despite diligent efforts.

Ms. Shepherd has abandoned her appeal by failing to participate.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.4(a),

> If, after appropriate notice, neither a party nor a representative appears at any proceeding scheduled by the Clerk or judge, the judge shall hold the matter for one day before taking any action. If the judge does not receive an explanation for the nonappearance within one day, the judge shall, . . . direct the Clerk to return the matter to the transmitting agency for appropriate disposition pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-3.3(b) and (c).

This matter was scheduled for a hearing via Zoom on August 1, 2022, at 9:30 a.m. Petitioner was given notice of the hearing date and time by her attorney. Petitioner did not appear for the Zoom hearing.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that despite receiving appropriate notice, Ms. Shepherd failed to appear at the hearing scheduled for August 1, 2022. Therefore, the matter should be dismissed as petitioner has abandoned her appeal.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that the Clerk return this matter to the Commissioner of the Department of Education for appropriate disposition pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-3.3(b) and (c).

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." No appearance by Alex Knox, petitioner, pro se

James J. Carroll, III, Esq., for respondent (The Carroll Law Firm, PLC, attorneys)

Record Closed: August 3, 2022 Decided: August 11, 2022

BEFORE KATHLEEN M. CALEMMO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Alex Knox, appealed the validity of the respondent, the Board of Education of the City of Pleasantville (BOE), to eliminate her position pursuant to an alleged reduction in force.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

This matter arose with the filing of a petition of appeal with the Commissioner of Education (the Commissioner) on May 12, 2022. The BOE filed its answer on May 24, 2022. The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested case on May 26, 2022.

FACTUAL FINDINGS

I FIND the following as FACTS:

This matter was scheduled for an initial telephone prehearing conference on June 28, 2022. The parties were notified by email. James J. Carroll, III, Esquire appeared on the telephone call for respondent. After waiting almost ten minutes, my judicial assistant sent an email and placed a telephone call to petitioner to remind her about the conference. Petitioner returned the telephone call and told my assistant she would dial-in to the telephone conference. After waiting ten more minutes, I ended the conference call when petitioner failed to participate.

The telephone conference was rescheduled for July 12, 2022. Respondent's attorney participated and petitioner failed to dial-in to the conference call.

The third telephone conference was scheduled for August 3, 2022. Petitioner received notice by email and regular mail. The regular mail sent to petitioner's address was not returned from the United States Postal Service. Respondent's attorney participated but petitioner failed to dial-in to the conference call.

Petitioner has abandoned her appeal by failing to participate in duly scheduled telephone conferences.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.4(a),

> If, after appropriate notice, neither a party nor a representative appears at any proceeding scheduled by the Clerk or judge, the judge shall hold the matter for one day before taking any action. If the judge does not receive an explanation for the nonappearance within one day, the judge shall, . . . direct the Clerk to return the matter to the transmitting agency for appropriate disposition pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-3.3(b) and (c).

This matter was scheduled for three telephone conferences. Petitioner was given notice of all telephone conferences. All telephone prehearing notices contain the following language:

> Failure to dial in for the telephone conference, will result in the file being returned to the transmitting agency for appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the other party.

On the third notice the above language was highlighted in bold for added emphasis.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that despite receiving appropriate notice, petitioner failed to appear at the three properly scheduled prehearing telephone conferences. Accordingly, the matter should be dismissed as petitioner has abandoned her appeal.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that the Clerk return this matter to the Commissioner of the Department of Education for appropriate disposition pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-3.3(b) and (c).

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

AND RANCOCAS VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT

AWARD PURSUANT TO SETTLEMENT

This matter having been amicably resolved by the parties hereto, Gary Jiampetti and the Rancocas Valley School District, and a settlement on all issues inherent in the Tenure Charges filed by the District against Gary Jiampetti having been reached; AND

The settlement having satisfied the requirements set forth in In re Cardonick, 1990 S.L.D.842, 846, more specifically the settlement (1) was accompanied by documentation as to the nature of the charges; (2) included an explanation of the circumstances justifying the settlement; (3) demonstrated evidence of consent by both parties; (4) indicated the charged party agreed with the settlement under a full understanding of his rights; (5) demonstrated that it is in the public interest; and, (6) indicated the charged party had notice the Commissioner of Education has a duty to refer determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners for possible action against the charged party's certificate;

NOW THEREFORE the settlement is approved by the undersigned Arbitrator this Twenty-fourth Day of September, 2022

SEPARATION AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE

This Separation Agreement and General Release (hereinafter "AGREEMENT") is made by and between the Rancocas Valley Regional High School District (hereinafter "BOARD"), with principal offices located at 520 Jacksonville Road, Mount Holly, New Jersey 08060, and Gary Jiampetti (hereinafter "JIAMPETTI").

WHEREAS, JIAMPETTI is employed as a Physical Education and Health Teacher by the BOARD; and

WHEREAS, JIAMPETTI is tenured in that position; and,

WHEREAS, JIAMPETTI and the BOARD desire to settle all aspects of JIAMPETTI'S employment rights and benefits by executing this SEPARATION AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE ("AGREEMENT");

IT IS HEREBY AGREED by and between JIAMPETTI and the BOARD, as follows:

1. For and in consideration of the undertakings of the BOARD set forth herein, and intending to be legally bound, JIAMPETTI does hereby remise, release and forever discharge the BOARD and its officers, members, employees and agents, its and their respective successors and assigns, heirs, executors and administrators, of and from any and all manner of action and causes of action, suits, debts, claims and demands whatsoever in law or in equity, which he ever had, now has or hereafter may have, or which his heirs, executors or administrators hereafter may have by reason of any matter, cause or thing whatsoever, from the beginning of his employment with BOARD to the date of this AGREEMENT, and particularly, but without limitation, of the foregoing general terms, any claims arising from or relating in any way to his employment relationship and/or affiliation with BOARD, including, but not limited to, any claims which have been asserted or could have been asserted or could be asserted now or in the future under any and all federal, state, or local laws and any common law claims or hereafter recognized and any and all claims arising out of his employment with the BOARD, with the following exceptions: claims arising under the Workers' Compensation Act, N.J.S.A. 34:15-1, et seq., the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:66-1, et seq., the indemnity provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-6 and 6.1 with regard to civil and criminal actions, claims by third parties, as well as claims arising from any breach of this AGREEMENT. The indemnification protections of this AGREEMENT are intended to protect, indemnify and otherwise hold harmless Jiampettti and his heirs and assigns from any claims of any type for financial loss or damages, including, but not limited to, compensatory damages, emotional distress and counsel fees by potential claimants as well as reasonable counsel fees incurred by Jiampetti in defending against such claims (in the event that the BOARD does not offer a defense) should they be brought in the future. This indemnification extends to any and all claims that may arise out of Jiampetti's employment by the Board from his date of hire to the date of his resignation pursuant to the terms of this AGREEMENT. Specifically, JIAMPETTI unless otherwise specified herein, hereby consents to irrevocably and unconditionally release and discharge the BOARD and its agents, employees and servants (collectively "RELEASEES") from any and all obligations, claims, demands, judgments, or causes of action of any kind whatsoever in tort, contract, by statute, or on any other basis for compensatory, punitive, or other damages, expenses, reimbursements or costs of any kind, including, but not limited to, any and all federal, state and local law claims which he has or may have as of the date he signs this AGREEMENT, whether statutory or common law, including, but not limited to, claims under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Civil Rights Act of 1866, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Executive Orders 11246 and 11141, the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act, and all federal, state, and local law claims, whether statutory or common law, including, but not limited to, claims of personal injury, breach of contract, unlawful discharge from employment, defamation, malicious interference with economic advantage, or discrimination on the basis of age, ancestry, atypical hereditary cellular or blood trait, liability for service in the Armed Forces of the United States, color, creed, disability, marital status, national origin, nationality, sex, race, sexual orientation or veteran's status, and/or claims growing out of any legal restrictions, express or implied, on BOARD'S right to control or terminate the employment of its employees. Further, JIAMPETTI understands he shall have twenty-one (21) days from the date he receives this AGREEMENT to decide whether to sign this AGREEMENT. If JIAMPETTI does sign this AGREEMENT, he understands he will have seven (7) days from the date he signs it to withdraw his consent to the terms of this AGREEMENT.

2. The BOARD, for and in consideration of the undertakings of JIAMPETTI set forth herein, and intending to be legally bound, does hereby remise, release and forever discharge JIAMPETTI and his heirs, executors and administrators, of and from any and all manner of actions and causes of actions, suits, debts, claims and demands whatsoever in law or in equity, which it ever had, now has, or hereafter may have, or which its officers, members, employees and/or agents, and their respective successors and assigns, heirs, executors or administrators hereafter may have by reason of his employment relationship and/or the termination of his employment relationship and/or affiliation with the BOARD with the exception of claims arising from the breach of this AGREEMENT and claims by third parties.

3. In full consideration of the mutual execution of this AGREEMENT and the mutual agreement to be legally bound by its terms and in recognition that JIAMPETTI'S release of claims as set forth above represents good and valuable consideration:

(a) Subject to the seven (7) day revocation period set forth in Paragraph 1 of this AGREEMENT, JIAMPETTI shall submit an irrevocable Letter of Resignation to the BOARD, effective on the close of business of March 17, 2021 (Exhibit A). JIAMPETTI agrees that his signature on this AGREEMENT constitutes an acknowledgment that he is relinquishing, effective that date, all rights to employment, including any and all contractual rights and any tenure rights as well as any and all future rights to employment/re-employment with the BOARD.

(b) The BOARD, subject to the provisions of this AGREEMENT, agrees to pay JIAMPETTI'S salary through May 15, 2021.

(c) The BOARD agrees that JIAMPETTI shall be entitled to continued health insurance coverage through the BOARD, subject to the contributions required under Chapter 78, until June 30, 2021. This provision shall be void should JIAMPETTI obtain employment with health insurance coverage.

(e) The BOARD will pay to JIAMPETTI, on or before December 31, 2021, the amount due under the Collective Bargaining Agreement between the BOARD and the RVRHSEA regarding unpaid sick leave days.

(f) The BOARD will not contest, challenge, or appeal an application and/or award of unemployment benefits in the event that JIAMPETTI applies to the New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development for unemployment benefits.

(g) The BOARD agrees not to challenge or take any action with regard to JIAMPETTI'S pension.

(h) The BOARD will not disclose the contents of JIAMPETTI'S personnel records and employee files, except to the Burlington County Prosecutor's Office, to any third party without either: i) the express written authorization of the New Jersey Commissioner of Education/Department of Education, or ii) a valid court order.

4. It is expressly agreed and understood that the BOARD does not have and will not have any obligation to provide JIAMPETTI at any time in the future with any payments, benefits or considerations, other than those recited above.

5. JIAMPETTI hereby agrees and recognizes that his employment relationship with the BOARD is permanently and irrevocably severed and any tenure entitlement is irrevocably relinquished as of the close of business on March 17, 2021, and that the BOARD does not have any obligation, contractual or otherwise, to hire, rehire, or re-employ him in the future.

6. JIAMPETTI hereby agrees not to disparage in any way and/or make any disparaging comments about the BOARD, Rancocas Valley Regional High School District and/or its employees. The BOARD agrees not to disparage in any way and/or make any disparaging comments about JIAMPETTI.

7. Both Parties agree and acknowledge that this AGREEMENT does not constitute an admission of any kind. Rather, the execution of this AGREEMENT is to provide an amicable conclusion of JIAMPETTI'S employment relationship with the BOARD. Both Parties further agree and acknowledge that this AGREEMENT is not, and shall not be, construed as an admission of any violation of federal, state or local statutes and regulations, or of any duty owed by the BOARD to JIAMPETTI or JIAMPETTI to the BOARD.

8. Nothing in this AGREEMENT shall constitute evidence of a past practice on the part of the BOARD, nor shall it be binding upon the BOARD with respect to any other employee of the Rancocas Valley Regional High School District. The BOARD and JIAMPETTI have entered into this AGREEMENT based upon the particular facts and circumstances unique to JIAMPETTI'S employment situation.

9. JIAMPETTI may have certain personal property on BOARD premises. He and his designated representative shall be permitted on notice to school administration, and at a mutually convenient day and time, to come onto school property, meet with a representative of school administration, designate which property belongs to him, and remove his personal property. The BOARD will cooperate in this regard and facilitate the return of his property within thirty (30) days of the execution of this AGREEMENT. JIAMPETTI shall return all DISTRICT property currently in his possession immediately following the approval of this AGREEMENT by the BOARD.

10. By signing this AGREEMENT, the Parties certify that they have had the opportunity to discuss this AGREEMENT with counsel. They are fully satisfied with the services of their counsel with respect to both this AGREEMENT and all other aspects of this case, and they enter into this AGREEMENT knowingly, willingly and without any coercion or improper inducements.

11. The Parties agree that this AGREEMENT may be signed in counterparts and that facsimiles of signatures as well as electronic signatures through email or portable document format (.pdf) will have the same force and effect as original signatures.

12. By signing this AGREEMENT, each signatory represents that he is a Party or has been duly authorized by a Party to sign on that Party's behalf and that this AGREEMENT is duly authorized, approved and consented to as to terms.

Intending to be legally bound hereby, JIAMPETTI and the BOARD execute the foregoing AGREEMENT.

Final Decision

Estate of Vonetta J. Hunter,

Petitioner,

v.

The Essex County School of Technology Board of Education, Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that items 3 and 4 of the Agreement reference payments that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

BEFORE SUSANA E. GUERRERO, ALJ:

Petitioner filed a Verified Petition with the Department of Education (Department) on or about July 25, 2018. The Department transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law as a contested case. A telephone prehearing conference was held on October 11, 2018 and the hearing was scheduled for March 6 and 7, 2019, but adjourned at the request of petitioner's former attorney, Gregory T. Syrek, Esq., because petitioner passed away. On October 11, 2019, Mr. Lynch filed an Amended Petition for Due Process to name the Estate of Vonetta Hunter as the petitioner because of her passing in January 2019. The undersigned issued an Order on October 25, 2019 granting the motion to amend the petition.

On or around September 9, 2021, respondent filed a motion for summary decision. Petitioner filed an opposition to the motion for summary decision on or around October 27, 2021. On December 10, 2021, the undersigned issued an Order denying the motion for summary decision. After numerous telephone conferences, the parties reached an amicable resolution and counsel for respondent submitted the attached Settlement Agreement, along with correspondence from the Board approving the settlement.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of the consent order and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the consent order as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The consent order fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and, therefore, ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

ESTATE OF VONETTA J. HUNTER, Petitioner, v. ESSEX COUNTY VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOLS BOARD OF EDUCATION Respondent.	BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION/OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW AGENCY DOCKET NO.: 127-6/17 OAL DOCKET NO.: EDU 12989-2018N SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement is entered into by and between the Petitioner, Estate of Vonetta J. Hunter ("Petitioner" or "Estate"), and the Respondent, the Essex County Vocational Technical Schools Board of Education ("Respondent" or "Board"), both of whom are collectively referred to as the Parties.

WHEREAS Vonetta J. Hunter ("Hunter") commenced employment with Respondent as a full-time Teacher on or about January 2, 2002, and worked within the scope of her Instructional Certificate with an endorsement to teach Dental Assistant students through May 7, 2018, when her employment was terminated by Respondent pursuant to a reduction in force ("RIF"); and

WHEREAS Hunter passed away on or about January 24, 2019; and

WHEREAS a Petition of Appeal was filed against Respondent challenging Hunter's termination as a violation of her tenure and seniority rights under N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5 et seq.; and

WHEREAS the Parties, through their respective counsel, have engaged in the exchange of discovery and in settlement negotiations throughout this matter; and

WHEREAS, Petitioner and Respondent, upon consultation with their respective counsel, have independently concluded that it is in their respective best interests to settle and resolve this dispute, with each party to bear their own counsel fees, costs and disbursements; and

NOW THEREFORE, it is agreed by and between the Parties hereto as follows:

1. Respondent agrees to retroactively reinstate Hunter to a position of part-time teacher as of the effective date of her termination at the conclusion of the 2018-2019 school year until the date of her death (January 24, 2019) as if, during that time period, she taught part-time three (3) courses (50% of a full-time workload) and was compensated at the annual salary of $80,000.00.

2. Respondent hereby acknowledges that Hunter acquired tenure by virtue of her certificate and employment service with Respondent on or about January 3, 2005, and she is entitled to full seniority credit from her initial date of hire (January 2, 2002) with Respondent, to the date of her passing (January 24, 2019), as if she had been employed by Respondent pursuant to the terms set forth in Paragraph 1.

3. Respondent agrees to pay Petitioner the gross amount of $19,000.00 in back pay, subject to standard and ordinary deductions including employee pension contributions which represents earnings of $19,000.00 that Hunter would have earned for the 2018-2019 school year to the date of her passing(January 24, 2019) based on a pro-rated salary for a part-time schedule comprised of teaching three (3) courses

4. This award of back pay shall be made to Petitioner within thirty (30) days following the execution of this agreement.

5. The Parties agree that Petitioner shall pay the employee's share of any pension contributions to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund ("TPAF").

6. Petitioner shall withdraw the Petition of Appeal presently pending before the Office of Administrative Law and Commissioner of Education, with prejudice, when its counsel receives notice and documentation that Respondent has approved the terms and conditions of this settlement.

7. This Settlement Agreement resolves any and all claims by Petitioner arising from Respondent's termination of Hunter's employment and regarding Petitioner's allegation that Respondent contrary to her seniority rights in terminating Hunter's employment and/or in failing to retain Hunter in a full-time or part-time teaching position.

8. Effective upon the execution and delivery of this Settlement Agreement, the Petitioner, and each of their successors, assigns, parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, employees, agents, heirs, executors, as applicable, both present and former (collectively the "Petitioner Parties"), jointly and severally releases, acquits and forever discharges the Board, the Board's subsidiaries, affiliates, parents, officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys, successors and assigns, both present and former (collectively the "Board Affiliates") of and from any and all manner of action and actions, cause and causes of action, suits, debts, controversies, damages, judgments, executions, claims and demands whatsoever, asserted or unasserted, in contract, tort, law or in equity which against the Board and/or Board Affiliates the Petitioner Parties ever had, now has or which the Petitioner Parties ever had or now has upon or by reason of any matter, cause, causes or thing whatsoever, including, without limitation, any presently existing claim or defense whether or not presently suspected, contemplated or anticipated and including but not limited to any claim that relates to, in whole or part, directly or indirectly, the subject matter of the involved Petition and/or Hunter's employment with the Board.

9. This Agreement contains all the terms of the Parties' agreement and cannot be modified or changed unless the Parties agree to do so in writing.

10. The terms of this Agreement are confidential, and they are not to be discussed by the Parties hereto, except with their respective counsel, financial advisors and Respondent's employees on a need to know basis or as otherwise required by law.

11. The Parties agree that they have been represented by counsel and enter into this Agreement voluntarily. Neither party admits any wrongdoing whatsoever by executing this document.

12. The Parties agree that neither party is responsible for the payment of the other party's counsel fees in connection with this matter.

13. This Agreement is made and entered into in the State of New Jersey and shall in all respects be interpreted, enforced and governed under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

14. Upon approval by Respondent and full execution of the Agreement, the Parties shall submit this Agreement and a copy of Respondent's resolution to the Honorable Susan Guerrero, ALJ within seven (7) days of the signing of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties and/or their representative(s) hereto have duly executed this Agreement.

Present: Mr. Salvatore Carnovale, Dr. Chris Pernell, Ms. Carrillo-Perez
Ms. Adrianne Davis

Absent: Ms. LeeSandra Medina, Rev. Edwin D. Leahy

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, COUNTY OF ESSEX

I, Lori Tanner, Board Secretary of the Board of Education in the County of Essex, State of New Jersey, hereby certify that the following extract from the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Education duly called and held on the date indicated has been compared by me with the original minutes as officially recorded in my office in the Minutes Book of said Essex County Vocational Technical Schools District; and is a true, complete copy thereof and of the whole of said original minutes so far as the same relate to the subject matter referred to in said extract in witness I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the corporate seal of said Essex County Vocational Technical Schools District.

Resolution #23-109: Authorization for the District to Enter into a Settlement with regard to a case captioned Estate of Vonetta J. Hunter v. Essex County Vocational Technical Schools Board of Education, OAL Docket No. EDU-12989-2018N for the sum of $19,000.00, Local Funds

WHEREAS, on or about July 25, 2018, Vonetta Hunter filed an action captioned Estate of Vonetta J. Hunter v. Essex County Vocational Technical Schools Board of Education with the Office of Administrative Law under docket no. EDU-12989-2018N. The District thereafter filed a responsive pleading to same. During the pendency of this action, Ms. Hunter passed away which resulted in her Estate being replaced as the plaintiff.

WHEREAS, there have been numerous settlement discussions by and between the District and the Estate of Vonetta Hunter with regard to settlement. These discussions have resulted in the Estate of Vonetta Hunter agreeing to accept the sum of $19,000 in full satisfaction of all claims. M. Murphy Durkin, Board Counsel, recommends to the Board that they enter into the Settlement Agreement.

On the motion of Mr. Carnovale, seconded by Dr. Pernell, BE IT RESOLVED, that upon the recommendation of the Superintendent of Schools, the Board hereby authorizes the District to settle the case captioned Estate of Vonetta J. Hunter v. Essex County Vocational Technical Schools Board of Education under Office of Administrative Law docket no. EDU-12989-2018N for the sum of $19,000.00 pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Stipulation of Settlement, a copy of which is attached hereto and incorporated herein as if fully set forth; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Superintendent of Schools is hereby authorized to execute the Stipulation of Settlement referenced above.

D.K. o/b/o B.K., Petitioners, v. West Deptford Township Board of Education, Respondent.	OAL DOCKET #: EDU 00197-2022S SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and Release (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement") is entered into by and between the West Deptford Township Board of Education, which has offices located at 675 Grove Road, West Deptford, New Jersey ~~08096~~ 08066 DK (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") and D.K. on behalf of B.K., who are domiciled at 1329 Puritan Drive, West Deptford, New Jersey 08096 (hereinafter referred to as the "Petitioners") (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Parties").

WHEREAS, B.K. is a four (4) year old student in preschool, residing within the West Deptford Township School District, operated by the Board; and

WHEREAS, B.K. is diagnosed with Type I Diabetes and has a Section 504 Plan and an Individualized Health Plan ("IHP") for implementation in the school setting; and

WHEREAS, the Parent filed a Petition of Appeal (hereinafter referred to as the "Petition"), seeking a 1:1 nurse for B.K. in the school setting; and

WHEREAS, the District filed an Answer to the Parent's Petition and maintains that B.K.'s current Section 504 Plan and IHP are appropriate, as written; and

WHEREAS, the Parties are desirous of resolving the issues raised by the Parent and have reached an amicable resolution thereby avoiding the time and expense associated with further litigation.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants set forth herein, the Parties agree as follows:

1. The District will amend B.K.'s IHP to reflect that the District will provide B.K. with an aide during the school day, starting on September 6, ~~2023~~ 2022. The aide will be assigned to B.K., with the ability to be shared by a maximum of three (3) students, who will all be in the same classroom.

2. Prior to the start of the 2022-2023 school year, the aide assigned to B.K. will undergo diabetes training and will be designated as an additional "trained glucagon delegate" with the authority to administer B.K.'s glucagon pen in accordance with her IHP. B.K.'s IHP will also be amended to reflect the aide as a "trained glucagon delegate."

3. The Parent will sign a release, authorizing the school nurse and B.K.'s aide to communicate with B.K.'s medical providers regarding her diabetes and the treatment of same.

4. The terms of this Agreement represent the compromise of disputed claims between the Parties.

5. This Agreement shall not constitute, be interpreted, construed, or used as evidence of any admission of fact, law, responsibility, or liability on the part of any party.

6. In the event that the Parent and/or B.K. are no longer domiciled in the District, the Board's responsibility under this Agreement shall immediately cease.

7. The Parties agree to submit this Agreement to an Administrative Law Judge for approval in full settlement of all issues pertaining to this matter. If approved, this Agreement shall be incorporated into a Final Decision by an Administrative Law Judge. Nothing contained herein shall be interpreted as preventing the Parties from filing a lawsuit to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

8. The Parent, individually and on behalf of B.K., hereby forever and fully waive and release the Board from all claims that have accrued as of the date of this Agreement, which they and/or B.K. have or may have against the Board in relation to the educational, special education and/or related services provided and/or offered to B.K., including all legal, contractual, common law, statutory and/or equitable claims under state and/or federal law, including but not limited to claims for and/or under:

a. compensatory education;

b. attorneys and other professional fees;

c. reimbursement related to any unilateral and/or out-of-district placement for B.K., whether known or unknown;

d. N.J.A.C. 6A:14-1.1, et seq.;

e. Individuals with Disabilities in Education Improvement Act, 20 U.S.C. §1415 et seq.;

f. Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, 29 U.S.C. §701, et seq.;

g. Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended, 42 U.S.C. §12101;

h. Family Education Rights and Privacy Act, 20 U.S.C. §1232g, et seq.;

i. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, 42 U.S.C. §2000, et seq.

j. The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, 20 U.S.C. §7801, et seq.;

k. 29 U.S.C. §794(a);

m. 42 U.S.C. §1988; and

n. New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1, et. seq.

Nothing in the release set forth in this paragraph shall be construed as a release or waiver of any claims between the Parties seeking to enforce any term or provision of this Agreement.

9. Each party shall bear their own attorneys' fees, costs, expert witness fees, and/or costs of evaluations and expert reports for the entirety of any matter or matters related to the subject matter of this Agreement.

10. It is expressly acknowledged that neither the Board, the Parent, nor B.K. is the prevailing party for any purpose, including attorneys' fees, costs, expert/witness fees, and/or costs of evaluation and expert reports. The Parents waive any other financial claims that they may have against the Board.

11. The terms of this Agreement shall remain strictly confidential and shall not be divulged to any third party, except the Parties' attorneys and/or accountants/auditors, unless such disclosure is required under applicable law and/or legal process. In response to any direct inquiry about the outcome of the above-described action, the Parties shall indicate only that the matter has been concluded. In the event that the terms of this provision are violated, the non-breaching party may take all reasonable measures (including, but not limited to, court proceedings) to restrain the prohibited or unauthorized disclosure of said information. Any and all costs incurred in connection with such proceedings, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees, shall be charged to the party deemed responsible after a final adjudication by a court of competent jurisdiction for breaching this confidentiality provision.

12. The Parent agrees, jointly and severally, to indemnify and hold forever harmless the Board, its officers, employees, administrators, and/or agents for any claim, complaint, suit, demand, cost, expense or legal fee, penalty, loss or judgment (collectively "liability") or any challenge successful or unsuccessful, brought by anyone on behalf of B.K. and in any judicial or administrative court, tribunal or other forum, through the date of this Agreement or related to subject matters encompassed in the Agreement.

13. This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey.

14. The undersigned represent that they have the requisite authority to sign this Agreement on behalf of the respective party.

15. The Parties may execute this Agreement in counterparts, each of which is deemed an original and all of which only constitute one original.

17. This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding of the Parties hereto and shall supersede any prior agreements between the Parties with respect to its subject matter. Further, there are no representations, warranties, covenants or undertakings other than those expressly set forth herein. Each party acknowledges and agrees that they are not relying upon any oral statements, representations, promises or expectations which are not expressly and explicitly set forth in this Agreement, which alone fully and completely expresses all agreements between the Parties.

18. A modification or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be effective and enforceable, only if made in writing, signed and duly authorized by all Parties and executed with the same formality as the Agreement.

19. The terms and conditions set forth herein shall be deemed severable. If any clause or provision contained herein shall be held unenforceable by a court of competent jurisdiction, it shall not affect the validity of any other clause or provision, all of which shall continue in full force and effect.

20. The Parties acknowledge that they are entering into this Agreement of their own accord and without any undue influence, coercion or pressure of any kind; that all the provisions of this Agreement, as well as all questions pertinent thereto, have been fully and satisfactorily explained to them; that they have given due consideration to such provisions and questions and understand them clearly; that the provisions of this Agreement are in all respects acceptable to them and that they, therefore, accept these provisions in full and final satisfaction of all claims and demands which have been raised or which could have been raised in any litigation related to G.P.

21. The Parties recognize that each had the opportunity to be represented by legal counsel and that they sign this within Agreement as their own voluntary act and deed, and that they understand the duties and obligations enumerated herein.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

J.C., on behalf of minor child, J.C.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Closter, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent Board that her minor child was not entitled to a free public education in the Closter School District following the family's relocation to Norwood after the property they were renting in Closter was sold in January 2022. Petitioner sought an order directing the Board to allow J.C. to continue to attend elementary school in Closter free of charge for the remainder of the 2021-2022 school year. The Board filed a counterclaim for tuition for the period of J.C.'s ineligible attendance, February 10, 2022 to April 27, 2022. Petitioner failed to attend two scheduled hearings in this matter without explanation. A previous Commissioner decision in this matter, issued on July 13, 2022, determined that J.C. was not entitled to a free public education in the district's schools from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022, but remanded the case to the OAL for calculation of the tuition owed by petitioner to the Board for J.C's ineligible attendance in the district's schools during that time

On remand, the ALJ found, inter alia, that: from February 10, 2022, the date on which the District notified J.C.'s parents that their child was not entitled to a free public education in the District, to and including April 26, 2022, the last day J.C. was enrolled in the District, there were 43 school days; the District's annual tuition rate for the 2021-2022 school year was $15,390.00; pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b(1), tuition shall be computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance. Accordingly, the ALJ concluded that the total amount of tuition to be reimbursed in this matter is $3,676.50, and ordered the petitioner to pay said amount to the respondent Board.

Upon review, the Commissioner adopted the ALJ's Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner was ordered to reimburse the Board in the amount of $3,676.50 for tuition costs incurred during the time period from February 10, 2022 to April 26, 2022, when the minor child J.C. was ineligible to attend school in Closter. The petition of appeal was dismissed.

Final Decision

J.C., on behalf of minor child, J.C.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Closter, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The Commissioner previously determined that J.C. was not entitled to a free public education in the district's schools from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022, and remanded this matter to the OAL for calculation of the tuition owed by petitioner to the Board for J.C's ineligible attendance in the district's schools during that time. J.C., on behalf of minor child, J.C. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Closter, Bergen Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 173-22, decided July 13, 2022.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioner for the time period during which the minor child was ineligible to attend school in the district. The record on remand reflects that there were 43 school days between February 10, 2022 and April 26, 2022, and that the per diem cost of tuition is $85.50.[1] Therefore, the Board is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $3,676.50 for the period from February 10, 2022 to April 26, 2022, during which time petitioner's minor child was ineligible to attend school in Closter.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $3,676.50 for tuition costs incurred during the time period from February 10, 2022 to April 26, 2022, when the minor child was ineligible to attend school in Closter. The petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

BEFORE THOMAS R. BETANCOURT, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner appealed the Final Notice of Determination of Ineligibility by Respondent school district, dated February 18, 2022, wherein Respondent determined that the minor child was ineligible to attend school in Respondent school district.

Petitioner filed a pro se petition of appeal with the Office of Controversies and Disputes in the New Jersey Department of Education on March 14, 2022.

Respondent filed its Answer, Separate Defenses and Counterclaim thereto on March 29, 2022.

The matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on March 30, 2022 as a contested case, under OAL Docket No. EDU 02441-22.

A Prehearing Order was entered on April 5, 2022.

The matter was listed for a hearing on May 17, 2022 via Zoom. Petitioner failed to appear, or otherwise contact the OAL regarding the non-appearance. The undersigned adjourned the matter to June 3, 2022, so as to notify Petitioner that the matter would proceed to a proof hearing should Petitioner not log in to the Zoom hearing. Notices were provided. Petitioner failed to appear. Respondent requested a proof hearing on their counterclaim.

The hearing proceeded on June 3, 2022, without Petitioner pursuant to N.J.S.A. 1:1-14.4(d).

The undersigned issued an Initial Decision, dated June 13, 2022, wherein I determined that the Petitioner failed to sustain her burden of proof that she was domiciled in Closter from February 10, 2022 through April 27, 2022, and therefore, J.C. was not entitled to a free public education in the Closter District.

The matter was remanded in accordance with the Final Decision of the Acting Commissioner of Education, dated July 13, 2022, wherein the Acting Commissioner concurred with the Initial Decision in that the Petitioner failed to sustain her burden of proof, but remanded the same to calculate tuition in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

In response to the Final Decision, Respondent submitted the Certification of Floro M. Villanueva, Jr., Business Administrator/Board Secretary for the Closter School District, containing Exhibits A and B.

Petitioner was advised, via email dated July 28, 2022, that any submission she intended to make would be due on or before August 12, 2022. She was also advised in said email there would not be an additional hearing. No submission was made by Petitioner. The record closed August 12, 2022.

ISSUE ON REMAND

What are the number of days of ineligible attendance by J.C.; and, what is the proper amount of tuition reimbursement due Respondent in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

FINDINGS OF FACT

From February 10, 2022, the date the District notified J.C.'s parents that the student was not entitled to a free public education in the District, to and including April 26, 2022, the last day J.C. was enrolled in the District, there were 43 school days at Hillside Elementary School. (Exhibit A, Villanueva Certification)

The annual tuition rate for the 2021-2022 school year was $15,900.00. (Exhibit B, Villanueva Certification)

1/190 of the total annual tuition rate of $15,390.00 equals $85.50. This is the per diem tuition rate. Said amount multiplied by 43 days of ineligible attendance equals $3,676.50. This is the amount of reimbursement due the District from Petitioner.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b(1) states in pertinent part: Tuition shall be computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance and shall be collected in the manner in which orders of the commissioner are enforced.

In the instant matter, through the Certification of Floro M. Villanueva, Jr., it is established that the total tuition for the 2021-2022 school year was $15,900.00. 1/180 to the total annual per pupil cost for said school year equals $85,50. The number of ineligible days of attendance equal 43. The total amount of tuition to be reimbursed is therefore $3,676.50.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that Respondent is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $3,676.50; and

It is further ORDERED that Petitioner shall pay said amount to Respondent.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

M.M. and A.M., on behalf of minor children,
E.M. and I.M.,

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of South Brunswick, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioners appealed the determination of the respondent Board that their minor children were not entitled to a free public education in the South Brunswick School District (District) during the 2021-2022 school year. The Board contended that, based on the results of residency investigations, petitioners do not live at the address provided on the children's school registration but rather may live at another address within the District, where M.M.'s mother resides. The Board sought reimbursement for the cost of tuition for the period of E.M. and I.M.'s ineligible attendance.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a), public schools are free to any person over five and under twenty years of age who is domiciled within the District; the issues in dispute here are whether the family resided on Bernini Way during the 2021-2022 school year and, if not, the amount of tuition owed by petitioners to the Board for that period of time; the credible evidence indicates that the address provided on the school registration is within a 55 and over community that does not allow children under the age of 19, and that the family may actually live at a different address within the District, where the children's grandmother resides. The ALJ concluded that petitioners did not sustain their burden of proving that E.M. and I.M. were domiciled on Bernini Way and did not submit evidence supporting residency at the other address; accordingly, the children were not entitled to a free public education in the District during the 2021-2022 school year, and petitioners are responsible for tuition reimbursement in the total amount of $25,922.

The Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's finding that petitioners failed to prove that they were domiciled within the District during the 2021-2022 school year, and further concurred that the children were, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time. However, the Commissioner concluded that the record does not present sufficient information to accurately determine the per diem tuition owed, nor whether the children attended school in the District for the entire year. Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the Office of Administrative Law for further proceedings to calculate the per diem tuition and number of days of ineligible attendance, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

M.M. and A.M., on behalf of minor children, E.M. and I.M.,

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of South Brunswick, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge's (ALJ) finding that petitioners failed to sustain their burden of establishing that they were domiciled in South Brunswick during the 2021-2022 school year. The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that minor children E.M. and I.M. were, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioners for the time period during which the minor children were ineligible to attend school in the district. The statute specifically provides that the Commissioner may order tuition "computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance." N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b. The Initial Decision notes that the cost of tuition is $72 per day, or $12,961 per year.[1] However, this information appears only in the notice of ineligibility sent by the district to petitioners, and in the ALJ's summary of witness testimony about the issuance of that notice. The record contains no certification from district staff with knowledge about tuition costs, nor does the Initial Decision recount any witness testimony on this topic.[2] The Commissioner therefore concludes that the record does not present sufficient information to calculate the per diem tuition. Furthermore, while the Initial Decision assesses tuition for the 2021-2022 school year, there is no evidence in the record demonstrating that the children attended school in South Brunswick for the entire school year, either in the form of a certification or witness testimony.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the Office of Administrative Law for further proceedings to calculate the per diem tuition and number of days of ineligible attendance, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Date of Mailing: September 26, 2022

[1] Multiplying $72 by 180 days results in an annual tuition cost of $12,960, not $12,961. While this discrepancy may be due to rounding of one figure or the other, the Commissioner declines to make such an assumption, particularly when neither figure is supported by competent evidence in the record.

[2] The Commissioner was not provided with a transcript of the proceedings and therefore relies on the ALJ's summary of the testimony. If the tuition costs were testified to by one of the Board's witnesses, that information should be included on remand to clarify the record.

M.M. and A.M. on behalf of E.M. and I.M., petitioners, pro se

David L. Disler, Esq., for respondent (Porzio, Bromberg & Newman, P.C., attorneys)

Record Closed: July 20, 2022 Decided: August 15, 2022

BEFORE TRICIA M. CALIGUIRE, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners M.M. and A.M., on behalf of minor children, E.M. and I.M., appeal the decision of respondent Township of South Brunswick Board of Education (Board) that E.M. and I.M. were not eligible to attend the South Brunswick Township Public Schools in the 2021-2022 school year. Petitioners also seek a ruling that they are not responsible to pay tuition for E.M. and I.M. for the 2021-2022 school year in the amount of $12,961 for each child.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 4, 2022, petitioners filed a pro se residency appeal with the Office of Controversies and Disputes of the New Jersey Department of Education. On May 2, 2022, the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) where it was filed as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On June 28, 2022, the parties appeared for a prehearing telephone conference, during which the hearing was scheduled for July 20, 2022. A prehearing order was issued on June 30, 2022.

On July 20, 2022, the hearing was conducted using Zoom Communications, Inc., a remote audio/video platform licensed by the OAL for use during the public health emergency in which the Governor of the State of New Jersey issued Emergency Orders mandating stay-at-home protocols for citizens and public employees (COVID-19). Petitioners, who speak Russian and are not fluent in English, were assisted throughout the proceedings, including the hearing, by Natalia Sorokina, a Russian language interpreter. The record closed on July 20, 2022.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The issues in dispute are whether the M. family, mother and two minor children,[1] resided at Bernini Way, Monmouth Junction, New Jersey, within the geographic area served by the South Brunswick Township School District (District), during the 2021-2022

[1] A.M., the father of the two minor children involved in this matter, stated that he lives in Brooklyn, New York, apart from his wife and children.

school year and if not, the amount of tuition owed by petitioners to respondent for the 2021-2022 school year.[2]

At the hearing, respondent presented three witnesses; A.M. testified on behalf of petitioners. The following is not a verbatim recitation of the testimony but a summary of the testimonial and documentary evidence that I found relevant to the above issues.

TESTIMONY

Suzanne Luck-Born (Luck-Born), District Director of Student Assessment and Instructional Support, testified on behalf of respondent. She has been employed by the District for twenty-six years in various positions, the last eleven in her current position. Luck-Born is responsible for the Registration Department, including oversight of two Central Registrars who register new families and coordinate registrations with the Transportation and Buildings Departments.

On September 13, 2021, shortly after the school year began, Luck-Born received an email from the Director of Transportation stating that Mickey Guzman (Guzman), the Community Manager of the Villagio South Brunswick Homeowners Association (Villagio HOA), objected to District buses entering the Villagio community as it is an age-restricted community in which school-aged children are not permitted. (R-1.)[3] According to the District records, the M. children resided in the Villagio community at Bernini Way, but the lease M.M. had provided to the District as proof of residency had expired. Luck-Born or her staff contacted petitioners and requested updated residency documents, which M.M. hand-delivered on September 14, 2021, including a lease for July 1, 2021, through July 1, 2023, for Bernini Way.

[2] E.M. has attended school in the District continuously since the 2018-2019 school year and I.M. has attended school in the District continuously since the 2020-2021 school year.

[3] Luck-Born identified this summary of the residency investigation conducted in this matter, which she wrote. She stated that this document was provided to Board of Education members prior to the M. family hearing. Not all communications described in this document were written but all were corroborated by later writings and/or action taken in response.

On September 21, 2021, Luck-Born retained a private investigator, Patrick O'Brien (O'Brien), to conduct a residency investigation. Luck-Born identified the report generated by O'Brien, in which he concluded that the M. family was not residing at Bernini Way. (R-2.) Using this report, Luck-Born told her supervisor that as a result of the investigation, the District had no basis to conclude that E.M. and I.M. lived at Bernini Way, but the M. family may have been residing at Drinking Brook Road, another location within the township.[4] Luck-Born identified the "system-generated" letter sent to petitioners on December 17, 2021, stating that the District does not "accept students" from the Villagio address, but they could provide proof of residency at the alternate location. (R-3.)

On January 10, 2022, Luck-Born sent a letter to petitioners stating that E.M. and I.M. are not eligible to attend the District schools because:

> • Petitioners failed "to provide requested documentation that satisfies the residency requirements as outlined in N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1[.]"
>
> • "Based upon an investigation by [the District's] Residency Officer," the District determined that the M. family "is not residing at Bernini Way[.]"
>
> • "The 55 and Older Community" in which Bernini Way is located "does not use [the District's] schools due to the age restriction of residents."

On January 26, 2022, petitioners sent a letter to Luck-Born disputing the findings of the investigation, claiming that the District was discriminating against them, and stating that if the District was unwilling to permit the children to complete the year in the District, they would "be forced to go to court and appeal your decision, as well as file a lawsuit for persecution and discrimination." (R-5.) A Board hearing was scheduled and, in the interim, the District hired Prime Source Investigators to obtain a second opinion and more recent information.

[4] The District operates seven elementary schools. The two addresses at issue here, Bernini Way and Drinking Brook Road, are within the geographic boundaries for different elementary schools. There was no evidence presented as to why the M. family would prefer one school over another, other than because their children were already attending the first school and because they stated that they do not live within the geographic boundaries of the second school. See, P-6.

On two days in February 2022, the investigator from Prime Source parked outside Bernini Way from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m., and he reported seeing no activity at the house during those hours. (R-8.) Further, in response to a request from District Superintendent Scott Feder (Feder), Guzman provided excerpts from the Villagio HOA governing documents, which make clear that no children under the age of 19 are permitted to reside in a home in the community. (R-6.)

On February 10, 2022, respondent held a hearing at which petitioners appeared and gave testimony. On February 14, 2022, Feder sent a final notice of ineligibility to petitioners, which described the basis for the decision of respondent that petitioners' children are not domiciled at Bernini Way and are not eligible to attend school in the District. (P-3.) Petitioners were again given the opportunity to provide proof of residency at Drinking Brook Road. In this notice, respondent stated that they would be responsible for tuition for each child in the amount of $72 per day, or $12,961 per year.

Petitioners did not provide additional information to respondent. This appeal followed.

Patrick J. O'Brien, testified on behalf of respondent. He spent twenty-five years on the South Brunswick Police Department, five as an investigator. From December 2011, through December 2021, O'Brien served as the District Residency Investigator. During this time, he estimates that he handled over one-hundred residency investigations, in cases in which "the Board had reason to believe that non-resident children were attending school" in the District.

O'Brien identified the report he prepared on his investigation of the M. family who were allegedly living at Bernini Way. (R-2.) He began on September 21, 2021, by conducting internet research. He was able to confirm the house at Bernini Way was purchased in 2009 by Charles and Maria Lichtenstein.[5]

O'Brien stated that on September 24, 2021, he arrived at Bernini Way at 7:30 a.m., and stayed one hour, during which he saw no activity, no cars, no lights on inside the house, and no children or adults leaving the house. (R-2.)

On October 15, 2021, O'Brien arrived at Bernini Way at 8:15 a.m. and saw an open second floor window. At 8:23 a.m., a silver SUV with New Jersey license plates pulled into the driveway and when the garage door was opened remotely, drove into the garage. O'Brien described the driver as an adult male in his 60's; he stated that A.M., who was present by Zoom during O'Brien's testimony, was not the man he saw driving the SUV. At 8:26 a.m., O'Brien saw an adult female walking inside the house from the first to the second floor. O'Brien described the adult female as in her 60's; he stated that M.M., who was present by Zoom during O'Brien's testimony, was not the woman he saw in the house.

On November 29, 2021, O'Brien arrived at Bernini Way at 7:32 a.m. and saw the same second floor window open. He saw no cars or other activity. He drove to the elementary school where the M. children were attending. While he was told by staff that M.M. usually drove her children to school and parked in the rear lot, he did not see M.M. or the children that morning.

On November 29, 2022, O'Brien drove past Bernini Way at 7:50 a.m., observed no cars, and proceeded to the elementary school. At 8:45 a.m., a woman driving a white SUV with New Jersey license plates parked in a spot in the rear lot. The car came from the direction opposite of where it would travel if coming from Bernini Way. The woman walked two students, one male and one female into the school, returned to her car, and proceeded to Drinking Brook Road, parking in the driveway.

[5] Maria Lichtenstein is the landlord on the leases M.M. signed for Bernini Way. (P-6, P-7, P-8.) On each lease, Lichtenstein uses Bernini Way as her address for notices.

On November 30, 2022, O'Brien arrived at Drinking Brook Road at 8:25 a.m., and observed the same white SUV parked in the driveway. He saw the lights go on in the car at 8:45 a.m. O'Brien drove to the elementary school, saw the same white SUV drive in from the same route and park in the rear lot at 8:54 a.m. O'Brien left and went to Drinking Brook Road. The same white SUV returned at 9:06 a.m. and parked in the driveway. On Saturday, December 11, 2021, O'Brien saw the same white SUV parked in the driveway at Drinking Brook Road.

O'Brien stated that on each occasion he went to Bernini Way, he never saw children, whether at the home or in the neighborhood, and never saw signs of children such as toys or bicycles. He concluded that based on his investigation, there are no grounds to believe that the M. family resided at Bernini Way.[6]

Austin Lindsay (Lindsay) testified on behalf of respondent. Since 2018, he has been a field investigator with Prime Source Investigators and in this position, has conducted over one thousand investigations. In a typical residency investigation, he is briefed by the client and given an address to surveil, and reports back with a description of the residence, any vehicles present, and any activity that he observes.

Lindsay identified the report he wrote regarding the investigation he conducted on Bernini Way. (R-8.) On February 3, 2022, Lindsay arrived at Bernini Way at 6:00 a.m. Knowing that school started at 8:55 a.m., and that the children involved were young and likely woke up early, Lindsay wanted an early start. He described Bernini Way as a large home with a two-car garage, located in a cul-de-sac in a nice neighborhood. By the time he left at 10:00 a.m., Lindsay had seen no activity at the house, no lights inside the house going on, no doors opening, no vehicles departing.

On February 4, 2022, Lindsay arrived at Bernini Way at 6:00 a.m., and stayed until 10:00 a.m. Again, he saw no activity, no lights going on, no vehicles. As shown on a video Lindsay took of the residence, one light above the interior staircase was on when he arrived, and it turned off at 8:05 a.m., without any other lights going on. (R-10.) Lindsay concluded that this light was on a timer. Lindsay saw no children at Bernini Way, nor in the neighborhood, and saw no school buses (though both February 3 and 4, 2022 were school days). He concluded that the M. family does not live at Bernini Way.

A.M. testified on behalf of petitioners. He stated that he and M.M. decided to live separately[7] but continue to parent their children together. In 2018, M.M. and the children moved to Monmouth Junction to live with M.M.'s aunt, Maria Lichtenstein (Lichtenstein), and M.M.'s mother.

Lichtenstein lives at Bernini Way with her husband, M.M. and the children. M.M.'s mother, who was not named, lives at Drinking Brook Road. M.M.'s mother is quite old and sickly and cannot be with the children all the time, but the children do stay with her from time to time. The dates chosen by the investigators to surveil Bernini Way are all days on which the children stayed with their grandmother.

In 2018, petitioners took E.M. to register at Monmouth Junction Elementary School. They were told what documents were required for registration and provided all required documents, including the lease between Lichtenstein and M.M. for Bernini Way.[8] At the same time, petitioners told the registrar that they did not need transportation for E.M. because they lived in the Villagio, and school buses are not allowed in the community.

Each successive year, from 2019 through 2021, petitioners submitted all required documents to the registrar and each year, petitioners told the registrar that they did not need transportation for E.M., and eventually for both children. In 2021, someone in the school system made a mistake and sent the bus to Bernini Way.

[7] A.M. did not say whether he and M.M. are divorced.

[8] Petitioners also introduced copies of M.M.'s federal tax return, her New Jersey drivers' license, and her bank account statements, all of which show her address as Bernini Way. (P-6 through P-20.)

A.M. stated that respondent did not prove that M.M. and the children do not live at Bernini Way; just because the HOA rules forbid children does not mean the family does not live there. M.M. pays rent to Lichtenstein, as provided in the lease. When asked to provide proof of payment of rent, A.M. stated that they pay in cash some months and did not have documentary proof of non-cash payments.

DISCUSSION

To the extent that testimony given by petitioner and the other witnesses is in conflict or inconsistent, the credibility of their testimony must be assessed. Credibility is best described as that quality of testimony or evidence which makes it worthy of belief. The Supreme Court of New Jersey considered the issue of credibility in In Re Estate of Perrone, 5 N.J. 514 (1950). The Court pronounced:

> Testimony to be believed must not only proceed from the mouth of a credible witness but must be credible in itself. It must be such as the common experience and observation of mankind can approve as probable in the circumstances.

See also, Spagnuolo v. Bonnet, 16 N.J. 546, (1954), State v. Taylor, 38 N.J. Super. 6 (App. Div.1955).

In order to assess credibility, the witness' interest in the outcome, motive or bias should be considered. Furthermore, a trier-of-fact may reject testimony because it is inherently incredible, or because it is inconsistent with other testimony, or with common experience, or because it is overborne by other testimony. Congleton v. Pura- Tex Stone Corp., 53 N.J. Super. 282, 287 (App. Div. 1958).

Luck-Born, O'Brien and Lindsay were all credible witnesses. They spoke without emotion about routine matters they took on in the course of their employment. While I question the limitations of O'Brien's investigation—he did not have proof that the children he saw with the woman in the white SUV were actually E.M. and I.M.—respondent did not pursue the alternate theory, that the M. family was living at Drinking Brook Road. It was enough that neither investigator saw any children, or even a woman of M.M.'s age, at Bernini Way.

There is no dispute that the Villagio HOA rules forbid children under the age of 19, and it should not then be a surprise that by the second week of the 2021-2022 school year, Guzman had had enough of the disruptive school buses and contacted the District to keep them out. A.M. testified that starting in 2018, when E.M. began school, petitioners notified the Transportation Department that they did not need busing and someone made a mistake in September 2021 and sent a bus to their address. While not all of A.M.'s testimony rang true, this explanation makes sense. Prior to September 2021, Guzman had no reason to complain to the Transportation Department because there were no buses going through the Villagio. The M. family may have been living at Bernini Way between September 2018 and June 2021, which would explain why M.M. went to the trouble of opening bank accounts with that address, using that address for her drivers' license and her federal tax returns. There was no testimony regarding the apparent willingness of M.M.'s aunt to sign a lease that violates the Villagio's stringent age-restriction rules,[9] but the question here is not whether the M. family and/or their landlord was breaking the rules by setting up house in a fifty-five and over community.[10] The question is whether they lived in the Villagio community during the 2021-2022 school year.

The credible evidence presented by two investigators is that on five occasions, between October 2021, and February 2022, when school was in session and the M. children were in attendance, the children did not spend the previous night at Bernini Way and did not leave from Bernini Way to go to school. Coincidence is not enough to overcome the preponderance of the credible evidence and accordingly, I FIND that petitioners did not prove that during the 2021-2022 school year, E.M. and I.M. resided at Bernini Way.

[9] There was also no documentary proof that the M. family made lease payments to Lichtenstein.

[10] Given how quickly Guzman reacted when she saw the school buses, it is surprising that she never noticed elementary school-aged children allegedly living in the community for close to four years, a clear violation of HOA rules.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Petitioners contend that E.M. and I.M. are entitled to a free education in the District under N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1, which provides that public schools shall be free to persons over five and under twenty years of age who are "domiciled within the school district." See, V.R. ex rel A.R. v. Hamburg Bd. of Educ., 2 N.J.A.R. 283, 287 (1980), aff'd, State Bd., 1981 S.L.D. 1533, rev'd on other grounds sub nom., Rabinowitz v. N.J. State Bd. of Educ., 550 F. Supp. 481 (D.N.J. 1982) (New Jersey requires local domicile, as opposed to mere residence, for a student to receive a free education). E.M. is nine years old and I.M. is seven years old and, therefore, I CONCLUDE they meet the age requirements to be entitled to a free public education.

A person who meets age requirements and is domiciled within a school district may attend its public schools free of charge. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a). A person may have many residences but only one domicile, and a child's domicile is normally that of his or her parents. Somerville Bd. of Educ. v. Manville Bd. of Educ., 332 N.J. Super. 6, 12 (App. Div. 2000), aff'd, 167 N.J. 55 (2001). The domicile of a person is the place where he has his true, fixed, permanent home and principal establishment, and to which whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning, and from which he has no present intention of moving. In re Unanue, 255 N.J. Super. 362, 374 (Law Div. 1991), aff'd, 311 N.J. Super. 589 (App. Div.), certif. denied, 157 N.J. 541 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1051 (1999).

The acts, statements and conduct of the individual, as viewed in the light of all the circumstances, determine a person's true intent. Collins v. Yancey, 55 N.J. Super. 514, 521 (Law Div. 1959). The parents have the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2).

Here, the evidence as to E.M. and I.M. being domiciled in the District is mixed. E.M. started school in the District in September 2018, and she and her brother have attended continuously since then. M.M. went to a great deal of trouble to show Bernini Way as her address. Both houses in which M.M.'s relatives reside—Bernini Way and Drinking Brook Road—are in the District, albeit within the geographic boundaries of different elementary schools. Petitioners refused to concede residency at Drinking Brook Drive—either because they did not want their children to change schools in the middle of the school year or because they did not live there and could not prove otherwise.[11]

Accordingly, in light of all of the facts and circumstances, I CONCLUDE that E.M. and I.M. are not entitled to a free public education in the District. I CONCLUDE petitioners failed to satisfy the burden of proving that E.M. and I.M. are domiciled at Bernini Way and elected not to submit evidence supporting residency at Drinking Brook Road.

N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(1) provides that when the evidence does not support the claim of the resident, the resident shall be assessed tuition:

> [F]or the student prorated to the time of the student's ineligible attendance in the school district. Tuition shall be computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance and shall be collected in the manner in which orders of the commissioner are enforced.

The record reflects that the actual cost of attendance in-District was $12,961 per year for each student for the 2021-2022 school year.

N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.3(a) provides that,

> Tuition assessed pursuant to this section shall be calculated on a per-student basis for the period of a student's ineligible enrollment, up to one year, by applicable grade/program category and consistent with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-17.1. The individual student's record of daily attendance shall not affect the calculation.

[11] In their letter of January 26, 2022, petitioners state that they could enroll their children in private school but prefer for them to complete the current school year at Monmouth Junction Elementary School. (P-2.)

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioners are responsible to pay tuition to respondent for attendance by E.M. and I.M. at Monmouth Junction Elementary School in the amount of $12,961 for each, for a total of $25,922.

ORDER

I ORDER that the decision of respondent South Brunswick Township Board of Education that E.M. and I.M. were not eligible for a free public education in the District during the 2021-2022 school year is AFFIRMED and the pro se residency appeal of petitioners M.M. and A.M. on behalf of E.M. and I.M. is DISMISSED.

Further, I ORDER that petitioners shall pay respondent tuition in the amount of $25,922.

I hereby FILE this Initial Decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration. This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this initial decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, P.O. New Jersey Commissioner of Education

K.P., on behalf of minor children, J.P. and J.P.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner appealed the decision suspending her two eighth-grade children for violations of the Board's student conduct policies based on their alleged involvement with a Google slideshow and Snapchat conversations which contained racial slurs, anti-Semitic and anti-LGBTQ+ comments, personal student information, explicit photos and videos, and threats of physical and sexual violence. J.P. and J.P. denied responsibility for the postings. The suspension determination followed an investigation by the North Arlington Police Department, which traced the Internet Protocol (IP) address associated with the postings to the petitioner's home, and a disciplinary hearing before the Board. Petitioner sought to have the suspension decisions reversed and removed from her children's school records.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the parties relied on the record of the disciplinary hearing before the Board; the witnesses in that proceeding had not been sworn or affirmed; further, the screenshots from Snapchat and the Google slideshow presented as evidence by the Board had not been marked as exhibits during the disciplinary hearing; since no specific images were marked as exhibits at that hearing and attorneys on both sides of the case cannot attest that the screenshots presented in the OAL were the same documentary evidence that was considered by the Board at its disciplinary hearing, there was no foundation to allow these exhibits to be admitted into evidence. Based on the foregoing, the ALJ concluded that the Board's actions were arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ overturned the suspensions and ordered the discipline removed from the children's student records.

On review, the Commissioner disagreed with the ALJ's finding that the Board's decision to suspend J.P. and J.P. was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. The Commissioner found, inter alia, that decisions of a local board of education acting within its discretionary authority are entitled to a presumption of correctness; the evidence presented at the Board hearing complied with the statute governing disciplinary hearings, even if the manner of presenting that evidence would not meet the evidentiary rules of other forums; there was no basis for the ALJ to exclude the proffered testimony or screenshots from evidence; and the record shows that the conduct of J.P. and J.P. at issue here did materially and substantially interfere with the requirements of appropriate discipline in the operation of the school. Based on the threats of violence contained in the postings, the Commissioner concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that there was good cause for suspension pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2. Accordingly, the Initial Decision was rejected, and the petition dismissed.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader and has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Final Decision

K.P., on behalf of minor children, J.P. and J.P.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by the Board pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

Petitioner's minor children were accused of violations of the Board's student conduct policies based on their involvement with a Google slideshow and Snapchat conversations (collectively, the "postings") that contained racial slurs, anti-Semitic and anti-LGBTQ+ comments, personal student information, explicit photos and videos, and threats of physical and sexual violence. The incidents occurred throughout the fall of 2021 and winter of 2022, but the Board waited to impose discipline while the North Arlington Police Department (NAPD) was investigating the source of the postings. After issuing subpoenas to Google and Verizon, the NAPD traced the the Internet Protocol (IP) address associated with the postings to petitioner's home. The administration recommended that J.P. and J.P. be suspended, and the Board held a disciplinary hearing in March 2022. Principal Nicole Russo testified about the early steps of the investigation, the effect that the postings had on the school, and the decision to suspend J.P. and J.P. NAPD Detective Nayda testified about the subpoenas and stated that charges had been filed against J.P. and J.P. Counsel for petitioner cross-examined both witnesses. J.P. and J.P. then testified, denying that they were responsible for the postings.

On March 19, 2022, the Board issued a decision suspending J.P. and J.P until they were cleared by a psychiatrist to return to school.[2] Petitioner appealed, seeking to have the decision to suspend her children reversed and the suspensions removed from their records.[3] At the OAL, the parties relied on the record of the disciplinary hearing before the Board. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) excluded the witness testimony, finding that the witnesses had not been sworn or affirmed. The ALJ also excluded all of the screenshots, finding that they had not been marked as exhibits during the disciplinary hearing. The ALJ concluded that the Board's actions were arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable and overturned the suspensions.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that all of the documentary evidence presented at the disciplinary hearing was provided to petitioner and, in the absence of any evidence that those materials were withheld,[4] there was no legal prerequisite for counsel to lay a fresh evidentiary foundation for the ALJ to consider the record of what occurred before the Board.

[2] Separate decisions were issued for each student, but given their similarities, they will be referred to herein as a single decision for ease of reference.

[3] The petition of appeal initially included a request for emergent relief to return J.P. and J.P. to school, but when they children were cleared to return, petitioner withdrew her request for emergent relief.

[4] The Commissioner notes that petitioner has not argued that any material was withheld. Petitioner's arguments have focused on the sufficiency of the evidence.

The Board notes that petitioner's counsel provided the materials to the ALJ as hearing exhibits and agreed that they should be considered by the ALJ, such that it was improper for the ALJ to refuse to consider them. The Board also notes that petitioner's counsel cross-examined the Board's witnesses during the disciplinary hearing. According to the Board, the ALJ misconstrued an appeal from a disciplinary action as a trial de novo and improperly disregarded the law governing disciplinary hearings before boards of education, which sets forth specific standards for the conduct of hearings that do not require witnesses to be sworn or documents to be identified and formally admitted into evidence. Finally, the Board argues that the ALJ erroneously substituted his judgment for the Board's, contrary to the standard of review that applies to discretionary decisions of boards of education.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable. When a local board of education acts within its discretionary authority, its decision is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be disturbed unless there is an affirmative showing that the decision was "patently arbitrary, without rational basis or induced by improper motives." Kopera v. W. Orange Bd. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960). Furthermore, "where there is room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration[,]" and the Commissioner will not substitute her judgment for that of the board. Bayshore Sewerage Co. v. Dep't. of Envtl. Prot., 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (Ch. Div. 1973), aff'd, 131 N.J. Super. 37 (App. Div. 1974).

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(a)(10), when a board of education imposes a long-term suspension on a student, the board must provide a formal hearing that affords certain procedural due process protections. Students must have the opportunity to 1) confront and cross-examine witnesses if there is a question of fact and 2) present their own defense, which includes the opportunity to produce oral testimony or written supporting affidavits. The record is clear that the Board complied with these requirements. It was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to rely on evidence that complied with the statute that governs disciplinary hearings, even if the manner of presenting that evidence would not meet the evidentiary rules of other forums. Therefore, there was no basis for the ALJ to exclude the testimony or screenshots.

The Commissioner must next determine whether the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in light of the evidence presented to the Board during the disciplinary hearing. The evidence presented in support of the suspension included Detective Nayda's testimony that the IP address associated with the postings was traced to petitioner's house. The record reflects that the only other residents of the house were petitioner, her husband, and an older child who was in college, none of whom were believed to be responsible for the postings. The NAPD found the evidence sufficiently compelling to proceed with charges against J.P. and J.P.[5] J.P. and J.P.'s defense at the hearing consisted primarily of their denials. Additionally, counsel for petitioner pointed out to the Board that Detective Nayda had not brought documentation related to the subpoenas or examined the family's Wifi or computers, and argued that tracing the IP address associated with the postings to petitioner's house is insufficient to conclude that J.P. and J.P. were responsible for the postings. While the testimony and arguments may leave room for different opinions regarding whether J.P. and J.P. were responsible for the postings, a difference of opinion is insufficient to overturn the Board's decision. Bayshore Sewerage Co., supra, 122 N.J. Super. at 199. Based on the evidence, the Commissioner finds that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to conclude that J.P. and J.P. were responsible for the postings. Additionally, given the disrespectful, obscene, and violent nature of the postings, the Commissioner also concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that J.P. and J.P.'s conduct was in violation of the student conduct policies.

[5] The Board found that the testimony of Detective Nayda and Principal Russo was credible. While the Commissioner is not obligated to defer to a board of education's credibility findings, based on the applicable standard of review, the Commissioner concludes that there is nothing in the transcript of either witness's testimony that would suggest that it was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find their testimony credible.

Under N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.5, discipline for conduct that occurred away from school grounds must be reasonably necessary for reasons relating to the safety, security, and well-being of other students, staff, or school grounds, and the conduct must materially and substantially interfere with the requirements of appropriate discipline in the operation of the school. Principal Russo testified that the postings caused a substantial disruption at school, with effects lasting for months. Many students visited the guidance office for counseling and some students reported that they were afraid to return to school. Multiple students were so affected by the postings that they contacted the NAPD. Parents repeatedly contacted the administration seeking answers and action. Based on that information, the Commissioner concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to conclude that discipline was appropriate under N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.5.[6] Furthermore, based on the threats of violence contained in the postings, the Commissioner concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that there was good cause for suspension pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is rejected, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

Record Closed: May 23, 2022 Decided: July 15, 2022

BEFORE ERNEST M. BONGIOVANNI, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, K.P. on behalf of minor children, a daughter, J.P. and son, J.P. (petitioner or K.P.) filed a Petition of Appeal, N.J.A.C. 6A: -3-1.5 and alleged that respondent, the Board of Education of the Borough of North Arlington, Bergen County (BOE), violated her children's rights in their handling of disciplinary proceedings against the two students, then attending 8th grade at their middle school in North Arlington (School), which resulted in an indefinite period of suspension during which time the children had to see a psychiatrist and could not return to school until he or she "cleared" them.

The BOE made findings of fact that the children violated Policies and Regulations Nos. 5500 (Expectations for Pupil Conduct), 5600 (Student Discipline/Code of Conduct), 5620 (Expulsion), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2 (causes for Suspension or Expulsion of a Student), N.J.S.A. 2C:12-3 (Terroristic Threats), and the Middle School's 2020-2021 Handbook. Petitioner's request for a Fair Hearing was transmitted to the Office of Administrative law on My 14, 2021. The petitioner initially sought relief from the suspensions imposed on the two children. However, after the conditions of the suspension were lifted, and before the Emergent Hearing could be conducted, petitioner withdrew her application for emergent relief. [1]

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

A disciplinary hearing at the North Arlington BOE concerning the charges against J.P. and J.P. took place at the School on March 15, 2021. Although the alleged facts were somewhat complicated, essentially, one child was accused of creation of a Google slideshow, and posing as another student while making racial slurs anti-Semitic comments, posting student personal information, posting explicit sexual pictures and videos, and the other child, on another occasion, creating at least two fake Snapchat accounts, posing as another student, using the "N" word, making anti-LGBTO+ comments, threatening to rape and shoot another student, making claims of sexual contact with another student's mother and "other inappropriate and disrespectful statements." Although some of the postings and images concerned "students," no particular students were targeted or named in them. None of these violations of school policy took place on school grounds; nor was school property involved. Both children denied committing any of the offenses.

[1] Several months after the emergent proceedings, respondent moved for summary decision, arguing that with the lifting of the suspension against the children, the issues raised in the petition seeking a Fair Hearing at the Office of Administrative Law were moot. This motion was denied, in a decision dated, February 2, 2022.

Although the suspensions were eventually lifted after the children met the demands of the school, the suspensions remain on record. Petitioner seeks to have the decision of the North Arlington BOE reversed and her children's names and school records be cleared. Respondent believes their decision to suspend the children was reasonable and ask that their decision be affirmed.

Hearings were held via Zoom April 20, 2022 and April 26, 2022. The record was left open until May 23, 2022 for receipt of post hearing briefs at which time the record closed.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS OF FACT

The parties agreed to rely on the record of the disciplinary hearing before the BOE which consisted mostly of a transcript of said proceeding. They added to that record a Certification by the Principal concerning the suspensions (R-4). They also added photocopies of images that purportedly were seen on the Snapchat and Google slideshow. (Joint Exhibits K-M). No specific images on these exhibits were specifically identified at the hearing before the BOE.

The allegations against the two children brother and sister were serious. The essential findings made by the BOE as stated in Exhibits J-1 and J-2, J.P. (female) wee that between September 23, 2020 and November 23, 2020 and again between December 22, 2020 and January 15, 2021, J.P.(female) was allegedly involved in the creation of a Google Slideshow, in which he posed as another student "while making racial slurs, anti-Semitic comments posting personal student information and posting explicit sexual pictures and videos." During the same time, J.P. also created at least two fake Snapchat accounts, posing as another student, "using the 'N' word, making anti-LGBTQ+comments, threatening to rape and shoot another student, making claims of sexual contact with a student's mother, amount other inappropriate and disrespectful statements." (J-1, Summary of the Evidence Presented.) J.P. (male) was charged with the virtually identical conduct. The sole evidence consisted of statements made by Detective Nayda, the juvenile detective for the North Arlington Police Department, and by Principal Russo. The two children completely denied the allegations.

The BOE found "credible" the statements by Detective Nayda, the juvenile detective for the North Arlington Police Department. He "issued a subpoena to Snapchat and learned that the [faked Snapchat accounts] were accessed from the IP address of" J.P. (female) and J.P. (male)'s household." The Detective "also learned that the email used to create the accounts" came back to a J.P. (female) account.

As noted in the post hearing brief of respondent, which recounts as "testimony" the unsworn "evidence" at the school hearing, Detective Nayda, in order to trace who was connected to the Google slideshow, also created and sent a subpoena to Google who responded with an IP address of Verizon. Subsequently, the respondent states (in its post hearing brief) "a subpoena to Verizon yielded an IP address that was traced directly to J.P. (male) and J.P. (female)'s household." As further evidence that J.P. (male) was actually "behind" the Google slideshow, the BOE relied on Principal Russo's recounting of a Google meet session, regarding the Google slideshow during which J.P. shut off his camera after which Principal Russo then received an electronic message that the slideshow had been deleted.[2]

There were several questionable practices in the methodology of the BOE's decision making, at least as can be discerned in its decision. Under "II, Summary of the Evidence Presented," it states that before the hearing the accused were "provided with a list of potential witnesses and documentary evidence." (emphasis supplied). Thus, it would appear that the children (and their mother and attorney) were only given prior to the hearing a "list" of documentary evidence intended to be introduced. A list is not the same as having a copy of all the documents on the list. Further and more disturbing, during the hearing, "the BOE had the documentary evidence on Chromebooks for their review." Included were "many screenshots taken of the Snapchat accounts and the Google Slideshows." Based on the certified transcript of the proceedings, it appears that the children, their mother, their lawyer were not given the same Chromebooks and thus could not effectively examine the documentary evidence being used against them. Worse. regarding said images, none of them were identified, marked, or entered as evidence. Further, the BOE's decision does not describe any of images except in the most general way, e.g., "the level of threats in the posts was extreme and other posts were very sexual and very graphic." It appears obvious that it was of the utmost importance that the actual images that were on the Snapchat accounts and the Google slideshow be marked into evidence so that the witnesses could effectively attempt to prove their innocence, as they maintained throughout the proceedings.

[2] It is interesting that this described incident occurred in October 2020. J.P. (female) and J.P. (male) were charged as a 'result of the actions that occurred (emphasis supplied) on or about September 23, 2020 through on or about November 23, 2020 and from on or about December 22, through on or about January 15, 2021 which time she was alleged to be in the creation of a Google slideshow (emphasis added). What does a deleted Google slideshow have to do with the actions that occurred between November 2020 and January 15, 2021, if it was deleted in October 2020?

More problematically, the hearing consisted entirely of statements or conversations by witnesses who, according to the Transcript, were never given, and never took the oath nor affirmed as to the truthfulness of anything they said. Consequently, J.P. and J.P. were effectively deprived of the right to cross examine witnesses against them, as those witnesses were not under oath nor affirmation, and not speaking under penalty of possible punishment for failing to tell the truth. Thus the "hearing" was fundamentally unfair.

As noted, none of the screenshots from the Google slideshow or snapchats were sufficiently identified in the record of the proceeding before the BOE to know what images the BOE were reviewing on the Chromebooks. It is clear from the hearing that no particular screenshots were entered into evidence, so we only have the BOE's witnesses and their vague characterizations as to what was contained on the Google Slideshow and Snapchat accounts rather than the copies of the actual evidence they reviewed. Whatever value the unsworn to evidence contained in the transcript has, it shows that none of the specific screenshots were entered as evidence. The Exhibits identified in the hearing before me were, both parties agreed, were received in Discovery, but they are very possibly not the same screenshots that the BOE considered in making its decision. There is simply no way of knowing.

At the BOE hearing, the Detective admitted that the images being shown to the BOE on the date of the hearing had been altered from the way he had seen them on the actual devises when he was in process of obtaining the subpoenas. Furthermore, the Detective did not produce for anyone copies of the Google Verizon and Snapchat subpoenas that he created nor the actual written response by those companies to the subpoenas. Instead, he just recounted what these documents from these three companies said. Even if Detective Nayla had been under oath, the BOE should not have simply accepted his statement as to what was on the subpoena's responses, and they should not have accepted his statements as evidence without his providing the documents.

Finally, the parties now appear to agree that the creation of Google slideshow does not prove who placed what information or images on the slideshow at any given time because those to whom the slideshow was sent can edit it or add to it. Further ,one cannot tell who made which statements on the Snapchat account. Clearly, some others than the creators of these two fakes snapchat account seemed to have created similar offensive comments and were not investigated or disciplined for it.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION OF LAW

The burden is on the petitioner to overcome the "presumption of correctness" by providing by a preponderance of the evidence that the BOE's action was arbitrary capricious and unreasonable. The BOE stated in its decision that it relied on the lay opinion of Detective Nayda that he believed J.P. (female) was responsible for creating the false and offensive Snapchat accounts, and that J.P. (male) was, in the BOE's words "behind" the creation of the Google slideshow.

While I agreed to allow the parties to rely on the record below, I did not know until I read the BOE certified transcript , that would that none of the "witnesses" who spoke at the hearing were ever sworn in nor affirmed. Regarding any documentary evidence, I was also unaware that no specific images from the Snapchats or Google slideshow were marked as exhibits at the hearing.

I cannot sustain guilty verdicts resulting in serious disciplinary action that are not based on sworn or affirmed testimony nor on documents for which no foundation has been supplied. Again, both attorneys agree that they cannot attest that the screenshots in Joint Exhibit P-K are the same documentary evidence that was considered by the BOE. I therefore cannot allow them to be admitted to evidence, for lack of foundation. I also cannot admit the full transcript consisting mostly of unsworn and unaffirmed testimony.

When I agreed to allow the parties to rely on the record below, I did not know until I read the BOE certified transcript, that none of the "witnesses" who spoke at the hearing were ever sworn in, nor did they affirm. N.J.A.C. 1:1-5.8 (d) provides that "A witness may not testify without taking an oath or affirming to tell the truth under the penalty provided by law." I cannot admit the full transcript consisting almost entirely of unsworn testimony.

Regarding any documentary evidence, I was also unaware that no specific images from the Snapchat or Google slideshow were marked as exhibits at the hearing. Both attorneys agree that they cannot attest that the screenshots in Joint Exhibit P-K are the same documentary evidence that was considered by the BOE. I therefore cannot allow them to be admitted to evidence, for lack of foundation

Regarding the testimony at the hearing, although the BOE's decision specified the dates in which these activities took place, it did not state what specific offensive material was available (or when it was available) for others to see. They did not rule out that others could have edited and changed whatever J.P. (male) and/or J.P. (female) may have posted. They did however provide credible uncontested evidence that J.P. (male) and J. P. (female) were good students whom they would not, I believe, normally suspect to be responsible for such behavior, and that the children were at least consistent in steadfastly denying they were responsible for the actions for which they were charged.

Further, the detective wasn't made to bring the subpoena data with him to the BOE, so it could be entered as evidence. In his investigation, the Detective ignored threats that has been made to J.P. and J.P. he didn't know whether any content was added or deleted from the slideshow, did not seem to know that IP addresses can periodically change, and did not know how many students had participated in the Snapchat.

Finally, as stated in the BOE's decision, Principal Russo relied on her interviews with "several, several, students" but never bothered to say which students and what they actually said, to conclude J.P. and J.P. were guilty. This is even more egregious and fundamentally unfair given that her own statements were not made under oath or affirmation.

I agree with petitioner that this was an instance of a rush to judgement which required a truly expert investigation and plausible expert testimony, in order to attempt to determine who made the offensive comments on the slideshow and Snapchats. At a very minimum, the hearing should have been conducted so that there was certainly that the evidence the BOE had (on their Chromebook) was given to J.P. and J.P. to know the evidence they would be confronted with as no specific documents were entered into evidence on the record. Because of the failure to do so, we are uncertain even today what evidence the BOE considered. Accordingly in making my decision, I exclude all the alleged screenshots in the exhibits or described from the exhibits in the briefs because of the lack of foundation as to whether that evidence was used at the hearing. I also exclude any so called testimony which attempts to describe the content of the images, as they were mostly double hearsay and especially because they were not sworn or affirmed to.

While it is true that both parties had a right to call witnesses and have a fresh and Fair Hearing as provided for by our rules, here the parties chose to rely on the record below, which in this case is terribly inadequate and unreliable to justify the severe punishment these two then eight graders were handed out after being rather hastily accused.

Accordingly, I FIND that no other conclusion can be drawn but that the BOE's actions were unfair, unreasonable, and the essence of arbitrariness and capriciousness, and that its decision to find J.P. (female) and J.P. (male) of the alleged conduct and the consequent suspension which lasted 73 days should be OVERTURNED, and that this record of punitive disciplinary action be removed permanently from their records.

CONCLUSION

I CONCLUDE the finding that the offensive Snapchat comments and images, and images and statements on a Google slideshow account allegedly committed by petitioners was not proven, and that any presumption of validity the BOE's decision had was easily overcome by a preponderance of evidence showing the investigation and especially the proceedings before the BOE, and thus its conclusions to be unfair, arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable. Therefore, the disciplinary action of suspension or any other disciplinary action cannot be sustained.

