The Speaker on assuming the chair, addressed the General Assembly as follows:

Mr. Justice Haneman, Assemblymen and Assemblywoman Margetts, my remarks today will be brief and to the point in order that this 1968 Legislature gets to the business of serving the people of New Jersey as quickly as possible.

Let me first express my appreciation to you, my colleagues, for the honor you have bestowed upon me today. I may be sorry later but not right now. With great humility I accept. I accept with a firm belief in the wisdom and guidance of our Creator.

As I look about this Assembly Chamber and reflect upon the happiness radiating from the faces of your proud families I would like to pause and remind you that with the joy and happiness we feel today comes a crushing burden of responsibility to those seven million people of our State who sent us here. Whether they be Republican or Democrat, we must serve them well.

As Speaker of the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey I may represent the Republican Party, but it is also my task to see that our colleagues in the Democrat Party are presided over with impartiality. I propose to preside in this fashion for the full twelve months of my term as Speaker.

As I pledge to all in this Chamber today my devotion to fairness and unprejudiced conduct, I would also extend this pledge to the Governor of our State. We all regret deeply his inability to participate in opening day ceremonies here with us today, and I speak for all present in wishing him a speedy recovery and a rapid return to his full participation in both the Executive and Legislative processes of our State. To him and to his Cabinet, I extend a hand of responsible co-operation in the coming year. I hope, and I know we all hope, that this will be beneficial to all the citizens of our State. We may be Republicans and we may be Democrats, but we are first of all citizens of the State of New Jersey.

In the activities prior to the recent election, the party I speak for tried to bring into sharp focus the needs of New Jersey in order that the voters might exercise their franchise with responsibility and intelligence. As a party, we indicated that if the mantle of leadership of this Legislature was to be placed upon our shoulders, we would attempt to achieve certain goals. I do not propose today to deal at length with the details of our suggestions on improving New Jersey State Government; they are already on the record and quite clear.

However, I would be remiss in my duties if I did not at least sketch, in broad outline, some of the basic objectives that our party hopes to achieve in the coming months. As you will see some of these objectives will make hard and fundamental changes in the essential philosophies presently dominant within the leadership of the State Government. The reason for the change in the philosophy should be apparent to all, but for those who do not understand why, I would simply say that if ever the voters of New Jersey presented a party with a mandate, awesome in its magnitude, they did it last November. As Speaker of the 1968 General Assembly, our party intends to move with deliberate, but well thoughtout plans to achieve the results the voters said they wanted.

There has been much talk and many speeches but the time has now come to act on the repeal of strike benefits.

As an Assemblyman last year, I felt deeply that the passage by the previous Legislature of unemployment compensation benefits for strikers was ill-advised to say the least.

Your new legislative leadership has promised that repeal of this unfortunate section of last year's amendment to the unemployment compensation law will be the first order of business and I pledge to you now that, as your presiding officer, I will leave no stone unturned to fulfill this pledge.

The time has now come to act on the creation of an independent, bipartisan commission to fight crime.

The need for greater vigilance in pursuit, apprehension and prosecution of law violators is clearly evident today. New Jersey has been held up to public ridicule and scorn because of the activities of a few against the spirit and letter of the laws.

New Jersey many years ago was the object of derision and scorn by the national press because of gambling elements that had taken over in certain areas. Today, I don't have to tell you what everybody knows, but, sad to relate there are those who would prefer that we do nothing about organized crime and its drain on our economy. They would, likewise, prefer to do nothing about our reputation as a State where the "mob" uses our farm lands as burying grounds or our restaurants for clandestine meetings with their obvious attempts at subverting our laws and Constitution. Creation of a crime commission on a State-wide basis with the powers of aiding and implementing the apprehension of criminals and the prosecution of unorganized as well as organized crime is an absolute essential if we are to even start on a program of crime control.

The time has now come to act on the needs of our highway system.

In riding to Trenton today many of you in this Chamber no doubt encountered the glories of our highly touted interstate road and highway system. In addition, you may have encountered the delights of unimpeded traffic flowing on wide and lovely boulevards that captivate the fancy and imagination of us all. But, I am also sure you encountered a few obstacles like a road that ends nowhere or traffic that would choke even the most fortunate vehicle with its ability to hit speeds of 120 miles per hour if given half a chance. The failures of the Executive branch are too numerous to mention here but we as a Legislature must act to get the necessary programs moving again.

The time has now come to act on the creation of a jet port.

With the reapportionment of the Legislature the greatest number of you present today in this Chamber represent the metropolitan areas in North and South Jersey. Both areas of the State are badly in need of a new jet port to meet the needs of the supersonic age now upon us.

In Northern New Jersey the agency that should have resolved this problem is much more interested in constructing skyscrapers in New York City and parking lots in the marshlands. It has abdicated its responsibility in this, our area of great need. We, as a responsible majority, must move quickly to create the necessary tools that will make this jet port a reality. If the Port of New York Authority will not do the job, we should take the steps necessary to get the job done ourselves. This will be done, I pledge you, with the least amount of inconvenience and cost to the public. We can do no less.

The time has now come to act on an improvement in the working conditions of State employees.

With the rising cost of living the real needs of our State employees must be met. A realistic salary scale that meets their needs and balances with the State's ability to pay must be in the forefront of our thinking.

The time has now come to act on the development of the meadowlands.

As a resident of a county bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, I am familiar with the vast potential to our economy contained in the thousands of acres of meadowlands in our State, particularly that land adjacent to the Passaic and Hackensack Rivers in the counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson and Union. For many years now the development of this land has been delayed by questions concerning the property rights which until recently remained obscure due to the questionable titles dating back to pre-revolutionary days. We, as a Legislature, should take the necessary steps to make development of the meadowlands a reality.

The time has now come to act on a master plan for education.

The Department of Education is now in the process of formulating a master plan for education. This could provide our people with a constructive plan for future education of the children of New Jersey that would be equal to or better than that of our sister States. As a co-equal branch of government it is not only our right but our duty to contribute to the formulation of those policies bearing on the future well-being of our citizens.

The time has now come to act on a solution to the cost of medical care for the indigent.

In many of our sister States programs to help defray medical expenses for the poor have been enacted. They essentially were joint State and Federal medicaid programs. This Legislature does not propose to turn its back on the needs of the people in this area, but it does propose to explore the possibility that these needs may be met in the private rather than through the government sector.

In my capsule summaries of the goals of the 1968 Legislature, you may have noticed that I have not yet discussed a subject which is omnipresent. This deals with the question of our blighted cities. The cities are the nerve center of activity in our State. If they are allowed to wither and die they will drag the rest of the State into the grave of political and economic ruin. Solutions to these problems cannot be found through pie in the sky proposals. Some of our cities by the same token, with their superficially attractive social welfare programs, have become open areas of insurrection. Therefore, any program to stem the decay and re-build our cities must have many facets. To these facets our aim should be directed towards total co-operation on the national, State, county and municipal levels if long term meaningful solutions are to be found. We are calling upon the Governor now to take steps that will bring the Legislature into his own efforts at achieving solutions in this area. Division of effort in this most critical area of our society today is suicidal. To be successful all branches of government must work together and must be willing to act without fear or favor.

Until effective solutions to this most vexing problem of our day are found and implemented we must rely on the established forces of society to assure all that never again will citizens, police and firemen of our cities needlessly die. As Republicans we pledge full support to our law enforcement agencies.

Today, in brief form, I've tried to tell you what we as a legislative body hope to obtain for the welfare of our citizenry. We, as a Legislature, cannot do this alone; we need the help of all segments of our society, and it is with this in mind that I issue a call today to all citizens to walk hand in hand with the government to meet the challenge of the future so that of this Legislature historians can say "Well done."

The Speaker named as his secretary, George J. Oberholzer.

Mr. Moraites offered the following resolution which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

Be It Resolved, That the Clerk inform the Governor that the General Assembly has organized, is ready to proceed with its business and acknowledges receipt of his annual message which has been delivered to the members.

Mr. Moraites moved that the message be spread in full upon the minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

SIXTH ANNUAL MESSAGE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

I am deeply pleased to transmit today to the members of New Jersey's 192nd Legislature my Sixth Annual Message.

The proposals that I will put forward for your consideration in this Message are designed to enhance the identity that New Jersey has achieved as we have moved in recent years to meet with renewed purpose and resolve our responsibilities to the people. These proposals are in my judgment essential to the strengthening of this new identity, this new sense of pride that all New Jerseyans now can feel in their State. For none of our common objectives—neither excellence in education, nor the rebirth of our cities, nor the cleaning of our air and water, nor the building of a first-rate transportation system, nor the construction of a great network of institutions to care for our less fortunate citizens, nor the conservation of our great natural resources and recreational facilities—none of these goals, which have been outlined in detail by both political parties, can be achieved without constant vigilance, constant support, and constant nourishment by the Legislature. Our commitment, for example, to build a higher education system that will rank among the nation's finest, rather than among its most inadequate, simply can never be realized unless this Legislature, and succeeding Legislatures, devote to this task the concern, and the resources, that its accomplishment demands. And this same degree of concern and commitment must be manifested in respect of our other inescapable obligations to the people.

At this point I wish to alert you to one overriding fiscal concern that bears heavily on the question of whether or not New Jersey will in fact make good on its commitments to the general welfare. Although my budget message will not come before you until next month, I consider it important to call your attention now to a serious fiscal problem which, according to my best present information, will face us in fiscal year 1968-69. While I shall reserve specific details for the budget message itself, let me observe here that between our projected costs, on the one hand—essential expenditures to which the State is already committed—and our anticipated revenues, on the other hand, there appears to be a substantial gap. Let me further observe that this figure does not include additional program efforts in education, health, or urban development, among other fields, that I strongly advocate as vital to the future of this State. I wish now to apprise you of this projected gap so that you can begin immediately to weigh appropriate solutions. I am eager to join with you fully and promptly in any way possible to resolve these pressing budget questions.

As you deliberate these matters you may find it useful to consider New Jersey's present budget problems in the context of the posture of our sister states in respect of these same questions. As you know, New Jersey has long performed governmental services at a cost that is by any standard the lowest in the nation. Our State tax burden, by the same token, is also the nation's lowest. You are well aware that New Jersey has the fewest State employees per capita in the nation as well as the lowest level per capita of State expenditures.

Furthermore, New Jersey, as you know, is the fastest growing state in the east. It requires as a result a careful pattern of capital expenditures to build the roads, the schools, the colleges, the institutions, the sewage facilities, and other public resources that a progressive society demands. Yet New Jersey's capital outlay per capita remains the lowest in the nation, just over half the rate of Michigan, for example. In fact New Jersey's per capita general revenue burden is the lowest in the nation, and it is especially low in relation to the expenditures of the northern industrial states that resemble us. While New Jersey spends per person less than $150, comparable states spend in the vicinity of $250 per person. And as far as the State's contribution to local municipalities is concerned, as you well know, New Jersey once again ranks extremely low.

What do these figures mean to you as Legislators responsible to the public at large? They mean first of all that New Jersey can take pride in its continued economical operation of government. They mean secondly that you can promptly dismiss as inaccurate or self-serving any harangues about so-called excessive State government expenditures. They mean thirdly that we must disabuse ourselves of the notion that the current level of government services—to say nothing of the increased demands made by our citizens—can be maintained on a smaller budget. Any public official who debates these issues must acknowledge that cutting the budget means cutting the salaries of physicians or institutional attendants, reducing the number of State Police, and slashing State aid for education, transportation, or other essential services.

These figures mean, in the fourth place, that New Jersey's longer-term financial obligations, above and beyond its immediate ones, are considerable. I submit to you that in this respect the two years of this and the succeeding Legislature are years of perhaps unprecedented importance for New Jersey. For during these years you will establish patterns for the support of higher education, urban redevelopment, pollution control, transportation, health, and other essential services that may well be irreversible. If, through our joint efforts, we fail to establish sound and adequate patterns of finance—if we fail now to seize what is perhaps the only real opportunity in the next two years, and perhaps in the next six years, to establish these patterns—the State could suffer irreparable harm. For in that time New Jersey could lose more ground in the provision of needed services than it could realistically hope ever to make up, and we would thereby fall from first- to permanent second-class status. Alternatively you and I can meet our obligations, as we have been charged to do. You are in a position, if you choose, to add strength and lustre to New Jersey's new identity and to burnish the pride that we have begun to feel.

Your thorough and candid review of our fiscal problems must concern itself not only with current expenditures, but also with our great backlog of capital needs. You are by now fully familiar with estimates of those needs by responsible public officials and private bodies alike—estimates that run to very substantial sums. Prominent private organizations, such as the Regional Plan Association, together with many newspapers and private citizens, have pointed to the importance of determining the precise magnitude and priorities of needed capital improvements. They have suggested the appointment of a bi-partisan group of outstanding citizens who would make an objective study of these questions. Above and beyond the responsible estimates of projected capital costs that are now available to us, I consider it imperative that New Jersey receive the benefit of the impartial judgment of a distinguished body of this kind. To this end I will shortly appoint a Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey. The great relevance of this Commission's recommendations to possible action by this Legislature will impel me to request the Commission to submit within sixty days its determination of the magnitude and priorities of our capital needs. The Commission may wish to refine its recommendations, without changing their character, in succeeding months, but this prompt report is of the highest importance. For I am convinced—as I believe you are—that further delay in responding to these capital needs may undermine the continued growth and prosperity of the State and the welfare of its citizens.

As I weigh these problems that you and I have before us during these next two years, I am reminded of the words of my distinguished predecessor, Woodrow Wilson, at the very beginning of his term as Governor:

“We have got the problems of the country in such a form that they are raised to their highest degree of difficulty and complexity. Very well—what is the moral? That we in New Jersey have got to show the country how these problems are to be met and settled.”

What indeed is the moral for New Jersey—and for you, the Legislators who represent its people? I cannot believe that your strong disposition is anything else than to “show the country how these problems are to be met and settled.” I cannot believe that you will tolerate any compromise of New Jersey's new identity or of the reawakened pride and self-confidence that our people now feel. On the contrary I believe that this Legislature, controlled in an almost unprecedented way by one major political party, is fully alive both to the promise of responsible action and to the danger of careless neglect. And I am convinced that together—to the grave disappointment of cynics and naysayers—you and I can achieve for New Jersey a new level of excellence, a higher standard of achievement that will issue from firm bi-partisan action on behalf of the people. I have pledged to you before my full willingness, and indeed my eagerness, to work with you in quest of this greatness for New Jersey. Today I rededicate myself to that commitment in the hope that together here today we shall mark the beginning of an historic joint effort by the Executive and Legislative branches fully to vindicate the powers vested in us by the people of New Jersey.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AND CRIME CONTROL

There is no area of public concern about which the people of the State of New Jersey expect, even demand, greater bi-partisan effort than the area of law enforcement. During my Administration I have advocated and seen implemented such measures as gun control, uniform crime reporting, stiffer narcotics laws and mandatory police training, each of which has served to strengthen our attack upon the forces of crime and lawlessness. The majority party in this Legislature has consistently expressed a desire to do more in this regard and more is in fact needed. I therefore invite this body's scrutiny of existing programs, its suggestions for new ones, and its early consideration of measures which I will shortly put before it, for the preservation of law and order is the primary undertaking of civilized man and certainly must concern every responsible elected official regardless of party affiliation or geographical location, urban, suburban or rural.

Organized Crime—Continuing the Fight

In recent months public attention has been focused on the activities of organized crime in this State. This recent public awareness does not betoken a lack of prior official concern and activity. For years law enforcement officials in New Jersey have vigorously sought to root out organized crime and they will continue to do so. But if those efforts are to achieve maximum success, additional weapons, designed specifically to combat organized criminal activity, must be added to the arsenal of law enforcement officials. For instance, one of the outstanding characteristics of organized crime is that it recognizes no geographical limitations or boundaries. Municipal, county and state lines are blurred in its operation. Thus, a consolidated and regionalized response on the part of government is necessary. This Administration has initiated conversations with neighboring states concerning the establishment of a mechanism for interstate cooperation in the fight against organized crime. Patterned in part after the New England States Law Enforcement Compact, this proposal, if adopted, would create a central criminal intelligence bureau and formalize co-operative efforts among the state police agencies of member states. It is my hope that this Legislature will favorably consider the necessary enabling legislation to effectuate this plan when agreement has been reached with our neighboring states in the Mid-Atlantic region.

The indictment procedures in our State are established within the limits of county boundary lines. While county-oriented law enforcement is sufficient in most cases, it cannot adequately cope with a network of organized crime operating simultaneously in several counties. In order to combat effectively multi-county organized criminal activity, I suggest that legislative authorization be provided for the creation of regional grand juries to be convened under the supervision of the courts, with the Attorney General being given the authority to subpoena witnesses.

Other measures deserving of legislative consideration in this area are:

—Passage of a witness immunity law which, under proper constitutional safeguards, will provide a method of piercing the veil of secrecy surrounding the activities of organized crime;

—An intrastate anti-trust law to be used to protect honest businessmen against the intrusion of organized crime into legitimate business through extortion, intimidation, monopolization, and collusive bidding; —Legislation against the practice of loan sharking which, according to the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, provides the second largest source of revenue for organized crime;

—The creation of a blue ribbon commission to review the criminal statutes of New Jersey to ascertain whether increased penalties are needed against bookmaking, prostitution, and narcotics traffic as a means of making the operation of organized crime more costly, and further to determine whether the time of prosecutors and the courts is being wasted in handling other offenses which more properly should be considered disorderly persons violations or which warrant medical rather than criminal treatment, such as alcoholism and narcotics addiction;

—Legislation requiring the disclosure of information regarding the backgrounds of those in formal or real control of businesses bidding on government contracts to counter the risk that the public may unwittingly be supporting organized crime which may have infiltrated legitimate business.

Civil Disorders

The scope and immediacy of the breakdown in law and order facing this State and this nation could not be more dramatically illustrated than by the unfortunate incidents of civil disorder which erupted in our cities last summer. There are very real and very serious social and economic inequities forming the backdrop for such disturbances which re-emphasize the need for a massive effort to achieve social justice for all. America cannot exist as two nations—one rich, the other poor—one white, the other black. But neither can we allow anarchy to replace law or chaos to succeed order. We cannot and will not allow civil warfare on the part of a small group of individuals—black or white—to threaten the lives, the property, the liberty of the vast majority of good people of all races. Every resource of government—executive, legislative and judicial—must be brought to bear to restore us as “one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.” No lesser commitment is possible if the families of New Jersey are to live in peace, as is their God-given right, and the streets of our cities and suburbs made safe so that children may be raised in a decent and secure environment. It must be the goal of this Administration and this Legislature, and every future Administration and future Legislature, to achieve that end.

With the fervent desire that we may be able to avoid further catastrophe such as occurred in Newark last summer, it is nevertheless incumbent upon me to suggest certain precautions which should be taken in order to limit the scope of any disturbances which might occur. This Administration is presently evaluating the problem posed by existing security measures for the safeguarding of weapons concentrations. We must devise means to ensure additional protection for places such as arsenals, pawnshops, and wholesale and retail supply houses to minimize the opportunity for the theft of weapons. Additionally, it appeared during the course of last summer’s disturbances that effective communication between State and local police agencies was hampered by the absence of uniform radio frequencies. While the question of the assignment of radio frequencies is within the province of federal officials, it is my intention to take all possible action to improve the police communications network in the State of New Jersey. I will forward for your consideration any legislation which may prove to be necessary on these two subjects.

Police Professionalism

As we seek to combat the sophisticated efforts of organized crime and to halt the rising tide of violence in our cities, a new public commitment to those who stand sentinel to civilization—the police—is essential. The public must be willing to provide the incentives necessary to recruit for police work persons who are trained in scientific methods of crime detection and skilled in the delicate tasks of community and human relations. Our police forces must be modernized and provision made for the sharing of information and expertise among municipal police departments, particularly the small departments, to the end that existing high levels of efficiency may be enhanced and economies effected. For the height of our efforts and the measure of our achievement in meeting the problem of crime will be determined by our success, or failure, in developing a greater sense of professionalism among our police and a greater awareness of that professionalism among the public. The respect for the police officer which once prevailed throughout our nation and which has somehow been undermined by the complexities of modern life can be restored only when all recognize that police work is an honorable profession. As such, professional police work cannot tolerate in its midst the occasional officer who fails to apply a single standard of justice to all men regardless of race or financial circumstances, or to possess that integrity upon which all respect is based. The vast majority of law enforcement officers are honest, fair, and dedicated men who deserve the confidence, support and respect of all good citizens. If that confidence, support and respect are not forthcoming, society will pay a heavy price.

In the recent past, our efforts to improve the quality of law enforcement have led to the creation of the previously mentioned mandatory police training program, a Chair of Police Administration at Rutgers, and in-service training programs throughout the State. In the wake of last summer's rioting, a special training school for policemen was established where the latest, and most effective, techniques for the control of civil disorder are taught and where emphasis is placed on the need for improved police-community relations. But it should be noted that the ultimate purpose of this school transcends the problems of civil disorder, and that it will evolve into an educational facility for the policemen of this State which will bring to each of them the latest developments and techniques in the unrelenting battle against crime in the same way that our other on-going training schools are doing.

I now suggest that our efforts be redoubled in this direction, and I specifically propose that a scholarship program be established for members of our various municipal police departments to assist those who are desirous of furthering their education and who demonstrate aptitude for higher learning. Special incentives should be provided for those officers who wish to make use of our fast growing network of community colleges for part-time study leading to degrees. Financial incentives by way of promotion and increased salaries should be made available to those who avail themselves of this opportunity to attend college. In this way, an ambitious and capable young man will join a police force knowing that unlimited career opportunities are before him.

Police professionalism can be further enhanced by provision in the law for hiring young persons between the ages of 18 and 21 to serve as unarmed uniformed police cadets, who, at an early age, will receive training which will enable them to advance into regular police ranks. To the extent that recruitment is possible in disadvantaged areas, a police cadet program would have the added advantage of fostering police-community relations. Consideration must also be given to the hiring of civilians to perform routine, time-consuming, and burdensome police chores and thereby freeing able-bodied policemen for duty on the streets to meet the rising rate of crime in our suburbs as well as our cities. I will offer the needed amendments to the law for your consideration in the near future. The man-hours of our over-extended police forces must be conserved, and I have recently asked the Administrative Director of the Courts to suggest to the judiciary that serious consideration be given to means by which police witnesses may be enabled to minimize the idle time spent waiting to testify.

Respect for law and order is also engendered when the citizenry knows that justice is fairly administered irrespective of the financial condition of the defendant. Last year the State of New Jersey, in enacting the first statewide public defender law in the country, took a giant step toward that goal. In its first major test, the system was severely tried and fully met its challenge in the disposition of the large number of criminal complaints emanating from the civil disorders of last summer. In this regard, the members of the bench and bar are to be commended for their unstinting support and unselfish effort in assisting the Office of Public Defender in that difficult task. It should be noted, however, that a subsequent decision of the United States Supreme Court involving the rights of juveniles to counsel in cases in which they face prolonged loss of liberty requires that our existing public defender law be expanded.

I will offer appropriate legislation for your consideration in the near future.

New Jersey Council Against Crime

As I have indicated, the threat which criminal activity poses to the people of New Jersey is broad in scope and complex in detail, and the struggle against it will tax the ingenuity and the resources of all of us. While law enforcement is peculiarly the responsibility of state and local government and must remain under the control of those agencies, there is no question that the financial assistance of the federal government is both essential and desirable. President Johnson has called for the enactment of a "Safe Streets and Crime Control Act" which would provide the needed assistance. It is expected that this legislation will secure the final approval of Congress at its next session and that substantial sums of money will be made available to the states for planning, police training and research, and enforcement purposes. In order that New Jersey will be fully prepared to take maximum advantage of this federal legislation at the earliest opportunity, I have created, by executive order, an agency composed of eminent persons broadly representative of law enforcement and local government in this State, as will be required by the federal law. These outstanding leaders in law enforcement will be joined in this vital enterprise by some of the most distinguished of New Jersey's citizens. I have asked the Attorney General of the State of New Jersey to serve as chairman of this agency, which is called the New Jersey Council Against Crime. As I have indicated, all branches of government—executive, legislative, and judicial—must be involved if the elimination of crime is to be realized. I am therefore especially pleased to note that the Administrative Director of the Courts has agreed to serve, and to further this joint effort I have also asked the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the General Assembly to become members of this distinguished and essential body.

Several months before the passage of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, I took similar steps to ensure New Jersey's prompt and full participation in that program. As a result New Jersey created the nation's first State OEO and succeeded in securing some $28 million—two and one-half times our normal state allocation—during the first year of that program alone. In addition the New Jersey OEO quickly became known as the most effective such office in the country.

Similar advance work by my Model Cities Task Force before the final passage of the Model Cities Act resulted in the submission of applications for this valuable program by nine of our cities, approval of three applications in the first round, and the promise of additional approvals in the second round.

I believe that New Jersey can record similar success with the forthcoming Safe Streets and Crime Control Act by moving ahead now with this same careful advance planning. For this reason I have appointed the Council Against Crime to enable New Jersey—at both the State and local levels—to be prepared to put forward the strongest possible plans for improved law enforcement and crime control on the very day that Congress enacts this law.

My hope is that New Jersey will be the first state in the nation to respond fully to the challenge of this major Federal effort to strengthen local law enforcement. My further hope is that this advance preparation will result, as with other major Federal programs that we have implemented in New Jersey, in prompt and well-conceived requests for financial assistance under this law and grant awards substantially larger than those which the State might normally expect to receive.

In furtherance of its responsibilities under the federal act this Council will, in addition to overseeing the administration of federal grants coming into the State under the act, direct its attention specifically to a number of questions. I have asked the Council to:

- develop a comprehensive state-wide plan to carry out new and innovative approaches for the improvement of law enforcement and criminal justice throughout the State;
- define, develop, and correlate programs and projects for the State and units of local government for the improvement of law enforcement and criminal justice;
- suggest means for improving the training and qualifications of personnel engaged in law enforcement;

—examine and appraise on a continuing basis the administration, enforcement, and operation of all state and local laws, ordinances, and regulations relating to crimes and offenses ;

—initiate and from time to time conduct state-wide law enforcement conferences for the purpose of accomplishing greater coordination and uniformity of law enforcement procedures ;

—inquire into the problem of recidivism and formulate methods for the rehabilitation of criminals, with particular emphasis on the feasibility of work-release programs and the need for improved probation and parole services ; and —establish priorities for the improvement of law enforcement and criminal justice throughout the State.

It is my belief that this agency, composed as it is of highly respected and knowledgeable persons, will develop new ideas, foster increased effort, and faithfully reflect our urgent concern to provide in New Jersey a climate of full respect for law and order.

Rehabilitation—The Road Back

One phase of the crucial effort to combat crime must concentrate upon the development of correctional programs which will assist convicted criminals to achieve rehabilitation and assume constructive roles in society. Last year, approximately 14,000 individuals were involved in such treatment programs under the auspices of the Division of Correction and Parole of the Department of Institutions and Agencies. Unfortunately, we must expect that even more persons will require such services in the foreseeable future. The quality, as well as the quantity, of rehabilitative care must become increasingly sophisticated as we incorporate theoretical and technological advances in the field.

The new Youth Reception and Correction Center at Yardville, which will soon be dedicated, provides us with an important and worthwhile new tool for the rehabilitation of young people involved in crime. Regretfully, in New Jersey and throughout the nation, the age group under 18 is associated with the most rapidly accelerating percentage rate of crime. It is shocking but true that the involvement of young people in criminal activities is increasing at a pace more than three times their percentage increase in the national population. We may expect that the new Yardville Center will provide New Jersey with a major step forward in assisting these young people, having served their correction terms, to become useful and contributing members of society. In addition, the residential unit for children 13 and under at Skillman will help to relieve overcrowding and provide care for youngsters who are now committed to the State Home for Boys, along with other adolescents.

Diversified correctional programming has also been strengthened by the development of three community half-way houses for correctional inmate facilities which provide a vital link between institutional confinement and productive community life for the youths they serve. Another new and significant tool is the development of camps for inmates of the State Homes at Jamesburg and Clinton. There is an on-going effort, under the direction of the Department of Institutions and Agencies, to re-evaluate and improve parole service programs so that they may fulfill their potential as effective instruments in the reduction of crime. I have long believed that no taxpayer's dollar can find better investment than in the expansion of parole and probation guidance away from crime and toward society.

We are developing progressive new programs for the treatment and rehabilitation of narcotics addicts and convicted sex offenders consistent with advanced procedures. A specialized unit under the psychiatric supervision of the New Jersey Diagnostic Center has been established within the State Prison at Rahway, thus implementing the recommendations of a committee established previously by the Legislature to study the treatment of sex offenders. The need for these new programs is great, and we must plan for their substantial expansion in the near future.

All of these accomplishments are cause for optimism that we are making progress in our offensive against lawlessness, but it is obvious that we are still far from reaching our goal. The safety and well-being of the people of this State requires that we continue to expand our facilities, to re-evaluate and modernize our programs, and to investigate improved rehabilitative services and to implement them wherever feasible.

URBAN INVESTMENT—PHASE TWO

New Jersey today faces the twin problems of growth and decay. Many of our cities are old and densely populated. We are the only state in the east that is growing faster than the national average. Many of our newer communities are growing at a rate that is unequalled throughout the country. Thus, almost all New Jersey communities face major problems associated with either growth or deterioration. These problems seem to require an ever-increasing amount of public expenditure and attention.

This situation is compounded by the fact that our needs are growing faster than local revenues. And, as if this weren't enough, it is those services that require the greatest per capita expenditures for which the needs are growing fastest. These trends appear irreversible. Because they press upon us, expenditures in New Jersey may have to increase substantially in the next ten years—according to some estimates by as much as 75 per cent—if the scope and quality of service is to increase by only 25 per cent.

Increasingly, local communities look to the State for the solution to many of their problems and it is obvious that the State must accept a larger role. In an urban state like New Jersey, the problems of growth and decay impinge on virtually every municipality. No one can view the difficulties of another community, no matter how distant, as misfortunes unrelated to his own well-being.

The Record

Because the manifold concerns of our communities threaten to overtake them, State government has accepted a larger role in solving local problems. This imperative was reflected two years ago in the creation by the Legislature of the Department of Community Affairs and the mandate given to it.

In its short existence and with limited resources, the Department of Community Affairs has achieved a notable record of success in a variety of major undertakings in our communities. The Department has been able to bring considerably expanded federal and foundation resources to New Jersey. Still more importantly, the Department has opened the door for private enterprise to participate in meeting the enormous challenges posed by our cities and has shown that relatively small expenditures of public monies can be the catalyst for far greater private effort.

In Newark today, 270 garden apartments are under construction through the joint efforts of the Prudential Life Insurance Company and the Department of Community Affairs. New Jersey thus became the first state in the nation to put into effect the insurance industry's pledge to invest one billion dollars in our central city areas.

In Camden, a non-profit corporation composed of four banks, the Campbell Soup Company and RCA has received a grant from the Department to rehabilitate housing. A related undertaking has been organized by an association of clergymen, also with the help of the Department. Fine old houses which were boarded up are now comfortable dwellings.

Similar results have been registered throughout the State—in Hoboken, in Newark, in Trenton.

In the next few months, I expect that in every major city in New Jersey, leaders in business and civic affairs will announce plans to form Urban Development Corporations. This heartening commitment by the private sector will continue to receive encouragement and support from the Department of Community Affairs.

The Department is working with private industry in the field of employment as well. An Urban Development Corporation which concentrates on providing employment opportunities for city residents has been formed in the greater New Brunswick area by Johnson & Johnson and other major employers.

Through a cooperative program with the Department of Education, 4,000 persons are receiving literacy instruction this year in preparation for on-going public and private job-training programs. For the first time, these employment programs can reach that sector of the population which most requires the opportunity to qualify for steady jobs.

Additional projects are also in operation to test important new departures for the revitalization of our cities—projects to rehabilitate narcotics addicts, to prepare minority group members for service in municipal police and fire departments, to restore purpose to the lives of the elderly by having them care for institutionalized children, and to help equip high school guidance counsellors for their increasingly demanding tasks in our urban school systems.

In New Jersey, a major portion of revenues for government is raised and spent at the local level. The Department of Community Affairs has worked with local officials in scores of communities, large and small, to help them improve the quality and effectiveness of local government so that local taxpayers can be assured of receiving full value for their tax dollars.

By using its Office of Community Services and many qualified professionals working at the local level in New Jersey, the Department has prepared management studies and improved operating procedures in personnel administration, capital budgeting, purchasing, municipal organization, electronic data processing, and many other essential functions of local government. More than half of New Jersey's 567 municipalities have prepared master plans with the assistance of the State Planning Division.

The Department of Community Affairs has made a special effort to assist local governments in their quest for federal funds. It has expedited grants in urban renewal, water and sewage facilities construction, police-community relations, manpower training, economic opportunity, neighborhood facilities—in short, in the entire spectrum of available federal assistance.

The State has made a major commitment to the Model Cities Program of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, and we are gratified that New Jersey won more than its share of Model Cities designations last November when Newark, Trenton and Hoboken were selected from among the nine cities that applied. I was delighted to announce last month that the remaining six received State Model Cities grants, thus permitting them to remain in competition for the major federal grants to implement the Model Cities program. Some 13 cities are now beginning or perfecting their applications for this program with assistance from the Department of Community Affairs, and we expect that a number of them will be rewarded in the second round of this major federal urban program.

Finally, I call your attention to the highly successful program of Interns in Community Service, under which 80 exceptional young people were afforded first-hand experience in local government last summer. These able young men and women brought new enthusiasm and vitality to many local government activities, and New Jersey will be reaping the benefits of this investment in our youth for many years to come.

I have mentioned these few benchmarks of progress to emphasize what I consider to be the exciting success of this new Department in a remarkably short time. It has developed the ability to work to productive advantage with the entire community—with local officials, business, labor, civil rights groups, anti-poverty agencies, and civic and community associations. It has demonstrated its competence in the full range of programs that together represent the comprehensive approach that the solution of our urban problems demands.

The Commitment

I am under no illusion that these few heartening examples represent more than the beginning of an upward trend in the solution of our urban problems. Furthermore, I am aware of the limited funds available for urban programs at all levels of government. But it seems to me, as it must to you, that in this one area, perhaps above all others, the State simply cannot abrogate its inescapable responsibilities. I therefore propose for your consideration a program which, though modest in relation to the needs at hand, will nevertheless be of sufficient size and scope to alleviate some of the concerns that weigh most heavily upon our communities, large and small alike.

I will propose a demonstration program of rent supplements for those families who are compelled to find new homes because of public projects. New highways, public institutions, and urban renewal are of great benefit to the State-at-large, but they inevitably impose great hardships on those families who are forced to relocate to make room for them. In many cases, the housing that is given over to demolition cannot be replaced, and families are left without substitute housing which they can afford. I propose, through a rent supplement program, to employ the operation of the private market, on a demonstration basis, to alleviate this unfortunate condition, which has created great inconvenience for some of our citizens and in addition has delayed the completion of important public projects.

Relocation is one of the thorniest urban problems of our day. A system of rent supplements is one rapid and effective solution. But a program of this kind can have further major benefits. A rent supplement program can revitalize the lagging real estate market in some of our urban areas. It can also enable New Jersey to tap extensively the one billion dollar insurance pool to which I have referred. This pool has received limited application throughout the country because many urban families cannot afford the type of housing that the insurance industry is able to sponsor. These additional factors argue strongly for a demonstration program of this kind, and I commend it to your attention.

I have already described the initial accomplishments of New Jersey's housing demonstration plan. In the field of housing, where projects normally require years for completion and where the needs of the poor have not been adequately served by public or by private efforts, this program has recorded encouraging results in a number of cities in a few short months. It promises to become our single most effective weapon to halt the deterioration of our older cities and to restore them as thriving centers of population. By this summer, I expect that hundreds of housing units in communities throughout the State will be near completion thanks to the housing demonstration fund. I will shortly propose that we replenish and expand this fund and I will ask business, labor and civic associations to join with State government to take maximum advantage of this essential tool for progress.

Earlier in this Message, I referred to the heavy fiscal burdens of our local units of government. Nowhere do these problems restrict progress more sharply than in urban renewal. The local tax base, especially in the hard-pressed cities that most require renewal, is often unable to accommodate the immediate expenditures that devolve from urban renewal projects. Pursuant to the Urban Renewal Assistance Act of 1967, I will request that you enable the State to share, to the extent feasible, with local governments the burden of renewal, to make a start.

Another important program that I will propose for your consideration is assistance to local governments for code enforcement programs. To implement the revised housing and building codes that the State will soon adopt, I will also recommend efforts to help communities develop and improve local housing inspection units. The value of these efforts is clear, for effective maintenance of property now will forestall the high cost of demolition and renewal in the future. I should perhaps observe at this point that the severe violations of which some tenement landlords are guilty—as opposed to the honest majority of such landlords—are abuses that we cannot permit to continue.

With a combined program of middle income housing, rehabilitation, rent supplements, urban renewal, and code enforcement, the State will be able to help local communities move decisively to create a better environment for their residents. But this advance will not suffice if we neglect the problems of our unemployed, our restless, and our hopeless people. I will propose that the Department of Community Affairs undertake a series of youth employment programs to complement its current operations in the manpower field. Furthermore, I will propose a state-wide system of day-care centers so that those women who seek employment can go to work without neglecting their young children.

At the same time, we will continue to work with local governments in our smaller communities to help them make the best use of their limited resources. The Department of Community Affairs will add a municipal management consultant team to its staff. It will also help communities to introduce data processing procedures.

New Jersey's rapid population growth compels us now to review our land use laws and their effect on our physical development. In many respects these laws are antiquated, and a major review of their content and provisions is in order. This review is already underway by the Department of Community Affairs, in cooperation with a committee of organizations with a major interest in our land use laws, including municipal attorneys, planning groups, agricultural units, utility companies and consumer associations. I have asked the Department and this committee to accelerate its work in order that a proposed revision of New Jersey's land use laws can be placed before this Legislature within three months. While I do not seek hasty action on these proposals, I believe that the urgency of this revision is such that I would hope the Legislature would consider it during the current session.

EDUCATION—

THE CONTINUING QUEST FOR EXCELLENCE

The twin goals of educational excellence and full educational opportunity for all New Jerseyans have been primary objectives of this Administration, and the past year has seen substantial progress toward their achievement. We have established a new Department and Board of Higher Education, which has designated a board of trustees for each of the State colleges. We have significantly enlarged our scholarship and loan programs, including an incentive scholarship plan. We have expanded opportunities in higher education, especially through a substantial financial commitment to our flourishing and burgeoning network of county community colleges, and we have acted with determination to accelerate the transformation of State colleges into strong liberal arts institutions. In short, New Jersey has now made firm its commitment to educational excellence and has established mechanisms to achieve it. But excellence in education is possible only through energetic and sustained financial support over a period of years, and I am confident that support of this kind will be forthcoming from this Legislature.

The new Department of Higher Education is now at work on the development of a master plan to guide the future course of our public higher education system. We may look for the completion of that plan later this year, and we may expect that it will provide us with carefully conceived suggestions for necessary action.

