DMAVA Town Hall meeting gives information to state employees

During a meeting held at the Lawrenceville Armory on Tuesday, March 3, Maj. Gen. Glenn K. Rieth, The Adjutant General, talked to the state employees about the upcoming 2010 state budget and the contingency plans the staff would be making during the next few months.

Reminding the audience repeatedly that the plans would be contingency plans, dependent upon the deficit in the state budget and how the economy would progress, Gen. Rieth spoke about the possibility of large-scale layoffs throughout the state.

"The governor is not happy about layoffs," said Rieth. "They are a last resort. But Governor Jon Corzine is constitutionally required to have a balanced budget; he cannot deficit spend like the federal government."

Rieth told the assembled state employees that the 2009 fiscal year's state budget has a significant shortage - $2-2.5 billion. He said that right now the state is facing a $6-7 billion shortage for 2010.

"For 2010, the governor has some tough decisions, personnel are on the table," said Rieth. "Here at DMAVA, everything is on the table - things like Vets Haven, the three homes, the cemetery and ChalleNGe. Previously we have come to the DMAVA campus to save and there is nothing left but some onesies and twosies to do."

Rieth said that furloughs and a freeze on wage increases are also on the table and would be preferable to layoffs. He stated that all three branches of the state government are participating in the search to cut back.

"We will continue to communicate with all of you throughout the process, letting you know about our contingency plans," he said. "As we know information, we will share it with you."

"The economy will get worse before it gets better. We (the government) have to be part of the solution, said Rieth. "Furlough issues will affect all people at all levels. It will affect me, nurses and you. We all need to share in the cost savings."

One question from the audience asked about the projects taking place in the building if we are trying to save money.

"Good question," replied Rieth. "We are fixing up offices to bring in more federal employees who bring in money to help pay the building's bills. And the fence that is going up around the property was scheduled four years ago. It is being paid for with Federal Homeland Security grant money."

Rieth ended the meeting reminding everyone that what was being worked on was contingency plans and that he would be sure to communicate with everyone what the department's plans would be once the decisions were made.

VFW sponsoring entrants to Annual Veterans Golf Classic

By Sharon Foster, American Forces Press Service

WASHINGTON, March 4, 2009 – the Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor eight Purple Heart recipients who served in the Persian Gulf, Iraq or Afghanistan wars in the Annual Veterans Golf Classic in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The trip, May 17-20, will include free airfare, hotel accommodations and the tournament entry fee for each winner. Players must have a U.S. Golf Association slope handicap or be able to validate five or six of their most recent scores to be eligible.

Meals will not be included and family members may attend at their own expense.

This will be the first year the veterans organization has sponsored veterans to this golf tournament through its Kahle Fund, Steve Van Buskirk, VFW director of programs, said.

In addition to the golf event, there will be opportunities to meet other players and an awards dinner on the final evening.

For a chance to win one of the eight trips, Purple Heart recipients from the Gulf, Iraq or Afghanistan wars must submit an entry form by mail in time for the April 1 drawing. You can find the entry form at www.vfw.org/pdf/Golf%20Trip%20form_web.pdf.

DMAVA Green

By Tech. Sgt. Barb Harbison, DMAVA Public Affairs Specialist

Pizza night is always a fun night for me. Deciding on the toppings, picking up the pizza, smelling it on the drive home and then enjoying one of my favorite food groups. Even a cold left over piece the next morning is a special treat.

But I recently found out that how I have been disposing of my pizza box may have caused problems. Pizza boxes often are not recyclable!

Yes, they are made from corrugated cardboard and that is normally recyclable. What gives my recycler indigestion from my pizza box? The grease and cheese that has stained the cardboard.

In fact, any paper product that has grease or food stains is not able to be recycled. The reason is that in the paper recycling process, food is one of the "baddest" of the bad guys. Then, add oil and you have a real recipe for disaster.

During the paper recycling process, the paper and cardboard are mixed with water. (Glass, metal and plastic use heat in the recycling process so the grease and oil do not pose quite as big a problem.) Go back to chemistry class – oil and water don't mix. This is another reason why you cannot recycle other paper items that come in contact with food, like used paper plates, napkins and paper towels.

