Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the reading of the certificates of election of the respective members be dispensed with

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the Hon John B Kates, of Camden county, who is a Master in Chancery of this State and a member-elect of this House, administer the oath of office to the Hon Azariah M Beekman, of Somerset county, a member-elect, by whom the oath of office shall be administered to the members-elect

The oath of office was administered by Mr Kates to Mr Beekman, who administered the oath to the other members-elect

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the Hon James C Agnew, of Hudson county, who is a Master in Chancery of this State and a member-elect of this House, administer the oath of office to the Speaker and other officers of this House when they are elected

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the House do now proceed with the election of Speaker

Mr Egan nominated Hon Leon R Taylor, of Monmouth county, for Speaker

Mr Marshall, of Mercer county, seconded the nomination of Mr Taylor

Mr Moore nominated Hon George W Adams, of Mercer county, for Speaker

Mr Richards, of Atlantic county, seconded the nomination of Mr Adams

Upon calling the roll, Mr Taylor was elected by the following vote

For Mr Taylor—

Messrs Ackley, Adams, Agnew A M, Agnew J C, Beekman, Bloom, Bracken, Branegan, Bredenbek, Buckley, Burton, Carhart, Carrow, Delaney, Egan, Fisch, Fishler, Foley, Griffin, Hennessy, Holcombe, Kays, Kerwin, Kirkpatrick, Kuhlke, Leonard, Lewis, Lyons, Maguire, Marshall, Martin, Matthews J, Matthews J A, McCabe, McDermott, McGrath, McLoughlin, Moser, Mount, Mulligan, Murray, Neighbour, Nutting, Papscoe, Porter, Quinn, Roe R A, Rowe H J, Smick, Steuerwald, Zisgen—51

For Mr Adams—

Messrs Coles, Conrad, Kates, Moore, Peacock, Richards, Salus, Taylor—8

Mr Taylor having received a majority of the votes, was declared by the Clerk elected Speaker of the House for the session of 1913

The Clerk requested the Hon Thos S Martin, of Hudson county, the Hon Oliver C Holcombe, of Hunterdon county, and the Hon Isaac W Coles, of Camden county, to escort the Speaker to the chair

The committee then escorted Mr Taylor to the Speaker's chair, where he took and subscribed to the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution of the State of New Jersey

Mr Taylor, on taking the chair, announced the appointment of Mr James J McAteer, of Hudson county, as Secretary to the Speaker, and Mr Winfield Stevens, of Monmouth county, as Assistant Secretary to the Speaker, and addressed the members of the House as follows

"Fellow members of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh General Assembly

"I deeply appreciate the confidence which you, the members of this House, have placed in me I congratulate you upon your election to an office that carries with it such vast possibilities for the rendering of service to the people of New Jersey

"The personnel of the present House is of the best As Speaker, it has been my duty to select the committees For every important place there were a dozen members well fitted, where but one could be chosen The assignments were made after the utmost consideration If there be those among you who are disappointed, I can only say that I did my best to be just to all

"In all governments there have been periods when the laws have not kept pace with the progress made by the individual New Jersey has been in that condition for years The Legislature of 1911 sensed a number of the evils and remedied them It placed the Geran bill, the Public Utilities act, the Corrupt Practices act, the Employers' Liability law and other modernizing legislation upon the statute books, but much remained undone

"Since then no progress has been made Conspicuous among the evils which must be remedied by this Legislature are the corporation laws It has been said with much reason that under present conditions in New Jersey, a charter can be obtained for everything from a Barbary pirate to a Sunday school We must have a new corporation law, one that will be a credit to and not a blot upon the fair name of our State No longer must corporations be permitted to issue stock which does not represent value

"A constitutional convention must be called To it must be invited our ablest and most unselfish minds The revision of the Constitution is a work that the Legislature, burdened as it is with many other weighty matters, cannot hope to successfully accomplish A Constitution adequate to their needs is the divine right of a people

"The platforms of our parties contain promises of progress not only in these matters, but in many other things These promises must be kept I know that the members of this House look upon their party platforms as evidences of their solemnly pledged words of honor Progress must be your beacon If you are guided by it not only will our own generation be benefited, but its rays will light the paths of generations yet unborn

"We of the majority are not, nor are you of the minority, here to serve selfish ends or to try to discredit one another The people of this State do not care whether a measure is advanced by the majority or by the minority They do care whether a measure is good or bad

"The privilege of making the lot of mankind better, not only in the State, but also in the Nation, has been intrusted to that great party whose birth was but little later than that of the Union itself and whose principles have existed since man first strove to better himself through government It has swerved at times from the true course, but has always returned to the paths of public service When it followed the true course, it was like a young man, vigorous and filled with the joy of its strength, when it swerved, it paid the wages of its sins

"I believe that a Speaker should act for the whole House and not for any group, that he should be courteous to all, firm when occasion demands and by his impartiality compel the confidence of each member If it can be said of me when my work is done that I was true to my beliefs, that will be my reward"

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the House now proceed with the election of Clerk of the House

Mr Bracken nominated Mr Mark F Phillips, of Essex county

Mr Kates nominated Mr Upton S Jefferys, of Camden county

Upon the roll being called by Mr Thomas Gillen, of Essex county, Assistant Clerk of the last House, Mr Phillips was elected by the following vote

For Mr Phillips—

Messrs Ackley, Agnew A M, Agnew J C, Beekman, Bloom, Bracken, Branegan, Bredenbek, Buckley, Burton, Carhart, Carlow, Delaney, Egan, Fisch, Fishler, Foley, Griffin, Hennessy, Holcombe, Kays, Kerwin, Kirkpatrick, Kuhlke, Leonard, Lewis, Lyons, Maguire, Marshall, Martin, Matthews J, Matthews J A, McCabe, McDermott, McGrath, McLoughlin, Moser, Mount, Mulligan, Murray, Neighbour, Nutting, Papscoe, Porter, Quinn, Roe R A, Rowe H J, Smick, Steuerwald, Taylor (Speaker), Zisgen—51

For Mr Jefferys—

Messrs Adams, Coles, Conrad, Kates, Moore, Peacock, Richards, Salus—8

Mr Phillips having received a majority of the votes of the members, the Speaker declared him elected Clerk of the House of Assembly, and he took and subscribed to the oath of office

Mr Peacock offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted and ordered spread in full upon the minutes, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF EDWARD C LEEDS, ASSEMBLYMAN-ELECT FROM GLOUCESTER COUNTY

Mr Leeds was born in Burlington county, on September ninth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, his parents were Samuel P and Sarah W Leeds, of prominent Quaker family, he was educated at the Friends' Boarding School at Westown, Pa, and upon the completion of his course entered Baldwin Locomotive Works as a draftsman Soon after Mr Leeds took up the general insurance business and became the head of the George L Barker agency, in Woodbury, New Jersey, upon severing his connection with the insurance business he assumed the management and control of the Chalfonte Hotel, Atlantic City, which he conducted for several years, and at the time of his death was President of the Keim Supply Company of Philadelphia, Pa

Ten years ago Mr Leeds married Miss Laura Moore, daughter of the late John M Moore, of Clayton, and is survived by a widow and three-year-old son, Thomas C Moore Leeds Mr Leeds took an active interest in all matters that pertained to the general advancement of the social, political and domestic side of his community, and was an untiring worker for the betterment of mankind in general

He was a member of the Board of Trade of Woodbury; charter member of the Woodbury Country Club, a leading figure in the Union League of Philadelphia, member of Woodbury

Council, and was also president of that body during a part of his term

Socially, and in his daily contact with his fellow men, Mr Leeds was a prince among men, and to know him as a friend was to love him as a man It was his purpose and desire throughout life, as exemplified by his daily contact with men, to make the world brighter day by day and the future hopeful to all who needed his word of consolation and advice

One of the many traits of Mr Leeds was that he loved the dumb creatures, especially being an admirer of horses, and was known all over the country as an expert in the selection of horses, and took a great delight in showing to his friends what care and kindness was due to the dumb animals

His death removes from his county and State a figure in the business and political life that will be missed by many friends, and a memory that will not be effaced for many years to come by those who had the honor of being his personal friend And Gloucester county has lost a citizen of whom it was justly proud

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be entered on the Minutes of the House of Assembly, and that a copy thereof be transmitted to the widow of Mr Leeds

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its Secretary as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
January 14th, 1913

Mr Speaker

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following resolution

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized and elected the Hon James F Fielder, of the county of Hudson, President, and William L Dill, of the county of Passaic, Secretary, and has proceeded to business

WILLIAM L DILL,
Secretary of the Senate

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Assembly of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Legislature be extended to Upton S Jefferys, former Clerk of the House, for presiding at the opening of the House

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint forthwith a committee of three to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Assembly has organized by the election as Speaker of the Hon Leon R Taylor, of Monmouth county, and of Mark F Phillips, of Essex county, as Clerk, and is now ready to proceed to business and to receive any communication he may be pleased to make

In pursuance of the above resolution the Speaker appointed the following committee Mr Hennessy, of Bergen county, Mr McGrath, of Hudson county, and Mr Moore, of Mercer county

The message is as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 14th, 1913

To the Legislature

I trust that you will pardon me if the first note I strike in this my second annual message to your honorable bodies is a personal note I can not forget that this, though only my second, is also my last annual message to you I shall presently lay down the duties of Governor of New Jersey I can not turn away from this great office or give up the privileges it has brought me without expressing my gratitude to the people of New Jersey that they gave me this opportunity to serve them, and my sense also of intimate comradeship and obligation towards the men in the Legislature of the State with whom I have been permitted to work in carrying out the reforms of the last two years

They have been very full and eventful years, to which I hope the people of the State will always look back with approval and pride We have accomplished for New Jersey many things of high consequence which for many a long year had waited and cried out to be done Our pride in their accomplishment has no touch of boastfulness in it, but only the deep gratification of having been privileged to do so much that was for the common benefit The legislative session of 1911 will, I venture to say, long remain remarkable in the annals of the State for the number and importance of the reforms enacted, and those of us who were associated in the work of that notable session will, so long as we live, have the happiness of looking back upon it as upon one of the most satisfactory experiences of our public service Certainly I shall never forget it, and I can not turn away from the great office in which I have enjoyed such satisfactions without avowing the pride I have taken in it and the deep obligation I feel to the fine public-spirited men who stood with me in the days of doubt and struggle I am happy to have had a part in such things along with such men

But not all that waited to be done was done by the Legislature of 1911 It was impossible that everything should be accomplished in a single session The rapidly changing circumstances of the time, moreover, both in the political and in the industrial world, render it necessary that a constant process of adjustment should go on It is my duty to call your attention to the further changes in our law which seem to be most immediately necessary

The corporation laws of the State notoriously stand in need of alteration They are manifestly inconsistent with the policy of the federal government and with the interests of the people in the all-important matter of monopoly, to which the attention of the whole nation is now so earnestly directed The laws of New Jersey as they stand, so far from checking monopoly, actually encourage it They explicitly permit every corporation formed in New Jersey, for example, to purchase, hold, assign, and dispose of as it pleases the securities of any and all other corporations of this or any other State and to exercise at pleasure the full rights of ownership in them, including the right to vote as stockholders This is nothing less than an explicit license of holding companies This is the very method of forming vast combinations and creating monopoly, against which the whole country has set its face, and I am sure that the people of New Jersey do not dissent from the common judgment that our law must prevent these things and prevent them very effectually

It is our duty and our present opportunity to amend the statutes of the State in this matter not only, but also in such a way as to provide some responsible official supervision of the whole process of incorporation and provide, in addition, salutary checks upon unwarranted and fictitious increases of capital and the issuance of securities not based upon actual bona fide valuation The honesty and soundness of business alike depend upon such safeguards No legitimate business will be injured or harmfully restricted by them These are matters which affect the honor and good faith of the State We should act upon them at once and with clear purpose

The people of the State are at present, moreover, at the mercy of investment companies of every kind Securities of any and every sort can be sold in New Jersey by irresponsible persons and the purchasers must depend upon their own investigations to ascertain whether they are bogus or based upon good business They should have the protection of the law Investment companies should be put under inspection and regulation by the State, and no one should be allowed to sell securities in New Jersey without public license issued from the department exercising the rights of inspection and regulation New Jersey is very late indeed in affording her people this protection

There is another matter that cries out for reform and has long cried out for it Why has no Legislature ever seriously and earnestly set itself to correct it? The drawing of grand juries, and even upon occasion the drawing of petit juries, is notoriously subject to political influence and control in this State, of whose processes of justice we are so proud and whose honor we are in most cases so quick to defend against question or slander This can and should be remedied You can not neglect it without seeming indifferent to justice and fair play in matters which are matters of life and death and reputation and honor and which cut to the very quick of human rights The free, prompt, unbiased administration of criminal justice has been time out of mind at the very center of the fight for individual right and liberty It is to be hoped that the commission now investigating the various methods of governing this all-important matter will presently submit a thorough and conclusive report

Another matter no less central, no less vital to the rights and opportunities of individuals and communities, is the method by which taxes are assessed and collected New Jersey has suffered herself to drift into practices in this fundamental matter which might lead a critical outsider who knew nothing of the history and accidents of her legal development in this case to question both her fairness and her public sense Her arrangements in respect of this, as of so many other interests and functions, are the result of mere patchwork and lack system and coherence altogether It is not necessary to have both a board of assessors and a board of taxation, and it is ineffectual to have either if they are to have no administrative control over local assessors and collectors The most extraordinary variety alike of rule and of practice obtains in the different counties and communities of the State, with this result among many others, that in many localities small property owners pay much heavier taxes in proportion to their holdings than large property owners pay and are practically without redress Fortunately, this Legislature will have the benefit of a report from a commission specially appointed to make thorough investigation of these inequalities and this lack of system I hope that its recommendations will point out a wise and practicable way of reform

There is an additional grant of power to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners which seems to me of capital importance and of pressing necessity The many, almost innumerable, railway crossings at grade, which make travel on most of our country roads so hazardous and the movement of traffic in so many of our town and city streets so dangerous and difficult, ought, of course, to be done away with as rapidly as possible beginning with the most dangerous and proceeding without interruption from the more to the less dangerous until absolutely none is left This cannot be done by the hard and fast precise terms of such a bill as passed the Houses during the last session and was prevented from becoming a law by my veto No invariable rule can be laid down which will not lead to all sorts of impossible situations and the eventual interference of the courts The proper solution of this very difficult matter is to empower the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to order the abolition of such grade crossings in such ways and at such a rate as will adjust their orders to each particular case and set of circumstances The act conferring the power can and should make of that power a legal duty imposed upon the commission the discretion of the commissioners to exist only in respect of their right to guide, direct, and adjust the processes of elimination in a thoroughly practical fashion I can not too strongly urge this matter upon your attention