The State Scholarship Commission has called to my attention a major area in student assistance programs which does not now receive adequate coverage. Under present law, highly qualified young men and women in New Jersey who lack the financial resources for college have available to them either scholarship or loan programs. But the Scholarship Commission believes that a significant group of especially able students who have severe financial need and who are, at the same time, educationally or culturally deprived, also seeks and could benefit greatly from a college education. There are many young people among the college age population of this State who are capable of doing fully satisfactory college work if they receive a reasonable degree of guidance and assistance. I believe that providing for these young people a second chance to gain access to higher education would be a highly worth-while investment for our common future, and I shall therefore ask the Legislature to consider a supplemental scholarship program to provide selected students from poor families with both scholarship grants and special programs of remedial education at New Jersey colleges. With your support, I believe that such a program will further us rapidly toward the day when no qualified New Jerseyan will be denied the chance for a college education. To this end, I shall in addition submit to you other proposals to strengthen our scholarship and loan programs.

In elementary and secondary education the past year has seen further encouraging advances on many fronts, most notably in State aid to local school districts, which has nearly doubled, in strengthened vocational education, and in improved programs for handicapped children. If we are to continue the stimulation of educational quality throughout New Jersey, we must begin now to provide for a systematic research and development program to set the promise of this nation's great technological strength against the array of educational problems that beset us—including high dropout rates in many districts, disappointing levels of reading achievement on the part of many students, and above all the overriding need to improve the quality of instruction afforded all our children at the lowest possible cost consistent with this purpose.

If they are to overcome these problems, all local school districts must have somewhere to turn for expert advice and independent evaluation when they seek it. I therefore propose the gradual establishment of regional research and demonstration centers to be located throughout the State and to operate in conjunction with local school systems, and where possible, with institutions of higher education, to test new approaches and new technologies in actual classroom situations. Functioning in association with the Regional Educational Laboratory of the United States Office of Education but addressed specifically to the special needs of New Jersey's own urban, suburban and rural schools, these centers can begin to apply to the enterprise of public education in New Jersey the same research and demonstration techniques that have enabled the private sector to register unparalleled achievements in efficiency, effectiveness, and improved performance on behalf of the American public at large. New Jersey's regional educational centers, in the same fashion, will join with any local school district that expresses interest to develop improved educational programs for its children and to insure full value for every educational dollar spent by its taxpayers.

Last year saw the establishment of the pioneering Urban Education Corps, which has addressed itself firmly to the grave problems of teacher shortages, especially in our urban areas. By the end of the current school year approximately 50 corpsmen will be teaching in our public schools. Plans are now underway for a summer institute program at one or more of our State colleges to provide special training for present and future corpsmen. My hope is that in the next two years New Jersey can look to an Urban Education Corps of some 500 members with a strong summer education program to prepare them for their crucial and difficult assignments. I look to your continued support for this essential program.

Of special concern in this connection is the grave shortage of teachers fluent in both Spanish and English. There can be no doubt that such talented instructors are essential to a number of our school districts. I shall submit to the Legislature in the very near future a proposal to answer this critical shortage of bi-lingual teachers in our schools.

Another major educational task that confronts us is to help especially hard-pressed local school districts find the resources to construct new school buildings which their needs require but their means prohibit. I believe it is essential that the State assist those local school districts which have already fully extended or over-extended themselves in an effort to meet their responsibilities, as reflected in exhausted lending capacity and other indicators, or which labor under extraordinary school construction burdens. At my request the State Board of Education has examined this pressing question with care and has recently submitted a detailed proposal to promote school construction in those areas of the State that require it most. I commend this important proposal to your attention.

I am deeply gratified by the willingness of some of our most able citizens to dedicate themselves to a wide range of vital assignments in the public interest. One current example of this pattern is the Governor's Commission on Public Broadcasting, whose distinguished members are hard at work on the development of a plan for educational television and radio in New Jersey. Public instructional television and radio are a resource whose potential for the enrichment of our lives in the instructional, professional, cultural and civic spheres has barely been explored. The report of this Commission, which will have important implications for the future of education and communications in this State, will form the basis of legislation that I shall place before you later in this session.

After many decades of delay, New Jersey has now firmly embarked on a progressive course in the field of medical and dental education. The two-year medical school at Rutgers has now received authorization to become a four-year institution. The New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry is now on the verge of becoming a fully operative institution that will redound greatly to the credit and advantage of the entire State, and especially of the citizenry of the State's largest city, where it is located. I am confident that this Legislature, sharing the deep concern of previous Legislatures, will overcome past inaction in this critically important field and develop the facilities for medical and dental education which the needs of our 7 million citizens demand.

THE CONSUMER—A FAIR DEAL

Almost one year ago, I pointed out to the Legislature that Caveat Emptor—let the buyer beware—could not be permitted to continue as our policy in the area of consumer affairs and that it was the duty of government to take every reasonable step to assure that our citizens obtain a dollar's value for each dollar spent. The 191st Legislature responded to the demonstrated needs of consumers by passing such important measures as an amendment of the Small Loans Act to require the disclosure of true interest rates; a milk dating law to give the housewife greater assurance that she is purchasing a fresh commodity; increased penalties for violation of the Real Estate Syndication Law; a law requiring the posting of hotel rates; a state securities act; and, perhaps most significantly, a law creating a one-stop agency for consumer complaints—the Office of Consumer Protection. I have every reason to hope that this 192nd New Jersey Legislature will be equally responsive to the further needs of consumers as set forth in this Message.

Through the vigorous efforts of the Attorney General and also of its Director, the Office of Consumer Protection, in the short time it has been in existence, has proven to be a highly effective voice for the consumer. At present, the Office is handling more than 600 complaints per month and obtaining satisfaction for duped purchasers in the amount of nearly $40,000 per month. But equal in importance to the success which it has achieved, is the fact that through its experience a number of shortcomings in existing consumer protection law have been exposed and the need for remedial legislation highlighted.

The Holder in Due Course

Cases in the files of the Office of Consumer Protection document the need for the modification of the "holder in due course" rule as it applies to consumer installment sales. Under present conditions an unsuspecting buyer may be forced to pay full value for defective merchandise or incomplete repairs because his debt has been transferred to a third person. Consider the following example:

Mr. Smith owned a home which was basically sound and valuable, but whose exterior evidenced years of wear. He decided to improve the exterior and called on XYZ Aluminum Products, Inc. In September of 1966, he agreed to a home repair contract which obligated him not only for \$7,300 worth of repairs but also \$3,207.56 worth of credit charges. The credit cost represented \$7,300 financed at $6\frac{1}{2}\%$ over 84 months, or 7 years, for a total interest cost of $45\frac{1}{2}\%$. Unknown to Mr. Smith, the XYZ company discounted the financing agreement to a third party—an investment corporation. Sixty days after the contract was signed and before work was even begun, Mr. Smith received a coupon book for 84 payments at \$125.09 per month. It is now more than a year since the contract was signed. The repairs have still not been completed, but the investment corporation demands its monthly payment and refuses to be held in any way responsible for XYZ's non-performance on the contract. Mr. Smith possesses a half-finished house, but because the financing agency claims to be a holder in due course, he must continue to make payments or risk losing his home.

Although the holder in due course rule affects all consumers who buy on credit—both rich and poor—it is more oppressive to the poor. The poor are far more prone to credit buying and are more likely to be sold shoddy merchandise and to be deceived by false claims. Furthermore, the better-educated, more affluent consumer is better able to pursue his remedies directly against the seller. The poor consumer often lacks the knowledge, the time, the financial resources, or the psychological attitude necessary to bring action against the seller, who may even be a fly-by-night operator who disappears or goes out of business shortly after the sale. It should be noted, however, that consumers of average income, who constantly struggle against rising costs, are also vulnerable to severe damage from practices of this kind.

While the courts have often recognized the manifest injustices resulting from the application of the holder in due course rule and have frequently found ways in which the rule could be avoided, I propose that we abandon a case-by-case approach and enact legislation which will modify, within the limited sphere of consumer installment purchases, the status of holder in due course for an assignee of an installment contract. The step which I propose is not into an uncharted field, for a number of our sister states have already abolished or modified the holder in due course doctrine as it relates to consumer installment sales and have done so without adversely affecting legitimate commercial transactions.

Unscrupulous Salesmen

The Office of Consumer Protection also reports numerous instances wherein unscrupulous door-to-door salesmen have bilked the elderly, the poor, and the unsophisticated. As is the case throughout the field of consumer affairs, a handful of sharp operators damage the reputation and good will of the vast majority of honest businessmen, many of whom conduct legitimate enterprises on a door-to-door basis, often providing both savings and convenience to their customers. I do not propose to hamper in any way the operation of legitimate business. I do propose, however, to safeguard those businesses, and consumers as well, by suggesting that more adequate regulation be imposed on door-to-door salesmen. At present, our law permits a municipality to require the licensing of door-to-door salesmen but does not establish any uniform standards to control the issuance of licenses. I am advised that many municipalities have not adopted the necessary ordinances and those that have, show little uniformity in approach. I will submit for your consideration a bill calling for a State licensing act containing minimum standards to be effective throughout the State except in those municipalities requiring licensing and setting standards at least as high as those contained in the State law.

In addition, I will ask the Legislature to consider the enactment of a law providing a 48-hour "cooling off" period on retail installment sales and home repair contracts executed at a place other than the seller's place of business. During this 48-hour period the buyer who has had an opportunity to reflect upon his need for or ability to pay for goods or services—such as a housewife who is given the opportunity to weigh with her husband the wisdom of a given expenditure—could cancel the agreement if the seller had not previously substantially performed the contract.

Dealers in Credit—A Need for Scrutiny

Another aspect of consumer credit financing which warrants your early attention is the problem posed by open-end credit accounts which are largely unregulated by the law. Revolving credit is definitely a service to and a convenience for vast numbers of consumers. However, there is no reason why the cost of that service and convenience should not be subject to regulation. Nor is there any reason why consumers should not be told in clear terms how much they pay for revolving credit.

In 1965, a giant step forward was taken with the enactment of a second mortgage law, but recent investigation has shown that abuses have begun to reappear. All second mortgage lenders must be required to submit to periodic examination by the Department of Banking and Insurance and to file annual financial statements. In addition, steps must be taken to curtail the practice of some persons who hold themselves out as lenders but are in reality brokers for finance companies located in other states with less stringent regulations over lending practices. Legislation to strengthen the second mortgage law is now being drafted and will be offered for your consideration in the near future.

I am also deeply concerned by the growing practice in some quarters of the sending of unsolicited credit cards. Our citizens should not be put to the trouble of returning something they never sought or being tempted to use an easy way of buying things which they do not otherwise desire. Furthermore, the gratuitous mailing of credit cards with pre-printed names, as opposed to a letter of invitation to enter into a contract, troubles the recipient with the risk of an involuntary contractual relationship and expensive litigation. I suggest that the Legislature examine this practice with a view toward remedying the problems it presents.

The impact of shoddy lending practices and sharp dealings is further intensified when one considers that the end result is often the garnishment of an individual's wages, which in turn sometimes leads to the loss of his employment. The courts certainly must be left open to creditors to collect honest debts, and the garnishment of wages is sometimes the only available avenue. I propose, however, that our society refrain from "throwing water on a drowning man" by discouraging the summary firing of persons unfortunate enough to suffer garnishments. During the past few years, bills have been pending in the Legislature which would prohibit discrimination by employers against employees in this situation. I commend those measures to your attention.

Last year I was privileged to sign into law a measure substantially increasing the protection afforded persons borrowing from small loan companies. It occurs to me that in an economy where installment purchasing is becoming more and more prevalent, a retail buyer who finances the purchase of goods and services should enjoy the same protection as a borrower. Our present retail installment sales and home repair financing laws are in need of revision to extend this equal measure of protection. For instance, finance charges under those laws are not stated in terms clearly understandable to the average consumer. I propose that a thorough evaluation be made of installment sales law with a view toward passing a measure that will be fair to consumers and businessmen alike.

Disclosure—An Informed Bargain

The security of the modern consumer is truly a function of the degree to which he is informed. Experience demonstrates that even a knowledgeable customer is often provided unintelligible, misleading and even false information. I propose we adopt measures to formalize and protect the consumer's right to know.

There is an ever-increasing number of housing developments in this State which are being advertised as "retirement communities." In most instances a substantial financial investment is required of persons seeking this type of housing. Many of these individuals can ill afford to risk life-time savings since they do not have the earning capacity to recoup a major financial loss. One such enterprise recently declared bankruptcy and left many retired couples not only penniless but homeless. I propose the enactment of legislation requiring full disclosure of the financial resources of developers of this type of housing. In this way a person seeking to invest will have before him adequate factual information on which to base a decision. This legislation will also afford some type of protection to those legitimate developers and businessmen who conduct their business in an ethical manner and suffer from the unscrupulous practices of a few.

Another problem which requires legislative action is the solicitation of business from our citizens by unauthorized, out-of-state insurance firms. The Department of Banking and Insurance does not now have jurisdiction over unauthorized insurers who solicit customers in New Jersey through the mail and by advertisements. Recently certain beneficiaries have been unable to collect the proceeds of insurance policies written by some of these out-of-state insurers when the prior state of health of the insured has been raised as a defense, even though the original advertisement of the insurance plan indicated that "no physical examination is required." I believe that out-of-state insurers should be required to obtain certificates of authority to transact business in New Jersey. If they are qualified, they will face no difficulties from this requirement.

Three additional problem areas have become apparent and I invite your attention to these proposals:

—A law requiring funeral directors to furnish itemized lists of services, and charges therefor, included in the price of a funeral.

—A law requiring the proper labeling of re-conditioned and re-built household appliances.

—A law to require public representation on all professional boards so that the voice of the people may be heard in connection with the regulation of professions and businesses which deeply affect the daily lives of the citizens of this State.

Vigilant Government

New legislative authority is also necessary to permit those agencies which serve the consumer a full measure of opportunity to accomplish their assigned purposes.

A comprehensive revision of our weights and measures law received public legislative hearings last year. This measure is needed to modernize our standards and procedures—for the protection of both consumers and legitimate business enterprises. It deserves favorable action by this Legislature.

Enactment of the federal Meat Inspection Act of 1967 will help to strengthen both the federal and state meat inspection programs in our State. The uniform standards and federal matching funds provided under this act will enable us to upgrade our State inspection program. New Jersey has regulated and licensed slaughterhouses since 1910. Over the years these State requirements have been strengthened, and in 1965 the State Health Department adopted rules and regulations governing the construction, operation, and sanitation of meat and poultry processing plants and the labeling of meat and poultry products. Although New Jersey has been ahead of many states in its inspection requirements, there can be no room for complacency or for compromise with the public's health and safety. I shall shortly place before you my specific proposals in this sphere. The broad support received from consumers, industry, and government for the new federal act provides encouraging evidence that we may also expect full support for our increased State efforts.

The attention which has been accorded meat inspection provides a further reminder of the continuing need to strengthen also other health inspection and enforcement programs on the municipal, regional, and county levels. I urge that the Legislature consider carefully additional steps toward this goal.

In the past year there has been considerable interest in the safety aspects of high pressure pipelines which transmit natural gas from distant well fields to the densely populated urban areas of the country. New Jersey, through the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, has been in the forefront of progressive states adopting safety standards for the construction, maintenance, and operation of these pipelines. These standards, together with the Public Utility Commission's jurisdictional responsibilities over gas distribution companies, provide the people of New Jersey with the safe regulation of gas from the moment it enters the State through high pressure pipelines until it reaches the final consumer.

The Public Utility Commission has recently undertaken a review of its present regulations concerning these pipelines for the purpose of expanding and improving them if necessary. The study entails consideration of improvements in the manufacture and operation of facilities for the transmission of gas, of research and development, of customer requirements, of commercial and residential growth within the State, and of all other factors which are related to the transmission of gas and have a direct effect upon its safety. Should this study reveal the need for further legislative action in this field, you may be assured of my prompt commendation of proposals to you.

New Jerseyans received a wonderful New Year's benefit when the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company announced only a few days ago its third consecutive rate reduction for 1967. This reduction is a tribute to the cooperation of the public utilities of New Jersey and to the State's Public Utility Commission, which was instrumental in bringing about the adjustment. As a result, New Jersey telephone customers will now be saved $11.7 million a year.

Under its regulatory powers, the Board of Public Utility Commissioners has brought about a continuing series of rate reductions and refunds to the customers of public utilities in the State. During the past six years, New Jerseyans have received total cumulative benefits from rate reductions, refunds, and other savings in excess of $100 million. The Public Utility Commission is now studying the development of a method for assessing public utilities in order to pay a portion of the State's cost of regulating the industry. Under consideration is a plan which would assess each utility a sum based upon operating revenues derived from business conducted in New Jersey. I hope shortly to receive the recommendations of the Board and to submit an appropriate proposal to the Legislature.

Recent bankruptcy proceedings against certain firms have emphasized the need for expansion and clarification of the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners over holding companies which control operating public utilities. I hope soon to submit legislation which will grant to the Board specific authority over the terms and conditions of borrowing between the holding company and the utility.

Finally, a law to authorize the appointment of an insurance rate defender in all cases in which general rate increases are sought warrants your early attention. The cost of the defender should be borne by the industry requesting the rate increase, as is now the case under the public utilities law. The possible contributions of a public rate defender have been demonstrated conclusively in connection with applications for increased Blue Shield rates and in the currently pending request for automobile insurance rate increases.

PROMOTING PUBLIC HEALTH

There is no more pressing concern of State Government than the good health of the people. We have registered important gains in this crucial field with the enactment of such programs as the State Health Aid Act for local health agencies and far-ranging air and water pollution control legislation. It is a matter of public record that New Jersey leads the Nation in the adoption of responsible standards and the implementation of effective controls designed to promote environmental health. Our continuing efforts were encouraged this past week by the announcement of the grant of a quarter of a million dollars by the United States Public Health Service with which to expand our existing system of air monitoring field stations.

Pollution Control—A Pledge to the Future

In 1967 the Legislature responded to the needs of our time and adopted a program acknowledged as the firmest legal foundation in the country for unified action against pollution. Upon this foundation during this past year, enforcement of the anti-pollution law has been swift and certain and consistent. Those who would pollute our environment already know that New Jersey will not tolerate this threat to our future well-being.

We have moved far and quickly to alleviate the grave danger of pollution. For most cases, legislative authority is enacted and administrative rules are in process. Only responsible co-operation, scrupulous enforcement, a firm and continued public commitment, and nature's own time are required to reverse a century of casual corruption of our air and water.

Yet we have not manifested a provincial concern, for pollution is no local menace confined to neat political compartments. With regard to water pollution, the Legislature acted in 1966 to promote a regional approach to sewage treatment. Already the State Department of Health has denied approval to a local facility found to be inconsistent with the regional concept. The development of central facilities designed to serve each of the identifiable drainage basins in the State is the ultimate goal and the only sure solution. Preliminary concentration has been given to the identification of these basins, the classification of our streams and waters to determine the level of protection each requires, and the issuance of specific orders to direct industry and local government in the provision and maintenance of adequate treatment facilities. We shall continue to fund local and regional studies and thus to develop habits of co-operation among the several levels of government concerned.

The restoration of our atmosphere, too, demands regional action and to that end we have engaged the cooperation of our neighboring states in the creation of the Mid-Atlantic States Air Pollution Control Compact. We must secure the strong support of these states and of the federal government for this Compact in our common defense. Recrimination has too long been the only instrument of interstate action. Only a powerful commission that responds faithfully to our common needs can secure meaningful and lasting results.

Another source of danger to the public health will also require our close attention in the year ahead. We must act now to protect an equally essential resource—land—and to control an equally destructive pollutant—solid waste. Solid waste disposal activities must be licensed and regulated if the land we prize is not to become a monstrous dump and an enemy to our health.

Health Services—Medicaid

In recognition of the dramatically increasing cost and utilization of hospital and medical services, and the severe financial pressures these services impose, the Congress formulated Title XIX of the Social Security Act, known as "Medicaid." The desperate need for a realistic and just distribution of the cost of maintaining personal health has been noted here before. Our study of this problem is continuing. Both the Department of Institutions and Agencies and your own legislative commission have recently published reports of their findings and recommendations concerning the implementation of a program of health care for the medically indigent of this State. Both these reports are founded on the conviction that those who lack the means to pay for necessary medical treatment must not thereby be deprived of that treatment.

Title XIX provides a program to make this principle work. Medicaid, in whatever form it is adopted, will require a substantial investment by State government. The return on this investment, however, measured in salvaged man-hours of labor and misery relieved, will be realized daily by citizens throughout the State. While we acknowledge the federal mandate that Medicaid be initiated in this decade, we must nevertheless proceed with caution in order to avoid the onerous mistakes that have plagued the plans of several of our sister states. We must also take full account of the alternatives permitted by the general requirements of the federal law, including various forms of health insurance, so as to select the plan that best responds to New Jersey's needs and capacities.

As my budget message will indicate, I am calling for the allocation of program development money for fiscal year 1968-1969 in preparation for the implementation of Medicaid by January, 1970. It will fall to this Administration and this Legislature to design the form of this program. I am confident that the determination with which we jointly approach this crucial task will be reinforced by the knowledge that we are concerned with a prize of matchless value—the health of our fellow citizens.

In addition to securing medical treatment for those who cannot afford it, we must act now to insure that the facilities and services available are adequate to cope with the dramatic increase in demand that is certain to accompany the implementation of this health program.

In the brief period since the introduction of Medicare, a substantial program but nevertheless of less far-reaching dimensions than Medicaid, the State Department of Health has acted to certify the hospitals and nursing homes of this State. Participation in this federal program has proved a considerable inducement to the meeting of minimum standards. In addition to residential treatment and convalescent facilities, the Department has certified over 50 home health agencies. As recommended by the Blue Cross Study Commission and the Legislative Commission to Study Economy and Efficiency in State Government, the Department of Health, with its expertise in and familiarity with the medical arts, must be empowered to continue this work and indeed to adopt and enforce minimum professional standards for all health facilities. The licensing and inspection of these facilities can be most effectively accomplished as an integral part of the general health planning effort, which falls within the purview of the Department of Health.

Beyond our active participation with hospitals and with doctors in preparing for tomorrow, we are also obliged to insure the capability of medical support and health services to meet increasing demands responsibly and safely. The federal "Partnership for Health Act" encourages just such planning for the future. Programs of this kind will enable us to exercise greater supervision and help ensure that clinical and bio-analytical laboratories, as well as the providers of other health and medical services, will be prepared for the task before them.

The preparation of professional personnel is a matter of continuing and growing urgency. In 1967 the Legislature demonstrated its appreciation of the nursing shortage and responded with the adoption of the Nursing Scholarship Act. I am pleased to report that this program, in combination with the growing capacity of the community college system to provide an entirely new source of nurses, will do much to alleviate that critical situation. In June, for example, more than 50 nurses who might otherwise never have been trained will be graduated from the community college system to fill vacancies across the State.

Of equal impact upon the shortage of trained nurses is the unfortunate brevity of the typical nursing career. With the enlightened co-operation of the New Jersey Hospital Association, we are encouraging inactive nurses to return to their profession. There are at present more than 11,000 inactive professional nurses in this State. The talent and training of even a small number of these women, if properly utilized, will do much to alleviate the pressure of unfilled positions during the developmental stages of new nurse training facilities and programs.

Mental Health—To Realize a Potential

In recent years, there has been a marked change in public attitudes concerning the mentally ill and mentally retarded in our society. No longer are these unfortunate individuals and their families forced into the invisible back room of life. Increased public concern for the mentally ill, as well as for the underprivileged and the aged, requires constant efforts by the State to alleviate the conditions in our society which create human misery. We have the responsibility, indeed, the moral obligation, to devise improved ways to assist those who are so handicapped that they require care, protection, treatment, or training.

Last year, more than 30,000 New Jerseyans were cared for in State facilities for the mentally ill and the mentally retarded. To meet their needs, we have maintained a program aimed at the development and provision of efficient medical services in our institutions. Expanded treatment capacity has been reinforced by continued expansion of the State's role in the development of county health services. State funds have been made available to aid in the construction of Community Mental Health Centers, and a Community Mental Health Board has been established within the Department of Institutions and Agencies with the responsibility to recommend policies and procedures designed to insure the orderly development of comprehensive mental health services. New avenues of collaboration between the Department of Institutions and Agencies and Rutgers, The State University have been opened which will result in new techniques of care for the mentally ill. A new evaluation and research unit was opened at the Johnstone Training Center for the Retarded. In addition to undertaking research on mental retardation, this unit provides a diagnostic center to which troubled parents with retarded children can turn for guidance and counsel.

We have made great strides in recent years toward insuring that the mentally ill and the mentally retarded will no longer be forgotten citizens. But the need to provide adequate physical facilities and modern, up-to-date treatment programs continues, and our success in meeting this need will require the continued concern of all New Jersey citizens. Not long ago, an interdepartmental committee completed a report analyzing State care provided for the retarded. I am now studying that report and I expect to propose legislation based upon its recommendations in the near future. I also hope shortly to recommend a measure to eliminate the gross inequities now found in the system under which parents of retarded children are charged for care in State institutions. There has long been a need for revision of this system, and I shall direct appropriate changes to your attention.

I am heartened by the response of your legislative leaders to informal discussions of these matters, and I am confident that with mutual co-operation we can work together for the improvement of institutions and institutional care.

TRANSPORTATION

We mark this year the first anniversary of the creation of the Department of Transportation—a year of commendable progress. The Department has registered meaningful achievements on a number of important fronts and has successfully expedited some immediate problems.

Investment for Mobility

In the area of highway construction, despite a federal freeze on Federal Aid Highway Funds through last June, the Department placed under contract a record $125 million of highway construction projects. During the past two fiscal periods, a record total of more than $356 million has been obligated for all phases of construction activity, including engineering and right-of-way acquisition. As a result, New Jersey's Interstate Highway Program is progressing on a schedule that will permit—assuming the availability of adequate federal financing—the State to complete its portion of the Interstate System on or before the 1972 timetable established when the program was commissioned in 1956. One example of current progress is Interstate 80, the remainder of which will be under construction during this calendar year. Interstate 280, west of the Stickle Bridge, will be entirely under construction before the end of the coming summer. Similar progress is being recorded on the other routes.

In its approach to the full range of transportation problems, the new Department has manifested the needed flexibility for which we had hoped. As a result, the State can expect maximum benefit from the resources it is allocating to transportation. The Department's proposal to transfer funds originally allocated to the disputed section of Interstate 278, to the construction of the important Central Jersey Expressway, apparently will meet with success. This achievement is a tribute to the unstinting efforts of Congressman Howard who, as a member of the important House Public Works Committee, was able to stimulate essential Congressional action. It is also a tribute to the administration of President Johnson, without whose co-operation this gratifying success would not have been possible. The President's prompt approval of Congressman Howard's bill has enabled the Department to make the necessary application to the United States Bureau of Public Roads. We are now seeking prompt action by that agency so that this project can move forward without further delay. As a result, the Department of Transportation can now respect the wishes and desires of the overwhelming number of people and officials of Union County in their categorical opposition to the construction of Interstate 278, and provide at the same time a responsible method of financing the Central Jersey Expressway, a long and eagerly awaited connection between Trenton and the Shore.

In the field of public transportation, the Department took positive action to preserve and improve essential rail service. An agreement with the Erie Lackawanna Railroad provides that the railroad will continue to operate its trains for at least five years while the State carries out a capital improvement program. A construction order was placed by the Department early in 1967 for 35 modern commuter cars which will be in service on the Pennsylvania Railroad during 1968. The Department also demonstrated its concern for the essential interests of the State by exerting leadership to keep the Central Railroad of New Jersey in operation, despite its unfortunate bankruptcy. The Department achieved this result through its subsidy program and the additional $2 million appropriation provided for this purpose. In recognition of the necessity to protect the public's investment in this carrier, the $2 million was made available to the railroad by way of a secured 4 per cent loan rather than as an outright grant.

The problems we face in the area of transportation, however, cannot be resolved merely by flexibility of approach or even by maximizing the return on the public's investment in this area. Recent reports from the Department indicate that the non-interstate highway projects which the people of this State are demanding will undoubtedly require considerable sums beyond the funds that appear to be available. While in past years it could be argued that the Department did not require additional funds because it still had available substantial unspent balances on its non-interstate accounts, this condition no longer obtains. This year projects will be delayed because of a shortage of funds.

Many of us have seen this day coming. Certainly, my predecessor, Governor Meyner, gave ample warning when, in 1959, he sought approval of a program to utilize the resources of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority to help fund the cost of transportation programs generally. In 1963, I made a similar recommendation in proposing a bond issue for highway purposes alone of $475 million. As you know, both of these proposals failed.

In 1964, the Legislature recognized some of the capital needs in the fields of higher education and institutions through the passage of several modest bond issues. In weighing the highway problem, however, the special joint highway committee of the Legislature recommended against additional capital funds for highway construction and suggested instead that consideration be given to more toll roads. This latter proposal has been adopted. The Turnpike Authority is now carrying out an expansion of that important roadway at a cost of approximately $400 million.

The New Jersey Highway Authority is prepared to undertake its own expanded program, involving the construction of the New Jersey Thruway and other improvements, at a cost that will exceed $250 million.

The most recent fiscal change in this State involved, as you know, bi-partisan enactment of a selective sales tax and bi-partisan allocation of the anticipated receipts. Both parties agreed that the bulk of the sales tax receipts should be channeled into local assistance. As a result, a special one-year additional sum of $34 million was provided as extraordinary State Road Aid in fiscal 1967. The sales tax also made possible a continuing State Road Aid Program of $15 million annually, as well as increases in the level of support for our rail program. This revenue source, however, by common agreement, did not provide any substantial new funds for State highway construction.

Regardless of this past record, we have clearly reached the point at which we must come to grips with capital problems in the field of transportation. I have therefore requested the Department of Transportation to complete work, as quickly as possible, on the Master Plan for Transportation which it is obligated to prepare under the statute creating the Department. This plan will delineate the State's range of needs in the areas of highways and public transportation. It should provide a basis for meaningful discussion of the problem so that basic policy decisions can be made in a responsible and realistic manner. As soon as this information is available, I shall submit it to you for your consideration.

Other Transportation Measures

Several other measures proposed by the Department of Transportation will warrant your prompt consideration. Legislation to permit the Department to reserve proposed rights-of-way for an interim period of time, with appropriate safeguards on that power to ensure land use within a reasonable time period, will help avoid the unnecessary purchase of developed parcels of property and reduce right-of-way costs. The Department is seeking an increase in the maximum relocation costs payable in order to help ease the hardship of families and businesses that must be relocated.

The Department is also revising the highway beautification proposal that it submitted last year. Such a measure merits your attention in order to ensure both New Jersey's compliance with federal statutes and the improvement of the scenic appearance of our highways.

The legislation creating the Tri-State Transportation Commission is scheduled to expire early in 1969. Since the concurrence of all three states will be required to continue the agency, discussions are now under way with regard to an extension of the expiration date. Legislation will be submitted for your consideration so that the Tri-State Transportation Commission can proceed with no unnecessary disruption in its important functions.

Highway Safety

As you know, the Congress of the United States acted last year to assist the states in carrying out their highway safety programs. The National Highway Safety Act provides for a co-ordinated National Highway Safety Program through financial assistance to the states for work in thirteen areas. Under the direction of my representative to the National Highway Safety Bureau, planning projects are under way in the areas of driver education, emergency medical services, traffic control devices, and police traffic services.

New Jersey is substantially in compliance with the National Highway Safety Standards promulgated by the Secretary of Transportation. However, legislation in several important areas is required to enable the State to move in the direction of 100 per cent compliance with the National Standards and thus to avoid invocation of a penalty clause of the National Highway Safety Act which directs the Secretary of Transportation to withhold apportionment of 10 per cent of Federal Aid Highway funds to any state that fails to implement a proper highway safety program.

The Standard on Driver Education requires that there be a driver education and training program available to all youths of licensing age which is taught by instructors certified by the State. A driver education course to include 30 hours of classroom instruction and 6 hours of behind-the-wheel training as well as an expanded program of teacher training will meet the requirement. The Legislature should direct renewed attention to an appropriate driver education program in the interest of the safety of all our citizens.

In the area of emergency medical services, it is essential that the victims of accidents receive prompt emergency medical care under all emergency conditions. The high caliber of New Jersey's ambulance and rescue squads is recognized throughout the nation. A model ambulance law will improve the training and equipment of emergency drivers, attendants, and dispatchers, as required by the National Highway Safety Standards, and I commend to your attention proposals to this end from the Department of Health.

Jetport

The construction of a fourth jetport for the metropolitan area continues to be among our major concerns. We daily receive fresh evidence of the toll exacted by delay. This toll—in inconvenience, inefficiency, and physical danger—demands that we approach the problem with critical objectivity and renewed commitment. At the same time it is clear that this public necessity must not indiscriminately invade valuable property and heavily settled communities. The densely built residential regions of this State are the fruition of too much careful planning and investment to be compromised by careless progress.

I am gratified to note that with the assistance of New Jersey's Congressional delegation I was able to arrange a re-opening of discussions on the jetport question between prominent business and civic leaders in New Jersey, on the one hand, and the United States Department of Transportation, the United States Air Force, and other concerned federal agencies on the other. Subsequently, I was privileged to appoint a blue ribbon citizens' committee composed of outstanding leaders of industry and finance, which has unselfishly volunteered its talents and energies to evaluate the economic impact of a jetport on the future of the State. This distinguished committee, chaired by J. Seward Johnson and supported by substantial resources at the command of

New Jersey commerce, has responded eagerly to the challenge before it. It is with great confidence and pride that I await this committee's report—confidence in the ability of this State to recognize and realize its unlimited potential as a great metropolitan center, and pride in the sincerity and good will of our people to work for a New Jersey jetport despite frustrating delays and heretofore insurmountable technical obstacles.

But State government must also continue to persevere in its efforts to resolve this question. I am therefore recommending that you authorize the establishment of a New Jersey Jetport Authority within the Department of Transportation. This Authority would stand ready to evaluate and hopefully to implement recommendations from the Johnson committee and other groups devoted to a solution of the jetport question. The Authority would be a focal point for all the State's efforts to resolve this long-standing problem. To this end the Authority would exercise such responsibilities as this and succeeding Legislatures determine are necessary for the satisfactory effectuation of a fourth jetport in the metropolitan area. Legislation to implement this proposal is now being prepared by the Department of Transportation, and I shall submit it for your consideration at an early date.

THE ECONOMY—INCREASING OUR STRENGTH

In 1967, as in the two previous years, more people of this State engaged in productive commerce than ever before in our history. With the increase in employment, personal spending and personal savings also achieved new high levels. The Economic Policy Council, established in 1967 to provide sound statistical reviews and projections of the economic status of our State, will report next month on the problems and opportunities presented by this expansion. Its commentary will include an analysis of the conditions which fostered our healthy economy and the means available to us to protect and stimulate it.

Among the factors contributing to our current success has been the effective implementation of programs to maintain attractive conditions of employment. The goals of financial security, personal safety, and opportunity for advancement are now closer to realization than ever before. The injection of over $19 million into the wage rolls, a direct result of the extended and increased minimum wage, contributed substantially to the health of our economy and to the well-being of our working men and women. Among the measures to which I invite the attention of this Legislature in the coming year, for the further stimulation of this environment, are improvements in the Worker Safety Act and legislation requiring a meal period in each full working day for all workers.

The sturdy response of industry to recent developments—visible in unchecked new construction and expansion of existing facilities in 1967—reflects its own perception of the climate of growth and prosperity that it finds in this State. During the eight months prior to September 1, 154 companies executed contracts to build or expand plants in the State. This investment in the future of New Jersey represents an immediate capital outlay in excess of $250 million. Moreover, these commitments for the future do not include either the monumental determination of a single concern to undertake a $300 million expansion program or various plans for the construction of nuclear powered generating facilities.

These business decisions both credit our convenient geography and concentration of utilities and underscore the realization of the business community that New Jersey provides fertile ground for operation and investment, protected by concerned government and serviced by responsible working men. In such a climate business and labor, with the assistance of government, can work together in productive harmony.

This community of interest among business, labor, and government has been reflected in significant attempts in the past two years to stimulate and facilitate the growth of business and industry in New Jersey. For example, recognition of the needs of commerce resulted in the reform two years ago of the Business Personalty Tax which, until then, had imposed an onerous burden upon industry.

During this past year legislation was adopted to liberalize the conditions under which business corporations may merge. Further indications of this Administration's awareness that a favorable business climate is essential to all may be found in reform of our railroad taxation policies, tax exemptions for air and water pollution control devices, the sponsorship of trade missions to various parts of the world, and the availability of State money under the Economic Development Assistance Act of 1966 for feasibility surveys for businesses interested in locating in New Jersey, to suggest but a few. This commitment to an ever-watchful anticipation of the needs of commerce must continue if our record of healthful expansion is to be maintained.

The Hackensack Meadowlands

The orderly development of the Hackensack Meadowlands will be perhaps the single greatest stimulus to the continued growth of New Jersey's economy. For several years I have emphasized the enormous potential of the Hackensack Meadowlands—with its possible use for industrial expansion, for new housing, and for recreation and conservation purposes—and the need to assure the proper and expeditious reclamation and development of this great natural resource.

Substantial steps to accomplish this major public objective have been taken. The Department of Community Affairs has developed the outlines of a regional development plan for this area and at the same time has worked closely with the United States Corps of Army Engineers in the preparation of reclamation program. These activities have been supplemented by the studies and recommendations of various private and governmental groups as to the nature and powers of the agency which will supervise this project, with particular emphasis on the multi-jurisdictional problems that will result from such a regional undertaking.

I believe that we have now reached a point where legislative action is imperative. Therefore, I recommend that the Legislature create and authorize a state agency to formulate a program for the development and reclamation of the Hackensack Meadowlands on a regional basis. Such an agency should be given broad powers both to develop and to enforce such a regional plan and to work closely with the involved local governing bodies in the implementation of the regional program.

Such legislation should also include provision for the resolution of title disputes in this area. In an historic decision, the Supreme Court of this State recently affirmed the State's riparian claims in certain of the Meadowlands and laid down general guidelines for the determination of the extent of the State's claim. It is therefore vital that this Legislature establish either a title court or an administrative agency to hear and determine title disputes so that this deterrent to the development of the Meadowlands is promptly removed. I shall shortly present to this Legislature a proposal which will encompass the creation of both a State agency for the planning and reclamation of the Meadowlands and a body to review and resolve the conflicting title claims in this area.

There is no doubt in my mind that the Meadowlands offer a unique challenge—to develop not only the great natural resources that it provides but also workable rules for large-scale regional planning which can serve as a model for similar activities in the future in other areas of this State.

Port Facility Expansion

The continued vitality of New Jersey's economy will depend, in large measure, upon our renewed determination to enlarge the port facilities of this State. Enactment last year of legislation to consolidate the South Jersey Port Commission and the Delaware River Port Authority constituted a significant step forward in the expansion and modernization of port facilities along the Delaware River. Unfortunately, however, the necessary concurrence of the Pennsylvania Legislature has not yet been granted. While I am still hopeful of affirmative action by the Pennsylvania Legislature, I reaffirm my determination that port development, along the Delaware River shall in any event be accomplished, for it is indispensable to the competitive position of South Jersey and to the further economic development of that region.