ORDER

It is therefore ORDERED that the decision of suspension for J.P. (male)'s conduct and J.P. (female)'s conduct be OVERTURNED, and the disciplinary history heretofore imposed as a result of the BOE's decision be removed from the school's records.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Certificates of Sherry Frazier, State Board of Examiners,
New Jersey Department of Education.

Order of Revocation by the State Board of Examiners, September 21, 2018

Respondent-Appellant, pro se

For the Petitioner-Respondent State Board of Examiners, Colin Klika, Deputy Attorney General (Matthew J. Platkin, Attorney General of New Jersey)

The Commissioner has reviewed the record and the papers filed in connection with appellant Sherry Frazier's appeal of the Order of the State Board of Examiners (Board), dated September 21, 2018, revoking her Teacher of the Handicapped certificate. In October 2017, the Florida Education Practices Commission issued a formal reprimand to appellant, following allegations that appellant inappropriately disciplined students and made insulting comments about students and their families. In January 2018, the Board found that the level and nature of appellant's conduct provided just cause for the consideration of the revocation of her New Jersey certificate and issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC). Petitioner failed to respond, and a second notice was sent by the Board in March 2018. Petitioner again failed to respond and, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.6(c), the allegations set forth in the OTSC were deemed to be admitted. The Board concluded that appellant had engaged in unbecoming conduct and that the appropriate penalty was revocation of her certificate.

On appeal, appellant argues that she did not receive the letters that the Board sent to her in 2018 and did not find out that her New Jersey certificate had been revoked until October 2021. Appellant contends that she did not engage in any unbecoming conduct in Florida.

After a comprehensive review of the record, the Commissioner concludes that appellant's appeal is untimely. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-2.2, a party is required to appeal a final decision issued by the Board within 30 days. Even accepting that appellant did not receive any of the communications from the Board in 2018,[1] and only found out about the Board's actions in October 2021, the notice of appeal was not filed until June 28, 2022, well beyond the 30-day limitation period.

Accordingly, the decision of the State Board of Examiners is affirmed. Appellant's Teacher of the Handicapped certificate is hereby revoked.[2] The Commissioner notes that appellant may reapply for certification pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.9, as more than four years have passed since the revocation.[3]

[1] The Commissioner notes that while the certified mail copies of some documents were returned to the Board, the regular mail copies were not returned. Additionally, the certified mail containing the Board's September 21, 2018 decision was claimed and signed for on October 1, 2018.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

[3] Should appellant choose to reapply for certification, the Board will review the application and make a determination consistent with the applicable law. There is no guarantee that a reapplication for a certificate following revocation will be granted.

IN THE MATTER OF	:	NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
THE CERTIFICATE OF	:	STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS
SHERRY D. FRAZIER	:	ORDER OF REVOCATION
_____	:	DOCKET NO: 1718-164

At its meeting of December 8, 2017, the State Board of Examiners (Board) reviewed information the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) had forwarded regarding Sherry D. Frazier. NASDTEC provided notice that on October 24, 2017, the Education Practices Commission of the State of Florida issued a formal reprimand to Frazier. The notice followed allegations that Frazier inappropriately disciplined students by pushing and grabbing them. She also allegedly called students "dumb" and "stupid" and commented on their parents' education level or their families' ability to afford supplies.

Frazier currently holds a Teacher of the Handicapped certificate. Upon review of the above information, at its January 19, 2018 meeting, the Board voted to issue Frazier an Order to Show Cause as to why her certificate should not be revoked.

The Board sent Frazier the Order to Show Cause by regular and certified mail on January 23, 2018. The Order provided that Frazier had 30 days to respond. The certified mail copy was returned as "Unclaimed" and the regular mail copy was not returned. Frazier did not respond. On March 6, 2018, the Board sent Frazier another notice by certified and regular mail providing her an additional 15 days to respond to the Order to Show Cause. The certified mail copy was returned as "Unclaimed" and the regular mail copy was not returned. Frazier did not file a response.

Thereafter, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.6(e), on April 13, 2018, the Board sent Frazier a hearing notice by regular and certified mail. The notice explained that the allegations in the Order to Show Cause were deemed to be admitted as a result of her failure to file an Answer. Thus, Frazier was offered an opportunity to submit written arguments on the issue of whether the conduct addressed in the Order to Show Cause constituted conduct unbecoming a certificate holder, as well as arguments with regard to the appropriate sanction in the event that the Board found just cause to take action against her certificate. It also explained that, upon review of the charges against her and the legal arguments tendered in her defense, the Board would determine if Frazier's offense warranted action against her certificate. Thereupon, the Board would also determine the appropriate sanction, if any. Frazier was also offered the opportunity to appear before the Board to provide testimony on the sanction issue. The certified mail copy was returned as "Unclaimed" and the regular mail copy was not returned. Once again, Frazier did not file a response.

The threshold issue before the Board in this matter is whether Frazier's conduct constitutes conduct unbecoming a certificate holder or other just cause. Since Frazier failed to respond to the Order to Show Cause, the allegations therein are deemed admitted. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.6(c). Consequently, at its meeting of June 29, 2018, the Board considered only the allegations in the Order to Show Cause and the information received from NASDTEC. The Board concluded that no material facts related to Frazier's offense were in dispute since she never denied that she engaged in the conduct alleged. Thus, the Board determined that summary decision was appropriate in this matter. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.6(h). After reviewing the allegations, the Board found that Frazier had engaged in unbecoming conduct.

The Board must now determine whether Frazier's conduct, as set forth in the Order to Show Cause, provides just cause to act against her certificate pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.4. The Board finds that it does.

The Board may revoke or suspend the certification of any certificate holder on the basis of demonstrated inefficiency, incapacity, conduct unbecoming a teacher or other just cause. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.4. "Teachers... are professional employees to whom the people have entrusted the care and custody of ... school children. This heavy duty requires a degree of self-restraint and controlled behavior rarely requisite to other types of employment." Tenure of Sammons, 1972 S.L.D. 302, 321. Moreover, unfitness to hold a position in a school system may be shown by one incident, if sufficiently flagrant. Redcay v. State Bd. of Educ., 130 N.J.L. 369, 371 (1943), aff'd, 131 N.J.L. 326 (E & A 1944). Frazier's actions in pushing and grabbing students to discipline them, calling students "dumb" and "stupid" and commenting on their parents' education level or their families' ability to afford supplies is clearly conduct that is unacceptable for a role model. The Board therefore concludes that the appropriate response to her breach is the revocation of her certificate.

Accordingly, on June 29, 2018, the Board voted to revoke Sherry D. Frazier's Teacher of the Handicapped certificate. On this 21st day of September 2018 the Board voted to adopt its formal written decision and it is therefore ORDERED that the revocation of Frazier's certificate be effective immediately. It is further ORDERED that Frazier return her certificate to the Secretary of the State Board of Examiners, Office of Certification and Induction, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, NJ 08625-0500 within 30 days of the mailing date of this decision.

Order on Emergent Relief

Kiddie Korner Learning Center,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Newark,
Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this emergent matter, the sound recording of proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the recommended Order of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that petitioner has failed to demonstrate entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6.

Accordingly, the recommended Order of the OAL denying petitioner's application for emergent relief is adopted for the reasons stated therein. This matter shall continue at the OAL with such proceedings as the parties and the ALJ deem necessary to bring it to closure.[1]

IT IS SO ORDERED.

KIDDIE KORNER LEARNING CENTER,
Petitioner,
v.
NEWARK BOARD OF EDUCATION,
Respondent.

Anthony Russo, Esq., for petitioner (Cornell, Merlino, McKeever & Osborne, attorneys)

Brenda Liss, General Counsel, for respondent

BEFORE MARGARET M. MONACO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner Kiddie Korner Learning Center (petitioner or Kiddie Korner) challenges the determination by respondent Newark Board of Education (the Board) regarding the number of preschool classrooms it may operate. On or about September 7, 2022, petitioner filed a Verified Petition with the Commissioner of Education, accompanied by a motion for emergent relief. The Department of Education transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed on September 8, 2022, and scheduled for oral argument on September 14, 2022 regarding the emergent application. In support of its application, petitioner filed a brief (Pb) with exhibits attached. The Board opposes the motion and submitted a brief, along with a certification of its Executive Director of Early Childhood Education, Yolanda Severe (Severe Cert.). Oral argument on the motion was entertained on September 14, 2022.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

For purposes of the within motion, the pertinent facts as gleaned from the documentation submitted follows:

Petitioner is a private preschool provider authorized to provide services and operate an early childhood education program for eligible students who reside in the City of Newark pursuant to the School Funding Reform Act, P.L. 2007, c. 260; N.J.A.C. 6A:13A-1 et seq., Elements of High-Quality Preschool Programs; N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-1 et seq., Fiscal Accountability, Efficiency and Budgeting Procedures; and the Preschool Education Program Contract (Contract) approved by the Board. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 2.) Petitioner has operated as a private preschool provider for the City of Newark for many years. (Id. at ¶ 16.)

Pursuant to the parties' Contract for the 2021–2022 school year, petitioner was authorized to serve, and would be compensated for, a maximum of sixty students in four preschool classes. (See Severe Cert. at ¶ 3; Pb, Exbibit A.)

On April 11, 2022, the Board's Executive Director of the Office of Early Childhood, Yolonda Severe, issued a letter to petitioner with the heading "2nd Year Conditional Renewal for 2022–23 Preschool Contract." (Pb, Exhibit B.) The April 11, 2022 letter offered to renew petitioner's Contract subject to four conditions on renewal: staffing of all classrooms with appropriately certified teachers; comprehensive curriculum; maintenance of minimum standardized test scores in all classes; and proper and timely recording of child assessment information and data for each child. (Ibid; see Severe Cert. at ¶ 8.) The letter further advised that petitioner's authorized enrollment for the 2022–

2023 school year was reduced to forty-five students and three classrooms. The letter states:

> Take further note that, pursuant to Section V Monitoring of Program Performance of the Preschool Contract where each contracted classroom is required to maintain a minimum of 14/15 students throughout the school year, be advised that the Board will be reducing your enrollment for the upcoming 2022–2023 school year due to the fact that for the past two school years, Kiddie Korner has been unable to maintain and/or reach full enrollment for its current 4 classrooms. ([D]uring 2021–22, enrollment consisted of only 45 students despite receiving funding for 60). As Board funding is dependent on all Providers meeting their full capacity by October 15th of each school year, this communication serves to confirm our phone conference held April 11, 2022 wherein, among other things, you were notified of Kiddie Korner's under enrollment as well as Kiddie Korner's inability to secure a certified teacher for one classroom during the 2021–22 school year. Therefore, the Board will be reducing the number of classrooms from 4 to 3 with a total of 45 students for school year 2022–2023.

The letter informed petitioner that it had thirty days to notify Executive Director Severe, in writing, that petitioner accepted the renewal of its Contract with the listed conditions.

Executive Director Severe explained in her certification that the decision to reduce petitioner's authorized enrollment upon renewal of its Contract for 2022–2023 was not based solely on the number of students enrolled in the school. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 7.) Rather, that decision was based on three reasons: (1) petitioner's failure to obtain required student achievement levels; (2) petitioner's failure to employ certified teachers for all of its classes; and (3) petitioner's failure to enroll a sufficient number of students to support more than three classes. (Ibid.)

By letter dated April 25, 2022 to Executive Director Severe, petitioner questioned the reduction in its authorized enrollment and requested that the renewal of its Contract remain at four classrooms for a total of sixty students. (Pb, Exhibit C.) According to petitioner's letter, "the [C]enter has maintained full enrollment with the exception of this current school year"; "[t]he Center recruitment has improved significantly this year with more parents inquiring about enrolling preschool students"; and "[t]he Center has experienced interest in the program that resembles pre-pandemic levels which we anticipate will lead to full enrollment of 60 students."

By letter dated April 27, 2022, Executive Director Severe informed petitioner that, "for the reasons previously provided in its letter dated April 11, 2022, the Board's prior conditional offer will not be modified." (Severe Cert. at Exhibit A.) In response, petitioner sent a letter to Executive Director Severe dated April 29, 2022, in which it accepted the Board's offer of a Contract for the 2022–2023 school year. (Severe Cert. at Exhibit B.) In this regard, petitioner's letter advised:

> Kiddie Korner Learning Center will accept the renewal of the Preschool Agreement for 2022–2023 School Year for one (1) year. The Center acknowledges the conditions outlined in the April 11, 2022 letter from the Newark Board of Education including the reduction of classrooms.

On July 8, 2022, the Board's Principal Auditor in its Office of Early Childhood sent a letter to petitioner regarding its approved budget for the 2022–2023 school year. (Pb, Exhibit D.) The Principal Auditor is responsible for, under Executive Director Severe's supervision, ensuring the fiscal accountability and integrity of the school district's preschool program pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:13A-4.7. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 10.) The Principal Auditor is responsible for, among other things, monitoring each contracting private preschool provider for compliance with its preschool program contract and providing financial management assistance to contracting private providers in the monitoring of their annual budgets. (Ibid.)

The Principal Auditor's July 8, 2022 letter provided notice to petitioner of approved funding for the 2022–2023 school year in the amount of $796,969. (Pb, Exhibit D; see Severe Cert. at ¶ 10.) That funding amount was based on the approved enrollment of forty-five students and three teachers as stated in the April 11, 2022 letter. The July 8, 2022 letter noted petitioner's capacity of forty-five students and its enrollment of forty-eight students as of June 27, 2022. The letter advised:

> Kiddie Korner must refer the excess number of enrolled students (3) to other programs within the North Ward of the City of Newark. It is the responsibility of the Kiddie Korner Learning Center to ensure enrollment and hiring requirements are met prior to submitting staff in excess of actual enrollment. There must be at least nine (9) students approved in order to approve an additional class. The District shall be permitted to conduct an onsite verification to determine the total number of approved classes required based on the number of students served.
> [Emphasis supplied and bolding in original.]

Executive Director Severe explained in her certification that the statement in the July 8, 2022 letter that "[t]here must be at least nine (9) students approved in order to approve an additional class" refers to two required sets of approvals. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 11.) The "at least nine (9) students approved" refers to each student's approval for enrollment granted by the Board's Enrollment Office and recorded in the school district's PowerSchool data management system upon the student's eligibility verification, based on proof of age, residence, and immunization. (Ibid.) The "in order to approve an additional class" refers to approval by the Board to allow an additional class to be opened and operated by the preschool provider above and beyond the number previously approved. (Ibid.) A contracting preschool provider is not authorized to increase its authorized enrollment to accept a larger number of students than that approved by the Board, or to enroll any student whose eligibility has not been verified by the Board's Enrollment Office. (Id. at ¶ 12.) The Board's Principal Auditor would not have been authorized to approve any change in the approval granted by the April 11, 2022 letter or to promise that any such change would be forthcoming under any circumstances. (Id. at ¶ 9.) Rather, only the Board, upon recommendation of Executive Director Severe and the Superintendent of Schools, would have been authorized to approve such a change. (Ibid.)

On July 13, 2022, petitioner sent a letter to Executive Director Severe "requesting approval for the reopening of [its] 4th classroom for the 2022–2023 school year based on current developments." (Pb, Exhibit E.) According to the letter, "the center currently has 59 students who have begun the registration process with 48 students who are rollovers or in the student tracker at this time," and "the center has families scheduled for tours and to pick up application[s] this week." Petitioner "attached a list of students on the waitlist" for Executive Director Severe's review.

Subsequently, counsel for petitioner sent a letter to the Board's Principal Auditor in its Office of Early Childhood dated August 25, 2022, advising that, "[a]s of today's date, approximately 60 students have been approved or are awaiting approval from the District, warranting an additional classroom in accordance with the Board's July 8, 2022 Letter," and "ask[ing] that the Board modify Kiddie Korner's budget and allow for the opening of a fourth classroom." (Pb, Exhibit G.)

On August 28, 2022, the Principal Auditor sent an e-mail to petitioner's counsel advising, among other things, that petitioner "was approved for 45 students and not 60; the 15 excess students must be referred to surrounding schools in the 2 Mile Area." (Pb, Exhibit H.)

According to the school district's PowerSchool data management system, as of September 12, 2022, petitioner had thirty-nine students approved for enrollment in the 2022–2023 school year or six students less than the number authorized by its Contract. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 14.)[1] All students who have been approved to enroll in petitioner's program have been enrolled in the program. (Id. at ¶ 15.) No student or family has been refused enrollment in a preschool program as a result of the reduction in petitioner's authorized enrollment or deprived of the opportunity to enroll in the preschool program of their choice. (Ibid.)

Petitioner has been paid in full for services rendered in the 2021–2022 school year and will be paid in full for services to be rendered in the 2022–2023 school year in accordance with its Contract. (Severe Cert. at ¶ 17.)

It is against this backdrop that petitioner's application for emergent relief is considered.

[1] During oral argument, Board counsel advised that petitioner currently has forty students approved for enrollment.

LEGAL DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS

Petitioner's emergent application seeks an order enabling it to operate four classrooms with a maximum total capacity of sixty students. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) sets forth the standards governing motions for emergent relief and instructs:

> A motion for a stay or emergent relief shall be accompanied by a letter memorandum or brief which shall address the following standards to be met for granting such relief pursuant to Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982):
> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
>
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
>
> 3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and
> 4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.

"Each of these factors must be clearly and convincingly demonstrated" by the moving party. Waste Mgmt. of N.J. v. Union County. Utils. Auth., 399 N.J. Super. 508, 520 (App. Div. 2008).

Turning to the first criteria, emergent relief should not be granted except "when necessary to prevent irreparable harm." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132. Harm is generally considered irreparable if it cannot be adequately redressed by monetary damages. Id. at 132-33. It has been described as "'substantial injury to a material degree coupled with the inadequacy of money damages.'" Judice's Sunshine Pontiac, Inc. v. General Motors Corp., 418 F. Supp. 1212, 1218 (D.N.J. 1976) (citation omitted). "In other words, [petitioner] must have no adequate remedy at law." Subcarrier Communications, Inc. v. Day, 299 N.J. Super. 634, 638 (App. Div. 1997). Further, more than a risk of irreparable harm must be demonstrated. Continental Group, Inc. v. Amoco Chemicals Corp., 614 F.2d 351, 359 (D.N.J. 1980). The requisite for injunctive relief requires a "'clear showing of immediate irreparable injury,'" or a "'presently existing actual threat; (an injunction) may not be used simply to eliminate a possibility of a remote future injury, or a future invasion of rights, be those rights protected by statute or by common law.'" Ibid. (Citations omitted.)

Having considered the parties' submissions and arguments, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to clearly and convincing demonstrate that it will suffer irreparable harm unless the requested relief is granted.

Petitioner contends in its brief that it will suffer irreparable harm unless emergent relief is granted because it will "be left without the ability to fund a fourth (4^{th}) classroom," "the financial viability of the entire business [will be] placed in jeopardy," and "the parents of many of Kiddie Korner's students will have no other choice [but] to be placed in, or find, other schools for their children to attend for the school year." Apart from the lack of any certification to support petitioner's claim of financial harm or financial viability, it is undisputed that petitioner agreed to accept the conditional renewal of its Contract, including the reduction of its classrooms, via letter April 29, 2022. Accordingly, the reduction in petitioner's authorized enrollment has caused no financial harm to petitioner that petitioner should not have anticipated when it accepted the Board's offer. It is further well settled that financial harm will not suffice to establish irreparable harm. The certification of Executive Director Severe also makes clear that no students have been harmed by the determination to reduce petitioner's authorized enrollment; all students who have been approved to enroll in petitioner's program have been enrolled in the program, and no student or family has been refused enrollment in a preschool program as a result of the reduction in petitioner's authorized enrollment or deprived of the opportunity to enroll in the preschool program of their choice. Indeed, the fact that petitioner currently remains under-enrolled substantially undermines petitioner's assertion that, unless emergent relief is granted, many of its students will be forced to enroll in another school.

Petitioner must also make a preliminary showing of a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits of its underlying claim and demonstrate that the legal right underlying its claim is settled, to prevail on an application for an emergent relief. Crowe, 90 N.J. at 133. I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to shoulder its burden of proving both standards.

The Commissioner of Education's jurisdiction is defined by statute and is limited to "controversies and disputes arising under the school laws." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9. Our courts have held that "[w]here the controversy does not arise under the school laws, it is outside the Commissioner's jurisdiction even though it may pertain to school personnel." Bd. of Educ. of E. Brunswick v. Twp. Council of E. Brunswick, 48 N.J. 94, 102 (1966). It is recognized that "the sweep of the Department's interest and the Commissioner's jurisdiction does not extend to all matters involving boards of education." Archway Programs, Inc. v. Pemberton Twp Bd. of Educ., 352 N.J. Super. 420, 424–25 (App. Div. 2002). In determining the scope of the Commissioner's jurisdiction under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9, the Appellate Division has held that "contract claims against boards [of education] do not arise under the school laws but rather from statutory or common law," and such claims are appropriately adjudicated by the Superior Court. Id. at 425; see Picogna v. Bd. of Educ. of Cherry Hill, 249 N.J. Super. 332, 335 (App. Div. 1991) (holding that the "contract claim of a nontenured school employee does not arise under the school laws simply because its outcome may later enable him to attain tenure under the school laws," and "[w]hether petitioner's employment was wrongfully terminated under the contract and under the CEP Act is for the court, not the Commissioner, to decide"); S. Orange-Maplewood Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Educ. of the Sch. Dist. of S. Orange and Maplewood, 146 N.J. Super. 457, 463 (App. Div. 1977) (holding that the Commissioner did not have jurisdiction over a dispute involving the interpretation of a sabbatical leave provision set forth in a collective negotiations agreement between the board of education and the education association). In this matter, petitioner's underlying claim is predicated solely on a theory of promissory estoppel based on the Principal Auditor's July 8, 2022 letter. In short, the jurisdictional viability of petitioner's legal and/or equitable claims, including its alternative request for a monetary award of $300,000, cannot be said to be settled in petitioner's favor in that such claims do not clearly implicate or require an interpretation of the school laws, requiring the expertise of the Commissioner.

Beyond this, petitioner has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of its promissory estoppel claim. "Promissory estoppel is made up of four elements: (1) a clear and definite promise; (2) made with the expectation that the promisee will rely on it; (3) reasonable reliance; and (4) definite and substantial detriment." Toll Bros. Inc. v. Bd. of Chosen Freeholders of Burlington, 194 N.J. 223, 253 (2008). In addition to petitioner's hurdle of establishing a clear and definite promise based on the plain language of the July 8, 2022 letter, the reasonableness of petitioner's reliance on an auditor's letter is questionable. Succinctly stated, petitioner has operated as a private preschool provider for many years, and petitioner reasonably should be well aware that only the Board can approve a change in the terms of its Contract. And petitioner has had notice since its receipt of the April 11, 2022 letter that it was approved for only forty-five students for the 2022–2023 school year, and petitioner accepted that offer of renewal.

In view of the foregoing, it is unnecessary to address whether, when the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, petitioner will suffer greater harm than the Board if the requested relief is not granted.

Based upon the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to meet the requirements warranting emergent relief.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that petitioner's request for emergent relief be and hereby is DENIED.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who/which by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education, does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

FOR THE RESPONDENT

BEFORE: Earl R. Pfeffer, Arbitrator

DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The New Jersey Department of Correction ("Department"), through the Director of its Officer of Educational Services, Jecrois Jean-Baptiste, filed Sworn Tenure Charges against Respondent Christopher Bound in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5 and N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10, following a Departmental Predetermination Hearing on October 30, 2019, at which Respondent was represented by his Union Representative, and following a review of evidence presented at said Hearing, the Department on January 9, 2020, found probably cause to credit the evidence in support of the Charges and it consequently determined to certify the Charges to the Commissioner of Education for a hearing pursuant to law. Jean-Baptiste signed a Certification of the Department's actions and same was served on Bound.

On or about March 16, 2020, Respondent filed his Answer denying the counts set forth in the Charges, and on March 17, 2020, I was appointed Arbitrator to hear and decide this tenure matter. Following significant delays incurred on account of the Covid-19 pandemic and related suspensions of administrative proceedings, and a subsequent continuance to permit Bound to retain counsel, a Status Conference was convened on June 9, 2021, at which the parties agreed to a discovery schedule and multiple hearing dates, commencing August 31, 2021.

By email dated August 30, 2021, the parties advised me they had reached a tentative settlement, and requested the hearing be adjourned pending a final Settlement Agreement, which request was granted.

On or about June 14, 2022, a Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") was executed by all parties, and on June 22, 2022, same was submitted to me for review and approval pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6. I have carefully reviewed the Agreement, which is appended hereto, and I determine it satisfies the statutory requirements for withdrawal and settlement of tenure charges, as set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6. In particular:

1. The nature of the Charges are part of the record of this proceeding and were known to all parties to the Agreement;

2. The circumstances justifying settlement and withdrawal are incorporated into the Agreement. For the Respondent, the Board agreed to accept his resignation and to stipulate he is no longer under consideration for any disciplinary action. The Settlement Agreement resolves any and all disciplinary actions pending against Respondent. Nothing in the Agreement shall constitute an admission or stipulation of facts regarding the charges, and Respondent preserves his denial of the charges and maintains his right to defend against them in any further proceedings, including but not limited to proceedings to determine his pension eligibility.

3. For the Department, Respondent agrees not to seek or accept future Departmental employment. The parties acknowledge that no pension, seniority or benefit time will be credited for periods Respondent was not paid by the Department, and Respondent has been advised the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education has a duty to refer all tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners, which is the educator licensing agency in New Jersey.

4. Respondent's personnel records shall be amended to reflect the terms of the Settlement Agreement, and all internal records of the Department will be kept intact, with the parties recognizing nothing in the Agreement shall preclude the Department from releasing information on this matter to anyone who has a release executed by Respondent or as consistent with state or federal law. As may be required by N.J.S.A. 43:1-3.3, or as otherwise required by law, any information regarding the underlying charges will be provided to the Public Employees Retirement System.

5. Respondent waives all claims, suits or actions, whether known, unknown, vested or contingent, civil, criminal or administrative, in law or equity against the State of New Jersey and the New Jersey Department of Corrections, including their employees, agents or assigns. Respondent waives all other claims against the Department with respect to this matter, including any award of back pay, counsel fees or other monetary relief. There is an exception for pending workers compensation claims.

6. The foregoing summary reflects my statutory review of the Settlement Agreement under the standard stated in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6(a), and does not constitute an interpretation of the Settlement or a restatement of its terms.

7. The Agreement has been entered upon the consent of both the Department and the Respondent. It is signed by the parties and their representatives, who acknowledge its terms are binding and may not be supplemented, amended, changed or modified in any manner except in writing signed by a duly authorized representative of each party. Bound has averred he entered into the Settlement Agreement voluntarily, and he has asserted he has a full understanding of its meaning and of his rights thereunder following his review of its terms as well as full, unimpeded discussions with his representative in which all of his questions were answered. He is satisfied with his representation.

8. The Agreement, I find, does not contain terms which restrict access to information or records deemed public by law, accurately represents the circumstances of Respondent's resignation and is in the public interest.

I approve the Agreement.

AGENCY DOCKET NO. 48-2/20

IN THE MATTOR OF TENURE HEARING OF: CHRISTOPHER BOUND and NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS	AGENCY DOCKET NO. 48-2/20 Arbitrator Earl R. Pfeffer SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The parties hereto have voluntarily resolved all disputed matters and enter into the following Settlement Agreement, which fully disposes of all issues in controversy between them:

A. The Tenure charges filed on February 24, 2020, attached hereto as Attachment 1, contained the following charges and proposed discipline:

Charge	Discipline	Dates Effective
1. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(6) - Conduct unbecoming an employee	Removal	10/30/2019
2. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(12) - Other sufficient cause	Removal	10/30/2019
3. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C11 - Conduct unbecoming an employee	Removal	10/30/2019
4. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: E1 - Violation of a rule, regulation, policy, procedure, order or administrative decision	Removal	10/30/2019

B. Respondent Christopher Bound ("Respondent") withdraws his appeal and request for a hearing and the Petitioner Appointing Authority the New Jersey Department of Corrections ("Petitioner" or the "Appointing Authority") agrees that the following result will occur with regard to each charge:

Charge	Disposition
1. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(6) - Conduct unbecoming an employee	General Resignation (See Paragraph C - resolving all charges)
2. N.J.A.C. 4A:2-2.3(a)(12) - Other sufficient cause	Same
3. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: C11 - Conduct unbecoming an employee	Same
4. H.R.B. 84-17, as amended: E1 - Violation of a rule, regulation, policy, procedure, order or administrative decision	Same

C. The parties have agreed to the following:

Respondent agrees to accept a General Resignation, which shall be effective October 30, 2019, as a resolution to the tenure charges appeal and each charge listed in Paragraph A. As of this date, Respondent is no longer under consideration for any disciplinary action.

i. The parties acknowledge that under N.J.A.C. 17:1-2.18, no pension, seniority or benefit time will be credited for periods for which the employee is not paid by the employer.

ii. Respondent agrees not to seek or accept future employment with the New Jersey Department of Corrections.

iii. Respondent has been advised that, as a teaching staff member, the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education has the duty to refer all tenure determinations resulting in loss of position to the State Board of Examiners.

iv. The parties acknowledge and agree that settlement is justified in this matter and is in the public interest as Respondent wishes to seek employment outside of the Appointing Authority and that such settlement will provide the benefit of avoiding the costs and expenses of litigation.

D. The Appointing Authority shall amend Respondent's personnel records to reflect the terms of this Agreement. All internal records of the Department of Corrections will be kept intact. Nothing herein shall preclude the Department from releasing information on this matter to anyone who has a release executed by Respondent or as consistent with state or federal law. Any information regarding the underlying charges will be provided to the Public Employees Retirement System pursuant to N.J.S.A. 43:1-3.3, as amended, or as otherwise provided by law. Respondent denies the charges against him and maintains his right to defend against these charges in any further proceedings including, but not limited to, proceedings to determine his pension eligibility.

E. Respondent waives all other claims against the Department of Corrections with regard to this matter, including any award of back pay, counsel fees or other monetary relief, except as may otherwise be provided herein. This Agreement resolves any and all disciplinary actions pending against Respondent.

F. Nothing in this Agreement shall constitute an admission or stipulation of facts regarding the charges listed in Paragraph A. By entering into this Agreement, neither party admits or denies a violation of any state or federal law, any agency or departmental policy, or the parties' collective negotiations agreement. This Agreement shall not constitute precedent in matters involving other employees. The Department makes no representations as to any matter not made part of this agreement, including but not limited to, pension eligibility.

G. Respondent waives all claims, suits or actions, whether known, unknown, vested or contingent, civil, criminal or administrative, in law or equity against the State of New Jersey, the New Jersey Department of Corrections, their employees, agents, or assigns, including but not limited to those which have been or could have been made or prosecuted on account of any conduct of any party occurring at any time with respect to the events, information or disputes giving rise to this action up to the date of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, all claims under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family Leave Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, the Equal Pay Act, the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Title 11A - the Civil Service Act, the Older Workers Benefits Protection Act, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Public Employee Occupational Safety and Health Act, the New Jersey Smoking Act, New Jersey wages and hours law, public works statutes, unemployment compensation laws, disability benefits laws, the United States Constitution, the New Jersey Constitution, any workers compensation or common law claims and any contract express or implied. This waiver includes all claims involving any continuing effects of actions or practices which arose prior to the date of this Settlement Agreement and bars the use in any way of any past action or practice in any subsequent claims, except pending workers compensation claims.

H. The parties agree that if any portion of this Settlement Agreement is deemed unenforceable, the remainder of this Settlement Agreement shall be fully enforceable.

AGENCY DOCKET NO. 4[illegible]

I. This Settlement Agreement is binding on the parties and may not be supplemented, amended, changed or modified in any manner, orally or otherwise, except in writing signed by a duly authorized representative of each party.

J. By signing this Settlement Agreement, the signatories represent that they have read this Agreement and fully understand its terms.

APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

In witness of this Agreement, having read and understood the terms and having agreed to be bound by each of the terms of this Agreement, the parties affix their signatures below.

CONFIRMATION OF VALID SETTLEMENT

The record of this matter and the proposed settlement agreement and general release have been reviewed. Upon such review, this Arbitrator finds that the proposed settlement is consistent with established standards governing settlement of tenure matters. (See In Frank Cardonick v. Board of Education of the Borough of Brooklawn, Camden County and In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Frank Cardonick, School district of the Borough of Brooklawn, Camden County, decided by the Commissioner April 7, 1982, aff'd State Board April 6, 1983, 1990 S.L.D. 842, 846.) The criteria and guidelines which this Arbitrator considered in evaluating this tenure settlement is in concurrence with New Jersey courts which have shown great favor upon voluntary resolution of litigation through settlement. Analogous to this subject matter regarding settlements, please note the most recent appeal from the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey (DC Civil Action No. 2-19 CV-13734), GW: MIC.W Appellants v. Ringwood Board of Education, District Judge: Honorable John M. Vacquez, filed March 16, 2022; US Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, No: 20-3552, is directly on point. In sum, it is in the public interest to compromise and settle tenure litigation pursuant to Tenure Employees Hearing Law (NJSA, 18A: 6-10 et Seq.). This Arbitrator makes the following findings:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement. This is evidenced by their signatures on the document.
2. This settlement fully dispenses all issues in the controversy between the parties and consistent with the law.
3. This Arbitrator orders that the parties comply with the terms of this settlement.

Accordingly, the settlement is hereby approved, and the tenure matter dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

AFFIRMATION

I, Dr. Andrée McKissick, do hereby affirm that I am the individual described in and who executed this instrument, which is my Opinion and Award.

Dear Counsel:

I have considered the papers filed in connection with the respondents' Motion to Consolidate the above-captioned tenure matters. The tenure charges filed in these cases by the Newark School District consist of charges of inefficiency against each of the respondent teachers.

Upon full consideration of the submitted materials, I have determined not to grant the Motion to Consolidate. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.2, in rendering a decision on an inefficiency charge, the arbitrators must consider only the specific criteria outlined in the statutory provision. The enumerated criteria will require an analysis of the evaluation process unique to each of the respondent teachers, and thus there may not be a commonality of issues that would benefit from consolidation. Moreover, there may be factual differences in each matter that could lead to a different outcome for each of the respondents. While I am mindful that the respondents are making the same argument as to the underlying reason that they allege the tenure charges were filed, each respondent will have to ability to fully present his/her defenses to the assigned Arbitrator.

Accordingly, the Motion to Consolidate is hereby denied. The tenure charges in each respective case will be assigned to an Arbitrator in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.

Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the record in the above-captioned matter. The record includes the Berkeley Heights School District's request to withdraw the tenure charges filed in this matter based upon the fact that respondent, Terrance Hanratty, resigned from the School District. As a result, respondent is no longer employed with the District. In light of this information, I find that no purpose would be served by further proceedings in this matter.

Accordingly, I approve the dismissal of the tenure charges with prejudice and dismiss the matter as a contested case before me.

Synopsis

The Board of Education of the Bordentown Regional School District (Bordentown) appealed the determination of respondent Raymond Marini, Interim Executive County Superintendent (Marini), that Z.L. and T.L. and their minor children are homeless. Bordentown contended that Z.L. and T.L. are domiciled in Bordentown, as they have resided in the Bordentown home of T.L.'s mother for a number of years since losing their housing within the Northern Burlington County Regional School District (Northern Burlington) due to financial hardship, and further argued that Bordentown is therefore not financially responsible for tuition costs related to J.L. and B.L.'s attendance in Northern Burlington schools.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: Z.L. and T.L. have lived in Bordentown with T.L.'s mother for five years and have no plans to relocate; the family has full access to the Bordentown home's bathroom and kitchen; all family members have a bed; and the Bordentown home is a fixed, regular, and adequate place to live; accordingly, the children can no longer be considered homeless. The ALJ concluded that the family have become residents of Bordentown and Bordentown has no financial responsibility for the children's attendance in Northern Burlington schools.

Upon review, the Commissioner is constrained to remand this matter to the OAL as she is unable to determine from the present record whether the family is homeless. The Commissioner noted, inter alia, that although domicile attaches immediately when a child's dwelling becomes fixed, regular and adequate, homelessness determinations require a fact-specific analysis that includes the intentions of the parents or guardians, and "cannot rest upon a simple calculation of the amount of time that children have spent in a particular location or municipality," M. O'K. v. Board of Education of the Borough of Cresskill, et al, Commissioner Decision No. 325-14, decided August 12, 2014 at 3, aff'd, A-0828-14T4 (App. Div. Sept. 8, 2016). Further, a determination as to the date when the L family were no longer homeless is necessary in order to resolve the competing claims for tuition reimbursement. Accordingly, the matter was remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with the Commissioner's decision.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Bordentown Regional School District, Burlington County, Petitioner,

v.

Raymond Marini, Interim Executive County Superintendent, New Jersey Department of Education, Board of Education of the Northern Burlington County Regional School District, Burlington County, and Z.L. and T.L., on behalf of minor children, J.L. and B.L.,

Respondents.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 by respondent Northern Burlington County Regional Board of Education (Northern Burlington) and the reply thereto filed by petitioner Bordentown Board of Education (Bordentown).[1]

The L. family resided in Chesterfield, which is part of the Northern Burlington school district, until they lost their housing due to financial hardship. They moved in with T.L.'s mother in Bordentown.[2] The children continued to attend school in Northern Burlington, and Bordentown

[1] The other respondents, ECS Marini and Z.L. and T.L., did not file exceptions or a reply.

[2] The record is not clear when the family moved in with T.L.'s mother. In making the homelessness determination at issue in this matter, ECS Marini indicated that the family was displaced in April 2017, and the ALJ based her decision on that date. However, a note from T.L.'s mother to Northern Burlington, stating that the family is living with her, is dated October 13, 2014. The ALJ indicated that this date was an error, but it is not clear to the Commissioner how the ALJ reached that conclusion. Still other documentation indicates that the family began assumed responsibility for the cost of their tuition and transportation for the 2018-2019 and 2019-2020 school years. On October 14, 2021, after Bordentown challenged the family's homelessness status, Interim Executive County Superintendent (ECS) Raymond Marini issued a determination that the family was still homeless. Bordentown filed an appeal challenging this ECS decision and seeking a determination that Bordentown had become the family's permanent residence, and that Bordentown is not responsible for the cost of educating the children for the 2020-2021 school year and future years.[3]

Following motion practice, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that the Bordentown home is a fixed, regular, and adequate place to live and that the children can no longer be considered homeless. The ALJ noted that the family has lived in Bordentown for five years and has no plans to relocate.[4] The ALJ indicated that the family has full access to the Bordentown home's bathroom and kitchen,[5] and that all members of the family have a bed. Accordingly, the ALJ living in Bordentown in June 2017. Notably, none of the documentation in the record that was completed by the family provides the date on which they relocated.

[3] The petition also sought an order that Northern Burlington be required to repay to Bordentown the costs of tuition and transportation for the 2018-2019 and 2019-2020 school years. This request for relief was apparently incorrectly included during a period of transition of the Board's counsel. It was not briefed during motion practice, nor was it specifically addressed in the Initial decision. Bordentown formally withdrew this request for relief in its reply to Northern Burlington's exceptions.

[4] It is unclear how the ALJ reached the conclusion that the family has no plans to relocate. That statement, which is represented as a direct quotation in the Initial Decision, does not appear in any of the questionnaires completed by the family. Furthermore, even if the ALJ did not intend for the statement to be a direct quotation but instead inferred that the family had no plans to relocate based on their length of stay in Bordentown or from other evidence, the family has repeatedly stated that they intend their residence in Bordentown to be temporary and has not made any statement that the Commissioner interprets to mean that they have no plans to relocate. To the extent that this information may have been presented during oral argument – of which the Commissioner was not provided a recording or a transcript – the Commissioner notes that argument does not constitute evidence.

[5] While the family described difficulties related to having six family members sharing one bathroom, from which the ALJ may have inferred that they have full access to the bathroom, none of the questionnaires mention anything about the kitchen.

concluded that the children have become residents of Bordentown and that Bordentown has no financial responsibility for their attendance in Northern Burlington.

In its exceptions, Northern Burlington argues that the L. family did not participate in this matter and that there is insufficient information about their living situation to support a finding that they are no longer homeless. In particular, Northern Burlington notes that correspondence sent from Z.L. to Northern Burlington indicates that he is constantly looking for adequate employment and housing, contradicting the ALJ's finding that the family has no plans to move back to Northern Burlington. Northern Burlington further contends that the ALJ did not make a determination as to exactly when the family's living situation transformed into a fixed, regular, and adequate residence, such that the ALJ may only have intended her finding to be prospective. Finally, pointing to existing case law, Northern Burlington argues that Bordentown would have been financially responsible for the children's education if they had attended school in Bordentown, and that Bordentown should therefore be required to reimburse Northern Burlington for the costs of the children's attendance in Northern Burlington.

In its reply, Bordentown argues that the ALJ adopted the version of facts submitted by Northern Burlington and found that, even under that most favorable version, the facts do not support a finding that the family continues to be homeless after so many years of residing in Bordentown. According to Bordentown, the family's residence with T.L.'s mother is adequate and has become fixed and regular. Finally, Bordentown notes that it is currently under its targeted enrollment and would not be required to hire additional staff to educate the L. children in its schools, such that there would be no costs associated with the children's attendance in Bordentown.

Upon review, the Commissioner is constrained to remand this matter, as she is unable to determine from the present record whether the L. family is homeless. Under the McKinney-Vento Act, homeless children are defined as "individuals who lack a fixed, regular and adequate nighttime residence," which includes "children sharing housing with other persons due to loss of their own housing, economic hardship, or a similar reason." 42 U.S.C.A. § 11434a. Similarly, under state law, homeless children are defined as "child[ren] or youth who lack[] a fixed, regular and adequate residence pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12 and N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.2," which includes children living in the "residence of relatives or friends where the homeless child resides out of necessity because his or her family lacks a regular or permanent residence of its own." N.J.A.C. 6A:17-1.2 and 2.2.

Thus, conducting a homelessness evaluation to determine whether a child's home is considered fixed, regular and adequate requires a fact-specific analysis and "cannot rest upon a simple calculation of the amount of time that children have spent in a particular location or municipality." M. O'K. v. Board of Education of the Borough of Cresskill, et al, Commissioner Decision No. 325-14, decided August 12, 2014 at 3, aff'd, A-0828-14T4 (App. Div., September 8, 2016). In conducting such a fact-specific inquiry, the Commissioner must consider the totality of the circumstances, as "[t]he reasons for the children's homelessness, their living conditions, and the resources and intentions of the parents or custodians are relevant." Ibid.

The Commissioner has previously addressed the fact-specific nature of a homelessness inquiry. In M. O'K., supra, following the foreclosure of their home in Cresskill, the O'K family occupied the bottom floor of their relatives' house in Little Ferry, which consisted of one small bedroom and a common area, without a bathroom or kitchen. The parents and two of the children shared the bedroom, while their third child slept in the common area. At the time of the litigation, neither parent was employed, and the family's sole income consisted of Social Security Disability benefits. During the pendency of the litigation, the O'K family represented that they were actively searching for a house in Cresskill. The Commissioner found, and the Appellate Division affirmed, that the O'K family became homeless due to the foreclosure of their home in Cresskill, and although they had been deemed domiciled in Little Ferry as a result of their residence in the district for over one year, they continued to remain homeless due to their shared living conditions and the parents' economic hardship.

In contrast, in State-Operated School District of the City of Camden, Camden County v. C. Ann Volk, Executive County Superintendent, New Jersey Department of Education, and E.H., on behalf of minor child, K.M., Commissioner Decision No. 172-17R, decided June 20, 2017, the family relocated from Voorhees to Camden due to economic hardship that prevented them from continuing their lease. In the Camden residence, the family was able to use the entire residence and was not relegated to a portion of the home that would otherwise be considered inadequate. E.H., the children's mother, argued that the residence was inadequate because the siblings had to share a room, which the Commissioner found was not uncommon. Furthermore, given E.H.'s ongoing employment at an annual salary of $65,000, the Commissioner was not persuaded that she was unable to find suitable housing in Voorhees, particularly in light of her testimony that she had stopped looking for apartments. The Commissioner found that the family was not residing in the Camden residence of out necessity and that it qualified as a "fixed, regular, and adequate" nighttime residence, such that the family was not homeless. Ibid.

Similar to Volk, in J.G., on behalf of minor children, T.G. and C.G. v. Board of Education of the Township of Edison, et al, Commissioner Decision No. 125-20, decided June 15, 2020, the G. family moved in with J.G.'s mother in Edison after being evicted from their home in Milltown. The family was able to use three of the four bedrooms, the kitchen, bathrooms, all common areas, and utilities in the Edison home. J.G. and his wife were both employed, with an income of $71,000 a year, but they did not pay rent or contribute to housing costs, other than food and a storage facility. While they stated that their intent was to move back to Milltown, there was no documentation of their search for a new home, and J.G. admitted that he had not submitted a rental application in at least six months. The Commissioner found that, while J.G.'s intention may be to eventually move back to Milltown, the totality of the facts and circumstances demonstrate that the family is no longer homeless.

Here, the Commissioner cannot determine on the present record whether the L. family is homeless because it is unclear if the family is residing in the Bordentown home out of necessity or whether it has become a permanent residence. The Commissioner has no information on the current status of Z.L. and T.L.'s employment, their salaries, or any other sources of income to determine whether they are able to afford to rent or purchase another home. Nor is there any information in the record to demonstrate whether Z.L. and T.L. have made any efforts to find a permanent home in Northern Burlington. While the Commissioner acknowledges that Z.L. and T.L. have not participated in this matter to date, the fact remains that they are the only source of information about their living situation and financial circumstances, and thus their participation through discovery or testimony is critical to a determination in this matter. Furthermore, the fact that the family has lived in Bordentown for years[6] does not alone demonstrate that they are no longer living there out of necessity, especially when weighed against their stated intent that the living situation is temporary.[7] Therefore, further information is necessary to determine whether the home is fixed, regular and adequate such that J.L. and B.L. are no longer homeless under state and federal law. If the family is no longer homeless, it is also necessary to determine the date when they were no longer homeless, in order to resolve the competing claims for tuition reimbursement.

[6] The precise number of years should be clarified on remand, based on information provided by the family about the actual date they relocated to Bordentown. The Commissioner notes that the ALJ dismissed Northern Burlington's request for reimbursement from Bordentown for dates prior to October 2017, when Northern Burlington notified Bordentown that the family had relocated. The Commissioner does not reach the issue of whether this dismissal was proper. However, even if the ALJ is correct that Northern Burlington was not entitled to reimbursement from Bordentown prior to the notification, the date on which the family relocated is nonetheless relevant to a determination of whether their home in Bordentown is fixed and regular.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is rejected, and the matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

[7] While a family's intent to move is generally insufficient on its own to support a finding that they are homeless, see, e.g., K.L. and K.L. o/b/o minor child M.L. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Kinnelon, Morris Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 315-08 (July 22, 2008), aff'd, K.L. v. Bd. of Educ., 2010 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 11 (App. Div. 2010), intent can be relevant in determining whether the family is remaining in their current location out of necessity. If the family intends to move, and has been actively attempting to move but has been unsuccessful in doing so because of continued financial hardship, the family may be homeless. *See M. New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Certificates of Kathleen Valencia, State Board of Examiners,
New Jersey Department of Education.

Order of Suspension by the State Board of Examiners, March 7, 2022

For the Respondent-Appellant, Joshua Nahum, Esq.

For the Petitioner-Respondent State Board of Examiners, Sydney Finkelstein, Deputy Attorney General (Matthew J. Platkin, Attorney General of New Jersey)

The Commissioner has reviewed the record and the papers filed in connection with appellant Kathleen Valencia's appeal of the Order of the State Board of Examiners (Board), dated March 7, 2022, suspending her Teacher of Social Studies Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing, Teacher of Elementary Grades K-8 Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing, and Teacher of Social Studies Certificate for two years.

Appellant is a tenured teacher in the Union City School District (Union City or the district). Union City filed tenure charges against appellant and, following an arbitration, the Arbitrator determined that appellant had engaged in conduct unbecoming a teacher when she made derogatory comments about students and their housing.[1] The charges stemmed from a videotaped recording of appellant with an undercover operative of Project Veritas who posed as the concerned sister of a fictitious Union City teacher in order to obtain damaging statements from appellant. The video was later published on YouTube. In the video, appellant is seen calling students in the district "dirtbags" and "scumbags" and referring to student homes that she had visited as a home instructor as "shitholes." The Arbitrator found that, given the mitigating circumstances, including appellant's "long and blemish-free record, her exemplary service as a Union City teacher, and her expressed remorse," termination was too harsh a penalty. Instead, the Arbitrator ordered that appellant would not receive any back pay for the period she was on leave and would forfeit her salary increment for the 2018-19 school year.

Thereafter, the Board issued an Order to Show Cause as to why appellant's certificates should not be revoked and transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that appellant had engaged in conduct unbecoming a teacher but concluded that the conduct was "not sufficiently flagrant" to warrant action against her teaching certificates. The Board agreed with the ALJ that the conduct was unbecoming but disagreed as to the penalty and determined instead that the conduct warranted a two-year suspension of her teaching certificates. The within appeal followed.

On appeal, appellant argues that the Fulcomer factors weigh against suspension or revocation. In re Fulcomer, 93 N.J. Super. 404 (App. Div. 1967). According to appellant, the comments were said in a private conversation that was secretly recorded and she never meant for students to hear them. Further, she argues that she made the statements in an effort to comfort a visibly distraught woman and did not intend to cause harm by her actions. She maintains that she had never used this language previously. Considering the mitigating factors, appellant contends that she has had a stellar teaching record for fifteen years with high performance evaluations, even after the tenure proceeding. Appellant also argues that, given that she was returned to work more than two years ago, action against her certificates now would cause a disruption to the students and the district.

Appellant contends that suspension of her certificates is unprecedented under the law. To the extent that teachers have been suspended for making disparaging comments, appellant agues that they have been suspended for not more than 120 days, citing two tenure matters. See, In the matter of the Tenure Hearing of Adelphia Poston, Commissioner's Decision No. 362-06, dated October 19, 2006 (120-day suspension for referring to a student's mother as a "dyke"); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Lauren Cooke, Commissioner's Decision No. 503-10, dated November 22, 2010 (120-day suspension for referring to a teacher using racial epithets). Additionally, appellant argues that the Board of Examiners should not be permitted to act against a teacher's certificate when the teacher retained his or her job following a tenure proceeding. Appellant maintains that there is no case law to support a teacher retaining tenure and then having his or her certificates revoked for the same conduct. Accordingly, appellant asks the Commissioner to vacate the Order of Suspension.

In reviewing appeals from decisions of the State Board of Examiners, the Commissioner may not substitute her judgment for that of the Board so long as the appellant received due process and the Board's decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record. Further, the Board's decision should not be disturbed unless the appellant demonstrates that it is arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a).

After a comprehensive review of the record, the Commissioner finds that the record adequately supports the Board's determination that appellant engaged in unbecoming conduct. At the outset, the Commissioner notes that the Board – whose statutory authority is derived separately from that of the panel of Arbitrators – can act against a teacher's certificates regardless of the penalty imposed by an Arbitrator in a tenure proceeding, and the Board is not constrained by the Arbitrator's penalty determination. See, In the Matter of the Certificates of Nicholas Cilento, Commissioner's Decision No. 131-22, dated June 23, 2022 (issuing a two-year suspension of the appellant's certificates after an Arbitrator issued a three-month suspension in a tenure proceeding). In this matter, it is undisputed that appellant used derogatory language about students, referring to them as "dirtbags" and "scumbags" and their homes as "shitholes." While appellant contends that the comments were secretly recorded, not meant to be heard by students, and made in an effort to calm a distraught woman, such arguments do not negate the lack of judgment she demonstrated in making the comments about her students. Regardless of whether Project Veritas made respondent's derogatory language public, a private exchange that included the same comments would be no less unbecoming conduct.

With respect to the appropriate penalty, the Commissioner disagrees with the Board that a two-year suspension of appellant's certificates is warranted. The Commissioner notes that the Board's Order of Suspension did not provide reasoning for why appellant's conduct warranted a two-year suspension rather than an alternate length of time. Nor does counsel for the Board explain why two years is the appropriate amount of time for appellant's suspension. Upon review of relevant case law, the Commissioner finds this matter analogous to In the Matter of the Certificates of Brett Holeman, Commissioner's Decision No. 130-22, dated June 23, 2022. In that case, the appellant was found to have engaged in unbecoming conduct when he made disparaging comments about his superiors and colleagues, accepted counseling fees from parents, sent emails that contained profanity and advised his supervisor against referring cases to him. Noting that appellant had no record of previous discipline or inappropriate conduct, the Board found that a six-month suspension of appellant's certificate was the appropriate penalty. In this matter, appellant used derogatory language about students, similar to Holeman's disparaging comments about superiors and colleagues and his use of profanity. Holeman also had an additional charge for accepting counseling fees, which does not exist in appellant's case. Both appellant and Holeman had the mitigating factor of no previous discipline, and appellant has an unblemished teaching record. Accordingly, the Commissioner finds a six-month suspension to be the appropriate penalty in this matter.

Accordingly, the decision of the State Board of Examiners suspending appellant's teaching certificates is modified with respect to the duration of the penalty, for the reasons stated herein.[2]

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Suspension of the Teaching Certificate of Jolisa Johnson, Board of Education of the Township of Piscataway, Middlesex County.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that respondent's resignation from employment with only five days' notice justifies suspension of respondent's teaching certificates pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:26-10 and N.J.S.A. 18A:28-8.

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and respondent's teaching certificates are suspended for a period of one year from the filing date of this decision, a copy of which shall be forwarded to the State Board of Examiners for implementation of the suspension.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

INITIAL DECISION GRANTING SUMMARY DECISION
OAL DKT. NO. EDU 03411-22
AGENCY DKT. NO. 71-4/22

IN RE SUSPENSION OF THE TEACHING CERTIFICATE OF JOLISA JOHNSON.

David B. Rubin, Esq., for petitioner

Brian M. Cige, Esq., for respondent

Record Closed: June 30, 2022 Decided: September 12, 2022

BEFORE DEAN J. BUONO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Piscataway Township Board of Education ("Board" or "petitioner") seeks an order suspending the teaching certificate of respondent Jolisa Johnson ("respondent") for failing to provide adequate notice of resignation, in violation of her employment contract and N.J.S.A. 18A:26-10.

The issue to be decided is whether, in this education matter in which the Acting Commissioner of Education, on application of the Piscataway Township Board of Education, issued an order to show cause why respondent's teaching certificate should not be suspended for unprofessional conduct under N.J.S.A. 18A:26-10.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The following facts are not in dispute and as such I FIND as FACT that the Board appointed respondent to serve as a preschool teacher for the period September 30, 2021, through June 30, 2022. Certification of Sousa at ¶ 2. Respondent was assigned to the Children's Corner Preschool in the Piscataway Township School District (the "District"). Ibid. The employment contract respondent signed required her to provide 60 days' notice of her intent to terminate the contract. See Sousa's Ex. A.

Respondent submitted a letter of resignation dated February 28, 2022, indicating her intent to leave Children's Corner Preschool effective April 28, 2022, so that she could "focus on [her] upcoming commitment to graduate school." Petitioner's Ex. A; Respondent's Ex. A. This initial letter of resignation complied with respondent's obligation to provide 60 days' notice. Certification of Sousa at ¶ 3. On March 13, 2022, respondent notified her school's principal, via email, that she had found another opportunity that better aligned with her career goals and that her last day at the school would be that Friday, March 18, 2022. Ibid. Respondent was advised during a meeting the following day that she was required to continue working for the remainder of the 60-day notice period or she would risk suspension of her teaching certificate. Id. at ¶ 4. Nevertheless, respondent stopped going to work after March 18. Ibid. The Board accepted respondent's updated resignation date at its meeting on April 14, 2022. The District's Director of Human Resources, Catherine Sousa, communicated that acceptance to respondent by letter dated April 19, 2022. Petitioner's Ex. B; Respondent's Ex. B.

On April 1, 2022, the Acting Commissioner of Education, on application of the Board, issued an order requiring respondent to show cause why her teaching certificate should not be suspended. Respondent filed a certification opposing the suspension. The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested case on April 29, 2022.

On June 30, 2022, petitioner filed its motion for summary decision. That same day, respondent submitted a brief letter in lieu of a more formal cross-motion, comprising respondent's letter of resignation, the letter from the District, and the certification that responded previously submitted.

Petitioner argues that a one-year suspension of respondent's teaching certificate is appropriate because respondent's "abrupt[,] early departure caused the district a hardship." Petitioner's Brief at 2. With only five days' notice, "the district had to disrupt the schedule of a Master Teacher and an English-as-a-Second-Language teacher who had to provide classroom coverage while the district scrambled to find a full-time replacement." Ibid. According to petitioner, "[t]he Commissioner of Education has established a one-year suspension as the presumptive consequence for failing to fulfill the . . . notice-of-resignation requirement." Petitioner's Brief at 5. A lesser penalty is imposed only if there are "compelling reasons." Ibid.

Respondent's counsel characterizes the suspension sought as being one of "indefinite term." See Respondent's Letter Brief. Respondent does not dispute that she left the school's employ before her contract expired or that she provided inadequate notice of her resignation. She also does not dispute that she was warned of the consequences for leaving her teaching position prematurely. Instead, she emphasizes that she was "transparent and forthright with the moving party regarding [her] immediate goal of seeking continuing education opportunities." Certification of Johnson at ¶ 2. She says the Board was "not unaware" of her need to leave before the expiration of her employment contract or "the changes in circumstances requiring [her] to leave even earlier." Id. at ¶ 3. She points to the letter from the District accepting her earlier end date and offering best wishes, seemingly suggesting that the Board condoned her premature departure. Id. at ¶ 4.

Respondent insists that she did not intend "to take any action which would have a negative impact on [her] teaching certificate." Id. at ¶ 5. "[U]nder the circumstances," she concludes, "either the Order to Show Cause . . . should be denied or, if the Commissioner determines that some period of suspension is necessary," the suspension should be for "a minimum term." Id. at ¶ 7. Respondent does not attempt to explain why her circumstances should mitigate any penalty that is assessed or why she was unable to honor her initial notice of resignation.

LEGAL DISCUSSION

Under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6, "[a] party may move for summary decision upon all or any of the substantive issues in a contested case." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a). Such motion "shall be served with briefs and with or without supporting affidavits" and "[t]he decision sought may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). When the motion "is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Ibid.

This standard is substantially the same as that which governs motions for summary judgment in civil litigation. Contini v. Bd of Educ. of Newark, 286 N.J. Super. 106, 121 (App. Div. 1995). In other words, a court must ascertain "whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party in consideration of the applicable evidentiary standard, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party." L.A. v. Bd. of Educ. of Trenton, 221 N.J. 192, 204 (2015) (internal quotes and citations omitted).

I. Petitioner's motion for summary decision should be granted because respondent has not set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue to be litigated.

N.J.S.A. 18A:26-10, applicable to non-tenured certificated staff, provides that:

> Any teaching staff member employed by a board of education . . . , who shall, without the consent of the board . . . cease to > perform his duties before the expiration of the term of his employment, shall be deemed guilty of unprofessional conduct, and the commissioner may, upon receiving notice thereof, suspend his certificate for a period not exceeding one year.

"The obvious purpose of N.J.S.A. 18A:26-10 is to provide notice to the school so that a suitable replacement can be hired without adversely impacting students." Penns Grove-Carneys Point Bd. of Educ. v. Leinen, 94 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 405, 407 (citing reference omitted).

The sufficiency of notice is dictated by the terms of the parties' employment contract. In re Suspension of the Teaching Certificate of Schvamberg, EDU 09828-13, Initial Decision (January 21, 2014), adopted, Comm'r (March 5, 2014) https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html/initial/edu09828-13_1.html. In most cases, the Commissioner has imposed the maximum one-year suspension of a teaching certificate for leaving without adequate notice. See, e.g., Green v. School Dist. of Mount Holly, EDU 0733-02, Initial Decision (Sept. 5, 2002), adopted, Comm'r (Oct. 25, 2002) https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html/initial/edu00733-02_1.html; In re Suspension of the Teaching Certificate of Montalbano, EDU 3588-00, Initial Decision (April 24, 2001), adopted, Comm'r (June 11, 2001) https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html/initial/edu3588-00_1.html; Penns Grove-Carneys Point v. Leinen, 94 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 405. "In rare circumstances in which the Commissioner has seen fit to lessen the suspension period, it was for compelling reasons." Bd. of Educ. of Borough of Alpine v. Yuz, EDU 1116-06, Initial Decision (July 17, 2008), adopted, Comm'r (September 23, 2008) https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html/initial/edu01116-06_1.html (citing In re Rogers, 1989 S.L.D. 1962 (May 16, 1989), adopted, Comm'r (June 21, 1989)).

"Compelling reasons" have been found, for example, where matters of significant public interest were involved and where constitutional issues were implicated. See Bey v. Bd. of Educ. of Newark, 93 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 288. The Commission also declined to suspend a teacher who went above and beyond to ensure a smooth transition by developing a program through the end of the year and meeting with her successor to put the program in place. Bd. of Educ. of Black Horse Pike Regional School Dist. v. Mooney, 1984 S.L.D. 810, adopted, 1984 S.L.D. 821. A suspension of less than a year was imposed on a teacher of handicapped children who switched jobs for "noble" reasons—to work with more severely handicapped children at a state facility. In re Rogers, 1989 S.L.D. 1962 (May 16, 1989), adopted, Comm'r (June 21, 1989).

Here, it is undisputed that respondent left the District before the expiration of her 60-day notice period. Far from offering compelling reasons or extenuating circumstances to explain her premature departure, respondent pleads that she got a better job opportunity. Her sudden exit disrupted the school environment in precisely the manner the law was designed to prevent. Moreover, her implicit argument that the Board consented to her resignation, such that her nonperformance was excused, is belied by the fact that the Board did not act to accept her resignation until nearly a month after she stopped working, when rejecting her resignation would have been unavailing. Viewing all evidence in the light most favorable to respondent, no rational factfinder could find in her favor. Therefore, petitioner's motion for summary decision should be granted.

CONCLUSION

Since all material facts are undisputed, the Board is entitled to summary decision in its favor. Accordingly, petitioner's motion is appropriate under these facts and should be GRANTED.

Therefore, I FIND as FACT that there are no genuine issues of material fact requiring a hearing. I CONCLUDE that petitioner's motion for summary decision is appropriate and should be GRANTED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On September 20, 2021, Superintendent Dr. Jonathon C. Ponds submitted to the School Business Administrator/Board Secretary Nicholas Cipriano, a Notice of Tenure Charges against Dr. Joseph Putrino ("Respondent"), Principal of Renaissance Middle School, on behalf of the Montclair Public School District ("Petitioner"). On September 20, 2021, Cipriano served Putrino the Statement of Tenure Charges and Statement of Evidence Under Oath, with supporting documents and an affidavit supporting the Charges. On October 7, 2021, Petitioner's attorney, Isabelle Machado, Esq. filed with the New Jersey Department of Education a Certification of Determination together with an October 6, 2021 Board Resolution adopting the Tenure Charges against Putrino. Also filed was a Statement of Tenure Charges and Statement of Evidence Under Oath with supporting documents and an affidavit supporting the Statement of Tenure Charges[1] and Statement of Evidence Under Oath dated September 20, 2021; and, lastly a Certification of Service upon Putrino and his attorney, Robert M. Schwartz, Esq.

Based on two specifications, Petitioner charged Respondent with Conduct Unbecoming and Other Just Cause within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10. The first specification alleges that Respondent showed a racially offensive video on September 2, 2020 during a convocation presentation to staff which was available by livestream. The second specification alleges that Responded created a schedule for teachers which fehEARING ll significantly short of the 1250 minutes of weekly pupil contact time allowed under the provisions of the 2018-2021 Collective Bargaining Agreement between Petitioner and the Montclair Teachers' Education Association. Petitioner seeks Respondent's dismissal from employment.[2]

[1] Hereinafter referred to as "the Charges".

[2] Respondent is on a paid suspension pending the results of this proceeding.

On October 27, 2021, Respondent filed an Answer with the New Jersey Department of Education. On November 3, 2021, the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, designated the undersigned to hear and decide this matter pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16. Subsequently, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.1(b)(3), Respondent filed a Witness and Evidence Disclosure.

On February 2, 2022, the parties stipulated to a "Protective Order" concerning copies of correspondence sent in by a parent of a Montclair Board of Education student; any document concerning student information, student name, or student records; and any document containing employee confidential, personal, medical, social and/or private information. The parties further stipulated that the confidential document/information shall only be used in the pending matter and shall not be used in any other matter in the absence of further Order.

On February 8, 11 and 15, 2022, the parties' representatives exchanged email communications concerning certain discovery issues which arose between them. As a result of the exchange, Petitioner agreed to withdraw Paragraphs 7-10 of the Charges pertaining to allegations surrounding a 2019 N.J. Superior Court Complaint.

On February 17, 2022, Respondent filed a letter seeking dismissal of the Charges with respect to a portion of Paragraph 13, which alleges:

> "During Dr. Putrino's presentation, numerous staff members, District parents, as well as members of the public, objected to and were offended by the video. As a result, the video was stopped by District administration." (See, Ex. G through K, and O through P.)[3]

Respondent contends that such dismissal was warranted due to alleged insufficiencies regarding the Sworn Statement of Evidence, Exhibits O and P; namely, that Exhibits O and P were anonymously sent emails which do not meet the general standards set forth by the undersigned in Tenure Matter of Noelle Gordon, Agency Docket No. 24-1/18 or the more specifically applicable ruling of Arbitrator Arnold Zudick in Tenure Charges of Brett Fetty Agency Docket No. 173-7/19 (rejecting reliance on anonymous statements).

In addition, based on the same arbitral precedent, Respondent sought to dismiss Paragraphs 20-23 pertaining to a "Renaissance Middle School 2020-2021 Teachers' Schedules Audit". The basis for Respondent's motion regarding Paragraphs 20-23 is that Exhibit S does not contain pertinent information necessary to support a Tenure Charge and/or to enable cross-examination. For example, Respondent alleges that Exhibit S does not contain the identification of teachers, class assignments, or even the school year at issue.

However, one day prior to the first day of hearing, in an attempt to cure a portion of the defects noted in Respondent's February 17, 2022 letter, Petitioner replaced its originally filed Exhibits O and P (which redacted the names and email addresses of the senders) with the originally received emails that did identify the complaining individuals. Respondent objected to the belated attempt by Petitioner to cure the alleged defects. In addressing the objection and resolving the evidentiary dispute, the undersigned directed Petitioner to restore the originally filed Exhibits O and P containing the redacted email addresses and names of the senders. However, Dr. Ponds was permitted to testify that the emails he originally received contained names and email addresses and, thus, were not sent anonymously.

On February 18, 2022, the undersigned presided over the first day of hearing in this matter.[4] The parties completed opening statements and the direct and cross-examination of Dr. Ponds.

[4] All hearing days were conducted pursuant to Zoom videoconferencing and were transcribed by a certified court reporter. In total, the hearing encompassed 1,952 transcribed pages.

On February 23, 2022, Petitioner filed an opposition to the motion limited to Respondent's objection over Exhibit S of the Sworn Statement of Evidence and seeking dismissal of Paragraphs 20-23 of the Charges. On February 27, 2022, the undersigned requested a copy of Petitioner's answer to Respondent Interrogatory #21. On the same day, Respondent filed a reply letter brief and provided the undersigned with a full set of Petitioner's Answers to Respondent's Interrogatories.

On March 1, 2022, the undersigned issued a decision on the Respondent's Motion to Dismiss the scheduling infractions Charge. Respondent's motion was denied for the reasons set forth in the undersigned's decision. The motion decision was filed with the Office of Controversies and Disputes on the same day.

On March 2, 2022, Respondent filed a motion to exclude two witnesses for the reason that neither was on Petitioner's original witness list. Petitioner opposed the motion.

On March 3, 2022, a second day of hearing was held. The March 2, 2022 motion to exclude two witnesses filed by Respondent was resolved on the record. The parties also completed the testimony of Dr. Ponds.

On March 4, 2022, a third day of hearing, Petitioner adduced the testimony of Diane Anglin (a non-District employee) and Rodney Jackson, a teacher at Renaissance Middle School.

On March 10, 2022, a fourth day of hearing, Petitioner presented the testimony of Major Jennings, Principal of Buzz Aldrin Middle School and Acting Principal at Renaissance.

On March 11, 2022, a fifth day of hearing, Petitioner presented the testimony of Damen Cooper, Human Resources Personnel Director. Following the completion of Cooper's testimony, Petitioner rested its case in chief subject to rebuttal.

On March 23, 2022, a sixth day of hearing, Respondent adduced the testimony of Ketty White, a second grade teacher at Nishuane School.

On April 19, 2022, a seventh day of hearing, Respondent presented the testimony of Erika Pierce, Principal Glenfield Middle School; Shashana Smiley, an Administrative Assistant/Secretary assigned to Montclair High School (previously Renaissance Middle School); Susan Weintraub, a non-District employee who held the position of PTA President for Northeast Middle School and Glenfield Middle School; Javon Pleasant, a non-District employee and former graduate of the Montclair Regional School District; Ibn Shakoor, a non-District employee; and, Beth Calamia Scheckel, a non-District employee and former PTA President of Renaissance Middle School.

On April 27, 2022, an eighth day of hearing, Respondent testified on direct examination.

On April 28, 2022, a ninth day of hearing, Respondent's direct examination and cross-examination were completed.

On May 10, 2022, a tenth day of hearing, cross-examination, redirect examination and recross-examination of Respondent were completed. In addition, Respondent offered the testimony of Naomi Kirkman, a retired school principal at Branford School. The parties completed Kirkman's testimony.

Finally, on June 14, 2022, an eleventh day of hearing, Respondent adduced the testimony of Dr. Matt Jennings, who was offered to testify in response to the scheduling Charge. Petitioner called two rebuttal witnesses, Chris Graber, Director of Technology, Montclair Public Schools and Dr. Ponds, whereupon the evidentiary portion of the records was completed.

Pursuant to the briefing schedule established, the parties' respective representatives filed initial briefs on August 3, 2022, and reply briefs on August 17, 2022.

EXHIBIT DISPUTE

Subsequent to the filing of briefs, a dispute arose when Petitioner contended that certain exhibits identified by Respondent were not admitted in evidence.

Specifically, Petitioner, in a letter to the undersigned dated August 18, 2022, stated:

> Dear Arbitrator Licata:
>
> As you are aware our office is counsel to the Petitioner, Montclair Board of Education ("District"). Kindly accept this correspondence in response to Respondent's final proposed exhibit list. Various exhibits listed in Respondent's Exhibit List were not admitted into the evidence during the hearing.
>
> More specifically, the District objects to the following exhibits:
>
> - Ex. R16 Montclair Public Schools Website articles – Bates stamped 144-148; 169- 172.
>
> During the hearing, Arbitrator Licata you ruled that pages Bates stamped 144-148; 169-172 were not admitted into evidence. See, T. 1212:23-1214:25; 1216:6-1218:14.
>
> - Ex. R19 9/7/20 Letter of Support, including Beth Scheckel, Bates stamped 204, 205- 207, 209, 2026.
>
> Respondent's proposed language is unclear. Only certain pages of Ex. R19 were admitted with the caveat discussed during the hearing. As such, the use of the word "including" is inaccurate and same should be revised to "limited to". Additionally, page Bates stamped "2026" is inaccurate.
>
> - Ex. R22 Josh Pray Statement.
>
> Ex. R22 was never admitted into evidence. Ex. R22 was introduced during the hearing but was not moved into evidence. See T. 220:17-25.
>
> - "Ex. R26 MEA agreement (Ex. PQ)".
>
> During the hearing, Arbitrator Licata you ruled that "Ex. R26 is not in. Exhibit PQ is." See T. 1437:19-20.
>
> - "Ex. R31 Reopening Plan Bates stamped 441".
> Based on our review of the transcript, R31 Bates stamped 441 was shown during the hearing. See T. 1425:15-25. However, we have no record of same being admitted into evidence.

- "Ex. R32 CV of Dr. Matthew Jennings/Report".

Based on our review of the transcript, Ex. R32, CV of Dr. Jennings was marked for identification, but we have no record of the CV or report being admitted into evidence.

Respondent replied on August 26, 2022.

Dear Arbitrator Licata

This is in response to Ms. Machado's letter of August 19, 2022.

After receiving Ms. Machado's letter, I went back and reviewed the transcripts. Ms. Machado is correct with most of her points. In this regard, I wish to apologize for any confusion my error may have caused.

More specifically, in reviewing the transcript as to Exhibit R-16, this was admitted except for the pages Bates stamped 144-148 and 169-172.

As to R-19, pertaining to the Scheckel letter, Bates stamped 204, it was admitted "subject to the previous colloquy." T.1123:22-23. The colloquy can be found on the preceding pages. Referring to the letter, Arbitrator Licata stated:

"...I don't know to the extent that this letter goes to his character, and she's listed as a witness, as a character witness." T.1121:23-25; 1122:1

"it does talk about his character and what she's been testifying to so far about restorative justice program, and its turnaround at the school. So I'm going to allow it." T.1122:11-15

Also, as to the documents in R-19, Bates stamped 204, 205, 206, 207, 209, 226, they were admitted at T.179:23 T.181:19 and T.189:24-25; T.190:1-3

As to R-26, this was also listed as Exhibit Q.

R-31 is the District's remote learning plan. The portion of the document Bates stamped 441 represents the virtual schedule at Renaissance for the 20-21 school term which is also found in R-30 of the Renaissance Staff Bulletin, Bates stamped 428 and admitted into evince at T.1425: 5-12. Dr. Ponds testified that R- 31, Bates stamped 441 was a "snapshot" of the Renaissance schedule and he acknowledged that this was put out in the District - wide reopening plan for 20-21. T.375:11-20

While R-31 does not appear to have been entered into evidence, this was through inadvertence. Given Dr. Ponds' testimony that R-31, Bates stamped 441 was a snap shot of the Renaissance virtual schedule for the 20-21 school term, and given that the schedule is the same as in R-30, 428, which was admitted into evidence, it is respectfully requested that this be allowed into evidence.

With respect to R-32, representing the CV for Dr. Jennings, this was marked for ID at T.1768. At T.1805: 11-23, Arbitrator Licata found Dr. Jennings to be qualified as an expert. This being the case, I would respectfully ask that the CV be allowed into evidence inasmuch as Dr. Jennings testified as to his expertise and the Arbitrator qualified him as an expert.

With regard to R-22, the Josh Pray statement, it was marked for identification. See T.220: 19-20. Dr. Ponds said he was not sure if he looked at the statement, but there was a "chance that he read it." T.220: 23-25. We intended to introduce it into evidence just to show that Mr. Pray's message was to illustrate the frustration of many parents during the lock-down in having to work and take care of their children at the same time and the new-found appreciation for what teachers do every day. It represented a message that was understood by several witnesses, including Ketty White, Erika Pierce, Shashana Smiley, Ibn Shakoor, and Javon Pleasant. They all testified that they saw the video as relatable. More specifically, Ms. White, Ms. Pierce and Ms. Smiley also testified that it spoke them as parents when, during the period of the lock down, they had to work remotely and at the same time teach and occupy their children. We intended to introduce it into evidence. Apparently, this did not occur. Accordingly, I am respectfully requesting now that you consider allowing this document to come in as evidence just to show that the intended message of the video corresponded to how the Respondent's witnesses characterized their view of the video.

Petitioner replied on August 31, 2022.

Good Morning, Arbitrator Licata:

The District objects to Respondent's request to submit new exhibits into evidence months after both sides have rested and submitted their post hearing briefs. The Board has not been permitted or sought to unilaterally add new exhibits into evidence.

The request is further even more concerning since same includes a request to include R-22 as an exhibit, without any testimony that it is even a statement by Josh Pray or an opportunity to cross examine the alleged author of the statement. Josh Pray did not testify in this matter and in fact no one testified that R-22 was even a statement made by Josh Pray.

Thank you.

(8/31/2022 at 9:13 a.m.)

After fully considering the post-hearing evidentiary dispute, I enter the following rulings:

Ex. R16 Montclair Public Schools Website articles – Bates stamped 144-148; 169-172 (Will Not Be Admitted).

This matter was resolved during the hearing as follows:

Bates 144-148

> ARBITRATOR LICATA: We have Dr. Putrino's testimony describing the event. He was in the picture. I mean, if it's not written by Dr. Putrino, I think you have enough with his testimony, identification of the events, that we could move on and sustain Isabel's objection to that extent.
>
> MR. SCHWARTZ: So 144 to 148, the document itself is not coming in, the pictures are not coming in?
>
> ARBITRATOR LICATA: We have the witness' testimony about what the event was and who the people are (Tr. 8, p. 1214, lines 1-13).

Bates 169-172

> ARBITRATOR LICATA: All right. Look, I mean, in terms of these exhibits, the same ruling I had before is that Bob has the testimony, Dr. Putrino has described the event. Nobody is disputing he received those awards or that's not him in the picture. It wasn't photo-shopped. So I'll sustain the objection and take Dr. Putrino's testimony and identifications of people in the photo and that he received the award. I don't know what more the article would add anyhow to that. But I'll sustain the objection (Tr. 8, p. 1217, line 17 through p. 1218, line 4).