Oils can cause problems with the fibers binding when the "new" paper is being made, creating spots and holes. Another item that can cause problems in the recycling process are the stickers and coupons that are on the pizza box. They too can ruin the recycling process.

For those who put their pizza boxes in the recycling anyway – you are not helping the process. It is estimated that contamination costs the paper recycling industry around $700 million per year., through damage to equipment, disposal costs of the contaminated matter and just the wasted time from processing the contaminated paper.

If you want to recycle – tear out the stained parts of the box and toss them in the regular trash can. Above all, check what your local recycler will accept. According to sources it depends on where the processor sends your paper.

If you have a green tip or a site to recommend, drop me a line at Barbara.harbison@njdmava.state.nj.us.

You may have received or heard of this letter. The letter is part of an eligibility audit program of the State Health Benefits Plan (SHBP) that is required by law. The letter states that if you do not provide the information by Feb.20, your dependents will not be covered.

Please be advised that no eligible dependent will be removed from the State Health Benefits Plan on Feb. 20, 2009. While we had originally asked that the documents be submitted by Feb. 20, we recognize this may present a hardship. We are asking those of you who received the letter to get the documentation as soon as possible so that the audit process moves forward. We will send a reminder to those who received the mailing in the next few weeks establishing a deadline for submission.

For those who did not receive a letter, please be advised you will also be receiving a written notice requiring that you verify the eligibility of dependent coverage. This will be an individual notice sent to your address and it will include a deadline for response and instructions.

Because the letter has generated questions among many recipients, the Division of Pensions and Benefits soon will prepare and post on its Web site a special "FAQ" page that will provide detailed information and address concerns about the eligibility audit and its requirements.

Audit programs are important and are used by many businesses and governments to ensure that only those eligible are covered and we look forward to implementing the audit in a way that satisfies our legal obligation but is still fair and with adequate notice to our State workforce.

Please do not hesitate to contact the SHBP Dependent Eligibility Verification Service Center at 1-866-641-5651 if you have any additional questions.

State employees who move, marry must contact HR department

From the desk of Lisa Dandrea, Human Resources, Personnel Assistant

If you are a state employee, working for DMAVA, Vets Haven, and the Cemetery, and you have an address change and/or a name change, it is extremely important that you contact Lisa Dandrea in the Human Resources Office. There have been a lot of issues with tax W2s, pension statements and pay checks being returned to our office, as well as some employees not receiving their new health cards, all due to incorrect addresses. Your address change is not automatic and it is not limited to completing a new W4. There are specific forms for employees to complete that updates their new information statewide. Your change of address or name affects your paycheck, your pension statements, W2s, loans, any information sent out by your health care provider, promotional announcements from Dept. of Personnel, etc. If you have had an address/name change and have not updated your information, please make sure you contact Lisa Dandrea in HRD-ESB at 609-530-6888 or e-mail Lisa.Dandrea@njdmava.state.nj.us.

The National Guard Family Program Division announces the National Guard: Child Care Use During Deployment Survey.

Our target audience is National Guard families with children who are currently preparing for deployment, in a deployment phase, or recently returned from deployment (up to 2 months after return).

Information collected in this survey will be used to research perceptions and child care needs of military members. This information will assist in the formulation and improvement of policies for programs that benefit military families. Reports will be provided to the National Guard Family Programs Division. Findings may be used in reports and testimony provided to Congress and other Government Agencies. Some findings may be published in professional journals, or presented at conferences, symposia, and scientific meetings. In no case will individual identifiable survey responses be reported.

Providing information on this survey is voluntary. Most people take 10-15 minutes to complete the survey.

The program which had been open to children in grades K - 12, will now be offered to 3- and 4-year-olds. Additionally, children may be eligible for a second grant award if their parent is deployed for 365 days or more. Our Military Kids grants cover six months of an activity to a maximum award of $500. Children who have a parent deployed for 365 days or more will now be eligible for a second grant award provided the parent has 60 days remaining on the deployment orders and six months has elapsed since the first grant award.