Nuclear Energy—A Tool for Expansion

The bench presses, lathes, and stamps of industry would suddenly halt without sufficient power to drive them. Much attention has been devoted in recent years to the development of nuclear-powered electric generating facilities, and New Jersey in 1968 will see in commercial operation the Oyster Creek Generating Station and will thus become the site of one of the largest such installations in the world. It is estimated that by 1980, 25 percent of our nation's total electric power generation will come from nuclear fuel. Consequently, it is important for New Jersey to continue its leadership in this field of technology.

It is equally important, however, that our State government encourage other peaceful uses of atomic energy, and at the same time maintain proper levels of supervision over the use of radioactive materials so that the safety of the public can be assured. As these objectives cut across the jurisdictions of several State departments, much can be said for the creation of a co-ordinating agency which can also serve as the primary liaison with those segments of private industry interested in this general subject.

Therefore, I have taken the necessary steps to appoint an Atomic Energy Council to encourage and assist the growth of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes and the development of adequate engineering safeguards and operating practices which will assure that this usage is without danger to the citizens and environment of New Jersey. This Council will consist of the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, the Commissioner of Health, the Attorney General, and the President of the Public Utility Commission. The collective expertise of these four public servants should enable New Jersey, a scientific and research center of this country, to be certain that the potential of atomic energy for all sectors of our growing economy is fulfilled.

Corporation Law Revision

To be presented to you later in this year is a revision of Title 14, the corporation law of New Jersey. The product of a decade of exceptional effort by the Corporation Law Revision Commission, this document will be examined by interested and responsible citizens throughout our State. What comes before you for your consideration will truly be a proposal which acknowledges the reliance of this State upon commerce and faith in our continued mutual success. I commend this significant legislation to you.

Forecast for the Future

The future condition of the State, both economic and social, depends in large measure upon our efforts to maintain a sound and balanced commercial community. Only such an environment can provide the jobs and support the activity which must be continued to meet the needs of our citizens and promote the realization of their full potential. The economic forecast for the coming year indicates employment in this State will surpass 2¾ million persons and personal income will exceed $27 billion. This advance is expected to be based increasingly on private demand and expenditure.

Thus the year 1968 in New Jersey presents an encouraging picture of improving employment opportunities and rising living standards for our families. It is both our opportunity and our obligation to work toward the realization of this encouraging forecast.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE—NEEDED AMENDMENTS

An increasingly large portion of many of the annual budgets for local government, and consequently a great share of our citizens' local property tax burden, reflects the staggering cost of public assistance. The willingness of our citizens to help those among them who are needy, infirm and disadvantaged is the strength of a democratic society. But we must continually examine our public assistance programs to make certain that they do not breed cycles of dependency or discourage personal incentives.

State government has developed programs aimed at bringing persons requiring income maintenance support into the mainstream of our society. Some notable results already have been achieved. In co-operation with county and municipal authorities, federal funding was secured for extension of work and training programs in the cities of Newark and Trenton, the Paterson-Passaic area, Camden County, Monmouth County, and Union County. These projects, authorized as part of the war on poverty, are funded at more than $10 million. As of March 1, 1967, almost 4,000 persons had received training and many of those are known to have re-entered the labor market.

We must continue our efforts toward strengthening our public assistance laws, to the dual ends that our humane purposes are served and public confidence in the system is enhanced. I have previously mentioned the need for enlarging the system of adequate day-care centers for the children of poor mothers who are the heads of households. This Legislature must address itself to this problem, for the recently adopted welfare amendments to the Social Security Act require this State to include day-care services as part of its comprehensive state-wide public assistance plan. In doing so, much more will be accomplished than mere compliance with the mandate of federal law. Answering this need will permit many women who are heads of households to receive job training, accept gainful employment, and become productive members of society.

CONSERVING OUR RECREATIONAL ASSETS

New Jersey is fortunate indeed to have a rich endowment of natural resources. Our fresh water lakes, ocean beaches, forests, and mountain trails are unexcelled products of nature's abundance. This Administration and innumerable private groups have spared no effort to conserve those natural resources and to make them available to each and every citizen. Consider, as a prime example, the rapid and careful planning and development of Sandy Hook State Park, now a natural recreation area whose beneficiaries will number in the hundreds of thousands.

There is no reason—in fact or law—why the rich assets of other equally priceless open spaces in this beautiful State cannot be so conserved and enjoyed. Every citizen of this State can take great pride in the achievements in this area by the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Those successes result from the Department's judicious blend of natural resource conservation and public recreation development, through the implementation of the "multi-purpose recreation center" concept. Nowhere in this State is there greater potential for full realization of this concept than in the Skylands of New Jersey, a 100,000-acre inter-region recreation and conservation area in north-central New Jersey. This expansive preserve, extending along the New Jersey-New York boundary of Bergen, Passaic and Sussex Counties, encompasses some of New Jersey's prime public forests and woodlands. The natural playgrounds and watersheds of the Skylands—and other areas like it—are amenable to conservation and recreational pursuits which, under proper land management procedures and other safeguards, will not be deleterious to the important use of this land for water supply.

Innovative approaches such as these, and the anticipated development of Tocks Island, will significantly increase the recreational opportunities available to all of our citizens. Your support of these and similar programs is absolutely essential to the judicious development of our precious natural resources.

EQUALITY UNDER LAW— A MEANINGFUL SHIFT IN EMPHASIS

Although I hardly need catalogue today the legislative milestones along our path to the elimination of discrimination, a quick review is proper cause for reflection:

- . . . amendments to the Law against Discrimination to bar discrimination in the sale or rental of private housing;
- . . . enactment of an optional Rent Control Law granting municipalities the authority to protect their citizens from unscrupulous landlords;
- . . . transfer to the Attorney General of responsibility for enforcing non-discrimination on public works projects;
- . . . re-organization of the Division of Aging as a part of the new Department of Community Affairs;
- . . . extension of the employment provisions of the Law against Discrimination to cover virtually all employers;
- . . . realistic appropriations giving to the Division on Civil Rights the financial resources to accomplish its legal duties.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1966

Our present laws concerning discrimination on account of race, color, religion, national origin, or age manifest joint commitments by numerous Legislatures, myself and the citizens of this State to the concept of equal opportunity for all. I have supported legislation and appropriations throughout the first six years of my Administration to help make this concept a living one. The next two years of my Administration will be no different in this respect.

In keeping with this pledge of a continuing commitment to fulfill equal opportunity, I will transmit to you for your consideration legislation authorizing the Commissioner of Community Affairs and the Chancellor of Higher Education to make and file complaints of unlawful discriminatory practices. Similar authority has already been granted to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and to the Commissioner of Education, in order that they might draw upon information specially available to them by virtue of their offices without waiting for a complaint from a particular aggrieved person. Past Legislatures recognized that only by such legislation could the State discharge its obligation to take affirmative steps to realize equal opportunity. I need hardly tell you of the necessity for assuring nondiscrimination in the many programs administered by the Department of Community Affairs. In a similar vein, our concern for non-discrimination in education should apply as much to graduate and post-graduate education as it does to elementary and secondary education. With your assistance in the very near future, the Commissioner of Community Affairs and the Chancellor of Higher Education will be able to lend a much needed helping hand to the Division on Civil Rights and to the realization of equality under law.

Notwithstanding model legislation and vigorous administrative enforcement, I must point out today, as I did in a similar context two years ago, that ". . . government's responsibility does not end with the enactment of laws." Indeed, the securing of legislation is but the take-off point for government, for legislation can only have impact on the individual citizen through the medium of substantial programs.

Thus, today I recommend an accelerated shift in emphasis from legislative to programmatic attacks on the problems which beset our various racial, ethnic and religious minorities. Quality education, employment opportunity, urban renewal, housing inspection—all of these functional problem areas impinge, in one way or another, on the prospects of minority group citizens for realization of their full potential. It is no small wonder, then, that each of these areas is also the subject of numerous recent legislative measures upon which meaningful programs can be based. I propose today to direct the attention of my Administration, in a more intensified manner than ever before, to the development and execution of programs which will make our model legislation live and breathe. To this end, I will of course be receptive to any further suggestions for legislation that may be forthcoming from the Legislature, in order that every citizen of this State may have the fullest opportunity to share in our well-being.

PEOPLE AND GOVERNMENT

State government in New Jersey continues to operate with a maximum of efficiency at minimum cost. According to the most recent statistics, New Jersey still enjoys the lowest per capita cost of government and the lowest per capita number of State employees of the 50 States. We have been able to maintain this position of leadership in low-cost provision of services while at the same time striving to provide competitive salaries for the hard-working corps of civil servants to whom we owe much of the credit for our economy of operation.

In the past two years, the streamlining of the operation of government has received great attention. With the creation of the Departments of Transportation and Community Affairs, previously widely disbursed activities have been consolidated into single departments, under one roof and one administrative head and with attendant increases in efficiency. In our continuing search for new and better methods of performing the tasks of government, we have been assisted greatly by my own committee and now by the Legislative Commission to Study Efficiency and Economy in State Government, which has undertaken studies of the various departments of State government. Implementation of many recommendations from those studies has already resulted in savings in taxpayers' dollars. I believe it essential that the good work of the Commission continue, and I was pleased to sign into law last year a measure extending its life. Recently, the Commission completed an extensive study of our water resources. Its report contains suggestions—now being studied by this Administration—for the future management of that invaluable asset.

The actions taken and results achieved do not suggest that nothing further remains to be done. Proposals to realize still further economies can be assured of my full attention, for it has always been the position of this Administration that government should spend every dollar necessary to meet the legitimate needs of the people it serves, but not a single cent more.

To Maintain Legislative Integrity

It is my hope that this body, during the present session of the Legislature, will turn its attention to two much-needed measures designed to increase public confidence in the process of government—improvements in the laws concerning conflicts of interest and the disclosure of lobbying activity.

Last year I signed into law a measure requiring that persons serving in the executive or legislative branch of government reveal their proposed business transactions with the State and their proposed representation of individuals before a State agency, thereby subjecting those actions to public scrutiny and evaluation. I recognized then, as I recognize now, that a "disclosure law" is no panacea for the skepticism with which some members of the public view the activities of government. But such a law is a first step toward the establishment of a climate in which the people can be assured that those elected or selected to do the public's business do so with only one goal in mind—the public interest. I now suggest that this Legislature consider the second step—the establishment of a procedure by which complaints against members of the executive or legislative branch can be reviewed and judged by an independent and unbiased agency.

Additionally, the Legislature should direct its attention to the enactment of needed amendments to the Legislative Activities Disclosure Act. As I have stated on several occasions, an adequate lobbyist control act should strike a balance between the right of persons or groups to present their views by engaging the services of another and the right of the public to know who has engaged such representatives. The lobbyist, without doubt, provides information and assistance which may not be generally available to a busy legislator and in many cases makes a valuable contribution to the democratic process. Since the enactment of the present law, however, it has become apparent that its scope and effectiveness too limited. Not all persons who engage in lobbyist activity are currently required to register nor are the required reports as informative and complete as they should be to disclose all pertinent information. I therefore recommend that legislation be adopted to clarify and broaden the scope of the present law, and to establish meaningful penalties for non-compliance.

Public Employee Grievances

A problem of continuing perplexity to government at all levels is the difficulty of developing a workable procedure whereby the legitimate grievances of public employees can be discussed and resolved and unconstitutional work stoppages avoided. While New Jersey has been more fortunate than some of her sister states in avoiding a multiplicity of interruptions in vital services, there have been a sufficient number of actual or threatened work stoppages to occasion great concern among our citizens. There can be no strike against the public interest. But neither can there be a failure on the part of government to provide machinery for respectful dialogue between employees and administrators aimed at the resolution of legitimate grievances.

Eighteen months ago I approved legislation creating the Public and School Employees' Grievance Procedures Study Commission. The Commission was charged with the task of studying existing machinery for the presentation of grievances by public employees and recommending, if necessary, further procedures for the presentation of their grievances. Today you will receive the final report of the Commission, the product of hundreds of hours of careful deliberation of this challenging question. To you will fall the task, through the legislative process, of striking a meaningful accommodation between the rights of public employees to organize and to present their grievances through representatives of their own choosing, as guaranteed by the New Jersey Constitution, and the right of the general public to enjoy the efficient operation of government to which every citizen is entitled. However delicate, this task is not impossible, and, from the total perspective of labor-management relations, may not be as difficult as it would first appear. Recent studies indicate that although approximately 50 per cent of the public employees in this State have joined employee organizations, the work stoppage rate for public employees is less than one-tenth the work stoppage rate in the private sector. On the other hand, these dry statistics are no answer to almost universal demands for more realistic and equitable procedures for the voluntary resolution of public employee disputes.

Studies also indicate that the greatest portion of work stoppages by public employees have occurred in one functional service area—education, at every level. We require no extensive studies to prove that our most precious investment in the future, our children, bear the brunt of, and suffer the most from, such work stoppages. Because of the implications of public employee disputes for the education of our children, not to speak of the dependence of the very life and safety of our citizens on the continuation of other essential services, I would hope that you will approach your task in this area with the highest spirit of bi-partisan co-operation. I pledge myself and my party to that spirit today.

The Judiciary

In the past two years the enlargement of the Superior Court through legislative action has made a significant inroad on the backlog of pending litigation. In addition, uniformity and predictability were brought to courtroom procedure when, after extensive legislative evaluation, the Rules of Evidence promulgated by the Supreme Court were adopted. We must continue our efforts, for the quality of justice administered is the clearest manifestation of the health of a democratic society. I therefore suggest that this Legislature consider the possibility of initiating a constitutional amendment to permit the merger of the County and Superior Courts, bearing in mind that the judges of those two courts already exercise parallel jurisdiction in a number of areas. Such a measure would accord the Supreme Court a greater degree of flexibility in the handling of the ever-growing number of cases brought to court. Consideration should also be given to a comprehensive review of the judicial pension system so that equal treatment is accorded to the judges of all courts.

To Improve Government

Another matter deserving of legislative evaluation as we attempt to maintain government at a high level of efficiency is modernization of the Civil Service Law, long recognized as one of the best in the country, but in need of revision as the business of government becomes more and more complex. A number of provisions of our present Civil Service Law are no longer conducive to the development of the soundest possible personnel practices for our government, and recommendations will be forthcoming for a number of changes in the law.

My party is strongly committed to a constitutional amendment reducing the age requirement for voting from 21 years to 18 years. This commitment, however, is no partisan matter, for with enhanced educational opportunities and great national demands being made upon the energy and physical well-being of our youth, it is only just that they be given a full voice in government. I therefore recommend early adoption of a law which will place this question before the people in the next general election.

Reference to the Public and School Employees' Grievance Procedure Study Commission calls to mind the numerous other committees on which members of the general public have served with distinction during the past year. The continued willingness of persons, including those who are most busy in private pursuits, to devote time and energy to the consideration of difficult public problems represents an enormous contribution for which we all owe a debt of gratitude. This devotion to public service is exemplified by the work now being performed by the members of the Select Commission to Study Civil Disorders, who, under the chairmanship of Mr. Robert Lilley, have been diligently seeking the causes of the tragic occurrences of last summer and means by which such disasters might be avoided in the future. Most recently, a group of eminent New Jersey citizens has agreed to serve as a commission to study the use of the Drumthwacket property purchased last year through the joint action of the State and the Tercentenary Commission headed by Mr. Paul Troast.

It is my hope that the productive partnership between government and public-spirited citizens typified by these commissions, and many others too numerous to mention, will continue to flourish and redound to the benefit of the State of New Jersey.

* * * *

The proposals that I place before you in this Message, as I have suggested, will enhance the vigorous new identity with which we have now invested New Jersey—an identity as a forward-looking State to which, in many spheres, our sister states now look with renewed respect. I welcome in addition your own proposals to advance New Jersey further along the road to greatness and to burnish the sense of pride that our citizens have begun to feel.

For the people have vested in this Legislature precious powers and special responsibilities, and although the majority of your members and I are of different political parties, I believe that our common concern—the general welfare—compels us to work together to meet our inescapable obligations. Indeed I am convinced that we can initiate today an historic joint effort by the Executive and Legislative branches to achieve a new level of excellence for this State—an effort which, with God's help, will vindicate the faith reposed in us by the people of New Jersey.

BUDGET MESSAGE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

The budget which I present to you today serves as a foundation for change. It is a starting point for new decisions and new actions that can and should revise the financing of State government and, thereby, elevate the whole structure of State services to the people of New Jersey.

This budget anticipates changes that finally will permit us to build the physical plant that has been so long needed and too long talked about—the highways and commuter facilities, and colleges and hospitals, the clean water systems, and so many other needs.

This budget is balanced and will require no new or increased taxes. But let us not congratulate ourselves. This is so only because $78 million in long-term capital appropriations is removed from the budget to await the basic determinations that we must make this year.

New Jersey, in the past few years, has developed added momentum in meeting the needs of its citizens. This forward motion, I believe, will support the further changes which I propose today. For example, between fiscal 1966 and 1968 we raised State aid to local schools by 72.5% to an annual level of $323 million; in that period, State support for county colleges rose from $1 million to almost $14 million a year; the annual appropriation for State college and university construction rose from less than $5 million to almost $38 million; State financing of college operations jumped almost 40% to $73 million; our annual capital expenditure for institutions more than tripled to $21.4 million; State welfare costs showed a rise of 30% to almost $68 million a year; we were able to raise highway construction spending by more than 16% to an annual level of $64.5 million; and our appropriations for New Jersey's pressing urban problems almost quadrupled to a still modest level of $5.9 million.

Even with this action, it is clear that further change is necessary. We cannot, within the framework of annual revenues, build the capital facilities needed now to serve the population of this fastest growing State in the East. Yet, we know that we cannot do all that we would like to do in one year; but we can accomplish our goals, if they remain reasonable, over a period of the next few years. This will require a solid, business-like judgment as to our overall capital needs and a system of priorities for realization of those needs.

To help make that judgment and establish that system, I have appointed the distinguished Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey. Above and beyond the responsible estimates of projected capital expenditures that are now available to us, I consider it imperative that the people of New Jersey receive the benefit of the impartial judgment of a distinguished body of this kind. For we must determine now, once and for all, whether New Jersey does in fact have real capital needs, and if it does, what the priorities and methods of fulfillment should be. I have asked the Commission to submit its determination of the magnitude and priorities of our capital needs within 60 to 75 days because of the great relevance of this determination to necessary legislative and executive action in this very session.

The independent audit of our mounting demands that the Commission will perform—like the objective presentment of a grand jury—will provide for all our citizens a reliable and practical guide to the genuine capital needs of this State. I wish to emphasize in the strongest terms the absolute independence of this distinguished Commission as it undertakes its vital mission for New Jersey. We must await the Commission's objective findings before taking any long-range action on questions of capital construction. I should like to register my personal opinion at this time, however, that to meet New Jersey's legitimate capital needs will require long-term financing—above and beyond annual revenues—and that this financing will entail exercise of the State's triple A credit rating with bond issues.

Such long-term financing is not new in New Jersey, although it has been employed only to a limited degree. Bond issues are a staple of governmental financing throughout this nation. In the private sector, borrowing is a basic instrument of business growth.

Thus, instead of constricting our capital construction within the bounds of annual revenues and being forced to disregard manifest needs, we would be providing facilities as they are needed and paying for them as they are used.

No Panacea

This is no panacea. Borrowing requires the payment of interest; this raises the total cost of the project. Nevertheless, it is well established that the cost of borrowing is offset by the savings that result from early construction in the face of rising costs. Furthermore, the people of New Jersey have the early use of these facilities; who can set a value of a highway next year instead of five years hence? A college laboratory in 1969 instead of 1974?

The size and extent of the bond issues and, indeed, the very number of questions that should be submitted to the people, should await the report of the Capital Needs Commission and your deliberations that certainly will follow.

The $78 million which is removed from the budget consists of items for which funds may be deferred until later in fiscal 1969. This does not mean that these are non-essential expenditures. Many of them represent existing commitments upon which major local projects are predicated. For instance, there is the county college construction program; or the county and municipal road construction programs; or the State program of grants and loans for local sewerage projects.

Nevertheless, this capital spending could be encompassed by the anticipated bond issues.

Not only is legislative and executive agreement essential to the success of this new course of action, but so is the support of the voters to whom the bond issues would be submitted in November. Without enthusiastic bi-partisan support for this capital financing program, we can anticipate little success at the polls. To that fact I can offer personal testimony.

And what are the alternatives? If we do not agree on this course, we immediately—in this session—must make provision to restore the $78 million by a supplemental appropriation. With an anticipated surplus just one-half of 1% of the total budget, this appropriation can be financed only by new or increased taxes, and possibly both. This would leave us little farther along in meeting our capital needs than we have been. It would add to already strong tax pressures and perhaps jeopardize other existing and contemplated programs.

All of us know that the State government will continue to face difficult decisions. There are legitimate demands for further State aid to our hard-pressed municipalities and counties; steadily rising welfare costs, and related to this, the requirements of a Medicaid program. Estimates of the cost of a conservative Medicaid program—with eligibility limits a full third lower than those existing in New York, for instance—are for more than $100 million a year in State funds.

Some Alternatives

In confronting these additional demands we should look in future years in a number of possible directions—to the Federal government for a more realistic sharing in the costs of the Federally-mandated welfare programs and perhaps, at some later date, for implementation of a plan to share a portion of Federal revenues with the states under carefully defined conditions; to full utilization of the financing of self-liquidating capital facilities through revenue bonds; and, of course, to our own fiscal structure. In this last respect the Legislature should give consideration to raising additional revenues in various ways, including a lottery. Yet it would be the worst of poor judgment to believe that a lottery could do anything more than scratch the surface of our genuine requirements for funds.

Meanwhile, we have an underlying duty to the people of New Jersey to exercise the highest degree of prudence in spending while providing the services that this vital State requires.

In drawing up this budget, I received carefully documented departmental requests totaling some $1.5 billion. By a thoroughgoing review, I reduced these requests by more than $344 million, not including the deferred $78 million. Your Joint Appropriations Committee is about to undertake its detailed analysis of the budget. I know that economy will be the Committee's watchword. I think that we share a determination, however, that our economies will not eliminate services that are essential to our continuation as a progressive State.

All of us, I think, are convinced that we must continue to elevate our educational services; that the State must join in again making our cities good places in which to live and work; our highways economic assets instead of obstacle courses; our air clean and our waters pure.

In short, let us not make this a State for which we must develop bi-partisan apologies. Let us continue to build a New Jersey where we, as Republicans and Democrats, compete for credit for the attainments of the public policy, rather than avoid blame for public disaster.

INCOME AND OUTGO

After providing for supplemental appropriations already passed by the Legislature as of January 31, and those which are recommended in the budget, the State should close the current fiscal year with unappropriated funds on July 1, 1968 of $51 million. These funds, together with revenues of $1,018,476,000 anticipated in 1968-69 will produce total resources for next year of $1,069,543,000.

My budget recommendations of $1,064,156,000 will leave a razor-thin surplus of $5.4 million on June 30, 1969. Accepted budget practice generally dictates a surplus of at least 2% to 3% of the total budget instead of the present .5%. Therefore, extraordinary restraint is imposed on all branches of government in proposing additional spending.

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

Resources

Estimated in Unappropriated Balances, July 1, 1968 (after providing for supplemental requirements)	$51,067,593
*Revenues Anticipated for 1968-69	1,018,475,677
Total Expected Resources	$1,069,543,270

Recommendations

General State Operations	$467,542,730
State Aid	510,738,963
Capital Construction	85,873,830
Total Recommendations	$1,064,155,523
Unappropriated Balance, June 30, 1969 (estimated)	$5,387,747

*Includes $2 million anticipated from 12 additional racing days recommended for flat tracks.

Not including recommendations of $78 million to be deferred pending decision on long-term capital financing.

The spending recommendation of $1,064,156,000 is approximately $59 million more than the adjusted appropriations for the current fiscal year. Should the $78 million deferred for bond issue financing be included, our budget in 1968-69 would amount to $1,142,117,000 or $137 million more than the current budget.

THE DEFERRED PROPOSALS

The important variable in this budget, of course, is the series of capital improvement items which either should be financed through a comprehensive program of bond issues or through new or increased taxes. Even with these items removed from the appropriation proposals, substantial capital expenditures still remain. The items which I recommend be deferred can be provided for later in this fiscal year without injury to vital State capital programs, either now under way or projected. Should provision for them not be made, however, irreparable injury could be rendered in critical areas of public service. There follows a chart outlining the relationships between the deferred items, total spending recommended in these areas and the departmental request for funds for these purposes. You will note that in a number of key areas there are recommended specific expenditures in addition to the deferrals.

The provision for railroad car purchase emphasizes the need for action, one way or another, later this year. The $8.6 million recommended will permit the purchase of 75 commuter cars. This represents the most important step-up in the State's long-term program of improving commuter facilities, a program on which $6.5 million in State money has already been spent. Most significant, is the fact that our failure to provide the $8.6 million could cause us to lose a like sum in Federal funds when it becomes available.

Also vital to the State's continuing program of upgrading commuter service—an economic necessity in a State such as ours—are improvements in the functional capability of our railroads. We provide in the deferral package $300,000 for basic planning studies for three such projects. One is preliminary engineering work on a track connection east of Newark between the Erie Lackawanna and Pennsylvania Railroads. This will permit through-train operation between such points as Dover, Morristown and Gladstone and Midtown Manhattan by making better use of some remaining capacity in the under-utilized Pennsylvania Tunnel. Another project provides for similar work on a link in Montclair between the Montclair Branch and Greenwood Lake Division of the Erie Lackawanna Railroad; this would permit new rail access to Newark from communities in Passaic and Morris counties. The third project provides additional funds for basic station improvements along the commuter lines, work that is essential if the railroads are to be made attractive to riders and relieve the need for still more highways.

For many years, the State has been providing $2 million annually for railroad grade crossing elimination. We propose to maintain this responsibility but to defer the payment until the second half of the fiscal year.

One of the mounting obligations on government in this most urbanized State in the nation is the almost life and death necessity to prevent further pollution of our streams and water supplies and to remove existing contamination. This can only be accomplished by massive expenditures on sewerage systems throughout the State. Such expenditures must await a long-term bond issue. Nevertheless, this budget proposes that we maintain our program of grants and loans at approximately the 1968 level. Of the total, however, $4 million would be deferred until later in the year. The $250,000 direct appropriation I recommend would enable us to move ahead in the first half of the year with a number of important regional engineering surveys.

Immediate and Deferred Action

Our county colleges—in which so many young people are finding new opportunity and in which all of us take great pride—are becoming an ever-more-important—and expensive—factor in our educational system. The statutory formula under which the State finances half the capital cost of the colleges calls for $18 million in the forthcoming year for colleges in 13 counties. This appropriately could be provided for as part of a wider ranging higher educational bond issue and, thus, is being deferred for that decision. Another major factor in that bond issue must be capital construction at the State-supported institutions of higher education. So critical is this need, however, that I am providing for direct appropriation of $20.4 million to permit construction under plans already drawn, and I am deferring action on only $5 million.

Last year, the State took an important step forward in highway construction with additional State aid. We raised the level of State assistance to counties and municipalities for road construction by $15 million annually and mandated that these funds be efficiently used to develop a comprehensive secondary road system. This capital expenditure also could be served by a transportation bond issue covering roads in a number of categories. No road can serve the public without adequate provision for maintenance; capital expenditures on maintenance facilities, therefore, are an essential component of the long-term transportation program. I recommend an appropriation of slightly more than a half million dollars to continue capital improvements already under way on several maintenance facilities and I am deferring $1.5 million until late in the year. The basic item in any highway program is, of course, capital funds for new roads. By direct appropriation, this budget provides sufficient funds to match Federal funds as they are apportioned to New Jersey. Also in the appropriation is another $2 million to maintain ongoing safety construction work on the highways. Deferred is $22.5 million. This money is needed for vital projects in which Federal participation is not available. It is in this area that we can make giant strides in improving our system of transportation and, thus, long-term action is essential.

No area of State need has given me more concern than the backlog of documented requests for institutions. Only with long-term bond issues can we reduce this catalog of human need. Nevertheless, I have made modest provision of just over $2 million for major repair and rehabilitation projects. The schedule of construction permits us to directly appropriate half this sum and defer the other half.

This, then, is the measure of our capital proposals for next year. These decisions have been among the most difficult that I have been called upon to make. I have no doubt that you will weigh carefully the recommended order of priorities, with the further responsibility of dovetailing them with farther ranging recommendations to be made by the Capital Needs Commission.

EDUCATION—RESPONSIBILITY AND OPPORTUNITY

Education, the most important single function of the State government, makes corresponding demands on State expenditures. For a multitude of responsibilities and opportunities, ranging from the training of skilled medical practitioners to supporting a special class for brain-damaged five-year-olds, I recommend appropriations of $502.8 million for our Departments of Education and Higher Education. This is an increase of $36.3 million over 1968 appropriations.

For current operating expenses of the Department of Education, I have recommended $6.65 million, an increase of $800,000 over 1968. State aid to local school districts—under statutory formulas—will increase by $33.2 million, to a total of $358.1 million. Of this total, $105.7 million meets our obligations under the pension and insurance programs for teachers in local schools and State colleges.

The major increases in grants to local districts are: formula aid, $1.5 million; transportation aid, $9.7 million; handicapped pupils, $5.8 million; school building aid, $500,000; vocational education, $1 million; the new school security program, $1 million; teachers' pensions and related benefits, $11.7 million; and library aid, $1 million.

An increase of $500,000 for the Office of the Commissioner includes $300,000 for the start of a promising new program, establishment and operation of at least one regional research and demonstration center. This will develop a resource to provide school administrators—when they seek it—advice, evaluation and demonstration of new pedagogical and technological approaches so sorely needed in many areas.

One of the sternest challenges facing all who have a responsibility for education in New Jersey is the equalization of educational opportunity. All of our State aid programs are designed to better assist those districts less able to meet the needs of their children. Nevertheless, these needs have been mounting more rapidly than our assistance.

The State Board of Education, to its credit, has taken affirmative recognition of this problem and has proposed a program of emergency school building aid for districts with the greatest need for additional classrooms and the lowest ability to pay for them. The State Board recommends a program under which State funds would be used to service local bond issues totaling $60 million and issued over a three-year period. This would build modern schools for almost 31,000 elementary students or more than 13,000 secondary pupils. Most likely, the funds would be used for both elementary and secondary schools.

The program requires new legislation and, in the context of our total budget, a modest annual commitment of funds, $1 million in fiscal 1969. This worthwhile legislation has my wholehearted support and I commend it—including the necessary appropriation—to your earnest attention and action.

Let me caution that this is an emergency program. It will not relieve the State or the school districts of their obligations to meet capital construction needs most recently estimated by the State Board at more than three-quarters of a billion dollars.

A New System

Not too long ago, higher education was a responsibility felt mostly by other states. This is no longer true in New Jersey; we now have a system of higher education; we have a long way to move in this area, but we are moving. This budget recommends $138.1 million for higher education. Of the total, $101.7 million underwrites current operations; $9 million is for State aid to county college operations and $27.4 million for capital construction at the State-supported facilities. Also, there are the deferred expenditures of $23 million.

Of the $101.7 million in current operating expenses, $90.6 million is for our nine State institutions of higher education. This is an increase of $14.3 million over the 1968 appropriations for these same institutions.

The recommended appropriation includes $8.7 million for the operation and continued development of the New Jersey

College of Medicine and Dentistry and the Rutgers Medical School. In addition, I have recommended appropriations totaling $11.7 million for the capital development of these two institutions. All but $1 million is for the ongoing development program at the College of Medicine and Dentistry. Rutgers' major expansion to a four-year school will follow. With this budget, we will have appropriated over a three-year period a total of $22.7 million for construction of medical and dental school facilities.

For the 1968 academic year, the nine higher education institutions were budgeted for an enrollment of 37,656 full-time and 88,495 part-time students.

Actual enrollments in the Fall of 1968 exceeded these budget estimates substantially. There were 1,863 more full-time students and 4,200 more part-time students than anticipated.

In the 1969 academic year, the nine institutions expect a total enrollment of 41,776 full-time students. This is an increase of 2,257 over the actual enrollment in the Fall of 1967. The number of part-time students shows an effective increase of about 6,600.

Special mention should be made of the plan already under way to provide several pre-engineered classroom buildings for installation at Trenton State College next Summer, permitting an additional enrollment in 1969 of 700 full-time students.

Higher enrollments mean more teachers; and we are budgeting for 371 additional teachers. Also included are 447 new non-teaching positions, both academic and non-academic. These employees will carry out necessary administrative, instructional research, and support functions.

Of particular importance is a group of 60 new positions for the six State colleges. These will provide each college with five new top level administrative positions to help effectuate the schools' transition from teachers' colleges to multi-purpose institutions. The other positions will be the necessary clerical support. Also, I have included in the budget for the Chancellor's Office $750,000 for transfer to the six State colleges in such amounts as the Board of Higher Education shall determine to facilitate the transition.

In my Annual Message last month, I referred to several summer demonstration programs in special areas of critical teacher shortages. Included in the recommended appropriation for the Chancellor's Office are funds to carry out such programs, including an Urban Education Corps Institute and a special program for bi-lingual teachers, fluent in both Spanish and English.

I also recommend a modest appropriation of $75,000 for the Chancellor's Office on behalf of the Commission on Public Broadcasting which I appointed last October. Private funds have enabled the Commission to organize and begin work which holds so much promise for education at all levels.

Effective Aid

This budget continues our State Scholarship and our Student Loan Guarantee programs, which have proved so effective in the past eight years. The funds recommended will provide for 14,738 State competitive scholarships in a program that means opportunity for steadily rising numbers of young people. In addition, more than 2,000 incentive scholarship grants will be made in 1969.

The Student Loan Guarantee program has proved eminently successful as an aid to New Jersey students in financing their college training. By the end of 1968, New Jersey will have guaranteed a total of nearly 50,000 loans with a total face value of nearly $50 million. Furthermore, under the Federally Insured Loan Program, administered by our Higher Education Assistance Authority, some 7,000 loans with a total face value of $7 million will be guaranteed by the end of this fiscal year.

On June 30, 1968, the assets of the Higher Education Assistance Fund will total more than $6 million, which is pledged as a guarantee of repayment for the outstanding loans referred to above.

Based on experience during the first eight years of the operation of this program, it seems evident that the earnings on the invested portion of this fund will be sufficient to purchase from the lending institutions any notes which are defaulted, and it should not be necessary to continue the build-up of capital in this fund by large annual appropriations. However, to preserve the fund at the present safe level, I am recommending legislation which would provide for an annual appropriation to the extent that the fund's earnings are insufficient to cover the cost of purchasing defaulted notes in a particular year. This should maintain the integrity of the fund and provide for continuation of the loan program at its current rate of growth.

What a deep satisfaction we can share over the success of this self-help program for young people willing and able to invest in their own future!

Let me also register my firm judgment that if we are in fact to achieve, after so many years of delay, a first-rate system of higher education, we must be prepared to make a major commitment to the great capital requirements that such a system will demand. The Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey will itself make a clear determination of the genuine capital requirements of our higher education system over the next decade, and we must stand ready, once this determination is available, to take appropriate executive and legislative action. For in no other way will we be able to fulfill our responsibilities in this vital field to the people of New Jersey.

SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITIES

The past year has served to highlight the critical nature of the problems facing the communities of this State. On the one hand, the physical structure of many of our cities and towns is reaching the stage of decay and obsolescence. On the other hand, New Jersey is the fastest growing state in the East, with thousands of additional individuals and families taking up residence here each month. Virtually no community is exempt from one or the other of these problems, and many of our communities are faced with both.

The result of these twin pressures is that local needs are growing faster than local revenues. Since local property tax rates cannot absorb these constantly increasing demands, the communities must increasingly look to the State and the Federal Government for assistance and the State must be willing to accept this larger role.

278 MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

A year ago the Legislature recognized the critical nature of the problems facing the communities of New Jersey through the passage of several important pieces of legislation in the fields of housing and urban renewal. However, funds were provided only to implement one of them. It is important that these new programs begin without further delay.

To this end, the budget I am proposing for the Department of Community Affairs is designed to provide increased State assistance to communities in a number of especially critical areas and to maximize the Federal funds available to them. A total appropriation of $13.1 million is recommended, an increase of $7.3 million from the current fiscal year. More than 97% of this increase, or a total of $7.1 million, represents increased State aid to New Jersey communities.

Urban Renewal

The Federal Urban Renewal program's potential for revitalizing the decaying portions of our older cities is well known. However, many communities are unable to take full advantage of this Federal assistance because of their inability to meet the one-third local share requirements. The State Aid for Urban Renewal Projects Law of 1967 provides for State assistance to meet up to 50% of the local share on tax-producing urban renewal projects and up to 100% of the local share on educational, housing or other public projects. To initiate this State assistance, I am requesting $1.5 million. With these funds it should be possible to provide State support for all local expenditures required in fiscal year 1969 on new urban renewal projects which meet State criteria. Since the communities also need assurance that State assistance will be forthcoming in the later development of these projects, I also am requesting authority to make commitments against future year appropriations for amounts up to the legally authorized State share.

Code Enforcement

One of the important pieces of legislation enacted last year was the first major revision in 60 years of the Tenement Housing Law. A new hotel and multiple dwelling code will be promulgated shortly and effective enforcement of this code is a high priority activity in fiscal year 1969. An appropriation of $750,000 is requested for this purpose. Rather than greatly expand the State housing inspection staff to achieve this end, we expect to use local enforcement personnel where such staffs exist and community co-operation is available. This appropriation will be available to aid the municipalities in the expansion of their housing inspection staffs to accomplish this goal. It also will permit communities to match Federal code enforcement grants, which last year totaled over $4 million in New Jersey.

Relocation Assistance

While the construction of new public facilities is important to a community, such progress imposes a special hardship on those persons, and businesses displaced in the process. Federal funds are available to finance relocation resulting from urban renewal, highway and other Federally-aided projects. Under the Relocation Assistance Law of 1967, the State has now accepted the responsibility for providing similar assistance where relocation is required as a result of action by State or local government. I am requesting an appropriation of $2.25 million to begin this assistance program. These funds will finance the expenses of moving families and businesses into new and adequate quarters. Where adequate housing is not available at a price which relocatees can afford, these funds will also finance the difference between the rental which the family can be expected to pay and the fair market rental of the building in which they will reside.

Housing Demonstration and Revolving Fund

In the current year, approximately $1 million of the funds available to the Department are being utilized to accelerate the planning and development of housing projects for moderate and low-income families throughout the State and to demonstrate the feasibility of new and more efficient methods of housing construction. More than $40 million in mortgage funds, mostly from private sources, will be committed as a result of these projects. This will finance the construction or rehabilitation of more than 2,000 dwelling units. I am recommending an appropriation of $1.25 million for the continuation of these efforts. Together with anticipated repayments of $250,000, this will make $1.5 million available for these important purposes in fiscal year 1969.

