STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL,
TRENTON, November 1, 1878. }

His Excellency, George B. McClellan, Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

The Quartermaster General of the State of New Jersey begs leave respectfully to report:

The supplement to the act for the organization of the National Guard, approved March 18, 1878, provides "that the Quartermaster General shall be acting Commissary General, acting Paymaster General, and acting Chief of Ordnance." The duties of the acting Paymaster General have been perplexing and onerous, in the payment of the additional pay allowed by the Legislature, to men who had served in the National Guard, in the emergency existing in this State, during the months of July and August, 1877, a more particular report of which will be found in the appendix. The ordnance stores, clothing, equipments, ammunition, and camp and garrison equipage, kept in the State Arsenal, are mostly in good condition, and sufficient to meet the wants of the National Guard in almost any emergency. The arms are in good repair.

Owing to the fact that the buildings at the State Arsenal, after calling in the artillery from Washington Headquarters, were not large enough for the proper storage of the ordnance, a number of gun-carriages and caissons, battery wagons and traveling forges, then stored under canvass on the Arsenal grounds, were removed during the last summer by your order, to the building formerly occupied as the Soldiers' Children's Home. Some unimportant alterations were required to place the building in a suitable condition for their reception and storage, not impairing in the least its utility for any other purpose for which this building may be used, at a cost very much less than we could have erected sheds for the same purpose. These alterations were made with as little expense as possible, amounting to one hundred and four dollars and sixty-one cents ($104.61,) which is included in the expenditures incurred during the past year for the alteration, repairs and care of the Home.

Pavements have been laid on Cass street at the Arsenal during the year, in pursuance of an ordinance of the common council of the city of Trenton, the total expense reaching the sum of five hundred and six dollars and forty-five cents ($506.45.)

The total number of small arms of all calibre, serviceable and unserviceable, belonging to the State, is twenty-three thousand three hundred and thirty-seven (23,337.) The State has twelve (12) light Napoleon guns, smooth bore, four (4) 3½-inch Ames' guns, smooth bore, four (4) 3½-inch James' guns, rifled, and eighteen (18) 3-inch Griffin guns, rifled. These are serviceable, with gun-carriages, limbers, caissons, battery wagons, traveling forges and implements complete for six (6) 6-gun batteries. Also the following, unserviceable, dismounted, two (2) bronze guns, 6-pounders, two (2) bronze guns, 4-pounders, and five (5) bronze guns, 6-pounders. In the appendix, Statement A, will be found a list of ordnance stores in the State Arsenal.

The National Guard, consisting of forty-seven (47) companies of infantry, with a minimum in each company of fifty men, one (1) battery of artillery, and two (2) Gatling gun companies, is armed with the Springfield breech loading rifle, calibre forty-five, four (4) twelve pounder light Napoleon guns, and two (2) Gatling guns. The force is efficient, well drilled, and under the proper degree of discipline for the citizen soldier, and should be permanently maintained on its present basis. By direction of the Major General commanding, (Special orders No. 3, April 10, 1878), the Fifth Regiment was required to "turn over to the Quartermaster General all arms now in their possession, and receive from the State the S. R. cal. 45, b. l., under such regulations established by the Chief of Ordnance." In obedience to this order all the companies of that regiment, with the exception of Companies C and D, have been re-armed. Company C has made no requisition for rifles, nor have the officers given bond for them. No officers are commissioned in Company D, and it appears to be without an officer qualified to draw the arms. At the inspection in May last the number of officers in the National Guard was two hundred and thirty-four (234), and of enlisted men two thousand, nine hundred and forty-six (2,946.) The annual returns received at this office, show the following condition of arms in their possession, and the number of uniformed men in each corps:

Battery A.....	97	.....	.....	Four guns complete.
Gatling Gun Company A..	47	40	40	Carefully kept.

It will be seen from the above statement that several companies have a less number of arms than men in uniform. This is explained by the fact that company commanders generally object to assuming the care and responsibility of ordnance stores, unless actually required for parades, companies seldom parading more than forty men, except for musters and inspection.

The National Guard has been supplied with ammunition sufficient to meet all requirements, and the following statement will show the amount on hand in each regiment and battalion, on the first of October, as appears by the reports of the Quartermasters:

First Regiment, Lieutenant George G. Gorum, Quartermaster, twelve thousand (12,000) rounds.

Third Regiment, Lieutenant Jacob J. Coyne, Quartermaster, twelve thousand six hundred and twenty-five (12,625) rounds.

Fourth Regiment, Lieutenant John A. Parker, Quartermaster, twelve thousand six hundred and forty-eight (12,648) rounds.

8 QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S REPORT.

Fifth Regiment, Lieutenant William H. Jeroloman, Adjutant, acting Quartermaster, eight thousand (8,000) rounds metallic cartridges, calibre 45, and three thousand (3,000) rounds E. B. cartridges, calibre 58.

Sixth Regiment, Lieutenant Richard W. Kerswell, Quartermaster. The report of this officer has not been received. He informs me that the report was made in due time and forwarded to the Adjutant of the regiment for transmittal, but it has never reached headquarters.

Seventh Regiment, Lieutenant George T. Cranmer, Quartermaster, seven thousand five hundred and fifty (7,550) rounds.

