JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my this eleventh day of January, A. D. 1966.

ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,
Secretary of State.

Mr. Sandman administered the Oath of Office to the Senators-elect.

Mr. Ridolfi nominated Mr. Ozzard for the office of temporary President. The nomination was seconded by Mr. Scholz. There being no further nominations, Mr. Ozzard was declared elected to the office of temporary President by voice vote.

Messrs. Waddington and Hillery escorted Mr. Ozzard to the rostrum.

Mr. Ridolfi moved to proceed to the election of a permanent President of the Senate for the one hundred twenty-second session of the Senate.

Mr. Ridolfi nominated Mr. Lynch for the office of permanent President of the Senate. Mr. Forsythe seconded the nomination. The Secretary was directed to call the roll:

In the affirmative were—

Messrs. Bigley, Crabel, Farley, Feldman, Fernicola, Forsythe, Giblin, Goldman, Guarini, Hiering, Hillery, Hughes, Hunt, Inge, Keegan, Kelly, Kiefer, Musto, O'Connor, Ozzard, Parsekian, Ridolfi, Scholz, Stamler, Stout, Waddington, Woolfenden—27.

In the negative—None.

Mr. Lynch was declared elected President of the Senate for the legislative year and was escorted to the rostrum by Messrs. Crabel, Stout and Kelly, where the oath of office was administered by Joseph Weintraub, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Following this Mr. Lynch introduced members of his family and then addressed the members of the Senate as follows:

SPEECH BY SENATE PRESIDENT JOHN A. LYNCH

ACCEPTING THE SENATE PRESIDENCY ON

JANUARY 11, 1966

My good friends and colleagues. You have granted me today the highest honor the Senate can bestow upon one of its own. For this I am grateful and I thank you. But despite the depth of my gratitude to you I would be remiss if I did not extend my warmest thanks to the people of Middlesex County, who started it all by sending me here, and especially to my wonderful family whose patient acceptance of the demands of government truly made all of this possible. To them, my friends and family, and to you, my friends and fellow legislators on both sides of the aisle, I pledge to administer this office impartially and with all the vigor at my command, while trusting ultimately in the good will of all Senators to assure both a harmonious and productive session.

We have assumed office in a period of momentous change. Today we number 29 where yesterday we were 21. Today we are interim when a short time ago the continuance of historic tradition was unquestioned.

But we must not, indeed, for the sake of New Jersey, we cannot assume that our interim status calls for caretaker government. Rather, the aspirations of the people demand that we consider and act into law, a program designed to meet the neglected needs of the 1960's and provide for the requirements of generations now on the threshold of adulthood: tomorrow's college students, job-seekers, fathers and mothers.

In this regard another historic change is noted. It is, of course, the assumption of Senate leadership by the Democratic Party for the first time in half a century. Shortly we shall adjourn to the Assembly chambers to receive a message by the recently re-elected head of that party, our great Governor Richard J. Hughes. He will, I am sure, discuss State needs which when fulfilled shall satisfy many of the hopes and dreams of our people. No doubt he will recommend to us action in behalf of education, institutions, highways, law enforcement, air and water pollution abatement, and many other vital fields. I, for one, believe that these are areas in which the entire Senate, regardless of party, is united in its determination to act. And for this reason I extend a most cordial and sincere invitation to our Republican colleagues to join in implementing the Governor's program, not because it is his program but because it contains the bricks and mortar to build the kind of future for New Jersey which all of us have been sent here to assure.

We shall, of course, have a public record, regardless of party—regardless of what we do—regardless of what we neglect to do. But it is my hope that the place in history of the New Jersey Senate of 1966 will be positive and proud, marked by courage and compassion, achieved with trust, together.

To help expedite the passage of this program and insure a maximum amount of public participation, the new Senate rules provide for an active committee system, breaking, thereby, with the practice of the past which saw Appropriations and Judiciary as virtually the only committees which ever met. We are determined that the committees shall become an integral part of the legislative process, giving full opportunity for open discussion on the merits of legislation. Moreover, to help the committees realize their full potential I have accepted an offer by the Eagleton Institute of Politics at Rutgers to provide staff assistance by a number of graduate students. These volunteers, with both Democrats and Republicans among them, can serve as useful research assistants and staff aides until the day, in the not too distant future, when the Legislature is fully staffed. Although specific assignments have not been made as yet, I intend to meet with the Majority and Minority Leaders in the near future so as to determine the best possible use of this pool of valuable talent.

The new life which shall be breathed into the committee system is accompanied by a change in the method of acting upon gubernatorial appointments requiring the advice and consent of the Senate. Today we have lifted the veil of secrecy which too often beclouded the fate of nominations and too often besmirched the reputation of the Senate. No longer will doubt be cast upon the integrity or qualifications of nominees by a refusal to confirm without public reason or vote. From this day on all nominees requesting an open hearing shall have one; all votes, both in committee and in the Senate shall be made public; and, all nominations shall come before the Senate for a vote—automatically.

These new rules point the way toward the farthest reaching of all the new developments—the end of caucus rule. The removal of that onus today spells, we trust, its end forever. We are proud that this most significant of changes has taken place in 1966 and hope that it will foreshadow a new confidence by the people in the Senate.

And so, to repeat, it is a time of change. But also, as we have seen, a time of opportunity. Our duty is clear—a new era of progress for New Jersey. And our responsibility is heavy—the destiny of almost seven million people. But our reward for keeping faith with the hopes of the people will be the assurance of their good will and the personal satisfaction of having done our job well.

Thank you.

Mr. Ridolfi moved to proceed to the election of a permanent Secretary of the Senate for the 1966 Legislative Session, which motion was adopted.

Mr. Bigley nominated Robert E. Gladden of the county of Camden, whose nomination was seconded by Mr. Scholz. There being no further nominations President Lynch directed Henry H. Patterson to call the roll:

In the affirmative were—

Messrs. Bigley, Crabel, Farley, Feldman, Fernicola, Forsythe, Giblin, Goldman, Guarini, Hiering, Hillery, Hughes, Hunt, Inge, Keegan, Kelly, Kiefer, Lynch (President), Musto, O'Connor, Ozzard, Parsekian, Ridolfi, Scholz, Stamler, Stout, Waddington, Woolfenden—28.

In the negative—None.

President Lynch declared Mr. Gladden elected permanent Secretary and also administered the oath of office to Mr. Gladden.

Upon announcement by President Lynch that the Senate has organized and is now ready to proceed to business, the session was opened with prayer by Rev. Thomas J. Odea.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Bigley, Crabel, Farley, Feldman, Fernicola, Forsythe, Giblin, Goldman, Guarini, Hierung, Hillery, Hughes, Hunt, Inge, Keegan, Kelly, Kiefer, Lynch (President), Musto, O'Connor, Ozzard, Parsekian, Ridolfi, Scholz, Stamler, Stout, Waddington, Woolfenden—28.

Mr. Keegan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

WHEREAS, Our highly esteemed colleague, Senator Anthony J. Grossi, has been taken ill and is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital in Paterson; and

WHEREAS, His illness is a matter of sincere regret to his many friends both within and without the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, His presence and wise counsel are sorely missed and particularly so, on this day marking the opening of the 1966 Legislative Year; now, therefore,

Resolved, That Leon Leopardi, of the County of Atlantic, be appointed Journal Clerk of the Senate for the legislative year at a salary of $3,500.00.

Mr. Ridolfi offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Senate Resolution No. 1, entitled "A resolution to create an investigating committee consisting of 5 members, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, with power to investigate any public body receiving funds in whole or in part from the State."

1. There is hereby created a committee to be known as the "Senate Investigating Committee" to be composed of 5 Senators to be named by the President of the Senate, who shall constitute a committee for the purpose of investigating the finances, affairs and operations of any and all departments, boards, officers and commissions of the State Government, and all other bodies and political subdivisions of the State who shall be receiving State moneys or public funds of any kind. The committee is authorized to examine into the pay and duties of the employees and the conduct of the work and affairs of all such boards and political subdivisions of the State who shall be receiving State moneys, for the purpose of recommending ways and means of reducing costs of administration and promoting efficiency.

2. Such committee shall serve without pay, but is authorized to employ counsel and such accounting, investigating, clerical or other assistants as it may deem necessary.

3. Such committee shall have the power to subpoena and examine witnesses and any accounts, records, or other matter pertaining to the operating of any department or departments of the State Government, of any political subdivisions of the State, or of any other body receiving State moneys or public funds of any kind, or of any bi-state commission which may be acting jointly with another State.

4. The committee may appoint a secretary who need not be a member of the committee. Said committee shall meet from time to time, hold hearings and examinations in a manner and in places which to them may seem best and proper.

5. Any agency, board or department of the State Government, any officer or employee of any political subdivision of the State or of any other body receiving State funds, and the officers and employees of any bi-state commission which may be acting jointly with another State, shall furnish to such committee such information, records, and data as may be required for a comprehensive analysis of the operation and financial affairs of such agency, board or commission, or other public body, including any bi-state commission, as from time to time such committee shall determine.

6. Investigations and examinations may be made privately or publicly, but it shall be unlawful for any person to divulge the results of any investigation or examination to any person or persons other than such committee, unless a public hearing shall have been first held. Whenever any person shall be examined by such committee or by its duly authorized representative or representatives, under the powers contained in this act, at a public hearing, the officer, department, board, bureau, commission or individual under investigation or scrutiny may, through his or its authorized representative or representatives, cross-examine any such person or any phase of the matter concerning which he has been examined or questioned, and such officer, department, board, bureau, commission or individual may introduce other evidence to explain, enlarge upon, or clarify the matter, situation or condition under investigation or scrutiny to the end that the full details of any such matter, situation or condition may be developed and presented at one and the same time.

7. This committee shall remain in effect and force until the opening day of the 1967 Legislature, notwithstanding any sine die adjournment.

Mr. Ridolfi offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

JOHN J. MILLER, JR.,
Clerk of the General Assembly.

Mr. Ridolfi offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Senate now recess and proceed to the Assembly Chamber for the purpose of receiving the Annual Message of the Governor.

Following is the Fourth Annual Message of Governor Richard J. Hughes, which was delivered to the 190th Legislature of New Jersey in the Assembly Chamber:

FOURTH ANNUAL MESSAGE RICHARD J. HUGHES,
GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

Today marks an historic end and at the same time, a beginning. The public debate of the recent campaign is ended. The people have dramatically expressed their decision as to where New Jersey must go in order to emerge as a modern first-line State. And, this decision binds us all, for the election mandate, as that of any other American election, draws us together in a unity demanded by the people.

Thus, the work of this 190th session of the New Jersey Legislature will point the way. It will, by the mere fact of its existence, hold a special place in New Jersey's history. For this is the first Legislature to have both its houses apportioned on the basis of population. This is the first Legislature in more than 50 years to meet under the leadership in both houses of the Democratic Party. Our presence here today, therefore, makes history.

But presence is no substitute for action. What is to be historic in the days ahead is what will be done in this great chamber and in the Senate. Temporary though this body may be, the problems it faces are not temporary and they will not be reapportioned away. They must be faced and they must be solved. The people's vote of confidence in the recent election did not mean that our past record was perfect or complete. Those of you who will be seeking re-election to the permanent Legislature will be doing so on the record of the next two years. Indeed, if the vote of the people means anything, it is a call to greatness, a call to achievement, a call to action.

FISCAL REFORM

Therefore, I propose in this message a program of action, a program to maintain New Jersey in the first rank of American States.

As we begin this undertaking, the people of New Jersey know that their State government is today the most economically operated in the United States. By any standard, we are the last or nearly last in State spending and State taxation. And I pledge to continue our efforts to contain the costs of government. For example, the Commission to Study Efficiency and Economy in State Government recently completed a pilot study of the Health Department. It made a number of recommendations which we intend to implement. To reach their full potential, the activities of this Commission should be regularized and placed on a continuing basis. The people of New Jersey are entitled to know that the State government, while asking them to make new sacrifices, will assure that every tax dollar produces 100 cents in public services.

While we must continue to spend the State's money wisely and efficiently, we must also make certain that we move to meet undeniable needs. The very heart of any program to meet these needs is tax reform. This would include: (1) improved utilization of existing financial resources and (2) a substantial increase in available resources in order to pay for programs which are essential to the progress of New Jersey.

Business Personalty Replacement

As to the first matter, the Governor's Committee on Local Property Taxation last month recommended the elimination of the local business personal property tax and the replacement of the revenues which would otherwise be lost to the communities. This levy, as historically administered in New Jersey, has cast an ever-lengthening shadow over the generally bright business picture in our State. Inherent in the locally administered business personalty tax has been the threat of "tax lightning"—unpredictable and sometimes devastating shifts in business tax liability. At the same time, the local taxes on business have had little or no regard for the ability of business to pay. This has deterred many enterprises—and the employment that they would bring—from locating in New Jersey.

The proposals of that Committee would remedy these long-standing inequities and replace the uncertainties of the past with a predictable and equitable series of levies based in large part on ability to pay. Under this proposal, the replacement revenues would be collected by the State on a uniform basis and redistributed to the municipalities in a manner that would insure that no community would lose even one dollar. The Committee's recommendations deserve your most urgent attention and action. If no action is taken this year, the dual tax rate provision of the law will expire and $40 million in taxes will be shifted abruptly to the real property taxpayer. This is little short of a governmental "time bomb;" it should not be allowed to explode.

The proposed reform of business property taxation, while salutary in its impact, is but one phase of the new financial foundation for a dynamic New Jersey. For such reform will not relieve the burden on local real property taxpayers; it will not build the new colleges, highways and institutions; it will not make provisions for the public health, for commuter rail transportation; it will not provide for many other necessities.

For an Income Tax

Therefore, I renew the proposal that I first advanced February 3, 1964, that the Legislature enact a graduated personal income tax at rates ranging from 1 to 5 per cent to meet the essential needs of New Jersey. I am well aware of the reluctance with which any legislator must approach a vote for a "broad base tax" in a State which for a very long time has prided itself on the absence of such a tax. But that pride has been tarnished by our obvious shortcomings in the meeting of our public obligations. Therefore, I think that no legislator can expect reward for inaction that perpetuates such public neglect; indeed the opposite is more likely to follow.

After deep consideration, I again recommend an income tax, rather than a general sales tax. The income tax, at rates half those of New York State, is based on ability to pay. The sales tax, no matter what reasonable exemptions are made, must affect senior citizens, lower income groups and working families more adversely than the income tax. These are the very groups which today are forced to spend almost their entire incomes on the necessities of life. Thus a sales tax would work real hardship on these groups of New Jersey citizens. Furthermore, a sales tax would mean two broad base taxes on the many thousands of New Jerseyans who commute to work in New York and Philadelphia and who already pay a tax on income earned there.

Advocates of a sales tax assert that a major portion of the levy would be paid by out-of-state visitors to New Jersey. This is not borne out by the facts. Much of the spending by out-of-staters is on items that would be exempt under the tax. Realistic estimates as to the revenue from out-of-state visitors place the figure at $10 million or less. Thus, almost 95 per cent of the sales tax burden would be borne by the people of New Jersey and, to a great degree, by those least able to pay.

As against the out-of-state revenue, we should not forget the vast retail business which has developed in the counties bordering New York City and Pennsylvania, each with a 5 per cent sales tax. Not only would the proposed 3 per cent sales tax wipe out 60 per cent of New Jersey retail business's competitive advantage, but the sales tax would impose a costly new burden on all New Jersey retailers who would have to act as accountants and tax collectors for the State. The setback to the growth of New Jersey retail business and its jobs that is inherent in the loss of this competitive advantage, plus the additional collection costs, would dwarf the gain from sales taxes paid by visitors and travelers in New Jersey.

You in the Legislature, as well as the public, are entitled to an immediate and thorough clarification of this administration's plans to put to work these new millions of dollars. Therefore, I do not intend to let such clarification wait until the Budget Message. I shall now spell out my financial program, to the extent that it is based on the income tax.

I propose that the income tax be computed upon the entire 1966 income. Our fiscal authorities have calculated that a 1 to 5 per cent income tax would yield $180 million the first year. Because of the provisions for withholding, there would be added an additional $52.5 million to the tax collections up to June 30, 1967. Thus, during the fiscal period ending on that date, there would be available a total of $232.5 million in new funds to meet the vital needs of the State and of our local governmental units.

The Program

From the $180 million in recurring revenue, I propose the following program, which would be in addition to the regular budgeted program of State government:

(Millions)

$90	State aid to Local School Districts
30	College Construction
12	Institutions and Agencies Construction
10	State Highway Construction
5	Advance Purchase of Right-Of-Way (State Highway)
15	State Aid to County and Local Highways
5.5	Commuter Assistance
.75	1,500 Incentive Scholarships ($500 each)
.25	Graduate Scholarships and Fellowships
9	State Aid to Health Departments and Sewerage Programs
2.5	Chapter 51 "Save Harmless" Fund (2 years only)

$180

From the revenues which will be available only during the initial fiscal period because of the withholding provisions, I propose the following allocation:

(Millions)

$20	Additional College Construction
32.5	To Cover the Ordinary Budget Deficit and Reserve for Emergencies

$52.5

The increase of $90 million in State financial assistance to local education represents almost a doubling of the State's formula aid. This increased State assistance has assumed an extremely high priority in any discussion of New Jersey's fiscal reform. I have requested that the present formulas be reviewed to determine whether any revision would be appropriate at this time. Any recommendation I may have with regard to the formula will be presented to the Legislature before action is requested on the income tax bill. In any event the total increase in education aid will amount to $90 million.

The proposal for increased State aid to county and municipal highways would approximately double the funds now available for that purpose. Such an increase is long overdue.