And while I am speaking of railways, permit me to urge another piece of legislation upon you which seems to me essential both to the safety of travel on the railways and to the fair protection of certain classes of railway employees I refer to the so-called Full Crew bill, whose failure to pass the last Legislature was so much deplored by all who had noted its introduction and its significance It is of the highest consequence that railway trains which pass through the State should be manned by adequate crews, and to me, for one, it is a matter of chagrin that they should now carry smaller crews through New Jersey than through Pennsylvania, with whom we are linked by so many important lines of railway This is a matter which we can not afford to neglect If it cannot be satisfactorily handled in an act, it might also very well be put in the hands of the Public Utility Commissioners by addition to their powers

The Legislature of 1911 went a long way towards recognizing the right of full self-government on the part of the municipalities of the State when it passed the excellent bill permitting the towns and cities of the State to adopt the commission form of government at their pleasure That was a great step in advance It has been distinctly to the disadvantage of the cities and towns of New Jersey that the Legislature has undertaken to regulate their affairs and their powers so minutely from Trenton Only the fullest and freest rights of self-government will stimulate them to serve their citizens as they should be served The path of reform in that field is unquestionably the path of greater freedom The question of municipal government is perhaps the most serious question concerning the organization of methods of government that now confronts us as a nation I covet for New Jersey the honor of showing the way of liberty and self-respecting re-organization We should set our municipalities free to organize their lives and exercise the functions of self-government with less dependence upon the Legislature of the State

At the same time, there are matters in which uniform State regulation can be made of immense assistance to the municipalities For example, it seems to me imperative that a uniform system and method of accounting and of public financial reports should be prescribed by statute for the financial authorities of our towns and cities I hope that this Legislature will be able to formulate and pass such a measure The information and materials are at hand In this matter, more perhaps that in any other, students of municipal affairs have come to a substantial agreement, both as to methods and as to the practical advantages to be gained

turn its attention in which we are beginning to see a new and immensely beneficial function for the State The farmer has not been served as he might be and should be We have set up and subsidized agricultural schools, horticultural schools, schools of poultry breeding, and the rest, and they have done excellent work Our support of them should be hearty and generous But a more effective way still has been found by which the farmer can be served Lectures and schools and experimental farms attached to schools like laboratories are excellent, but they do not and can not of themselves push their work home Some States have gone much beyond this and we should follow them with zest

The thing that tells is demonstration work The knowledge of the schools should be carried out to the farms themselves Dr Seaman A Knapp found the way when he was sent into the South to fight the boll weevil Choosing a good farm and a good farmer here and there, he showed the farmer how to cultivate part of a field, gave him simple fundamental directions, brought him selected seed, and made frequent visits afterward to see that his directions were carried out Of course, the neighbors promptly took notice and the next season did the same things,—with the same results, good crops, earlier crops, crops that the weevil was no match for And fighting the weevil was only an incident The work grew in every direction,—not work in the schools, but work suggested and directed by men sent out from the schools to take science to the farm, until the agricultural department could not supply the men called for from every direction The countryman began once more to come into his own When the farmer does fully take science into partnership and become his own master and fortune builder, the day will be gone once for all when the townsman can tax him and ignore him and absorb unto himself the powers of government at his pleasure

It does not require a great deal of money to train men and send them out for this work, and when once it is begun it goes on of itself Private persons, voluntary independent associations, county authorities, take it up It is a thing that gives life as it goes It awakens countrysides and rouses them to take charge of themselves It is not help from the government, it is merely light from the government The light does the rest We should give ourselves the pleasure, the pride and satisfaction, of putting New Jersey forward to set an example in this truly great and intelligent work for relaying the foundations of wealth and prosperity in the United States

This is the way also to attack the problem of forest preservation and renewal,—demonstration work done throughout the State by way of example, until it is demonstrated not only how the forests can be preserved and renewed, but also how profitable they can be made without waste,—at once one of the most profitable and one of the most permanent sources of wealth, a permanent crop devoted to a thousand uses

It is by such means that the people come to understand themselves and their own interests and assume their real sovereignty Discussion of public questions becomes a very vital thing for them when the functions of government touch their daily lives and there is something of immediate consequence to them to discuss Discussions must constantly clear the air and drive everything hidden from its covert We ought, therefore, to afford the people every facility for discussion Convenient and inexpensive meeting places ought to be supplied at the public expense It ought not to be necessary to hire a hall whenever it is desired to have a public meeting The owners of halls charge high prices when they can and are often partisans and will not let their halls at all to those whom they wish to defeat or embarrass Every community has its schoolhouses They should be available for every kind of proper neighborhood meeting out of school hours If local school boards are illiberal or partisan or unreasonable, they ought to be commanded in their duty in this matter by statute I recommend such legislation to you very heartily

A great movement has sprung up in this country in recent years which centres around the schoolhouse as a place of neighborhood conference in all matters affecting the public or any local part of it It is known as the social centre movement It has the force and momentum of a great idea in it Secret forces, corrupt forces, forces of evil of every kind are against it, are afraid of it They fear neighborhood discussion They do not wish to have local and neighborhood matters canvassed too much out loud It is our duty as public servants to lend full and effectual aid to this movement We can do it by making public-spirited men and women everywhere free of the use of the school-houses A very simple statute will accomplish the desired result The free forces of society will do the rest

If such forces had been accustomed to act freely and thoroughly clear the air in New Jersey during the last twelve months, we could have settled some questions regarding the conservation of our natural resources which we have so far failed to settle It would not have been possible, for example, for individual selfish influences at Lake Hopatcong and local influences in the city of Newark to block and defeat the prompt and reasonable settlement of the question of the abandonment of the Morris Canal If a few men here and there had spoken out what they knew last session, the bill proposed for the settlement of that question would have passed, and they would have spoken out had there been the habit and place of local discussion The use and conservation of our natural resources is a matter to which we must constantly devote ourselves, and watchful public opinion is always our best guide

The pressure of intelligent opinion will soon be upon us in irresistible fashion concerning the business methods of the State also I suggest that we do not wait for the pressure The business of the State (I mean its administrative business) is conducted with a wastefulness, a duplication of effort, a confusion and conflict of function, which no business enterprise could survive for six months There is an extraordinary multiplicity of boards, departments, commissions, and miscellaneous offices, overlapping, connected without being coordinated, independent of one another and yet naturally belonging to a single systematic whole, which ought to be drawn together, simplified, brought into their proper relations, pruned, and put upon a footing of efficiency which will also be a footing of economy and quick responsibility A commission is now inquiring into this very matter by direction of the last Legislature It has taken its duties seriously It will no doubt show the way to many immediate reforms If its work is not finished, it should be continued and given funds sufficient to prosecute its work to a thorough completion

We have lagged far behind other States in these matters We are wasting the public moneys and are not getting the results good business methods would get This has not been by deliberation Our administrative methods have been developed piecemeal and at haphazard, but they are none the less worthy of condemnation and reform on that account, and we shall not have proved ourselves faithful and disinterested public servants until we correct them

There are other things we have outgrown The constitution of the State needs reconsideration in a score of parts, some of them of the first consequence No doubt its provisions were considered wise and suitable at the time of its adoption, but that was quite two generations ago and the circumstances of our life have altered fundamentally within that time, politically, socially, economically I urge upon you very earnestly indeed the need and demand for a constitutional convention The powers of corrupt control have an enormous and abiding advantage under our constitutional arrangements as they stand We shall not be free from them until we get a different system of representation and a different system of official responsibility I hope that this question will be taken up by the Legislature at once and a constitutional convention arranged for without delay, in which the new forces of our day may speak and may have a chance to establish their ascendancy over the rule of machines and bosses

Two great amendments to the Constitution of the United States await ratification by New Jersey, the amendment conferring upon the Congress of the United States in unmistakable terms the power to levy taxes on incomes, and the amendment providing for the election of Senators of the United States by the direct vote of the people I can not too strongly urge upon the Legislature the ratification of both these amendments We can not keep our place among the progressive States of the Union and reject them Indeed, we shall be in a very small minority if we do reject them

There are many other subjects I should like to dwell upon,—the extension and systematization of the powers of the State Board of Health, the establishment by statute of an intelligent and thorough-going policy of road building, and the great interests involved in the prosecution of the plan for a ship canal across the State, part of a great inland waterway which is of vital importance to our shipping and commercial development, but these are things which speak for themselves I have dwelt upon matters not yet enough considered which I deemed it my duty to press upon your consideration, and which I shall deem it my further duty to keep before your attention until they are acted on They involve both party and public obligations

May I not, in closing, express the satisfaction I feel in the knowledge that when I lay down the duties of Governor I shall leave them in the hands of Senator Fielder, a man of proved character, capacity, fidelity, and devotion to the public service, a man of a type to which the people of the State desire their public men to conform I look back with the greatest admiration to that fine group of men in the Houses whose names all the State knows and honors, who set the pace in the days when the State was to be redeemed It is men like these who have rendered the policies and reforms of the last two years possible It is men like these who will carry them forward, and the people of the State will sustain them They will sustain no others Woe betide the individuals or the party groups that turn away from that path! The future is with those who serve, and who serve without secret or selfish purpose A free people has come to know its own mind and its own friends

WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY

TRENTON, January 14th, 1913

Hon Leon R Taylor,
Speaker of the House of Assembly,
Trenton, New Jersey

DEAR SIR

The contract for the current printing of the Legislature, for the session of 1913, has been awarded to MacCrellish & Quigley, of Trenton

Very respectfully,

E I EDWARDS,
Comptroller.

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the privilege of the floor be accorded to Hon Thomas K Gore, United State Senator from Oklahoma, and be it further

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a committee of three to escort Senator Gore to the Speaker's platform, and be it further

Resolved, That the members of this House extend to Senator Gore an invitation to address the House immediately upon his introduction to the members

Pursuant to the above resolution, the Speaker appointed the following committee Mr Hennessy, of Bergen, Mr Lyons, of Morris, and Mr Moore, of Mercer

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
January 14th, 1913

Mr Speaker

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following bill

Senate Bill No 1, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for officers of the Senate and General Assembly and to fix their compensation,' approved June eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five,"

In which the concurrence of the House of Assembly is requested

Secretary of the Senate

Senate Bill No 1, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for officers of the Senate and General Assembly and to fix their compensation,' approved June eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five,"

Was taken up, read for the first time, and ordered to have a second reading

Mr Egan moved that the rules be suspended and that Senate Bill No 1 be placed on second reading forthwith

Which motion was adopted

Senate Bill No 1, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for officers of the Senate and General Assembly and to fix their compensation,' approved June eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five,"

Was read a second time, considered by sections, agreed to, ordered to be printed and to have a third reading

Mr Egan moved that the rules be suspended and that Senate Bill No 1 be taken up on third reading and final passage forthwith

Which motion was adopted

Senate Bill No 1, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for officers of the Senate and General Assembly and to fix their compensation,' approved June eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five,"

Was taken up, and, under suspension of the rules, was read a third time by its title, and passed by the following vote

In the affirmative were—

Messrs Carhart, Conrad, Delaney, Egan, Fishler, Foley, Griffin, Hennessy, Holcombe, Kerwin, Kirkpatrick, Kuhlke, Leonard, Lyons, Maguire, Marshall, Martin, Matthews J, Matthews J A, McGrath, McLoughlin, Moser, Mount, Murray, Neighbour, Nutting, Papscoe, Peacock, Porter, Richards, Roe R A, Salus, Zisgen—33

In the negative was—

Mr Moore—1

Ordered, that the Speaker sign the said bill, and that the Clerk carry it to the Senate and inform the Senate that the House of Assembly has passed the same, and requests its concurrence therein

Mr Egan moved that the rules be suspended and that Senate Bill No 1 be delivered to the Senate forthwith

Which motion was adopted

The committee appointed to wait upon Senator Gore reported that Senator Gore presented his compliments to the House and regretted that, owing to his leaving on an early train, he would be unable to accept the invitation to address the House

Mr Egan, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 1, entitled "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employees upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

The same gentleman, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 2, entitled "An act to prohibit the manufacture, sale and use of golf balls containing a fluid substance, acid or corrosive in character,"

Mr Kirkpatrick, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 3, entitled "An act to amend 'An act respecting the Orphans' Court, and relating to the powers and the duties of the ordinary, and the Orphans' Court and surrogates (Revision of 1898),' approved June fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

Mr Moore, on leave introduced

Assembly Bill No 4, entitled "An act to provide for the abolition of poll taxes,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Elections

The same gentleman, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 5, entitled "An act permitting the use of armories in New Jersey by the granges, horticultural societies, police and for other public purposes,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Militia

The same gentleman, on leave, introduced

Assembly Joint Resolution No 1, entitled "Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing that senators shall be elected by the people of the several States,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

Mr Mount, for the Speaker, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 6, entitled "An act to provide for the purchase or condemnation of sites for armories in any county of this State, for the erection and equipment of such armories, and making appropriation therefor,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Militia

The same gentleman, for the Speaker on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 7, entitled "An act to incorporate the borough of Ocean Grove, in the county of Monmouth,"

Which was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Boroughs and Borough Commissions

Mr Hennessy, on leave, introduced

Assembly Bill No 8, entitled "An act to provide for the election of delegates to a convention to revise, alter or amend the Constitution of the State of New Jersey, and to provide the manner, means and method of submitting the same to the people thereof for ratification or rejection in whole or in part"

Mr Bracken offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations

WHEREAS, The House of Commons of Great Britain and Ireland has just passed, by a large majority, a bill for the restoration to Ireland of her ancient Parliament, of which she has been unjustly deprived for over one hundred years,

Resolved, That the Assembly of the State of New Jersey, voicing the practically unanimous sentiment of the people of the State, rejoice in this beginning of a great act of justice to the Irish people, an act already too long deferred That we recognize in the passage of this bill the extension of the democratic and Home Rule idea for which the American Republic stands, and another step towards the supremacy of the people in the management of their own affairs, be it further

Resolved, That it is the earnest hope of this Assembly that there may be no further obstruction or delay in the full attainment of complete self-government for the Irish people, of which they were deprived by force many centuries ago, and for the re-establishment of which they have never ceased to struggle

Mr Richards offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Mr Martin offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations

WHEREAS, Complaint has frequently been made that there exist, and for a long time have existed in this State, illegal combinations, agreements and understandings, between insurance companies doing life, fire, accident and other insurance business in this State whereby competition between insurance companies is destroyed and unjust, arbitrary and excessive insurance rates and prices are fixed, maintained and collected, and that for such purposes there are maintained in this State by and for said insurance companies rate making bureaus or agencies, that secret rebating of premiums and secret favors and advantages are given to induce insurance, that policies of insurance, other than fire and life, are being issued and used, containing involved and ambiguous phrases and clauses detrimental to the insured in case of loss, and that business of insurance of various kinds is being transacted in this State, and especially among the poorer people by corporations and individuals without authority of law and without proper resources,