Ninth Regiment, Lieutenant James H. Symes, Quartermaster, three thousand (3,000) rounds.

Second Battalion, Lieutenant Jacob J. DeMott, Quartermaster, six thousand (6,000) rounds.

Gatling Gun Company A, Captain J. M. Drake, one thousand (1,000) cartridges, calibre 45.

An agreement was made with the New Jersey State Rifle Association, by which Brinton Range at Elizabeth was open to the National Guard, when in uniform, for practice, on Monday, Thursday and Saturday in each week, until November 1st, 1878.

Under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, the various organizations of the National Guard have been carried through a regular course of practice at the range.

Ammunition has been furnished in pursuance of orders of the Major General during the year for rifle practice at Brinton and Creedmoor, and for competition in the Fall Prize Meetings. The total number of rounds issued is as follows:

Col. William H. Sterling, A. D. C., General Inspector.....	500
Col. Daniel Lodor, A. A. G.....	600
Col. Daniel B. Murphy, Inspector Second Brigade.....	500
Peter Bonnett, Secretary New Jersey State Rifle Association.....	1,000
Lieut. George G. Gorum, Inspector First Regiment.....	7,000
Capt. William H. DeHart, Inspector Third Regiment.....	7,000
Lieut. William O. Chase, Inspector Fourth Regiment.....	3,000
Capt. George M. Townsend, Inspector Fifth Regiment.....	6,000
Lieut. Benjamin L. West, Inspector Sixth Regiment.....	3,000
Lieut. Richard W. Kerswell, Inspector Sixth Regiment.....	4,000
Lieut. Thomas S. Chambers, Inspector Seventh Regiment.....	3,400
Lieut. Lewis H. Greve, Inspector Ninth Regiment.....	11,000
Capt. Abraham D. Campbell, Inspector Second Battalion.....	4,500
Lieut. Thomas S. Chambers, Inspector Seventh Regiment, for Gatling Gun Company A.....	1,000
Total issue.....	52,500

It has been necessary to purchase considerable ammunition to meet these wants. The total number of cartridges for Springfield rifles in the State Arsenal is one hundred and twenty-three thousand nine hundred forty-six (123,946.)

By direction of the Major General commanding the National Guard, (Special Orders No. 4, May 4th, 1878,) Lieutenant Peter A. Eller, commanding Battery A, was required to "return without delay to the acting Chief of Ordnance, Trenton, N. J., the four 3½ James' guns, carriages, caissons and limbers, firing implements, horse equipments, ammunition and projectiles, and other ordnance stores in possession of the battery," to be armed with 12-pounder Napoleon guns. The property was received at the Arsenal on the 13th and 14th of May, and the re-arming of the battery was completed on the 21st of August, when proper arrangements had been made for the secure storage of its arms and material.

On the 6th of February, J. Madison Drake, commanding the "Veteran Zouaves, an independent military organization of Elizabeth, composed entirely of veterans of the late war," made application for the loan of forty Springfield rifles and accoutrements. The application was referred to your Excellency "for authority to issue," none "existing for the loan of military property to independent organizations." Pending its consideration, the Legislature adopted a joint resolution, which was approved on the 19th of March, authorizing the Quartermaster General to loan to the officers for the use of that company, "arms and accoutrements." On the 26th of March, the proper bond being filed, forty muzzle loading muskets and accoutrements were loaned. A supplement to the act for the organization of the National Guard, approved March 29th, 1878, provided that "the Commander-in-Chief, whenever it shall be necessary or advisable for the public interest, may cause to be organized additional companies of the National Guard, not to exceed two, to be drilled in the use and practice of the Gatling or other similar guns." Under the authority of this supplement, two companies have been formed, the Veteran Zouaves, of Elizabeth, being mustered as Gatling Gun Company A, and the officers elected and commissioned on the 13th of May, and Gatling Gun Company B, of Camden, mustered and officers commissioned on the 10th of June. The Veteran Zouaves of Elizabeth returned the arms loaned under the joint resolution above referred to, and on the 21st of May, the company, now known as Gatling Gun Company A, was re-armed with forty Springfield rifles, breech loaders, and on the 8th of June two Gatling guns were forwarded for the use of the company, a bond of the officers with sufficient security, in the sum of $3,000, being first filed in this office.

The company at Camden has not been armed, the officers not having, as yet, given the required bonds, nor provided a suitable armory as required by law.

During the year the Medical Staff of the National Guard of this State made application to be supplied with medicine chests and surgical instruments. The application being approved, each Regimental Surgeon was furnished with one (1) medicine chest and one (1) three-fold pocket case of surgical instruments; each Brigade Surgeon with one (1) amputating and trephining set of instruments, and the Surgeon of the Division, one (1) complete set of amputating and trephining instruments. The total cost of the medicine chests and instruments furnished and issued as above, was four hundred and seventy-six ($476) dollars.