Ex. R19 9/7/20 Letter of Support, including Beth Scheckel, Bates stamped 204, 205-207, 209, 2026 (admitted with clarification)

Petitioner claims Respondent's proposed language is unclear. Certain pages of Exhibit R19 were admitted with the caveat discussed during the hearing. As such, the use of the word "including" will be deleted. I agree. Additionally, I concur that Bates stamp "2026" is inaccurate. However, Bates Stamp 2026 is conformed to Bates Stamp 226 based on the Transcript.

Exhibit R22 Josh Pray Statement (will not be admitted)

Petitioner submits that Exhibit R22 was introduced during the hearing but was not moved into evidence. Respondent replies that it intended to introduce it into evidence just to show that Mr. Pray's message was to illustrate parent's frustrations of parents during the lockdown. Respondent respectfully requests the admission of Exhibit R22. Unlike other statements (emails) which were admitted based on Dr. Ponds' testimony that he either did receive or likely received the email (if properly addressed to his email account), the Pray statement was not similarly validated or otherwise authenticated. Additionally, because the video also reveals the message underlying Pray's performance, and because Pray is obviously critiquing his own children's remote learning study habits, Respondent's asserted need to have the Pray statement in evidence expressing the obvious is not compelling. Thus, without authentication, I concur with Petitioner. Exhibit R22 will not be admitted.

Exhibit R26 MEA agreement (Ex. Q).

(Exhibit R26 is stricken and replaced with Exhibit Q).

Exhibit R31 Reopening Plan Bates stamped 441
(Admitted)

Petitioner is correct. Exhibit R31 was discussed during Dr. Putrino's testimony, but not moved into evidence. In accepting this document, however, I observe both parties developed the record to such an extent that the document should be admitted to give context and any needed clarification to the testimony. The extent of discussion by both attorneys and Putrino is set forth below:

By Mr. Schwartz

> Q. The next document I would like to show you, Dr. Putrino, is R-31. It's Putrino 31. It starts on Bates Stamp 431. I'm sorry, 430. And it is dated August 2020, and it's titled remote learning plan. Can you tell us what this is, please?

A. This is the document that the District sent out to parents and posted on the website as the Montclair's remote learning plan.

Q. I'll show you what is Bates Stamped 441 of R-31. Have you seen this before, Dr. Putrino?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you tell us what this particular page is? And again, I'm on Bates Stamp Page 441.

A. This is my District approved remote learning schedule set to be put in place for the 2020-2021 school year (Tr. 9, p. 1425, line 14 through p. 1426, line 12).

By Ms. Machado

MS. MACHADO: Can you put up Exhibit 31?

ARBITRATOR LICATA: Is this R-31?

MS. MACHADO: Yes. Putrino 31. Go to the Renaissance schedule, which is 441, if anybody is looking at the Bates Stamp.

Q. You would agree with me that this schedule does not show how many minutes each teacher is actually teaching students; correct?

A. On this schedule, no.

Q. And looking at this schedule, there would be no way for somebody looking at this to be able to say how many minutes each teacher is teaching; accurate?

A. Correct.

Q. And you would also agree with me, looking at the schedule, you can't tell, nobody would be able to tell how many students are in any particular teacher's classroom or class; correct?

A. You're correct. That's not the function (Tr. 9, p. 1458, line 23 through p. 1459, line 20).

By Mr. Schwartz

> Q. Dr. Putrino, I show you R-31. And R-31 is the Montclair Public School Remote Learning Plan, and it says August of 2020. Do you know -- and it's Putrino 430. Do you know who put this out?
>
> A. The District (Tr. 10, p. 1665, lines 18-23).
>
>
> Q. And the Montclair reopening plan that's been marked as R-31, that came out when?
>
> A. Also the 21st. Later that afternoon. (Id., p. 1667, lines 4-6).

The in depth discussion of the exhibit by both sides supports admission of the document.

Lastly, I observe, a portion of this virtual schedule is also found in Exhibit R30 which is in evidence.

Based on the foregoing, I will admit Exhibit R31.

Exhibit R32 CV of Dr. Matthew Jennings/Report (admitted in evidence)

Petitioner is correct. Exhibit R32, the Curriculum Vitae of Dr. Jennings was marked for identification, but not moved for admission. However, the document will be accepted since (1) it was the subject of both direct examination and extensive voire dire; (2) it gives background or context to the testimony of Jennings concerning his education and experience; and (3) the testimony of Jennings – apart from the CV – was more heavily relied upon in the undersigned's ruling to qualify Dr. Jennings as an expert witness regarding the planning and creation of school schedules:

> So I'm going to admit the witness, qualify him as an expert, recognizing that there are varying degrees of expertise. And as we go along in the proceeding, cross-examination can certainly bring out further flaws, if any, with respect to the findings and conclusions that Dr. Jennings has made.

So I'm satisfied initially based on his experience of reviewing schedules, creating some master schedules, that the topic of scheduling would be something he would be able to assist me with. So I'm going to allow the testimony, and of course, as we go through it, there could be cross-examination of what his testimony actually is (Tr. 11, p. 1805, line 15 through p. 1806, line 4).

In light of the foregoing, the final lists of exhibits admitted in evidence are as follows:

THE ISSUES

"Did Petitioner have just cause to seek the dismissal of Dr. Joseph Putrino, a tenured employee of the Montclair School District based on charges of conduct unbecoming and other just cause? If not, what shall be the remedy?"

SUMMARY OF THE POSITIONS OF THE PARTIES

Petitioner's Initial Brief

On September 2, 2020, in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic and the aftermath of the devastation gripping the country after the murder of several African American citizens including that of Mr. George Floyd, Respondent choose to present a racially offensive and hurtful video to all staff members in the District, as well as members of the community.

During a virtual convocation, in his capacity as the president of the Montclair Principals Association ("MPA"), Respondent displayed a video which depicted a series of horrifying racial stereotypes about the African American and Black community, including that of the angry Black man. One of the most dangerous stereotypes about the Black community. The video further reinforced negative racial stereotypes which portray African American and Black parents as uneducated, unintelligent, unable to care for their own children and reliant on the government to do so. The video also reinforced negative racial stereotypes which portray African American and Black students as cheaters and connected to drugs.

Understandably, staff members and members of the community, including the Montclair chapter of the NAACP, were offended by the perpetuation of the horrifying racial stereotypes. Even Respondent's own organization, the MPA, removed him from his president's position and publicly denounced his action.

Although the Respondent's full video was not shown during the convocation, as the Superintendent of Schools was able to stop the video, the remainder of the video remains equally troubling. It mocks the District's COVID-19 safety protocols, and demeans the head custodian, who is African American, by having him mop after each step taken by the Respondent. The video continues to a scene of a thermometer being swung at staff and books being thrown at stuffed animals sitting at desks, who apparently represent students.

After being placed on administrative leave, it was also discovered that Respondent had overstaffed his building by giving teachers partial schedules. Under the contract with the Montclair Education Association, teachers are to work 1,250 minutes. Renaissance Middle School teachers were scheduled to work significantly less, costing the District hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In September 2020, Montclair Public Schools needed reassurance. During a time when District staff members were anxious and fearful of COVID-19, the staff did not need the public mocking of the safety protocols. In September of 2020, the District needed leadership from its principals, not to have the staff be demeaned. In September 2020, the District needed, and continues to need, a building leader who is capable of understanding the dangers of racial stereotyping and is able to comprehend when his actions will perpetuate such harmful stereotypes.

Respondent, unfortunately, has proven that he is incapable of being that leader. Respondent has unfortunately shown that he is incapable of being a responsible administrator who can unite the school and not further damage, divide, and hurt the community.

Respondent's behavior further undoubtedly negatively impacted the morale and efficiency of the Montclair Public Schools. No reasonable person could argue that Respondent's behavior meets the implicit standard of good behavior or the degree of self-restraint and controlled behavior expected of public-school employees. When an educator perpetuates racial stereotyping which is negatively perceived, even if a single incident, nothing short of dismissal is warranted. In re Chaki, No. A-2430-11T3, 2013 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2032 (App. Div. Aug. 13, 2013). Furthermore, where an educator perpetuates a stereotype, even if in jest, same constitutes unbecoming conduct warranting dismissal. See In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Mark Blasko, Cherry Hill School District, Camden County, 1980 S.L.D. 987 (Initial Decision), 1980 S.L.D. 1002 (Commissioner Decision). As noted by the Commissioner, when racial stereotyping is involved, that kind of behavior cannot be condoned and requires nothing short of dismissal. Id. at 1003.

Accordingly, Respondent's behavior clearly constitutes unbecoming conduct requiring his termination from the school district.

Respondent's Reply Brief

The Respondent asserts that with respect to the issue of the video and the convocation, the Board is attempting to go beyond what is in the Charges. As they relate to the convocation video issue, the Charges are limited to the allegation that the video was inappropriate because it portrayed a "Black man yelling angrily about his children's virtual learning experience." Since the filing of the Charges, the Board has gone beyond what is in the pleadings. It has characterized the video as racist, depicting an "angry Black man" stereotype, and it has sought to have considered as part of this proceeding portions of the video not shown at the convocation, nor referred to in the Charges. Respondent asserts that this proceeding should be limited to what was pled in the Charges.

As to the "angry Black man" theory of its case, the Board has sought to substantiate its position through personal subjective opinion testimony and through journals and articles referenced in its brief, which have not been vetted for accuracy or bias, and which were not introduced or referred to in the hearing of this matter. That the Board's position as to the video is predicated on personal subjective opinion, is borne out by the testimony, even from Dr. Ponds, who acknowledged that not everyone shared his interpretation of the video.

As for the Respondent's witnesses, they all disagreed with the Board's characterization. These witnesses included Ketty White, a long-time teacher, Erika Pierce, an administrator, and Shashana Smiley, a secretary. They all testified that they found the video to be relatable because it showed the challenges of having to conduct work-related activities, while at the same time having to homeschool their children, which was the video's intended message. None of them said that they were offended by the video. Ibn Shakoor and Javon Pleasant, former students of Dr. Putrino's when he taught in Jersey City, presented testimony as to Putrino's character. But, when asked on cross-examination what they thought of the video, they said it was relatable and funny and not offensive.

Given this disparate reaction, Respondent asserts that the Charges as they relate to the video cannot rest alone on the personal subjective opinions of Dr. Ponds or the opinions of the Board's witnesses. Respondent contends that with different reactions to the video, as was evidenced by the testimony, to make the leap that showing the video was racist or racially offensive, there needs to be a showing of intent. However, the testimony demonstrated that Ponds and Mr. Cooper, who was charged with investigating this matter, ignored or disregarded the issue of intent, so much so that they were not interested in what Mr. Pray intended in making the video, and completely discounted Dr. Putrino's apology in which he sought to explain that in showing the video he never intended to offend anyone.

As to the video's impact on the District, the only people Dr. Ponds said he spoke to regarding the video were Mr. Cooper and Board members. When Cooper conducted his so-called investigation of the video, he never spoke to staff. Respondent asserts that without hearing from staff there is no credible evidence to substantiate that the convocation video had a negative impact on the District, particularly given the testimony of the staff members who testified for Respondent, all of whom stated that they did not see the video as offensive in any way.

Further, there is nothing in the record to suggest that prior to the convocation, the video, which had been on-line for months, was seen either as racist or as racially offensive. Accordingly, before the convocation, there was no notice, implicit or otherwise, that the video was seen for anything other than what it was intended to be; a statement of appreciation of teachers for what they do, presented in what was thought to be a humorous way.

Even though Dr. Ponds testified that following the convocation he had asked Mr. Cooper to conduct an investigation of the video issue, effectively there was no investigation. In addition to not speaking to staff about the video, Cooper testified that he only reviewed Dr. Putrino's personnel file one time on September 2, 2020, that he only skimmed his evaluations and that he never spoke to Putrino.

Also, in bringing these Charges, in addition to not making any inquiry as to intent, the Board ignores that Dr. Putrino, who only learned that he was to participate in the convocation a couple of weeks before, called the superintendent to ask if he wanted to review what was to be presented. The superintendent chose not to do that. He didn't see a need to review everyone's presentation even though he was new to the District. Further, no consideration was given to Putrino's more than 20 years of unblemished service.

As to the cases cited by the Board, they all pertain to overt discriminatory acts or statements that are not analogous to the situation being presented in this matter which, as stated, is based exclusively on the interpretation of the video by the Board's witnesses. There was nothing in the video itself that spoke to race. It's only connection to race was that Mr. Pray happens to be African American.

With respect to the scheduling issue, here too the evidence does not match up to the allegations. The Charges were predicated on Exhibit S which, because it did not contain a single teacher name, could not be vetted for accuracy. The Charges alleged that no teacher taught the required 1250 minutes per week, but the MEA contract only provides that teacher pupil contact time shall not exceed 1250 minutes. The Charges speak to an "audit of the 20-21 schedule," but Mr. Cooper's review was of the schedule of the 2019-2020 school term. The Charges state Cooper's audit was conducted in February and March 2021, but he testified he performed the audit in September and October 2020.

Further, the audit was woefully lacking in rigor. Mr. Cooper testified that his audit was limited to the Genesis documents that he was provided by Mr. Jenkins. He never went into Genesis to verify the accuracy of what Jenkins had given him. He never looked at the master schedule. He never contacted Dr. Putrino to get an explanation of what he had done with the schedule. He did not include duty periods in his analysis, though this was required by the MEA contract for determining pupil-teacher contact time. His audit as reflected in Exhibit S which was presented to the Board for its consideration contained significant arithmetical errors which were never corrected and never reported to the Board. Lastly, Cooper either ignored or was not aware of the assessment of the schedule by the former superintendent, Dr. Kendra Johnson, who, in November 2018 and June 2019 called it "masterful," "strategic" and "focused." (R-18)

The burden of the Board is to prove these Charges, in which it seeks to terminate Respondent's employment by a preponderance of credible evidence. For the reasons set forth in his submissions, Respondent asserts that the Board has not met this burden. Accordingly, he respectfully submits that the Charges need to be dismissed.

Respondent's Initial Brief

The Charges stem from an incident that occurred on September 2, 2020 in which the Respondent showed a video at a District convocation that contained a skit by a comedian, Josh Pray. The skit which was intended to be comedic spoke to the frustrations of Pray and many others at having to home school their children because of the lock down caused by the pandemic. As a result, in the skit Pray expressed for himself and for many others, a new-found appreciation for teachers and all they do.

However, the Pray video was not well received by the superintendent, Dr. Ponds and perhaps by some others too. About two minutes into the video when it was shown at the convocation Ponds had it shut down. He didn't view it as the positive message that it was intended to convey; that the pandemic and the resulting quarantines helped to make parents realize the difficult job it is to teach our kids and sometimes to have to control our kids. But, clearly this was its intent as evidenced by the statement issued by Mr. Pray as well as the testimony of Dr. Putrino and others in this matter. Instead, Ponds saw the video as portraying an African American man channeling what he described, and what counsel for the District described in her opening statement, as an "angry Black man" stereotype, though it is not clear that there is such a stereotype, and even if there is, it's not clear what it is or what it means.

To this, shortly after learning of the controversy in Montclair, Mr. Pray issued a statement in which he repeated his appreciation for teachers and what they do, expressed surprise and outrage that some would think that he was denigrating his own children, and was at a loss as to how his video thanking and appreciating teachers with "heartfelt fervor" was "racist" or "offensive." Pray said in his statement that "In a time where it feels like all we have are heated and rash decisions, the Montclair Public School System has made yet another heated and rash decision based on the color of my skin. I am completely bewildered as to why my race was brought into this conversation." (See Ex. R22) Again, the only connection the video had to race was that Pray happens to be African American.

Dr. Ponds readily acknowledged that his determination that the video was racist was because of his "interpretation" of how Mr. Pray portrayed himself, which again, he said was as an "angry Black man" (Tr. 1, p. 170, lines 1-11 through p. 171, lines 1-3) It was this "interpretation" that led the superintendent to say at the virtual convocation that there is no place for racism in Montclair, a comment which, if nothing else, helped to shape the opinion of some others who were in attendance. It was this interpretation that led Ponds to place Dr. Putrino on administrative leave a couple of hours after the video was shown with no opportunity given for Putrino to explain his intent for showing the video. That is because Ponds was not interested in hearing what Putrino had to say. His interest was solely to remove Putrino from the premises regardless of his intent in showing the video and regardless of his history as an educator and as a person.

Though Dr. Ponds' decision to place Dr. Putrino on administrative leave was all but immediate, it took him and the Board over a year to file the Charges, presumably because they were searching for other reasons to help substantiate Putrino's dismissal. When they were filed, the Charges alleged three discreet events which Ponds and the Board alleged constituted "unbecoming conduct" and "other just cause" warranting Putrino's dismissal from Montclair with which he has been employed since 2000 (Tr. 8, p. 1143, lines 21-25; and Ex. A attached to the Charges).

After the Charges were filed, but before the hearings commenced, the Board decided to withdraw one of the allegations in the Charges having to do with a claim by certain African American teachers who asserted in a 2019 New Jersey Superior Court complaint that they had been treated unfairly with respect to an appointment to a Geometry class. The outcome of this complaint is not known.

With respect to the September 2, 2020 convocation and the Pray video, the Charges allege that Dr. Putrino exhibited "unprofessional conduct unbecoming of a certificated staff member" warranting his termination. (Paragraph 19 of the Charges). However, though he said that he found the video to be racist and a portrayal of an angry Black man (Tr. 1, p. 170, lines 1-11 through p. 171, lines 1-3) Dr. Ponds also acknowledged that notwithstanding his "interpretation" there were other views that supported the use of the video (Tr. 1, p. 170, lines 1-11 through p. 173, lines 5-9). In this regard, there were a number of witnesses who testified that they not only didn't see the video as racist, but that it channeled in a humorous way their own frustrations during the pandemic at having to work remotely from their homes, while at the same time having to deal with their children who were also stuck at home in a remote environment.

That there were such disparate views of the video, and that Dr. Ponds acknowledged that he was acting on his "interpretation" of the video, by itself should result in a dismissal of the Charges as they relate to the video. As removal from employment is the most drastic employment action a board can take, a conduct unbecoming case such as this one should not be based on one's interpretation of words or actions. Rather, a conduct unbecoming case should be limited to conduct that is so egregious, so clear on its face, that it requires immediate dismissal; that the conduct being complained of is so beyond the pale that it cannot be corrected with warnings or progressive discipline. In re Young 202 N.J. 50, 66 (2010) "In making the determination that one is guilty of unbecoming conduct the employee must be shown to lack fitness to discharge the duties and functions of one's office or position." Id. In the Matter of Michael Smurro, Agency Docket #100-6/21 at page 17. (Attached as Ex. I) That wasn't show here – at all. At worst, there was testimony that people were offended by the video, but this does not demonstrate a lack of fitness to hold office or conduct unbecoming; certainly not without mal intent.

There was no mal intent here. But that didn't appear to matter to the superintendent who signed off on the Charges and Statement of Evidence without having had a conversation with Dr. Putrino to determine his intent in showing the video. He was not interested in having such a discussion. Had such a conversation taken place the superintendent would have learned that Dr. Putrino's showing of the video was an attempt through humor to demonstrate the craziness of the times and the value of what teachers do every day. Had he or the Board reached out to Mr. Pray, they would have heard first-hand what Pray's intent was in creating the video – an intent which had nothing to do with race. Had he truly conducted an investigation, the superintendent would have known that showing the video was not intended to offend anyone and in fact, as the witness testimony supports, was not deemed offensive by the people who saw the full version of the video before the convocation. Had the superintendent conducted an investigation he would have learned that Putrino was a 20-plus-year veteran of Montclair, that he was a trusted and respected principal, who for many years served as the President of the Montclair Principals Association (MPA), that he had never had any disciplinary action brought against him, and that throughout his career he received only effective or better than effective evaluations. Had he conducted an investigation the superintendent would have learned that Putrino's entire career has been a model of inclusivity and commitment to the values of diversity.

But, instead, Dr. Ponds chose to react without investigating because he was not interested in hearing from Respondent, or, for that matter, from anyone who was not offended by the video. And, by making Dr. Putrino the villain in the story line that he wanted to convey, Ponds was deflecting his own negligence in not sitting down with the presenters of the convocation, including Putrino, beforehand to review and plan what was to be presented and what was to transpire at the convocation.

The other allegation in the Charges has to do with the teacher schedules at the Renaissance School. This portion of the Charges is equally lacking in substance. The allegation is that after a "detailed review" of the teachers' schedules at the Renaissance School where Dr. Putrino had been the principal since 2018, it was determined that teacher-pupil contact time was much less than what was set forth in the MEA contract – which had a limit of 1250 minutes per week (Ex. Q). A presentation to this effect was made to the Board by Mr. Cooper, the Human Resources Director. At the direction and with the approval of the superintendent, as part of this presentation Cooper submitted to the Board what is now Exhibit S, a document that was attached to the Charges. This exhibit is said to show that the teacher-pupil contact time was dramatically under the contractual limit of 1250 minutes per week which, according to the allegation, cost Montclair a sum approximating "$767,447.00" (Paragraph 21 of the Charges) lists 29 teachers who are alleged to have had too little pupil contact time, it does not list a single name of a teacher. Therefore, it was virtually impossible to cross-check for accuracy the information it contains. In addition, it contains significant arithmetical errors which even Cooper acknowledged, but at no time did he seek to correct them or advise the Board that the information he provided in his presentation was incorrect. And according to Jennings, the expert retained by the Respondent on the scheduling issue, Exhibit S is woefully incomplete because it does not include advisory periods or duty periods, all of which should have been included as teacher-pupil contact time.

The failings of Exhibit S are all the more stunning because of the stakes involved; which is nothing less that the professional career of Dr. Putrino. None of this appears to have been of any concern to Dr. Ponds, who, when first told of the alleged scheduling issue by Major Jennings, the person who had been named as the Putrino's replacement at the Renaissance school a few days before, responded almost gleefully to Jennings' email, stating "outstanding work." (See Ex. V). He appears to have accepted as fact what Jennings had reported without so much as inquiring how his conclusion came about. His reaction only further demonstrates that his agenda was limited to dismissing Putrino.

Moreover, that the Charges characterized the investigation of the schedules as "detailed" when it was at best cursory and incomplete, also was of no concern. As with the video issue, while there was supposed to have been an investigation, nothing of the sort actually took place. The so-called investigation conducted by Mr. Cooper was limited to receiving and reviewing documents that he was given by the interim principal of Renaissance, Mr. Jennings. No further review took place. No conversation with the Respondent occurred. No conversation with the teachers occurred. No inquiries were made. And all but ignored was that a prior superintendent, Dr. Kendra Johnson, had labeled the very same schedule that was now a part of Charges for dismissal, as "masterful." (Ex. R18, Bates stamped 198) As with the video, the intent here was to find fault, regardless of the evidence.

Lastly, as Dr. Ponds' subjective view of the video cannot and should not be the barometer on which to view the Charges in reference to the video, and because the District's findings as to the scheduling issue is so woefully lacking in analysis and so inaccurate and incomplete, the Charges must be dismissed.

Petitioner's Reply Brief

Respondent's post hearing brief further demonstrates his lack of fitness to hold the position of a principal within the Montclair School District. After days of testimony regarding the pain and hurt caused by the racial stereotypes which Respondent disseminated, Respondent's brief alleges that "it is not clear" that there is an "angry Black man" stereotype. The angry Black man stereotype has been acknowledged and examined in numerous news articles, studies, and court decisions. A simple google search of the angry Black man stereotype returns 5,070,000 hits. Moreover, during the hearing various witnesses testified extensively regarding the angry Black man stereotype and its impact on Black men. Yet, Respondent still doesn't recognize that the stereotype exists. Racial stereotypes, such as the angry Black man stereotype, are real, hurtful, and dangerous. Respondent cannot serve as a school principal when he is unable to even admit that racial stereotypes are real. How can Respondent serve as a principal and not continue to perpetuate racial stereotypes if he refuses to even recognize that there is a stereotype?

Respondent's brief further alleges that "[w]hether showing the ... video at the convocation was a mistake, can be debated." Again, after hearing about the pain and hurt caused to the African American staff and community, Respondent's brief will not even recognize that his actions of perpetuating the racial stereotypes was a mistake. Respondent cannot serve as a school principal and disseminate racial stereotypes. Respondent cannot serve as a principal and be willfully blind to the pain and hurt caused by his actions.

Respondent's brief also alleges that staff members, parents, and community members being offended by the video, does not demonstrate a lack of fitness to hold office or conduct unbecoming, without what he labels as "mal intent". Same is not the standard. When an educator introduces racial stereotyping, which is negatively perceived, dismissal is warranted regardless of the educator's intent. See In re Chaki, No. A-2430-11T3, 2013 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2032 (App. Div. Aug. 13, 2013)(noting that even if intent of the educator was to enhance her lessons, same does not "cure the shock and upset felt ..."); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Mark Blasko, Cherry Hill School District, Camden County, 1980 S.L.D. 987 (Initial Decision), 1980 S.L.D. 1002 (Commissioner Decision)(noting that where an educator perpetuates a stereotype, even if in jest, "[t]he Commissioner cannot condone the use of ethnic materials, jokes, or actions that ridicule any racial group directly or by implication"); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of George Zofchak, Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, 2002 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 564 (disregarding allegations that educator had no intention of making a racial statement); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Ward Campbell v. Board of Education of the Princeton Regional School District, Mercer County, 1993 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 2064 (affirming dismissal of educator perpetuating stereotypes regardless of "his intent").

Respondent has shown that he does not have judgment to be a principal of a diverse school. His actions have adversely affected the morale or efficiency of the District. His actions, including his racially offensive video, further undoubtedly have a tendency to destroy public respect for public employees and confidence in the operation of public services. Respondent's perpetuation of racial stereotypes cannot stand unrefuted and cannot be condoned. The Montclair School District needs a principal who will consider whether his actions will cause pain by perpetuating a racial stereotype. The Montclair School District needs a principal who after hearing all of the testimony in this matter, will not continue to allege that whether perpetrating the racial stereotype was a mistake is up for debate.

THE BACKGROUND OF WITNESSES

Dr. Johnathan Ponds

Superintendent of Montclair Public Schools for a year and a half (Tr. 1, p. 39, lines 14-23). Started July 1, 2020 (Tr. 1, p. 39, line 23).

Given speeches on "equality and leadership" and "cultural responsive leadership" (Tr. 1, p. 43, lines 5-7).

Doctoral Studies Dissertation on cultural responsiveness, which Dr. Ponds summarized as teaching to a person based on their background, understanding their background and reflecting on your own personal biases and try to protect individuals from your biases when you teach them (Tr. 1, p. 43, line 13 through p. 42, line 3).

Given two speeches for the New Jersey Superintendents Association on leadership (Tr. 1, p. 44, lines 13-16).

Authored a paper published in Express and ACD Express on cultural responsiveness (Tr. 1, p. 44, lines 17-25).

Trained educators and leaders (one person in Moonachie) to take over the position of superintendent in a diverse environment (Tr. 1, p. 45, lines 1-4).

On cross-examination, Dr. Ponds testified that he began in the position of superintendent in Montclair around July 1, 2020 (Tr. 1, p. 148, lines 14-20). Prior to that, he was the superintendent in Moonachie, a one-building district with approximately 300 students (Tr. 1, p. 148, line 21 through p. 149, line 2). He held that position for five years (2015 through 2020) (Tr. 1, p. 152, lines 15-25).

Dr. Ponds was also a CA director in Boston, Massachusetts of a school within a school (Tr. 1, p. 149, lines 6-9). He was the director of a program where students were sent to a different school than their local school because of behavioral issues (Tr. 1, p. 149, lines 12-18). After holding that position for about a year, he became a dean or vice principal of Neighborhood Charter School in Dorchester, Massachusetts (Tr. 1, p. 149, line 19 through p. 150, line 1).

Dr. Ponds was also the principal in Malden Public Schools for four years (approximately 2008 through 2012) (Tr. 1, p. 150, lines 5-10). He then moved from Massachusetts to New Jersey and became the principal in North Brunswick from 2012-2015 (Tr. 1, p. 152-14).

Rodney Jackson

Mr. Jackson has a degree in history, a major in history, a minor in political science, and a minor in women's studies (Tr. 3, p. 461, lines 4-6). Jackson has been teaching in Montclair for 21 years

(Tr. 3, p. 461, lines 6-7). He currently teaches at Renaissance Middle School (Tr. 3, p. 461, line 9). He taught in East Orange for two years prior to coming to Renaissance, where he has been for the last 20 years (Tr. 3, p. 461, lines 12-14).

At Renaissance, Mr. Jackson is a team leader for the 8th grade, he is a social studies teacher, and the co-founder of TURN (Teachers Undoing Racism Now) (Tr. 3, p. 461, lines 18-21). Jackson testified that TURN challenges teachers to examine their own racial biases and understand how those affect their teaching, and therefore affect student outcomes (Tr. 3, p. 463, line 14 through p. 464, line 2). He explained that TURN is a group of four or five teachers who, since 2017, have come together on their own time to educate teachers and administrators (Tr. 3, p. 464, lines 6-20). They also started the "Teachers Institute for Black Lives" which is a "teacher training teacher initiative to help teachers understand more about African American history" (Tr. 3, p. 465, lines 8-12).

Mr. Jackson testified that he worked with Dr. Putrino at Renaissance for two years (Tr. 3, p. 466, lines 6-9). During that time, they were both teachers when they worked together (Tr. 3, p. 466, lines 13-14).

Diane Anglin

Ms. Anglin graduated from Virginia State University with a B.S. in psychology (Tr. 3, p. 406, lines 12-14). She currently works for Parents, Incorporated in Newark, New Jersey (Tr. 3, p. 406, lines 16-17). She is also involved with a non-profit organization in Montclair called the Montclair Neighborhood Development Corporation which educates young children in career development (Tr. 3, p. 406, line 18 through p. 407, line 1) as well as another non-profit, Good Success Academies, on a per diem basis (Tr. 3, p. 407, lines 2-6). In addition, Anglin is also the chair of the education committee for the NAACP and also holds the Youth Council position for the Montclair NAACP (Tr. 3, p. 407, lines 12-19). She has been the chair of the education committee since 2020 (Tr. 3, p. 408, line 21). Anglin testified that the goal of the education committee is to make sure there is equity for all students, with the main focus on students of color (Tr. 3, p. 409, lines 5-8).

Ms. Anglin also testified that she was the president of the PTA for Hillside School (Tr. 3, p. 409, lines 21-22); that Dr. Putrino was the principal of both Glenfield (Tr. 3, p. 410, lines 9-10) and Renaissance Middle School when Anglin substitute taught at those locations (Tr. 3, p. 410, lines 10-12).

On cross-examination, Ms. Anglin testified that she had pleasant interactions with Dr. Putrino, and basically only exchanged hellos and brief pleasantries (Tr. 3, p. 446, line 22 through p. 447, line 11).

Major Jennings

Mr. Jennings is employed by the Montclair Board of Education as the Principal of Buzz Aldrin Middle School (Tr. 4, p. 520, line 25 through p. 521, line 3). He attended American Internal College in Springfield, Massachusetts and received a BS in business administration, with a concentration in personnel management (Tr. 4, p. 521, lines 10-14). He also has a master's degree in transportation management that he earned while working for Burlington Industries (Tr. 4, p. 521, lines 15-17). In addition, Jennings also attended Montclair State University, where he received a Master of Arts, focused on administration, education leadership (Tr. 4, p. 521, lines 17-20). He has a teacher's certification, a supervisory certification, and a principal's certification (Tr. 4, p. 521, lines 23-25).

Mr. Jennings is a member of the Montclair Principals Association and has worked with Project Oasis, which is a summer program to help struggling youth where they attend classes and a basketball league (Tr. 4, p. 522, lines 4-14). Jennings has been employed by the Montclair Board of Education for approximately 30 years; he was a technology teacher (Mt. Hebron/Buzz Aldrin), a "house leader" (Buzz Aldrin), the head basketball coach (Montclair High School), and prior to that the JV basketball coach, girls varsity volleyball coach, assistant principal (Mt. Hebron/Buzz Aldrin), acting principal (Renaissance), and principal (Buzz Aldrin) (Tr. 4, p. 522, line 18 through p. 523, line 11).

Mr. Jennings testified that he has known Dr. Putrino for at least 20 years (Tr. 4, p. 526, line 21).

Damen Cooper

Damen Cooper is employed by the Montclair Board of Education as a personnel director for the past two years (Tr. 5, p. 674; lines 3-11). He has a bachelor's degree in psychology from Central State University in Ohio, a master's degree in special education, and a master's degree in administration supervision from New Jersey City University (Tr. 5, p. 674, line 24 through p. 675, line 4). In addition, he holds a certification as a special education teacher, a psychology teacher, a supervisor, a principal, and a school administrator (Tr. 5, p. 675, lines 7-11).

Mr. Cooper taught in the South Maplewood School District as a special education teacher (Tr. 5, p. 676, lines 14-16). This is where he began his career in teaching, the South Orange-Maplewood School District in 1997-98 (Tr. 5, p. 735, line 24 through p. 736, line 3). He was then employed by New Jersey State Department of Education as a special education monitor for the State (Tr. 5, p. 676, lines 12-14). This was his second position in education for approximately two and one-half to three years (Tr. 5, p. 736, lines 10-14).

Mr. Cooper was previously both education supervisor and assistant principal for approximately eight to ten years for the City of Jersey City (Tr. 5, p. 675, line 22 through p. 676, line 8). He worked in the City of Jersey City after Maplewood and the NJ Department of Education; he held the position of assistant principal there for about five years (Tr. 5, p. 736, line 8 through p. 737, line 5). Cooper was also previously employed by Montclair as the high school assistant principal for six years (Tr. 5, p. 674; lines 12-20). In addition, he was also the principal of two different middle schools, in Summit (two and one-half to three) and Hackensack (two years) (Tr. 5, p. 676, lines 21 through p. 677, line 7). As the principal in Summit, Cooper created the master schedule. In Hackensack, he created about 90% of the master schedule (Tr. 5, p. 677, lines 11-13). He then returned to Montclair in his current role as the director of personnel. Cooper works with the entire District on all matters pertaining to personnel, leaves of absences, hiring, onboarding, and everything involving personnel since July 1, 2020 (Tr. 5, p. 677, lines 14-22).

When Mr. Cooper was hired to the position, the interim director of personnel, Dr. Purnell, was hired back as his mentor for the position because Cooper never served in a Human Resources position before (Tr. 5, p. 741, line 9 through p. 743, line 19). Cooper admitted that since he has been there, he has not hired anyone to a new position with no experience (as in his case) and then also simultaneously hired a mentor to assist them (Tr. 5, p. 744, lines 2-19).

Chris Graber

Mr. Graber is currently employed by Montclair Public Schools as the director of technology since 2018 (Tr. 11, p. 1889, lines 8-14). He is familiar with Dr. Putrino as the principal at Renaissance; he has had interactions with Putrino with regard to technology, day to day operations, and instructional technology (Tr. 11, p. 1889, line 24 through p. 1890, line 5).

Mr. Graber has his BA in history, an MA in educational technology, his ED, his EDS in education leadership, a principal certification and a supervisor certification (Tr. p. 1904, lines 3-10).

Ketty White

Ms. White has been employed by the Montclair Public School System for 17 years as a second grade teacher at Nishuane School (Tr. 6, p. 826, lines 6-15). She has been a second grade teacher for approximately 23 years (Tr. 6, p. 826, lines 16-18). She was previously employed in Newark (4 years) and Irvington (12 years) (Tr. 6, p. 827, lines 1-3). White has a BA in elementary education (pre-K through 8th grade) from Kean University, and she graduated in 1989 (Tr. 6, p. 829, lines 6-14).

Ms. White does not know Dr. Putrino personally, only as an employee of the District (Tr. 6, p. 829, lines 15-19).

Erika Pierce

Ms. Pierce has been employed by Montclair Public Schools for 17 years (Tr. 7, p. 894, line 22 through p. 895, line 1). She graduated from Hampton University in 1994, and Montclair State in 1998 (Tr. 7, p. 895, lines 5-6). She also received a second master's degree from NJPSA in 2012 or 2013 (Tr. 7, p. 895, lines 7-8).

Pierce started working in Montclair in 2005 as a high school English teacher (Tr. 7, p. 895, lines 12-13). She was promoted to Assistant Principal of Glenfield Middle School in 2015, where she worked under Dr. Putrino for four years (Tr. 7, p. 895, lines 14-16 & lines 19-21). In 2019, she was promoted to principal of Glenfield Middle School (Tr. 7, p. 895, lines 17-18).

Shashana Smiley

Ms. Smiley has been employed by the Montclair Public Schools for four years as a secretary (Tr. 7, p. 928, lines 10-17). She currently works in the Montclair High School (one year), but previously worked at Renaissance Middle School (three years) (Tr. 7, p. 928, line 19 through p.

929, line 1). Smiley testified that she was the main office secretary at Renaissance, not Dr. Putrino's secretary (Tr. 7, p. 929, lines 2-11).

Ms. Smiley graduated from Montclair High school in 2010 and received her associate's degree from Essex County College (Tr. 7, p. 930, lines 1-6). Smiley worked for her family's business, but after having two children and being a stay-at-home mom, she was in need of a job; she became a substitute teacher and then received a full-time position as a secretary (Tr. 7, p. 930, lines 12-23).

On cross-examination, Ms. Smiley testified that she is a 10-month secretary and starts September 1 and ends June 30 – but that she is permitted to start two weeks before September 1 and end two weeks after June 30 (Tr. 7, p. 940, lines 4-13).

Susan Weintraub

Ms. Weintraub testified that she has lived in Montclair for her entire life and went through all of her schooling at Montclair Public Schools and her four children have as well (Tr. 7, p. 991, lines 12-24). Weintraub served in the PTA throughout her children's tenure in public schools as the PTA president at Northeast School and then also at Glenfield School (Tr. 7, p. 992, lines 10-14). When she was the president of the PTA at Glenfield, Dr. Putrino was the principal (Tr. 7, p. 992, lines 15-17). Putrino had a vision of inclusivity which extended to parental involvement. He was active in trying to include under-represented people in the PTA so that it would be more representative of the student body (Tr. 7, p. 995 line 23 through p. 996, line 4). She testified that she worked with Putrino on this vision and that the end result was that the PTA became more inclusive (Tr. 7, p. 996, lines 5-10).

Javon Pleasant

Mr. Pleasant testified that Dr. Putrino was his home room science teacher in 8th grade, in the year 2000 (Tr. 7, p. 1007, lines 1-8). Pleasant is a revenue growth manager at Bimbo Bakeries, a subsidiary of Entenmanns, Thomas's English Muffins, Sara Lee, as well as other brand names (Tr. 7, p. 1013, lines 7-12). He works in a finance hybrid world where he focuses on pricing, margins, and revenue growth (Tr. 7, p. 1013, lines 12-15). He graduated Montclair State University in 2011 (Tr. 7, p. 1056, lines 23-24).

Ibn Shakoor

Mr. Shakoor testified that he currently works for the Jersey City Public School System as an attendance counselor (Tr. 7, p. 1069, lines 18-24). Shakoor went through the Jersey City Public School System and then graduated from Saint Peter's College with a degree in teaching (Tr. 7, p. 1070, lines 2-10). He has worked for the Jersey City School System for approximately six or seven years (Tr. 7, p. 1070, lines 11-14).

Mr. Shakoor testified on cross-examination that as an attendance counselor, he works with children who are truant, who have to go to court, and their parents who have to go to court to potentially pay fines if the child is under the age of 16 (Tr. 7, p. 1089, lines 2-7).

Beth Calamia Scheckel

Ms. Scheckel currently works for Ridgewood Public Schools as a middle school Latin teacher (Tr. 7, p. 1105, lines 10-14). She has worked there since September 2021 (Tr. 7, p. 1105, lines 15-17). Prior to working for Ridgewood, Scheckel worked for NJAT as the Associate director of global initiatives, and prior to that in the same position at Montclair State University (Tr. 7, p. 1105, lines 18-22). She worked briefly for Montclair Public Schools about eight years ago as a home instructor for a child who was out on medical leave (Tr. 7, p. 1105, line 23 through p. 1106, line 3).

Ms. Scheckel testified she does not know Dr. Putrino in any other capacity besides being the PTA president and as her son's soccer coach (Tr. 7, p. 1126, line 21 through p. 1127, line 3). She likewise only knows Putrino's wife because she was the assistant soccer coach (Tr. 7, p. 1127, lines 6-15). Their sons play on the same team but are not friends (Tr. 7, p. 1127, lines 16-21). Scheckel has never seen Putrino or his wife socially outside of games or a PTA meeting (Tr. 7, p. 1127, lines 22-25).

Dr. Joseph Putrino

Dr. Putrino began his educational career as an 8th grade science teacher in the Jersey City Public School System in 1999. One year later, in 2000 he began his employment in Montclair as a 6th grade teacher (Tr. 8, p. 1143, lines 21-25). Putrino remained a teacher until 2006 when he was promoted to be an assistant principal at the Hillside Elementary School (Tr. 8, pp. 1-8). In 2010, he was promoted to the title of principal, and he was assigned to the Northeast Elementary School (Tr. 8, p. 1144, lines 6-8). In 2013, Putrino was reassigned as the principal of the Glenfield Middle School where he remained until 2018. Then, in 2018, he was assigned to the Renaissance Middle School (Tr. 8, p. 1144, lines 9-13).

Dr. Putrino testified that while he served as teacher in Montclair, he received six nominations for the Weston Award for Excellence in Teaching and won the award in 2003 (Tr. 8, p. 1144, lines 17-20). In 2002, he received a fellowship from the Development Disabilities Council and in 2011 he was recognized as a Star of Essex County by the County Executive (Tr. 8, p. 1144, lines 21-25 through p. 1145, lines 1-2).

Dr. Putrino testified that in 2013, Dr. Penny McCormick (then superintendent) indicated to him that he was being assigned to Glenfield because of climate issues that had surfaced and as a result she thought the school needed an experienced principal (Tr. 8, p. 1146, lines 9-19). In 2018, Putrino was again reassigned, this time to the Renaissance Middle School.

Naomi Kirkman

Ms. Kirkman has a bachelor's degree from New York University and two master's degrees from Hunter College City University, New York (Tr. 10, p. 1716, lines 13-15). She was a teacher in Harlem, New York for four to five years before moving to New Jersey (Tr. 10, p. 1716, lines 18-22). Kirkman began teaching in New Jersey at Bradford School in 1999 as an elementary school teacher (Tr. 10, p. 1716, line 20 through p. 1717, line 1). She remained a teacher for eight years before becoming the magnet coordinator for two years working at Montclair State University, after which she went back to the classroom (Tr. 10, p. 1717, lines 3-8). Kirkman became the principal of Bradford School in December 2008, with a start date of January 2009 (Tr. 10, p. 1717, lines 9-23). She retired January 31, 2021 (Tr. 10, p. 1717, line 24 through p. 1718, line 1).

Ms. Kirkman testified that she was a member of the MPA and attended MPA meetings, including virtual meetings in the summer 2020 (Tr. 10, p. 1718, lines 2-11).

Dr. Matt Jennings

Dr. Jennings testified that he was a teacher's aide at the Center School in Highland Park (Tr. 11, p. 1768, lines 13-14). He then was promoted to special education teacher in a self-contained class at the middle school (Tr. 11, p. 1768, lines 14-19).

Dr. Jennings then went to South Brunswick where he was a special education teacher for five years (Tr. 11, p. 1768, lines 20-22). He became the supervisor of instruction in New Egypt/Plumsted for one year and was then promoted to the director of special education student services (Tr. 11, p. 1768, line 22 through p. 1769, line 1).

Dr. Jennings then held the position of assistant superintendent in Berkley Heights for two years (Tr. 11, p. 1769, lines 2-3). After which, he held the position of superintendent for 12 years in Alexandria Township. He worked in Bloomingdale, and then concluded his career in Cranford as the director of human resources (Tr. 11, p. 1769, lines 5-8).

Dr. Jennings acted as interim principal when he was the assistant superintendent of schools for approximately six months when he was at Thomas P. Hughes School in Berkley Heights in 2005 (Tr. 11, p. 1784, line 22 through p. 1785, line 14). He left this position to become a superintendent (Tr. 11, p. 1785, lines 20-22).

Dr. Jennings has a doctorate in Educational Administration and Supervision from Rutgers and a Master's degree in education administration and supervision from Rutgers (Tr. 11, p. 1785, line 23 through p. 1786, line 2). He also has a Master's degree in curriculum instruction from Gratz College, and a Bachelor's Degree from Rutgers as well (Tr. 11, p. 1786, lines 2-4).

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

Part I

The September 2, 2020 Convocation Video

Dr. Putrino's Plan to Show the Josh Pray Video at Convocation

September 2, 2020 was the date scheduled for an annual convocation presentation. It would be the first for new superintendent, Dr. Johnathan Ponds. Due to COVID-19, the presentation was to be facilitated via Zoom and livestreaming to the public. A Local TV news outlet would also be privy to the convocation. Dr. Ponds planned on speaking first, followed by Dr. Putrino as MPA President, followed by the MEA President, and others. The entirety of the convocation was to last for about 40 minutes.

In preparing for the convocation, Dr. Putrino intended to present something meaningful about teacher appreciation and the tough year ahead with Covid protocols in the event hybrid or in-person learning returned. Putrino was known for his humorous presentations and his injection of humor into newsletters, staff bulletins, etc. This year, by happenstance, Putrino had previously received a video produced by comedian Josh Pray. He received it from his sister-in-law in March 2020 (Tr. 8, p. 1289, line 17 through p. 1290, line 2). In turn, Dr. Putrino's sister-in-law received it from Ketty White, a Black second grade educator. A group of teachers (most Black) were all talking about how funny it was (Tr. 8, p. 1290, lines 5-9). Specifically, those staff members included Ms. White, Principal Erika Pierce and Secretary Shashana Smiley.

In addition, Putrino knew that Pray's video went viral in the spring of 2020. In fact, the Pray video was used in commercials for YouTube and Google (Tr. 8, p. 1291, lines 2-8). It was also aired on "The Today Show". Presumably, if the video was widely perceived to be racist, one would assume that it would not have been shown on The Today Show or in commercials for YouTube and Google.

Dr. Putrino testified that everyone that watched the Pray video with him, or knew of it, characterized it as being very funny (Tr. 8, p. 1290, lines 3-5). Also, everyone he spoke to about the video had the same reaction; finally, someone brave enough to say that they appreciate teachers and apologize for not appreciating them before (Tr. 8, p. 1290, lines 15-22). Putrino had not heard a negative thing about the video (Tr. 8, p. 1290, line 23 through p. 1291, line 1).

Finally, Dr. Putrino directly offered Dr. Ponds an opportunity to vet the video to see if it was in sync with the overall production of the convocation ceremony. Putrino testified that it was the tradition or practice that Dr. Parmer (former Superintendent) would hold a convocation team vetting meeting (Tr. 8, p. 1282, lines 1-16). Putrino was asked on cross-examination as to why the MPA did not vet the convocation video (Tr. 9, p. 1533, lines 6-13). Putrino responded:

> The videos or presentations that I conducted at the convocation were always vetted by the District and the District team. There was never a concern that the material was not vetted or included in some kind of review. This was the first school year that did not happen (Tr. 9, p. 1533, lines 14-19).

Dr. Putrino called Nina DeRosa, an administrative assistant in "central office" to find out if he could submit his video to the superintendent for vetting (Tr. 8, p. 1306, lines 11-19). Nina called him back shortly after and told him that Dr. Ponds was not going to have a meeting and just to submit it to Director of Technology, Chris Graber (Tr. 8, p. 1306, lines 17-20):

> Q: Did Dr. Ponds reach out to you at all to discuss the convocation before the convocation occurred?
>
> A: No.
>
> Q: So after you spoke to Ms. DeRosa, there was no communication from Dr. Ponds?
> A: Correct (Tr. 8, p. 1318, lines 4-10).

Ms. DeRosa informed Dr. Putrino that Dr. Ponds said he did not need to see the video (Tr. 10, p. 1669, lines 18-25 through p. 1670, lines 1-13). Dr. Putrino said he was "shocked" that the superintendent did not want to meet to go over the material prior to the convocation (Tr. 8, p. 1320, lines 22-25). Pursuant to Dr. Ponds' instruction via Ms. DeRosa, Putrino sent the video the following day to Mr. Graber. Putrino testified that Graber stated that he and another tech person in the office "had watched the video and loved it" (Tr. 8, p. 1308, lines 1-3). This also was expressed in a text exchange Graber had with Putrino in which he wrote "Awesome job. Loved it." (See Ex. R29, Bates stamped 420).

Nearly two years after he wrote the text, Mr. Graber, who is currently not tenured in his position as a director, was called as a "rebuttal" witness. He would be the only White witness called to testify that he was offended by the video. Graber testified that when he sent the text, he was merely referring to the "clarity" of the video that Dr. Putrino had sent him, "not the content." As Director of Technology, Graber exclaimed, "I don't care about the content" (Tr. 11, p. 1902, lines 21-25 through p. 1903, lines 1-2). In simplest terms, I found Graber's testimony to be disingenuous and compromised by collateral events involving his continued employment and compensation.

Unambiguously, Graber commented in a text to Putrino – "Awesome job. Loved it." Unless Graber was intentionally lying to Putrino which, as a consequence, would present similar credibility concerns in this proceeding, I find, the phrase used by Graber plainly implies that Graber watched the video and "loved it". Further problematic for Graber, in my opinion, is that only three or four weeks before his testimony, he and Dr. Ponds met and discussed his salary and his tenure (Tr. 11, p. 1900, lines 8-16). By the time of his arbitration testimony, I further note, it would have been foolhardy for Graber to admit that he meant what he said in his text message, i.e., that he viewed the video and loved it.

In justification for not vetting the video and advising Dr. Putrino to talk to Mr. Graber, Dr. Ponds testified:

> If you're a leader in the District and you've been a leader in the District for a while, and you have a video to show, it's an assumption, it's a belief of mine, ... that you know the appropriateness to show it, of the type of video. I did not vet Ms. Jannah's speech. I did not vet the Union president's speech. And I don't make a practice to > do so. I believe they should understand the professionalism they're going into. And in my career, anyone, even our last convocation guest who was the president of Bloomfield College, gave a speech or showed something, I did not vet it because I have an understanding that they know the level of respect and the level of professionalism to have to be in a place like this. So no, I didn't view it. And I don't believe that the superintendent should look at a Union leader or a leader in the District and have to vet everything they do or say. ... I need a level of trust. I need to have a level of trust with administrators. I don't vet what's shown in classrooms as a superintendent. I don't vet what a principal shows in their staff meeting as a superintendent. And my expectation is that there they have the judgment not to show anything inappropriate. And that they understand the level of respect they have with those positions (Tr. 1, pages 76-78).

However, during the convocation, Dr. Ponds – with no mention of Dr. Putrino's offer to vet the Pray video – stated, among other things, "I'm sorry we didn't vet that before it came up . . ." (Ex. F, at 0:42:10).

The Displaying of the Josh Pray Video From Start to Finish

In order to put matters in context, especially because a video has to be watched to be understood, I note that a characterization of Josh Pray's mannerisms bear significant similarity to Kevin Hart, i.e., animated, loud and, at times, intentionally speaking in an uneducated manner. Unlike Kevin Hart, however, Pray's popularity has been gained primarily on social media. Kevin Hart's fame and fortune has been widely achieved through stand-up and movies. While I am confident that most people have heard of Kevin Hart, I am equally confident that Josh Pray does not enjoy anywhere near the same level of name recognition. Thus, while it appears that a good number of teachers, administrators and staff knew of Josh Pray and had, in fact, previously seen the video presented by Dr. Putrino, it may be fairly stated that a good number of the same group witnessed the video for the first time when presented by a White school principal at convocation.

Against this backdrop, the undersigned's transcription of the Pray video is as follows:

Welcome and Introductions by Morgan and Janna

Exhibit F: Convocation Video 9-2-20

Hello I'm Dr. Putrino. Principal of Renaissance Middle School and President of the Montclair Principals Association. The MPA.
[Time 0:18]

Most people believe that the MPA stands for Montclair Principals Association. Well, it used to. Now because we're going full remote instruction, with the possibility of going back hybrid, we've renamed ourselves Montclair Planning Ahead.
[Time 0:32]

I would first like to acknowledge When we first went remote back in the spring it was very clear that there was some opposition from people who feel like teachers didn't do enough work. However, now, social media has given a platform for many families to express how they really feel about teachers now that they have their children at home.
[Time 0:50]

Comedian Josh Pray:

See, I ain't gonna be like most parents. Most parents ain't gonna be big enough to apologize to every educator and every after-school program person, that took care of our kids.
[Time 1:00]

Now, while everybody out there stressing and worrying about other stuff, and saying the kids are off weeks and stuff at the time... I'm gonna be the first to admit it.
[Time 1:07]

It's been two days and I want to go on record apologizing. I have been around my kids for 48 straight hours.
[Time 1:14]

I'm posed to educate these kids? To every teacher that when you ask me for extra pencils, or some papers, or I ain't responding to your emails, or you trying to tell me that my child was talking back... and I was like no he ain't - you just don't know how to teach my child, you need to calm down.
[breathing heavily]
[Time 1:28]

I'm gonna tell y'all... I apologize.
[Time 1:32]

I don't even know how y'all feed my kids. My children maybe ask me for something to eat like every 18 minutes. Every time you ask me, Mr. Pray, if you don't mind could you send some snacks for the class? And I be like, I don't know I ain't got the money, you use your salary. I apologize to you.
[Time 1:46]

My kids eat too damn much. I thought I ate?! I got a 9- to 13-year-old you put them together that's 22. They eat like a 22-year-old child in the first grade.
[Time 1:54] Video Stopped Here According To The Memory Of Most Witnesses

And then my 9-year-old, he want me to help with math questions, I don't understand what division is, man. All I know is if I take taxes and the government takes some of my money, that's all I know.
[Time 2:05]

I don't know no math, my 13-year-old asked me about history. I don't know, man. The only history I know is me and his Mama that's it.
[Time 2:14]

I apologize. I thought… I'm out of control.
[Time 2:19]

I thought teachers ain't do a good enough job at school. I thought my child should get straight A's like my childhood.
[Time 2:26]

And I want to have a meeting with teachers when school resumes, if ever resumes, I want to have a meeting with every teacher and ask how my child got A's and they class, because the education I see at home that boy ain't deserve no A's. He cheat! I watch when he goes back to school, I want y'all to watch him and watch him well. I know he'd cheating. You can't tell me he ain't cheating.
[Time 2:47]

And all they wanna do is get up, sit down, get up, sit down, get up, sit down. They go to the bathroom four or five times. What the hell they doing in the bathroom? Drinking the soap? Smoking the soap?
[Time 2:56]

Are they going down the drain? Water come up, water go down, water come up, water go down.
[Time 3:02]

To every educator out there, when I said I could home school my child, I can't home school my child. I don't got the patience to homeschool my child. If us as parents, we as parents have the audacity to drop 18 and 19 and 20 kids on ya'll at once! And ask y'all to raise our kids, look after our kids, sanitize our kids, educate our kids, feed our kids, protect our kids.
[Time 3:27]

One out of five ain't bad. One out of five is happening in my house. I ain't gonna tell you which one happening, but one out of five ain't bad. To every educator . . .Video actually stops here - Dr. Ponds Asks To Pull The Video.

Dr. Putrino and Dr. Ponds Convocation Video Commentary

After the video was pulled and Dr. Putrino recognized some people were offended, he apologized stating that he intended the video as humor, just as he had presented a humorous convocation piece the prior year. Shortly thereafter, Dr. Ponds, seemingly in violation of the MPA contract against public reprimands, made the following statement to hundreds, if not thousands, of convocation participants and those watching it via livestream, including a local news outlet:

> I want everybody to know from the bottom of my heart that I apologize for that video shown. We are a district of inclusion. We care about all people. That will not happen in my administration anymore. That will begin today. I love people. I love all people. No one has the right to disparage anyone. But, first I want to say I'm sorry we didn't vet that before it came up. Next, I want to say it'll never happen again in my administration. Together we will, and we can, make Montclair a special place.[5]

The Placement of Dr. Putrino on Administrative Leave (Three Hours Later)

Damen Cooper, a then relatively inexperienced human resources director, testified that Dr. Ponds called him about the convocation video (Tr. 5, p. 745, lines 16-19). Cooper called Dr. Putrino and told him that the superintendent thought his video was offensive and wanted him to report to central office immediately (Tr. 8, p. 1328, lines 6-15). Putrino replied that he had to first return to Renaissance School because he had a scheduled staff meeting. He represented that after the staff meeting he would report to central office. During the staff meeting, Putrino conducted a "restorative justice circle" and apologized to his staff to the extent he had offended anyone, and assured them that that was never his intent. Later, Putrino testified approximately two out of his thirty staff members stated they were offended.

[5] Article 13, "Dismissal, Discharge and Discipline Procedures", section 13.2 states: "Reprimand. The parties agree that as a matter of practice any reprimand of a Principal with respect to his performance shall be made in confidence and not in public."

Present in the central office meeting were Dr. Putrino, Ms. Kuwabara, MPA, Dr. Ponds, Mr. Cooper, and Mr. Emidio D'Andrea (Tr. 8, p. 1353, lines 17-24). Putrino testified that no one was speaking (Tr. 8, p. 1354, lines 18-21). Putrino initiated the conversation, stating that he was sorry that he did not get to know Ponds and he apologized if the video offended him (Tr. 8, p. 1354, line 22 through p. 1355, line 2). Ponds did not respond to Putrino. He just looked at him (Tr. 8, p. 1355, lines 3-4).

Mr. Cooper testified that Putrino "tried to apologize" and when asked why he phrased it that way, Cooper said that he did not believe Putrino was sincere (Tr. 5, p. 698, lines 1-4). When he was asked why Putrino's apology was not sincere, Cooper illogically replied, "Because it wouldn't have happened if it was sincere" (Tr. 5, p. 698, lines 5-8). Cooper slid a piece of paper across the table at Putrino which stated that he was being placed on administrative leave (Tr. 8, p. 1355, lines 4-9).

Dr. Putrino viewed the letter as vague and asked why he was being placed on administrative leave (Tr. 8, p. 1355, lines 10-14). Dr. Ponds responded that he would be citing the anti-racism policy, and that was all he said (Tr. 8, p. 1355, lines 14-15). The anti-racism policy, if one exists, was not presented at the hearing. Putrino then asked Mr. Cooper who he needed to communicate with. Ponds interjected and said Putrino should communicate through the School Board's attorney or human resources (Tr. 8, p. 1355, lines 16-21). The meeting ended. Cooper, in his car, then followed Putrino back to Renaissance Middle School. Putrino retrieved the items requested by Cooper and gave them to him. This was the last time Putrino would be on school premises.

Mr. Cooper also spoke with Major Jennings immediately after Dr. Putrino was sent home on leave. Cooper asked Jennings if he could fill the position of acting principal at Renaissance Middle School (Tr. 5, p. 696, lines 1-3). Jennings agreed.

Dr. Ponds' Communication with the Montclair NAACP

Dr. Ponds next initiated a call to the Montclair NAACP to apologize. Ponds testified that now deceased NAACP President, Mr. Pelham asked for dates with respect to suspensions, student data, and academic progress (Tr. 1, p. 114, lines 18-23). Although it is not clear as to how Mr. Pelham would be entitled to such information, Pelham apparently harbored a concern that Dr. Putrino's presentation of the two to three minute Josh Pray video may be the "tip of the iceberg" on racial equality vis-à-vis students in the Montclair Public School District. Of course, if that were the case, this proceeding would have undoubtedly included charges to that effect. Ultimately, no charges were brought against Dr. Putrino alleging that he treated Black students disparately from non-Black students.

By 3:20 p.m. that same day, an article appeared in "Tap into Montclair", entitled: "Montclair NAACP Demands Immediate Action After 'Racist' and 'Offensive' Video Shown to District Staff." The article asserts that "Staff were taken aback by the video that 'depicted a Black man shouting angrily about his kids' virtual learning experience." The article contains an inflammatory and, based on this record, unsupported quote from Pelham: "Principal Putrino has a history of complaints of racial insensitivity during his tenure as a leader in the Montclair School District."[6] Pelham also called for immediate action against Putrino.

The September 2, 2020 Open Public Meeting of the Montclair BOE

Later that evening, Dr. Ponds made the following statements in open session at a Board of Education public meeting (facilitated via Zoom):

Dr. Ponds, Superintendent: Now I'd like to read a statement about a serious matter that happened today. On behalf of the Montclair Public Schools Administration and the Montclair Board of Education, I want to apologize to students, staff, parents, guardians in our community at today's [6] No evidence was presented during the hearing to support this assertion. As will be discussed, this record shows that Dr. Putrino engaged in numerous activities both inside and outside of work in support of the Black community.

Welcome Back convocation, the staff showed a completely inappropriate and unacceptable video was broadcast which is inconsistent with our schools' strong values and ideas regarding diversity. The Montclair Public Schools, and I as your Superintendent, are committed to providing our staff and students with a school environment free of racism, prejudice and bias. The matter is being handled internally by central administration.[7] I apologize and thank you. Lastly, I want to say goodnight and Mr. Major Jennings, the Acting Principal at the Renaissance Middle School, thank you Mr. Jennings and thank you families. Thank you Ms. Jannah.

[The remaining key speakers on the Putrino incident lent their support of Dr. Ponds]:

Ms. Jannah/Board of Education: Thank you Dr. Ponds. I also want to state unequivocally that speaking for the Montclair Board of Education, we support Dr. Ponds in this decision and in his leadership in this matter. Mr. Graber or Mr. Deandra, do we have a spokesperson from the MPA?

Mr. Graber or Mr. Deandra: Do you want to go right to public comment? Then go back and do Committee Reports?

Ms. Jannah/BOE: No, I think that person is available and we'd like to speak now, we could do that now, we could do public *********

Mr. Graber or Mr. Deandra: If you'd like we could bring on the Union representative.

Ms. Jannah/BOE: Yes.

Mr. Graber or Mr. Deandra: Okay. David you could bring on Dr. Anglin to speak?

David: Sure thing. Dr. Anglin, Dr. Anglin can you hear me?

Dr. Anglin/Principal and Acting President MPA: Yes, I can hear you.
David: Thank you.

Dr. Anglin/Principal and Acting President MPA:

Good evening Dr. Ponds, Board of Education, administrators, teachers, staff, students and community members. I'm Dr. Samantha Anglin, Principal of Hillside School and the Acting President of the Montclair Principals Association. The MPA membership did not vet, nor did we condone, the message that was delivered under the umbrella of the MPA today. I speak on behalf of my colleagues this evening to reaffirm our ongoing, unending commitment to the core values of diversity, equity and social justice in our schools and community. Now, more than ever, we believe it is our duty and obligation to work together to ensure that all children, families, staff and community members are recognized and treated with equality and respect. We join you in this important work. We will challenge words, we will push back, we challenge actions to the contrary

[7] Although Dr. Ponds did not identify Dr. Putrino, due to the events earlier in the day, it should have been abundantly clear to everyone that he was referring to Dr. Putrino.

and we stand before you to voice this commitment. We are fully committed to Dr. Ponds and the BOE's message. Thank you for your time and have a wonderful evening.[8]

David: Thank you Dr. Anglin.

Lastly, according to Dr. Putrino, and again inconsistent with the MPA contract, Dr. Ponds sent a memo to staff stating (1) that Ponds found the video offensive; (2) that there is no room for racism in Montclair; and (3) that the matter is being handled immediately (Tr. 8, p. 1360, lines 16-22).

The Lack of An Investigation

Due to the same day public commentary made by Dr. Ponds in two separate public forums, the immediate involvement of the Montclair Chapter of the NAACP, and the related Newspaper Article, Dr. Putrino's career as an educator and long term administrator with an unblemished work record effectively came to an end in less than a day. In short, by way of its actions and inactions, Petitioner had, in effect, signaled to the school district and the community at large that Putrino was guilty of committing a racist act and, hence, by implication, he was a racist.

Dr. Ponds and/or Mr. Cooper did not interview or meet with any of the people who subsequently submitted statements in support of Dr. Putrino. No contact was made with comedian, Josh Pray (Tr. 1, p. 220, lines 6-25 to 221, lines 1-2). Ponds was not sure if he read Pray's statement objecting to Petitioner's characterization of the video which involved Pray's two children (Tr. 1, p. 220 lines 22-25). Ponds testified on cross-examination that his investigation consisted of reviewing the video "a couple more times" (Tr. 1, p. 221, lines 4-5). Ponds never looked at [8] Notably, the generalized commentary of the interim MPA President did not include an independent statement as to why the video was offensive and, if anything, it more heavily shows a sign of support for Dr. Ponds who, in turn, had already set the table on how the video and its presenter should be regarded. Also, Petitioner stated in post-hearing submissions that the MPA removed Dr. Putrino as President. This is somewhat misleading because Putrino was first placed on administrative leave and could not serve as MPA President.

Putrino's record. To the extent he received any information on this score, it was from Mr. Cooper (Tr. 1, p. 213, lines 8-15).

Mr. Cooper later testified that Dr. Ponds directed him to "review the personnel file" after seeing a portion of the convocation video, which was the only semblance of an "investigation" that was conducted prior to the removal action (Tr. 5, p. 750, lines 5-14). When asked if he was instructed to investigate how the video came about, Cooper responded "No" (Tr. 5, p. 750, lines 15-17). Mr. Cooper further testified that the determination to bring action against Dr. Putrino was made after he dissected the video with Dr. Ponds - a week after Putrino was placed on leave (Tr. 5, p. 755, line 16 through p. 756, line 13). However, charges were not brought for approximately another 13 months.

Mr. Cooper did not reach out to any staff member, student, parent or member of the public to ascertain their take on the video (Tr. 5, p. 750, line 25 through p. 751, line 8). When asked if he reviewed Dr. Putrino's performance evaluations, Mr. Cooper testified that he "skimmed" them (Tr. 5, p. 753, lines 20-21). Cooper could not answer how long he spent reviewing Putrino's personnel file (Tr. 5, p. 755, lines 10-12).

Finally, Petitioner's investigation, or lack thereof, did not include a review of Dr. Putrino's background on fostering inclusion and positive race relations, or any inquiry into why some Black staff members found the video humorous and not offensive.

The Filing of Tenure Charges

On October 7, 2021, Petitioner's attorney, Isabelle Machado, Esq. filed with the New Jersey Department of Education a Certification of Determination together with an October 6, 2021 Board Resolution adopting the Tenure Charges against Putrino. The first charge relates to the September 2, 2020 convocation video of Josh Pray presented by Dr. Putrino:

- On September 2, 2020, during a District-wide convocation viewable by both District staff and members of the public via Zoom, Dr. Putrino display(ed) a highly inappropriate video (Ex. F).

- The video, among other things, portrayed a Black man yelling angrily about his children's virtual learning experience. Ibid

- During Dr. Putrino's presentation, numerous staff members, District parents, as well as members of the public, objected to and were offended by the video. As a result, the video was stopped by District administration (Ex. G through K, and O through P).

- When Respondent showed the highly inappropriate video on September 2, 2020, he was President of the Montclair Principals Association ("MPA").

- As a result of Respondent showing the highly inappropriate video on September 2, 2020, he was removed from his position as the President of the MPA. As a result, Principal Samantha Anglin replaced Respondent as Acting MPA President.

The Scope of this Proceeding

The scope of this proceeding insofar as it relates to the charge of unbecoming conduct and other just cause regarding the September 2, 2020 convocation video must be limited to that portion of the video actually shown by Dr. Putrino, prior to it being switched off at Dr. Ponds' direction (which occurred in response to unquantifiable objections in the chat). Even with approximately 13 months to formulate and file charges, the portion of the video unseen or not displayed by Dr. Putrino was not specified as a basis for the tenure charges. N.J.SA. 18A:6-17.1 (3) (b) makes very clear that Petitioner's obligation when filing tenure charges is to specify the conduct complained about and to provide full disclosure of its evidence. "The employing board of education shall be precluded from presenting any additional evidence at the hearing.." The pertinent regulation which relates to this statute is N.J.A.C.6A:3-5.1 (b)(1). N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.1(b) (1) specifically states:

> Charges shall be stated with specificity as to the action or behavior underlying the charges and shall be filed in writing with the secretary of the district board of education or with the State district superintendent, accompanied by a supporting statement of evidence, both of which shall be executed under oath by the person(s) instituting such charges. Complete > copies of all documents referenced in the statement of evidence shall be attached as part of the statement.

In addition, in the analogous context of civil service cases, where the ALJ/Commissioner dichotomy is the same as it was in the education context prior to 2012, an employee cannot be legally tried or found guilty on charges of which s/he has not been given plain notice by the Appointing Authority. Indeed, the de novo hearing following an administrative appeal is limited to the charges and specifications contained in of the Final Notice of Disciplinary Action. West New York v. Bock, 38 N.J. 500, 522 (1962), Dept. of Law and Public Safety, Division of Motor Vehicles v. Miller, 115 N.J. Super. 122 (1971); Borough of HohoKus v. Menduno, 91 N.J. Super. 482, 487-488, 221 A.2d 228 (App.Div.1966)(noting that a public employer can only find an employee guilty of offenses specifically mentioned in the charges); Hammond v. Monmouth County Sheriff's Dep't, 317 N.J. Super. 199, 206 (App. Div. 1999)(noting that an Appointing Authority's broadening of local-level charges on subsequent appeal would "surcharge the right to appeal with a cost which violates any decent sense of due process or fair play"); Grasso v. Borough of Glassboro, 205 N.J. Super. 18 (October 16, 1985) (the original charges may not be amended at a trial de novo so as to include new charges); Accord, Fabian vs. Town of North Bergen, (CSV 3198-97, Initial Decision (August 24, 1998), adopted, Merit System Board, (December 2, 1998).

Finally, arbitrators follow similar tenets of due process when addressing just cause in a disciplinary dispute. See, Elkouri & Elkouri, How Arbitration Works, 5th Edition, page 918; Koven & Smith, Just Cause -- The Seven Tests, 2d Edition, page 397.

In this matter, consistent with the foregoing, the scope of the proceeding must be limited to the following specifications contained in the tenure charges:

- On September 2, 2020, during a District-wide convocation viewable by both District staff and members of the public via Zoom, Dr. Putrino display(ed) a highly inappropriate video (Ex. F).

- The video, among other things, portrayed a Black man yelling angrily about his children's virtual learning experience. Ibid

- During Dr. Putrino's presentation, numerous staff members, District parents, as well as members of the public, objected to and were offended by the video. As a result, the video was stopped by District administration (Ex. G through K, and O through P).

- When Respondent showed the highly inappropriate video on September 2, 2020, he was President of the Montclair Principals Association ("MPA").

- As a result of Respondent showing the highly inappropriate video on September 2, 2020, he was removed from his position as the President of the MPA. As a result, Principal Samanthaa Anglin replaced Respondent as Acting MPA President.

- Although Respondent's presentation was purportedly made on behalf of the MPA, the MPA's Acting President, Principal Anglin denounced the video. During the September 2, 2020 Board meeting, Ms. Anglin stated that "[t]he MPA membership did not vet, nor do we condone, the message that was conveyed under the umbrella of the MPA." She further publicly stated that "We are fully committed to Dr. Ponds and the Board of Education's message." (Ex. L).

- The Montclair Branch of the NAACP, President Al Pelham, issued a statement calling for immediate action (Ex. M).

- As a result of Dr. Putrino showing the highly inappropriate video on September 2, 2020, Respondent was placed on paid administrative leave (Ex. N).

- Respondent's actions constituted unprofessional conduct unbecoming of a certificated staff member.

Despite the express wording of the tenure charges, Petitioner asks the undersigned to rely on the remainder of the video not shown (involving a comedic skit produced, and starred in by, Dr. Putrino and other staff members. The video exaggerates what it will be like working under COVID-19 protocols. Petitioner asserts that this portion of the video not displayed also demonstrates that Putrino lacks the judgment necessary to continue as a certificated school principal for two reasons: (1) it makes fun of Covid protocols during the pre-vaccination stage of the pandemic and (2) it, in part, shows evidence of racial bias.

In rejecting Petitioner's entreaty, I find that Petitioner had a statutory obligation to have proffered a tenure charge supported by a stated specification regarding Respondent's composition of the video. Instead, the entirety of the tenure charge pertaining to the September 2, 2020 convocation faults Dr. Putrino for "showing" or "displaying" the video to the convocation audience. That portion of the video pertaining to the Covid skit was not shown on September 2, 2020 and it never made its way into the tenure charges. In the end, no acceptable explanation was provided by Petitioner as to why it did not charge Dr. Putrino with planning to show the entire video - if it was at all concerned about the COVID-19 protocols skit. Indeed, Petitioner had its sites set only on the Pray video. That it now claims that the Covid video reflects racial bias, I find, is not persuasive.

For all these reasons, I reject Petitioner's belated attempt to discipline Dr. Putrino for the Covid portion of the video.

Additionally, I observe, Petitioner attempted to inject other anecdotal evidence into the proceeding which was not presented in the tenure charges or Statement of Evidence. As to the alleged "sins of the past", Petitioner refers to an improper tax deduction; sending out a periodic newsletter - which Dr. Putrino had no obligation to send out in the first place - with numerous typos; use of personal email 10-15 years ago to communicate with Shashana Smiley when she was a 6th grade student; providing Smiley with an internship after she graduated high school (9-10 years prior) without Board approval, but with the knowledge of central office; and allegedly reporting to work under the influence of alcohol (an allegation not sufficiently proven). With respect to the alleged sins of the present, Petitioner asserts that Dr. Putrino, who is a practicing artist, maintained an online art gallery during his period of leave which included paintings of nudes. For the same reason I will not consider the Covid portion of the video, I will not consider new allegations based on evidence discovered during the midst of this proceeding.

Based on the foregoing, I find and conclude that this proceeding must be limited to the charges and supporting Statement of Evidence related to Dr. Putrino's displaying or presentation of the Josh Pray video.

Conduct Unbecoming and Other Just Cause

In the State of New Jersey, a tenured teacher shall not be dismissed from his position or reduced in compensation "except for inefficiency, incapacity, unbecoming conduct, or other just cause." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10. It is acknowledged that as public role models, teachers, principals, and other administrators are "held to a higher standard of behavior than other employees and individuals in society." Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Darlene Donahue, OAL Dkt. Nos. 4379-03 and 6586-03 (Mar. 10, 2006), adopted, Agency Dkt. Nos. 177-6/03 and 285/03 (Commissioner of Educ. Apr. 24 2006), aff'd Docket No. 25-06 (State Bd. of Educ. Oct. 4, 2006); In the Matter of the Certificates of Hattie Black, OAL Dkt. No. EDE 5140-02 (March 12, 2003). Educators are "entrusted with the care and custody of children," they "must exercise a degree of self-restraint and controlled behavior unlike like most other types of employment." Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Darlene Donahue, OAL Dkt. Nos. 4379-03 and 6586-03 (Mar. 10, 2006), adopted, Agency Dkt. Nos. 177-6/03 and 285/03 (Commissioner of Educ. Apr. 24 2006), aff'd Docket No. 25-06 (State Bd. of Educ. Oct. 4, 2006) citing In re Tenure Hearing of Lucarelli, 97 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 537, 541.

The term unbecoming conduct is elastic and broadly defined to include any conduct "which has a tendency to destroy public respect for [government] employees and competence in the operation of [public] services." Behavior rising to the level of unbecoming conduct "need not be predicated upon the violation of any particular rule or regulation but may be based merely upon the violation of the implicit standard of good behavior which develops upon one who stands in the public eye as an upholder of that which is morally and legally correct." Hartman v. Police Dep't of Ridgewood, 258 N.J. Super. 22, 40 (App. 992) (citing Asbury Park v. Dep't of Civil Serv., 17 N.J. 419, 429 (1955)). Unfitness to hold a position in a school system may be demonstrated by a series of incidents or a single incident, if sufficiently flagrant. Redcay v. State Bd. of Educ., 130 N.J.L. 369, 371 (Sup. Ct. 1943), aff'd, 131 N.J.L. 326 (E. & A. 1944); In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Madhumita Chaki, Franklin Township School District, Somerset County, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 1529-11.