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the House of Assembly be appointed by the Speaker to make a thorough investigation into the matters and things mentioned in the foregoing preamble, to examine into the method of conducting business employed by insurance companies doing business in this State and all other affairs of every insurance company authorized to transact or transacting business in this State, that said committee shall have power to sit during the sessions of the House of Assembly and after the adjournment thereof, to sub-pœna witnesses and the production of books, records, documents, vouchers and papers, and to compel the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, documents, vouchers and papers by subpœna served upon the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, to order and compel the production of original books, records, documents, vouchers and papers belonging to foreign insurance companies admitted to do business in this State but kept out of the State, and to appoint counsel and other necessary assistants,

Resolved, That said committee present its report and findings at the present or next regular session of the House of Assembly

Mr Porter offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations

WHEREAS, The Bourne Zone Parcel Post Law, with its distinctive stamps, its guides and maps, its high, ridiculous zone rates, its equally ridiculous system of classification, its failure to provide for free collection in our cities and for either free collection or delivery in our small towns, its discriminations in favor of the center of the country as against the borderland, and in favor of the foreigner against the citizen, and

WHEREAS, On 5 oz parcels, the rates beyond the first zone are increased from the old, concentric zones, from New York to San Francisco, from 5c to 12c , on eleven-pound parcels to points over 1,000 miles west of the Atlantic seaboard, the domestic zone rates are from 25 per cent to 65 per cent higher than the flat rates on similar parcels from Europe, on eleven-pound parcels, the rates for crossing a zone line are in some cases 11c and in other cases 21c , and

WHEREAS, This law practically abolishes the United States of America and its common market guarantee to us all by our Federal Constitution, and in its place establishes a conglomeration of 3,500 disunited zones—"squares" about 35 miles long by 27 miles wide—each surrounded by seven concentric zones, and each protected from the invasion of the other's products by its particular tariff, and

WHEREAS, The common reapplication of the old zone or distance system of rates abolished half a century ago in our postal service, and now generally abandoned in through carload freight traffic, would ruin the manufactures of the East, turn the farms of the West into deserts and tend to paralyze all industry, and

WHEREAS, House Resolution 26662, introduced in Congress by the Hon William Sulzer, of New York, December 3d, 1912, meets the evils of this law by providing for the consolidation of third and fourth class mail matter at common flat rates, 4 oz, 1c, 8 oz, 2c, 12 oz 3c, 1 pound, 5c, each additional pound, 1c, 11 pounds, 15c, for free collection and delivery, for insurance up to the full value of the parcel, for a cheap C O D service, etc, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Representatives and Senators of New Jersey, in the United States Congress, are hereby respectfully requested to do all in their power to secure the quick enactment into law of H R 26662, or of a broader measure as a substitute for the narrow, costly, complicated Bourne Zone Parcel Post Law, which went into effect January 1st, 1913

Mr Bredenbek offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Education

WHEREAS, An extract from Article VI, section 55, of the school laws of the State of New Jersey is as follows "The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools, etc , and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education of the city of Hoboken is periodically obliged to borrow large sums of money for the use of which they are paying thousands yearly, the money borrowed being for the maintenance of the school system, and

WHEREAS, There is at present approximately $2,500,000 distributed throughout the State to various favored banks for which the State receives two per cent and for which State moneys needed in their regular use by the various municipalities for school maintenance are forced to pay at least six per cent for the same, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education of the city of Hoboken do earnestly petition the Legislature of the State of New Jersey for relief toward a rearrangement of these moneys and for a discontinuance of this practice, setting forth the many disadvantages and the enormous and unnecessary public expense

Mr Nutting presented a petition signed by numerous citizens protesting against the repeal of Chapter 104, of the Laws of 1912, granting definite mosquito extermination powers to commissions appointed under said law, which was received and referred to the Committee on Public Health

Mr Egan offered the following resolution, which was received and referred to the Judiciary Committee

WHEREAS, The conditions existing in connection with the management and control of the police department in Atlantic City according to the official records are such as to create alarm and appear to be beyond the ability of the municipal authorities of that city to deal with, because of a misconception of the terms of the Police and Firemen's Tenure of Office act and other laws of the State or for other reasons, and

WHEREAS, A recent shocking case of gross mismanagement and control of the police department amounting to compounding a felony and permitting a miscarriage of justice in the case of a heinous crime committed by a uniformed officer on duty, clearly indicates that the management and control of said Atlantic City police department has not been improved since its partial investigation by an Assembly Committee in 1911, and

WHEREAS, It is believed men have been appointed to the police force and to other departments without any regard or inquiry as to their previous record or personal fitness as police officers and in other departments, and

WHEREAS, Many of such appointees holding office under the provisions of the Tenure of Office act may still be employed as police officers and in other departments of the municipal service according to recent developments in said city, and

WHEREAS, The continuance of such conditions would have a disastrous result on the reputation at home and abroad of this world-famed health and pleasure resort, now in the front rank of the municipalities of this State, and be a reproach to "Jersey Justice," therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey

1 That the Speaker of the House of Assembly be and is hereby directed to name forthwith a committee consisting of five Assemblymen, whose duty it shall be to commence without delay a thorough and searching inquiry into the management and control of the police department and such other municipal departments, bodies or board of Atlantic City by whatever name known, as may be deemed necessary, and

2 Said Committee shall have power to employ a secretary, stenographer, counsel and such other assistants as may be necessary for the investigation as herein provided

3 The investigation shall proceed with as much haste as possible, having power to sit during the session of the Assembly and after adjournment thereof and to summon and compel the attendance of witnesses under oath, and said witnesses shall tesify under penalty of punishment for failure as of contempt of court

4 Said Committe shall, if possible, make at least a partial report of their findings and recommendations prior to the adjournment of this session of the Legislature, in order that such further legislative relief as may be found necessary may be proposed without delay

AN ACT to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies

1 Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce within the State, is hereby declared to be illegal Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court

2 Every person who shall monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons, to monopolize any part of trade or commerce within the State, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court

3 The Court of Chancery is hereby invested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of this act, and it shall be the duty of the several county prosecutors, in their respective counties, under the direction of the Attorney-General, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations Such proceedings may be by way of petition setting forth the case and praying that such violation shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited When the parties complained of shall have been duly notified of such petition the court shall proceed, as soon as may be, to the hearing and determination of the case, and pending such petition and before final decree, the court may at any time make such temporary restraining order or prohibition as shall be deemed just in the premises

4 Whenever it shall appear to the court before which any proceeding under section three of this act may be pending, that the ends of justice require that other parties should be brought before the court, the court may cause them to be summoned

5 Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act, may sue therefor in the Supreme Court, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained, and the costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee

6 The word "person" or "persons", wherever used in this act shall be deemed to include corporations and associations existing under or authorized by the laws of either the United States, the laws of any of the Territories, the laws of any State, or the laws of any foreign country, doing business directly or indirectly within this State

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, February 18th, 1913

I have the pleasure of submitting to you the report of the Commission of seven appointed by the authority of the last Legislature to consider the best means to consolidate State agencies in order to bring about greater economy and efficiency I have reason to believe that the labors of this commission have been undertaken in a genuine spirit of public service, and I wish to commend their report and its conclusions to your very thoughtful consideration, for I am sure they are worthy of it The continuation of the commission, with authority to complete its work, would, I feel sure, be of great advantage to the State

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

At the last session the Legislature, by joint resolution, provided for the appointment of a Commission of seven to consider the best means to consolidate State agencies The undersigned were duly appointed, and respectfully submit the following preliminary report

The preamble of the resolution providing for the appointment of your Commission is as follows

> "WHEREAS, In the interest of economy and greater concentration of work along the same general lines it is considered possible to consolidate different departments of the State government whose separate duties are now intimately related"

Because of this recital of the views of the Legislature, your Commission concluded that the results at which it should aim were economy and efficiency At its first meeting it therefore adopted the name "The Economy and Efficiency Commission of the State of New Jersey" The first meeting was held on the 5th of July, 1912, since which time the Commission has been continuously engaged

Our early investigations convinced us that there was no one State official who thoroughly understood the powers and duties of the many departments, boards, commissions and officials The Commission, therefore, decided to first make a general study of the methods and agencies employed to administer the affairs of the State, and to make a comparison of such methods and agencies with those of other States

A secretary was employed who collected and tabulated data about each State agency and amounts disbursed for salaries and other expenses We communicated with the Executives and Chiefs of the departments of many States, including New York,

Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Iowa, Michigan, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Colorado We secured from such and other States reports of the various departments and institutions showing the scope of their work and all operating expenses We also conferred with the National Economy and Efficiency Commission and secured from it periodical reports showing what it was doing in its endeavor to systematize the administration of Federal affairs We made a study of the work of a similar and permanent Commission in the State of Massachusetts, of the conditions which brought about the appointment of such a Commission, of the inquiries which it made into the administration of State affairs, and of the results so far accomplished by it We found that, in many States, Economy and Efficiency are the subjects of discussion, and various laws dealing with such subjects have recently been enacted We have obtained copies of such laws, also of charts and schedules of supplies prepared in different sections of the country, for the purpose of bringing about reform in their purchase and distribution

We have prepared comparative statements between this and other States, and the comparisions tend to show that we cannot at the present time boast of either economy or efficiency A few comparisons will make this clear, viz Michigan, whose population exceeds that of this State by 10 per cent, maintains its chief State departments for approximately one-half the amount expended by us, Massachusetts, whose population exceeds that of this State by almost one million, maintains very many of its offices for less money

From every State department we have secured information in writing setting forth those engaged in it, and salaries paid to them, the expense of maintenance, and the amount of space occupied by each in the State House A comparison of the employees and of the floor space occupied by them in our State House with the Capitol in Massachusetts is instructive In the State House in Boston more business is transacted with fewer employees and with less available floor space

Comparisons were also made with business establishments conducted on modern lines, and the same did not reflect any credit upon the methods and practices employed by the State in the transaction of its business It is true that we have a Civil Service Law, and that serious attempts have been made to secure efficient assistants and to make their holding of their respective positions entirely dependent upon merit We do not find, however, that any attempt has been made at standardization It is not unnatural to find two persons in different departments performing practically the same amount of work and charged with practically the same responsibility receiving entirely different salaries

In addition to the written information which we received from the various departments, we critically examined the various reports submitted by the State Treasurer and the State Comptroller and we made preliminary oral inquiries from very many departments, including the State Board of Assessors, the Board of Equalization of Taxes, the County Tax Boards, the Department of Charities and Corrections, the Department of Roads, the Riparian Commission, the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners, the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, the four oyster commissions, the Oyster Superintendents, the Board of Health, the Department of Labor, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Employers' Liability Commission, the Tenement House Supervision, the Water-Supply Commission, the New Jersey Ship Canal Commission, the Inland Waterway Commission, the Inspector of Power Vessels, the Pilotage Commission, the Board of Public Utilities, the Department of State, the Department of the Comptroller and the Department of the Treasurer

On the payrolls of the State are 2,553 employees Of this number, 800 are attached to departments in the Capitol, 1 420 are employed in the various penal and charitable institutions, and 333 are engaged in work outside of the Capitol and institutions Not only do we find that there was no system ever adopted in fixing the compensation of the clerical help, but we also find that there has never been any system adopted for determining what salaries should be paid to the chief State officials The heads of some departments receive very much more than others, and to some departments as compared with others, a very liberal allowance of office space has been made

Such investigation, though along general lines, took considerable time, far more than the Commission originally believed would be necessary to fully acquaint it with the administration of State affairs, and to place it in a position to contrast our system and expenses with those of other States Such preliminary and general study convinced us that to do in a thorough manner what the Legislature desired, and thereby prove that we, ourselves were efficient, would require time and labor far in excess of what anyone anticipated Every hearing opened new fields and presented additional work, at the same time convincing us that the disbursements made by the State in the conduct of its affairs were greater than they should be, and greater than in many States with about the same population and similar problems