These stores were marked and stamped throughout, with the letters "N. G. N. J.," and were issued and are to be accounted for as other military property. It is believed that the articles contained in these cases are ample for the immediate wants of the service. Should there, however, arise an occasion when a greater supply of medicine would be needed, larger chests are in store at the State Arsenal, which can be filled and issued with a supply sufficient for a regiment for any period, within six hours of the receipt of a requisition. The pocket cases contain all the instruments necessary for minor surgical operations, and in case of amputation or more difficult operations, it is supposed that the Brigade or Division Surgeon would naturally be called in for consultation and assistance, who will thus be provided with instruments equal to any case requiring surgical attention. These stores have been issued to all the surgeons making requisition for them.

The annual parade of the First Brigade took place at Newark, on the 30th of May. Much satisfaction was expressed at the soldierly appearance of the men. The Second Brigade paraded at the centennial celebration of the battle of Monmouth, at Freehold, June 28th. The good discipline and soldierly bearing of the men was very gratifying. Transportation for these parades was furnished by this department, as required by law.

Under the supplement approved March 15, 1878, two deputy Quartermasters, viz., Major Bird W. Spencer, of Jersey City, and Major James S. Yard, of Freehold, were appointed and commissioned on the 4th and 5th of June.

The following officers were detailed on the 9th of July by your Excellency, as a board of survey of the unserviceable stores at the New Jersey State Arsenal: Colonel William H. Sterling, Aide-de-Camp; Captain Benjamin F. Chambers, Judge Advocate Seventh Regiment; Captain William H. Skirm, Company A, Seventh Regiment.

The report of the Board has been transmitted to you through the Adjutant General's office. The stores recommended to be sold will be offered at public sale by your order. All arms, and the accoutrements and ammunition belonging thereto will be reserved until otherwise ordered.

A number of officers have been relieved from the responsibility of property issued to them, which has been lost or destroyed in the service of the State. Affidavits are required, stating specifically the cause of the loss or destruction. These affidavits are referred to your Excellency, and the officers only relieved upon your authorization. A considerable amount of property unaccounted for, remains charged upon the books of this office, but the law is sufficient to relieve officers if they avail themselves of its provisions.

At your direction and upon the request of Hon. Crowell Marsh, Senator from Mercer county, Company A, Washington Continental Guard of Princeton, was allowed to retain the arms and accoutrements issued by authority of a resolution of the Legislature, until the next session, when if no action is taken by the Legislature the arms will be required to be returned to the Arsenal. The arms are there now only at the discretion of this department, and at the earnest solicitation of Senator Marsh to gratify a large number of citizens of Princeton.

Frequent applications are made for the loan of tents, guns, equipments, &c., the property of the State. Previous to your administration it had been the custom to loan such property under certain restrictions, protecting the State against losses or damages. This practice has been discontinued. The act for the organization of the National Guard, places ordnance and ordnance stores, and clothing, camp and garrison equipage, in the charge of the Quartermaster General, and after defining his duties in relation thereto, gives him authority to loan stores for certain purposes upon certain conditions, to companies of the National Guard. He is also authorized to furnish military stores, upon due requisitions approved by the proper military authority, to be issued as prescribed by rules and regulations, at any time, for use or supply of the State forces, "at any parade, encampment or station, or as may be required by them while on actual service." He is required to order the return of property not under lawful responsibility. There is no authority in the act authorizing the loaning of property for any purpose that is not purely military. The order of the Commander-in-Chief calling out the military force, for any purpose, carries with it, authority to the Quartermaster General to furnish all the requisite military supplies. The opinion of the Attorney General was asked upon the question of loaning the property of the State. His answer will be found in the appendix.

For the first time in eighteen years the inauguration of the Governor was unattended by any military display. The duties heretofore devolving upon this office on similar occasions, in furnishing transportation and supplying subsistence and quarters to the military on duty, and incidental work necessary to make complete arrangements, were materially lessened and the expense greatly reduced. The demonstration was an entirely civic one. Overcoats were loaned by order of Governor Bedle, to one of the bands participating, and also to the White Boys in Blue, an organization of this city, composed of soldiers of the late war. The coats were returned in good condition.

The centennial anniversary of Washington crossing the Delaware just previous to the Battle of Monmouth, was celebrated at Lambertville on the 22d of June. The Seventh Regiment (with the exception of Company A), and one Company (A) of the Sixth, participated in the parade, and were furnished transportation by this Department, at the direction of the Major General commanding the National Guard. The cost of this transportation was one hundred and twenty-seven dollars and fifty-two cents ($127.52.)

On the 24th of April, by your order, I directed the Secretary of the Washington Headquarters Association, of Merristown, to return to the State Arsenal, the six (6) twelve pound light Napoleon guns, carriages and limbers, and firing implements at those headquarters, assuring him that they would be replaced by guns of an inferior quality, with the necessary firing implements. The stores were received here on the 4th day of May, and on the 11th of June I forwarded to the Association two (2) three and a half inch Ames' guns, brass, and two (2) six-pounder iron guns, with firing implements. Ammunition was also furnished for the purpose of firing salutes.

The encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, held at Deckertown, on the 27th, 28th and 29th of August, was participated in, without expense to the State, by the Fourth and Ninth Regiments, and one company (E) of the Fifth Regiment, two companies (A and C) of the Second Battalion, and Battery A. Fifteen hundred muskets and accoutrements were loaned on this occasion upon a bond of Hon. Francis M. Ward, Senator of Sussex county, conditioned for their safe keeping and prompt return, and the payment of all losses and damages. These stores were received here on their return, on the 7th of September, with the loss of two muskets, three ramrods and one bayonet, the money value of which is twenty-nine dollars and eighty-six cents, ($29.86.) Overcoats and blankets, and camp and garrison equipage were loaned to the troops of the National Guard. Most of the camp equipage was returned on the 10th of September, the deficiency amounting in value to seventy-nine dollars and eighty-four cents, ($79.84,) which was lost through the neglect of the employees of the New Jersey Midland Railway, has been charged to that corporation, and a bill for the amount, presented to the receivers. The camp and garrison equipage reached Deckertown Sunday night, August 25th, and the cars were opened and the stores removed by the railroad agent, prior to the arrival of the military, and turned over by him to the Grand Army of the Republic. The overcoats and blankets have been partly returned. Major Yard, Deputy Quartermaster, was ordered on duty at the encampment to issue the stores and to receive them on the breaking of camp. His care and diligence saved a large amount of property to the State.

On the 28th of February, Charles N. Swift, General Agent of the United States Regulation Fire Arms Company, made application to me for the loan (for which ample security was given) of twelve Springfield breech loading rifles, calibre 45, for the purpose of sending to Paris for exhibition as samples of arms manufactured by that Company. The application was referred to your Excellency, and the loan approved by you on the 4th of March. The arms were forwarded to Mr. Swift at New York, on the 8th of March. I have had no official report from Mr. Swift as to these arms.

For sixteen years the keepers and guards at the State Prison had been using the old muzzle loading musket furnished from the Arsenal. Desiring that they should be supplied with a better and more effective arm, the present Keeper made requisition upon this Department for breech loading rifles. The requisition being approved by your Excellency, the arms were issued on the 13th of August, the old ones being returned to the Arsenal on the 15th of August. Ammunition has also been furnished.

Applications are sometimes made for the loan of colors borne by regiments in the volunteer service during the rebellion. The applications are invariably refused. By General Orders of the War Department, No. 94, May 16, 1865, paragraph seven of chapter five, regimental officers were required to turn over colors to the chief mustering officers of the respective States, subject to the orders of the Adjutant General of the Army. By special orders of the Adjutant General, dated June 13, 1865, colors borne by regiments in the volunteer service from New Jersey, were required to be turned over to the Quartermaster General of this State. The colors being received, they were stored in the State Arsenal, where they remained until March 6, 1873, when they were removed to the State House, in accordance with a joint resolution of the Legislature, approved March 29, 1871, in which it was made the duty of the Quartermaster General "to recover all such colors or flags not now in his possession, and to remove all, without delay, to some suitable place in the State House." The Quartermaster General regards himself simply as the custodian under the foregoing resolution, and believes that he has no authority to loan or permit them to go out of the State House.

The Act of the Legislature, approved April 6th, 1876, authorized the Governor "to take the charge and oversight of the property lately occupied as the Soldiers' Children's Home, and to employ a suitable person to watch and protect it until other disposition be made by law, of said Home." Governor Bedle appointed on the 11th of May, 1876, Mr. James H. McGuire of Trenton, as such custodian, and directed me to have general supervision and control of the institution, in which capacity I have been retained by your Excellency. After an inspection of the Home, made by you on the 9th of July, it occurred to you that it was absolutely necessary that a change should be made there as soon as possible. Accordingly Mr. McGuire was notified on the 12th of July that his services were no longer required; and on the 1st of August he removed from the Home. In obedience to your order the building was thoroughly cleaned and repaired.

Only such repairs were made as were necessary to preserve the building from deterioration. The roof and conductors were found to be in bad condition, and needed repairing and painting. The water pipes appeared to have been frozen during the severity of the last winter, and the ceilings in some parts of the building had been badly damaged from leakage. The pipes, where they were not too seriously injured, have been repaired; and others, which were not required, have been removed, and the water shut off. The sewer pipes were found to be choked up, and at every rain the sewerage backed into the cellar. They have been opened, repaired, and are now in good working order. The interior of the building has been cleaned, and the furniture gathered together, dusted and stored in suitable rooms for its better preservation.

The grounds have been dressed up and put in more sightly condition. The expenses of these repairs have aggregated the amount of five hundred and two dollars and ninety-two cents, ($502.92.) The salary of the custodian up to the 31st of July, when his services were discontinued, four hundred and fifty dollars, ($450.) Gas and water bills amount to one hundred and sixteen dollars and fifty-four cents, ($116.54;) fuel, forty-eight dollars and sixty-three cents, ($48.63.) The total amount for care and maintenance is one thousand one hundred and eighteen dollars and nine cents, ($1,118.09.)

The property is now in good condition, and it is believed, that very little, if any expense will be required, during the coming year, unless for repairs of damages from some unusual casualties.

The estimated expense for the coming year is as follows:

Fuel.....	$150 00
Repairs.....	200 00
Gas and water .....	150 00
	$500 00

The building is now occupied by two families, Mr. Charles F. Snowden, machinist at the State Arsenal, and Mr. Abm. Swan, carpenter in the employ of the State. These persons receive no compensation. On the 9th of May, 1876, by order of your predecessor, an inventory was taken of the furniture and moveable property of the Home, a copy of which was furnished Mr. McGuire. A second inventory was made on the 18th of July, 1878, upon giving him notice to remove.