Basic Education

In co-operation with the Department of Education, the Department of Community Affairs is operating an experimental basic education program designed to utilize non-professional instructors to provide literacy instruction to more than 3,000 participants in community-based manpower training programs. An appropriation of $900,000 is required to complete this experimental effort under joint auspices after which the program will be transferred to the Department of Education.

For Effective Government

Not only do our communities need financial assistance, but they also have a shortage of qualified and trained personnel to better serve their taxpayers. This is particularly true of our smaller communities. To meet this need, I am requesting $800,000 to:

- Expand the highly successful Interns in Community Service Program.
- Inaugurate a personnel assistance program under which the State will pay a portion of the cost of needed specialized personnel in the smaller communities to work on the co-ordination of existing resources and the improvement of municipal services. The State share will be 50% in the first year and will decline by 10% each year until the community is supporting the full cost after five years.
- Support a “Personnel Interchange Program” under which capable officials from one community can be loaned temporarily to another community which is in need of assistance.
- Match funds for Federal grants to provide training and technical assistance to municipal officials.

Community Development

Since the areas of major need vary greatly from one community to another, I am also recommending $1.25 million to support a variety of community development efforts. For our smaller communities, I am proposing a program of community development grants for construction or rehabilitation of neighborhood or community facilities and for other community development efforts. In many cases the community will be able to use the State funds to match Federal community facilities grants and thus triple the amount of funds available. Not all communities, however, are eligible for such Federal assistance.

Assistance will also be continued for communities seeking to participate in the Federal Model Cities Program. With such assistance last year, nine New Jersey communities were able to submit formal applications, three of which were approved, thereby setting in motion programs which will bring more than $50 million in Federal funds into New Jersey during the next five years. State funds will be used to help additional cities apply for Federal grants and to support local efforts to meet some of the critical organization and service gaps identified in the local planning process.

This appropriation also will be used to develop a major new program—with Federal matching—of day care services to enable welfare recipients and other mothers with young children to return to work and thus to support their families.

Alleviating Poverty

A total of $1.65 million is included to continue the important attack on the roots of poverty. Included are programs of State assistance to community action agencies, a new youth employment effort, and public service career development at the State level (in co-operation with the Department of Civil Service). All of these funds are used to match Federal grants, thus more than tripling the total amount available.

Of all the proposals in this budget, these connected with the well-being, even the survival, of our communities, have undeniable urgency. Given sufficient resources, prudence would have indicated much greater support for the programs described. As it is, these minimal, certainly conservative, recommendations should be considered with the gravest respect. No responsible man would intentionally destroy the communities upon which our society exists. And a denial of funds to halt decay, would be as shortsighted and reprehensible as a deliberate and affirmative move to destroy the places in which we live—our communities.

TRANSPORTATION—VITAL NEEDS

In no other area do the decisions that we will make later this year take on the importance that they do in the Department of Transportation. We are deferring action on a massive, $48 million portion of the funds that are essential to the work of that Department. For us to fail to restore the deferred funds—either by bond issue or by appropriation—would be to cripple the work of this Department in meeting the State's highway and commuter railroad needs. This would mean disaster for New Jersey.

I am proposing direct appropriations of $101.7 million for the Department of Transportation. As noted in an earlier section of this Message, by appropriating $28.1 million, we will be able to qualify for all available Federal funds. Such Federal assistance will total $117 million and will permit us to move ahead with out interstate, primary and urban highway construction program.

Increases of $2.3 million are recommended to enable the Department to continue programs of highway maintenance, traffic regulation and safety. This increase brings the cost of maintaining the 6,356 lane miles in the State highway system to $26.3 million. This level of expenditure will enable us to continue New Jersey's high standard of safety for both summer and winter travel on the State highways. Improved techniques of maintenance and increased productivity of the field forces will permit the Department to achieve these high standards with little increase in field personnel relative to the growth of the system. Modern equipment, cost effectiveness studies, better work conditions and superior road design all contribute to this achievement.

This budget includes $250,000 as New Jersey's cash share under the National Highway Safety Program. Safety programs already under way will serve as "in-kind" matching of more than $710,000. Thus, we will receive a like sum—$960,000—in Federal support for our highway safety activities.

While the $15 million State share under our State aid road acts is among the deferred proposals, this budget does provide $17.1 million for basic State aid for county and municipal roads. These funds constitute direct State contributions to county and municipal road departments for operations and maintenance as well as construction.

For the Division of Public Transportation, and particularly for its services to the more than 60,000 daily riders on New Jersey railroads, I am recommending $11.2 million. The operation section of this appropriation, $500,000, not only will cover administration of the Division but several special studies. One is designed to assure that subsidies for the railroads are indeed applied to the passenger services for which we are contracting. Another will study new approaches in attracting riders to the railroads and, thereby, hopefully reducing the need for public subsidy. The subsidies themselves will require $10.1 million.

Also included in this budget is $600,000 as the second and last installment of a $1.3 million State appropriation for long-needed modernization of station and track facilities of the Penn Central Railroad in Trenton. Hopefully, this project on which construction is soon to begin will act as a catalyst for impressive new developments which focus on the railroad terminal.

INSTITUTIONS—NEW VISTAS

This year, at an accelerated rate, we are beginning to realize the fruits of past efforts in meeting the human needs served by our institutions. I am pleased to report that we expect to open three major institutions, the Hunterdon State School, the Training School for Boys at Skillman and Leesburg State Prison. Also, in fiscal 1969, the nursing facility at the Vineland Soldiers' Home, the Readjustment Unit at the Johnstone Training and Research Center and the Yardville Youth Reception and Correction Center will reach full operating capacity.

More than one-third of the $8.8 million increase in operating the Department is requested for the opening of new institutions. The cost of our new salary revision program for nursing and related positions in the institutions is $1 million.

I want to make special mention of a recommendation of $200,000 to establish a Nursing Scholarship Program to encourage nursing aides in the State hospitals and institutions for the mentally retarded to enter the professional nursing field. This program has a double benefit; it helps meet the critical nursing shortage and fosters the upward mobility of capable employees now working at levels below their potential.

Mental Health

This budget reflects a consolidation and improvement of our mental health programs to include further development and enhancement of the sectionalization of the services and further development of special children's programs in the mental hospitals.

I am recommending $132,367 for expansion of the Drug Addiction Unit at the Neuropsychiatric Institute to accommodate 74 addicts. Presently, there are facilities for 42. Also included is $100,000 to aid the work of a number of local narcotic control and treatment agencies. Funds also are provided for the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals to better carry out its responsibilities for co-ordination of drug addiction services and to continue to provide 75% of the personnel costs of county addiction clinics in Morris, Union and Middlesex Counties.

I am pleased to report that our improved treatment facilities and procedures continue to produce a decline in the mental hospital in-patient population. The average daily population in fiscal 1956 was 15,380; in fiscal 1967, it was 11,697. I am confident that this trend will continue. These new techniques contribute to increased admissions and readmissions. This is considered a beneficial trend. Combined admissions in fiscal 1965 were 8,554; two years later they were 10,594. In this same period, the number of patients in the community Family Care Program increased from 399 to 713.

Mental Retardation

A greater acceptance of the mentally retarded in our society, local schools, and in industry is producing welcome changes in our programs for treatment, training, and education in this area. Our efforts now are directed toward retaining the mentally retarded in the family and community setting. This permits the handicapped to lead a more normal life while decreasing the need for expensive institutional care.

In keeping with these developments, I recommend an increase of $271,487 to raise our support for mentally retarded living in family situations and using the newly opened day care centers. An additional $300,000 represents an expansion of the Purchase of Residential Care Program. Some of this increase will pay for transportation of children to the day care centers and permit the centers to remain open 12 rather than 10 months per year. Another 600 cases will continue to be accommodated in private institutions through the Purchase of Care Program. This is almost double the number so served in fiscal 1967.

The retarded who cannot be retained in a family or community setting must receive care in either public or private institutions. The opening of the Hunterdon State School next year will help relieve the backlog of cases awaiting institutional care.

Correction

The opening of the Yardville Center and a work camp in the Wharton Tract has helped reduce overcrowding in correctional institutions. We also have introduced a community residence program, another rehabilitative effort. I am recommending $53,000 to expand this promising program.

In order to provide better supervision through more realistic case loads, I am recommending 22 new parole officer positions at a cost of $95,000.

The long history of the overcrowding at the State Home for Boys in Jamesburg will be relieved by the opening of the Training School for Boys at Skillman next December. I have included $881,000 for this institution which will serve 200 boys under the age of 14. This long-needed facility has been designed to give closer supervision and training needed for boys with serious behavior problems at an early age.

The opening of additional prison facilities at Leesburg next spring will relieve overcrowding in the adult prison complex. The new institution will provide for 336 additional inmates. I recommend $1.2 million to cover both operation of the existing prison camps and three months operation for the new facilities.

Welfare

Despite general prosperity, welfare costs continue to increase at a distressing rate. The recent action by the Federal Government to restrict payments was perhaps an answer from that Federal point of view. But to the states, these restraints will require larger outlays to assist the needy no longer eligible under Federal programs.

Assistance for Dependent Children continues to make escalating demands, with the rolls increasing at a rate of 2,000 per month. As a result, we estimate that there will be 176,000 eligible persons in fiscal 1969 compared with 152,000 this year. Furthermore, rising costs will raise the monthly payment from $60 to $64.

This will require State spending of $42 million as our 32.42% share, a startling boost of $10 million over the fiscal 1968 appropriation. Furthermore, a sharp increase is required in State aid to municipal welfare programs—a rise of $3,227,000 to a level of $10,268,000. Medical assistance to the aged requires another costly rise of $3 million to a level of $13 million.

Let me observe here, as I pointed out in my Legislative Message, that the willingness of our citizens to help those among them who are needy, infirm, and disadvantaged is the strength of a democratic society. But we must continually examine our public assistance programs to make certain that they do not breed cycles of dependency or discourage personal incentives. Moreover, we must identify promising programs to reduce the public assistance burden, such as the work and training programs now supported by Federal funds in seven areas of the State, and replicate them wherever possible.

County mental hospitals receive State aid for one-half of the actual per capita cost of maintenance of indigent patients. This requires $9,030,000, an increase of about $0.5 million.

Community mental health services which hopefully will limit the increase of institutional patients, will require a $700,000 budget boost to $1.85 million.

The Bureau of Children's Services is attempting wherever possible to keep children in their own homes. Nevertheless, more children must be placed in foster homes each year and we must compete with neighboring states for these homes. Therefore, I recommend a modest increase in the monthly allowance for foster home care, a somewhat higher rate for a limited number of children whose condition or temperament requires greater care, and a 5% increase in the rate for private institutional care. These functions, plus the maintenance of the Bureau's day care centers, will cost an additional $1,613,089.

The increase of $1.3 million recommended in the operating budget of the Division of Public Welfare is reflected primarily in the cost of providing for the increased case load in the Bureau of Children's Services. An average of 15,327 children were under supervision during fiscal year 1967, and we are forecasting an average of 19,591 under supervision during fiscal 1969.

I recommend the addition of 25 new positions to the Central Office staff of the Division to provide more effective administration of welfare activities, to assist in training personnel to handle the case loads and to help evaluate assistance. Another $150,000 is recommended for advance planning for Medicaid. If we are to continue to receive Federal assistance in this area, our participation in Medicaid will be mandatory by January 1, 1970.

I recommend an increase of $250,000 in the budget for the Commission for the Blind to further develop its productive workshop and home industry facilities.

HEALTH—PIONEERING PROGRAMS

We are beginning to meet with success in our pioneering programs to clean up our air and water. Private business, municipalities and individuals are taking positive action to control pollutants; but much remains to be done in this densely populated and highly industrialized State.

Our comprehensive program to control air pollution will cost $2.2 million, but Federal aid will meet $1.2 million of the total. This includes $1,127,000 for enforcement activities; $658,000 for air monitoring; and smaller sums for research, development, education, information and control of emission from motor vehicles.

Accordingly, I am recommending $1,011,880 for the Air Sanitation Program. To the extent that Federal aid materializes, the program can be undertaken in relation to such grants as may be allocated to the State.

In the area of water pollution control, I recommend $200,000 for a network of automatic water quality monitoring stations for the major river systems in the State. This will provide immediate information concerning unexpected or illegal discharges. This extension of monitoring is required by the Federal Clean Water Act.

Sewerage construction is synonymous with clean water. Although the amount of the Federal grants available in fiscal 1969 for sewerage construction is not yet known, I am recommending modest amounts of $100,000 for feasibility studies and $150,000 for loans for engineering plans. Our deferred capital proposals provide $4 million for construction. The provision for feasibility and engineering work anticipates the availability of the construction money.

Other Health Services

Recent Federal law requires that hospitals be paid reasonable costs for in-patient hospitalization provided by the New Jersey Crippled Children's Program. This has increased our costs greatly. For example, hospitalization costs have already increased from $20 per day to $53.82 per day; convalescent care, from $10 to $22.59 per day.

As a result, I recommend a $400,000 supplement to the $498,722 budgeted for the current year and a $1,299,250 appropriation for fiscal 1969.

This year, we intend to embark on a broad program of rat eradication and insect control in our urban slums. For a minimal State expenditure of $77,525, we will be able to attain $2.5 million in Federal funds. Local governments will supply "in-kind" services. An important factor in this program will be education of slum residents in eliminating the conditions which permit rats and insects to breed. Hopefully, the success of this program will require decreased State and Federal funds in the future.

LAW AND PUBLIC SAFETY—SOCIETY'S SAFEGUARDS

The Department of Law and Public Safety's wide-ranging programs against crime, civil disorder, consumer fraud, discrimination, vehicle hazards, driver irresponsibility, and other offenses against society will require an increase of $5.3 million above the current appropriation of $35.1 million. I recommend $200,000 for the important operations of the New Jersey Council Against Crime. In a related area, $55,000 is included for urgently needed studies of a computerized information system and for improving State-local police communications.

The increase of $2.5 million recommended for the Division of State Police includes 60 additional troopers and 24 service personnel at a cost of $547,832. This budget also provides $150,000 for trooper salary adjustments, and $403,568 for increased trooper maintenance allowances. Provision of $75,636 is also made to equip and operate the newly installed West Trenton terminal of the FBI's National Crime Information Center. The new facility will provide law enforcement agencies throughout the State with almost instant access to a national computerized police information file. This budget also provides for continuing the operation of the Riot Training School for local police.

Federal support will end this year for State financing of the mobile classroom units which have been providing local police training in the smaller jurisdictions. To bridge the gap, I recommend $79,511.

For the new Division of State Medical Examination, I recommend $200,000.

In the Division of Motor Vehicles, the recommended increase of $2.1 million over the current level of $16.5 million includes:

- $291,296 for staffing new vehicle inspection stations scheduled to open in Dover and East Newark, and for divisional management and administrative operations.
- $397,101 for a special salary adjustment for motor vehicle examiners.
- $536,430 for the second-year cost of conversion to a computerized driver-vehicle record system.
- $173,000 for a pilot project to inspect vehicles for air pollution.
- $1,100,000 for the construction of an inspection station in the Newark area to substitute for the Hartford Street station which must give way to urban renewal in that section of Newark.

CONTINUING THE BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT

The programs of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development which mean so much to the quality and productivity of New Jersey life, require $15 million.

It includes $2 million for capital construction in the State parks. This amount will qualify the State for an additional $2 million in Federal funds. Significant planning and design work has been accomplished for these facilities and we are ready for immediate bidding. Thus, the public use of our State parks can be expected to increase greatly in the next several years. Most of the construction will take place on Green Acres property and in connection with the multi-use facilities of the Spruce Run and Round Valley Reservoirs.

The operations and maintenance of State forests and parks will require another $2.2 million.

Other items in this budget include modest provision for a marine geological research program; new equipment to measure water quantity and, thus, better allocate water supplies; promotion of economic development; veterans' assistance; preservation of shellfish resources and fish and game administration.

For the Department of Labor and Industry, I recommend an increase of $1.5 million over the current budget of $14.6 million. Like other departments, more than half of the rise is attributable to normal salary increments and cost increases for existing services. The balance is applied to the following areas:

- $202,483 for additional staffing to strengthen the Department's industrial safety programs; better enforcement of the State wage and hour laws; improved regulation under the Worker Health and Safety Act; and implementation of the recently enacted migrant labor camp legislation.
- $38,794 for added staffing to reduce the backlog of workmen's compensation cases.
- $129,412 for added staffing and needed new space for the increased workload mandated by the liberalized Temporary Disability Insurance law.

The cost of rehabilitation services has increased by some 6% during the current year. Rehabilitation services have been provided to persons with more severe handicaps and greater efforts are being made in poverty areas. Therefore, I recommend an increase of $600,000 for services to clients and an increase of $100,000 for diagnostic services. Of this total, $525,000 will be Federal funds.

The Department of the Treasury will require for day-to-day operations an increase of $1.4 million above the current appropriation of $19.2 million. Apart from the provision for normal salary and other cost increments, the major elements in this increase include:

- $145,133 for additional staffing for the administration of the business personal property and retail gross receipt taxes.
- $45,000 for management studies to continue to upgrade the level of State fiscal practices.
- $21,000 for additional technical staffing in the Division of Purchase and Property.
- $75,000 for the Office of Economic Policy to continue its important analysis and research on the State economy.
- $1,846,000 for construction of a new State Purchase Warehouse; the modernization of elevators at the State House Annex; for floodlighting the State House grounds; and for a continuation of our engineering studies to develop data for each State institution.

The revenue section of this budget contemplates legislation adding 12 days to the season of our three flat racing tracks. Thus, if the Legislature agrees, we can count on another $2 million in racing revenue.

For the Department of State, I recommend an increase of $20,683 above the current level of $773,000. The increase is needed for the election unit because of the enlarged Legislature, and for the corporation annual report section which is yielding revenue of eight dollars for every dollar spent.

In the Department of Agriculture there is an increase of $46,098 over the current budget of $2.26 million.

The work of the Department of Public Utilities will require an increase of only $50,000 over its present $1.1 million appropriation. This rise will permit the Department to retain technical consultants in cases that mean millions of dollars in utility payments by our citizens.

The Department of Banking and Insurance requires an increase of only $47,698 above the current budget of $2.95 million. This increase is due to normal salary increments and operating cost increases. The Department will continue to maintain its important services without additional staffing.

I recommend an appropriation of $3.9 million to carry out the programs of the Department of Defense in the coming year, a net increase of $510,000. The proposal includes $566,000 as the Department's share of the cost of a training school at Sea Girt. The State Police budget provides another $1 million. This new facility will replace the present temporary structures utilized by the National Guard and the Division of State Police in the conduct of military, municipal police and riot control training classes. Modern training facilities at Sea Girt are an important public need.

THE SERVICES OF GOVERNMENT

In the Department of Civil Service, I recommend an increase of $254,782 over the current level of $2.35 million. This will improve examinations and other services for local governments, provide for advertising to spur recruiting and equip a Newark clerical training center—the State's second such facility—to help prepare the disadvantaged for career opportunities.

State Employees' Salaries

For many years, we have faced continually increasing labor costs. In addition to rises in the general pay level, key employee groups in industry and other governments now are winning special gains. State government today faces demands to match private pay. We must find equitable solutions.

Both the cost of living and wage levels have risen steadily since last year. Federal workers' pay again was increased last October by 4.5%; at least 3% more is guaranteed by next July. Other states are following suit.

Therefore, I have included in this budget $13.5 million for a general increase in pay of 5% on July 1, 1968. I propose that another increase of 5% be planned for the following fiscal year. In addition, to provide the flexibility needed to meet current developments in the labor market, I have included $2 million for selective range revision where our surveys indicate the 5% increase will be inadequate to meet competitive pressures.

It should be noted that this budget provides an increase of almost $6 million in State payments in behalf of employee pensions, social security and other benefits. These contributions are dictated by actuarial requirements, the Federal Social Security law and premiums for health insurance.

The salaries of our executive employees cannot compare with their counterparts in business and industry. Pay for commensurate responsibilities in business would be much higher, not to mention other substantial benefits available in private industry. While we cannot expect to match industry, our cabinet officers and other executives merit an increase. Therefore, if the Legislature sees fit to approve the across-the-board increase for other State employees—and I hope that you will—I recommend that the Legislature consider increasing the salaries of cabinet officers and other executives whose compensation is determined by law, including the salary applicable to the Governor. By way of encouragement, I should remind you of the constitutional provision which will prevent any such pay raise militating to the advantage of the present Governor.

Overtime

The enactment of the overtime law, effective last July 1, 1967 providing time-and-one-half pay for overtime services, was a long-sought aim of State employees who heretofore had worked on an overtime basis at straight time. This law made cash payment mandatory.

Our experience to date, as indicated by testimony furnished at budget hearings by agency heads and from letters and petitions received by the Department of Civil Service from a cross-section of employees, suggests that we may have acted in haste in not continuing to provide the alternative of compensatory time off. Many employees, particularly those in institutions, want this at the equivalent of a time-and-one-half rate. My recommendation for the cost of overtime in the various departments anticipates new legislation to permit compensatory time off. This would save approximately $1.5 million a year. I urge passage of this law immediately in order to take advantage of the savings prior to July 1, 1968. If the amendment is not enacted, the $5 million which I recommend for overtime should be raised to $6.5 million.

Planning-Programming-Budgeting System

The Budget Director plans a comprehensive effort to improve the effectiveness of State programs through the Planning, Programming, Budgeting (PPB) System that is finding increasing acceptance in progressive state governments. The Budget Bureau, jointly with the Department of Community Affairs, has applied for a Federal grant to plan and develop such a system initially in selected State departments and local governments.

The system is now entering its third year throughout the Federal Government.

The PPB system seeks to: (1) identify goals and programs with much greater precision; (2) give greater emphasis to the more urgent goals; (3) search imaginatively for better alternatives in reaching those goals; (4) provide information, not merely on next year's costs of programs, but subsequent years' costs; and (5) measure program performance to insure a dollar's worth of service for each dollar spent. As a supplement to this Budget Message, I have included three exhibits which illustrate a State program structure summary within a PPB system.

Related to the PPB system, I include examples in various sections of the budget of program presentation to be compared with the departments' standard budget presentations. These exhibits may be helpful to you in understanding what services an agency is providing. There are many refinements to be made in these efforts. With your interest and support, we will accomplish them. The Legislature has a crucial role in reviewing and approving budgets.

PPB is an evolutionary step in the continuing endeavor to improve the budgetary process. More and more we are faced with difficult decisions and hard choices because of the limited resources at our disposal. The decision-making assistance of a PPB system will help tailor the desirable to the attainable. This will be for us a major undertaking. Such a system does not just happen and takes years to implement fully and effectively. It requires intensive work by dedicated personnel in both line and staff agencies.

CONCLUSION

The budget that I have placed before you today encompasses both a program to meet our present needs and a concern to accommodate our forthcoming responsibilities in the capital sphere. In respect of present needs this budget is rigorous, for it has undergone a lengthy process of careful weighing and winnowing of legitimate requests and therefore provides for programs that are essential to the well-being of the people of New Jersey—and only those programs. In respect of our very pressing responsibilities it contemplates a set of new decisions and new actions on the financing of State government, and of our essential capital requirements in particular, that could elevate the entire structure of State services for the people.

It is probably unnecessary to remind this Legislature that such a rigorous budget deserves very sober reflection before excisions are made. Put in another way, I hope that any decision to reduce these budget recommendations will be based upon a responsible consideration of the consequences, as affecting the services needed and expected by the people of this State.

I therefore commend this budget to you with full belief in its potential significance for the quality of State government, and in a real sense for the very quality of life of our seven million fellow citizens. As constitutional officers, and as public men, we can have no more compelling reasons to call for productive joint action on this budget.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor of New Jersey.

LAWRENCE BILDER,
Secretary to the Governor.

February 13, 1968.

Mr. McLeon of Hudson County delivered Abraham Lincoln's Day Address.

"Mr. Speaker, fellow members of the Assembly, it is indeed an honor that we pay tribute here today in memory of the birthday of President Abraham Lincoln, one of the most outstanding and courageous men to have served as President of the United States of America. I believe that nothing, during these days of multiple serious areas of stress, upheaval, and unrest both domestic and abroad, could be more fitting and appropriate than the beautiful and immortal message contained within his second inaugural address delivered at Washington, D. C. on March 4, 1865, which I have the pleasure of reading in its entirety at this time.

Fellow-Countrymen:

At this second appearing to take the oath of the Presidential office there is less occasion for an extended address than there was at the first. Then a statement somewhat in detail of a course to be pursued seemed fitting and proper. Now, at the expiration of four years, during which public declarations have been constantly called forth on every point and phase of the great contest which still absorbs the attention and engrosses the energies of the nation, little that is new could be presented. The progress of our arms, upon which all else chiefly depends, is as well known to the public as to myself, and it is, I trust, reasonably satisfactory and encouraging to all. With high hope for the future, no prediction in regard to it is ventured.

On the occasion corresponding to this four years ago all thoughts were anxiously directed to an impending civil war. All dreaded it, all sought to avert it. While the inaugural address was being delivered from this place, devoted altogether to saving the Union without war, insurgent agents were in the city seeking to destroy it without war—seeking to dissolve the Union and divide effects by negotiation. Both parties deprecated war, but one of them would make war rather than let the nation survive, and the other would accept war rather than let it perish, and the war came.

One-eighth of the whole population were colored slaves, not distributed generally over the Union, but localized in the southern part of it. These slaves constituted a peculiar and powerful interest. All knew that this interest was somehow the cause of war. To strengthen, perpetuate, and extend this interest was the object for which the insurgents would rend the Union even by war, while the Government claimed no right to do more than to restrict the territorial enlargement of it. Neither party expected for the war the magnitude or the duration which it has already attained. Neither anticipated that the cause of the conflict might cease with or even before the conflict itself should cease. Each looked for an easier triumph, and a result less fundamental and astounding. Both read the same Bible and pray to the same God, and each invokes His aid against the other. It may seem strange that any men should dare to ask a just God's assistance in wringing their bread from the sweat of other men's faces, but let us judge not, that we be not judged. The prayers of both could not be answered. That of neither has been answered fully. The Almighty has His own purposes. "Woe unto the world because of offenses; for it must needs be that offenses come, but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh." If we shall suppose that American slavery is one of those offenses which, in the providence of God, must needs come, but which, having continued through His appointed time, He now wills to remove, and that He gives to both North and South this terrible war as the woe due to those by whom the offense came, shall we discern therein any departure from those divine attributes which the believers in a living God always ascribe to Him? Fondly do we hope, fervently do we pray, that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away. Yet, if God wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn with the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword, as was said three thousand years ago, so still it must be said "the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether."

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

March 14, 1968.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 61 (1968)

To the Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 61, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would appropriate the sum of $1,390,000.00 to the Department of Conservation and Economic Development for the purpose of underwriting the cost of constructing beachfill and stone jetties in the Borough of Cape May Point, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 52 of the Laws of 1940. All shore erosion work pursuant to the bill must be done under contract with the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, and the bill would take effect upon my approval thereof.

There can be no doubt whatsoever that New Jersey's 125-mile Atlantic Ocean coastline—and the resort areas which have developed along its length—must be protected against the constant ravages of shore erosion. Absent swift and sure erosion control techniques, little but ghost towns would remain today of resorts such as Asbury Park, Bradley Beach, Belmar, Seaside Heights, Atlantic City, Ocean City, and Wildwood, to name a few.

The struggle against the inexorable pull of the ocean tides, however, is a never-ending battle, as the Borough of Cape May Point can well testify. The sea is laying claim to ever-increasing ocean frontage in this tiny borough of 280 people, situated at the southern-most tip of New Jersey. It is painfully obvious that proper steps—consistent with the established policy and law of this State—must be taken to prevent the Borough of Cape May Point from being washed out to sea.

Although perhaps more the result of historical accident than considered judgment (since beaches were initially privately owned), the problem of protection against beach erosion was originally conceived as a municipal function. Since 1944, however, the State of New Jersey has recognized the wisdom of State efforts to preserve the beaches of this State for the enjoyment of all of its citizens.

In every year from 1944 to the present date (with the exception of 1954, when no appropriation was provided), the State's shore erosion control efforts have consistently adhered to established statutory framework. That framework contemplates a 50-50 partnership between the State of New Jersey and local units of government in halting the ravages of beach erosion. This cooperative program of the past 23 years has resulted in the construction of approximately $45,478,496 worth of jetties, groins and beachfill. Obvious results such as these are a credit to the past 23 Legislatures and the statutory partnership which they have honored.

While departures from this proven framework should not be lightly taken, the emergent situation facing the Borough of Cape May Point may well justify prompt action outside the established pattern of this State's beach protection programs. As is the case with many of the smaller Atlantic coast municipalities of this State, the Borough of Cape May Point does not have the financial capacity to undertake the substantial capital construction required in shore erosion control projects. With an area of one-third of a square mile, the Borough's average ratable properties for the past 3 years amount to only $3,533,722.67. Its consequent gross borrowing capacity is $123,680.29, of which $19,500.00 has already been exhausted by outstanding bonds. The remaining net borrowing capacity of the Borough of Cape May Point—$104,180.29—is demonstrably insufficient to finance the construction and anchorage of massive stone jetties and groins. Accordingly, I would be willing to approve Assembly Bill No. 61's departure from the pattern of this State's beach protection programs.

I hardly need tell the Legislature, however, that there has been no material improvement in the revenue profile of the State since I delivered my Budget Message. Assembly Bill No. 61 would reduce those unappropriated funds which I have anticipated as revenue for fiscal 1969 by $1,390,000.00, thereby weakening the ability of the State to meet both unexpected contingencies occurring in the current fiscal year as well as the enormous capital and program demands facing the State in fiscal 1969 and subsequent years.

I have been advised by the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development that the expenditure of one-half of the monies appropriated by Assembly Bill No. 61 would result in substantial completion of present beach erosion control plans for Cape May Point. Further construction of jetties and groins, if necessary, could then possibly be financed as part of the State's continuing beach protection program. In addition, it does not appear unrealistic to expect the County of Cape May to begin to shoulder some portion of the burden of preserving the beaches of one of its most historic municipalities. I fully realize that such a plan of action may not fully satisfy the expectations of the residents of the Borough of Cape May Point. Nevertheless, I am confident that the appropriation of $695,000.00—instead of $1,390,000.00—honestly discharges our "... underlying duty to the people of New Jersey," as I stated in my Budget Message, "to exercise the highest degree of prudence in spending while providing the services that this vital State requires."

My comments herein on Assembly Bill No. 61 challenge neither the sincerity of the Legislature nor the severity of shore erosion in the Borough of Cape May Point. Instead, they reflect the realization of both the Governor and the Legislature, as my Budget Message noted, that "... we know that we cannot do all that we would like to do in one year; but we can accomplish our goals; if they remain reasonable, over a period of the next few years."

For these reasons, I, herewith, return Assembly Bill No. 61 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows :

On page 1, section 1, line 11, delete "municipality" and insert in lieu thereof "borough of Cape May Point".

On page 2, section 2, line 1, delete "$1,390,000.00" and insert in lieu thereof "$695,000.00".

On page 2, section 2, line 2, after "treasury" insert "to the Department of Conservation and Economic Development".

On page 2, section 2, line 2, delete "purposes of this act" and insert in lieu thereof "purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act".

Respectfully,

/s/ RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

/s/ LAWRENCE BILDER.

SPECIAL MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

By

RICHARD J. HUGHES

Governor of New Jersey

With the generous and unhesitating approval of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, I have come before this joint session today to discuss an urgent matter confronting the nation and New Jersey alike. The harsh truthfulness of history will record the week just passed as a time of turbulent and tragic upheaval. A week which began with an exciting new reach for peace in the world has ended with the brutal assassination of a Nobel Peace Prize winner, with cities on fire, with other violent deaths—and finally and unbelievably with the stationing of troops in our nation's very capital.

Dr. Martin Luther King, an American apostle of non-violence, died by the cowardly bullet of a deranged mind, as did our martyred President John F. Kennedy. Reverend King's death, like that of President Kennedy, comes at a time when fear and prejudice and disunity are abroad in the land. And many people are saying after Memphis as they said after Dallas—"What are we coming to—where will it all end?"

Some people feel that the American dream may have died; that those golden words of our forefathers, "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; " may, after all, be just words, noble indeed in principle, but impossible in practice; and that countless Americans, soldiers who died in American Bunker Hills all over the world, as well as our martyred giants like Lincoln and Kennedy and now King, may have died for those words in vain.

But I question all this despair, for I believe that this week, with all its tragedy, yet may be the turning point. For as this week is one of death, it is also one of resurrection; and if we are now in bondage, we yet may be on the verge of deliverance. In short, this week may be the time when the erosion of the American dream may end, and its certain fulfillment may be decided upon by Americans who will find it in their hearts to change it from dream to reality.

This transformation—this uplifting—must rest upon a reversal in spirit, but that is not impossible, for change is in the very air. These are times of change—for good or for evil—there is no middle ground. And when we speak of change, we speak of choice—in which direction do we choose to go?

So I wish to discuss with you, frankly and without partisanship, as friends and colleagues in the bearing of legislative and executive responsibility in this State, a subject which transcends partisanship—What is to become of America—how may it cure the illness which afflicts it—how will it find its soul—and how shall New Jersey which, even before it became a state, raised its voice for freedom and justice,—how shall New Jersey join in bringing about the national examination of conscience upon which the salvation of America depends?

I formally request that you adopt a resolution of sorrow and respect for Dr. King and his family, which will really be a mark of our own self-respect, for when the right to life of this just man was denied him, the rights of all of us were diminished.

But beyond that, I ask you, and through you the people of New Jersey, to set aside this coming weekend as a time of reflection and introspection which may be the most important “thinking time” in our lives. On this weekend, Jews and Christians alike and many millions throughout the world will be reflecting on sorrowful death and joyous deliverance. If America is to survive its present illness and not be consigned to a hopeless negation which is itself a kind of death, it must think seriously about the means of deliverance from the sorrows which afflict us.

Honest humility is the beginning of truth. Let us, therefore, humbly join this weekend in a time of quiet self-examination and ask ourselves honestly whether it is true that there is a weakness in our nation’s character. Is there really an irreversible disease which weakens us all? Can it be true that, by intent or by negligence, prejudice has had its way with some of us? Must it be that in our time we must be engulfed in extremism and violence, the sure result of prejudice and hate? Must there be, as some advocate, two nations in America, one black one white, one rich one poor, or is it still possible to recapture the dream of “One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all?”

Has our indifference and preoccupied materialism made us forget that promise of liberty and justice for all? Has our human wish not to be involved made of us different kind of men from our pioneer forefathers, who perceived in the hardship and danger of others a risk to the well-being of all?

In all candor, I think we shall find by looking deeply into our own hearts that there is much evidence of our common indifference, unintended perhaps, but there all the same.

How could it be, for instance, that while both candidates for Governor in early 1961 testified for a Fair Housing Bill, it took the State many years thereafter to enact into law this simple inalienable right promised to all those whom God created equal? Why have we overcrowded and neglected the institutions and hospitals that care for the mentally or physically weak, who are specially charged upon our conscience? Why is the seventh most affluent state in the nation at the tail end of all the states in its support of public higher education? How has it come about that schools in some of our communities are so deficient as to shame us all? Why have we been so slow and cautious in meeting the undeniable needs of our fellow citizens in health and other vital fields? Why has this pattern of neglect persisted under Governors and Legislatures, who, whatever their party, were nevertheless decent and well-motivated men? I am not saying that these repeated instances of neglect have been the fault of any one of us,—but they are surely the collective responsibility of all of us.

And look beyond this neglect—the dehumanization of poverty and slums—the disease of racial discrimination—the suspicion of our neighbor—the arming for civil warfare at the instigation of extremists, white and black alike. Can this physical and moral breakdown be occurring in America, our country? Can we, as Americans, tolerate such baseness and despair? Can it be that we have struggled to the peak of material prosperity only to find ourselves in the abyss of spiritual poverty?

These are hard questions and there may be different answers. Maybe we will find, as we look into our hearts this weekend, that gradually and unwittingly, we have fallen victim to a double standard under which we worship God, but simultaneously hurt or sneer at our neighbor or blithely deprive him of his rights.

Perhaps we have denied or questioned or not realized the individuality and worth of every man, while we know full well that regardless of his color or his creed or his nationality or his financial circumstance, he was made in the image and likeness of our common Creator.

Or it may be, and I think this must be the true answer, that our real problem is indifference, a human wish not to be involved, a turning away from these problems as though they are not "our business." But these things are America's business and that makes them, very urgently, the business of each and every one of us.

All of us here and every one of the millions of our fellow citizens have an individual and special responsibility in this business before the nation—the finding of America's soul—the curing of America's illness. Perhaps you and I have special responsibilities, for to whom much power is given, much response is required. You and I will be facing these responsibilities in connection with the special messages of New Jersey's urgent needs which I am now preparing. I am doing my level best to fulfill my responsibility and I am confident that you will recognize and fulfill yours.

The moral crisis facing us cannot be solved by token moves or talk, and it certainly cannot be solved by violence or extremism.

Let me make it clear at this point that no solution can be found in the absence of law and order, and I rededicate myself and I know you join me in a firm resolve that violence and crime under any and all circumstances, or for whatever cause, will not be tolerated nor permitted to endanger the public peace. There is no right to inflict violence or danger upon the public at any time, at any place or under any circumstances. That tiny number among our population who are looting and burning do grave dishonor to the memory of Dr. King and a great disservice to all Americans, black and white alike. Only in the law and the Constitution may true justice and the protection of our whole society be found.

But beyond governmental action, there is a personal responsibility, for when we face a moral crisis as a nation and as a people, that crisis cannot be solved by executive or legislative action alone.

Beyond action in the Congress or in the Legislature or on the executive level, there is something else and this is where personal responsibility comes in. There must be a turning away from indifference and a grasping of opportunity, a determined attainment of social justice which will bring a peace so stable, so understanding, as itself to be a guarantee of law and order.

Let me tell you what I mean by personal involvement and personal responsibility. It calls for the personal sacrifice of standing up and speaking out for what is right. Take for example an incident related by the noted Negro photographer Gordon Parks of Life Magazine:

“During one wintry night years ago, I sought shelter in a hotel in upstate New York. The desk clerk ignored me when I asked for a room and pushed the register toward a white youth who stood just behind me. ‘But this man was before me,’ the young man explained.

“‘We don’t take Negroes in this hotel’ came the clerk’s answer. ‘Then I wouldn’t stay here either,’ the young man said as he left.”

This is a small example of personal involvement, but you can see how this small act of decency, multiplied many times, this affirmation of America’s real goodness, can evoke an age of hope and good feeling in America such as we have never experienced before.

And I am convinced that our search for the real spirit of America will succeed, once we wake up to our responsibilities, once we truly search our hearts. Until now, the loudest and most strident voices, those which have been heard most often, are, on the one hand, those of the contemptible extremists who would “burn America down” and, on the other, those of the equally contemptible bigots who would “hold America down” by perpetuating injustice and capping it over with the iron lid of repression.

But these extremists and bigots are only a small fraction of our people. The overriding majority of Americans are people like the dedicated public officials and members of the Negro community who, as exemplified in the “Walk for Understanding” in Newark yesterday, have during these past few troubled days, been on the streets ceaselessly and together to preserve peace and order in communities throughout New Jersey.