The TEACH NJ legislation, enacted in 2012, led to the replacement of the Office of Administrative Law and the Commissioner of Education with labor arbitrators required to be members of the National Academy of Arbitrators. It must be presumed that the legislature was aware of how arbitrators address and analyze just cause disciplinary cases, especially in the context of removal or dismissal. Consistent with the legislative enactment, it may be expected that the traditional arbitral factors relied on to evaluate the propriety of the removal or dismissal of a public employee will be brought to the table in addition to the precedent developed over the years by the Commissioner of Education prior to 2012. In fact, the only evidence of the legislature issuing substantive directives to the arbitration panel occurred in 2019, whereby arbitrator training was required on conduct unbecoming an employee, including, but not limited to, issues related to allegations of sexual assault and child abuse. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.1(a):

> (1) A review of tenure charge cases concerning conduct unbecoming by a school employee, including cases decided both before and after the enactment of P.L.2012, c. 26 (C.18A:6-117 et al.); and

(2) A review of the factors to be considered by arbitrators in deciding tenure charge cases concerning conduct unbecoming by a school employee including, but not limited to, the nature of the alleged offense and the impact, or potential impact, of the employee's conduct on the health and safety of students within the context of the school environment.[9]

In considering both arbitral and education law precedent, I note first that Petitioner must prove, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that Dr. Putrino is guilty of some or all of the disciplinary allegations contained in the charges. See, West New York v. Bock, 38 N.J. 500 (1962); Cumberland Farms, Inc. v. Moffett, 218 N.J. Super. 331, 341 (App. Div. 1987); Atkinson v. Parsekian, 37 N.J. 143 (1962); Elkouri and Elkouri, How Arbitration Works, 5th Edition, pages 930, et. seq. Here, I find, Petitioner has sufficiently proven that Dr. Putrino unwittingly displayed what turned out to be an inappropriate video for the purpose of the event, that the video offended at least some members of the Black community who watched it, and he ran the risk of offending others based on a confluence of factors (i.e., Putrino is White, the audience was mixed, and Josh Pray, who was unlikely unknown to those who were offended, at times, is speaking in an exacerbated and uneducated manner).

Having said this, however, this is by no means an obvious case where there exists only one reasonable interpretation of the Pray video. To illustrate, the uneducated speech Pray exhibits is highlighted in boldfaced italics below, whereas observations about perpetuating stereotypes based on the content of what Pray is saying are set forth under the undersigned's "Comments", below:

Comedian Josh Pray:

See, I ain't gonna be like most parents. Most parents ain't gonna be big enough to apologize to every educator and every after-school program person, that took care of our kids. [Time 1:00]

[9] The undersigned filed a certification with the Commissioner on September 17, 2020 acknowledging the completion of such training. Subsequently, supplemental training was required for cultural diversity and bias. The undersigned completed such training on October 4, 2022.

Now, while everybody out there stressing and worrying about other stuff, and saying the kids are off weeks and stuff at the time... I'm gonna be the first to admit it.
[Time 1:07]

It's been two days and I want to go on record apologizing. I have been around my kids for 48 straight hours.
[Time 1:14]

(Comment – This could be any parent having to change his or her life to monitor children while they learn remotely for the first time. It is not a dilemma unique the Black community).

I'm posed to educate these kids? To every teacher that when you ask me for extra pencils, or some papers, or I ain't responding to your emails, or you trying to tell me that my child was talking back... and I was like no he ain't - you just don't know how to teach my child, you need to calm down.
[breathing heavily]
[Time 1:28]

(Comment – Pray's portrayal of himself as a protective parent refusing to acknowledge the potential misbehavior of his children is commonplace in society, regardless of race).

I'm gonna tell y'all... I apologize.
[Time 1:32]

I don't even know how y'all feed my kids. My children maybe ask me for something to eat like every 18 minutes. Every time you ask me, Mr. Pray, if you don't mind could you send some snacks for the class? And I be like, I don't know I ain't got the money, you use your salary. I apologize to you.
[Time 1:46]

My kids eat too damn much. I thought I ate?! I got a 9- to 13-year-old you put them together that's 22. They eat like a 22-year-old child in the first grade.
[Time 1:54]

(Comment: Pray did not say that he can't feed his kids. In fact, he is with his children during an extended period of remote learning. Of course, he's feeding them. That Pray does not want to spend the money or does not have the money to send in snacks for the entire class does not mean he can't feed his own kids. He is simply stating his disbelief as to how much his kids eat now that he is home observing them during the school day).

And then my 9-year-old, he want me to help with math questions, I don't understand what division is, man. All I know is I pay taxes and the government takes some of my money, that's all I know.
[Time 2:05]

(Comment: As Ketty White testified, parents of all races could experience the same challenge helping their kids with math as Pray. Ms. White tutors Caucasian students in math).

I don't know no math, my 13-year-old asked me about history. I don't know, man. The only history I know is me and his Mama that's it.
[Time 2:14]

(Comment: Parents of all races could experience the same challenge as Pray trying to help their kids learn history, a course which they may have taken decades ago).

I apologize. I thought... I'm out of control.
[Time 2:19]

I thought teachers ain't do a good enough job at school. I thought my child should get straight A's like my childhood.
[Time 2:26]

And I want to have a meeting with teachers when school resumes, if ever resumes, I want to have a meeting with every teacher and ask how my child got A's and they class, because the education I see at home that boy ain't deserve no A's. He cheat! I watch when he goes back to school, I want y'all to watch him and watch him well. I know he'd cheating. You can't tell me he ain't cheating.

[Time 2:47]

(Comment: Pray is making this commentary because he is observing how his children are tackling or not tackling their assignments at home, eating every 18 minutes, going to the bathroom frequently, etc., and he is contrasting his observations of his children's homeschool habits with the A's his children received when instruction was in-person. This is not the same as saying that Black students who get As must be cheating).

And all they wanna do is get up, sit down, get up, sit down, get up, sit down. They go to the bathroom four or five times. What the hell they doing in the bathroom? Drinking the soap? Smoking the soap?
[Time 2:56]

Are they going down the drain? Water come up, water go down, water come up, water go down.
[Time 3:02]

(Comment: Pray's observation that his kids procrastinate by constantly getting up, wanting to eat every 18 minutes, and frequently using the bathroom has nothing to do with the fact that his kids are Black. And, I find, Pray did not say his kids are doing drugs in the bathroom. He made nonsensical spontaneous remarks about his kids drinking or smoking soap because they are in the bathroom every five minutes).

To every educator out there, when I said I could home school my child, I can't home school my child. I don't got the patience to homeschool my child. If us as parents, we as parents have the audacity to drop 18 and 19 and 20 kids on ya'll at once! And ask y'all to raise our kids, look after our kids, sanitize our kids, educate our kids, feed our kids, protect our kids.
[Time 3:27]

(Comment: Pray is not saying that he can't feed his kids or protect his kids. He admits that he cannot take over the education of his kids from teachers and he admits that he grows impatient monitoring the rest of their behaviors, whereas before they were in school. A parent of any race could be Pray in this situation).

One out of five ain't bad. One out of five is happening in my house. I ain't gonna tell you which one happening, but one out of five ain't bad. To every educator . . .Video actually stops here - Dr. Ponds Asks To Pull The Video.

Here, I observe, to the extent that there was a risk of offending members of the Black community, in my opinion, it had more to do with Mr. Pray's intentionally uneducated, exaggerated and exacerbated presentation designed to evoke humor much in the same way that Kevin Hart projects himself. Where Dr. Putrino became tripped up, in my opinion, involves the following factors: (1) Pray is Black and presumably is not knowingly perpetuating racial stereotypes as he speaks about his own children; (2) other Black educators found the video humorous; i.e., teacher appreciation; and (3) the Pray video was displayed in YouTube and Google commercials and even on the Today show. As to the mixed views of the Pray video among Black educators, it is noted that there is evidence of uncertainty expressed even by Petitioner's witnesses. Consider the following:

Petitioner's Witnesses

Dr. Ponds

Dr. Ponds believed that a portion of the video shown perpetuates a stereotype, known as the "Myth of the angry Black man" (Tr. 1, p. 79, lines 2-4). Dr. Ponds added, "[t]here are Black parents and students that attend the Renaissance School and that it is important to not perpetuate the stereotype of an angry Black man" (Tr. 1, p. 83, lines 2-18). Having said this, however, it is noteworthy that Ponds, despite his vast education and experience in subjects of racial diversity, inclusion and sensitivity, did not stop the video on his own initiative. He did so in response to chats from other participants – none of which were preserved.

Additionally, Dr. Ponds testified that he viewed the Pray video up to ten times, but not more than 10 (Tr. 2, p. 266, lines 3-4). He also testified that he had "other people look at it to kind of gauge my judgment of it" (Tr. 2, p. 265, lines 20-21). He had his "wife see it and talk to me about it personally" (Tr. 2, p. 266, lines 6-7). Plainly, if the Pray video so obviously perpetuated racial stereotypes, then one would think Dr. Ponds need not have taken the trouble to view it so many times and enlist the eyes and ears of others in order to gauge his judgment after the fact. This is especially so given Dr. Ponds' professional background.

Rodney Jackson

When Mr. Jackson was asked what he recalled about the convocation, he testified that he was excited because it was Dr. Ponds' first convocation (Tr. 3, p. 467, lines 8-10). Jackson recalled that Dr. Putrino showed a video of an African American comedian who was dealing with the stress of home schooling his children during COVID-19 (Tr. 3, p. 467, lines 18-22). Jackson testified that he had not seen the entire video until being shown it at the hearing that day (Tr. 3, p. 475, lines 11-12). The video was played again, and then stopped at the point where Mr. Pray states he has two children whose ages add up to 22 (Tr. 3, p. 478, line 10).

Mr. Jackson was questioned about his reaction to the video when it first aired. Jackson testified that when he first saw the video he had no reaction (Tr. 3, p. 478, lines 21-22). This testimony is interesting as well because Jackson is the head of the District's "TURN" program and held out by Dr. Ponds as someone who was, in effect, a point person on race-related issues.

Jackson instead looked to other people on the Zoom and what they were writing in the chat to see other people's reactions (Tr. 3, p. 478, lines 23-25).

Mr. Jackson testified that in retrospect, he viewed the video shown as "inappropriate" (Tr. 3, p. 480, line 6). He testified that it was inappropriate because it did not paint parents in a positive light and reinforced negative stereotypes that they cannot take care of their children and are uneducated, emotional, and loud (Tr. 3, p. 480, lines 8-18; p. 481, lines 20-25; p. 482, lines 1-2).

Mr. Jackson was shown Exhibit I, his email to Dr. Ponds (Tr. 3, p. 489, lines 4-5). He said that in his email he referenced the video being racist, what he meant was that the convocation video was reinforcing negative stereotypes about Black parents (Tr. 3, p. 489, lines 20-22). Jackson added that there is a "long history" of the following stereotypes in this country; that Black people are loud, out of control, can't control their children, and are stuck in poverty (Tr. 3, p. 489, line 25 through p. 490, line 4).

However, on cross-examination, Jackson was asked about his email statement that he didn't think "many of us understood what the video was reinforcing" (Tr. 3, p. 489, lines 9-21). Jackson attempted to explain his email by stating "people did not see the hurt and the pain that others were feeling while it was being played (Tr. 3, p. 499, lines 1-5). Some thought it was humorous and others were offended" (Tr. 3, p. 499, lines 6-17).

Finally, Mr. Jackson admitted that the comedian was trying to be funny, and that the intent of the video was to appreciate teachers more but stated, without offering a single specific reference, that there were a thousand other videos Dr. Putrino could have shown (Tr. 3, p. 504, lines 9-15). Jackson testified that he understood what Putrino was trying to do but that the video he showed was derogatory and highlighted everything negative about Black people and Black parents (Tr. 3, p. 504, lines 17-22).

Diane Anglin

Ms. Anglin knew that the video had been posted on social media and she believed she also saw the video on YouTube (Tr. 3, p. 417, lines 5-8). Nonetheless, Anglin personally thought the video was offensive (Tr. 3, p. 435, lines 19-21). Now deceased, Mr. Pelham, NAACP President, felt the video was offensive due to the climate at the time (George Floyd and Breyonna Taylor) (Tr. 3, p. 437, lines 9-18). Also, Mr. Pray's comments about division and math stood out to her (Tr. 3, p. 428, line 24 through p. 429, line 3). Anglin also said the video depicted "microaggressions" (which she did not define) and stereotypes (Tr. 3, p. 430, lines 5-13). Specifically, that the video added to the stereotype of the broken family (Tr. 3, p. 431, lines 22-24). There is insufficient evidence presented by the video which would lead one to conclude that the Pray family was "broken", that there was not a Ms. Pray or that his children weren't loved.

Ms. Anglin also opined that Pray portrayed himself as the "Angry Black man" (Tr. 3, p. 432, lines 13-16). Anglin testified that the stereotype of an angry Black man means that when Black men are passionate about something they are perceived as angry (Tr. 3, p. 432, line 23 through p. 433, line 1). Anglin was questioned about Pray saying the children were allegedly cheating. She said that was offensive because her son is questioned about whether he plays basketball, that he has a scholarship to Georgetown, and that he wants to lie and say he doesn't play basketball - but that he does actually play basketball (Tr. 3, p. 433, line 19 through p. 434, line 1).

Ms. Anglin also believed that the video was offensive because it meant that if a Black child is doing well in school, it is assumed that they are cheating (Tr. 3, p. 434, line 25 through p. 435, line 6). Anglin was questioned about drinking the soap/smoking the soap, and she said that this comment continues to add to the ignorance but then also said that it didn't make sense to her (Tr. 3, p. 435, lines 7-21).

Finally, Ms. Anglin was offended by the portion of the video where Mr. Pray states that he does not know how the school is feeding his kids – elaborating, there are Black and brown children who get free lunch (Tr. 3, p. 456, line 23 through p. 457, line 5). She testified that it adds to the pain that they cannot feed their children (Tr. 3, p. 457, lines 22-25). Anglin asserted it was ignorant to the fact that some children's only meal comes from the school (Tr. 3, p. 457, line 25 through p. 458, line 2).

Major Jennings

Mr. Jennings only witnessed part of the video on the day of the convocation and the entire video the day prior to his testimony (Tr. 4, p. 660, lines 2-8). Jennings was shown the video again and asked to recall the stop point (Tr. 4, p. 542, lines 10-15). Jennings testified that the convocation video was stopped at the end of Mr. Pray's rant when the words, "Case Closed! You are appreciated!" appear on the screen (Tr. 4, p. 546, line 12). Jennings then testified that when he saw the words, he didn't remember seeing the words, but "it was like right before then" that the video was stopped (Tr. 4, p. 546, lines 18-22). When asked again where the video was shut down, or how long it took Dr. Ponds to stop the video, Jennings later said "it was instantly" (Tr. 4, p. 552, line 7).

Mr. Jennings testified that the video was offensive to him because it "was stereotypical of Black men" (Tr. 4, p. 549, lines 9-10). And that they are portrayed as being out of control (Tr. 4, p. 549, line 12 to 550, lines 15-17). He went on to state that Pray portrayed "his little Black kids as cheaters" and that he doesn't know anything about history and wants his kids out of the house (Tr. 4, p. 550, lines 18-20). He also testified that the portion about feeding his children made him feel like little Black kids eat a lot (Tr. 4, p. 550, line 25 through p. 551, line 1). Contrary to a finding that "the chat was blowing up", Jennings testified that he did not notice the chat (Tr. 4, p. 552, line 14).

Mr. Jennings also testified that people were upset and that he received an email for a restorative justice type activity the following day (Tr. 4, p. 552, line 23 through p. 553, line 4). There was a link to join a meeting with several staff members which gave an opportunity to share how they felt about the video (Tr. 4, p. 554, lines 7-13). During the restorative justice Zoom meeting, Dr. Putrino and Dr. Ponds were not present (Tr. 4, p. 556, lines 10-16). Jennings testified that some people expressed their dismay for the presentation, and others were not as upset (Tr. 4, p. 556, lines 19-21).

Damen Cooper

Mr. Cooper was involved with the convocation just to the extent that he was an attendee (Tr. 5, p. 680, line 9). Without showing the actual video presented by Dr. Putrino first, Petitioner showed Cooper the entire convocation video. Even Cooper testified that the entire video was not shown on that day; the first time he saw the entire video was a couple of days to a week after the convocation (Tr. 5, p. 687, lines 1-7). Cooper recalled that the video was stopped after discussions about the children eating.

Like Mr. Jennings, Mr. Cooper was not paying attention to the chat feature in the Zoom (Tr. 5, p. 689, lines 24-25). While watching the video, Cooper testified that he was angry, appalled, upset and embarrassed (Tr. 5, p. 690, lines 3-5). He added that he was embarrassed as a professional and representative of the school district; and that he was appalled as a Black man, as a father, the stereotype that was there. He said, "It frustrated me. It made me angry" (Tr. 5, p. 690, lines 8-13). Cooper asserted that the video reinforced a stereotype that African American men are confused; that that is their dialect; that is way we have to work with our kids; and that they are not educated (Tr. 5, p. 690, lines 16-20).

Cooper testified that stating that African American men do not know how to do math is embarrassing (Tr. 5, p. 691, line 6). The statement about children cheating he said made him feel angry and hurt because his children do not cheat (Tr. 5, p. 691, lines 14-15).

Mr. Cooper further noted that the drinking the soap/smoking the soap comment was ridiculous and showed a stereotype that African American men don't know anything (Tr. 5, p. 691, lines 21-24).

Lastly, Mr. Cooper also testified that the grammar and enunciation the comedian used was offensive to him (Tr. 5, p. 691, lines 3-5).

Petitioner's Documentary Evidence

Exhibit G: Email from Ms. Wells
Email to Dr. Pond's claimed that she understood the message of the video and totally agreed with the message, but that it reinforced negative stereotypes of the President and others like him who want to portray African Americans in a certain way.

Exhibit H: Email from Ms. Saraco
Email to Dr. Ponds from a math teacher to thank him for stopping an incredibly offensive video and request that it be removed from any public presentation of the convocation.

Exhibit I: Email from Mr. Rodney Jackson
Mr. Jackson sent an email expressing that he was pleased that the video was stopped. But then goes on to state that he wished there was an opportunity to discuss why it was racist and noted that many of us don't understand what the video was reinforcing.

Exhibit K: Email from Ms. Burrell
Ms. Burrell's email to Dr. Ponds notes that she feels the video was putting Blacks on display for entertainment. She felt the video was unprofessional and disrespectful and lacked regard for the diversity of students in Montclair.

Exhibit O: Redacted Email
This redacted email is to Dr. Ponds noting that a statement of support for Dr. Putrino will not be provided. Claims are being made that his or her child was discriminated against "under his [Dr. Putrino's] watch." Parent is claiming that a teacher told two Caucasian children not to play with his or her child because they were Black. He or she claims that when Putrino was the vice principal he or she and another parent went to him with their concerns about this allegation. Parent claims that Putrino did not believe his or her children's claims. This email notes that the teacher was disciplined but they were not told how the teacher was disciplined. The parent also claims that assignments made President Obama look like a minstrel character which made her children cry. Parent claimed that they went to Putrino and complained, and that Putrino did not do anything and the teacher claimed that the images were political cartoons.

Exhibit P: Redacted Email
Parent is a person of color with students in the District as well as an educator (not noted whether an educated in District). Letter to Dr. Ponds notes that this parent is in agreement with the decision to investigate Dr. Putrino. Letter also notes that Putrino hired a teacher last year this parent believed to be "wholly incompetent" and noted that Montclair is a "highly coveted" District to work in. Parent raised questions about how this person was hired in the first place.

Exhibit J: Email from Mike Chiles
Email to Dr. Ponds noting that the video shown "was fine except your staff will internalize his message as they were being chastised for not responding to children like him." He noted that he could not be more disgusted with the convocation.

Exhibit M: Article re: NAACP
Article entitled "Montclair NAACP Demands Immediate Action after "Racist" and "Offensive" Video Shown to District Staff" dated September 2, 2020. This article notes that the President of the NAACP, Al Pelham, issued a statement claiming that Dr. Putrino had a history of racial insensitivity during his tenure with Montclair. This article also references a law suit against Putrino and the school district claiming that only white teachers were given the opportunity to get additional pay for teaching additional classes. The article also noted that Putrino apologized for the video immediately and noted that if people were offended that was not his intent.

Respondent's Witnesses

Erika Pierce

Principal of Glenfield Middle School and the District's anti-bullying and harassment coordinator, Erika Pierce testified that during her time in Montclair she either participated or watched the convocations, including the September 2020 convocation (Tr. 7, p. 903, lines 6-12). Pierce's reaction to the video was that she "thought it was funny" (Tr. 7, p. 903, line 20): "I just thought it was funny because it really spoke to how I felt as a parent who was stuck in the house with their children, trying to work a full-time job and be a teacher at the same time" (Tr. 7, p. 903, line 22 through p. 904, line 1). She did not find the Pray video racially offensive (Tr. 7, p. 904, lines 2-7).

Ketty White

Ms. White, a Black second grade educator, testified that she attended the September 2020 convocation (Tr. 6, p. 830, lines 13-15). White had seen the Pray video many times before the convocation on YouTube and testified that "everyone was sharing it" and that she "shared it with a lot of people. It was hilarious" (Tr. 6, p. 831, lines 8-19). "So teachers were just sharing funny things that we would find on YouTube. And he was one of the videos that was shared, that I think I shared it, as a matter of fact. Because when I saw it, I shared it" (Tr. 6, p. 831, line 22 through p. 832, line 1). Specifically, she shared it with most of her colleagues, the second grade team, on their group thread (Tr. 6, p. 832, line 406). The second grade team she shared it with was made up of seven or eight teachers, friends, paras, everyone that was in the education field (Tr. 6, p. 832, lines 6-13).

Ms. White added: "It was funny. It was something, it was a comic relief" (Tr. 6, p. 832, lines 12-13). White never received any negative feedback on the video (Tr. 6, p. 832, lines 14-15). She referred to the video as "creative and unique and funny" (Tr. 6, p. 832, lines 22-24). She did not find the video offensive or racially offensive (Tr. 6, p. 833, lines 1-5).

When the video was stopped, Ms. White did not know what happened, she thought it was a technical issue (Tr. 6, p. 833, lines 6-14). White testified that when she found out what happened, "we just thought it was ridiculous" and that we were "shocked" and "utterly shocked" because everyone in her circle had seen the video before and thought it was funny (Tr. 6, p. 833, lines 21-25). White's group didn't find any issue with the video (Tr. 6, p. 833, line 25 through p. 834, line 2).

Ms. White also testified that no one reached out to her regarding her reaction to the video, and that none of her colleagues told her that they were contacted either to be questioned as part of an investigation (Tr. 6, p. 834, lines 13-20).

Ms. White viewed the comments after Dr. Ponds apologized and was surprised by the comments (Tr. 6, p. 834, line 21 through p. 835, line 4). On cross-examination, White acknowledged that when she viewed the chat, she saw comments about "a stereotypical angry Black man" (Tr. 6, p. 852, lines 1-2).

On cross-examination, the Pray video was played and Ms. White, noticeably, laughed through most of it. Ms. White also reviewed the video prior to her testimony and said "it was still funny. I still laughed" (Tr. 6, p. 836, lines 11-16). She had previously viewed the video on YouTube (Tr. 6, p. 836, lines 20-22). White was asked if she recalled specific portions of the video about the father not knowing history, the children being cheaters, and drinking/smoking soap, all of which she recalled (Tr. 6, p. 853, lines 12-25).

> Q: Let me ask you this way. Is it your position that you don't, that you don't understand why somebody would find that offensive, that video?
> A: Yes, that's my position (Tr. 6, p. 854, lines 6-10).

Ms. White added that she has never heard of the Angry Black Man stereotype, that it is usually of an "Angry Black Woman" (Tr. 6, p. 854, lines 22-24). White also testified that if it was a woman in the video it would not have changed her opinion because "I didn't find him to be angry. To me, he wasn't angry" (Tr. 6, p. 855, lines 9-10). White viewed the video as a parent appreciating teachers and finding homeschooling challenging and difficult; and that "he just happened to be Black" (Tr. 6, p. 856, lines 3-9). The cross-examination colloquy continued:

> Q: And would you agree with me that that was an inappropriate video to show the entire staff of Montclair Schools?

A: No, I would not agree with you.

Q: So it's your opinion that that was an appropriate video to show all staff members; that's your position?

A: I shared it. I shared it with my friends. I shared it with my colleagues, and one of my friends is a principal. I shared it with a lot of people. So I didn't find it offensive (Tr. 6, p. 856, lines 10-20).

****

Q: Is it your testimony today that he [comedian Josh Pray] is not angry in that video; is that accurate?

A: In my opinion, he's frustrated. He's had enough. He's not angry. He's like, okay, I can't do this anymore. This is too hard. Like that's how it comes off to me.

Q: And in your opinion, that does not portray an angry Black man; is that accurate?

A: Yeah. That's accurate.

Q: And the comment, the whole video where he's talking about his, his parenting, right, is it your opinion that that video does not portray African American fathers as bad parents?

A: No, not at all.

Q: And is it your opinion, when he's talking about not knowing any math, not knowing any history, is it your opinion that does not portray African Americans as uneducated; is that your testimony?

A: Yes. Because I tutor a lot of Caucasian kids, and I have parents actually tell me that they were having problems with the new math and to help them to help their child with it. So, no. No, absolutely not. A lot of parents have problems helping their kids with the new math and the new technology and the new that. It's not just because he's a man of color (Tr. 6, p. 866, line 16 through p. 867, line 11).

Shashana Smiley

Ms. Smiley watched the convocation video on September 2, 2020 (Tr. 7, p. 932, lines 6-8). Smiley testified that she saw the Pray video, but also that she had seen it before September 2 because it went viral on Instagram or Facebook (Tr. 7, p. 932, lines 9-18).

Q: Can you tell us what your reaction was to the video?

A: I thought it was hilarious and I thought it was relatable as a parent who was working from home, while navigating homeschooling my son, and still trying to get the daily day-to-day activities done.

****

Q: Did you find it racially offensive, the video?

A: Oh, no. No, I didn't (Tr. 7, p. 933, lines 8-20).

Ibn Shakoor

Mr. Shakoor did not testify to the video at all on direct examination, the video portion was shown to Shakoor on cross-examination up until the line "to every educator out there, I want to apologize and let ya'll know..." (Tr. 7, p. 1079, line 18 through p. 1083, line 3).

Mr. Shakoor testified that he had seen the video before on YouTube or Instagram (Tr. 7, p. 1083, lines 5-10). Shakoor's first thought on the video was that it was relatable and funny (Tr. 7, p. 1083, lines 11-17). He did not find the video offensive, and did not see any kind of stereotype in the video (Tr. 7, p. 1083, line 22 through p. 1084, line 1).

Mr. Shakoor testified that he was not shown the video in preparation for the hearing but that he has seen the video many times (Tr. 7, p. 1084, lines 2-24). He has outside knowledge of the video and the comedian (Tr. 7, p. 1084, line 25 through p. 1085, line 2).

Mr. Shakoor testified that he was made aware that the video was shown to the entire staff of Montclair Public Schools and that he believes the video was appropriate (Tr. 7, p. 1085, lines 3-25).

Dr. Putrino

Dr. Putrino testified that he would not have shown the video if he knew people would be offended by it.

> Because I'm now aware that some people were offended. Again, you know, my whole purpose is to help people, not hurt people. Why would I choose that moment to knowingly hurt people? It just doesn't make sense. My goal was to make people laugh. The message in the video was appreciate teachers and remember to laugh when times are hard.
>
> If I would have known that that video was offensive to anyone, in any way, had a clue about that, I wouldn't have, I wouldn't have shown it. Up until that point, everybody I showed it to thought that video was funny and either passed it on or passed it to me (Tr. 9, p. 1576, lines 12-25).

He was asked if he thought the portion about drinking the soap and smoking the soap was appropriate; Putrino responded

> I don't think the comedian meant it to be inappropriate. I think the comedian was just kind of listing a bunch of things and saying whatever things came to his mind. I don't think he was trying to imply anything. And I understand that some people read into that and were offended by it, which to me is enough that I wouldn't have shown the video (Tr. 9. p. 1578, line 24 through p. 1579, line 7).

Respondent's Documentary Evidence

Putrino 204:
Email from the President of the Renaissance PTA, Beth Calamia Scheckel notes that Renaissance Middle School was a previously unpopular school until Dr. Putrino took over. Specifically, she noted that Putrino knows every child by name and welcomes them into school each morning. She also notes that Putrino is being used as a scapegoat for collective societal outrage against racism.

Putrino 205-207:
Email from Holly Shaw, mother of three children in the school system, as a letter of support for Dr Putrino. Shaw notes that a quick decision was made without an investigation, and that labeling someone a racist without a proper investigation a is very accusatory. She also noted that she had seen Mr. Pray's video before on the Today Show and was clearly vetted by producers of the morning news show. She encouraged the school to reinstate Putrino.

Putrino 209:
Email in support of Dr. Putrino from Lisa Wigdor, noting that her children previously were in schools where Dr. Putrino was principal. Wigdor noted that Putrino is energized, thoughtful, bright, organized, and competent. She asked him to reconsider his decision to remove Putrino.

Putrino 214:
Email from Shashana Smiley, an employee who was not offended by the video. Smiley noted that, through Mr. Pray's video, she noted that it expressed the difficulties facing parents trying to home school their children. She further noted that she has worked with Dr. Putrino for two years and that he has never shown any racial bias towards her or anyone that she knows. She attested that Putrino is compassionate to students and staff of all races. She further noted that she did not find the video racist, while she understood that some may be offended, the video was not shown in a racist way. Smiley noted that she has known Putrino for 17 years and that he is a person of integrity.

Putrino 215:
Letter from Peter & Mary Anne Vaughn, noting that they have known Dr. Putrino for over 10 years and that he a is professional, dedicated, respectful and effective school administrator. They further stated that the idea that he is at all biased, racist or disrespectful to anyone is "simply preposterous." The letter goes on to state that Putrino's number one priority has always been the success of the schools. It also noted that Josh Pray is a very well respected, popular comedian who has done a series of honest and funny sketches on the challenges of homeschooling. They further asked to reconsider their actions taken against Putrino.

Putrino 216:
Email from Sue Weintraub, PTA President of Northeast and Glenfield Schools, provided a statement of support for Dr. Putrino, noting that he was professional, thoughtful appropriate, and decent.

Putrino 222:
Dr. Putrino was one of the best, if not the best, principals they have seen in Montclair Public Schools. They state that the fact that there was not an investigation or any ability to remediate is extremely concerning.

Putrino 226:
Email from Diane Garland, noting that her children formerly had Dr. Putrino as a principal. She worked with Putrino as a board member of the PTA for Northeast and Glenfield schools, when he was the principal there. She noted that Putrino cares and is involved in the community. She stated that she viewed the video and saw that the intent of it was to be humorous, as the video is of a funny, stressed-out father. She also noted that the father in the video could be any nationality or race, and that the message is to appreciate teachers.

Putrino 231-232:
Email from Louis D'Amico, retiree after 40 plus years of teaching music in Montclair, in support of Dr. Putrino, noting that Putrino was his immediate superior as the assistant principal of Hillside Middle School. He noted that when Putrino was in this role he was a disciplinarian and would give a gentle consequence. Putrino would put emphasis on why the bad choice was made and seek a reason. He also noted that Putrino loved the students and they loved him. He would ascertain the child's circumstances outside of school and follow up with the child to see how they were doing. He also was fully engaged with the student body and would play ball with them during recess.

Given the undersigned's analysis of the video which reveals commendable messaging but through Pray's comedic style which involves speaking exaggeration, exacerbation, speaking loudly and, at times, in an uneducated manner, I cannot dismiss the charge since (for the above reasons) there was a risk of offending at least a portion of the convocation audience. Having said this, however, I find that two of the core allegations against Dr. Putrino cannot be sustained: (1) Pray's video perpetuating "The Myth of the Angry Black man" and (2) "During Dr. Putrino's presentation, numerous staff members, District parents, as well as members of the public objected to and were offended by the video. As a result, the video was stopped by District administration". (Ex. G through K, and O through P)".

The first accusation is pulled directly from the September 2, 2020 "Tap Into Montclair" Newspaper Article (Ex. M), i.e., that the video portrayed a Black man "yelling angrily about his children's virtual learning experience", a/k/a, the Myth of the Angry Black Man. Although the myth may not be known by everyone, a useful article on the subject – noted by Petitioner in its brief – is set forth below.

Emmanuel Acho on The Myth of The 'Angry Black Man' - Pan Macmillan[10]

Former NFL player and current Fox Sports analyst Emmanuel Acho explores the myth of the angry Black man, and the ways in which this damaging stereotype has been amplified and weaponized.

> To understand the Angry Black Man stereotype and why it's so harmful, we have to take a trip in the wayback machine to 1915. By this time, Black people had been legally free from enslavement for fifty years thanks to the Civil War and the passing of the Thirteenth Amendment. Two other amendments to our Constitution, the Fourteenth and Fifteenth, made Black people US citizens and gave Black men the right to vote, respectively. Things appear to be looking up for Black folks, right?
> Ah, no. In fact, by 1915, Black Americans had been stripped of many of the gains they made during Reconstruction – the short-lived period of racial progress made right after the Civil War. During Reconstruction, several Black men were elected to local, state and national office. Afraid of losing their grip on power, white people used laws, violence and downright dirty lies to regain control over Black people.

[10] https://www.panmacmillan.com/blogs/general/emmanuel-acho-myth-of-the-angry-black-man

One of the most enduring lies white people ever told about Black people is that Black men are predators out to harm white people. This myth is the granddaddy of the Angry Black Man myth. And D. W. Griffith made a fortune from this lie by using one of the newest inventions of his day – film – to launch one of the world's most dangerous and long-lasting slander campaigns.

Enter Griffith's film, the world's first blockbuster hit, The Birth of a Nation. Imagine being a kid in 1915 and going to a movie theater to watch the most anticipated film of the summer. You take your seat and begin shoving handfuls of popcorn into your mouth as the lights go down and the film begins to roll. The movie is a reimagining of the Civil War and the period after it, Reconstruction. As the film rolls along, you notice that the main Black male characters are actually played by white men wearing blackface. Even more shocking, those characters also happen to be the movie's primary villains. They are overly aggressive menaces and downright threatening, especially toward white women. At one point in the movie, a 'Black' man – played by a white dude in blackface – proposes marriage to a white woman. She's so distraught over the idea that she runs and jumps off a cliff. Triumphant music swells (it was the first movie ever to have a full orchestral score), and the audience breaks into applause. That's right. People all around you are clapping because the white woman in the movie would rather die than marry a Black man. What do you think their reaction and this film teaches you to believe about Black men? The Birth of a Nation was a huge success. Then-president Woodrow Wilson screened it at the White House and is said to have commented, 'it is like writing history with lightning. And my only regret is that it is all so terribly true.' In fact, the daring nature of the film rocked the country. Not only did it strengthen racist ideas about Black men across the fruited plain, it did so using cutting-edge film techniques like closeups and epic battles, ensuring it would also be a film people talked about for decades to come. Filmmakers and moviegoers in other parts of the world watched the film, picking up new film skills as well as infectious racist ideas.

The Birth of a Nation also inspired the rebirth of the Ku Klux Klan – a murderous white supremacist terror group. In the film, members of the KKK are depicted as heroes, riding in like the cavalry to protect Southern whites, white women in particular, from the clutches of menacing Black men. Many white people believed this myth. The murderous practice of lynching often had at its heart the goal of protecting the chastity of white women, or so white men claimed. Remember Emmett Till. The fourteen-year-old teenager was brutally murdered by two white men in 1955 after he was accused of whistling at a white woman. Decades later, the white woman who accused him, Carolyn Bryant Donham, admitted that Till never touched, threatened or harassed her. She had lied. And for that lie, Till, sadly, like so many Black men before him, paid with his life. This myth was used as a convenient excuse to harm any Black man or Black neighborhood white people deemed 'too uppity' (i.e., successful) for their comfort.

As with many myths, the Angry Black Man does have a kernel of truth to it. Not > the systematic assault on white women – the anger. In the time of slavery, Black men, women, and children were regularly abused by white people. Now, imagine you were a Black man, a father, and a husband, and you had to watch your loved ones be brutally treated by a white master or overseer. Day in and day out. White men and women even had the authority to sell your children or your wife away from you. And there was nothing you could do about it. Try to imagine the kind of hurt and anger you'd feel if this happened to you or to your children. And this would go on for generations. Added to this agony is the reality that at any moment, your life, and the lives of your loved ones, can be taken by white mobs for almost any trumped-up reason. Especially if you are accused of touching, disrespecting, harassing or harming a white woman.

>
> Let's bring it back to the present. These destructive stereotypes and perceptions about Black people are still alive and well in America and still threaten the lives of Black people even today. Those intent on doing Black people harm weaponize these stereotypes by in turn 'weaponizing whiteness.' We've already seen an example of this, with the murder of fourteen-year old Emmett Till. More recently, you may have heard of Karen, or rather, Amy Cooper, who, on May 25, 2020, called the cops on a bird-watcher in Central Park because he wanted her to leash her illegally unleashed dog.
> Bring it back up to the present, and this is what makes a George Floyd possible, a Trayvon Martin – anytime someone has been seen as a threat because they've first been seen as Black . . .

Based on the video as the best evidence, in my opinion, Petitioner has failed to sufficiently show that that the Pray video portrayed a Black man yelling angrily about his children's virtual learning experience or, stated differently, that Pray was perpetuating the "Myth of the Angry Black Man". It is acknowledged that Dr. Putrino testified that he was aware of the Angry Black Man stereotype. Obviously, Putrino did not believe it applied to the Pray video. Nor do I. Indeed, I infer that Pray, a Black man, did not make the video involving his own Black children with the intent to perpetuate racial stereotypes. Rather, Pray, with comedic emphasis, projects himself similar to comedian Kevin Hart, i.e., exacerbated, winded at times and, in Pray's case, at his wits end over his daily observations of his own two children during remote learning. It is this experience which provides the foundation for his newly found gratitude toward teachers – which is the message clearly intended by Dr. Putrino. In fact, the end of the Pray portion of Dr. Putrino's presentation leads into an on screen message, "Case Closed! You are appreciated!" (referring to the tremendous services teachers provide to students and their families).

That Mr. Pray speaks loudly does not mean that he is perpetuating anger or the "Myth of the Angry Black Man". Pray, for example, is not behaving in a manner which would cause anyone to feel intimidated, i.e., that he may become violent. It does not evoke the emotion propagated in Birth of a Nation, i.e., that harsh action must be taken against Blacks in order to protect Whites, White women in particular. That Pray states at one point that "I'm out of control" does not mean that he is even out of control due to anger. Putting aside the comedic context where any reasonable person would conclude that Pray is literally not "out of control", people certainly can be out of control due to a variety of emotions, e.g., anger, fear, joy, sadness, tiredness, or being exacerbated over a situation. At the very least, Petitioner has not sufficiently demonstrated that the Pray video unambiguously depicts an angry Black man any more so than it depicts an exacerbated man now responsible, for the first time, with monitoring his children's education every day during remote learning. Thus, based on the video alone, I find, Petitioner has failed to sufficiently demonstrate one of its core accusations against Dr. Putrino, i.e., that Putrino perpetuated the "Myth of the Angry Black Man".

As to the second specification, Dr. Ponds testified that when he viewed the comments in the chat, he had to stop the video because it was difficult for him to watch and also the chat was "really blowing up." When asked about what the comments stated, Ponds said that they were "pretty bad" but that he can't remember them (Tr. 1, p. 59, lines 20-22). Ponds further testified that the director of technology could not retrieve them (Tr. 1, p. 59, line 23 through p. 61, line 4). Thus, I find, the best evidence of gauging how many of the 1100+ convocation viewers expressed being offended prior to the video being shut down no longer exists.

In addition, Ms. Anglin testified that she was receiving text messages and emails during the video expressing outrage. However, either Anglin did not preserve the text messages and emails, she did not produce them, or she exaggerated. Again, the best evidence in support of Petitioner's allegation would have been the actual text messages and emails which, for reasons unknown, were not produced by Petitioner in its Statement of Evidence or otherwise.

Lastly, I observe, nothing precluded Petitioner from soliciting staff, parents or other member of the public to testify (or provide a written statement) as to having expressed offense or outrage during the convocation. Rather, after 13 months to piece its case together, Petitioner adduced the testimony of witnesses who brought forward the Tenure Charges (Dr. Ponds and Mr. Cooper), neither of whom expressed concern in the chat prior to the video shutting down; Rodney Jackson, who acknowledges that he had no reaction to the video, but recalls observing the chats; and Mr. Graber, who also did not express offense or outrage during the presentation and prior to the video being shut down. Although Petitioner introduced a handful of emails received from certain staff and members of the public, those exhibits reflect after-the-fact expressions of discontent over the video.

Also notable, while Petitioner remained free to argue that the Pray video had the potential of offending numerous staff members, parents, and members of the public, unfortunately the tenure charges filed speak in conclusory language, i.e., that numerous persons not only were offended and outraged, but they expressed their outrage prior to the video being shut down. Consequently, in the end, Petitioner must be held to its burden of proof and cannot rely instead on a mere assertion.

Based on the foregoing, due to an insufficiency of competent evidence or evidence which only leads to one reasonable conclusion, I dismiss those portions of the tenure charge alleging that Dr. Putrino showed a video of a Black man "yelling angrily" about his sons' remote learning experience and that numerous people expressed outrage in the chats prior to the video being shut down.

In addition to the dismissal of two core allegations contained in the tenure charge, there are other significant factors of mitigation in support of a reduced penalty. Generally speaking, in evaluating the propriety of the dismissal penalty, relevant factors "include the nature and circumstances of the incidents or charges, any evidence as to provocation, the teacher's prior record and present attitude, the effect of such conduct in the maintenance of discipline among the students and staff, and the likelihood of such behavior recurring." In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Erroll Goodwater, School District of the City of Camden, Agency Docket Nos. 185-7/11 and 187-7/11 (April 27, 2012). The Commissioner has previously stated that "unfitness to remain a teacher is best demonstrated by a series of incidents but might be shown by a single incident if sufficiently flagrant". In the Matter of Norma Pollard, 96 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 170 at 190.

Although the teacher in Pollard was found to have committed several offenses requiring dismissal from employment, the Commissioner found that even "the single allegation that respondent placed several pupils in a closet as punishment is sufficiently flagrant to warrant dismissal." Pollard, supra, at 190. Goodwater stands for the proposition that length of service alone is not reason to deny a penalty of termination if the act underlying the tenure charge is "sufficiently flagrant" under Fulcomer, supra, and Pollard, supra. However, arbitrators may rely on the teacher's prior record in determining the appropriate penalty if the past record is inherently relevant to the current offense. In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of James Dunckley, Rockaway Township, 2018 N.J. Super. Unpub. Lexis 615 (App. Div. March 19, 2018); West New York v. Bock, 38 N.J. 500 (1962).

Initially, it must be observed that this matter stands on its own unique facts. Petitioner sees only racism in the video with little recognition as to the underlying messaging. Respondent does not see racism in the video at all, instead, believing that he showed a humorous video as a means to convey an important message to all teachers, regardless of race. The witnesses of each party espouse similarly mixed viewpoints of the video and there is implicit uncertainty even on the part of Dr. Ponds. Given these findings, I first note that this matter is clearly distinguishable from the precedent offered by Petitioner in support of the dismissal penalty.

For example, in Karins v. City of Atlantic City, 152 N.J. 532, 554 (1988), a firefighter was removed from employment for uttering a racial epithet at on-duty police officer during traffic stop. Specifically, Firefighter Karins was intoxicated. One white police officer pulled Karins over to the side of the road. A Black officer arrived on the scene as backup. Since the white officer knew that Karins was an Atlantic City firefighter, he was essentially treating him with kid gloves, i.e., lecturing him on the hazards of drinking and driving but not subjecting him to a sobriety test. When the white officer greeted the Black officer with "Hey Bro", Karins interjected, "Oh no, don't start that nigger shit with me."

Karins bears absolutely no similarity to Dr. Putrino's showing of the Pray video which was perceived as offensive by some and humorous by others, including several Black educators and staff members. In contrast, no one could possibly find that using the "N" word in this context was humorous.

In Chaki, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings that:

> • ... Chaki made stereotypical and derogatory racial and ethnic statements to her first-period Honors Chemistry class at Franklin, including the following characterizations: African American students, and African Americans in general, as "lazy," or words to [*5] that effect; Hispanics as a labor force, or words to that effect; Caucasians as having average or inferior industry and means, or words to that effect; and Asians as an intellectually and economically superior "brainpower," or words to that effect.

- At that time, Chaki also made reference to her personal economic status as being superior to others.

- Most if not all of the students were shocked and offended by Chaki's statements.

- The statements were entirely inappropriate in a classroom setting, and completely insensitive to the students.

(Initial Decision at 11-12.)

Here, unlike the teacher in Chaki who made generalized statements knowingly stereotyping all Blacks, Asians, Caucasians and Hispanics, Dr. Putrino did not make disparaging statements (alone or via Josh Pray) about anyone or even speak in generalities, expressed or implied, about all Black people. Nor is there evidence that Putrino directly offended students.[11]

Furthermore, this matter is inapposite to In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Mark Blasko, Cherry Hill School District, Camden County, 1980 S.L.D. 987 (Initial Decision), 1980 S.L.D. 1002 (Commissioner Decision). In that matter, the ALJ/Commissioner found that Blasko had engaged in three separate incidents of conduct which garnered laughs from his seventh grade students, but which were, nonetheless, deemed offensive: (1) Blasko directed students to raise their hands if they were Jewish and then directed them to return "Christmas candy" given out to the remainder of the class; (2) he called one Jewish student over and measured his nose with a ruler, exclaiming that he "would like to measure a Jewish kid's nose". He then went on to measure his own nose, exclaiming "look at mine; he then measured other students noses as they filed out of the classroom; and (3) speaking another time with the same student whose nose he measured, the student informed Blasko that he had secured a summer job. Blasko replied that he thought "Jewish kids didn't have to work" and if they needed five or ten dollars you simply ask your parents." The Commissioner in Blasko, in rejecting the educators defense that it was a joke, noted that "[t]he Commissioner cannot condone the use of ethnic materials, jokes, or actions that ridicule any racial group directly or by implication"

Here, the undersigned's comments above are incorporated by reference. Moreover, the educator in Blasko was plainly addressing the size of a Jewish student's nose based on a stereotype of all Jewish men. Conversely, nothing in Dr. Putrino's presentation objectively leads one to believe that Putrino was consciously or unambiguously portraying (via Josh Pray) all Black men in any sense. Also, Mr. Blasko was unambiguously and without debate humiliating Jewish students in his class in a way that no one could possibly step forward and find humorous, save for a handful of seventh grade students, who likely did not know what emotion to express in real time. Thus, I find, the instant matter is significantly distinguishable from Blasko.

In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of George Zofchak, Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, 2002 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 564 is also opposite. A teacher was found guilty of, among five other charges, a sixth charge relating to the following remarks:

> I FIND that there is insufficient evidence to support a finding of guilt as to whether respondent is guilty of making defamatory statements to a student in September 2002 (P-30), when a student complained that Mr. Zofchak used childish and taunting language when disciplining the student. However, I FIND that on January 5, 1994, Mr. Zofchak said to the students in the Opportunity Room that they were "acting like monkeys and gorillas". I FIND that in February 1994, when students were discussing that a White Castle had been raided for the sale of illegal drugs, Mr. Zofchak stated that it should be called "Black Castle" instead of White Castle. I FIND that in April 1995, Mr. Zofchak, by his own admission and within the hearing of other school employees, referred to students as "fucking pigs" and "fucking animals" after some of them had thrown ketchup on Mr. Zofchak's shirt during lunchtime. Mr. Zofchak acknowledged that he was referring to the [*79] students. I FIND that these amount to the making of defamatory statements to or about students, and that respondent is GUILTY of this charge (Charge Two).

The dissimilarity between Zofchak and this matter is obvious. The statements of Zofchak are intentionally racist and expressly involve invidious characterizations of Blacks as a class.

Similarly, I find inapposite In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Ward Campbell v. Board of Education of the Princeton Regional School District, Mercer County, 95 N.J.A.R. 22 (Edu) 2011 (N.J. Adm), 1995 WL 507876 (made overtly racist comments to four students, sexist comments to another student and physically shoved another student, among other offenses).

In sum, the precedent provided by Petitioner – presumably the closest on point – involved use the "N" word; overt or intentional acts of discrimination involving generalized stereotyping of Blacks or Jews as a group; and misconduct which really has no reasonable counterpoint. In my opinion, such precedent stands in sharp contrast to Dr. Putrino's actions under the totality of the circumstances presented.

Independent of the precedent deemed inapposite, however, Dr. Putrino must take responsibility for those unquantified convocation viewers, including staff, who were hurt or offended. Also, Dr. Ponds was perhaps most hurt by the entire experience. Ponds was a new superintendent launching the official start of his first school year on the day of the convocation. Like the memory of newlyweds on the receiving end of a horrible wedding day toast, Dr. Ponds' memory of September 2, 2020 may fade, but it will likely never go away. Thus, even though Dr. Putrino did not realize that the Pray video could backfire on him, the hurt caused to at least some of the 1100+ and Dr. Ponds in particular cannot be minimized. Thus, even if liability is based solely "on the buck stops here" principle, the hurt caused must be factored in.

Having said this, I must reject Petitioner's attempt to amplify the seriousness of Dr. Putrino's offense by way of reliance on the murders of George Floyd, Ahmaud Arbery and Breonna Taylor. The assertion here is that somehow due to the tragic events which occurred from February of 2020 through May 25, 2020, Dr. Putrino – even though he did not see the backlash coming - should have been more sensitive to the feelings of the Black community when he presented the Josh Pray video on September 2, 2020. Testimony from one of Petitioner's witnesses said that "Montclair was on fire during the summer." Although I would not have been upset if Petitioner omitted this line of argument in support of its tenure charges, the fact that it did leaves me no choice other than to address it. In doing so, the relevant timeframe of the protests over these tragedies must be placed in context.

On February 23, 2020, Ahmaud Arbery, an unarmed 25-year-old Black man was murdered by three civilians while jogging through a White neighborhood. On March 13, 2020, Breonna Taylor, a 26-year-old Black Woman was fatally shot in her apartment. On May 25, 2020, George Floyd was murdered by Derek Chauvin as aided by three other Minneapolis police officers. Montclair schools, a diverse school district in New Jersey, was very involved in the protests which occurred worldwide. In fact, people of good conscience, of all races, ethnicities, religions, etc., protested the injustices, especially after George Floyd. Dr. Putrino participated and even facilitated some of the activities in protest of George Floyd's murder.

However, it is clear that the protests calmed following the arrest and charging of Derek Chauvin. A New York Times timeline of protests over George Floyd's murder culminates on June 3, 2020 when charges were filed against Derek Chauvin and the other Minneapolis police officers.[12] The senseless killings of Arbery and Taylor were almost six months old by the middle of the summer of 2020 and had been somewhat overshadowed by the George Floyd murder. Thus, while the horrific acts of racism witnessed by the nation in 2020 will no doubt be etched in the minds of all concerned for many years to come, I find that the level of outrage burning prior to Chauvin's arrest had at least dropped off in terms of protests two to three months prior to Dr. Putrino's showing of the September 2, 2020 video.

Moreover, invoking the names of Floyd, Arbery and Taylor in the context of Dr. Putrino showing the Josh Pray video, if anything, diminishes the import of those tragedies. Dr. Putrino bears no resemblance to Derek Chauvin or the trio who killed Ahmaud Arbery. Similarly, I find, that an unknown portion of convocation viewers may have been offended by the words and mannerisms of a Black comedian cannot be possibility compared with the victims of murder at the hands of racists private citizens in Georgia, and at the hands of police officers in Minneapolis. Thus, for these reasons, I reject Petitioner's attempt to amplify the alleged severity of Dr. Putrino's offense by way of its unfortunate reference to the racially motivated or disparate treatment murders of Taylor, Arbery and Floyd.

In addition, since Petitioner elected to eschew any kind of meaningful investigation, it did not become privy to, let alone evaluate, several mitigating factors, such as, the reasonable opposite view of the video expressed by several Black employees of the District or Dr. Putrino's prior longstanding record of positive endeavors in the areas of race relations. Since the good faith opposite view of the video has already been addressed, I will next address Putrino's prior record in the area of race relations.

Arbitrators may rely on the teacher's prior record in determining the appropriate penalty if the past record is inherently relevant to the current offense. In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of James Dunckley, Rockaway Township, 2018 N.J. Super. Unpub. Lexis 615 (App. Div. March 19, 2018); West New York v. Bock, 38 N.J. 500 (1962). Putrino's prior record is inherently relevant to the implicit allegations of racism underlying Petitioner's disciplinary action against him. A review of his record in this area both inside and outside of his employment is more than commendable:

Dr. Putrino

Dr. Putrino, while Principal of Glenfield Middle School, hired Dr. Samanthaa Anglin, a Black woman, as his vice principal in 2013 (Tr. 8, p. 1146, line 7 through p. 1147, line 1147). Putrino had a role in having her hired as the assistant principal through his recommendation to Dr. Penny McCormick and Ms. Felice Harrison (Tr. 8, p. 1148, lines 4-9). Anglin subsequently became the principal of Hillside Elementary School (Tr. 8, p. 1149, lines 8-9). Mike Chiles called Putrino for a recommendation for the position. Putrino recommended Anglin (Tr. 8, p. 1149, lines 12-15) and that he gave Chiles a "history of her success and experience at Glenfield" (Tr. 8, p. 1150, lines 6-8). He further testified that it was clear that Anglin was "destined for leadership" (Tr. 8, p. 1150, line 9).

Erika Pierce, a Black woman, who testified that she found the Pray video to be humorous and not offensive, became Vice Principal after Dr. Anglin on Dr. Putrino's recommendation (Tr. 8, p. 1148, lines 17-19). Putrino, as the principal, was in charge of the committee to solicit candidates, and then also ultimately the one charged with making the decision of who to recommend to the superintendent and the Board of Education (Tr. 8, p. 1148, line 21 through p. 1149, line 1). Putrino testified that he recommended Pierce for the position of assistant principal following Anglin (Tr. 8, p. 1149, lines 3-5). Currently, Pierce is the principal of Glenfield Middle School (Tr. 8, p. 1150, lines 14-15).

Pierce further testified that Putrino was "a very inclusive leader" and that he was "dedicated to making sure all children could succeed and thrive in a comfortable learning environment" (Tr. 7, p. 896, line 23 through p. 897, line 1).

Ms. Pierce testified that restorative justice was implemented in Glenfield under Dr. Putrino:

> Q: Could you describe how that [restorative justice] played into the administration of Glenfield?
>
> A: So Dr. Putrino was one of the first administrators to be restorative justice trained. And so once he came back from that training, even though I wasn't trained at the time, I knew that RJ was the driver in how we looked at all disciplinary issues and also our relationships with students (Tr. 7, p. 897, line 19 through p. 898, line 2).

Ms. Pierce went on to explain restorative justice:

> A: So my understanding of restorative justice is that students are required to repair any type of harm that they caused based on their behaviours, and also to look more introspectively into their behaviours and why they did what they did. So if we had a student that, you know, had some type of disciplinary infraction and it was a conflict with another student, let's say, not only would they get a consequence for their actions, but they would also be required to go back to that student, or whoever, whatever staff member, whoever they got into a conflict with, and they had to make sure they were repairing the harm that they may have caused in the midst of the conflict (Tr. 7, p. 898, lines 7-22).

Ms. Pierce testified that she never saw any hint of bias by Dr. Putrino during her time working with him at Glenfield (Tr. 7, p. 901, lines 18-20):

> So a lot of our discussions were always based around discipline when it came to inclusion. Because a lot of times you will see with staff members that bias, implicit, whatever, would usually come out in disciplinary practices or during times of the day that were unsupervised.
>
> And so whenever there were disciplinary actions that were taken, like if a teacher brought a grievance to us, we would always discuss what would be the most fair consequence for the student by looking at all aspects. We would look at past behaviour.
>
> We would look at maybe their motivations for why they did what they did. Is the student classified; do they have this pattern of behaviour. Does this teacher have an issue with the student.
> It was a very well rounded and methodical approach to discipline as opposed to, oh, the student hurt somebody, we're just going to suspend him (Tr. 7, p. 902, lines 1-23).

Finally, Ms. Pierce testified that Dr. Putrino worked closely with the Montclair Neighbourhood Development Corporation as well as the NAACP, (Mr. Pelham was involved with both organizations) (Tr. 7, p. 906, line 18 through p. 907, line 7). She described the working relationship between Putrino and Pelham as "a positive working relationship and it was a partnership" (Tr. 7, p. 907, lines 12-13). All of this stands in sharp contrast with Pelham's unsupported September 2, 2020 statement that Putrino had a long history of racial insensitivity.

Dr. Putrino had a part in physical education teacher Yvonne Shannon, a Black woman, receiving the Governor's Educator of the Year Award for her work at Glenfield Middle School (Tr. 8, p. 1161, line 4 through p. 1162, line 4).

During Martin Luther King, Jr. Day (2020), Dr. Putrino went door-to-door and hosted a project called Light Up the Streets, donating hundreds of little white votive candles in paper bags; went door-to-door handing out supplies to draw or write messages on the bags (Tr. 9, p. 1440, line 21 through p. 1441, line 1). That night, everyone put their bags out on the curbs, and the streets in Orange, N.J. were lit up in honor of Dr. King and his message (Tr. 9, p. 1441, lines 2-5).

Dr. Putrino helped Shashana Smiley gain an internship with a special education teacher when Smiley was in college and he was the principal of Glenfield Middle School (Tr. 10, p. 1629, lines 7-12).

Dr. Putrino, as Principal of Glenfield Middle School, created a newsletter titled "Glenfield Happenings" in order to communicated with families about events at the school (Tr. 8, p. 1152, lines 5-18) (Ex. R11). In January 2014, Glenfield Happenings spotlighted Martin Luther King, Jr. and the "most important assembly" that they have all year (Tr. 8, p. 1153, line 19 through p. 1154, line 11). Dr. Putrino also highlighted Maya Angelou (Tr. 8, p. 1155, lines 1-2). Putrino testified that he "started a traditional where every year we would highlight a prominent person reflective of Dr. King's message" (Tr. 8, p. 1155, lines 4-6). Putrino, who is an artist, further testified that in that particular year he had students paint a portrait of Maya Angelou (Tr. 8, p. 1155, lines 6-17). Putrino sketched out Angelou's portrait for the students to paint, and that he did that every year for whoever they were featuring (Tr. 8, p. 1160, line 24 through p. 1161, line 3). In 2017, for example, Putrino assigned students to do a live painting of a portrait of Barak Obama (Tr. 8, p. 1160, lines 16-23).

In January 2017, Dr. Putrino had Rabbi Israel Dresner, who was a freedom rider with Dr. King, come speak at the assembly (Tr. 8, p. 1157, lines 9-20). Putrino also testified about Glenfield Happenings discussing Dan Gill, a social studies teacher at Glenfield Middle School, come tell his story "Arthur's Chair" (Tr. 8, p. 1158, lines 7-21). Putrino testified that Dan's story, "Arthur's Chair," is about Dan growing up with a Black friend in a predominantly white neighborhood; Dan brought his Black friend (Arthur) to a party and the mother at the door said that Arthur could not come in because they didn't have a chair for him (Tr. 8, p. 1158, line 22 through p. 1159, line 6). Putrino testified that Dan did not attend the party and has since sought to use his missing chair as a symbol for always having a chair for every student in his classroom (Tr. 8, p. 1159, lines 7-10).

In addition, on an annual basis, Dr. Putrino hosts the Alpha Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity competition for young male students to write an essay on the world today, as filtered through the eyes of Dr. King (Tr. 8, p. 1159, lines 18-23).

Dr. Putrino also had an assembly about the Innocence Project, where he had Gerald Richardson, a Black man, who was previously incarcerated for 30 years, come and speak to students about the challenges you can face in life, about life decisions, and resilience (Tr. 8, p. 1164, line 15 through p. 1165, line 2).

Dr. Putrino also discussed how he supported and grew African American Career Day in celebration of Black History Month (Tr. 8, p. 1166, lines 3-12). At African American Career Day, Putrino had upwards of 40 to 45 community members speak to the students about different career paths (Tr. 8, p. 1166, lines 13-15).

Dr. Putrino deemed it important to bring the story of Montclair to his students; to highlight Montclair's march to desegregate schools; to bring in speakers to speak about their experiences in the civil rights movement in Montclair; to bring in speakers about their experiences with "redlining" in Montclair (Tr. 8, p. 1169, lines 1-25; p. 1170, lines 1-25; p. 1171, lines 1-25; p. 1172, lines 1-25), etc.

Dr. Putrino testified that he was so inspired by African American Career Day at Glenfield Middle School, that when he became principal of Renaissance Middle School, he created the Black History Month celebration and "community building" (Tr. 8, p. 1168, lines 19-25). This particular event was held in October and was a community building activity, highlighting Montclair's diversity, its role in the Civil Rights Movement, and its unique strategy for desegregating schools (Tr. 8, p. 1169, lines 1-7).

Dr. Putrino used the advisory restorative justice period in the morning to have students discuss questions related to civil rights and diversity in Montclair for the duration of the month (Tr. 8, p. 1170, lines 2-9). Putrino invited 20 or so prominent people from the town, parents, grandparents, teachers, lawyers, actors, board president, NAACP representatives, etc. to come and speak to students regarding civil rights (Tr. 8, p. 1170, lines 10-22).

Dr. Putrino sent out a newsletter following the murder of George Floyd as an all-inclusive message to unify the school community and to make sure the community knew where the school stood on this issue (Tr. 8, p. 1176, line 16 through p. 1177, line 5).

Dr. Putrino implemented the same program at Renaissance that they had at Glenfield, the full school assembly for Martin Luther King, Jr. Day (Tr. 8, p. 1180, lines 13-20). Putrino would begin playing the "I have a Dream" speech over the intercom, and then students would do a silent march to the all-purpose room where they were met with the video of the speech, and then the assembly would start – with bands, guest speakers, and dancers (Tr. 8, p. 1181, lines 4-18).

Dr. Putrino also marched in the annual African American Heritage parade (Tr. 8, p. 1194, line 20 through p. 1195, line 2). Putrino created a weekly bulletin to send out to the staff at Renaissance Middle School (Tr. 8, p. 1219, lines 1-3). He wrote a poignant piece about the murder of George Floyd to punctuate the tragedy (Tr. 8, p. 1219, lines 12-20).

Finally, Dr. Putrino testified about the MPA caravan to highlight the community's feelings about the murder of George Floyd and against police brutality (Tr. 8, p. 1221, lines 7-16). The caravan was organized by Putrino and Gayl Shepard (former MPA president and restorative justice leader in the District) (Tr. 8, p. 1222, lines 20-24). Putrino also had the students make signs regarding how they were feeling in the aftermath of George Floyd to hang on the fence outside of the school (Tr. 8, p. 1222, lines 1-13).

Rodney Jackson

Mr. Jackson testified that he worked with Dr. Putrino at Renaissance for two years (Tr. 3, p. 466, lines 6-9). Both teachers when they worked together (Tr. 3, p. 466, lines 13-14). As the leader of TURN, Jackson acknowledged that Putrino was very supportive of Black Lives Matter week of action that they did at their school (Tr. 3, p. 466, lines 20-22, 495, lines 8-10 and p. 503, lines 7-10). Jackson acknowledged that Putrino was a part of their meetings, and that he helped organize the TURN meetings (Tr. 3, p. 466, line 23 through p. 467, line 1). Under Dr. Putrino, Jackson received teacher of the year (Tr. 3, p. age 493, line 23 through p. 494, line 1 to 495, lines 8-10). He said he "believed" staff voted on it (Tr. 3, p. 494, lines 3-4).

When Dr. Putrino was principal, Jackson did not experience any issue or incident in which Putrino was not inclusive (Tr. 3, p. 502, lines 10-18). Putrino consistently tried to support racial justice and promote diversity and respect for diversity (Tr. 3, p. 502, lines 19-25). When Jackson was asked if Putrino implemented restorative justice at Renaissance, Jackson responded that he did not know – stating: "Did Dr. Putrino go to the District and say we want Renaissance to be a restorative justice school, I don't know if he did that" (Tr. 3, p. 507, lines 22-25). He acknowledged, however, "Renaissance is a restorative justice school and Putrino was the principal of it" (Tr. 3, p. 507, line 25 through p. 108, line 1). Lastly, Putrino and he together attended an MLK breakfast, a Saint Mark's breakfast, and an African American Parade (Tr. 4, p. 666, line 16 through p. 667, line 1).

Javon Pleasant

Javon Pleasant was asked to describe the impact Dr. Putrino had on him. Pleasant testified:

> He was excellent. I mean, I probably speak for the majority of the students who were in that eighth grade class, that graduating class. But, number one, he made science fun. He made the classroom feel safe. He made us feel like he was interested, genuinely and sincerely interested in our education and making sure that we're not only good people, but we're good students. He was my homeroom teacher, right, so we switched classes. But there was always this feeling when am I going to get back into Joe's class, right. It was fun to be there. It was just a, just a really great experience. And the impact he had on me, you know, obviously transcended into our relationship that we had beyond graduating from his class (Tr. 7, p. 1007, line 12 through p. 1008, line 4).

Mr. Pleasant testified that, "It felt safe to have conversations with him and to open up to him during that time" (Tr. 7, p. 1008, lines 23-25). Pleasant described his contact with Dr. Putrino during high school as follows:

> It was one of those things where he was just more or less checking in, how is the workload, you can do it. And that type of, you know, mentorship, you know. Because I was struggling, you know, coming from, I thought I was the top of the class in PS 41 and then went to a school that was way more rigorous and tough and way more demanding. So the times he would check in, it was more of how is school going, let me know if you need help with this, let me know if you need help with this, are you entering a science project this year? I've got some really cool ideas for you. It was always that type of relationship.
> You know, he knew the things that were kind of tough going on at home. So conversations would include how is mom, how are things at home. You know, just call me if you need someone to talk to. That type of thing (Tr. 7, p. 1038, line 7 through p. 1039, line 1).

He testified that having someone reach out to you through those high school years made him feel safe (Tr. 7, p. 1039, lines 18-22).

Mr. Pleasant testified that, after high school, he continued to have a relationship with Dr. Putrino, including attending barbecues at his house, meeting up to talk and have coffee, spending time with the Putrino family, e.g., attending Christmas parties and other small random events (Tr. 7, p. 1010, lines 14-22). Pleasant described Putrino as "a mentor" (Tr. 7, p. 1010, lines 22-23).

In fact, Mr. Pleasant had resided at the Putrino household in early 2006 because he was going through "personal stuff at home" and dealing with financial troubles (Tr. 7, p. 1010, line 25 through p. 1011, line 9). Pleasant had dropped out of school because he needed to work full time. He reached out to Putrino (Tr. 7, p. 1011, lines 14-19):

> And, you know, both him and his wife were just on the phone together on speaker. And I was just kind of explaining what was going on at home. Long story short, you know, at the end of the conversation, it wasn't my intentions, but Joe offered for me to come stay at his home for a short amount of time just to kind of get away from what I was going through and kind of get back on track, what I aspired to do from an academic standpoint (Tr. 7, p. 1011, line 22 through p. 1012, line 7).

Mr. Pleasant testified that he moved in with Dr. Putrino and readmitted himself back into Montclair State University (Tr. 7, p. 1012, lines 9-22). He stayed with the Putrinos for seven or eight months that year in 2006 (Tr. 7, p. 1012, line 25 through p. 1013, line 1). After that, with Ms. Putrino expecting, Pleasant, on his own initiative, moved into an apartment (Tr. 7, p. 1013, lines 2-5).

On cross-examination, Mr. Pleasant testified that he had his own bedroom in the Putrino's house, and that Dr. Putrino's in-laws also lived in an apartment in the basement (Tr. 7, p. 1047, lines 10-23). He never paid rent or paid for food, but he tried to not take advantage of the situation despite them offering to buy groceries he preferred, etc. (Tr. 7, p. 1048, line 6 through p. 1049, line 6). He spent most nights at the Putrino's, but sometimes stayed at his mother's one night a week to be close to work/his girlfriend or for family gatherings (Tr. 7, p. 1049, line 8 through p. 1050, line 3).

Finally, Mr. Pleasant testified that the small amount of time he was able to stay with Dr. Putrino was "huge" because it allowed him to re-enroll in school. Otherwise, he may not have returned to school and graduated, and he may not have had the profession that he has now (Tr. 7, p. 1013, line 16 through p. 1014, line 11). Pleasant insisted that Putrino never exhibited any bias (Tr. 7, p. 1014, lines 12-14).

Shashana Smiley

Shashana Smiley knew Dr. Putrino prior to working at Renaissance. Putrino was her sixth grade science teacher when she was a student at Renaissance Middle School (Tr. 7, p. 929, lines 12-18). Smiley stayed in touch with Putrino after being his student (Tr. 7, p. 929, lines 19-21). She had a mentor-mentee relationship with him (Tr. 7, p. 929, lines 22-25).

On cross-examination, Ms. Smiley testified that after she was Dr. Putrino's student, she maintained contact with him via email (Tr. 7, p. 961, lines 4-21). She testified that she would visit Putrino during her lunch period when she was in 7th and 8th grade. Smiley explained that Putrino saw that she was struggling with her home life and that she was able to honestly confide in him (Tr. 7, p. 963, lines 5-24). Smiley was asked about how often she stopped by his classroom. She testified that it was about three times per week in 7th grade and maybe one time per week in 8th grade (Tr. 7, p. 964, lines 1-20). In 8th grade Smiley would email Putrino if she was having a bad morning and that he would respond and offer words of wisdom (Tr. 7, p. 965, lines 3-7).

On cross-examination, Ms. Smiley was asked about how often she visited Dr. Putrino when she was in high school and why. Smiley responded:

> But the reason for my visits to Dr. Putrino was still for me to be able to still have a trusted adult in my life that was in the education system, that I could still talk to, that would offer me advice, that I could depend on.
> And I understand that you are asking these questions to test my credibility. But I will say this. I said it to Dr. Putrino more than once. If I didn't have a strong moral compass in my life, and that would be Dr. Putrino, there are so many times where I would be stepping off the wrong path, and he was there to guide me back on to say maybe that's not the best idea. Maybe you don't want to do that. Think about other options, think about your future. And so many educators now don't take the time to do that with their students (Tr. 7, p. 970, lines 6-23).

Ms. Smiley maintained contact with Dr. Putrino after she graduated from Essex County College (Tr. 7, p. 930, lines 7-9). Putrino is now the godfather of Smiley's first child, her son (Tr. 7, p. 931, lines 10-15). She testified that she asked Putrino to be her son's godfather because "he has a strong moral compass, and when I was a student at Renaissance, I was going through a lot of things. And he was the only staff member who took the time to notice what I was going through. I felt safe and protected. And ultimately, I wanted the same for my children" (Tr. 7, p. 931, lines 17-23).

On cross-examination, Ms. Smiley clarified that Dr. Putrino is actually the godfather of both her son and her daughter (Tr. 7, p. 974, lines 7-9).

She stated:

Q: So when was the next time after you graduate that you had contact with Dr. Putrino?

A: When I was pregnant with my son. So 2015.

Q: So how did that communication come about, did you reach out to him, did he reach out to you?

A: I reached out to him and I let him know that I was expecting with my then fiancé and now husband. And I told him, I had a very heart-to-heart conversation with him, a very in-depth conversation with him.

And I told him that I appreciated his guidance as a student. I appreciated his guidance in my life at that point. And what I wanted for my child was someone who would make them feel safe, create a safe space, a judgment-free zone, just as he had created for me. And I asked him if he would be willing to be my son's godfather. And he said yes.

I then asked him when I was pregnant with my daughter in 2017, if he would be my daughter's godfather. And he said yes.

And at that point, I was married and our families had communicated with each other (Tr. 7, p. 973, line 6 through p. 974, line 6).

Lastly, Ms. Smiley testified that Dr. Putrino never exhibited any bias (Tr. 7, p. 937, lines 4-10).

Ibn Shakoor

Ibn Shakoor testified that Dr. Putrino was his eighth grade science teacher in 1999-2000 (Tr. 7, p. 1071, lines 5-6). He credited Putrino as a teacher and a person:

We just connected with him. Well, speaking for myself, I connected with him. He was just like a genuine person. He used to stay after school, offer extra time. And we just kind of, like, were in sync.

So from there, after eighth grade, throughout my entire, not just my academic career, but even developing as a young man, we just always stayed in contact (Tr. 7, p. 1071, lines 6-15).

Mr. Shakoor testified that their contact was mutual (Tr. 7, p. 1071, lines 18-19). He stated that he was having aspirations to be an educator and being creative and that Dr. Putrino was both of those things. Thus, Putrino was a valuable resource and a go-to person for Shakoor (Tr. 7, p. 1071, line 25 through p. 1072, line 5). Shakoor maintained contact with Putrino through going out to eat, social media, talking over the phone, and also a professional connection (Tr. 7, p. 1072, lines 14-18).

On cross-examination, Mr. Shakoor testified that he has had a relationship with Dr. Putrino for 20 years and that there were stretches of time where they would communicate and see each other more often, and then times when he didn't see him as much (Tr. 7, p. 1089, line 14 through p. 1090, line 1). That his contact would fluctuate since he was 13 or 14 years old (Tr. 7, p. 1090, lines 1-2). Between 2005 and 2020, Shakoor estimated that he saw Putrino maybe three to five times (Tr. 7, p. 1097, line 18 through p. 1098, line 1).

Mr. Shakoor testified that Dr. Putrino had brought him in as the keynote speaker for Women's Month or Black History Month to speak on culturally relevant content with positive messages (Tr. 7, p. 1072, lines 19-24 through p. 1073, lines 2-8).

Finally, Mr. Shakoor also testified that Dr. Putrino is his mentor for his doctorate (Tr. 7, p. 1073, lines 21-25).

Susan Weintraub offered the following:

> Q: How would you, based on your observations, how would you describe Dr. Putrino's approach towards inclusivity? And by inclusivity, I mean taking into account the diversity of the student population and the parent population in the schools in which he was assigned?
>
> A: Well, I believe that Joe envisioned leadership in the PTA and at the school as needing to be representative of the population of the school. And when he had the opportunity to support in their promotions to assistant principalships, he absolutely, I feel, brought along women of color, because he honestly believes that you've got to have a seat at the table in order to even the playing field.

> And I believe that Dr. Putrino actively supported Sam Anglin and Erika Pierce, because he felt it was important to promote women of color who were very capable.
>
> And so I feel like Dr. Putrino's mindset about inclusivity is reflected in many ways, in inviting and promoting people to join the PTA of different backgrounds, in taking into account every student at his schools, and also promoted and supported minorities advancement in the school District (Tr. 7, p. 997, line 2 through p. 998, line 4).

Finally, on cross-examination, Ms. Weintraub acknowledged that her testimony was based on the time she was the president of Glenfield PTA (2011-2013) (Tr. 7, p. 998, line 25 through p. 999, line 6).

Beth Calamia Scheckel

Ms. Scheckel had been President of the PTA at Renaissance when Dr. Putrino last served as principal (Tr. 7, p. 1106, lines 9-13). She testified that Renaissance had children of different religions, races, socioeconomic status, and that they all felt like they were embraced as part of the Renaissance community (Tr. 7, p. 1115, lines 7-16). She said that Putrino "wanted to level the playing field for all students. Regardless of their heritage or their economic status or their level of intellect, he embraced all students" (Tr. 7, p. 1114, lines 15-24). As part of his effort to level the playing field, Ms. Scheckel testified that Putrino was able to secure a "Chromebook" for every student. . "And that is important in the bigger scheme of things, because there are some families in Montclair where the only tech they have at home might be like a mom's smart phone. And by having a Chromebook to take home, that allows students to have a more equitable foundation for technology" (Tr. 7, p. 1115, lines 24-24 through p., 1116, lines 1-9).

Ms. Scheckel also testified that what made Renaissance unique was that they implemented a restorative justice program and that was a big part of Renaissance's identity and what the PTA focused on also (Tr. 7, p. 1112, lines 6-16).

Restorative justice is a system that makes – that builds up the community. And then it's a way to build up the feeling of community, so then when there's some sort of transgression, there's already something to restore.

And it focuses on the obligation of the transgressor to make things right. And it also emphasizes the engagement of all of the people involved, teachers, staff, whatever community there is, including the students. It's a way to think of disciplining students in a different kind of way so that there is not an emphasis on, say, in school suspension, but rather a way to use discipline in the ancient way of what discipline means, which means to teach.

I can say that coming as a Latin teacher, discipline comes from the idea of being a student and being a teacher.

And in Montclair, you know, there are, like other Districts, there are times when it seems like the students who are being disciplined maybe were students of color or minority students. Restorative justice, to me, gives the population of the school a more level playing field and it emphasizes helping students rise up rather than pushing them down with a negative kind of discipline (Tr. 7, p. 1113, line 4 through p. 1114, line 7).

Although not directly related to the subject of race, one observation by former Superintendent Kendra Johnson stands out as to Dr. Putrino's acumen as a leader of Renaissance Middle School:

Feedback

Dr. Putrino was masterful in organizing a redesign of Renaissance Middle School. He presented the proposed redesign at the November 19, 2018 Board Meeting (see the attached artifact). In particular, Dr. Putrino demonstrated the ability to create buy-in from a textured staff, a fractured parent group and a unique student community. He focused on rethinking the curriculum, presentation of physical school environment while also calming tensions with adult stakeholder groups. In one year, he was able to change a school community around. This evaluator acknowledges and honors his talent and commitment in this regard.

In light of the foregoing, I find that a consideration of Dr. Putrino's prior work record and off duty endeavors are relevant factors of mitigation in relation to the penalty to be imposed in this matter.