The persons in charge of St. Francis College, Chambersburg, expressed themselves as very desirous of having Chestnut avenue paved in front of the property of the Home. They have a chapel to which the access from the town is through Chestnut avenue, which in bad weather was almost impassable. The ordinance for grading, curbing and paving this avenue was passed in September, 1875, notice of which was served on your predecessor in November, 1877. The work was done during the year at a cost of eight hundred and nineteen dollars and twenty-two cents ($819.22.)

The total expenditures on militia account for the past fiscal year, including expenses of the State Arsenal and rent of Rifle Range, are seventy-three thousand, nine hundred and sixty-three dollars and eighty-seven cents ($73,963.87) as shown by the following statement:

Statement of the amount paid on account of the State Militia, from November 1st, 1877, to October 31st, 1878:

The gross expenditure for the National Guard for the past year may appear large, as compared with the year 1877, yet when analyzed and the items of expense heretofore charged to salaries, and the amount of indebtedness carried over unavoidably from former years, are deducted, it will be found that it does not exceed materially the average for the last six years, notwithstanding that the past year has been one of unusual activity on the part of the National Guard, having performed more service in the way of drills, parades and rifle practice, thereby showing a vast improvement in discipline, efficiency and esprit de corps. The most rigid economy in expenditure has been observed. Everything possible in the way of equipments has been utilized, and many old and unserviceable articles have been repaired and issued. Nothing has been purchased or made only when absolutely required, and nothing for mere ornament or display. In the opinion of many, from indications foreshadowed in the public press in June and July last, we would probably have a repetition of the disorders of 1877, arising from the depression of business and labor. We were notified by the Federal authorities that this State must be prepared in that event, to protect herself from riot and agitation. It then became necessary to purchase a supply of ammunition and ordnance stores for artillery and infantry, sufficient to meet such an emergency. These purchases, though not more than was deemed absolutely necessary, exceeded largely those made for similar stores in any previous year. This property is in stock at the State Arsenal, available for any future occasion. It is proper here to state, that of the expenses of the past year, seven thousand, four hundred and forty dollars and seventy-four cents ($7,440.74), the indebtedness of which was incurred in the year 1876 and 1877, mostly for transportation, were properly chargeable to those years. Owing to a misunderstanding between the Railroad Company and this office as to the rates to be charged for transportation, the bills were rejected as excessive, and not adjusted and paid until the past year. Deducting this amount, together with the amount paid for salaries of the several military departments, clerk hire, and pay rolls of the employees of the State Arsenal, heretofore charged to the State account of salaries, amounting to twelve thousand and eight dollars and sixty-nine cents ($12,008.69), and the amount paid for ordnance stores and equipments, rent of range, and expenses of the Arsenal, we have the actual expenses of the National Guard for the year, thirty-three thousand, nine hundred and fifty eight dollars and eighty cents ($33,958.80.)

The amount expended during the year on account of the railroad strike of 1877, was two thousand one hundred and forty-seven dollars and thirty-seven cents ($2,147.37.) In response to a resolution of the House of Assembly, I submitted the following report on the 21st of February, 1878:

"To the House of Assembly:

"The Quartermaster General begs leave, in compliance with the resolution of your honorable body, to report the following detailed statement of the amount paid on account of the National Guard on duty in aid of the civil authorities to preserve the peace and suppress riots during the late railroad strike, 'giving names of parties to whom paid, amounts of each disbursement,' as well as the character and object of the expenditure. To furnish an itemized statement of this account, would, in addition to other pressing duties, require a month's employment of the entire clerical force of this office. A statement substantially the same, was made to His Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, as an appendix to the annual report of the Quartermaster General, giving expenses up to October 31, 1877, amounting to fifty-three thousand six hundred and fifty-three dollars and one cent ($53,653.01.) On account of its great length and the expense incident to its publication, it was omitted from the printed report, by order of the Governor. An additional statement showing in detail the expenditures subsequent to that date, was made to the Commander-in-Chief, amounting to one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars and thirty-seven cents ($1,895.37.) As will be seen by the statement, the total expense on this account up to this date is fifty-five thousand five hundred and forty-eight dollars and thirty-eight cents ($55,548.38) original vouchers for which are on file in this office."

This report was referred to the Committee on Militia, who reported on the 12th of March "the same as correct so far as they have deemed it necessary to enter into the details thereof." The amount expended since the date of the above report is two hundred and fifty-two dollars ($252), making the total amount expended on this account, fifty-five thousand eight hundred dollars and thirty-eight cents ($55,800.38). The account is stated as follows:

Amount received upon requisitions of the Commander-in-Chief.....	$55,848 08
Amount expended as reported to the House of Assembly, February 21, 1878.....	$55,548 38
Amount expended since February 21, 1878.....	252 00
Total amount expended.....	$55,800 38
Leaving a balance of.....	$47 70

Which was deposited with the State Treasurer on the 8th of October. On the 1st of October, I submitted to your Excellency a final statement of this account, which, with the vouchers, was referred to the Adjutant General for examination. His report, made to you on the 8th of October, is as follows:

"STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
 "OFFICE OF ADJUTANT GENERAL,
 "TRENTON, October 8, 1878. }

"To His Excellency, George B. McClellan, Governor of New Jersey:

"GENERAL:—In compliance with your orders of October 1, 1878, to examine the accounts of the Quartermaster General, for disbursements made for the 'suppression of riot and disorder and the preservation of peace,' in July and August, 1877, I have the honor to report that I have carefully examined the abstracts and vouchers in these accounts, compared them in each case, verified the calculations made, and find them correct.

