State and Local Representatives Will Offer Programs and Resources to New Jersey's Business Community

Trenton, NJ – Continuing her efforts to help New Jersey's businesses access vital programs, Lt. Governor Kim Guadagno will today welcome more than 100 business owners to the Resources for Business Growth event held at Hawk Pointe Country Club in Warren County. Today's event was coordinated by the New Jersey Business Action Center (BAC) in partnership with the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce.

"Business owners do their job every day. They are too busy to come to Trenton, especially small business owners," said Lt. Governor Guadagno. "So, with these Resources for Growth events, we do our job and we come to them. We will continue to work hard to provide the resources our businesses – both large and small – need to succeed."

Today's event will provide an opportunity for representatives of businesses from all industries to meet one-on-one with state and county representatives and community partners to learn more about the resources available to New Jersey's businesses. Employees of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development, Department of the Treasury, Board of Public Utilities, State Library, Business Action Center and Economic Development Authority were on hand to provide information on the State's programs. Local and community representatives included UCEDC, Washington and Hackettstown Business Improvement Districts, the Intersect Fund, Warren County Community College, the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce, among others.

Fifteen Resources for Business Growth events have been held throughout the state over the past several years and have reached more than 1,000 businesses. The next event will be held on June 2nd at Monmouth University.

Businesses considering a move or in need of assistance are encouraged to call New Jersey's Business Action Center at (866) 534-7789 or visit the State's Business Portal at www.newjerseybusiness.gov.