I have proposed that $9 million be allocated for State assistance to local health programs. These programs will encourage critically needed services while at the same time having a beneficial impact on local governmental costs.

In addition, I am proposing $5 million be provided over the next two years for the initial cost of Chapter 51 replacement. This would permit municipalities to receive, by way of replacement revenue, the benefit of the highest business personal property taxes collected in either 1964 or 1965.

Thus, $116.5 million, or almost 2/3 of the $180 million in annual new revenue, will be returned to the counties and municipalities to help reduce the pressures on the local property tax—in other words, the local homeowner, rentpayer and businessman.

$50 Million for Colleges

New Jersey must begin to erase the shameful statistic which shows us, the sixth wealthiest state per capita in the Nation, in 48th place in our support of higher education.

I have, therefore, proposed that a total of $50 million be allocated for the construction of higher education facilities during the first year. This sum is $10 million greater than the 1964 bond issue approved by the people and would mean a start of $90 million toward the $196.8 million in new construction which the distinguished Citizens Committee for Higher Education in New Jersey says is essential.

The allocation for increased scholarship aid would provide an expanded program of 1,500 incentive scholarships each valued at $500. This would provide needy qualified students with as much as $1,000 when combined with a regular State scholarship. It would also provide for fellowships and scholarships for needy students in graduate and professional programs. Such an incentive graduate program is necessary if this State is going to compete for its share of business in a world which is dependent more and more upon the skills and talents of those with advanced education.

For our institutions, I have recommended $12 million for capital construction which would be in addition to the $50 million bond issue approved by the people in 1964. This will enable us to meet our profound human responsibilities in this area on a prudent, pay-as-you-go basis.

In addition to the $15 million increase for State aid for local and county highways, I have proposed that a similar sum be provided for State highway purposes. Of this amount, $5 million would be allocated for advanced purchase of right-of-way—and thus permit savings of additional millions—and $10 million for construction of projects wholly financed from State funds. The current budget will allocate sufficient funds to match entirely the Federal money available to State government.

Last year's budget provided $7.5 million for commuter assistance. Subsequently, there was a supplemental appropriation of $3 million for the same purpose. I propose that we add $5.5 million from the income tax to the $7.5 million allocated from existing sources last year, making available a total of $13 million for assistance to commuter railroads. Without such assistance, the essential components of this most essential service are certain to collapse.

Averting Other Tax Rises

In the four years of my first administration, I was compelled but once to recommend to the Legislature increases in existing revenue sources to meet the mounting costs of continuing programs. Were it not for the proposed income tax, I would be forced again this year to request increases in present taxes or the levying of new taxes. We face a gap between anticipated revenues in 1966-67 and increased costs of existing programs during the year. This could exceed $20 million.

Because the income tax would be applicable to 1966 income in its entirety, we can bridge this gap from the $52.5 million in additional revenue available because of that retroactivity. Thus, the income tax will avert any need for increasing other levies.

Such use of the fund will nevertheless permit the $20 million allocation for additional college construction and a moderate reserve for emergencies.

I think it is important, in the context of this fiscal discussion, to take notice of another pending public obligation that will come due in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1967. I refer to the "deintegration" of Social Security and the Public Employees' Retirement System and the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. Both major parties are committed to support of this program, not only on the basis of their pledges, but recognizing that thousands of public servants should have this opportunity to receive the full value of Social Security retirement benefits.

Because the first financial obligation of the State will not come due until the following fiscal year, I do not provide for such payment here or in the Budget Message. Nevertheless, I am assured by our fiscal authorities that the greater flexibility that will result from the broadening of the tax base by an income tax will enable us to finance the deintegration program, beginning in fiscal 1967-68. Therefore, the Legislature should be prepared to enact the necessary legislation soon after achievement of the basic fiscal solution.

The Undeniable Needs

Recommending and, indeed, fighting for a new tax has not been one of the easier duties of my term as Governor. But a duty it has been. Now it becomes your duty to review carefully these proposals, drafted within the stern limits of prudence and necessity. I do not ask you for blind acceptance; in fact, you have an obligation to eliminate any proposal that you find extravagant or unsound. But there are undeniable needs which must be met. He who fails to provide for these needs must deny their existence. And who in this room can honestly do so?

I ask the members of my own party to remember the solemn pledges of performance which we jointly made in every county of this State during the recent election campaign. As to the members of the minority party, there are few if any who have opposed education, local tax relief, improved institutional care and transportation survival. In this sense and on this issue how can there be a majority party or a minority party in this Legislature? We are, in fact, a New Jersey party, if we care for the security and the progress of New Jersey. Can conscience and courage combine to bring us to unity at least on this overriding issue?

Human Rights

We can take pride in New Jersey's accomplishments in the area of human rights. But all that has been done has not been enough. Despite our early and unswerving commitment to the goal of full equality for all persons, many of our citizens remain on the fringes of an abundant society, deprived of hope, and denied opportunity because their skins are dark, because of their national origin or that of their forebears, because of religion, because of age. Man's imagination could conceive of no more irrational guides by which to measure the worth of an individual than race, national origin, religion or age, but yet persons are being relegated to the backwashes of society for no greater reasons. I call upon this Legislature and upon all the people of this State to put an end to this immoral and wasteful practice.

Many will say that we have reached the point where additional legislation is not needed—that only through education will the problems of prejudice and intolerance be solved. I cannot agree that the legislative program is complete and I today set forth proposals for new measures. But I would point out that government's responsibility does not end with the enactment of laws. If education is needed, then government should educate. Government must set an example. To this end, I have recently announced the creation of the Interdepartmental Committee on Equal Opportunity to be headed by the Attorney General to further assure that fair practices and equal opportunity are realities in government and in government-supported activities.

Further, it is the policy of this administration, through its Department of Education, to make every effort to eliminate de facto segregation or racial imbalance in the public schools. Equality of educational opportunity is an absolute must in a democratic society.

There remain, however, additional steps that can and should be taken:

—The too-long postponed amendment to the fair housing law which would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of private housing.

—An optional rent control law which would grant municipalities the authority to protect their citizens from unscrupulous slumlords.

—A revision of the tenement house law which has not been substantially changed since its enactment in 1904.

—Providing the Division on Civil Rights with additional funds for many purposes including expansion of police-community relations programs.

—Transfer of the function of prohibiting discrimination in public works contracts from the Department of Labor and Industry to the Department of Law and Public Safety.

—Strengthening the State Division of Aging which has contributed significantly to the needs of our senior citizens.

—Strengthening the State's war against poverty which has set a standard of achievement for the entire country. In addition, I recommend prompt action by the Legislature on the proposal of last year which would clarify the rights of counties and municipalities to contract with nonprofit groups to carry out the purposes of the poverty program.

Education

In the fulfillment of the mission of these crucial years, our attention must also focus upon an area in which we are obviously deficient—education.

It falls to each generation in each society to educate its own successors. If it does so badly, then it fails in one of its noblest opportunities. If it does this well, society draws new life, new vision and new imagination from its own success.

Higher education continues to be one of our most serious responsibilities. For the young people of New Jersey expect us to create new opportunities for a college education. Change in our higher education system is certain, and the Legislature can expect new proposals in the near future, but we should begin immediately to create the foundations for educational excellence in our State.

Recent figures prepared by the Department of Education indicate that we must triple or even quadruple our student capacity by 1975. The people of New Jersey have a right and, indeed an obligation, to demand a prompt response to this challenge. If we are to move forward in this area, as in many others, a new source of revenue is imperative.

I stated above that our first steps toward the 1970's include $50 million of this year's budget for college construction, strengthening the State scholarship system by the addition of 1,500 incentive scholarships, and the introduction of a State program of graduate fellowships.

Incentives for Needy Students

The incentive scholarships are intended to encourage qualified needy students, who might otherwise stop their education at the high school level, to attend college. To help insure the attainment of this purpose, the appropriate officials should be provided with sufficient funds to permit them to reach out to disadvantaged students who should participate in this program. If there is any resource we should not waste, it must be the brains and talent of our youth. I shall request the appropriation of such funds.

In addition, I shall submit legislation to establish a New Jersey College Dormitory and Building Authority. This new agency will give us added flexibility and capacity for meeting the explosion in student population.

The expansion of our colleges and university will require action on many fronts, such as a task force on faculty recruitment, a special salary review board, and, most importantly, master planning for the allocation of new revenues. I shall make specific recommendations on these matters after a determination is made on the best structure for higher education in New Jersey.

Our interests, however, are not limited to higher education. The allocation of one-half the new revenues to the cost of local education is proof of that. And, the Federal government in recent years has taken a firmer role in encouraging primary and secondary education in the states. Its participation in this vital program is welcome. The possibilities that have been created as a result of Federal participation, however, place upon the states an even greater responsibility in the area of public education. During the past year, representatives of the 50 states have been consulting on an interstate compact for education which would provide a formal mechanism for cooperation among the states themselves and between the states and the Federal government. I shall submit this compact to the Legislature for its consideration.

A Commitment to Culture

The relationship between government and the arts, once distant, this year experienced a rebirth both at the state and national levels.

All around us we see the buildings of culture going up. The Commission to Study the Arts in New Jersey has issued a series of preliminary reports indicating our cultural achievements and our cultural deficiencies. Any recommendations, submitted by the Commission this year will warrant your close attention.

There is, however, one area in which the Legislature can act immediately. To move public support of culture and the arts one step forward, I shall recommend that the Legislature approve the establishment of a New Jersey Governor's Annual Art Purchase Award, initially allocating $5,000 for the permanent acquisition and display of original works of art by New Jersey artists in our new State Museum.

Law Enforcement

For all of the advances of modern technology, an effective law enforcement apparatus still stands as the ultimate barrier between civilization and the jungle of crime. Some say that the worst side of human nature never can be bettered by legislation; that government can at best conduct a holding operation against the forces of social disorder. I do not believe this. The fight against crime, against sharp dealing in the marketplace, against carnage on the highways can be won if government is given the tools to win it.

As an early item of legislative business, I am recommending the establishment of a Commission to Study the Causes and Control of Crime in New Jersey. Such a commission should be composed of the most distinguished and knowledgeable citizens available, and should be given the very best full-time professional staff. Like the Federal panel on which it would be patterned, our commission would be asked to conduct a searching inquiry into the environmental and psychological causes of criminal behavior, and to formulate practical proposals designed to eliminate these causes. Under the recently enacted Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Act, Federal funds could be made available for such a study. The old question of how and why criminals are made has never more clearly cried out for a definitive answer. We owe it to ourselves and succeeding generations to seek that answer.

The new Federal assistance program has given us an added incentive to qualify for federal aid for the operation of other pioneering projects. Last year, after years of repeated urging by my predecessor and myself, the Legislature finally approved a mandatory police training program to alleviate a serious lack of police training at the municipal level. At the same time, however, the Legislature did not enact my request for the modest sum of $25,000 to establish a course of professional police studies at Rutgers. Such a chair of police administration could qualify for further assistance under the Federal program, and I again urge that it be established. In addition, the New Jersey Police Training Commission has approached Federal officials with an imaginative plan to use mobile training classes throughout the State.

Unfinished Business

But while we seek new avenues of approach, we cannot forget the unfinished business on which legislative action has been denied for too many years. New Jersey still needs a uniform system of crime reporting, which in this age of the computer could be even more effective than first contemplated. We still need legislation to enable our law enforcement officials to secure vital evidence through a grant of witness immunity by court order in proper cases. Last year I asked the Legislature for a law which would have authorized stringent criminal penalties up to life imprisonment for narcotics peddlers who use children under 18 for their unspeakable traffic. I repeat this urgent request. I also shall ask this Legislature to pass a firearms control bill which will accomplish the minimal step of keeping deadly weapons out of the hands of former convicts, drug addicts, mental defectives, subversives and the like, while preserving the right of sportsmen and other law-abiding citizens to own firearms for legitimate purposes.

On a closely related front—for I regard the drunken driver as an equivalent to the criminal in action if not in intent—I repeat my long-standing requests for “driving while impaired” and “implied consent” legislation. I also shall renew my personal efforts to persuade the State of New York to raise its minimum drinking age to 21. We cannot rest in the face of this deadly attraction to our young people, who are lured to death and injury by this law of our sister state.

Further, our laws must continue to be directed toward fair and decent treatment in the marketplace for the consuming public. Last year’s second mortgage law was a big stride forward, but much more remains to be done. A model state securities registration act is now being prepared. Legislation is being developed to fight the evil of the loan shark. You will be asked to enact a long-needed revision of our present Weights and Measures Law, as well as legislation to supplement the existing penalties for violations of the consumer frauds law. These and other consumer protection measures will soon be offered for your consideration, and I commend them to your early attention.

A final word on the subject of law enforcement: The criminal law, particularly as applied in recent years by the United States Supreme Court, is now in a state of rapid change. New concepts are being expressed, including the right to counsel at all stages of a criminal proceeding, the validity and value of confessions, and the continued workability of the bail system. This Administration will continue to work closely with the courts and law enforcement officials to keep pace with these developments and stands ready to propose to you such measures in this important area as are within the legislative province. In particular, the Governor's Committee on Poverty and the Law is now formulating a program for the defense of the indigent. Its proposals will warrant your close attention.

Woodrow Wilson said 50 years ago that the first duty of law is to keep sound the society it serves. I know that you, the law-makers, will not disregard this paramount obligation to the people.

The Court System

The demands on our court system continued unabated during the past year. Increases in our population, more automobiles and a more prosperous and sophisticated society have resulted in the highest case load in our history. This is not a new problem. Each year I have pointed out the need for more judges. But we have achieved only partial solutions. The present needs of our Courts must be finally determined and fully met. I know this Legislature will not shirk its duty.

As a first step, I asked the Chief Justice to advise me as to what additional judges are now needed in the entire court system in order to insure the orderly and expeditious handling of our present case load. His study indicates that at least 29 additional Superior and County Court judges will be required to attempt to meet the rising court loads. Additional judges will also be required on the District and Juvenile Court levels. I intend, therefore, to submit for your consideration legislation to provide for this essential court expansion.

The creation of these additional judgeships when combined with the partial remedies of the past, will permit us to confront our calendar with a full complement of judges. We must recognize, however, that efficiency in the administration of justice is more than merely a question of numbers of judges. Accordingly, my administration is engaged in review of other aspects of our judicial system, and I shall not hesitate at a later date to present to you such recommendations as that review indicates are needed to achieve the most effective administration of justice.

Public Health

The need for new revenues is nowhere more apparent than in the program designed to protect the health of our citizens. I am repeating my request of last year for the enactment of a comprehensive program of State aid for local health services. The basic services now afforded by many of our municipalities are manifestly inadequate and the already overburdened tax structure of local government renders it unlikely that these services will be improved by local financing. The State must act now if our municipalities are to maintain at least minimum standards in this vital area.

Last year, the Legislature accepted my proposal of State aid for regional sewerage facilities but provided only a fraction of the appropriation requested to finance this program. Even the initial limited appropriation, however, has stimulated the development of 11 important regional pollution control engineering plans throughout the State. Such an encouraging experience suggests that this program should be expanded to broaden the class of eligible governmental units and to authorize additional loans and grants to spur the actual construction of sewerage facilities.

Effective control of water pollution also requires the establishment of a comprehensive plan at the State level for the construction of local sewerage facilities. The haphazard construction of many small and poorly located plants can be avoided by authorizing the Department of Health to deny construction permits for sewerage facilities which fail to conform to a standard of practicable regional planning. Such a bill will soon be placed before you.

Another great public health problem in New Jersey is proper disposal of solid waste. This problem is particularly critical in the populous northeastern area of the State and demands attention now before it worsens. A partial and immediate solution can be effected through licensure and other controls, in conjunction with available Federal assistance programs. Appropriate legislation will be introduced shortly.

Action for Efficiency

The recently filed report of the Legislative Committee to Study Efficiency and Economy in Government recommended a transfer of the function of inspecting hospitals and nursing homes, and the administration of Hill-Burton funds from the Department of Institutions and Agencies to the Department of Health. This proposal appears to be consistent with the normal functions and responsibilities of the Health Department, and is under active consideration.

The State continues to make substantial progress in the enforcement of legal sanctions against the pollution of our atmosphere. But additional air pollution controls are badly needed. The air pollution measures introduced last year have been revised to conform with recent Federal legislation on this subject and will be introduced as a first order of business. At the same time, studies are underway to determine the feasibility of tax exemption inducements to industry to install pollution control equipment.

There is another area concerning the public health of our citizens which also demands your prompt attention. For many years the Department of Health has been advocating a comprehensive revision of the State's food and drug laws. These laws have been modified only slightly since they were first adopted in 1907 and now are obsolete in many respects. I would hope, therefore, that the Legislature will give this revision a high priority.

If these programs can be adopted soon, there is no doubt that New Jersey soon will be a better place in which to live. It must be understood, however, that these programs must be adequately financed and coordinated. The maintenance of a realistic public health program requires immediate fiscal action on all fronts, and as I have indicated, my forthcoming budget recommendations will reflect that aim.

Water

During the past year, the State became fully aware of the extent to which the continuing drought has imperiled our water supply. We have now entered the fifth year of this record drought with no certain relief in sight. This means that we must continue and expand our conservation efforts if we are to assure our businesses, our farms and our cities an adequate supply of water.

Because of the seriousness of the situation last year, it was necessary for me to invoke emergency powers to avert a major disaster. With a continuation of the drought in prospect, it may be necessary to request the Legislature to enact a statute to grant additional emergency authority to the Department of Conservation and Economic Development to enable it to coordinate the distribution of our existing water supplies.