"Respectfully,
 "WILLIAM S. STRYKER,
"Adjutant General of New Jersey."

Signed,

The "Act for the relief of the National Guard," approved March 7, 1878, allowed the sum of one dollar "to each enlisted man now in the National Guard, or who has been honorably discharged, for each and every day of service performed in the months of July and August, 1877, for the preservation of the public peace; this to be paid through the acting Paymaster General." This act clearly excluded from the benefits of its provisions, all who were not enlisted men at the date of its approval, or were not honorably discharged. The Legislature recognizing the injustice done to volunteers and substitutes who served during the strike, passed a supplement to the act which was approved on the 5th of April. This act provided "that every man who actually performed service as a private or non-commissioned officer," should "be entitled to the benefits of the act to which this is a supplement."

The rolls for this additional pay were made up in this office from the original rolls paid in 1877, under my supervision, and the money drawn by me as Acting Paymaster General from the Treasury, with which to pay the men. The total amount paid on these rolls is twenty-seven thousand six hundred and eighty dollars ($27,680). In the appendix will be found a statement of the payments to non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates of the National Guard, in pursuance of the act and supplement above referred to; showing the amount paid to each company organization, non-commissioned staff and details.

A full report of these payments was submitted to the Comptroller of the Treasury on the 3d of October, and one copy of each roll filed in his office as vouchers. Twenty-three men who were not present at the time of payment are yet to be paid, the amount due them being two hundred and sixty-five dollars ($265). The laws under which these payments were made contained no provision for the pay for services of men who died before the approval of the act. As far as known at this office, there are four cases of this description. The names of the men and the companies to which they were attached, as well as the number of days served by each, are—

Private Henry Weinspauch, Company C, Fourth Regiment, died at camp at Phillipsburg, July 30, 1877; served four days.

Private Frank A. Gee, Company E, Fifth Regiment, drowned in Delaware river at Phillipsburg, August 3, 1877, served eleven days. His widowed mother resides in Newark.

Sergeant Wm. Post, Company B, Seventh Regiment, died February 9, 1878, from consumption, accelerated by exposure during his service. He served twenty days. His widow resides in Trenton.

Private John V. Just, Company A, Second Battalion, died January 13, 1878, served thirteen days.

Should these payments be authorized by the Legislature, the whole amount would be but forty-eight dollars.

The appendix contains complete statements of property on hand, issues and receipts during the year, and such other matter as is required in the act for the organization of the National Guard. They are referred to as follows:

Statement A contains an account of clothing, camp and garrison equipage, quartermaster stores, baggage train, and ordnance and ordnance stores, serviceable and unserviceable, remaining on hand at the State Arsenal on the 31st day of October, 1878.

Statement B, the number of arms cleaned and repaired during the year.

Statement C, ordnance and ordnance stores received from the United States Government during the year.

Statement D, ordnance and ordnance stores turned in by disbanded and other military companies during the year.

Statement E, ordnance and ordnance stores issued from the State Arsenal to the National Guard, upon their giving bond, according to law, during the year.

Statement F, clothing, camp and garrison equipage and quartermaster stores, turned into the State Arsenal by the National Guard during the year.

Statement G, clothing, camp and garrison equipage, and quartermaster stores issued from the State Arsenal to the National Guard, during the year.

Statement H, ordnance and ordnance stores turned into the State Arsenal by sundry persons during the year.

Statement I, ordnance and ordnance stores issued from the State Arsenal to sundry persons during the year.

Statement J, clothing, camp and garrison equipage and quartermaster stores turned into the State Arsenal by sundry persons, during the year.

Statement K, clothing, camp and garrison equipage and quartermaster stores issued from the State Arsenal to sundry persons during the year.

Statement L, ammunition expended in firing salutes during the year.

Tabular Statement A, ordnance and ordnance stores in possession of the National Guard on the 31st day of October, 1878.

Respectfully submitted,

LEWIS PERRINE,
Quartermaster General of New Jersey.

Opinion of Attorney General.

---

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
TRENTON, July 8, 1878. }

To Lewis Perrine, Quartermaster General :

GENERAL :—In reply to the letter from the Governor, asking you to inform him what power, if any, he has to loan the military property of the State, such as tents, guns, equipments, &c., I have to say that I find no power for any one to loan the property of the State except for military purposes under the condition specified under the act. I think, as Commander-in-Chief, the Governor's order to dispose of the military property of the State in any manner, might be binding on you as a military order, and obedience to it might be justified by you on the ground that he was your superior officer, and the exercise of discretion in such case was not with you but with the Commander-in-Chief. In the exercise of the power of the Commander-in-Chief, there is not and should not be, any limit to his action, but his sense of duty and propriety.

