1. The following provides a breakdown, where such information was readily available, of the federal jurisdiction in which the cases were filed: New Jersey - 18; New York - 6; Texas - 5; Pennsylvania - 4; California - 2; Florida - 2; Georgia - 2; Maryland - 2; Rhode Island - 1; Virginia - 1.

2. In one case, a county, rather than the state, was the alleged victim, so there was no False Claims Act jurisdiction; two cases involved allegations of tax fraud, and the New Jersey False Claims Act jurisdiction does not extend to tax fraud, N.J.S.A. 2A:32C-2; in one case, the federal government was the alleged victim; and in three cases there was no violation of the False Claims Act because the alleged victim was a private person.

3. These case were filed under the New Jersey False Claims Act but the conduct establishing liability occurred prior to the Act's passage, so the matter was not settled under the Act.

4. These cases were filed under the New Jersey False Claims Act but the conduct establishing liability occurred prior to the Act's passage. Because the New Jersey False Claims Act was not in effect at the time of the conduct establishing liability, the relator was not provided with any share of the State of New Jersey's recovery.