Lastly, just cause entails the even enforcement of work rules, i.e., treating like offenses proportionately. This precept of just cause is also known as the prohibition against "disparate treatment." Where disparate treatment is demonstrable, arbitrators have the authority, if not the duty under just cause, to modify a disciplinary penalty. Disparate treatment is an affirmative defense. State of Ohio, 99 LA 1169, 1173 (Rivera, 1992); Shell Pipe Line Corp., 97 LA 957, 961 (Baroni, 1991). Thus, "[i]n order to prove disparate treatment, a union (or employee) must show (1) that he or she was treated differently than others and (2) that the circumstances surrounding his/her offense were substantially like those of individuals who received more moderate penalties. Genie Co., 97 LA 542, 549 (Dworkin, 1991). Where the union does prove that rules and regulations have not been consistently applied and enforced in a nondiscriminatory manner, arbitrators will refuse to sustain a discharge or will reduce a disciplinary penalty. Gemala Trailer Corp., 108 LA 565 (Nicholas, Jr., 1997); Schuller Int'l, 107 LA 1109 (Hockenberry, 1996); Mead Chilpaco Mill, 106 LA 1066 (Feldman, 1996); and, Geauga County, 106 LA 280 (DiLeone, 1996).

As stated by Arbitrator George Nicolau in Northwest Airlines, 89 LA 943, 953, different treatment is not necessarily disparate treatment; arbitrators have long held that circumstances must be considered and that a wide range of factors – length of service, prior work record, degree of culpability – can properly be taken into account; indeed, if those factors are not taken into account and "equal" treatment is imposed, that in itself might be disparate. See, e.g., Lockheed Martin Missiles & Space, 108 LA 482 (Gentile, 1997) (the instigator could be punished more harshly with discharge, even though other employees received on warnings); Ramsey County, Minn., Sheriff's Dep't, 100 LA 208, 212 (Gallagher, 1992) (3-day suspension proper for deputy involved in automobile accident when penalty is assessed based on degree of fault); and Chanute Mfg. Co., 99 LA 20, 22 (Levy, 1992); S.B. Thomas, 92 LA 1055, 1057-58 (Chandler, 1989) (prohibition against disparate treatment only requires like treatment under like circumstances; these circumstances include nature of offense, degree of fault, and mitigating or aggravating circumstances); Fry's Food Stores of Ariz., 99 LA 1161, 1168 (Hogler, 1992)(discharge for sexual harassment upheld even though other employees charged with sexual harassment were only suspended or demoted); Southern Ind. Gas & Elec. Co., 90 LA 1311, 1314 (Dilts, 1988) (finding different penalties for same offense was justified because employees had different disciplinary records).

In the present matter, I am satisfied that Respondent has more than sufficiently demonstrated that he was treated in a disparate manner in relation to Assistant Vice Principal, Reginald Clark. While Dr. Putrino was out on paid leave, Clark, a Black assistant principal at Montclair High School, sent out a district-wide eblast celebrating the life of Meir Kahane for Jewish Heritage Month. Kahane is a documented racist and known terrorist. As may be expected, this action was met with outrage from rabbis and other members of the Jewish community. An ensuing newspaper article reported Clark's offense:

> Newspaper article entitled "Montclair Schools Deeply Regret Honoring Ultra-Nationalist Rabbi Meir Kahane" dated May 11, 2021, in which Meir Kahane was described as a "racist, violent terrorist." Kahane, who was honored as a part of Jewish American Heritage Month, founded a far right terrorist group that has been acknowledged by the FBI as such since 2001 as is designated as a hate group by Southern Poverty Law Center. The correspondence sent honoring Kahane noted that his group's purpose was to combat antisemitism; however, his group orchestrated countless terrorist attacks in the U.S. and abroad, and has engaged in intense harassment of foreign diplomats, Muslims, Jewish scholars and community leaders, and officials. In response to public outcry for honoring Kahane, the school issued "letters of correction." Congregation Shomrei Emunah Rabbi David

> Greenstein noted that the choice to honor Kahane was "atrocious." Associate Rabbi and Director of Congregational Learning at Montclair synagogue Bnai Keshet Ariann Weitzman said she was "flabbergasted" when a congregant sent her the announcement email honoring Kahane because he's a "terrorist," Weitzman said. "To honor a racist, violent terrorist as a symbol of Jewish pride is confused to say the least."

Dr. Ponds used tempered language when questioned about the incident. For example, he acknowledged that he did receive some calls "about the situation at the high school" (Tr. 1, p. 202, lines 9-12). Ponds testified that the rabbi he spoke with was upset and wanted to have a meeting about the situation (Tr. 1, p. 202, line 25 through p. 203, line 6). When asked if Ponds believed Clark's offense to be stirring the pot of antisemitism, Ponds responded that "anything that perpetuates a stereotype is bad" (Tr. 1, p. 203, lines 22-25). However, in my opinion, Ponds' answer was non-responsive to the question. Clark did not perpetuate a stereotype. He honored a known terrorist. Unlike the Pray video, there is no one who could reasonably express a reaction other than outrage to the Kahane publication.

Dr. Ponds also referred to Clark as "a young man", rationalizing that Clark may have pulled up information on Kahane from "Wikipedia" and accepted what was reported without exercising due diligence (Tr. 2, p. 331, lines 12-16). Not only is Clark's age irrelevant (he is an assistant principal) but how Clark missed even Wikipedia (or any other website) information about Kahane is perplexing. Indeed, this prominent paragraph about Kahane's life, taken from a conspicuously displayed Wikipedia page, reads:

> In 1968, Kahane was one of the co-founders of the JDL in the United States. In 1971, he co-founded Kach ("Thus"), a new political party in Israel. That same year, he was convicted in New York for conspiracy to manufacture explosives and received a suspended sentence of five years.[5] In Israel, he was convicted for plotting to blow up the Libyan embassy in Brussels in revenge for the massacre of 11 Israeli athletes at the 1972 Summer Olympics in Munich, receiving a suspended sentence and probation. In 1984, he became a member of the Knesset, when Kach gained its only-ever seat in parliamentary elections. Kahane was boycotted across the aisles of the > Knesset, and would often speak in front of an empty chamber. The Israel Broadcasting Authority similarly avoided coverage of his activities. The Central Elections Committee tried to ban Kahane from running in the 1984 elections, but this ban was overturned by the Supreme Court because there was no law to support it. In response, the Knesset approved an ad hoc law that allowed for the banning of parties that are "racist" or "undemocratic". In 1988, despite polls showing Kach gaining popularity due in part to the ongoing First Intifada, Kach was banned from entering that year's elections. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Meir_Kahane

Similarly, a simple search Google search of "Meir Kahane" leads to several conspicuous drop down headings – one of which is, "Meir Kahane Assassin."

In conjunction with the Kahane incident, Dr. Ponds was questioned about a separate article reporting swastikas and graffiti in the school in 2019-20 (Tr. 1, p. 207, lines 7-12). Ponds admitted to being aware of one of the situations (Tr. 1, p. 207, lines 13-14). When questioned about whether naming Meir Kahane as the person to celebrate Jewish heritage month potentially exacerbated the problem, Dr. Ponds testified that he believed celebrating someone who does harm is wrong and could cause harm if you do not act proactively and address it quickly (Tr. 1, p. 207, lines 15-23).[13]

In addressing Assistant Principal Clark's misconduct, Dr. Ponds issued a District-wide email apology for honoring Kahane. The apology noted that it might be very painful and that "we deeply regret this eblast." Ponds noted that he was truly sorry for offending our families, staff, and community". Unlike Dr. Putrino, however, Assistant Principal Clark was given a forum to apologize and take full responsibility for honoring Kahane. In effect, Clark was given the benefit of the doubt where Putrino was not. And while Clark's apology was accepted by the administration, Putrino's apology was deemed insincere (based on Mr. Cooper's circular reasoning, which could have been equally applied to Clark i.e., if Clark was sincerely sorry for the incident it never would have happened in the first place).

[13] However, the harm was already caused by the District-wide publication of Kahane as honoree of Jewish Heritage Month.

In addition, Dr. Ponds confirmed that Assistant Principal Clark was not tenured at the time this incident took place nor is he currently tenured. Nonetheless, his contract was renewed (Tr. 1, p. 208, lines 2-20). It is believed that, in contrast to Dr. Putrino's dismissal action, Clark received a mere two to three day suspension and had to apology to the Jewish Community, in general, and to handle personally any further calls.

Dr. Ponds attempted to distinguish Assistant Principal Clark from Dr. Putrino by stating that Putrino "thought about it" and Clark just didn't do enough research (Tr. 1, p. 208, line 25 through p. 209, line 6). However, as stated previously, even cursory research would reveal that Meir Kahane was a known terrorist. Moreover, Clark did not testify and, hence, Petitioner's attempt to explain Clark's mindset was ultimately unavailing. Also, since Petitioner did not interview Putrino or conduct any meaningful investigation, Ponds was not in a position to judge how much time Putrino spent on vetting the video versus what Clark actually knew about Kahane.

Indeed, Dr. Putrino obtained positive feedback from members of the Black community prior to showing the video on September 2, 2020. Ms. White (a Black second grade teacher) provided the video to Putrino's sister-in-law who, in turn, provided it to him. Putrino also knew that the Pray video had been aired on the Today show, that it went viral, and that it was also featured in commercials on YouTube and Google. Thus, if anything, Putrino exercised far more due diligence than Clark without any negative feedback. Conversely, there appears to be no convincing reason why Clark did not discover the true identity of Meir Kahane prior to publicly celebrating Kahane for Jewish Heritage month.

In addition, I did not find persuasive Mr. Cooper's attempt to explain the minor discipline which Clark received. Cooper testified that he was not instructed to investigate Clark with regard to the article about Kahane. He also testified that he did not have any conversations with Dr. Ponds regarding Clark's apology (Tr. 5, p. 762, lines 1-18). Cooper was aware that people in the community were upset to have Kahane featured in an article, but that he was not asked to do anything about it (Tr. 5, p. 762, line 23 through p. 763, line 6). Rather, Cooper testified that the Kahane issue was addressed "at the building level"; and, in contrast, he was instructed by Ponds to be involved in the convocation video and Dr. Putrino (Tr. 5, p. 763, lines 7-25).

Plainly, however, Dr. Ponds and/or Mr. Cooper – if they were so inclined – could have addressed Assistant Principal Clark directly, especially given the magnitude of the offense and the involvement of rabbis speaking on behalf of the Jewish community who were obviously offended. Indeed, it is disingenuous, to say the least, that Dr. Ponds was somehow bound by the judgment of a building principal on a matter of presumably of the same import as Dr. Putrino's alleged offense. In fact, the undersigned asked Mr. Cooper to assume that Putrino was an assistant principal at the time he showed the Pray video. The question posed was whether central office would have reviewed or reconsidered a letter of reprimand issued by Putrino's hypothetical building principal in response to the Pray video? Cooper responded that it could have (Tr. 5, p. 816, lines 18-24).

Additionally, in contrast to Dr. Putrino, who is a twenty-year educator with an unblemished record, Assistant Principal Clark was not tenured. Notwithstanding that Clark offended the Jewish community, Clark's contract was renewed. In contrast, Putrino was placed on administrative leave three hours after the convocation, public statements of a conclusory and reputationally damaging nature were made, and Petitioner's dismissal was etched in stone.

In the end, I am satisfied that Petitioner's treatment of Dr. Putrino was noticeably disparate in relation to its treatment of Assistant Principal Clark. In my opinion, Clark's offense should have been regarded by Petitioner as equally as serious. As noted previously, unlike the Pray video, there is no other school of thought over the offensiveness of the Kahane bulletin published by Clark. That Putrino is a twenty-year educator and Clark a non-tenured assistant principal should have resulted in more, not less, favorable treatment of Putrino. That Clark's apology was enough for Dr. Ponds and Mr. Cooper, but Putrino's was viewed as insincere, is likewise unjustifiable. Ultimately, unless we are to conclude that an educator has more leeway when offending members of the Jewish community as compared to offending a portion of the Black community, I see no basis under just cause to justify Petitioner's widely disparate treatment of Dr. Putrino.

Finally, as to Petitioner's concern about reintegrating Dr. Putrino into the school district in light of the fallout from the September 2, 2020 video, i.e., the impact of returning Putrino to the school district, a few comments are in order.

First, the very task of reintegration would not have been nearly as difficult had Petitioner appropriately handled this matter in a private, rather than in a public way, i.e., had Petitioner avoided making contemporaneous public statements condemning the showing of the video as racist and promising to take quick action – which any reasonable person would construe as action against its presenter, Dr. Putrino. In fact, if Petitioner conducted a full investigation of Dr. Putrino's prior commendable record in the area of diversity and inclusion, and taken into account the opposite viewpoint to the Video, it had an opportunity to impose a lesser penalty than dismissal which could have allowed everyone concerned to move on. Instead, by analogy, it pulled the plug almost immediately.

Second, out of 1100+ viewers of the convocation video and after 13 months to prepare its case, Petitioner ultimately produced only a few witnesses and a few more emails than that objecting to the Pray video as racially offensive. The supporting statement by the interim MPA President at the open public Board meeting served more as a statement of support for a new superintendent than it did as a critique of the Pray video or Putrino's actions. In contrast, it is clear from this record that Dr. Putrino enjoyed the support of staff and parents both prior to and after September 2, 2020. In fact, Dr. Putrino did take immediate action to ameliorate any hurt caused to his staff. Thus, given the foregoing factors, and with the passage of time, the size of the challenge may not be as daunting as Petitioner apparently believes.

Third, Petitioner prides itself on resolving interpersonal and social disputes via "restorative justice." Ms. Beth Calamia Scheckel testified that what made Renaissance unique was that they implemented a restorative justice program and that was a big part of Renaissance's identity and what the PTA focused on also (Tr. 7, p. 1112, lines 6-16). She described "restorative justice" as follows:

> Restorative justice is a system that makes – that builds up the community. And then it's a way to build up the feeling of community, so then when there's some sort of transgression, there's already something to restore.
>
> And it focuses on the obligation of the transgressor to make things right. And it also emphasizes the engagement of all of the people involved, teachers, staff, whatever community there is, including the students. It's a way to think of disciplining students in a different kind of way so that there is not an emphasis on, say, in school suspension, but rather a way to use discipline in the ancient way of what discipline means, which means to teach.
>
> I can say that coming as a Latin teacher, discipline comes from the idea of being a student and being a teacher.
> And in Montclair, you know, there are, like other Districts, there are times when it seems like the students who are being disciplined maybe were students of color or minority students. Restorative justice, to me, gives the population of the school a more level playing field and it emphasizes helping students rise up rather than pushing them down with a negative kind of discipline (Tr. 7, p. 1113, line 4 through p. 1114, line 7).

In fact, Dr. Putrino conducted a restorative justice session immediately after the acrimony unfolded and before being placed on leave. Dr. Putrino testified that 2 out of his 30 staff members expressed to him that they were offended. He directly apologized to them. In Exhibit I, an email from Rodney Jackson to Dr. Ponds, Jackson expresses that he was pleased that the video was stopped. However, Jackson's email goes on to state that he wished there was an opportunity to discuss why it was racist and noted that many of us don't understand what the video was reinforcing. Jackson conducted a restorative justice meeting the next day. He received mixed feedback as to who was offended and who was not offended. Like Assistant Principal Clark, Dr. Putrino should be afforded an equal opportunity to apologize to those who still may harbor resentment which, in turn, would lead to a more productive reintegration.

In light of the foregoing, while I sustain the convocation video tenure charge, in part (to the extent set forth hereinabove), I find that the penalty of dismissal is not consistent with just cause based on (1) the dismissal of two of the core allegations; (2) Dr. Putrino's prior long-term unblemished employment history, which includes numerous anecdotes of him fostering inclusion and diversity, both within and outside of his place of employment; and (3) the unjustifiable variation in Petitioner's treatment of Dr. Putrino versus Assistant Principal Clark. Accordingly, I will modify the disciplinary penalty to the disciplinary penalty implemented for Assistant Principal Clark. Petitioner shall immediately offer reinstatement to Dr. Putrino as Principal of Renaissance School. To the extent that Putrino was suspended without pay for more than the Clark suspension, Petitioner is directed to provide corresponding back pay and all applicable benefits of employment. To the extent that Putrino has suffered no loss in pay, then he must be returned to his position at the conclusion of the Clark suspension without pay.

Lastly, I will retain jurisdiction to the extent that the parties dispute the precise penalty which was issued to Assistant Principal Clark.

Part II

Dismissal of Tenure Charges Pars. 20-23 (The 2020-2021 Schedule)

The second part of the tenure charges pertain to the 2020-2021 school schedule allegedly created by Dr. Putrino:

> 20. In or about February and March 2021, Petitioner conducted an audit of the teachers' schedules for the Renaissance Middle School. A detailed review of the teachers' schedules at the Renaissance Middle School allegedly revealed that no teacher is teaching the contractual allotted 1250 minutes per week. Moreover, it is alleged that there are numerous teachers teaching less than 1000 minutes per week. As a result, the Renaissance Middle School was allegedly overstaffed to the approximate cost of $767,447.00 to the District. This allegedly significant financial loss to the District did not result in more student contact time and/or smaller classes (Ex. S).
> 21. Pursuant to the 2018-2021 Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Montclair Board of Education and the Montclair Education Association, Article 8.1(i): "Pupil contact time is defined as the number of scheduled class minutes to which a teacher is assigned classroom instruction and/or supervisory duties. It specifically excludes homeroom and the ten (10) minutes before and twenty (20) minutes after school. The pupil contact time for classroom teachers assigned to the high school and the middle school shall not exceed 1250 minutes per week and 1500 minutes per week at the elementary school, average over the school year." (Ex. Q).
>
> 22. As Principal of the Renaissance Middle School, it is alleged that Respondent was responsible for preparing the teachers' schedules (Ex. R).
> 23. Thus, the alleged significant financial loss to the District, to the detriment of the students, by teachers allegedly being overstaffed, occurred during Respondent's appointment as Principal to the Renaissance Middle School.

In support of the tenure charges, Petitioner relied on Exhibit S, which sets forth a summary created by Damen Cooper based upon a schedule(s) he received from one of several potential sources (Cooper's testimony vacillated), i.e., Dr. Ponds, Major Jennings or "from the computer:"

Teacher Number	Minutes Taught	Missing Minutes	FTE %	Current Salary	Salary based on minutes worked per week	District Loss

It is acknowledged that for each teacher numerically set forth in the color-coded summary chart, Exhibit S houses an attached document which purportedly sets forth the number of classes (basic and elective) taught during the week. For example, the first document following the color-coded summary chart purportedly aligns with Teacher 1 who earns $84,185.00 annually. The summary data alleges that Teacher 1 taught 1017 minutes per week in comparison to the 1250 minutes maximum. Subsequent pages follow in a similar manner for Teachers 2-29.

Pursuant to Dr. Putrino's motion to dismiss, on March 1, 2022, the undersigned issued a decision allowing Petitioner's Tenure Charges to go forward and preserving Putrino's objections:

> In conclusion, I find that Petitioner is entitled to attempt to make out its case against Respondent based on the evidence contained in Exhibit S. By the same token, Respondent is entitled to explore on cross-examination – without the necessity to testify himself – the purported deficiencies in Exhibit S, which both he and his expert have identified:
>
> 1. The data provided by the district in Exhibit S is incomplete. It is unclear what school year this data represents. Furthermore, none of the teachers' schedules indicate the teacher's name and only one indicates the subject area taught. This makes any analysis of district numbers very problematic.
>
> 2. Regarding the content of the district's data, essential information is missing. More specifically, the district analysis does not include assignments of duty periods and other supervisory assignments such as advisory classes, hall duty, student arrival and student dismissal. From the district's teacher contractual language, student supervision counts towards the number of assigned teacher minutes.
>
> 3. Data provided by the district is inaccurate. Schedules for Fridays are different than Monday through Thursday. Periods increase from 39 to 40 minutes on Fridays. Every schedule reviewed by the district did not account for this difference. In addition, periods that are block periods on Monday through Thursday are 40 minutes and not 39 minutes.

4. When duty periods, advisory assignments and supervision assignments like hall duty and dismissal are included in the analysis, the number of teacher minutes is consistently much closer to the maximum number of 1250 minutes that may be assigned to a teacher in the Montclair School District.

Dr. Putrino testified at length about his formulation of the Renaissance Middle School ("Renaissance") schedule preceding Covid. Putrino was assigned to Renaissance in 2018 with the task of revamping the teacher schedule and improving enrollment (Tr. 8, p. 1239, line 13 through p. 1240, line 5). Renaissance's school day was longer than other schools, which required the schedule to be revamped. The school day went from approximately 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. (Tr. 8, p. 1242, lines 12-19). Putrino was asked to "collapse" the schedule by an hour so it would be more consistent with the school days at the two other middles schools, Glenfield and Buzz Aldrin (Tr. 8, p. 1243, lines 9-12).

The master schedule that Dr. Putrino had formulated was the "template of each grade's experience in the school day." The master schedule maps out the different courses during the day (Tr. 8, p. 1383, line 25 through p. 1384, line 13). Putrino testified that changing the schedule for a school is a "delicate process" because the "fear of change and all the little things that go along with it" (Tr. 8, p. 1363, lines 13-17). As a result, Putrino formed several committees to get input from all of the stakeholders: a student committee, a teacher committee, a parent committee, and a central office committee.

Dr. Putrino consulted each committee when formulating the schedule for Renaissance. Putrino estimated that he met with each of the committees approximately eight times during September, October, and into November 2018 (Tr. 8, p. 1363, line 20 through p. 1364, line 5). When he met with the individual committees, he let them "air out" their concerns regarding the new schedule. He incorporated their suggestions to the extent that they fit within the parameters of the new schedule's requirements (Tr. 8, p. 1364, lines 18 through p. 1365, line 4).

Dr. Putrino described the bell schedule as the "map of each period in the school day" (Tr. 8, p. 1366, lines 17-20). For Monday through Thursday each period was 39 minutes, with a 2-minute break between each period (Tr. 8, p. 1367, lines 18-25). Both were to be included in pupil contact time because supervising hall duty is considered a supervisory duty (Tr. 8, p. 1368, lines 11-18). Periods 9 and 10 were for elective courses which were only 30 minutes. For Monday through Thursday, a 3-minute dismissal was allotted for exiting the building which counted towards supervisory time (Tr. 8, p. 1369, lines 1-9). Advisory periods, which were 20 minutes in length Monday through Thursday, also counted towards pupil contact time. Putrino's master schedule established advisory teams for each grade level (6^{th} through 8^{th}) and expressly noted that the homeroom teacher will lead the advisories (unless otherwise agreed upon by the team). In addition to taking attendance, the advisory period was devoted to Montclair's "restorative justice initiative" which was part of the curriculum (Tr. 8, p. 1371, lines 1-10). Putrino described restorative justice as a "practice that is supposed to increase... community by working on strengthening relationships between people so that you are less likely to make a bad choice about a person." It was a practice to help create a "community" which was useful to both students and staff. "The goal is to repair harm and reach consensus" (Tr. 8, p. 1343, lines 22-25; p. 1344, lines 1-13; p. 1345, lines 2-3).

On Fridays, the schedule was markedly different. The advisory periods were 45 minutes to "give room for more thorough discussions in the restorative justice setting... and to allow for assemblies and video presentations or larger lessons" (Tr. 8, p. 1372, lines 2-12). Students would participate in more "hands on stuff". The elective classes were extended to 120 minutes to allow students to travel outside of school. "For example, a community service class takes place three consecutive periods in a row. Students board a bus and they travel to different locations in town where they donate their time for community service" (Tr. 8, p. 1370, lines 1-11). Finally, on Fridays, dismissal was four minutes instead of three minutes (Tr. 8, p. 1372, lines 13-18).

When Dr. Putrino put together the schedule for Renaissance that was to be implemented in the 2019-2020 school term, he included a full-day schedule, a half-day schedule, and a delayed opening schedule (Ex. R24; Tr. 8, p. 1376, lines 10-20). Every school was required to have these three schedules (Tr. 8, p. 1376, lines 15-16). Putrino followed the same practice while at Glenfield and Northeast elementary schools (Tr. 8, p. 1376, lines 21-25; p. 1377, lines 1-6). Once Putrino had a draft schedule, he sent it to central office. The central office is comprised of the business office and two of the "curriculum heads," who were in charge of determining whether the new schedule contained the "right number of minutes" for the subject areas involved (Tr. 8, p. 1365, lines 5-13). He then gave the proposed schedule to the MEA for its review to make sure that it complied with the contract (Tr. 8, p. 1365, lines 14-19). Putrino noted that the MEA quickly came back with what they saw as a 5-minute discrepancy during the arrival time, which was then adjusted. After that, the schedule was given to then Superintendent Kendra Johnson for her review and approval (Tr. 8, p. 1366, lines 1-2).

Superintendent Johnson, in a Mini Observation dated June 17, 2019, stated as follows:

Administrator Joseph Putrino

Feedback
Dr. Putrino has been a leader in rethinking the program at Renaissance Middle School. Specifically, he has been deliberate establishing a new bell schedule that meets the current needs of the student population. While doing this work, he worked with this evaluator and the former MEA Grievance representative to address contractual challenges. To this end, this evaluator finds Dr. Putrino's approach to be strategic and focused. He is commended for his leadership acumen (Ex. R18).

The Board also approved the schedule. Dr. Putrino added that the Board and superintendent were "incredibly satisfied" with both the presentation and the schedule that he had created (Tr. 8, p. 1393, line 23 through p. 1394, line 3).

As will be discussed, Petitioner, though charging Dr. Putrino with alleged scheduling deficiencies for the 2020-2021 school year actually evaluated the aforementioned 2019-2020 in-person, full school day schedule which was reviewed and approved with special mention by Dr. Kendra Johnson and the Board. The 2019-2020 in-person schedule remained unchanged and in Genesis.

Due to the onset of Covid, as all building administrators were directed, Dr. Putrino created three schedules for the 2020-2021 school year – an in-person schedule (already created), a remote schedule, and a hybrid schedule. The remote schedule was a "condensed" version of the 20219-2020 master schedule having 27 minute periods and Office Hours at the end of the school day (Ex. R30 and 31; Tr. 9, p. 1560, lines 17-22). In formulating the schedules, Dr. Putrino testified that he volunteered to be on two of the three committees, the hybrid and remote committees. Lamenting the lateness of the District's decision to go remote, Putrino supplied his condensed schedule to central office and it was included in the Montclair Reopening Plan on August 21, 2020 (Ex. R31). However, because Dr. Putrino wanted his staff to see the schedule before it was released at 4:00 p.m. to the public, he sent out a staff announcement and attached the remote schedule (Ex. R30).

Dr. Putrino testified that importing teachers and students into the 2020-2021 schedule from Genesis was being handled by Student Advisement Counselor ("SAC") Whitney Gibbs and "the secretarial staff" (which turned out to include "Leigh Ann"). Putrino explained:

> Everyone sort of imports their parts. Joe Pellegrino, who was the central office Genesis Director, he was assisting us since this was a complete rebuild of the schedule. So the schedule was in Genesis. Teachers and courses were in Genesis. Student schedules were being populated at that time (Tr. 9, pp. 1461-1462).

However, Dr. Putrino explained, "We always have a few anomalies, red flags that pop up with electives that have too many kids or not enough kids. And in the first couple of days of school when staff is present, but students are not there, we usually make changes. Sometimes that includes reassigning a teacher to a class or adjusting the class size of a course" (Tr. 9, p. 1463).

As of September 2, 2020, his last day as Principal, Dr. Putrino was aware that the teachers' schedules had been constructed as well as teachers' assignments. He was told that those schedules were in Genesis and ready for the final step of matching students to those classes (Tr. 9, p. 1463, lines 16-24). Putrino acknowledged that looking at a schedule alone does not reveal how many students are in each of the classes. When asked whether he scheduled teachers with zero students, Putrino replied:

> I don't schedule teachers with zero students in classrooms. If they have zero students in their classroom, that anomaly is repaired when it's discovered. Sometimes an elective is unpopular. That elective can be collapsed and that teacher is reassigned. Or if an elective is not populating enough, sometimes we transfer kids in before schedules are released to balance the numbers. That happens across all three middle schools and the high school (Tr. 10, p. 1664).

In connection with Petitioner placing Dr. Putrino on leave, Dr. Ponds assigned Major Jennings as interim principal at Renaissance. Jennings has been an educator employed by the Montclair School District for approximately 30 years. Jennings was an assistant principal at Buzz Aldrin Middle School. Subsequent to the 2020-2021 school year, Jennings was assigned as principal of Buzz Aldrin.[14]

Mr. Jennings estimated that there are 260 students and 30 staff members at Renaissance. During the summer of 2020, as Jennings confirmed, building administrators were instructed to develop three schedules, an in-person schedule, a remote schedule and a hybrid schedule (Tr. 4, p. 579, lines 21-25). As it turns out, neither the in-person nor hybrid schedule was used. Rather, students and teachers operated on a remote basis from home. It was not until April 2020 that a hybrid schedule, not relevant necessarily to this dispute, was implemented (Tr. 4, p. 581, lines 5-10).

Mr. Jennings acknowledged that the first step was to establish a master schedule, regardless of format, before students and teachers can be imported into the schedule (Tr. 4, p. 581, lines 21-25; p. 582, lines 1-5; p. 584, lines 16-25; and p. 585, lines 15-17). Jennings confirmed that Dr. Putrino had put in place a condensed schedule for remote learning which, in short, is a condensed version of the in-person master schedule. For example, if classes lasted 40 to 45 minutes under the in-person schedule, they were reduced to 27 minutes under the remote schedule (Tr. 4, p. 587, lines 2-9).

Mr. Jennings explained that once the master schedule is established, the building principal is responsible for assuring that teachers have an appropriate number of students in classes as well as a sufficient number of classes to teach in relation to the 1250-minute contractual limitation. Jennings discovered what he perceived to be deficiencies concerning the ratio of teachers to students and the number of classes taught by each teacher. Upon further inquiry, Jennings found out from Whitney Gibbs that the deficiencies detected by Jennings were due to the late arrival of the 2020-2021 condensed schedule. Ms. Gibbs and (Leigh Ann) specifically informed Jennings, "There's no way we can get this schedule out" (Tr. 4, p. 596, lines 16-24).

In light of the struggles of Ms. Gibbs and Leigh Ann in Dr. Putrino's absence, Counsel for Dr. Putrino asked Mr. Jennings whether he thought of calling Putrino to ask him for clarification or assistance about the implementation of the Renaissance remote schedule. In response, Jennings stated, "No, I was instructed I should not have any conversations with Dr. Putrino" (Tr. 4, p. 60, lines 18-25 to 622).

Mr. Jennings next asked Joseph Pellegrino (who is responsible for the Genesis software program) to run a report, such as, a list of teachers who have less than ten students, less than five students, or who appeared on the schedule but had no students assigned to a class (Id., p. 589, lines 15-22). On direct examination, Jennings was asked whether he had verified the information from Genesis provided to him by Pellegrino. Falling short of an affirmative response, Jennings testified, "I mean, I looked in Genesis, and I'm like why don't teachers have full schedules" (Tr. 4, p. 593, lines 14-18). In consulting with Pellegrino, the two tried to "clean it up, get rid of classes that showed zero students in those classes". As Dr. Putrino testified, such an anomaly had to be caused by a computer glitch in Genesis because he would never schedule a teacher to teach zero students. Nonetheless, after the zero student classes were eliminated, Jennings noticed that some teachers were teaching two or three classes out of a 10-period day, while others were teaching five or six (Tr. 4, p. 591, lines 1-23).

In sum, Mr. Jennings had discovered two distinct deficiencies from the data he obtained from Mr. Pellegrino: (1) some classes had far less students than others and (2) some teachers taught more classes than others. However, it became clear that Jennings did receive from school clerk Debra Aulderman "paper" copies of the projected remote and regular schedule that had been created by Dr. Putrino (Ex. R30 and R24; Tr. 4, p. 635, lines 10-20). When asked more specifically what the concern was with the schedule, Jennings replied, "Well, you would think that you would be able to combine to make the class a little larger, and to just be more efficient with your schedule" (Tr. 4, p. 598, lines 16-25 through p. 599, lines 1-6). "You would – why would I want to have a teacher teaching three to five students, when potentially I could have 15 students in that class" (Tr. 4, p. 600, lines 1-11).[15]

However, Mr. Jennings was asked what happened to teachers who had classes that had zero students, i.e., specifically if he attempted to reassign them to other teaching duties. Jennings admitted, "There weren't really a lot of other teaching duties" (Tr. 4, p. 601, lines 23-25 to 602, lines 1-2). Jennings added that more operational challenges arose in April of 2021 when the schedule changed over to hybrid – and this was due to an inability to cover for absent teachers and a lack of substitutes because "no one wanted to come in the building" (Id., p. 602, lines 12-18). And while Jennings complained that teachers not having a full schedule were putting in timesheets to cover for absences, either they were entitled to do so or not under the MEA contract.[16]

In the end, teachers were not reassigned due to a lack of other teaching duties (absent the glitch where a teacher was assigned to a class with no students), each teacher had classes to teach, and each student had a full course load under the remote learning schedule. As to the concern that some teachers were teaching more classes than others, Mr. Jennings acknowledged that the MEA did not raise any complaint or file a grievance (this record reveals no such action by the MEA).

[15] Interestingly, Jennings testified to his inability to fix the schedule based on the same concerns that Ms. Gibbs and Leigh Ann had relayed to him about implementing it correctly in the first place, i.e., "And you know, it's – a schedule is a very time consuming process. So we had to go with the schedule."

[16] Article 8, "Employees' Workload and Related Matters" of the MEA contract, Section 8.1 (a)(i)(b) states: "A full teaching load is considered the equivalent of 5 full classes per day at the high school and middle school level, and the equivalent of 6 full classes at the elementary level. An extra class taught at the middle school or high school in all subject areas will receive 1/5 of the person's FTE salary as additional compensation. . . .

In fact, Jennings was only able to identify one teacher who asked why some teachers were teaching six classes while science and social studies teachers were only teaching five (Note: this teacher did not make reference to a teacher having less than five classes and the MEA contract establishes five classes as a full class load).

On cross-examination, Mr. Jennings admitted that his focus was limited to the information contained in Genesis (as previously discussed). Jennings was then asked questions as to whether any other forms of pupil contact time were contained in Genesis (other than direct class instruction). In short, Jennings testified that lunch duty, advisory performed under the umbrella of homeroom, and hall duty would not show up in Genesis. Conversely, scheduled advisory periods (i.e., office hours as designated on Ex. R30) and in-class support duties would show up in Genesis.

On September 7, 2020 (which was one day prior to the start of the school year) Jennings decided to send the following email:

> Sent: Monday, September 7, 2020 5:08:35 PM
> To: Jonathan Ponds; Kalisha Morgan; Damen Cooper > Subject: Schedule
>
> Dear Dr. Ponds, Mr. Cooper, Dr. Morgan
>
> I hope you are doing well. Over the past few days, I have been working towards getting Renaissance up and running for the first day of school. Nisha and I have been working on finishing the schedule, along with Whitney and Leigh Ann (from Renaissance). While working on the schedule, we came across some issues that I want you to be aware of. Nisha and I also met with Joe Pellegrino Saturday, who was kind enough to help us get a better understanding of the schedule and discuss possible solutions. Please see the bulleted list below regarding Renaissance's schedule.
>
> - There are 85 sections that have less than 10 students in each class.
> - Of those 85 sections, there are 69 sections that have 5 students or less.
> - Of the 69 sections with 5 or less students, there are 56 sections with two or less students, and of the 56 sections, there are 24 sections with zero students in them.

- I've instructed the scheduling team to delete as many sections of zero as possible, and to allocate those teachers to other classes. Additionally, I've instructed them to try to balance the schedule as much as possible given the short amount of time.

- There are several staff members who appear to have "holes" in their schedules. (Ex. V).Some students are scheduled for the same teacher and class twice (two different sections), rather than being part of one class that meets on multiple days.

- We are short a Geometry teacher (as you know), but the Geometry section was offered and scheduled for the students.

- We are short a MAP teacher (as you know).

- We have multiple staff members at Renaissance who are not teaching a full load of classes.

It is apparent that there are some serious concerns with Renaissance's master schedule. I would like to discuss this further with you, and I believe Joe Pellegrino can also help with this conversation. After discussing with Joe and Nisha this morning, we concluded that we really can't change the master schedule at this point in time. Our schedules go live on Tuesday.

However, this building's master schedule needs to be scrutinized and possible changed entirely so that we are properly allocating our staff, funding, and resources for our students. [emphasis supplied].

Thank you, Major

In a peculiar response to such disconcerting news from Mr. Jennings, Dr. Ponds responded via email at 5:32:53 on the same day:

Major,

Outstanding work!! Let's all get together with your team and support you. Please send Nina times your team is available. I will reschedule whatever I have to be there. I cannot thank you enough!! Have a good night.

Jonathan (Ex. V).

Dr. Ponds then assigned Mr. Cooper to investigate the building schedule discrepancies further. Cooper made it abundantly clear that the scope of his "investigation" pertained only to the underscored portion of Jennings' email, above. Cooper admitted that he did not investigate or follow-up further on any other aspect of the alleged deficiencies with the Renaissance schedule. In fact, the tenure charges which were filed were based on shortfalls in relation to the 1250 minute maximum of pupil contact time, as illustrated by Exhibit S. However, given the attachments to the color-coded summary chart, it is clear that Mr. Cooper was evaluating an in-person (39 and 30-minute block) schedule used during the 2019-2020 school year up until the time of the Covid shut down in March 2020. Conversely, Cooper did not base his analysis on the condensed 27-minute remote schedule created by Dr. Putrino (2020-2021). Since Mr. Jennings had possession of the "paper schedules", it is presumed that either Jennings or Dr. Ponds provided the in-person schedule to Cooper, or Cooper obtained it independently. Cooper admitted that he was not concerned about investigating inequities regarding the number of students per class.

Mr. Cooper began the audit in September 2020, which took approximately a month and a half to complete (Tr. 5, p. 771, line 18 through p. 772, line 1).[17] Cooper then presented his findings to the Board, which included Exhibit S, as follows:

Mr. Cooper acknowledged that the end product of his audit (above) did not reflect the actual schedules that were in place for 2020-2021 (Tr. 5, p. 782, lines 8-15). Cooper's explanation for conducting an "audit" for the 2020-2021 school term using the 2019-2020 schedule was that it was based on the information that he obtained from the computer (Tr. 5, p. 778, lines 13-18). However, Cooper backtracked from that explanation when he subsequently testified that his audit was based on what Mr. Jennings gave him, which appears to be the "paper" 2019-2020 in-person schedule Jennings received from Ms. Aulderman.

Mr. Cooper conceded that teachers were not required to teach 1250 minutes, as set forth in the tenure charge. Rather, the MEA contract only states that pupil contact time for teachers shall not exceed 1250 minutes (Ex. Q; Tr. 5, p. 805, lines 21-25). Cooper also testified that there were physical education (PE) teachers at Renaissance who did not have a full teaching load (Tr. 5, p. 791, lines 8-11). However, there were 240 students at Renaissance and only two PE teachers (Tr. 5, p. 791, lines 12-25). With PE required for every student, and assuming there was an even distribution of students among the PE teachers, there would have been 12 sessions of PE which would each have 20 students. Therefore, each PE teacher would have six periods. Cooper could not explain his conclusion that PE teachers at Renaissance did not have a full teaching load. His answers ranged from "I am not familiar with many schools that run PE that only has 20 kids in a section" to "I did not count the number of kids in the section" to "I don't know" how many students in the PE classes (Tr. 5, p. 792, line 1 through p. 793, line 25). In the end, Cooper conceded that the information on which he concluded that PE teachers did not have sufficient teaching periods was predicated solely on what Jennings had provided to him (Tr. 5, p. 796, line 24 through p. 797, line 6).

In addition, Mr. Cooper admitted that his chart contained mathematical errors. In his reference to teacher #4, as contained in Exhibit S, Cooper acknowledged that it showed 12 different periods, each of which were 39 minutes in length. When told that this amounted to 468 minutes, Cooper was at a loss to explain how he came to 351 minutes as contained in Exhibit S. He responded, "I am not sure" (Tr. 5, p. 784, lines 5-18). He also acknowledged that he listed one of the Friday classes as 39 minutes when it should have been 78 minutes (Tr. 5, p. 784, line 20 through p. 785, line 18). Cooper also testified that teacher #20 in Exhibit S was another example of a teacher not having sufficient pupil contact time (Tr. 5, p. 797, lines 8-15). Without knowing who the teacher was, here too, Cooper's "audit" contained simple arithmetical errors. Cooper agreed that the document contained eight classes that were 39 minutes each, which meant that the total number of minutes amounted to 312. Yet, the document, Exhibit S, stated that there were only 156 minutes (Tr.5, p. 798, lines 1-12). When asked whether his number of 156 minutes was accurate, Cooper readily acknowledged that it wasn't, testifying that "it's off" (Tr. 5, p. 798, line 12).

Additionally, Mr. Cooper acknowledged that all the duty periods and advisory periods counted towards pupil contact time. Yet, Cooper did not count advisory periods in his calculation (Tr. 5, p. 787, lines 1-25). He also did not count duty assignments (hall duty, lunch duty, or dismissal time) all of which the MEA contract says must be included in determining the amount of pupil contact time (Ex. Q; Tr. 5, p. 789, lines 1-25). Cooper admitted that not only did he not include the duty periods in Exhibit S, but that he also did not know how long lunch period, hall duty, or dismissal duty lasted (Tr. 5, p. 800, lines 1-25). Further, he was not aware that class periods on Friday were longer than the class periods on Monday through Thursday (Tr. 5, p. 790, lines 1-12; p. 798, lines 13-25; p. 799, line 1 through p. 803, line 5).

Mr. Cooper admitted that the alleged financial loss he said was attributable to the teacher #20 for not having had sufficient pupil contact time – a sum he said in Exhibit S amounted to $61,529 - was also not accurate (Tr. 5, p. 802, lines 16-20). Finally, Cooper testified that he never sought to correct the information that he had presented to the Board (Tr. 5, p. 803, lines 2-4).

Dr. Putrino noted that the advisory portion of homeroom and lunch duty were missing in Mr. Cooper's analysis (Tr. 9, p. 1416, lines 2-9). Sections of electives that are taken by students in periods 9 and 10 were also missing (Tr. 9, p. 1416, lines 10-15). Hall duty and dismissal duties prior to the end of the day were not included. When those items are factored in, Teacher #1 (identified as Ms. Dubois, a French teacher) should have been credited with 1,241 pupil contact minutes per week. Instead, Cooper recorded 1,017 minutes. In other words, Cooper performed an incomplete analysis of Dubois' schedule (Tr. 9, p. 1416, lines 23-25 and p. 1417, lines 1-3). Notably, the schedule that Putrino put in place for Dubois was the same as the 2019-2020 school year (for which Putrino received glowing feedback from Superintendent Kendra Johnson) (Tr. 9, p. 1417, lines 4-10).

Dr. Putrino explained that advisory periods, which were twenty minutes in length Monday through Thursday, also counted towards pupil contact time. Putrino's schedule establishes advisory teams for each grade level (6^{th} through 8^{th}) and it expressly noted that the homeroom teacher will lead the advisories (unless otherwise agreed upon by the team) (Ex. R24, Bates Stamp Putrino 0296). During advisory periods, in addition to taking attendance, the period was devoted to Montclair's "restorative justice initiative". It was a part of the curriculum (Tr. 8, p. 1371, lines 1-10). On Fridays, the schedule was markedly different. The advisory periods were 45 minutes to "give room for more thorough discussions in the restorative justice setting... and to allow for assemblies and video presentations or larger lessons" (Tr. 8, p. 1372, lines 2-12).

> Q. You took us through this sample schedule for this particular teacher. Is it your testimony that if you add up all of the minutes, counting Monday through Friday being a 39-minute period, counting a 20-minute period for the advisory, and then including the passing time, the three minutes for dismissal, and then the Friday, all of those advisory periods which were a little bit longer, I think only went through five, that if you did this for each of these schedules, that you would come pretty close to 1,250 minutes; that's your testimony for all of these schedules?
> A. I testified that they were close to or at 1200, but didn't --- or more, and didn't exceed 1250 ... (Tr. 9, p. 1464, lines 7-25 through p. 1465, lines 1-22).

Lastly, Dr. Matt Jennings testified on behalf of Dr. Putrino regarding the scheduling dispute. A difference of opinion arose as to Jennings qualifying as an expert witness. N.J.R.E. 702 states, "An expert may testify by opinion or otherwise if scientific/technical/specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand testimony or determine fact in issue, and expert is qualified by knowledge, skill, experience, training and/or education." In this matter, following voir dire, I concluded that Jennings qualified as an expert in formulating and reviewing over 40 school schedules for over 18 years in several school district leadership roles:

> So I'm going to admit the witness, qualify him as an expert, recognizing that there are varying degrees of expertise. And as we go along in the proceeding, cross-examination can certainly bring out further flaws, if any, with respect to the findings and conclusions that Dr. Jennings has made.
> So I'm satisfied initially based on his experience of reviewing schedules, creating some master schedules, that the topic of scheduling would be something he would be able to assist me with. So I'm going to allow the testimony, and of course, as we go through it, there could be cross-examination of what his testimony actually is (Tr. 11, p. 1805, line 15 through p. 1806, line 4).

Turning to the specific dispute between the parties, in anticipation of testifying and the hearing and for the purpose of preparing his expert report, Dr. Jennings testified that he reviewed three main documents: the teachers' contract, Exhibit S, and Dr. Putrino's scheduling documents (Ex. R24; Tr. 11, p. 1806, lines 17-21). Jennings testified that "[Dr. Putrino's scheduling documents [were] more detailed perhaps, even more thorough than most of the ones that I've seen with regards to the assignment for things like dismissal. I mean, it's very specific" (Ex. R24; Tr. 11, p. 1808, lines 20-24). In contrast, Exhibit S was deficient for several reasons, most notably, that the school year of the schedule was not specified (Tr. 11, p. 1820, lines 12-14); the teacher names were intentionally omitted (Tr. 11, p. 1820, lines 15-22); and many of the district's numerical calculations were wholly incorrect (Tr. 11, p. 1820, line 23 through p. 1821, line 19). He stated, "To be honest ... I was shocked at some of the mathematical errors" (Tr. 11, p. 1820, line 23 through p. 1821, line 1). He further testified that all the numbered teachers listed in Exhibit S had "some degree of error... It was shocking to me to see – that teacher #13, teacher #4,... and #20... were significantly off" (Tr. 11, p. 1821, lines 2-18)(and that was without adding non-instructional pupil contact time).

Dr. Jennings observed, with respect teacher #4 in Exhibit S, referring to the 12 blue color-coded classes from Monday through Thursday and the double period on Fridays (Tr. 11, p. 1823, lines 1-20), Mr. Cooper had a total of 351 minutes, compared to Dr. Jennings' total of 546 minutes (Tr. 11, p. 1824, lines 13-22). He said that the simple arithmetical difference in the minutes was unexplainable – "I mean the numbers are there. It seems to me it would have to be an error, just a careless error in addition" (Tr. 11, p. 1824, line 25 through p. 1825, line 3). As for the missing 779 minutes – alleged for teacher #4 – Jennings emphatically stated that it was not accurate (Tr. 11, p. 1827, lines 1-6). His testimony with respect to teacher #20 was similar. For the blue color-coded classes, Mr. Cooper said there were 156 minutes of pupil contact time, where the actual number was 312 (Tr. 11, p. 1829, lines 1-10). Further, as with teacher #4, the calculations in Exhibit S did not include advisory periods or duty periods, all of which were missing (Tr. 11, p. 1830, lines 1-13).

Dr. Jennings opined that just reviewing what Mr. Cooper did in compiling his data would be obvious "that you're missing some things. Because not included here are things like the advisory, the hall duty, the lunch duty, any of those things. They're all missing. So, you would have to get additional information" (Tr. 11, p. 1825, lines 9-18). Jennings also said with the numbers in Exhibit S being so incorrect, he would have expected a more thorough follow-up which would have included speaking to the principal who created the schedule.

> Well, here's what I would expect. I would expect if I saw a number like this, that looked, you know, so out of line, I would expect there would have been a more thorough follow-up. And yes, I would have expected that you would look carefully at all of the information (Tr. 11, p. 1826, lines 7-12).

Dr. Jennings continued, "You're talking about making a very serious claim about an individual. And to... not get the most accurate picture, in my professional opinion, is not acceptable" (Tr. 11, p. 1825, line 23 through p. 1826, line 17). Knowing the significance of this decision... what's at stake... I would do the very best I could to make certain that the information provided to the Board was accurate... And if there was inaccuracy... I would certainly bring that to the Board's attention that an error was made" (Tr. 11, p. 1846, lines 1-17).

Petitioner attempted to characterize Dr. Jennings' ultimate findings as something less persuasive than they ultimately were: "Respondent's expert testified to some mathematical errors, but even his audit showed that the staff members were scheduled for significantly less than the 1250 pupil contact time."

(Ex. BB; Tr. 11, p. 1875, line 3 through p. 1876, line 13).

However, it became evident that Petitioner's numbers reflected above fail to include duty periods or advisory assignments (Tr. 11, p. 1877, lines 15-23). Dr. Jennings testified that when duty periods are included, like suspension, hall duty, etc., the minutes of pupil contact time are much closer to the maximum 1250 minutes (Tr. 11, p. 1873, lines 6-14).

Petitioner asserted that, under the MEA Agreement, homeroom should not be included in the pupil contact time. Although Dr. Jennings acknowledged that the contract specifies that homeroom doesn't count towards the 1250 minutes and that the schedule did not expressly state "advisory" as a co-subject with homeroom, he clarified that "five minutes of this is for homeroom, and then 15 minutes is for the advisory [supervisory time], with the exception of them being a 40 minute on Friday" (Tr. 11, p. 1832, lines 13-23). While it may be an estimate, that time needs to count toward the pupil contact time and added at a minimum 95 minutes per week (Tr. 11, p. 1832, lines 23-24). His testimony was notably informed by Dr. Putrino's testimony, which was not convincingly refuted.

Dr. Jennings noted that the MEA contract does not provide for a minimum number of minutes and that no teacher will get to exactly 1250 minutes of pupil contact time (Tr. 11, p. 1814, line 20 through p. 1815, line 1). He further explained that if you have more than 39 minutes left available, you would try to assign that teacher to another class, because you would have enough time for another full class period (Tr. 11, p. 1815, lines 4-7). He testified that 1221 minutes would be the range that he would look for when reviewing the scheduling documents (Tr. 11, p. 1815, lines 13-17). In conjunction with Exhibit BB, as prepared by Petitioner, Jennings agreed with the following adjustments which accounted for all forms of student contact time discussed previously.

			21 out of 29 people are over the 1250									1289
			8 out 29 are under 1250

Finally, Dr. Jennings clarified that advisory assignments were to be adjusted so that no one would ever go over the 1250 minutes:

> Q: So you based your expert report on these schedules, but you agree with me that 21, approximately 21 out of 29 teachers are actually over 1250, eight teachers, with a couple of them being significantly under 1250?
> A: I think what you're missing here is the backtracking that I had to do to find out why it was over. And I was told, and I don't know if Dr. Putrino ever spoke to this, but that the advisory assignments were adjusted so that nobody would go over (Tr. 11, p. 1880, lines 5-15).

In light of the foregoing, I first find, consistent with N.J.SA. 18A:6-17.1 (3)(b) and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.1 (b)(1), that an analysis of Petitioner's scheduling allegations against Dr. Putrino must be limited to whether or not Putrino put forth a 2020-2021 schedule which allegedly revealed that no teacher is teaching the contractual allotted 1250 minutes per week; numerous teachers are teaching less than 1000 minutes per week; the Renaissance Middle School was allegedly overstaffed to the approximate cost of $767,447.00 to the District; and the alleged significant financial loss to the District did not result in more student contact time and/or smaller classes.

However, in dismissing the tenure charge, as a threshold matter, I initially find that the tenure charge refers to a 2020-2021 schedule put together by Dr. Putrino. That schedule (Ex. R30) was a condensed remote schedule and not the master schedule (in-person) put together by Dr. Putrino in 2018-2019 and implemented during the 2019-2020 school year (Ex. R24; Tr. 9, p. 1460, lines 18-25 through p. 1461, lines 1-13). Mr. Cooper analyzed, charted and presented to the Board as Exhibit S Putrino's 2019-2020 schedule which, in turn, led to the filing of a tenure charge over the 2020-2021 schedule.

One basis for Dr. Putrino's motion to dismiss was that the tenure charge did not express which school year schedule was evaluated. Petitioner – referring to the subheading of the charge, its witness list and answers to interrogatories – replied during the motion to dismiss that it was the 2020-2021 schedule which was evaluated:

> In addressing Respondent's specific concerns, I first find that the Sworn Tenure Charges, Paragraphs 20-23 do allege that the 2020-2021 school year was the subject of the audit. The introductory heading itself states: "Renaissance Middle School 2020-2021 Teachers' Schedules Audit." To the extent that any clarification is needed, Petitioner's "Witness List" filed with the Sworn Tenure Charges and Statement of Evidence plainly speaks of the 2020-2021 school year as the subject of the audit (See, anticipated or potential testimony of Damen Cooper, Director of Human Resources; Dr. Timothy Purnell, former Interim Director of Human Resources). Lastly, in Petitioner's Answers to Respondent's Demand for Interrogatories, #21, Respondent demands that Petitioner "Identify the school term and/or year in which the "overstaffing" as set forth in the Charges began". Petitioner replies: " . . . Petitioner states that the audit was regarding the 2020-2021 Renaissance Middle School Teachers' Schedules." Thus, I disagree that Petitioner did not sufficiently identify the 2020-2021 school year as the year involved in the scheduling allegations against Respondent [March 1, 2022 Decision on Motion to Dismiss, page 16].

Based on this response, in part, I denied Dr. Putrino's motion to dismiss the tenure charge pertaining to scheduling. Now, however, after being presented with a fully developed record, I am inclined to dismiss the tenure charge based on the disconnect between the charged schedule (2020-2021) and Cooper's analysis of the in-person master schedule (2019-2020). Mr. Cooper's analysis and presentation to the Board as Exhibit S clearly involved the 2019-2020 in-person schedule (characterized by 39 minute and 30 minute periods). In other words, Petitioner charged Dr. Putrino with various deficiencies in the 2020-2021 schedule (Ex. R30) which was never analyzed by Mr. Cooper and which Exhibit S does not encompass. In turn, Dr. Putrino did not discover until the cross examination of Mr. Cooper that the 2020-2021 condensed remote schedule was not audited. Rather, it was the 2019-2020 in-person master schedule which was audited. In my opinion, the disconnect between what was charged and the evidence presented constitutes a clear violation of N.J.SA. 18A:6-17.1 (3)(b) and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.1 (b)(1).

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.1(b) (1) specifically states:

> Charges shall be stated with specificity as to the action or behavior underlying the charges and shall be filed in writing with the secretary of the district board of education or with the State district superintendent, accompanied by a supporting statement of evidence, both of which shall be executed under oath by the person(s) instituting such charges. Complete copies of all documents referenced in the statement of evidence shall be attached as part of the statement.

Therefore, having the benefit of a full record, I dismiss the scheduling tenure charge.

In the alternative, as testified to by Dr. Putrino, Dr. Jennings, and even as admitted by Mr. Cooper, in part, Cooper's analysis (Ex. S) was significantly underinclusive. It failed to include several forms of student contact minutes which are recognized in the MEA contract and/or as developed over the years as a matter of custom or practice. The chart developed from Putrino's and Jennings' testimony (Exhibit BB, save minor adjustments for advisory time) is consistent with the MEA contract and past practice accounting for varying forms of pupil contact time other than direct classroom instruction, i.e., advisory as part of homeroom, hall duty, activity after the last class but before the literal dismissal of students from school, in class support, lunch duty, etc.

While I acknowledge that Petitioner attempted to challenge the reasonableness of the past practice, for example, asking whether every teacher is needed to come into the hallway between every class, whether every homeroom has advisory activities, or whether every teacher spends three minutes in pre-dismissal activities, that is an argument to change the practice, if Petitioner wishes to do so by way of placing the MEA and MPA on notice during contract negotiations. It is not a basis to seek to remove one of the three middle school building administrators who adhere to the same scheduling practices (Tr. 9, p. 1456, lines 22-25 to 1457, line1).

Lastly, Petitioner has failed to show that it incurred any monetary loss during the 2020-2021 school year as a result of the 2020-2021 schedule. Indeed, even Mr. Jennings admitted that there were not many teaching duties to reassign someone to during remote learning. And, as the hybrid schedule came on line in April of 2020, sick outs and the unavailability of substitute teachers created a supply shortage, and not a supply surplus. In the final analysis, even peeking behind the outright dismissal of the charge as a threshold matter (as discussed above), I find that Petitioner failed to sufficiently prove that it lost $767,447.00 due to Dr. Putrino's 2020-2021 schedule (which was not even analyzed).

In light of the foregoing, I find and conclude that Petitioner has failed to sufficiently demonstrate the allegations set forth in the scheduling tenure charge it filed against Dr. Putrino:

> 20. In or about February and March 2021, Petitioner conducted an audit of the teachers' schedules for the Renaissance Middle School. A detailed review of the teachers' schedules at the Renaissance Middle School allegedly revealed that no teacher is teaching the contractual allotted 1250 minutes per week. Moreover, it is alleged that there are numerous teachers teaching less than 1000 minutes per week. As a result, the Renaissance Middle School was allegedly overstaffed to the approximate cost of $767,447.00 to the District. This allegedly significant financial loss to the District did not result in more student contact time and/or smaller classes (Ex. S).
> 21. Pursuant to the 2018-2021 Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Montclair Board of Education and the Montclair Education Association, Article 8.1(i): "Pupil contact time is defined as the number of scheduled class minutes to which a teacher is assigned classroom instruction and/or supervisory duties. It specifically excludes homeroom and the ten (10) minutes before and twenty (20) minutes after school. The pupil contact time for classroom teachers assigned to the high school and the middle school shall not exceed 1250 minutes per week and 1500 minutes per week at the elementary school, average over the school year." (Ex. Q).

22. As Principal of the Renaissance Middle School, it is alleged that Respondent was responsible for preparing the teachers' schedules (Ex. R).

23. Thus, the alleged significant financial loss to the District, to the detriment of the students, by teachers allegedly being overstaffed, occurred during Respondent's appointment as Principal to the Renaissance Middle School.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth more fully herein, I find and conclude that Petitioner, Montclair Board of Education has sufficiently demonstrated that Respondent, Dr. Putrino unwittingly showed an inappropriate video which offended a portion of the staff and some members of the public. However, I find that the penalty of dismissal is not consistent with just cause based on (1) the dismissal of two of the core allegations; (2) the mixed reactions to the video among Black educators; (3) Dr. Putrino's prior long-term unblemished employment history, which includes numerous anecdotes of him fostering inclusion and diversity, both within and outside of his place of employment; and (4) the unjustifiable variation in Petitioner's treatment of Dr. Putrino versus Assistant Principal Clark. Accordingly, I will modify the sought after dismissal penalty to the disciplinary penalty implemented for Assistant Principal Clark. Petitioner shall immediately offer reinstatement to Dr. Putrino as Principal of Renaissance Middle School. To the extent that Putrino was suspended without pay for more than the Clark suspension, Petitioner is directed to provide corresponding back pay and all applicable benefits of employment. To the extent that Putrino has suffered no loss in pay, then he must be returned to his position at the conclusion of the Clark suspension without pay. I will retain jurisdiction to the extent that the parties dispute the precise penalty which was issued to Assistant Principal Clark. Finally, I dismiss the tenure charge pertaining to the 2020-2021 schedule.

Pro se

On May 3, 2022, the Neptune City Board of Education ("Board" or "Petitioner") referred certified tenure charges against Lonjete T. Nias ("Nias" or "Respondent") Supervisor of Special Services, to the Commissioner of Education ("Commissioner"), alleging Respondent engaged in conduct unbecoming, insubordination, excessive absences wherein she abandoned her position, warranting dismissal from employment and removal of her tenure.

On May 11, 2022, Nias answered articulating she had been on approved medical leave since October 2020, as a result of back surgeries, for which she is receiving disability payments. Nias has not been medically cleared to return to work. Upon review, on May 19, 2022, the Department of Education referred this matter to the undersigned, pursuant to N.J.S.A.

18A:6-16. c.26 to hear and evaluate the tenure charges.

During the summer, the undersigned conducted a number of telephone conferences with the parties regarding the status of this matter. They were also encouraged to communicate without my assistance. As a result of their discussions, Nias agreed to submit her resignation from employment in exchange for the withdrawal, with prejudice, of the tenure charges. On August 11, 2022, Respondent submitted her resignation from employment and her position as Supervisor of Special Services effective Friday, August 12, at 2022. (Exhibit 1) The Neptune City Board of Education adopted a Resolution accepting the Letter of Resignation on August, 18, 2022. (Exhibit 2).

Upon request, sometime thereafter, the undersigned received a Certification from Superintendent Dr. Raymond J. Boccuti, containing, inter alia, the following language:

> "6. I believe the withdrawal of these charges is in the public interest, because the Board of Education received the desired outcome of this litigation without the expenditure of further District funds attempting to do so is neither warranted nor prudent. Furthermore, the District does not request that respondent surrender her professional certificates as part of this settlement.
> 7. Respondent, consent to the withdrawal of the tenure charges with prejudice.

The New Jersey Administrative Code contains procedures for filing Controversies and Disputes with the Commissioner of Education, N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.1,et seq. The new Subchapter 5 applies to Charges Under the Tenure Employee's Hearing Act. N.J.A.C.

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.6 addresses withdrawal, settlement, or mooting of tenure charges. Section (a), identifies the criteria a panel arbitrator must review prior to approving any settlement, as follows:

6A:3-5.6 Withdrawal, settlement, or mooting of tenure charges

> (a) Once tenure charges are certified to the Commissioner, they may be withdrawn or settled only with approval. Any proposed withdrawal or settlement, whether submitted to the Commissioner or to the arbitrator, shall address the following standards established by the State Board of Education in the matter entitled In re Cardonick, State Board decision of April 6, 1983 (1990 School Law Decisions (S.L.D.) 842, 846):

1. Accompaniment by documentation as to the nature of the charges;

2. Explication of the circumstances justifying settlement or withdrawal;

3. Consent of both the charged and charging parties;

4. Indication the charged party entered into the agreement with a full understanding of his or her rights;

5. A showing the agreement is in the public interest;

Upon review of the Petitioner's request to withdraw the tenure charges, with prejudice, in light of the Administrative Code, I find the Board's articulation evidencing the circumstances justifying the withdrawal in the public interest, is persuasive. Accordingly, based upon this review, Petitioner's request to withdraw the charges, with prejudice is, hereby APPROVED.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Michael Smith,
Board of Trustees of the Gray Charter School,
Essex County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent ultimately filed the Disclosure Statements after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon school officials by law.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found that have violated the School Ethics Act.

Docket No.: D01-22
Decision for Failure to File Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements

---

I/M/O Michael Smith,
The Gray Charter School, Essex County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on August 23, 2022, directing Respondent, a "school official" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act for failing to file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1.

In the OTSC that was served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. By virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees and administrators.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(a), all school officials must file, on forms prescribed by the Commission, Disclosure Statements with their local board secretaries or charter school designees, and must do so on or before April 30th of each year. In addition, all newly elected board members or board members appointed to fill vacancies, newly appointed members of a board of trustees of a charter school, and administrators appointed to fill a vacancy must file their Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of appointment or taking office. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(c), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(d), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(e), and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(f).

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

If a school official fails to file the required Disclosure Statements, the Commission is authorized, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(b), to issue an Order to Show Cause. Moreover, failure to timely file the required Disclosure Statements "shall constitute a violation of the ... Act and may result in the reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of a school official pursuant to the recommendation of the Commission as acted upon by the Commissioner [of Education]." N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a).

Based on the list of school officials prepared by The Gray Charter School Lead, Respondent became a school official on or about November 8, 2021. Therefore, Respondent was required to file his Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of his appointment. Despite this fact, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

Respondent also received reminders from the Commission to file his Disclosure Statements. More specifically, by electronic correspondence dated July 1, 2022, and August 2, 2022, Respondent was reminded that his Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. Respondent was further advised that continued failure to file Disclosure Statements would result in the Commission issuing an OTSC, and recommending a penalty, up to and including removal.

When Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1, an OTSC was issued by the Commission at its meeting on August 23, 2022. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent filed his Disclosure Statements on August 29, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, "as a new Board Member, [he] was not aware of the deadline for the annual Disclosure Statement[s]" and he "was not checking emails with any regularity" because he was "devoted to planning for [his] wedding." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that he did not file his Disclosure Statements in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because he did not timely file Disclosure Statements. Although Respondent ultimately filed his Disclosure Statements, the filing was several months late, and submitted only after multiple reminders were sent reiterating his statutory obligation to file Disclosure Statements.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, it may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed on the school official. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Derrick Henry,
Board of Education of the Township of Orange,
Essex County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent ultimately filed the Disclosure Statements after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon school officials by law.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

In the OTSC that was served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

With the above in mind, Respondent is a returning school official and, therefore, was required to file Disclosure Statements by April 30, 2022. Despite this fact, and even though Respondent received reminders as further detailed below, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

More specifically, by electronic correspondence dated July 1, 2022 and August 2, 2022, Respondent was reminded that his Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent filed his Disclosure Statements on August 25, 2022, but did not dispute that his filing was untimely, or otherwise submit anything in writing explaining why a penalty should not be imposed.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because he did not timely file Disclosure Statements. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. Final Decision

In the Matter of Ismail Dalia, Board of Education of the Town of West New York, Hudson County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent filed the Disclosure Statements before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon school officials by law.

Accordingly, as of the date of this decision, respondent is hereby removed from the Board for violating the School Ethics Act.

In the OTSC that was served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. By virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees and administrators.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(a), all school officials must file, on forms prescribed by the Commission, Disclosure Statements with their local board secretaries or charter school designees, and must do so on or before April 30th of each year. In addition, all newly elected board members or board members appointed to fill vacancies, newly appointed members of a board of trustees of a charter school, and administrators appointed to fill a vacancy must file their Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of appointment or taking office. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(c), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(d), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(e), and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(f).

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

If a school official fails to file the required Disclosure Statements, the Commission is authorized, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(b), to issue an Order to Show Cause. Moreover, failure to timely file the required Disclosure Statements "shall constitute a violation of the ... Act and may result in the reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of a school official pursuant to the recommendation of the Commission as acted upon by the Commissioner [of Education]." N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a).

With the above in mind, Respondent is a returning school official and, therefore, was required to file Disclosure Statements by April 30, 2022. Despite this fact, and even though Respondent received reminders as further detailed below, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

More specifically, by electronic correspondence dated June 29, 2022 and August 2, 2022, Respondent was reminded that his Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. Respondent was further advised that continued failure to file Disclosure Statements would result in the Commission issuing an OTSC, and recommending a penalty, up to and including removal.

When Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1, an OTSC was issued by the Commission at its meeting on August 23, 2022. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent still failed to file Disclosure Statements, or to otherwise respond to the OTSC.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because he did not timely file Disclosure Statements.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, it may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed on the school official. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education. However, if Respondent files Disclosure Statements before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Lisa Qarmout,
Board of Education of the Town of Newton,
Sussex County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent ultimately filed the Disclosure Statements after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended. Respondent filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, arguing that she had difficulty opening and submitting the form, on both her phone and laptop.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon school officials by law. There is no evidence that respondent attempted to file the Disclosure Statements prior to the April 30, 2022 deadline, or that respondent sought technical assistance when she experienced trouble with the form.

Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

Decision for Failure to File Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements

---

I/M/O Lisa Qarmout,
Newton School District Board of Education, Sussex County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on August 23, 2022, directing Respondent, a "school official" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act for failing to file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1.

In the OTSC that was served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. By virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees and administrators.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(a), all school officials must file, on forms prescribed by the Commission, Disclosure Statements with their local board secretaries or charter school designees, and must do so on or before April 30th of each year. In addition, all newly elected board members or board members appointed to fill vacancies, newly appointed members of a board of trustees of a charter school, and administrators appointed to fill a vacancy must file their Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of appointment or taking office. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(c), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(d), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(e), and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(f).

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

If a school official fails to file the required Disclosure Statements, the Commission is authorized, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(b), to issue an Order to Show Cause. Moreover, failure to timely file the required Disclosure Statements "shall constitute a violation of the ... Act and may result in the reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of a school official pursuant to the recommendation of the Commission as acted upon by the Commissioner [of Education]." N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a).

With the above in mind, Respondent is a returning school official and, therefore, was required to file Disclosure Statements by April 30, 2022. Despite this fact, and even though Respondent received reminders as further detailed below, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

More specifically, by electronic correspondence dated June 29, 2022 and August 2, 2022, Respondent was reminded that her Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. Respondent was further advised that continued failure to file Disclosure Statements would result in the Commission issuing an OTSC, and recommending a penalty, up to and including removal.

When Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1, an OTSC was issued by the Commission at its meeting on August 23, 2022. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent filed her Disclosure Statements on September 13, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, that she "struggled with opening and submitting the form" and "encountered difficulties with it for a couple of months." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that she did not file her Disclosure Statements in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because she did not timely file Disclosure Statements.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, it may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed on the school official. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Katherine Limon, Board of Education of the Wallkill Valley Regional School District, Sussex County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC recommended a sanction of removal effective upon the adoption of the decision by the Commissioner. Alternatively, if the respondent filed the Disclosure Statements before the issuance of the Commissioner's final decision, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon school officials by law.

Accordingly, as of the date of this decision, respondent is hereby removed from the Board for violating the School Ethics Act.

Decision for Failure to File Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements

Wallkill Valley Regional Board of Education, Sussex County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on August 23, 2022, directing Respondent, a "school official" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act for failing to file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1.

In the OTSC that was served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. By virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees and administrators.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(a), all school officials must file, on forms prescribed by the Commission, Disclosure Statements with their local board secretaries or charter school designees, and must do so on or before April 30th of each year. In addition, all newly elected board members or board members appointed to fill vacancies, newly appointed members of a board of trustees of a charter school, and administrators appointed to fill a vacancy must file their Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of appointment or taking office. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(c), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(d), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(e), and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(f).

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

If a school official fails to file the required Disclosure Statements, the Commission is authorized, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(b), to issue an Order to Show Cause. Moreover, failure to timely file the required Disclosure Statements "shall constitute a violation of the ... Act and may result in the reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of a school official pursuant to the recommendation of the Commission as acted upon by the Commissioner [of Education]." N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a).

With the above in mind, Respondent is a returning school official and, therefore, was required to file Disclosure Statements by April 30, 2022. Despite this fact, and even though Respondent received reminders as further detailed below, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

More specifically, by electronic correspondence dated June 29, 2022 and August 2, 2022, Respondent was reminded that her Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. Respondent was further advised that continued failure to file Disclosure Statements would result in the Commission issuing an OTSC, and recommending a penalty, up to and including removal.

When Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1, an OTSC was issued by the Commission at its meeting on August 23, 2022. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent still failed to file Disclosure Statements, or to otherwise respond to the OTSC.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because she did not timely file Disclosure Statements.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, it may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed on the school official. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education. However, if Respondent files Disclosure Statements before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the

The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

Resolution Adopting Decision for Failure to File Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements
Docket No.: D09-22

Whereas, Respondent is a "school official," as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act); and

Whereas, as a school official, Respondent was required to file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) by April 30, 2022; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe; and

Whereas, at its meeting on August 23, 2022, the School Ethics Commission (Commission) issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) directing Respondent to show cause why she failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to file her Disclosure Statements following issuance of the OTSC, and failed to file a response to the OTSC; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 by failing to file Disclosure Statements; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal, with such removal to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education. However, if Respondent files Disclosure Statements before the Commissioner of Education adopts a final decision (which will be forty-five (45) days after the mailing date of the within decision), then the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission agreed that the within decision accurately memorializes its findings and recommendations; and

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Commission hereby adopts the within decision and directs its staff to notify all parties to this action of the decision.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Annette Beasley,
Board of Education of the Township of Irvington, Essex County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting. The SEC notes that respondent was previously reprimanded in 2021 for failure to timely complete the required training. Due to the repeated failure to comply with the statutory obligation, the SEC recommended that respondent be suspended for 30 days.

Respondent filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, arguing that her failure to complete her training was due to an oversight. She also refers to unspecified personal issues and contends that she provided valuable leadership to the Board in recent negotiations.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law. There is no dispute that respondent failed to complete the training in a timely manner as required by statute, and respondent's exceptions provide no basis to reduce the recommended penalty.

Accordingly, the respondent is hereby suspended for 30 days as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

Docket No.: T01-22
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Annette Beasley,
Irvington Board of Education, Essex County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on August 23, 3022, and also served on August 23, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Annette Beasley (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Irvington Board of Education (Board), located in Essex County. As a result of her position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. According to NJSBA, Respondent was required to complete the Governance 3 training program by March 31, 2022.[2]

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

[2] The March 31, 2022, deadline is because on an April school board of education election.

On or about August 22, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by March 31, 2022, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. See Exhibit A. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on August 23, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by March 31, 2022, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed training on September 1, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, her "failure to complete the training was simply an oversight on [her] part." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that she did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of suspension for thirty (30) days, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education. The Commission's recommended sanction is predicated on the fact that, not only did Respondent complete training more than five (5) months late, but she was also sanctioned in 2021 (reprimand) for, as here, failing to comply with the statutory requirement to complete ethics training. Respondent's repeated failure to abide by, and comply with, her statutory obligations as a school official must be met with an appropriate sanction.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[3] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Francisco Martinez, Board of Education of the Borough of Fairview, Bergen County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended.

Respondent filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, consisting of an email from the Fairview Business Administrator (BA), who indicated that the delay in respondent's training was caused by the BA's error in registering respondent for the wrong course and technical difficulties that required numerous contacts with technical support.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law. While the Commissioner is sympathetic to the technical difficulties encountered by the BA, there is no evidence that respondent attempted to complete his training in advance of the March 31, 2022 deadline.

Accordingly, the respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by March 31, 2022, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed training on August 29, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, that she took "all of the training, but not all of it was showing up in the computer transcript record"; as a result, she "retook the course showing up as missing." Respondent respectfully requests that the OTSC "be withdrawn and this matter be declared resolved or dismissed."

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[3] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Muhammad Mahmoud, Board of Education of the Village of Ridgewood, Bergen County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the August 23, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's September 14, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended. Respondent did not file exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor was the SEC's underlying finding of a violation appealed to the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4.

Before the School Ethics Commission
Docket No.: T05-22
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Muhammad Mahmoud,
Ridgewood Board of Education, Bergen County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on August 23, 2022, and also served on August 23, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Muhammad Mahmoud (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on August 23, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Ridgewood Board of Education (Board), located in Bergen County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. According to NJSBA, Respondent was required to complete the Governance 1 training program by March 31, 2022.[2]

[1] In order to conduct business during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the Commission implemented an electronic filing system, which remains a permissible method by which the Commission and parties can effectuate service of process. Consequently, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

[2] The March 31, 2022, deadline is because on an April school board of education election.

On or about August 22, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by March 31, 2022, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. See Exhibit A. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on August 23, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by March 31, 2022, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed training on August 25, 2022, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent stated, "he (incorrectly) believed that he had previously completed this training; upon realizing his error, he immediately completed the training." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that he did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its special meeting on September 14 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o

Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[3] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

IN THE MATTER OF THE TEACHING CERTIFICATE OF SHEILA TABANLI, CENTRAL JERSEY PREP CHARTER SCHOOL, SOMERSET COUNTY.

Teresa L. Moore, Esq., for petitioner Central Jersey Prep Charter School (Riker, Danzig, Scherer, Hyland, Perretti, LLP, attorneys)

Sheila Tabanli, respondent, pro se

Record Closed: May 13, 2022 Decided: September 19, 2022

BEFORE ELIA A. PELIOS, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on April 10, 2019, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On May 13, 2022, an executed settlement agreement and Stipulation of Dismissal with Prejudice was received, which is attached and fully incorporated herein.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures, and as confirmed by the representations of both counsel.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

J-2 Stipulation of Dismissal with Prejudice

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and General Release (hereinafter the "Agreement") is made and entered into by and between Sheila Tabanli ("Tabanli"), in her capacity as an individual and on behalf of her heirs, executors, administrators, agents, successors and assigns (hereinafter "Tabanli") and Central Jersey College Prep Charter School ("CJCP"). Tabanli and CJCP are sometimes collectively referred to as the "Parties."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the terms of this Agreement are the product of mutual negotiation and compromise between the Parties;

WHEREAS, CJCP commenced litigation against Tabanli before the Commissioner of Education, Docket No. EDU 04995-2019, Agency No. 5-1/18 (the "Action");

WHEREAS, in order to avoid the time, cost and uncertainty of litigation, the Parties wish to compromise and settle all matters relating to and arising from the Action and Tabanli's employment at CJCP;

WHEREAS, Tabanli understands and agrees that this Agreement settles, waives, bars, and resolves any and all claims that she or anyone on her behalf may have or could possibly have against CJCP in connection with the Action and her employment with CJCP, unless expressly excluded as more particularly described in Paragraph 3;

WHEREAS, this Agreement supersedes all prior agreements, understandings, or promises between Tabanli and CJCP, whether written or oral;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises, agreements and other good and sufficient consideration set forth herein, the Parties hereby AGREE as follows:

1. Denial of Wrongdoing

It is understood and agreed that by accepting this Agreement and by exchanging the consideration identified herein, Tabanli and CJCP do not in any way admit or concede any wrongdoing on their part or on the part of CJCP's present or former employees, owners, shareholders, partners, officers, directors, trustees, affiliates, attorneys, agents, and/or representatives. The Parties specifically and explicitly deny that they engaged in any wrongdoing.