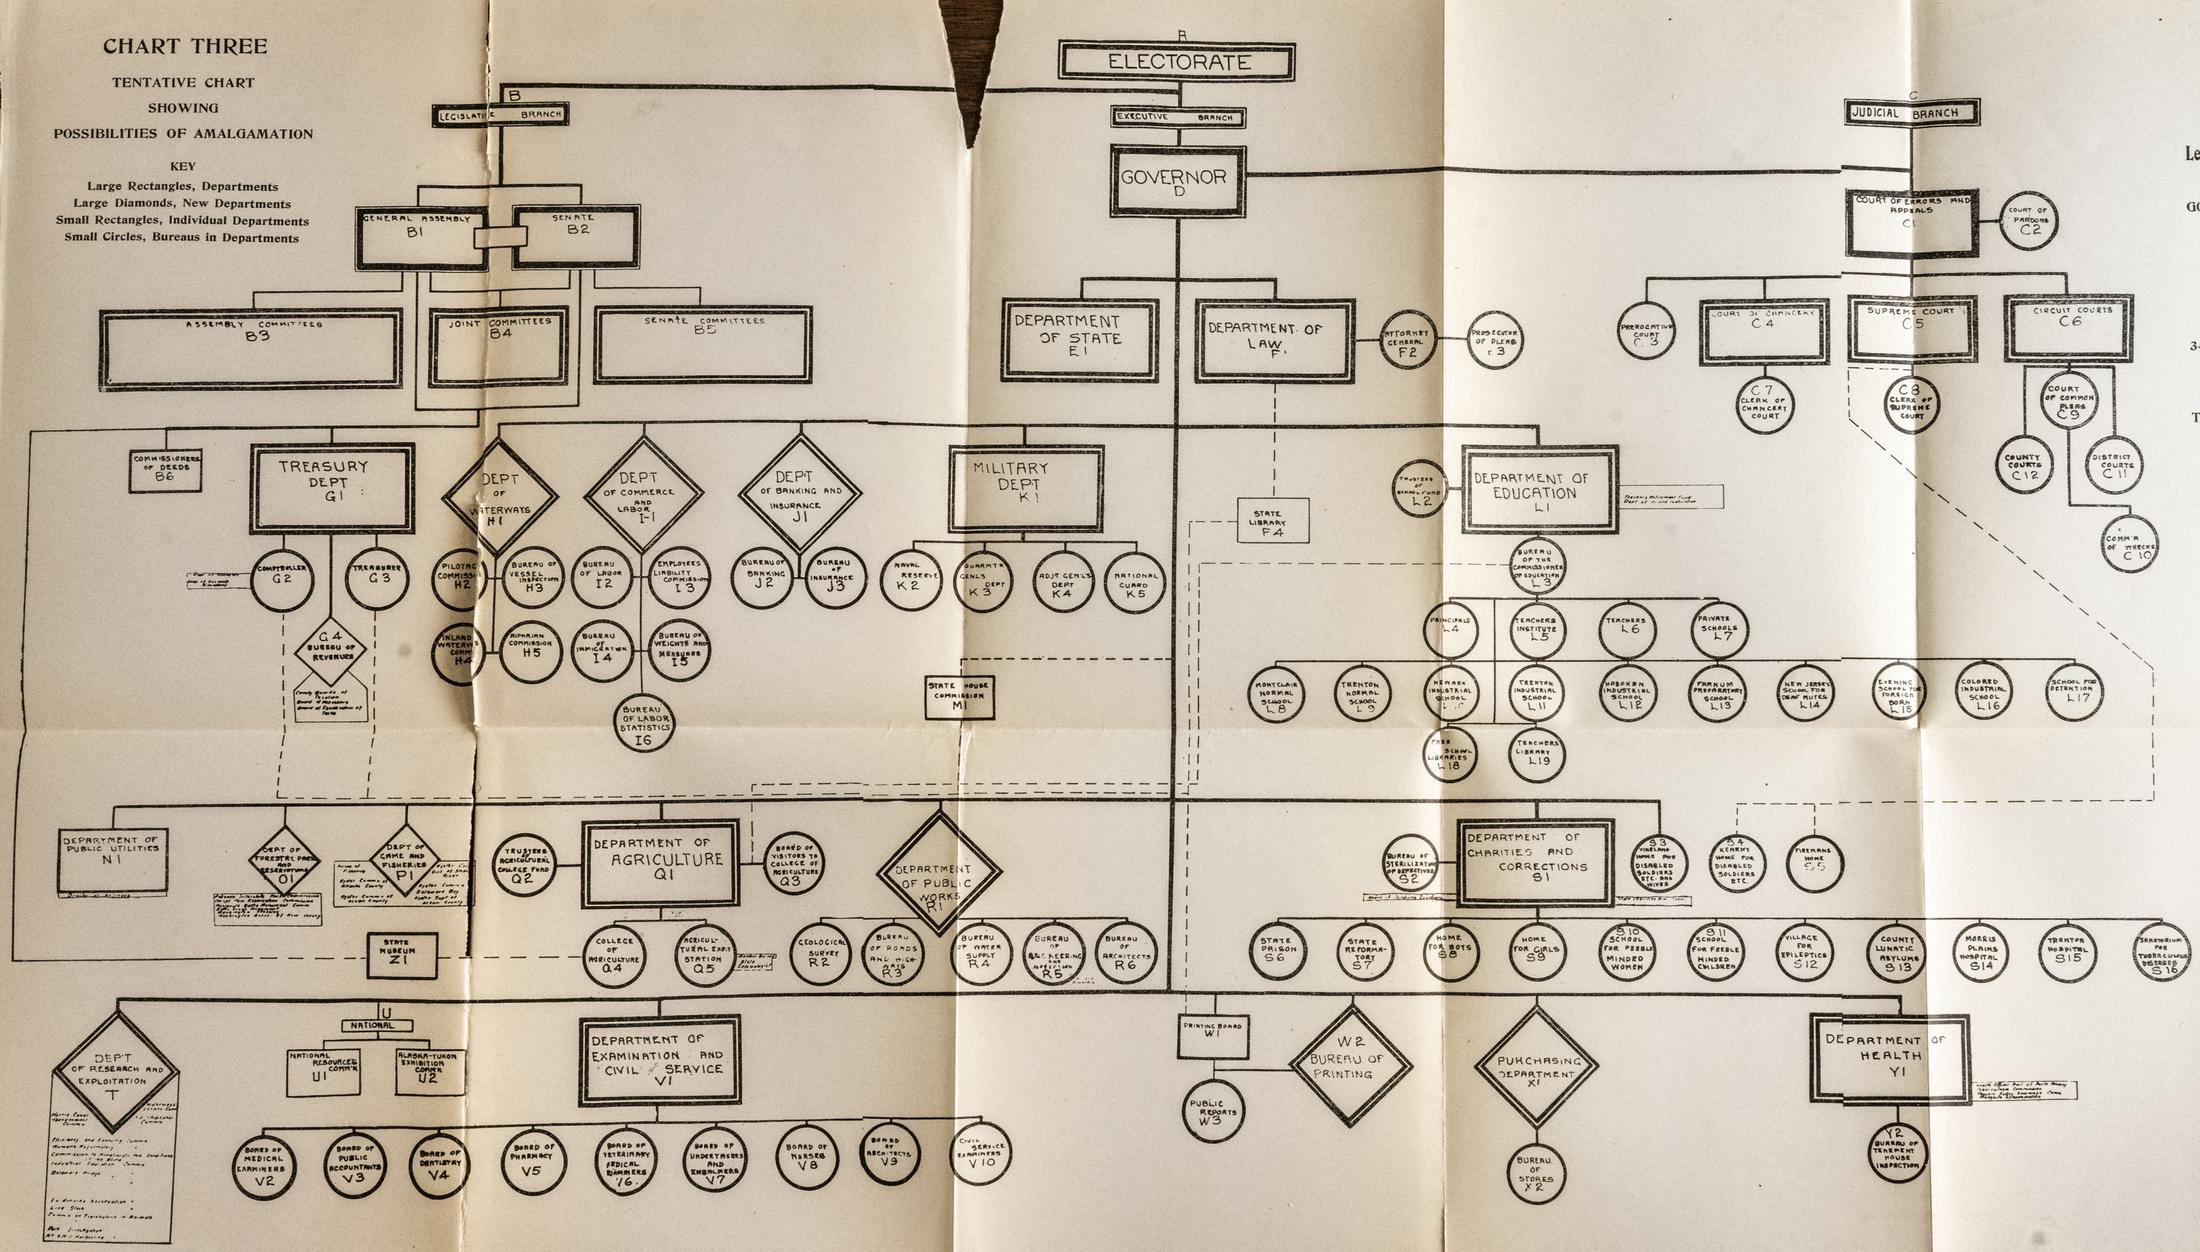
Many general recommendations might have been made, but we assumed that to do our work efficiently, specific, rather than general recommendations were necessary, and that it would not suffice to merely make specific recommendations, but that the same should be accompanied with a brief statement of the facts setting forth why, in our opinion, the changes which we propose would result in economy and efficiency

The Commission, therefore, employed expert economy and efficiency engineers who studied the administration of the State's affairs and the different departments, boards, commissions and offices They prepared for the Commission one chart graphically illustrating the present State Government, and its various ramifications They also prepared another chart setting forth their views as to the various elements and consolidations which should be made to place the administration of our affairs upon an economical and, at the same time, an efficient basis Both of such charts are submitted herewith

We concluded before effecting the eliminations and consolidations which to us seemed proper, and which were advised by the engineers, it would be only fair and just to make a detailed examination of the departments, and to obtain accurate information as to the nature of work which each was doing, the number of persons employed, and the amount of time actually devoted by them to the affairs of the State

We, therefore, engaged counsel to examine under oath the chief officials in the various departments, and we now submit specific reports covering the various departments which have been examined, and with regard to which we are now prepared to make definite recommendations



Many other departments and officials have been before us, but we are not ready at this time to submit final conclusions

We are not criticising the work of the past, as most naturally, through the evolutions of time, many departments and changes would receive legislative approval, and good reasons in themselves could be advanced therefor, but all these changes taken together and summarized form the unbusinesslike condition we now, by careful inquiry and investigation, discover

THE STATE BOARD OF ASSESSORS AND THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION OF TAXES OF NEW JERSEY

The State Board of Assessors consists of four members, one of whom is annually appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of four years from the first Monday in May The salary of each is $2,500 per annum

The duties of the assessors in brief are

First—To assess at its true value all property, including franchises of railroad and canal companies used for railroad or canal purposes

Second—To ascertain the amount of taxes due from corporations which are taxed upon the amount of capital stock issued and outstanding and to determine claims for exemption made on the ground that more than fifty per cent of the outstanding capital stock is invested in mining or manufacturing within the State

Third—To receive from local assessors a statement of the value of property in or upon highways, belonging to street railroad corporations, to receive from such corporations an annual statement, to fix an annual franchise tax upon the gross receipts and to apportion the tax among the various taxing districts in which the corporations are operating their street railways

Fourth—To receive reports from telegraph, telephone, cable, express, gas, electric light, oil pipe lines, insurance and parlor, palace or sleeping car companies and to compute a franchise tax upon their gross receipts

The Board of Assessors has a staff of fifteen, divided into a clerical department and an engineering department The clerical department consists of a secretary, an assistant secretary and five clerks The engineering department has a chief engineer, two assistant engineers, a field assistant, a draftsman, a computer and two clerks The pay roll is between $36,000 and $37,000

The work of computing the tax upon miscellaneous corporations, whether based upon the amount of capital stock issued and outstanding or upon gross receipts, is performed by the staff rather than by the assessors themselves Where, however, exemptions are claimed, it then becomes the duty of the assessors to determine whether the claim is well founded In this work, however, they receive assistance, usually from temporary employees, who visit the plant of the corporation which claims the exemption, examine same and submit a report to the Board If the action of the Board is adverse to the claim for exemption, the corporation may demand a hearing

With regard to the assessment of the property of railroad and canal companies, used for railroad or canal purposes, it is made the duty of each company to submit a report annually during the month of May Such reports do not contain a detailed statement of all property, but do set forth the specific changes and additions made during the preceding year

In 1909 the State determined to have made a true and complete inventory and revaluation of all railroad and canal property in the State An expert was engaged for that purpose His appraisal was $374,760,425 The Board studied his appraisal and determined that his figures with regard to the land values should be increased

The revaluation was first used in making the preliminary assessment for 1911 That preliminary or tentative assessment was $384,547,232

It is made the duty of the State Board of Assessors on or before the first day of November in each year, to value and assess the property of railroad and canal companies, and it is also made their duty to meet on the third Monday of November at the State House in Trenton for the purpose of reviewing their assessment and hearing corporations which claim to be aggrieved They are directed to conclude their hearings and to certify to the Comptroller by the 15th of January all corrections which they may make in their assessments

Many written complaints were filed with regard to the 1911 assessment, as a result of which the Board, instead of certifying its final assessment to the Comptroller by the 15th of January, 1912, was unable to do so until the 21st day of October, 1912

The final assessment upon the railroads was fixed at $324,541,117, a reduction from the preliminary assessment of $60,066 115, but an increase over that of 1910 of $37,967 664

The railroads, with the exception of the Long Dock Company, which is part of the Erie Railroad system, and the Hoboken Warehouse and Steamship Connecting Company, acquiesced in the assessment for 1911 as finally made In making that assessment a rule for determining the value of the franchise of each company was used, to which rule we understand the railroads have also agreed

On or before May, 1912, the railroads filed with the State Board of Assessors a statement showing conditions on the 1st of January, 1912 That statement was examined by the Staff of the Assessors, and all changes in railroads made during the year were examined by the Engineering Department No one of the Assessors is an expert upon the values of the different elements which go to make up a complete railroad or canal system The Chief of the Engineering Staff is viewed as such an expert, and in him the Board has the utmost confidence In accordance with the statute, the Assessors made a preliminary assessment after they received the report of their engineers and assistants Such preliminary assessement was completed by November 1st, 1912, and certified to the Comptroller The preliminary assessment was $338,741,092 This assessment, we believe, was made up by assuming that the franchises were of the same value as set forth in the 1911 assessment, and by the Engineering Staff checking over all the changes and new work which were not included in the 1911 assessment All of the railroads, with the exception of the Long Dock Company and the Hoboken Railroad Warehouse and Steamship Connecting Company, acquiesced in the 1912 assessment, and the Assessors certified their final assessment to the Comptroller on the 21st of January, 1913 The amount was $327,647,993, a reduction of $11,093,099 The 1912 assessment has, therefore, been completed, and the work of the State Board of Assessors from now until next November will include little or nothing that could not be disposed of by their clerical and engineering force, excepting that in July of each year the Board must give a hearing to companies if they desire to be heard about the valuation and assessment of their property Assuming that the 1911 assessment was based upon the full value of the property of the railroad and canal companies used for railroad and canal purposes, the work of ascertaining the 1913 assessment and the assessment for subsequent years will be as it was for 1912, very largely a matter for expert engineers

The Secretary of the Board testified under oath as follows

> "Q Now, for the 1912 taxes, in view of the revaluation in 1911, the State Board of Assessors had practically no work to do other than directing your clerical department and your engineering department?
> "A Broadly speaking, that is correct"

The President of the Board testified under oath

> "Q And for 1912, and for future years, the duty of the State Board of Assessors will be to consider the assessing of new property and the natural increase of its valuation?