In the meantime, every available mechanism for expanding our water supply is being advanced:

- The North Jersey Water Supply Commission is now preparing to undertake the construction of the major transmission line for the State's reservoirs during this year.
- The Department has accelerated its program of reservoir site acquisitions. Two additional reservoir sites are now under final review.
- Investigation into the State's ground water resources has been intensified during the past year. A series of test programs will be continued.
- The feasibility of using converted sea water is being examined by the State in conjunction with the Federal government. Technical research is now being carried out by a working task force comprised of nationally prominent Federal and State experts. The government agencies are receiving excellent cooperation from the State's private utilities in this study.

Pilot Project

New Jersey is the first state in the Nation to have completed a pilot program using the reverse osmosis conversion process—converting brackish water to potable water. We are now awaiting the results of this pilot project.

In addition to these activities, the State is proceeding on two significant projects. The Department of Conservation and Economic Development is making preparations for the construction of the South River Tidal Dam Recharge Basin. This project is necessary to protect an existing water supply of 30 million gallons a day from sea water intrusion. Steps are also being taken to acquire the necessary land for the construction of the Six Mile Run Reservoir on the Millstone River. This project is necessary to provide additional storage capacity to accommodate the 100 million gallon daily diversion from the Delaware River Basin now authorized for State use.

I have also instructed the Department to complete work on the application which the State shall file with the Delaware River Basin Commission for additional diversion rights from the Delaware River. When the Tocks Island Dam is completed—and this is now projected for 1973—it is expected that we will be able to divert greater amounts of water from the Delaware River Basin than is now permitted. It is desirable that we move as promptly as possible on our application and obtain the Commission's approval so that the necessary planning of storage and distribution facilities can be completed and the construction undertaken on a timetable that will coincide with that of the Federal government.

The Economy—Business, Industry and Labor

New Jersey today enjoys one of the highest economic standards of living in its history, and at such a peak we find ourselves in the best position to survey our strong and weak points.

I believe that we must now make a maximum joint effort to right economic wrongs wherever they exist; to help increase profits by assisting established industry and commerce to expand while continuously encouraging new industry to locate in New Jersey; to develop new markets, foreign and domestic; foster municipal and regional economic planning, and train the workers and other personnel needed to move the great engine of our economic progress forward. And this must be done together—labor, private enterprise and government.

First and foremost New Jersey must grow up in the next hundred days as a modern, industrial State by establishing for the first time in our history a comprehensive Minimum Wage Law for all workingmen and women, with the fewest exceptions possible. We must also include a provision in such a law for higher or lower minimums in particular industries under separate wage board agreements where special economic conditions exist. Such a minimum wage must be a realistic one at least equal initially to the Federal minimum of $1.25, moving toward $1.50 an hour over a period of the next four years. Such a minimum wage must cover every concentration of low-wage marginal employment such as agricultural workers, hospital and nursing-home workers, hotel and retail employees, and others. For these have been the people left behind in great measure by the upward march of the affluent Great Society. And it is to these workers, above all, that we owe economic justice.

By moving toward $1.50 per hour, I would remind you that we are only seeking to legislate what the Federal government has established as the poverty income level, $3,000 a year.

I will, therefore, initiate a staff study to determine whether, without harmful economic effect to employers, the minimum wage levels can be accelerated in the next four years at a faster pace than here proposed. A rich State such as New Jersey can no longer tolerate the poverty wage levels of marginal business or industry. But we must take care that we move in concert with neighboring states so as not to introduce the minimum wage as an element of interstate economic competition. Let us not lose the jobs of the very workers we mean to protect. A minimum wage proposal, however, should shock no one. It is in fact accepted by many states and by the Federal government. The Congress even now has under consideration an increase in the Federal minimum and New Jersey should do no less.

Workmen's Compensation

The State's Workmen's Compensation Law is outmoded and needs revision based on the realistic economic needs of the family whose breadwinner is temporarily, partially or permanently disabled because of a work-connected injury. I shall soon introduce a workmen's compensation bill for consideration by this Legislature which will do justice to the worker but not penalize the employer.

New Jersey's unemployment compensation law should be adjusted and improved in a number of respects taking full recognition of the economic changes which have occurred since it was last amended five years ago.

In an age of swift technological change, the State has a fundamental public responsibility to help promote economic progress and foster all those conditions which lead to full employment.

I, therefore, propose that the Legislature adopt an Economic Policy Act which would underscore the State's commitment to foster the conditions for full employment while simultaneously doing everything fiscally and economically sound to help expand private profit.

Under this Act we shall harness the genius of the electronic computer to our service by swiftly matching available men to available jobs in available geographic locations. We shall propose establishing: a long-needed policy unit to be responsible for broad economic policy overview at the executive level, a statistical information support program necessary for in-depth analysis of State economic problems, a small council of professional economic advisors, and a Joint Legislative Economic Committee which would work closely with the Executive in seeking the right and adequate means to promote our economic and social progress.

Industrial and Trade Promotion

We shall also move ahead to strengthen our industrial and international trade promotion programs. With the cooperation of our many friends in business we shall expand our already successful European Trade missions to Asia, Africa and Latin America. For international trade is a growing factor in New Jersey's prosperity with almost a $1 billion reached annually in such trade and 300,000 New Jersey jobs dependent in some manner on it.

Our Banking Needs

One of these industries whose health and flexibility is crucial to our expanding economy is banking. In January, 1963, I called the Legislature's attention to the need for the liberalization of our laws relating to branch banking. Since that time there has been a considerable amount of constructive discussion on this question. The Commissioner of Banking and Insurance and the Banking Advisory Board support revisions of the present restrictive legislation. At public hearings in Trenton last April, strong support was voiced for such changes by State officials, representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank and the private banking and business community.

If our economy is to continue to move forward our outmoded banking laws must be changed to allow banks to offer large lending facilities and complete and convenient banking services in all areas of the State. This would attract new business and new jobs to New Jersey now diverted to other states.

This year we shall request increased funds for industrial plant location feasibility studies and for a program of State assistance to municipalities and regional development agencies to encourage the drawing up of master plans for economic development. Such plans are essential if our communities are to attract private investors, utilize natural resources intelligently and obtain the full benefits of a host of new Federal economic development programs. I shall also recommend that the State's Area Redevelopment Act be amended to conform with the newly adopted Federal Economic Development Act.

Action is required in another area concerning development of the State's resources—the Meadows. Last year the Commission to Study Meadowland Development submitted its report designed to solve the perplexing title problems which for too many years have impeded the proper utilization and development of this great natural asset. I believe that the report furnishes a useful frame of reference within which a solution can be hammered out. Thus I am recommending that this distinguished and conscientious Commission be reconstituted immediately, with a mandate to work directly with the Meadowlands Regional Development Authority and the Department of Conservation and Economic Development on the preparation of appropriate legislation. Every effort must be made to resolve the meadowlands question this year.

Natural Beauty

But all our plans for an economically prosperous State will be tainted if New Jersey continues to foul its water and air through the by-products of such prosperity and disregards environmental beauty. I recently announced a Governor's Conference on Natural Beauty to be held in the spring. I urge all legislators to become a part of this endeavor, because recommendations which require legislative action may be forthcoming. We have a joint obligation to turn the tide of ugliness in this State.

And finally—essential in any rapidly changing economy—the trained worker. Automation, new product development, defense spending variations, technological change, the shift from skilled and semi-skilled jobs to service and distributive occupations—all these require training of the unemployed, retraining of the displaced worker and the older worker, the physically handicapped and the disadvantaged minority group member. The State will have to make new investments in human potential. I believe that almost everyone can and should be trained. This is not just a governmental responsibility but also one for private industry and unions and commerce. But the State must continue stepping up its already revamped vocational-technical training efforts in secondary schools and its manpower training programs, contributing as much State money as is necessary to move New Jersey from last among the states in vocational education to one of the first. New multi-skill centers have been established with MDTA funds in three major cities, with more projected. Our two-year county community colleges will produce new technicians and professionals for industry and business. A good start has been made, but it is only a start. We shall have to go on training as we continually evaluate present and future manpower needs of New Jersey's highly diversified economy.

If our national experience of the last 30 years means anything, there is no such thing as a purely business interest, a purely labor interest, or a purely farmers interest. There is only a New Jersey interest and beyond that a national interest. And in our labors toward the Great Society we must not only seek a prosperous society but also a decent society, a just society, a society which excludes no man.

Transportation

One of the questions which afflicts every modern industrial state is that of transportation. New Jersey's commuters continue to be threatened by discontinuance of rail passenger service on many lines. As indicated by the recent application of Erie-Lackawanna, we can expect an intensification of this crisis in 1966. But the policy of this administration remains firm—essential railroad service must be maintained.

If the 60,000 New Jerseyans who travel to work by rail were forced to use highways, about a billion and a half dollars of extra highway construction would be required over the next ten years—a cost many times the amount required to maintain commuter service over that period. While rail commuting is for many reasons uneconomical, it remains the least costly alternative available. A further consideration is the essential freight service for New Jersey industries provided by the railroads. The Jersey Central, for example, serves 1,137 freight customers in 14 counties, including many large and vital industries.

Public operation of the railroads is a serious matter and every effort must be made to avoid unnecessary involvement in this endeavor. We will, therefore, continue the existing subsidy arrangements with the railroads for the present time. The State, however, must be prepared to take such further steps as may be necessary to prevent the discontinuance of essential commuter service. Consideration is now being given to the alternatives that may be available to the State with regard to operating arrangements. To assist the State in shaping its decisions, we are seeking to determine sensible cost guidelines for commuter losses should the State be compelled to move beyond its present subsidy position.

The railroad situation is, of course, only one part of the overall transportation problem in New Jersey. We are, therefore, moving towards improving our highway position at the same time that we are considering our railroads.

In addition to the enactment of the revenue program I have proposed, legislative cooperation will be required during this session to grant permission to the Turnpike Authority to undertake the expansion of the Turnpike from Woodbridge north to Route 80. The details of this proposal already have been released by the Authority, and deserve your close attention.

Our goal is a comprehensive transportation system designed to move people and goods swiftly and safely and to preserve community values. In this area New Jersey's need is great. The Legislature should be prepared for special recommendations later in this session.

Assistance for Our Communities

A New Department

Since I first campaigned for the office of Governor in 1961, I have advocated the creation of a Department of Community Affairs which would enable State government to service more effectively the needs of our communities. During the past few years, as the Federal government has moved to create a Department of Housing and Urban Development, my conviction that such a Department on the State level is absolutely essential in this day and age has been reenforced. While some of our major cities are staffed in a manner which enables them to deal effectively with State and Federal government and to obtain the full benefit of the programs that are available, many of our smaller communities are losing assistance which could be theirs because they are not properly equipped.

In large part, the new Department would provide such municipalities with the assistance they require while providing the focal point for much of the activity concerning municipalities which is now dispersed among many other departments. Because many of the functions of this Department are already in existence, the cost of this proposal is relatively modest—less than $500,000—a small price to pay for such a useful tool of government.

Housing and Other Urban Needs

The needs of our municipalities cannot be satisfied simply by the creation of a new department. In spite of the vast new Federal programs and major local efforts to modernize the physical environment of New Jersey's municipalities, a large gap remains in areas such as housing for middle income families and State financial and technical aid to help meet local costs of urban renewal. All of us realize that in this most urban state in the Nation many social problems are intimately related to the increasing physical deterioration of our urban areas.

Therefore, in addition to proposals I have mentioned concerning optional rent control and modernization of the Tenement House Law, I expect to submit for your consideration a program for middle income housing. These programs, together with the substantial increases in State financial assistance to counties and municipalities from the income tax which I have discussed earlier in this message, should enable our municipalities to take meaningful steps forward in the area of physical rehabilitation. Additional proposals dealing with community development and redevelopment remain under consideration and will be submitted to you at the earliest possible date.

Agriculture

New Jersey's physical development is progressing at a near record pace. It is, therefore, exceedingly important, as we plan for the future, that we continue our efforts to keep New Jersey an attractive home for the family farmer. We have an agricultural heritage which has been of great benefit to our State and we have a need for agriculture in our future. I am, therefore, requesting the Division of State and Regional Planning to give careful attention in its planning activities to accommodating the needs of the agricultural sector of our economy.

In the past several years, the Governor's Committee on Farmland Assessments, under the chairmanship of Senator Waddington, was responsible for several notable legislative proposals of benefit to agriculture. Because of the great service performed by this Committee, I intend to have it reconstituted as the Governor's Committee on Rural Land Use. This excellent Committee should continue to render valuable service to our agricultural communities.

The Department of Agriculture, in conjunction with agricultural organizations, is now working on legislation to strengthen farmer cooperatives. I also believe serious consideration should be given by the Legislature to any proposals developed which will improve the bargaining power of our producers.

Congressional Redistricting

The present apportionment of our congressional representation was established on the basis of Federal Census of 1930. Since then, these districts have remained unchanged except for the slight modification that was made in 1961 to accommodate the additional Congressman that was assigned to New Jersey following the Federal Census of 1960.

During this 30-year hiatus, substantial changes in the size of the congressional districts have occurred, the total population having increased by 50 per cent within that period of time. Although each Congressman should now represent approximately 404,000 people, the Congressman from the State's smallest district represents 255,000 people while the representative from the largest district is responsible to 585,000 persons.

The inequities inherent in the present representation have been recognized by the courts of the State. The Superior Court last year ruled that the Legislature should enact redistricting legislation prior to the time when the primary proceedings begin for the November, 1966, election. The Court indicated, however, that if the Legislature has not acted by April, 1966, it will entertain argument as to what further action should be taken. I am confident that the Legislature recognizes its responsibility in this area and I pledge my full cooperation in working for a solution which will provide the State with an equitable apportionment of our congressional representatives based upon the constitutional concept of one man—one vote.

Law Revision Projects

Work is continuing in numerous areas concerning revision of the State's statutes. The Election Law Revision Commission is preparing a realistic and modern law which should enable the maximum number of eligible persons to participate in the election process. I am hopeful that at least some of their proposals will be ready for your consideration this year.

Commissions are also working on a revision of the laws concerning corporations, insurance and motor vehicles. These commissions will be encouraged to speed their review of the law so that the necessary revisions can be taken under consideration.

Legislative Reform

I should not close without taking note of the legislative reforms which this body has accomplished. I am proud, and I am sure that the people of New Jersey are proud, of the action of this Legislature in restoring the legislative processes clearly ordained by the people in our Constitution.

The rule changes which the Senate majority has accomplished on nominations are historic. They eliminate the secrecy which has accompanied final action—and frequent unconstitutional inaction—on the nomination of the State's officials, while preserving to the Senate its true constitutional prerogatives to advise and consent to such nominations. This change brings a breath of fresh air into an area which has remained secret and closed.

I also am highly gratified by the pledge of both Houses to institute and operate an active committee system with majority and minority representation, in place of the so-called caucus. You have done this on your own and in satisfaction of your plain commitment to the people. I know they will extend to you, as I do, the fullest credit for your forthright action in such prompt redeeming of your solemn pledge.

CONCLUSION

It has been said that those who will not learn from history are forever condemned to repeat their mistakes. Last November 2nd, I—and those of you who ran with me—went to the people with the claim that we could make New Jersey a great State, and with the promise that we would do so. The people believed our claim and accepted our promise.

And, every member of the minority in this room has, by the plainest implication, also joined in this pledge. When you spoke of the need for colleges and the improvement of education, as did we, you called for progress. When you condemned the excessive burden of government on local property taxpayers, you promised, as did we, to do something about it. When you shuddered at the shortcomings of some of our institutions, you appealed, as did we, to conscience. When you spoke of health and public safety and Green Acres, you promised, as did we, a personal involvement in the future. When you advocated transportation improvement and economic development of our fullest potential, you made, as did we, a commitment to accomplishment. When you spoke of justice, you promised, as did we, to seek out and destroy injustice. When we spoke of all these things, we were speaking of greatness for New Jersey. We were committing ourselves, all of us, to the goal of greatness and to the performance of duty.

So we are all bound by the same pledge, we are all under the same commitment, we are all caught up in the same tide of New Jersey history. We all face the same challenge, must exhibit the same courage, must seize the same opportunities, and must overcome the same obstacles for the sake of right.

And the universality of this commitment, aside and apart from parties or partisanship, must remind us of a statement of our late and beloved martyred President, John F. Kennedy:

“... When at some future date the high court of history will sit in judgment on each of us, recording whether in our brief span of service we fulfilled our responsibilities to the State, our success or failure in whatever office we hold will be measured by the answers to four questions:

Were we truly men of courage, with the courage to stand up to one's enemies, and the courage to stand up, when necessary, to one's associates?

Were we truly men of judgment, with perceptive judgment of the future as well as the past * * *?

Were we truly men of integrity, men who never ran out on either the principles in which we believed or the people who believed in us * * *?

Finally, were we truly men of dedication, with an honor mortgaged to no single individual or group, and compromised by no private obligation or aim, but devoted solely to serving the public good and welfare?"

These noble words must make us understand that we are not miracle workers, but are men and women of honor and integrity, Americans sworn to the performance of a solemn duty.

We must all do our best—God willing, we shall do no less.

Resolved, That the Senate do now recess until 1:30 P. M., and that we do now proceed to the Mall, New Jersey Cultural Center, for the purpose of participating in the Inaugural Ceremonies of the Honorable Richard J. Hughes as Governor of the State of New Jersey.