We, in the great center of American thought, perhaps 98% of the black and white community alike, wish for peace and justice and decency, and we fear and detest the violence of the times. But you and I—we the people—have been too timid, too silent. Once we become involved—once we stand up to be counted—once we are heard from—once we accept personal responsibility—we will become such a force for sanity and decency that we will indeed make America well again. For we can change America. We can change the world.

The great heart of America is filled with basic decency and goodness. Its beat is not weak or faltering, but strong and steady, for in it courses the blood of America patriots of every race and creed.

It will stand the test of the times now, for it always has, and its steady beat will soon give the lie to those who say America is sick unto death.

This weekend, then, in truth and humility, let us look anew upon our nation and ourselves and let us reflect on the motto of one of our sister states—"The life of the land is in the pursuit of righteousness." Let all of us in New Jersey put away the indifference of the past, and, pursuing righteousness, ask the help of Almighty God in the new work we are about to undertake, perhaps the most important work that any New Jersey Legislature was ever called upon to do.

Mr. McDermott moved that the joint session adjourn.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Moraites.

Which motion was adopted.

Messrs. Moraites and Woodson and all members of the Assembly offered the following resolution which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

HENRY H. PATTERSON,
Secretary of the Senate.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

April 8, 1968.

To members of the Senate and General Assembly:

Subject: Report of the special Senate and General Assembly conference committee re Assembly No. 47 (Real estate transfer fee bill)

The members of the Senate and General Assembly committees appointed pursuant to a concurrent resolution adopted April 1, 1968 to confer with respect to Assembly No. 47, report as follows:

1. The members of the joint committee recommend enactment of the bill annexed hereto as a substitute for the pending Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly No. 47 with Senate Amendments.

2. To facilitate consideration and enactment of the substitute bill, the joint committee recommends:

a. Introduction and passage of a Senate Concurrent Resolution requesting the General Assembly to return to the Senate for further consideration the Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly No. 47;

b. Reconsideration by the Senate of its action in the passage of Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly No. 47 with Senate amendments and the return thereof to the Senate Committee on Taxation;

c. Report by the Senate Committee on Taxation of the joint committee's proposal as a Senate Committee Substitute for Assembly No. 47.

3. The joint committee's proposal provides the following significant features:

a. It eliminates in most cases the requirement for a document other than the deed to provide the real estate sales price data desired and required by assessors by providing for the recital in a deed and in the proof or acknowledgment of its execution of the full consideration paid or to be paid. Where through inadvertence or adherence to prior habit a deed recites nominal consideration, an affidavit of consideration may be annexed to the deed in lieu of a recital of full consideration;

b. Since the primary purpose of the proposed legislation is to provide data as to current real estate values, "consideration" is defined as all inclusive, including the amount of any pre-existing mortgage or other lien which remains after the transfer of title;

c. One who willfully falsifies a statement of consideration is a disorderly person;

d. The entire transfer fee revenue will accrue to the county where collected;

e. The transfer fee is fixed at $.50 rather than $.55 per $500. to facilitate fast calculations by recording office personnel;

f. To effect uniformity in application of the act and substantiation of exemptions the Director of Taxation is authorized to issue rules and regulations;

g. The act is applicable to deeds executed 30 or more days after enactment of the law.

Respectfully submitted,

Senators:

ROBERT E. KAY

ALFRED N. BEADLESTON

RAYMOND H. BATEMAN

Assemblymen:

DOUGLAS E. GIMSON

WEBSTER B. TODD, JR.

WALTER L. SMITH, JR.

INTRODUCTION

When I came before this Legislature on April 8, I expressed the hope that we in New Jersey could lead the way in a national renewal of spirit—a new taking up of our part in the urgent business of America. And I told you that this might be the most important work that any New Jersey Legislature was ever called upon to do. This work, the urgency of this mission, has been impressed upon all of us from many quarters—by the Lilley Commission, by educators, and parents, and law enforcement authorities, and the press, and citizens of every interest and every circumstance—but most importantly of all, by our own intelligence and our own conscience.

It is as though an alarm had sounded, awakening us from a long neglect to a present duty. The work before us is not easy—but it is about that work, about the unmistakable need for immediate action, that I wish to speak to you today.

The world moves very quickly these days, and sometimes events come together so rapidly as to change in a short time honest conceptions of right and of necessity. So it has been with me. I tell you in candor that my stringent housekeeping budget of February no longer seems fully adequate to meet the problems I will discuss today. In retrospect that budget, which I hope your Appropriations Committee will leave largely intact, is a foundation upon which I believe we must mount a fuller and stronger response if we wish to deal honestly and properly with problems that have a new urgency, a new compulsion for action.

I have in mind the grave social problems of our hard-pressed older suburbs and our struggling rural communities, but above all the overwhelming problems of our cities, large and small alike, and of the people who live in them. Today, I propose that we face—and face four-square—the nagging problems of the urban community. Let no one who professes concern for the well-being of this State believe that the burdens of New Jersey's urban communities are not also his personal burdens. In this most urbanized State of the nation, no one—suburbanite, farmer, or city dweller—can lead his daily life unmoved and untouched by the crisis of the inner city. How clearly this unbreakable bond, this oneness, has come home to us during the tragic disorders that have afflicted many of our American cities! No resident of the most affluent suburb can look any longer with unconcern on either the decay or the violence of our cities.

For the cities are the lifeblood of America. The cities are the heart of our free enterprise system, the focal point of business and commerce of every kind and size, the center of production and distribution of food and clothing and every commodity upon which the well-being of Americans depends. The cities house our major employers as well as many of our great newspapers and cultural and educational centers. The cities are—or should be—for all America, and especially for New Jersey, the source of economic power and moral renewal. And if life in the cities breaks down, so too does life in every other community. For all of us are bound together in a body politic in which weakness or disease in one part inevitably spreads to the whole. We are truly part of one community—New Jersey—just as we are part of one nation—America—and we are no more able to separate ourselves from our common health and well-being than we would be, in time of war, to abandon the common defense.

Today I propose that we rise together to the common defense of New Jersey against those grave social problems whose persistence and worsening has engendered for the entire State not peace but unrest, not order but turmoil, not strength but weakness. To this end, I wish to review with you in specific terms the nature and impact of these social problems on all of our overburdened communities, but especially on our cities. And I wish to give you my soundest and most carefully considered judgment as to what minimum actions you and I must take now, in the next two months—in education, housing, employment, law enforcement, welfare and other fields—to restore peace and strength to every community in New Jersey and to make us whole once again.

* * * *

My proposals to you in the field of education are directed chiefly toward the problems of our poorest schools and our most disadvantaged students. My emphasis betokens no lack of concern for the financial burdens that beset hard-pressed school districts throughout the State. Everyone in this chamber knows that the State must substantially increase its share of local education costs, and I will turn my full attention, as I trust you will, to the report and recommendations of the State Aid to School Districts Study Commission chaired by the distinguished Assistant Majority Leader of the Senate, Senator Bateman, as soon as they are made available.

But let us make no mistake about our priorities for today. There are schools in New Jersey that are so deficient as to shame us all—schools that are forced to confront the most difficult educational problems in New Jersey with decrepit facilities, acute teacher shortages, and growing hopelessness. You and I can no longer equivocate on this point: these terrible schools, and their tens of thousands of graduates who, at the completion of their so-called formal education, are often barely able to read and write and whose abilities, however great in potential, and whose aspirations, however noble in purpose, are thereby seriously and perhaps irrevocably undermined, must command our immediate attention.

Emergency State Aid Program

Accordingly, I recommend that you authorize the sum of $25 million for an emergency State aid program that will enable overburdened local school districts to concentrate new energy and resources on the special problems of their disadvantaged students. This emergency aid, which will complement highly useful but inadequate federal funds available to New Jersey school districts under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, will be administered in accordance with a formula and standards already developed by the State Board of Education to ensure the most effective possible use of funds. Beginning July 1 these funds will be used to supplement programs already designed and budgeted for the forthcoming school year, and in succeeding years they will serve a similarly vital enrichment purpose.

This emergency State aid program constitutes no opposition on my part to the recently announced majority proposal to increase, even in advance of the Bateman Commission report, State assistance to minimum aid districts, nor does it constitute a prejudgment on my part as to the forthcoming recommendations of that Commission, which will project a plan for increased State aid to every school district in New Jersey. But the emergency program I propose does represent a commitment to the improved education of disadvantaged children, and to school districts that are struggling courageously to provide that education, that simply must have the highest priority and that should be implemented without delay.

In addition, I request this Legislature to focus immediately on the following concentrated but modest programs, which represent a minimum State commitment to improve education in our most grievously inadequate schools:

Emergency School Building Aid

First, I ask you today to act promptly upon, and to triple, the emergency school building aid program proposed in January by the State Board of Education. The State Board has already specified in careful detail the alarming number of antiquated and sometimes dangerous facilities that plague a number of school districts. The Board's excellent program, which it rightly views as no permanent panacea to the school construction problem, is addressed to the immediate building needs of the struggling rural community, the fast-growing suburb, and the old central city—but most of all to those districts which, encumbered with enormous problems of urban and rural poverty, find themselves unable alone to relieve obsolete and overcrowded conditions that make first-rate education simply impossible. I recommend an appropriation for this program in the forthcoming fiscal year of $2 million. This sum, together with subsequent annual appropriations, would authorize qualified districts to issue $60 million in local school bonds in each of the next three years—bonds that will be amortized by the State over a 35-year period. This program will therefore make possible emergency school construction in the amount of $180 million—construction which, although absolutely essential, overburdened local districts would otherwise be unable even to consider.

It is my best judgment, after the most careful study, that you should act promptly on this emergency school construction program. But because capital construction is at issue here, I ask you to withhold final judgment on the legislative detail of this matter until you have examined the priorities to be established by the distinguished Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey, whose report will appear in several days.

I also call your attention to legislation currently pending that would permit school districts to enter into long-term leases for school facilities in combined use buildings constructed by the Housing Finance Agency. This legislation would permit imaginative combinations of public schools and private housing in the same building. In some cases, through judicious use of air rights and other properties, school costs can be substantially reduced. I therefore urge prompt action on this pending legislation.

Urban Education Corps

Second, I propose that you authorize the sum of $500,000 to permit the expansion of the pioneering and widely heralded Urban Education Corps. Educational research confirms what you and I know by intuition: that the first requirement for good education is an able, dedicated, and responsive teacher. Yet there is an alarming shortage of qualified teachers statewide, and especially in our most overburdened school systems. The Urban Education Corps was formed last summer to meet this acute shortage of first-rate teachers, and in just a few months of operation it has channeled many dedicated teachers into schools that confront our most complex educational problems. A grant of $100,000 from the federal government will finance an intensive training program this summer for outstanding college graduates who, as members of the Urban Education Corps, want to bring a Peace Corps kind of spirit and resolve to our most difficult educational problems. This federal commitment to our Urban Education Corps is encouraging indeed, but the need for new teachers of this high quality far exceeds the 100 who can be trained this summer with these funds. One major school system alone shows a shortage of 700 fully qualified teachers at the present time, and others are comparably pressed. I therefore request you to authorize funds to recruit and train an additional 500 dedicated young men and women to teach in New Jersey's most difficult schools next fall.

Educational Opportunity Fund

Third, I propose that you establish a New Jersey Educational Opportunity Fund and appropriate the sum of $2.5 million for its first year of operation. As I pointed out to you in my Legislative Message, the State Scholarship Commission is convinced, as I am, that many young men and women in New Jersey who are fully capable, with assistance, of work at the college level are prevented from entering college because they lack both financial resources and acceptable scores on competitive tests. The Commission believes, as I do, that it is essential to identify and assist students of outstanding character and leadership potential whose comparative underachievement or low test score performance is associated principally with poor school training—in other words, boys and girls whose scholastic weakness is not their fault, but our collective fault.

The Educational Opportunity Fund will enable New Jersey to utilize federal resources already allocated for disadvantaged students in the State. These resources total $1.5 million, for our public colleges and universities, in the next academic year, and they will be lost if the State does not provide matching funds. If we fail to act, we will fail these students and we will fail New Jersey.

In addition, federal and private funds for disadvantaged students are available to independent institutions in the amount of more than $2.4 million. But if these colleges are to succeed in making these resources available to the 1,000 disadvantaged students they have already identified and are prepared to admit in September—or to the additional 2,500 disadvantaged students whom these colleges would also be prepared to admit, given adequate funds for assistance—they must have available additional resources from the Educational Opportunity Fund. This assistance will supplement, not replace, private scholarships, work-study stipends, loans, and individual student resources. The Fund will be administered by an Educational Opportunity Commission through college aid officers under strict standards of need and performance.

The Fund will enable the Commission to seek out those young people most worthy of support. It will stimulate and support remedial programs at our colleges and universities to compensate for inadequate training in pre-college years. It will also serve as a magnet for additional public and private scholarship funds to enable more and more young people to overcome cultural and educational deprivation to become productive and highly valued members of society. Finally, it will complement the self-examination and strenuous efforts now being made throughout our entire higher education system, under the leadership of Chancellor Dungan, to address far more directly the problems of our cities and our disadvantaged citizens. No investment in human resources could promise a greater return, and I urge your immediate support of the Educational Opportunity Fund.

Neighborhood Education Centers

Fourth, I recommend the establishment of a network of neighborhood education centers to attack the stubborn and explosive problem of the high school dropout. We can no longer permit the creation of an ever-growing mass of idle, restless, and unskilled youth in our cities. Caught in a dead end, such youth are nothing less than social dynamite, and, if not recaptured by society, may well become a heavy charge against it. These young men are not enemy strangers from another planet but are Americans, and if American society has failed them thus far, we now must bring them into the American mainstream.

The problem of actual and potential school dropouts, in the face of many attempted solutions, has grown more rather than less intense. But the evidence is clear from neighborhood education centers that have worked effectively elsewhere—using street-workers drawn from the neighborhood and new store-front schools—that many dropouts can be motivated to reenter the educational process and, in many cases, go on to college and certainly to productive employment. Neighborhood education centers, which will be located in neighborhoods with high unemployment and school dropout rates, will provide remedial training in basic subjects by skilled teachers in an informal atmosphere. Teaching assistants and volunteers will contribute individual tutoring and study help. The centers will specialize in reaching out vigorously to attract dropouts back toward the educational system and propel them forward as far as they can go. They will in addition serve as neighborhood after-school study centers to help other students remain in school by providing tutoring and a quiet place to study.

Such centers in Harlem have shown dramatic results with an annual budget of $60,000 each and a service capacity of 200 dropouts, or an annual cost of $300 per youth. I recommend the appropriation of $480,000 for centers to be established under the joint supervision of the Departments of Education, Higher Education, and Community Affairs, through contract with local agencies, in communities throughout the State that are plagued by especially high school dropout and youth unemployment rates. In Harlem, major corporations such as IBM and the First National City Bank have adopted and are paying for centers of this kind, and I shall call on our own business community, through the New Jersey Alliance of Business and other outstanding business organizations, to match the State's investment in school dropouts and to adopt or establish centers in other communities that seek to recapture for society those dropouts whom it has lost to idleness and hopeless defeat.

Project Head Start

Fifth, I call on the Legislature to provide an appropriation of $100,000 to assist those Head Start programs in New Jersey that have been badly disrupted by the announced cut-back of 14% in federal Head Start funds for New Jersey. No program aimed at the eradication of poverty has been more widely acclaimed than Project Head Start, which last year served more than 15,000 disadvantaged pre-school children in New Jersey. I call on Congress, and I trust that you join me, to restore the sum of $25 million to the national Head Start program that it has eliminated. But I ask you to provide $100,000 now to prevent the disruption of on-going programs and consequent damage to pre-school children whose development Project Head Start has done so much to advance.

Skills Center Expansion

Sixth, I ask you today to authorize the sum of $1,547,000 to match the same sum that the U. S. Economic Development Administration is prepared to commit to the construction of an occupational experimentation and demonstration center in Newark. This center will double the capacity of the Newark Manpower Training Skills Center, which has been operated successfully by the Division of Vocational Education of the State Department of Education since June, 1965. More than 1,800 seriously disadvantaged, unemployed and underemployed youths and adults—including former welfare recipients—have completed training at this center, which is widely recognized as one of the nation's finest such institutions, and more than 90% of them have been placed in jobs for which they were trained. I urge your prompt action on the expansion of this vital job training center.

Transfer of Newark Schools

Seventh, I recommend that this Legislature take under the most careful advisement the analysis and recommendation of the distinguished Select Commission on Civil Disorder that "the Newark public school system is in a state of educational crisis. This crisis demands that the State take over the administration of the Newark public schools during the crisis."

The Commission has presented compelling evidence—evidence confirmed by the independent analysis of educators, journalists, and other skilled professionals in New Jersey—that the Newark public school system is indeed in a state of crisis. This crisis can be measured in cold statistics that describe the antiquated and dangerous physical plant, the acute and growing shortage of teachers, the prevalence of thousands upon thousands of school children who fall further and further back until they are years behind their counterparts in other New Jersey communities, and many of whom can neither read nor write at all effectively. But this crisis can also be measured—and has been measured—in the growing inefficiency and hopelessness of a system that, through no fault of its own, has simply been overtaken by events.

It is indeed these events—the consequence of the overwhelming changes in Newark occasioned by post-war migration—that have generated this crisis. Mayor Addonizio has nearly doubled the city's educational budget during his tenure. The Newark Board of Education has energetically sought and secured available federal funds. It has instituted many innovative and experimental programs. Administrators and teachers have worked long and hard to reverse the trend of declining educational achievement. But despite these brave efforts, Newark has not won the battle.

The New Jersey Constitution states in Article VIII, Section 4: "The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all children in the State between the ages of five and eighteen." In its wisdom the Legislature has delegated considerable responsibility to local school systems. But when a local system, for reasons beyond its control, can no longer provide a "thorough and efficient" program of education, the State is constitutionally obliged to reassess its delegation of authority.

I therefore ask you to consider—if and only if the City administration and the Newark Board of Education concur—authorization of a transfer of administrative responsibility of the Newark school system to the State Board of Education. This transfer would be made on the following basis, and only on this basis:

1. The transfer would be a temporary measure that accords with the recommendation of the Select Commission on Civil Disorder. It would also be a unique situation that arises from the fully specified crisis of the Newark school system. The transfer would have effect for a period of five years, after which full administrative and financial responsibility would revert to Newark.

2. To meet Newark's educational crisis the goal of this transfer is a fundamental reform and revitalization of the Newark school system. Accordingly, the State Board of Education would be vested with those powers now exercised by the Newark Board of Education and the Board of School Estimate.

3. For the duration of this transfer tenure procedures for school administrators in Newark would be suspended, although full teacher tenure rights would be preserved.

4. The City of Newark would continue to raise by taxation funds for educational purposes equal to the amount provided in the current year, and, in addition, funds for additional pupils at the average per pupil cost for the current year. Furthermore, Newark would accommodate any salary commitments made by the Newark Board of Education prior to transfer of authority.

There can be no guarantee that this transfer of authority will ensure the massive improvement in the Newark schools that must occur. No city in this nation has truly succeeded in finding the key to first-rate education for inner-city children. I propose today, however, that for the first time in the history of the nation, a state shall marshal its energies in support of a badly floundering urban school system. This experimental partnership between a state and an overburdened and troubled city might perhaps provide the beginning of the sound response to the crushing problem of ghetto education that all concerned Americans seek.

To this end the State Board of Education would attempt to focus national attention and resources on Newark's educational problems. Because of this pioneering effort in state-urban cooperation, the Board could succeed in securing federal and foundation funds for Newark's schools in amounts far greater than would otherwise be possible. In addition, if you authorize this program, I shall request a special supplemental appropriation to enable the Board to address the grave deficiencies in the Newark schools.

Let me repeat that there can be no prior guarantee of success in this enterprise. You may therefore be reluctant—understandably reluctant—to undertake it. But these are troubled and pressing times, and it is no longer adequate simply to enumerate the possible shortcomings of any new projected course of action. The real question that you must ask as you weigh the wisdom of my recommendation to you is this: can we afford to let the educational system of Newark remain on its tragic downhill course and thereby lose still another generation of school children? I think not, and if Newark officials are prepared to accept the transfer I propose under the specific conditions I have outlined, I urge your careful consideration of this program.

School Lunch Program

Eighth, I recommend speedy passage of Senate Bill No. 421, which would provide State funds to local school districts participating in the National School Lunch Program administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This legislation, sponsored by Senator Del Tufo, would more than double the scope of this program, which is vital to the health of our school children, at a cost of $3 million per year. Last year a federal allocation of $1.76 million made it possible to provide nutritious lunches for 234,000 New Jersey school children in 363 school districts.

This federal aid now is apportioned on the basis of four cents per lunch, and Senate Bill No. 421 would provide matching State funds of five cents per lunch. State participation at this level would have these great benefits: more school districts would be brought into the program; lunch prices would be substantially reduced for those children who can afford the price of lunch; more free lunches would be served to children who cannot afford to pay; the quality of lunches would be improved; and since the federal formula is based on statewide participation, federal funds and commodities coming into New Jersey would be increased.

This new program would be especially beneficial to disadvantaged children, many of whom live in school districts so beset by financial difficulties that basic lunch programs frequently have a low priority. I therefore urge your prompt and favorable action on Senate Bill No. 421.

HOUSING

The first major national housing bill, which was passed by Congress in 1949, represented a national consensus. The principal sponsor of that bill was Senator Robert Taft, the most respected Republican leader of that decade. Its other sponsors were Senator Robert Wagner, Sr., a northern liberal Democrat, and Senator Allen Ellender, a southern Congressional leader. Thus American leaders of many different persuasions put politics aside to seek, as the bill proposed, "a decent home and suitable living environment for every American family."

We all know that this promise has not been kept. We know that national inaction in the housing field during the postwar period is now exacting a fearful toll in human despair. In 1966, there were six million substandard housing units in the country, two million of them occupied by non-whites. The Kerner Commission found that two-thirds of all non-white city dwellers live in neighborhoods "marked by substandard housing and urban blight," and the evidence is clear that conditions are getting worse, not better.

New Jersey's Housing Shortage

New Jersey's housing problems for low-income families are large, widespread to almost every area of the State, and increasing year by year. The best available data show that there is now a statewide total of 365,000 housing units of inferior quality occupied by low-income families. This number will grow by nearly 25,000 units each year in the absence of positive programs to stem growing deterioration. If we do not take action now to meet the problem in new ways, by 1980 we will face a shortage in New Jersey of 660,000 decent living places for our citizens. We need desperately now a consensus on the need for adequate housing in the State and in the nation like the consensus that propelled three political leaders of widely different outlooks—

Taft, Ellender, and Wagner—to their common goal twenty years ago.

A substantial start can and must be made immediately to begin reducing the housing deficit. The State must take the initiative to expand existing and planned federal and private programs if decent housing is to be brought within the reach of our poorer families.

The past year has marked the real beginning of a housing program for New Jersey. Our Housing Finance Agency, in cooperation with the Prudential Insurance Company, has provided mortgage funds for 270 units of cooperative housing in the Central Ward of Newark. This project is well under way. The Agency recently announced approval of an additional $26 million in housing programs which will provide 1,412 units in areas of great housing need, construction on all of which should begin this summer. We can be proud of these accomplishments in less than one year of operation, but we must come face to face with this major problem—that the various housing programs now in effect under federal and State auspices are not able to produce enough housing at rents or carrying costs within the means of low-income groups.

Housing Demonstration Fund

I therefore now propose a $25 million increase in the Housing Demonstration Fund for fiscal year 1969 to stimulate housing for low-income families, a program which I am confident will allow us to say that this was the year of the turn-around in New Jersey, the year in which the number of inferior, congested, rat-infested housing units began to decrease, rather than increase, relative to our population. A State investment of $25 million would by itself provide housing for a minimum of 10,000 lower-income families in the first year. More importantly, it would bring forth at least $125 million in additional funds from other sources, private and governmental, to multiply its effectiveness in promoting housing manifold.

This program would allow us to adopt a variety of mechanisms to reach three specific goals:

1. Direct assistance to reduce the rental cost of housing to low-income families.
2. A significant program in support of home ownership among low-income families across New Jersey.
3. A major program of housing rehabilitation across the State.

To achieve the first of these goals, a Housing Assistance Fund of $12.5 million would be created to assist private and non-profit owners and investors to reduce room rents for low-income families. We must face the obvious fact that the construction cost of housing is rising rapidly and inevitably. If we propose to assist the low-income family, we must reduce the ultimate rent through some form of direct State assistance. What I propose here are several alternative means of accomplishing this essential objective.

Already proposed in my Budget Message is a rent supplement program which would be used exclusively for 600 families who will be forced to relocate by public projects or code enforcement. This mechanism allows us to take advantage of existing vacant private housing in a number of our center cities by bridging the gap between a family's ability to pay and the reasonable market rent of that housing. This proposal will both provide more decent housing and strengthen the housing market of our center cities, and consequently their tax base.

Interest Subsidies

Another major tool for lower rentals would be an interest subsidy program to spur increased private investment in new housing construction. For example, let us consider the $1 billion commitment of the insurance industry to ghetto investment. As you know, the insurance companies of America have pledged themselves to make loans at slightly below their market rate to ghetto housing programs. Today's interest rates, however, mean that even this generous undertaking will not produce low-income rentals. A direct subsidization of the interest rate sufficient to reduce it two points over the first ten years of the mortgage would have the effect of reducing the rent on a five-room apartment by $40 a month under the rates which would obtain through the special insurance industry program. In this way we will enable that segment of the population which until now has been unable to afford rentals of this kind to acquire decent housing. Insurance companies have responded favorably to this interest subsidy program. For example, the Prudential Insurance Company is prepared, if you enact this program, to make an immediate investment of $18 million, which, together with $3 million in State funds, would finance 1,000 units of low cost rental or co-op housing. Many other concerned enterprises in New Jersey will also join in this effort if the State will act to authorize the program.

In Lieu Tax Payments

A third major tool in our drive to encourage new housing at lower rentals would be in lieu of tax payments to municipalities. Property taxes today count as a major cost of the operation of housing. A sure way to reduce rents is to grant tax abatement so that good housing is available to low-income families. But all of us know that our older cities are not in a position to absorb the total loss of tax ratables at the same time they are asked to provide better services and better education for the inhabitants of that housing. Today average taxes on rental housing runs about 26% of gross income. By a program of direct State assistance to municipalities in lieu of taxes, we could reduce the operating cost of housing by 26% while at the same time providing a municipality with its needed operating revenues. Here again our State assistance will do double duty.

Home Ownership

A second major goal will be to promote home ownership among low-income families. The advantages of giving the low-income family a stake in our society both in pride of ownership and as a means of building up equity are obvious. Nothing will lead more rapidly to social stability in our State. Yet many private lenders do not make mortgage loans at any price for inner-city housing. The problem is especially acute for the inner-city resident who wishes to become a home owner in the city, but who, although steadily employed, is unable to get a loan.

I propose that the State embark on a program of guarantees for mortgage loans and direct loans administered through private lenders in center city areas. Mortgage lenders would be encouraged by a State guarantee to extend the same mortgage loans in ghetto areas that they make to their prime-risk customers. Even under these liberal terms, there will be many families who, despite long years of steady work, have not been able to accumulate sufficient savings for a conventional down payment because their wages have always been at the subsistence level. In this case, the State, working through the primary lender, would make a direct loan to help the home buyer meet his own down payment requirement. Five million dollars invested in this manner would call forth at least five times that amount from private lending agencies.

Housing Rehabilitation

To spur housing rehabilitation I suggest a rehabilitation loan and grant program. At present, the small home owner or landlord who wants to do something about poor living conditions is often faced with the fact that he cannot get loans for rehabilitation and that the effect of his rehabilitation will be greatly to increase his local property tax burden. These factors combined force him to leave things as they are or simply board up the property and evict the tenants.

We can and must do something about this vicious cycle. The dimensions of our problem indicate that we must rely on the upgrading of existing housing stock to a very great extent. I therefore propose that the State, in cooperation with private lenders and federal agencies, establish a second mortgage loan fund or guaranty fund to enable vital repairs to be made. A $5 million investment in this program would assist some 2,500 families in the first year.

Also, I will ask you to consider enabling acts which would permit municipalities to provide tax incentives to motivate, not penalize, rehabilitation by owners. Under detailed guidelines, municipalities should have the option of granting property tax abatement so that a new rehabilitation investment would not immediately result in high taxes, higher operating property costs, and higher rents. Condemning authorities, including municipalities, should have the power to take immediate possession of property upon payment into court of the estimated value of the property, as is currently done in the case of highway acquisition.

Revolving Demonstration Fund

Finally, I propose a $2.5 million expansion for the revolving demonstration fund which has proved so successful in its first year of operation. This year under the Demonstration Grant Law we have aided twenty-six non-profit projects in fifteen communities and eleven counties. Seed money has expedited the processing of mortgage applications for nearly 5,000 dwelling units. The rate of applications for such assistance is increasing rapidly, and in this fiscal year sound proposals will far outstrip available funds. Two-thirds of the amount proposed will be for revolving no-interest loans to non-profit sponsors. The remaining one-third would go for outright grants to help support the increasing number of local and regional urban and housing development corporations under business and community leadership and for special demonstration projects in new housing techniques.

One demonstration project which we are most anxious to undertake, at least on a pilot basis, would be advance loans to municipalities to begin early land acquisition and rehabilitation or reconstruction under federal and State programs. A frustration for every community is the stop-and-go approach of many federal programs, which often leave land vacant for many years. With the approval of the federal government, the State could speed up redevelopment immensely and be reimbursed for its advance when the federal project was finally fully approved and funded. It should be noted that a major portion of funds assigned for the home ownership and rehabilitation loans, as well as the "seed money" loans, will be recoverable by the State over a period of time.

A Model Program

What I have presented here is, I think, a pioneering effort to maximize a state's limited resources in support of a major housing program—a program which does not impose upon private enterprise but rather spurs it and works through it—a program which will set a pattern for other states and for the federal government.

As you weigh this proposal, I ask you to remember that many families in New Jersey live in housing so poor as to be indecent, and that this condition is a spreading cancer which is surely weakening the whole body of our society. Let no one pretend to unconcern with these conditions, for they directly affect the whole State in the clearest possible way. They constitute a major cause of America's, and New Jersey's, grave social problems, and if we would revitalize New Jersey's health, we simply cannot ignore this crucial element of our affliction.

INSURANCE

As Chairman of the President's National Advisory Panel on Insurance, I had an opportunity to examine closely the shortage and/or unavailability of property insurance for urban areas. As our urban problems grow, loss ratios for insurance companies increase, until it becomes difficult, if not impossible, for the homeowner and small businessman to obtain adequate coverage at reasonable cost. Without insurance, no prudent businessman can establish, expand or continue his business, and no bank loans or mortgage financing can be made available for the construction, repair or improvement of property. Property insurance is therefore one of the lifelines of a city and a factor necessary to its growth.

I believe that an adequate supply of insurance in urban areas can and should be maintained. I shall submit to you legislation that would, first, authorize the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance to establish a plan whereby any individual who has sought and been denied property insurance can obtain an inspection of his property and a report advising him of the specific condition which renders his property uninsurable.

Insurance Pool

In some cases, these conditions can be and should be corrected by the owner; in others, properties may be intrinsically sound but rendered uninsurable by environmental factors beyond the owner's control. Therefore the legislation will further authorize the Commissioner to establish an Insurance Pool which will be required to insure such property at manual rates.

If government is to ask the insurance industry to assume such extra risks, government must also offer protection against catastrophic loss. There is now pending before Congress legislation which provides such federal protection. The legislation I propose will provide for a State Insurance Pool Liability Fund, as required by the federal legislation, permitting the State to meet Pool losses up to 5 per cent of the annual premium volume of standard insurance coverage in the State, after the Industry has absorbed an amount equal to 3 per cent of the annual premium value. With such a Pool and such a State financial commitment, the federal legislation will also accommodate any additional losses. My legislation will also authorize the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance to require the Pool to report to him quarterly the environmental conditions, listed by city, which would otherwise have limited property insurance, in order that hazards may be lessened.

In all these respects, my legislation follows the recommendations of the National Advisory Panel, a group which represented the local, state and federal governments as well as the private sector. I urge your prompt action on this essential program for homeowners and businessmen in our urban areas.

EMPLOYMENT

A great Governor of New Jersey and President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, once wisely said: "No one can worship God or love his neighbor on an empty stomach." And we in this State and nation cannot achieve healthier communities and happier lives for our citizens unless we cure the present cancer of unemployment which eats away at our society, breeding despair instead of hope, frustration instead of fulfillment. Without a decent job no man can live in dignity, provide a meaningful life for his family, or realize his dreams for his children.

Government, of course, bears a major responsibility for solving the unemployment problem. Like other employers, it can provide jobs, and New Jersey State government is now reaching out to the unemployed to fill vacancies. The Department of Civil Service is reviewing job requirements in an on-going program designed to lower unnecessary barriers to State employment. The Department of Community Affairs is actively seeking disadvantaged youth to fill 200 summer jobs with State government that require minimum skills.

New Jersey Alliance of Business

But the public sector alone cannot do enough. The primary responsibility for meeting our unemployment problems must rest with our corporate citizens, the employers. New Jersey business has recognized this responsibility, as exemplified by the recent formation of the New Jersey Alliance of Business. This group, in cooperation with the National Alliance of Business, is committed to find both permanent jobs for the hard-core unemployed and summer jobs for young men and women from poverty-ridden communities. Government will do its part in this effort by helping to seek out the unemployed and keep them on the job.

But the mere cooperation of government is not enough. Employment means not only making jobs available but also providing training. Many businesses will be able to train these workers at company expense, but, where necessary, the State must be prepared to subsidize such training.

Therefore, I shall submit to you legislation authorizing the Department of Labor and Industry to enter into contracts with employers to reimburse them for this training at a rate not to exceed $500 per trainee. I shall ask you to appropriate for this purpose $1 million—a cost far smaller than the cost, in welfare and other burdens, of hard-core unemployment.

Youth Service Program

The business community, in conjunction with federal and State programs, will put almost 10,000 youngsters to work in our State this summer. But there will remain 10,000 other school age youths throughout our State who are poor, who will be looking for work this summer, and who will be unable to find it.

At the same time New Jersey is ironically faced with a cut-back of 5,000 slots in the federal Neighborhood Youth Corps program. I therefore recommend that the State develop a Youth Service program to employ 5,000 youths in community service projects this summer. The average cost per youth will be $500 for a ten-week program, guidelines for which have been developed by the Governor's Manpower Coordinating Committee. I request that you provide $2.5 million for this program, to be administered on a grant basis by the Department of Community Affairs.

WELFARE

At the very outset of our consideration of welfare, let me emphasize that the current problem is not of New Jersey's own making. Because of such factors as the mobility of our population and new technologies, the welfare burden is truly national in character and requires a federal response. But until that response is forthcoming, we in New Jersey must either act or stand idly by while our cities and counties, and thus our local taxpayers, are crushed under the weight of skyrocketing welfare costs. I propose that we act—and act now.

I recommend that effective July 1, 1968, the State assume responsibility for payment of 75 per cent of the non-federal share of categorical assistance and 75 per cent of the cost of general assistance. The administration of all welfare programs, and therefore the cost of that administration, will remain with the counties and municipalities.

A proposal that the State assume 75 per cent of the non-federal welfare cost should not be interpreted as a denial of the merits of a complete State assumption of fiscal and administrative responsibility for welfare, which, given sufficient revenue, could and should be instituted. Rather, this proposal recognizes the priority of relief to county and municipal taxpayers against whom an extremely unfair share of public assistance costs is now levied.

Breaking the Welfare Cycle

My recommended plan also calls for the incorporation of several essential provisions of federal law which can help break the vicious cycle of welfare dependency. This improved public assistance program will require an appropriation of $54.5 million and will bring to New Jersey an additional $20 million in federal welfare funds. It will also produce a net saving to the counties of $20.8 million and to the municipalities of $11.1 million.

In order to ensure the most effective possible use of these released funds, I call upon the Chairman of the Joint Appropriations Committee to request all counties and municipalities that will realize in the forthcoming fiscal year a saving of $50,000 or more from this program, to submit to the Committee a detailed statement of how these funds have been utilized. In view of the sacrifices required to develop these funds and to assist the counties and municipalities, it occurs to me that the ongoing power from year to year of the Appropriations Committee would seem the most effective instrument for State oversight of the prudent use of such released funds.

The program improvements which I recommend are:

1. Legislation to permit families with dependent children to remain eligible for assistance if an unemployed father or under-employed parent resides in the home. New Jersey's failure to implement this program, which federal law has authorized since 1962, has placed an unintentional premium on broken and deserted homes. Action by this Legislature will thus help restore in many cases the family unit and the essential discipline and stability associated with it.

2. Implementation of recent federal legislation which provides funds for emergency assistance, limited to one month in a 12-month period, to families with dependent children.

3. Assistance for home improvements and repairs up to $500 to be made available where a welfare recipient, be he blind, elderly or disabled, owns his own home.

4. Revision of the State welfare law to authorize the introduction by county welfare boards of "presumptive eligibility." This revision will enable a board to provide assistance immediately in any case that appears to fall within a categorical program classification, subject, of course, to subsequent investigation.

Adoption of these recommendations will effect a substantial reduction in the public assistance burden on local property taxpayers; make our welfare system more humane and effective; and significantly increase the federal contribution to New Jersey's welfare costs.

Work Incentive Program

But we must also act firmly—and act now—to begin to break the so-called welfare cycle. The 1967 amendments to the Social Security Act make available federal funds to advance this vital effort through the Work Incentive Program. This program places upon the Department of Labor and Industry responsibility for the classification, preparation, training, and job placement of persons eligible for assistance under the AFDC program.

The Work Incentive Program will prepare AFDC recipients to function effectively in the labor market by placing them in on-the-job training, work training programs, or work experience projects. Federal guidelines propose that New Jersey fill 1,200 work incentive positions before June 30 at a cost to the State this fiscal year of $264,000 and, beginning July 1, an additional 1,700 positions, at a cost next fiscal year of $374,000. This total expenditure of $638,000 will attract more than $2.5 million in federal funds.

A necessary element of this important Work Incentive Program is a statewide program for the day care of children, as required by the 1967 amendments to the Social Security Act. I therefore request an appropriation of $800,000 to the Department of Institutions and Agencies to implement day care services for the 6,000 children of the estimated 2,900 Work Incentive Program participants who will require them. This sum will constitute the State's 15 per cent share of the total cost of the program for fiscal year 1969 and will provide for the necessary expansion of existing day care programs. New Jersey's goal in this respect must be not the provision of mere baby-sitting or custodial care, but the development of supportive services that will enable the children, like their parents who are equipping themselves for work, to break free of the welfare cycle.

Food Stamp Program

Many observers have been deeply impressed by the success of Food Stamp Programs in those counties which have taken advantage of them. I strongly urge the Boards of Chosen Freeholders in counties which have not yet initiated this program to earmark a small fraction of the savings that will accrue to them from the partial transfer of their welfare costs to the State to implement it as soon as possible. The creation of a Food Stamp Program in every county will require an aggregate expenditure by the counties of only one half million dollars, but this sum will attract $9 million in additional federal funds for this vital program.