"A Yes, sir, except for the fact that each year now various buildings are being torn down, and from five to eight millions worth of stock is used in the reconstruction"

He also testified

"As to the physical value of a piece of property, I am absolutely satisfied and convinced by the judgment of the engineering department I feel that way because of the result of four years' work beside me, and I have tested his accuracy and am absolutely certain of it"

In our opinion, while the State Board of Assessors or some of its members may examine reports which are filed by railroad and canal companies and by miscellaneous corporations, and may, from time to time, give instructions to its staff, the only work which they perform which cannot be performed by their engineers and assistants, is that of hearing the complaints of miscellaneous corporations claiming exemption and the complaints of railroad or canal companies that they have been over-assessed

From the testimony, it seems clear that the clerical and engineering forces are competent and efficient It also seems clear that the real work of the State Board of Assessors is that of hearing appeals or complaints and determining whether there is any merit in them

Owing to the revaluation, the members of the Board were compelled to devote very much time during 1912 to hearing the complaints of railroads that insisted that the 1911 assessment was excessive We do not believe, however, that for subsequent years the work of the Board will be any more arduous than it was for the 1912 assessment

In 1905 the Legislature abolished the State Board of Taxation and created a board for the equalization, revision, review and enforcement of taxation, to be known as "The Board of Equalization of Taxes of New Jersey" The Board consists of a president, who must be a counsellor-at-law, and who receives an annual salary of $5,000, and four associate members, each of whom receives a salary of $3,500 The term of office is five years, and the Governor annually appoints a member of the Board by and with the advice and consent of the Senate The Board employs a clerk, an assistant clerk, and usually two stenographers The salaries of the Commissioners aggregate $19,000, and that of their assistants $5,900

We have examined the law, the secretary of the Board and several of its members Aside from advice which the Board is authorized to give, we do not find that it has any substantial work other than the hearing of appeals from property owners who complain of their assessments Where complaint is made on or before the 1st of April following the assessment of property, the Board is authorized to review and correct the action of the local assessors or other taxing officers and of all Boards of Tax Review The Board, therefore, hears appeals not only from the decisions of the County Boards of Taxation, but also appeals of citizens who have not submitted their complaints to such county boards The bulk of the work of the Board is done from the middle of April to about the 1st of August Decisions are usually reached immediately after the hearing Should an opinion be deemed necessary, the same is prepared by the president

Very many of the appeals are taken by property owners who feel aggrieved because they are assessed on a higher basis than some of their neighbors If, however, the assessment does not exceed the full value of the property, the Board has no authority to reduce it so as to equalize assessments in a district It has authority, if complaint is made to it that anyone is under-assessed, to raise his assessment

Such complaints are rarely, if ever, made The Board is without authority to order a reassessment in an entire district, and as one of the members frankly admitted, it seems to be a misnomer to call it a Board for the Equalization of Taxes The only real authority which the Board has where an appeal is taken to it is to reduce the assessment to the true value where it finds it in excess thereof

We have made some study of our tax laws We are not prepared at the present time to express any opinion upon their wisdom or upon the efficiency of any of the various State and local instrumentalities for their administration We have given careful study to the State Board of Taxation and to the Board of Equalization of Taxes, and we find two State Boards performing services which consist chiefly in the hearing of grievances, which services, in our opinion, could readily be performed by one Board

The State Board of Assessors has little but routine work except from about the middle of November to the middle of January The State Board of Equalization of Taxes has but little work except between the middle of April and the first of August

The consolidation of the two would, therefore, not result in any delay in the performance of the duties now reposed in each

With the engineering and clerical staff now employed by the State Board of Assessors, and with the clerical staff now employed by the State Board of Equalization of Taxes, one Board, in our opinion, can readily perform all the duties of both and still not be employed more than half its time What is more, if the Boards are consolidated, we believe that the clerical force of each can be reorganized

In view of the fact that the Commission to investigate present methods of making assessments for taxes has submitted a report to the effect that only one Board is necessary, we refrain at the present time from making any recommendation other than that the State Board of Assessors and the Board of Equalization of Taxes of New Jersey be consolidated

State Agencies for the Preservation of Game and Fish, Including Shellfish

In 1846 a law was enacted for the preservation of clams and oysters From time to time various amendatory and supplemental acts were passed providing for the regulation of the shellfish industry and the prosecution and punishment of those who violated their provisions These acts prescribed no effective plan for the registration of deeds or leases, and the title of but few engaged in the industry was free from doubt In 1899, to remedy such conditions, a law applicable to Delaware bay and Delaware river and the Maurice river cove was enacted By it a State Oyster Commission of three was created The members of the Commission are appointed by the Governor To the Commission power to appoint an Oyster Superintendent was given The Commission was directed to lease certain lands of the State under the tidal waters of the Delaware bay and the Maurice river cove, and to have the same surveyed and the bounds of each leasehold fixed The Superintendent was directed to issue licenses to the captains of boats engaged in the oyster industry A minimum rent per acre for leaseholds was prescribed, as was also a maximum license fee for vessels engaged in the industry To the Superintendent, the members of the Commission and the captains of the guard boats engaged by them to protect the rights of the lessees, power to arrest oyster pirates without warrant was conferred

In 1905 the provisions of the act were extended to certain lands under Raritan bay, the Commission was increased from three to four, and authority was given to it to increase the salary of the Oyster Superintendent to a sum not exceeding thirteen hundred (1,300) dollars Such sum is now the salary of the Superintendent, while to each member of the Commission is paid an annual salary of five hundred (500) dollars So far as we can ascertain, the reason why the Commission was increased from three to four was so that the fourth man would be selected from the Raritan bay district No man from that district is now a member In fact, a visit by the Superintendent or any member of the Commission necessitates a day's railroad travel The result is that the Superintendent makes but one visit a year, so that so far as Raritan bay is concerned, the Commission and the Superintendent pay practically no attention to it, and they very frankly declare that they have no desire to have it under their charge The Commission, while designated a State Oyster Commission, is such only in name It does not take, and we believe never has taken any interest in any district outside of Delaware bay In fact, each of the Oyster Commissions hereinafter referred to pursues the same policy Their members interest themselves solely in their own districts, and take no more interest in any other district in the State than they do in districts in other States

In 1902 an Ocean County Oyster Commission of three was created, and the annual salary of each was fixed at two hundred and fifty (250) dollars An Ocean County Oyster Superintendent was also provided for at an annual salary of one thousand (1,000) dollars The Superintendent and the members of the Commission are appointel by the Governor

In 1903 the Legislature created the Bureau of Shell Fisheries The act provided for a chief, to be appointed by the Governor, at an annual salary of twelve hundred (1,200) dollars It was made the duty of the various State oyster agencies to transmit data to the Bureau, and of the chief of the Bureau to compile such data, to secure and keep on file the laws of other States, and annually to report to the Governor In short, the Legislature provided for the establishment of a statistical Oyster Bureau Since its establishment the salary of the chief has been increased to eighteen hundred (1,800) dollars per year

In 1905 the Legislature created the Shark River oyster and clam district in the county of Monmouth A Commission of one, to be appointed by the Governor, was created His compensation was fixed at one-half the gross receipts from the oyster and clam grounds

In 1905 an Atlantic County Oyster Commission of three was created The salary of each Commissioner was fixed at five hundred (500) dollars for the first year and three hundred (300) dollars for each succeeding year The office of Superintendent was also created at a salary of one thousand (1,000) dollars The Superintendent and Commissioners are appointed by the Governor

The following offices in reference to the oyster industry have been created since 1898 and now exist

Office	Annual Salary
Chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries,	$1,800 00
Clerk in the Bureau of Shell Fisheries,	60 00
Four New Jersey State Commissioners, at $500 each,	2,000 00
One New Jersey State Superintendent,	1,300 00
One Secretary for State Commission,	300 00
Three Ocean County Commissioners, at $250 each,	750 00
One Ocean County Superintendent,	1,000 00
Three Atlantic County Commissioners, at $300 each,	900 00
One Atlantic County Superintendent,	1,000 00
One Shark River District Commissioner,	117 00
Total,	$9,767 00

There is a separate act of the Legislature for each of the following

The Bureau of Shell Fisheries,
The New Jersey State Commission,
The Atlantic County Commission,
The Ocean County Commission,
The Shark River Commissioner

Each has its own separate powers, duties and policy and no kind of uniformity exists

In addition to the above, there are watchmen, guards and crews for boats

One would naturally expect that since 1898 the oyster industry would show marked improvement The most recent statistical bulletin issued by the Bureau of Fisheries of the U S Department of Commerce and Labor gives the value of the oyster product of the State for the following years 1880, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1897, 1898, 1901, 1904, 1908 and 1911 The average for the above years, prior to 1899 is about two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars greater than the average for the above years subsequent thereto The highest value given was for 1887—$2,270,011 The lowest is for 1911, $1,244,615, while the next lowest was in 1908, $1,368,500

The testimony of the witnesses who were examined was to the effect that no substantial change has occurred, though some intimated that whatever change had occurred was not for the better

Aside from the fact that titles to oyster beds can now be more readily ascertained, and that the guards and watchmen, to some extent, have perhaps kept down piracy, it is doubtful if any material benefit has accrued to the State from the creation of the above seventeen offices Some of the occupants of such offices, with the exception of the Delaware Bay Superintendent and the clerk in the Bureau of Shell Fisheries devotes his entire time to his State duties

The chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries receives an annual salary of $1,800, devoting a portion of his time to his office The statistics received at his office, and his office is almost wholly a statistical one, are compiled in part by his clerk, who receives but $600 a year

The Delaware Bay Superintendent devotes his entire time to his office, and receives $1,300 per year

The Superintendents of Ocean and Atlantic Counties devote but a portion of their time to their duties, and each receives $1,000 a year

No one of the eleven commissioners devotes, nor is any one of them expected to devote, more than a part of his time to his duties Each receives but a small salary, and each devotes the greater part of his time to the oyster industry in which all are engaged Apart from the small salary paid by the State, it is to the interest of each commissioner to improve the oyster industry from which he makes a living

In 1870 the Legislature created a commission for the better protection of the fishing interest of the State of New Jersey The reason for the creation of such commission was expressed in the preamble of the act which reads as follows

> "Whereas, both the marine and inland fisheries of this State are known to have deteriorated, and thus a vast amount of food-supply for the people has been greatly reduced by causes which seem to be under the control of the Legislature and that the present yield of fish, both from the sale and fresh waters, might be largely increased by proper measures of protection"

In 1894 a supplement was enacted authorizing the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate to appoint four competent persons to act as Commissioners of Fisheries, to hold office for five years, provided that not more than two should be members of the same political party The Commissioners were directed to appoint not more than two fish wardens for each and every county of the State

In 1895 the Legislature enacted that the Commissioners of Fisheries and their successors should thereafter be known and designated as "The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners" To them was given authority to appoint twenty-five (25) fish and game wardens, which authority they still have and exercise

In 1907 the terms of office of the Commissioners were terminated by an act of the Legislature, and the Governor was empowered to appoint four Commissioners, one for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years, and annually thereafter one for four years

The Fish and Game Commissioners receive no salary Some of them devote a great part of their time to their official duties, and earnestly endeavor to promote the fish industry of the State and to protect all kinds of game

The Fish and Game Commissioners have wardens in the counties bordering on the Atlantic ocean and Delaware bay They have issued permits for about 150 nets and they maintain six boats for the protection of fish All the State boats in the ocean and bay, whether engaged in watching the oyster beds or in the protection of fish, should, from a business standpoint, be under the same management, so that, if possible, duplication of boats over the same courses may be avoided The fish and game wardens and the oyster watchmen and guards should also be under the same management so that duplication of work may be avoided and unnecessary positions terminated Some experimental work is being done by the Fish and Game Commissioners, and also by those representing the State in the oyster industry There seems to be no good reason why all experimental work should not be under one management

The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners has an office in charge of a secretary who is assisted by three stenographers This office, especially with the aid of the clerk of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, can readily receive and tabulate all statistics about shellfish

In our opinion, the Bureau of Shell Fisheries should be abolished, as should also the New Jersey State Oyster Commission, Ocean County Commission, the Atlantic County Commission, and the Shark River Commission The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners should succeed to all their powers and duties

The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners should be increased from four to eight, no more than four to belong to the same political party, and at least four to be men familiar with the oyster industry The Board is now on an efficient basis It has closely studied the needs not only of the present day but of the future Some such study is urgently required if it is the desire of the State that the oyster industry should be improved

The present State system for the preservation and improvement of the oyster industry is most inefficient, and since its establishment the industry has not improved, but has rather declined

We therefore recommend—

(1) That the following offices be abolished
  (a) Chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries,
  (b) New Jersey State Oyster Commission,
  (c) Ocean County Commission,
  (d) Ocean County Superintendent,
  (e) Atlantic County Commission,
  (f) Atlantic County Superintendent,
  (g) Shark River Commission

(2) That the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners to be known, however, as the Bureau of Game and Fisheries, succeed to the powers and duties of such chief, commissions and superintendents

(3) That the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners be reorganized under the name "Bureau of Game and Fisheries," and so that the oyster industry may be represented thereon

(4) That the Bureau of Game and Fisheries shall meet in the State House, Trenton, once a month and at such other times and places as it may deem advisable and that all its meetings shall be open to the public

(5) That the terms of office of the members of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners shall terminate on the first day of April, 1913, that the Board be increased to eight, that the Governor be authorized, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint two for one year, from April 1st, 1913, two for two years, two for three years, two for four years, and annually thereafter two for four years, that not more than four shall be members of the same political party, and that four shall be men engaged in the industry of planting and shipping oysters

(6) The Bureau should be authorized and directed to select one of their own number or some one else to act as Chief of the Bureau, to fix his salary at not exceeding $3,000 a year and, subject to its control and advice, to have general charge and supervision of its work

The adoption of such recommendations will, we believe, place the fish, game and oyster industry on an efficient basis and ultimately lead to more uniform laws Their adoption will bring to an end numerous petty public offices which have served but little, if any, useful purpose, and will result in an immediate annual saving to the State of from $7,000 to $8,000

We have little doubt but that the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners will be able to reorganize the force now under it, and the force now engaged in the preservation of the oyster industry so that the latter instead of deteriorating, will greatly improve, and so that unnecessary duplication of work will come to an end

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS AND EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY COMMISSION

In 1878 the Legislature resolved that

> "WHEREAS, As guardians of the public welfare, the State authorities are called upon to consider and in all legitimate ways endeavor to improve the physical, mental and moral conditions of the citizens of the State, especially those whose daily toil contributes so largely to the prosperity of manufacturing and other productive industries, therefore,"

a Bureau of Statistics should be created, the Chief of which should be appointed by the Governor, subject to the confirmation of the Senate The salary of the Chief was fixed at $2,500 per annum At the present time the Bureau consists of a Chief, a Deputy Chief, three clerks and a stenographer The total annual salary list is $9,460 The reasons for the creation of the department were chiefly to improve the conditions of those employed in the various industries in the State

In 1904, however, a law consisting of 46 sections was enacted, regulating the age, employment, safety, health and working hours of help in factories A department for the enforcement of the provisions of the law was established, consisting of a Commissioner to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, an Assistant Commissioner, eleven (11)

inspectors, and such clerical help as the Commission should deem necessary Since then the department has grown, and its duties have largely increased It now comprises a Commissioner, an Assistant Commissioner, a structural iron expert, an expert assistant, twenty-two (22) inspectors and an office force It is now the real department of the State charged with the enforcement of laws designed to improve the conditions of those employed in our various industries It is charged with the enforcement of the law relating to protection against fire, panics, machinery and exposed elevators in factories and to their sanitation and ventilation

It is also charged with the enforcement of the laws relating to the payment of wages, to the employment of children, to the employment of women, to bake shops, and to confectionery establishments In short, it is the department entrusted by the Legislature with the execution of the laws which have been enacted to promote the health, safety and welfare of those employed in our industries

The department has been charged with the enforcement of the laws designed to bring about the results set forth in the preamble to the law organizing the Bureau of Labor Statistics That Bureau is now devoted almost entirely to gathering industrial statistics, compiling them, and disseminating information in various ways in regard to the condition of labor and the industries of the State