Following is the Second Inaugural Address delivered by Honorable Richard J. Hughes, Governor of the State of New Jersey at the Inaugural Ceremonies:

SECOND INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Members of the Legislature, Reverend Clergy, Mr. Chief Justice, Governors, My Friends and Fellow Citizens:

Let me begin with two very simple words, made more meaningful by the sincerity of their repetition—Thank You. Thank you for the privilege of being Governor again of this wonderful State; for the challenge and opportunity of completing a task only partially finished; for the confidence implied in the support at the polling place of hundreds of thousands of my fellow citizens. And my thanks go as well to those New Jerseyans who, although not supporting me, participated last November in that free electoral process which is the chief glory of American freedom.

For the first time in more than half a century the people of New Jersey have bestowed on the Democratic Party the gift of full political power. It is a rare gift and we must use it well. For I would recall with Woodrow Wilson that a political party is not just a source of power, not just a place for the party faithful, not just a mechanism to govern, but an instrument of large and noble purpose. Today we become part of that purpose. Today we rededicate ourselves to government unafraid to act in the people's service. And the keystone of this rededication should be a spirit of unity.

For after every American election, no matter how bitterly fought, old enmities are forgotten, political strife is muted, and people come together to face their common problems. While we retain independence of thought and action, there comes about a certain unity of purpose expected by the public—and a desire to “get on with the job,” as Americans are accustomed to do. So it should be in New Jersey, for the years ahead will surely test all of the combined effort and ability we will be able to summon.

By force of the dramatic vote of the people, and under the oaths of office which you and I have taken, we stand ready now to choose between two divergent courses. If we decide to stand still, then we shall fall dismally backward into the past, forgotten by the onrush of history and the tide of opportunity. But we have another choice, that of action, and with courageous action there is little we cannot achieve. This choice to join the mainstream of America's forward movement must be made now. For if this momentous opportunity is lost, it may be lost or diminished forever.

But as I stand here I have a feeling of confidence that we shall write a record of accomplishment. If ever a State could be endowed with human qualities, with hopes and dreams, with a restless determined energy to turn itself around and face toward a wonderful future, it is this proud Garden State today.

So, in the exciting days ahead, let us resolve that whatever our region, whatever our party, whatever our political philosophy, we shall speak with one voice, with one courageous determination to acquit ourselves as New Jersey public men ready to meet sworn commitments and proven needs. We ask not uniformity of opinion but unity of purpose. We seek no profit but the common wealth. We sacrifice no principle to expediency. We stand up to our adversaries, and if need be, to our friends, speaking our conscience as an unfailing guide.

As I look out upon the face of New Jersey I see a people and a State destined to be great from the moment of its birth as a colony more than three hundred years ago. But we have too long been hidden in the shadows of great cities to the east and west, too long a mere corridor without our own identity, too long rich in private wealth but poor in public services, too long afraid to come to grips with our own destiny. And I tell you today that we must release the full energies and resources of this State and seek from New Jersey's own abundance fuel for the engines of our social and economic growth.

To the people I pledge a continuing and total dedication to their interests—a determination that we shall meet our commitments, that the programs articulated before the historic session of the Legislature just a week ago will be fulfilled and that those who enjoy the benefits of New Jersey life will equitably share the burdens of sustaining that life.

To the skeptics among us who so blandly assert that all our needs are met and that we can "do without," the natural question arises: "Do without what?"

Without the education of our children?

Without equal rights and equal opportunities for every one of our citizens?

Without justice and the protection of person and property?

Without relief to our suffering local taxpayers?

Without economic growth and new jobs?

Without programs for public health?

Without care for retarded children?

Exactly what do the skeptics think we should do without? The people would like to know. They demand an answer.

To the members of the new Legislature who honor this assemblage, I offer a special pledge and a respectful challenge. Together you and I can redeem the past. We can turn past neglect into present achievement. Together we can write the laws and programs New Jersey wants and expects. Together we must seek those common revenues to move this State forward. Remembering always that if we dare to call New Jersey great, the next hundred days will tell us if we have the inner fibre for greatness. This is our test: Can we do the job that must be done?

The very first order of public greatness must be education. For each generation must educate its own successors. If it does so badly, if the tools are lacking, if free inquiry is stifled, then we fail in one of our finest opportunities. If we educate well, we draw new life, new vision, and new imagination from our own success. To our sons and daughters, therefore, we pledge education—higher in quality, greater in quantity, in the grade school, at the college and university, private and public, vocational, academic and professional, for the pre-school child and the adult, for the wealthy and the needy. As far as the imagination of man can reach, as far as the public treasury can reasonably extend, we pledge an ever-growing portion of New Jersey's patrimony to this, the most ennobling responsibility of men.

I want this Legislature to be remembered for generations to come as the "Education Legislature"—the Legislature that built the foundation of New Jersey's greatness, the Legislature that bespoke New Jersey's conscience and compassion, a Legislature of achievement unmatched in New Jersey history.

To those citizens too long denied an open door into New Jersey life—into its communities, its schools, its jobs and opportunities—I mean to keep my solemn promise that this will be a human and civil rights administration. Because we care, because we include every man in our society, together we can form the living tissue of a democracy whose work is never done—as progress is never done, and equality is never done, and justice, the sure foundation of every government, is never done. We can no longer tolerate half-freedoms and half-citizens. We can no longer suffer the social and moral stigma with which discrimination marks all of us—majority and minority alike. The barriers must come down. And so I call every citizen of New Jersey to the good fight, the decent fight in the only war Americans seek—the war against bigotry, poverty, hate, ignorance and injustice.

To our courts and law enforcement agencies we pledge every aid that government can give. For the sake of saving everything we call progress and civilization, we must turn back the tide of lawlessness and keep society whole and sane.

To the great and small cities of our State, weighted down beneath the burdens of new urban demands, we pledge our hand and our financial aid in the promising new physical and human transformation which awaits us. State government will support rather than oppose you; will counsel rather than obstruct. For the vitality of our communities is the vitality of our people—working and living side by side, sharing good schools and decent housing, with open green spaces, with pure water and air to sustain our lives and spirit; with high wage industry and commerce as the economic lifeblood of city and suburb alike. If we fail our communities in this moment of their greatest need, we shall have failed New Jersey.

To our friends in business and industry we pledge an ongoing partnership in progress, augmenting private profit as we promote the public interest. We seek an economy always on the march, retooling, redirecting, inventing, risking, dreaming, maintaining its healthy diversity even in an age of economic giants. Together, free enterprise and government will bring New Jersey products and ingenuity to the world. Together, public statesmanship and business statesmanship will walk as one.

To labor I pledge first and foremost economic justice. To every workingman his due in wages, benefits and decent conditions. The right to lawful protection from exploitation, whatever its form. The right to an honest day's pay for an honest day's work. The right to peacefully seek redress of grievances. The right to expect that one's job will not disappear overnight. The right to decent compensation when incapacitated or unemployed. The right not to be thrown mercilessly onto the slag heap of history if one is old, or displaced or untrained. He who forgets the workingman forgets the substance of democracy.

These are my pledges, but they cannot be met by one man alone, nor even by one party alone.

An hour after the verdict of election night was in, I sought the very unity which I seek today, when I said:

"As New Jerseyans who love their State, let us work together to build the State to the stature it deserves and to the heights to which courageous men can lift it."

Twice affirmed by the people, I twice accept their mandate of power. Asking for your prayers, your counsel and the strength of your hands, I accept the mission we are about to begin with a sense of humble confidence.

No man seeks the governorship a second time to preside over a backward state. No man swears an oath under the Constitution and before God to temporize and drift while crucial problems cry out for action and compassion. I sought power to use that power—for the people. I sought responsibility to fulfill that responsibility—to the people. I sought your confidence to redeem it. And redeem it we shall. For our program is public; our obligation is clear; our conscience directs us; our aims are high.

And the people are waiting.

Governor.

The following message was received from the General Assembly by the hands of its Clerk:

	STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
	GENERAL ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
Mr. President:	February 14, 1966.

I am directed by the General Assembly to inform the Senate that the General Assembly has concurred in the following resolution:

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of New Jersey (the General Assembly concurring):

That on February 14, 1966, at 3:00 P. M., both Houses of the Legislature meet in joint session for the purpose of receiving the Annual Budget Message of His Excellency Richard J. Hughes, Governor of the State of New Jersey, which will be delivered in person.

JOHN J. MILLER, JR.,
Clerk of the General Assembly.

Mr. Ridolfi moved that the Senate recess to hear the Budget Mesage for 1966, delivered by His Excellency Richard J. Hughes, Governor of the State of New Jersey, in the House of the General Assembly.

Which was agreed to.

BUDGET MESSAGE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

Today we mark a turning point in the life of New Jersey. With this budget, we chart a plan, in the sharpest detail ever advanced in this State, for New Jersey to become a leader among the states in meeting its public obligations.

This budget represents the culmination of decades of debate, of volumes of proposals and of a steadily developing public opinion that has come to recognize that New Jersey no longer can afford to stand still.

In this budget the State government assumes new dimensions of responsibility—in education, in institutional development, in transportation, in public health, in fiscal reform and in assistance to local property taxpayers. We undertake these responsibilities at a most appropriate point in history. New Jersey stands at a pinnacle of prosperity. And as our economy has grown, so have the aspirations of our people. No longer are they content for their State to be among the most laggard in providing higher educational opportunities. No longer are they content for their State to place its principal financial reliance on a property tax system colonial in concept as well as in origin. No longer will they allow their institutions to be plagued by inadequacies. No longer will they permit their highway system to slip farther from the position of leadership we once held. And no longer will they countenance the poisoning and wasting of our natural resources.

I have talked in detail in my Annual Message of what New Jersey can expect to accomplish with the adoption of a major new source of revenue, a graduated personal income tax to produce a net of $180 million annually. This budget goes one step further. It incorporates those new programs with the existing responsibilities of the State government. And it does so as part of a design that is intended to maintain our reputation as the most economically operated state government in the nation. This budget proposes no unneeded luxuries; its proposals are those of responsible necessity. And it assures that the economies of the future will not be achieved at the expense of the public services and public opportunities that the people of this modern State justifiably expect.

As further assurance, I am recommending that $60,000 be provided for a reconstituted Commission on Efficiency and Economy in State Government so that the Commission can continue, without interruption, the independent studies begun last year for the improvement of departmental operations.

This 1966-67 fiscal plan, encompassing the normal growth of existing programs as well as the new initiatives which I have outlined, will total $906 million, apart from necessary reservations which I have listed below. The 1-5% income tax, when added to existing revenue sources and a substantial surplus available next July 1, will be adequate to finance this program.

BUDGET REQUESTS

A total of $1,193,081,319 was requested by the various departments and agencies for fiscal year 1966-67. Of this amount, I am recommending $906,126,433.

RESOURCES

Beyond any doubt, we have enjoyed an unprecedented prosperity as a leader in the nation's forward surge. This has produced the additional millions needed to maintain our existing obligations.

During the current fiscal year, we expect to receive $23 million more than the revenues anticipated a year ago. As a result of these overruns, and as a result of returning $5 million to the Treasury next June 30 from unspent appropriations, we can expect to close the current fiscal year with a surplus of nearly $41 million, as contrasted with an estimate of $18 million when the current Appropriations Bill was passed. At this time, I note with pride the careful stewardship exercised by the members of the Cabinet in the operation of their departments. Without the full co-operation of these and other State officials, the return of these funds would not have been possible.

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

Resources

Estimated Surplus, July 1, 1966 (after providing for supplementals)	$40,757,776
Estimated Revenue for 1966-67 (includes income tax of $236,000,000)	897,486,603	$938,244,379
<hr/>
Less Reservations for:
Administration of new tax program	$3,500,000
Save from harm (replacement tax)	2,500,000
Administration new Department of Community Affairs	500,000
New judges	500,000
State University Bicentennial	100,000	7,100,000
<hr/>
Net Revenues Available for Appropriation		$931,144,379

Recommendations

General State Operations	$339,331,942
State Aid	410,037,389
Capital Construction	156,757,102
<hr/>
Total Recommendations		$906,126,433
Estimated Surplus, June 30, 1967		$25,017,946

As we embark on a new revenue program, it is obvious that we do not have the experience that would permit exact predictions of the amounts that we can expect from this tax. We believe, however, that our estimates are conservative. They are based on the experience of the State of New York which has had a personal income tax for many years. In anticipating the proceeds of an income tax, we have reserved approximately $3.5 million to administer the collection of the tax. This sum should be appropriated in the income tax bill which already has been introduced.

EDUCATION

While this budget comprehends a broad new program for a greater New Jersey, its main thrust by any standard is in the field of education. Of the new funds, $141 million are devoted to educational purposes, including relief for local taxpayers from the increasing pressure of public school costs. In a modern society, this is as it should be. For education is the cornerstone of our economic growth and educational opportunity always has constituted the principal legacy of each generation of Americans.

I am recommending for Education a total sum of $438.7 million, an increase of $178.3 million over the current year. The increases are: $114.8 million for State aid, including $90 million for revision of the present State aid formula; $59.9 million for higher education, including $51 million for capital improvements; and $3.6 million for other educational purposes.

State Aid

Increased State financial assistance to local education is one of New Jersey's most pressing needs. This budget recognizes the fact that the State must better assist its heavily burdened communities by including the $90 million in additional aid which was proposed in my Fourth Annual Message.

For too long a period, local property taxes have borne the brunt of skyrocketing public school costs resulting from the high birth rate of the post World War II period, the gratifying tendency for children in the public schools to complete longer periods of schooling than they ever did before, and the increase in educational costs that paralleled rising costs almost everywhere else in our society. Because escalation of these costs had met with increasing resistance from local property taxpayers, the result has been that these and many other truly important municipal needs were met minimally, if at all. Thus, all local services have suffered in many communities.

The relief which I propose in the form of $90 million for additional school aid should moderate the pressure of rising local taxes and may permit the release of existing property tax revenues to finance the many other municipal services which have been largely ignored.

Also included has been $24.8 million in increases for other educational purposes, largely mandated by existing legislation. "Formula" aid is up $2.6 million; transportation aid is up $1 million; school building aid is up $300,000; aid for classes for maladjusted pupils increases $2.3 million; aid to County colleges and County-assisted junior colleges is up $6.2 million; aid for vocational Education is up $1 million and contributions for teachers' pensions, social security and insurance benefits are up $10.9 million.

The County colleges, the newest development in our system of higher education, will require substantially larger funds than are presently appropriated. This is money well spent because these institutions hold great promise in averting an even more severe crush on our colleges and the University. To continue our commitment to provide the cash needed during 1966-67 toward the State's share of construction at as many as seven of the eleven County colleges approved by the Department of Education, I have recommended $6.9 million. For the State's statutory share of operating these colleges, $300,000 is recommended which, together with county funds and student fees, will educate the equivalent of 1,500 full-time students at the four County colleges to be opened during 1966-67 with a capacity by 1970 of 3,800 full-time students.

This appropriation is based on a maximum payment of $200 per student. Legislation already has been introduced in this session which would increase this maximum. I recommend authorization of a $400 maximum. Such an increase would be consistent with our efforts to relieve the educational burden on the local property taxpayer.

I also am recommending $280,000 as the State's contribution to County-assisted junior colleges in Monmouth and Union Counties.

Capital Improvements

For capital additions to our higher education institutions, I have recommended $52 million, $51 million more than we appropriated in 1966. In my Fourth Annual Message, I proposed that next year we allocate $50 million, with emphasis on the construction of classroom facilities. The following schedule will indicate how the money should be allotted:

Glassboro State College	$3.2 million
Jersey City State College	3.4 "

Newark State College	2.4 million
Paterson State College	3.6 "
Montclair State College	2.1 "
Trenton State College	5.6 "
State University—Newark	5.1 "
State University—Camden	2.2 "
State University—New Brunswick	17.1 "
Newark College of Engineering	5.3 "

This budget includes that $50 million as well as $2 million in part payment of a $6 million statutory authorization for the State's share of providing a capital facility for the Medical College at the State University.

The hopes and aspirations of many of our high school graduates seeking admission to college in the next few years cannot be fulfilled if we do not now begin to provide the needed college structures.

The dramatic effect of this $50 million proposal becomes immediately apparent when we compare accommodations which we now have with those which these funds will permit us to have. Full-time enrollments this year in the State's higher educational institutions, including both Medical Schools are 33,034; next year they are expected to be 35,127. When facilities to be provided by the 1964 bond issue are completed, we will be able to enroll 10,645 more students. The $50 million which I am recommending in this budget will provide classroom space for 13,190. Thus, the total capacity which we should expect to have will be nearly 59,000 compared to present enrollment of 33,034.

In short, we will almost double the number of students that we can admit to our higher educational institutions. The new facilities also will permit us to accommodate a great increase in the number of part-time students who will use these same facilities. We also must begin to plan for additional construction of higher education facilities beyond those detailed in this budget. I recommend that $25,000, of the $250,000 allotted for advance planning, be used to plan for a four-year college in the northeast metropolitan area.

With this program we will be well on our way to a first class system of higher education.

Other Educational Purposes

For operation of our State institutions of higher education, I have recommended a total of $62.7 million, almost $9 million more than the present appropriation. This will provide for an increased enrollment of 2,068 full-time students and 8,668 part-time students at our State University, State colleges and Newark College of Engineering; the operation under full State auspices of two medical schools with a total enrollment of about 500 medical and dental students; increased emphasis on graduate programs at all higher education institutions, and the first steps toward diversifying the undergraduate programs at our State colleges to include a broad spectrum of academic studies.

These increased enrollments and instructional program improvements will require 212 more teachers and 220 more supporting administrative, technical, maintenance and custodial employees next year. The operation of the Rutgers Medical School, with an entering first-year experimental class of 16 students, and continued operation of the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry, with almost 500 students, represents an additional cost in 1967 of approximately $2 million.