Garnishment

On previous occasions, I have presented to you the merits of legislation that would prohibit discrimination by employers against employees whose wages are subjected to garnishment. While it is indisputable that judicial remedies must be available to creditors to collect honest debts, it is both illogical and inequitable to maintain a system which in the past has operated to penalize the poverty-stricken and preclude them from any opportunity to regain solvency. Today I also urge passage of a bill now before you to increase the amount of wages exempt from garnishment from the level of $18 a week, established in 1915, to an amount consistent with today's economy and income standards. These measures, designated as Assembly Bills Nos. 485 and 474, deserve your careful scrutiny and prompt passage.

State Membership on County Boards

Modern State government must develop improved policy communication with units of local government, especially when it assumes an increasingly large share of local program costs. To enable county welfare boards better to utilize the knowledge, expertise, and planning assistance available through the State Division of Public Welfare, and to keep the Division fully apprised of the programs, policies, and problems of the several boards, I recommend legislation providing for the appointment by the State Board of Control, subject to the Governor's approval, of a county resident as a State member of each of the county welfare boards. This State member will serve as a full-time board member and will reflect the policy concerns of the Division of Public Welfare and the Department of Institutions and Agencies in public assistance programs throughout the State.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

During these past few troubled weeks we have seen again the tragedy of civil disorder in New Jersey and across the country. Violence has spared neither our nation's capital nor our State capital here in Trenton. Today I am presenting to you a program not for the suppression of riots but for the elimination of their cause—not a plan for disaster but a blueprint for progress. I do not recommend this program as a submission to fear, but as a renewal of courage sparked by our own intelligence as fair and decent-minded Americans.

But no progress in any direction can be made in the absence of law and order, and every citizen in New Jersey must know, and shall know, that violence and crime under any and all circumstances, or for whatever cause, will not be tolerated nor permitted to endanger the public peace. We in the great American center—98% of us, black and white alike—know that only in the law and the Constitution may true justice and the protection of our whole society be found. We do not intend to show weakness in the face of violence.

Accordingly, to complement the highly effective tools already in our possession, such as the statute which makes the act of arson resulting in the death of any person a capital crime, I am forwarding to you today a bill to provide that any person who willfully and maliciously burns or attempts to burn or conspires with any other person to burn an occupied building shall be punished by a term of imprisonment not to exceed thirty years. I am also forwarding a bill to provide that any person disobeying a lawful order of a police officer during a legally declared emergency shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

But law enforcement must be not only firm but fair, efficient, and highly professional. We must ensure that the law is not only equitable and deserving of respect in fact, but that it is so perceived by every New Jerseyan. Accordingly, I am placing before you the following essential recommendations, which comprehend the impact of our entire legal structure—the police, the courts, the probation system—on our citizens.

Police Scholarships

First, we must recognize that the labors of the overworked and underpaid police officer in our urban areas—to protect a ghetto community for whose intolerable living conditions and consequent hostility he is not responsible—command deep public admiration. They command also a renewed effort fully to equip our police officers for their vital work—first of all in respect of the opportunity for better education and better training. I ask you to make available to the Police Training Commission the sum of $50,000 to be used for scholarships for the higher education of 200 selected local police officers, who will continue to work full time as they pursue their studies. I also ask you to set aside $25,000 for scholarship assistance to the State Police to enable 100 troopers to attend college while continuing to perform their duties.

Operation Combine

Second, as another essential effort to increase police professionalism I recommend that you appropriate $185,000, of which $130,000 will be a non-recurring expenditure for preparation of facilities, to expand the special police training program now conducted by the State Police at Sea Girt. These funds will enable the State Police, who have long conducted basic training for municipal police, to double the capacity of Operation Combine, a program designed last summer to prepare local law enforcement agencies throughout the State to prevent and control civil disorder. More than 800 senior local police officers from 265 municipalities have already graduated from Operation Combine, as have 78 State Police officers and 28 New Jersey National Guard officers. Many student observers from other states have also participated. The excellence of this program is nationally recognized, and it has led many other states to initiate similar training courses. My proposed expansion of Operation Combine will extend the widely acclaimed benefits of skill upgrading and increased professionalism to twice as many local police officers as can now be accommodated. This important request merits your immediate attention.

Attitudinal Testing

Third, the establishment and maintenance of peace in our communities requires in the first instance that all local police officers are by temperament and character worthy of the community's confidence. Attitudinal testing, if administered objectively and equitably, can provide this assurance. The Police Training Commission is now developing methods to administer such testing and to introduce it into the curriculum of the training courses required of all police officers in New Jersey. I request the appropriation of $50,000 for full development and administration of a meaningful screening program of this kind, which will enhance the respect accorded and due every police officer in New Jersey.

Police Cadets

Fourth, peace in our communities depends upon mutual respect between the police and members of the community. The loss of respect for police is not dissimilar to modern disrespect of all authority, the law, the courts, the family, the church, in fact of society in general, and mutual respect must be restored. In a number of cities throughout the country, this kind of respect has been markedly increased by the creation of a sub-professional police auxiliary composed of young men, many of whom reside in the community itself. This auxiliary of police cadets, or community service officers, not only provides job opportunities with the potential of promotion into regular police ranks after appropriate experience and training, but also evokes a recogdition among the poor that law enforcement is a noble profession whose objective is protection, not repression. I recommend that you authorize the Police Training Commission to pay 50% of the cost of police cadet programs in communities that develop effective programs with emphasis on the involvement of disadvantaged young men. I ask you to set aside $300,000 for this important program.

Further Action Against Organized Crime

Fifth, we must recognize that gambling, narcotics traffic, and other forms of organized crime strike especially hard at the poor. I am therefore requesting that $500,000 be made available for the recruitment of 60 additional State Policemen, thereby permitting the immediate assignment of 30 additional State Policemen to the organized crime section of their agency to strengthen State assistance to local crackdowns on organized crime, including narcotics enforcement. I also call your renewed attention to, and urge the passage of, a number of bills already introduced by my administration, generally with bi-partisan support, including witness immunity, State grand jury, Interstate Police Compact, and an anti-trust law, which are directed at the control of organized crime.

Increased Police Effectiveness

Sixth, increased effectiveness of our law enforcement efforts depends upon both technological advances and maximum utilization of available manpower and resources. In furtherance of State Police efforts to establish a modern statewide law enforcement communications network, I recommend an appropriation of $330,000 to permit an expansion of the present communications system and an additional $70,000 for two 50-unit emergency systems. I recommend, in addition, $475,000 to enlarge the staff and expand the physical facilities of the State Police Laboratory, and also $50,000 to be made available to the New Jersey Police Training Commission for a review of existing command structures and administrative costs of police service at the municipal level and for development of a comprehensive plan for the potential sharing of activities, personnel, and equipment.

Improved Police Recruitment

Seventh, to assist our municipalities in filling vacancies in police departments, the Civil Service Commission has already begun recruitment at military installations to attract many fine returning servicemen to police work in New Jersey communities, and is currently making arrangements to conduct examinations at those bases and immediately to bring together appointing authorities and successful applicants. Revision of the law to permit recruitment of non-State residents is essential in this regard, and I am forwarding legislation to you to this end. I believe that this effort will go far toward the recruitment for police work of minority group members and will improve recruitment in general. Furthermore, the Civil Service Commission is developing a title for bi-lingual officers which will not include the specific height and weight requirements that have in the past eliminated many fine young men of Puerto Rican extraction from candidacy as police officers. Finally, the Civil Service Commission is now establishing a separate title for special agents. Thus municipalities will be able to hire specialists in appropriate fields without undermining the present command structure of uniformed service. The Council Against Crime has examined all these important proposals in depth, and I commend your attention to their analysis of them.

Complaint Bureau

Eighth, I have asked the Attorney General to advise each county prosecutor that he should establish within his office a highly visible complaint bureau to which citizens may come with grievances against official activity and which will, on a clear and regular basis, give those persons information as to the disposition of those grievances. The Attorney General will designate a special deputy to coordinate these complaint bureaus and to assume ultimate responsibility for the fair disposition of all grievances. I believe that through this effort, confidence in the fairness of police and other official actions will be enhanced, while at the same time the serious damage to police morale often associated with a non-professional review system will be avoided.

Transfer of Municipal Courts

It is imperative that our judicial system administer justice firmly and fairly to all who come before the bar of justice. The operations of our municipal courts have a great bearing on the effectiveness of our law enforcement efforts and on public confidence in our system of justice. Many highly qualified observers, including the distinguished members of the Commission to Study the Causes and Prevention of Crime chaired by William George, have for some time proposed that the functions of the present municipal court system be transferred to a unified State court system. I endorse this proposal, but I fully recognize that it involves a host of complex problems. Their resolution will require the most thoughtful consideration and I therefore recommend the establishment of a special Commission, consisting of members selected by the three branches of our government, to conduct an exhaustive investigation of this proposal, to review the suggestions of the many groups concerned with our courts, and to recommend the best possible transfer system. This inquiry must proceed with deliberation and healthy caution, but I recommend that the Commission move forward to plan for a transfer of responsibilities that would take effect not later than January, 1971.

Recording in Municipal Courts

Short of this major reform of our judicial system, there are significant steps that can be taken now. First, in order to restore full confidence in our court system at its most fundamental and most visible level, I recommend that the State assume the expense of providing recording equipment for the municipal courts in all our cities with populations over 50,000. It is in these cities that the volume of cases makes such equipment especially necessary and that the absence of a record gives the impression of assembly line justice and sometimes deprives the accused of effective review. For this purpose, I request that $105,000 be appropriated to the Administrative Director of the Courts.

Strengthened Administration of Justice

Second, confidence in our courts will also be promoted by greater utilization of procedures to render the initial stages of the criminal process—arrest and bail—less traumatic, yet no less swift and sure. I recommend extension of the system of summons in lieu of arrest to include those accused of minor offenses normally dealt with at the municipal court level. Further I suggest more effective implementation of the release on recognizance system to achieve quick evaluation of an individual's background to ascertain whether or not it is necessary to retain him in custody to ensure his appearance at trial. Thus jobs will not be lost and families thrown on relief unnecessarily because of cumbersome processes of the law irrelevant to the goal of swift, firm, and fair justice. The probation aide corps which I propose—and which I shall describe momentarily—will permit a more prompt evaluation of arrested individuals. I also recommend that $25,000 be made available to the Administrative Director of the Courts for a thorough study of programs such as the non-criminal treatment of alcoholics, which has been effectively utilized in such places as New York City under the auspices of the Vera Institute.

Probation

I have often said that I believe no dollar of public money is more wisely used than a dollar invested in improving probation services to guide young people away from lives of crime and toward useful places in society. To prove this case, we need only compare the burden upon taxpayers of maintaining one person in a penal institution against the much lower cost of supervising the same person on intensive probation. For instance, the State spends approximately $2,100 per year for each inmate at the State Prison, $2,900 for each inmate at the Annandale Reformatory, and $4,900 for each inmate at the State Home for Girls, while the average annual cost of probation is estimated at approximately $300 per probationer. And the burden on taxpayers is multiplied when, as is often the case, the family of a prison inmate is added to the welfare rolls.

Hard practicality, not leniency toward lawbreakers, dictates that we spend the money necessary to expand our probation services.

One undeniable problem in this respect, however, is the increasing lack of communication between inner-city residents and the community at large. This breakdown, which is by definition dangerous, can be disastrous when it impedes the relationship between a probation officer and a youth under his supervision. At present, the high educational qualifications required for probation officers—namely a college degree—make it difficult to recruit for probation work persons whose own experience would help them bridge this gap.

Probation Aides

But I do not suggest that standards be lowered for entry into this noble profession. Rather, I propose that there be created within the various county probation departments the position of probation aide. This position would require only a high school diploma or its equivalent. With in-service training and college incentives, a program for probation aides would provide not only job opportunities for young persons but also a bridge between probation officers and the community. These probation aides, while always working under the supervision of the professionally trained probation officer, could reach into disadvantaged communities to help secure employment, housing and other services for probationers. I request that $350,000 be appropriated to the Administrative Director of the Courts for this program, which on a cost-benefit basis represents an extremely sound investment for society.

Division on Civil Rights

In order that the Division on Civil Rights may more effectively implement this State's exemplary civil rights law, I am recommending that an additional appropriation of $275,000 be made to it. With these funds the Division will be able to staff and maintain a third regional office in Camden and to establish branch offices in other key areas. In addition, this appropriation will permit the establishment of an Affirmative Action Unit to locate and overcome patterns of discrimination.

Expanded Real Estate Commission

I also ask that the New Jersey Real Estate Commission be enlarged by the addition of two members, and that the salaries provided for Commission members be increased from $4,000 to $5,000 per year. Acting in concert, the Real Estate Commission and the Division on Civil Rights can do much to make the ideal of fair housing a reality.

Stronger Consumer Protection

I also recommend an increased appropriation of $100,000 for the Office of Consumer Protection to establish a regional office in the southern part of our State and to expand its consumer education programs in the curricula of the public schools of our State. So that consumer credit is available to core city residents at fair interest rates, I also suggest the authorization of credit unions whose membership may consist of residents of a well-defined urban neighborhood or community.

NARCOTICS CONTROL

The complex and baffling problem of narcotics addiction and drug abuse is one of the most talked about but least understood social problems of our time. It is a vitally important problem because of the spread of its manifold evil effects among our youth.

Action is required in the two broad areas of prevention of new addiction and the rehabilitation of present addicts.

Education Against Narcotics

In the area of prevention, an important step we can take is to educate our youth as to the extreme dangers of drug abuse. Since the drug habit is so intractable, once begun, it is vital to head off its initiation because of ignorance or experiment. I have therefore asked the Commissioner of Education to take a number of steps to make facts about drugs known in our schools. Earlier this year the Commissioner circulated 5,000 copies of a comprehensive 65-page reference book on drugs for teachers in our schools. In response to a suggestion by the Senate Majority Leader, Senator McDermott, the Commissioner will form a speakers bureau staffed by experts including doctors, law enforcement officials, rehabilitation personnel, and other knowledgeable parties, to make appearances at local schools in forums and seminars with teachers and students.

I have also asked the Commissioner to arrange seminars on drugs, to be held this summer for teachers from school districts throughout the State, at which the fundamentals of drug addiction and detection can be imparted, much as they are to our police. An expansion of this immediate program by the fall would make it possible for a teacher from every high school and junior high school in the State to have attended this important seminar by the end of the coming school year. I have asked the prosecutors of our various counties, the New Jersey Narcotic Enforcement Officers Association, and the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs to participate fully in this program. An appropriation of $40,000 will be necessary for administrative costs and payments to teachers in lieu of salary during the seminars. I have also asked the Chancellor of Higher Education to explore with the trustees and presidents of the State colleges a new concentration on narcotics information in our teacher-preparation programs, especially in the fields of health education and physical education.

Additional State Police

Prevention also requires action in the field of law enforcement. Here I refer to law enforcement activities directed primarily against the narcotics vendor, who constantly seeks to create new addicts, and against the apparatus of organized crime that secures and distributes drugs in the streets. No more cruel or reprehensible class of persons exists, and an increase in our activities against them can only have a salutary effect on control of the size of the addict population with which we must deal. We must insist on severe punishment of these despicable purveyors of dangerous drugs, and on vigorous police action directed toward their apprehension. Elsewhere I have requested an appropriation of $500,000 for the recruitment of 60 additional State Policemen, at least 30 of whom will be assigned to the organized crime section of that agency. One of the major duties of that section will be undercover assistance to local governments in locating and apprehending those responsible for the pushing of drugs, and I therefore urge prompt approval of this request.

Rehabilitation

In the rehabilitation of present addicts, New Jersey has much to be proud of, but in truth there is no full and provable solution yet in sight in this or any other state.

In 1964 the Legislature unanimously passed, and I signed into law, Senate 210, which became Chapter 226 of the Laws of 1964 (N. J. S. A. 30:6C). With this landmark legislation New Jersey became the first State in the nation to offer hospitalization as a voluntary alternative to incarceration for noncriminal addicts convicted as disorderly persons. The law is an extraordinarily farsighted one, but several difficulties have arisen in its implementation.

First, there is not adequate validated scientific knowledge of how to keep a detoxified addict off his habit—how to rehabilitate him. This fact was early recognized by the Legislature's Narcotic Drug Study Commission, chaired by Senator Sandman, who was a chief sponsor of the bill. It was for this reason that the Department of Community Affairs sought and won a $1.1 million grant in 1967 from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity to determine the value of community involvement in narcotics rehabilitation and to provide experience in the use of new rehabilitation techniques. Through this program the Department is supporting the efforts of community-based groups in Essex, Hudson, Middlesex and Monmouth counties, and concrete programs are already underway in the first two of these counties. These groups will test, under the guidance of the Department of Community Affairs personnel of great authority in this field, all major rehabilitation techniques that have been attempted, under public or private auspices, elsewhere in the country.

Liberty Park Center

Furthermore, I have arranged with the federal Office of Economic Opportunity to make available to these community-based groups the former Job Corps center at Liberty Park, in Jersey City. This facility will greatly enhance planned rehabilitation activities, and the Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies will periodically inspect it pursuant to its designation by him as a temporary rehabilitation center under Chapter 226. I am hopeful that this program, which is functioning entirely without State funds, will help provide the knowledge and techniques necessary to make the rehabilitation phase of Chapter 226 work.

Coordinated State Effort

Second, because of the need for closer coordination of State efforts under Chapter 226, I have directed the Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies to strengthen the organization of his Department in this sphere consistent with the broad purposes of Chapter 226. The present Bureau of Drug Abuse Control will henceforth report directly to the Commissioner rather than to any Division head. The coordination, direction, planning, and supervision of all programs, including after-care clinics, under Chapter 226 will be placed under the Director of the Bureau. A research unit in the Bureau will be established to seek out innovative approaches to cure and control addiction, and to this end the Director will have close ties with the experimental program of Department of Community Affairs and with relevant federal agencies.

Medical Treatment and After-care Supervision

Third, experience under Chapter 226 has shown that some addicts volunteer for medical treatment in lieu of incarceration not because of a sincere desire for rehabilitation but because hospitalization appears less onerous than incarceration. Experts agree that in order to be treatable, an addict must genuinely seek rehabilitation and a change in his way of life. I therefore recommend that N. J. S. A. 30:6C-6 be amended to provide that when an addict opts for medical treatment in lieu of incarceration, the court must order confinement for such treatment for a minimum of six months with a mandatory probation period of five years. The court will retain jurisdiction to inflict the original sentence of one year should the addict violate his probation by a relapse into addiction or by other cause. By imposing a minimum of six months' medical confinement and five years' probation, we shall discourage addicts from taking the medical option unless they have a sincere desire for rehabilitation. We shall therefore have a much greater chance to rehabilitate those who do opt for medical treatment.

Narcotics Rehabilitation Centers

Finally, Chapter 226 has suffered from a shortage of facilities for housing addicts who choose medical treatment. Because of this shortage, and the need to reach a large number of addicts, the period of confinement has become quite short. We owe it to our citizenry, and to our police who work so hard to apprehend addicts, to keep them in confinement for an appropriate period of time, for their own good and for the good of society. I therefore recommend that you appropriate funds for the establishment of one or more narcotics rehabilitation centers for the reception and housing of addicts confined for medical treatment and rehabilitation under the new six months' minimum confinement period that I have recommended. Without these centers, this minimum confinement period cannot be administered effectively. On the basis of 350 resident addicts, such a center would require $1,080,000 annually in operating costs for the provision of an intensive program of work, individual and group therapy, counseling, and training in basic work and academic skills.

Narcotics Parole-Probation Officers

The precise priority of capital expenditures for centers of this kind will be determined in the forthcoming report of the Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey. With no prejudgment on my part as to the Commission's conclusions in this regard, I consider the initiation of this program so important that I request $500,000 to rent appropriate facilities, with an option to buy, until capital funds can be made available. Furthermore, to implement the five-year probation period that I have proposed, I recommend the establishment of a cadre of selected and specially trained parole-probation officers who would supervise in the community addicts discharged from the narcotics rehabilitation centers, and I ask you to provide $500,000 for this purpose. Also, I request $200,000 for the establishment of after-care clinics to be located in the areas of greatest need, for the testing and supervision of addicts on parole.

COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS

You and I must soon foreclose further delay on the institution of a fully adequate Medicaid program for New Jersey. Because of the greatly improved health care that Medicaid can bring to a sizeable number of our citizens, we must determine shortly its initial size and shape—and see to it that they fully reflect the unmistakable health needs of our people.

But as an immediate and necessary step to overcome carefully documented deficiencies in health services for the poor, I recommend the appropriation of $720,000 for the Department of Health to operate, or contract for the operation of, six community health centers in low-income neighborhoods. Each center would be staffed by a community medical service team, consisting of licensed physicians, registered nurses and para-professional community health aides. Physicians and the hospital or local health department with which each center would be affiliated would provide comprehensive supervision. I urge your prompt action on this important health proposal.

SUMMER RECREATION

Recreational facilities in our inner-city areas are often inadequate, and sometimes non-existent. To provide improved recreational opportunities for inner-city children this summer I have directed the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development to make maximum use of our outstanding State park system, which can accommodate, on the average, about 6,000 additional visitors on weekdays and 3,500 on weekends and holidays. Sponsors of groups of inner-city children—including boards of education, churches, and community action agencies—who wish to take advantage of our State parks will normally have to provide supervisory personnel and transportation. To ensure maximum participation of hard-pressed sponsors, however, I request an appropriation of $50,000 for the Department to provide seventy staff counsellors for the park system during the eight-week summer period and $100,000 for the Department to subsidize transportation costs where absolutely necessary.

To improve recreational opportunities within our inner cities themselves, I request $500,000 for the Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to administer, on a fifty-fifty matching basis with communities, a program for facilities that must be approved by the Bureau and that could range from fire hydrant sprinkler heads to portable swimming pools.

FINANCING THE PROGRAM

In suggesting this program to meet a New Jersey crisis of massive proportions, I recognize my responsibility to propose the source of funds for its accomplishment. But because of the clear control of this Legislature by the majority party, I can but propose, and thus do not have the final choice. I shall do so in good faith and with full willingness to share with you responsibility for the enactment of any tax program necessary to meet our obligations. These immediate obligations, as I have outlined them and as I honestly see them, break down as follows:

1. State assumption of a major proportion of welfare costs	$55.9 million
2. The urban program and law enforcement	20.2 million
3. The emergency State school aid program	25 million
4. The housing program	25 million
<hr/>
Total	$126.1 million

New Jersey's Needs

First of all, let us consider together whether the programs are really needed. In making this decision we must ask ourselves a number of questions.

Can we dispense with an adequate housing program which will provide several tens of thousands of family homes, when we know the realistic needs in this State run into the hundreds of thousands of homes?

Can we avoid the emergency State school aid program when we know how minimal it is in beginning to make up for the deterioration and deficiencies of the past—our past?

Shall we lay bare our society to crime and violence and narcotic addiction and hopeless frustration, and foster that alienation which will truly make us two nations, living as though in an armed camp, while we continue verbally to pledge allegiance to "One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all"?

Shall we condemn our fellow citizens, both those who honestly need welfare assistance and those local property taxpayers who are staggering under the burden of its support, to an unending Frankenstein-like welfare cycle, or shall we try to break that cycle and restore the family unit and provide training and incentive for useful work instead of permanent welfare dependency?

If we are convinced of the need of these programs, as I think we are, we must face this question: What shall we do about them?

Shall we be men of courage and reconciliation and vision and wisdom, or shall we jockey for political advantage and seek political asylum from our duty, to the immediate damage of our own State and the sure discredit of our own record as it will be written down in the history of these times?

Revenue Programs

I have confidence that together we shall do right, as we see the right. To that end, I have informed the leaders of this Legislature, first, that I shall not avoid responsibility for suggesting tax sources to sustain this program, and, second, that I am not stubborn in my views as to the means to accomplish the program, as firmly convinced as I am of the necessity of the program itself.

My first preference to meet the needs I have described is a graduated personal income tax at approximately half of the current New York income tax rates. I should like to tell you my reasoning:

1. This tax would scarcely affect (not nearly as much as does our present sales tax) the majority of the citizens of this State. A man earning $7,500, for instance, with a wife and four children, would pay less than $50 per year.

2. The tax paid to New Jersey would be deductible in computing income subject to federal taxation, and thus, millions of dollars would come to New Jersey instead of to the federal government, an outcome devoutly wished every year by taxpayers' groups and other informed citizens.

3. The yield of this tax for the half of the forthcoming fiscal year in which it would be collected would adequately meet the cost of the program I have outlined.

4. The ensuing full-year tax yield would enable us (a) to look forward to paying for a meaningful and not a pretended Medicaid program; (b) to defray more than $100 million in mandated increases, such as pensions, which will come due next year and be beyond the range of ordinary revenues and also beyond the practical control of any one of us to avoid; (c) to meet the initial debt costs of any capital program decided on by the people; and (d) to cope with the operating costs of any expanded college, highway, institutional, or other program which is in prospect.

But under apparent legislative policy, affecting members of both parties, it appears that an income tax would engender debate which would promote a long and possibly fruitless political controversy. No matter how that controversy eventually would be resolved, it would eat up valuable time in these next two months—the time remaining for the most important decisions a New Jersey Legislature was ever called upon to make. These decisions are emergent and vital. They cannot await the outcome of any long new-tax debate.

My position is clear. But if the Legislature is indeed unwilling to re-examine its position—as I believe it should—then, in the face of the present emergency, we must be prepared to look elsewhere.

The cost of the program I suggest could obviously be met by a one percent rise in the New Jersey sales tax and a five cent increase in cigarette taxes. And if this solution is not agreeable to the Legislature, the program might be supported by other sources of tax revenue, and I shall be glad to consider whatever conclusions you reach.

For as I have said, the program is of first importance to me, as it must be to you, and the nature of the tax revenue needed to support it is of secondary importance. Like you, I dislike taxes of any kind and, if such a thing were possible, might prefer to go on from year to year, stringing the beads and balancing the mirrors, a little excise boost here and a little gimmick there. But we have seen with our own eyes, in our own political lifetime, the result of such equivocation. It has brought us to a very sorry pass, and unless we wish to hurt our State and its communities and its people severely, we must come to our senses and, like other states, begin to pay our own way, provide for the needs of our own citizens, fulfill our own destiny.

I think we have come to the end of that happy road when the citizens of the most tightly run state government in the nation can be looked in the eye by a politician and blandly told that imaginary economies in government, or tightening the belt against make-believe extravagances, or buying time with another study or tax convention, or getting past another election year, or finding some mysterious kind of non-tax revenue, can solve our problems.

We have reached the day of reckoning. And I tell you very seriously and respectfully that we must act in these two months before us or this State over the next six years will sink into stagnation and despair that will take a quarter of a century to overcome. Dedicated New Jersey citizens who serve on our boards of education, as trustees of our colleges and universities, as boards of managers of our institutions, as members, for instance, of the distinguished Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey, and who serve the State in many other ways will soon begin to lose confidence if we equivocate any further. And our people and our communities—especially the most hard-pressed among them—will pay a heavy price indeed for further neglect on our part.

If you think I exaggerate, only look for yourself—look at our urban communities, at our rural poverty, at our rotting tenements, at our decaying schools, at the generations of youth we are wasting, at many other weaknesses in a State which could be a leader in the American community of states, if we would only face the truth and do our simple duty.

Let us proceed to that duty. Let us do that job—not as Republicans or Democrats, not as conservatives or liberals, not as men of the city or the suburb or the farm, but as men of courage and wisdom, bearing the trust of our fellow citizens who ask of us only one thing—to do our honest best.

ANNOUNCEMENT

By order of the Speaker, the Clerk will have the Special Message on Capital Needs, by Governor Richard J. Hughes, spread in full in the General Assembly Minutes.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON CAPITAL NEEDS
BY GOVERNOR RICHARD J. HUGHES TO THE LEGISLATURE

MONDAY, MAY 6, 1968

I transmit this special message to urge your approval of a program of capital construction for New Jersey—a program of emergent importance to the health and growth of this State.

A week ago the people of this State received the historic and sobering report of the Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey. The outstanding members of this Commission—citizens distinguished by their business and professional achievements and also noted for their prudence, indeed in some cases their conservatism, their sound fiscal judgment, and their undoubted credibility—have told us the harsh and uncomfortable truth.

They have concluded that we in New Jersey are failing dangerously to protect our common future. They have fully exposed the shame of past neglect—but they have also charted the course by which we can change to a proud and feasible and necessary grasp of the future.

They have based their findings on an unprecedented, rigorous and independent audit of our capital needs. Their report shows that they have weighed every question with the Missourian skepticism of “Show me.” And they have proposed, in the most lucid and compelling terms, that we must act—and act now—to save this State from falling into permanent second-class status.

I had asked this Commission, in probing our capital needs, to act with the freedom and objectivity of a grand jury. The Commission did exactly that—and listen to the indictment they returned:

“Everywhere that this Commission looked, it saw the tragic results of years of neglect. Passenger rolling stock is on the verge of collapse. Railroad stations are dark and dilapidated. Highways are choked. A severe drought brought us to the brink of real peril. Prisons and mental health institutions are patched and worn, with many positively inhumane facilities. Secondary and elementary schools are overcrowded and many of the older ones are sadly in need of repair or replacement. Our colleges and universities can accommodate only a fraction of our applicants, forcing most of them to go out of state. Our rivers are polluted and our cities are pockmarked with crumbling ghettos."

Listen to these further indictments:

"These conditions are all very serious in themselves, but they are also serious beyond themselves. Lack of adequate capital funds has undoubtedly contributed heavily to our racial problems and to the decline of our cities as centers of industry and culture,"

"Our Commission foresees a serious weakening of the economic and social stature of New Jersey if this regressive fiscal philosophy continues. We are deeply disturbed to see one of the wealthiest states in the nation apparently condoning conditions which could ultimately destroy it."

Finally, listen to the Commission's inescapable conclusions:

"The people of New Jersey have two great responsibilities to fulfill, and to fulfill now. First, we must eliminate the enormous backlog of capital deficiencies. Second, we must build toward the future. We must guarantee for ourselves a growth which will keep pace with our future obligations. Prudent expansion and preventive maintenance must be substituted for virtual stagnation in new construction and a massive accumulation of deferred maintenance,"

"The price of these years of inactivity in capital appropriations is now very large. But it must be paid if we are to prevent further atrophy and create a viable and progressive State."

For establishing this painful but essential truth beyond the shadow of a doubt, the Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey has earned the respect and gratitude of every citizen who truly cares about the well-being of this State. What the Commission has concluded is precisely what any group of responsible New Jerseyans would conclude if they too were to take the time and trouble candidly to assess our real needs. The Commission looked hard and honestly, and it saw and reported nothing more or less than the truth about this State. To respond to this truth—to overcome our dangerous weaknesses and to re-enforce our great basic strengths—the Commission has asked:

“How can we correct the faults without contaminating the virtues? This is a fundamental question, and it has only one answer—by introducing into our economy new capital funds from new sources.”

There is indeed only this one answer, and I concur fully with the Commission’s clear and reasoned judgment of what we must do now—as an “irreducible minimum”—to set New Jersey on a sound and progressive course once again.

Accordingly, I recommend that you authorize four bond issues to be placed before the people in the general election in November:

- | | |
|---|----------------|
| 1. Construction of buildings for education and institutions | 635.4 million* |
| 2. Transportation | 800.0 million |
| 3. Water Pollution Control | 190.6 million |
| 4. Conservation | 120.8 million |

These issues total $1.75 billion. The difference between this sum and the full Commission recommendation of $1.95 billion is represented by the vital public school construction program to which the Commission rightly attaches such great importance. However, to prevent any delay in this essential school construction program—to begin immediate repair and replacement of school facilities so run down and overcrowded, in overburdened and helpless school districts throughout the State, as to mock the notion of good education—I have recommended a substitute solution. I repeat my endorsement, as outlined in my April 25 message, of the plan advanced in January by the State Board of Education for State support of a three-year emergency school building aid program of $180 million. The State would assume responsibility in its annual budget, beginning with a $2 million appropriation this year, for the payment of principal and interest on local school bonds to support this program.

* This sum includes $492.4 million for higher education, $100.0 million for institutions, $27.5 million for vocational schools, and $15.5 million for a New Jersey public broadcasting system. I recommend this last figure, and not the $17.4 million proposed by the Commission, on the advice of the Commission on Public Broadcasting, which has succeeded in reducing by $1.9 million the construction estimate it submitted in March to the Capital Needs Commission.

Some in this Legislature might argue that overcoming this school collapse is a local responsibility, and not the business of the State. I point out, however, that when some of our seashore communities were flattened by the storm of 1962, their rescue became the business of the whole State, and citizens not immediately affected—say, the residents of Morris and Bergen Counties—helped to pay for that rescue. By the same token, residents and Legislators from South Jersey, although not locally affected, had no hesitation in coming to the aid of North Jersey commuters in the years when railroad passenger service began to collapse, and they paid, and are still helping to pay, the huge subsidies which are preserving that service.

If commuters and seashore municipalities are the whole State's business, are not the children whose lack of decent educational facilities disgraces us all also our business? Indeed, are not these children the State's most important business?

The Constitution forbids the selfish and shortsighted viewpoint which would deny this obligation, for it provides in Article VII of Section IV:

"The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen."

I also recommend that the vocational school construction of $27.5 million proposed by the Commission, to match federal funds in that amount, be included in the bond issues you will authorize.

I shall not burden you here with specific details of my entire recommendation for capital construction. These details are already available, or can be made available, to you from the Commission's report, from members of my Cabinet, and from a number of independent citizens' groups: Let me note briefly here, however, what this capital program will do for New Jersey:

It will provide spaces— desperately needed spaces— in our higher education system for 71,100 more undergraduates, 10,000 more graduate students, and 927 medical students and interns by 1975.

It will provide vocational facilities, in concert with federal matching funds, for 3,000 students.

It will provide a statewide system of public broadcasting which, in the judgment of the Commission, will "substantially aid the educational situation in the State and permit a marked upgrading in the quality of instruction in those areas which are now below average." It may be noted parenthetically that immediate State action in the field of public broadcasting is required to prevent permanent loss of the four remaining non-commercial UHF channels assigned to New Jersey.

It will provide for the renovation, rehabilitation, and relief of overcrowding at virtually all of our existing institutions. It will also provide for community mental health centers, rehabilitation facilities for narcotics addicts, a new children's unit at Trenton State Hospital, a new Somerset State School for the retarded who need institutional care, more than 900 of whom are still on our waiting list, and other equally important projects.

It will provide, together with federal funds and regular budget appropriations over the next five years, $325 million required for the revitalization of our dying commuter rail system, $725 million for essential State highway construction, $150 million in aid to local roads, and $25 million for improvement of our bus systems and airports.

It will provide $190.6 million as the State's share of $762.7 million of trunk sewer lines and treatment plants which are required now to conform with established health standards. These funds will qualify New Jersey for federal monies that will cover up to 55 per cent of the total cost of these critically needed projects.

It will provide $90.8 million for the acquisition and construction of reservoir projects, and $30 million for Green Acres matching programs.

In short, it will provide a measured and necessary response to New Jersey's fully documented backlog of capital needs and will enable the State to perform those minimum services—and no more than those services—to which the citizens of a first-class state are entitled.

The Commission has made several additional recommendations that merit your immediate and favorable attention. These include improvement of statutory bidding procedures, strengthened capital planning and control, adaptation to better seasonal construction schedules, and more orderly planning in the field of water resources and distribution.

Timing of the Program

The timing of this capital program is the consequence not only of sound management practices but also of the serious backlog of our capital requirements. The Commission reduced more than $5 billion in original requests to less than $2 billion, and it concluded—rightly—that a minimum program in seven crucial fields must be mounted now with no further delay.

Given the indisputable urgency of all these programs, and indeed of others beyond them, you and I simply cannot afford the luxury of leaving to another Legislature or another Governor, whose pressing concerns and special priorities none of us can anticipate, the task of providing for capital needs that we know we should accommodate now. I for one am not prepared—nor do I think you are—to relegate to some uncertain future date the minimum programs in highway construction, commuter rail transportation, college building, reservoir site acquisition, water pollution control, emergency school construction, or improvement of inadequate and even inhumane institutional facilities. We cannot simply forget, as if it were too much bother, about one or more of a range of capital programs that together represent only a bare minimum effort to avert the impending threat of grave social and economic weakness for this State.

There is one further important factor in the timing of this capital program that you must consider carefully. The program that the Commission has recommended, and that I endorse, calls for a major authorization of bond issues this year. But the bonds themselves will be drawn over a number of years, in certain cases up to 1975, depending on the plans outlined by the Commission. Why must the full program be authorized at this time—and why would it not be equally good to authorize the bonds each year in anticipation of the needs of that year? The answer is clear and undeniable: capital spending will never produce full value as long as it takes place on a crisis-by-crisis basis. It is precisely this method of operation that has plagued our capital programs for so many years: we have shored up crumbling walls instead of constructing them initially on a firm foundation.

Let me illustrate why capital commitments into the future, as I have recommended, are an economic necessity rather than a fiscal nicety.

Consider our languishing commuter railroads. What choice lies before New Jersey? If we will commit ourselves to the expenditure of $325 million that I have proposed, we can offer the commuting public facilities that will encourage, not discourage, their use. But if we were to begin their rehabilitation without an advance commitment for the full $325 million, or receive only half that amount, we might end up throwing away millions of dollars. For we would not have railroads that would attract back commuters or that could conceivably operate on a sound financial basis. In other words, if there is no commitment now for the full sum, and no assurance that the full $325 million will be forthcoming later, then we might better decide never to start on the rehabilitation of the railroads. How dreadful to think that we might deprive our citizens of such a vital service because of our lack of faith in their ability to see the need and to be willing to pay for it!

This same need for authorization now of capital programs—as opposed to piecemeal authorizations over several years—is just as apparent in highway, college, institutional, and other vital construction. A highway administrator, for example, might well embark on a comprehensive and badly needed construction and repair program only to find himself, because of the absence of an initial authorization of sufficient magnitude, compelled to cease operations in the middle of projects that would thereby be rendered totally useless to anyone. Similarly, an institutions administrator would be unable to plan and build modern and humane facilities if he were compelled—as has been the case to date in New Jersey—to work on a hand-to-mouth basis that permits only a patchwork capital effort at best.

The case for timing the bond issue authorizations as I have recommended them, then, rests on indisputable grounds of efficiency and practicability. Nor can we in good conscience request institutional patients at Greystone Park, for example, to suffer for several more years, pending an institutions referendum at some unknown date, or advise our commuters that they must continue to battle their way to work in disgraceful passenger cars or over crowded highways until the State's political leadership gets around to the problem. The Commission has identified, beyond the shadow of a doubt, too many essential interests to be served now for us to continue on the path of disorderly capital programming that has brought us to our present sorry pass.

Size of the Program

Closely related to timing is the question of the size of bond issues that you authorize now. I conclude, as does the Commission, that the size of the program it recommends is not too large but is rather an "irreducible minimum." And I can therefore not agree with those who argue that bond issues of this magnitude are too large for the public to accept in November.