During the past fifteen years the present Deputy has had most of the practical management of the office, the planning of its investigations and the devising of ways and means to conduct them Much useful work has been done The Bureau, however, frequently seeks to ascertain about the various industries, the very information which the Department of Labor requires At times the two have not worked in entire harmony and occasional friction has resulted, which is not unnatural when two departments overlap The Bureau is not equipped to verify the information submitted to it The Department of Labor can do so Every factory in the State is visited at least once a year by one of its inspectors We believe, therefore, that the Bureau of Statistics as such should be discontinued, that the position of Chief of the Bureau should be abolished, that the staff of the Bureau be merged in the Department of Labor and that such department succeed to all the powers and duties of the Bureau

In 1911 the Legislature passed an Employers' Liability Act and created an Employers' Liability Commission of six to serve

without compensation It was made the duty of the Commission "to observe in detail, so far as possible, the operations throughout the State of the recent act of the Legislature, commonly known as 'The Employers' Liability Act,' " and to report to the Legislature annually the operations of the act, and its recommendations, if any

To place the Commission in possession of facts to enable it to make a report, it was made the duty of every employer of labor to report to the Commission "upon the occurrence of any injury to any of his employes, the name and nationality of the employe so injured, the nature and extent of such injury, whether said injured employe and the employer at the time of said injury were subject to the provisions of section one or section two of said act, and the amount of compensation, when determined, together with such other facts relating to such injury as the Commission may request"

At the time the Commission was created, the act of 1904, requiring that accident should be reported to the Department of Labor, was in force The result of the law of 1911 was that employers were required to report accidents to the Department of Labor and to the Employers' Liability Commission At the same time the Bureau of Statistics might have called upon employers for similar information

In 1912 a law was enacted prescribing that accidents should be reported to the Commissioner of Labor, and providing that reports filed under it should be in lieu of all reports required by the act creating the Employers' Liability Commission. It was but logical that the reports should be filed with the Department of Labor, as it is equipped to make an immediate investigation as to the causes of the accidents, to determine whether in whole or in part they resulted from a violation of law or orders of the Department, and to ascertain whether a repetition might be prevented by a closer interpretation of existing labor law, or whether further legislation was desirable

The clerical staff of the Employers' Liability Commission, consisting of a Secretary and two, and at times three, stenographers, is now in the office of the Commission of Labor It should stay there, not, however, as an independent department, but under the practical direction of the Department of Labor If it is placed under the control of the Commissioner, the work can be better directed and more efficient results accomplished It is really occupying that position now, but without Legislative authority What is more, employers throughout the State are entitled to consideration, and it is hardly fair to them that they should be called upon for information and be subject to inspection and criticism along the same lines by many different departments Such procedure is not conducive to hearty co-operation on the part of employers, and it does not promote harmony, but is far more likely to create friction among the different State Departments pursuing the same subjects As it is now, even though the reports about accidents must be filed with the Department of Labor, rather than with it and the Employers' Liability Commission, there is nothing to prevent the Bureau of Statistics calling for similar information, so that it, too, may study the subject and issue mongraphs upon it, and, therefore, it is very confusing Neither is there anything to prevent all three bodies from investigating accidents If more than one State body is necessary for a particular subject, who can say how many there should be? Once such a principle is admitted, it might plausibly be argued that there should be a State Department for each particular industry, so that instead of one Department of Labor we might have a hundred with a resulting multiplication of salaried State officials The Employers' Liability Commission have performed a most useful function in preparing and promulgating the Act of 1911, and as a body of investigation and observation, can well be continued, but the actual control of the details of enforcing the act and advising employers and employes should be absolutely under the control of the Commissioner of Labor

In our opinion, there should be but one State body charged with control over a particular subject The Department of Labor should be such in fact, and upon it should be placed the duty, not only of enforcing all laws for the betterment of labor, but also of collecting and tabulating all data in reference thereto, and to our industries The two are so closely related, that, in our opinion, they should not be separated, and especially is this so when we find that the departments to collect information are not equipped to verify the reports which they receive, while the Department of Labor is so equipped

(1) That the position of Chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics be terminated

(2) That the Employers' Liability Commission be continued to watch the operation of the Act of 1911 in an advisory capacity, and to annually report any recommendations for Legislative enactment

(3) That the Department of Labor succeed to all the powers and duties of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor and Industries and of administering State functions provided by the Employers' Liability Act and supplements thereto

This merger with the Department of Labor will undoubtedly render unnecessary some, if not a substantial part of the help now employed by them, as well as the incidental expenses necessary for the maintenance of separate departments The total cost of the two last year was $16,156 33

Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury and the Department of Accounts

In the Constitution it is provided that "the State Treasurer and Comptroller shall be appointed by the Senate and General Assembly, in joint meeting" Before entering upon the performance of the duties of his office, the Comptroller must take an oath that he will not allow any claim, charge or account against the State unless satisfied that it is justly due and he must also furnish a bond in the sum of $50,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties

Such duties have been defined by the Legislature They are, in part, as follows

> "That it shall be the duty of the Comptroller to examine, audit, adjust and settle all accounts due to or presented against the State, and certify the amount adjusted or allowed to the Treasurer for receipt or payment, and that in the performance of this duty he shall be, and is hereby authorized and required to administer an oath or affirmation to the person or party presenting such account, or to any witness presented on behalf of said person or party, or presented by himself or the Attorney-General on behalf of the State and to examine the same, as to the truth, fairness, correctness and justice of said accounts, and the said Comptroller shall keep a record or registry of all accounts so audited, adjusted, allowed and certified, and the time when the same was done"

By Chapter 305 of the Laws of 1908, the Legislature established a Department of Accounts, and directed that the same should be in charge of a chief, whose title should be "Auditor of Accounts" It was made his duty to establish a uniform system of bookkeeping to be adopted, so far as practicable, in all departments and institutions of the State, to thoroughly examine and audit all accounts of the State departments and institutions at least twice a year and to verify and audit the reports of all county and State officials charged with the collection of moneys for the State

The Auditor of Accounts has prepared a uniform system of bookkeeping for the State departments and institutions but the same is not used in all, because there is no law compelling such use

With regard to the examination and audit of all accounts of State departments and institutions, as well as of State or county officials charged with the collection of State moneys it would seem as though such work is substantially a duplication of the work now imposed by the statute upon the Comptroller and now performed by his office

Before bills incurred by any department or institution can be paid, they must be submitted to the Comptroller It is his duty to examine them, and he has testified that his department makes such an examination If they are found correct, they are certified for payment to the Treasurer The examination and audit of the Comptroller is made before payment, while that of the State Auditor is made after payment Both really cover the same ground, and the work of the Auditor is in effect an audit of the audit of the Comptroller

With regard to moneys due to the State, all returns are examined by the Comptroller and are made in a manner approved by him The Auditor of Accounts has been unable with the staff allotted to him, to verify and audit the accounts of all State and county officials who collect State moneys To do so would necessitate, he believes, another assistant, in addition to the three which he now has

We have examined the Comptroller and his deputy at some length It seems that the audits made by the Department of Accounts are more detailed and perhaps more complete than those made in the office of the Comptroller If, however, the Comptroller, in addition to making an audit of bills before payment subsequently made an examination to ascertain whether moneys paid to the Treasurer of institutions were properly disbursed by them, his work would cover almost the very same ground now covered by the Auditor of Accounts and his assistants To do the work in the detailed manner now followed by the Department of Accounts would necessitate the Comptroller testified, the employment by him of additional help, not exceeding, however, three Whether three would be required we, judging from business experience, doubt, in view of the fact that the Comptroller's office now claims to make audits of receipts and disbursements and to perform all duties imposed upon it by statute We believe, however, that there should not be two departments covering in whole or in part the same work Duplication of work promotes neither economy nor efficiency With but few exceptions, the States generally charge the office of the Comptroller, and it alone, with the verification of accounts

We therefore recommend that the Department of Accounts be consolidated with the office of the Comptroller, and that he be directed to perform all the duties now imposed upon that department

The Auditor of Accounts and his assistants have been very painstaking in the performance of their duties, and it seems to us only fair that, if any additional help is required in the office of the Comptroller, preference should be given to them

The maintenance of the Department of Accounts during the past fiscal year cost $10,479 46, and it seems to us that the Comptroller, in the event of additional help being required, should be limited to a disbursement of not exceeding $5,000

In the course of our examination into the disbursement of State moneys we have found that, with regard to the majority of the State institutions, payment of bills is not made directly by the Treasurer, but by a treasurer in the institution who receives the aggregate amount of the bills from the State Treasurer We have given serious consideration to the creation of these various sub-treasurers, but we are not at the present time prepared to make any report or recommendation in regard to the subject

Department of Inland Waterways and New Jersey Ship Canal and Waterways

In 1907 the Legislature directed the State Geologist to make an estimate of the probable cost of the construction of an inland waterway from Cape May to Bay Head, and at the following session a report was submitted Acting upon the assumption that the waterway would cost about $300,000, the Legislature appropriated that amount to cover the cost, provided that no part should be available in any one year in excess of the sum included for the purpose in the annual appropriation bill

A Department of Inland Waterways was created, and the Governor was directed, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint a commissioner for a term of five years at an annual salary of $2,000 The department now consists of a commissioner, an engineer, an assistant engineer, a draftsman and a clerk The total annual payroll is $7,900 The waterway is now about half constructed and the cost has been about $300,000 It is estimated that a considerable additional sum will be required to complete the work

The Legislature authorized the department to recommend such additional inland waterways as might be calculated to promote the interest of the people of the State, and to construct and maintain such additional waterways as might be authorized by subsequent appropriations Notwithstanding that the department was created presumably to study the development of inland waterways, the Legislature in 1911, by joint resolution, authorized the Governor to appoint five persons to constitute "The New Jersey Ship Canal Commission," to serve for three years without compensation It was made the duty of such Commission to examine the plan of a proposed canal across the State connecting New York bay with deep water in the Delaware river at Bordentown, to determine the amount of land necessary to be acquired and the probable cost About the same time the Legislature adopted a joint resolution wherein it was declared—

> "that when the government of the United States shall finally settle upon the route of the said canal, and shall make provision for its construction by suitable appropriation, the State of New Jersey shall acquire the right of way for the said canal by purchase or condemnation from the owners thereof and cede the same to the Federal government for the uses of the government in construction and maintaining the said canal, upon condition that the said canal, when completed, shall be free and open to the commerce of the world, without tolls or charges for the passage of vessels or freight thereon, provided, the right of way can be obtained by purchase or condemnation for a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, or such sum as may be appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose at the time when such appropriation and other legislation necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this resolution shall become necessary and appropriate"

A committee was appointed, and it in turn selected a secretary, who is acting without direct compensation The Commission, however, pays for the services rendered by assistants in the secretary's office, and also pays part of the secretary's rent in Rutherford and New York City, so that, as a matter of fact, the State contributes a substantial amount, at least $3,000 per annum, to the maintenance of the business office of the secretary In addition to the secretary, an engineer and assistants were employed to prepare surveys, ascertain the names of the owners of property along the proposed route, and to fix monuments Disbursements were also made for maps, etc , and, in all, during the past fiscal year, the committee expended $19,999 53 It now seeks $55,000 to complete its work When its work is completed, the State, assuming that it acts with ordinary caution, will not acquire the right of way unless and until it is certain that the United States will dig the canal, the cost of which digging is estimated at $45,000,000 The $500,000 which the Legislature seems to have believed will be the cost of acquiring the right of way is, without a doubt, the very lowest amount with which, under any circumstances, it can be hoped to acquire it So far as we can infer from the evidence, the right of way will cost perhaps much in excess of that sum Whether the canal will ever be dug by the Federal government is problematical That the government is not committed to it is clear If it is ever completed, the State of Pennsylvania will be benefited very nearly as much as the State of New Jersey, yet we find no evidence that the State of Pennsylvania is to bear any part of the preliminary cost It seems to us that the preliminary expense would have been considerably less had advantage been taken of the Inland Waterway Department in existence at the time of the creation of the Ship Canal Commission The engineer in charge of the Inland Waterway Commission has testified that he could have done the work which is being performed by the engineer for the Ship Canal Commission It is probable that he might have had to employ several assistants There can be no doubt, however, that there would have been a large saving to the State had his services been utilized and had the office and organization of the Inland Waterway Commission been likewise utilized

The personnel of the Ship Canal Commission is excellent, but its work seems to be very largely missionary at the present time It should be allowed to complete the monumenting of the course, which, when the government decides to act will probably be selected It should, however, utilize the clerical and engineering staff of the Department of Inland Waterways, and we recommend that it be directed so to do

Your Commission is still engaged in a study of the various State waterway projects, and may ultimately present a plan consolidating the work and investigation along that line under one general departmental head supervision, but is not prepared at the present time to submit any recommendation other than the above in regard thereto

CONCLUSION

The adoption of the foregoing resolutions will effect no legal change other than in administration The laws which have been enacted will remain the same so far as they define the powers and duties of State officials The number of State officials, however, will be materially reduced, and work of a similar nature, instead of being scattered will be brought under one head We have not attempted, where we recommend consolidations, to say how many of the working force shall be dispensed with We leave that to the heads of the consolidated departments We assume that when two bodies performing similar functions are brought together, concentration will naturally take place and some of the working force will be found to be unnecessary and will therefore be dispensed with If the two Tax Boards are consolidated, and if no duties other than those now performed by them are imposed on the new Board, the salaries instead of being $29,000, should not exceed $13,000, an annual saving of $16,000 The expenses of the clerical forces of the two, aside from the engineering force are approximately $19,000 This fact alone would indicate that there should be a saving in office expenses of at least $6,500

If the various Shell Fish agencies are consolidated, there will be an immediate annual saving of about $8,000 in salaries of officials, while the other expenses, which amount to about $21,000, should be reduced by one-third, or $7,000

The amount now expended for the maintenance of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Employers' Liability Commission is $16,156 33 At least one-half if not more of this amount should be saved if the two are merged into the Department of Labor

If the department of accounts is merged with the office of the Comptroller, there will be an immediate annual saving of $5,000

The New Jersey Ship Canal Commission believes that it will require $55,000 this year for the prosecution of its work If,

as we recommend, it is authorized and directed to use the clerical and engineering force of the Department of Inland Waterways, we doubt if more than one-half that amount will prove necessary

The consolidations which we have recommended will therefore result in a saving during the next fiscal year of about $78,000 The concentration of forces will, we are certain, result in a further saving in the various expenses which necessarily have been incurred in the maintenance of separate departments Such consolidations and similar ones which we have now in mind, but which we are not at the present moment prepared to recommend, will assist materially in the solution of another problem, viz that of finding office space at the State House for the numerous departments which now exist The Commission has devoted very much time during the past year to its work, and has gathered considerable information and it has also acquired experience which will assist materially in the completion of its labors