State funds recommended for operation of our scholarship and student loan program total $6 million in Fiscal 1967. We will be providing 13,500 scholarships worth $5.4 million compared to this year's 12,150 costing $4.8 million. It appears, also, that we may have under guarantee a total of 30,300 outstanding loans worth $26.5 million by the end of 1967 compared to this year's 19,500 worth $16.1 million.

This can be done by reducing the Higher Education Assistance Fund's statutory guarantee from 20% to 10% of outstanding loans. All defaults during the first four years ended last June 30 were less than $100,000 out of more than $10 million in loans which were guaranteed. This experience clearly shows the feasibility of a reduction in the guarantee requirements. With the $3.7 million available in the fund by the end of next fiscal year, we then would be able to guarantee $37 million in loans, compared with a presently anticipated total of $26.4 million. I recommend that we enact the necessary legislation to accomplish this change.

In my Fourth Annual Message, I discussed the need for State funds for two new programs of incentive scholarships and graduate fellowships. So, this budget provides $750,000 for 1,500 incentive scholarships and $250,000 for 500 graduate fellowships to expand our State Scholarship program in these two vitally necessary areas. There will be a small concomitant increase in costs of administration to carry out these two new phases; there also will be some increase in administrative costs because we anticipate a sharp rise in participation in our State loan program, as supplemented by the loan provisions of Title IV of the Federal Higher Education Act of 1965.

I also am recommending $1 million to build another residential school facility at the Marie H. Katzenbach School for the Deaf to open more State educational opportunities to those of our children who have been deprived of their hearing and cannot be as advantageously helped in local public schools.

A COUNCIL ON THE ARTS

I expect that the Commission to Study the Arts in New Jersey soon will report its recommendations for action which the State should take to develop our cultural efforts. Should legislation be introduced to create, a permanent Arts Council, Federal funds can be provided, contingent upon the availability of a State appropriation which I would gladly support.

To demonstrate our interest in the arts, I am asking for a $5,000 appropriation for an Annual Art Purchase Award by which we can encourage creativity in New Jersey.

INSTITUTIONS AND AGENCIES

Parallel to our efforts in education must be our concern and compassion for the many thousands of New Jerseyans who are served by the Department of Institutions and Agencies. This, the largest of the State departments, has duties that are vast, but individual obligations which are perhaps the most intimate of those of any agency of government.

I am asking for an increase of $8 million to operate the Department of Institutions and Agencies. Apart from State aid and capital construction the increases are as follows :

Function	Increases
Mental Health	$2.5 million
Correction and Parole	1.1 “
Mental Retardation	2.9 “
Welfare	1.5 “

Mental Health

It is gratifying to be able to report to you a significant achievement in the reduction of our mental hospital population which has been developing over the last 10 years. In 1955, the peak average daily patient population of the four State mental hospitals then existing was 15,445. By fiscal 1965—10 years later—five State hospitals were in operation, but total patient population had dropped to 13,069, a reduction of 15.4%. During this period, the combination of declining population and the opening in 1955 of Ancora State Hospital reduced patient population between 25 and 35 per cent in the other State hospitals. The most dramatic decrease occurred at Marlboro State Hospital where the population projected next year—1,800—is 1,000 less than it was only five years ago. Through better treatment programs, staff improvements and more efficient utilization of appropriations, the total patient population which we can fairly estimate for the next fiscal year in the State's five mental hospitals is about 600 less than their total capacity. All this, it should be noted, has been achieved during a period in which the State's population has been rising sharply.

An important by-product of population reduction is the concomitant increase in the staff-patient ratio, more intensive patient care and the opportunity for effective staff redeployment. It also may be possible to reallocate space for better rehabilitation of patients.

Optimism, hope and satisfaction are becoming realities to patients and staff alike.

The State hospitals are continuing advances made in previous fiscal years. Patient care has been constantly upgraded and the achievement of goals is closer. The decentralization of the hospitals into distinct clinical services has permitted greater staff consideration of patients' needs; it has led to definition and development of institutional purposes; and it has permitted greater experimentation in methods for combating mental illness.

I am recommending the addition of 157 new positions to insure continuation of these valuable advances and to strengthen the children's units and the medical-surgical services within the institutions.

The last year has seen attention focused on administrative and treatment problems at Greystone Park. A Grand Jury, a Legislative Investigating Committee, and more recently, a special departmental study committee, have prepared findings and recommendations which merit diligent consideration. The relatively high number of staff vacancies among positions directly concerned with patient care has been a major source of concern both at Greystone Park and the North Jersey Training School at Totowa because of their location in a highly competitive employment area. The recruitment and retention of essential personnel in basic patient care positions is of primary importance to the mission of the institutions. Therefore, I have directed—effective today—an increase in hiring rates for essential nonprofessional patient care positions at both Greystone Park and Totowa.

Historically, Greystone Park has had recruitment difficulties which mitigated against authorization of additional positions. But I am optimistic that the hospital will overcome its problems. Therefore, my budget recommendations include the authorization of 327 more positions which we shall seek to fill through an improved recruiting program. If funds appropriated both to the hospital and the Department are not available to finance these positions when filled, I shall seek your approval for supplemental sums.

Elsewhere in the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals, I am recommending an increase in the maintenance payment for mental patients released to family care; sufficient funds to encourage the establishment of community narcotic treatment centers and the activation of a maximum security area at Trenton State Hospital for the severely maladjusted criminally insane.

Correction

I am recommending funds to begin operations for part of next fiscal year at the new Yardville correction center. This institution will provide the courts and the Department with greater flexibility in handling young offenders. An attempt will be made to assess the problems of the various types of offenders and assign them to programs that are designed to achieve suitable objectives.

A Pre-Release Community Residence project is provided for the State Home for Girls. This program should reduce the length of stay of school-age girls through saturation of services, more intensive case work, community work and school opportunities.

Mental Retardation

Every citizen of New Jersey can be proud of our continuing record of progress in combating mental retardation. But we cannot pause in our efforts to provide suitable care and treatment for these unfortunate people.

Accordingly, for fiscal 1967, I am recommending a total appropriation for the Division of Mental Retardation of $21,447,000, an increase of $2,844,000 over current appropriations.

The total recommended increase of $794,000 for the central office provides for staff to keep pace with the widening range of services to the retarded and for substantial improvement in the two major extra-institutional care programs.

I am gratified to report to you that the program to purchase care in private facilities for those severely retarded for whom no institutional space is available has fully lived up to expectations. Almost 350 severely retarded are in such private placements at present. To continue this vital program at the same high levels throughout the next fiscal year, I am recommending an appropriation of $1 million. The recommendation includes funds to expand this valuable program by at least 100 more retardates, to activate three new State-owned day care centers, each with a capacity of 80, to be constructed with both State and Federal funds, to furnish transportation for the retardates between their homes and the centers and to provide a full 12 months operation for at least 20 of the existing 23 centers which are not State-owned.

The past year has witnessed the opening of the Woodbridge State School, providing desperately needed care and treatment for 1,000 severely retarded residents. To insure that the level of services offered at Woodbridge keeps pace with the needs of its residents and to provide for capacity operations throughout fiscal 1967, I am recommending an increase of $839,000 for its operation.

Elsewhere in the Division of Mental Retardation, I am recommending an increase of $1,158,000 to improve services at the previously existing institutions, including provision for 99 new positions and for a full year operation of the new Readjustment Unit and activation of the Evaluation Unit, both at the Edward R. Johnstone Training and Research Center.

No one can claim that the problems of mental retardation have been fully solved, but we in New Jersey have shown that the task is not a hopeless one, that the combination of dedicated people, adequate facilities and realistic financial support can produce encouraging results. It is our responsibility—and our privilege—to pledge continued and increasing support for the State's programs for the mentally retarded.

Public Welfare Administration

Public welfare programs in New Jersey will take on new dimensions during the next fiscal year as a result of sweeping Federal amendments to the Social Security Act—the far-reaching Medicare program. To insure that New Jersey can meet the challenge of the new Federal programs and the over-all administration of a higher case load, I am recommending a total increase of $1,528,000 for the Division of Public Welfare, including the Commission for the Blind and the Bureau of Children's Services. This will provide 43 new positions for administration of the Division, including the office of the Director and the medical assistance, quality review, fiscal service and field programs.

I am recommending 109 new positions in the Bureau of Children's Services to supervise and minister to the rise in the number of these unfortunate children and to maintain a ratio of one worker for each 53 cases.

Children are precious assets. We must not neglect those whom broken homes and other tragic conditions place in our care.

State Aid for Welfare

The State's seven welfare programs will suport 82,506 cases at a cost of $47.7 million next year, an all-time high. This compares with 80,490 cases for which $42.8 million was appropriated this year. This apparent increase in costs of $4.9 million, however, will be more than offset by anticipated unexpended welfare appropriations of $5.6 million next June 30. Therefore, the net appropriations for all these programs next year will be $721,000 less than the current year.

We believe that the declining rate of increase between this year and next is attributable to our prospering economy and the expected impact of the new Social Security program.

Capital Construction

I am including recommendations of $13 million for Major Capital Construction at State institutions. A facility for care and training of multi-handicapped, retarded, blind children at the Johnstone Training School will cost $350,000. A special children's psychiatric facility on the grounds of the Trenton State Hospital will cost $295,000. Replacement of unsuitable cottages at the Vineland State School will require $1.4 million. A new administration building at Woodbine State Colony will cost $350,000, and $450,000 will be needed for new administration facilities at the Jamesburg Home for Boys.

Additional structures financed from recent bond issues, on the grounds of Clinton Reformatory and the Neuropsychiatric Institute, have placed a strain on existing utility systems which will cost $730,000 to correct. I propose, also, the construction of a Nurses Training and Education Center for $1.7 million, to be located at Greystone Park State Hospital. The construction of medical facilities to aid in the care of patients at the Vineland State School will require $300,000. Two million is recommended for additional construction at the new Leesburg Prison, the bulk of which is being financed by the 1964 bond issue.

I am recommending the establishment of three new types of institutions. The first would be a child care facility to assure proper treatment of neglected children in the care of the Bureau of Children's Services, prior to their assignment to a foster home. This structure would cost $750,000. Second, I propose the construction of a Children's Psychiatric Diagnostic and Treatment Center to enable the Department of Institutions and Agencies to provide diagnostic services to the State's juvenile courts as well as to treat disturbed youngsters. This facility will cost $2.8 million. Third, I am recommending $800,000 to provide a special diagnostic and treatment facility for sex offenders for whom present facilities have not proved satisfactory. I also have included $1 million for a variety of major capital repairs at existing installations.

TRANSPORTATION

Vital to the continuing economic progress of any state is its transportation system. For many years New Jersey has been plagued, along with other northeastern states, with the problem of maintaining effective operation of its railroads. For years, our railroads have been struggling with consistent deficits in commuter service. To continue adequate railroad transportation, thereby relieving highway traffic, has been a trying problem for the State government. Recognizing the necessity for expanded assistance to the commuter railroads, there is recommended in this budget $13 million, or $5.5 million more than was allotted in the current fiscal year for subsidies and for the purchase of railroad cars for the Pennsylvania Railroad system in lieu of subsidy. This sum is designed to accommodate the beginning of a long-range program for maintenance of essential commuter service. I shall have more to say on this subject in a future message to you.

The amount of $23.5 million which I have recommended for operations and maintenance by the Highway Department should assure reasonable standards next year under normal conditions for the State's 2,305 miles of highways.

The State's share—including 90-10 and 50-50 projects—of the Federal-State Highway Construction Program will cost another $28.6 million and will permit continuance of the present practice of matching Federal funds allotted to New Jersey one year in advance of the fiscal period in which they become available for disbursement.

I am recommending an appropriation of $5 million to be added to the $4 million revolving fund which was established this year for advance purchases of rights-of-way. Early acquisition of lands for later use as roadbeds will give us huge dividends in terms of land cost savings.

The inability of the Highway Department to recruit sufficient personnel to procure rights-of-way has seriously hampered the Department in its efforts to bring the highway construction program up-to-date. This is not unique. The same dilemma is faced by many of our states and the Highway Commissioner should be complimented on his efforts to solve this problem by establishing a program to train personnel for that purpose.

In addition, I am recommending that the present appropriation of $14 million for projects financed entirely from State funds be increased to $24 million. This will accelerate the rate of construction of projects for which Federal matching funds are not available.

I am recommending an additional $15 million for counties and municipalities to aid in meeting their needs for improved roads and streets. Until this year, State aid to counties and municipalities, for such purposes, has been pegged to an amount approximating $15 million. My recommendation will double this sum so that local governments may either expand their construction program or reduce the amounts which would otherwise be levied on local taxpayers.

PUBLIC HEALTH

In my Annual Message, I outlined briefly the need for bolstering our program for local health services. In this budget, I have provided sums to augment our present health programs.

Last year, I recommended that $5 million be set aside for regional sewerage facilities. The Legislature recognized the need but limited the appropriation to $1 million. If we are to begin to meet adequately the need for such regional or inter-municipal sewerage facilities, we must increase appropriations to $5 million, which I am recommending in this budget.

In addition, $4 million is recommended for distribution to local districts for local health services. Legislation already has been acted upon for an enlarged State aid program for health services and the amount recommended in this budget will implement it.

Other funds to be appropriated to the Department should enable further development of programs to combat water and air pollution problems. These programs are so concerned with the protection of all of our citizens that we must allow nothing to deter us from their fullest implementation.

STATE EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

One of the major impacts on the State's budget structure in 1966-67 is in the area of employee benefits which will cost $30,345,509 in the fiscal period. With the enactment of the new Federal Social Security amendments concerning Medicare, the employer's share of the cost has increased considerably. In my recommendations for education, I indicated that the increased cost for the State's share for members of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, including the employer's share of Social Security, required $10.9 million over that payable this year. An additional $5.3 million is required for State employee benefits. This sum is made up of $253,000 for Judicial pensions; $251,000 for pensions of Prison Officers; $957,000 as the State's share of the Public Employees' Retirement System, including the premium for noncontributory insurance; $2.6 million for the employer's share of Social Security taxes; $455,000 for State Employees' Health Benefits; and $887,180 for the State Police Retirement System.

Two years ago, the State provided $3.2 million as the first appropriation to make the State Police Retirement System actuarially sound. While the money had been appropriated, basic legislation to provide for this system was not enacted until the last fiscal year. However, the first year's cost of this new system to the State is $4.1 million. The $887,180 recommended next year, together with funds previously appropriated for this purpose but unspent, will provide the payment due next July 1.

STATE EMERGENCY FUND

With a budget of over $900 million, we must provide some funds to meet unforeseen contingencies without requiring special action by the Legislature. Such a fund always has been provided. In 1965-66, it totaled $200,000.

A new appropriation of $200,000 was made this year to provide assistance for State and local agencies to match funds available from the Federal government under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. I am recommending that we increase the funds for this purpose to $425,000 in 1966-67. We then can move forward in two new programs which I consider vital if the anti-poverty program is to meet its objectives.

One of these is a campaign to expand adult literacy opportunities through research, consultation, review and evaluation for which funds or services from other sources are not adequate. Another is to provide health, transportation and special educational services to help develop the severely disadvantaged rural youth. The funds which I am recommending for this purpose should be made available to the extent that Federal funds and in-kind contributions or resources from other sources are inadequate.

In recent months, there has been a rise in wholesale commodity prices and, for that reason, I am recommending an increase of approximately 5% in the appropriations for food in our institutions. Furthermore, because of our apprehension of future food price increases, I am also recommending a $250,000 emergency fund against this possibility. I hope that both recommendations, should they be needed, will be adequate to permit us to maintain the level of food consumption standards which we have established in conformity with suggestions by national food and nutrition groups.

TREASURY

Appropriations recommended for the Department of the Treasury for all purposes total $23.7 million, an increase of $3.3 million over fiscal 1966.

Under the provisions of my Executive Order No. 22, this Department has established a Data Processing Center operated by the Division of Budget and Accounting. This consolidated center will permit the acquisition of more productive data processing equipment than would be feasible for separate installations. The objectives of the Center are the economical and efficient use of staff, equipment and facilities to permit the orderly management of an increasing output at minimal cost. It also will provide the data processing services essential to the administration of the proposed income tax.

I am recommending a $50,000 appropriation to the Division of Budget and Accounting to accelerate the existing program to improve administrative and fiscal management throughout all State agencies. This entails comprehensive program planning, development and evaluation procedures intended to eliminate waste and inefficiency in State government and to insure that all programs and activities are conducted with maximum productivity in terms of service to the citizens of New Jersey.

Several exhibits portraying various program-type budgets are distributed throughout this document for your inspection. For some time, the Bureau of the Budget has explored the program method of budgeting or presenting a budget. This method places emphasis upon thing to be done rather than on things to be bought. The program method highlights programs, activities and organizational accountability, and relates accomplishments and purposes to workload and performance. The line-item budget, which our State now employs, shows minor objects of expenditure and may not relate them successfully to performance standards or to the workload data which the Bureau of the Budget has been stimulating State agencies to develop over the last decade.

The transition to a program budget will not be an easy one for it requires a complete revision of administrative procedures and appropriation accounting in all departments and agencies.

I have recommended additional funds for the Division of Pensions, including salaries for 17 new positions, to enable this Division to carry out its responsibilities to the ever-increasing numbers of pensioners and active members. This Division services not only State agencies and employees but also county and local government agencies, including school districts and their employees and pensioners. It also acts as the State agency for Social Security, and as the agent for all State and local government agencies in dealings with the Social Security Administration.