Arguments to this effect, in my judgment, sell the people of New Jersey short. I am convinced that if you authorize this program on a strong bi-partisan basis, and if we all campaign actively for it, these referendums will follow the historic pattern for bond issues in New Jersey: that no bond issue since 1937 that has enjoyed strong bi-partisan support has failed to gain acceptance at the polls.

To those who remember with concern the defeat of the bond program five years ago, let me recall to you that this defeat was due chiefly to the lack of such bi-partisan support and to opposition, for various reasons, by powerful, almost unanimous elements of the press, by almost all civic and trade organizations, and by other influential groups throughout the State. But we are in different circumstances now. Because of the irrefutable presentment returned by the Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey—and the initial favorable reaction to it from many groups who five years ago opposed that bond program—I am convinced that the present bond issues will receive widespread if not unanimous support from all those elements, distinguished individuals and groups alike, whose efforts, together with support by both major parties, could guarantee the success of the present referendums. I therefore urge you, in the strongest possible terms, not to silence or discourage the deep concern and good will of so many citizens—not to sell the people of New Jersey short—but rather to give the people the chance to speak affirmatively on their wishes for our common future.

The distinguished Economic Policy Council, as you know, has also confirmed the prudence of bonding of this kind, which is characteristic of the capital programming practiced regularly by our most respected private corporations.

I hope, then, that by your statutory authorization and your bi-partisan support, to which I will add every possible effort on my part, you will permit the people of New Jersey in November to decide these issues and assure the future security of our beloved State.

Now, finally, the whole case rests with you—and only with you—not just for capital needs but for the urgent solutions to our pressing urban problems recommended in my message of April 25. Never in history has a New Jersey Legislature had such important decisions to make. Never has one body had such surpassing unilateral power over the destiny of the whole State. Never has a crisis been more plain, nor a challenge more compelling, nor a duty more demonstrably clear. But I must also say to you that there has never been a time when decent men have been more subject to certain temptations to sway them from their duty.

For you have it within your power to make a choice between that plain duty and a shallow and political response to the urgency of the times. You have it within your power to say “no new taxes” or “we cut the Governor’s program to pieces”, and thus bid for superficial popularity by appealing to the worst in public sentiment. But even such popularity is fleeting at best. For the people are quick to sense acts of political expediency. And I am convinced—as I trust you are—that any public official who, in the face of our emergent needs, trifles with the public interest will be remembered for his betrayal and quickly repudiated at the polls.

The majority members of this Legislature were elected under the slogan “a responsible Legislature”, and I am prepared to hope that it will be responsible. But will a responsible Legislature, thinking to oppose a Governor but really hurting the people of a whole state, succumb to the temptations before them? Will that Legislature stall until next year the 75 per cent takeover of welfare costs and the implementation of useful amendments which will restore the family unit and its discipline, and begin to break the terrible cycle of welfare dependency with work incentive opportunities to those on welfare rolls? Does this postponement make sense in order to tailor a deferred cost into some abbreviated package of haphazard tax sources? What possible justification can there be for such postponements? It is as though a man desperately ill, needing immediate hospitalization, were to postpone, at the risk of his life, medical attention which he needs now, “until next year.”

I repeat to you in the most serious way that New Jersey is very ill, and it is only you, not the other two branches of government, that can make it well again.

One of its illnesses beyond the welfare burden is the matter of housing. I have placed before you a housing program of integrity, of demonstrated workability, in which we can be partners with private enterprise like the Prudential Insurance Company and the home builders, reaching only a fraction of the housing deficit in this State, yet tipping the balance against the slums and tenements which befoul us. How can a responsible Legislature repudiate this program in whole or in part, when it is so obviously necessary to make our society well and whole again?

Shall emergency aid to education be denied and another generation of children condemned, in violation of our constitutional duty, so that someone can say "we cut the Governor's program down—we avoided new taxes"? Shall law enforcement measures, to which no valid exception can be taken, be put aside and our society laid bare and exposed to crime, narcotics addiction, and civil violence? Would a responsible Legislature do these things?

Maintenance of Effort

And let me point out another danger to you. The bond issue program which the Commission has proposed, and which I recommend, is based on the essential presumption that in regular annual budgets the State will fully maintain its present capital effort in institutions, commuter transportation, highways, and aid to construction of local roads, state and county colleges, and other vital projects. If this basic understructure, or maintenance of effort, is in any way eroded—as, for example, by an attempt to substitute bond issue funds for these normal annual appropriations and thus partially to avoid increased taxes for a time—the entire bond issue program will be aborted and the gross deficiencies in our capital system will not be overcome but will persist and, indeed, worsen.

As I have told you, I am no longer satisfied with my own deferral of certain capital expenditures in my Budget Message of February. But we have all learned something since then, and I trust that you will concur with me now, for the public record, that there must be no effort to subvert the bond issues—already described by the Commission as an "irreducible minimum"—by using them as a substitute for regular and absolutely essential annual capital appropriations. Let us all make it crystal clear right now that the bond issue program is designed to supplement, not to replace, our current inadequate capital program so that we may provide better, not identical or worse, highways, railroads, schools, colleges, institutions, and health and recreational facilities for the people of New Jersey.

I hope the Legislature will not confuse my candor with any thought of disrespect for it. Quite the contrary, I am banking everything—New Jersey is banking everything—on the good faith and responsibility of this very Legislature. My sincere hope is that it will be, as its majority members promised the public last year, "a responsible Legislature." But I believe in laying my cards on the table, as I have always tried to do with the people of New Jersey, who twice elected me Governor and trusted me. I point out to you that in my first term, just as now, I did not hesitate to speak of the needs and deficiencies of New Jersey in the plainest terms, suffering in 1963 a disappointing, even a humiliating, defeat of a plan I advanced to meet those needs. The election verdict of the people in 1965 convinced me that the people will not repudiate a public official who tells the truth, even the hard and uncomfortable truth.

Nobody trusts a doctor who glosses over a serious illness, nor a lawyer who conceals from his client a grave legal problem. And nobody will trust a public official who tells the people only what they would like to hear, when they know in mind and conscience that he speaks falsely.

But if we speak of "blood, sweat and tears," we can also speak—honestly—of the happy and productive results of this effort. And I am convinced that the people want to know the truth, bad and good alike.

For truth is a necessary component of responsibility. I hope and believe that truth will be the guidestar of the members of this responsible Legislature in meeting the State's heavy burdens.

Many people may be discouraged by the imbedded political history of this State, of winking at neglect for fear of change, or perhaps for fear of the people. But we must never forget that the tide of history need not run against

New Jersey, but can go in the direction in which strong and decent men compel it to go. There are strong and fine members in this Legislature, and you represent the people of New Jersey—they too are strong and decent.

But before the people speak, this Legislature, and only this Legislature, can decide whether our highway system is to collapse, whether our commuter transportation system must die, whether our cities must languish and then explode, whether the shame of our educational and institutional systems must continue—in other words, what kind of state New Jersey shall be.

And the time for decision is short.

As the time for action by this Legislature shortens, the shadows are lengthening over New Jersey—and only this Legislature can decide whether these shadows will plunge it into a dark age of neglect and shame from which it might never be able to emerge.

I wish you godspeed in making a decision which instead could mean the illumination of new hope for New Jersey and show us the way to leadership in the community of the United States of America.

The Special Message on Capital Needs, by Governor Richard J. Hughes, to the Legislature, was received and distributed to the individual members at their desks.

Mr. Kean offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

WHEREAS, The Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, an organization of American citizens of Ukrainian descent which is vitally interested and actively involved in the movement for human rights in the United States, in the country of origin of many of its members, Ukraine, and in the world at large, held a rally in Newark on May 5, 1968, to focus the attention of the people of this State, the Nation and the world on the plight of their persecuted brethren in Ukraine; and

WHEREAS, The Ukrainian Congress Committee of America is making an urgent appeal to the International Conference on Human Rights which is meeting in Teheran from April 22 to May 13, to institute the necessary actions through the United Nations to investigate the gross violations of human rights by the Soviet Government in Ukraine, to prevail upon that government to discontinue its policy of Russification which amounts to virtual physical and spiritual genocide of the Ukrainian people, and to establish measures of international control for the protection of the basic political, civil, economic, social and cultural rights of the Ukrainian people; and

WHEREAS, The international press, beginning in 1966, has provided a vast amount of documentation of suppression of Ukrainian culture in Ukraine by Moscow, despite the illusory existence of the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic as an "equal" charter member of the United Nations, and now, a book by Vyacheslav M. Chornovil, Portraits of 20 'Criminals', a Ukrainian TV journalist and a member of the Comsomol, provides irrefutable proof of the veritable pogrom of Ukrainian intellectual life in Ukraine conducted by Moscow; and

WHEREAS, These violations of the human rights of the Ukrainian people by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics are in direct contravention of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights, to which the Soviet Union is a signatory; now, therefore

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. That the highest commendation of this body be extended to the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America for their untiring efforts in behalf of human rights in the United States, Ukraine, and the world at large.

2. That the collective voice of this body be added to that of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America and to the surging cry of peoples throughout the world in appealing to the International Conference on Human Rights, to the United Nations, and to all governments, to respect, to preserve, and to aid in the advancement of human rights for all mankind.

Be It Further Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Minutes of the General Assembly and that a duly authenticated copy, signed by the Speaker and attested by the Clerk of the General Assembly be forwarded to the Ukrainian Congress of Committee of America.

Whereupon the Clerk delivered Assembly joint resolution referred to in the Senate message to Mr. Vreeland, Chairman of the Assembly Joint Committee on Passed Bills, for presentation to the Governor for his approbation, and Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49 for presentation to the Secretary of State.

The Clerk read the following message from the Governor :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 13, 1968. }

Assembly Bill No. 521

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 521, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would exempt from the benefits of the overtime provisions of the Minimum Wage Law, all employees in "seasonal amusement occupations". This operative term, however, is so vaguely defined as to impart to the measure effects which I believe are both unintended and unwarranted.

For example, the bill provides that a "concession bordering the Atlantic Ocean" is to be considered an exempt seasonal amusement occupation. If the word "concession" is to be given its legally accepted meaning—a grant of a mercantile privilege on the premises of another—a business operated by a concessionnaire would be exempt but the same kind of business, if operated by the owner of the premises, would have to pay overtime. I cannot believe that the draftsmen of this legislation intended such an incongruous result. Yet, I find little assistance in the bill in trying to determine what in fact was intended.

I find the remainder of the phrase, "bordering the Atlantic Ocean", to be even more troublesome. It is impossible to determine whether the exemption is to apply throughout counties which border on the Atlantic Ocean, or in municipalities bordering the ocean, or in parts of those municipalities or whether the draftors intend that the concession itself must physically border the ocean. Such lack of precision defies sensible administrative interpretation.

Further, the bill purports to exempt any establishment exclusively used as an "amusement or recreational establishment" so long as it is not operated for more than 7 months in any calendar year. Swimming pools, bowling alleys, camps, race tracks, resort hotels are but a few of the businesses, the employees of which, would be deprived of overtime pay.

Finally, this bill, by exempting retail eating and drinking concessions, would undo not only the protection afforded employees of this State by the 1966 Minimum Wage Law, but would also undo the protection which has been accorded to females and minors under administrative wage orders entered as early as 1956.

If such board incursion upon the coverage of the Minimum Wage Law was not the intention of the sponsors of this legislation, Assembly Bill No. 521 must be rejected to await clarification of this intent. If, however, such general effect was the intention of its sponsors, this proposal must be rejected as a gross retrenchment from the enlightened and equitable protection afforded to the working people of this State by the Minimum Wage Law.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return this measure without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

RICHARD J. HUGHES,
Governor.

LAWRENCE BILDER,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 265

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 265, without my approval, for the following reasons:

MONDAY, MAY 27, 1968

This bill would require the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles to issue specially designed registration plates to holders of amateur radio licenses. Each "ham" radio operator in the State would be entitled, upon payment of an extra fee of $10.00, to receive plates bearing his distinctive radio call letters. These call letters ordinarily consist of one or two letters followed by one number and two or three additional letters. These call letters do not fall within the existing series of New Jersey plates and do not follow any consecutive pattern of their own. Incalculable costs and difficulties would result from the disruption of the present central record system of the Division of Motor Vehicles, which is geared to a registration plate designation of three letters followed by from one to three numbers.

The State Auditor has recommended that the present categories of license plates be consolidated in order to improve further the efficiency of the present processing system. I agree that we ought to move in this direction toward even greater efficiency, rather than create a new category, especially when this new category will not even consist of a sequential series. Furthermore, approval of this bill would invite efforts by other worthy groups to secure the issuance of special plates, thus contributing to additional weakening of our present system.

A two-year study conducted by the College of Engineering of the University of Illinois concluded that the best system of license plate identification would include no more than six characters and that if letters and numbers were used, letters should be grouped together at the beginning or end of the series. New Jersey follows this recommended pattern. The report also recommended that special plates with amateur radio station call letters be discontinued because they are "non-uniform and confusing."

Bills similar to the present measure were vetoed by Governor Meyner in 1955 and by me in 1964. The reasons for those vetoes remain valid today.

It is argued that New Jersey should adopt special plates for "ham" radio operators because other states provide such call-letter plates. Most other states, however, do not have New Jersey's uniform registration plate format with its advantages of swift and accurate identification of motor vehicles. Furthermore, most of our sister states issue plates once each year and close out their records at the end of each year, while our New Jersey system entails the expiration of one-twelfth of all outstanding registrations during each calendar month. This staggered system provides greater efficiency, but means that the records of the Division of Motor Vehicles are in a constant state of flux and must be continuously updated. The provision of special plates, outside of any sequential series, to a small number of persons would seriously impede this procedure.

At a time when New Jersey, beset by both fiscal and moral crises, is striving to attain the greatest possible efficiency in governmental operations and to improve law enforcement and highway safety, it is regrettable that the Legislature proposes a step which would reduce efficiency and hamper law enforcement and highway safety efforts.

I especially regret the insistence by the Legislature in presenting this bill to me immediately, instead of following the customary courtesy of holding the bill until I have had ample time to review its provisions. In this case, I would have appreciated the opportunity to explore some possible compromise which would have recognized the outstanding public services performed by "ham" radio operators but which would not have produced the disruptive effects which would result under this bill. It is apparent, however, that some legislators preferred to force the veto they knew would inevitably be required, rather than to seek any accommodation.

As I suggested in my 1964 veto message of a similar bill, one means of providing the identification which "ham" operators seek, while avoiding disruption of our regular licensing system, might be to provide for smaller plates to be attached along the top of regular registration plates. As I said in 1964, I would be sympathetic to any proposal which would accomodate the desire of amateur radio operators for distinctive insignia provided this does not intrude upon the overriding public interest in maintaining an accurate and efficient motor vehicle registration system. To protect that public interest, however, I must return this bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,

Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 70

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 70, without my approval, for the following reasons :

This bill authorizes the Director of the Division of Budget and Accounting in the Department of Treasury, with the approval of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the General Assembly, to contract with a recognized management consulting firm for an annual study of the salary and other benefits and work productivity of State employees, and to prepare a comparison thereof with comparable private employment. The bill appropriates $100,000 to cover the cost of the initial study.

The study which would be authorized by Assembly Bill No. 70 is clearly duplicative of the on-going activities of the Division of Research and Planning within the Department of Civil Service and of the work of the Commission to Study Efficiency and Economy in State Government. The Division of Research and Planning, operating on a considerably smaller annual budget than $100,000, continually reviews and analyzes the performance and salary and fringe benefits of State employees, and compares the same with public employees in other states and with private industry. The Commission to Study Efficiency and Economy in State Government has recently completed an extensive review of the procedures followed and structure of the Department of Banking and Insurance. It has made significant recommendations for improvements in that Department. If $100,000 is to be spent, I believe that it can more profitably be used to finance the on-going activities of the Commission.

When I have recently been informed by the legislative leaders that there are insufficient funds to finance a number of programs designed to alleviate the illness of our urban centers, I am constrained to withhold my approval from any measure, such as Assembly Bill No. 70, which is so obviously wasteful. To expend $100,000 this year, and perhaps as much each succeeding year, for the purpose of studying that which is already being studied, when that same amount could be used to provide summer employment for 200 needy youngsters, or to pay one-third of the cost of a vital police cadet program, or to finance substantially all of the cost of a neighborhood health center, seems to me to be a gross distortion of priorities in this time of crisis. Finally, it should be apparent to all that the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 70 would hurt rather than help our State employees, for it is certain that any additional benefits recommended by the Department of Civil Service will be delayed pending the completion of the new survey which Assembly Bill No. 70 would authorize.

For these reasons, I am returning this bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

ASSEMBLY BILL No 146

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 146, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Enactment of this bill would create uncertainty as to what boundaries would be in effect for this year's elections in at least four congressional districts. Unlike Senate Bill No. 330, this measure would not be limited in its effect to only two congressional districts. This bill creates a "domino effect" which may well require alterations in one or more additional districts besides the three which are changed by the terms of the bill. The resulting chaos could affect not only the district boundaries but also the timing of our electoral processes.

Especially in view of the decision of the New Jersey Supreme Court in Koziol v. Burkhardt, enactment of this bill could trigger court-imposed alterations in the boundaries of several districts. In Koziol, the State Supreme Court ordered changes in the boundaries specified in Senate Bill No. 330 in order to eliminate constitutional objections to that measure. The Court moved five municipalities from the districts to which they were assigned by the Legislature to the neighboring district in order to decrease the population disparity between adjacent districts to an absolute minimum.

This bill purports to alter only the boundaries of the Fifteenth, Third, and Sixth Congressional Districts. Its enactment would, however, raise a question as to whether the line between the Sixth and First Districts in Camden County would also have to be altered as a consequence. In Jones v. Falcey, the New Jersey Supreme Court declared:

"[W]e find no . . . justification for some of the deviations where county lines are broken and the mathematical ideal could be more nearly approached by redeployment of whole municipalities lying at the borders of the districts.

... [T]he command is to achieve equality, and a limited deviation is permissible only if there exists an acceptable reason for the deviation. So, a limited deviation may be acceptable if it is needed to stay with the lines of existing political subdivisions and thus to avoid the spectre of partisan gerrymandering. But the deviation may not exceed what the purpose inevitably requires. In other words, the command is to achieve population equality "as nearly as practicable," and if equality would be more nearly achieved by shifting whole municipalities to a contiguous district, the draftsman has not achieved equality "as nearly as practicable," unless some other constitutionally tenable reason (if there is any) can be shown to justify the disparity. If the lines of political subdivisions are ignored, there is no apparent reason for not achieving mathematical equality, subject of course to inevitable de minimis variations." 48 N. J. 25 at 37.

The court, in applying these rules in Jones v. Falcey to the First and Sixth Districts, determined that the disparity between the two districts should be decreased by transferring municipalities from the Sixth to the First District. The Legislature accomplished this in Senate Bill No. 18 of 1967 by moving Audubon and Haddonfield. This leaves a disparity at present of only 2,145 between these districts.

Assembly Bill No. 146, by transferring Ocean County communities with a population of 31,338 from the Sixth to the Third District, would increase the disparity between the Sixth and First Districts to 33,483. This might well require another boundary adjustment in Camden County—such as moving Haddonfield back to the Sixth District—to decrease this disparity and bring both the First and Sixth Districts closer to the ideal.

I wish to make it clear that I fully sympathize with the desires of many residents of Middlesex County that their county constitute a single congressional district. The facts remain, however, that the present population of Middlesex County is far in excess of the ideal population for a congressional district, and that the County is continuing to grow at a faster rate than the State as a whole. If it were possible now to make Middlesex County a single district, the County would still have to be divided again following the 1970 census. The most recent population estimates prepared by the Department of Conservation and Economic Development indicate that as of July 1, 1967, Middlesex County had a population which was 20.0 per cent in excess of the ideal for a district (one-fifteenth of the total state population). Even under the 1960 census figures, Middlesex County had a larger population than any of the present congressional districts in New Jersey.

The litigation and confusion likely to result from this bill completely overshadow any temporary feeling of satisfaction that the citizens of Middlesex County might gain from its enactment. This bill clearly illustrates the difficulties inherent in piecemeal redistricting. The objections to piecemeal redistricting which I previously expressed in connection with Senate Bill No. 330 apply with even greater force to this measure.

I ask this Legislature to consider whether this bill is worth its cost in confusion and chaos. I believe it is time to call a halt to this petty tinkering with district lines and to turn our attention back to the real problems confronting our State.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] RICHARD J. HUGHES,
 Attest: Governor.
 LAWRENCE BILDER,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 521

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 521, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would exempt from the benefits of the overtime provisions of the Minimum Wage Law, all employees in "seasonal amusement occupations". This operative term, however, is so vaguely defined as to impart to the measure affects which I believe are both unintended and unwarranted.

For example, the bill provides that a "concession bordering the Atlantic Ocean" is to be considered an exempt seasonal amusement occupation. If the word "concession" is to be given its legally accepted meaning—a grant of a mercantile privilege on the premises of another—a business operated by a concessionnaire would be exempt but the same kind of business, if operated by the owner of the premises, would have to pay overtime. I cannot believe that the draftsmen of this legislation intended such an incongruous result. Yet, I find little assistance in the bill in trying to determine what in fact was intended.

I find the remainder of the phrase, "bordering the Atlantic Ocean", to be even more troublesome. It is impossible to determine whether the exemption is to apply throughout counties which border on the Atlantic Ocean, or in municipalities bordering the ocean, or in parts of those municipalities or whether the draftors intend that the concession itself must physically border the ocean. Such lack of precision defies sensible administrative interpretation.

Further, the bill purports to exempt any establishment exclusively used as an "amusement or recreational establishment" so long as it is not operated for more than 7 months in any calendar year. Swimming pools, bowling alleys, camps, race tracks, resort hotels are but a few of the businesses, the employees of which, would be deprived of overtime pay.

Finally, this bill, by exempting retail eating and drinking concessions, would undo not only the protection afforded employees of this State by the 1966 Minimum Wage Law, but would also undo the protection which has been accorded to females and minors under administrative wage orders entered as early as 1956.

If such broad incursion upon the coverage of the Minimum Wage Law was not the intention of the sponsors of this legislation, Assembly Bill No. 521 must be rejected to await clarification of this intent. If, however, such general effect was the intention of its sponsors, this proposal must be rejected as a gross retrenchment from the enlightened and equitable protection afforded to the working people of this State by the Minimum Wage Law.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return this measure without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

RICHARD J. HUGHES,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
June 3, 1968.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 256

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 256, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend Section 2A:8-9 of the New Jersey Statutes for the purpose of granting to the judges of the various municipal courts of this State the right to accept fees or gratuities in connection with their services in solemnizing marriages. Inasmuch as this measure would give official sanction to a practice which is of questionable propriety and which is contrary to the announced policy of the Supreme Court of New Jersey, I must withhold my approval therefrom.

The express statutory law of this State has for the past twenty years restricted the compensation of municipal judges to the annual salaries fixed by municipal governing bodies. This restriction was but one example of a broad-scale legislative trend to eliminate the potentiality for abuse inherent in a system of compensation for public officials—particularly members of the judiciary—predicated upon fees collected for the discharge of their official duties. Retrenchment from this movement, however slight, runs counter to contemporary understanding of the most sound principles of judicial administration and compensation. Enactment of Assembly Bill No. 256 at a time when New Jersey is striving to maintain its reputation for pre-eminence in the administration of its judiciary would be regrettable.

Just three years ago the Supreme Court of New Jersey had occasion to state its policy on the practice that would be permitted by Assembly Bill No. 256. The following language appeared on page 2 of Municipal Court Bulletin Letter #115, September, 1965, sent to all municipal judges by the Administrative Director of the Courts:

“The Supreme Court has requested me to advise all magistrates and judges that it considers it to be highly improper for them to accept a fee or gratuity for performing a marriage ceremony. The Supreme Court also is of the view that court clerks and other court employees may not accept a fee or gratuity in connection therewith.”

This firm view of the Supreme Court was reaffirmed by a similar memorandum from the Administrative Director of the Courts to the chairmen of the County Magistrates' Associations in November, 1965. I have recently been advised that the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court does not contemplate any change or shift in the announced policy of the Supreme Court on this issue.

There can be no doubt whatsoever that all three co-equal branches of State government—Executive, Legislative and Judicial—share the responsibility of protecting the overriding public interest in honest and efficient administration of our courts. With respect to Assembly Bill No. 256, however, I believe that the public interest will be served best by Executive and Legislative deference to the judgment of the Judiciary. I am constrained to give even greater weight to the judgment of the Supreme Court, when, as with this bill, the Legislature—in another break with custom and courtesy—presents me with a bill for my approval and thus denies me ample time to explore alternative courses of action. For these reasons, then, I must return Assembly Bill No. 256 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 157

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 157, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would confer permanent civil service status, without competitive examination, on certain persons who have been temporarily employed for at least six years as correction officers in the Department of Institutions and Agencies. I am advised that the measure is designed to benefit persons employed at the Annandale Reformatory who are presently ineligible by reason of age to take the regularly scheduled civil service examinations. I am further advised that these men have completed an average of thirteen years of successful service at the institution and are deserving of the job security which this measure would confer upon them. While I do not object to the obvious purpose of this bill, I must nevertheless register my sharp disapproval of the manner by which it seeks to accomplish that purpose—certification to the permanent civil service without examination.

The problem to which Assembly Bill No. 157 is addressed is not novel. The Legislature has on prior occasions lifted age barriers so that deserving employees could be made part of the permanent civil service. A case clearly in point is provided by chapter 182 of the Laws of 1954, approved by my predecessor, Governor Meyner, which was also designed to bring into the civil service a number of over-age correction officers at the Annandale Reformatory. That measure, unlike this, required that an appropriate examination be passed prior to certification.

Both the Constitution and the statutes of this State require that appointments to, and promotions within, the civil service of this State shall be made according to fitness and merit to be ascertained, as far as practicable, by competitive examination (N. J. Constitution, Article VII, Section I, paragraph 2; Section 11:4-2 of the Revised Statutes). Clearly, an examination is practicable in the instant situation and such an examination can be designed so as to be compatible with the age of the applicants. Under these circumstances, I can only view Assembly Bill No. 157 in its present form as an incursion upon the high public policy stated in the Constitution and statutes of this State.

For these reasons, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 157 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 2, delete "allocated to the classified" and insert in lieu thereof "disqualified by age from taking the civil".

On page 1, section 1, line 3, before "who" insert "and".

On page 1, section 1, line 3, before "employed" insert "continuously so".

On page 1, section 1, line 3, after "employed " insert "prior to April 1, 1962,".

On page 1, section 1, line 3, delete "in" and insert in lieu thereof "on".

On page 1, section 1, line 3, delete "capacity" and insert in lieu thereof "basis,".

On page 1, section 1, line 5, delete in its entirety.

On page 1, section 1, line 5, delete "ployed on January 19, 1968".

On page 1, section 1, line 5, after "shall" insert "upon the passage of this act,".

On page 1, section 1, line 5, delete "reported to the Civil Service".

On page 1, section 1, line 6, delete "Commission for certification, without examination,".

On page 1, section 1, line 6, before "in" insert "placed".

1003

“Such persons shall, from the effective date of this act,” and insert in lieu thereof “of the civil service; provided, however, that such persons shall be required to take the written and oral examinations and a physical examination compatible with age, to be conducted by the Civil Service Commission within 30 days of the effective date of this act. Upon passing said examinations such correction officers, so employed on a temporary basis prior to April 1, 1962, and who were so employed on January 19, 1968, shall be placed in the classified service of the civil service of this State, with permanent status effective as of January 19, 1968.”

On page 1, section 1, line 9, delete in its entirety.

Any such tax payments which the corporation is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make may be computed on an annual basis which shall not be less than the amount of taxes upon the property when last assessed prior to its acquisition by the corporation. Every county and municipality wherein such property shall be acquired by the corporation is authorized, empowered and directed to enter into such tax agreements with the corporation to accept tax payments which the corporation is herein authorized, empowered and directed to make. Moneys in such funds shall be held and applied solely to the payment of tax payments of the corporation as the same shall be due and payable, and shall not be withdrawn therefrom if such withdrawal would reduce the amount in such fund to less than the 'property tax reserve,' as hereinafter defined, except for payment of tax payments then due and payable and for which payments other moneys of the corporation are not then available in accordance with the terms of any tax agreements or said contracts. As herein used 'property tax reserve' means, as of any date of computation in a particular year, the total amount of money required by the terms of all tax agreements of the corporation to be raised in such year for tax payments reduced by the amount of all prior tax payments made in such year.

The Clerk read the following message from the Governor:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 287

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 287, without my approval, for the following reasons:

The sole effect of this bill would be the repeal of chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967. I must discard the argumentative contents of the statement attached to this simple repealer bill. As a matter of fact, more than a year ago I was privileged to approve chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967, which was originally introduced in the Legislature as Assembly Bill No. 896 of that legislative year. My decision to approve that bill was predicated upon my hopeful assessment of its potential, through the vehicle of the Delaware River Port Authority, for achieving a goal shared by the members of both political parties represented in the Legislature—the development of comprehensive port facilities in Camden, New Jersey and Chester, Pennsylvania.

My approval of Assembly Bill No. 896 a year ago provided a legislative basis for a feasible program for the development of badly-needed port facilities along the Delaware River. It was the product of extensive consultations with many persons and organizations—port development experts, shipping concerns, mayors of affected municipalities, investment bankers, representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Commissioners of the Delaware River Port Authority and the South Jersey Port Commission. Indeed, one of the co-sponsors of Assembly Bill No. 896 was the then Assistant Minority Leader, who, strangely enough, just one year later, as Assistant Majority Leader, is also co-sponsor of this bill, designed to halt chapter 84's approach to port development.

As is usually the case with all major public issues, my decision a year ago to approve Assembly Bill No. 896 of 1967 as chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967 represented the adoption of but one of several alternative possible approaches to port development along the Delaware River.

I fully recognize now, as I did then, that no one of the alternative programs for port development has an absolute claim upon sure success. I do not have a closed mind to a program differing in fundamental thrust from chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967, so long as it contains reasonable assurance that the long-awaited port development along the Delaware River on the New Jersey side will occur, taking into consideration the relationship of that port development to the general welfare of the State of New Jersey. Thus I might well be willing—if presented with a reasonable, workable alternative to the approach reflected in chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967—to approve its repeal as a part of the adoption of such new development plan. The public interest will rarely suffer if responsible decision-makers are presented an opportunity—such as I enjoyed last year when I approved chapter 84—to choose between solid alternatives.

Unfortunately, however, the action of the Legislature in presenting me with Assembly Bill No. 287 has denied me—and indeed the people of this State—that opportunity. As it stands now, the Legislature has not placed before me any constructive alternative to the program represented by chapter 84. A repealer of chapter 84, therefore, would leave the State completely unequipped to embark upon Delaware River port development of any kind. I have urged port development for many years and I believe that the people and the business community of Southern New Jersey are solidly impressed with the need for such port development. As stated, the repealer of chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967 with no alternative passed through the Legislature and available for my approval, would leave this State in a position where port development in the Camden County area might never occur.

Consequently, until such time as I am presented with a sound alternative to chapter 84 of the Laws of 1967, there would seem to be no reason whatsoever to approve its repeal. I must, therefore, consider Assembly Bill No. 287 as an instrument which, instead of encouraging port development or making it possible, might well surrender for future generations any prospect of port development in the Camden area.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

Attest:

Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
June 20, 1968. }

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 862

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 862, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Assembly Bill No. 862 amends the Motor Vehicle Law to raise the various fees chargeable for motor vehicle registrations, licenses and permits. It is part of the Legislature's revenue package to finance the cost of government in the State. I have previously indicated publicly that I would approve such increase in fees should they be required for the purpose of providing funds to carry on the essential business of government.

As originally introduced, this bill dealt exclusively with the question of increased fees and touched on no other aspect of the Motor Vehicle Law. It was so accepted and recognized, I am sure, by the members of the Legislature.

On Monday, June 17, 1968, Assembly Bill No. 862, which had received second reading in the Senate on June 10, 1968, was referred back to second reading and amended. It was thereafter passed as an emergency measure in the Senate and the Senate amendments were immediately concurred in by the Assembly. Obviously, as a result of this rush to pass the legislation, few, if any, members of the Legislature ever had an opportunity to inspect the text of the amendments which had been made in the Senate to Assembly Bill No. 862. As I understand it, the amendments were described as adjustments in the fees payable by certain commercial motor vehicles. These adjustments were designed to lessen the impact on the trucking industry that would be created by an approximate 20% increase in those fees.

In reviewing this measure, I now find that an entirely different provision, foreign to the subject of fee increases, was quietly inserted into this legislation. A section has been added that would authorize the operation of tractor-trailer combinations, up to the length of 65 feet, "on highways of

The obvious purpose of this new provision is to authorize the operation of so-called "double-bottom" or double trailer combinations in New Jersey in excess of the present 55-foot limitation. With the exception of Delaware and Maryland, no state from Florida to Maine on the eastern seaboard now permits the operation of truck combinations of this size on the public highways.

There was also inserted a provision concerning the fee for the registration of motor vehicles in excess of 72,000 pounds. This additional provision apparently is in anticipation of a possible approval of increased gross weights by the Federal government beyond the present limits.

I cannot believe that the Legislature has determined to make such fundamental changes in the present laws limiting the sizes and weights of trucks in the casual fashion suggested by the legislative history of this bill. Without any doubt, the increase in the size of commercial vehicles poses a problem for every motorist on our highways. There are obvious safety questions about the proper operation of such large double trailer truck combinations on a highway network as heavily used as that of New Jersey. Within the limited period that has been available to review this bill, the Division of State Police has concluded that the operations of such large truck trailer combinations would pose an increased hazard on our highways.

The Department of Transportation has indicated that it is unclear whether such combinations can be safely accommodated on many of our highway ramp connections and intersections which were designed for smaller vehicles. The possibility of increased gross weights of vehicles also poses very disturbing questions.

For these reasons, I do not believe that the changes suggested by these additional amendments should be enacted without a more careful review of this subject by the Legislature upon due notice to the traveling public who have a vital interest in such an adjustment of the Motor Vehicle Laws. If further modification of our present dimension and weight requirements are justified, this can be demonstrated after due notice and public hearings.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No. 862 for reconsideration with the recommendation that it be amended as follows:

On page 8, section 6, after line 43, delete, "An applicant for registration in excess of 72,000 pounds shall pay to the director a fee at the rate of $7.00 for each 1,000 pounds of gross weight of the vehicle and load or any part of 1,000 pounds."

On page 17, section 17, delete section 17 in its entirety.

On page 17, section 18, line 1, delete "18" and insert in lieu thereof "17".

On page 17, section 19, line 1, delete "19" and insert in lieu thereof "18".

Very truly yours,

[SEAL]

There is hereby created a fund to be known as the 'New Jersey Insurance Development Fund' for the purpose of providing a financial backup for the plan of operation of the association as approved or issued by the commissioner pursuant to this act. The fund shall be used to reimburse any insurer or the association established pursuant to this act for losses sustained in excess of the amount of retention of such losses as shall be provided for by the commissioner; except that in any given calendar year the total amount of all such reimbursement shall not exceed 5% of the insurance premiums written on essential property insurance in this State in the most recent full calendar year. The fund shall consist of all payments made to the fund by insurers as hereinafter provided, of securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund, moneys appropriated to the fund as provided in this act, together with interest and accretions earned upon such payments or investments. The fund shall be administered by the commissioner and the State Treasurer in accordance with the provisions of this act.

19. For the privilege of doing property insurance business in this State, and in addition to all other requirements of law, every insurer authorized to write such insurance in this State shall be obligated to collect from the insured under any policy of basic property insurance, a surcharge upon the premium paid for said policy in an amount which shall be annually determined by the commissioner as hereinafter provided. This surcharge shall be collected by each insurer and paid over to the fund semiannually as provided for by the commissioner.

20. For the purpose of providing the moneys necessary to establish the New Jersey Insurance Development Fund in an amount sufficient to meet the requirements of said fund pursuant to section 21 of this act, the commissioner shall establish a reasonable surcharge upon all basic property insurance premiums paid for policies of insurance written in this State; provided, however, that in any given calendar year the aggregate amount of such surcharges shall not exceed a sum equal to 5% of the insurance premiums written on essential property insurance in this State in the most recent full calendar year. The surcharge shall be a separate charge to the insured in addition to the premium to be paid and shall be reflected as such in the policy and commissions shall not be payable thereon. The insurer shall be prohibited from absorbing such surcharge as an inducement for insurance or for any other reason. In the event that pursuant to section 23 of this act the Legislature appropriates any moneys to the credit of such fund, the commissioner is hereby empowered to increase the surcharge so that the amount so appropriated may be returned to the State Treasury as provided by section 23 of this act.

21. The commissioner, on or before April 1, shall ascertain and determine the net value of the fund as of the next preceding December 31. The net value of the fund shall be determined by deducting from the value of the assets of the fund, the aggregate, actual, and estimated liabilities of the fund as determined by the commissioner. When the net value of the fund, as thus determined, reaches an amount equal to 5% of the premiums written on essential property insurance in this State in the most recent full calendar year, no further surcharge on said premiums and no further payments to said fund shall be made; provided, however, that whenever, thereafter, the net value of said fund shall be reduced below the aforesaid amount, by reason of payments from and known and estimated liabilities of such fund, then such surcharge and payments to said fund shall be received in the manner provided in section 19 of this act, and shall continue in such manner until said fund, over and above its

22. The fund created by this act shall be separate and apart from any other fund and from all other State moneys. The State Treasurer shall be the custodian of said fund; and all disbursements from said fund shall be made by the treasurer upon vouchers signed by the commissioner, as in this act provided. The moneys of said fund shall be invested and reinvested by the Director of the Division of Investment as other trust funds in the custody of the State Treasurer in the manner provided by law.

23. If in any year or at any time the fund as hereinabove established is insufficient to pay claims chargeable to the fund to the extent of 5% of the most recent full calendar year essential property insurance premiums written by authorized insurers in this State, the commissioner shall certify to the Governor the amount of such insufficiency and such amount shall be appropriated and paid to the fund, which said amount so paid shall be returned to the treasury of this State from proceeds of the surcharge collected pursuant to this act.

24. The agents and employees of any insurer of this State participating in a plan established pursuant to this act may enter upon any lands and premises in the State for the purpose of making such examination as is necessary or convenient for the purposes of this act and such entry shall not be deemed a trespass, except that the insurer shall make reimbursement for any actual damages resulting to such lands and premises as a result of such activity.

25. In addition to any powers conferred upon him by this or any other law, the commissioner is authorized to do all things necessary to enable this State and any insurer participating in any plan approved or issued by the commissioner to fully participate in any Federal program of reinsurance which may be hereafter adopted for purposes similar to the purposes of this act.

26. The commissioner may make reasonable rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this act.

27. The commissioner may require such reports from insurers concerning risks insured under any plan approved or issued pursuant to this act as he shall deem necessary.

28. This act shall take effect July 1, 1968."

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 216

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 216, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would, for all practical purposes, destroy the "point system", which has proved to be an effective method for controlling drivers who repeatedly violate the traffic laws. The bill would create a new type of special driver's license for use "during the course of the holder's employment and in going to and returning therefrom" by drivers who had accumulated the present limit of 12 points, but have not yet reached 18 points, during a three-year period.