It is daily becoming more and more evident to the Commission, that our Civil Service should be such in every way that it is not sufficient merely to regulate the employment and retention in place of employees, but that there should be regulation and standardization of salaries so that persons of equal ability with like work and responsibilities will receive equal compensation The Commission is also convinced that radical reforms are necessary in the standardization, purchase and distribution of supplies of every kind No business concern, subjected to any kind of competition could survive the present system It has been urged that if possible, there should be but one State engineering force under a competent and efficient head, but until we have made a detailed examination of all departments and institutions, we think it would be unwise to make specific recommendations about an engineering staff or the standardization of salaries and supplies and the purchase and distribution of the latter Whether the entire State should be charged with annual work which benefits only a few localities, or whether the charge should be placed on the locality receiving the benefit, is another matter upon which no recommendation can be made until we have concluded all investigation, though much information has been accumulated

To complete such examinations, and to study and determine upon our final recommendation will require very much more time When we have concluded our labors, we hope to be able to demonstrate how the State Government can be placed on a more business-like basis with a large curtailment of annual outlay and a concentration of forces which, while performing all necessary and required functions will systematize, regulate and make more efficient the performance of the important responsibilities of the State

With the following amendments, which were received and ordered printed

Amend section five by inserting after the word "State", and the period, on line ten, the following

Every such petition shall have attached thereto and to be filed therewith a statement signed by the candidate named therein, in form substantially as follows "I hereby certify and declare that if I am elected a delegate to the Constitutional Convention I will respect and observe every provision of the act of the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen under and by virtue of which a Constitutional Convention has been authorized"

Amend section six by substituting therefor the following, to wit

6 Each municipal clerk shall cause to be printed official and sample ballots containing the names of the persons endorsed as candidates for delegates to said convention filed in or certified to his office as hereinbefore provided Said ballot shall be substantially in the following form

Official Ballot for Constitutional Convention

Instructions To vote for any person make a cross (×) in the square in the appropriate column according to your choice, at the left of the name voted for

Vote your first choice in the first column

Vote your second choice in the second column

Vote only one first choice and only one second choice

Do not vote more than one choice for one person, as only one choice will count for any one candidate by this ballot

If you wrongfully make, tear or deface this ballot, return it, and obtain another

For Delegate to Constitutional Convention	First Choice	Second Choice	Other Choice
Samuel Brown
John Doe
Henry Fox
Richard Roe
William Smith

One space shall be left below the printed names of the candidates for delegates to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person for whom he may wish to vote

The names of said candidates for delegates shall be printed on the official ballot in alphabetical order according to their surnames, and there shall be no designation of any kind allowed to be printed opposite the name of any candidate for delegate Sample official ballots upon paper of different color shall be provided by said clerk, and mailed to the voters by the several boards of registry and election on Wednesday preceding the said special election Said clerks shall provide polling places, as nearly as possible in the places used on the day of the general election and provide the booths, ballot-boxes and other equipment for such election

Amend section ten by substituting therefor the following, to wit

10 At the conclusion of the election the results thereof shall be canvassed by the board of registry and election in each election district and returned to the several municipal clerks and by said clerks to be certified to the respective county clerks, substantially as now required by law in the case of election of delegates to national conventions, excepting as the method of such canvass and of determining such result is modified by the provisions of this section

Said board of registry and election shall carefully enter the number of first-choice, second-choice and other-choice votes for each candidate on the tally sheet and make return thereof to the clerk of the municipality in which said election precinct is located

The county clerk, when the various municipal clerks shall have certified to him the result of the canvass and returns from the various election districts within the various municipalities, shall forthwith proceed to determine the successful candidate as hereinafter provided in this section

The candidate receiving a majority, as hereinafter in this section defined, of first-choice votes, shall be elected delegate, provided, that if no candidate shall receive such a majority of the first-choice votes, then a canvass shall be made of the second-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate Said second-choice votes shall then be added to the first-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate, and the candidate receiving the largest number of said first-choice and second-choice votes combined, if such votes constitute a majority, shall be elected delegate, and provided further, that if no candidate shall have such a majority after adding the first-choice and second-choice votes, then a canvass shall be made of the other-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate, such other-choice votes shall then be added to the first-choice votes and second-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate and the candidate having the largest number of first-choice votes, second-choice votes and other-choice votes combined shall be elected delegate

A tie between two or more candidates shall be decided in favor of the one having the largest number of first-choice votes

If all are equal in that respect, then the candidate having the largest number of second-choice votes shall be elected If this will not decide, then the two or more candidates thus found to be equal in the number of votes shall each be considered as elected as a delegate, but each shall have only one-half or other appropriate fraction of a vote in the convention

Whenever the word "majority" is used in this section it shall mean more than one-half of the total number of first-choice votes for delegate cast at the election

The county clerk shall issue certificates of election to those delegates shown by the returns so certified to and canvassed by him to have been elected at said special election, and such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to act as a member of said Constitutional Convention

and observe all the provisions of this act" After the word "State" in the eleventh line of said section substitute a semicolon for the comma, strike out the word "and" and insert the following "provided, however, that on any proposition coming before said convention which may involve an alteration or change, in any respect, of the system of legislative representation, as existing under the Constitution of the State at the date of the passage of this act, the delegates shall vote thereon according to counties, each county being entitled to but one vote". Substitute a capital "S" for the small "s" in the word "such" in lien eleven aforesaid

Amend section thirteen by substituting a comma for the period after the word "dollars" in the second line of said section, and insert the words "and his actual traveling expenses while engaged in the business of said convention"

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly February 25th, 1913

Having been elected to the office of President of the United States, and being about to assume the duties of that office, I have filed in the office of the Secretary of State, my resignation of the office of Governor of the State of New Jersey, to take effect at noon, on the first day of March, nineteen hundred and thirteen

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature February 25th, 1913

I wish to call your attention to the imperative necessity of effecting an immediate reform of the present system by which grand and petit juries are chosen in this State Many honorable and notable men have occupied the office of sheriff in our several counties, many men of the highest character now fill that office, but again and again, by obtaining control of the office of sheriff, the interests which has corrupted this State, which have defied the laws, which have built up selfish private interests, which have sought to get the State in the clutch of personal political machines, have bent the law to their own uses, and I speak with absolute confidence when I say that I know the public opinion of this State now cries out for and demand reform of no hesitating or doubtful character, which shall take the selection of grand juries out of the hands of the sheriffs and place it elsewhere A bill is pending before you which seeks to effect this object in a way which has proved excellent in operation in other States, and which seems to afford us our only present escape from what is, in more than one of our counties, an intolerable condition

Permit me to urge you in the name of the people whom I know that in this matter I represent, to redeem the expectations which have been formed of us and to bring this matter to a conclusion so definite and speedy that no man's purpose can be called in question Those who hesitate in this matter will lie under a very grave responsibility

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,

Mr Richards moved that the rules be suspended and that the vote by which Assembly Bill No 112, entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act prescribing the liability of an employer to make compensation for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment, establishing an elective schedule of compensation, and regulating procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder,' " approved April fourth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven,

Was advanced to third reading be reconsidered, and that the bill be placed back on second reading for the purpose of amendment

Which motion was carried

Mr Richards then offered the following amendment to Assembly Bill No 112, which was received and ordered printed

Assembly Bill No 119, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'A supplement to an act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes (Revision of 1898),"'" approved April twelfth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven,

Were taken up, and, upon a viva voce vote, adopted

Amend by striking out the word "parent", on line seven, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "relative", and by adding between the word "or" and the word "guardian", on line seven, the word "legal"

Insert a new section after line eight, to be known as section two, to read as follows

2 Any person who shall accompany any child under the age of sixteen years to any theatre, or any place wherein theatrical, acrobatic or vaudeville performances are given by paid performers, or wherein any moving picture show is given, and falsely represent himself or herself to be related to such child or to be the legal guardian of such child, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars

Make section two section three

The said bill was read a second time as amended, considered by sections, agreed to, ordered to be printed and to have a third reading

The following proposed amendment by Judiciary Committee to

Was taken up

Amend section five by inserting after the word "State", and the period, on line ten, the following

Every such petition shall have attached thereto and to be filed therewith a statement signed by the candidate named therein, in form substantially as follows "I hereby certify and declare that if I am elected a delegate to the Constitutional Convention I will respect and observe every provision of the act of the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen under and by virtue of which a Constitutional Convention has been authorized"

Mr Egan asked unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment, and, there being no objection, was granted

The following proposed amendments to

Were each taken up separately, and, upon a viva voce vote, were adopted

Amend section six by substituting therefor the following, to wit

6 Each municipal clerk shall cause to be printed official and sample ballots containing the names of the persons endorsed as candidates for delegates to said convention filed in or certified to his office as hereinbefore provided Said ballot shall be substantially in the following form

Instructions To vote for any person make a cross (X) in the square in the appropriate column according to your choice, at the left of the name voted for

Do not vote more than one choice for one person, as only one choice will count for any one candidate by this ballot

If you wrongly make, tear or deface this ballot, return it, and obtain another

John Doe
Henry Fox

One space shall be left below the printed names of the candidates for delegates to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person for whom he may wish to vote

The names of said candidates for delegates shall be printed on the official ballot in alphabetical order according to their surnames, and there shall be no designation of any kind allowed to be printed opposite the name of any candidate for delegate Sample official ballots upon paper of different color shall be provided by said clerk, and mailed to the voters by the several boards of registry and election on Wednesday preceding the said special election Said clerks shall provide polling places, as nearly as possible in the places used on the day of the general election and provide the booths, ballot boxes and other equipment for such election

10 At the conclusion of the election the results thereof shall be canvassed by the board of registry and election in each election district and returned to the several municipal clerks and by said clerks to be certified to the respective county clerks, substantially as now required by law in the case of election of delegates to national conventions, excepting as the method of such canvass and of determining such result is modified by the provisions of this section

Said board of registry and election shall carefully enter the number of first-choice, second-choice and other-choice votes for each candidate on the tally sheet and make return thereof to the clerk of the municipality in which said election precinct is located

The county clerk, when the various municipal clerks shall have certified to him the result of the canvass and returns from the various election districts within the various municipalities, shall forthwith proceed to determine the successful candidate as hereinafter provided in this section

The candidate receiving a majority, as hereinafter in this section defined, of first-choice votes, shall be elected delegate, provided, that if no candidate shall receive such a majority of the first-choice votes, then a canvass shall be made of the second-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate Said second-choice votes shall then be added to the first-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate, and the candidate receiving the largest number of said first-choice and second-choice votes combined, if such votes constitute a majority, shall be elected delegate, and provided further, that if no candidate shall have such a majority after adding the first-choice and second-choice votes, then a canvass shall be made of the other-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate, such other-choice votes shall then be added to the first-choice votes and second-choice votes received by each candidate for delegate and the candidate having the largest number of first-choice votes, second-choice votes and other-choice votes combined shall be elected delegate

A tie between two or more candidates shall be decided in favor of the one having the largest number of first-choice votes

elected as a delegate, but each shall have only one-half or other appropriate fraction of a vote in the convention

Whenever the word "majority is used in this section it shall mean more than one-half of the total number of first-choice votes for delegate cast at the election

The following amendment by the Judiciary Committee to

Was taken up, but, on motion of Mr Egan, was withdrawn the House unanimously consenting

Amend section twelve by inserting after the words "United States" and the comma in line seven below the words "to respect and observe all the provisions of this act" After the word "State" in the eleventh line of said section substitute a semicolon for the comma, strike out the word "and" and insert the following "provided, however, that on any proposition coming before said convention which may involve an alteration or change, in any respect, of the system of legislative representation, as existing under the Constitution of the State at the date of the passage of this act, the delegates shall vote thereon according to counties, each county being entitled to but one vote" Substitute a capital "S" for the small "s" in the word "such" in line eleven aforesaid

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, which, on motion of Mr Egan, was received and ordered spread in full upon the minutes

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly February 26th, 1913

I so seriously doubt the wisdom and the expediency of removing the restraints at present imposed upon the issue of temporary interest bearing loan bonds or certificates by our cities, that I take the liberty of returning to you Assembly Bill No 142, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide funds to be used for opening, widening and vacating streets and highways in cities of the first class in this State,' approved March twenty-first, nineteen hundred and twelve," without my signature

The bill seems to me to encourage the piling up of these obligations at some particular time beyond the limit of prudence

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

A message was received from the Senate, by the hands of its Secretary, as follows

Mr McGrath offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

WHEREAS, Honorable James F Fielder, of Hudson county, President of the Senate of New Jersey, has been inaugurated and is now Governor of our great State, succeeding to the unexpired term of Hon Woodrow Wilson, now President of the United States, and

WHEREAS, We deem such an event one of particular importance in the history of our State, and believing as Governor Wilson himself stated in his last message to the Legislature that the duties of Governor in the hands of Senator Fielder are in the hands of "A man of proved character, capacity, fidelity and devotion to the public service, a man of a type to which the people of the State desire their public men to conform", therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, in regular sesion assembled, congratulate the people of New Jersey upon having as their Chief Executive this man of courage, who, as Governor Wilson said in handing him the Great Seal of State, will serve with conscience and not expediency, and we extend our warmest greetings to Governor James F Fielder, wishing for him a full measure of happiness, and health and strength to make use of those splendid talents and those admirable qualities of mind and heart he possesses, in giving to the people of our sovereign State not for a brief period, but for the full term of the office, what we predict will be a most successful administration

Amend section twelve to read as follows

This act shall take effect immediately, but its provisions shall remain inoperative in any county of this State until assented to by a majority of the legal voters of such county voting at any general election to be held in such county hereafter, but the question of the adoption of the provisions of this act in any county shall not be submitted to the voters thereof at any such general election unless a petition therefor in writing signed by at least ten per centum of the legal voters, voting at the general election next preceding the filing of such petition, shall be filed with the county clerk at least sixty days prior to the holding of such general election

Upon such petition being filed with the county clerk the said clerk shall cause public notice of the submission of the question of the adoption of this act to be given by advertisement signed by himself and set up in at least fifty different places in such county and published in one or more newspapers published in such county for at least ten days before such election

At any general election at which the question of the adoption of the provisions of this act shall be submitted to the voters of any county there shall be printed upon the official ballots for such county the word "For" and the word "Against" above and immediately preceding the words "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning juries' (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four," approved (here insert date of approval of this act) If the word "For" be marked off or defaced upon the ballot, it shall be counted as a vote against the adoption of this act, if the word "Against" be marked off or defaced upon the ballot, it shall be counted as a vote in favor of the adoption of this act, and in case neither the word "For" nor the word "Against" be marked off or defaced upon the ballot, it shall not be counted as a vote either for or against such adoption A canvass and return of the votes upon the question of the adoption of this act shall be made by the election officers in the same manner as for officers voted for at such election, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be found to be in favor of the adoption of this act, it shall then, but not otherwise become operative in such county; provided, however, that the votes cast in favor of the adoption of this act shall be equal in number to at least thirty per centum of the votes cast for members of the General Assembly at the last general election immediately preceding the submission of this act as aforesaid,