2. Consideration

In full and final satisfaction of its claims as more particularly described in this Agreement, CJCP agrees to dismiss the Action with prejudice. CJCP will submit a stipulation of dismissal with prejudice to the administrative law judge within seven (7) days of CJCP's attorneys' receipt of this Agreement and the stipulation of dismissal with prejudice both executed by Tabanli and sent by email to Teresa Moore, Esq. at tmoore@riker.com.

3. General Release of Claims by Tabanli

It is understood and agreed by and between the Parties to this Agreement that in return for the consideration set forth in Paragraph 2, and the other promises contained herein, Tabanli does, knowingly and voluntarily, completely and forever, release and discharge CJCP and its affiliates, successors, predecessors, and assigns and present and former employees, owners, partners, shareholders, officers, directors, trustees, attorneys, insurers, agents, and representatives (collectively, the "Released Parties") from any and all causes of action, claims, judgments, obligations, damages (compensatory and punitive), claims to attorneys' fees, and rights to pre- or post-judgment interest, or liabilities of whatever kind and character, relating to Tabanli's employment with CJCP. This General

Release includes any claims that Tabanli or anyone on Tabanli's behalf may have arising under New Jersey's Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 et seq., the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act, N.J.S.A. 34:19-1 et seq., the New Jersey Family Leave Act, N.J.S.A. 34:11B-1 et seq., violation of public policy, infliction of emotional distress, the Family and Medical Leave Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2601 et seq., Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 2000(e) et seq., the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended, (29 U.S.C. § 621 et seq.), the Civil Rights Act of 1991 as amended, the Americans with Disabilities Act as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 1201 et seq., the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA"), 29 U.S.C. § 1001 et seq., the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act ("COBRA"), the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA"), 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq., 42 U.S.C. § 1981, 42 U.S.C. § 1983, 38 U.S.C. § 4301 et seq., the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act ("GINA"), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C. § 701, et seq., the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq., the Equal Pay Act of 1963, 29 U.S.C. § 206(d) et seq. (as amended), New Jersey Wage Payment Law, N.J.S.A. 34:11-4.1 et seq., the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law, N.J.S.A., 34:11-56a et seq., the New Jersey SAFE Act, N.J.S.A. 34:11-C-1 et seq., the New Jersey Civil Rights Act, N.J.S.A. 10:6-1; and prohibitions against wage discrimination based upon sex (N.J.S.A. 34:11-56.1 et seq.) as amended, or any other federal, state, or local human rights, civil rights, wage and hour, pension, employment or labor law, rule and/or regulation, public policy, contract or tort law, or any claim of retaliation under such laws and any claim arising under the common law, including, but not limited to, causes of action for wrongful discharge, breach of contract, fraud, defamation, interference with contract or prospective economic advantage, and infliction of emotional distress, violation of any other national, state, or local statute, law, or ordinance, claims for loss of income, compensatory damages, emotional distress, liquidated damages, punitive damages, attorneys' fees and costs, and any other action whether cognizable in law or in equity, based on any conduct up to and including the Effective Date of this Agreement. Tabanli further represents that she has not filed or made any allegations related to the Released Parties in any other matter in any court, agency or tribunal.

Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as prohibiting Tabanli from filing any charge or complaint with the EEOC or any other administrative agency or participating in any investigation or proceeding conducted by the EEOC or any other administrative agency, nor shall any provision of this Agreement adversely affect Tabanli's right to engage in such conduct. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Tabanli waives the right to obtain any relief from the EEOC or any other administrative agency or recover any monies or compensation as a result of filing any such charge or complaint.

4. General Release of Claims by CJCP

It is understood and agreed by and between the Parties to this Agreement that in return for the consideration set forth in Paragraph 3, and the other promises contained herein, CJCP and its affiliates, successors, predecessors, and assigns and present and former employees, owners, partners, shareholders, officers, directors, trustees, attorneys, insurers, agents, and representatives, do, knowingly and voluntarily, completely and forever, release and discharge Tabanli from any and all causes of action, claims, judgments, obligations, damages (compensatory and punitive), claims to attorneys' fees, and rights to pre- or post-judgment interest, or liabilities of whatever kind and character, relating to Tabanli's employment with CJCP, based on any conduct up to and including the Effective Date of this Agreement. CJCP further represents that it has not filed or made any allegations related to the Tabanli in any other matter in any court, agency or tribunal.

5. Severability

If any provision of this Agreement is declared illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction and cannot be modified to be enforceable, that provision will immediately become null and void, leaving the remainder of the Agreement in full force and effect.

6. Construction

The Parties have had an ample opportunity to review and have in fact reviewed this Agreement. Accordingly, the normal rule of construction, to the effect that any ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting party, shall not be employed in the interpretation of this Agreement. The captions and headings at the beginning of each paragraph are for convenience and reference only and shall not limit, define, or affect the construction and interpretation of this Agreement.

7. Applicable Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, regardless of conflict of laws principles, and all lawsuits related to this Agreement must be brought in the courts of the State of New Jersey. The Parties consent to the personal and subject-matter jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New Jersey, including, but not limited to, without regard to principles of conflict of laws, venue, and forum non conveniens.

8. Integration

This Agreement represents the complete understanding between the Parties. No other promises, agreements, discussions, or understandings have been made or relied upon by either party to induce the execution of this Agreement by the other party. No other promises, agreements, discussions, or understandings shall be binding or shall modify this Agreement.

9. Review and Revocation Period

Tabanli acknowledges that she was given twenty-one (21) days to review this Agreement from the time it was presented to her, and that she has reviewed it with her attorney to the extent she chose to do so. Tabanli also acknowledges that she was advised that she has seven days after she signs and delivers the Agreement to revoke it by notifying Teresa Moore, Esq., at Riker, Danzig, Scherer, Hyland & Perretti, LLP, One Speedwell Avenue, Morristown, New Jersey 07962, in writing. This Agreement is not effective or enforceable until the seven-day revocation period has expired.

BY SIGNING THIS AGREEMENT, TABANLI ACKNOWLEDGES:

(i) She has read this Agreement completely.

(ii) She has had the opportunity to consider the terms of this Agreement.

(iii) She has been advised to consult with her attorney prior to executing this Agreement.

(iv) She understands and means everything that she said in this Agreement and she agrees to all its terms.

(v) She is not relying on CJCP to explain this Agreement to her.

(vi) She has had an opportunity to consult an attorney to explain this Agreement and its consequences to her before she signed it, and she has availed herself of this opportunity to whatever extent she desired.

(vii) She has signed this Agreement voluntarily and entirely of her own free will, without any pressure from CJCP.

Final Decision

Maria Marousis,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Brick Ocean County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement and Release (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes, with respect to paragraph IV of the Agreement, that the Board must comply with the requirements of New Jersey's Open Public Records Act, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1 et seq., in regard to information concerning this matter, notwithstanding any agreement the parties may have between themselves to keep the terms of their settlement confidential. Further, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references several actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Record Closed: September 15, 2022 Decided: September 19, 2022

BEFORE TRICIA M. CALIGUIRE, ALJ:

This appeal was filed on February 12, 2020. On March 11, 2020, the Department of Education Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted the matter along with the petition of appeal to the Office of Administrative Law.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and entered into a Settlement Agreement and Release, indicating the terms thereof, and submitted the Settlement Agreement and Release; the certification of the Secretary of the Brick Township Board of Education (Board) that at its regular meeting on August 16, 2022, the Board adopted a resolution approving the settlement; and a Stipulation of Settlement and Dismissal with Prejudice executed by counsel for both parties, all of which are attached and fully incorporated herein. (J-1.)

I have reviewed the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures on the Settlement Agreement and Release.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties shall comply with the settlement terms and DISMISS the petition WITH PREJUDICE.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and Release (the "Agreement") is hereby made and entered into this 16th day of August, 2022 by and between Petitioner, Maria Marousis (hereinafter "Petitioner"), and Respondent, the Brick Township Board of Education (hereinafter the "Board") (collectively, the "Parties", individually, a "Party").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Petitioner is an employee of the Board currently employed as a Keyboarding Clerk 2; and

WHEREAS, the Board is the local board of education for the Brick Township Public School District operating under the laws of the State of New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, on February 12, 2020, Petitioner commenced an action before the Commissioner of Education, under Agency Dkt. No. 39-2/20, by filing a Petition of Appeal asserting claims related to tenure and salary; and

WHEREAS, after the Board filed an Answer contesting the allegations and seeking dismissal of the Petition of Appeal, the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law for adjudication on March 10, 2020; and

WHEREAS, the Parties have participated in discovery and settlement discussions; and

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the covenants contained herein, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the Parties agree as follows:

I. Incorporation of Recitals.

The recitals set forth above are incorporated herein by reference.

II. Consideration and Terms.

A. Base Salary and Compensation Adjustment. In consideration of the foregoing and in full and final settlement of the claims set forth in the Petition of Appeal, Petitioner shall receive a $6,000 increase in her base salary effective July 1, 2022. Additionally, Petitioner shall annually receive $6,000 in non-pensionable compensation for services performed for the administration of the McKinney Vento Homeless Grant (based on the overtime work to be performed). The annual appointment can only be guaranteed for the 2022-2023 school year; however, the current Superintendent agrees that as long as Petitioner wants the position and receives sufficient evaluations from her supervisor, he will recommend Petitioner for the position and have it placed on the agenda for Board action annually.

B. Assignment. Petitioner will remain in her current position as a Keyboarding Clerk 2 in accordance with Civil Service regulations and assigned to Brick Memorial High School for the 2022-2023 school year.

C. Tenure. The Board recognizes Petitioner as having attained tenure as a clerical employee pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:17-2.

D. Vacation. The Board shall grant Petitioner a one-time credit of ten (10) vacation days. Any unused vacation days out of this 10-day credit shall not be paid out during her employment or upon separation/retirement.

E. Release. In consideration of the foregoing, the Parties agree that this Agreement is intended to be a final settlement and resolution of all issues in connection with the claims at issue in this litigation, and is intended by each Party to release the other Parties and their representatives, members, officers, employees, professionals, and agents from liability arising out of the claims at issue in this litigation.

F. Covenant Not to Sue. The Parties each agree that they will not make, assert, or maintain against any Party that they released in this Agreement, any claim, demand, action, or suit arising out of, or in connection with, the matters respectively released in this Agreement, including, but not limited to, any claims that were brought, or could, or should, have been brought, in the Petition of Appeal.

G. Dismissal of Petition of Appeal. Within seven (7) days of execution of this Agreement, the Parties shall take all action necessary to mark the Petition of Appeal settled, discontinued, and ended, including executing and filing a Stipulation of Dismissal with Prejudice of the Petition of Appeal.

III. Compromise of Disputed Claims / No Admission of Liability.

It is understood and agreed by the Parties that this Agreement is in compromise of disputed claims in the Petition of Appeal. The settlement of the claims by and against the Parties shall not be construed as an admission of liability on the part of any Party to this Agreement. By entering into this Agreement; the Parties do not admit to any liability or wrongdoing, or concede the truth or accuracy of any pleading entered in this matter, except as to the matters set forth in the recital clauses above. Further, the Parties deny any and all liability, responsibility, and/or fault.

IV. Confidentiality.

The Parties agree that the settlement consideration and terms shall be held confidential between them and shall not be disclosed to any individual, person, organization, or entity without the prior written consent of the other Parties to this Agreement, other than as required by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or by applicable law, regulation, or legal or judicial process, or for purposes of seeking financial or legal or tax advice, or as may be required by licensing authorities or insurers, or as necessary to effect each Party's duties under this Agreement, including the dismissal of claims in the Petition of Appeal.

V. Non-Disparagement.

The Parties agree not to defame or willfully disparage any other Party to this Agreement, or cause the Parties to be defamed or disparaged in any regard or as to any subject matter, including, but not limited to the subject matter of the Petition of Appeal, except as may be required to make statements that would otherwise be disparaging or defamatory by order of any court of competent jurisdiction, or otherwise required by applicable law, regulation, or legal or judicial process, including statements made in the course of prosecuting the underlying action and/or Complaint.

VI. Waiver of Terms.

The Parties agree that the waiver of any provision of this Agreement must be in writing signed by an authorized agent of each Party making such a waiver. Waiver of any default, breach, or violation of this Agreement shall not be deemed a waiver of any other default, breach, violation, or other provisions of this Agreement.

VII. Severability.

Once fully executed, each covenant and agreement contained in this Agreement shall be for all purposes construed to be a separate and independent covenant and agreement. If any term or provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, should be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement, or the application of such term or provision to persons or circumstances other than those to which it is invalid or unenforceable, shall not be affected thereby, and each term and provision of this Agreement shall be valid and enforced to the extent permitted by law.

VIII. Governing Law; No Drafting Party.

This Agreement, and the obligations and performances of the Parties hereunder, shall be governed, interpreted, construed, and enforced solely in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, without regard to choice of law principles. The drafting and preparation of this Agreement is the result of the efforts of all Parties hereto and their respective counsel, and the language of all parts of this Agreement shall in all cases be construed as a whole, according to its fair meaning, and not strictly for or against any one Party.

IX. Binding Effect.

All of the terms of this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the successors, assigns, or affiliates of each of the Parties to this Agreement.

X. Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

XI. Entire Agreement.

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to settlement of the Petition of Appeal. Except as specifically provided herein, no amendment, modification, or alteration of the terms or provisions of this Agreement shall be binding unless signed in writing by all Parties to this Agreement.

XII. No Evidence in Future Proceedings.

The Parties agree that if this Agreement does not become effective for any reason, it shall be deemed to be negotiation for settlement purposes only, and will not be admissible in evidence or usable for any purpose whatsoever, except to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

XIII. Attorneys' Fees and Costs.

The Parties shall bear their own attorneys' fees and costs.

XIV. Effective Date.

This Agreement shall become effective, and be deemed executed, on the date that it has been signed by Petitioner, approved by a vote of the Board, and signed by the designee of the Board.

XV. Warranty of Authority to Execute Agreement.

The Parties represent and warrant that no other person or entity has or has had any interest in the claims, demands, obligations, or causes of action referred to in this Agreement, and that they have not sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or otherwise disposed of any of the claims, demands, obligations, or causes of action referred to in this Agreement.

XVI. Headings.

The headings used in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall not be used to aid in the interpretation of any provision of this Agreement.

XVII. Acknowledgement.

The Parties acknowledge and agree that: (a) each Party has had the opportunity to consult with, and has in fact consulted with such professionals, experts, and legal counsel of their choice as such Party may have desired with respect to all matter settled and resolved herein; (b) each Party has participated fully in the negotiation and preparation of this Agreement; (c) each Party has carefully reviewed the entire Agreement; (d) each Party has been advised of its rights and obligations with respect to the execution of this Agreement; and (e) each Party is entering into this Agreement knowingly and willfully. Accordingly, this Agreement shall not be more strictly construed in favor of, or against any Party hereto.

This Agreement is made as of July 1, 2022, by and between Petitioner, Sparta Township Board of Education ("the Board" or "Petitioner"), and the Respondent, Angel Bravo-Gomes and Jessel Fuentes, o/b/o K.B. and M.B.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, August 26, 2021, the Sparta Township Board of Education Residency Committee ("Committee") convened a residency hearing, which Respondent Fuentes attended.

WHEREAS, after having heard and considered all of Respondent's proofs, the Committee determined that K.B. and M.B. were not domiciled within the District during the 2020-2021 school year and recommended to the full Board that they be disenrolled.

WHEREAS, shortly following the hearing, Respondent Fuentes voluntarily withdrew K.B and M.B. from the District.

WHEREAS, the Committee recommended to the Board that it assess back-tuition for both students for their ineligible attendance in the District during the 2020-2021 school year.

WHEREAS, at the Board's September 29, 2021 meeting, the Board adopted a resolution to assess Respondents back-tuition for K.B. and M.B.'s improper attendance in the District during the 2020-2021 school year in the amounts of $18,331.00 for K.B. and $20,677.00 for M.B.

WHEREAS, the Board thereafter commenced this administrative action to recoup alleged tuition costs; and

WHEREAS, this administrative action is captioned above is presently pending before the Commissioner of Education in the Office of Administrative Law, the allegations of which are detailed more fully in the Petition of Appeal served and filed in the Litigation; and

WHEREAS, in order to avoid the expense, inconvenience, distractions and inherent uncertainties associated with continuation of this dispute, and the fees and expenses that inevitably would result therefrom, the Parties, by this Agreement, herein agree to adopt a full and final settlement of any and all claims, lawsuits, complaints, and/or disputes between Petitioner and Respondents in connection with any and all damages and losses arising from the Litigation; and

WHEREAS, by this Agreement, Petitioner will voluntarily dismiss the Litigation without costs to any party as against the other, except to enforce the terms of the agreement, if necessary;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which is acknowledged, the parties to this Agreement agree as follows:

1. Respondents shall pay the Board the sum of nineteen thousand, five hundred and four dollars ($19,504.00) representing one half of the back tuition due and owing for the period of the student's ineligible attendance in the District as determined by the Board and as set forth in the Petition, which shall constitute a full and final settlement of the claim for back tuition asserted against Respondents by the Board of Education in the Litigation.
2. The aforesaid amount shall be paid in twenty-four (24) equal installments of $812.66 and due on the first day of every month starting on August 1, 2022. Payment shall be in the form of a check made payable to the "Sparta Board of Education" and delivered or mailed to the office of Joanne Black, School Business Administrator/Board Secretary, at the District Administration office located at 18 Mohawk Avenue, Sparta, New Jersey, 07871.
3. The Board, in consideration of this Stipulation of Settlement and Release, and in full, final, and complete settlement of the matter, hereby agrees to a withdrawal and/or dismissal, with prejudice, of the Petition of Appeal in this matter, except to enforce the terms if necessary.
4. Respondents understand and agree that, if they fail to make a payment in accordance with this Agreement, such failure shall constitute a default and the entire balance of $19,504.00, plus interest at the rate of 6.25 % will become due and owing.
5. In the event of a default, Respondents further agrees to indemnify the Board for any and all costs, including court costs and attorney's fees, associated with any action instituted by Petitioner to enforce the terms of this Agreement should Respondents breach the Agreement and/or fail to adhere to the agreed-upon payment plan.

6. The terms of this Agreement shall in no way constitute acceptance or assent by the Board that any other child of Respondents, as may be applicable, is automatically entitled to a free public education in the District at any point in the future.
7. This Agreement is subject to formal approval by the Board. If approved, the Board President, Superintendent and/or Business Administrator, as indicated, is fully authorized to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Board.
8. This Agreement shall not constitute an admission of wrongdoing by any party and no party shall be considered to be a prevailing party for any purpose.
9. This Agreement is to be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey.
10. Respondents hereby represents that they are freely entering into this Agreement and have consulted with their attorney John Chiaia, Esq. regarding this Agreement.
11. This Settlement shall be subject to the approval of the Office of Administrative Law and the Commissioner of Education prior to becoming effective. Should it not be approved, Petitioner will refund the Respondents any payments which have been made and each party reserves all of its legal and other rights regarding this matter.
12. This Agreement shall be binding upon all parties hereto, and shall inure to the benefit of each of them, as well as their respective estates, heirs, legal representatives, successors, predecessors, parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, owners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, employees, agents and assigns.
13. This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding and agreement by the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and there are no agreements, undertakings, restrictions, representations or warranties as between the parties other than those set forth herein. This Agreement supersedes all previous arrangements or understandings, whether written or oral, and contains the entire agreement of the parties with respect to its subject matter. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by written agreement jointly executed by the Petitioner and Respondent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement, consisting of five pages, effective on the day and year first above written.

DAVID ROUSE, Petitioner, v. SOMERDALE BOARD OF EDUCATON, Respondent.	NEW JERSEY COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION Agency Reference No.: 1619-/22 Docket No.: EDU 05381-2022S Civil Action SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and General Release ("the Agreement" or "this Agreement") is entered into this 11 day of August, 2022, by and between David Rouse, residing at 171 Echelon Road, Apartment 3, Voorhees, New Jersey 08043 ("Petitioner"), and Respondent, the Somerdale Board of Education, located at 301 Grace Street, Somerdale, New Jersey 08083 ("Board" or "District") (Petitioner and the Board collectively referred to as "the Parties").

WHEREAS, Petitioner served in the position of Business Administrator/Board Secretary for the Somerdale Public School District under a contract for the period of July 1, 2021, through June 30, 2022; and

WHEREAS, Petitioner holds a Provisional School Business Administrator Certificate which expires on July 31, 2022, and a School Business Administrator Certificate of Eligibility; and

WHEREAS, on May 5, 2022, the Board voted to send a proposed 2022-2023 contract for Petitioner to the county office of education. The proposed contract for the 2022-2023 school year reflected a proposed annual salary of $99,347.00; and

WHEREAS, the proposed contract for the 2022-2023 required that Petitioner possess such certifications from the State Board of Examiners as are necessary to permit him to hold the position of school business administrator; and

WHEREAS, the proposed contract for the 2022-2023 school year included a provision for termination of the contract by either party upon sixty-days' notice; and

WHEREAS, on June 9, 2022, the employment contract between Petitioner and the Board for the 2022-2023 school year was not approved by the Board; and

WHEREAS, on June 14, 2022, Petitioner received written notice that the employment contract between Petitioner and the Board for the 2022-2023 school year was not approved by the Board; and

WHEREAS, on June 22, 2022, Petitioner filed with the Commissioner of Education a Verified Petition of Appeal, and an Application for Emergent relief, thereby initiating the above-captioned litigation; and

WHEREAS, on June 30, 2022, the Application for Emergent Relief was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law; and

WHEREAS, Respondent filed an opposition to the Application for Emergent Relief, contesting the argument that Petitioner was entitled to the relief sought; and

WHEREAS, the Office of Administrative Law scheduled an oral argument on the Application for Emergent Relief before the Hon. May Ann Bogan, A.L.J., on July 6, 2022; and

WHEREAS, prior to the scheduled oral argument, ALJ Bogan engaged the Parties in settlement discussions, with the goal of amicably resolving any and all potential disputes, claims, or lawsuits between them by way of settlement of all claims, without the need to resort to further litigation; and

WHEREAS, as a result of said settlement discussions, the Parties were able to reach a mutually acceptable resolution of their dispute by way of settlement, the terms and conditions of which are fully set forth in this Agreement; and

NOW THEREFORE, in view of the aforementioned premises, and in consideration for the mutual promises and terms set forth below, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. The Parties agree to settle any and all claims between them on the following terms:

    a. The Board agrees to pay to the Petitioner a total of SIXTEEN THOUSAND, THREE-HUNDRED AND THIRTY-ONE AND 00/100 DOLLARS ($16,331.00). This amount is calculated based upon an amount equal to sixty (60) pro-rated days of salary at an annual rate of $99,347.00.

    b. The payment described above shall be in one check payable to Petitioner, and delivered to the office of Petitioner's counsel at:

c. The payment described above shall be subject to Petitioner's counsel furnishing the Board with a completed W-9 form.

d. The payment(s) described above shall be the total and maximum financial responsibility of the Respondent, or any of its members, directors, officers, administrators, employees, servants, representatives, agents, or assigns. Petitioner expressly acknowledges that he shall bear responsibility for any taxes attributable to the payment(s) described above.

e. The Board shall utilize its best efforts to ensure that such settlement proceeds are paid to Petitioner in the manner described above within thirty (30) business days of final approval of this Agreement by the Board at a duly constituted meeting thereof.

2. In exchange for the Board making the payment set forth in Paragraph 1 above, Petitioner, his executors, heirs and assigns, hereby release and discharge the Board, as well as any and all of their former and current members, officers, employees, agents, contractors, representatives, predecessors, successors and assigns, as well as their heirs, executors and administrators (hereinafter "Releasees"), from any and all liability, claims, demands, causes of action, damages, costs, expenses, accounts, contracts, agreements, promises, compensation and all other liabilities of any kind or nature whatsoever, direct or indirect, known or unknown, which he may have had, now has or may hereafter have for any reason whatsoever on account, arising out of or in consequence of his employment relationship and/or separation of employment, including, but not limited to:

a. All federal and state statutory claims and any amendments to such statutes, including but not limited to claims arising under the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, the New Jersey Civil Rights Act, the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act, the New Jersey Family Leave Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Sections 1981 through 1988 of Title 42 of the United States Code, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, including the Older Workers' Benefit Protection Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Rehabilitation Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994, the National Labor Relations Act, the Federal Warn Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Equal Pay Act, the New Jersey Minimum Wage Law, the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law, Equal Pay Law for New Jersey, the New Jersey Worker Health and Safety Act and the Labor Management Relations Act;

b. All claims arising under the United States or New Jersey Constitutions;

c. All claims arising under any Executive Order or derived from or based upon any state or federal regulations;

d. All common law claims, including but not limited to any and all rights to discovery, breach of contract, tort claims, claims for wrongful discharge, constructive discharge, violation of public policy, breach of an express or implied contract, breach of an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, negligent or intentional infliction of emotional distress, hostile work environment, defamation, conspiracy, tortious interference with contract or prospective economic advantage, promissory estoppel, equitable estoppel, fraud, misrepresentation, detrimental reliance, retaliation and negligence;

e. All claims for any compensation including, back wages, front pay, punitive damages, pay increases, bonuses or awards, fringe benefits, disability benefits, severance benefits, reinstatement, retroactive seniority, pension benefits, contributions to retirement plans, or any other form of economic loss;

f. All claims for personal injury, including physical injury, mental anguish, emotional distress, pain and suffering, embarrassment, humiliation, damage to name or reputation, interest, liquidated damages and punitive damages;

g. Any claims arising out the terms and conditions of Petitioner's employment with the Board and the non-approval of an employment contract between Petitioner and the Board for the 20223-2023 school year;

h. Any rights to reemployment with the Board;

i. Any claim of tenure, re-employment, placement on a re-employment list and/or seniority arising under Title 18A of the New Jersey Statutes, including but not limited to N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5, N.J.S.A. 18A:28-6, and N.J.S.A. 18A:28-12.

j. Any grievance pursuant to any Board policy or regulation and any collective bargaining agreement; and

k. All claims for costs, interest and attorneys' fees.

Except as otherwise provided herein, Petitioner has not, and agrees that he shall not, file any lawsuit or claim against the Releasees based on any events, whether known or unknown, including, but not limited to, any events related to, arising out of, or in connection with, his employment with the Board or the non-approval of an employment contract between Petitioner and the Board for the 20223-2023 school year, in any court or tribunal of the United States, New Jersey, or any other state, city, county, or locality. Petitioner further understands that, except as provided herein, he shall not personally recover monies, and expressly waives the right to recover such monies, for any complaint or charge filed against the Releasees with any federal, state or local board, agency or court.

3. In consideration of Petitioner's release of the Board, and the other good, valuable and sufficient consideration recited herein, the Board releases and gives up any and all claims and rights, including disciplinary charges, which it may presently have and be aware of against Petitioner. This release applies to claims resulting from anything which has happened throughout the course of Petitioner's employment up to now arising from or related to his employment with the Board. Except as otherwise provided herein, and subject to the fulfillment of the terms of this Agreement, the Board will take no further action with respect to the non-approval of an employment contract for Petitioner for the 2022-2023 school year.

4. Petitioner expressly represents that he is not a Medicare beneficiary and is not currently receiving, has not received in the past, will not have received at the time of payment pursuant to this Agreement, is not entitled to, is not eligible for, and has not applied for or sought, Social Security Disability or Medicare benefits. In the event any statement in the preceding sentence is incorrect (for example, but not limited to, if Petitioner is a Medicare beneficiary, etc.), the following sentences of this paragraph apply. Petitioner affirms, covenants, and warrants that he has made no claim for illness or injury against, nor is he aware of any facts supporting any claim against, the Board and/or the Released Parties under which they could be liable for medical expenses incurred by Petitioner before or after the execution of this Agreement. Furthermore, Petitioner is aware of no medical expenses which Medicare has paid and for which the Board and/or the Released Parties are or could be liable, now or in the future. Petitioner expressly agrees and affirms that, to the best of his knowledge, no liens of any governmental entities exist, including those for Medicare conditional payments. Petitioner agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold forever harmless the Board and/or the Released Parties from any Medicare claims, liens, damages, conditional payments, or rights to payment, if any, including attorneys' fees, and he further agrees to waive any and all future private causes of action for damages pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1395y(b)(3)(A) et seq.

5. It is expressly understood that Petitioner is no longer an employee of the Board, and the Board shall have no obligation whatsoever to rehire or reinstate Petitioner into its employ. In the event that the Board or the Board's administrators or employees are contacted for a reference regarding Petitioner, both Parties expressly understand and acknowledge their agreement that a "neutral" reference shall be provided with only the following information: Petitioner's position(s) held with the Board, the dates of his employment, and his salary information if requested.

6. Neither party shall communicate or disclose the terms of this Agreement to any person or entity, other than that party's attorney or other legal representative, family, fiduciaries, or with court personnel or staff, for purposes of effectuating this Agreement and the settlement of claims hereunder, or for any other purposes required by law, and only then in order to effectuate the terms hereof or for such other purposes as are strictly required by law. The Parties and/or their legal representatives may disclose the terms of this Agreement for purposes of entering appropriate orders with the court, or any other tasks that may be required to effectuate the terms of settlement and resolution of the within claims or potential litigation pursuant hereto. If a disclosure is to be made as required by law or to effectuate this settlement, it shall be made only to the minimum extent necessary to effectuate such purposes. In the event that either party must disclose the terms of this Agreement to any person or entity as permitted by this paragraph, that party shall provide advance written notice to the other party, who shall be considered the Superintendent of Schools for the Somerdale School District in the case of the Board for such purposes. Furthermore, each party agrees that said party shall not disparage the other party or make negative statements concerning the other in any manner likely to injure, harm the reputation of, or cause interference with the other party, its business, its financial interests, or its business operations.

7. Upon payment of the settlement proceeds as set forth in Paragraph 1 above, counsel for Petitioner shall withdraw with prejudice, both the above-captioned emergent-relief matter, and the pending Verified Petition of Appeal bearing the same name. The Parties agree to take any and all additional action that may be necessary to ensure the dismissal or withdrawal with prejudice of the above-captioned litigation.

8. This Agreement represents the compromise of disputed claims. Further, nothing contained in this Agreement constitutes an admission or acknowledgment by any party hereto of any wrongful or improper conduct, nor of any liability to any other party, nor shall anything in this Agreement ever be treated as an admission of liability by either party for any purposes whatsoever. This Agreement may never be used as evidence in any legal or other proceeding of any kind, except one to enforce its own terms. In the event an action is brought by either party to enforce the terms of this Agreement, each party shall bear its own legal fees and costs. The burden of proof for any alleged breach hereof shall be borne by the party asserting such claim for breach.

9. It is expressly understood that neither party shall be considered a prevailing party under any statute, common law, or otherwise, for any purposes whatsoever, as a result of this Agreement or the compromise of claims as set forth herein. Each party shall be responsible for its own attorney's fees, expert fees, and litigation costs incurred in connection with this matter.

10. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, this Agreement and the settlement of claims as set forth herein, is subject to and fully contingent upon approval by affirmative vote of the Board at a duly constituted meeting thereof, and it is null, void, of no force and effect, and without prejudice to any party, if the Agreement is not so approved. It is expressly understood that this Agreement shall carry no force and effect, and no settlement shall have been formed, and no agreement reached, in the event the Board does not vote to approve this Agreement by majority vote at a duly constituted meeting thereof. As of the drafting of this agreement, the next duly-scheduled regular meeting of the Board is August 11, 2022.

11. The Parties expressly agree and represent that they have had the opportunity to discuss the terms of this Agreement with legal counsel of their choosing and that they enter into this Agreement voluntarily and with a full understanding of its meaning. The Parties further state that they are fully satisfied with the representation provided by their legal counsel.

12. In the event that any provision, clause, or portion of this Agreement shall be held invalid or unenforceable by any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction, the remaining provisions are deemed severable and shall remain in full force and effect to the fullest extent permitted by law, unless the Agreement, so construed, would substantially frustrate the purposes of the Parties in entering into this Agreement.

13. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, and one copy of this Agreement with all Parties' signatures appended thereto shall be considered an original of this Agreement. For ease of execution and approval, the Parties further acknowledge and agree that electronic copies of signatures shall be deemed to be the same as original signatures.

14. The "WHEREAS" clauses of this Agreement are provided merely for background purposes, and it is expressly understood that such clauses are not material terms and conditions of this Agreement and shall carry no legal force and effect.

15. This Agreement represents the entire understanding between the Parties. The Parties acknowledge that they have not relied upon any other representations, promises, agreements, warranties, or understandings, except those expressly contained herein. This Agreement may only be modified by a subsequent written addendum mutually executed between the Parties.

16. The language of this Agreement has been developed mutually, and the rule of construction against the drafter shall not apply to its interpretation.

17. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey. This Agreement may only be enforced in the Superior Court of New Jersey, and no other forum or tribunal shall possess jurisdiction to enforce this Agreement. Venue shall be properly laid only in the Camden County Vicinage of the Superior Court.

18. This Agreement is a full and final settlement and constitutes a legal release of any and all claims that were raised or could have been raised in a legal proceeding or other proceeding, of any kind, filed by either party, arising out of or relating to the non-approval of an employment contract between Petitioner and the Board for the 2022-2023 school year, and covering all periods of time, whether prior to, during, or subsequent to the dates of Petitioner's employment with the Board.

19. Petitioner understands that the Older Worker Benefit Protection Act requires that he be provided a period of at least twenty-one (21) calendar days within which to consider this Agreement. Further, Petitioner has the right within seven (7) calendar days of the date of his signature of this Agreement (the "revocation period") to revoke this Agreement, including his waiver of rights to claim damages and/or money under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act and the Older Worker Benefit Protection Act. In the event that Petitioner revokes this Agreement, it shall be null and void as to Petitioner and the foregoing claims only and the parties shall have no obligations hereunder. To be effective, Petitioner's revocation must be in writing and actually delivered to Geoffrey N. Stark, Esq. at Capehart & Scatchard,

P.A., 8000 Midlantic Drive, Suite 300 South, Mt. Laurel, NJ 08054, within the seven (7) day period. This Agreement shall not become effective or enforceable until the revocation period has expired. Thus, provided Petitioner has not exercised the right of revocation provided herein, the "effective date" of this Agreement shall be either the eighth (8th) day following the date of Petitioner's signature of this Agreement or the date that the agreement is approved by the Board at a duly constituted meeting, whichever occurs later.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals, the date and year first written above.

Final Decision

Joy Dominic,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Alexandria, Hunterdon County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement/Release, and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), have been reviewed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1.

Upon review, the Commissioner observes that the President and the Secretary of the Alexandria Township Board of Education signed the agreement on behalf of the Board. Please note that pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.13, when a district board of education is a party to a contested matter, a proposed settlement agreement must either include a copy of the Board resolution approving the settlement or the signature of the Board's attorney, who is the Board's duly authorized representative in litigation. Without either the Board attorney's signature or the appropriate Board resolution designating the Board President and Secretary to sign the agreement on its behalf, the Commissioner cannot approve the within settlement.

Accordingly, the Commissioner hereby remands this matter to the OAL for revision of the settlement agreement consistent with the concerns set forth above. If the parties are unwilling or unable to reach accord on a modified agreement for submission to the Commissioner, the matter shall proceed to hearing.

BEFORE SUSAN L. OLGIATI, ALJ:

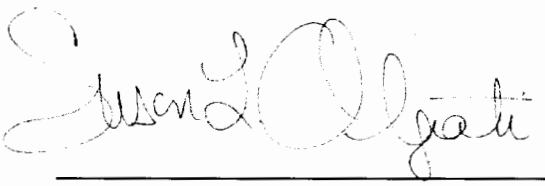
This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law on October 27, 2021, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have submitted a fully executed Settlement Agreement/Release. In addition, petitioner has submitted a letter withdrawing the Verified Petition of Appeal and related Motion for Summary Decision. A copy of these documents is attached and fully incorporated herein as Exhibit J-1.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement, and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures on the attached Settlement Agreement/Release.



2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the papers filed in connection with both the petitioner's and the respondent's requests for interlocutory review of Administrative Law Judge Tricia M. Caliguire's order issued August 11, 2022, granting in part and denying in part respondent's motion to dismiss the petition. Upon full consideration of the submitted materials, I have determined not to grant interlocutory review, pursuant to my discretion under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10.

Accordingly, the parties' requests for interlocutory review are hereby denied.

J-1 Settlement Agreement

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND GENERAL RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and General Release ("Agreement") is made and entered into as of this 2nd day of September, 2022, between Rachid Safri and Saida Tigharghari, on behalf of minor child, A.S. (referred to herein collectively as "Petitioners"), Petitioners in that certain disciplinary petition (the "Disciplinary Petition") pending in the State of New Jersey, Office of Administrative Law, and styled R.S. and S.T., on behalf of minor child, A.S. v. Board of Education of the Borough of Sayreville, Middlesex County, Agency Reference No. 96-6/21, OAL Docket. No.: EDU 06-69-2021 S on the one hand, and the Sayreville Board of Education (referred to hereinafter as "Respondent" or "Sayreville"), on the other hand. The parties to this Agreement shall be referred to collectively as the "Parties."

By means of this Agreement, Petitioners intend to fully and unconditionally release any and all claims they, their heirs, administrators, executors, personal representatives, beneficiaries, and assigns may have against Respondent, and each of Respondent's affiliates, predecessors, successors, parents, subsidiaries, divisions, assigns, officers, directors, representatives, employees, former employees, insurers (including the School Alliance Insurance Coverage Fund (SAIF) and Highland Claim Services, Inc.), attorneys, consultants and agents, (collectively referred to as "Releasees"), the remaining terms of which Agreement are now fully set forth in Paragraphs I through XV below.

I. Agreement respecting the May 6, 2021 Discipline Entry in A.S.'s student file

Sayreville agrees to modify the May 6, 2021 Discipline Entry contained in A.S.'s student file to include only the following information:

a. Reported Date: May 6, 2021
b. Location: Hallway
c. Incident Issues: Inappropriate Behavior
d. Administrative Actions: Board Hearing

II. Consideration

The parties have bargained for and expressly agree that the rights and obligations of each party contained in this Settlement Agreement and General Release constitute sufficient consideration for the other party's execution.

III. Counsel Fees and Costs

The parties shall bear their own counsel fees and costs associated with the Disciplinary Petition and any matters that were or could have been raised in the Disciplinary Petition.

IV. Covenant to Not Pursue Further Legal Action

Petitioners hereby covenant and agree that the Disciplinary Action shall be marked settled and the Honorable Dean J. Buono, the assigned Administrative Law Judge, shall issue a decision of settlement. Petitioners shall take no further action against any individual or entity based upon the matters set forth within Petitioners' pleadings and/or based upon any other cause of action that Petitioners may have stemming or originating from the disciplinary action taken by Respondent.

V. General Release

Whereas Petitioners brought the Disciplinary Petition challenging the discipline imposed on A.S. by Sayreville and seeking other relief as set forth with more particularity within their pleadings, and in consideration for the terms and conditions set forth herein, Petitioners, and their heirs, successors and assigns, hereby voluntarily waive, generally release and discharge Releasees from any and all rights or claims that Petitioners may have against Releasees, for any and all reasons and for any and all claims resulting from anything that has happened up to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, for any and all reasons, including, but not limited to claims of discrimination or harassment with regards to any alleged protected category, status or class, including but not limited to age, sex, religion, race, disability, familial status or national origin, breach of contract, retaliation, hostile educational environment, wrongful discharge, intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional distress, defamation, libel, slander, personal injury, any claims for equitable relief, and any other economic and/or non-economic damages whatsoever.

Petitioners agree that this Agreement sets forth a complete and full resolution of this matter and any claims possessed by either Rachid Safri and Saida Tigharghari, individually or on behalf of, A.S. as well as A.S., individually, and that this Agreement fully resolves any and all issues, causes of action and claims possessed by Petitioners and/or attorneys' fees or costs that they have or may have against Releasees. Petitioners specifically waive any and all claims set forth in the Disciplinary Petition and any rights that Petitioners may have under:

- Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended;
- The Civil Rights Act of 1991;
- Sections 1981-1988 of Title 42 of the United States Code, as amended;
- The United States Constitution;
- The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended;
- The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C. §100 et seq. ("Section 504");
- The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act;
- The New Jersey Law Against Discrimination;
- The New Jersey and Federal Constitutions;
- The New Jersey Civil Rights Act;
- Title 18A of the New Jersey Statutes Annotated;
- The Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act, 20 U.S.C. §1400, et seq ("IDEA");
- Any other federal, state or local civil or human rights law pertaining to civil rights, discrimination or education, or any other applicable local, state or federal law, regulation or ordinance;
- Any Sayreville School District Policy, Procedure, or Regulation;
- Any public policy, contract, tort or common law;

- Any allegation for costs, fees or other expenses including but not limited to attorney's fees incurred in the lawsuit or in any of these matters,
- Any regulations promulgated under any of the aforementioned laws, or any other State or Federal law, statute, rule or regulation, regardless of the forum for the claim.

The aforementioned claims shall be referred to as the "Released Claims." Notwithstanding any other provision of this Release, the following are not barred by the Release: (a) claims relating to the validity of this Agreement; (b) claims by either party to enforce this Agreement; (c) claims that legally may not be waived; (d) claims arising after the execution of this Agreement that are not encompassed by the Released Claims.

VI. Release Includes Unknown Claims

A. Petitioners understand and agree that the Released Claims are intended to and do include any and all claims of every nature and kind whatsoever (whether known, unknown, suspected, or unsuspected and whether pursuant to any law or cause of action presently in effect or which may be enacted or created in the future) which they have or may have against the Releasees, individually or collectively.

B. Petitioners further acknowledge that they may hereafter discover facts different from or in addition to those which they now know or believe to be true with respect to the Released Claims and agrees that, in such event, this Agreement shall nevertheless be and remain effective in all respects, notwithstanding such different or additional facts, or the discovery thereof.

C. Petitioners represent and acknowledge (i) that they and their attorneys have conducted whatever investigation was deemed necessary by them and their attorneys to ascertain all facts and matters related to this Agreement; (ii) that they have consulted with and received advice from legal counsel concerning this Agreement; (iii) that they are fully satisfied with their legal counsel, and (iv) that they are not relying in any way on any statement or representation by Respondent or its attorneys, except as expressly stated herein, in reaching their decision to enter into this Agreement.

VII. No Assignment or Transfer of Released Claims

Petitioners represent and warrant that as of the Effective Date, Petitioners have not assigned, transferred, or hypothecated, or purported to assign, transfer, or hypothecate, to any person, firm, corporation, association, or entity whatsoever any of the Released Claims. Petitioners hereby agree to indemnify and hold harmless Releasees against, without limitation, any and all rights, claims warranties, demands, debts, obligations, liabilities, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees), causes of action, and judgments based on, arising out of, or connected with any such transfer, assignment, or hypothecation, or purported transfer, assignment, or hypothecation.

VIII. No Admission of Liability and No Prevailing Party Status other than that as set forth herein, and that this Agreement contains the sole and entire Agreement between them with respect to the subject matter thereof. The Parties to this Agreement further acknowledge and agree that language proposed for, deleted from, or otherwise changed in the various drafts of this Agreement but not included therein shall not be considered in any way in the interpretation and application of this Agreement and shall not in any way affect the rights and obligations of the Parties to this Agreement.

XIII. Counterparts and Signatures

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, and may be executed on copies, each of which shall be deemed an original, including electronic and facsimile signatures, and each such counterpart shall have the same force and binding effect as if executed by all Parties. The Parties agree that notarized signatures are not required and further agree not to contest the authenticity of any signature to this Agreement.

XIV. Understanding

Petitioners acknowledge and represent that they have read this Agreement in full and, with advice of counsel, understand and voluntarily consent and agree to each and every provision contained herein. Petitioners acknowledge and represent that Releasees have not made any representations to them concerning the terms of effects of this Agreement, other than those contained in this Agreement.

XV. Applicable Law and Mutual Submission to Jurisdiction

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced according to the laws of the State of New Jersey. Petitioners agree to submit any and all disputes arising out of or based on this Agreement to the Office of Administrative Law of the State of New Jersey, except as to enforcing the terms of the Agreement, where Petitioners may seek enforcement in any court of competent jurisdiction.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioners challenge the determination made by the Township of Randolph Board of Education (the Board) that P.P's actions constituted a violation of the Harassment Intimidation and Bullying (HIB) law.

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on April 5, 2022. An initial prehearing telephone conference was held on May 5, 2022, during which another conference was scheduled for June 10, 2022. At the June 10, 2022 conference, hearing dates were discussed and the hearing was scheduled for October 4, 2022, via Zoom. The undersigned issued a Prehearing Order on June 15, 2022, which indicated the date for hearing, along with a notice. Although the Board attorney, and Board representative, appeared for the Zoom hearing, petitioners did not appear and did not call the OAL to explain why they were unable to do so.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that petitioners have abandoned their petition and that dismissal is therefore appropriate.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that this appeal be DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." Final Decision

In the Matter of the Suspension of the Teaching Certificates of Kiersten Minnes, Board of Trustees of the Camden's Promise Charter Schools, Camden County.

The record of this matter, the parties' proposed Settlement Agreement and Release (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In so doing, however, the Commissioner notes the Board must comply with the requirements of New Jersey's Open Public Records Act, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1 et seq., with respect to information concerning this matter, notwithstanding any agreement the parties may have between themselves to keep the terms of their settlement confidential. Further, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Yolette Severe,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Education,
Office of Student Protection,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner – a school bus driver – appealed the Department's determination to suspend her school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 et seq. after an incident in which a Millburn student was left on petitioner's school bus at the end of one of her assigned bus routes on November 16, 2020. Petitioner did not dispute that the child was left on the bus but contended that the student was never left alone. Although petitioner contended that she had called each student's name as they left the bus, she conceded that she had not conducted a visual walk-through to check for remaining students, and that after petitioner arrived at the bus parking lot, a student who had fallen asleep awoke and stood up; petitioner then drove the student back to their assigned school. The respondent Department filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer, requesting that the motion be converted to a summary decision motion upon transmittal of the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL).

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; petitioner has admitted that on November 16, 2020, she did not conduct a full visual inspection of her school bus when she dropped off students at the their school in Millburn; pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, petitioner had an affirmative duty to visually inspect the school bus at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil had been left on the bus; the "end of the transportation route" was when the children were dropped off at the assigned destination – the school; in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29, if a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the bus at the end of a route, the driver's school bus endorsement shall be suspended for six months for the first offense. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision to the respondent and affirmed the petitioner's six month suspension for leaving a child on the school bus at the end of a route.

Upon full review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the respondent is entitled to summary decision. Accordingly, the petition was dismissed; respondent was directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation to suspend petitioner's school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39, and to notify petitioner's employer that she is ineligible for the period of suspension for continued employment as a school bus driver.

OAL Dkt. No. EDU 01502-21
Agency Dkt. No. 245-12/20

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Yolette Severe,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Education,
Office of Student Protection,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

On November 16, 2020, petitioner, a bus driver for the Millburn school district, transported students to school. Although she called each student's name as they left the bus, she did not visually inspect the bus for remaining students. After petitioner left the school and arrived at the bus parking lot, she realized a student who had fallen asleep was still on the bus. Petitioner then returned the child to school.

The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the "end of the transportation route" was when the children were dropped off at the assigned destination – the school. Petitioner did not conduct a visual inspection of the bus, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, before leaving the school. The ALJ therefore ordered that petitioner's "S" endorsement be suspended for six months, as N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29(a) imposes that mandatory suspension for a first-time offense of leaving a child on a school bus.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that petitioner failed to inspect the bus at the end of her route as required, which resulted in a student being left on the bus. As such, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ's conclusion that N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29 mandates a six-month suspension of petitioner's school bus endorsement as this was her first offense.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter and the petition is hereby dismissed. The Office of Student Protection is directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29, to suspend petitioner's school bus "S" endorsement on her driver's license for six months and to notify petitioner's employer that, for the period of suspension, she is ineligible for continued employment as a school bus driver.

YOLETTE SEVERE,

v.
NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, OFFICE OF STUDENT PROTECTION,
Respondent.

Landry Belizaire, Esq., for petitioner

Record Closed: August 9, 2022 Decided: September 19, 2022

BEFORE LESLIE Z. CELENTANO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner, Yolette Severe (Severe), challenges the suspension of her bus-driver "S" endorsement. The six-month suspension is due to petitioner's alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, et seq., in leaving a child on a school bus assigned to her on November 16, 2020. The Office of Student Protection (OSP) determined that this was petitioner's first offense of this kind, and accordingly imposed a penalty of a six-month suspension of her "S" endorsement to operate a school bus.

Petitioner filed her Petition of Appeal with the Department on November 30, 2020. On January 22, 2021, the Department filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10.[1] The matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on February 5, 2021, as a contested case under N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

Multiple telephone status conferences were held. No opposition had been filed to the Department's motion to dismiss. Petitioner was granted multiple extensions of time within which to file responsive pleadings. On April 18, 2022, the Department renewed its request for this matter to be dismissed. Petitioner replied and asked for an additional ten days to review the motion and file opposition, and the request for additional time was granted once again. Nothing was received from petitioner, and on July 5, 2022, the Department renewed its request for the dismissal of this matter. A peremptory telephone conference was scheduled for July 18, 2022, and no one appeared for petitioner. As of that date the motion remained unopposed, more than a year and a half after its filing. On July 20, 2022, petitioner emailed asking that the telephone conference from two days earlier be rescheduled. Petitioner was instead advised that if no responsive pleadings were received by July 29, 2022, the matter would be dismissed.

Nothing was received by July 29, 2022. On August 1, 2022, an email was received on behalf of petitioner seeking oral argument on the motion. That request was denied. A response to the motion was thereafter received on August 9, 2022, in opposition to the Department's motion to dismiss in lieu of answer. On August 9, 2022, the Department filed its reply. The record closed on August 9, 2022.

[1] The Department had initially filed a Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of an Answer with the Commissioner of Education under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10. The Department requested in its motion that once the matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law, the Department's motion be converted to a summary-decision motion under N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5, as no material facts are in dispute.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On November 16, 2020, Severe was working as a bus driver for the Millburn school district. She completed her scheduled route for the group of students she was transporting, and "called each child" as they left the bus.

2. Without visually inspecting the bus for any remaining students, Severe left the school and drove to the bus parking lot, and as she was leaving the bus, "a student stood up that fell asleep." Severe then returned to the school with that student, N.B.

3. Severe indicated that if it had not been for a new policy in the District, she "would have walked the bus" as she had "done every morning."

4. Severe admits that she left the school after dropping off the group she was transporting and did not visually inspect the bus. Instead, she called students by name at the school.

5. Severe alleges that the child on board was "never left alone" and that she had "not yet completed her transportation route."

DISCUSSION

The School Bus Safety Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26 to -33, requires that the school-bus driver "shall visually inspect the school bus to which he is assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28. A violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 results in a mandatory penalty. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29. The statute dictates that "[i]n the event that, after notice and opportunity to be heard, a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the school bus at the end of his route, his school bus endorsement shall be: (a) suspended for six months, for a first offense . . . ." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29(a).

The issue in this case is whether Severe complied with the statutory requirement that the driver "shall visually inspect the school bus to which he is assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28.

Severe has admitted that she did not visually inspect the bus when she dropped off the children at a Millburn school before proceeding to the bus lot. Because it is undisputed that petitioner did not visually inspect the school bus at the end of her route, and prior to starting her next route, no further inquiry is required. Arcos v. N.J. Dep't of Educ., Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, 2018 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 497 (August 28, 2018), adopted, 2018 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 1208 (September 20, 2018). As in Arcos, Severe argues that she had not yet completed her transportation route, implying that her route ends at the end of her work day when all children have been dropped off, and that the child was "never left alone and was with her at all times." The administrative law judge (ALJ) in Arcos determined that Arcos admitted that she did not visually inspect the bus when she dropped students off at the school, and that whether she "did or did not remain in the vicinity of the child is therefore not relevant to her claim that the child 'was never left alone.'" The ALJ also concluded that Arcos's route ended at the school, and not at the end of her work day.

The "end of the route" pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26 is at the point where all of the children in that group leave the bus to enter their school, and the bus is empty of riders, and before the driver moves on to her next route, at which point the driver shall inspect the bus for remaining students. Klein v. N.J. Dep't of Educ. Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, 2012 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 781, Comm'r Decision (February 21, 2012).

Thus, whether Severe did or did not remain in the vicinity of the child is therefore not relevant to her claim that the child "was never left alone." The critical analysis is did the Department fail to establish by a preponderance of the credible evidence that she failed to visually inspect the school bus to which she was assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil had been left on the bus?

Severe admits that she failed to visually inspect her bus when she dropped off the children at their school in Millburn. Her route ended when she dropped the students off at the school. She did not visually inspect the bus before driving to the bus lot. It is undisputed that a student remained on the bus at the end of the route and was still on the bus when Severe arrived at the bus lot and was exiting the bus. The statute is unambiguous in its requirement that the driver visually inspect the bus, and Severe did not do so, in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28. Because of the safety implication of such a violation, a mandatory penalty exists in the event that the OSP determines that a child was indeed left behind. Garner v. N.J. Dep't of Educ., Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, 2009 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 173 (April 3, 2009), adopted, Comm'r (May 1, 2009), https://www.nj.gov/education/legal/. Thus, "[i]n the event that . . . a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the school bus . . . , his school bus endorsement shall be: (a) suspended for six months, for a first offense . . . ." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29(a). Here, since Severe was in clear violation of the statute, the penalty imposed is mandatory, and there is no discretion to impose anything less than a six-month suspension of her "S" endorsement. Where the violation has been established, no circumstances of the event or of the driver may be considered in determining the penalty. Garner, 2009 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 173 at *5–6.

I CONCLUDE that as the "end of the transportation route" under N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 is when the children are dropped off at the assigned destination, that triggers the school-bus driver's affirmative duty to inspect the school bus under N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, not when the bus driver competes all of her assigned routes for the day.

The Department seeks relief pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), which provides that summary decision should be rendered "if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." This provision mirrors the summary-judgment language of R. 4:46-2(c) of the New Jersey Court Rules. The motion judge must "consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party." Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995).

The "judge's function is not himself [or herself] to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial." Ibid. (quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. at 242, 249 (1986)). When the evidence "is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law," the trial court should not hesitate to grant summary judgment. Ibid. (quoting Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S at 252).

I CONCLUDE that the evidence presented by the parties does not establish any material facts in dispute. Given the limited facts that must be established to support a violation of the duty imposed by the Legislature on a school-bus driver to properly inspect the bus at the end of a route to assure that no child is left on the bus, the arguments offered by the Department amply support summary decision in its favor. And given the mandatory nature of the penalty for a first-time violator of the mandate, the six-month suspension is the only outcome where the violation is proven. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29(a). The Department's motion for summary decision must be GRANTED.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Department's motion for summary decision is hereby GRANTED and it is further ORDERED that the petitioner's "S" endorsement shall be suspended for six months.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Final Decision

Friends of Team Charter School, Inc.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Newark, Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the October 7, 2022 Order of Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Kimberly A. Moss, petitioner's request for interlocutory review, and the Newark Board of Education's (Board) response thereto have been reviewed and considered.

This matter involves the transfer of twelve school buildings from the Board to the Newark Housing Authority (NHA), pursuant to a 2016 site disposition and development agreement (Agreement) in which the NHA agreed to convey the buildings to third parties for the benefit of the Board and the City of Newark. The Agreement provided that any sites conveyed to the NHA would be subject to a right of reversion, which the Board could exercise if the NHA had not developed a site project or demonstrable plans for a site within three years of the Agreement. The NHA sold one of the sites – the Maple Avenue School – to a third party in 2017, and that party sold the property to petitioner, which is developing the property as a public charter school.

The Board filed a complaint against the NHA and petitioner in Superior Court, seeking to enforce its rights to reversion of the Maple Avenue School property on the grounds that a site project had not been completed and the property was not being used for one of the Agreement's permitted uses. Thereafter, petitioner filed the petition of appeal in this matter, alleging that the Board was not authorized to file the Superior Court complaint and had failed to comply with school facilities regulations. After the ALJ granted the Board's motion for summary decision, the Commissioner remanded the matter, finding that "[w]hile the Agreement itself is not a school facilities project, the Board's pursuit of litigation to exercise the right of reversion contained in the Agreement could constitute land acquisition and/or a school facilities project, subject to applicable statutes and regulations." Friends of Team Charter School, Inc. v. Bd. of Educ. of the City of Newark, Essex Co., Commissioner Decision No. 258-21 (October 19, 2021).[1]

Following the remand, the parties filed motions for summary decision. Petitioner argued that the Board's Superior Court complaint was not filed in accordance with the law because the Board had not authorized the filing and had not obtained the Commissioner's approval, which petitioner alleges is necessary because the complaint constitutes a school facilities project. The Board argued that the pursuit of litigation does not require the Board's or the Commissioner's approval. The ALJ concluded that the issue of whether the Superior Court complaint is a school facilities project is premature because the determination depends on the decision of the Superior Court. The ALJ noted that if the Superior Court complaint is decided against the Board, the petition of appeal in this matter would be moot. Accordingly, the ALJ denied the parties' motions for summary decision.

Petitioner requested interlocutory review of the ALJ's order. Petitioner contends that the question of whether the Board was required to pass a resolution authorizing the filing of the Superior Court complaint and/or to obtain Commissioner approval of the filing as a school facilities project is a question that arises under the school laws and is therefore within the Commissioner's primary jurisdiction. According to petitioner, it is inappropriate for the ALJ to defer a ruling until the Superior Court issues a decision when there is a live controversy under the school laws and the Board could be enjoined from its activities if they are in violation of those laws. Petitioner also argues that the ALJ's Order does not explain why a decision by the Superior Court concerning real property and contract claims would be probative on the issues of the Board's authority to take action without a Board resolution or Commissioner approval. Petitioner asks the Commissioner to enter summary decision in its favor and to enjoin the Board from further prosecuting the Superior Court complaint.

In response, the Board concurs with petitioner that the ALJ's order warrants immediate review. The Board agrees with petitioner that the issue of whether the Superior Court complaint is a school facilities project is not premature. However, the Board contends that summary decision should be granted in its favor and that the petition of appeal should be dismissed.

Upon review, the Commissioner concludes that the question of whether the filing of the Superior Court complaint required the approval of the Board, or of the Commissioner as a school facilities project, is ripe for review. These determinations depend on the application of the school laws, which are within the Commissioner's jurisdiction pursuant to N.J.A.C. 18A:6-9. The Superior Court does not have the authority to determine whether a Board resolution was required to file the Superior Court complaint.[2] Furthermore, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that a ruling by the Superior Court against the Board could render the question of whether the Superior Court complaint is a school facilities project moot. The ALJ appears to have reasoned that if the Board is not permitted to exercise its right of reversion, then it will not be engaging in any activities on the property that could constitute a school facilities project. However, as stated in the Commissioner's previous decision in this matter, the Superior Court complaint itself may constitute a school facilities project. That question also falls within the Commissioner's jurisdiction pursuant to N.J.A.C. 18A:6-9, and not the jurisdiction of the Superior Court. If it is determined that the Superior Court complaint is a school facilities project, and that the Board should have obtained the Commissioner's approval of that project prior to filing the complaint, then the complaint should not proceed.

While the Commissioner concludes that the questions of Board and/or Commissioner approvals of the Superior Court complaint are ripe for review at this time, the Commissioner declines to address them on the limited record available as part of the request for interlocutory review.

[2] The Commissioner notes that the ALJ's Order indicates that petitioner did not provide any regulation that states that a superintendent cannot commence a civil action without a resolution by the Board. However, the ALJ did not make any findings or reach any conclusions on this issue.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded to the OAL for a determination on the parties' motions for summary decision[3] and any other proceedings necessary to bring this matter to a close.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[4]

[3] The Commissioner does not reach a conclusion about whether the parties' motions meet the standard for summary decision, pursuant to Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520 (1995). On remand, the ALJ is free to determine that there are material facts in dispute or that there are other factors that preclude summary decision. Alternatively, if the ALJ concludes that the Brill standard has been met and that it is appropriate to decide the matter on a summary basis, a decision on the merits of the motions should be issued.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

Board of Education of the Township of North Bergen, Hudson County, Petitioner,

v.

Maria Castellito,

Respondent.

Synopsis

The petitioning Board of Education sought and was granted an order for emergent relief to compel respondent, Maria Castellitto, – a teacher employed by the Board – to undergo a mental and physical examination within 60 days. Respondent suffers from an inability or unwillingness to adapt to the technology that was necessary for remote instruction during the COVID-19 epidemic, citing a fear that she was being watched through her computer by unknown parties and that those she spoke with through the telephone and by way of video conference were imposters. Respondent was placed on medical leave from the District on November 18, 2021 and cannot be returned to a classroom until she submits to the appropriate mental and physical examinations.

The ALJ found that: the granting of emergent relief to compel a mental and physical examination within 60 days of the Commissioner's Order, dated September 14, 2022, was the only issue for determination in this case. As there are no further issues to be addressed at this time, this matter should be closed.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that it is appropriate to close this matter. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was affirmed, and the matter was closed.

BEFORE ELISSA MIZZONE TESTA, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Board of Education of the Township of North Bergen, Hudson County, ("Petitioner" or "District") filed a Petition with the New Jersey Department of Education

[i] The September 2, 2022 Order Granting Emergent Relief is now being submitted as an Initial Decision with the appropriate language at the conclusion of the decision for the purpose of closing the matter.

("DOE"), seeking Emergent Relief to compel Maria Castellitto ("Respondent" or "M.C."), an employee/teacher of the petitioner, to undergo a mental and physical examination. The contested matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:6A-12.1, where it was filed on May 2, 2022, to be heard on an emergent basis.

The Emergent Hearing was scheduled for May 6, 2022, via Zoom. Respondent failed to appear for the Zoom hearing. Counsel for petitioner, Jason M. Ryglicki, did appear for said hearing. It became apparent at that time that respondent would not be appearing for the hearing because she suffers from an inability or unwillingness to adopt to technology, including a fear that she was being watched through her computer by unknown parties and that those she spoke with through the telephone and by way of video conference were imposters. Respondent also had been placed on medical leave since November 18, 2021 and cannot return to a classroom until the appropriate mental and physical examinations are performed. Attempts were made to reach respondent at her last known telephone number and by way of email to no avail. In light of same, it was agreed to by Mr. Ryglicki, Esq. that the matter should not be heard on May 6, 2022 date as an emergent and that the respondent be given an opportunity to appear for an in-person hearing.

The matter was re-scheduled for an in-person hearing on June 6, 2022. On said date, petitioner appeared by way of counsel, Mr. Ryglicki, however, notice was sent to the wrong address for respondent, and she did not appear. Once again attempts were made to reach respondent by phone and email to no avail. In consideration for the concerns of all involved in this matter, Mr. Ryglicki had a wellness check conducted to ensure the well-being and safety of respondent. On June 6, 2022, the Edgewater Police Department conducted the wellness check and determined that respondent seemed well. See, Certification of Jason M. Ryglicki, Esq. attached as Attachment A. The matter was rescheduled for July 12, 2022 as a telephone hearing. Once again, respondent failed to appear for the telephone hearing.

The matter will be decided as an application for Emergent Relief, irrespective, of the above detailed timeline.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS OF FACT

At the June 6, 2022 hearing, counsel for respondent read into the record "The Facts Common to All Counts" which were set forth in the Petition for Emergent Relief. The Petition for Emergent Relief to Compel a Mental and Physical Examination is attached hereto as Attachment B. The facts are undisputed, and I therefore FIND them to be the FACTS of the case.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

A Motion for Emergent Relief filed with the Commissioner of Education shall be subject to a review under Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-134 (1983), N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6. Specifically, there are four prongs the Commissioner must consider when emergent relief is sought: (1) it is necessary to prevent irreparable harm, (2) the legal right underlying the application is unsettled, (3) the applicant has made a preliminary showing of a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits, and (4) the relative hardship to the parties in granting or denying the application. Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-134 (1983).

In the case at hand, M.C. has been employed by the North Bergen Board of Education for nearly twenty years and she has been on medical leave since November 18, 2021, following an examination by the District's psychiatrist, due to her on-going behaviors. According to the District, without consideration as to her prior efficiency and ability in her employment, the past two years have been especially challenging. As clearly set forth in the facts placed on the record and attached hereto as Attachment B, the behavior ranges from an inability or unwillingness to adopt technology which was required to be utilized during the COVID-19 pandemic, including a fear that she was being watched through her computer by unknown parties, believing the people she spoke with telephonically and by way of video conference were imposters, etc... Her behaviors have necessitated medical intervention on at least two (2) prior occasions and have interfered with her ability to effectively educate her students. Respondent has gone as far as to deny the requirement to modify tests as required by an Individualized Educational Program ("IEP") as required by Federal law. Meanwhile, since November 18, 2021, she has been employed by the District and has failed to comply with the District's resolution mandating that she undergoes physical and mental testing to assess whether she would be capable of returning to the classroom. The District argues that failure to have these tests completed in a timely fashion will continue to impinge on the District's constitutional duty to provide a thorough and efficient education. Further, over the past several months, the District has accrued significant costs associated with M.C.'s medical leave and will continue to accrue additional cost on a daily basis into the foreseeable future. Respondent's on-going refusal to get evaluated has and will continue to cause irreparable harm.

N.J.S.A 18A:16-2 states that a Board of Education "may require individual psychiatric or physical examinations of any employee, whenever, in the judgment of the board, an employee shows evidence of deviation from normal, physical or mental health." The burden to challenge any such judgment of the board lies with the challenger of said judgment. Bd. of Edu. of Lyndhurst v. Blevis, OAL Docket No. 01711-07 at 5. To satisfy any issues related to due process, the statute requires "that the teacher or employee be provided with a statement outlining the reasons the board . . . is ordering said teacher or employee to submit to the fitness for duty examination, . . . [and an] opportunity for a hearing, if such a hearing is requested. Further, a teacher or employee has a right to appeal from an adverse decision to the State Board of Education under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-27." Id. (citing Curcio v. Collingswood Bd. of Educ., 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 46648, 2 006 WL 1806455 at * 10 (slip op.) (D.N.J. 2006); Kochman v. Keansburg Board of Education, 124 N.J. Super. 203, 213-14, 305 A.2d 807 (Ch. Div. 1973). The right of a Board to order such evaluation has been found constitutional in both Federal and State Courts. See, Hoffman v. Jannarone, 401 F. Supp. 1095 (D.N.J. 1975) (rev'd in part); Gish v. Board of Ed. of Borough of Paramus, Bergen County, 145 N.J. Super., 96, 104-105, 366 A.2d 1337 (App. Div. 1976).

In this case, M.C. refused to be tested after being afforded her procedural right to be heard in a preliminary hearing. M.C. failed to appear at said meeting despite adequate notice. Furthermore, the District argue that M.C.'s refusal has never been supported by any rationale or other reasonable basis for such denial, and she has never appealed nor indicated her intent to appeal the determination of the Board. As shown above, the legal rights of petitioner to seek this evaluation is settled law and the District is likely to succeed based on that settled right, and the facts specific to this case. Therefore, the District clearly has satisfied the second and third prong of the Crow v. DeGioia test.

While the District acknowledges that ordering M.C. to undergo evaluations touches her constitutional rights. It is well settled that "the interest of the State of New Jersey to protect its youth outweighs the individual constitutional rights of the teacher or employee in question." See, Hoffman v. Jannarone, 401 F. Supp. 1095 (D.N.J. 1975) (rev'd in part); Gish v. Board of Ed. of Borough of Paramus, Bergen County, 145 N.J. Super., 96, 104-105, 366 A.2d 1337 (App. Div. 1976). While M.C. is subject to an undeniable hardship, the hardships faced by the Board relate to their constitutional obligation to provide a thorough and efficient education to their students, as well as the ongoing costs accrued by the District at the expense of the taxpayers of the Township and State. Therefore, in weighing the relative hardships, it is clear that the hardships faced by the Board of Education outweigh the hardships of the respondent, thereby satisfying the fourth prong under DeGioia.

For the reasons set forth above, I CONCLUDE that respondent's request for emergent relief is warranted, and that the petitioner be ordered to undergo physical and mental evaluation, as set forth more fully on the record and in the petition. (Attachment B).

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that petitioner's request to compel respondent to appear for a mental and physical examination is hereby GRANTED. it is further ORDERED that the respondent is to appear for all necessary mental and physical examinations within sixty days.

There are no further issues that needs to be addressed therefore, this matter is closed.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Wayne Ernst,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro-se petitioner challenged the denial of his application for a Teacher of Physical Science Certificate by the New Jersey Department of Education, Board of Examiners (the Board). The Board denied the application because petitioner did not meet the specified requirements under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4, as he satisfied the physics requirement but lacked seven (7) semester-hour credits in chemistry. Petitioner contended that the Board erred by not accepting as equivalent his similar coursework from disciplines that overlap with chemistry and his professional experience teaching chemistry. The Board filed a motion to dismiss.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: when a decision by the Board has been appealed, the Commissioner must determine whether that decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record and will not disturb the decision unless the appellant has demonstrated that the Board acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law; pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-38, the Board is responsible for determining if an instructional teaching certificate may be issued to an applicant; if an applicant has been advised of a deficiency in their certification requirements, they may provide the Board with evidence of alternative education and/or experience that he or she believes is equivalent to the area(s) of deficiency; in this case, the Board determined not to accept petitioner's alternative education to satisfy the remaining requirements that he needed to receive a Teacher of Physical Science certificate; and the Board's decision in this matter was reasonable and consistent with applicable regulations. The ALJ concluded that petitioner did not meet requirements for a Teacher of Physical Science Certificate pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1 and 10.4; accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion to dismiss.

Upon comprehensive review, the Commissioner found, inter alia, that: the ALJ mistakenly applied the wrong standard of review in the Initial Decision, stating that the SBE's decision will not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the SBE acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law; the appropriate standard of review here is whether the SBE's decision was consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:3; nonetheless, the record of this matter demonstrates that the petitioner did not complete the required course work and that the SBE's decision to deny his application was consistent with the applicable regulatory provisions. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was modified with respect to the appropriate standard of review and the petition was dismissed.

Agency Dkt. No. 137-6/22

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Wayne Ernst,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Education,
State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

In this matter, petitioner challenges the New Jersey State Board of Examiners' (Board) denial of his application for a Teacher of Physical Science Certificate. Petitioner currently holds a Teacher of Physics Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing and a Teacher of Physics Certificate. The Board denied his application because he was missing seven (7) semester-hour credits in chemistry. Petitioner argued that his alternative education and experience satisfied a one-to-one-correspondence to the missing chemistry credits, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b). The Board found that while the physics courses petitioner took may have included chemistry concepts, they did not include the in-depth chemistry instruction required under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4; further, the topics petitioner taught in a chemistry course were not comparable to the coursework required for a Teacher of Physical Science, which includes chemistry at the advanced level. Following a motion to dismiss, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that petitioner did not meet requirements for a Teacher of Physical Science Certificate pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1 and 10.4.

As a threshold matter, a discussion of the applicable standard of review for petitions of appeal that are filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:3 is necessary. When there is a challenge to a determination made by an office within the Department of Education, the Commissioner is not mandated to give deference to her staff, but instead determines if the finding was legally appropriate. See, Board of Trustees of the Passaic County Elks Cerebral Palsy Center v. New Jersey Dept. of Educ., Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance, Commissioner's Decision No. 334-14, dated August 14, 2014 (finding that a decision of the Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance is not given deference by the Commissioner). Moreover, where the Department of Education has limited the scope of review of a subordinate office or division, it has done so by regulation, i.e. appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 challenging a decision of the State Board of Examiners revoking/suspending a certificate, or a decision of the School Ethics Commission.

In the Initial Decision, the ALJ mistakenly referenced N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a), applied deference to the Board, and stated that the Board's decision in this case would not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the Board acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law. It is important to recognize that a decision by the Board denying an application for a certificate is not entitled to the arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable standard of review that is afforded to appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4, challenging a decision of the Board revoking or suspending a certificate. See, Jessica Walder v. New Jersey Department of Education, State Board of Examiners, Commissioner's Decision No. 503-14, decided December 29, 2014 (finding that the Commissioner does not give deference to a decision of the State Board of Examiners denying a request for issuance of a certificate). The petition of appeal in this matter was filed in accordance with N.J.A.C.

6A:3, which consists of completely different regulatory provisions than N.J.A.C. 6A:4; these two Administrative Code Sections should never be conflated. As such, the standard of review that governs appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 does not apply to this case. Therefore, the appropriate standard of review of the Boards' decision is whether the decision is consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions.

Upon review of the record and applying the appropriate standard of review, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ's ultimate determination that petitioner has not met the requirements for a Teacher of Physical Sciences Certificate pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1 and 10.4. Petitioner is seven (7) semester-hour credits short of the requirement in chemistry and his physics coursework does not satisfy a one-to-one equivalent to the missing chemistry courses, as both physics and chemistry courses are required for the Physical Sciences endorsement.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is modified with respect to the appropriate standard of review and the petition is hereby dismissed.

SUMMARY DECISION

OAL DKT. NO. EDU 05270-22

AGENCY DKT. NO. 137-6/22

IN THE MATTER OF THE DENIAL OF THE TEACHING CERTIFICATE OF WAYNE ERNST, NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Wayne Ernst, petitioner, pro se

Sydney Finkelstein, Deputy Attorney General, for respondent, New Jersey Department of Education, Board of Examiners (Matthew J. Platkin, Acting Attorney General, attorney)

Record Closed: September 1, 2022 Decided: September 30, 2022

BEFORE KATHLEEN M. CALEMMO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Wayne Ernst, challenged the denial of his application for a Teacher of Physical Science Certificate by the New Jersey Department of Education, Board of Examiners (the Board). The Board denied the application because Ernst did not meet the specified requirements under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4; he satisfied the physics requirement but lacked seven semester-hour credits in chemistry. Petitioner contends that the Board erred by not accepting his similar coursework from disciplines that overlap with chemistry and his professional experience teaching chemistry as equivalent to his area of deficiency.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 4, 2022, the Board rendered its written decision denying petitioner's request. On June 1, 2022, petitioner filed an appeal of the Board's decision with the Bureau of Controversies and Disputes. On June 21, 2022, respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss in lieu of an Answer, and the contested case was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) where it was filed on June 28, 2022. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to 15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to 13.

After a telephone conference, I set a briefing schedule regarding the respondent's pending Motion to Dismiss. On August 23, 2022, petitioner filed his opposition to respondent's motion. Respondent replied by letter brief on September 1, 2022, at which time the record closed.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

A Motion to Dismiss is recognized in the Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g). While the Commissioner may dismiss the petition based on such motion prior to referral of the matter to the OAL, it is also the Commissioner's prerogative to transfer determination of the motion to the OAL. In assessing such a motion, the claims made by the party who filed the petition must be deemed to be true and all reasonable inferences such allegations may support must be accepted. The standard utilized by the courts in judging such motion is traditionally quite liberal towards the non-moving party. Green v. Morgan Props., 215 N.J. 431, 451 (2013).

Herein, respondent maintained that petitioner has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. The standard to be applied in deciding this motion is essentially the same that govern a motion under R. 4:46-2 for summary judgment in civil litigation. Contini v. Bd. of Educ. of Newark, 286 N.J. Super. 106, 121, (App. Div. 1995), certif. denied, 145 N.J. 372 (1996). Under this standard, the court or agency must determine "whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party in consideration of the applicable evidentiary standard, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party." Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520, 523 (1995). When making a summary decision, the "judge's function is not to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial." Brill, 142 N.J. at 540.

Accordingly, for the purposes of the motion, all facts alleged by the petition will be deemed admitted, and I FIND as follows:

Ernst received his Bachelor of Science degree in physics with a concentration in astronomy and a minor in mathematics from Montclair State University. He currently holds a Teacher of Physics Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS), issued in June 2013, and a Teacher of Physics Certificate, issued in November 2015.

In the spring of 2021, Ernst filed an application for an additional endorsement in Physical Science. To meet the endorsement requirements under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-9.1(a)1iii, Ernst was required to have completed "[a] 30-credit coherent sequence of courses in physics and a minimum of 15 credits in chemistry." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4. Ernst met the requirement for physics but not for chemistry. As shown on his transcripts, Ernst earned eight credits in chemistry-specific courses, leaving him seven credits short.

In his appeal, Ernst asked the Board to consider alternative education and professional experience as equivalent to the seven chemistry credits. Ernst believes that certain courses at Montclair State University should have been credited toward the chemistry requirement because these courses covered topics, concepts, and skills that overlap with chemistry courses. His position is that the unique relationship between physics and chemistry and the overlap between these disciplines should not be divided by a mere course label of "PHYS" versus "CHEM." As noted on his transcript, Ernst took a total of forty-seven credit-hours in courses labeled as "PHYS" and eight credit-hours in courses labeled as "CHEM." He stressed that a review and comparison of the courses is required to appropriately assess his qualification for this endorsement.