To loan a gun to celebrate a national anniversary or for a public purpose, and which all the community were presumed to approve of, would not, in my judgment, be a violation of either the law or a proper exercise of his discretion.

To loan the military equipments of the State for private and social purposes might at least be a questionable exercise of discretion which it would be prudent to avoid, as at least establishing a bad precedent.

Yours, very truly,
JOHN P. STOCKTON,
Attorney General.

Report of Major Yard, Deputy Quartermaster, Encampment at Deckertown.

TRENTON, September 2, 1878.

SIR :—I have the honor to report that, in compliance with your letter of instructions of the 26th ult., I proceeded to Deckertown, reaching that place about 7:30 P. M. on that day. I at once made inquiry in regard to the military stores for the camp, shipped by you upon the requisition of certain officers of the National Guard, and addressed to them, when I learned from the agent of the Midland Railroad at that place that he had turned the property over to Col. E. Davis and Quartermaster Emil Toering, claiming to be officers of the Grand Army of the Republic, who had removed it to the camping ground early that morning, and before the receipt of your telegram directing him not to open the cars containing the stores until my arrival. These facts, at 8:30 P. M., I telegraphed to you.

At an early hour next morning (27th) I went to the camp ground and, with an assistant, endeavored to take an account of the property. I found some of the tents pitched, but the greater part of them lying upon the ground in different parts of the field. Of the A tents there were then but six missing; of the wall tents, two were missing. The hospital tent, the Sibley tents, and the boxes of pins were all on the ground, but some of the boxes had been broken open and the pins used. The address tags were many of them torn off of the bundles, and the property was generally mixed up. Subsequently I found four A tents and one wall tent on the grounds adjoining the camp ground. The officers of the Grand Army above mentioned assured me that all the property was on the ground, and would be accounted for when the National Guard arrived. These facts, at one o'clock P. M. on the same day, I reported to you by telegraph.

During the afternoon of the 27th the troops arrived at Deckertown, and marched out to the camp ground. At 5:45 P. M., according to your directions, I reported to Col. Steele at his headquarters on the camp ground, and gave him my letter of instructions, which he read. He appointed 7 o'clock A. M. of the 28th to meet him at the same place to get receipts from com-mandants of the several organizations of the National Guard, upon whose requisitions the stores had been issued.

On the 28th. at 7:30 A. M., which was the earliest conveyance I could get to the camp, I reported at Col. Steele's headquarters. He declined to receipt for the stores, on the ground that they had not been delivered to him. I volunteered to assist him to find the property, and he detailed Lieut. Col. Shafer and Lieut. Rouse, of the Fourth Regiment, for that purpose. With these officers I went through the encampment, completing the work at 1:50 P. M. The invoice thus obtained showed a total of four hundred and thirty-two (432) A tents, fifty-six (56) wall tents, eleven (11) Sibley tents, and one (1) hospital tent then upon the grounds, showing a deficiency on this account of eighteen (18) A tents and one (1) wall tent. Lieut. Rouse then left me to make report to Col. Steele.

Subsequently on the same evening I made another application to Col. Steele for instructions in regard to receipts for the property, when he, at 8 o'clock P. M., dismissed me with an appointment to meet him at 7 o'clock A. M. next day, at his headquarters, whereupon I proceeded to Deckertown, and at 9 o'clock P. M. telegraphed to you a statement of the facts up to that time.

At 6:30 o'clock A. M. the 29th, I made personal application at the headquarters of the Second Battalion, and of the Ninth Regiment for receipts for the property, at the same time leaving copies of the original invoices, and receipts properly filled out for signature. I had previously left invoice and receipt with Col. Steele for the property issued to his command. I also left blanks for returns of the property, and urged the importance of immediate efforts to secure the property for which they had become liable. I also suggested that immediate application be made to Gen. Kilpatrick, who, with the Citizens Committee, had assumed the responsibility of conveying the property to the railroad depot, for the necessary transportation. This application was made at 7 o'clock A. M., and the importance of removing the property while the troops were still upon the ground to assist in taking charge of it, was urged. Gen. Kilpatrick declined to give any order for the wagons, but notified the officers making the application that the military were to go home at the close of the day, and that the Deckertown Post, Grand Army of the Republic, were to be sent to guard the property.

This interview closed before 8:15 o'clock A. M. Later in the day Senator Ward, of Sussex county, learning the situation of affairs, came to me and offered his assistance in the collection and transportation of the property, but the day was then so far spent that teams could not be procured to carry the property to the depot, even if it had been ready for loading.

About 5 o'clock P. M. the National Guard struck the tents they had occupied, and at 5:15 o'clock P. M., they marched for Deckertown to take the cars for home, leaving a detail consisting of Lt. Col. Shafer, Capt. Shrope, Quartermaster Parker, Lt. Rouse, and eight men of the Fourth Regiment, Quartermaster De Mott and six men of the Second Battalion, and Quartermaster Sergeant E. W. Danforth, Serg't Pepper and four men of the Ninth Regiment, to guard the property and secure its transportation to the depot.

The Grand Army of the Republic, with the exception of one Post, left their tents standing. The exception, I was informed, was that of Camden Post, who struck their tents and folded and piled them.