WHEREAS, Another year has arrived in the life of Ireland to remind us of the fact that she is still the pride of the God-given right to rule hereself, and

WHEREAS, As American citizens we deny the legal or national right of any people to rule another without that people's consent, and

WHEREAS, The advent of St Patrick's Day serves to remind us of a time in the national history of Erin when she was the first among the nations of the world in art, literature, science, law, and music, and was the civilizing influence of the world, having founded the university of Paris in France, the University of Oxford in England and the Univeisity of St Gall in Switzerland, which seats of learning still possess treasures of early Irish literature, art and science, and

WHEREAS, The Irish nation under English misrule, has been reduced in proportion by famine and exile from nearly nine million population in 1840 to three millions to-day, and

WHEREAS, The Irish exiles from the very foundation of these United States have added to our wealth, our literature, our science and our arts, and have by their genius and attainments in the Navy, the Army and in all departments of legal and political government, assisted in enhancing the value of our institutions, and in defending and upholding them against all attempts to assail them abroad or to impugn the integrity of our Constitutions and our laws from every source, foreign and domestic, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Members of the House of Assembly of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, that we sympathize on the natal day of Ireland's Saint, with the inconquerable aspiration of the Irish race for freedom and we record our hope and wish that ere another year shall have passed that the ancient land of Erin, the land of statesmen, saints and scholars, shall be recorded among the free and independent nations of the earth, and shall become, in the language of her immortal poet, Thomas Moore,

"Great, glorious and free,
First gem of the earth,
And first star of the sea"

And be it Further Resolved, That the national flags of these United States and Ireland handed to the Speaker of the House, the Honorable Leon R Taylor, be received and retained by him as symbols of the fact that the members of this House will ever hold his memory green

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

GENTLEMEN—We have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Convict Labor Commission appointed under the provisions of Joint Resolution No 5, approved March 28th, 1912

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 223, Laws of 1912, the State Commissioner of Public Roads, after consultation with this commission, and with its approval, applied to the Prison Labor Commission immediately on its organization for a body of prisoners to labor on public roads, as provided in that act Owing to defects in the law, and especially the failure to relieve the keeper of the State Prison of personal responsibility for the safeguarding of the prisoners, some time elapsed before the men could be set to work On the 12th of December work was begun upon the White Horse pike, a road leading from Trenton to the White Horse tavern, a distance of about two and one-half miles from the prison A party of sixteen convicts was assigned to the work Including the 31st of January, these men performed 35 days of actual work The cost of this work and the items thereof have been as follows

Food,	$246 65	12 6	per cent
Transportation,	210 00	10 6	"
Guards,	243 70	12 4	"
Convicts, 50 cents a day,	279 00	14 2	"
Supervision,	105 00	5 4	"
Material and hauling,	780 00	39 8	"
Rolling, sharpening tools, etc ,	97 75	5 0	"
Total,	$1,962 10	100 00	per cent

The actual cost of labor, including an allowance of fifty cents per day for each prisoner, but exclusive of supervision, materials and use of machinery, was $979 35 The days work done were 558, and the cost per day's labor was $1 75½, or about the wage of a free laborer This cost was made up as follows

Maintenance, food,	44 2c
Transportation,	37 6c
Labor,	50 0c
Guards,	43 7c
		$1 755

The unfavorable conditions under which the work was done are well illustrated by the above figures On the basis of a camp and a gang of twenty-five men with their own cooks the cost per day's work should work out about as follows

cooking,	4c
		24c
Transportation,		3c
Labor,		50c
Guards,		28c
		$1 05

The work done consisted in breaking up the surface of a road treated by the penetration method which had become very rough and uneven, filling the holes with the material thus loosened, with clean stone and binding the same in place The total yardage thus covered was 14,080 square yards at a total cost of $0 1393 a square yard, practically fourteen cents

While every effort has been made to keep the cost of the work within reasonable figures, it has never been the expectation of the Road Department, nor of this Commission, that this particular job would show any financial gain to the State from this method of doing the work The reasons therefor are obvious The number of men employed was not sufficient to warrant establishing a regular camp or the detailing of cooks for their service Meals have been procured by contract It has also been necessary, on account of the defects in the law above mentioned, to return the prisoners to the State Prison every night This has occasioned a very large charge for transportation The experiment has, however, furnished some valuable data It has shown, in the first place, that labor on the roads, instead of being considered as a hardship, is regarded by prisoners as a reward for good conduct There is an earnest striving on their part not to forfeit what they consider the privilege of the comparative freedom afforded them by road work There has not been a single case of insolence or insubordination or disorder among the men employed While they are undoubtedly a picked lot, it is felt that the men themselves will see to the discipline of any prisoner who might become unruly

It is the opinion of this Commission that if the work is to be a success it should be to the financial advantage of the State as well as to the moral and physical advantage of the prisoners The latter purposes have been reached in the experiment The former can be reached provided the law is so changed as to give the Prison Labor Commission the right to send prisoners anywhere in the State and to dispense with guards within their discretion It would also be necessary to authorize the purchasing or renting by the Road Department of such machinery and other equipment as is necessary for the efficient performance of the work

The work on the White Horse pike consisted largely in doing by hand that which could be much more cheaply done by machinery

The attitude of the public, as shown not only by comments in the press and correspondence, but by the interest taken by the traveling public in the men themselves, has been most encouraging These has been no evidence of morbid curiosity or a desire to tease or humiliate, the men

The Commission feels that it should acknowledge the generous help of certain citizens of the State who by their private contributions have supplied the funds necessary for paying for the guarding of the prisoners and for some of their clothing which could not be supplied by the State Prison authorities and payments for which were not felt to be warranted under the law The Commission also bears witness to the interest shown in this work by the Board of Inspectors of the State Prison and the principal keeper of that institution

The Commission has studied, as far as possible, the work done by other States Based on this study and on the results shown by the work on the White Horse pike, your Commission heartily favors and recommends to the Legislature the extension of the outdoor work of convicts

The resolution under which the Commission was organized included in its scope the employment of all convicted persons, both State and county prisoners Your Commission believes that the principle of outdoor employment may be extended to include convict misdemeanants sentenced to terms in county jails or county penitentiaries, and that authority to so employ such prisoners should be conferred upon the county authorities under rules and regulations to be established by the Prison Labor Commission, as provided for in act of 1911

Respectfully submitted,

An act authorizing the appointment of jury commissioners for each of the counties of this State, and regulating the selection of grand and petit jurors by such commissioners

1 Immediately after the passage and approval of this act, each of the judges of the circuit court of this State who are appointed pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-nine of an act entitled "An act relative to the Supreme and Circuit Courts (Revision of 1900)," and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, shall appoint, for each of the counties of his judicial district, three reputable persons for each county, residents therein, not attorneys-at-law, no two of whom shall have the same political affiliation, who shall be known and designated as "The Commissioners of Juries of , , , County" The certification of appointment by the circuit judge shall be filed in the office of the county clerk, and no other commission shall be necessary At the time of appointing the first commissioners, the judge shall designate one to serve for one year, one for two years and one for three years, thereafter appointments shall be made for the full term of three years Each commissioner shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, take and subscribe an oath before the judge of the circuit court by whom appointed, faithfully and impartially to execute the duties of the said office, to select none as jurors except those whom he believes to be of good repute for honesty and intelligence, and to select no one who has requested or whom he has been requested to select as juror, according to the best of his skill and understanding, which oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county within and for which such commissioner is appointed. The commissioners of juries shall hold no other public office while so acting, and shall receive such compensation as the judge of the circuit court shall order and direct, which shall be paid monthly upon the certificate of the said judge by the county collector, provided that such compensation shall, in counties of the first class, not exceed two thousand dollars, in counties of the second class, fifteen hundred dollars, in other counties, not to exceed one thousand dollars, to each commissioner in any one year. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of the commissioner of juries by reason of death, resignation, removal from the county, disqualification, as hereinafter provided, or any other cause, such vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term, except as hereinafter provided in case of temporary disqualification, by appointment made in the same manner as original appointments are made, and in the case of temporary absence, disability or disqualification of any commissioner, the said judge of the circuit court shall appoint some fit person to perform the duties of such commissioner during such absence, disability or disqualification. The person so appointed shall take the same oath of office and be entitled to receive the emoluments of said office during the period of service.

2. Any commissioner of juries may be removed at any time by the judge of the circuit court, when it shall be established to his satisfaction that such commissioner is physically or mentally unable properly to perform his duties, and is likely so to continue, or neglects to perform his duty, or improperly or unfaithfully performs the same. Any commissioner of juries, or all of them, may be temporarily disqualified by the said judge of the circuit court when it shall appear to his satisfaction that such commissioner of juries or all of them is or are accused of crime, or has or have an interest (by relationship, or otherwise, in or with any person who is or may be so accused, or in any subject matter which is to be, or may be, presented to a grand or petit jury at a term of court following), to such an extent as to render uncertain the administration of justice

3 Upon entry into office, the said commissioners of juries of each county shall proceed to make a complete list, alphabetically arranged, of the names of all persons in their respective counties liable to jury duty, with their places of abode, designating their respective townships, boroughs and wards, which list, when completed, shall be certified by the said commissioners under oath to be a true and correct list of all the persons liable to jury duty in their respective counties, so far as they can ascertain, which said list shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county, there to remain of record This list shall be revised and corrected by the said commissioners every year thereafter, adding the names of such persons who have become subject to jury duty since the last correction of such lists, and striking out the names of such persons who have died, removed, or otherwise become disqualified, and for the purpose of preparing and correcting such lists, the said commissioners shall have access to the assessment rolls and registry lists of the several wards and townships and election districts of the county for which they are appointed, and the records of the registrars of vital statistics therein

4 On a day and at a time to be fixed by said judge, not more than thirty days before each term of court held in and for such county, which may be done by an order to that effect to continue in force until modified, the said commissioners shall, in open court, in the presence of such judge, or, in his absence, in the presence of a judge of the Court of Common Pleas, select from the said lists such number of names as the judge of said circuit court may, by order, direct, from which to draw a panel of jurors to serve for the next ensuing term of court, which shall in no case, be less than treble the number actually required for such panel, regard being had in making such selection to securing, as far as practicable, a fair and just representation from the several portions of such county, and the said commissioners shall, in like manner, select from said lists the names of seventy-five persons for service as grand jurors, regard being had in making such selection to the qualifications of the persons so selected on account of ability, independence and integrity, and from the names of the persons so selected for petit jurors and grand jurors, the petit jurors and grand jurors who shall serve for the next ensuing term of the courts of such county shall be drawn as hereinafter provided

5 The said commissioners shall, at the same time the said names are selected as herein provided, both for petit jurors and grand jurors, publicly announce the names so selected for each class of jurors, and shall cause the same to be separately written on slips of paper, of the same size, color and shape, as near as may be, which slips shall be folded so as to conceal the name thereon, and one of the said commissioners shall deposit the slips containing the names so selected for petit jurors in one box and the names so selected for grand jurors in another box, and the selection of names shall so proceed until the necessary number have been selected, written down by a commissioner, and deposited in the boxes as aforesaid

6 Immediately after the names so selected have been deposited in the boxes as aforesaid, the said commissioners, or one of them, shall, in the presence of said judge, proceed to draw from the said box containing the names of the persons selected for grand jurors (first having caused the slips therein deposited to be shaken and mixed together in such manner as to thoroughly intermingle the pieces of paper contained therein), the names of thirty persons, to serve as grand jurors in and for such county for the next ensuing term of the courts thereof, and shall, in like manner, draw from the box containing the names of the persons selected for petit jurors such number as the said circuit judge shall direct, who shall constitute the panel of petit jurors to serve in and for such county for the next ensuing term of the courts thereof, the names so drawn as aforesaid, both of petit jurors and grand jurors, shall be transcribed by the clerk of the court as they are read, and publicly announced by the said commissioners, and two lists of the same, certified by the said commissioners and the said judge, shall thereupon be made, one of which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of such county as a public record, and the other transmitted to the sheriff of said county, who shall thereupon cause the persons so drawn, constituting the grand jury and panel of petit jurors for such county, to be summoned to serve as such according to law, provided, that the said judge may in any case direct that a part of the panel of petit jurors so drawn may be summoned to appear at a day in term to be designated, to serve for the balance of such term, and the judge may in his discretion at any time during the term discharge such part of the panel of jurors summoned as in his judgment will not be needed for further service

7 No person included in any of the following classes shall be selected to serve or serve as grand jurors, in addition to those already disqualified by law

(1) No person who himself, or as a member of a firm or corporation, is engaged in the manufacture or sale of vinous, malt or spirituous liquors,

(2) No person who himself, or in connection with others, owns premises in or upon which vinous, malt or spiritous liquors are manufactured or sold,

(3) No person who was, at any time within two years prior to the session of the grand jury then being selected, a candidate for elective office, or an election officer, or a member of a candidate's election committee

8 Before any grand jury is sworn, the members thereof shall be interrogated by the presiding judge of the court in which such grand jury is organized, to determine whether any person selected and summoned for service upon such grand jury comes within any of the classes disqualified for service upon a grand jury by this, or any other, statute of this State, reciting the causes of disqualification contained in this and the other statutes, and if it shall appear that any such person is so disqualified, he shall be excused from service before the grand jury is sworn The names of the persons so disqualified shall be struck off the list of the grand jury, and the next following names upon the list shall be called, until there are present twenty-three grand jurors against whom no disqualification exists

9 The court in which the grand jury shall be sworn in any county in this State shall select and designate one of the grand jurors so drawn and selected as aforesaid, to act as foreman thereof, who shall be sworn so to act, and shall excuse or discharge the remainder of the said jurors after twenty-three have been sworn

10 Any person having served as petit juror at a term of the courts of any county shall be ineligible to serve again as petit juror in and for the said county until two terms of the said courts shall have elapsed, and any person who shall have served as a grand juror in and for any county shall be ineligible to serve again as grand juror until two terms of the courts of such county shall have elapsed

11 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately, so far as the appointment of commissioners and the performance of their duties is concerned The first grand and petit juries, however, to be selected by this method shall be those selected and summoned for the terms of courts next following after the fourth day of July, nineteen hundred and thirteen

12 If any proviso, clause or section of this act shall be attacked in any court and shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, the rest of this act shall stand, and the proviso, clause or section declared invalid or unconstitutional shall be exscinded from this act