Ernst maintained that three credits he earned in thermodynamics under the "PHYS" label should have been deemed a one-to-one equivalent for a chemistry course. In support of his argument, Ernst compared the course outline from his thermodynamics course in the physics department under the "PHYS" label at Montclair State University with course syllabi from chemistry departments under the "CHEM" label at other universities. These included: Princeton University's Chemical Dynamics and Thermodynamics; New Jersey Institute of Technology's Physical Chemistry I; Rowan University's Chemical Engineering Thermodynamics; and the College of New Jersey's Chemical Thermodynamics. As a further demonstration of the equivalency of his physics department thermodynamics course, Ernst included an email from Dr. Michael T. Kelly, who offered a comparison between Chemistry 306 offered at Princeton with Physics 320 offered at Montclair. Dr. Kelly determined that the comparison was "quite good" with some exceptions.

As demonstrated above, Ernst maintained that he established a one-to-one equivalency with his thermodynamics physics course, that should have provided him with three additional chemistry credits. Although Ernst maintained that he could easily make up the four-credit deficit from his other courses, he requested that the Board approve his professional experience teaching chemistry at Jack M. Barrack Hebrew Academy for the remaining four credits.

Ernst appeared before the Board at its meeting on January 21, 2022. He was asked no questions. The Board considered the alternative education and experiences that Ernst believed was equivalent to his coursework deficiency. After review, the Board determined that Ernst "did not provide compelling evidence of a one to one correspondence between his proffered alternative education and experience and the 7 semester-hour credits in chemistry." In denying his application, the Board noted that "while Ernst may have taken courses that included concepts covered in chemistry courses and taught a chemistry course, the Board finds that it is necessary to complete the full complement of coursework for eligibility as a Teacher of Physical Science because the endorsement enables its holder to teach a variety of courses related to the physical science, including chemistry, at the advanced level."

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Ernst carries the burden of demonstrating by a preponderance of the credible evidence that he is entitled to the certification he seeks. Farrar v. State Bd. of Exam'rs, EDU 13763-08, Initial Decision (April 27, 2010), aff'd, Comm'r (July 26, 2010), <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. When a decision by the Board has been appealed, the Commissioner "shall ascertain whether the decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record and shall not disturb the decision unless the appellant has demonstrated the State Board of Examiners . . . acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law." N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a). "Arbitrary and capricious action of administrative bodies means willful and unreasoning action, without consideration and in disregard of circumstances. Where there is room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration, even though it may be believed that an erroneous conclusion has been reached." Bayshore Sewerage Co. v. Dep't of Environmental Protection, 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (App. Div. 1973), citations omitted.

The Board of Examiners is responsible for determining if an instructional teaching certificate may be issued to an applicant. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-38. If an applicant for a teaching certificate has been advised of a deficiency in their certification requirements, they "may provide the Board of Examiners with evidence of alternative education and/or experience that he or she believes is equivalent to the area(s) of deficiency." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b). The Board is not permitted to waive any requirements, but can consider alternative education if the petitioner demonstrates, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that the alternative education is the one-to-one equivalent with the statutory requirements. Jessica Walder v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, EDU 08530-14, Initial Decision (November 10, 2014), aff'd, Commissioner (May 15, 2013), <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>.

Ernst urges that I undertake the comparison between his physics courses and chemistry courses that the Board declined to do. But that is not my role. Rather, I must assess whether the actions of the Board were patently unreasonable and arbitrary when they decided that, in their view, courses that may include concepts also covered in chemistry courses do not meet the requirement embodied in the administrative code that required a minimum of fifteen credits in chemistry. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4. While the comparison syllabi with Princeton and other prestigious institutions of higher learning and Dr. Kelly's assessment of the comparison provided by Ernst offer well-considered arguments in favor of giving him the credit he seeks, the law demands that I defer to the viewpoint of the Board, as it is the body delegated with the authority to determine what credentials qualify applicants to teach the children of New Jersey. The Legislature has delegated the responsibility for the issuance of teaching certificates to the Board. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-38.

Moreover, I concur with the Board that the regulatory scheme plainly states that coursework both in physics and chemistry are prerequisites to the certificate Ernst seeks. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.4. It would thus be inconsistent with the regulatory scheme to permit Ernst to satisfy his missing chemistry credits with physics credits. The regulatory scheme required Ernst to have completed a minimum of fifteen credits in chemistry while also completing a thirty-credit coherent sequence of courses in physics. Moreover, N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(c) in pertinent parts provides:

> The Board of Examiners shall not:
> 1. Waive any test, GPA, degree completion, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements;
> 2. Permit a candidate to substitute education and/or experience for any test, GPA, degree, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the Board's decision relative to Ernst's application for certification is reasonable; is consistent with the regulatory intent, which is to rigorously vet applicants for certification; and is entitled to deference.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Board of Examiners' Motion to Dismiss is GRANTED and the petition of appeal is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify, or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

L.H. and S.H., on behalf of minor children, L.H. and S.H.,

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Burlington, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioners L.H. and S.H. filed an emergent relief petition challenging the determination of the respondent Board that their children – who allegedy became homeless after the family lost their house in Burlington – are no longer eligible to receive a free public education in Burlington because they have been living with S.H.'s mother in Willingboro for several years. Petitioners accused school administrators of harassment and defamation in their handling of this residency matter. The Board contended that petitioners are no longer homeless and Willingboro has become the district of residence; accordingly, the children should be enrolled in the Willingboro school district.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the case was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on an emergent basis, with the sole issue for determination being residency; petitioners' family had previously lived in Burlington, but lost their residence and attributed this to "unstable housing"; in October 2021, the Board received notification from the Willingboro Township Board of Education that the family had been residing in Willingboro and were no longer considered homeless; petitioners' children were allowed to finish out the 2021-2022 school year in Burlington, but thereafter the District required petitioners to enroll in the Willingboro school district. The ALJ concluded that petitioners are no longer domiciled in Burlington, and are now domiciled in Willingboro; further, petitioners failed to demonstrate entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982). Accordingly, the ALJ ordered the emergent relief petition denied, and affirmed the Board's residency determination.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that petitioners failed to demonstrate entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6. However, the portion of the Initial Decision affirming the Board's residency determination was rejected, as such determinations are fact-specific and require evidence beyond what was submitted as part of the emergent proceedings. Accordingly, the matter was remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with the Commissioner's decision.

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Burlington,
Burlington County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the sound recording of proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the Initial Decision of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ, for the reasons detailed in the Initial Decision, that petitioner has failed to demonstrate entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6.

However, the record does not contain sufficient information to determine on the merits whether petitioners' children are domiciled in Burlington or whether they are entitled to a free public education in Burlington schools. Residency determinations are fact-specific and require evidence beyond what has been submitted as part of the emergent proceedings to date.

Accordingly, the portion of the Initial Decision denying petitioners' application for emergent relief is adopted for the reasons stated therein. The portion of the Initial Decision affirming the Board's residency determination is rejected, and this matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

Alicia D'Anella, Esq., for respondent, Board of Education of the City of Burlington (Parker McCay, P.A., attorneys)

Record Closed: September 26, 2022 Decided: September 27, 2022

BEFORE DEAN J. BUONO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners L.H. and S.H. filed and a perfected Petition of Appeal in the form of Emergent Relief with the Department of Education on or about September 19, 2022, from the determination of the Board of Education ("District" or "Board") of the City of Burlington ("Burlington") dated September 7, 2022, that their family is not domiciled in the City of Burlington and that her children (also named L.H. and S.H.) cannot continue to attend its schools.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Department of Education Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted the Request for Emergent Relief to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on or about September 19, 2022. The transmittal was in the form of an emergent application only and the sole issue to be decided in the case is residency. This matter was assigned to the undersigned for oral argument on the emergency request, which was held through Zoom technology, consistent with the OAL Covid-19 Emergency provisions, on September 26, 2022, and the record closed on that date.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND TESTIMONY

Petitioners appeal was accompanied by a writing that articulated their thoughts. The undersigned determined that petitioners were pro se and their writing warrants repeating for determination as evidence in the record. Without objection from the District this is their recitation.

L.H. and S.H. filed this complaint because they felt that the vice principal and/or school administrator used their position of power to bully, intimidate, harass and defame the family's character by belittling the children and family through knowingly lying over a petition of filing with the Department of Education division of controversies. This was directed by the school board, vice principal (Nicholas Rancani) and the school's attorney to file in a written letter, dated August 1,2022. Seven days after the decision was made giving them twenty-one days to appeal the rule. L.H. and S.H. filed an appeal on August 16, 2022, mailing the appeal to Trenton, while making a copy of the form for their records. L.H. and S.H. received a letter to attend orientation for their daughter. Which was attended and they also set up the children's online school portal for the year.

On the first day of school, September 7, 2022, when the children arrived at school, they were denied entry by the school principal which stated to L.H. that they were dropped from enrollment. L.H. and S.H. returned them back home while they tried to resolve the matter with the Burlington City school district and their department of education.

The following day L.H. and S.H. received a hand delivered letter stating that they were being reported to the New Jersey Department of Children and Family. On September 9, 2022, a case worker from the New Jersey Department of Children and Family came to the home. A report was filed with their office claiming the children weren't enrolled in school and were truants. L.H. and S.H. showed her documents from the school portal showing that the children were enrolled in school and explained to her what was going on. Also, that day a truancy officer came from Willingboro Township, a district where the children never attended school.

A school board member from the City of Burlington came to where they "temporarily stay" to hand deliver a letter. L.H. and S.H. filed the complaint for several reasons including that the children were never unenrolled from school. L.H. and S.H. also claim that there was no truancy violation because the school denied entry and they did not have fifteen days of unexcused absences from school. They claim the District filed a false child endangerment complaint with the New Jersey Department of Children and Family. They allege that the "City of Burlington school district and vice principal Nicholas Rancani or someone acting on their behalf knowingly shared private, confidential and privileged information about L.H. and S.H.'s minor children without written consent".

They further allege that Vice Principal Nicholas Rancani used his position to "attempt to bully...and harass the family by knowingly misrepresenting how the appeal process worked and by filing a report with the New Jersey Department of Children and Family. That deprived the children of a stable family environment. While bullying our family with tactics, Nicholas Rancani used his position as a school administrator to misrepresent his authority by denying access to school which are publicly funded. He knowingly misrepresented the school appeal process which was set by the New Jersey Department of Education."

They feel this action was taken due to their "ethnicity and their beliefs that I am disenfranchised person. Their action already caused social embarrassment to our family especially since L.H. is a volunteer coach on our son's youth football team."

L.H. and S.H. testified that they did not receive a lot of the documentation from the District. They conceded that they "lost the housing in Burlington due unstable housing" and moved to Willingboro to live with S.H.'s mother. However, when S.H.'s mother has "psychotic breaks" they have to stay away for a while.

Respondent claims that petitioners are seeking emergent relief on a residency matter involving their two children, L.H. and S.H., and they submitted a page of unsubstantiated attacks on the school employees who have been trying to assist them. In support of its opposition, and in light of the absence of facts in petitioners' pleadings, the Board submits and relies on the certification of Superintendent, Dr. John Russell. ("Russell Certification.")

Petitioners are known to the Board as a family having been homeless for several years. As they were residing in the City of Burlington when they became homeless, the children L.H. and S.H. were permitted to remain enrolled in the District's schools. In October of 2021, the Board received a copy of a letter that had been sent to petitioners by the Willingboro Township Board of Education ("Willingboro"). (Russell Certification ¶ 2.) The letter stated that petitioners had been residing at 52 Country Club Road in Willingboro ("Willingboro Property") for over a year and were no longer considered homeless. The letter directed the petitioners to withdraw their children from the District and register them in Willingboro. Id. Willingboro also provided the District with a copy of a McKinney-Vento Parent/Guardian Contact Report, dated May 5, 2021, from the Gloucester County Special Services School District. (Id. at ¶ 3.) That report confirmed that petitioners had been residing at the Willingboro Property since 2018. (Id. at ¶ 3.) Based on the information received from Willingboro, the District informed petitioners that they were no longer considered to be "intransition" under the McKinney Vento Act in light of their stable residence at the Willingboro Property since 2018. (Id. at ¶ 4.) Petitioners were advised that their children could continue school in the District until December 23, 2021, but that the District would no longer be providing transportation. Id. Throughout the remainder of 2021, the District had multiple conversations with petitioners regarding their children's enrollment status through various staff members. (Id. at ¶ 5.) In early January of 2022, petitioner L.H. met with Dr. Russell to discuss the children's continued enrollment. (Id. at ¶ 6.) In light of the educational disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. Russell agreed to allow the children to continue attending school in the District through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. (Id. at ¶ 6.) Dr. Russell made clear to L.H. that the District would move forward with removal of petitioners' children at the conclusion of the 2021-2022 school year, should petitioners refuse to enroll them in Willingboro. Id. The children finished the school year enrolled in the District but did not receive transportation. Id. Petitioners never appealed or contested the loss of transportation. Id. Petitioners took no action to withdraw their children from the District or enroll them in Willingboro. Therefore, on July 20, 2022, the District sent petitioners an Initial Notice of Ineligibility, advising them that the children were no longer eligible to attend school in the District based on their residency in Willingboro, and advising of their right to request a hearing before the Board. (Id. At ¶ 7.)

Petitioners requested a hearing, and the Board held by committee on July 25, 2022. (Id. at ¶ 8.) During this hearing, petitioners admitted that they have been living at the Willingboro Property since 2019. Id. They confirmed much of the information in the Parent/Guardian Contact Report from the Gloucester County Special Services School District, specifically that the Willingboro Property was owned by S.H.'s parents, and that petitioners had moved in after S.H.'s father passed away in order to help take care of her mother. Id.

After the hearing, the District sent a Final Notice of Ineligibility to petitioners on August 1, 2022. (Id. at ¶ 9.) The letter was hand-delivered by a staff member, and petitioners acknowledged their receipt of same on August 4, 2022. Id. Because petitioners did not appeal the Board's final determination within twenty-one (21) days, the District sent a disenrollment letter to petitioners on September 8, 2022. (Id. at ¶ 10.) It was not until their children were unable to attend school on September 7th, well beyond the twenty-one (21) day timeframe, that petitioners filed their Petition. The Gloucester County Special Services School District provides McKinney-Vento related services to students from districts in Gloucester, Camden, Atlantic and Burlington Counties. While petitioners made this representation during the hearing, all of the documentation related to this case suggests petitioners actually lived at the Willingboro Property since 2018. Petitioners filed this Appeal with the Office of Controversies and Disputes on September 7, 2022. (Id. at ¶ 11.) They enrolled the children in Willingboro, where they are currently attending. (Id. At ¶ 12.)

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

Based upon the testimony of the witnesses and the documentary evidence presented, and with the opportunity to assess the credibility of the witnesses, I FIND the following:

L.H. and S.H. lived in Burlington City. In October of 2021, the Board received a letter that had been sent to petitioners by the Willingboro Township Board of Education stating that they had been residing at 52 Country Club Road in Willingboro and were no longer considered homeless. Petitioners were advised that their children could continue school in the Burlington City District until December 23, 2021, but that the District would no longer be providing transportation. In light of the educational disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. Russell allowed the children to continue attending school in the District through the end of the 2021-2022 school year. The children finished the school year enrolled in the Burlington City District. Thereafter, the District required petitioners to enroll in the school district of their domicile. I so FIND as FACT that petitioners do not have domicile in Burlington City. I so FIND as FACT that petitioners are domiciled in Willingboro.

I must make credibility determinations with regard to these potentially material facts. A credibility determination requires an overall assessment of the witness' story in light of its rationality, internal consistency and the manner in which it "hangs together" with the other evidence. Daiichi Pharm. Co. v. Apotex, Inc., 441 F. Supp. 2d 672 (D.N.J. 2006). After carefully considering the testimonial and documentary evidence presented, and having had the opportunity to listen to the testimony and observe the demeanor of the witnesses, I am convinced that petitioners' testimony was credible but was somewhat exaggerated in some of the insignificant details.

Petitioners' testimony did not hang together or make sense in light of the mailings or some of the communications, and I so FIND. However, I do not believe that it was intentional. I FIND that the petitioners are attempting to provide a stable environment for their children, and I so FIND that as FACT.

These findings are further supported by the lack of the usual documentary indicia of residence and occupancy, such as utility bills, pay stubs, insurance, construction invoices. I concur with the District that the lack of production of this common evidence by the petitioners generate, at the very least, a rebuttable presumption that their production would not have helped her case.[1] Petitioners carry the burden of proving their domicile in Burlington City for eligibility for free public education there and their lack of documentary evidence or buttressing testimonial proof weighs against them in this case. See State by Comm'r of Transp. v. Council in Div. of Res. Dev., etc., 60 N.J. 199, 202 (1972) (litigant's failure to produce may be inferred to have been prompted by a conscious appreciation that the evidence would or might be hurtful to his position), citing Interchemical Corp. v. Uncas Printing & Fishing Co., 39 N.J. Super. 318, 328 (App. Div. 1956).

[1] Insofar as there has been no demonstration of bad faith or destruction, nor is this a jury trial, a formal sanction of an "adverse inference" is not appropriate, nor has it been sought. See, e.g., Bozic v. City of Wash., 912 F. Supp. 2d 257 (W.D. Pa. 2012).

LEGAL DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The standards which must be met by the moving party in an application for emergent relief are embodied in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), and Crowe v. DeGoia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1982). Emergency relief may only be granted if the judge determines that petitioner has proved all of the following:

1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the relief is not granted;

2. The legal right underlying the petitioner's claim is settled;

3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and

4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.

Irreparable Harm

Regarding the requirement that the petitioner must show that irreparable harm will result if emergent relief is not granted, "irreparable harm" is defined as the type of harm "that cannot be redressed adequately by monetary damages." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132-33. In addition, the irreparable harm standard contemplates that the harm be both substantial and immediate. Subcarrier Communications v. Day, 229 N.J. Super. 634, 638 (App. Div. 1977) Continental Group v. Amoco Chemicals Corp., 614 F.2d 351 (D.N.J. 1980). The threshold standard for irreparable harm in education is showing that once something is lost, it cannot be regained. M.L. ex rel. S.L. v. Bd. of Educ. of Ewing, EDU 4949-09, Initial Decision (June 15, 2009), modified, Acting Comm'r (June 15, 2009), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/. Since money damages are not available in education cases, and compensatory education is the only relief available, the analysis to be used is that if compensatory education, provided at a later date, cannot remedy the situation, then the harm is irreparable. Howell Twp. Bd. of Educ. v. A.I. & J.I. ex rel. S.I., EDU 5433-12, Order Granting Emergent Relief (May 2, 2012).

In the petition of appeal, L.H. and S.H. failed to describe the irreparable harm that could result. Although I disagree that every speculative event satisfies the irreparable harm standard, I note that the action taken by the Board may in fact result in irreparable harm if the children were currently not in school and not being educated.

In New Jersey, the obligation of each school district to provide free and appropriate public education generally extends only to those children domiciled within the district and, therefore:

> [I]f in the judgment of the board the parent or guardian is not domiciled within the district, or the child is not kept in the home of another person domiciled within the school district and supported by him gratis as if the child was the person's own child . . . the board may order the transfer or removal of the child from school. The parent or guardian may contest the board's decision before the commissioner within 21 days of the date of the decision and shall be entitled to an expedited hearing before the commissioner and shall have the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is eligible for a free education under the criteria listed in this subsection. The board of education shall, at the time of its decision, notify the parent or guardian in writing of his right to contest the decision within 21 days. No child shall be removed from school during the 21-day period in which the parent may contest the board's decision or during the pendency of the proceedings before the commissioner.
> [N.J.S.A. § 18A:38-1 (emphasis added).]

As petitioners stated, the Board "denied entry" of the children to the school. Even if we concede that the Board acted appropriately, the intent of the law is to prevent the exact situation that has resulted here: children, one of whom allegedly receives special education services, are not in school anywhere. I question if the Board ignored the procedure the Legislature established to protect children from losing academic ground during the course of this residency dispute.

I CONCLUDE that the action of the Board to refuse entry to children that do not live in the district is not a violation of N.J.S.A. § 18A:38-1 but will result in irreparable harm to them if they are not being properly educated. Although the petitioners testified that the children are being educated in Willingboro, they intimated that one of the children is simply placed and not being properly educated.

The Legal Right Is Settled and Likelihood of Prevailing on the Merits

To grant a motion for emergent relief in advance of a plenary hearing, a judge also must be satisfied that "[t]he legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled [and] that petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claims." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b)(2), (3). Regarding whether the petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim, there are no material facts in dispute that indicate petitioner's likelihood of success. In fact, the speculative assertions by petitioners of ethnicity and their beliefs that they are disenfranchised people are not at all persuasive. Petitioners' unsupported beliefs are not enough for this tribunal to conclude on unsupported speculation. As stated above, children have the right to a free and appropriate public education in the district in which they are domiciled. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a). If, however, the parents cannot produce evidence to prove that the children actually are domiciled in the District, they will be responsible to pay "the resident tuition for the student prorated to the time of [each] student's ineligible attendance in the school district." N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(1).

Petitioners testified that they "lost their housing in Burlington City due to unstable housing". Also, they claim that they moved the children to Willingboro on a permanent basis but, never changed their permanent residence. Despite the explanation given by petitioners at oral argument, the fact remains that the documented address is now in Willingboro. I CONCLUDE that the action of the Board to refuse entry to children that do not live in the district is not a violation and I am not able to conclude that petitioners demonstrated that a legal right is settled, nor have they established a likelihood of prevailing on the merits.

The final prong of the above test is whether the equities and interests of the parties weigh in favor of granting the requested relief. The petitioners argue that at least one of the children has "special learning needs" and will suffer.

Respondent spoke of the harm to the taxpayers, who would essentially be funding the education of children who do not live in the District. This is a strong argument; the taxpayers trust the Board to make fiscally responsible decisions, to keep costs as low as possible, and to ensure continued strong academic performance by the students who live in the community.

It is not lost on me that both parents are loving and want to provide for their children. In the end, though, the children are most likely to suffer if not properly educated. Of course, parents want their children in the strongest academic environment that they can find.

ORDER

Accordingly, it is ORDERED that petitioners' emergent appeal from the Burlington City Board of Education residency determination is hereby DENIED for failure to satisfy Crowe v. DeGoia and the determination of the Burlington City Board of Education on residency is AFFIRMED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

Donnie Harrell,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, Union County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed.[1] The parties did not file exceptions.

Petitioner challenges his termination from the Plainfield Board of Education (Board), alleging he had obtained tenure as a teacher in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5(b). Petitioner was first employed by the Board as a music teacher on April 16, 2014. He was reassigned to the District's Central Office on March 24, 2016, pending an investigation into allegations of sexual misconduct by petitioner toward a student. Petitioner returned to teaching at the start of the 2017-18 school year, but was again reassigned to the Central Office on March 29, 2018 following a second complaint alleging sexual misconduct by petitioner toward another student. Petitioner remained at the Central Office until his termination on January 11, 2019.

[1] The Commissioner was not provided with a transcript of the July 11, 2022 hearing at the OAL.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the Administrative Law Judge that petitioner had not acquired tenure prior to his termination. According to N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5(b), teaching staff members employed in the position of teacher, provided they hold a valid certificate, are under tenure after employment by a board for:

> (1) Four consecutive calendar years; or
>
> (2) Four consecutive academic years, together with employment at the beginning of the next succeeding academic year; or
>
> (3) The equivalent of more than four academic years within a period of any five consecutive academic years.
>
> In order to achieve tenure pursuant to this subsection, a teacher shall also complete a district mentorship program during the initial year of employment and receive a rating of effective or highly effective in two annual summative evaluations within the first three years of employment after the initial year of employment in which the teacher completes the district mentorship program. . . .
> For purposes of this subsection, "effective" or "highly effective" means the employee has received an annual summative evaluation rating of "effective" or "highly effective" based on the performance standards for his position established through the evaluation rubric adopted by the board of education and approved by the commissioner.

The Commissioner is in accord with the ALJ's determination that petitioner had not obtained tenure because he had not received the annual summative evaluations as required by the statute. The Board was unable to evaluate petitioner because he was not teaching from March 24, 2016 through completion of that school year, for the entire 2016-17 school year, and from March 28, 2018 until his termination on January 11, 2019.[2]

[2] To the extent that petitioner also argues that the Board failed to follow procedures for termination of non-tenured employees, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that the Board did not act in an arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable manner, or contrary to law, in terminating petitioner.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter and the petition is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED. [3]

DONNIE HARRELL,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE CITY OF PLAINFIELD, UNION COUNTY,
Respondent.

Charles J. Uliano, Esq., for petitioner (Chamlin, Uliano & Walsh, attorneys)

Michelle M. Schott, Esq., for respondent (Flanagan, Barone & O'Brien, attorneys)

Record Closed: September 6, 2022 Decided: October 6, 2022

BEFORE SUSANA E. GUERRERO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner Donnie Harrell (Petitioner or Harrell), a teacher employed by the respondent, Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, Union County (the Board or respondent), asserts that the Board violated his tenure rights by terminating his employment. The Board denies that Harrell had tenure when he was terminated. The predominant issue to be addressed in this matter is whether Harrell achieved tenure prior to being terminated by the Board in January 2019.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On or around February 7, 2019, Harrell filed a Petition with the New Jersey Department of Education (DOE) alleging that respondent Board terminated his position with the Board in violation of his tenure rights. The Petition requests that the termination be vacated, and that he be reinstated to the payroll and benefits plan and reimbursed for all benefits withheld since the day of his termination. Respondent filed an Answer to the Petition on or around April 3, 2019, denying petitioner's claims and asserting that Harrell did not serve in the position of teacher for the requisite time to obtain tenure, and that he never achieved tenure since his performance could not be evaluated while he was suspended. The Department of Education, Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted petitioner's claim to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on April 18, 2019. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

A hearing was initially scheduled for April 24 and April 27, 2020, but adjourned at the request of the parties and rescheduled to October 8, 2021. Due to a scheduling conflict, the hearing was then adjourned to November 10, 2021. That hearing date was adjourned again, at the request of the parties, to April 11, 13 and 14, 2022 but rescheduled as counsel needed more time to serve witnesses. A hearing took place at the Office of Administrative Law on July 11, 2022, and the parties agreed to file post-hearing summations. The record closed on September 6, 2022, upon receipt of all post-hearing summations.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The parties submitted a Joint Stipulation of Facts and Joint Exhibits. Harrell testified on his own behalf and Carletta Jones (Jones), the District's Director of Human Resources, testified on behalf of the Board. Based on the documentary and testimonial evidence presented, as well as my assessment of the credibility of the witnesses, I FIND the following FACTS:

Respondent is a public school in Union County, New Jersey. Prior to joining the Plainfield School District, petitioner taught in other school districts for at least ten years.

Harrell was hired by the Board as a substitute teacher and as a teacher's assistant, and worked part-time in those positions from November 20, 2013 until April 16, 2014. On April 16, 2014 he began to work full-time and was paid his full salary as a full-time music teacher at the Clinton Elementary School. Harrell testified that he received evaluations that academic year, but none were presented at the hearing. He continued to work for Plainfield during the 2015–2016 school year, but was removed from the classroom in March 2016.

On March 23, 2016, student A.R. complained to District personnel of sexual misconduct towards her by petitioner. On March 24, 2016, petitioner was assigned to the District's Central Office pending an investigation of the allegations against him by A.R. When Harrell was assigned to the Central Office, he continued to get paid but he did not teach students, and did not do any work for the District, with the exception of making photocopies once or twice. He remained in Central Office through the end of the 2016–2017 school year.

On June 1, 2017, the Department of Children and Families' Institutional Abuse Investigation Unit (IAIU) found ". . . the investigation could not conclusively determine" if an incident sexual in nature occurred between petitioner and A.R. The Union County Prosecutor's Office investigated the allegations and issued a report on July 26, 2017 in which they determined ". . . there was insufficient evidence to prosecute at this time."

In September 2017, Harrell was assigned as a full-time music teacher to the District's Barlow Elementary School for the 2017–2018 school year. On March 28, 2018, that same school year, a second complaint against petitioner was reported, alleging sexual misconduct by Harrell towards another student, N.G., which occurred in 2016. On March 29, 2018, Harrell was again assigned to Central Office pending an investigation of the new allegations against him. At this time, the District informed Harrell that he was immediately being placed on administrative leave, with pay, pending the outcome of the investigation, and that in the meanwhile he was not to have any contact with any students. Carletta Jones testified credibly that the District had a legal obligation to continue to pay Harrell and maintain his benefits when he was placed on administrative leave—i.e., when he was suspended.

Petitioner provided a doctor's note dated May 18, 2017, requesting leave that was granted from May 18, 2017 to June 20, 2017. Also, a Statement of Reasons dated May 11, 2017 was provided to petitioner for non-renewal based upon "Economy and Efficiency."

An investigation by the Union County Prosecutor's Office followed the more recent allegations of sexual misconduct, and criminal charges were filed against Harrell on December 14, 2018 for sexual misconduct involving minors A.R. and N.G. A Grand Jury Hearing took place on June 12, 2019. On December 20, 2019, a superseding incident against petitioner added additional charges to the June 12, 2019 indictment that included Sexual Assault and Endangering – Sexual Conduct with child A.R. and N.G. The additional charges in the Superseding Indictment included two counts of official misconduct towards A.R. and N.G. This criminal matter was still pending at the time of this hearing.

Harrell did not teach during the time he was assigned to Central Office. Specifically, he was assigned to Central Office from March 24, 2016 until September 2017 (i.e., he did not teach the last week plus two days in March, April, May or June 2016 or the 2016–2017 school year, totaling one school year plus three months of not teaching); and again from March 28, 2018 through his termination on January 11, 2019 (totaling seven months of not teaching). Harrell continued to receive this salary through the date of his termination on January 11, 2019.

Petitioner taught at the District: from April 16 to June, 2014 (about three months); the entire 2014–2015 school year (totaling one school year); September to March 23, 2016 (totaling seven months); and September 2017 to March 27, 2018 (totaling seven months).

Harrell never submitted a request for a Donaldson hearing or Statement of Reason related to his termination on January 11, 2019.

While petitioner was employed by the District, it had in place a mentorship program for new, novice teachers' first year of teaching in the District. Harrell did not participate in a mentorship program in the District, and there is insufficient evidence that he was ever evaluated by the District.

Petitioner alleges that he acquired tenure on April 16, 2018, four years after being hired by the District on April 16, 2014, because he "worked continuously" and was paid for four years and a day.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The purpose of teaching-staff tenure laws is "to aid in the establishment of a competent and efficient school system by affording teaching staff members 'a measure of security in the ranks they hold after years of service.'" Carpenito v. Rumson Bd. of Educ., 322 N.J. Super. 522, 528–29 (App. Div. 1999) (quoting Viemeister v. Prospect Park Bd. of Educ., 5 N.J. Super. 215, 218 (App. Div. 1949)). In order to acquire tenure, a teaching staff member "must comply with the precise conditions articulated in the [tenure] statute." Zimmerman v. Bd. of Educ. of Newark, 38 N.J. 65, 72 (1962).

Acquisition and effect of tenure are statutorily defined by the Teacher Effectiveness and Accountability for the Children of New Jersey Act, or the TEACHNJ Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5 (TEACHNJ). The purpose of TEACHNJ is to "raise student achievement by improving instruction through the adoption of evaluations that provide specific feedback to educators, inform the provision of aligned professional development, and inform personnel decisions." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-118. Through TEACHNJ, in 2012, New Jersey not only increased the length of time required to obtain tenure from three to four years, it also requires school district to adopt and use an evaluation process to measure teacher effectiveness, and it requires the teacher to achieve a rating of "effective" or "highly effective" pursuant to the evaluation in order to accrue tenure.

Specifically, "teaching staff members"[1] employed on or after August 6, 2012, including those employed in the position of teacher, who hold appropriate certificates, "shall be under tenure during good behavior and efficiency and they shall not be dismissed or reduced in compensation except for inefficiency, incapacity, or conduct unbecoming such a teaching staff member or other just cause . . . after employment in such district or by such board for:

> (1) Four consecutive calendar years, or
> (2) Four consecutive academic years, together with employment at the beginning of the next succeeding academic year; or
>
> (3) The equivalent of more than four academic years within a period of any five consecutive academic years."
>
> [N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5 (b).]

In order to achieve tenure, TEACHNJ also requires teaching staff members to:

> complete a district mentorship program during the initial year of employment and receive a rating of effective or highly effective in two annual summative evaluations within the first three years of employment after the initial year of employment in which the teacher completes the district mentorship program . . . . "[E]ffective" or "highly effective" means the employee has received an annual summative evaluation rating of "effective" or "highly effective" based on the performance standards for this position established through the evaluation rubric adopted by the board of education and approved by the commissioner.[2]

> [N.J.S.A. 18A:28-5(b).]

[1] A "teaching staff member" is defined as: a member of the professional staff of any district or regional board of education, or any board of education of a county vocational school, holding office, position or employment of such character that the qualifications, for such office, position or employment, require him to hold a valid and effective standard, provisional or emergency certificate, appropriate to his office, position or employment, issued by the State Board of Examiners and includes a school nurse and a school athletic trainer. [N.J.S.A. 18A:6-119.]

[2] "Evaluation" is defined as "a process based on the individual's job description, professional standards and Statewide evaluation criteria that incorporates analysis of multiple measures of student progress and multiple data sources. Such evaluation shall include formal observations, as well as post conferences, conducted and prepared by an individual employed in the district in a supervisory role . . . ." [N.J.S.A. 18A:6-119.]

A school district may terminate a teacher prior to the teacher obtaining tenure for service time except for arbitrary and capricious reasons; the district is not required to provide a reason for termination. See Donaldson v. Bd. Of Educ. of N. Wildwood, 65 N.J. 236, 240 (1974); Dore v. Bd. Of Educ. Of the Twp. of Bedminster, Somerset County, 185 N.J. Super. 447, 453 (App. Div. 1982).

Here, Harrell argues that he acquired tenure with the District because he completed four consecutive calendar years of employment, and received his full salary as a full-time teacher from April 16, 2014 through the date of his termination on January 11, 2019. He asserts that the Board had the responsibility of evaluating him, even though he was suspended from his classroom for several months during that time, and of having him complete a mentorship program, which was not done. Harrell argues that the Board had an affirmative duty under the statute to conduct evaluations and provide a mentorship program, and that they should not be permitted to deny him tenure as a result of the District's own failure.

The District maintains that while Harrell continued to receive a salary and benefits while assigned to the Central Office, he did not actually "hold" a position in the District and was not held to a "valid and effective standard" requiring certification as set forth in the definitions in N.J.S.A. 18A:1-1 for the time he spent in Central Office. Respondent also argues that Harrell did not have the required evaluations for tenure because they could not have been done while he was suspended, and not teaching in the Central Office. The District argues that the fact that evaluations were not done does not alter the statutory requirements for obtaining tenure, and references McDonald v. State-Operated Newark Public Schools, OAL Docket No. EDU 01771-18, Agency Docket No. 2-1/1/18, where the Commissioner of Education concurred with the ALJ that the Board's failure to evaluate McDonald did not prevent the Board's refusal of tenure based on equity principles. The District asserts that the time Harrell spent in Central Office, not teaching and not permitted to be near children, and could not have been evaluated, cannot be considered to secure tenure. Finally, the District asserts that since Harrell did not have tenure, the District appropriately complied with N.J.S.A. 18A:27-10 and N.J.S.A. 18A:4.1(b) when it terminated his employment, and that despite Harrell's assertion, there was no legal requirement to either provide him with a statement of reason of hearing absent a request for same.

While Harrell was hired by the District as a teacher, and may have been an employee of the District for over four years, the passage of time alone does not guarantee tenure. To acquire tenure under TEACHNJ, the teaching staff member must also achieve a performance rating of "effective" or "highly effective" in two annual summative evaluation within the first three years of employment after completing a mentorship program during the initial year of employment. The evaluation process is based in part on the employee's job description, measures of student progress, and it includes formal observations. The record is unclear why Harrell did not participate in a mentorship program when he was hired as a full-time teacher, but the District seems to imply that since he had many years of teaching experience in other public school districts before coming to Plainfield, they were not required to provide a mentorship program. While I cannot conclude that the District was not obligated to offer Harrell such a program because this was not his first year teaching, in order to achieve tenure, the clear language of TEACHNJ not only requires the teacher to complete a "district mentorship program," it also requires that the teacher receive a rating of "effective" or "highly effective" in two annual summative evaluations.

In order for Harrell to have been evaluated as a music teacher pursuant to TEACHNJ and receive a summative evaluation rating of "effective" or "highly effective," he had to have been teaching since evaluations must include, for example, formal observations and an analysis of student progress, which cannot be accomplished when the teacher is not teaching. The time Harrell spent in the Central Office, and not teaching, amounted to a significant portion of the time he spent in the District—i.e., about three months during the 2015–2016 school year; the entire 2016–2017 school year; three months during the 2017–2018 year; and from September 2018 until his termination in January 2019. During that time, the District could not have effectively evaluated him.

Even assuming arguendo that the District could have, and should have, evaluated Harrell during the 2014–2015 school year and the 2015–2016 school year before he was suspended in March 2016, the statutory requirements necessary to award tenure must still be met and I am not persuaded by the petitioner's argument that the District's failure to evaluate bars its refusal to grant tenure. Harrell cites to no statute, regulation or caselaw to support his position. I, therefore, CONCLUDE that Harrell did not acquire tenure at the District because he did not receive the annual summative evaluation ratings of "effective" or "highly effective" required under TEACHNJ; and the District's failure to evaluate Harrell does not warrant the granting of tenure.

Harrell also appears to argue that he was entitled to a statement of reasons and a hearing when he was not renewed by the District. As a non-tenured employee, however, there is no such automatic right to a statement of reasons and hearing, and there is no evidence that Harrell ever requested a Donaldson hearing, or that he made a written request for a statement of reasons for the non-renewal. With respect to non-tenured employees, the District has no legal obligation to provide a statement of reasons absent a written request. See Hubbard v. Springfield Bd. of Educ., 80 Fed. Appx. 757, 761 (2003) and N.J.S.A. 18A:27-3.2. In fact, a district may terminate a teacher prior to the teacher obtaining tenure for service time except for arbitrary and capricious reasons; and the district is not required to provide a reason for termination. See Donaldson v. Bd. of Educ. of N. Wildwood, 65 N.J. 236, 240 (1974); Dore v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Bedminster, Somerset County, 185 N.J. Super. 447, 453 (App. Div. 1982). School boards have "virtually unlimited discretion in hiring or reviewing the contracts of non-tenured teachers." Dore at 453. Here, the evidence shows that the District complied with the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:27-10[3] when it provided Harrell notice of his termination. I CONCLUDE that Harrell was appropriately terminated by the District, and that no evidence was presented to suggest that the District's decision to terminate was arbitrary or capricious.

[3] N.J.S.A. 18A:27-10 requires that: "On or before May 15 in each year, each non-tenured teaching staff member continuously employed . . . since the preceding September 30 shall receive either:

a. A written offer of a contract for employment from the board of education for the next succeeding year . . ., or

b. A written notice from the chief school administrator that such employment will not be offered."

ORDER

It is, therefore, ORDERED that the petitioner's Due Process Petition be DENIED in its entirety for the reasons stated herein.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Joseph Marolda,
Board of Education of the Township of Rochelle Park, Bergen County.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 by failing to timely complete the required board member training. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty. The SEC advises that the respondent ultimately completed training after the issuance of the September 14, 2022 Order to Show Cause but prior to the SEC's October 17, 2022 meeting; therefore, a penalty of reprimand is recommended. Respondent did not file exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor was the SEC's underlying finding of a violation appealed to the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law. Accordingly, the respondent is hereby reprimanded as a school official found to have violated the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Before the School Ethics Commission
Docket No.: T36-21
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Joseph Marolda,
Rochelle Park Board of Education, Bergen County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its special meeting on September 14, 2022, and also served on September 14, 2022, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Joseph Marolda (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on September 14, 2022, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Rochelle Park Board of Education (Board), located in Bergen County. As a result of his position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 1 training program by December 31, 2021.

On or about March 11, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those school officials who failed to complete training by December 31, 2022. On or about April 29, 2022, NJSBA provided the Commission with an updated list, and the updated list included Respondent.

[1] As a result of the ongoing Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, and the implementation of electronic filing, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from NJSBA. See Exhibit 1. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In light of Respondent's failure to complete mandated training, an OTSC was issued by the Commission, and served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on September 14, 2022.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete his required training by December 31, 2021, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed his training requirement on September 28, 2022, but did not respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why he did not complete training by December 31, 2021.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its special meeting on October 17, 2022, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of his training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, he failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension, or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

For the reasons set forth above, and because training is regularly completed annually and can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

[2] An electronic submission may also be sent to controversiesdisputesfilings@doe.nj.gov.

BEFORE ANDREW M. BARON, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law on October 18, 2018, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have prepared a Stipulation of Settlement indicating the terms thereof, which is attached and fully incorporated herein. This Settlement Agreement resolves all disputes.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement, and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by the signatures of the parties or their representatives.

2. Petitioner has agreed to withdraw this appeal.

3. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

4. The Board resolved to ratify this settlement at the Board meeting. It was signed afterwards by the Board President. No further action is needed by the Board.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and, therefore, ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The Union County Vocational-Technical Schools Board of Education (the "Board") and the Union County Vocational-Technical Education Association (the "Association") (collectively the "Parties"), hereby enter into this Settlement Agreement (the "Agreement").

WHEREAS, the Parties are parties to Collective Bargaining Agreement covering the period of July 1, 2020 through June 30, 2024 (the "CBA"); and

WHEREAS on August 2, 2018, the Association filed a Petition of Appeal (the "Petition") with the Commissioner of Education alleging the Board violated N.J.S.A. 18A:30-2 by denying part-time Association members statutory sick leave; and

WHEREAS, the Office of Administrative Law docketed the Petition as Dkt. No. EDU 14182-18 and the matter was transmitted to Administrative Law Judge Andrew M. Baron for a hearing; and

WHEREAS, the Parties have decided to resolve this matter amicably to avoid additional costs, appeals, and/or legal proceedings; and

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of mutual promises contained herein, the sufficiency of which are acknowledged, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the Parties agree as follows:

1. The Board agrees to provide the following part-time employees with the corresponding sick leave to resolve this matter as follows:
   a. Michael Castelluci shall receive thirty-four (34) days of sick leave;
   b. Suzanne Doherty shall receive five and one-half (5.5) days of sick leave;
   c. Frances Mirabelli shall receive twenty-five and one-half (25.5) days of sick leave;
   d. Denise Worts shall receive one and three-quarters (1.75) days of sick leave; and
   e. Marta Zeien shall receive thirty-seven and one-half (37.5) days of sick leave.
2. The sick leave provided to Association members identified herein shall be considered earned leave as of June 30, 2022 and shall not affect any prospectively earned sick leave pursuant to the CBA.
3. The Parties agree that all present and future part-time Association members shall continue to accrue earned sick leave in accordance with the provisions of the CBA.
4. The Association, for itself and/or the members of its negotiations unit, agrees to release the Board from all claims that could have been filed and/or which accrued on or prior to the date the that the Board executed this Agreement, including but not limited to grievances, arbitrations, mediations, unfair practice charges, lawsuits, and appeals, filed by or on behalf of the Association.

5. Once this Agreement is executed by both Parties and the Association members listed above in paragraphs (1)(a)-(e) have been made whole, the Association shall dismiss the above-captioned Petition with prejudice.

6. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties. It is further understood and agreed that no agreements, promises, representations, warranties, and understandings have been made or reached by or among any of the Parties to this Agreement regarding its subject matter, other than what is expressly contained in this Agreement.

7. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall be construed according to their plain meaning and shall not be construed in favor of or against any Party.

8. The Parties agree and acknowledge that this Agreement shall not be interpreted to render any Party to be a prevailing party for any purpose, including but not limited to, an award of attorneys' fees under any contract, statute or otherwise.

9. This Agreement shall not be construed as an admission by any Party of any violation of any federal or state law, administrative code, ordinance or regulation, violation of any express or implied contract with the Board, or breach or violation of any public policy of the State of New Jersey.

10. If any provision of this Agreement is found invalid under federal or state law the remainder of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

Record Closed: October 26, 2022 Decided: October 31, 2022

BEFORE JEFFREY N. RABIN, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on July 17, 2022, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On October 26, 2022, the parties filed a fully executed Settlement Agreement and the Board Resolution approving the settlement. The Agreement and Resolution are attached and fully incorporated herein.

I have reviewed the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

v.	AGENCY Ref. No. 258-9 18
MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP BOARD OF EDUCATION. Respondent.	OAL Docket No. EDU 05888-22

WHEREAS, A.A. is a student residing within the Montgomery Township Board of Education School District (hereinafter referred to as the 'District"); and

WHEREAS, A.A. o/b/o A.A. (hereinafter referred to as the "Parent") and the Montgomery Township Board of Education (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") have had a dispute regarding whether A.A.'s conduct on March 19. 2018 rose to the level of a violation under the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act wherein the Parent filed a Petition of Appeal and the Board filed an Answer; and

WHEREAS, since the time the dispute arose, A.A. has successfully been promoted from grade-to-grade within the District from Orchard Hill Elementary School to Village Elementary School, and then to Montgomery Lower Middle School and remains in good standing; and

WHEREAS, the Parent and Board have agreed to resolve all issues as follows:

1. The Board agrees to review its original decision and reverse the determination that A.A.'s actions on March 19, 2018 violated the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act.

2. A.A.'s student file will reflect that the allegation of a violation against A.A. arising out of her comment about a student's jacket size in March of 2018 did not rise to the level of a violation under the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act.

3. A.A.'s student file will reflect that A.A violated the Orchard Hill Elementary School's code of conduct only on one occasion based on a comment about a student's jacket size in March of 2018, specifically the provision regarding being respectful, for which a consequence of receiving counseling has already been implemented. The alleged incident involving A.A. and the student identified as S.J.G. as described in the HIB investigation report will not be part of A.A.'s code of conduct violation agreed to herein or part of A.A.'s discipline file.

4. The Parent, individually, and on behalf of A.A., hereby releases, acquits and forever discharges the Board, its current and former members, officers, directors, servants, employees, agents, attorneys, successors, and assigns, of and from any and all issues, causes of action, claims, liabilities, demands, indemnities, as set forth in the Petition of Appeal, under Agency Ref. No. 258-9/18 and OAL Docket No. EDU 05888-22 including any and all claims and demands directly or indirectly arising from or in any way connected with the allegations by A.A. o/b/o A.A. that the Board's determination under the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act were erroneous, arbitrary, mistaken or capricious; claims for compensatory damage they have or may have raised against the Board; whether such claims arise under the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act; and any regulations promulgated under that Act or any other State or Federal law, statute, rule or regulation related to that Act, and regardless of the forum for the claim with jurisdiction over the Parent's allegations, up until the date of this Agreement.

5. This Agreement is made without any admission of liability by the Board and shall not be construed as an admission by the Board that it did not, at all times relevant hereto, properly perform its duties and obligations regarding A.A. in accordance with the law. This Agreement is a compromise of disputed claims by the Board in order to avoid the cost and expense of litigation only and is not an admission of liability.

6. This Agreement represents the entire Agreement between the Parties, and will not be modified in whole or in part except by a mutual subsequent written and signed Agreement. It is acknowledged that this Agreement has been entered into freely, willingly, and voluntarily and without duress or coercion. The Parties understand the contents of this Settlement Agreement and Release.

7. The terms of this Agreement shall be held in strictest confidence by all Parties and shall not be publicized or disclosed in any manner whatsoever, except that: (a) either party may disclose this Agreement in confidence to their attorneys, accountants, auditors, and tax preparers; (b) the Board may disclose this Agreement as necessary to fulfill its obligation under the Open Public Record Act, as well as all other standard or legally required reporting or disclosure requirements; and (c) if necessary with regard to any proceeding for the enforcement of this Agreement.

8. This Agreement shall be governed by the Laws of the State of New Jersey and constitutes a legal release of all claims that were or could have been raised as set forth herein up until the date of this Agreement and does not prevent Petitioner from bringing future claims or an action to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

9. This Agreement, which shall be subject to approval by the Board on their next scheduled Board of Education meeting and is without prejudice to all parties if the terms are not approved. In the event that the Board fails to approve the Agreement, the parties retain all rights and shall resume the due process hearing before the Administrative Law Judge Assigned to this matter on the earliest possible date.

10. In the event that any provision of this Agreement is held to be void or unenforceable by any court or regulatory authority having jurisdiction thereof, such ruling will not affect the validity of this contract; the remaining provisions shall continue to be in full force and effect.

11. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior written or oral and all contemporaneous oral agreements, understandings, and negotiations.

12. This Agreement may be executed in one or more original, emailed or telecopied counterparts, all of which together shall be one instrument, and all of which shall be considered duplicate originals.

13. This Agreement may only be amended in writing by way of a document signed by all Parties and counsel.

14. The Parties agree to cooperate fully and execute any and all supplementary documents and to take all additional actions which may be necessary or appropriate to obtain the full force and effect of the basic terms and interest of this Settlement Agreement and General Release.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have hereunto set their hands and seals the date and year of aforesaid.

Record Closed: October 6, 2022 Decided: October 17, 2022

BEFORE CATHERINE A. TUOHY, ALJ:

This matter having been transmitted by the Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and filed as a contested case on April 5, 2022, arises from a dispute between petitioner and respondent arising under the school law (N.J.A.C. 18A:6-9). The parties have voluntarily agreed to resolve all disputed matters and have entered into a settlement as set forth in the attached settlement agreement.

I have reviewed the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures on the attached settlement agreement and Board resolution authorizing same at its meeting of September 22, 2022.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy between them and is consistent with the law.

Therefore, I ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

WHEREAS, in or about December of 2021 and January of 2022, an investigation by the Kingsway Regional School District ("the District") determined that A.D. was guilty of an H.I.B. violation; and

WHEREAS, that determination was affirmed by the Kingsway Regional Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, the penalty which was imposed as a result of the determination of an H.I.B. violation has already been completed; and

WHEREAS, on or about March 4, 2022, P.D., on behalf of his minor child A.D. filed a Pro Se Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education; and

WHEREAS, the Pro Se Petition was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law as a contested matter, and designated as P.D. o/b/o minor child, A.D. v. Board of Education of Kingsway Regional School District, Agency Ref. No. 36-3/22; OAL Docket No. EDU-02597-22; and

WHEREAS, the parties believe that it is in their mutual best interest to resolve this matter without further legal proceedings;

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. The District agrees that the H.I.B. finding with respect to A.D. which is the subject of this dispute shall be changed to a Code of Conduct violation. All penalties imposed shall remain as is.
2. This Settlement Agreement is made for the purpose of a prompt resolution of this dispute and without any admission by either party that its legal position in this proceeding was incorrect or improper.

3. As a material part of this Agreement, on his own behalf, on behalf of A.D.'s mother, as to whom P.D. represents that he has the authority to act, and on behalf of A.D., Pro Se Petitioner P.D. specifically releases and waives all rights and claims of whatsoever nature relating to the events which are the subject of the Pro Se Petition as to the District, its officers, agents, and employees, including, but not limited to any claim for further action by the District or the Board of Education and any claims for money damages of any kind, including but not limited to legal fees and costs. Should a claim arising out of the same facts as are alleged in the Pro Se Petition be filed by A.D.'s mother, P.D. agrees to indemnify the District in full with respect to any such claim, including any reasonable legal fees and costs incurred.
4. This Settlement Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey.
5. This Settlement Agreement represents the entire Agreement between the parties and will not be modified in whole or in part except by a mutual subsequent written and signed Agreement.
6. It is acknowledged that this Settlement Agreement has been entered into freely, willingly and voluntarily, without duress or coercion, and with the opportunity to consult with counsel of each party's choosing.
7. This Settlement Agreement is subject to approval by the Kingsway Regional Board of Education. Upon full execution and approval by the Board, this Agreement shall be submitted to the Hon. Catherine A. Tuohy for such further action as she deems appropriate.

OAL Docket No.: EDU 10346-2021S/ Agency Ref. No. 233-12/21

Dear Judge Bogan:

With regard to the above-referenced matter, I sincerely apologize for missing the scheduled conference call this afternoon. Unfortunately, I was tied up in an IEP meeting that ran late, and by the time I attempted to join the in no one was on the line. Again my sincere apologies.

However, I am pleased to confirm that this matter has been resolved. The agreement was approved during the Board of Education meeting last night. Enclosed please find the Settlement Agreement. The certified Board resolution will be forthcoming as soon as I have received it from the Board Secretary.

Thank you for your assistance and should you require anything further, please let me know.

Respectfully submitted,

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE is entered into on this 13 day of September, 2022 by and among Melissa Screven (hereinafter referred to as "Screven") and Respondent, Glassboro Board of Education (hereinafter referred to as "Board of Education" and/or "Board"); and

WHEREAS, Screven is a former employee of the Glassboro School District who terminated employment her employment on October 11, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the Glassboro Board of Education requires 60-days' notice of termination of employment by the terminating employee; and

WHEREAS, a dispute between the Parties arose regarding the amount of notice provided by Screven of termination of her employment with the Board; and

LAW OFFICE
Parker McCay P.A.

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to settle any and all claims and potential in this matter in an amicable way and therefore, after the ability to consult with legal counsel and following negotiations, have agreed to enter into this Settlement Agreement and Release in order to reach a compromise which will fully and finally resolve this matter; and

WHEREAS, the Parties, without alleging and/or admitting any wrongdoing or liability by any party, enter into this Settlement Agreement and Release in order to reach a compromise to fully and finally resolve their dispute in this matter, and agree as follows:

1. The Parties have reached this Agreement to avoid the expense, uncertainty and inconvenience of litigation. It is understood that the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission by the Glassboro Board of Education of any liability and/or wrongdoing by the Board. This Agreement represents the compromise of disputed claims and shall never be treated as an admission of liability by either party for any purposes whatsoever.

2. The Board agrees to withdraw its Petition for the Suspension of the Teaching Certificate of Screven.

3. In consideration therefore, Screven agrees that she will not seek, accept or obtain employment in any teaching position for any K-12 public school district board of education within the State of New Jersey for a period of six months of the date of this Agreement.

4. In the event that any party materially breaches any of the terms and provisions of this Settlement Agreement and Release, the other party shall be entitled bring or reinstate claims arising under this action.

5. It is expressly understood and agreed that neither party shall be considered a prevailing party under any statute, common law, or otherwise, for any purposes whatsoever, as a result of this Agreement or the compromise of claims as set forth herein. Except as provided in the Paragraphs above, each party shall be responsible for their own attorney's fees, expert fees, and/or costs incurred in connection with this matter.

6. The Parties acknowledge that they have read and understand the terms of this Agreement, that they had an opportunity to have the Agreement read by their respective counsel, that they are satisfied with the advice of their respective counsel, and that they are entering into this Agreement knowingly, freely, voluntarily, without coercion and not under the influence of anything or anyone.

7. This Settlement Agreement and Release constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties regarding any and all aspects of the final and complete settlement of this matter. This Settlement Agreement and Release supersedes any and all prior agreements and understandings between and among the Parties pertaining to this matter. This Settlement Agreement and Release shall not be amended, modified or amplified without a specific written provision to that effect executed by all the Parties. No oral statements by any person shall, in any manner, amend, modify or amplify the terms and provisions of this Settlement Agreement and Release.

8. The parties are bound by this Agreement and each of its provisions. Anyone who succeeds to their rights and responsibilities, such as their successors and assigns are also bound. This agreement is made for the benefit of all parties hereto and all who succeed to their rights and responsibilities, and expressly includes their officials, representatives, employees, agents, attorneys, successors or assigns.

9. Screven understand/s and agree that this Agreement is subject to formal approval by the Glassboro Board of Education, following its approval and full execution by Screven. In the event the Board thereafter approves the Agreement, it shall be executed forthwith by the Board and shall become effective immediately, and a copy of the formal approval resolution by the Board will be provided to Screven. In the event that this Agreement is not approved by the Board, no agreement shall have been formed between the Parties, who shall return to status quo ante, and this Agreement shall be deemed null, void, and of no force and effect.

10. This Settlement Agreement shall remain confidential to the maximum extent permitted by law and neither party shall volunteer to disclose its form or contents to any third parties except as may be required by and/or in accordance with operation of law or lawful subpoena or order of court or pursuant to official discovery proceedings. Neither party shall engage in disparaging or negative comments or statements regarding the other party and/or the conduct of the other party.

11. In the event that any provision or clause of this Agreement shall be held invalid or unenforceable by a court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction, the remaining provisions of this Agreement are deemed severable and shall remain in full force and effect to the fullest extent permitted by law, unless the Agreement, as so construed, would substantially frustrate the purposes of the Parties in entering into this Agreement.

12. This Agreement shall be interpreted, enforced, and governed under the laws of the State of New Jersey. The language of all parts of this Agreement shall in all cases be construed as a whole, according to its fair meaning, and not strictly for or against any Party. The Parties agree and acknowledge that this Agreement is the product of mutual draftsmanship and any rule of law requiring that it be construed against the drafter shall not apply.

13. This Agreement may be executed in one (1) or more counterparts, all of which shall be considered a single and the same, and shall become effective when one (1) or more counterparts have been signed by each party. It is understood that the parties need not sign the same counterpart, and this Agreement shall be fully valid, legally binding, and enforceable whether executed in a single document or in such counterparts.

IN WITNESS HEREOF, the parties have set their hands this day of September, 2022.

Final Decision

J.A., on behalf of minor child,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the South Orange-Maplewood School District, Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this emergent matter, the sound recording of proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the recommended Order of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ – for the reasons thoroughly set forth in the recommended Order – that petitioner has demonstrated entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to the standards enunciated in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6.

Accordingly, the recommended Order, granting the Board's application for emergent relief, is adopted. Respondent is ordered to provide transportation for petitioner's minor child to and from school during the pendency of these proceedings. This case shall continue at the OAL with such proceedings as the parties and the ALJ deem necessary to bring it to closure.

Ingrid Fullerton, petitioner, pro se

Frances L. Febres, Esq., and Danielle Panizzi, Esq., for Respondent (Cleary, Giacobbe, Alfieri & Jacobs, LLC, attorneys)

BEFORE THOMAS R. BETANCOURT, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner, Ingrid Fullerton filed a pro se Petition of Appeal, dated October 18, 2022, challenging her termination of employment with the Respondent District, and seeking Emergent Relief. The Office of Controversies and Disputes in the New Jersey Department of Education (DOE) transferred the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on October 19, 2022.

Petitioner is seeking payment of sixty days pay pursuant to her employment contract.

Respondent Board filed its brief in opposition to the request for emergent relief, and the Certification of Rosaura Bagolie, on October 31, 2022.

Oral argument via Zoom was held on October 31, 2022.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Petitioner was employed with the Respondent District pursuant to an Employment Agreement for East Newark Board of Education Employees, dated June 30, 2022. Petitioner was employed as a non-tenured teacher for the 2022-2023 school year, at a salary of $62,348.

Petitioner was terminated from her position via Notice of Determination dated October 7, 2022, with an effective date of termination of September 23, 2022.

Initially, Petitioner was terminated via letter dated October 22, 2022, from Rosaura Bagolie, the Superintendent of the District. Said letter was referenced as a 60-Day Notice of Termination. Said letter relieved Petitioner of her duties immediately, and provided that she be on Administrative Leave with pay for the sixty-day period.

Thereafter, in a letter dated September 23, 2022, Superintendent Bagolie advised Petitioner that her termination was re-examined based upon recent conduct, and the termination of employment be immediate and without pay. This letter stated the termination was for cause. The letter also served as a Rice[i] notice.

[i] Rice v. Union City High School Regional Board of Education, 155 N.J. Super. 64 (1977)

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

The New Jersey Supreme Court has set forth a four-prong test for determining whether an applicant is entitled to emergent relief. Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126, 132-34 (1982) (enumerating the factors later codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b)).

The four factors ("the Factors"), include:

> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
>
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
>
> 3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and
>
> 4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.
>
> [N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b).]

The moving party bears the burden of proving each of the Crowe elements "clearly and convincingly." Waste Mgmt of N.J. v. Union County Util. Auth., 399 N.J. Super. 508, 520 (App. Div. 2008).

Factor One. Petitioner contends she will suffer irreparable harm as she is not being paid. Petitioner posits that her termination was in violation of her contractual rights as the employment contract stipulates that either party may terminate upon sixty days notice. There is no dispute that either party can terminate with said sixty-day notice. Herein, Petitioner was initially terminated pursuant to this contractual provision. She was then, the next day, terminated for cause. In any event, monetary concerns generally cannot be used to determine irreparable harm. "Harm is generally considered Irreparable in equity if it cannot be redressed adequately by monetary damages." See Crowe, at 133. Herein, if Petitioner is successful after a plenary hearing the most she could hope to receive would be the equivalent of sixty days of salary. This can be redressed by monetary damages.

Having determined that Petitioner cannot satisfy the first prong of Crowe, that of irreparable harm, there is no need to conduct an analysis of the three remaining factors.

The matter will be scheduled for a pre-hearing conference and a plenary hearing.

Based upon the above noted, I CONCLUDE that Petitioner has failed to meet first prong, irreparable harm, of Crowe v. DeGioia, and that the request for Emergent Relief should be DENIED.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Petitioners' request for Emergent Relief is DENIED.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who/which by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Maria Granata Davis, School District of the Township of Neptune, Monmouth County.

For the Petitioner, Mark A. Tabakin, Esq.

For the Respondent, Maria Granata Davis

This matter was opened before the Commissioner of Education on August 31, 2022, through tenure charges of incapacity and other just cause certified by Tami Crader, Superintendent of the Neptune Township School District ("District"), together with supporting evidence against respondent, Maria Granata Davis, a tenured teacher in the District's employ.

On August 31, 2022, the Commissioner directed the respondent to file an answer to the charges. This communication provided notice to respondent that, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3 and 6A:3-5.4, an individual against whom tenure charges are certified "shall have 15 days from the day such charges are filed with the Commissioner to file a written response to the charges with the Commissioner," and that failure to answer within the prescribed period would – absent granting of an extension for good cause shown – result in the charges being deemed admitted. On October 5, 2022 the Commissioner again directed the respondent to file an answer to the charges.

In a correspondence dated October 20, 2022, the respondent provided a justification of her actions upon which the District's tenure charge allegations were based. By correspondence dated October 21, 2022, the Commissioner explained to respondent that if she would like to dispute the tenure charges filed in this matter, the case would be referred to an Arbitrator to hear and decide this matter pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16. Further, the Commissioner sought confirmation from the respondent that she would like to proceed with the assignment of the case to an Arbitrator. The respondent did not respond to the October 21, 2022 correspondence. By correspondence dated October 31, 2022, the Commissioner informed the respondent that a response to the October 21, 2022 correspondence had not been received, and that if no response was received by November 10, 2022, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(c), the charges filed against her would be deemed admitted and the matter decided on a summary basis. The respondent did not respond to the October 31, 2022 correspondence.

The certified tenure charges and statement of supporting evidence filed by the District in this matter indicate that the respondent was employed by the District as a tenured teacher. The respondent was granted medical leave until March 31, 2022 and was expected to return to work on April 1, 2022. Since April 1, 2022, the respondent has failed to report to work and has been absent without leave.

Deeming the allegations to be admitted and noting that the respondent has failed to return to work since April 1, 2022, the Commissioner finds that the District's charge of incapacity has been proven and warrants the respondent's dismissal. Accordingly, summary decision is hereby granted to the District, and the respondent is dismissed from her tenured position with the Neptune Township School District.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Robert Strauss,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Metuchen, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner, a teacher in the Metuchen school district, challenged the respondent Board's decision denying his request to use accumulated sick leave to remain absent from school because his purported high-risk status for the COVID-19 virus does not constitute a "personal disability" under the relevant sick leave statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1. Petitioner argued that he has underlying medical conditions which put him at high risk for contracting the COVID-19 virus and developing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death, and provided a note from his doctor stating that it was essential that petitioner be granted a leave of absence or sick leave to avoid significant risks to his health. The parties filed opposing motions for summary decision, which were denied. The petitioner, with the consent of the Board, later requested that the case be decided on the papers.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: Petitioner is a tenured teacher serving Metuchen students at all grade levels; beginning September 16, 2020, Metuchen schools returned in-person programming following a period of remote instruction during the Covid-19 pandemic; petitioner was previously diagnosed and had been treated for several autoimmune conditions which he contends put him at significant risk of contracting Covid-19 and developing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death; petitioner claims that if he were placed in the school setting, he would be at increased risk, even if strict six-foot social distancing, reduced class sizes, and mask wearing could be monitored and enforced; the key question here is whether petitioner's elevated risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus renders him personally disabled under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1; the medical documents submitted in support of petitioner's request for sick leave do not establish that he has a personal disability; there is no proof nor does the petitioner contend that he is unable to work because of his existing medical conditions; rather, he contends that he may be unable to work if he contracts the COVID-19 virus; and the risk of an illness is not the equivalent of having an illness. The ALJ concluded that the petitioner is not rendered personally disabled and is not entitled to sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1. Accordingly, the petition was denied.

The Commissioner adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL in this matter. In so doing, the Commissioner noted, inter alia, that petitioner's health conditions did not prevent him from performing his job duties prior to the pandemic; further, the risk of developing Covid-19, as a matter of law, is insufficient to entitle petitioner to use sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1. Petitioner's appeal was dismissed.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Final Decision

Robert Strauss,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Metuchen, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), and the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[1]

Petitioner, who is a tenured teacher, has been diagnosed with several autoimmune conditions and contends that if he were placed in a school setting to teach, the Metuchen Board of Education (Board) would put him at substantial risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus and developing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death. With the support of a note from his doctor, he requested to use accumulated sick leave to be absent from school.[2] The Board denied his request, instead placing him on unpaid administrative leave, and petitioner

[1] The Board did not file a reply to petitioner's exceptions.

[2] Petitioner had previously applied for a remote work accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act, which the Board denied, and for childcare leave under the Families First and Coronavirus Response Act, which the Board granted. He applied for sick leave when his childcare leave was exhausted.

appealed. The Administrative Law Judge concluded that petitioner's medical documentation did not establish that he has a personal disability and that he is therefore not entitled to use sick leave.

In his exceptions, petitioner argues that his serious medical conditions constitute a disability during the COVID-19 pandemic. Petitioner points to his doctor's recommendation that petitioner avoid exposure to the COVID-19 virus and refrain from in-person instruction. Petitioner disagrees with the ALJ that allowing sick leave in his circumstances would result in an overly expansive interpretation of the sick leave statute. Finally, petitioner argues that if there were any doubt as to the doctor's report or recommendation, additional fact-finding should have occurred before denying his petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that petitioner is not entitled to use sick leave. N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 defines sick leave as an absence "because of personal disability due to illness or injury."[3] This language demonstrates that being diagnosed with an illness or injury is not sufficient; the illness or injury must cause a personal disability. Case law regarding sick leave also supports the conclusion that sick leave is for circumstances in which the employee is unable to work. See Castellano v. Linden Bd. of Educ., 79 N.J. 407, 412 (1979) ("A woman giving birth to a child becomes physically disabled and unable to attend to her teaching duties for that reason." (emphasis added)); Castellano v. Linden Bd. of Educ., 158 *N.J. Super.*350, 362 (App. Div. 1978), aff'd, 79 N.J. 407 (1979) ("Sick leave benefits are intended to alleviate economic losses resulting from inability to work because of disability." (emphasis added)); In re Hackensack Bd. of Educ., 184 N.J. Super. 311, 319 (App. Div. 1982) (rejecting "the use of accumulated statutorily required sick leave to deprive a school of the services of a teacher who is simply not sick or disabled." (emphasis added)).

Having a medical condition does not necessarily render a teacher unable to work. Petitioner's medical documentation does not indicate that any of his medical conditions prevent him from appearing at work and performing his duties.[4] Petitioner has the same medical conditions that he had while appearing for work in person before the pandemic, and there is no indication in petitioner's medical documentation that his conditions changed in nature or severity. The only change is the risk presented by COVID-19. While the Commissioner acknowledges the unprecedented circumstances of the pandemic and the concerns it continues to cause for many individuals, there is no legal basis in N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 to allow for the use of sick leave by an individual without a personal disability. Moreover, while there is a public interest in allowing a teacher who is actually sick to use paid sick leave, "use of sick leave by a teacher not sick will deprive the school and students of [his] services. Surely there is a strong public interest in a teacher's performing the service for which [he] is paid." Id. at 381-19.

Additionally, the Commissioner finds that it was appropriate for the ALJ to decide this matter on the papers. While petitioner now argues that additional fact-finding should have been conducted, he requested during the course of the proceedings that the case be tried on the papers, representing to the ALJ that because the parties had stipulated to the contents of his medical report and certification, live testimony from his physician was no longer necessary.

[4] The Commissioner notes that these conditions could, in and of themselves, impact an individual's duty to perform the functions of their job and could therefore rise to the level of a personal disability that would entitle the individual to use sick leave. However, petitioner made no such argument here, nor did his medical documentation provide any support for such a contention.

Furthermore, this case does not present a situation where a medical expert, being unfamiliar with legal requirements, simply failed to include a "magic word" in his certification. The medical certification contains no suggestion that petitioner's conditions prevent him from performing the duties of his job. The certification instead recommends that petitioner not teach in person because of the risk presented by COVID-19. But that risk, as a matter of law, is insufficient to entitle petitioner to use sick leave.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner's request to use sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 is denied, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

Respondent.

Ashley E. Malandre, Esq., for respondent (Methfessel & Werbel, PC, attorneys)

Record Closed: August 10, 2022 Decided: September 26, 2022

BEFORE KIM C. BELIN, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Robert Strauss, challenges respondent Borough of Metuchen Board of Education's (respondent or Board) decision denying the use of his accumulated unused sick leave because his purported high-risk status for the COVID-19 virus does not constitute a "personal disability" under the relevant sick leave statute (N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On December 8, 2020, petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal challenging respondent's determination that petitioner was not entitled to sick leave with pay because petitioner had underlying medical conditions which purportedly made him high risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus and of developing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death. The Department of Education (DOE) transmitted this matter as a contested case to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) where it was filed on January 5, 2021. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On December 28, 2020, respondent filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g). On June 25, 2021, the undersigned denied the motion. On July 2, 2021, the Board requested an interlocutory appeal with the Commissioner of Education (Commissioner) which was denied on July 16, 2021. On September 9, 2021, the petitioner and respondent filed motions for summary decision. The respondent submitted a letter brief in opposition to the petitioner's motion for summary decision on September 28, 2021, and a reply letter brief on October 11, 2021. Petitioner submitted his letter brief in opposition to the respondent's motion for summary decision on September 29, 2021, and reply letter brief on October 11, 2021. On November 26, 2021, the undersigned denied both motions. A hearing was scheduled for May 25, 2022, however, the parties requested and were granted an adjournment. In a letter dated May 31, 2022, petitioner, with the consent of the respondent, requested that the case be tried on the papers and requested a briefing schedule.

In accordance with the briefing schedule, the petitioner filed his brief on July 11, 2022. The respondent elected to rely upon the briefs submitted in support of the respondent's motion for summary decision. The record closed on August 10, 2022.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The parties stipulated to the following facts and I, therefore FIND:

1. Petitioner, Robert Strauss, is a tenured teacher employed by the Metuchen School District. (See, Petitioner of Appeal, Exh. A., ¶1.)

2. The respondent serves students in grade pre-kindergarten through high school.

3. For the 2020-2021 school year, the respondent operated with in-person programming. Specifically, all teachers were in-school since September 16, 2020. (See, Certification of Dr. Vincent Caputo, Exh. B, ¶5.)

4. Petitioner was previously diagnosed with and is treated for the autoimmune conditions of IgA Auto-immune deficiency, celiac disease, and hypothyroidism. (Exh. A, ¶2.)

5. As a result of these medical conditions, petitioner contends that he is at substantial risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus and of developing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death. (Exh. A, ¶3.)

6. Petitioner further claims that if he were placed in a school setting, he would be at an increased and significant risk of contracting and experiencing serious complications, severe illness, and/or death. This is the case even if strict six-foot social distancing, reduced class sizes, and mask wearing could be monitored and enforced. (Exh. A, ¶4.)

7. On or around November 6, 2020, petitioner received a letter from Shalini Sirisena, MS, PA-C and William Rossy, MD stating, in part, that his "severe underlying conditions, as well as the fact that he has multiple disease processes and not merely one, will result in a great likelihood of having a severe course of COVID-19 and significant life-threatening complication, if he were to be exposed to this complex virus." (See, Letter from Shalini Sirisena, MS, PA-C and William Rossy, MD., Exh. C.)

8. Accordingly, his treating physicians stated: "Due to these reasons, it is essential that he be granted a leave of absence/sick leave to avoid a significant and severe risk to his health." (Id.)

9. Subsequently, petitioner applied for a remote work accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act, (ADA) 42 U.S.C. §12101 et seq., which was denied after a meeting was held between him and the respondent. (Exh. A, ¶5.)

10. Thereafter, petitioner applied for childcare leave under the Families First and Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA), 116 P.L. 127, 2020 Enacted H.R. 6201, 116 Enacted H.R. 6201, 134 Stat. 178, which was granted. (Exh. A, ¶6.)

11. Upon exhaustion of the childcare leave, petitioner requested leave with use of his accrued sick days, which was denied. (Id.)

12. Board policy 3212 provides, in pertinent part, the following regarding sick leave:

> In accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1, sick leave is defined to mean the absence from work because of a personal disability due to injury or illness or because the staff member has been excluded from school by the school medical authorities on account of contagious disease or of being quarantined for such a disease in the staff member's immediate household. (Exh. D.)

13. As of December 2, 2020, petitioner was placed on an unpaid leave of absence. (Exh. A, ¶8.)

14. On December 8, 2020, petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal against the Board.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

In accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:30-2, petitioner is entitled to a minimum of ten paid sick days annually. The statute at the heart of this controversy, N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 provides:

> Sick leave is hereby defined to mean the absence from his or her post of duty, of any person because of personal disability due to illness or injury, or because he or she has been excluded from school by the school district's medical authorities on account of a contagious disease or of being quarantined for such a disease in his or her immediate household.

The key question here is whether petitioner's elevated risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus renders him personally disabled under this statute. The petitioner maintains that he suffers from a personal disability due to illness because of his high-risk status and susceptibility to severe illness and/or death if exposed to COVID-19, and thus he is entitled to use his accrued sick leave from December 2, 2020, through June 15, 2021. The petitioner does not assert entitlement to sick leave because he was excluded from school by the school district's medical authorities on account of a contagious disease or because he was quarantined. Accordingly, those factors are not at issue and will be not included in this legal analysis.

To establish personal disability, the petitioner relies upon his doctor's notes and asserts that they should be given deference. The note from Shalini Sirisena, MS, PA-C, dated November 6, 2020, explains the petitioner's medical conditions, the dates of petitioner's last office visits and recommends that the petitioner is granted sick leave or other leave of absence "to avoid significant and severe risk to his health." This note does not say that the petitioner's medical conditions render the petitioner disabled and unable to work. The note speaks to an increased risk of illness not to the existence of a present disability. (Petitioner's Exh. C.) In accordance with this note, the petitioner was granted a leave of absence under the FFCRA.

In a certification, dated August 31, 2021, Dr. Rossy similarly states that the petitioner suffers from three illnesses and is immunocompromised and "likely to get severely ill from COVID-19." (Petitioner's Exh. E.) Dr. Rossy recommends that the petitioner "refrain from performing in-person instruction at the start of the 2020-2021 school year. Exposure to others in the classroom setting placed [the petitioner] at an increased and substantial risk of suffering severe illness and/or death from COVID-19." Id. Dr. Rossy also states that fear of contracting COVID-19 is not why the petitioner was unable to report to work but that "[h]e faced a certain risk of contracting COVID-19 and having significant health repercussions." Id. Dr. Rossy's focus is on the risk of contracting COVID-19 and its potential impact.

While Dr. Rossy's certification provides greater detail into the petitioner's IgA autoimmune deficiency, Dr. Rossy does not state that the petitioner is unable to work because of his existing illnesses. Rather, Dr. Rossy's certification says that the petitioner has a weakened immune system, and therefore is susceptible to getting the COVID-19 virus if exposed and may experience life-threatening conditions. He also recommends a sick leave which was granted as stated above. Dr. Rossy's certification was signed eight months after the note from Shalini Sirisena, and yet, Dr. Rossy is silent on whether the petitioner is currently disabled. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that these medical documents do not establish that the petitioner has a personal disability.