Other smaller, but still significant, increases have been recommended for operation and maintenance of our growing State Capitol complex, for continued improvement of the effectiveness of our State investment program and for improvement and extension of our State fire inspection activities.

To continue the actuarial soundness of the Consolidated Police and Firemen's Pension Fund, I have recommended for 1966-67 $5,310,814 or $836,733 more than the amount appropriated in the current year.

Capital Construction

Funds totaling $1.7 million are included for capital construction programs which are the direct responsibility of this Department. We should no longer delay acquisition of the property lying to the east of the State Capitol; first, because the structures on it detract from the dignity and appearance of the Capitol complex and, secondly, because annual increases in the appraised valuation of that property make delay costly. I am asking $800,000 for this purpose.

As new buildings have been erected in the State Capitol area, air conditioning has been a built-in feature. Modern concepts of efficiency require employee comfort, and we should therefore extend this benefit to employees working in our older structures. A sum of $600,000 will enable us to make a substantial start in that direction.

We should not handicap ourselves by a lack of funds in developing our capital needs on a planned basis. The large sums included for construction elsewhere in this budget should not be construed as the answer to all of our construction needs. I am asking for the establishment of a revolving fund in the amount of $250,000 from which we can finance the costs of advance planning and architectural services.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Total recommendations for this Department in 1966-67 are $12.7 million, including costs attributable to Federally-supported programs. This compares with $8.9 million in the current year. Much of the increase of $3.7 million will be reimbursed from expanded Federal appropriations which, together with State funds, will provide extensive rehabilitation services to an estimated 16,000 persons expected to come under the care of the Rehabilitation Commission next year, compared with 12,500 persons this year. This agency, more than any other in government, actively helps physically and mentally disabled people to fight successfully against despair, dependence and poverty by bringing them hope, independence and productive employment.

The great impetus in this program is a direct result of new Federal legislation which will add emphasis to our efforts for rehabilitation through substantially increased staff and a variety of medical, educational, counseling and support services. Not only does this program help avert human tragedy and restore people to a productive life, but its savings in welfare costs which public agencies would otherwise incur are inestimable.

I am recommending additional funds for the Bureau of Engineering and Safety to implement further the Construction Safety Code of 1963 by providing a more acceptable level of worker protection against the hazards of construction. I have included other funds for the Bureau of Mechanical Inspection to extend its program of inspection of steam boilers in industrial and government buildings.

Our expanding economy and its attendant increase in employment, while gratifying, seems to result in more worker injuries. The consequent claims for workmen's compensation continues to heap larger case loads upon the Division of Workmen's Compensation. Disposing of these claims requires increased staff and related costs totaling $129,000.

Operations of the Disability Insurance Service which are supported by collections from employers are expanding as the number of employers using private plans for payment of disability insurance claims switch to the State plan. Adequate appropriations to carry out this service are provided.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

There is recommended for the Department of State $860,315 which is approximately $98,000 more than the amount currently available to this Department. Emphasis is being given to the Division of the Aging for which I have recommended $60,000 above that available in the current fiscal year. With these added funds it will be possible to obtain $119,000 in Federal funds, to supplement State assistance to our older citizens.

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL SERVICE

It is generally not recognized that our Department of Civil Service operates not only in the area of State government, but also in our local jurisdictions. Each year, more local government bodies join those covered by the Civil Service Commission. Last year, 118,400 State and local employees were included. Next year, there will be 126,000. The $2 million recommended for this Department recognizes the additional burden placed upon it in administering the civil service, with special emphasis on establishing employee training programs and examination facilities.

CONSERVATION

To finance the varied and diversified programs administered by the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, there is recommended $18,961,332, or $1,288,000 more than in the current year. This sum includes $250,000 for economic development feasibility studies, as first proposed last year, to be conducted in co-operation with private enterprise and for aid to local governments for economic development programs, not to exceed 50 per cent of the total cost of any one project. Substantive legislation will be introduced to begin this vitally needed program.

I recommend $350,000 for the Division of State and Regional Planning for the State's share of the cost of land development planning aspects of the comprehensive studies being conducted by the Tri-State Transportation Commission in the Northeastern New Jersey-New York metropolitan area, and for the State's share of the cost of similar studies in the Atlantic City and Camden-Philadelphia metropolitan areas. Previously, these studies were supported entirely from State appropriations to the Highway Department. By this change in financing, the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development will assume $700,000 of next year's cost.

We have an obligation to employ every reasonable means to stimulate the economic growth of our State through sound and competitive public promotion programs.

These efforts should emphasize throughout the country and the world our productive competence, our unparalleled location, and the amenities of New Jersey life. We have relied too long upon private enterprise to pick up much of the burden of these costs. Accordingly, I recommend that we add $100,000 to the current appropriation of $250,000 for this purpose.

Additional funds of $100,000 are recommended for the construction, reconstruction, maintenance and improvement of our inland waterways. This also will supplement funds available from the licensing of motor boats.

When the Administration Building in the Spruce Run Reservoir was built from the water bond proceeds, space was included to house the State's Bureau of Water Supply. I am recommending an appropriation of $298,000 so that the pro-rata share of the cost of this structure which is applicable to State operations can be refunded to the Water Bond Fund. This will permit several improvements to be made to the water utility system next year.

We are heartened by the recovery of our shellfish industries from the oyster blight of a few years ago. To continue to revitalize this great natural resource in South Jersey, I am requesting an additional $65,000 for the purchase of shells to replenish the oyster seed beds. Many areas that have been closed by the State in this battle against predators again have been opened to the industry.

LAW AND PUBLIC SAFETY

An increase of $3.8 million is recommended for the Attorney General's Department to provide a total sum of $31.6 million to meet its needs next year. The bulk of this increase—$3.3 million—is for operation and capital purposes of the Division of State Police and the Division of Motor Vehicles.

State Police

In the Division of State Police, an additional 76 Troopers and 11 other employees are recommended along with supporting equipment, supplies and services. The number of State Troopers thus made available, other than on our toll roads, will, for the first time, exceed 1,000.

With the establishment last year of the new Highway Traffic Patrol Bureau, a major expansion of patrol activity is taking place. In this and the next year, we expect total patrol coverage to increase by 3 million miles to about 17.5 million, exclusive of mileage on our toll roads. By the end of next year, highway construction in New Jersey, especially of the Interstate Highway System, will add nearly 60 miles of new highways to the 15,250 miles of State, county and local roads patrolled by the State Police during the current year.

Substantial progress has been made in the modernization of the State Police communications system. Plans are going forward for the installation of the computer-controlled teletype message switching center which was recommended last year. Together with improvements now being made in the State Police radio network, this will give New Jersey one of the most modern police communications systems in the country.

Division of Motor Vehicles

The terrifying rise in traffic accidents and deaths, and the resultant cost in human tragedy and economic waste, is nothing short of a public calamity. This budget recommends increases in staff of 103 positions and funds (1) to intensify present programs for driver control, driver rehabilitation, and traffic engineering surveys; (2) for a new program of State-wide driver training classes; and (3) for professionalized approaches to the problems of vehicle inspection and driver behavior. This budget also provides for staff and funds to operate the new vehicle inspection facility at Paramus and to extend the Division's large computer facility to other applications in its administrative and program areas.

This budget includes $511,000 to construct a new motor vehicle inspection station in the Ironbound section of Newark for which advance planning and design funds were appropriated in the current year. In addition, problems caused by an entrance restriction at the inspection station now under construction in Bergen County require $189,000 more to purchase and develop adjoining land so that access to the site can be improved and a potential traffic hazard eliminated.

Civil Rights

The sensitive area of human relations in which the Division on Civil Rights must operate is of great concern to all of us. Though New Jersey has been an enlightened leader in civil rights, we must continue to increase our efforts for full opportunity for all of our people. I am recommending additional staff to continue and expand the endeavors of the Division, including funds to expand the Division's police-community relations programs.

Other Divisions

A weighing station on Route 46 in Passaic County must be relocated because it is now on the right-of-way needed for construction of an interchange of Route 46 and Interstate Route 80. This project will cost $200,000 which I have recommended in the capital budget for the Division of Weights and Measures.

The Division of Law is constantly expanding the scope of legal services required by all our departments. To help it provide the required legal services, I am recommending additional staff and funds.

I again am recommending $25,000 to establish a Police Administration Chair at Rutgers University. For the last two years, the Legislature has denied funds for this urgently needed program to improve the professional standards of our police departments.

AGRICULTURE

This budget recommends an allowance of $1.8 million for the Department of Agriculture, representing an increase of $252,129 over the current year. Almost two-thirds of this increase, or $159,328, results from the transfer of the offices of the State Chemist and State Seed Analyst to the Department from the Agricultural Experiment Station, pursuant to recently enacted legislation.

An increase of $30,545 in the Office of Milk Industry will finance four additional staff positions for the industry cost reporting and economic analysis system.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

My recommendations for this Department are for $998,000, up $95,000, or 15% over the current fiscal year. Increased staff support is needed so that the Department may press forward in its activities to safeguard the public against possible hazards resulting from some public utility operations and to assure that public utility charges to customers are reasonable.

BANKING AND INSURANCE

To operate the Department of Banking and Insurance, this budget provides adequate funds in the amount of $2.8 million, or an increase of almost 6% over the current appropriation. I propose no over-all change in the present number of staff positions. It should be noted that all costs of operating this Department are covered by the fees charged to the banking and insurance industry in this State.

JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

For operations of the Judiciary, I am recommending $3,729,000, an increase of $241,000 over the current appropriation. This includes 19 new positions to provide additional support for the courts, the offices of its clerks and the Administrative Office, consistent with constantly increasing case loads. In addition, I am recommending that $500,000 be reserved to cover direct and related costs of additional judgeships which may be created by basic legislation to be introduced during the current session. Provision for additional judges is the only practical way to relieve our court system of the ever-mounting workload which threatens to swamp the administration of justice in New Jersey.

The State aid program for the County Court system requires an increase of $203,000 for a total recommendation of $1.8 million.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

In recent years, appropriations of $72,000 were made which, together with a similar amount of Federal money, was used to plan for an alternate seat of government at West Trenton. Such a facility would provide the State with a center for operations in case of an emergency. In my Budget Message for 1965, I asked the Legislature to appropriate the amount needed to match Federal funds which were then available so that we could build this center. But no appropriation was made. I am informed that the Federal government is still willing to provide its matching share of such a structure and I am recommending that we appropriate $1.2 million as the State's share so that we can carry out this project.

RESERVATIONS AND SUPPLEMENTALS

In addition to the $500,000 reserve to cover the cost of additional judgeships we also should reserve other sums to meet costs of programs for which legislation may be enacted: $3.5 million for administration of the proposed income tax; $2.5 million to save from harm any municipality which may not receive sufficient compensatory proceeds of the pending replacement tax program for the present business personal property taxes; $500,000 for cost of administering the Department of Community Affairs proposed in pending legislation; and $100,000 for the State University Bicentennial Commission.

There are a few unavoidable supplemental appropriations needed for the current fiscal year. These are: $60,000 for continuation and expansion of the work of the Commission on Efficiency and Economy in State Government; $75,000 to the Division of Resource Development for unanticipated forest fire fighting costs; $200,000 to Monmouth Junior College and $45,000 to Union Junior College to provide State aid to junior colleges under recently enacted legislation; and $365,000 to the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry to provide for unanticipated rent and to compensate for the loss of revenue which had been anticipated from the performance of local medical services.

CONCLUSION

Today, you begin a three-week recess during which your Joint Appropriations Committee will undertake deliberations that are fundamental, not only to the public life of New Jersey, but also to its private welfare. I know that this Committee will do its work well. Careful and responsible scrutiny of these multi-million-dollar recommendations is one of the primary obligations which the Legislature owes to the people.

On your return, you will be confronted with the momentous duty of acting on the recommendations of the Appropriations Committee. And if these recommendations include the broad new programs for education, transportation, health, institutions and assistance to local communities—as I believe they should—it will be your duty to provide a major source of new revenue. I already have presented my recommendations concerning this revenue and I believe I have spoken clearly. There is a substantially diminished controversy today over whether the needs exist. But there is wide difference as to whether a general sales or a graduated personal income tax should be employed to meet these needs. This difference is grounded on fundamental variations of philosophy.

No matter how palatable its supporters seek to make it, the general sales tax would strike a severe blow at the poor and those of moderate income among us. The business leaders who are supporting a sales tax concede that this levy, if it is to raise the needed revenues, must include clothing and shoes. The most recent business proposal has been the "Ohio tax," which also includes fuel oil, coal, and kerosene used for home heating and cooking. In fact, the only substantial exemptions that would be allowed, outside of items already affected by excise taxes, are food for home consumption and prescription medicines. I would observe that prescription medicines account for only a fraction of drug sales. Most purchases—including aspirin, baby oil, cough medicine and a multitude of other items—would be taxed at 3%.

I, for one, cannot recommend a tax that penalizes a working man when he buys a new pair of shoes for his child or a coat for his wife or when he fills his oil tank to heat his house.

I renew my recommendations for a graduated personal income tax which makes ability to pay the criterion. This country has grown great under such a revenue system. Thirty-four other states and the District of Columbia rely on a personal income tax as a major source of revenue. Only a few days ago, the highly respected Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations recommended

Federal tax changes that would bring further benefits to the taxpayers of states which utilize an income tax. We should not write off these potential benefits.

I would further remind some of the supporters of a sales tax that this country in recent years has accelerated its march toward greatness, not through exploitation of the poor and the weak among us, but by equitability in the sharing of the abundance which all of us have created together.

I am convinced that most of the support for a sales tax, particularly that by business groups, betokens a sincere recognition of New Jersey's needs. From personal conversations and from public statements it is clear that most of these citizens anticipate that, should they succeed in bringing about the defeat of an income tax, passage of a sales tax would follow immediately. I would strongly caution anyone interested in meeting the needs of New Jersey against such an assumption.

Should the income tax be defeated, there is the very real possibility that no fiscal reform will be enacted; that New Jersey will stand still and this pause in progress, in all political probability, would be for four years at least—bearing in mind intervening legislative, presidential and gubernatorial elections. Then we can say goodbye to our hopes for colleges, for taxpayer assistance, for better schools, for improved institutions, for needed highways and for so many other attributes of a progressive State.

Should such a situation eventuate, then this Legislature manifestly will have much to explain to the people of New Jersey in the elections of 1967.

The burden of the task before you matches its importance. I know I speak for all of New Jersey when I wish you well in the work ahead.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor of New Jersey.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
ON
LABOR AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

May 9, 1966.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

On January 18th of this year, as I took the oath of office a second time, I made pointed references in my Inaugural Address to the strength, direction and potential of the New Jersey economy.

To the business and industrial community I pledged, "an on-going partnership in progress, augmenting private profit as we promote the public interest."

To the great laboring segment of our society, whose physical and mental energies support much of our economic edifice, I pledged ". . . economic justice."

Today, in the redemption of those pledges, I shall ask you to consider a series of companion measures which will give new momentum to our thrust toward greater economic development and prosperity.

New Jersey currently enjoys the benefits of a prosperity peak. Every economic indicator from personal income to corporate profits, to length of work week, new jobs, retail sales and bank assets—points upward. Yet, in a period of almost daily technological change, where rising expectations are emerging from a citizenry beginning to sense the full potential of the free enterprise system—we find that today's economic peak may become tomorrow's economic plateau. Such a dynamic situation calls for new efforts by government, business, labor and industry.

We must consider new programs to right economic wrongs where they affect the workingman and woman. We must make every effort to expand private investment by State assistance to established industry and commerce, and through the encouragement of new business and industry to locate and develop here.

We must guarantee every workingman and woman a fair hourly minimum wage which assures him of a decent healthful life; adequate and realistic economic compensation if he becomes unemployed or physically or mentally disabled by a work-connected injury or disease. We must insure a decent legacy to the family whose breadwinner suffers death on the job. We must protect the worker from the hazards of uninsured employers, and we must assure all public employees the unimpaired right to express and adjust their grievances through established government machinery.

We must also strengthen our ability at the executive level to oversee and evaluate the dynamics of the whole New Jersey economy. We must actively promote, encourage and assist local and regional economic planning and development through State grants and loans to non-profit developmental agencies.

We must assure ourselves and industry of the availability of a trained and specialized work force to man the New Jersey factories, experiment in its laboratories, improve its harvests, manage its industries, invent its new products and trade them across state and national boundaries. And, finally, we must—as we have already begun to do—reform New Jersey's antiquated tax structure, especially as it inhibits the generous developmental energies of tens of thousands of small and large businesses and corporations making their homes in the Garden State.

Therefore, I am requesting your consideration of ten economic proposals—some of which already have been introduced. These should not be considered business proposals, or labor proposals, or government proposals. They are, in the best sense, public proposals to promote New Jersey's prosperity and well-being:

1. First, I have delivered to the legislative leadership a modernized workmen's compensation act which will provide flexible and more realistic compensation benefits geared to a percentage of average weekly wages. In cases of temporary total disability, the new benefits will be changed from a flat sum to a maximum of $\frac{2}{3}$ of the average weekly wage in covered employment—for a maximum of 300 weeks; for permanent total disability, $\frac{2}{3}$ of the average weekly wage—maximum of 450 weeks; in case of death, $\frac{2}{3}$ of average weekly wage—maximum of 450 weeks.

This revision will also raise funeral expense payments from $400.00 to a maximum of $750.00 for death incurred as a result of a work-connected injury or disease.

The bill also provides for the creation of a new fund covering work injury under uninsured employers. The former time limitation for claims resulting from ionizing radiation diseases would now be lifted. And, finally, this measure would establish a Commission to study problems of permanent partial disability, employment of the handicapped, speedy disposition of claims, and review of all administrative and procedural aspects of the workmen's compensation system.

