Governor Whitman to Visit Fort Lee Historical Park

Gov. Christie Whitman tomorrow will tour the Fort Lee Historic Park to discuss the need to preserve open space, farmland, and the state's historic treasures.

Gov. Whitman's plan that will be put before voters on Nov. 3 election will preserve historic sites in New Jersey, as well as 1 million acres of open space and farmland, by constitutionally dedicating a stable source of funding for preservation.

The historic Fort Lee Historic Park is run by the Palisades Interstate Park Commission.