Petitioner relies upon Laning v. Bd. of Ed. of Twp. of Deerfield, 2014, N.J. AGEN LEXIS 819, for the claim that his doctor's certification entitles him to a presumption of disability. Laning addressed whether a school employee was legitimately disabled justifying her request for extended sick leave before she retired. The board of education requested verification of the specific nature of her disability. The physician's note did not specify the nature of Laning's disability but merely stated that she would be out of work until further notice. Id. at *3. The Administrative Law Judge denied the cross-motions for summary decision and cited to the decision in Hynes v. Board of Education, 190 N.J. Super. 36 (App. Div. 1983) to address the verification of sick time issue. In Hynes, the petitioner was a teacher who applied for sick leave for four weeks before and after the birth of her child. The board of education denied her request on the basis that she failed to provide sufficient evidence of her disability. The State Board of Education (State Board) determined that the doctor's certification establishing the expected due date and actual birth date created a presumptive period of disability. The State Board stated that the statute did not specify what the physician's certificate had to contain. The petitioner herein highlights this sentence to support his presumption of disability claim. The statute upon which the State Board relied is N.J.S.A. 18A:30-4 which provides:

> In case of sick leave claimed, a board of education may require a physician's certificate to be filed with the secretary of the board of education in order to obtain sick leave.

However, the physician's certification in Hynes (citation omitted) had specific information about the expected and actual birth date of the child. Indeed, it was undisputed that the petitioner was pregnant. In Laning, the petitioner had an illness, but the specific nature of the illness was not disclosed to the employer. Here, there is no expectant due date, end date, or any identified current condition given by either Dr. Rossy or Shalini Sirisena to create a presumptive period of disability. There is only the risk of an illness. Thus, I CONCLUDE the Hynes and Laning cases are inapposite to the present controversy.

N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 and 18A:30-4 when read together logically lead to a conclusion that to qualify for sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1, the employee must be absent due to a personal disability which can be established by a physician's certification although the certification need not contain any special language. In the case at hand, there is no proof nor does the petitioner contend that he is unable to work because of his existing medical conditions. He contends that he may be unable to work if he contracts the COVID-19 virus. Moreover, Dr. Rossy's certification, and the November 6, 2020, note are silent on whether the petitioner currently has a disability that prevents him from working. There is no language to address this issue. The medical note and certification only speak of the risk of illness.

Petitioner also relies upon Ellen M. Brockmann v. Totowa Bd. of Ed., 1995 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 1317, 95 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 502, July 18, 1995, as support for granting sick leave for his circumstances. Ms. Brockmann was permitted to use her accumulated sick leave because she had a pre-existing medical condition and suffered a medical episode in school which triggered a series of severe complications preventing her from working.

Her physician certified that she would be disabled through June 1995. Id. at *4. These facts are at odds with the present controversy. The petitioner herein has not suffered a medical episode at school that has rendered him unable to work and his physician has not stated that the petitioner is disabled. While the undersigned is not insensitive to the petitioner's desire to use his accumulated sick days to avoid contracting a potentially fatal disease, N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 does not support the use of this leave for a disability that does not yet exist.

The COVID-19 virus is not the only potentially fatal contagious disease facing the immunocompromised population. The Center for Disease Control reports, for example, that an estimated 36,000 people die annually from influenza.[1] If the petitioner's logic is followed to its natural conclusion, any employee with a compromised autoimmune system would be entitled to paid sick leave by submitting a physician's certification that says the employee may potentially become gravely ill by exposure to a contagious disease, including the flu. This would include people suffering from AIDs or HIV, leukemia, or taking medication such as chemotherapy or radiation or medication that suppresses the immune system. Such an expansive interpretation of N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 would open the floodgate of claims for paid sick leave due to potential disability because of exposure to any contagious disease. A risk of an illness is not the equivalent of having an illness.

N.J.S.A. 18A:30-7 permits a board of education to grant a leave of absence or sick leave "over and above the minimum sick leave" at its discretion. However, the respondent has chosen not to do so. Accordingly, for the reasons outlined above, I CONCLUDE the petitioner is not rendered personally disabled and thus is not entitled to sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1.

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing, I hereby ORDER that the petitioner's petition seeking sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1 is DENIED.

Re: D.M., on behalf of minor child, A.H. v. Board of Education of the Township of Washington, Gloucester County, Agency Dkt. No. 60-4/21, Commissioner Decision No. 145-22

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with respondent's Motion for Reconsideration of the Commissioner's June 30, 2022 decision.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.15(b)(2), a motion for reconsideration shall be determined based upon the following:

i. claim(s) of mistake, provided, however, that disagreement with the outcome of a decision, or with the analysis upon which it is based, shall not constitute "mistake" for purposes of this section;
ii. newly discovered evidence likely to alter the outcome of a matter, where such evidence could not have been previously discovered by due diligence;
iii. newly ascertained misrepresentation or other misconduct of an adverse party, where such misrepresentation could not have been previously known; or
iv. reversal of a prior judgment on which the present matter is based.

Upon review and consideration of the submissions, I find that respondent has failed to satisfy the factors set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.15(b)(2). Respondent argues that the Commissioner made a mistake of law, failing to consider the regulatory definition of "guardian" found in N.J.A.C. 6A:22-1.2. According to this provision, a guardian is "a person to whom a court of competent jurisdiction has awarded guardianship or custody of a child, provided that a residential custody order shall entitle a child to attend school in the residential custodian's school district unless it can be proven that the child does not actually live with the custodian."

The decision in this matter was predicated, in part, on the unprecedented circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic. The time period at issue in this matter is September 18, 2020, through December 23, 2021. The surveillance conducted by the Board's investigator occurred in between September 2020 and February 2021. During that time, as D.M. admitted, A.H. stayed with his parents in Philadelphia because D.M. is immunocompromised and was at greater risk from COVID-19 until she was vaccinated in April 2021. The Board did not present any information to dispute that A.H. was residing with D.M. beginning in April 2021. Therefore, the Board has not proved that the child did not actually live with respondent, and N.J.A.C. 6A:22-1.2 does not apply. The Commissioner's decision further explains that when there is a court order that designates the school district of attendance, the amount of time spent with either party does not dictate where the children must attend school. Here, even if A.H. stayed with his parents for a portion of the time period at issue, the undisputed testimony also demonstrates that A.H. resided with D.M. for another portion of that time period.[1] Accordingly, it was appropriate for A.H. to attend school in Washington Township, the school district of attendance according to the custody order.

Accordingly, the Motion for Reconsideration is hereby DENIED.[2]

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.
Acting Commissioner of Education

[1] The Commissioner notes that the ALJ found that some of D.M.'s testimony was inconsistent with her answers to interrogatories, affecting her credibility. However, D.M.'s testimony regarding the timing of her COVID-19 vaccine and ability to have A.H. reside with her thereafter was consistent with her answers to interrogatories, and the Commissioner therefore concludes that the ALJ's credibility determination does not extend to this information.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to P.L. 2008, c. 36 (N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1).

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Eric Nathaniel Gordon,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta,
Sussex County,
Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner, a tenured Spanish teacher, received a summative performance evaluation at the end of the 2020-2021 school year with a score of 2.04, which is a "partially effective" rating. The Board imposed a corrective action plan (CAP). Petitioner appealed, challenging the correctness of his evaluation and the lawfulness of the CAP. Petitioner also argued that the Board unlawfully withheld his salary increment for the 2021-2022 school year and alleged violations of various provisions of federal and State laws concerning discrimination. The petitioner filed the within appeal on October 12, 2021. The Board filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over whether the Board's actions violate the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.§ 12101 et seq., the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 et seq., the National Labor Relations Act, 29 U.S.C. § 151 et seq., or the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, 29 U.S.C. § 621 et seq.; the petition of appeal was untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i); and the doctrine of substantial compliance does not apply in this case. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion to dismiss the petition.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that she does not have jurisdiction over petitioner's discrimination claims, as her authority is limited to controversies and disputes arising under New Jersey school laws, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9; and further agreed that petitioner's claims regarding his evaluation and CAP were untimely. Accordingly, the Commissioner concluded that the ALJ appropriately granted the Board's motion to dismiss as it relates to petitioner's discrimination, evaluation, and CAP claims. However, the Commissioner disagreed with the ALJ that petitioner's claims regarding his salary increment are time-barred, as there is a genuine issue of material fact as to whether the Board actually withheld petitioner's salary increment for 2021-2022 and, if so, when petitioner became aware of the withholding. Accordingly, the Commissioner denied the Board's motion to dismiss as it relates to petitioner's increment withholding claim and remanded the matter for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Eric Nathaniel Gordon,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Petitioner, a tenured Spanish teacher, received a summative performance evaluation at the end of the 2020-2021 school year with a score of 2.04, which is a "partially effective" rating. The Board imposed a corrective action plan (CAP). Petitioner appealed, challenging the correctness of his evaluation and the lawfulness of the CAP. Petitioner also argued that the Board unlawfully withheld his salary increment for the 2021-2022 school year and alleged violations of various provisions of federal and State laws concerning discrimination. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) granted the Board's motion to dismiss, concluding that the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over whether the Board's actions violate the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.§ 12101 et seq., the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 et seq., the National Labor Relations Act, 29 U.S.C. § 151 et seq., or the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, 29 U.S.C. § 621 et seq. (collectively, the "discrimination claims"). The ALJ also concluded that the petition of appeal was untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i) and that the doctrine of substantial compliance does not apply.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that she does not have jurisdiction over petitioner's discrimination claims, as her authority is limited to controversies and disputes arising under New Jersey school laws. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9. The Commissioner further agrees with the ALJ that petitioner's claims regarding his evaluation and CAP were untimely. The evaluation was dated June 4, 2021 and signed by petitioner on June 21, 2021. Even accepting the later date as the beginning date to calculate the 90-day deadline to appeal, that deadline expired on September 20, 2021, and the petition was not filed until October 12, 2021. Regarding petitioner's CAP, it was proposed to petitioner on June 16, 2021, and the 90-day deadline to appeal therefore expired on September 14, 2021. Pursuant to Giannetta v. Bd. of Educ. of Egg Harbor, Commissioner Decision 147-05 (April 25, 2005), any negotiations that occurred between petitioner and the Board regarding the CAP do not toll the time limitation. Furthermore, for the reasons detailed in the Initial Decision, the Commissioner concludes that the doctrine of substantial compliance does not apply. Accordingly, the Commissioner concludes that the ALJ appropriately granted the Board's motion to dismiss as it relates to petitioner's discrimination, evaluation, and CAP claims.[1]

However, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that petitioner's claims regarding his salary increment are time-barred.[2] Petitioner's opposition to the motion to dismiss suggests that he became aware that his salary had not increased for the 2021-2022 school year when he received his first two checks in September 2021. If the Board did withhold petitioner's increment and

[1] The claims are identified in items I, II, and III(a)-(i) of the section of the petition titled "Specific Allegations and Essential Supporting Facts."

[2] This claim is identified in item III(j) of the section of the petition titled "Specific Allegations and Essential Supporting Facts."

petitioner did not become aware of that fact until he received his checks in September 2021, the 90-day deadline to appeal had not expired when the petition was filed on October 12, 2021.[3] The Commissioner notes that the Board has represented, through a certification by petitioner's supervisor, that petitioner's salary increment for the 2021-2022 school year was not withheld. However, petitioner disputes the certification, such that there is a genuine issue of material fact that precludes dismissal of this claim.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is modified as stated herein. The Board's motion to dismiss is granted as to petitioner's discrimination, evaluation, and CAP claims. The Board's motion to dismiss is denied as to petitioner's increment withholding claim. This matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

[3] The record does not contain sufficient information to allow the Commissioner to reach a conclusion about when petitioner was on notice of the amount of his salary for the 2021-2022 school year. If, on remand, it is determined that the Board did withhold petitioner's salary increment for the 2021-2022 school year, the Board is free to present evidence demonstrating that petitioner was aware of that fact prior to September 2021 and to argue that this portion of the petition of appeal was also untimely.

ERIC NATHANIEL GORDON,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF THE EDUCATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SPARTA, SUSSEX COUNTY,
Respondent.

Damiano M. Fracasso, Esq., for petitioner

Marc H. Zitomer, Esq., (Schenck, Price, Smith and King, attorneys) for respondent

Record Closed: February 18, 2022 Decided: November 3, 2022

BEFORE IRENE JONES, ALJ (ret. on recall):

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On October 12, 2021, petitioner, Eric Nathaniel Gordon (petitioner or Gordon), filed a petition with the State Board of Education challenging the correctness of his performance evaluation and the lawfulness of the associated corrective action plan (CAP). Petitioner also alleged that the Board discriminated against him in compensation, conditions, and privileges of employment in violation of the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination (LAD), N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 to -50; discriminated against him because of his age in violation of N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 to -50; unlawfully failed to accommodate his disabilities, in violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), 42 U.S.C. 12101 et seq.; subjected him to discriminatory treatment based on his union and organizing activities in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, 29 U.S.C. 151 to 169; engaged in an ultra vires act by imposing a performance evaluation in violation of N.J.A.C. 6A:10-2.1 et seq.; and unlawfully withheld his salary increment for the 2021–2022 school year.

On November 3, 2021, the respondent, the Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County (the "District") filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g).

On October 19, and November 4, 2021, the State Board of Education (State Board) accepted for filing the petition and motion to dismiss, respectively. On November 5, 2021, the State Board transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for hearing as a contested case. A prehearing conference was held on December 21, 2021, wherein a procedural schedule was established. On February 18, 2022, petitioner filed an answer to the motion to dismiss.[1]

FINDINGS OF FACTS

I FIND the following facts to be undisputed, thus they are adopted as the facts herein:

1. Petitioner was employed by the District as a Spanish teacher at Sparta High School. Petitioner was hired by the District in 2014 and is tenured.

2. Petitioner is a member of the Sparta Education Association.

[1] In lieu of an answer, petitioner filed an "Opposition Certification."

3. Petitioner's direct supervisor was Scott Kercher (Kercher), who is the K–12 supervisor of Social Studies, World Languages, and English as a Second Language for the District.

4. On June 4, 2021, Kercher prepared a "Summative Report" of petitioner's teaching performance for the 2020–2021 school year. The report gave petitioner an overall score of 2.04, which rated him as "partially effective."

5. Petitioner did not file an appeal from the evaluation.

6. A "partially effective" rating required that Kercher develop a CAP with the petitioner's input.

7. Kercher and petitioner, along with his union representative, met on June 16, 2021. Kercher gave them a draft CAP proposal for their review. The two reviewed the proposed CAP and suggested revisions.

8. The revised draft CAP was sent to the petitioner on September 12, 2021. A final CAP meeting was scheduled for September 14, 2021.

9. On September 13, 2021, petitioner's attorney sent a letter to the District superintendent requesting that petitioner be removed from the CAP to accommodate numerous disabilities.

10. The District and Kercher allege that they were unaware that petitioner had any disabilities or that he had previously requested any accommodations.

11. Petitioner met with Kercher on September 14 but refused to participate in the review and demanded that any further communications go through his attorney.

12. Petitioner asserts that he was denied a salary increment for the 2021–2022 school year.

13. The District denies that petitioner was denied an increment for the 2021–2022 school year. It asserts that petitioner's increment was withheld by the prior superintendent for the 2019–2020 school year due to insubordination, failure to complete professional responsibilities, and attendance issues.

14. Petitioner refused to provide his medical records to Kercher but stated that he was willing to provide his medical records to a "District employee who is authorized and competent to grant him accommodation under LAD and ADA."

LEGAL ARGUMENT

The District moves to dismiss the petition on several grounds. First, it contends that the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over claims arising under the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12101 et seq. It asserts that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9 provides that the Commissioner "shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine . . . all controversies and disputes arising under the school laws . . .." The petitioner's claims of disability do not arise under the school laws of New Jersey. The District relies on Fitzgibbons v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, 2018 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 971, Initial Decision (August 8, 2018), aff'd, Commissioner (November 2, 2018), where a teacher's assistant filed a petition of appeal with the Commissioner alleging that he was entitled to an exemption to a requirement for the issuance of a certificate due to a disability. He alleged that the denial of his request for an accommodation violated the Americans with Disabilities Act. The administrative law judge found that the Commissioner did not have jurisdiction to consider the issue, concluding:

> The Commissioner of Education is without jurisdiction to consider claims arising under this Federal law [referring to the American with Disabilities Act]. The Commissioner's jurisdiction is defined by statute and is limited to "controversies and disputes arising under the school laws." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.

The administrative law judge (ALJ) granted the Board of Examiners' motion to dismiss the claim for lack of jurisdiction. The Commissioner affirmed the decision, finding that "the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over whether the Board's action violates the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12101 et seq., as his authority is limited to controversies and disputes arising under New Jersey school laws. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9."

The District further argues that the matter must be dismissed because the Commissioner has no jurisdiction over discrimination claims under the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA), 29 U.S.C. §§ 151 to 169, or under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, 29 U.S.C. §§ 621 to 634.

Moreover, the District asserts that the courts have regularly determined that federal civil-rights actions do not fall within the jurisdiction of the Commissioner. See Cirasa v. State-Operated Sch. Dist. of Paterson, 1993 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 1810, aff'd, No. A-2408-93T2 (App. Div. January 10, 1995). In Cirasa, school employees sought to litigate before the Commissioner of Education, in pertinent part, "various claims arising under assorted federal civil rights and antidiscrimination laws," with one of those laws being the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967. The ALJ found that, "[i]n general, state administrative agencies lack subject matter jurisdiction over federal civil rights actions." On final review, the Commissioner affirmed.

Petitioner contends that the District violated the law by imposing a CAP on him for the 2021–2022 school year. See Petition ¶¶ I and II. The District rebuts this contention, arguing that it had the lawful authority to impose a corrective action plan pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:10-2.5(a). The regulation provides:

> For each teaching staff member rated ineffective or partially effective on the annual summative evaluation, as measured by the evaluation rubrics, a corrective action plan shall be developed by the teaching staff member and the teaching staff member's designated supervisor. If the teaching staff member does not agree with the corrective action plan's content, the designated supervisor shall make the final determination.

Petitioner does not dispute that he received a cumulative evaluation rating of 2.04 on the 2020–2021 summative evaluation. This score falls under the category of "partially effective." Respondent contends that as a result, Kercher was legally obligated to develop a corrective action plan for petitioner for the 2021–2022 school year. While Kercher made every effort to make the CAP development process as collaborative as possible, petitioner was mostly uncooperative outside of the first CAP meeting in June 2021. Kercher included petitioner's input from the first meeting into the draft of the CAP. When petitioner refused to cooperate, Kercher fulfilled his regulatory duty by making a final determination pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:10-2.5(a).

The District further asserts that petitioner's LAD claims are without merit, as they fail to state a cause of action under the LAD. Petitioner has not suffered any loss of compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment. Petitioner did not have an increment withholding for the 2021–2022 school year, he holds the same position as a Spanish teacher as he held the previous school year, and he has all the same privileges in his position that he had prior to this school year.

Further, the District argues that the petition fails to state a single specific incident that forms the basis of the alleged discriminatory conduct. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.4(a) states, in pertinent part, that "[a] petition shall include . . . a statement of the specific allegation(s) and essential facts supporting them that have given rise to a dispute under the school laws. . . . The petition should also cite, if known to petitioner, the section or sections of the school laws under which the controversy has arisen." Moreover, "[w]hile a court will accept well-pled allegations as true for the purpose of the motion [here, a petition of appeal], it will not accept bald accusations, unsupported conclusions, unwarranted inferences, or sweeping legal conclusions cast in the form of factual allegations." Ayala v. N.J. Dep't of Law & Pub. Safety, 2011 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2663 at *9 (App. Div. 2011). Petitioner merely re-states the LAD statutory language without so much as a single specific discriminatory allegation. Petitioner has neither provided the "specific allegation(s) and essential facts" nor identified "the section or sections of the school laws under which the controversy has arisen."

The petitioner asserts that the District's imposition of the annual performance report and rubric was an ultra vires act in violation of the regulations and the Board's policies and procedures. The District moves to dismiss this contention, as it is time barred. It notes that Kercher prepared the 2020–2021 summative evaluation on June 4, 2021, and it was signed by the petitioner on June 21, 2021. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i) governs the filing of an action arising under the school laws, and states in pertinent part:

> The petitioner shall file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling, or other action by the district board of education, individual party, or agency, that is the subject of the requested contested case hearing.

In Kaprow v. Board of Education of Berkeley Township, 131 N.J. 572, 582 (1993), the New Jersey Supreme Court held that the Commissioner and the State Board of Education have the authority to establish a time limitation for the resolution of disputes arising under the school laws. The Court addressed the public policy reasons behind the 90-day rule:

> The limitations period provides a measure of repose, an essential element in the proper and efficient administration of the school laws. It stabilizes the relationship between the teachers and the administration. . .. The limitation period gives school districts the security of knowing that administrative decisions regarding the operation of the school cannot be challenged after ninety days.

Thus, the Kaprow decision provides that the notice requirement set forth in the regulation should accommodate the dual purposes of the 90-day limitation period:

> The first is to stimulate litigants to pursue a right of action within a reasonable time so that the opposing party may have a fair opportunity to defend, thus preventing the litigation of the stale claims. The second purpose is "'to penalize dilatoriness and serve as a measure of repose'" by giving security and stability to human affairs.

[Id. at 587 (citations omitted).]

In Kous v. Old Bridge Township Board of Education, Middlesex County, 2012 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 116 (March 2, 2012) at *10 (citations omitted), aff'd, 2012 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 595 (April 3, 2012), the administrative law judge held that "[t]ime-bars in litigation before the Commissioner are promulgated for a reason, and are uniformly enforced. These time limitations are strictly enforced—at times to the detriment of a litigant filing an action two days too late." Accord Coles v. Bayonne Bd. of Educ., 2008 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2593 (App. Div. 2008) at *3–4 (citation omitted) ("The 90-day rule for petitions to the Commissioner has been strictly construed."). The District asserts that there are no circumstances here that would justify relaxing the 90-day rule. Even accepting June 21, 2021, the date on which petitioner signed his 2020–2021 summative evaluation, as the date that the clock began ticking, petitioner would have been required to file an appeal by September 20, 2021, at the latest. The instant petition was not filed until October 12, 2021.

Finally, the District moves to dismiss the petitioner's allegation that he was denied a salary increment for the 2021–2022 school year. Respondent asserts that it did not withhold the respondent's salary increment for the 2021–2022 school year. The withholding took place in the 2019–2020 school year, from which the petitioner did not file an appeal. In any event, the District asserts that the claim is time barred.

Petitioner filed an "Opposition Certification" to the motion to dismiss. The certification denies that this tribunal and the Commissioner lack subject-matter jurisdiction. Petitioner concludes that it is within the discretion of this tribunal "as to whether it is satisfied that it has subject matter jurisdiction over these claims." Petitioner denies that he has failed to state a claim or cause of action and generally states that his pleadings and 129 exhibits attached to his petition exceed the pleading requirements in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.4(a).

Further, petitioner concedes that the District had the authority to impose a CAP, but asserts that there was no bona fide factual basis for the annual performance report.

Petitioner further asserts that he was indeed denied an increment for the 2022–2021 school year, and relies on exhibits ENG 120, 121 and ENG 122, 123. The paychecks are for two different years, but the amounts remain the same.

Petitioner denies that this matter is time barred. In support, petitioner relies on the matter of D. R. Horton, Inc.—New Jersey v. New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, 383 N.J. Super. 405, 408–09 (App. Div. 2006) (citation omitted), which holds that "a time limitation on a party requesting an adjudicatory hearing . . . is also subject to the substantial compliance doctrine, even though that limitations period has been characterized as 'mandatory and jurisdictional.'" In the instant case, the purposes underlying the 90-day filing requirement are not undermined by application of the substantial-compliance doctrine. Petitioner asserts that he meets the required criteria for application of the doctrine.

Petitioner also asserts that he was "constructively terminated" from his position on January 21, 2022. He was forced to resign because of various violations to his rights and a hostile work environment.[2]

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The law is clear that a matter is justiciable before this tribunal only if jurisdiction exists. Here, the District asserts that the matter must be dismissed because the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction over ADA and LAD matters. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9 confers jurisdiction to the Commissioner of Education over controversies and disputes arising under the school laws of New Jersey. The ADA is a federal law, 43 U.S.C. §§ 12101 et seq., applicable to the states via the Fourteenth Amendment. As noted by the District and undisputed by the petitioner, the Commissioner has affirmed that the Commissioner has no jurisdiction over ADA claims since the dispute does not arise under the school laws. See Fitzgibbons, 2018 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 971. Thus, I FIND and CONCLUDE that petitioner's claims of ADA and LAD disability discrimination must be dismissed due to a lack of jurisdiction.

[2] This allegation was not a part of the petition and therefore it will not be addressed on the merits.

I further FIND and CONCLUDE that the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over the matters concerning the NLRA disputes. As the District aptly argues, petitioner's claim that he was subject to discrimination because of his union activities and his age under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, 29 U.S.C. §§ 621 to 634, are federal claims that are outside of the jurisdiction of the Commissioner. Notably, petitioner has not distinguished or disputed the holding in Cirasa that makes clear that the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction over NLRA and age-discrimination matters.

I FIND that the filing of the instant petition was untimely. N.J.A.C 6A:3-1.3(i) provides that a petitioner shall file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling, or other action taken by the district board of education. Here, petitioner concedes that his petition was filed well outside of the required 90-day timeframe. Petitioner requests application of the substantial-compliance doctrine as set forth in D. R. Horton, 383 N.J. Super at 408–09. To establish substantial compliance, a party must show: "(1) the lack of prejudice to the defending party; (2) a series of steps taken to comply with the statute involved; (3) a general compliance with the purpose of the statute; (4) a reasonable notice of petitioner's claim; and (5) a reasonable explanation why there was not a strict compliance with the statute." Bernstein v. Bd. of Trs., 151 N.J. Super. 71, 76–77 (App. Div. 1977). The District argues that it will be prejudiced if the doctrine is imposed. Further, it notes that petitioner failed to provide notice to the District and failed to explain why he filed the claim beyond the 90-day limitation. As the District argues, the D. R. Horton case is factually distinguishable from the instant matter. In that matter, the appellant mailed a request for a hearing to the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) four days prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations. However, the post office did not deliver the request to the DEP until six days later, and, thus, the DEP denied the request for a hearing because it received the request two days late. The Appellate Division found that the purposes of the limitation statute were "not undermined by the application of [the substantial-compliance doctrine] that allows a challenge to agency action to be maintained where the aggrieved party has taken reasonable steps to initiate the challenge within the prescribed period, but the agency has failed to receive timely notice of the challenge due to circumstances beyond the aggrieved party's control." Id. at 409.

I am not persuaded that there exists a reason for application of the doctrine here, as the events surrounding this matter were in the total control of the petitioner and his attorneys. The petition could have been filed before or during the negotiations with the District, thereby preserving the petitioner's rights. Further, I am persuaded that the District will in fact be prejudiced if the doctrine is applied here. Thus, I FIND and CONCLUDE that the petition, inclusive of CAP and salary-increment claims, must be dismissed, as the claims were filed outside of the 90-day time limitation.

ORDER

For the foregoing reasons, this matter is hereby DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Final Decision

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Neptune, Monmouth County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

This matter stems from tenure charges of unbecoming conduct that were brought against petitioner by the Board following a single incident that occurred off school grounds at a restaurant in April 2021. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16, tenure charges against petitioner were assigned to an arbitrator, who found that petitioner was guilty of one charge of unbecoming conduct which did not warrant his removal; rather, the arbitrator imposed a penalty of suspension without pay for six months. Petitioner, a tenured Vice Principal in the Neptune School District, sought an order finding that his motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to the charges did not constitute a "delay" that would otherwise toll a 120-day unpaid suspension period under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. The respondent Board opposed the petitioner's motion, contending that petitioner had caused the delay.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue here, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; it is evident from the plain language of 6A:3-5.3(a)1 that a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer is expressly permitted as a response by an individual against whom tenure charges are certified; therefore, a filing specifically set forth in the regulations governing this process does not constitute a delay of the proceedings before the arbitrator. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision in favor of petitioner and denied the respondent Board's motion for summary decision. Further, the ALJ ordered the Board to reimburse petitioner for the full amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period that the arbitrator imposed.

Upon review, the Commissioner agreed with the ALJ that petitioner's motion to dismiss the tenure charges filed against him was not a delay requested by petitioner within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. Accordingly, the Commissioner adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL as the final decision in this matter, granted petitioner's motion for summary decision and denied the Board's motion for summary decision. The Board was ordered to reimburse petitioner for the full amount of his salary for thirty-one days, the amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period of suspension imposed by the arbitrator.

Final Decision

Michael Smurro,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Neptune, Monmouth County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the Administrative Law Judge that petitioner's motion to dismiss the tenure charges filed against him was not a delay requested by petitioner within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner's motion for summary decision is granted and respondent's motion for summary decision is denied. The Board is ordered to reimburse petitioner for the full amount of his salary for thirty-one days, the amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period of suspension imposed by the arbitrator.

BEFORE JACOB S. GERTSMAN, ALJ t/a:

Record Closed: September 28, 2022 Decided: November 17, 2022

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner seeks an order finding that his motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer did not constitute a "delay" that would otherwise toll the 120-day unpaid suspension period under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. Respondent opposes the petition contending that petitioner caused the delay.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The petition was filed on November 23, 2021, and the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on January 6, 2022, as a contested case and assigned to the undersigned. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to N.J.S.A. 52:14F-13. Petitioner filed a motion for summary decision on February 16, 2022, and the initial telephone prehearing conference was held on the March 8, 2022. During the prehearing conference, respondent notified the undersigned that they would be filing a cross-motion for summary decision, and a briefing schedule was established. Respondent's cross-motion was filed on March 25, 2022, petitioner's reply brief was filed on April 5, 2022, and the joint stipulation of facts was filed on April 7, 2022. Oral argument was held on May 16, 2022.

On July 25, 2022, petitioner submitted a letter to the undersigned advising of "certain actions the District appears poised to take at its next meeting of Wednesday, July 27, 2022." The record was reopened, and a telephone status conference was held on July 27, 2022, where the parties agreed to submit a supplemental joint stipulation of facts. Following the submission of the stipulation on August 19, 2022, a telephone status conference was held to discuss outstanding issues with the submission. The revised and executed supplemental joint stipulation was submitted on September 28, 2022, and the record once again closed.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

JOINT STIPULATION OF FACTS[1]

The following Joint Stipulation of Facts was duly submitted by the parties and are hereby FOUND as FACT:

1. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 et seq., the District served tenure charges upon petitioner Smurro on May 26, 2021 (the "tenure charge matter"). (Exhibit 1, at ¶4; Exhibit 2, at ¶4.)

2. Petitioner filed his Answer with the Board on June 10, 2021. (Exhibit 1, at ¶5; Exhibit 2, at ¶5.)

3. The Board, by way of a special meeting held on June 28, 2021, voted to certify tenure charges against Smurro to the Commissioner of Education ("Commissioner"). (Exhibit 1, at ¶6; Exhibit 2, at ¶6.)

4. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14, at the special meeting of June 28, 2021, the Board also voted to suspend Smurro without pay for 120 days or until final determination of the tenure charges, effective June 29, 2021. (Exhibit 1, at ¶7; Exhibit 2, at ¶7.)

5. The District filed its certified tenure charges with the Commissioner on June 29, 2021 ("Commissioner's Receipt of Certified Charges"). (Exhibit 4.)

6. Petitioner was receiving his full salary as well as his concomitant medical benefits from the District up until it suspended him without pay. (Exhibit 1, at ¶8; Exhibit 2, at ¶8.)

[1] ¶1 though ¶25 were submitted by the parties on March 24, 2022. ¶26 through ¶35 were submitted on September 28, 2022. The Joint Stipulations were modified by the undersigned for stylistic purposes.

7. Despite voting to suspend Smurro's pay effective June 29, 2021, the District actually began Smurro's unpaid suspension on July 16, 2021. (Exhibit 1, at ¶9; Exhibit 2, at ¶9.)

8. On July 14, 2021, Smurro filed a motion to dismiss the tenure charges in lieu of an answer pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(a)(1). (Exhibit 1, at ¶12; Exhibit 2, at ¶12.)

9. On July 19, 2021, the Commissioner of Education assigned an arbitrator to the tenure charges pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16. (Exhibit 1, at ¶13; Exhibit 2, at ¶13.)

10. By letter dated July 19, 2021, the arbitrator assigned to the matter asked counsel to the District how long it needed to respond to the motion to dismiss, to which the District requested two weeks. (Initial Motion Timeline Email; Exhibit 5.)

11. On August 2, 2021, the District sought, and the arbitrator granted, a request for a seven-day extension of time to respond to Smurro's motion to dismiss. (Exhibit 1, at ¶15; Exhibit 2, at ¶15.) (Extension Request Email; Exhibit 6.)

12. The District submitted its opposition to the motion to dismiss on August 9, 2021. (Exhibit 1, at ¶16; Exhibit 2, at ¶16.)

13. Petitioner submitted his reply brief on August 16, 2021. (Exhibit 1, at ¶17; Exhibit 2, at ¶17.)

14. The arbitrator assigned to the tenure charges issued her Decision denying the motion on October 17, 2021, and ordered that the tenure charges proceed to a hearing. (Exhibit 1, at ¶18; Exhibit 2, at ¶18.) (Decision on Motion; Exhibit 7.)

15. On October 28, 2021, counsel for petitioner Smurro sent the District a letter inquiring about the resumption of petitioner's salary. (Exhibit 1 at ¶18; Exhibit 2, at ¶24.) (Letter re Resumption of Salary; Exhibit 8.)

16. On November 2, 2021, the District sent a letter indicating that the District would not consider resuming the payment of Smurro's salary before February 14, 2022, because it contended that petitioner's motion to dismiss operated as a request for a delay of the proceedings. (November 2, 2021, District Letter; Exhibit 9.)

17. The District's November 2 letter asserted that the time period between Smurro's filing of the motion to dismiss on July 14, 2021, and the arbitrator's determination of that motion on October 17, 2021, should not count for purposes of the 120-day period under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. (Exhibit 9.)

18. Petitioner responded to the District's November 2 letter that same day contending that the District violated N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 and that the arbitrator appointed to preside over the underlying tenure matter had the authority to order the resumption of petitioner's salary. (Petitioner's November 2, 2021, Reply Letter; Exhibit 10.)

19. The District then responded on November 4, 2021, contending that based upon N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9 only the Commissioner of Education had jurisdiction to decide issues under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. (November 4, 2021, District Letter; Exhibit 11.)

20. After further letters on this issue, along with oral arguments before the arbitrator, the arbitrator on November 11, 2021, signed an order determining "that she lacks jurisdiction over the issue of the resumption of [petitioner's] salary pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14[.]" (Executed Order - Resumption of Salary; Exhibit 12.)

21. The arbitrator's November 11, 2021, order was "without prejudice to [petitioner's] right to file a Petition of Appeal before the Commissioner of Education seeking an order requiring that the District reinstate Mr. Smurro to the payroll pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14." (Exhibit 12.)

22. Also on November 11, 2021, the arbitrator sent her first request to the Commissioner of Education, Office of Disputes and Controversies, for an extension of time regarding the forty-five-day period from which to hold the hearing after the assignment of the arbitrator pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.1(b)(1). (Exhibit 1, at ¶34; Exhibit 2 at ¶34.)

23. Thereafter, on November 16, 2021, Office of Disputes and Controversies granted the arbitrator's request for an extension to hold the hearing beyond forty-five days from the arbitrator's assignment. (Exhibit 1 at ¶37; Exhibit 2, at ¶37.) (Email re Extension of forty-five-day timeline; Exhibit 13.)

24. By way of email dated, February 11, 2021, the District confirmed that petitioner would be reinstated to the payroll effective February 14, 2022. (Email Confirming Resumption of Pay Feb. 14, 2022; Exhibit 14.)

25. One hundred and twenty-one days following the receipt of the certified tenure charges by the Commissioner, which occurred June 29, 2021, is October 28, 2021. (Commissioner's Receipt of Certified Charges; Exhibit 4.)

26. The merits of the tenure charge matter were decided by Decision of Arbitrator Deinhardt dated July 11, 2022 (the "Decision").

27. That Decision imposed a six-month unpaid suspension on petitioner Smurro.

28. During the pendency of the tenure charge matter, the District suspended petitioner Smurro without pay for a total of 213 days, from July 16, 2021, until February 14, 2022.

29. Of those 213 days, ninety-five days were during the pendency of a motion to dismiss filed in lieu of an answer, from July 14, 2021, until it was decided on October 17, 2021.

30. Among the original issues before this tribunal is whether the filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(1)(1) operates to toll the 120-day time period for which a district filing tenure charges is permitted to suspend an employee without pay pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

31. Petitioner Smurro takes the position that the filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(1)(1) does not operate to toll the 120-day unpaid suspension time period set forth by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

32. Respondent District takes the position that the time during which a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(1)(1) is pending does operate to toll 120-day unpaid suspension time period set forth by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

33. Despite the District's resumption of petitioner Smurro's regular salary effective February 14, 2022, he remained suspended with pay until August 15, 2022, when the District ended his suspension and provided him with an assignment.

34. If this tribunal determines that petitioner Smurro's legal position is correct, given that the arbitrator imposed a six-month unpaid suspension and he was suspended without pay for a total of 213 days during the pendency of the tenure charge matter, this tribunal should order that the District is required to reimburse petitioner Smurro for the full amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period[2] the arbitrator imposed, his full salary for thirty-one days, or the difference between 213 days and 182 days.

35. If this tribunal determines that respondent District's legal position is correct, meaning that the time during the pendency of petitioner's motion to dismiss pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(1)(1) did not count as part of the 120-day unpaid suspension time period set forth by N.J.S.A.18A:6-14 and the additional unpaid suspension of petitioner beyond 120 days was due to petitioner's strategic choice and cannot count against the District, then this tribunal should order that petitioner is required to serve an additional sixty-four days of unpaid suspension to the District, representing the difference between 182 days and 118 days[3], to satisfy the requirements of the arbitrator's six-month unpaid suspension penalty.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Summary Decision Standard

Summary decision may be granted "if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b).

The standard for granting summary judgment (decision) is found in Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, 142 N.J. 520 (1995):

> a determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the

[2] For purposes of this matter, the parties agree that six-months is 182 days.
[3] One hundred and eighteen days represents the difference between the 213 days that petitioner has been on unpaid suspension with the ninety-five days that the District claims should not count as part of that unpaid suspension because they were during the pendency of the motion to dismiss.

> motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact-finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The "judge's function is not himself [or herself] to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial."

In addressing whether the Brill standard has been met in this case, further guidance is found in R. 4:46-2(c):

> An issue of fact is genuine only if, considering the burden of persuasion at trial, the evidence submitted by the parties on the motion, together with all legitimate inferences therefrom favoring the non-moving party, would require submission of the issue to the trier of fact.

Accordingly, the undisputed facts and the arguments of both parties will be evaluated utilizing the Brill standard.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 provides in pertinent part that

> Upon certification of any charge to the commissioner, the board may suspend the person against whom such charge is made, with or without pay, but, if the determination of the charge by the arbitrator is not made within 120 calendar days after certification of the charges, excluding all delays which are granted at the request of such person, then the full salary (except for said 120 days) of such person shall be paid beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until such determination is made . . . . (emphasis added)

The Legislature's intent in enacting the statute was "to alleviate 'the economic hardship endured by teachers . . . suspended without pay pending the outcome of charges filed against them and certified for [a] hearing. . . .'" Pugliese v. State-Operated Sch. Dist. of City of Newark, 454 N.J. Super. 495, 505 (App. Div. 2018) (quoting In re Grossman, 127 N.J. Super. 13, 35-36 (App. Div. 1974)).

The issue before this tribunal is whether petitioner's filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer otherwise constitute a delay that would toll the 120-day unpaid suspension period under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.[4]

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(a) provides

> Except as specified in N.J.A.C. 6A:3–5.1(c)(5), an individual against whom tenure charges are certified shall have 15 days from the date such charges are filed with the Commissioner to file a written response to the charges. Except as to time for filing, the answer shall conform to the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:3–1.5(a) through (d).
> 1. Consistent with N.J.A.C. 6A:3–1.5(g), nothing in this subsection precludes the filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to the charges, provided the motion is filed within the time allotted for the filing of an answer. Briefing on the motions shall be in the manner and within the time fixed by the Commissioner, or by the arbitrator if the motion is to be briefed following transmittal to an arbitrator.

Petitioner argues that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10 et seq. "has numerous references to the timelines and how to request an extension of time. However, not once in the statue is there any reference, or suggestion, that a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer constitutes such a request. The specific section that discusses extensions of time N.J.S.A. 18A:6-17.4 provides only that the 'commissioner shall have the authority to extend the timelines in the tenure charge process upon a showing of exceptional circumstances.' However, this section makes no mention of the filing of a Motion to Dismiss constituting a request for an extension." (Petitioner motion at 11.) Respondent contends that the Board did not cause the delay and "[t]he one and only reason that the [4] The petition additionally sought an order that "the arbitrator appointed to the underlying tenure proceeding had the authority to make that determination and order the respondent-District to resume petitioner's salary on the 121st day following the certification of the tenure charges—October 28, 2021." (Petitioner motion at 17.) The Commissioner has transmitted this matter to the OAL which maintains jurisdiction pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-3.1 and 3.2. This tribunal takes no position on the merits of petitioner's argument, as it is purely a question of law that should be addressed by the Appellate Division. (See Wendling v. New Jersey Racing Comm'n, 279 N.J. Super 477, 484). Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the OAL is not the proper forum for consideration of this issue.

arbitration of this case was delayed for just over three months is because Mr. Smurro's counsel chose to file an ill-fated Motion to Dismiss." (Respondent motion at 4.)

The parties agree that if petitioner prevails, respondent will reimburse petitioner for the full amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period the arbitrator imposed, his full salary for thirty-one days, or the difference between 213 days and 182 days. If respondent prevails, petitioner is required to serve an additional sixty-four days of unpaid suspension to the District, representing the difference between 182 days and 118 days, to satisfy the requirements of the arbitrator's six-month unpaid suspension penalty. (Joint Stipulation at ¶¶ 34, 35)

First and foremost a court's analysis begins with the plain language of a statute. State v. Smith, 197 N.J. 325, 332 (2009) (citing State v. Brannon, 178 N.J. 500, 505-06 (2004)). The language of statute should be given its ordinary meaning and used to determine intent of the legislature; the courts cannot arbitrarily expand the scope of a statute beyond plainly expressed legislative intent. DiProspero v. Penn, 183 N.J. 477, 492 (2005); Smith, 197 N.J. at 332 (it is not the function of the court to rewrite a plainly written enactment of the Legislature or presume that the Legislature intended something other than that expressed by way of the plain language).

The language of both N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(a) is clear and unambiguous. The individual against whom the charges have been certified must file a written response within fifteen days of the charges being filed and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-5.3(a)1 provides that "nothing in this subsection precludes the filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to the charges, provided the motion is filed within the time allotted for the filing of an answer." Put simply, it is evident from the plain language of 6A:3-5.3(a)1 that a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer is expressly permitted as a response by an individual against whom tenure charges are certified. Therefore, it stands to reason that a filing specifically set forth in the regulations governing this process does not constitute a delay of the proceedings before the arbitrator.

Based upon the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that petitioner's motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer was not a delay requested by petitioner as set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

ORDER

I ORDER that petitioner's motion for summary decision be and hereby is GRANTED and respondent's motion for summary decision be and hereby is DENIED. I FURTHER ORDER that respondent shall reimburse petitioner for the full amount of time he was suspended without pay beyond the six-month period the arbitrator imposed, his full salary for thirty-one days, or the difference between 213 days and 182 days.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Stephanie Florio,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro-se petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent New Jersey State Board of Examiners (SBE) that she had not met the requirements for issuance of a Reading Specialist Certificate because she failed to complete the required three credit hours in a supervised practicum in reading. Petitioner argued that her alternative education and experience satisfied a one-to-one-correspondence to the missing credits, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b). The SBE did not accept petitioner's alternative education and experience, finding that petitioner did not establish a compelling one-to-one correspondence with the Reading Specialist certification requirements. Petitioner thereafter filed the within appeal.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the issue in this case is whether petitioner satisfied her burden of demonstrating, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the SBE acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law when it determined not to accept petitioner's alternative education to satisfy the remaining requirements that petitioner needed to receive a Reading Specialist Certificate; N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.13 sets forth the requirements for issuance of this certificate; the SBE determined that petitioner did not satisfy the requirements for certification because she lacks three credit hour credits in a supervised practicum in reading and her alternative education and experience was not deemed equivalent to satisfy that deficiency; and petitioner failed to establish that the SBE's decision to deny her application for a Reading Specialist Certificate was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ affirmed the SBE's decision and dismissed the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner found, inter alia, that: the ALJ mistakenly applied the wrong standard of review in the Initial Decision, stating that the SBE's decision will not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the SBE acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law; the appropriate standard of review here is whether the SBE's decision was consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:3; applying the appropriate standard of review, the Commissioner found that the record does not contain sufficient information to determine whether the Board's denial of petitioner's application was consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions; petitioner has raised material issues of fact that preclude dismissal at this stage, as a full record must be developed and considered pursuant to the appropriate standard of review before a decision can be made as to whether the Board's decision should be affirmed or reversed. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was rejected and the matter remanded for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Stephanie Florio,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Education,
State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

In this matter, petitioner challenges the New Jersey State Board of Examiners' (Board) denial of her application for a Reading Specialist Certificate. The Board denied petitioner's application because she did not satisfy the required three credit hours in a supervised practicum in reading. Petitioner argued that her alternative education and experience satisfied a one-to-one-correspondence to the missing credits, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b). Following a motion to dismiss, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the Board's decision to deny petitioner's application was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, and dismissed the petition.

As a threshold matter, a discussion of the applicable standard of review for petitions of appeal that are filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:3 is necessary. When there is a challenge to a determination made by an office within the Department of Education, the Commissioner is not mandated to give deference to her staff, but instead determines if the finding was legally appropriate. See, Jaroslaw Nimczyk v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, Commissioner Decision No. 98-22, dated May 16, 2022, and Melody Travisano v. Dept. of Educ., State Board of Examiners, Commissioner Decision No. 190-22, dated August 8, 2022 (both comprehensively detailing the appropriate standard of review to be applied in matters filed against the Board of Examiners pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3); Board of Trustees of the Passaic County Elks Cerebral Palsy Center v. New Jersey Dept. of Educ., Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance, Commissioner's Decision No. 334-14, dated August 14, 2014 (finding that a decision of the Office of Fiscal Accountability and Compliance is not given deference by the Commissioner). Moreover, where the Department of Education has limited the scope of review of a subordinate office or division, it has done so by regulation, i.e. appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 challenging a decision of the State Board of Examiners revoking or suspending a certificate, or a decision of the School Ethics Commission.

In the Initial Decision, the ALJ mistakenly referenced N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a), applied deference to the Board, and stated that the Board's decision in this case would not be overturned unless the petitioner proves that the Board acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law.[1] It is important to recognize that a decision by the Board denying an application for a certificate is not entitled to the arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable standard of review that is afforded to appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4, challenging a decision of the Board revoking or suspending a certificate. See, Jessica Walder v. New Jersey Department of Education, State Board of Examiners, Commissioner's Decision No. 503-14, decided December 29, 2014 (finding that the Commissioner does not give deference to a decision of the State Board of Examiners denying a request for issuance of a certificate). The petition of appeal in this matter was filed in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3, which consists of completely different regulatory provisions than N.J.A.C. 6A:4; these two Administrative Code Sections should never be conflated. Nimczyk, supra at 2. As such, the standard of review that governs appeals filed under N.J.A.C. 6A:4 does not apply to this case. The appropriate standard of review of the Boards' decision is whether the decision is consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions.

Upon review of the record and applying the appropriate standard of review, the Commissioner finds that the record does not contain sufficient information to determine whether the Board's denial of petitioner's application was consistent with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions. In opposition to the motion to dismiss, petitioner submitted evidence in support of her argument that her alternative education and experience satisfied a one-to-one-correspondence to the missing credits. The Commissioner concludes that petitioner has raised material issues of fact that preclude dismissal at this stage. A full record must be developed, and then considered pursuant to the appropriate standard of review, before a decision can be made as to whether the Board's decision should be affirmed or reversed.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is rejected. This matter is remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

STEPHANIE FLORIO,
Petitioner,
vs.
NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, BOARD OF EXAMINERS,

Colin Klika, Deputy Attorney General, for respondent, State Board of Examiners (Matthew J. Platkin, Attorney General of New Jersey)

Record Closed: September 21, 2022 Decided: November 15, 2022

BEFORE THOMAS R. BETANCOURT, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner, Stephanie Florio, applied for a Reading Specialist Certification. The State Board of Examiners (Board) determined that Petitioner satisfied all requirements, except for a one-to-one correspondence between alternative education and experience presented and the practicum requirement.

Petitioner appealed that decision to the Office of Controversies and Disputes. The matter was transferred to the Office or Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested case, where it was filed on August 8, 2022.

A prehearing conference was held on August 22, 2022, and a prehearing order was entered the same date.

Respondent filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer with the Commissioner of the Department of Education prior to the matter being transmitted to the OAL, which was refiled at the OAL on August 30, 2022. Petitioner filed her response to said motion on September 21, 2022, whereupon the record closed.

ISSUE

Whether Board's denial is supported by the evidence and is not arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to the law. If not, the Commissioner may reject the Board's determination. N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4. 1 N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(b)(6); N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b).

FINDINGS OF FACT

The parties do not dispute many of the background facts in this case. I FIND the following FACTS:

1. Petitioner applied for a Reading Specialist Certificate (RSC).
2. The Board denied the application for a RSC based upon her failure to satisfy all the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.13, in its Decision dated April 7, 2022.
3. In said Decision, the Board determined that Petitioner did satisfy three credit hours in reading foundations, but denied the application as it found Petitioner did not satisfy three credit hours in a supervised practicum in reading.
4. The above decision was made after the Board considered Petitioner's request for the Board to consider alternate education and/or experience equivalent to the areas of deficiency (lack of three credit hours in reading foundations and three credit hours in a supervised practicum in reading).

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10 states:

> At any time prior to transmittal of the pleadings to the OAL, in the Commissioner's discretion or upon motion to dismiss filed in lieu of answer, the Commissioner may dismiss the petition on the grounds that the petitioner has advanced no cause of action even if the petitioner's factual allegations are accepted as true or for lack of jurisdiction, failure to prosecute or other good reason.

In the instant matter, Respondent filed its motion to dismiss with the Commissioner. The matter was than transferred to the OAL, where Respondent re-filed its motion.

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10 is similar to New Jersey Court Rule 4:6-2(e). The inquiry in a motion to dismiss is "limited to examining the legal sufficiency of the facts alleged on the face of the complaint." Printing Mart-Morristown v. Sharp Elec. Corp., 116 N.J. 739, 746 (1989). Herein, the petition of appeal equates to the complaint.

A careful review of the petition of appeal does not reveal a claim upon which relief may be granted. Nothing contained therein adds to what the Board considered. The Petitioner seems to indicate in her petition that the burden was on the Board to ask questions to further her application for a RSC.

Here, Petitioner "carries the burden of demonstrating by a preponderance of the credible evidence that she is entitled to the endorsement she seeks." McQuilken v. N.J. St. Bd. of Exam'rs, OAL Dkt. No. EDU8374-11, Initial Decision (Dec. 13, 2011), adopted Comm'r (January 27, 2012). http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/search.html. In evaluating determinations by the Board of Examiners, "the Commissioner . . . shall not disturb the decision if the "decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record" unless the appellant has demonstrated that the Board . . . acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law." N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1 The Department of Education intended the standard of review for Commissioner determinations under Chapter Six to be "appellate in nature." 40 N.J.R. 4606(a).[2]

The arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable standard consists of three inquiries:

(1) whether the agency action violates the enabling act's express or implied legislative policies;

(2) whether there is substantial evidence in the record to support the findings upon which the agency based application of legislative policies; and

(3) whether, in applying the legislative policies to the facts, the agency clearly erred by reaching a conclusion that could not reasonably have been made upon a showing of the relevant factors. [Public Serv. Elec. and Gas Co. v. New Jersey Dep't. of Envtl. Protect., 101 N.J. 95, 103 (1985).]

However, where there is room for two opinions the action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration even though the court may believe that an erroneous conclusion has been reached." Bayshore Sewerage Co. v. Department of Environmental Protection, 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (App. Div. 1973) (Internal citations omitted). Significantly, a "court should not substitute its judgment for that of an administrative or legislative body if there is substantial evidence to support the ruling." Ibid.

All teaching staff members in the state's public schools must hold a valid certificate before serving in any role in which they "teach, administer, direct or supervise the teaching, instruction, or educational guidance" of students. N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2. Under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-38 and N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2.7, the Board promulgated regulations for the required certification of persons employed in a public school district. Under those regulations, the Board issues three categories of educational certificates: instructional, administrative, and educational services. N.J.A.C. 6A:9-5.2(a). Endorsements for an educational services certificate include staff members such as a school psychologist or a school social worker. See N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5, -14.9. These endorsements "coincide with the educational subjects or positions that share common attributes and thus are grouped under a particular certificate." Dennery v. Bd. of Educ., 131 N.J. 626, 633 (1993). Accordingly, a person can work in the particular field based upon the endorsement(s) enumerated on the certificate.

N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.13 states:

> (a) The reading specialist endorsement authorizes the holder to serve as a reading specialist in preschool through grade 12. A reading specialist conducts in-service training of teachers and administrators; coordinates instruction for students or groups of students having difficulty learning to read; diagnoses the nature and cause of a student's difficulty in learning to read; plans developmental programs in reading for all students; recommends methods and materials to be used in the school district reading program; and contributes to the evaluation of the reading achievement of students.
>
> (b) A candidate for this endorsement shall have completed a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university, two years of successful teaching experience, and one of the following:
>
> 1. A Department-approved graduate-degree program in reading; or
>
> 2. A program of graduate studies of 30 semester-hour credits consisting of the following:
>
> i. Reading foundations;
>
> ii. Diagnosis of reading problems;
>
> iii. Correction of reading problems;
>
> iv. Supervised practicum in reading; and
>
> v. Study in at least three of the following areas: children's or adolescent literature; measurement; organization of reading programs; psychology; staff supervision; linguistics; special education; research; and foundations of education.
>
> (c) An emergency certificate may be issued to a candidate who has obtained the following:
>
> 1. A master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university;
>
> 2. Two years of successful teaching experience; and
> 3. Completion of 12 graduate credits in the areas listed in (b)2 above.

While the Board cannot waive the requirements, it can consider alternative education or experience if Petitioner demonstrates, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that the alternative education or experience is the one-to-one equivalent with the statutory requirements. Hutchinson v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, EDU16373-12, Initial Decision (April 5, 2013), aff'd, Commissioner (May 15, 2013).

The Board determined that Petitioner satisfied the requirements for RSC, except for six of the thirty semester hours, including study in reading foundations and supervised practicum in reading. Petitioner requested the Board consider alternate education and/or experience equivalent to the deficiency noted herein. Upon review of what Petitioner supplied, the Board found Petitioner satisfied the required study in the area of reading foundations. It did not find that Petitioner satisfied the requirement of supervised reading practicum. Accordingly, the Board denied the application as to the three remaining credits in a supervised practicum in ready.

Petitioner fails to demonstrate that the Board acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law. Pointedly, the Board considered Petitioner's request for alternative education and/or experience in the areas of deficiency it originally noted. Based upon that review the Board found Petitioner satisfied three credit hours in the area of reading foundations, but still lacked three credit hours in a supervised practicum in reading.

Petitioner argues that the Board did not provide clear guidelines for her to provide additional information that may be relevant to her application. It is the burden of Petitioner to provide what she contends satisfies the requirements for the certification. It is not the Board's obligation to guide her.

Against this backdrop, petitioner bears a substantial evidentiary burden to establish a case sufficient to set aside a decision by the Board of Examiners. A decision by the Board of Examiners will not be disturbed unless petitioner "has demonstrated [that] the State Board of Examiners . . . acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law." N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a). It is not within the province of this forum to substitute its judgment for that of the Board of Examiners even if there is room for two opinions regarding the sufficiency of petitioner's coursework. Rather, the pertinent inquiry is to "ascertain whether the decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record[.]" N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a). Judged against this standard of review and based on a consideration of the testimony and documentary evidence presented, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to shoulder her burden of proof and that the Board of Examiners' decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the Board's denial of the RSC, as set forth in its Decision dated April 7, 2022, should be AFFIRMED.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Board's denial of the RSC, as set forth in its Decision dated April 7, 2022, should be AFFIRMED; and, it is further ORDERED that Petitioner's appeal is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

BEFORE JUDE-ANTHONY TISCORNIA, ALJ:

The foregoing matter was remanded by the New Jersey Superior Court, Appellate Division, to the Commissioner of the Department of Education on January 24, 2022. On May 4, 2022, the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law for determination as a contested case.

The parties have agreed to an amicable resolution of the matter and submitted the attached Settlement Agreement via e-mail on November 7, 2022.

Having reviewed the record and the settlement terms, I FIND as follows:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or the signatures of their representatives.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. Accordingly, it is ORDERED that the parties comply with the settlement terms, and it is FURTHER ORDERED that the proceedings in this matter be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT, entered into as of the day of September 2022, by and between Lyndhurst Township BOARD OF EDUCATION, BERGEN COUNTY, (Hereinafter referred to as the "Board") -and-

JAMIE TRUNCELLITO
(Hereinafter referred to as the "TRUNCELLITO")

(Collectively "the parties")

WHEREAS, the Parties have been involved in litigation for a period of years, as set forth below, resulting in a great expenditure of time and resources that could be better applied elsewhere. In the public interest and the interest of the parties, the Board and Truncellito agree to settle the actions set forth below:

Jamie B. Truncellito v. Lyndhurst Board of Education,
Appellate Division/Commissioner of Education Remand 5/4/22
Appellate Division No. A-1306-19
New OAL Docket No.: EDU 03579-2022N
Agency Dkt. No. 150-6/18,
Commissioner Decision N. 270-19,
OAL Dkt. No. EDU 10980-18

In accord with this agreement;

WHEREAS, a proceeding currently pending before the Office of Administrative Law on remand from the Appellate Division of the Superior Court and the Commissioner of Education; and

Whereas, the Board and the Truncellito desire to settle all of the claims between them arising out of the referenced litigation; and

WHEREAS, the parties have set forth the terms of their agreement below and consent to be bound thereby;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises, covenants and the exchange for the consideration, as more particularly noted below, it is hereby agreed as follows:

1. The Board agrees to immediately pass a resolution granting tenure as a guidance counsellor to Truncellito in the Lyndhurst Township School District, retroactive to September 1, 2018.
2. Truncellito will be reemployed by the Board effective July 1, 2023.
3. The Lyndhurst school district will maintain its current staffing levels for the for 2022-2023 school year ending June 30, 2023.
4. Truncellito will waive any right to recall to her tenured position prior to July 1, 2023, so that no change in counsellor staffing will be necessary by the Lyndhurst School District for the 2022-2023 school year.
5. Truncellito will complete her duties as a counsellor in the North Brunswick School District for the 2022-2023 school year.
6. Truncellito will return to Lyndhurst as a tenured counsellor on July 1, 2023, and be placed on the salary guide as if she never left the district at step MAX. Ms. Truncellito will receive salary and seniority credit in the district for all years from the date of her departure until her return.
7. Upon execution of this agreement the Board will pay Truncellito a lump sum of $29,890.00 as the acknowledged loss suffered by Truncellito arising out of the Board's non-retention of her for the 2018-2019, 2019-2020, 2020-2021 ,2021-2022 and 2022-2023 school years.
8. The Board will not take any deductions from the sum payable to Truncellito but will issue IRS Form 1099 representing said payment.
9. Truncellito will provide a letter of resignation to the North Brunswick School District effective June 30, 2023

10. Upon the execution and delivery of the Tenure Resolution by the Board set forth in paragraph 1 and the payment outlined in paragraph 7, Truncellito will withdraw the pending action before the Office of Administrative Law, with prejudice, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Education. if required.

11. The Board agrees to take no adverse action against Truncellito arising out of the litigation which is the subject of this agreement.

12. The parties represent that they are fully authorized to execute this agreement and that all formalities attendant to the execution of this agreement have been satisfied.

13. This agreement may be executed in counterparts, which when taken together, will constitute a completely and properly executed document.

14. This is the entire agreement of the parties. It may not be altered or amended, except in writing, with the same formality as this agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals on the dates set forth below.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Township of Piscataway, Middlesex County, Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of North Plainfield, Somerset County, and Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, Union County, Respondents.

The record of this matter, the parties' proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement) and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In so doing, however, the Commissioner notes the Board must comply with the requirements of New Jersey's Open Public Records Act, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1 et seq., with respect to information concerning this matter, notwithstanding any agreement the parties may have between themselves to keep the terms of their settlement confidential. Further, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") shall be by and between the NORTH PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION (hereinafter "North Plainfield") and the PISCATAWAY BOARD OF EDUCATION (hereinafter "Piscataway") and the PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION (hereinafter "Plainfield") (collectively the "Parties").

WHEREAS, four Lewis Family children (hereinafter "Students") were registered and attended the North Plainfield schools at such times that the Students were residing in Piscataway, North Plainfield, or Plainfield;

WHEREAS, on or about May 20, 2019, Somerset County Executive Superintendent of Schools, Roger Jinks, conducted a homeless/residency determination for the Students and concluded that Piscataway was the school district of residence;

WHEREAS, on or about June 26, 2019, Piscataway filed a Verified Petition of Appeal against North Plainfield and Plainfield, OAL Docket N0. EDU 11839-2019 S, pending before the Honorable Elia A Pelios, ALJ, regarding the residency of the Students;

NOW THEREFORE, the parties having a desire to settle the above matter in an amicable way, hereby agree as follows:

1. DISMISSAL OF VERIFIED PETITION OF APPEAL

In settlement of the within controversy, Piscataway agrees to dismiss the Verified Petition of Appeal and withdraw with prejudice any and all claims it may have against North Plainfield and/or Plainfield.

This settlement represents the final resolution of the matter involving the education and residency of the four Students.

DocuSign Envelope ID: 5AA35114-C0F4-457F-AF13-E044D1D65A15

2. COMPENSATION:

a. Piscataway agrees to make a payment of $52,500.00 to North Plainfield within thirty (30) days after the North Plainfield, Piscataway, and Plainfield Boards approve the Settlement Agreement.

b. Plainfield agrees to make a payment of $22,500.00 to North Plainfield within thirty (30) days after the North Plainfield, Piscataway, and Plainfield Boards approve the Settlement Agreement.

3. RELEASES: North Plainfield hereby releases, waives and forever discharges any and all past, present or future claims that relate to the education and residency of the Students that predates this Agreement that it may have against Piscataway and Plainfield. North Plainfield acknowledges that it had the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and representatives of choice regarding this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver that accompanies it prior to executing it; and that it represents that it has read this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver and fully understands them and agrees to be bound by them. North Plainfield also acknowledges that it has been given a reasonable period of time within which to consider this settlement and the terms of this Agreement and General Release and Waiver prior to executing them.

Piscataway hereby releases, waives and forever discharges any and all past, present or future claims that relate to the education and residency of the Students that predates this Agreement that it may have against North Plainfield and Plainfield. Piscataway acknowledges that it had the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and representatives of choice regarding this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver that accompanies it prior to executing it; and that it represents that it has read this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver and fully understands them and agrees to be bound by them. Piscataway also acknowledges that it has been given a reasonable period of time within which to consider this settlement and the terms of this Agreement and General Release and Waiver prior to executing them.

Plainfield hereby releases, waives and forever discharges any and all past, present or future claims that relate to the education and residency of the Students that predates this Agreement that it may have against Piscataway and North Plainfield. Plainfield acknowledges that it had the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and representatives of choice regarding this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver that accompanies it prior to executing it; and that it represents that it has read this Agreement and the General Release and Waiver and fully understands them and agrees to be bound by them. Plainfield also acknowledges that it has been given a reasonable period of time within which to consider this settlement and the terms of this Agreement and General Release and Waiver prior to executing them.

4. WAIVER: North Plainfield agrees to accept the compensation referred to in paragraph 2 in full and final settlement and waiver of claims that related to the education and residency of the Students. Such compensation shall be in full satisfaction and settlement and waiver which North Plainfield now has or may have had against Piscataway and Plainfield related to the education and residency of the Students, and in recognition of and consideration for North Plainfield's promise to provide Piscataway and Plainfield and its agents, employees, and representatives with a Release of claims against them related to the education and residency of the Students.

5. CONFIDENTIALITY: The parties agree that the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain confidential to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6. ENTIRE AGREEMENT: This Agreement and General Release and Waiver contain the entire Agreement and understanding between the Parties and constitute a full and final agreement in any and all issues relating to this matter, except that the Parties reserve their right to enforce this Agreement, if necessary.

7. CHOICE OF LAW: This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey.

8. SEVERABILITY: If, during the term of this Agreement, a specific clause of the Agreement is determined to be illegal or in violation of any Federal or State law, the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected by such a ruling and shall remain in full force and effect.

9. BINDING EFFECT: The Parties shall be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement, finding it to be in the best interests of the public, consistent with public policy, fair and equitable under all circumstances surrounding this matter.

10. APPROVAL: The terms and conditions of this Agreement are subject to ratification and approval by the North Plainfield, Piscataway, and Plainfield Boards. If any of the Boards does not approve the Agreement, any copies of the Agreement will be held by the attorney for that Board and will have no effect and will not be binding to either party.

11. VOLUNTARY AGREEMENT: The Parties have entered into this Agreement freely and voluntarily with a full understanding of their rights and the contents of this Agreement.

12. ADMISSION OF LIABILITY: The Parties' entry into this Agreement shall not constitute nor shall it be interpreted as an admission of wrongdoing or guilt, or liability in any manner on either of the Parties' part. Any such obligation or liability on either Party's part is expressly denied. The Parties have entered into this Agreement solely to compromise disputed claims.

13. OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH COUNSEL: The Parties acknowledge that each has been given the opportunity to consult with an attorney or a representative of their own choosing with respect to this Agreement and reviewed with their attorney or representative all the terms and conditions of this Agreement prior to executing this Agreement. Each Party signs this Agreement freely and voluntarily and without coercion or duress. The Parties further acknowledge that they fully understand the duties and obligations enumerated herein and have been informed of their legal rights and obligations.

14. COOPERATION: Each Party agrees to cooperate and assist should any of the facts or circumstances that lead to this Agreement become the subject matter of a litigation wherein any of the Boards is named as a party. Failure to cooperate will be defined to be a breach of this Agreement.

15. BREACH: If any Party breaches this Agreement, the breaching Party shall bear the costs of the non-breaching Party of any litigation or efforts to have such breach corrected or compensated for, including but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees.

16. RATIFICATION: The undersigned representatives of the Boards hereby acknowledge that they have been duly authorized by their respective Board to sign this Agreement and bind that Board to its terms.

17. GOOD FAITH: The Parties expressly agree that they shall act in good faith to ensure implementation of this Settlement Agreement and General Release and Waiver. The Parties mutually agree to refrain from retaliation, in any manner, against any other party (or, their families, members, agents and employees). The Parties further mutually agree not to make any derogatory comments, statements or misrepresentations about any other Party (or, their families, members, agents and employees).

18. MODIFICATIONS: This Agreement may not be altered, amended or modified except in writing, signed and duly authorized by all Parties.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties hereunder set their hands and seals to this Agreement effective on this 17 day of August, 2022.

GENERAL RELEASE AND WAIVER

In consideration for the promises and undertakings described in the Settlement Agreement dated _____, 2022, North Plainfield hereby releases, waives and discharges the Piscataway Board of Education and the Plainfield Board of Education, and their present and former board members, officers, employees and representatives, and their estates and/or heirs thereof from claims related to the education and residency of the Students which North Plainfield may have against any of them. This releases and waives all claims, known and unknown, resulting from anything which has happened up to now related to the education and residency of the Students, including claims for attorney's fees. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing provision in any way, North Plainfield specifically releases all claims related to the education and residency of the Students which were or could have been asserted.

North Plainfield also promises not to sue and waives all claims against the Piscataway Board of Education and the Plainfield Board of Education covered by the Settlement Agreement and this General Release and Waiver. If one Party breaches this promise by suing another Party for any such claims, the breaching Party will pay all costs and expenses the other Party incurs defending against the suit, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties reserve their right to enforce the terms of this Settlement Agreement and General Release anc Waiver.

North Plainfield acknowledges that it was advised to consult with attorneys regarding this General Release and Waiver; and that North Plainfield has read and fully understands it and agrees to be bound by it. North Plainfield also acknowledges that it has been given a reasonable period of time within which to consider this settlement and the terms of this General Release and Waiver prior to executing it.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

NORTH PLAINFIELD HAS CAREFULLY READ AND FULLY UNDERSTANDS THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THIS RELEASE AND WAIVER. NORTH PLAINFIELD ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO REVIEW THIS RELEASE AND WAIVER WITH ANYONE OF ITS CHOOSING, AND TO DISCUSS WITH SUCH PERSONS THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THIS RELEASE AND WAIVER AND ITS RIGHTS UPON EXECUTION. NORTH PLAINFIELD AGREES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT NO REPRESENTATIONS CONCERNING THE TERMS OR EFFECT OF THIS RELEASE WERE MADE BY THE PISCATAWAY BOARD OF EDUCATION OR ITS ATTORNEYS, OR THE PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION OR ITS ATTORNEYS, OTHER THAN AS SET FORTH IN THE DOCUMENT AND THAT NORTH PLAINFIELD HAS VOLUNTARILY SIGNED THIS RELEASE AND WAIVER AS A FREE ACT WITH FULL KNOWLEDGE OF ITS TERMS AND CONDITIONS, WHICH ARE FINAL AND BINDING.

Final Decision

Michele Fekete and Ben Kenion,

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement) and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), have been reviewed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1.

Upon review, the Commissioner notes that the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) indicated in the Initial Decision that the parties had advised the ALJ that a Board resolution approving the settlement was not required in this case. However, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.13(d), when a district board of education is a party to a contested matter, a proposed settlement agreement must either include a copy of a Board resolution approving the settlement or the signature of the Board's attorney, who is the Board's duly authorized representative in litigation. Without either a Board resolution or the Board attorney's signature approving the agreement, the Commissioner cannot approve the within settlement.

Accordingly, the Commissioner hereby remands this matter to the OAL for revision of the settlement agreement consistent with the concerns set forth above. If the parties are unwilling or unable to reach accord on a modified agreement for submission to the Commissioner, the matter shall proceed to hearing.

Record Closed: October 27, 2022[1] Decided: November 9, 2022

BEFORE MARY ANN BOGAN, ALJ:

[1] The fully executed settlement agreement was received on September 30, 2022. However, after several attempts to retrieve the Board resolution from the parties, a telephone conference was scheduled for October 27, 2022, at which time the parties advised a Board resolution was not required.

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law September 1, 2021, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have prepared a Settlement Agreement, indicating the terms thereof, which is attached and fully incorporated herein.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of the settlement, and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") is made on this 27th day of June 2022, by and between Michele Fekete and Benjamin Kenion ("Petitioners") and the Trenton Board of Education ("District and/or "Board") (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Parties").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Petitioners served as tenured Occupational Therapists for the Board until a reduction in force in June terminated their employment on June 30, 2016 ("Separation Date"); and

WHEREAS, in the matter of Michele Fekete and Ben Kenion v. Board of Education of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, Agency Docket Number 99-6/21, Petitioners sought to enforce their rights to be recalled to employment by the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board filed a Motion to Dismiss Petitioners' claim; and

WHEREAS, the above-referenced Motion to Dismiss is pending before Judge Bogan in the Office of Administrative Law; and

WHEREAS, now, the Board desires to hire District employees in the role of Occupational Therapist, effective July 1, 2022 ("Recall Date"), and

WHEREAS, Petitioners are the most senior Occupational Therapist with recall rights to the newly opened positions; and

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of their respective rights and obligations set forth herein and for other good and sufficient consideration, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Petitioners, upon execution of this agreement, agree to voluntarily dismiss, with prejudice, the above referenced Petition filed against the Board.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
2022 SEP 20 P 2:16

2. In consideration of the dismissal, Petitioners shall be recalled to the position of Occupational Therapist effective July 1, 2022. Petitioners will be recalled with full recognition of their tenure and seniority rights.

3. Petitioners will return to the negotiated TEA salary guide at the next step to which they were entitled at the time of separation. Petitioner Fekete was on Step 14 in her last year of service, and thus, she will return on Step 15. Petitioner Kenion was on Step 15 in his last year of service, and thus, he will return on Step 15, as Step 15 is the highest step on the negotiated guide. Petitioners will be given the appropriate degree and credit recognition.

4. Petitioners are not entitled to and will not receive any compensation in recognition of the period between the Separation Date and Recall Date.

5. Petitioners will be recalled with full restoration of their leave time at the time of their separation, less any leave time for which Petitioners were compensated after separation.

6. In further consideration, of the foregoing, Petitioners agree to and hereby release and gives up any and all claims and rights which they may have against the District. This releases all claims, including those of which they are not aware and those not mentioned in this Release. This Release applies to claims resulting from anything which has happened from the beginning of time up to now. Petitioners, specifically releases any and all claims, direct and indirect, and rights for any injury and/or damages which they may have against the District, including but not limited to, contract, torts, negligence discrimination, harassment, hostile environment, retaliation, civil rights violations, wrongful discharge, physical injury, emotional distress, and any and all claims arising under federal, state, or local laws, or ordinance. Petitioners specifically release all claims arising under the Constitution of the United States of America, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Civil Rights Acts of 1866 and 1991, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, the Equal Pay Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, the Ledbetter Fair Pay Act, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the Employee Polygraph Protection Act, the Constitution of the State of New Jersey, the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, the New Jersey Public Employer-Employee Relations Act, the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, the New Jersey Family Leave Act, the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law, the New Jersey Domestic Partnership Act, the New Jersey Equal Pay Act, the New Jersey Occupational Safety and Health Law, and the New Jersey Labor and Workman's Compensation laws.

7. To comply with the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act, this Release advises Petitioners of the legal requirements of the Act and fully incorporates the legal requirements by reference into this Release. Accordingly, by executing this Agreement, Petitioners acknowledge that they: (i) fully understand the terms and conditions of this Release; (ii) have consulted with an attorney to review the Release; (iii) specifically waive their right to pursue any current claims they may have under the Act; (iv) have been given 21 days within which to consider this Release; and (v) have 7 days from the date of the execution of this Release to revoke it. Petitioners understand that they may rescind this Agreement within 7 calendar days of signing it, and such rescission must be in writing and delivered to counsel for the District either by hand or by certified mail within the 7-day period.

8. Petitioners warrant they have not commenced any legal proceedings of any type (including but not limited to charges filed with any governmental agency) against the District. Further, Petitioners agree that they will not commence any legal proceedings against the District arising from or relating to anything that has happened through the date of this Agreement. In the event of a violation of this paragraph, Petitioners agree that the District shall be entitled to immediate dismissal of the legal proceedings

9. This Agreement sets forth the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes any and all prior agreements relating thereto. There are no other understandings or agreements between or among the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, except as set forth herein, and as set forth in any other documents executed directly or in connection with this Agreement. No condition or provision of this Agreement may be modified, waived or revised in any way except in writing executed by all parties and referring specifically to this Agreement.

10. This Agreement and all rights and duties set forth herein shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties hereto, as well as their respective successors and assigns.

11. This Agreement and its interpretation and performance shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey, without giving effect to its conflicts of law rules.

12. This Agreement may be executed simultaneously in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument. The Parties further agree that a facsimile or electronic signature herein shall be deemed to have the same force and effect of an original.

13. This Agreement is not, and may not be construed as, an admission of liability by either Party.

14. The Parties to this Agreement acknowledge and agree that they have entered into this Agreement and have executed it without duress or coercion, and have done so with the opportunity to consult counsel. Each party further acknowledges and agrees that no other party has made representations, warranties, promises or agreements not set forth herein and no party relies in any way upon any representation, warranty, statement of fact or opinion, understanding, disclosure or non-disclosure not set forth herein in entering into this Agreement and executing it, no party has been induced in any way, except for the consideration, representations, warranties, statements and covenants recited herein, to enter into this Agreement.

15. Petitioners acknowledges their representation, Stephen B. Hunter, Esq., throughout this process and represents that he has fully explained the terms of this Agreement and that Petitioners are satisfied that such representation has been adequate and appropriate. Petitioners further acknowledge that they understand the terms of this agreement and willfully, knowingly, and voluntarily enters into this agreement, free of coercion or duress.

16. The terms of this Agreement are the product of good faith negotiations between the Parties and their respective counsel, and shall be construed without regard to any presumption or other rule requiring construction against the party causing this Agreement to be drafted.

BY SIGNING THIS AGREEMENT, THE PARTIES ACKNOWLEDGE:

A. THEY HAVE READ IT;

B. THEY UNDERSTAND IT AND KNOW THEY ARE GIVING UP IMPORTANT RIGHTS;

C. THEY AGREE WITH EVERYTHING IN IT;

D. THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS NEGOTIATED IT WITH THEIR KNOWLEDGE AND CONSENT;

E. THEY HAVE CONSULTED WITH THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS ABOUT IT; AND

F. THEY SIGN IT KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, and intending to be legally bound, the Parties hereby execute this Agreement.