2. Another bill which will strengthen workmen's compensation is the proposed increase of payments into the subsequent injury fund from 1 per cent to 2 per cent. This will aid in keeping this important fund solvent.

3. A companion workmen's compensation measure, Assembly Bill 542, calls for the prohibition of the commercial exploitation of workmen's compensation records. It deserves prompt attention.

4. A specific proposal has been developed for a comprehensive minimum wage act—the first in this State's history—to give long overdue minimum hourly wage coverage to those 100,000 employees not now covered by any minimum wage provision or order. This bill calls for the establishment—within 180 days of its enactment—of an hourly minimum wage of $1.25, which will rise to $1.40 on January 1, 1968, and $1.50 on January 1, 1969. All workingmen and women with the exception of domestic employees and persons under 18 are covered by the statutory rate and even these two groups could be covered by wage board action where necessary.

In moving from a $1.25 minimum wage to $1.50 over a three-year period, New Jersey protects its interstate competitive economic posture since New York State and the Federal government are already pursuing comparable proposals.

5. A revised unemployment compensation law is now being drafted and will be available next week which will provide a flexible rate of benefits geared to average weekly wage, rather than the present flat benefits.

This measure will also provide unemployment benefits after six weeks of disqualification to workers on strike. The taxable wage base will now have to be revised.

Here, New Jersey is again moving in concert with the Federal government which has proposed a broad revision of the national unemployment compensation system—the first such basic revision in more than 30 years.

6. There is now before you a companion unemployment compensation measure, Assembly Bill 662, which, though brief in language, looms large in economic implications. This measure would permit those persons out of work but participating in job training or retraining programs to receive unemployment benefits. Presently, trainees cannot receive such benefits. This bill will encourage the unemployed to seek vital training and thereby become, once more, contributors to our economy.

7. Assembly Bill 717 would establish a commission to study the need for a procedure whereby all public employees—including school employees—can present their grievances to government.

This is an important study because public employees—although prohibited by our Constitution from striking—should have a reasonable means to seek solutions to work grievances.

8. I am submitting today an Economic Policy Act which reaffirms New Jersey's commitment to foster private profit while assuring full employment.

This Act will create a small economic policy unit in the executive branch and be responsible for a broad overview and evaluation of the economic policies and programs of both the private and public sectors. It would create a three-man council of professional economic advisors to the Governor and would furnish statistical staff support to the executive and other departments of State government. An annual economic report would be submitted to the Legislature.

9. A State Economic Development Assistance Act is also being submitted today which, through the medium of a State Industrial and Business Survey Loan Fund, will help finance studies aimed at attracting new commerce and industry to New Jersey.

The State would be empowered to issue loans up to 50 per cent of the cost of industrial and commercial feasibility studies. If a firm decides to locate in New Jersey on the basis of the study, the loan must be repaid. If the firm chooses not to establish here, the completed survey becomes the property of the State for future re-use, including efforts to attract comparable industries.

A correlative section of this act provides for a new program of State matching aid grants—not to exceed 50 per cent of the cost of the project—to support and foster economic development programs initiated by local and county government and by other regional non-profit development agencies.

This type of area economic development is now increasing rapidly around the State. It is vital for New Jersey's international trade, manufacturing, small business, agricultural markets and for our justly renowned convention and tourist trade. Its benefits will also be measured by the State's added capability to utilize the millions of dollars in Federal aid now available under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965.

10. Another area of vital importance to our State's economy concerns reform of Chapter 51. In line with our announced intentions to reform the basic tax structure of the State so new incentives for private business are created, the Governor's Committee on Local Property Taxation has been reconvened. Its task is to reexamine its earlier recommendations for the elimination of local business property taxes, and its original proposal for a turn-over tax (on goods purchased for re-sale) at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}\%$ of 1 per cent per \$100 of value.

Strong objections have been made to this tax, especially in view of the adoption of the State sales tax. I am hopeful, therefore, that the Committee can revise its recommendations for replacement revenues so the turn-over tax is reduced or eliminated.

It has also been agreed that those local revenues lost as a result of the elimination of the tax on machinery, equipment and inventory must be replaced by other revenues coming from the business community. I expect the Committee's recommendations to be available for legislative consideration within the next two weeks. Chapter 51 must be revised this year.

I strongly recommend all of these measures to you. Some are already under active examination by you. Others will reach you today and in succeeding days. Their intent is clear. New Jersey must remain economically strong. The fruits of its prosperity must be shared by all those who support the economy. And we must plan intelligently for our economic future. I know this Legislature shares our hopes for prosperity and will do its duty.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

The following special message to the Legislature was received from the Governor.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
ON TRANSPORTATION

May 16, 1966.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

New Jersey, probably more than any other state in the nation, is dependent upon a modern and efficient transportation system. Our highways have the highest traffic density in the world, and our commuter railroads are among the most heavily traveled. The congestion of growth has caused intense pressures for the expansion of our highway system, and the State government is responding to these needs to the best of its financial ability.

While the motorist demands more highways, our commuters have had to be concerned about mere preservation of rail service. An adequate commuter rail system is a vital link in the economic life of more than 70,000 New Jerseyans and an essential element in the commercial health of the State. The rail system also serves those who do not ride it, since it helps to relieve pressure on a highway system used by hundreds of thousands of New Jersey motorists. It is difficult to imagine the economic pressures, traffic chaos, and safety hazards which would result if our high traffic density were increased by the collapse of our commuter railroad system.

Despite the obvious importance of the rail system to New Jersey, or perhaps because of it, our State has been involved in a series of emergencies with railroads that wish to discontinue unprofitable commuter service. This situation is not a short-run phenomenon, for most knowledgeable observers concede that such commuter service will remain unprofitable for some years to come. Confronted by intensified railroad pressures to discontinue service, the State has had to meet a series of crises.

We may take some pride in our accomplishments thus far. At New Jersey's insistence, the Port Authority has taken over and completely modernized the old Hudson and Manhattan Tubes which were, as of 1961, on the verge of collapse. The new system is the only completely air-conditioned, mass transit line in the nation. The State's commuter program for next year—totaling, with the flexibility of our new resources from the broad-based tax, more than $15 million in subsidies and capital improvements—will continue a policy enabling us to preserve essential service throughout the State.

The State is purchasing, with federal participation, thirty-five new commuter cars which will be leased to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Our hope is that this program will cut costs radically on the railroad and reduce state subsidies. And the State's Aldene Plan, by providing a direct connection between the Jersey Central and Pennsylvania near Newark, will improve service for 8,000 commuters and reduce operating losses.

We can take a measure of comfort from the recent decision of the Public Utility Commission which denied the petition of the Erie-Lackawanna for discontinuance of all railroad passenger service in New Jersey. While that decision cut service on certain lightly-traveled lines, service for over 90 per cent of the railroad's passengers was preserved.

For years the State's program has been hampered by severely limited capital and subsidy expenditures. Recently this Legislature acted wisely by passing a broad-based tax. The State's position in meeting the commuter rail crisis has been greatly strengthened by this fundamental fiscal reform. Now the time has come for the State to act boldly in the use of these new revenues. Now the opportunity is here to implement a comprehensive program to maintain essential commuter railroad service and to improve that service.

Our goal must be nothing short of a modern, electrified, interconnected commuter system. New cars will move passengers swiftly and safely, with few or no train changes, throughout the northern part of the state. Expanded parking, improved stations and more convenient ticketing arrangements also will increase the utility of the system. Without such a system, our problems can only multiply. Without such a system, subsidies will increase rapidly as cars and equipment become more aged and alternative forms of transportation draw commuters to our already choked highways. On the other hand, with such a system, New Jersey's vital economic lifeline will draw new vigor and strength. For the past two years, we have been developing the program which I propose in this message to the Legislature. Now that we have the resources, we can give New Jersey, within a decade, one of the finest commuter rail systems in the world.

I therefore, propose the Transportation Act of 1966. This Act is designed to give us the structure necessary to implement a comprehensive transportation program for the State of New Jersey. In it I propose we transform the Highway Department with all its functions into a newly created Department of Transportation. This agency will be a flexible and dynamic mechanism for implementing public policy. In addition to the functions of the present Highway Department, it will be responsible for expanded comprehensive transportation planning and the operation of the Bureau of Aeronautics now in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The present Division of Railroad Transportation will operate under an Assistant Commissioner for Public Transportation who also will coordinate the activities of a new Division of Motor Bus Transportation. To deal with major portions of the new program, the state will require a Commuter Operating Agency within the new department. A statewide Commuter Advisory Committee also will be established to insure adequate citizen participation in the affairs of the Department of Transportation.

This is not a program to assist railroads; it is a program to meet the basic needs of thousands of commuters by developing a balanced and integrated transportation system. While the state has no obligation to aid private railroads which are unprofitable, its obligation to its citizen commuters is undeniable. At the same time, the state's economic potential will be enhanced by the sounder and more secure freight service made possible by the improved railroad financial posture which must result from this expanded commuter program.

The only prudent method of providing New Jersey with a modern, convenient, and comfortable rail system is to build on what we have. If the essential links in the existing rail network are to be preserved and improved, a stable and equitable partnership must be forged between the State and the railroads.

The State contract program initiated in 1960 has achieved its basic objective—essential commuter rail service has been preserved, but it has been nip and tuck all the way. The year-to-year contract program does not provide the stability and continuity needed to guarantee a solid long-term base for even a limited capital improvement program. If a railroad is dissatisfied with the State's annual contract offer, it may seek to discontinue service, as the Erie-Lackawanna chose to do last January. Our commuters cannot live forever under such a sword of Damocles.

The State is now prepared to enter into a new contractual relationship with the railroads. It must assume responsibility for the support of essential commuter rail service for the duration of long-term agreements under which the railroads will act on the State's behalf in providing this service. Under the terms of the new contracts, the railroads would operate commuter service under the general supervisory direction of the proposed Commuter Operating Agency. Where necessary, the State would reimburse the railroads for any deficits incurred in meeting the costs or providing such service. The State would finance capital improvements on the commuter rail system. These improvements would remain the property of the State—an arrangement already in use in the state-federal new car program for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In entering this new relationship, we have one doubtful advantage—we are late. Thus, we have surveyed the experience of other states in the commuter field, and we are confident that we have found the best method for responding to New Jersey's special needs.

There are those who ask why the railroads, as privately owned enterprises, do not themselves eliminate their losses. The suburban service of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad is a frequently cited example of a line which has turned a commuter loss into a profit. Unfortunately, the experts tell us the economics of that railroad—passengers per train, low maintenance costs, and over-all financial health, etc.—are far different from the smaller trains, high right-of-way costs and lack of funds for capital improvements on the Erie-Lackawanna and Jersey Central. The present prospects for profits on the commuter lines of these New Jersey carriers are remote. Thus, it is our first priority to maintain any essential service, profitable or unprofitable, for from any aspect this service is our economic lifeline.

Other Eastern states and cities are wrestling with similar problems. In New York the state has had to purchase for $65 million the Long Island Railroad and will spend another $200 million for improvements. In Philadelphia an operating authority—which will make contracts similar to those I propose for our agency—has been formed. And in Connecticut the state is working, through an authority backed by substantial state money, to make it possible for the New Haven commuter service to be preserved in the merged Penn-Central System.

The example of the New Haven Railroad has special relevance for New Jersey since the Interstate Commerce Commission decision called for the tentative inclusion of that railroad in the merged Penn-Central System. One of our long-range goals must be the inclusion of the Erie-Lackawanna in the Norfolk and Western merger plans. The ICC decision made it clear that the New Haven would be included permanently in the merged system only if substantial public support is provided for the system.

The lesson for New Jersey is clear. The program I propose demonstrates that we are ready to satisfy the precedent the ICC has set in the New Haven decision. I have directed the Attorney General to insure that the Interstate Commerce Commission hearings will include a summary of our program and the action I hope you will take on it, and emphasize its relevance to the proposed Norfolk and Western merger. Thus we are hopeful that in the future the State of New Jersey will be dealing principally with two strong, stable carriers—the Penn-Central and merged Norfolk and Western system.

The proposals embodied in this message and the legislation will help us fulfill a vision of the kind of commuter railroad service New Jersey needs. Capital improvements are the keystone of the program. Failure to replace the present fleet of overage cars means mounting operating costs and increased state subsidies, not to speak of the physical danger to our commuters. New equipment and other badly needed capital improvements, including more convenient access to Manhattan, offer the only hope of stabilizing and increasing commuter rail ridership over the next decade.

On our new system, commuters will ride in comfortable cars powered by 11,000 volts A.C. (the present power system of the Pennsylvania) and interchangeable between lines. Trains will be boarded from modernized stations with improved parking facilities and high-level platforms. Most commuters on all lines will have access to mid-Manhattan through the Pennsylvania's 32nd Street tunnel and to lower Manhattan via the PATH system.

It is clear that such a system with its great benefits will have a cost—but the cost per year, apart from subsidies, amounts to not much more than two miles of modern highway in the northern part of the State. In other words, for about $10 million a year in State capital expenditures, we can provide the capital improvements to create a first-class commuter system for New Jersey citizens. It would cost about ten times as much to provide highways for the same citizens.

Just as in our highway program, the success of these capital expenditures depends upon federal participation. Thanks to the foresight and leadership of men like our own Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., federal funds now are available under the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 on both a one-half and two-thirds matching basis. With the detailed ten-year capital improvement program which will be available in approximately six weeks, I am confident that we can obtain federal aid at the full two-thirds ratio.

Some people might think that about $30 million a year is a lot of money to spend on capital improvements for commuters, but two things must be kept in mind: one, that up to two-thirds of this money will be in the form of federal grants-in-aid, provided that we make available the matching funds; and two, that this amount must be compared with the total added highway construction cost if commuter service is halted—a total which is estimated at a staggering $1 billion.

Implementation of the comprehensive commuter program will require organizational changes in the State's policy making and administrative machinery. The Division of Railroad Transportation has neither adequate staff nor sufficient authority to implement the projected capital improvement program or to administer the operations of an integrated commuter railroad system. More effective coordination between the State's commuter operating program and the regulatory activities of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners is needed. Thanks to the enlightened leadership of Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer, the Highway Department has been for the last six years, in effect, laying the ground work for a Department of Transportation, with the Commissioner responsible for State policy in the railroad as well as the highway field.

The creation of a Department of Transportation at this time will symbolize the increased State concern with rail and bus transport and the broad perspective with which the State approaches the interrelated problems of transportation. With a Department of Transportation, I am confident that the State will move to the forefront of the urban states in the development of comprehensive, integrated and balanced transportation.

Because our Highway Department is already concerned with public transportation, the Department of Transportation can be created with relative ease. I proposed no significant or expensive changes in structure but, rather, critical changes in the Department's purpose and potential.

The Department of Transportation would have under its jurisdiction a strengthened and expanded Division of Railroad Transportation, a Motor Bus Division, whose activities would be largely in the area of planning and technical assistance to private operators. To coordinate the expanded public transportation activities of the Department, we create the position of Assistant Commissioner for Public Transportation.

The Commuter Operating Agency will be the responsible public agency for the provision of commuter rail service in the state. It will supervise commuter railroad service operated by private corporations under contract with the state. Unlike the independent highway authorities which are financed through their own revenues, the Commuter Operating Agency will, for the foreseeable future, be dependent upon public funds. Rather than create an independent public authority, I propose an agency under the policy direction of State officials directly responsible to the Governor and, thus, to the people. Its Board of Directors would include four State officials—the Commissioner of Transportation (Chairman), the Assistant Commissioner for Public Transportation, the President of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and the State Treasurer.

We are about to embark on a transportation program of the greatest importance to the State of New Jersey. The actions required by the Legislature in this program are in themselves modest, but their benefits can be immense. We, as public men, have a responsibility to make it possible for the New Jersey public to move swiftly and safely through the state. For the present and the foreseeable future, this can only be accomplished with a viable and healthy commuter rail system. This system must be closely coordinated with private bus operations throughout the state, and the entire public transportation system must be developed in close coordination with a well-planned highway system which provides the maximum mobility to the people of New Jersey with a minimum of disruption of established patterns of community life. To build this coordinated transportation system, I shall direct the Commissioner of Transportation to expand his department's capability in the area of comprehensive transportation planning.

Each New Jersey citizen has a right to know that his journey to work and, therefore, his freedom to choose a dwelling place is secure. The program embodied in the Transportation Act of 1966, the new department, the new partnership with the railroads, and the comprehensive capital improvement program will, I believe, give our citizens this basic confidence in their public transportation services and their highway system.

In all of this we can sense a great potential and yet an achievable program that can surely build into New Jersey's future one of the finest transportation systems in the nation.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

The following special message to the Legislature was received from the Governor.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
ON HIGHER EDUCATION

May 25, 1966.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

Some weeks ago, I expressed my hope that for generations to come this Legislature would be called the Education Legislature. Already, by doubling State aid to local school districts, by providing new financial resources for college construction and by generous support of community college development, you have made a major start towards earning that proud title. But there is more to do, and more to consider. I come to ask today for legislation which will make our common claim to having been a part of the work of the Education Legislature more firm and secure. Most, if not all of us, have called education the first order of public business for the State of New Jersey.

The recent courageous enactment of a broad-based tax by the Legislature has given us the fiscal foundation to strive for greatness in education. But money alone will not solve our problem. We must design a system of higher education which both quantitatively and qualitatively represents a response to the often stated but still unfulfilled needs of our college age students. We can act now to accelerate the process of improvement in higher education made possible by our new resources so that New Jersey's performance will earn the respect and perhaps admiration of the entire country.

