The Northeast Summit on Climate Adaptation for Library Facilities, which consists of State libraries and agencies from Maine to Maryland, invites you to save the date for our next webinar, “Library Greenscapes: Cultivating Climate Resilience, Community, and Learning Outdoors.”

This virtual event will take place on Tuesday, February 4, from 1:00pm to 2:30pm and will feature a keynote from MA, landscape architect Lisa Giersbach of the G2 Collaborative, and a panel discussion of librarians from VT, MA, and MD who have transformed their library’s exterior landscapes.

More information and a registration link will be forthcoming. We hope to see you there!