A driver whose record of moving traffic violations indicates he is an unsafe driver is no less of a menace merely because he is driving "during the course of [his] employment." In fact, if such a driver is at the wheel of a tractor-trailer, he will be an even greater menace. We can hardly afford to exempt all truck drivers from the full effect of traffic safety regulations.

The argument is made that those who drive for their livelihood face much greater exposure to possible apprehension for traffic violations than do drivers who cover fewer miles during a comparable period. This is true. But it is also true that highway safety requires that those drivers who do the most driving must be safe drivers. Their greater experience and competence should help those who drive for their livelihood to overcome much of the disadvantage that results from doing more driving than the average motorist. In any event, this bill makes no attempt to correlate point limits to mileage covered. It merely exempts driving during the course of employment from the effect of the present point limit.

We should remember that the present point system requires two very serious violations before the 12-point limit is reached. Leaving the scene of an accident counts for 8 points; and reckless driving, racing on a highway, or speeding more than 20 miles per hour over the legal limit in an area with a speed limit of less than 60 miles per hour each count for 6 points. Other speeding convictions are 4 points. Passing unsafely, passing a stopped school bus, or tailgating count 5 points. Other moving violations are 3 points. The effect of this bill would be to allow drivers to continue on the road who average a reckless driving conviction every 18 months, or a speeding conviction every 9 months. Such a permissive limitation makes the system meaningless.

The State of Connecticut has significantly reduced its highway death rate by requiring automatic license suspension for any driver speeding more than 10 miles per hour over the speed limit. New Jersey is far more lenient than that—perhaps too lenient. We certainly cannot justify reducing our present standards.

To the extent that any serious hardship is presented by the present point system regulation, that hardship is mitigated by the fact that each driver reaching the 12-point limit is granted the option of attending a driver improvement course rather than facing possible license suspension. Each driver who reaches the limit is also entitled to a hearing before the Division of Motor Vehicles prior to imposition of the suspension.

Of the 12,249 drivers whose licenses were suspended under the point system during 1967, more than half—6,563—failed to avail themselves of the opportunities to take the course or to request a hearing. Another 4,086 of the suspensions last year were of persistent violators who had previously reached the 12-point limit and thereafter committed still another traffic violation.

A total of 21,473 cases were completed under the point system regulation in 1967. That the system does not operate with unreasonable rigidity is evidenced by the fact that in 43 per cent of those cases, the driver avoided suspension of his license—either by successfully completing the driver improvement course, or because the nature or frequency of the offenses on his record indicated that a warning, rather than suspension, would be appropriate.

In considering the supposed hardships resulting from operation of the point system, it should also be remembered that each driver receives a warning notice whenever his point accumulation reaches a stage where one more offense would put him over the limit.

Thus far we have discussed the merits of what this bill purports to do. Actually, its effects would be even more pernicious, because of consequences that presumably are not intended.

The wording "any driver who must, as a condition of continued employment, operate a motor vehicle in the course of his employment", is sufficiently vague so that almost any driver could seek to qualify by asking his employer to assert that his continued employment is conditioned upon his being able to drive a motor vehicle at least occasionally. Stringent administration of this provision would be an impossibility.

Equally impossible would be any degree of effective enforcement of the supposed limitations on the use of the special license authorized under this bill. Police could not reasonably be expected to investigate and determine whether every driver with such a special license was actually driving only in the course of his employment or on the way to or from work. Such an investigation could be anticipated only if the driver were involved in an accident or serious traffic violation—and then the damage would probably already have been done. The temptation for abuse of such a special license would be very great and the difficulties of enforcement nearly insurmountable.

The bill, if it were to be given effect, would have to be construed as incorporating into statute the terms of the present administrative regulation governing the point system. If the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles retained authority to alter the point values assigned to various offenses, then this bill could be negated merely by administrative regulation. To modify or reform the point system through legislation would require a much more thorough and carefully-drafted bill than this one.

The ultimate consequence of this bill, because of its many unworkable or unenforceable features, would be to destroy any "point system" at all. The Point System Regulation would have to be rescinded. The Director of Motor Vehicles would retain authority under N. J. S. A. 39:5-30 to suspend licenses for any single offense, but any systematic method of weighing the seriousness of various types of offenses would run afoul of the unworkable limitations of this bill. The result would necessarily have to be the disregarding of persistent patterns of traffic violations on the one hand, with more drastic action being taken on the basis of individual offenses on the other hand. Such a system would be both less effective and less fair.

The "point system" has provided a reasonable system for warning, re-training, and—when necessary—removing from the roads those drivers who repeatedly violate traffic laws. We ought to be strengthening, not weakening, our regulation of such unsafe drivers.

The tragic toll of deaths and injuries from traffic accidents in this nation since the arrival of the Automobile Age has already exceeded all the casualties this country has suffered in all the wars in its history. We cannot allow this needless slaughter and maiming on our highways to continue unabated. We must utilize every method to improve traffic safety. Since driver violations of law are the single greatest contributing factor to traffic accidents, the "point system" is one of the methods we must continue to use to try to control this terrible carnage.

Enactment of this bill to undermine the "point system" would not merely be a mistake; it would be morally indefensible. This Legislature may be willing to gamble with the lives of untold numbers of our citizens. I am not.

I therefore return Assembly Bill No. 216 without my approval.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 278

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 278, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill purports to provide discretionary power for the suspension of driving privileges of any person convicted of a violation of the Uniform Narcotic Drug Law (R. S. 24:18-1 et seq.) or of Chapter 121 of the Laws of 1952. Since existing statutes already adequately cover this subject and require automatic suspension for at least one year of the driving privileges of any person convicted of using or being under the influence of any narcotic drug, the only effect this bill could have would be the implied repeal of the existing requirement of automatic suspension. N. J. S. A. 2A:170-8 provides as follows:

“Any person who uses or who is under the influence of any narcotic drug, as defined in article 1 of chapter 18 of Title 24 of the Revised Statutes (Food and Drugs), the uniform narcotic drug law, for a purpose other than the treatment of sickness or injury as prescribed or administered by a person duly authorized by law to treat sick and injured beings, is a disorderly person.

“In a prosecution under this chapter, it shall not be necessary for the State to prove that the accused did use or was under the influence of any specific narcotic drug or drugs, but it shall be sufficient for a conviction under this chapter for the State to prove that the accused did use or was under the influence of some narcotic drug or drugs as defined in article 1 of chapter 18 of Title 24 of the Revised Statutes (Food and Drugs) by proving that the accused did manifest physical and physiological symptoms or reactions caused by the use of any narcotic drug.

“In addition to the general penalty prescribed for disorderly conduct pursuant to section 2A:169-4 of this Title, every person adjudged a disorderly person for a violation of this section shall forthwith forfeit his right to operate a motor vehicle over the highways of this State for a period of 1 year from the date of his conviction and until such privilege shall be restored to him by the Director of Motor Vehicles upon application to and after hearing and determination by, the director that such person is no longer a user of drugs within the meaning of this section.

“The court before whom any person is convicted of a violation of this section shall cause a report of such conviction to be filed with the Director of Motor Vehicles.” (Emphasis added.)

It should also be noted that the Director of Motor Vehicles already has discretionary authority to act under the circumstances described in this bill by virtue of the “reasonable grounds” provision of N. J. S. A. 39:5-30.

Respectfully,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 400

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 400, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would exempt properly identified members of a reserve component of the Armed Forces of the United States from payment of tolls on any toll road, bridge or ferry within the State which they use while going to, or returning from, any required parade, encampment, drill, meeting or active duty for training.

Although I sympathize with the desire of the proponents of this measure to offer this benefit to members of the reserves who often have to travel a substantial distance, many times at their own expense, to participate in training or other official functions, I cannot approve of this measure.

In the enabling statutes creating both the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and the New Jersey Highway Authority, the State specifically pledged to the bondholders that it would not limit or restrict the rights of these Authorities to collect tolls or other charges or to take any action which would prevent these Authorities from fulfilling their agreement with their respective bondholders until the bonds were discharged.

Both of these authorities currently have outstanding bonds which contain specific covenants regarding and limiting free passage. I have been informed by the appropriate official and counsel of each Authority that this bill would violate their current covenants with bondholders. Additionally, it is likely that other authorities or commissions of this State or political subdivisions thereof, which are authorized to operate toll facilities, may also have outstanding bonds containing similar covenants. Therefore, enactment of this legislation would be an unconstitutional impairment of the existing contract between these authorities and their bondholders as well as a violation in certain cases of the specific statutory pledge of the State to these bondholders.

I therefore return this bill without my approval.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 436

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 436 without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would remove from the special provisions of the Farm Land Assessment Act of 1964, lands owned by public agencies of this State, which are used for public water supply purposes. This measure is frankly designed to determine a dispute concerning the taxability of a tract of land located in the City of Livingston, and owned by the City of East Orange. At the time this measure was introduced, this dispute was pending before the Superior Court, Law Division, Essex County. Since that time, judgment has been rendered, the Court holding that the tract in question was not entitled to Farm Land Assessment treatment. There is current indication the issue will be taken to the Appellate Court.

In view of the pendency of this litigation and of the respect to be accorded the prerogative of the several branches of our coordinate government, the approval of Assembly Bill No. 436 at this time would be highly inappropriate.

Accordingly, I return this bill to the Legislature without my approval.

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 560, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Along with Assembly Bill No. 216, this bill would help to sabotage New Jersey's efforts to reduce the terrible carnage on our highways. This measure would require that the Division of Motor Vehicles conduct a hearing before assessing points against a driver of a commercial vehicle for motor vehicle violations occurring outside of the State.

Under the present point system regulation, any driver is already provided an opportunity for a hearing before being subjected to the possibility of license suspension or a requirement of attending driver improvement school because of an accumulation of too many points. The intent of this bill apparently is to require, for the purposes of the point system, a re-trial before the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles after each out-of-state conviction of a New Jersey driver of a commercial vehicle. No practical purpose can be served by such a procedure because the Division could not possibly even attempt to make an independent determination of facts in cases occurring outside the State (often hundreds of miles away). As a matter of practicality, as well as reciprocity, the courts of our sister States must be recognized as the proper forums for adjudicating charges arising out of events occurring within their jurisdictions. The witnesses cannot be transported from the place of the event back to New Jersey for the purpose of a "new trial" before the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

I recognize, of course, that the support for such a re-trial in the home state arises largely from the tendency of drivers to forfeit bond on traffic charges rather than undergo the inconvenience of appearing for trial. However, the solution lies in efforts to provide the facilities for prompt trial of traffic cases wherever they occur—not in seeking a separate hearing for the driver after he returns home. Since this bill applies only to the drivers of commercial vehicles, the drivers who seek to benefit from this bill ought to be well aware of the possible consequences to their driving privileges if they fail to contest traffic charges against them. To appear for trial may be inconvenient, but professional drivers cannot reasonably claim to be ignorant of the possible consequences of their failure to do so.

The appropriate time for a hearing to be provided to a driver under the point system is when he becomes subject to possible license suspension. At that time, his overall record can be reviewed to see whether it indicates a pattern of unsafe driving. This is the procedure now followed. Consideration is given to the seriousness of offenses and to their frequency. Every driver is provided with an opportunity for such a hearing before his license may be suspended under the point system. (The only automatic suspensions are for persistent violators who had previously exceeded the limit of points, who had an opportunity at that time for a hearing on their records, and who thereafter were convicted of an additional violation.)

The chaos this bill would create is indicated by the fact that more than 40,000 traffic convictions of New Jersey drivers in other States are reported by those States to the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles each year. This information is recorded through the Division's data processing equipment. The reports from other States do not necessarily indicate whether the vehicle being driven by the New Jersey driver would come within the definition of "a commercial vehicle" under New Jersey law. Since New Jersey does not require a special classification of driving license for truck drivers, there is no automatic method available for weeding "drivers of commercial vehicles" (to whom application of this bill is limited) from all other New Jersey drivers for whom out-of-state convictions are reported. In short, this bill would completely disrupt the computerized methods now used to record out-of-state records of New Jersey drivers.

In this age of great mobility, and especially in a State located between two great metropolitan centers, it would be sheer folly to ignore the driving records compiled by New Jersey drivers during that very large fraction of their driving time spent outside the State.

tion would not be affected by this bill. First of all, this bill—in obvious response to the political pressures of a special interest group—is limited by its terms to the drivers of commercial vehicles. The ordinary tourist who may fall victim to a speed-trap would receive no benefit from this bill. Nor would this bill affect the reciprocity agreements with the States of Delaware and Connecticut, under which the license of a New Jersey driver must be suspended if his driving privileges are suspended in either of those States because of a violation committed within that State. Automatic suspensions will also continue to apply for out-of-state convictions for manslaughter or negligent homicide, driving “under the influence,” use of a motor vehicle in the commission of a felony, and failure to stop and render aid in the event of an accident resulting in the injury or death of another person.

I shall not repeat here the arguments presented in my message returning Assembly Bill No. 216 as to the desirability of retaining the point system as a means of controlling and, if necessary, removing from the highways the habitual violators of traffic laws.

Like Assembly Bill No. 216, this bill results from the efforts of a small but highly organized special-interest group. A few truck drivers and other professional drivers with bad driving records will benefit at the risk of the safety of all others on our streets and highways. If this Legislature enacts this bill, each Legislator who votes to override this veto will bear responsibility for the innocent victims of those unsafe drivers who will be allowed to remain on the roads because this bill has wrecked the effectiveness of the point system and of the programs of reciprocity and cooperation in highway safety enforcement with our sister States.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 572

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 572, without my approval for the following reasons:

Assembly Bill No. 572 would add aircraft salesmen and certified flying instructors to the growing list of those exempt from the protection of the Wage and Hour Law.

The bill is frankly designed to benefit employers of such persons; there is nowhere offered justification for this peremptory denial of the protection of law to this single small class of employees.

Nothing evident in the nature of this employment distinguishes it from the many others who enjoy the benefits of wage and hour protection. No such discrimination is effected by the federal counter-part to New Jersey's Wage and Hour Law. Aircraft salesmen and flying instructors are nowhere considered so different as to warrant this special, and detrimental treatment.

The matter of exemptions from the coverage of the Wage and Hour Law is one evermore complicated by the increasingly successful efforts of special interests to weaken and diminish its protections. It may well be that a complete analysis of this law and of those who should and should not benefit from it is appropriate at this time. In any event, we cannot countenance such an incidental encroachment upon the protection of this law, which was so clearly designed to be universal in scope and uniform in effect.

I therefore return Assembly Bill No. 572 without my approval.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 584

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 584, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Assembly Bill No. 584 would extend for the first time to government employees the benefits of New Jersey's unemployment compensation and temporary disability benefits laws. Unfortunately, the Legislature has chosen here to extend employment security coverage to a minute fraction of those who are employed in the governments of this State. The bill is directed specifically to employees of the South Jersey Port Commission, an agency engaged on behalf of the people in the operation of public piers and port facilities. The evident legislative justification for this severely limited and hesitant step arises from the nature of the work of some of those in the employ of the Commission, who may be subject to unpredictable periods of unemployment.

The applicability of employment security legislation to those who are in the employ of government in this State is a subject of some controversy. This issue should not be determined without the exhaustive attention of the Legislature to disclose all its ramifications and to resolve its many unanswered questions. However, the issue concerning the propriety of providing these benefits for public employees is not presented by Assembly Bill No. 584. Rather, that bill merely singles out an extremely limited class of employees for extraordinary benefits.

While sympathetic with the hazards of employment with the South Jersey Port Commission, I am unable to justify this special treatment accorded this small group and the consequent denial of these benefits to the thousands of other public employees whose labors might also be subject to interruption. Assembly Bill No. 584 is piecemeal legislation undertaken without benefit of the incisive inquiry to which such extraordinary measures are entitled.

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 595, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend N.J.S. 22A:3-4 to increase the maximum costs assessable in county district courts, municipal courts, and other inferior courts of limited criminal jurisdiction from $5.00 to $15.00 for traffic violations and from $10.00 to $25.00 in all other cases.

Information available from the Administrative Office of the Courts indicates that the present limits on costs seem to be sufficient to cover court expenses. In view of this fact, it appears both unnecessary and undesirable to triple the maximum allowable court costs in traffic cases and to almost double the maximum in other criminal and quasi-criminal matters.

The appearance, as well as the reality, of justice is essential in our courts—especially in the lower courts, where the greatest number of persons have contact with the judicial system. Because all monies collected as court costs in the municipal courts are retained in the municipal treasury, any practice of assessing costs in these courts at amounts above the minimum actually required to cover costs might well arouse suspicion that this device was being used as a method of raising municipal revenues. The fact that the municipal governing body determines the compensation for the municipal judge, and the widely held assumption that ment Fund an amount not to exceed the amount he would have had to pay into said other retirement system fund.

Under present law, members of the State Police Retirement System have the right to transfer pension credits from other retirement systems upon joining the system. Additionally, they have the right thereafter to purchase credit for prior public service upon payment of an amount based on the actuarial value of the credit in the State Police Retirement System which takes into consideration the current age and salary of the applicant. Under the provisions of this bill, the cost of purchasing such credit for past services, would be based on the applicant's salary at the time he rendered the service and on the contribution rate payable to the other retirement system—thereby shifting a substantial portion of the cost of purchasing such service credit in the State Police Retirement System to the State.

While the bill was pending in the Legislature, a fiscal note was prepared which estimated that the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 597 would require a State expenditure of $100,000.00 in fiscal 1968-69 and $25,000.00 in fiscal 1969-70. This was based on the estimation that approximately 15 members of the State Police Pension System would purchase such credit for past service. However, since that time, I have been informed that a substantial number of members of that fund, including some who have already retired, would elect to purchase prior service credit and it is now estimated that the resulting cost to the State may be as high as $1 million over the next several years.

Additionally, and I am sure unintentionally, this bill limits the right to purchase credit for prior service credit to members of the State Police Pension System who joined prior to July 1, 1965 and would foreclose future members from purchasing similar pension credit on any cost basis.

For these above reasons, I am constrained to return Assembly Bill No. 597 without my approval.

Respectfully,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 640

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 640, without my approval, for the following reasons:

At best, this bill would be a meaningless gesture without significant legal effect. At worst, it could be construed as an attempt at legislative usurpation of the legitimate functions of the judiciary. If the brief period of silent prayer or meditation provided for in this bill is, indeed, not a religious service or exercise, there is no need for such legislation. No enabling legislation is required to permit individual teachers or local school authorities to adopt the practice of holding moments of silence in a classroom. To the extent, however, that this bill may be designed to circumvent court decisions prohibiting religious exercises in the public schools, it represents an attempt to usurp judicial authority and is unconstitutional as a violation of the "Establishment Clause" of the First Amendment.

Legislation cannot alter the United States Constitution. The responsibility for authoritatively interpreting the Constitution resides in the judiciary. To attempt to circumvent the decisions of our state and federal courts which have held that any law which requires religious exercises in the public schools is violative of the United States Constitution, is to undermine our system of government and the respect for the rule of law which is essential to a free society.

I am confident that such was not the intention of the sponsors of this bill. Rather, I am sure that this legislation was proposed in the expectation—which I share—that a moment of silence for meditation or reverence in the public school day, in the absence of compulsion or prescription by public authorities, is constitutionally permissible. But there is language in this bill which unnecessarily invites constitutional attack. Providing for the teacher to "conduct a brief period of silent prayer or meditation" suggests the idea of the schools conducting religious exercises, which the United States Supreme Court found to be unconstitutional in Engel v. Vitale, 370 U. S. 421 (1962), and School District of Abing- ton Township v. Schempp, 374 U. S. 203 (1963). Requiring "the participation of all the pupils therein assembled" adds an element of compulsion which may also be considered objectionable.

I must reluctantly conclude that this bill would invite unnecessary litigation and religious controversy while being ineffective to authorize any practice which is not already permissible.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 643

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 643, without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize counties of the second class, having a population in excess of 265,000 but less than 350,000 inhabitants, to establish a transit authority and authorizes said authority to acquire and engage in the business of providing public transportation.

In addition to Assembly Bill No. 643, this Legislature also passed and presented to me Assembly Bill No. 750, which amends the general County Improvement Authority Law to permit authorities established thereunder to purchase and operate public transportation facilities.

Both of these bills contain similar provisions governing the powers and duties of such authorities and the major difference between the two bills lies in the fact that Assembly Bill No. 643 would have limited application to Mercer County.

Since there may be now, or in the future, other counties who may wish to use this authorization, I signed Assembly Bill No. 750 into law.

In view of this, Assembly Bill No. 643 is no longer necessary and therefore I return it herewith without my approval.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 786

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 786, with my objections, for the following reasons:

Assembly Bill No. 786 would establish for the first time in the State of New Jersey a work release program for certain inmates in State and county penal institutions. This administration is certainly interested in fostering the rehabilitation of persons convicted of crime. Penal authorities throughout the nation have indicated that a sensible work-release program fosters rehabilitation, reduces welfare costs and goes far to preserve family contacts so essential to the remolding of the convicted criminal. I believe that Assembly Bill No. 592, prepared by this administration and introduced by Assemblyman Fay, provides for a sensible work-release program. Assembly Bill No. 786 does not.

Assembly Bill No. 786 would entrust the administration of a work-release program to a non-existent department of government—the Department of Criminal Justice. The bill further purports to exercise jurisdiction over county penal institutions when in fact no existing State department has authority to regulate the operation of those institutions.

Under ordinary circumstances it would have perhaps been possible through the use of a conditional veto to reconstruct this measure, however, this particular bill departs so widely from what I believe to be a sound and workable program as to defy rescue. I therefore invite this Legislature's early attention to and favorable action on Assembly Bill No. 592.

I therefore return Assembly Bill No. 786 without my approval.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 819

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 819, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill seeks to add to Title 2A of the New Jersey Statutes a new series of misdemeanors that proscribe certain activities on or about school property. In general, the activities proscribed can be characterized as activities involving the incitement of student disobedience.

I recognize that the ends sought to be served by this bill are in the public interest. No one deplores more than I do either the use of children for purposes of political agitation or the interference by outsiders with the proper functioning of our schools. We must protect the safety of students and teachers and preserve an atmosphere conducive to learning in our schools. It is my resolute desire to assure that there shall be no disruption of the orderly processes of education in New Jersey schools.

Nevertheless, I must conclude that this bill cannot contribute to these objectives. Its language is so broad and the proscribed activities so ill-defined that the bill is clearly unconstitutional. The Attorney General concurs in this conclusion that the bill contains serious constitutional defects.

Well-established principles of constitutional and criminal law declare that:

“A statute which either forbids or requires the doing of an act in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must necessarily guess at its meaning and differ as to its application violates the first essential of due process of law.” State v. New York Central Railroad co., 37 N. J. Super. 42 (App. Div. 1955).

The “void for vagueness” doctrine vitiates almost every provision of the bill. In addition, section 2 of the bill, which proscribes the distribution of literature which advocates interference with the orderly educational process, is in clear violation of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. (Emphasis added.)

Subsection 1 (b) prohibits any person on or about school property from “(b) Encourag[ing] pupils to leave the school premises without the permission of the principal of the school or other person exercising administrative responsibility”. On its face, this excessively-broad language could be applied to any of the following situations:

A parent who removes his child from school for some legitimate reason.

A student who encourages another student to join him in cutting a class.

I would agree that the last example requires disciplinary action, but any Legislator who is able to recall his own school days may ponder whether subjecting a 17-year-old student to the possibility of a three-year jail sentence for the crime of conspiring to cut a class may be excessive punishment.

Among the inadequacies in the bill's drafting is the failure to distinguish between students and others legitimately, on the school premises, and outside intruders. The bill is also unclear as to whether it would be applicable to non-public schools.

Indeed, the bill is so full of holes that attempting to salvage it through a conditional veto would be as hopeless a task as trying to build a ship out of sand.

Furthermore, I note that there are already a variety of statutes on the books which are designed to accomplish the purposes of this bill. The most directly relevant appears to be N. J. S. 2A:170-28, which prohibits any person from disturbing or interfering with, by noisy or disorderly conduct, the quiet or good order of any place of assembly, including schools. The constitutionality of this statute was upheld in State v. Smith, 46 N. J. S. 510 (1966).

If the Legislature, upon careful consideration, determines that the existing statutes in this area contain a gap which could be closed by legislation meeting constitutional standards, I would be pleased to give my careful attention to a bill designed to protect our educational facilities and prevent our children from becoming the tools of agitators.

While bearing in mind the necessity of protecting the orderly educational processes of the schools, I think it is also appropriate to note that the public schools belong to the people and that we must seek to keep open the channels of communication which afford opportunities to all the people to voice their concerns and participate in shaping public policy regarding the schools. We must focus attention where it belongs: on the need for effective education for our children. One of the essential ingredients for effective education is order and discipline in the schools.

For these reasons, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 819, without my approval.

Respectfully,

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 29

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 29, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Assembly Bill No. 29 is the culmination of many years of effort to reconstitute provisions of law for the protection of our natural water supply from incidental incursion. The licensing of well drillers, and the resulting development of information concerning each well in this State has for many years been recognized as an essential instrument in the preservation of our natural resources and in planning for the future. In recent years, particularly, the need for accurate, detailed and complete information has become essential.

This bill will enable the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development to undertake information-gathering and regulatory responsibilities in connection with the drilling of wells with greater efficiency and effectiveness. Most significant, this bill provides an efficient procedure to enforce the requirements of law, thus making this regulatory act more responsive to the current needs of the State.

There are, however, several respects in which the bill as adopted by the Legislature requires minor amendment. The inadvertent reference to the "Division" where the evident intent is "Commissioner", provision for the number of members of the Board of Well Drillers Examiners which invites the possibility of frustrating tie votes, and the technically incorrect description of those excavations exempt from regulation should be revised before adoption of these amendments to the act.

Accordingly, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 29 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 286

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 286, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would amend the Urban Renewal Corporation Law to permit these corporations to acquire or lease property directly from a private or public owner.

The apparent intent of the sponsor of this measure is to give greater flexibility to the procedure for the acquisition of property in urban renewal areas, and thereby, hopefully, to stimulate new investments in these areas. However, in doing this, the drafter failed to provide the usual safeguards applicable to all urban renewal projects.

This bill, by permitting urban renewal corporations to acquire property directly from an owner, will undoubtedly speed up acquisition by not requiring compliance with the usual procedure. However, it would thereby also not subject the use of the property to any controls needed to assure comprehensive development or redevelopment. I would therefore recommend that the bill be amended to require that the property be developed in accordance with the urban renewal plan adopted by the governing body of the municipality.

The bill also permits an urban renewal corporation to lease property for an undefined number of years. Although I do not doubt that a holder of a long-term lease is likely to undertake some sort of rehabilitation or renewal of the property, it is unlikely that a short-term lease would result in any real capital expenditures on the part of the lessee. Since by the provisions of this bill a lessee may qualify for a tax exemption, it should be provided that the lease be of a sufficient duration that there is a likelihood of improvements being placed on the premises. Therefore, I would recommend that the bill be amended to require that any lease agreement undertaken by an urban renewal corporation be for at least 15 years.

Additionally, the bill permits any urban renewal corporation to acquire property by exchange of lands. In an exchange of land situation, it is often difficult to determine the exact value placed on the premises by the parties involved. Since property acquired under the provisions of this bill could therefore be subject to a property tax exemption based on the value of the premises, it is imperative that the consideration paid for the property be clearly established or definable. I would therefore recommend that an urban renewal corporation not be permitted to exchange property.

On page 1, section 1, line 4, after the word “lease”, insert “of not less than 15 years”.

On page 1, section 1, line 6, delete the word “, exchange”.

On page 3, section 4, line 6, delete “, exchange”.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 419

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 419, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Assembly Bill No. 419 revises the Cigarette Tax Act of 1948 to provide a more effective procedure for the enforcement of the law and to expand its coverage to include the licensing of manufacturers and manufacturer representatives. The adoption of these amendments represents a distinct accomplishment in efforts by this State to control and reduce the growing incidence of tax avoidance by means of smuggling, counterfeiting, larceny and black marketeering.

In addition to these beneficial provisions, however, Assembly Bill No. 419 presents two other matters of utmost concern to me. The first, a probable error in form, supports an interpretation of this act which would exempt, for the first time, cigarettes lost, stolen or destroyed prior to delivery to a taxpayer-distributor, but after entry into this State. The taxability of cigarettes thus lost to the legitimate market has been approved in a series of judicial opinions. To upset those decisions is to invite a loss of needed revenue.

Further, I am unable to approve the provision of Assembly Bill No. 419 establishing a Tobacco Industry Advisory Council to be composed of seven persons who are licensed under the Act or their representatives. This Advisory Council is directed to advise and consult with the taxing authorities and to report periodically to the administration. The bill does not recite the purpose of this advice and consultation nor does it stipulate the objective to be served by the periodic report.

The advice of members of a regulated industry certainly should be given full and careful consideration by the administrator of a regulating agency. I have no reason to believe that the Cigarette Tax Bureau closes its doors to such advice. Respectful and concerned attention to advice, however, is one thing, direct review, countenanced by law, is another. The creation of a Council, consisting exclusively of persons subject to regulation, to evaluate the performance of the regulator, does not necessarily lead to the inference that special interest will be served. The inference, however, is available to those who wish to draw it.

In the absence of any valid purpose to be served by the creation of a Tobacco Industry Advisory Council, I must withhold my approval of this provision of Assembly Bill No. 419.

For these reasons, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 419 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows:

On page 2, section 1, line 8, following "the State;" delete "establishing a tobacco industry advisory council;"

minors to alcoholic beverages. In this regard, I think it crucial that the Legislature clearly state its intention (1) that the mere possession of an identification card prescribed by this bill by any person in connection with the purchase of an alcoholic beverage from a licensee shall not relieve the licensee of any liability imposed by law upon such licensee; and (2) that the identification card prescribed by this bill shall not be considered a "writing" within the meaning of sections 1(a) or 1(c) of chapter 228 of the Laws of 1939. Clarification of these two matters of legislative intent would render Assembly Bill No. 499 much more supportive of the public interest of all the citizens of this State—minors and adults alike.

Accordingly, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 499 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows:

On page 2, section 6, after line 15, insert the following sections:

"7. The fact of the possession or presentation of the identification card prescribed by this act by any person in connection with the purchase or attempted purchase, of any alcoholic beverage from any licensee of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission shall not be deemed to relieve such licensee of the obligations, responsibilities, or liabilities imposed by law upon such licensee."

"8. The identification card prescribed by this act shall not be deemed to constitute a 'writing' within the meaning of the laws of 1939, chapter 228, sections 1(a) or 1(c) [N. J. S. A. 33:1-77(a) or (b)]."

On page 2, section 7, line 1, delete "7" and insert in lieu thereof "9".

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 504

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 504, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would amend existing law to provide for a more exact definition of hallucinogenic drugs, including LSD. I fully concur with these amendments.

The bill, however, would also amend the law to provide for mandatory minimum sentences for persons who are convicted of selling, giving, administering, or dispensing of such hallucinogenic drugs to persons under the age of 18. Without doubt, anyone who sells these drugs to children should be subject to a severe penalty. However, this bill does much more. It would make a predetermination that each and every person, notwithstanding any extenuating circumstances which may exist, should be subject to the same minimum penalty upon conviction. It not only provides that persons convicted of these offenses should be punished, but clearly implies that we cannot trust our courts and law enforcement officials to determine the degree of punishment which should be exacted for these crimes.

In 1964 when the Legislature presented to me a series of narcotic control bills containing mandatory minimum penalties, I conducted a thorough survey and study of the use of such penalties. I concluded that there was no evidence that the existence of mandatory sentences was a deterrent to crime and that there was ample evidence that it was, in fact, a deterrent to those who were attempting to rehabilitate persons convicted of crime. I also noted at that time that the imposition of mandatory minimum sentences by the Legislature was an unjustifiable vote of no confidence in our prosecutors and judges. During the intervening four years I have been presented with no information or evidence which would lead me to believe that I was mistaken.

datory minimum sentences provisions contained in this bill be deleted. Specifically, I would recommend:

On page 8, section 3, lines 9 and 10, delete "at hard labor for not less than 10 years with a maximum of" and insert in lieu thereof ", for not more than 30 years except upon the affirmative recommendation of the jury of life imprisonment in which case the punishment shall be".

On page 8, section 3, line 15, delete ", with hard labor".

On page 8, section 3, line 18, delete ", with hard labor".

On page 8, section 3, line 21, delete ", with hard labor".

On page 8, section 3, lines 21 and 22, delete ", with hard labor, for a term of not less than 15 years with a maximum of" and insert in lieu thereof "for not more than 30 years except upon the affirmative recommendation of the jury of life imprisonment in which case the punishment shall be".

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 867, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Assembly Bill No. 867, the "New Jersey Agricultural Liming Materials Act", would modernize for the benefit of consumers the regulation of the sale and labeling of lime products.

It is my understanding that the principal sponsor of this bill, officials of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, and representatives of the affected industries have agreed upon certain revisions of this bill which are designed to facilitate its effective administration.

To accomplish these revisions, I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 867 for reconsideration and recommend that it be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 2, lines 4 and 5, delete "Gypsum is also subject to this act when used for agricultural purposes."

On page 1, section 2, line 8, after "30%", delete "." and insert ", and shall be classified according to its calcium oxide (CaO) or its magnesium oxide (MgO) content."

"(2) The term "Magnesian", "Magnesium" or "Dolomitic Type" may only be used to describe limestone containing at least 6% but less than 15% magnesium oxide (MgO), to describe burnt lime containing at least 11% but less than 27% magnesium oxide or to describe hydrated lime containing at least 8% but less than 20% magnesium oxide.

"(3) The term "Dolomite" or "Dolomitic" may only be used to describe limestone containing 15% or more magnesium oxide (MgO), to describe burnt lime containing 27% or more magnesium oxide or to describe hydrated lime containing 20% or more magnesium oxide."

On page 3, section 3, lines 23 through 25, delete paragraph (8) in its entirety.

On page 4, section 5, lines 13 and 14, delete subsection (d) in its entirety.

On page 4, section 5, lines 15 through 18, redesignate subsections (e) and (f) as (d) and (e).

On page 5, section 10, line 5, after “(N.J.S. 2A :58-1 et seq.).” insert the following:

“Upon receiving any information of a violation of any part of this act other than a violation involving a weighed or measured deficiency or the rules and regulations issued thereunder, the Secretary, or any assistant designated by him for such purpose, is empowered to hold hearings, formal or informal, upon said violation and upon finding the violation to have been committed, to assess a penalty against the person alleged to have committed such violation, in an amount not to exceed the maximum limit set forth in this section as the Secretary deems proper under the circumstances. In the event the violator makes satisfactory settlement, no further prosecution shall be had upon that violation. Payment of a penalty, in the form of a settlement, shall be deemed equivalent to a conviction for a violation of this act. Violations not settled in this manner, may be referred to the court of competent jurisdiction.”

On page 5, section 13, line 1, delete “July 1, 1968” and insert in lieu thereof “January 1, 1969”.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
December 27, 1968

To the General Assembly:

I herewith return Assembly Bill No. 254, without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize the governing body of every municipality of this State to create a nonpaid citizen special police force, to fix the qualifications of the members of such special police force, and to appoint members to such force under the direction of the chief of police of the municipality. In addition, this bill provides that nonpaid citizen special policemen appointed pursuant to it shall receive workmen's compensation benefits for injuries sustained in the line of duty.

It is my understanding that the purpose of this bill is to provide some mechanism for dealing with the highly seasonal police problems of New Jersey's seashore communities. The appointment of nonpaid citizen special policemen would obviously augment small seashore police forces which are seriously overburdened in the summer months.

While the purpose of this bill is both laudable and understandable, the remedy proposed by Assembly Bill No. 254 is directly contrary to another goal shared by all, without regard to residence or political affiliation—police professionalism. This administration and several Legislatures have proposed and adopted numerous programs designed to raise the professional level of police services. A significant—and continuing—beachhead in this regard was the adoption in 1965 of mandatory police training for municipal police officers. More recent programs are designed to provide police officers with the tools—whether financial, technological or educational—needed to keep pace with evermore sophisticated crime techniques. No matter how intense his desire, nor how admirable his willingness to serve, it should be painfully obvious that volunteer, nonpaid citizen special policemen are no substitute for trained, qualified police professionals.

I have no real choice—for the welfare of the citizens who might be appointed special policemen as well as for my continuing efforts to increase police professionalism—but to withhold my approval from this bill.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 14, 1969. }

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 358

To the General Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 358 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Assembly Bill No. 358 requires the Commissioner of Transportation, as soon as practical, to "provide for an improvement in the State highway system consisting of a grade separation at the intersection of Route U. S. 1 and Route 130 in Middlesex County." The Statement attached to the bill indicates that the purpose of the bill is "to eliminate the traffic hazard at the intersection of Route 1 and Route 130 created by the traffic circle at this location."

The need to replace the traffic circle has been recognized by the Department of Transportation. The Department's Master Plan sets forth this project as a first priority item. In addition, funds to acquire critical right of way have been requested by the Department from the State Transportation fund in Senate Bill No. 965. The Department informs me that it has notified one of the major land owners, adjacent to the circle, of its intention to acquire such property for this project, but that it has had to delay actual acquisition awaiting passage of Senate Bill No. 965.

There is no question that the Department of Transportation has the legal authority to proceed with this project without the benefit of the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 358. Approval of this legislation, therefore, could only serve to cast doubt upon the Department's ability to proceed with critical highway improvements of this type in the absence of specific legislation. Such a result is undesirable and I am sure not intended by the sponsors of this bill.

While the Department does not need legislative authorization to pursue this project, it does require the funds which will permit it to move forward promptly. I would hope, therefore, that the General Assembly will give its prompt attention to Senate Bill No. 965 which will enable the Department to carry out the stated purpose for Assembly Bill No. 358.

Respectfully,

RICHARD J. HUGHES,

Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

January 14, 1969. }

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 905

To the General Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 905 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Assembly Bill No. 905 would direct the State Department of Transportation to undertake a study of local and state roads in Warren and Sussex Counties to determine what effect the Tocks Island Dam project will have upon traffic in that area of the State. This bill was introduced on June 17, 1968, and passed on November 25, 1968. It requires the Department to report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature on or before December 31, 1968.

The Department of Transportation has anticipated the problem outlined in this bill and initiated early in 1968 a study as to the impact of the Tocks Island Dam project on the highway system of the area. The preliminary phase of this study has been substantially completed and the Department will be reviewing its findings with local officials early in 1969.

In addition, the Department's Master Plan establishes some of the immediate needs for highway improvements in that area and the Department has requested funds in Senate Bill No. 965 to commence work on these projects. For example, planning funds are requested for a portion of Route 15 Freeway in Sussex County, the Route 31 Freeway extension in Warren County, as well as the Foothills Freeway which would generally parallel the Delaware River from Interstate 80 north to the New York State line.

It would appear, therefore, that the objectives expressed in this legislation are being carried out by the Department. For this reason and in light of the restrictive report date of the legislation, I am constrained to return Assembly Bill No. 905 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]