The detail left in charge of the property immediately set about getting it ready for the wagons, folding and piling the tents and collecting the poles and pins. They worked with diligence until night-fall. They resumed the work at 5 o'clock the next morning (30th). At 8:50 o'clock A. M. I received your despatch of the 29th, with instructions in regard to the property, which instructions I had anticipated and had already acted upon.

At 10:45 A. M. Lieut. DeMott, of the Second Battalion, reported that he was ready to turn over the property issued to his battalion. I had previously notified him and the other officers in charge of the property, that I would receive and receipt for all stores turned over to me on the cars in which they were shipped, at the railroad depot, which cars were detained there by your orders for that purpose. Accordingly I proceeded to the depot, where he accounted for all the property invoiced to him, turned it over properly tied up in bundles and labelled, and I receipted to him for it. In the meantime wagons loaded with other camp equipage arrived in charge of the drivers, citizens of the neighborhood. This property I declined to receive until the arrival of the accounting officer having it in charge. The first wagoner threw his load upon the ground and drove off. This was at 2:10 o'clock P. M., when I left the depot for dinner. Upon my return at 2:50 P. M. I found that other wagons had arrived, and railroad employees, by order, as they said, of their roadmaster, had loaded the property into the cars. I notified them that the property was in charge of the regimental officers, and that I would assume no responsibility for their action. They proceeded, however, to load the cars without a count of the property. As the loaded wagons continued to arrive, and seeing that the laborers were stowing the property in such a disorderly way that they would not be able to get it into the same cars that brought it, I called their attention to this fact and advised them in regard to the storage.

At 4:25 o'clock P. M. Lieut. Col. Shafer arrived at the depot and reported the camp of the National Guard cleared of all the property of the State, and that the detail, in charge of two commissioned officers, were at work on the Grand Army camp.

I then received from Quartermaster Parker your despatch of the 29th, relative to a detail to guard the property, which had been sent to the camp, but had failed to reach me. This telegram I exhibited to Lieut. Col. Shafer, and he at once placed a guard at the depot. I also reported to Lieut. Col. Shafer the manner in which the property had been loaded into the cars.

At 7:35 o'clock P. M. the last load of stores arrived at the depot and were loaded into the cars. The cars were then closed and fastened by the railroad employees, and at 8 o'clock P. M. Lieut. Col. Shafer reported the camp cleared and the entire property of the State delivered at the depot.

In regard to the arms mentioned in your telegram of the 29th, I found thirty-one (31) cases of muskets unopened in the railroad freight house at Deckertown, and learned that the remainder were stored in a barn adjoining Gen. Kilpatrick's residence, under a guard detailed by the Grand Army.

There appearing to be no necessity for remaining longer at Deckertown, I procured a bill of lading from the railroad agent for "two cars loaded with military stores," consigned to you, and on the morning of the 31st I made verbal report to you, at your office in Trenton, of my action.

I beg leave to call attention to the fact that the detail of officers and men of the National Guard left in charge of the property labored industriously and under great discouragements. I respectfully recommend that compensation be made to them for this extra service, upon the presentation of a pay roll properly attested by the officer commanding the detail.

I also beg leave to commend the action of Lieut. DeMott, Quartermaster of the Second Battalion, for the energy he displayed in collecting the property issued to his battalion, and making not only a complete return of the property, but returning it tied up in bundles and properly labeled, making it convenient to handle and expediting the work of receiving it.

I am informed, in conversation with officers of the National Guard, that it has been the practice of this department, when an encampment of the militia has been ordered, to have the encampment staked out and the tents pitched before the arrival of the troops who were to occupy them, and at the close of the encampment to collect the property and return it to the Arsenal. Whether this is true in whole or in part, it is, in my judgment, a practice that ought to be discontinued. The National Guard receive their instruction in the manual of arms and in company and battalion drill in their drill-rooms and at their several battalion and regimental parades, held for that purpose. When they are ordered into camp it is, or ought to be, for the purpose of acquiring a knowledge of the duties devolving upon soldiers in camp. A part of those duties is to lay out the camping ground, to pitch the tents, to strike the tents, and to fold and pack the property for the Regimental Quartermaster. This I conceive to be a part of the drill that every soldier ought to be familiar with, and a duty that he ought to cheerfully discharge, and would if required to do so; but so long as this department will do the work it is the infirmity of human nature to allow it so to be done. I would respectfully recommend that the National Guard be exercised in this branch of camp duty whenever ordered into camp.

If commandants of companies were held accountable to the Regimental Quartermaster for the camp equipage furnished to their companies it would lighten the labors of that officer, and promote the efficiency of the regiment. Instead of throwing the labor of two days, as in the present instance, upon a small detail of men, the whole work of folding and piling the tents, and making them ready for loading into the wagons, might have been done within fifteen minutes after the tents were struck, had each company cared for the property they had used. I respectfully submit that it is unsoldierly to march out of camp leaving the equipage in disorder upon the ground, and an injustice to throw the labor of caring for it upon a few of their comrades, when there was no emergency to prevent the entire body of the troops from taking their due share of this labor.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES S. YARD,

Major and Deputy Quartermaster.

To GEN. LEWIS PERRINE,
Quartermaster General N. J.