In my view, this transformation—for it is nothing less than that—can best be accomplished with a reorganized structure for higher education. I, therefore, am proposing to the Legislature the Higher Education Act of 1966.

I have reached this decision not so much because of the past but because of a realization of the enormous needs of the future.

What is at stake here is the future of generations of New Jersey's young citizens and, therefore, the very future of the State itself. Our State's economic and social potential are bound closely to a well-educated vigorous citizenry.

The public dialogue on this issue has continued for almost three years. During that period my mind was open to persuasion on the issue, my sole norm of duty being a conscientious decision as to the best hope for higher education for generations of New Jersey children yet unborn. But that dialogue is not a substitute for action. It is, rather, a prelude to carefully considered change. Every elected official of this State, every educator and every citizen has a responsibility to discuss and debate, but we also have an obligation to act. From the beginning on this issue, I have asked for a measured and objective public dialogue. I expect your legislative action to be made in that context of prudent discussion.

The need for reorganization in no way reflects upon the performance of those who have guided higher education through the long, difficult years of financial neglect and adversity. They have persevered under the most adverse conditions, and they have made frequent presentations of the State's needs. We owe these distinguished citizens and educators our continuing respect and gratitude. And I am sure they concur that we owe our college students no less than the best. For reorganization is a recognition that the massive pressures and complex needs of higher education require a commitment now of unusual effort and attention—a commitment which can only be met by a separate department of State Government.

We are all aware of the magnitude of this task. We must provide places in New Jersey for thousands of young people forced to go out of State for higher education. At present there are 60,000 of these—55 per cent of our college-bound high school graduates—who are being educated outside New Jersey. While some of these students wish to go out of State, others do not—and, in any case, other states are closing their doors to the flood of New Jersey applicants. We must find places at Rutgers, The State University, for some of the 4,000 well-qualified students who are now turned away and at the State Colleges for the 6,000 who are denied entrance. The tasks confronting a new Department of Higher Education are immense indeed. They involve the development of a master plan for the expansion of our higher education system and a coherent schedule for implementing each phase of the system. The new department must promote the rapid transformation of our State Colleges into truly multi-purpose institutions. It must develop expanded and improved graduate and professional education, recruit more and highly qualified teachers for our State Colleges and maintain intensive full-time supervision of increasing dollar expenditures in such areas as library acquisitions, equipment, faculty salaries and capital construction.

In short, we must come to grips with the fact that rapid physical expansion requires the very best in planning and administration. For our system of higher education must adapt to meet, over the next ten years, an anticipated increase in students from 30,000 to 120,000. Our operating budgets for higher education will run over $100 million a year versus the present $44 million. Capital needs for the same period are projected by the Citizens Committee on Higher Education at over $400 million. We must realize that without the most vigilant and skilled watchmen, the price of physical expansion in higher education may be deteriorating quality. As one study, the Governor's Committee on Higher Education, put it:

"The present organization structure of education in the State, designed to serve the needs of a former day, is now outmoded in view of the rapidly growing complexity of demands being made upon the single board that is responsible for the over-all policies for all public education in the State. New Jersey can well profit from the experiences of industry, as well as from other states that have recently reorganized their educational systems, in recognizing that there are times when greater decentralization of control is essential for effective results."

The same Committee, after a year of study, called in 1964 for a fundamental change in the structure of higher education in this State. The thrust of its recommendations was that higher education should be governed separately with its own independent lay boards and administrators.

Others have made similar recommendations but emphasized the need for coordination through an over-all Board of Higher Education and for the expertise of a Department of Higher Education.

At recent conferences and in many speeches on higher education, leading educators from around the nation have called for the creation of a separate governing structure for higher education. Men like Dr. James Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, and United States Commissioner of Education Harold Howe were certainly motivated by the highest professional principles in making this recommendation for our State, as are the many others both within and without New Jersey who have called for similar changes.

Within the last month, the Citizens Committee on Higher Education has submitted its recommendations on this vital subject. This distinguished body of industrialists, educators and citizens from all walks of life has, through its chairman, Dr. Robert F. Goheen, President of Princeton University, recommended the creation of a separate Department of Higher Education.

This Committee numbers among its membership many of New Jersey's most outstanding residents who have a stake in the educational future of our State. They have a deep interest in its economic growth and prosperity. We cannot ignore their recommendations, nor can we ignore the mounting weight of evidence.

The building of a first-rate system of higher education in New Jersey is not only an immense task—it is a highly specialized one that is distinct from the task of nurturing a first-rate system of elementary and secondary education.

We must face the fact that there are major distinctions between education from kindergarten through the twelfth year on the one hand and college and graduate school on the other. There are, for example, very different considerations that bear upon construction of physical plant, development of library resources, acquisition of appropriate classroom and laboratory equipment.

There are also different educational objectives in the years before and after twelfth grade, and these bear sharply on the kind of curriculum, teachers, and organization which administrators must provide.

In short, while we recognize that education is a continuous process, the administration of education at the elementary and secondary level requires consideration of matters quite distinct from those encountered at the college and graduate level. This central fact must be reflected in the State's structure for policy making in education.

College, graduate and professional education are not mere extensions of elementary and secondary education. There must be qualities of sophistication, inquiry and freedom in the pursuit of higher education which are not as relevant to the basic learning of the primary grades. Faculty, too, require different sorts of preparation, as do those professionals who direct either higher or elementary and secondary education in State departments. No advisory body, no matter how distinguished, nor division in a department, no matter how well intentioned, can be expected to provide the specialized management required for higher education.

Our present posture in public higher education gives us at least the advantage of determining from the experience of other states what appear to be the best patterns for developing a first-rate system of higher education. Nation-wide investigations have shown that many states in recent years have adopted separate boards for planning and coordinating higher education. Among these states are such leaders in public higher education as California, Illinois, North Carolina, Ohio and Wisconsin.

In addition, such comparable middle-Atlantic and New England states as Massachusetts (1965), Connecticut (1965), Maryland (1963), and New Hampshire (1962), have recently selected this form of organization. In all, 38 states have selected some form of separate administration for higher education.

In the legislation accompanying this Message, I propose a Department of Higher Education, governed by a Board of Higher Education, having full powers of organization and administration. This newly established Board would assume all responsibilities for master planning and coordination of the expansion and development of the State's public higher education system.

The Executive Officer of such a new Department of Higher Education would be called the Chancellor. Together with a small, highly qualified professional staff, he would provide the knowledge and experience required to govern a complex and growing system of higher education.

Rutgers, The State University, and the Newark College of Engineering will retain their governing boards. For each of the State Colleges, a Board of Trustees, consisting of nine members, would be appointed, having powers and responsibilities similar to those of the Board of Governors of Rutgers. In addition, a Council of State Colleges would be formed, as a forum for exchange of ideas and experience, consisting of the heads of each of the lay boards, as well as the presidents of the State Colleges. A Council of Community Colleges will also be formed, consisting again of the presidents of the community colleges, as well as the chairmen of their boards of trustees. What we have then, in essence, is a small, highly specialized department, under a Board of Higher Education which serves as a center for coordination and planning for separate, relatively autonomous institutions of higher learning.

If this system appears to be complex, we must remember that a college is, by its very nature, an independent, vital and complex entity; that it must have its own means of day-to-day governance and administration; and, that the task of providing first-rate college education requires the full attention of many citizens and educators.

To the members of the Legislature, I say that we can expect well-meaning and sincere individuals to question this decision, for change is never easy and the cost of excellence is often high.

Yet it now seems clear to me what course we should take. I urge your serious consideration of this legislation. You have participated as public men and interested citizens in this long dialogue, and you well recognize the issues and the significance of these proposals.

Bearing in mind always that our first thought must be for the well-being of our children, I am hopeful that we will be able to build the kind of higher education system which New Jersey deserves and towards which every obligation impels us. I am convinced that this can be done only through the development of a new structure for the administration of higher education in New Jersey.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,

Governor.

The following special message to the Legislature was received from the Governor.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
ON COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

May 31, 1966.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In the past quarter century every municipality in New Jersey—large and small, urban and rural, North and South, has experienced the effects of waves of rapid economic, social and population change.

Before those changes, we had taken the basic elements of community life for granted. We expected—and usually enjoyed—adequate local schools and teachers, an abundant water supply, sufficient inexpensive transportation, not too many problems of orderly city planning and capital development, a reasonable level of health, recreation, and basic public safety. But because of dynamic growth we can no longer automatically expect these things in our community lives—just as we can no longer neatly separate the interest of one municipality from another. The positive and negative effects of progress and change have far outgrown the original structures supporting them. We have, in fact, reached a critical stage in New Jersey—a problem not just for older cities but for all communities, and one of such dimensions as to challenge the ingenuity of government.

Numbers indicate the outlines of the challenge. Seventy per cent of all Americans today live in urban areas. But in New Jersey that urban figure rises to more than 87 per cent. In 1950 New Jersey had less than five million people. Now we number seven million. And in 1980 our population will exceed nine million. Even now we are the most densely populated state in the union with more people per square mile than any other state.

New Jersey is a popular state. Our exploding growth has resulted in good part from the in-migration of new people, new commerce and new industry. But numbers alone do not make an urban state. There have been changes in the structure and quality of living. Certainly the individual and social demands being made on municipalities in this State today far exceed those of 50 years ago. Population growth and mobility, new technology and rapid economic development, new buying and living tastes, the emergence of whole new suburban communities, the deterioration of the richness of life and services in older central cities, the paradox of slums and poverty in the midst of affluence—all have produced unique pressures and problems for local and state government.

The New Jersey citizen has found—sometimes to his displeasure—that he lives in an inter-connected society; that water and air pollution present a universal threat; that problems of education, housing, crime and poverty, the older citizens, finance, youth, and industrial development ebb and flow and obliterate, in effect, every geographic and political line. Private and public resources adequate for the population of the first half of the 20th century are no longer keyed to the needs and aspirations of the second half of the century.

Very few people in this State, whatever their status, and whatever their political view, seriously doubt that a point has now arrived in New Jersey where some new service organization is needed to help local communities marshal the resources of every level of government to meet new community problems. Very few will quarrel with the statement that although the State's 567 individual municipalities have performed herculean tasks in providing for the needs of their citizens in the past, the community problems of modern urban living can no longer be met solely by the efforts of individual local governments working without assistance.

The purpose of this message—and the legislation which accompanies it—is to underscore the fact that the cities, counties, townships and boroughs of New Jersey no longer need to stand alone. For I now propose that a new Cabinet-Level Department of Community Affairs be established for the primary purpose of aiding and assisting New Jersey local government meet local needs.

Such a proposal comes as no surprise. Since I first recommended it in 1961, it has been widely discussed. Its establishment was recommended in the special report of a high-level citizens' committee in 1963.

The concept of a Department of Community Affairs has already become operative, in one form or another, in many states. New proposals to create such functions are now pending in Colorado, Illinois, Ohio, Georgia and Maine. And, as we all know, the United States Congress and the President recently approved the establishment of a Housing and Urban Affairs Department on the national level.

The idea of a New Jersey Department of Community Affairs also has the support of such long established organizations as the New Jersey League of Municipalities, the New Jersey Municipal Managers and Administrators Association, the New Jersey Federation of Planning Officials and the League of Women Voters. Indeed, the idea of a branch of government devoted solely to local affairs is receiving widespread support from mayors and city officials throughout the country.

We proceed, then, from a solid base of citizen, professional and community support.

What shall this new Department be? First and foremost it will be a service organization whereby the full resources of our State can be called upon by communities for assistance with the entire spectrum of community problems, in a coordinated manner.

This Department will be staffed by individuals with ideas and expertise in the areas of housing, community redevelopment, economic opportunity, local taxation and capital planning, land use and development, local and regional planning, in the problems of youth and the older citizen and ranging to human resource planning for the mentally and physically handicapped as well as the culturally deprived.

It will bring together in one place—and hopefully under one roof—and under one administrator a number of already existing divisions, offices and services of State government relevant to the modern problems of community life.

The new Department would include the existing Division of State and Regional Planning, the Bureau of Housing (constituted as the Division of Housing and Urban Renewal), the Division of Local Government (constituted the Division of Local Finance), the Local Property Tax Bureau (constituted the Bureau of Local Property Valuation), the Bureau of Tenement House Supervision (constituted the Bureau of Housing Inspection), the New Jersey Office of Economic Opportunity, and the Division of Aging and the Division of Youth. A new section would be created in the new department, and that would be an Office of Community Services which would serve both as an intergovernmental relations unit as well as a statistical and research support unit. All of the functions and powers now associated with these existing parts of State government would be transferred intact to the new Department. In addition, to insure public and citizen participation in the plans and operations of the department, a 12-member Advisory Council on Community Affairs would be established. Also, the powers now held by the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development under the Regional Advisory Council Act, the Tri-State Transportation Compact and the Redevelopment Agencies Law would be transferred to the Commissioner of Community Affairs.

The new Department would play a central role not only in informing local governments about the local activities of State government, but would also become a helpful link in Federal-State-Local programs—a vital part of cooperation among governments dedicated to serve the people in the face of unprecedented problems. Therefore, I would look to the new Department of Community Affairs to serve and protect the interests of New Jersey and its local governments as they relate to Federally assisted programs. A perusal of a recent catalogue on available Federal programs showed, for example, that there were at least 500 distinct Federal aid, support or assistance programs which local, county and state governmental entities might utilize. There were many hundreds of other assistance programs for educational or other non-profit institutions. I firmly believe that the new Department of Community Affairs—without interfering with the operating departments of the State or the municipalities—can help

New Jersey's 567 communities avail themselves of new Federal assistance programs. Our hand will thus be strengthened in making full and intelligent use of all available Federal dollars.

For example, in many Federal programs, a local official must first evaluate the applicability of the Federal program to the problems of his community. He must determine whether his community has the prerequisites to qualify for Federal grants or loans or assistance. He must know whether his community must provide matching funds for participation, and how much. He must know whether a "workable program" is needed for housing aid, and how to develop it. He must know whether a sewerage project requires regional planning or participation. He must know whether an over-all economic development plan must have Federal approval before economic development funds are made available. And he must give the Federal government assurances that equal opportunity and equal accessibility apply to all Federally supported projects, without regard for race or religion or ancestry. All of these questions and more would be answered by one or a combination of the offices of the new Department of Community Affairs. Not only would questions be answered, but technical and other support services would be provided. Mayors or boards of freeholders would be assisted in preparing applications for Federal programs. An up-to-date information and statistical program would be maintained, not only on all Federal programs which affect local community life, but on all State programs which affect local communities.

In the past there has been some debate as to whether a new State Department of Community Affairs might be an encroachment on local home rule. There is a straightforward answer to that query. The elements making up the new Department have, with few exceptions, been in existence for a number of years. They are service components rather than program offices. They have been cooperating with local governmental officials for years on an amicable and productive basis, and without any noticeable loss of home rule powers. The new Department of Community Affairs would in fact, by the service it performs, add a new dimension to local home rule, strengthen it, and make it a sharper and more useful tool of modern government.

In anticipation of the establishment of this Department, some months ago I asked a special task force to develop an imaginative and updated series of recommendations in the area of housing and urban redevelopment. That task force made a series of proposals, some of which are still under review, while others have resulted in legislative proposals already before you, including middle income housing and optional municipal rent control.

The task force report also recommended other areas for further consideration and these will be studied by the new department: 1. revision of the 60-year old tenement housing law; 2. a broadening of the redevelopment agencies act; 3. State aid for urban renewal projects; 4. training programs for municipal administrators, technicians and staff in areas such as urban renewal, local planning, local finance, city management.

The State owes this task force a debt. We shall call upon it for additional expertise as the new Department progresses.

With all our resources, and with all our good intentions, and with the new structure of a new Department, no amount of outside aid from government or any other source can do the whole job for a community. Community vitality must come from its citizens, from the people who care enough for their community to keep it perpetually renewed in the face of every change and challenge. This Administration cares. It cares for every community and for every citizen in this State. And so, once again, in proposing this new Department, we pledge: "to the great and small cities of our State, weighted down beneath the burdens of new urban demands . . . our hand and our financial aid in the promising new physical and human transformation which awaits us . . . the vitality of our communities is the vitality of our people. . . ."

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
November 28, 1966. }

SENATE BILL No. 423

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Senate Bill No. 423, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Senate Bill No. 423 would amend the law limiting to 9 the number of county investigators that may be appointed by the prosecutor of second class counties to provide that, where there is a reasonable necessity therefor, the prosecutor with the approval by resolution of the board of chosen freeholders may appoint any number of additional county investigators.

Presently, the maximum number of county investigators that can be employed by any class of counties is fixed by law. This maximum number has been changed periodically by statute to reflect the need for additional personnel doing criminal investigation work based on population growth and the increased crime rate in our counties. For example, earlier this year I approved of a bill which increased from 24 to 30 the maximum number of county employees that may be appointed in first class counties, chapter 265 of the Laws of 1966. Although I can appreciate that there may be a need for additional county investigators in several of the second class counties, I believe this should be provided for by increasing the permissible number of county investigators, in consistency with the present statutory scheme, rather than permitting the prosecutor in second class counties to determine the maximum number of county investigators subject to the approval of the board of chosen freeholders.

I have discussed the need for additional county investigators in second class counties with the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 423 and agree that present conditions justify an increase in the maximum number of county investigators that may be appointed in second class counties.

Accordingly, I herewith return Senate Bill No. 423 for reconsideration and recommend that it may be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 6, delete "County" and insert in lieu thereof "Not more than 6 county".

Respectfully,

[SEAL]
Attest:

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

LAWRENCE BILDER,
Secretary to the Governor.
